CAPPOQUIN DISTRICT COURT.

INTERESTING MILK PROSECUTIONS.

LARCENY CHARGES.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.) Guard Moloney, Food and Drugs Inspector, Cappoquin, summoned The Cappoquin Estate Co., for selling new milk which contained only 2.65 degrees of fat. Mr. E. Carroll, solr., Fermoy, defended. Complainant stated that he purchased a pint of milk from Maurice Hickey, an employee of the defendant Co., on March 5th, while he was selling the milk through the town, and he now handed in the analyst's certificate which showed that the sample which he took contained only 2.65 of butter-fats. Mr. Carroll—I suppose there is no suggestion that any water had been added to the milk? Witness—No, only that it was deficient in fats. Mr. Carroll said this was a case which Mr. Bell, the Manager of the Estate Co. was utterly unable to account for. The Cappoquin Estate Co., had 36 dairy cows, 25 of which were registered with the Department, while 34 of them had passed all the necessary requirements and there were only 2 of them which had not done so. The cattle were fed with particular care on Indian meal, kale, bran and hay, and everything possible was being done by Mr. Bell to keep the milk up to the highest standard at all times. He then explained the great precautions always taken to ensure that there was no tampering with the milk from the time it was taken from the cows until it reached the customers in Cappoquin and mentioned that a sample had been also taken by the Guard less than a fortnight previously, when the quality was found to be all right. Mr. R. Bell, Manager of the Estate, was examined by Mr. Carroll and stated that they kept 36 cows, all of which had passed the necessary tests except two small heifers, and 25 of them had been registered with the Department. The cows were milked each morning between 6.15 and 6.30, and they sold 26 gallons of it to the townspeople the remainder being used as feeding for the calves. The dairy was perfectly ventilated and kept scrupulously clean and everything possible was done to ensure that there was no tampering whatever with the milk. The milk was sold in the town out of two large churns which were always kept scalded and clean and quite dry before the milk was poured into them. The cows were regularly fed on kale, hay, bran and Indian meal, and no expense was spared to keep them always in the best possible condition. Mr. Carroll—Do you make any butter on the farm or keep a separator? Witness—We make no butter and we use no separator in the place. Mr. Carroll—So that there would be no object in extracting the milk fats? Witness—None, whatever. In reply to Guard Moloney, witness said that he had got his own sample of the milk tested by an independent analyst, and the result was the same as the certificate now produced. Re-examined by Mr. Carroll—Mr. Bell said he found himself quite unable to account for the deficiency of fats in the present case except that the weather was very harsh and cold at the time. He added that it was a well-known fact that if rats had got into the byre during the night and frightened the cows this would have the effect of seriously interfering with the quality of the milk. Such an incident had occurred not long ago when the yardman heard one of the cows roaring one night and on going out to investigate the cause he found that the animal had been bitten by a rat, and for several days afterwards the cow was frightened and excited which would result in affecting both the quantity and quality of its milk. Maurice Hickey, in charge of the dairy, was examined by Mr. Carroll, and bore out Mr. Bell's evidence as to the feeding of the cows and the great care taken to ensure that the milk sold was always as it came from the cows. He happened in the milking of the cows in the morning in question, being assisted by Patrick McGrath, Patk. Fitzgerald, and John Docey. The cows were always washed before being milked and the milk was then passed through a double strainer into the two zinc churns which brought the milk to the town. The lids of the churns were locked and the milk was drawn from taps at the bottom, so that nobody had any chance of tampering with it in any way. Witness added that one churn contained 14 gallons and the other 12, and it was he who was delivering the milk on the morning the sample was taken by the Guard. The milk had been put into the churns that morning exactly as it had come from the cows, and there was no possibility of anyone tampering with it in the dairy without his knowledge. In reply to the Justice, witness said that between 3 1/2 and 4 gallons had been sold out of the churn before the sample was taken, and this was about three quarters of an hour after the cows had been milked. Patrick Fitzgerald, Patk. McGrath, and John Docey, having given corroborative evidence, the Justice said he was satisfied from all the evidence that the milk was sold as it came from the cows, and had not been interfered with in any way, and he would accordingly dismiss the case. Guard Moloney applied for the costs of the analysis certificate. The Justice—Oh, I will grant no costs when I have dismissed the case, so you can make the Co Council pay the bill. A Sunday Night Scene. Guard Moloney, Cappoquin, summoned James Ahearne, Lacken, for being drunk on the Square in Cappoquin, on Sunday night, April, 17th. Complainant said that defendant was very abusive on the occasion and used the most filthy language as the people were going to evening devotions. He also resisted arrest and witness had to send a civilian to the barack to get assistance before he could arrest him. Replying to the Justice, defendant now stated that he had a bad cold and had to take some brandy on the evening in question which overcame him. There being no previous conviction against him, he was let off with a fine of 10/- and granted time to pay. Guard Teahan, Cappoquin, summoned two young men from the county for being drunk in a motor car, and they were fined 10/- and 5/-, respectively. No Lights. Guard Sheehan, Cappagh, v. Michl. McCarthy, for riding a bicycle without a light. Defendant said he was in a hurry going for a nurse at the time, and he was let off with a caution. Sergt. Mahony, Cappagh, v. Wm. Blennerhasset, M. and L. Bank, Dungarvan, for a similar offence. Defendant did not appear. Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, said he might be permitted to mention that defendant had since been transferred from Dungarvan, which explained his non-attendance in Court, and the Justice marked the case "Cautioned." Do v. M. J. Cahill, same address, and offence. Complainant said this defendant was in company with Mr. Blennerhasset, on the occasion and they stated that they were returning from a Rugby match at Cappoquin. The Justice—Have you anything to say for this defendant Mr. Farrell? Mr. Farrell—No, sir; I know nothing about this case. Defendant was fined 2/-. Same v. Patk. Foley, Knockmeal, same offence. Fined 2/-. Other similar cases at the suit of Guards Mahony and Teahan, Cappoquin, were dealt with by fines varying from 1/- to 2/6. Cruelty To A Pony. Guard Thorne, Cappoquin, summoned Catherine and Michael O'Brien, Kereen, Aglish, for cruelty to a pony. Complainant said he found Mrs. O'Brien driving the pony while suffering from a sore, but he had also summoned the husband as owner of the animal for permitting it to be worked. The Justice said he would impose a fine of 7/6 on Mrs. O'Brien, but the case against the husband would be dismissed. Unlicensed Dogs. Charged at the suit of a Villierstown Guard with having unlicensed dogs in their possession, Michael O'Brien and Michael McGrath, were each fined 20/-, mitigated to 5-. Trespass. Thos. Keniry, Carrowgorriva, Cappagh, summoned Mrs. Annie O'Keefe, Knockgarron, for the trespass of cattle on his land. Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, appeared for complainant; and Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, defended. It having been shown that the trespass complained of took place in April 1931, the Justice asked Mr. Farrell if he were not statute-barred from bringing on the case now. Mr. Farrell said he was afraid he was, but his client did not wish to look for any damages or money from Mrs. O'Keefe, and only wanted her to keep her cattle off his land. The Justice said in view of the fact that there had been no trespass for a year it seemed foolish to be going to law in this manner. Ultimately, the case was adjourned for a month. Larceny Of Stout. Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, charged six youths from the Melleray district with the larceny of a quantity of stout from a delivery lorry on the evening of Feb. 18th., the date of the Point-to-Point

Races in Cappoquin.

Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, appeared for the six defendants, while another young man from Coolagurty, who was also charged in connection with the same offence was defended by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan. Mr. O'Gorman pleaded guilty on behalf of his six clients, while Mr. O'Farrell pleaded not guilty on behalf of his client, and the Supt. said that he would withdraw the charge against the latter for which Mr. O'Farrell thanked him. The facts of the case showed that the stout was taken from a delivery lorry which was outside Mr. J. O'Keefe's licensed premises at Boola, after the races the value of the stout and bottles being 26/-. Mr. O'Gorman said the thing was done as a foolish prank by those young lads, who were between 16 and 18 years of age, and as all their parents were most respectable people and were now prepared to refund the full amount involved, he would ask the Justice to deal leniently with the case. Having heard the evidence, the defendants were let off under the Probation of Offenders' Act, on condition that the sum of 26/- was refunded to the owner of the property. Larceny Of Clothing. Patrick Power, Melleray, aged 48 years, was charged by Supt. Quinlan, with the larceny of various articles of clothing the property of Mr. James Connelly, Electrician, Mount Melleray. Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., defended. James Connelly, in reply to the Supt. stated that on March 9th his sister-in-law washed some clothes for him which she put out on a line to dry but all the articles were missing on March 10th. The articles consisted of 3 sheets; 2 bolster cases; 1 towel, and 2 shirts, the total value of which was £1 5s. On March 27th, he saw all the missing clothing, except one shirt, in a grove near his house, and the missing sheet was later handed over to him by Det. Officer McCabe, Cappoquin. Mr. O'Gorman, in pleading guilty, said his client seemed to have some strange "kink" for this sort of thing, but as the articles were put back near Mr. Connelly's house later it showed that there was no intention of keeping them or using them in any way for the defendant's benefit. The Justice called up the defendant's mother and questioned her at some length about the character of her son, and pointed out that he was one of the defendants in the previous case for the larceny of the stout, and asked her what she had to say about his conduct. Mrs. Power having promised to look after him more carefully in future defendant was then let off under the P.O. Act, but bound to the peace for 3 years, the Justice adding that he would accept his mother's surety in the sum of £5 during this period. Another Charge Of Larceny. Supt. Quinlan, charged a local farmer with unlawfully taking a load of limestone "chips" the property of the Waterford Co. Council. Mr. John Brackett, Overseer, Cappoquin, having proved the offence, Mr. Farrell, solr., for the defendant, said his client had been previously trying to buy a quantity of those 'chips' from Mr. Brackett for the purpose of repairing some damage caused in his yard through the blocking of the water-table on the road by the County Council. As Mr. Brackett had either refused or was unable to give him the stuff, defendant took one load, for which he intended to pay, but the moment the Guards went to him he returned the load which he had taken, so that nobody suffered any loss over the transaction. In reply to Mr. Farrell, Mr. Brackett, said he had the defendant's name in his book at present for 10 loads of "chips" which he wanted to buy but he should wait for his turn before he could get them. Having heard further evidence, the Justice said he would mark the case "Informations refused," but he warned the public against interfering with Co. Council property in this way. AN ACCIDENT. While Patrick Power, Durrow, an employee of the Waterford Co. Council, was engaged with a number of other workmen in operating a steam-driven stone-breaking machine at a quarry at Brenan, near Bonmahon, he got himself accidentally entangled in the apparatus, and when rescued was found to have one knee rather badly injured. He was taken to his home, where he is being treated by Dr. Foley, Kilmacthomas. It is stated that Power was injured in a motor collision adjacent to his abode about two years ago, and was laid up for some months thereby. A general favourite in his native parish, everyone hereabouts feels sorry for him in his latest mishap, and it is hoped he will speedily recover from the effects of same.

Dungarvan Urban Council.

Mr. M. J. Keane, Vice-Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above, held on Friday. The other members present were—Messrs. T. McCarthy, M. Clancy, Jas. Hackett, Wm. O'Donnell, J. F. Moloney, and T. Power. Paysheets. The following paysheets submitted by the Clerk were passed. General A/c. £8 13s. 9d. Harbour A/c. £11 7s. Dangerous Flags. Mr. O'Donnell called attention to a dangerous flag opposite Mr. P. Crotty's, O'Connell street, and asked the Clerk to call the Co. Surveyor's attention to it. Mr. Hackett also complained of the flagging in Blackpool. The S.S.O., was directed to bring the complaints to the notice of the Co. Surveyor. Building Site. Mr. Cartwright, wrote on behalf of Mrs. Dower, and in reply to the Council's advertisement for building sites, offering a site with a frontage at Fair Lane of 208 feet and at O'Connell St., 200 feet. Mr. Clancy—I suggest that we adjourn consideration of that letter to the special meeting to be held in connection with the Housing Scheme. Mr. McCarthy—Any price mentioned. Clerk—No. Mr. Hackett—It is an ideal site. Mr. O'Donnell—in view of the fact that we advertised for sites, and that this gentleman had the courtesy to write offering one, I suggest that the Clerk write and ask the price. Mr. Hackett—You have two sites available in that area. You have Mrs. Dower's and Mr. Egan's, and if you have houses there when you go to clear the slum area, the tenants can be put into these houses. Mr. O'Donnell proposed, that they write and ascertain the price. It would not commit them to anything. Mr. Clancy proposed an amendment that the matter be deferred to a special meeting, as there is a very important matter regarding that area. That area was turned down by Mr. Strathan on account of drainage. Mr. McCarthy—Is that right Mr. McGrath? Mr. O'Donnell—It was not turned down. Mr. Clancy—I state definitely that that area was turned down. The amendment was put, and lost on a show of hands. Application Refused. Mrs. P. Halley, Sarsfield street, Abbeyside, wrote asking the Council to contribute half the cost of £4 expended by her in putting down a concrete footpath outside her house, rendered necessary since the sand was put on there by the Council, to prevent water going into the house. Mr. McCarthy—I know this place very well, there is no doubt but this woman has suffered very much, she put down this footpath and in fairness she should be allowed something. Mr. Power—I saw the place one morning before the path was put down and this woman was leaving the water which flowed in the front door, out the back. Mr. O'Donnell—if the Council were putting down a path there, would the portion done by Mrs. Halley be suitable? B.S.—It is done as we would do it. Mr. O'Donnell—The path is perfectly done and would match with any path which the Council may put down in future. Chairman—Are you in favour of giving the £2? Mr. O'Donnell—I would ask the B.S. to report. Mr. Clancy—To my mind the Council will be creating a precedent and it would then be open to every ratepayer to do what they liked with the Council's property. The same thing happened in the case of Mrs. Griffin. He referred to the resolution recently passed, re interference with the Council's property. Mr. McCarthy—I would agree with Mr. Clancy if there was not a path already outside this house. Mrs. Halley only improved the existing path, but there was no footpath outside Mrs. Griffin's. Chairman—My opinion is that we have no authority to make any concession. Mr. Power—if tenants find water running into their houses, are they not at liberty to try and drain that water. Mr. O'Donnell—This lady has my sympathy in every way. The application was refused after some further discussion. A Bad Path. A letter was read from Messrs. E. A. Ryan, solr., on behalf of Messrs. D. Crotty and Son, drawing the Council's attention to the condition of the footpath at Bridge street, outside the Cinema, which has been neglected for years. People using the path to get to the Cinema have to wade through mud. We understand that at a meeting of your Council to-night estimates are to be considered and it is not unreasonable to ask that this very important footpath which is used nightly by numbers of ratepayers should now be included in the estimates and put into a proper state of repair. Mr. Clancy—The road and footpath there are the worst in the town, and I hope the Council will do something when they are considering the estimates. The letter was adjourned to the estimates meeting. Mr. Power raised the question of repairing the footpath opposite the Scouts' Den, Abbeyside. That was also adjourned to the estimates meeting. Grant Sought. Mrs. Mary Walsh, Main street, wrote, applying for a grant in connection with the cottage she was building at Abbeyside. The application was adjourned to the estimates meeting. Ground Rents. The Clerk read the following resolution from the Letterkenny Urban Council:—"That we believe the enormous annual tribute paid by way of ground rents by property owners in our towns and cities is grossly unfair and inequitable, a huge sum on the resources of our impoverished people. It is one of the remaining examples of the injustice of landlordism and should be removed. The moneys comprising the ground rent tribute go into the coffers of gentlemen who perform no services whatever for the well-being of our towns or people and give no return for this unearned income. We call on the Government to pass legislation that will give effect to Professor O'Rahilly's suggestion—"That local authorities be allowed to levy a rate on these unearned revenues to make them contribute to the well-being of the urban populations to whose presence they owe their value," and further, that the necessary machinery be set in motion to ascertain the total amount of the ground rent tribute." Mr. Clancy—Have we many like that in the Urban area? Clerk—You have a good many between ground rent and head rent. The subject is a very debatable one. Mr. Clancy—I would be very slow to move in it. I don't understand it. Mr. McCarthy—Then why not adjourn it for a week. This course was agreed on. Bye-Laws. The Department wrote asking how the matter now stood concerning the bye-laws proposed to be made by the Council respecting the inspection of meat etc. The Clerk was directed to supply the facts to the Department. Slums Worse Than Dublin. Dr. Casey, M.O., reported on his inspection of the houses in the following areas, viz., Area No. 1 Tom Moore, Lord Edward and Wolfe Tone street. The houses in this area are one room houses divided by a partition into a bedroom and kitchen with in many cases a loft overhead the bedroom which leaves the height of the bedroom insufficient. There is no sewerage system of any kind. The yards at the back are commonages, with the dividing walls down and numerous heaps of rubbish which are a danger to public health. Some of the houses act as stables. A good many of them have fallen down and others are about to collapse, the roofs being held up by props of timber in many of them. Windows are broken and stuffed with rags or bits of cardboard. The number of houses occupied in this area is 29; number of people living therein 138, or an average number per house of 4.76. A complete clearance is the only possible solution. No. 2 area, comprising—St. Nicholas, Patrick, and David streets—St. Patrick street, the centre of this area is reasonably wide with a good surface recently re-surfaced, the houses are in fair condition with the exception of one or two. There is no sewerage system. St. David street is narrow with the houses smaller than Patrick street, of which many are in bad condition. There is no sewerage system of any kind, with the result that all fluid slops flow down the laneway in front of the houses to a trap leading to O'Connell street sewer at the bottom of the lane. The occupiers of these houses are frequently ill. The windows are small and ventilation bad. The back yards are in a most unsanitary state. The walls of some of the houses are falling out into the street and are a danger. Number of houses in David street—14. Total number of inhabitants 84. Average No. per house 6. I would recommend that this lane be demolished, there is more overcrowding in this lane than in the worst slum in Dublin. St. Nicholas' street. Surface rough cobble stone, with many potholes with a considerable quantity of rubbish and horse-mannure always scattered about. The Council should have no hesitation in clearing this lane out. The report also dealt with the condition of the houses in Thompson's Lane. Chairman—That is a very bad report. Mr. Clancy—It is a sad commentary on Dungarvan. Mr. McCarthy said the scavenger should be sent to Nicholas and David street. These people should have the ashes taken away and then it won't accumulate. I know yards and there are 6 or 7 loads of ashes in them. That is not the people's fault as they have no place to put it. The Council agreed to have the S.S.O. direct the scavenger to call to these lanes. Dangerous For Dockers. A letter was read from the Electricity Supply Board in reply to the Council's complaint re the danger to life when a ship's derrick came in contact with the Board's overhead wires on the quay. The letter pointed out that only at one point viz—pole No. 103 there is danger, that is the berth where large ships discharge and if the Council desire the Board will erect two spans of earthed ground wire at a cost to the Council of £3 10/-, the erection of these would render the line dead immediately that contact with a hauser took place. Mr. Hackett—They are going to charge the Council for something that will save life. That happened several times. Chairman—Personally, I myself saw contact between the poles and a ship, it is very dangerous. Mr. Moloney—I suggest we write to them to remove the poles and cable a safe distance from the quayside, unless protection is given at their expense, and in the meantime that the Council will hold them responsible in case of accidents. This suggestion was passed unanimously. The Old Hall. A letter read from the residents of Western Terrace, complaining of the nuisance caused to all and the damage suffered by some residents owing to the condition of the Old Hall. The Council decided to draw the owners attention to the condition of the place, with a view to having it cleared. Tenders. The following tenders were read for two new panel doors to be erected in Mitchel street—Ml. Great, £5 15s.; Thos. Clancy, £5 2s. 6d.; Clancy's tender was accepted. The following were received for the building, plastering, etc., of steps leading to the nine new houses at Abbeyside—John Riordan £11 5s.; E. Fitzgerald, £15 7s. 6d.; G. Kiely, £16 10s. Riordan's tender was accepted. Acknowledgments. Mrs. Ronayne, Shandon, wrote thanking the Council for resolution of sympathy passed to her. Mr. McCarthy proposed, and Mr. Clancy seconded, a resolution of sympathy to the relatives of the late John Daniel, Ricess' street.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

MILK PROSECUTION DISMISSED

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell. Sergt. Lupton, charged Miss Quirke, Main street, with selling milk deficient in milk fat. Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., defended. Mr. Hodnett said his defence was that the milk was sold as it came from the cow. Miss Quirke had purchased it from a well-known farmer near the town, Mr. D. Keniry, against whose milk there had never been a complaint before. Detailed evidence would be given by Mr. Keniry's sons and by the defendant and her niece that the cows had been properly and fully milked, that the vessels used were both clean and dry, and that it had not been tampered with in any way whatever from beginning to end. The cows had been fed on the best food, mangolds and turnips fine meal and first crop hay. The only explanation they could offer for the slight deficiency in the percentage of milk fat was that the weather was very hard and harsh at the time, with a protracted spell of easterly wind, as a result of which the milk was deficient in quality and quantity. Evidence in support of Mr. Hodnett's statements having been given by John and David Keniry, junr., and Misses Keohane and Quirke. The Justice said he believed the evidence for the defence that the milk was sold as it came from the cow, and the case was accordingly dismissed. The deficiency was very small.

THE LATE MR. JOHN SHEEHAN, MOTHEL.

The funeral obsequies and interment of the late Mr. John Sheehan, Motheil, took place at Clonea. The funeral cortege from Motheil to Clonea was the largest seen in the district for many years. The other priests present were—Very Rev. Canon Wall, P.P., Motheil; Very Rev. Canon Prendergast, P.P. Carrick-on-Suir; Rev. W. Ormonde, P.P. Carrickbeg; Rev. M. Walsh, P.P., Ballylooby; Rev. J. Cullinane, C.C., Rathgormack; Rev. M. O'Brien, C.C., do.; Rev. T. Power, C.C., Portlaw; Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Ring; Rev. Fr. Anthony, O.F.M., Carrickbeg; Rev. Fr. Christopher, O.F.M., do. A TRIBUTE TO THE MEMORY OF CAPTAIN W. A. REDMOND.

Fond memory awakens the sweetest affection, Bright gems of the heart doth our sad eyes bedew; With sorrow o'er laden, in pensive dejection, We mourn Erin's loved one—a patriot true! Sweet Freedom!—the goal of his fervent devotion, O'er pathways of peace ranged his luminous mind; The dear voice is silent that thrilled our emotion, With unity's ideal an' sentiments kind. Alas—he is dead—but the link is unsevered, His name so revered gilds our History's page; Great one of our chosen who nobly endeavoured To act a bright part on life's temporary stage. He was bravest of brave 'mid the carnage of war, And tender an' sweet to the ones' he loved best; Fame, emblazoned his name—now it shines like a star O'er the tomb where our hero sleeps calmly at rest. JAS. BUTLER. Dungarvan.

Public Assistance.

MEETING OF THE SOUTH CORK BOARD.

A YOUGHAL POST.

VACANT MEDICAL OFFICERSHIP FILLED.

Mr. W. J. Broderick, T.D., Chairman, presided at a meeting of the South Cork Board of Public Assistance, held at the Cork County Home. Also present—Ald. J. Allen, Messrs. P. Monahan, City Manager; M. J. Corry, T.D., M.C.C.; D. Gamble, T.C.; E. Ahern, M.C.C.; J. Buckley, M.C.C.; R. J. Helen, M.C.C.; W. Desmond, T.D., T.G.; T. Quill, M.C.C.; Thos. Corcoran, M.C.C.; W. Ryan, M.C.C.

Youghal Medical Officership.

In connection with the filling of the vacancy created by the resignation of Dr. Murphy, as M.O., of the Youghal Dispensary District, The Secretary said as directed by the Board he had circulated each of the existing medical officers in the area to the effect that the Board intended filling the vacancy by promotion. He had received two applications from Dr. Thomas Kennedy, M.O. of the Youghal Hospital, and Dr. M. F. O'Brien, M.O., Killeagh Dispensary District. The latter had sent his application both in English and Irish. The Youghal U. D. Council had sent copy of the resolution passed by that body, who had taken the opportunity to recommend Dr. Kennedy to the vacancy, "because he was an exceedingly able practitioner, and a Youghal man, who had acted on sundry occasions as temporary M.O., for Dr. Murphy. Mr. Gamble—Has Dr. Kennedy a knowledge of Irish? Laughter greeted this query, which Mr. Gamble then repeated. Chairman—Would I ask if the hon. member is a fluent Irish speaker? Mr. Gamble—My daughter or your daughter can't get a position without it. Chairman—My daughter is a very quiet girl. Mr. Gamble said a knowledge of Irish should have been in the terms of the advertisement. To which the Chairman replied that there had been no advertisement issued, because the Board had decided to fill the post by promotion. Mr. Gamble—When we are finished it will be a matter for another tribunal, as to whether he has a knowledge of Irish. The Chairman—That question does not arise at all. You are entitled to promote your officials. Ald. Allen said he was quite neutral and he would give his vote in fair play and justice. He asked which was the senior doctor. The Secretary said Dr. Kennedy was in the service since 1916, since when he had a dispensary district in the area, and Dr. O'Brien since 1921.

Chairman's Motion.

The Chairman then moved the following resolution, of which he had given notice:—"That Dr. Thomas Kennedy, who has been for 13 years in our employment as medical officer of the Youghal Hospital, be transferred to the position of medical officer of Youghal dispensary district at scale salary of £250 per annum, rising by annual increments of £5 to a maximum of £350, with usual registration and vaccination fees." Some resentment had been felt in certain quarters the Chairman said, because he had tabled this motion to promote Dr. Kennedy. What he had done was strictly in accordance with the written order, that promotion had to be carried out by notice of motion. He had no ulterior motive and no object beyond conforming to the law and supported by the considered opinion of his fellowmembers of this Board. The motion was in accordance with the principles applied by the Board to the recognition of merit and devotion to duty. He did not wish to reflect on any other doctor in the area, and he paid a tribute with the greatest alacrity to every one of the practitioners, and he knew no man who stood higher in the estimation of the area in which he practised than Dr. O'Brien. Of Dr. Kennedy it was not sufficient to say that his profession was his whole outlook in life. He was unremitting in his attention and had wrapped round him the affections of everyone with whom he was concerned. In his (the Chairman's) hands had been placed a demand from the area in which Dr. Kennedy served, and which he hoped he would serve in the future. That demand had come from the Youghal local authority and from everyone, in Church, State and business, so that never in his connection with public life had he been so ordered, he would say, to carry out the wishes of the people of Youghal. Men who differed from Dr. Kennedy in many ways had come to him (the Chairman), demanding that he be appointed to this position. Dr. Kennedy was entitled to it on the demand of his own local area, and, all other qualifications being equal, it had been the principle of the Board to give preference to seniority. The Board had at all times given consideration to any recommendations from the local authority, and this demand had come from an area which though its representatives had taken a very prominent part in trying to stand over the rights of seniority and the promotion rights of local authorities to fill these positions as they thought best in their localities. They had the historic case of the Mental Hospital in fighting for the rights of the Civil Service, and the rights of the people to have a say in their own local appointments. He would greatly regret that by any action in denying that seniority or the rights of promotion, or any accepted consideration for the expressed wishes of the locality concerned, in which a man had served, the Board would repeat in themselves a wrong they condemned in other quarters. He therefore, proposed Dr. Kennedy's appointment. Mr. Corry seconded, and said he had the utmost pleasure in so doing. Dr. Kennedy was the first Sinn Fein Chairman of the Youghal Urban Council, and a demand had come, as the Chairman had stated, from every section with which he was associated. They should be glad to have the opportunity of paying tribute to Dr. Kennedy's sacrifices even at this late hour.

An Amendment.

Mr. Gamble said he didn't know Dr. Kennedy, and even if he didn't get a second he would move Dr. O'Brien for the position. Chairman—I have pointed out the principles. Mr. Gamble—I don't care about the principles. Chairman—Oh, very well; that is all right then. There was no second for Mr. Gamble's motion. The Chairman then declared Dr. Kennedy elected, with Mr. Daniel Gamble dissenting. Mr. Corry then moved the following on the agenda:—"That Dr. Beausang be appointed temporary Medical Officer of the Youghal Dispensary District in room of Dr. Murphy, resigned, until a successor will be appointed." Mr. Gamble seconded, and it was passed unanimously. Both doctors thanked the members and Dr. Kennedy especially thanked the three T.D.'s, who, he said had remained there from Dublin to vote for him.

THE BUTTER BOUNTY

WHAT IT IS GOING TO COST CONSUMERS.

Mr. A. W. Paxman, Lismore, head of the well-known Lismore Butter Factory, writes as follows to the "Observer":—"Several meetings have been held by those interested in the creameries, with the object of pressing the Government to rush through the Butter Bounty Bill. If it is not forced through quickly, it will never be passed, as the country is rapidly realising what it is going to cost the consumers. I am giving my own view, and not necessarily that of any of my fellow-factory men. If the proposed Bill becomes law, undoubtedly all the butter factories will soon be closed, as we could not compete against the bounty fed creameries. If it is in the interests of the inhabitants, and especially the dairy farmers of the Free State, that all the milk should be sent to the creameries, the sooner the proposed Bill becomes law and the factories are closed up, the better. My firm will not raise any objection, especially as it will give the writer the opportunity of taking life a little easier after his forty-three years hard work (I am anxious to take my wife for a sea trip). Let not the creameries imagine for one moment that they will have smooth sailing if the factories are closed down, and that they have no one to compete against. Will the consumers be willing to pay 3d. or 4d. per lb. more for butter made here, than is being asked for the same article in England, Scotland, and Wales? The proposed Bill will place a very heavy burden on every household in the Free State, in order to give cheap butter to the Englishmen, Scotsmen, and Welshmen. Has our Government such a love for the people across the Channel that it is prepared to ask us to make such a sacrifice for their benefit? Let the proposed Bill be explained to a public meeting of the citizens of Dublin, Cork, Waterford and Limerick and see what they will have to say about it. Personally, I would prefer not to be the proposer of a resolution that the proposed Bill be passed. With wages falling, unemployment increasing, and tariffs being put on in all directions, it appears to me that we are in for anything but a happy and prosperous time. I heartily agree with the tariff placed on all imported butter by the late Government, with the exception that it was too high by 100 per cent. My reason for making this statement is that 4d. per lb. allowed too much latitude to the speculator and gambler. Did the farmers last winter reap the benefit of the tariff? Decidedly not. Fortunes were made by the former through buying creameries at 110/- to 120/- in the summer and grudgingly releasing them in the winter and spring at 150/- to 165/-. Did the milk suppliers secure the benefit of this big advance? We have only to ask them to get a decided "No." Had the tariff been fixed at 2d. per lb. milk suppliers would certainly not have got less for their milk, the speculator would not have made huge profits, and, what is of more importance, the consumers would not have been forced to pay such ridiculous prices for an article produced at their own door. Up till to-day my firm have not shipped 5 cwt. of butter this year, all has been disposed of in the Free State, and I trust this has had some little effect in helping to keep prices down, which at present are considerably too high. LISMORE NOTES.

(By J. J. G.)

Those who are in the habit of reading Lismore Notes in this Journal, will probably notice a change in them this week, and the writer of them does not deem himself "greatly daring" when he pens an "olla podrida" of local gossip and happenings. For gossip which in an affected superior manner, we all outwardly despise, we secretly revel in, and the happenings though not of much importance to the world outside, are often deeply interesting to local residents. Meeting an old inhabitant in the Main street recently, I asked him what did he think of the appearance of it as it is to-day. Main street, he replied, "Where is it? I can only see placards of Players Cigarettes, Somebody's Gut-plug; somebody's Mixture; telephone and telegraph poles and wires, "man alive look up 'tisnt a Main street we are in, 'tis a birdcage. The old inhabitant did not mention another impediment to the view namely the vans from other towns which are so much and so often in evidence, delivering bread here. One may well ask, cannot the Lismore folk make their own bread? There is a matter which is of much more concern to us at present that is the question of unemployment. What is to be done for youths leaving school? How and where is work to be found for men and women here who are willing to work but cannot find it. The new Government is trying to solve the problem for the country-at-large, but meantime cannot something be done locally? "Heaven helps those who helps themselves." Is there any use in suggesting ways and means. I fear not. The experience of a man who tried leads me to think so.

A manufacturer of clothing came here a short time ago to inquire into the possibilities and prospects of starting a ready-made clothing factory in the locality; but he met with such poor encouragement and lack of interest from local business men that he felt it useless to persevere in his endeavour.

Vain indeed it is to preach Sinn Fein if we do not put it into practice.

On the 14th of May, Lismore will celebrate the Feast of St. Carthage. I understand that a special effort will be made this year to emphasise the significant position of Lismore in the Ireland of the past. A feast of classical Irish music and song is contemplated. His Lordship, the Bishop, will be here towards the end of May to administer the Sacrament of confirmation. His many friends will be glad to hear that Mr. Michael McCarthy of the Wine Vaults, has now recovered from his recent indisposition. On Friday week two officials held an examination at the hotel here to fill the office of Inspector of the local cow-testing association. Three aspirants presented themselves. Mr. Richard Ormond, son of the late Mr. John Ormond, West Street, was selected.

FESTIVAL OF ST. CARTHAGE.

We are now able to give some particulars of the form in which it is the intention of the promoters to supplement the celebrations in honour of St. Carthage. It has been decided that a concert of Classical Irish Music, singing, dancing, reciting etc., should be held in the New Hall, on Sunday evening 15th inst. The services of the best talent—professional and amateur—have been secured. Many of them are known to possessors of wireless sets, so an opportunity will be afforded to those who avail of it to see those prominent artists whose voices and instrumental playing they have heard through the ether. This will not be an ordinary concert got up for mere amusement. It will be an entertainment of a very high standard, and underlying a serious purpose befitting the occasion. The promoters have no pecuniary object in view, and the net proceeds will be handed over to some charitable body. The main objectives of this Festival of Music are:— To revive the memories of ancient Lismore and its Sainly Founder. To rekindle our civic pride in the Lismore that was once a city of importance and held such a high reputation as a seat of learning. Finally to bring before our people the beauty and artistic nature of Classical Irish Music rendered by artists capable of giving it the expression it requires.

FREE STATE LOCAL APPOINTMENTS.

Pending an announcement by the Government of its policy on local appointments the work of the Free State Local Appointments Commissioners is practically at a standstill. No public advertisements for vacant positions in the jurisdiction of local councils and bodies are being issued at present, although it is known that many such vacancies exist, and no decision on the selection of candidates who have already come before the commissioners for interview is being promulgated. The present Administration favour the policy of recommending to local authorities at least three candidates instead of one (the system prevailing until recently) and until they announce their intentions in the Dail the work of making selections cannot be proceeded with. It is hoped that the Minister for Local Government, Mr. Sean T. O'Kelly, will shortly disclose to the Dail the future policy of the Government in this matter.

KilmacThomas Motor Driver Fined.

At the District Court, on Friday at Waterford, before Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J., Denis Whelan, motor driver, KilmacThomas, was summoned for alleged reckless driving of a motor car and for not being in possession of a driver's licence on the 14th March last. John Durney, in reply to Supt. O'Riordan, who prosecuted, said that on the 14th March last he was driving six cows along the back road between Kilmacow and Mooncoin when the defendant ran into him. He knocked three of the cows down, breaking a leg on one of them and, said witness, very nearly killed myself. The time, he continued, would be about 11.30 in the morning and witness was driving the cows back from water to his own land. Four of the cows were in calf and they were valuable cows. The defendant's van came around a slight bend on the road just before the accident, but, said witness, he could have seen the cows for at least 20 yards before he drove into them. There was no horn sounded, and said witness he came like a flash of lightning on me (laughter). Continuing, he said two of the cows were dragged on the broad of their backs along the road in front of the van for seven or eight yards. A horn on one of the cows was also broken. When witness spoke to the driver all he said was that he would report the matter and then drove away. He did not apologise or say he was sorry.

Defendant said he could not see the cattle because of the bend in the road. His Worship said it was only natural that a motorist should expect cattle to be on a road of that kind. Sergt. J. Daly, Kilmacow, said the matter was reported to him on the 14th March, and he at once went to the scene of the accident. The van had gone away when he arrived. He found tracks of feet of cattle on the road and saw cattle hair adhering to it. At this point the road measured 16 feet 8 ins. across. He also saw a zig-zag mark on the road, fourteen feet long, as if something had been dragged along in front of the lorry. The bend in the road was a slight one and the defendant would have a view of the cattle all the time. Witness also examined the cattle and found some of them injured. When witness asked defendant for his license he found it had expired on the 8th December last, and when he asked to examine the brake of the lorry the defendant said there was no need to examine them as they were useless. Asked how he stopped the car he said he did so by putting the engine into reverse. The fan of the motor car was protruding through the radiator. The defendant said when he was out with the van on the day in question he found that his brakes were not as tight as they should be. He was as careful as he could and when he came round the turn he ran into the cattle and could not help it.

Cross-examined—He had been driving two or three years. He admitted he did not blow the horn coming round the corner. His Worship—It would not make any difference to the cows if he blew 50 horns. Mr. Edward Hill, KilmacThomas, said the defendant had been in his employment for three years. Bar this accident, he said, the defendant was a most careful man and honest. He never had any trouble with him and never heard any complaints about him nor had he ever the slightest accident before this one. In reply to Supt. O'Riordan, witness said he had since dismissed the defendant because he was afraid of another serious accident happening and he did not wish to be responsible for such a thing. His Worship said the case was an easy one to decide, inasmuch as defendant admitted what was pretty clear, viz., that he was driving on this occasion extremely negligently. He admitted his brakes were out of order that day. His Worship said, however, he would take into consideration that there was nothing against him, and, further, the character which had been given him by his employer, Mr. Hill. Only for that character His Worship would not be so lenient with him as he proposed to be. He would impose a fine of £1 to be recorded on the defendant's licence.

THE COLOUR OF BREAD.

A LABOUR COMPLAINT.

Complaints regarding the disinclination of the Irish people to eat bread milled from home-made flour were voiced at a meeting of Dublin flour milling workers, held in Liberty Hall yesterday. Mr. Thomas Kennedy, Vice-President, I.T. & G.W.U., dealt with a scheme for the national control of the flour-milling industry recently submitted to Mr. Lemass, Minister for Industry and Commerce, by a deputation representative of workers of all mills in the Saorstát. The great bulk of the Irish people, said Mr. Kennedy, objected to bread made from Irish flour because it was not the same colour as that made from foreign flour. The loaf made from cross-Channel flour was popular because of its whiteness, and the people lost sight of the fact that the loaf made from Irish flour, although darker in colour, contained more nutriment and was more beneficial as a food. The only remedy for this, said Mr. Kennedy, was to compel the people to use bread made from Irish flour, whether they liked it or not.

CONSERVATORS AND QUESTION OF LEGALITY.

MINISTRY'S LETTER.

Mr. J. Kennedy, Chairman, presided at the meeting of the Lismore Board of Blackwater Fishery Conservators at Tallow, and there also attended—Captain P. Dunne, Wm. O'Brien, W. Baldwin, J. Power, Captain B. Holyroyd Smyth, E. E. Maxwell, E. A. Rice, solr., Vice-Chairman; A. Davison, J. O'Neill, T. Murphy, R. G. Annesley, Major Longfield, J. Kent.
Messrs. T. Drohan, Sec. and Inspector and W. Buckley, Assistant Inspector, were also present.
The Secretary read the following letter received by Mr. J. L. Keane, solr., from the Ministry of Fisheries—
"A Chara.—With reference to your communication of the 9th inst. on the subject of methods of netting carried on in the vicinity of Youghal, I am directed by the Minister for Lands and Fisheries to state that it is not within the Minister's province to decide whether the nets referred to are 'fixed' within the meaning of the Fisheries Acts. Such interpretation of the law appears to be a matter for the courts. If the Board of Conservators consider a prosecution unwise, whoever raised the point could prosecute—A. C. Moriarty.
Mr. Power, proposed, that the Board take no action in the matter dealt with by the Minister in his letter to Mr. Keane.
Mr. Murphy, seconded.
Major Longfield, said he did not think they understood it.
Mr. Rice said the Board had received a letter from Lord Charles Cavendish, complaining of the method of netting referred to. The question was referred to Mr. Keane, solr., who drew up a report, and the Board had it forwarded to the Department. That was the Department's reply.
The Chairman said the method complained of was going on for a very long time, and had never been challenged.
Mr. Murphy said the fishing men were not in fault, the nets being put on the ground by the action of the tide.
The Chairman said that it was open to Lord Charles to prosecute if he thought he was aggrieved.
Major Longfield—Doesn't this affect the fishing at Youghal, Knockadoon, and Ardmore?
Captain Dunne—It affects all.
Major Longfield—If it is an illegality it is up to this Board to take action.
Mr. Rice, said the trouble was that there was a difference of opinion on the point. Mr. Keane didn't think that the Court would hold it was illegal.
Major Longfield said it had been decided at the Malloy meeting to get counsel's opinion.
Mr. Rice said it was not.
Major Longfield proposed, an amendment that they adjourn the matter till Lord Charles attended, seeing it was at his instance the question was raised.
Mr. Rice—When will he be here?
He has a valid reason for his present absence (laughter).
Mr. Annesley seconded. They ought give Lord Charles a chance of backing up his case if he had any.
After further consideration a poll was taken, with the following result—
For the amendment—Major Longfield, Captain Smyth, Messrs. Annesley, Davison, Maxwell and Kent—6.
Against—Captain Dunne, Messrs. Murphy, O'Neill, O'Brien, Baldwin, Power, Rice, and the Chairman—8.
The proposition was, therefore, passed.
The Chairman asked how they stood financially?
The Secretary said they were not good, as the rates were coming in very slowly.
Having gone into details, it was unanimously decided to take proceedings against defaulters who didn't pay up within a month.
A letter was read from the Department stating that the acceptance of the tender of Mr. J. Power, of £19 15s. for alterations and improvements at Clondulane fry pass and weir had been approved.
The Secretary said they were getting a great deal of trouble from certain persons in that neighbourhood.
Mr. Rice said matters would be improved if parties were prevented from walking along the river bank there. That was a private property, and the owner should prosecute trespassers.
It was suggested that the Board should communicate with the owner and ask him to take action.
New Patrol Boat.
A letter was read from the Department approving of the expenditure of £25 15 in the purchase of a new motor patrol boat—payment to be spread over two years.
The Chairman raised an important question in connection with fish buyers registers. He understood that some buyers bought salmon from unlicensed persons, entering their own names instead of those of the licensed fishermen. This should not be allowed.
The Secretary asked if the seller were a member of the crew of a duly licensed boat, would it not do to put his name down.
Mr. Rice said it was illegal to buy salmon from an unlicensed person, and therefore the name of the original owner of the fish should be given, otherwise it might give rise to abuses.
Major Longfield said if the fish were caught illegally they could be disposed of if any name but that of a duly licensed person were registered.
Mr. Murphy—Has this Board power to take an action in cases of that kind?
The Chairman said they had, otherwise what were the registers kept for?

Ratepayers should realise the importance of meeting their civic debts at the proper dates and not defer these payments until compulsion is exercised, states the Department.
Dilatory ratepayers who defer paying rates until towards the end of the financial year as well as those who remain in arrears until forced to pay are responsible for the heavy charge that Co. Councils annually incur for interest on overdraft accommodation.

LISMORE GAELS VICTORY.

On Sunday week the Lismore Gaels scored a notable double victory when they travelled to Moore Hill, Tallow to play minor and junior hurling matches with two teams from Moore Hill.
The minor match, which was played first, proved a fast and well-contested affair, but Lismore proved superior to their opponents and won by 3 goals 2 points to 1 goal 1 point for Moore Hill.
The junior match proved a far more strenuous game, but the superiority of the Lismore men was more marked than in the minor contest, and although the home team put up a very plucky fight they were no match for their faster and more skilful opponents who won on the score of 4 goals 3 points to 3 points for Moore Hill.
There was a very large attendance of spectators, and the two matches were greatly enjoyed by all.
Magistrate (to a motorist): You have made yourself liable to a fine of £50 for this offence. Defendant: You will have to give me time to pay, sir. Magistrate: Had you allowed me to finish I was going to add that on this occasion the fine would be 5s.
Wife: My husband tore all my clothing to shreds to prevent my going out.

IRISH ATHLETIC REVIVAL.

GENERAL APPEAL FOR FUNDS.

Some time ago a personal appeal for funds to enable the National Athletic & Cycling Association of Ireland to undertake the re-organisation of Athletics in this country. The success of my appeal exceeded the most sanguine expectations. Although the number to whom it was addressed was limited, the magnificent sum of £3,370 was realised, and as a result the Association cleared off a long outstanding debt of £700. In addition we undertook three great international competitions—The International Cross-Country Championship, the Scotch V. Irish and the French V. Irish Athletic Contests. Although these events, as was expected owing to the lack of interest in athletics, caused a severe drain on the fund, they were carried out in a manner which reflected credit on this country, and in each, Irish successes were recorded.
We also sent a team to represent Ireland at the World Cycling Championships at Copenhagen which, under the circumstances, gave a good account of itself. Again, we secured the services of the world-famous Coach, Alec Nelson of Cambridge University, who, in the short time at his disposal, rendered splendid service to our young athletes at various centres. We have also paid a worthy tribute to Ireland's past Champions at a magnificent Banquet given in their honour, and to which present-day champions were invited.
Notwithstanding these undertakings we have still on hands a substantial balance to enable us to continue our schemes.
At the Annual Congress our Association set itself a big programme for 1932, as follows—1. Cross-Country Championships—Senior and Junior. 2. Schools' and Colleges' Championships. 3. National Athletic and Cycling Championships. 4. Athletic Contest in Scotland with Scotland. 5. Athletic Contest with Birchfield Harriers in Dublin. 6. Athletic Contest with Achilles Club in Dublin. 7. Tailteann Games. 8. Olympic Games, Los Angeles. 9. World Cycling Championships, Rome.
Furthermore, an extensive re-organisation scheme is being organised with the purpose of placing athletics in its proper position in our Schools and Colleges; the establishment, as far as possible, of Inter-Parish competitions, and we have again engaged the services of Alec Nelson.
This is a formidable and ambitious programme in which every Athletic Club, Committee and Council of our Association is co-operating wholeheartedly and towards which we earnestly solicit the sympathy of the Irish people.
We do not expect anyone who subscribed to my personal appeal of 1931 to again contribute. The object of this general appeal is to give all who had not an opportunity of subscribing already to do so now. We believe that everyone interested in the building up of a virile race which will be the hope and pride of our country will be anxious to be associated with this great Athletic Revival Movement. Large contributions are not expected, but we want the name of every citizen to appear in the souvenir booklet which will be issued immediately the list is closed, a copy of which will be sent to each subscriber. Subscriptions will be received by—General O'Duffy, Dept., Phoenix Park, Dublin. J. J. McGilton, Hon. Secretary, and T. E. Nolan,

TRAVELERS' EXPENSES.

Lord Charles Cavendish and Miss Astaire, arrived at Lismore Castle, the Irish seat of Lord Charles's father, the Duke of Devonshire at the week-end for a short visit.
Miss Astaire, it is understood, will return to London by the end of this week. Lord Charles will remain at the castle possibly a week longer to supervise improvements and renovations at present being carried out there in preparation for his forthcoming marriage.
This, it is stated will take place early in June, but the exact date has not yet been disclosed.
All the indications are that the wedding will be a quiet one. None but the estate staff is engaged on the necessary alterations at the castle, one wing of which is being made ready for Lord Charles and his bride-to-be.
There will be no festivities when the marriage takes place, but the estate workmen have subscribed towards a handsome wedding present.
Lord Charles Cavendish and Miss Astaire during their visits are staying within the extensive estate, where plenty of sport is to be found.

MR. DE VALERA'S ACT OF GRACE.

FOUR MILITARY PRISONERS RELEASED.
Before going to a meeting of the Free State Executive Council on Monday, Mr. de Valera and other Ministers attended a Requiem Mass celebrated in the garrison church, Arbour Hill Barracks, Dublin, for the repose of the souls of the leaders who were executed after the 1916 insurrection, and volleys were fired and the "Last Post" sounded over the graves in a corner of the barracks.
Following the Mass, Mr. de Valera as an act of grace ordered the release of four military prisoners whose sentences had nearly expired, and remitted three weeks from the sentences of two other military prisoners who have longer sentences to serve.

Death of a Cappoquin Nun.

The members of the Sisters of Mercy Community, Shanbally, Cappoquin, have sustained a severe loss by the death of Sister M. Columba Carroll, which occurred in the Convent on Tuesday night, 28th April, after a rather protracted illness.

The late Sister M. Columba, was daughter of the late Mr. Denis Carroll, Cattle Dealer, Castle Farm, Knocklong, Co. Limerick, and entered the Mercy Order in Cappoquin, 21 years ago.

A young lady of superior education and endowed with rare intellectual attainments, she became a member of the Teaching Staff in the Convent Schools after a few years and continued to fill this important position with conspicuous ability and rare brilliancy until her health broke down several months ago. Of a kind, gentle and saintly nature, she was beloved by all the pupils in her charge, while she was an equal favourite with all the members of the Community, who now mourn the death of a model Sister and a brilliant Teacher whose premature passing away will be a great loss to all.

On Thursday morning Solemn Requiem High Mass was offered up in the pretty Convent Chapel for the repose of her soul before a large congregation which comprised a number of relatives from Co. Limerick, all the members of the Community, and most of the leading people in Cappoquin.

The celebrant of the Mass was the Very Rev. D. Canon Whelan, D.D., P.P., Cappoquin; deacon, Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., Lismore; sub-deacon, Rev. John Ahearne, C.C., Ballybricken Waterford.

In the Choir were:—Very Rev. T. O'Carroll, P.P., Modeligo; Very Rev. J. Gleason, P.P., Aghish; Very Rev. M. C. Crotty, P.P., Abbeyside; Very Rev. T. O'Brien, P.P., Dungarvan; Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., Cappoquin; Rev. M. Power, C.C., Abbeyside; Rev. H. Synott, C.C., Ardmore; Rev. James McGrath, C.C., Knockanore; Rev. P. Meskill, C.C., SS. Peter and Paul's, Clonmel; Rev. Father Morrissey, C.C., Lismore; Rev. Father Power, C.C., do.; Rev. M. Hearne, C.C., Dungarvan; Rev. T. F. McGrath, C.C., do., etc.

Immediately after the solemn obsequies, the funeral took place to the cemetery attached to the Convent, the cortege being led by a Cross-Bearer, Acolytes and Clergy, after which came the relatives of deceased, the members of the Community and the boys of the Industrial school, all wearing white sashes; next followed a number of the Convent School pupils and then the general public, which included all the principle people of Cappoquin.

The final prayers were recited at the graveside by the Very Rev. Canon Whelan, assisted by all the other clergy who had taken part in the High Mass.

The Chief mourners included:—John Carroll, James Carroll and Patrick Carroll, Castle Farm, Knocklong, (brothers); Miss Carroll and Mrs. Connolly (do., sisters); John Connolly, do., (brother-in-law); John P. Carroll and Patrick Carroll, Hospital, Co. Limerick, etc., (nephews);—R.I.P.

The death took place in a Cork Nursing Home, on Tuesday, of Brother Gerard Foley, O.S.A., at the early age of 22 years. He was associated with the Augustinian Fathers, Dungarvan, and had been at school here at the College, when he elected to join the Order. The remains were brought from Cork via Youghal to Dungarvan on Wednesday evening, when a very large number of people met the funeral, which proceeded to the Augustinian Church. There were present—Very Revd. Father Redmond, O.S.A., Prior; Very Revd. Father Walsh, O.S.A., (Def.); Rev. Father Donegan, O.S.A., and Rev. Father Byrne, O.S.A. There also attended—The Rev. Father Ephraim, O.M., Cap. The coffin was borne into the Church by six of the College boys, directed by Brother Columba, and as the processon moved inwards, Mrs. O'Hara, Organist, played Chopin's Funeral March. The remains were laid in the Church for the night. On Thursday, the interment took place in the little cemetery attached to the Church, where a large congregation assembled. The Dead March was also played on the occasion. Amongst the chief mourners were deceased's mother and sisters. It is recalled that the father of the deceased, who belonged to Limerick was shot dead by the Black and Tans. Amongst those who attended the obsequies were—Very Rev. Father Hennessy, O.S.A., Provincial; The Very Rev. Father J. O'Donoghue, O.S.A., Prior, Limerick; Very Rev. Father Conlan, O.S.A., Prior, New Ross.

The Chief mourners included:—John Carroll, James Carroll and Patrick Carroll, Castle Farm, Knocklong, (brothers); Miss Carroll and Mrs. Connolly (do., sisters); John Connolly, do., (brother-in-law); John P. Carroll and Patrick Carroll, Hospital, Co. Limerick, etc., (nephews);—R.I.P.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

NEW SOLICITOR.

At the Final Examination for Solicitors apprentices, last week, Mr. E. B. Williams, son of the late Mr. J. F. Williams, Solr., Dungarvan, and of Mrs. Williams, Tournore, passed with distinction. Mr. Williams has had a very brilliant career as a student, and in the future he is bound to figure high in the legal world. In addition to being a brilliant student, he is an athlete of repute and an amateur boxer. An all-round sportsman, he is a worthy son of his distinguished father. We join with his numerous friends in wishing him a bright and prosperous career in his profession.

DANGER OF ORANGE PEEL, ETC.

The careless throwing on the footpaths of the town of orange peel, banana skins and such, has been the cause of serious bodily accidents to people from time to time and it would be a good policy if some receptacles for such rubbish were suspended at particular points from street standards. By so doing much suffering and trouble would be saved to those who have the misfortune to be injured through slipping on an orange peel or banana skin.

A few weeks ago, Mr. Keohan, one of our most civic spirited and intelligent citizens sustained an ugly fall through slipping on a banana skin. Fortunately, he was not seriously hurt and we are happy to say he is fit and well again. An ornament to any Society, a gentleman of refinement, dignity and learning, we tender Mr. Keohan our best wishes on his escape from a serious mishap. Only a short time previous another worthy citizen was similarly injured while almost daily, people in the discharge of their duties can be seen skidding around the paths. Something should be done to prevent such rubbish being thrown on the footpaths and teachers should warn scholars of the dangers of such conduct. This is a matter which concerns the whole community, and it should be dealt with in a practical manner.

TRIBUTE TO DUNGARVAN DOCTOR'S WORK ON IRISH ETHNO-BOTANY.

Some years ago, Dr. M. F. Moloney, Dungarvan, wrote and published a most instructive book on "Irish Ethno-Botany, and the Evolution of Medicine in Ireland." This book when issued was most widely praised in reviews. Part I dealt with Irish Ethno-Botany, including the native Materia Medica of the vegetable origin (a) The Land Flora (b) Marine Flora. In this section which showed a deep and thorough study of the Irish tongue was given the Latin and Ancient Irish names of all herbs peculiar to Ireland, together with their curative effects. Now that the science of all things Irish is on the carpet, this interesting and learned work should be an excellent ground-work for scientific and research-work students in the labyrinth of Celtic lore.

A striking tribute to the excellence of this book is paid by the principal of one of Ireland's Leading Agricultural Colleges. He states that after wading through Dr. Dineen's and O'Neill's Lanes Dictionaries, it was a God send to him to come across such a useful and splendid book. It was excellent for Rural Science Classes, whether through the medium of Irish or not, and was out by itself in the elaborate manner in which this interesting subject was treated.

FIFTY PER CENT. ON SPADES.

A duty of 50 per cent. has been put on spades and shovels.

AGRICULTURAL MACHINERY TAXES.

In the Dail on Tuesday, Mr. John Kiersey, T.D., questioned the tax of 70 per cent. put on Agricultural Machinery, and its parts, and pleaded that the tax on parts be taken off. In view of the fact that the greater part of our agricultural machinery in use at the moment is either English or American it is a terrible tax on farmers to have to pay such a tax on the parts they require from time to time. With eggs at a halfpenny each, it would require quite a big lot of hens to lay sufficient eggs to buy the ordinary wear and tear parts of a binder.

COST OF LIVING GOING UP.

Following the imposition of an extra heavy tax on boots, shoes, clothing, furniture, sugar, cocoa, etc., and with very little money to meet current charges without any new impositions, it looks as if living is going to be a very expensive item in future. It is all very well to talk about building houses and making comfortable homes for everybody. It is an excellent thing but food is a first necessity and people must be fed. Secondly, they must be clothed, and thirdly, housed. Any well-governed State must see its citizens fed, clothed and housed, but how is that to be done under present conditions, with unemployment rampant, and prospects dark. After all the seasons of hope and despair are closely allied and this is not the last generation.

BUTTER BOUNTY.

To-day, we publish an interesting letter from Mr. Paxman, Managing Director of Paxman and Co., Ltd., Lismore. As head of a firm for over 40 years and deeply concerned in Factory Butter, Mr. Paxman, speaks with conviction, and the views he expresses are worthy of the closest study by every farmer whether he makes his own butter or sends his milk to the creamery. Taxes and Bounties do not always give the results anticipated, and our level-headed farmers—and we have lots of them—should closely study Mr. Paxman's letter from their own point of view.

WHAT WEATHER CAN DO.

There were two prosecutions of milk vendors last week, for selling milk deficient in butter-fat. Both the defendants were most responsible people, not a trace of suspicion attached to their business. They sold the milk as taken from their cows and the result was a prosecution by the Food Inspector. The only way the cases could be explained was that the cold, dry, hard weather and east wind affected the cows' constitution and the Justice agreed and sensibly too, and dismissed the cases. The Food Inspector was right in his action and the Justice right in his decision. The weather for the past 3 months was not good for man or beast, and if the Flu and East wind could be abolished this old Nation would unanimously support the Bill.

150,000 PIGS.

According to the annual report of Messrs. Henry Denny and Sons, Ltd., Waterford, the well-known firm of bacon curers, between 150,000 and 160,000 pigs are handled at the firms factories each year.

THE RAZOR KING.

The Razor King of England, who declared in his youth, he would shave the world before he died and nearly did so, never shaved himself, but instead shot himself last week.

ARDMORE SEWERAGE.

"A man in the street," Ardmore, writes about the absence of the public lavatory in the village of Ardmore which was badly needed, and says—"Prior to the election, waterworks for Ardmore was a certainty in the near future, but we are still as far from that as ever." He suggests that if a metal frame-work were erected on the promenade and a basin sunk and connected with one of the pipes conveying the streamlets, the result would be an automatic flush Lavatory. In the interests of public Health, the matter should be attended to.

The Youghal Ferry Again.

(EDITOR "THE DUNGARVAN OBSERVER.")
South Abbey, Youghal, 28th April, 1932.
Sir,—In the "Dungarvan Observer" of the 23/4, I read the reference made at the meeting of the Youghal Urban Council to my letter to the Minister for Local Government, concerning a shelter on the Ferry-point. After some discussion, the Council decided "to await further developments." I hope you will allow me space to develop my views now:
(1) One member is reported as saying: "If the Co. Waterford went half the Council would go the other half." I may mention I devoted a good portion of my letter to the Minister (A copy of which had just been read at the Council meeting) to showing why the Council should stand the whole cost. That it should do so, is, I think, beyond question.
Besides, what would be the cost of a shelter? I should say about £15.
Fancy a deputation going to Waterford, pleading for seven pounds ten!
(2) Another member is reported as saying: "He thought the Council had already done enough for the ferry.
They had erected a jetty, and had put on two motor boats. Let the Co. Waterford do the rest."
I cannot at all agree. I think the Council is not entitled to claim any credit for having done anything for the comfort, or convenience of passengers. Indeed the contrary is the case.
Any important ferry, such as this,
which is a great asset, as it carries the neighbouring people of the Co. Waterford to do their shopping in Youghal —and is itself a great attraction to the place as a seaside resort, would have had a motor service installed, many years before it was done. And now, having at length supplied it, to make capital out of this and other points, shows I think, a want of proper appreciation of the whole matter. But, I should here add, this remark only applies to very few members of the Council.

As regards the costly jetty recently built: It is of little if any advantage, or facility to passengers compared with the old method of landing. Once the movable slip is put in position, it is just as easy to step on to it as on to the jetty. Moreover for a considerable part of the day, the old movable slip is still in use as the jetty is high and dry. Just fancy what our summer visitors when they pour "across the ferry" in their thousands, must think about how we "do things" in Youghal, when they see this new jetty so high and dry.
The barque was still there but the waters were gone.
If I remember rightly, the jetty was not built with the object of facilitating passengers—but was really the result of fright. A small accident occurred to the motor-boat when landing on the Point, and the Council taking alarm as to how the insurance policy would stand, in case of a serious accident, built the jetty.

When it was proposed to build it, in a letter in the "Dungarvan Observer," I expressed the view that in stormy weather the jetty would be a menace, which could inflict much more serious damage to the boat, than could occur by landing on the soft beach.
I see no reason to alter this view.
But this is not all. The jetty is not only a costly white elephant, and a standing menace to the boat, but it is a source of annoyance and danger to the many salmon-boats fishing from the Point. I have had practical proof of this myself, as, in the strong current, which runs there, I have been more than once in a boat nearly carried on to the projecting rail, which is difficult to see, even in the day-time; how much more difficult must it be at night, when there is no light on it!
A boat might easily be seriously damaged against it—or worse, if carried broad-side on against the rail, may possibly be capsized, with loss of life.
Would we ratifyers have to compensate the families of the drowned?
Before leaving the jetty, and getting back to terra firma, I feel I must pay a small tribute to the skill and management of the ferry-boat by the crew.
With the ever varying conditions of winds, tides, and currents met with in the crossing, it would be hard to imagine a more difficult and "tricky" run than the ferry-boat one—yet there is never an accident.

So far, criticism is destructive—now for a few suggestions:—
(1) A shelter should be built
(2) The fare should be reduced.
(3) Protection against spray should be provided on the boats.
As regards No. (2). The fare used be a halfpenny each way—and, I am not sure that this amount is not still "legal tender." Be that as it may, it is monstrous, these hard times, to stick to the same fare as when we were rolling in money.
As regards No. (3). Generally speaking, there are three ways of providing protection from spray in a boat of this sort:—One is, a lightly constructed cabin. Another is a ridge-pole down the centre of the boat, and stanchions at the sides. To each side of the ridge-pole is attached canvas, which can be rolled back and fastened up when not in use. And a third method, is that provided on the pleasure sailing-boats at Brighton, and other seaside resorts, where the local "oleshers" are taken out for a sail. It consists of canvas fastened around the gunnel. Those sitting on the weather side, undo the straps and throw the free edge of the canvas over their heads.
The method is quite simple; is cheap;
and is effective for keeping out most of the spray—though a small amount

YOUGHAL NOTES.

A SEASON'S HARBINGER.
As will be seen by our advertising columns, Youghal Strand, will awaken from its winter's rest at Whit Week End, when the coming Summer Season will be fittingly prefaced by a good old time of it at the Strand Palace. The Clerk of the weather not content with carrying out his usual year's end programme, opened the Spring with a bitter easterly blast, which has lasted so far for well-nigh three months, with hardly a day's break—an apt illustration of the poet's saying "And winter lingering chills the lap of May." In all reason we may surely count on a change of temper and temperature on the arrival of Whitsuntide. Visitors are already beginning to come to the Strand on Sunday's and the weekly half-holiday's, and with the long overdue improvement in the atmospheric condition, these numbers will increase as the days go by and grow longer and finer. Whitsun is a favourite period for a large influx and those that come along can wind up their day's outings with a jolly good time at the ever popular Strand Palace, under the same capable and energetic management.

NEW BUSINESS.
Notwithstanding the continued depression prevailing at present—we are still endeavouring to turn that "artful dodger" of a corner—There seems to be a very hopeful and optimistic spirit abroad in our midst, judging by the regular procession of new businesses being started locally. There's a new and up-to-date Garage in the North Main street (taking the place of a tumble-down, burnt-out old ruin) a new Drapery establishment, a couple of new Grocery stores, an additional Turf Accountant's office, etc., etc. These are all facts accomplished. But they don't exhaust the list. There's a new Customs and Excise office in process of preparation at the old Coastguard Station, a new fruit and vegetable store in the Main street, and, if rumour speaks true, there are several others. But sufficient for the day.— P.S.—As will be seen by our Advertising columns, Mr. W. L. O'Keefe, South Main street, is re-opening the Ladies Hair Dressing Saloon in North Main street, recently run by Miss Roberts.

NEW BUILDINGS.
There are several new bungalows—no more slap-up jerry-built affairs, but regular tidy dwellings houses filled up with all the necessary conveniences of modern life. Hitherto all new building operations were confined to the town itself or the Strand. Therefore, it is a pleasure to be able to record the fact that a stir in this direction has been made at the north end of the town. All this provides a substantial share of work for the local tradesmen and others. This is augmented by extensive repairs and improvements to a number of public buildings, so that taking everything into consideration there is a bit of a boom all round.
It is also expected that there will be in the very near future a good deal of employment provided by important extensions in some local institutions.

THE MISSION.
Since opening on the 24th ult., the Mission given by the Redeptionist Fathers has been and is, continuing to be a most edifying success. Night after night the spacious Parish Church is crowded in every part long before the opening of the devotions—not alone in the aisles and galleries, but even the sanctuary and the sanctuary have to be availed of to give people an opportunity of attending. But, better than that, the early morning Mass and Instruction are also regularly and punctually attended by large crowds of worshippers. The good Fathers who labour unceasingly, morning, noon and night have won their way into the hearts of the people of Youghal and the result is that the initial fervour has not alone being maintained, but has been even exceeded. Next Sunday will be a "Red Letter Day" in the religious history of Youghal, owing to the celebration of the Centenary of the Holy Family Confraternity.

SOME HEN!
Mrs. Power, wife of Mr. Maurice Power, signaller, Square, Kilmac-thomas, has informed me that a hen, the property of her sister, Mrs. Jack Kelly, Back Lodge, Curraghmore, recently laid two eggs in one day—one about 10 o'clock a.m.; one about 4 p.m.— which is undoubtedly a record in the annals of poultrydom. Mrs. Kelly's husband is an employee of the Marquis of Waterford. "They are delighted over their feathered one's feat," said Mrs. Power.

VICTORY DANCE.
Following the successful Fianna Fail Victory Ceilidhe, held in Waterford city recently, the county continued the lead with a further celebration which was held at the Cafe, Bon-mahon, on Sunday night last, a Waterford dance orchestra providing the music. An enormous attendance included his Worship the Mayor of Waterford (Ald. Wm. Jones), and Mr.
Michael Mansfield, Corbally, Old Parish, the unsuccessful F.F. candidate at the recent General Election. The Ceilidhe was capitally conducted and was an unqualified success from every standpoint. Bravo Bonmahon!

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

RETIREMENT OF A POPULAR DOCTOR.

Present—Messrs. J. R. Smyth, P.C., Chairman; M. D. Brodenick, D. Dennehy, T. Beausang, M. J. Fleming, J.
Whelan, P. McMahon, P.C.; P. J.
O'Gorman, P.C.; D. J. Linehan, A. J.
Fowkes, E. Clancy, T. Murphy, E. P.
Lynch, Vice-Chairman.
Mrs. G. Simkins, and Mr. J. Webster, appeared as a deputation on behalf of the British Legion, and the former handed the Chairman the sum of £15, the result of a whistle drive, towards the Dóggan Dependents' Fund.
The Chairman thanked the Legion for their kind and praiseworthy action He was sure he expressed the feelings of both Council and town (hear, hear).
Mr. Webster said the Legion would deem it an honour to be represented on the Presentation Committee, and they asked him to suggest the name of Mrs. Simkins, who had given them valuable assistance in organising the whistle drive.
The Chairman said the Council would be pleased to have Mrs. Simkins on the Committee.
Having thanked the Chairman and Council for the reception accorded them, the deputation withdrew.

A letter was read from the Sec. of the University of Bristol Union Club, asking for details of camping sites available for camping parties in the district.
The Clerk was directed to supply the required information.
The following letter was read by the Town Clerk:—"Having resigned the medical officership of the Youghal Dispensary District (owing to the state of my health), and in now resigning the most of the Youghal Urban area, I am very reluctantly severing a very long connection with the Urban District Council. Will you please convey to the Chairman and members (not forgetting yourself) my sincere thanks for the many acts of kindness in the past, and to assure them that I will always retain the same affection and regard for the 'old town' in the future as I had in the past. Again thanking you all.—Yours faithfully—D. J. Murphy."

The Chairman said the letter did not come as a surprise: Dr. Murphy had been in their service many years, and had always discharged his duties faithfully and well, but his greatest claim on their gratitude was his devotedness to the service of the poor. They all sincerely hoped that as he would now be relieved of his most arduous duties, their old friend would soon be fully restored in health, and that he would long enjoy his well-earned rest. They all regretted parting with him, but he could rest assured that anything the Council could do for him would be very gladly done (hear, hear).

Mr. O'Gorman—It comes as no surprise to me to-night to learn of the resignation of Doctor Murphy—for he favoured me with his confidence over two months ago. It was with regret I learnt then, and to-night having his resignation officially before us I should like to be permitted to pay a tribute to the services he has rendered to his native town. As a practitioner he bore an honoured name, his whole life has been devoted to the amelioration of those who came under his charge. To many of God's afflicted his bright and cheerful manner has been the means of expediting their recovery to health—perhaps to the poor of this town, his loss will be more than to others—for the solicitude and kindness at all times were on a par with the love he bore them. His severance with this Board as an officer is one which every member regrets, but we have the consolation that whilst his activities will be restricted, his rest in the evening of his life is well merited. Into his retirement he brings with him the best wishes of all classes—rich and poor—May he be as happy in his retirement as he was when working unselfishly for the town of which he at all times has been a valued and honoured citizen. I had the pleasure of spending the first year or two of my apprenticeship in Public life with Doctor Murphy on this Board, and then I formed a very high regard, which in later years developed into very sincere and true friendship.
His word was his bond—the personification of straightforwardness at all times. He was of a school of men which unfortunately has been sadly depleted through the advent of time, but that have left behind a legacy for straight dealing and honourable traits that it should be the wish of those who have filled their places to emulate the record of service men such as Doctor Murphy have given to their native town.

Mr. Broderick endorsed the remarks of the Chairman and Mr. O'Gorman.
No words of his could adequately express what he thought of Dr. Murphy.
In his heart he wished the Doctor many years of renewed health and happiness in his retirement.
Mr. Whelan said it was with deep regret they had learned of the unavoidable retirement of Dr. Murphy, who had done herculean work in Youghal, more especially amongst the poor, for whom he laboured unceasingly day and night. It was the heartfelt wish of everybody in Youghal that he might long enjoy his well-earned retirement.
Mr. Fowkes, associating himself with the remarks, said he had frequently seen Dr. Murphy going on his rounds in weather of the worst kind.
His devotion to duty was extraordinary—he lived for his work, while his personality was better than the best medicine.
Mr. Lynch said he had good reason to appreciate Dr. Murphy's many excellent qualities, for he was once on the verge of a "trip across," and it was the Doctor by his care and skill and his wonderful manner who saved his life.

Messrs. Clancy, Beausang, McMahon, Linehan, and others having spoken.
The Clerk said he had come into close contact with Dr. Murphy officially, and it could be truly said of him "that he was one of nature's gentlemen."
Mr. O'Gorman gave notice to consider the question of the Doctor's retiring allowance at next meeting.

Late Mrs. Pearse.
Mr. Lynch said it was with the deepest regret that he proposed a vote of sympathy with the relatives of the late Mrs. Pearse, whose history as a patriotic Irish mother was so well-known Her son, Padraig, who played so prominent a part in the 1916 Rebellion, was one of the men who nearly shifted the invaders out of the country.
Mr. Beausang seconded the proposition.

The Late Mr. Maurice Doyle.
Mr. Broderick proposed a similar vote with the relatives of the late Maurice Doyle, a true Irishman and patriot, who stood in the front lines during the big fight of the Irish farmers for their lands. Any tribute they could pay to his memory would be well deserved.
The proposition was seconded by Mr. McMahon and supported by other members and the Town Clerk.

Reply of Col. Ronayne—"Dear Sir,—
The Government had already shown originality in the legislative line. I am much disappointed with the above quoted reply. You gave no lead or suggestion. Considering my letter was entirely based on the 'no man's land' aspect of the shelter, your remark about 'entirely for the Local Authority' is not helpful. A friendly description of your letter would be it is 'safe and non-committal, but in my opinion it rather oversteps the safety boundary, and so is more likely to displease than satisfy.—Yours truly,—L. Ronayne."

The duty on preparations containing cocoa will be 3s. a pound on and after to-day, with an Imperial preference rate of two-thirds. The duty will be in addition to any duty on spirits or saccharine contained in the article, and will be in lieu of any duty on any other ingredient. Chocolate, of course will come within the scope of the Order.
The duty hitherto was 6 3/5d.
The new duty on sugar confectionery from to-day is 4s. 6d. per pound, compared with the previous duty of 4 4/5d., and an Imperial preference rate of two-thirds will also operate.
This Order is concerned largely with imported sweets.

value of the article is imposed upon bedsteads and furniture. The duty hitherto has been 33 1/3 per cent. An Imperial preference rate of two-thirds will operate. Bedsteads of any material and all furniture made wholly or partly of wood, as well as component parts of furniture completely or partly manufactured, come within the scope of the Order.

MR. COSGRAVE'S CORK MEETING.

The following open letter has been sent by Mr. James Crosbie (chairman of the Cork branch of the Cumann na nGaedheal) and Mr. Anthony Barry (hon. secretary) to Mr. de Valera. It has also been addressed to Mr. T. P.
Dowdall and Mr. Hugo Flinn, two Fianna Fail members for Cork:—
"Dear Sirs,—On Saturday night an organised and determined attempt was made to wreck a Cumann na nGaed-heal meeting in Cork, which was addressed by the leader of the Opposition and senior T.D. for Cork. The wreckers were supporters of the Fianna Fail. They stated so positively, and they made it quite clear that they were not going to allow Mr. Cosgrave to get a hearing.

"No, we are not going to make any appeal to you on the grounds of fairplay or rights of electors. We are not going to remind you that Mr. Cosgrave was elected for this city with a majority over a combined poll of the entire Fianna Fail candidature.
"We put it to you straight that you have got to stop this thing. You have got to stop it at once, else you are going to allow Irish politics to degenerate into something even uglier than that demonstrated by your supporters last Saturday night.—Faithfully yours, JAMES CROSBIE Chairman

Cumann na nGaedheal.

Match-Maker's £20 Claim

BRIDE HE FOUND FOR BROTHER GOOD LOOKS "NOT STIPULATED"

An action, described by the defence as Pickwickian, for the recovery by one brother of £20 commission on a dowry of £200 obtained by another brother, was dismissed with costs, at Cashiers.

The parties in the case were Patrick and John Hannelly, of Casterea.

On behalf of Patrick Hannelly it was stated that last October John Hannelly told him he was anxious to get married and asked him to find a wife with a fortune. There were no restrictions placed in Patrick's way as to the bride's looks or manners, the only stipulation being that the dowry must not be less than £150. If the prospective bride had a fortune of £200 a commission of £20 was to be paid, while if the fortune was only £150 the commission was to be reduced to £10.

Patrick Hannelly (said Mr. Staunton, his solicitor) then went hunting round the district seeking out a wife for his brother who would fulfil the necessary condition. After considerable trouble he eventually found a suitable girl, whom he introduced to his brother, and made a match. Before he would allow John to see the girl's father, however, he took the precaution of making him sign a promissory note confirming the verbal agreement to pay the £20 commission. John Hannelly had since married the girl, but Patrick had never got his £20.

District Justice Coyne—It is a most amazing thing. I never heard of such an action in all my experience.

Mr. Keane, solicitor (for John Hannelly)—I think this is the proper stage to make a preliminary objection on the merits of the case. We claim to have a complete answer, but I submit that the action is unsustainable in law. It is most unusual in character and, I am forced to say, a trifle Pickwickian.

"It is in reality a marriage brokerage contract, the consideration being that Patrick should arrange a suitable marriage for John. On the grounds of public policy alone the action is illegal. Contracts for the payments of money in consideration for the procuring of marriage with a particular individual or with a class of persons or with any person who may be considered suitable are all illegal in either case. I submit that the evil consists in the introduction of money payment into that which should be free from any such taint.

"Of course I do not contend that the actual payment of a marriage dowry is illegal, but money cannot be properly demanded for having brought about an introduction between parties who eventually get married."

The only parallel he knew, said Mr. Keane, was in the case of Herimann versus Charlesworth, which came before the Master of the Rolls in 1905. It was then decided that money paid in a marriage brokerage contract could be recovered, and that while the marriage itself might or might not be a proper one, the mischief arose out of the fact that all such contracts were definitely against the public interest.

Mr. Keane then asked the justice for a ruling that the present case failed in law and that the evidence therefore need not be gone into.

"This case," he said, "is of a very delicate and private nature, and if it is gone into there will undoubtedly be bitterness and perhaps perjury."

Mr. Staunton then inquired if the Justice would give him permission to amend the civil bill so that he could sue for the £20 as commission pure and simple on the fortune of £200 which John Hannelly had received as a result of Patrick's exertions.

A promissory note dated March 12th, 1932, was then produced. It read as follows:

"I hereby agree to pay to Patrick Hannelly the sum of £20 if he gets £200 and £10 if he gets only £150.—(Signed)—John Hannelly."

Mr. Staunton—The law is designed to prevent the restraint of marriage to any one individual. In this case no particular lady was specified. In fact, any woman with the necessary amount of money would have suited equally well.

The Justice—It seems to be pretty clear that you are closed out in law.

Mr. Staunton—Well, we gave him the full worth of his money. (Laughter.)

The Justice—Possibly he got a good bargain. I'm sure he did.

Mr. Keane—He is living happily with his wife.

CO. WATERFORD FARMER'S FATAL FALL FROM CAR.

Mr. Martin Quinlan, Curragheen, Rathgormack, Co. Waterford, died on Thursday week, following a fracture of the skull sustained when he fell from his car on the way home from Clonea on the previous night.

Deceased was found lying on the roadside and the horse and cart were found about 60 yards further on. He was attended by Drs. Halpin and Murphy. He never regained consciousness and the doctors in attendance entertained no hope of his recovery from the outset. Deceased was one of the best-known and most popular farmers in the parish of Rathgormack. His wife died about three years ago. Two young children survive him. A very large and representative cortege accompanied the remains to Rathgormack Church on Friday week.

Wife: Although my husband is an old Army man, he does not embroider his language at all!

REDMONDS V. ST. ANNE'S.

The above senior strings met at Killeagh, on Sunday and provided a decided attraction. The meeting was arranged by the Gaels of Killeagh and a fine silver trophy together with a set of medals was presented by them for the occasion. Each year since 1923, the local Gaels presented a cup to be played for and have always provided a clash between teams of outstanding ability and in so doing have kept the hurling code well to the forefront in what has always earned the title of "Gaelic stronghold."

The meeting of the two city teams provided a first-class exhibition to a fine gathering and right through the spectators gave vent to enthusiasm. St. Anne's were much the brighter team, but up to the end their opponents fought every inch stubbornly. Scores were level at the interval, and up to the last five minutes the issue was in doubt, but Redmonds made a splendid rally and shot a few majors in quick succession, and emerged winners of a well-fought and thoroughly sporting contest. Mr. P. Barry, Carrigtwohill H.C., had charge of the game, and performed his duties most efficiently.

Details—St. Anne's won the toss and played with a strong wind in their favour, sharp exchanges marking the opening stages. St. Anne's initiated the first attack, but Seymours cleared and sent to Keefe who sent in a fast shot which just missed the post. Following the delivery, Herlihy and Hegarty fought for possession and the latter put the Redmonds on the offensive, but a free eased the situation. A well-directed shot by Geaney saw St. Anne's send over. St. Anne's goalie effected a fine save shortly afterwards but the ball was returned and sent over. Both defences withstood respective onslaughts. O'Leary showing up well for St. Anne's. Lengthy driving ensued and following a quick invasion Lyall opened the scoring for St. Anne's. Shortly afterwards Redmonds took the lead with a smashing goal per Gould. St. Anne's goalie saved some stiff shots and a fierce tussle took place in the goalmouth, the ball going dead. Madden and O'Leary effected some timely saves at the other end, but Geaney, who was playing a great game, shot a point from a long way out. Murphy cleared for St. Anne's and the goalie saved again at the expense of a "70", which Keefe sent all the way for a point. Caulfield forced a "70" for St. Anne's and E. Geaney sent all the way for a goal. Finn notched a point for the Reds, making the scores level. The interval arrived with the score:—

REDMONDS—1 goal 2 points. ST. ANNE'S—1 goal 2 points.

Following the resumption, St. Anne's recorded an over. Murphy and O'Leary shone in the St. Anne's back line. Finn sent in a fine centre which resulted in the Reds, obtaining the lead with a major. Immediately afterwards Hegarty placed another goal for Redmonds. Caulfield made a valiant attempt to score at the other end but just sent wide. Playing with determination St. Anne's took the offensive and were rewarded with a point. Still retaining the offensive St. Anne's shot wide. A free against the Redmonds was taken by E. Geaney, who again shot a fine goal and immediately afterwards when Kenneally added another, making the scores level excitement grew high. Fierce clashing took place and though hard knocks were given and taken play was clean and consisted in fine spirit. Keefe, who was temporarily down, got possession and gave the Redmonds the lead with a point. O'Sullivan in goal made several fine clearances, but Kenneally beat him with a fine shot. Redmonds made the issue safe by smashing 2 goals through in as many minutes, and full time arrived with the score:—

REDMONDS—6 goals 4 points. ST. ANNE'S—3 goals 3 points.

At the conclusion, Mr. Eamonn Fleming, Vice-Chairman, Cork Co. Board, presented the cup to Morgan Madden, captain of the winning team. He congratulated both victors and losers on their sterling play and on the sporting manner in which they contested every inch. Their performance was a credit. He thanked both teams for coming, he paid special tribute to Morgan Madden, who had distinguished himself in many other games in Cork, in Munster, and in fighting for All-Ireland honours.

Mr. Mahony on behalf of the Gaels of Killeagh, endorsed Mr. Fleming's remarks.

Mr. Scully, Vice-President of the Redmonds H.C., suitably returned thanks on behalf of his Club.

Mr. Morgan Madden, in accepting the cup spoke of the redoubtable Durgorney hurlers who hailed from East Cork. He remembered reading of their wonderful prowess and rewards and if the Gaels of East Cork would remember their great deeds and strive to emulate them, there would be little fear of the National code in East Cork. His club would only always be too glad to be of service to the Killeagh Gaels in any direction for the fostering of the game.

Redmonds were represented by:—M. Madden (capt); Riordan, Seymours, F. O'Leary, M. Mullally, J. Barry, D. O'Keefe, M. Coughlan, D. Hegarty, J. Long, J. McCarthy, T. Kenneally, M. Finn, C. Gould.

St. Anne's—E. Geaney, (capt); P. O'Sullivan, D. O'Leary, T. O'Sullivan, M. Mulcahy, T. Murphy, T. Kelleher, L. Regan, J. Herlihy, W. Lyons, J. Lyall, R. Barrett, J. Mahony, A. Caulfield, J. Geaney.
