DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

HEATED REMARKS AGAIN ON CONGRATULATION TO PRESIDENT DE VALERA.

The weekly meeting of the above was held on Friday, Mr. J. Butler, Chairman, presided. Also present Messrs. M. J. Casey, W. O'Donnell, M. Clancy, J. Hackett, D. Foley, M. Griffin, M. Keane, J. Moloney, B. Dee, T. Power.

Payments. Payments for the week which were passed were—General A/c. £11 0s 10d. Harbour A/c. £2 8s. 11d. Relief Grant A/c. £207 14s. 5d.

A payment of £20 on account was passed to the Borough Surveyor in connection with the housing schemes.

For Benefit Of Urban Farmers. Mr. O'Donnell, proposed, that the Government be asked to introduce legislation whereby farmers in the urban area would get the benefit of the agricultural grant too, as well as farmers in the rural areas.

Mr. O'Donnell speaking in support of his proposal said that a similar resolution was passed by the Council some time ago, but the Government did nothing. Now as there was a change of Government there may be a chance that it would go through. He should say that the members of the present Government were more inclined to favour the proposal. It was unfair said Mr. O'Donnell that farmers in the Urban area should have to pay higher rates and get no benefit from the grant. He knew one case where fields were on opposite sides of the road, the rate for one was 8/2 and the other was 16/2. The resolution was passed unanimously, copies to be sent to the Minister for Finance, the Minister for Justice, and to all the County T.D.'s.

Water. Mr. Dee, caretaker Glendine Water Works, reported that the water at the intake was very low, owing to the continued drought.

Mr. Clancy—It is bad before the summer comes at all.

Mr. O'Donnell—God will be good to us before the summer.

B.S.—I saw the place and have never seen it so low. There is about 100 yards of gravel and sand there, and now is the time to take it away.

Mr. Keane—I think the Kildangan supply needs attention. I think we should make an effort to put new filter beds there this year.

Mr. Clancy—There was to have been a periodical report on that supply, but it seems to have fallen through.

It was decided that a deputation visit both water works on Sunday morning and see what should be done.

The Park. Mr. Clancy said that only Mr. Hackett, the Borough Surveyor, and himself visited the park on Sunday last. They had inspected the place and had seen improvements that could be carried out. They would be brought up when the estimates were being considered.

Council And President De Valera. The Board had before them the resolution adjourned from the last meeting tendering to President De Valera, and his Party, the Council's congratulations on their success at the elections.

The resolution was proposed by Mr. Foley, and seconded by Mr. Power.

In answer to the Chairman, the Clerk stated that he had looked up the books and could not trace any resolution prohibiting the acceptance of political resolutions by the Council.

Mr. Griffin—Such a resolution is on the books, it was proposed by Mr. Keane at the time he was made Vice Chairman.

Mr. Foley—I will ask you to pass the resolution like gentlemen and not as putting stumbling blocks in the way. Have courage and vote for it or against it, but don't put stumbling blocks in the way.

Chairman—As I said on the last night, I will let the Council decide.

Mr. Foley rose from his seat and speaking rather hotly to Mr. Griffin, said "It is men like Mr. Griffin that are putting stumbling blocks in the way. He put enough stumbling blocks in the way when the men were fighting for us. He shouldn't talk at all."

Chairman—I will ask Mr. Foley to discuss the matter in an orderly way.

Mr. Foley—I can't give order talking to men with no decency.

Chairman—This is a Council meeting and there should be no heat, every member has a right to speak here.

Mr. Foley—Pass the resolution. Mr. Griffin did all he could to block the men who were fighting.

Chairman—I will leave the matter to the Council.

Mr. McCarthy—Could the Clerk find any resolution prohibiting political resolutions.

Chairman—He couldn't trace any. An amendment proposed by Mr. Clancy and seconded by Mr. Griffin, that the resolution proposed by Mr.

Foley, be not accepted as it was of a political nature was handed in.

Mr. McCarthy—Before I vote I would like to say that I am as I said on the last night 100 per cent. labour, but seeing that there is no resolution on the books prohibiting political resolutions, I will vote against the amendment. I honestly believe that if Cumann na nGaedheal got in the Council would pass a resolution.

Mr. Clancy—My sole object in proposing the amendment is to keep politics out of the discussion of the Council. Ex-President Cosgrave was in for 10 years and although a large section believe he did some good there was no such resolution proposed.

Mr. Hackett—I am not a follower of any of the big parties. I am labour and will not vote.

Mr. O'Donnell—I believe there was a resolution proposed against political resolutions whether it has been recorded or not. The late Government was in for 10 or 12 years, and no resolution was passed, on these grounds I will vote for the amendment.

A vote was taken on Mr. Clancy's amendment and resulted—

For—Messrs. Clancy, O'Donnell, Griffin, Keane, and Chairman—5.

Against—Messrs. McCarthy, Foley, Power, Dee, Moloney—5.

The Chairman said he didn't think it would be fair to give his casting vote on such an issue and would rather the Council would decide. He would suggest that the matter be adjourned to the meeting of April 1st., when a larger number of members may be present.

The Chairman's suggestion was approved of and the matter was adjourned.

Mr. Hackett did not take part in the voting.

Sympathy. The Board passed a resolution of sympathy with the relatives of the late Mr. Patrick Sheehan, Square.

THE OATH.

The question of the removal of the Oath was advanced a further step this week, when the following official statement was issued by President De Valera.

The High Commissioner in London was asked by Mr. Thomas, what the policy of his Government was in relation to the oath. Mr. Dulanty replied to his inquiry as follows—

"In his capacity as High Commissioner he had now been informed by the Minister for External Affairs of his proposals concerning the oath and was therefore, in a position to inform the British Government as to their nature. The Government held that the oath was not mandatory in the treaty, that they had an absolute right to modify the Constitution as the people desired."

"Furthermore, it was their view that the Constitution, being the people's Constitution, anything affecting it belonged to internal sovereignty and was purely a domestic matter. Besides the legal and Constitutional considerations there was another and paramount consideration more than sufficient in itself to make the Government's decision final and irrevocable."

"The people had declared their will without ambiguity. The abolition of the Oath was the principal and dominating issue before the electors."

"The Oath had been the cause of all the strife and dissension in the Saorstát since the signing of the Treaty."

"FRIENDLY RELATIONS"

"The people, and not merely those who supported the present Government, regarded it as an intolerable burden, a relic of medievalism, a test imposed from outside under threat of immediate and terrible war."

The new Government had no desire whatever to be on unfriendly relations with Great Britain. Quite the contrary; but the British Government must realise that real peace in Ireland was impossible so long as the full and free representation of the people in their Parliament was rendered impossible by a test of this character."

"The Minister and his Government had the most sincere desire that relations between the two countries should be allowed to develop on normal lines. And normal relations between our two islands should naturally be close and friendly. But there could be no normal relations so long as one side insisted on imposing on the other a conscience test which had no parallel in treaty relationship between States. And even if the British Government held the view that the Oath was mandatory in the Treaty they must recognise that such a test and imposition was completely out of place in a political agreement between the two countries."

GRAND EASTER DANCE.

A Grand Dance will be held in the Scouts' Den, Abbeyside, on Easter Monday Night. All the arrangements are in the hands of a capable Dance Committee, who assure patrons a real good night. A Splendid Orchestra is engaged and Dancing will commence at 8.30 p.m. Popular Prices—Ladies 1/6; Gents 2/-. A good night is in store for all trippers of the Light Fantastic.

LISMORE NOTES.

LISMORE TOWN COMMISSIONERS.

In order to fill the three vacancies caused by the death of Mr. John C. Heelan, and the disqualification through non-attendance of Messrs. T. E. O'Shea, and J. Keyes, the Lismore Town Commissioners have co-opted Messrs. O. W. Madden, Bernard O'Brien and Richard Ormond, at a recent meeting.

The same body has appointed Mr. John F. Donoghue as Town Rate Collector in succession to Mr. Wm. O'Brien, who has resigned after the long period of 42 years' faithful service. Mr. O'Donnell is a well-known Gaelic and was a prominent member of the old Blackwater Ramblers' Football Club, and his appointment has proved most popular in the town.

IMPROVING THE RACE COURSE. The members of the Race Committee have for some time past been devoting their attention to improving the race-course on the Castle Farm and trimming off all the fences in preparation for the Point-to-Point races to be held on Wednesday, April, 6th.

The late Mr. J. C. Heelan, Secretary, rendered very valuable assistance in the laying out and preparation of this excellent course within the past couple of years, so that the task of the Committee is now a comparatively easy one, but they are determined to leave nothing undone in their desire to have everything in apple-pie order for the forthcoming important meeting on next Wednesday week.

ACTION OF LICENSING PREMISES.

Mr. David Noonan, M.I.A.A., will hold an important auction here on next Thursday, 31st inst., when he will offer for sale the valuable licensed premises owned by Mr. Thomas Lineen, who is retiring from the licensed business.

The premises are centrally situated in the Main street, just at the end of Bridge street, and a prosperous trade has been carried on there by the vendor for several years.

Full particulars will be found in our advertising columns this week.

HURLING.

The members of the Lismore Hurling Club were "At Home" to Carrick-on-Suir Club on St. Patrick's Day, when a great game was played on the well-laid-out Gaelic grounds here.

Both teams gave a fast and clever exhibition of the code, Carrick, if anything, being the more stylish players, but the home team displayed better staying powers and were declared the winners of a rather gruelling match on the score of 5 goals 2 points against 5 goals for Carrick-on-Suir.

Although the weather was ideal, there was only a very sparse attendance of spectators, but those present got full value for their money. Mr. J. F. O'Donnell, referred the match.

STRADBALLY V. TOURANEENA. A DRAWN GAME. AT DUNGARVAN ON SUNDAY.

In the opening minutes Stradbally were dangerous, but a strong defence held the line. Both teams were now getting into their stride, and the leather was kept moving at a fast pace. After fifteen minutes Stradbally opened the scoring with a point. Touraneena pressed from the delivery, and were awarded a free but drove wide.

Stradbally after a fine passing bout brought play into their opponents, and a "flitty" resulted. The free was well directed, but Touraneena effected a good save, and play quickly changed to the other end, where Touraneena raised the green flag. Before the interval Stradbally lost a good chance of goaling, when one of their forwards let the ball fall outside and no one but the goalie to beat. The short whistle left Touraneena leading by one goal to one point.

Vigorous play marked the opening of the second moiety, both sides attacking in turn. A free to Stradbally looked promising, but Touraneena backs made a good clearance. The play was now of a give and take nature, Stradbally having a slight advantage of the exchanges. After ten minutes Stradbally registered a goal and took the lead, which, however, was short lived, for a lightning raid by Touraneena resulting in a point made the teams level. Three successive "flitts" to Stradbally were held off, and the final whistle went leaving the match a draw on the score—

STRADBALLY—1 goal 1 point. TOURANEENA—1 goal 1 point.

Mr. S. Hayes, refereed. Previous to the championship match Abbeyside Juniors, who showed great form, had a good win over Dungarvan Juniors in hurling.

WATERFORD MAYORALTY.

The Election of Mayor of Waterford Borough, which takes place in June, has been postponed to September this year, owing to the Eucharistic Congress.

Cappoquin Notes.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

The Feast of Ireland's National Apostle was celebrated in a very quiet and orderly manner in Cappoquin. The Shamrock was worn by all, while green rosettes, harps, sashes and other national emblems were displayed by most of the children in honour of the great occasion.

St. Patrick's Day for many years past has proved a striking contrast to the great Festival of some 30 or 40 years ago when a big Annual Fair for horses, cattle, sheep and swine was held here which attracted sellers and buyers from all parts and proved the best business day of the year.

This event was also famous as a great Cabbage Market, and for days before the Fair the Square and streets of the town were always filled with hundreds of creels of cabbage plants which usually found a ready sale on St. Patrick's Day. The Main Street then was lined with tents and cars selling sweets, confectionery and other dainties, while the large numbers of people from all parts who attended made it almost impossible to walk through any of the streets of the town.

All the side-shows and other attractions now usually found only on a racecourse were also to be seen here, and the day was one of unrestrained merriment and enjoyment.

But gone are all those old customs and forms of enjoyment and those of us who remember the "good old days" referred to can only view the change that has taken place with feelings of sadness. Ireland, united and undivided, was more happy and prosperous then, and her sons and daughters displayed a care-free and happy spirit which alas, can be seen only very rarely to-day. Last Thursday, the town which for so many years was a busy hive of business and amusement on St. Patrick's Day would have resembled Goldsmith's "Deserted Village" only that the local Brass and Reed Band turned out at 2 o'clock and for a couple of hours helped to uplift the drooping spirits of the people by playing a lively selection of National and other airs near the Square, a treat which was greatly appreciated by all but when this was over, the town relapsed into the stillness and solitude of the tomb, nobody having an opportunity of indulging in the old-fashioned custom of "Drowning the Shamrock," or engaging in any other form of conviviality owing to the strict Licensing regulations in force which encircle us like a girdle of steel at present.

GREAT RUGBY MATCH.

A sparkling display of first-class Rugby was witnessed on the Rugby grounds at Kibree on Sunday, when Carrick-on-Suir visited Cappoquin to play a return match with the home XV. Cappoquin played Carrick-on-Suir on the latter's ground over a month ago, when a great game resulted in a draw.

Although the home team was minus the services of Dr. T. White (captain), Mr. T. C. Williams and some other prominent players, they still fielded a very useful fifteen and had all the better of the play during the greater part of the game. Cappoquin had established the lead of 11 points to 5 points up to within the last 10 minutes of the play when Carrick scored a penalty goal, which considerably reduced the margin, and the end of a particularly fast and strenuous match found Cappoquin winners on the score—Cappoquin—1 goal and 2 tries (4 points); Carrick—1 goal and 1 penalty goal (8 points).

The scorers for Cappoquin were P. Mullane, M. Casey, and J. Phelan, and they, as well as the other members of the team deserve much credit for the great game they displayed.

On next Sunday Waterpark College (Waterford), will visit Cappoquin for a return match. Kick-off at 3 o'clock, sharp.

ANNUAL EASTER DANCE.

The Annual Easter Dance to be held in the Boathouse Hall, under the auspices of the Rowing Club on Easter Monday night promises to be an unusually enjoyable and successful social event.

The Rowing Club dances have for many years past proved extremely popular and special efforts are being made by the Committee to ensure that next Monday night's event will be the best yet.

The dancing floor is undergoing special preparation, and with the best orchestral music and admirable catering arrangements patrons can rest assured of experiencing a rare night's pleasure.

JUNIOR HURLING.

On last Sunday Cappoquin Junior Hurling team travelled to Dungarvan to meet Ballylaneen in their tie in the first round of this year's Junior Hurling Championships.

The Ballylaneen boys, however, failed to put in an appearance and the match consequently fell through.

ALLEGED INTIMIDATION OF WATERFORD T.D.

On a charge of demanding money by menaces from Mr. John Kiersy, T.D., and Councillor Perdue, Waterford, two men named Kinsella and Carroll, of no fixed abode, were remanded in custody.

The proceeds of the Concert were devoted to the funds of the Dungarvan Band.

DEATH OF MR. M. CONDON, O'CONNELL ST., DUNGARVAN.

On Friday last, a most respected citizen passed to his eternal reward in the person of Mr. Maurice Condon, O'Connell Street, after a brief illness and fortified by the rites of the Church. Deceased was all his life attached to the Bakery business and was a skilled and superior tradesman. Upright and honourable, he was from every viewpoint a good citizen and true Irishman. To his family deep sympathy is extended in their sorrow.—R.I.P.

On Saturday evening his remains were removed to the Parish Church, and on Sunday the interment took place in the adjoining graveyard. On each occasion the attendance of the general public was very large and representative.

£1 DRAW.

The Draw for £1 Note, at Ballinroad Club, in aid of the Garranbane School Fund, was won by Mr. M. Curran, Square, Dungarvan, Ticket No. 57. 142 Tickets were sold and the Committee beg to thank all who helped them.

St. Patrick's Night Concert in Ungarvan.

On St. Patrick's evening, a very interesting and enjoyable Band Concert was given in the Town Hall, Dungarvan. The proceedings were intended to mark the commemoration of the feast of the Great Apostle, and though little notice was given, the Hall at the beginning showed a large and appreciative audience. The Rev. Father Hearne, C.C., through whose exertions the Concert was held, superintended all the arrangements, and had the items presented in the most business like manner. Amongst the audience was the Very Rev. Father O'Brien, the esteemed Pastor of the Parish. Mr. McHugh, bandmaster of the Dungarvan Band had all his members to the fore, and the music rendered by them was of a very superior kind, and quite in keeping with the national occasion.

The Concert opened with a selection of the ever-popular Irish airs by the band, in which all the needs of our varying country were presented, "from grave to gay, from lively to serene." The beautiful playing was loudly applauded. Then Miss Joe Tobin, came forward, and sang in a beautiful manner, "Avoureen" in which her great voice was heard with impressiveness, and on an encore being loudly demanded, sang Moore's ever beautiful "Last Rose of Summer." More applause followed and then Mr. James V. Keohan, who was warmly received sang another of Moore's exquisite melodies "Has Sorrow Thy Young Shaded," in which he portrayed the exquisiteness of then tender sentiments of the song, and in demand for an encore, he sang "Little Boy Blue. The audience seemed highly pleased with the effort, and there rang out loud and prolonged applause. Then Rev. Fr. Hearne, announced that they would present a humorous sketch, and when the curtain rose, there appeared pupils of the Presentation Convent, who produced a highly-laughable farce "The Statute." In this piece, the young ladies acquitted themselves with much ability, the entire story resting on a statute of great price which got broken, and the maid, a giddy creature, was made up to represent the statute, but she could not keep quiet, and she gave the show away when she threw herself down from her pedestal, and caused roars of laughter.

The characters were—Miss Mai Clancy, Miss Burke, Miss Cullinan, and Miss C. Moloney.

Another sketch was also presented by the pupils of the same Convent and this embraced many lively characters. One of which, a basket woman was selling apples, and her humorous antics kept the house in the best of good form, which reached a climax when the young lady showed in addition to her other accomplishments, that she possessed an endearing voice, and sang with charm, "Mary Muldoon" a song for which she was rapturously applauded, and the music continuing, she danced an Irish jig with much animation, and at the close of the excellent performance, the audience burst into rapturous applause. The Convent must be congratulated on the excellent training and ability displayed, and which was so much appreciated.

The performers in the second sketch or quasi pantomime were—Misses Mai Clancy, Lawless, N. Clancy, A. Flynn, M. G. Crotty, K. Mulcahy, N. Crotty, Mona Terry, M. Linane, —Burke, S. Curran, C. Moloney.

Then the Band played with much vigour a march, the composition of the bandmaster, Mr. McHugh, and for this there was loud applause.

The Rev. Father Hearne, C.C., thanked the audience and the artists, and said they were only too pleased to have some rendering of Irish music in honour of the great day which was now near its close. The interesting proceedings were brought to a finish by a beautiful tableau, representing Irish figures by young ladies of the Presentation Convent, which showed an attractive picture, and an Irish song was then sung, and the beautiful Concert came to a close.

Mrs. O'Hara, A.L.C.M., played the accompaniment, and an inspiring item was given in the way of a selection of Irish airs, the violin being played by Mr. J. B. Nagle, and Mrs. O'Hara at the piano. This item was vociferously applauded.

The proceeds of the Concert were devoted to the funds of the Dungarvan Band.

A Shelter on the Ferry Point

South Abbey, Youghal, 20th March, 1932. (The Editor, "Dungarvan Observer.") Sir,—In the "Observer" of March 12th, I read the discussion by the Youghal Urban Council, following my letter concerning a shelter on the Ferry-point. Mr. Denchey urged the matter with his characteristic pro-bono-publico "push and go," and was backed by others, but it was a pity the discussion was marred by some lovely, irrelevant, and I am afraid I must add, even ignorance of the subject.

One member is reported as saying: "There is a house there open to everybody." Another said: "The boat took less than three minutes to do the journey across the harbour." As the service is a half-hourly one, he might have equally expressed it, thus:—"After all, passengers have only a trifle over 27 minutes to stand in the wind and rain, on the end of the Point."

In my recent letter in the "Observer" I related impromptu an experience I had on the Point—but since then I have made inquiries, and I find that Mr. Hyde, shortly before his death, when he realised he had not long to live, built the little tea-room, in the hope it would be a help to his wife left with five young children to bring up. I am told, that during the summer season, if the weather it all in-favour of people who want refreshments, often cannot enter owing to the crowd seeking shelter. Just fancy this! But even if one could get a seat—just fancy the possibility of a ragged and hungry tramp standing at ones elbow, watching on as you lower the hot-buttered toast and tea-scones!

An experience of this sort is not calculated to encourage visitors to return. And from my personal experience I can say Mrs. Hyde would not refuse shelter to anybody.

The fact is—the public are trading on the hospitality of this very kind-hearted woman, and so, all appears well on the surface, and "There is a house there open to everybody." Now that the Council know the real facts, prompt action is called for.

Perhaps, Mr. Editor, you may see your way to republish my recent letter for the benefit of those who have not seen it.—Yours truly, L. RONAYNE.

Herunder we give Mr. Ronayne's recent letter on the above subject—Youghal, 23rd Feb., 1932.

Sir,—In the "Observer" (See 6th June, 1931) I made out an unanswerable case for a shelter on the end of the Ferry-point.

I was surprised to find how flat my "case" fell. No letters appeared in the "Observer" endorsing it, whilst our City Fathers appeared quite unmoved. I now see the reason.

Of late years I have not been to the Ferry-point, but some weeks ago, I beached my yacht there, and so have recently paid several visits to the salubrious spot. On one of these occasions, a bitter sleeting day I sought shelter at Hyde's house, and found the tea-room there already full of a motley crowd of perished fishermen, farmers and tramps. Not only did Mrs. Hyde allow us to enter, but she made the women who were taking shelter, come in to her own fire.

It is not right such kindness and consideration should be abused—yet apparently this is happening, for there can be little doubt, but that only for such kindness, there would be such a public outcry for a shelter, the Urban Council would be forced to act.

Even if the tea-room was barred, it is not fair to the Hyde's, or the public, they should be driven in inclement weather to get what shelter they can by "hanging round" the corners of the house.

(Perhaps I should mention the tea-room is open as such only during the summer months, so it was not Mrs. Hyde's advantage to admit the crowd I saw there—on the contrary, lounging about with our muddy boots, we were doing the place no good).—Yours truly, L. RONAYNE.

President De Valera Replies to Mr. Chamberlain.

COMMENTS ON THE OATH AND LAND ANNUITIES.

President De Valera's emphatic declaration of his intention to abolish the Oath and to decline to make further Land Annuities payments to Great Britain, and Mr. Neville Chamberlain's statement at Birmingham of the British position, have aroused the keenest speculation regarding the outcome of the situation.

Up to the present President De Valera's only comment on Mr. Chamberlain's speech is—"At this stage I will only say that if bitterness and differences are revived the fault will not lie with the Irish people."

A member of the Executive Council is quoted by the London "Evening Standard" as saying—"Both Mr. Chamberlain and Mr. Churchill are mistaken in talking of the retention of the Land Annuities and the Abolition of the Oath as a repudiation of the Treaty. There is no mention of the Land Annuities in the Treaty; and, as for the Oath, the Treaty is so worded that the taking of the Oath is optional. We are merely amending the Constitution, and we claim that it is purely our own domestic affair."

The "Star," London, says it is informed on the highest authority that if the Irish Free State abolishes the oath of allegiance with the British Government, it will amount to an absolute flouting of the League of Nations as well as a repudiation of the Treaty between London and Dublin. If the oath is abolished and the British Government protests, President Mr. de Valera is bound in law to seek the arbitration of the International Court at The Hague. This comes about because the Articles of Agreement between the countries—the Treaty—were registered at Geneva with the League of Nations as an international instrument and because the Irish Free State signed the Optional Clause without reservation.

As things stand (says the London "Observer") we must face quite coolly the contingencies that the new President's declaration opens. If the Dail goes with Mr. de Valera in his rejection of the standards that bind honourable men, British policy must be adjusted to the role that Ireland elects to play. That adjustment, happily can be effected without either violent or complicated measures. . . . Great Britain can quite comfortably feel herself from countries that remain loyal to the Empire, supplemented by such nations as Denmark, whose political temper facilities economic co-operation. As for the land annuities withheld by Ireland, it will not be difficult to recover them from her in the shape of tariffs—though the change of medium will be a decidedly expensive one for herself.

The new situation, in short, will be dealt with on this side in a thoroughly cool and businesslike spirit. We shall have regrets for Ireland's sake, and particularly for the sake of those who have laboured with so much perseverance to help her to political manhood. But what must be, and our relations with the Free State are only a detail in a very big day's work.

The English people, who are grateful for the end of their long differences with Ireland and have acquired a sincere respect for the Irish nation during ten years of Mr. Cosgrave's steady rule, desire anything but a recrudescence of trouble (says the "Sunday Times"), and will certainly not be either alarmed by, or quick to take offence at, the latest proposals from Dublin. But neither could they accept without question the situation that would be created if Mr. de Valera were to make the mistake of carrying out his threatened policy to its full logical conclusion.

PLEA FOR MODERATION. Under the caption, "Give De Valera a Chance," the "Sunday Express" says: Mr. de Valera has been talking in a somewhat bold and unstrained fashion. But then Mr. de Valera has just emerged from an election. He has still to complete the process of adjusting election speeches to the cold reality. We should refrain from premature judgment and from language that is calculated to inflame old bitterness.

The "Daily Telegraph" says that the one surviving test of the Free State's membership of the British Empire today is readiness to pledge allegiance to the Crown. If that is refused the consequences are for the people of Southern Ireland to consider. As Mr. Churchill has put it the Free State "becomes an anomalous body without status at all either in or out of the Empire." If that is to be the case, Mr. de Valera need not trouble himself to consider, as he has stated that he is considering, the question of Free State representation at Ottawa. If he takes his country out of the Empire there is an end of that matter, as of all other claims to consideration while British tariff policy is being wrought into its definite form. And during that process, it need hardly be added, regard would certainly be had to any such monstrous violation of good faith.

Youghal District Nursing Association.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The Annual General Meeting of the above was held in the Town Hall, on Tuesday night, Mrs. Arbuthnot, President was in the Chair and the following members of the Executive Committee were in attendance. Mrs. Crosbie, Mrs. H. Watson, Mrs. Reburn, Mrs. J. Condon, Mrs. J. Walsh, Mrs. Fleming, Miss Meade, Mrs. J. Murray, Hon. Treas., and Miss May Walsh, Hon. Sec., Advisory Committee, Rev. V. W. Darling, M.A., Rector, Rev. W. Carey, C.C., Rev. E. O'Riordan, C.C., Rev. J. Aherne, C.C., Rev. J. Miller, Rev. J. Hart, Methodist Minister, Dr. M. Twomey, P.C., Dr. D. J. Murphy, Dr. H. K. Kevin, Mrs. S. Hurley, P.C.; Amongst the others present were—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., U.D.C.; D. J. Linehan, U.D.C.; M. H. Walsh, P.C., Town Clerk; W. Reburn, Good, Mrs. Orpin, Miss Fitzgerald, Miss Wall, Miss M. Murray.

The Chairman (Mrs. Arbuthnot) said she had an interesting announcement to make—there would be no collection (laughter). In times like the present it was difficult to adequately finance a charitable organisation, but they looked forward hopefully to the result of their weekly collection boxes and to assistance from the L.G. under which their nurse would work in certain matters. Those would go a long way to help them meet their demands and they trusted that when the people in general came to recognise the great utility and humanity of the scheme they would have a big increase in the number of their Annual subscribers. She wished to thank the gentlemen who had helped to make their Whist Drive such a success.

The Hon. Sec., read the Annual Report and the Hon. Treasurer, the Balance Sheet, both of which were adopted, on the proposition of Mr. Linehan, seconded by Mrs. Hurley. Reference was made to the care bestowed by the nurse on young children—healthy children made for a healthy nation (hear, hear).

Mrs. Hurley asked would the nurse's ministrations interfere with the local maternity nurses.

The Chairman said there would be no interference whatever. The Association nurse came in only afterwards. The Committee would be glad to receive any suggestions from those present.

There being no reply she said she would like to express their deep gratitude to their Hon. Secretary, and Hon. Treasurer, for the manner in which they had carried out their duties. On them devolved practically the greater part of the work and in doing it they had left nothing to be desired (hear, hear).

A hearty vote of thanks was then passed to Miss Walsh and Mrs. Murray.

Dr. Murphy, speaking on behalf of the whole community, proposed a vote of thanks to their worthy President for the great trouble and care she had taken in inaugurating this very beneficial scheme. From a wide experience he wished to testify to the excellent manner in which that Scheme had been worked. He had laboured among the poor of the town for some 35 years, and he was therefore in a position to know how highly the people appreciated the services of their really excellent nurse, Miss Kenny, (hear, hear). His only regret that they had't the benefit of her skill and care and kindness long before. He felt confident that now that the townspeople could judge of the many advantages of that Association, they wouldn't alone keep it going, but would increase the help they were giving it.

Mr. O'Gorman, seconding, said it would be impossible to give adequate expression to the appreciation of the people of the efforts of the President of that Association and her able band of workers. They had introduced the greatest blessing and boon, to God's poor ever seen in their midst. He doubted very much if it would have been such a success were it not that their worthy President and her husband, Major Arbuthnot, whose services and purse were at the call of every good object (hear, hear). They deserved well of the people of Youghal. In his business capacity he frequently met with many of those who had the benefit of the ministrations of their nurse. They all looked upon her as a ministering angel.

The President thanked them for their kind vote and remarks. She had not been able to do much, but any little thing she did, she did with pleasure and would continue to do so in future, (applause).

On the proposition of Rev. Mr. Darling, seconded by Dr. Kevin, the outgoing Committee and Officers were unanimously re-elected.

Mrs. Hurley proposed a sincere vote of thanks to nurse Kenny for the great service she was giving unselfishly to the poor of the town. They couldn't say enough in acknowledgement and praise of her great work and she would have the cordial co-operation of all with humanity at heart.

The proposition was passed with acclamation. The President—in the absence of Miss Kenny (laughter) thanked Miss Kenny here stood up and thanked the meeting for their kind appreciation of the little she was able to do. Having transacted some routine business, the proceedings terminated.

THE SUBORDINATE. Greengrocer: I could not tell you what my wife's earnings were when she ran the business because she was my gov'nor and master and missus.

YOUGHAL NOTES.

YOUGHAL NOTES.

LUCKY YOUGHAL MAN. For the first time since the initiation of the Hospitals' Sweepstakes, a horse Ruddyman—was drawn by a Youghal man, Mr. Michael Lee, South Main Street. At noon on Monday week his sister, Mrs. J. Mulley, received a wire from the "Irish Press" conveying the good news and tendering congratulations. When the telegraph boy first arrived she thought he was the bringer of bad news, and she couldn't believe the contents until it was confirmed by a later message. Her brother, who is aged 52 and unmarried is at present at sea in the M. V. Orestes on his way from Australia to Liverpool, which she is expected to reach about April 4th. Mrs. Mulley told your correspondent that they were always at her brother about spending his money on sweep tickets, but his reply invariably was "Never mind, luck will turn someday." And sure enough it has turned this time. It appears he bought the winning ticket in Liverpool, but he gave his home address. She had had several inquiries as to the terms on which a half share would be sold. Mr. Maurice Lee, his brother was one of the crew in the R.M.S. Laurentic, when she was torpedoed off the North coast of Ireland in 1915.

THE NEW GOVERNMENT.

The local supporters of Fianna Fail celebrated with great enthusiasm the advent of the new Government on Thursday night week. A big procession was formed at the Fair Field, and headed by the local Pipers Band, playing lively national airs, it marched through the principal streets, with numerous tricolours waving. Several houses also flew the national flag. On returning to the vicinity of the North Abbey Cemetery, a halt was made and a decade of the Rosary recited for the repose of the souls of those resting in the Republican Plot. Stirring addresses were subsequently delivered by Mr. E. P. Lynch, Vice-Chairman U.D.C., and others.

THE DEAD YOUGHAL HERO.

The Urban Council Committee have issued a poster inviting subscriptions to a Fund in aid of the dependents of James Duggan, who sacrificed his life going to the rescue of his shipmate at New Ross recently. It is said that the bereaved widow comes of a Dungarvan family. The sad occurrence has left her and her child totally unprovided for, and it is therefore hoped that there will be a generous response to this worthy appeal. At the last meeting of the Council it was suggested by Mr. Linehan that the sad circumstances of the case should be brought under the notice of the Carnegie Hero Fund. As the event occurred at New Ross, it was stated that it would be a matter for the New Ross Council to move in. Coming from them an appeal to the Trustees of the Carnegie Fund would be sure to receive favourable consideration.

NEWS.

This week is very scarce and scrappy at least as far as local stuff is concerned, of course, there is hardly ever a dearth of world-wide news, even that there's no Dail or Parliament in Session. Trust the news mongers to dish up something tasty and toothsome for the general public, even though some of it has later to be repudiated under the category of 'terminological inexactitudes.' Periods like the present are sometimes termed "silly seasons," during which more or less improbable yarns of "seaserpents" and other things of the 'ilk' are trotted out to satisfy the cravings of a gullible people. Here, there and everywhere fertile imaginations are on the qui vive for something to fill up columns in the Press that would otherwise be occupied with rehashed waste from all quarters. However, there's an end to everything, even to the slump in "the village pump" news.

WHIST DRIVE.

In their laudable efforts to shoulder the financial responsibilities undertaken by them in providing amusement for the public at large and thereby bringing grist to many a local mill, the Regatta and Fireworks Committee are organising a Whist Drive for Thursday 31st inst. There is no more popular form of entertainment of late than a well-organised Whist Drive. Being genuinely democratic and cosmopolitan, it brings together a thoroughly representative gathering, who enjoy a really innocent flutter for a few hours. In the present instance the object is of such a praiseworthy nature that the organisers confidently anticipate a bumper house. If the people expect to have a renewal of this popular fixture they must give a widespread support to next Thursday's event and others got up for the same object. In their efforts to cater in a proper manner for the amusement of the townspeople and visitors, the Committee went to extra expense, and they should now be helped to clear the indebtedness incurred.

G.A.A.

For some years past, the local G.A.A. have been maintaining a very uphill fight to keep our national pastimes going locally. In their laudable undertaking they have not received anything like the help and encouragement they deserve from the local public, especially from those who stand to benefit most by the holding of games. This may seem a strange and groundless assertion. Nevertheless it is nothing less than gospel truth. To keep the fine field at Copperally available for the holding of matches and sports they have incurred a pretty heavy liability with the object of reducing this, a Cinderella Dance will be held in the Town Hall, on to-morrow, Easter Sunday night. It is to be hoped by all who take a genuine interest in the upkeep and development of our grand national pastimes in our midst, that they will have the patronage of an overflowing floor of dancers on the occasion. In addition to having a good night's enjoyment, they will have the satisfaction of helping the local G.A.A. in carrying out the worthy objects they have in view. If the Club received anything like the help they richly deserve, Youghal would once again attain the high place it held in former days in the field of Irish sport.

"HURLERS ON THE DITCH."

Who has not heard the saying that the "best hurlers are on the ditch"? Some of them maybe—and judging by the remarks heard amongst them they certainly have the fond illusion that they are—able to tell the men in the gap how to play, but in one certain direction they display a very poor sporting spirit. As a usual rule one of the competing teams comes from a distance and therefore has a very small following outside the lines, while the other is a local or from a nearby neighbourhood. The result is that while every score made by the local team is cheered to the echo, a much more deserving score, perhaps, by the strangers is, ignored or 'damned by faint praise.' Such a lack of a spirit of true sport on the part of children in their teens, or perhaps a little out of them, can be comprehended and allowed for—though it certainly, when carried to extremes might be checked by any older with any sense of fair play and decency—but when grown-ups indulge in it, it is nothing less than rotten. Many of our readers, it may be safely conjectured, have witnessed such displays from time to time, and many among them must have experienced a sense of something like shame. It is certainly rather hard on a strange team, perhaps badly handicapped in its constitution to hear such shouts from the side-lines at some of our matches.

THE LUCK OF THE SWEEP.

FORTUNES FOR SWEEP TICKET HOLDERS.

EIGHT IRISH WINNERS.

The result of the Grand National Steplechase, run at Aintree, last Friday, has given big fortunes to eight holders of Sweep tickets in Ireland. These comprise four sums of £30,000, two of £45,000 and two of £10,000. Dublin, Athlone and Newry are the places to which the larger prizes will go. Twenty-one members of the Civic Guards at Athlone share one of these. One of the £45,000 prizes comes to Cork, the ticket holder being a well-known business man in the city.

Ireland's winnings from Sweep tickets as a result of the race amount to £47,000 while the total figure awarded to ticket holders of the horses finishing first, second and third is £4,219,000.

THE LUCKY ONES.

Of the twenty-one tickets drawn in the Irish Hospitals' Sweep for Forbra, four are held in Ireland. The owners who draw £30,000 each are: CH 57250—Sergeant P. Comer and 20 others Garda Stochana, Athlone. LC 26054—H. Cayne, and Miss McNice, 53, Blessington street, Dublin. CS 25952—"The Lucky Thirteen," 35 North Brunswick street, Dublin. MQ 74480—"John D. F.," c/o Belfast Bank, Newry.

The non-de-plume of "Lucky Thirteen" covers the identity of a group of ladies. The holder of the ticket is Miss Elizabeth Brady, employed in Jacob's factory, and with her are three co-workers, Misses Boyne, McGrath and Doyle, her sister, Miss Alice Brady, Miss Hanley, Mrs. McCabe, and Mr. Carlay, all of 35, North Brunswick St.; Miss Finnegan, 36 do.; Mrs. Richardson, Stanley street, and Mr. Wakefield, 28 Clonmore road, North Strand.

Mr. Coyne and Miss McNice, of Blessington street, have equal shares in their ticket. They only returned to Ireland from America six weeks ago.

"John D. F." c/o Belfast Bank, Newry, is Mr. Jim Fisher, of Rathlur, Warrenpoint, a well-known member of Newry Rowing Club, and a prominent Rugby player. He is a son of Mr. Frank Fisher, J.P., Newry.

All holders of tickets for Forbra draw £30,000. Cork holds one of the two tickets in Ireland which drew Egremont. Under the non-de-plume of "O.K. Baby," ticket KK 70900 is held by Mr. T. A. Wood of Rockliffe, Blackrock, Cork. He is sole owner of the ticket.

The other ticket is held in Dublin under the non-de-plume of "Nelson Pillar".

The holders of tickets for Egremont receive £45,000. Two tickets are also held in Ireland for Shaun Golin, and they are entitled to the third prizes of £10,000 each. The owners of the tickets are resident in Enniskillen and Dunsurry, Co. Antrim.

The ticket, "Last Thought," which drew Shaun Golin, is shared by four people in Enniskillen—Miss Lily Campbell, Mr. M. Gunne, his sister, Miss Lily Gunne, and Mr. J. G. McCusker, a clerk in the Munster and Leinster Bank.

SALE THAT FAILED.

Mr. T. A. Wood, managing director of the Eagle Printing Works, told a Press representative that he had not sold the lucky ticket, though he had indeed, tried to part with it. He explained that the prospective purchasers were asked to lodge the money the amount of which he did not disclose, in a certain bank in London, but he could not get in touch with them over the telephone on Thursday. As a result Mr. Wood will get all the £45,000 himself.

St. Patrick's Night in Lismore.

IRISH DRAMA PRODUCED.

St. Patrick's Night was a typically Irish night in Lismore when the stirring and historical Irish Drama, "The West's Awake," was performed in the Town Hall (Courthouse) by the Lismore Dramatic Society before a crowded and most appreciative audience. This admirable Society, which is associated with the Lismore Gymnastic Club, was founded some years ago by Mr. James Goulding, brother of Mr. Sean Goulding, T.D. and has since enjoyed a very prosperous career, having produced within this period several fine plays which have met with a remarkable degree of success. The performers are all local ladies and gentlemen, no outside aid having to be enlisted, and they have been carefully trained by Mr. John O'Grady, who is manager of the society and also stage manager, ably assisted by Mr. James Willoughby, Lismore.

It is now the intention of the Committee to form a Choral Class as an adjunct to the Dramatic Class so as to extend in every possible way this movement for the cultural and vocational development of the youth of Lismore, and judging by the amount of high-class vocal talent at present available, there is every reason to hope that the Choral Class will in a short time become as successful as the Dramatic Class has already proved itself to be. That this object will be successfully attained is now freely admitted by competent Judges on all sides and with such a strong and efficient driving force behind the movement, its success is already assured.

We are glad to hear that the Dramatic Society is now in a very sound financial position, notwithstanding the fact that the members had to start without any assets and without making any public appeal for funds which is a great tribute to the able management at the head of affairs.

They have provided a complete Gymnastic Equipment, a well-constructed stage, beautiful sets of scenery and stage effects which would do credit to a first-class professional company and they will finish this season completely free of all debt and with a substantial sum to credit to carry forward to the next season.

In response to various requests from outside sources, it is hoped that the Society will appear on an early date in Dungarvan, Fermoy, and other Southern towns, while their ultimate appearance in the Opera House, Cork, is not beyond the realms of possibility.

One of the members of the society is a specialist in stage decoration and period furniture, while the scenery for this performance was specially painted by Mr. James Goulding and proved a credit to his great artistic genius.

The scenic effects and lighting arrangements were carried out by members of the society and were a masterpiece of efficiency in every respect.

A splendid stage had been erected and as no permanent stage has been provided for the Courthouse it is to be hoped the Count Council will now see its way to provide one or purchase this stage, which is easily removable, as this would prove a very valuable asset to the building when letting the Hall to other companies in the future. Owing to the great interest taken in the St. Patrick's Night performance, the Hall was filled to capacity long before the opening hour and large numbers of later arrivals had to be refused admission, but those and many others will be delighted to learn that the play will be repeated in the same Hall on Easter Sunday night when there is certain to be another large audience to witness this fine dramatic treat.

The scene in the play is laid in a village in the Co. Mayo during the stirring period of '98, and each act is full of intense and thrilling episodes dealing with that fateful year in Irish history. The various scenes represent "A midnight Raid on a Rebel's Home," "The Fate of Father Delany," "The Machinations of the Spy," "Dramatic Defence by Norah McCarthy," "Wounding of English Officer," "Arrest of Rebel Leader," "Fighting between Rebels and Soldiers," "Death of

The O'Grady," "Execution of Rebel Leader," "Reception Room at Col. Thunders," "Discovery of the Rebel Spy," "The Prison Vault," "Escape of Rebel Prisoners," "The Fate of Col. Thunders," "Capture of Spy," etc.

The Dramatic Personae was as follows:—"The O'Grady, Head of an old Irish family" (Mr. J. Barnes); "McMurrugh O'Grady, his son, a Rebel Leader" (Mr. J. Singleton); "Father Delany, a young Irish Priest" (Mr. P. Moore); "Morgan O'Brien, Leader of the United Irishmen" (Mr. J. O'Grady); "Beamish McCarthy, a prominent Rebel follower" (Mr. M. O'Brien); "Norah McCarthy, sister to Beamish" (Miss Molly Goff); Col. Thunders, a local Magnate" (Mr. R. Chestnut); "Captain Kenny, an English Officer" (Mr. D. Dooly); "Captain Crookshank, do." (Mr. P. Neville); "Reynold McNab, a Government Spy" (Mr. P. O'Sullivan); "Simon Imalair, London Times Reporter" (Mr. E. Stapleton); "Pauline Duffery, an English lady visitor in sympathy with the Rebels" (Miss Shelia Daly); "Carolina O'Grady, The O'Grady's daughter" (Miss Mary O'Grady); Soldiers, Peasants, etc.

The cast proved to be a particularly well-chosen one, as each character was admirably suited to his or her part, and the entire play was performed without the slightest hitch and showed how carefully it had been rehearsed by all. In the heavier parts Messrs J. Barnes, J. Singleton, J. O'Grady, P. Moore, and R. Chestnut, displayed rare dramatic power, and elocutionary talent, while the parts of the two English officers were very faithfully portrayed by Messrs. D. Dooly, and P. Neville. Mr. P. O'Sullivan made a capital spy, while Mr. E. Stapleton, as the "London Times" Reporter also gave a very finished performance.

As "Norah McCarthy," Miss Molhe Goff had a most popular role and filled it with all the grace and patriotic fire and enthusiasm which the part called for. Miss Shelia Daly proved a charming and attractive "English Lady visitor" and acted her part with convincing success, the only drawback being her rich Irish accent which easily betrayed her nationality. Miss Mary O'Grady in the popular part of "Caroline, The O'Grady's daughter," was also an undoubted success, while all the other parts were equally well filled.

The entire play went with a singular rhythm and swing and made a strong appeal to the patriotic feelings of the large audience whose loud and frequent applause testified to their high appreciation of the admirable manner in which all the performers had acquitted themselves.

At the close of the Drama, Mr. J. Goulding, briefly thanked the audience for the kind and appreciative manner in which they had received the play and paid a high tribute of praise to all the performers who had done their work so well. (Applause).

A short but delightful Irish Concert followed, in the course of which Miss Eileen Healy sang "Mavourneen" in a sweet and musical manner which won her a loud and warm encore.

This was Miss Healy's first appearance as a concert singer before a Lismore audience, and from the great vocal and musical talent which she displayed on the occasion she gives every promise of being a most successful artist in the near future.

Other attractive items were rendered by Mr. J. Barnes, "Hill of Donegal"; Mr. J. Fogarty, "Comic Songs"; Mr. M. O'Brien, "Innisfail," etc., all the artists winning loud encores, and a grand harmonised chorus by the members of the Society. "The Dear Little Shamrock," proved an appropriate finale to one of the most enjoyable Irish nights' entertainment held in Lismore for a long time.

Agricultural Conditions

1st MARCH, 1932.

Weather and Work.—Reports from every district in Saorstad Eireann indicate that the weather during the month of February was the most satisfactory for seasonal cultural operations experienced during the past quarter of a century. Practically no rain fell during the month. The first three weeks were marked by a genial springlike temperature during the daytime, with occasional night frosts, and it was not until the last few days that a cold snap was experienced and a bitter east wind set in. Owing to the favourable climatic conditions, lands everywhere in the country were in an exceptionally favourable state for ploughing, and this work was virtually completed during the month.

In the early potato-growing districts, the planting of early varieties was almost finished during the month, and in many other districts some progress was made with the planting of main crop potatoes. In quite a number of districts oats were sown in the warmer soils. In addition to these duties, farmers were engaged during the month in sorting and removing potatoes from the pits, clearing turnips from the fields, top-dressing meadows and cleaning drains. At the close of the month all seasonal work was well in advance of the stage normally reached at that period of the year. It was generally reported that an increased area of land was being devoted to the growing of oats this year.

Food Supplies for Livestock.—Except on fields that had been manured and in sheltered situations, pastures suffered from the long dry spell and afforded comparatively little keep for livestock. On the other hand, supplies of hay and roots were fairly plentiful. Grain was fed to a lesser extent than usual owing to the high prices obtaining for it on the market. On the whole the position at the end of the month was regarded as satisfactory.

Livestock was reported to be healthy and generally in fair condition. Outbreaks of liver fluke disease were reported from a number of districts, but the fatalities from the disease were reported to have been fewer than during the preceding month.

Grain—Supplies and Market Prices.—The only kind of grain marketed in any quantity by farmers during February was oats, and relatively small quantities of that grain were on offer. Most farmers having surplus stocks continuing to hold them pending the general opening of the market for seed. In County Donegal it was reported that millers found it difficult to obtain supplies of white oats for milling at 15s. per barrel, and that farmers with extra good quality grain were hoping to realise 21s. a barrel for it as seed. Imported seed oats were on offer at 24s. 6d. plus duty, but sales were limited. In Dublin white feeding oats realised 17s. to 19s. per barrel, and black 12s. 6d. to 15s.; while home-grown white seed oats ranged from 20s. to 24s. per barrel. Last year's price for seed oats of corresponding quality was from 14s. to 16s. per barrel. In County Galway good samples of seed oats which were rather scarce fetched 23s. per barrel. In County Kerry good samples of seed oats were up to 21s. per barrel. In Co. Cork oats were obtainable at 25s. 8d. per barrel. In County Kilkenny prices for sales between farmers were around 20s. per barrel. The prices charged locally at the corresponding date last year were, home-grown oats 15s. imported 22s. 9d., but prices increased later in the season. In Laois prices for oats between farmers ranged from 15s. to 17s. per barrel for white, and from 14s. to 15s. 6d. per barrel for black. Prices ex-store were, white 20s. to 22s. and black 16s. to 20s. per barrel. In County Cork imported seed oats were on offer at from 25s. 4d. to 28s. 10d. per barrel, while home-grown seed oats sold at from 22s. 9d. to 25s. 4d. per barrel. In County Wexford seed wheat (Red Marvel and April Red) was sold by farmers at 30s. to 35s. per barrel; while good white seed oats were sold at 17s. per barrel. In County Louth home-grown Victory II. realised as much as 25s. per barrel and Sonas 24s.

The market for seed barley had not opened, but some seed changed hands at 21s. per barrel.

Flax.—Very little flax was sown during the month of February owing to the prevailing slow demand for fibre. The yield and quality as revealed by the scutchings carried out were from poor to fair. Prices for the comparatively few sales that took place were around 5s. to 7s. per stone.

Potatoes.—Although the yield of the 1931 potato crop was below the average, supplies were carefully conserved and fed sparingly, with the result that almost average reserves for the season of the year were on hands at most farms at the end of February. The tubers kept well in the pits, although sprouting occurred to a considerable extent. Markets were well supplied during the month and prices tended easier. Export demand was quieter in the counties from which an export trade is carried on, and prices to growers were around £6 per ton. Small lots for local consumption realised higher figures. It was considered that in most districts the supplies of seed available would be adequate for the requirements.

Catch crops made good progress during the month. The area sown was, however, smaller than last year, owing to the abundant supplies of hay available for feeding to livestock.

Cattle.—The provincial cattle fairs held during February were of average size. There was an improved demand for well-conditioned stores, especially those of the yearling and two-year-old classes, and prices were firmer, choice springing cows and down-calved cows were also in steady demand. Stall-fed cattle met a fairly good inquiry having regard to the depressed condition of cross-channel markets.

The following quotations may be taken as representative of the range of average prices for the various descriptions of stock sold at provincial fairs during February:

Dropped Calves from £2 10s. to £3 10s.; calves under 6 months from £3 10s. to £5 10s. First-class Yearlings from £7 10s. to £9 12s. 6d. First-class Stores (1 to 2 years) from £10 10s. to £14 10s. First-class Stores (2 to 3 years) from £14 to £17. First-class Stores (3 years and over) from £16 to £18 10s. Fat Bulls and Heifers from £17 to £21. Choice Springing cows and Heifers from £19 to £23 10s. Freshly-calved Cows from £17 to £20 10s.

Sheep.—Flocks were maintained in good health during the month. Fluke disease was in evidence on many farms and occasioned some mortality in flocks, but in most cases flock owners worried off serious trouble by the adoption of the normal precautions. In the earlier districts lambing was in full swing at the end of the month, and so far as it had progressed was giving satisfactory results, the crop of lambs being up to the average with a good proportion of doubles. The supply of sheep at fairs was about the normal. Fat sheep sold at from 34s. to 56s. each and lambs at from 28s. to 37s. 6d. each, with higher values for animals of outstanding quality and condition.

Pigs.—Fairs and markets were fairly well supplied with pigs during February, although the numbers offered were rather less than in the preceding month. Pigs suitable for the bacon-curing trade were in fair demand. Prices fluctuated during the month and closed around 53s. per cwt. dead weight, or approximately 39s. 9d. per cwt., on the live weight basis. Bonhams were in plentiful supply at most centres and sold at from 15s. to 30s. according to age and condition. Breeding stocks were reported to have been well maintained during the month.

Porkers were in good demand during the month at prices ranging up to 60s. per cwt. dead weight.

Horses.—The trade in horses was practically unchanged. Good working farm horses realised up to £35 each, heavy van horses up to £40, and good lorry horses up to £55 each. Troopers made up to £35 each and hunters up to £20 each.

Milk.—Supplies of milk to Creameries during February were rather below the normal. Prices for January milk averaged 6d. per gallon with separated milk retained. Milk collected in Counties Wicklow and Meath for retail sale in Dublin returned about 1s. 1d. per gallon to producers.

FAMOUS DUNGARVAN MAN. DR LOUIS C. PURSER, PASSES AWAY.

A BRILLIANT SCHOLAR.
Old Dungarvan residents will remember the Purser family, who lived in the Town in the long ago, the head of the firm being engaged as brewer at the Brewery then run on the premises occupied by the Shandon Dairy to-day.

The death occurred in Dublin on Sunday, after a short illness, of Mr. Louis Claude Purser, Litt.D., M.R.I.A. Fellow of the British Academy, and formerly Vice-Provost of Trinity College, Dublin.

The late Dr. Purser, who was in his 77th year, was the youngest son of the late Mr. Benjamin Purser of Dungarvan, and had a very distinguished career. He was Classical Scholar in Trinity College, Dublin, in 1873, and First Classical Moderator in 1875. He became a Fellow of the College in 1887, and was Tutor, 1881-1898; Professor of Latin, 1898-1904; Junior Professor, 1904 and 1917-21; Auditor and Senior Vice-Provost, 1924-27. He retired in 1927.

He was Secretary of the Council of the Royal Irish Academy, 1902-7, and Vice-President, 1916, 1922, 1924, 1927, and 1928.

LITERARY ACHIEVEMENTS.
A gentleman of great personal charm and kindness of heart, Dr. Purser was held in affectionate regard by generations of Trinity men. His greatest literary achievement was "The Correspondence of Cicero" in seven volumes, a work at which he collaborated with the late Dr. Tyrrell. In addition to many articles in the great Dictionary of Antiquities and in learned journals, Dr. Purser published an edition of Cupid and Psyche of Apuleius. In 1927 the late Dr. Purser was presented with a remarkable portrait of himself by the College. His brother Dr. John Purser, one-time Regius Professor of Medicine, endowed the College laboratory with £40,000.

Oxford University conferred an honorary degree of Doctor of Letters on Dr. Purser in 1923. He received the Hon. Litt.D., Glasgow, 1914 and Hon. Litt.D., (Durham) last year. He was unmarried.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

"MONEY TO BURN."

In those hard times when one hears everybody talking about economic depression and the great scarcity of money, it is consoling to think that Cappoquin, at least, has very little to complain about in this respect. For instance, it was shown in last week's "Observer" that the Cappoquin Race Committee had the substantial sum of £65 to credit after the recent successful Point-to-Point Races, the Rowing Club had £60 on the right side of its account after the past year's working, while the C.Y.M.S., had £37 to credit after the same period, so in face of this striking evidence of local prosperity it is not idle for anyone in Cappoquin to be talking about "hard times" when we have practically "money to burn" here at present!

G.A.A.
Aglish and Kilgobinet junior football Clubs were advertised to play an interesting match in the sportsfield here on last Sunday week, for the semi-final of the Medal Tournament started by the local Gaels over a year ago.

On Friday night, however, Aglish sent word that they would be unable to fulfil their engagement as they had no team available, so the promoters had to wire to Kilgobinet on Saturday telling them not to travel on Sunday, and thus what had promised to be a fast and scientific match had to be indefinitely postponed.

THE GRAND NATIONAL SWEEP.

Perhaps it was because of the above prosperity that not one of the hundreds of ticket-holders in the Grand National "Sweep" here was able to draw a horse or a big prize in the grand drawing on Monday week, which has resulted in bringing almost fabulous wealth to many more favoured persons in other parts of the country.

We met one philosophical ticket-holder on Monday, who is not a strict disciple of Pussfoot, and who stated that if he won the big prize he should have to pass through four different stages as follows:—Expectation, Realisation, Inebriation, and, perhaps, Damnation, so after all, he may have been lucky in being unlucky as this may eventually result in his complete salvation.

HARBINGERS OF SUMMER.

When the cuckoo which forgot to fly home to his sunny Southern climes at the end of one Summer is heard early the following year plaintively calling to his absent mates by singing in dulcet notes "Come back to Erin," everybody says that this is an undoubted indication of an early and warm Summer, but whilst we have not yet heard any Cuckoo around here we had evidence of another kind on last Sunday that Summer must be very close at hand, if it hasn't actually yet arrived. This evidence was provided by a number of young enthusiasts who were seen playing cricket in a field at Kilbre on Sunday afternoon week, with the same zest and enjoyment as one would associate with the sport in mid-Summer. It further proves that we are thoroughly up-to-date in Cappoquin, when we can start our cricket season before the Flat-Racing season had been opened in England.

A NEW ORCHESTRA.

As far back as last November we advocated in this column the formation of an orchestra for Cappoquin and pointed out the great amount of musical talent which had been lying latent here for several years past.

We are glad to be able to state now our suggestion has since been acted on, as within the past month a very fine orchestra has been formed in the town which is composed of several of our most talented young musicians and equipped with all the latest musical instruments.

Although only a short time at practice, the members had already attained a very high stage of proficiency, and when some of the Cappoquin exiles return to their native town in connection with the Eucharistic Congress a few months hence they will find here an orchestra which will be a distinct credit to the "Old Cornerstone."

U.S.A. POST OFFICE AND THE SWEEPSTAKES.

EFFORT TO CHECK THE PEOPLE'S INTEREST.

As a result of the interest in the United States in sweepstakes, lotteries, and other forms of gambling, and especially the Irish Sweepstakes, the Post Office Department has announced its determination to take action against any publication using the United States mails which publishes any details of sweepstakes or news of distribution of winnings.

The results of such races as the Grand National may, of course, legally be published, as the publication of the results of horse races is not illegal. A Post Office official said: "The country seems to have gone lottery mad and there are pools on all sorts of things—elections, the weather tomorrow even—and communications considering lotteries, their operation and their results are absolutely contrary to Federal law.

The penalty for breach of the law is a fine of 1,000 dol. (£200 at par) or two years' imprisonment, or both.

PLAINER ENGLISH.

Magistrate: What do you say this was?—Policeman: A mechanically propelled vehicle, sir.—Magistrate: What most people call a motor-car.

Waterford County Board of Public Assistance

The monthly meeting of the above was held in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Wednesday week. Ald. T. D. Connolly, Chairman, presided. The other members present were—Messrs. J. Butler, T. Tracey, M. Curran, M. F. Walsh, John O'Donnell, J. O'Regan, P. Gaultfield, T. Synnot, T. Dunne, Jas. O'Donovan, T. Cosgrave, Wm. Stack.

Appointment of Assistance Officer.
On the proposition of Mr. J. O'Donnell, seconded by Mr. O'Donovan, Mr. Jas. Power, was appointed Assistance Officer under the Board for the Carrick-on-Suir area, in place of the late Mr. Martin Power, his father.

Mr. Power was also appointed by the Board of Health as Sub-Sanitary Officer, at a salary of £21 per annum; and Inspector under the Dairies and Cowsheds order at a salary of £23 per annum.

Wireless Set.
The Board accepted the tender of Mr. D. V. Stokes, for supplying a wireless set and loudspeaker to the Co. Home, Dungarvan, for the sum of £19.

Secretary.—After a trial it is working splendidly.
Mr. Butler—in order to get the best value, you would require a second loudspeaker. He proposed that it be got.

Secretary in reply said the second loudspeaker was necessary.
The Board decided to procure a second loudspeaker.

Mr. Cosgrave—I hope now that they will enjoy it.

Financial Statement.
The monthly financial statement showed a credit of £2,471 at the end of the month.

New Member.
Mr. Curran, proposed a resolution of welcome to their new member, Mr. Synnot.

Mr. Synnot, thanking the members for the welcome, said he would do his best as a member, but he did not expect to come up to the standard of the late lamented member (Mr. Brett), who was an ideal public representative.

Home Assistance.
The Secretary reported the amount of Home Assistance paid out during the month was £2,287 19s. 0d. The amount paid the previous month was £2,234 7s. 1d., and for the corresponding period last year £1,92 11s. 9d., showing an increase of £365 7s. 3d. over last year.

Increase Refused.
The Board had before then an application from the caretaker of the Cappoquin Dispensary, for an increase of salary.

Mr. Walsh—What is his present salary?
Secretary—£10 per year.
Mr. Cosgrave—What is the highest figure paid to a caretaker?
Secretary—In Waterford you pay 25 a week, but that is a whole-time job.
Mr. Walsh—There is one thing, he is a very careful man.
Mr. Butler—What fee is paid in Lismore?
Secretary—£10.
Mr. O'Regan—Let it stand as it is. The application was refused.

Lismore Fever Hospital.
Dr. Healy, Lismore, wrote regarding the furniture in the old Fever Hospital. He enclosed a long list of materials, which should be condemned instead of being transferred to the new Fever Hospital.

The Board after a discussion ordered the Secretary to purchase only articles urgently required for the new Hospital.

Tender For Bread.
Arising out of a recommendation from the Waterford Co. Hospital Committee, that the tender of Messrs. O'Brien, Waterford for bread at 4 3/4 pds per 4 lb be accepted. The other tender received was from Messrs. Lodge, Tramore, at 4 15/16d per 4 lb loaf. The grounds for the recommendation were stated to be that Messrs. O'Brien always gave free of charge Fancy Bread at Xmas to the institution; they were large employers and large ratepayers.

Secretary—You will destroy competition if you don't give fair play.
Mr. O'Regan, proposed, that the lowest tender be accepted.

Mr. O'Donnell, seconded.
On a vote, Mr. O'Regan's proposition was defeated by 10 votes to 2.

New Dispensary.
A letter was read from the Department re the carrying out of improvement at the Dungarvan Dispensary.

The Chairman said he inspected it this morning with Dr. Casey, and he must say it is most unsuitable. Dr. Casey is of opinion that if a site could be procured, they could have a Dispensary erected for £350. They could then sell the present building.

Mr. Butler—The present building is unsuitable and will not admit improvement owing to ground space. If a suitable site can be got they could erect a dispensary suitable in every way for £350, and they would get back the money by the sale of the present house as a residence.

An order was made that advertisements be issued for a suitable site.

Vocational Classes At Kilmathomas.
An offer was received from the Vocational Education Committee, offering the Board £20 per annum for a period of 5 years for rooms in the Kilmathomas Workhouse, for the purpose of holding classes.

The Board had previously asked £30. The offer of £20 was accepted.

Tenders For Supplies.

The following tenders were received for supplies to the Lismore Hospital:—Bread Messrs. Daly, Lismore, 7 1/2d per 4 lb loaf. Mr. M. Foley, Lismore, 7 1/2d per 4 lb loaf.

Mr. Foley's tender was accepted.
Meat—J. Brennock, Lismore, beef, 9d., per lb; mutton 10d.; M. J. McGrath, Lismore, beef 8 1/2d; mutton 11 1/2d. Mr. Brennock's tender was accepted.

SHEEHAN—On March, 16th, 1932, at his residence Square, Dungarvan. Patrick Joseph Sheehan, Ballinamuck Mills.—R.I.P.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

HOLY WEEK IN DUNGARVAN.

The Solemn Ceremonies of Holy Week were attended by large congregations. At the Parish Church on Spy Wednesday, the Stations of the Cross were recited at 7.30 p.m., followed by Benediction. On Holy Thursday morning at 8 o'clock, there was High Mass followed by a procession to the Altar of Repose. After the evening devotions an eloquent sermon on the Blessed Eucharist was preached. On Good Friday there was Mass of the Pre-Sanctified at 10 o'clock. The Stations of the Cross were recited at 2.30 o'clock, and at 7 p.m., after which a sermon on the Passion of Our Lord was preached. On Holy Saturday, the ceremonies begin at 7 a.m. On Easter Sunday Masses will be celebrated at 7 o'clock, 8 o'clock, 10 o'clock, and High Mass at 11 o'clock.

At St. Augustine's Church, the Office of Tenebrae was sung on Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. There was High Mass on Holy Thursday morning at 8 o'clock followed by a procession to the Altar of Repose. In the evening after the Office of Tenebrae a special sermon on the Blessed Sacrament was preached. On Good Friday morning there was Mass of the Pre-Sanctified at 8 o'clock and the Stations of the Cross at 3 p.m. At 7 p.m. there was Office of Tenebrae followed by a sermon on the Passion. On Easter Saturday the ceremonies begin at 7 a.m.

DUNGARVAN BREAD.

At the Bakers and Confectioners' Exhibition, in London, last September, the well-known firm of A. Moloney and Sons, Ltd., Dungarvan, were awarded the Bronze Medal in a competition open to all Ireland for the best bread. High as that distinction was it has since been eclipsed by the further honours that have come to the firm in the past week. At the London Baking Trade Exhibition open to all firms at which the entries were enormous and representative of every part of the country, Messrs. A. Moloney and Sons Ltd., were awarded the Silver Cup in the Basket Pan Loaf section and the Silver Medal for the best Pan Loaf. These are honours which reflect credit on Dungarvan as well as on the firm responsible for their winning and show that we have craftsmen who can hold their own against all comers in the broad field of open competition. For years past the excellence of Moloney's Bread is fully appreciated by the public and now their verdict is ratified by the Judges at the London Trade Exhibition in a most convincing manner. We heartily congratulate Messrs. A. Moloney and Sons on their signal success and also their staff of bakers whose craftsmanship has received the hallmark of distinction.

DEATH OF MR. P. J. SHEEHAN.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Patrick J. Sheehan, son of the late Mr. C. J. Sheehan, which took place at his residence, Square, Dungarvan, on March 16th, after a long illness and fortified by the rites of Holy Church. The late Mr. Sheehan, was in the prime of life was a man of striking personality, genial disposition and great charm of manner. He was a general favourite with all who knew him. A splendid business man, he carried on the affairs of the Ballinamuck Mills, with conspicuous ability, and was a generous employer. Sometime ago his health broke down and though everything possible was done to prolong his life, he passed away to the great grief of all who knew him. His brother and sisters have in their bereavement the sincere sympathy of the public.—R.I.P.

On the 17th inst., his remains were removed to the Parish Church, and were accompanied by an imposing cortege. On Friday the interment took place in the adjoining burial ground in the presence of a large gathering.

SO NEAR AND SO FAR.

One of the 22 Tickets that drew Near East, in the Hospitals' Sweepstake was sold by Mr. T. P. Conway, Kiley's Cross, to a friend across the water. We wish him better luck the next time.

MOTOR ACCIDENT.

On Monday evening a motor car driven by Mr. Roger Shanahan, had a collision with a motor cycle ridden by Mr. Michael Mansfield, Crobally, Old Parish, at Lawler's Cross, near Kilmacomas. The car was travelling on the main road towards Dungarvan and the motor cycle came from the Stradbally direction. Mr. Mansfield was thrown from his machine and received slight injuries otherwise all was well.

POSTAL ARRANGEMENTS.

On Good Friday there will be one delivery of mails and parcels in the town only and one despatch at 5 p.m. On Easter Monday there will be no delivery of mails and one despatch at 5.55 p.m. Telegraph and Telephones as on Sunday. Old Age Pensions due to be paid on Good Friday will be paid on Thursday 24th inst. British Army Allowances and pensions due on Easter Monday will be paid on and after Thursday 24th inst.

GOLD.

J. B. Cooke, Jeweller, Main Street, Dungarvan, is still paying high prices for old gold jewellery and sovereigns. Parcels by post are promptly attended to, and cash remitted by return.

SEED OATS AND POTATOES.

A special meeting of the Co. Council will be held on Tuesday next to consider a letter from the Minister for Local Government asking the County Council to consider whether there is immediate need for introducing a supply scheme of oats and potatoes for the County, and if so, to make the necessary arrangements.

WHIST DRIVE.

A grand whist drive and dance in aid of the Dungarvan District Nurse, will be held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Wednesday March, 30th at 8 p.m. Valuable money prizes will be given. Tickets 2/-. In view of the excellent work being done for the community by the District Nurse's Association, we hope there will be a very large attendance at the drive.

EASTER COMMEMORATION.

On Sunday, the Annual Easter Commemoration to honour the memory of all who gave their lives for Ireland, will be held at Kilmossanty. The Rosary will be recited at the Republic Plot and Mr. Padar O'Donnell, will deliver the oration at 2 p.m. Members of the old I.R.A. are requested to meet at Leamybrien Bridge, on Sunday next, at 12.45 to take part in the procession to Kilmossanty.

OCEAN VIEW HOTEL.

A grand dance will be held at Ocean View Hotel, Clonea, on Easter Sunday Night, March 27th. Music by Prof. H. McCarthy, R.I.A.M., and his Band (personally conducted). First-class catering. Gents 6/-; Ladies 5/-. Double tickets 10/-. Dancing 10 p.m.

CLASHMORE WHIST DRIVE.

The monster whist drive which was to have been held at the Clashmore Schools on Easter Sunday night, March 27th, in aid of the Parochial Funds has been indefinitely postponed.

THE OATH AND ANNUITIES.

In the House of Commons, on Wednesday, Mr. Thomas, Secretary for the Dominions, denied Mr. De Valera's statement that the Oath was a purely domestic question, and said it was manifest that the Oath was an integral part of the Treaty made 10 years ago between the two countries, and hitherto honourably observed on both sides. As to the Land Annuities, he said, these annuities were payments which tenants of purchased estates make in order to buy the land. The Irish Free State were bound by the most explicit undertaking to continue to pay the annuities to the National Debt Commissioners, and failure to do so would be a manifest violation of an engagement which is binding in law and in honour on the Free State. He said a considered reply would be sent to the Free State Government.

Sharks at Ardmore.

Youghal, Wednesday. A report reached here last night to the effect that sharks had all so early made their appearance in Ardmore Bay, Co. Waterford to the grave detriment of the local salmon fishermen. A visit to the scene to-day, verified the news.

In an interview with Sergt. Mangan of the Gardaí Síochána, whose Station overlooks the bay, he furnished details of the event. An experienced and ardent amateur fisherman himself, he informed your correspondent that on last evening while a crew consisting of two men named Moloney and Fitzgerald and another were making a drift out in the bay, a shark, the largest ever seen in the place, being evidently over 20 feet in length, made for a fish entangled in their net and got entangled himself. Then a fierce struggle ensued and six other boats perceiving their comrades plight came to their assistance. The massed crews finally succeeded in getting several ropes round the monster and after nearly two hours tussle towed him ashore to the pier, some 300 yards distance where the water is shallow. By the time the animal was to all appearance exhausted from the long struggle, but he quickly revived and after some fierce lashing around he tore free of nets and ropes and got away clean into the deep water again, leaving the poor men's nets in a bundle of snapped-off twines. The result is that Moloney and Fitzgerald have lost their means of livelihood for the rest of the season and that fishing in the bay as long as those pests are around will be risky and precarious, although they are known not to be man-eating species. The Sergeant stated that within the course of one fortnight last season, damage was done by sharks to nets to the extent of £100, and unfortunately there is no means or fund available to make it good. What makes it peculiarly hard in the present case is that Moloney and Fitzgerald pooled their hard-earned savings to purchase the nets for the season's fishing.

An unpleasant feature of the matter is the appearance of sharks so early as they have never turned up previously until about the middle of April. Subsequently in an interview with an old fisherman, John O'Brien, one of the heroes of the "Teaser" wreck in 1911—who with Father O'Shea, (then C.C., Ardmore, and now P.P., Ballyporeen) and others were honoured by the King—it was stated that sharks first came to Ardmore some 21 years ago, but then not till about the harvest time. Every year since they have come regularly doing great damage to

A TALISMAN.
A treasured possession of the family of the Marquis of Waterford at Curraghmore for many years past has been a crystal globe said to have been brought from the Holy Land by one of the Le Poer family in the time of the Crusaders. Up to about a quarter of a century ago this crystal was eagerly sought after by neighbouring farmers
as a cure for cattle suffering from disease. The crystal was placed in a running stream through which the diseased cattle were driven backwards and forwards to effect a cure.

ANTIQUARIES' VISIT.
The Royal Society of Antiquaries, whose members make a visit every year to some centre of interest, intends to make Cork its headquarters for this summer and has been making arrangements to secure accommodation in the city for a week in July. About fifty or sixty members are expected to attend, including several prominent antiquaries. The time will be occupied in lectures and excursions to various places of interest in Counties Cork Kerry and Waterford.

DEATH OF MR. O'GORMAN.
With regret we have to chronicle the death of Mr. John O'Gorman, coal merchant, Dunabratton, Kill, which sad event occurred on a recent date, after a few months illness and at the fine old age of 84 years. All who were acquainted with the deceased appreciated his friendship and his amiability gained him the love and affection not only of his own family, but of all who knew him. By persevering ability he built up an extensive coal trade at the beautiful harbour at Dunabratton, and many summer visitors at the neighbouring seaside resorts (Bonmahon and Annewstown) delighted to visit his house, and were hospitably entertained. He was truly one of Nature's own gentlemen, of an educated, refined mind and intellect, and deeply attached all his long life to his faith and motherland. The funeral to Kill Church was a remarkable tribute to the deceased and to his bereaved children. Requiem Mass was celebrated in the Church on Saturday morning last, and the prayers at the graveside in Kill cemetery, were offered with the people by the priests of Kill and Newtown. The chief mourners were:
His son, Mr. Joseph O'Gorman, recently returned from a visit to U.S.A.; his daughters—the Misses Lizzie, Josephine, Francis, Celia, and Mrs. O'Byrne and Mr. Patrick O'Byrne (son-in-law).

SYMPATHY.
Widespread sympathy is felt with
Mr. and Mrs. Peter Power, Durrus, Stradbally, in their recent sad bereavement occasioned by the death of their daughter, Mary, (aged 10 years).

ANOTHER DEATH.
An old, well and favourably-known
resident of Killerguile, Clonea-Power, in the person of Mr. John Foley, (aged 64), was laid to rest in St. Bridget's cemetery, Killrossanty, on last Sunday (March 20th) evening, in the presence of hosts of relatives, friends and sym-pathisers. Very Rev. W. J. Keogh,
P.P., officiated at the graveside. R.I.P.

LUCKY LOCAL LADY.
On Tuesday of last week, the Big Dublin Drum released a prize Kilmacwards for the first time since the inauguration of the great lottery. The local lucky ticket-holder is a lady—Mrs. Kathleen Betts, the estimable wife of Mr. R. J. Betts, manager National Bank, and her prize is £100.
Mr. and Mrs. Betts, enjoy a wide popularity. We warmly congratulate this most amiable citizeness on her good fortune and on her being, as already stated, the first to "break the ice"
in our midst in so far as our "Sweep" speculations are concerned.

THE MARCH COURT.
The monthly court was held before
Mr. F. J. McCune, D.J.
Dr. D. B. Conihnan, on behalf of Mr. Patrick Murphy, garage proprietor, Newtown and Kilmacthomas, applied for a petrol licence. There being no objection by the Gardaí, his Worship granted the application.

Mr. Fergus Power, solr., acting for the Waterford County Council, applied for, and was granted, an order against Thomas Wall, farmer, Newtown, compelling him to trim a hedge his property, on the Kilmacthomas-Waterford road, between Carroll's Cross and Newtown. Mr. Power was allowed 2 guineas costs. When the case of the Attorney General v. Martin Power, labourer, Faha, was called, his Worship inquired if Power had since paid the compensation (24/-) and costs (3/-). Power, who was present in court said he had the money with him, and he then lodged the sum total (27/-),
with the Court Clerk.

The charge against Power was maliciously breaking the Church windows and shrubs on the avenue thereto, at Kilcool, Kilmacthomas, which is the property of the Kilmacthomas representatives of the Church of Ireland Body. Power was previously brought up in custody in connection with the matter before Mr. McCabe, at the Waterford District Court, when he was allowed out on his personal recognizance to appear at the present sitting for judgment. The defendant was now discharged under the Probation of Offenders' Act.
Fines ranging from 1/- to 2/6 and costs were imposed in a big calendar of Gardaí prosecutions dispensed with
The complainants in these cases were Guards Rice, (Kilmacthomas), Navin (Kill), Carroll (do.); O'Leary, (Leamy brien); and Park, (do.).

St. Patrick's Isle.

CURIOUS LEGENDARY LORE.
The story goes that when St. Patrick had established Christianity in Ireland he began to yearn for fresh fields to conquer. Gazing seaward one day, from a summit in the Mourne Mountains, he observed a range of blue hills on the horizon, and straightaway determined to visit them and preach the Gospel thereon.
With the energetic Saint to resolve was to act, and at once; so he set his face towards the hill of his vision. No boat was at hand when he reached the coast, but he happened to be mounted,
so he urged his horse straight at the tide, bidding it go forward in the name of the Trinity. The animal leapt into the air, and clear over twenty miles or so of sea, landing on a small rocky islet off the coast of the Isle of Man. Where his hoof first struck the rock, a well of pure sweet water sprang forth; and close to it, where Patrick first set foot in Man, the living rock took the print of his sandal, and keeps it to this day.

While cycling near his home at Fews, Kilmacthomas, on the 20th inst., Patrick Walsh (who is an employee of Mrs. Kate O'Donoghue, general merchant, Main Street, Kilmacthomas), sustained a dislocated shoulder-blade
as the result of his being thrown heavily off the machine when negotiating a rutty part of the road at a very steep part. He is being treated by Dr. Foley, Kilmacthomas, and is making favourable progress towards recovery.

A young man named Tibbs, was cycling to his work at a farm at Serahan, Kilmacthomas, on Monday morning, when the brakes failed to function and he was thrown heavily. Happily his injuries were of a superficial nature.

The showers that fell over these parts
during the week were a welcome boon to the farming fraternity. Close on 70 days—up to last Sabbath Day—had elapsed since rain fell previously—in fact it was the longest dry spell on record locally for this time of the year.
Not in living memory has the Mahon river been so low; wells are completely dried up in some places and cattle had to be driven unusually long distances for water.

The need for a proper system of sewerage in Kilmacthomas has been causing trouble for many years—extending back to the time of the old Rural Councils, who, to give them their due, did their part in providing the people of this progressive town with the first water supply and sewerage works.
Through some cause or other, however, the original undertaking never seemed to be that success which was expected from it, and recurring outbreaks of fever here were usually attributed to defective sewerage.

Messrs. John Kiersey, T.D., and David Coghlan, M.C.C., are giving their best attention to this important matter, with a view to securing a further improvement scheme from the powers that be. It is to be hoped that the efforts of these worthy gentlemen will lead to the making of a perfect sewerage in our Deme.

WATERFORD CO. FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIPS.

The football season opened in West
Waterford, at Piltown, on Sunday, when Villierstown met Ardmore in a round of the Waterford Junior Co.
Football Championships. The weather was fine and the evening enjoyable, thanks to the recent departure of the harch east wind. There being several other attractions around the attendance was on the small side. From the outset it was evident that the Ardmore team was in better playing trim, and although the up river team included some good material, they showed every sign of lack of practice. The result was that they lost by a big margin.
Mr. J. S. Moynihan, Youghal, acted as referee, with general satisfaction.

Details—Ardmore won the toss and played with a nice slant breeze in their favour. After a short midfield bout, a free to Ardmore resulted in a minor score. Villierstown forced, but Ardmore replied, and quickly repeated their first score, followed by goal.
Carleton and Troy proved a host in themselves for the seaside team, making the most of every opportunity offered. Villierstown forced the pace and after several fruitless attacks finally raised the green flag. This was their only success in the first half,
while the Ardmore team piled score upon score with apparently no great difficulty. When the whistle blew the score stood—
ARDMORE—2 goals 5 points
VILLIERSTOWN—1 goal.

Resuming play, the opinion was generally expressed that the river me-would level up things somewhat, but although they warmed up to the work,
the Ardmore men put on extra steam,
and succeeded not only in retaining their lead, but forging ahead still further. The final score was—
ARDMORE—3 goals 5 points.
VILLIERSTOWN—2 goals.

SNAKES BANISHED FROM THE ISLE.

On this tiny isle the Saint settled and built a Church. Certain of his disciples who had witnessed his startling departure from Ireland followed him more cautiously by ship, guided by favourable wind to a safe harbourage.
After forming a small monastic community, they pushed across the narrow sound to the Isle of Man, where they wandered far and wide preaching converting and baptizing the Islanders and banishing from the visible world not only the Pagan gods who held sway there, but all snakes, as symbols of evil, so thoroughly, that tradition says none have been seen in the island ever since. Many were the churches they founded, and here and there a monk was left to tend the flock of the tiny keill; but St. Patrick's Isle remained their headquarters, and a sacred territory, even after Patrick himself had returned to Ireland.

In the Isle, as time passed, a Round Tower and a Castle and a new Cathedral dedicated to Saint Germain arose;
but always the name of Patrick has remained to claim the Isle as his own.
Here, in later years, the Kings of Man held state, and here many of them were buried. To this sacred isle, too, the folk of the larger island came for many centuries to find healing at the Chibber Phierick—Patrick's Well—and to ask the strong protection of his blessing; for the isle was a Manx place of pilgrimage, and many legends have gathered over it. To this day it is regarded as the cradle of Christianity in Mann.

A strange little place it is, with a wonderful atmosphere of peace and sanctity. Perhaps the best time to see it is towards evening on a clear calm day of late autumn.

You approach St. Patrick's Isle through a great gap in the hills where a river runs out to the sea through a harbour dark with fishing boats. To the right a queer little town climbs
the hillside, all narrow twisting streets and houses of many shapes and colours; to the left is a bare green head-land, and right in front, silhouetted against the sky and sea, rises the isle
with its ruined Castle and Churches.
A ferry will put you across a few yards of water, so clear that the very shells and rocks on the bottom are visible, and from the landing place you enter, by old worn sandstones steps, the gateway of the Castle.

Within the isle are little hills covered with smooth turf, with the rocks
cropping up through it here and there,
and all about stand the ruins of churches and castle, and the graves of kings and dignitaries of old time. The place is loud with the voice of the sea
even in calm weather, but the wildest storm cannot disturb its deep-held peace; the peace of Patrick's gleaming blessing. Seaward the clear waters stretch out towards the sunset, gleaming pale and fiery beyond the dark tumbled rocks; landward the blue hills of Man take on a darker bloom, and lights begin to shine out from the little town. Straight across to the faint outline of the Mourne Mountains lies the red-gold track of the sun; and as you watch it the centuries suddenly are not, and you seem one of a group of astonished islanders observing the approach of the Saint on his flying steed.—M. DOUGLAS.

GREAT DECREASE IN EMIGRATION.
SAORSTAT STATISTICS.

The attraction of the Free State as "the one bright spot" for the rest of the world is strikingly set forth by the figures on immigration and emigration as compiled by the Free State Bureau of Statistics.

While the number of those who left Ireland last year to seek their fortunes abroad shrank to 1,462 as compared with 30,180, the figure for 1925 the immigrants reached a total of 3,407, compared with 2,155 in 1925.

Nearly half of the men who returned to take up their residence in Ireland last year belonged to the agricultural labouring classes, and of the women, 440 belonged to the domestic service class. Half of the men immigrants were over 30 years of age.

801 FOR U.S.A.
Of the 1,462 who left the Free State
in 1931, 801 went to the United States, as compared with 20,431 in 1925; 445 went to Canada; 164 to Australia, and 352 to other countries. More than 820 of the emigrants were women.
A significant fact revealed by the statistics is that of the men who went abroad in 1931, only 450 were labourers, the remainder belonging to the Plans for Congress.

ACCOMMODATION.

To visit the Congress offices, Dublin and study the complicated task that two years' organisation, with its myriad intricate details, has entailed involves inevitably respect and bewilderment. The mere planning of that organisation scheme was an immense task, and its fulfilment must have meant long hours daily of high pressure work for a big organisation.

Inevitably, one feels tempted to try to catch them out in an omission, but every question is either reached for a huge file, and after a remarkably short search through its voluminous correspondence finds the answer; down to the smallest detail everything has been provided for.

The Committee are satisfied that the plans as drawn up are as perfect as it is humanly possible to make them, and while they realise that the real test of their efficiency will be the execution of these plans they are quietly confident. This confidence is in itself impressive, because the whole execution of this huge scheme will be confined to a few short weeks, from the first week in June to the end of the Congress.

The High Altar in the Phoenix Park will be completed by the beginning of June, but the decorations of the city the erection and furnishing of camps, furnishing and equipping hostels and catering centres etc., will all be carried out during the first three weeks in June.

Some idea of the nature of this task may be gained from the fact that the Congress Committee expects that 120,000 visitors will have to be accommodated in Dublin during the whole of the Congress, and that at least another 100,000 will arrive on the Friday and Saturday for the Papal Legate's Mass in the Phoenix Park on Sunday which will also be attended by seven or eight hundred thousand Irish citizens.

That these figures are not exaggerated may be safely assumed, for they are based on most careful calculations. Already 14 special trains have been arranged for from Belfast alone; the Congress has ascertained that 10,000 people have already arranged to come from the diocese of Kildare and Leighlin; at least equal numbers may be expected from the other 26 dioceses outside the archdiocese of Dublin; and Dublin, will, of course, be represented by an enormous percentage of its Catholic population.

The arrangements for the accommodation of the 120,000 visitors have been so carefully thought out that it has been found possible to accommodate all the visitors within the boundaries of the city of Dublin and the Coastal Borough.

Twenty-two liners anchored in the Alexandra Basin and Scotsman's Bay, Dun Laoghaire, will act as floating hotels, and in addition to these and the existing hotel accommodation numerous hostels will be fitted up, and a camp for 6,000 men will be erected at Artane.

The Congress begins on June 22nd, but, of course, the main event will be the Papal Legate's Mass on Sunday, 26th.

For the immense procession afterwards to O'Connell Bridge, where the final Benediction will be given, the following arrangements have been made. Simultaneously four files of eight abreast will leave the Park at 2.30 p.m. One file will proceed past the Phoenix monument to the Depot road, and thence by the N.C.R. to the east side of O'Connell St.

Another will cross the Hurling Ground to the Fifteen Acre road, thence by the Island Bridge Gate and Conyngham Road across Kingsbride and through James's St., Thomas St., Dame St., to D'Olier St.

Two files will proceed simultaneously by the Main Park Road. The file on the right hand side will proceed past the Esplanade via Albert Quay, across Walling St. Bridge, and thence by the left hand side along James's St., Thomas St., Dame St., to Westmoreland St.

The file proceeding on the left hand side of the Main Road will march by Parkgate St. to Barrack St., turning via Blackhall Place on to Ellis's Quay, thence by the Northern Quays to Capel St., turning left to Parnell St. and on to the Parnell Monument, turning right and filling the west side of O'Connell St., as far as Bachelor's Walk. When Westmoreland St., and D'Olier St., are filled to capacity, the files will proceed via Townsend St., Tara St., and fill Burgh Quay to capacity. When O'Connell St., is filled to capacity the files will proceed via Summerhill, Middle Gardiner St., and thence to Beresford Place.

It is necessary to have four processions as otherwise it would be impossible for all those taking part to arrive at O'Connell Bridge at 6 p.m., when, it is expected, that Benediction will be given.

BROADCASTS.

All the streets along which the processionists pass will be covered by the local Broadcasting system, and the processionists will sing the hymns in time with the male voice choir, so that all the processionists will be at the same time singing the same hymns and reciting the same prayers. Those following the Blessed Sacrament will occupy at the final Benediction the Northern and Southern Quays.

The portion of the procession in close proximity to the Blessed Sacrament will necessarily be slower than the other portions. It will move off first.

GREAT PROCESSION.

The order of the procession will be:—

Cavalry.
Banners of the Blessed Sacrament.
Men.
(Four files of eight.)
Cross Bearer and Acolytes
Rev. Brothers.

(Two files of eight. One proceeds to Southern Quays at Walling St. Bridge, thence by Southern Quays to O'Connell Bridge; thence by eastern side of the Island to Eden Quay. The second file goes by Barrack St., Blackhall Place, and North Quays to O'Connell Bridge, and thence by Eden Quay as far as Butt Bridge.)

First portion of Choir.
Clergy in order of precedence.
(Two files of eight, following the same routes as the two files of Rev. Bros.)
Priests' Choir.

Canons of Metropolitan Chapter
(One file of eight.)
Torch Bearers. Torch Bearers.
Thurifers.

BLESSED SACRAMENT.
Canopy Bearers. Canopy Bearers.
Military Guard.

A military guard will march on each side of the Blessed Sacrament, its head level with the Torch Bearers and its rear level with the Canopy Bearers Cardinals and their Suites.

(Single file.)
Archbishops.
(One file of two.)
Other Prelates.
(One file of four.)

Second portion of the Choir.
PUBLIC REPRESENTATIVES
Other distinguished and representative persons in the following order:—
Dail.
Senate.

Representative persons from the Counties.
Bearers of Papal Titles.
Foreign Consuls.

Dublin Corporation and Corporation of Coastal Borough.
(The above in one file of eight.)
Corporations.
County Councils.
Harbour Boards.
Vocational Councils.
Urban District Councils.
Boards of Public Assistance.
Others.

(The above in two files of eight, proceeding as the Rev. Brothers and Clergy, but halting at Bachelor's Walk and Aston's Quay respectively.)
Distinguished Representative Women.
(Two files of eight, following the two files of representative men).
Special Group of Women Singers.
Women.

(Two files of eight, following the two files of Distinguished Women.)
YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.
(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.).
Linehan v. Irwin.

This was a defended Civil Bill by Mee. Linehan, Castlemartyr, against J. J. Irwin, Clonmaine, for £3 17s. 4d., for sacks and goods.

Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., for plaintiff; and Mr. Wm. Hodnett, solr., for defendant.

Mr. Morrissey, book-keeper in plaintiff's employment, said that Mrs. Irwin deceased had an account with plaintiff. He daughter used get the goods.

Replying to the Court, Mr. Macnamara said they were suing defendant as executor de son tort.

Witness said there was an entry in the books to the effect that there were two sacks returned by somebody in Mrs. Irwin's employment in Dec 1925.

To the Court—He couldn't remember who had returned the sacks.

Mr. Macnamara said the evidence was at variance with his instructions. He didn't see any use proceeding further with the case that day. Perhaps Mr. Hodnett might agree to an adjournment.

Mr. Hodnett—If they give my client his costs.
Replying to the Court, witness said he was only part-time bookkeeper. The account was brought forward from an old ledger.

The Justice—This case has been pending long enough. Why not keep the accounts in proper order? He noticed that the heading "Mrs. J. J. Irwin" had been struck out and "Reps." put in.

Mr. Hodnett said there had been a number of adjournments and it was unfair to his client.

Defendant said he had attended four days already. He was allowed 5/- costs the last day.

The Justice said he would adjourn the case and allow defendant 10/- costs. If there was a further adjournment he might allow 15/-. He couldn't sit on Good Friday, except for some very pressing case.

Supt. Dennehy said he didn't anticipate anything of the kind.
The Court then adjourned over Holy Week.

THE FAMOUS HOUSE FOR FISHING TACKLE.

In order to be a successful angler it is necessary to pay attention to the selection of your Fishing Tackle. We have hundreds of Rods, Baskets, Reels, Trout Lines, Sea Lines, Hooks, Casts and Baits of very description in stock. We devote a special department to the care and selection of Trout Flies which are all hand-tied from carefully selected material. The gut is particularly fine-drawn and the wings are matched so as to be exactly the same as the real fly. Every hook is made from the finest steel and will stand the hardest strain.

We have over 200 varieties in stock and every one is guaranteed true to name. We sell them at the lowest possible price, consistent with quality, namely 2/- per dozen, post free.

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

Held on Wednesday before Mr. Troy, D.J.,

School Attendance Cases. The adjourned case against Bridget Coleman, Barrack Lane, for failure to send her son to school was called and in reply to the Justice, Guard Regan said there was no improvement, the boy could not be made to go to school.

Mrs. Coleman asked for a further chance, stating that the boy had promised to go every day after the holidays.

The Justice said there was no use in giving a chance, and committed the boy to Greemount Industrial School.

Cases against Mary Lannon, Kate Morrissey, Thompson's Lane, Michael Walsh, and Patk. Byrne, Lord Edward St., and Patk. Longan, Ballinamuck, were adjourned for a month, and a case against Edward Flynn, Clonea, was withdrawn.

Larceny of Old Metal. Superintendent O'Shea, charged Patrick Hayes, Mitchel St., Dungarvan, with the larceny of old metal from the premises of Mary J. Parkes, Ballyduff.

Mr. Farrell, solr., appeared for the defendant; Mr. Williams solr., appeared for Miss Parkes.

The case was adjourned to the next Court.

G.A.A. Notes.

DUNGARVAN V. RATHGORMACK. The Dungarvan football team travelled to Rathgormack on Sunday, March 13th to meet the home team in a friendly encounter. The weather was ideal, and after a fast and exciting game, Dungarvan emerged victors by the narrow margin of two points.

Dungarvan playing against the wind were first to press and Breen opened the scoring with a minor. Keeping up the pressure, the Blues registered two further minors per Keohan and Parsons, before Rathgormack got into their stride. Breaking away they were soon on level terms with a goal following a melee in the goalmouth. Rathgormack continued to press and Hayes cleared his line on several occasions, but the Reds were not to be denied, and coming again went ahead with a point. Following this Dungarvan broke away and got an level terms with a point. The interval whistle left the scores—

DUNGARVAN—4 points. RATHGORMACK—1 goal 1 pt. On resuming, Dungarvan were well held. Power (Rathgormack) was prominent, putting his forwards attacking, but the Dungarvan backs successfully withstood their onslaughts. From a free, J. Murphy, put Dungarvan ahead by a point. Mulcahy, Keohan, and Goode, were prominent for Dungarvan and were unlucky to send wide on several occasions. Both ends were visited frequently before Dungarvan scored a further point. Rathgormack failed to improve their position. The final whistle left the scores—

DUNGARVAN—6 points. RATHGORMACK—1 goal 1 pt. Mr. D. Healy, was a capable and impartial referee.
