Charges For Hall.
Messrs. E. Maher, John Lynch, (senr.) and D. Dempsey, appeared before the meeting representing the Dungarvan Farmers Dance Committee; Dungarvan Show Committee, and the Co. Waterford Branch of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders Society, respectively.

Mr. Maher said the object of the deputation is to bring before the Council the matter of a reduction in the charges for the Hall for the Farmers Dance, on November 9th. The Dance Committee have decided to give any surplus they will have over to the Show Committee. The Secretary in applying for the Hall, explained about the enormous charges for the Hall. I admit some of it is not going to the Council, such as the rent for Casey's Store and the Library Room, but the Committee consider that £6 is excessive, as owing to the tax now on dances, and the economic depressions, they find it very hard to dispose of the tickets and they hope that the Council can see their way to make a reduction in the charge.

Mr. Lynch said the Dance Committee had very kindly decided to give any surplus money left after the dance to the Show Committee, which as the members might be aware, had a very bad year this year, owing to getting a very bad day, they went down about £90, which did away with a small credit balance they had on hands. However, thanks to the generosity of our creditors and prize winners, we considerably reduced our loss, and now the Dance Committee very sportingly decided to come to our aid.

Mr. Dempsey said he represented the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Society, which is a very important Society. At a meeting of the Society in Cork, they were able to get the Congress fixed for Dungarvan. Mr. Nicholas Fitzgerald, Bunnahon, is Vice-President of the Society and in that way they were able to do much to secure the Congress for Dungarvan. The Congress will be attended by representatives from seven or eight counties, as well as by Professors from England, etc. They were some years trying to get this meeting for Dungarvan before they succeeded, and it should prove a real benefit and a great advertisement for the town, as you will have seven or eight hundred people in the town that day.

Mr. Maher referred to the recurring annual charge on Dance Clubs for installation of electric light and thought it was a pity to have that cost on clubs year after year. His Committee also consider the charge of 10/- for the day preceding the dance and 10/- for the day after the dance excessive. He also reminded the Council that his Committee recently contributed with others towards improvements in the Hall.

Regarding the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders Society Dance, Mr. Dempsey, replying to the Chairman, said that the Society at present intended holding their meeting in the Cinema and the Dance in the Hall.

Chairman—I agree with Mr. Dempsey's remark that the Congress will be a big one, and will be a benefit to the town. The Council will now consider the matter and the Clerk will let the deputation know the result in the morning.

The deputation then withdrew after thanking the Council.

Mr. Moloney—Regarding the recurring charge for electric lighting said he was seeking the local agent of the E.S.B., to-day, but did not find him, his idea was to find out what permanent lighting fixtures would cost.

Mr. Keane—Let the B.S., see the agent and get a quotation.

B.S., in reply to Mr. Keane, said that if it cost £4 10s. to put in a temporary fixture for the night, it might cost three times that for permanent fixtures.

Chairman—Undoubtedly, the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders Society is a big thing and most towns were very anxious to get it.

Mr. O'Donnell—There is great fighting to get that.

Mr. Hackett—There is great credit due to Mr. Dempsey for getting it for Dungarvan. He would propose that they get the Hall for £4 owing to the economic conditions prevailing.

Mr. McCarthy—It was always my opinion that £5 for a night's dance is an excessive charge.

Mr. Keane—Would the Council favour a general revision of the rates for the Hall, owing to the general depression.

Mr. O'Donnell—Hearing and knowing the circumstances with regard to the Show, I know there was a loss this year and only for the generosity of prize winners and others in foregoing 25 per cent. of their prize money, etc., the Show would be badly hit. This is only one year and seeing that both dance clubs are coming to the relief of the Show Committee, he would propose that they get the Hall at half-price this not to be taken as a precedent.

Chairman—All the members are stressing the economic depression, but they should remember that they only get £6 for the Hall. He thought if they decided to forego the two 10/- charged and maybe help with the light it would meet the case.

Mr. Moloney—That is my opinion also Mr. Chairman.

Mr. Dee—I thought that all local dance clubs were open to concession? Chairman—No. There was a special all-round rate fixed.

Mr. O'Donnell—If that is the case we can do nothing except to revise the charges.

Mr. Keane—We are all in favour of treating them in the fairest possible manner.

The Chairman suggested handing in notice of motion to have the charges revised.

Mr. McCarthy—Yes, we are all in favour of it, but it must be done in the proper way.

The B.S., was then instructed to get an estimate of the cost of putting up permanent lighting fittings and Mr. Keane handed in notice of motion to discuss what reduction in the charge they would make.

Water Supply.
Mrs. Mary Walsh, wrote, asking for permission to take a water supply to her cottage at Skachrine.

Mr. Moloney—Is the supply all right Water Inspector?

Mr. Walsh (Water Inspector)—It is very poor at times.

Permission was granted.

Applications For Hall.
Three applicants applied for the use of the Hall on Friday night, 21st inst, viz., Abbeyside Fianna Fail Club, for a dance per D. Foley, Hon. Sec. Messrs. A. R. Farrell and J. A. Cartwright, on behalf of the two Badminton Clubs also applied.

Mr. Foley said he would wait until the following week and make things easy.

Mr. Moloney—That is good enough. Chairman—What we did at the last meeting was to leave the matter in the hands of the Clerk to arrange between the Badminton Clubs, and we will make the same order to-night.

Glendine Water.
The Caretaker of the Glendine Water Works reported that there was 12 feet of water in the storage tank, and the 3 filters were working. Approved.

Fire Insurance.
Three quotations were read from Insurance Companies in respect of the Council's houses at Sarsfield Street, and Mitchel Street, viz.,—Irish National—£5 5s.; McDonagh and Boland, Dublin—8d. per cent. for a period of 5 years 6d. per cent. Northern Assurance Co., £5 5s.

Mr. Keane—I thought we agreed to confine our business to Irish Companies.

Mr. Hackett—I suggested that before.

Mr. Foley—An Irish Company should get it.

Mr. Power—They are giving employment at home and should be supported.

Mr. Hackett—I propose that the Irish National be accepted subject to sanction.

Mr. Moloney suggested asking the Irish National to give a quotation for 5 years.

Mr. McCarthy said being an agent of the Irish National, he did not like to say anything, but it is easy for a company to quote low rates when they have not many agents in the country. The Irish National have over 4,000 agents employed in the country.

It was decided to write to the Irish National for a 5 year quotation.

Applications For Hall.
Two applications were read for the use of the Hall on the 26th inst., viz.,—Rev. Fr. Ciantar, of the Salesian Order, for an entertainment and the Co. Libraries Committee for a Lecture.

Mr. Moloney—In support of the application for Fr. Ciantar, said the Order was doing a lot for the boys of the town and for that reason we should grant his application. The Libraries Committee can have any other night they like.

The Council unanimously granted the use of the Hall to Fr. Ciantar.

Valuation.
A letter from T. Clancy and Son, Main Street, asking the Council to draw the attention of the Valuation Officer to their yard at Bath Street, was referred to the Clerk.

Painting Morsby Memorial.
Mr. McCarthy said it was eight months ago now that an order was made to paint the above slab at the Lookout. It was only fair that these men's names should be kept in memory, as they did a very heroic act in going out to the rescue.

It was decided to ask the B.S., to have the slab painted next day.

Tenants Incomes.
A letter was read from the Ministry asking to be furnished with the particulars of the present rents charged together with the incomes of the tenants of the houses at Congress Villa.

Clerk—How are we to find out their incomes?

Mr. Moloney—Another Income-Tax job (laughter).
The letter was referred to the Clerk to reply to the Ministry.

St. Garvan's Terrace Rents.
Mr. O'Donnell asked what was being done regarding the application of the tenants of the above Terrace for a reduction of rent.

Clerk—We are in communication with the Bank on the matter.

Mr. O'Donnell—Do you agree, that if the Bank agree to an extension of the loan, it will reduce the rents.

Clerk—Yes, it will.

Cunnigar Bridge.
Mr. McCarthy referred to the fact that our Government are negotiating with the British Government on the question of money due by the British Government to this country. He then referred to the money due to Dungarvan for the Cunnigar Bridge Scheme. He believed if there was a bridge to the Cunnigar it would make a city of Dungarvan, and he thought the time was opportune to write to the Department or whoever was responsible and put forward their claim to this money.

Mr. Hackett—I remember the time, there was something like £9,000 set aside for Dungarvan.

Mr. Griffin—Were not you Mr. Chairman armed with all particulars in connection with this matter and did you not bring it before the Dail.

Chairman—There is a long history attached to that. I brought the matter before the Dail, and as far as I could learn, the financial agreement put the responsibility, if any, on the Irish Government.

Mr. Foley—There is going to be another financial settlement now.

Mr. Moloney—Let us hope so.

Mr. McCarthy—It will only cost a pennyworth of notepaper and a 2d stamp.

The Clerk was directed to send on all available information to the Minister for Finance.

Dump At Bridge.
Mr. Moloney said he asked several times about the dump at the bridge by the side of Crotty's garage, and it was still there. He said the Council treated Mr. Crotty very fairly and he should do the same to the Council.

The Clerk was directed to write to Mr. Crotty to have the dump removed.

Acknowledgments.
The following letter was read from Mr. P. J. Moloney, Duckspond, and on the proposition of Mr. O'Donnell, ordered to be inserted in the minutes:

Dear William—Will you please thank the Chairman and other members of your Council for their kind expression of sympathy on the death of my poor brother Tom, R.I.P. He is a very great loss to us all. I also wish to thank you personally and the other officials who kindly associated themselves with the resolution of condolence.

Mrs. Ida Wylie, Clonsilla House, Co. Dublin, wrote:—Will you please convey my sincere thanks to the Council for their kind message of condolence on the death of my brother. I am also deeply grateful for your personal sympathy.

A letter was also read from Mr. and Mrs. Kiersey, St. Andrew's Terrace, Waterford, thanking the Council for the kind expression of sympathy in their recent bereavement.

Sympathy.
Sympathy was voted to the relatives of the following who died during the week: The late Mr. Wm. Mulcahy, and the late Thos. Terry, Church St.

CUNNIGAR £9,000.
The Urban Council at its last meeting, queried the £9,000 for the Cunnigar Bridge project. That sum—the balance of the Railway Guarantee Fund—was earmarked in 1914 by the British Government to erect a Bridge to the Cunnigar, but was tied up until after the war and at the Treaty settlement it evidently was lost sight of. That money was subscribed by the ratepayers of Dungarvan area, and is their's whoever holds it. All documents in relation to it are available. Whatever Government got it in 1921 should hand it over and have the Cunnigar project carried out. Let us hope it will be followed up and finally dealt with.

DUNGARVAN BRASS AND REED BAND.

A few vacancies exist at present for young men anxious to join the above Band and receive a sound musical education. None but those who will give a guarantee of remaining in the Band and of whom the Committee will approve, will be taken; Any person desirous of joining, will please send in his name before October 27th, as the vacancies must be filled by that date.

By Order of the Band Committee.

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE.

Mr. T. D. Connolly, Chairman, presided at the meeting of the above on Wednesday. The others present were—Messrs. J. O'Donovan, T. Synott, T. Caulfield, Wm. Stack, T. Tracey, J. Cosgrave, M. F. Walsh, J. O'Halloran, T. Dunne, J. Butler.

Outbreak Of Fever.
Owing to the outbreak of fever in Waterford, the Waterford Committee ordered Mr. Jephson, Engineer, to report on the advisability of repairing the sheds adjacent to the Fever Hospital for the accommodation of the convalescent patients owing to overcrowding at the Hospital.

The report stated that the sheds are in a state of ruin. The site on which the sheds were erected have been given by the Board to the Infirmary Board.

Mr. Cosgrave—The citizens of Waterford object to their children being sent 45 miles to Lismore and something should be done to put up a shed that will relieve the overcrowding.

Chairman—At the meeting of the committee at which this matter was discussed, the report stated there were 25 cases sent to Lismore.

Secretary—There are others since. There are at present 79 cases in Waterford and 45 in Lismore.

Mr. Walsh—Are they still coming? Secretary—Yes.

Mr. Walsh suggested utilising the buildings at Kilmachomas for the convalescent patients.

Mr. Caulfield—Are there any deaths? Secretary—No.

Mr. Caulfield—What's the good of getting the "wind-up" we have Lismore and Kilmachomas to send the convalescent patients to.

Mr. Donovan said at a meeting of the Medical Board, Dr. Kennedy said it was suicidal to pack a lot of children into an ambulance and send them to Lismore. He said a house should be got in the city.

Secretary—Generally speaking with the exception of an odd case, all the patients sent to Lismore are up and convalescent.

Mr. Cosgrave—If the epidemic continues until Lismore is full, where will you send the patients.

Mr. O'Halloran—You have the Kilmachomas building. With God's help we may not have an outbreak like this during our lives again.

Secretary—I don't see what grievance the Waterford people have. Even if the children were in Waterford they could not get to see them.

Mr. Cosgrave—I will move a resolution that a shed be erected to receive the convalescent cases.

Mr. Walsh—I will move an amendment, that portion of the Kilmachomas Workhouse be renovated for the patients.

Mr. Cosgrave—And then you will require an extra staff. You have the staff already in Waterford.

Mr. O'Donnell—What does the Medical Officer say?

Secretary—He makes no report so far.

Mr. O'Donnell—I think we should have the M.O.'s report before we do anything.

Mr. Walsh proposed an amendment, that the Board are satisfied with the present arrangement arising out of the epidemic, as the patients sent to Lismore are convalescent and are being discharged day by day.

Mr. Dunne—The main point is—are the patients being discharged as quick as they are coming in.

Mr. Walsh—You will be spending money on property that you have already handed over to another body.

Mr. O'Donnell—I suggest we leave the matter in the hands of Doctor Shipsey and if he considers the shed is necessary, to have the shed repaired.

Mr. Walsh—If the Board agree to Mr. O'Donnell's suggestion, I will withdraw my amendment.

Mr. Cosgrave—If I get a guarantee from the Board that no more children will be packed away to Lismore, I will also withdraw my proposition.

Secretary—You could not get that guarantee, even though the shed was erected.

Mr. Walsh's amendment was then put and lost by six votes to five.

Mr. O'Donnell—I will propose an amendment that it be left in the doctor's hands and the Engineer be authorised to repair the shed if the doctor considers it necessary.

Mr. O'Donovan—I know of one case where a child was only three hours in the Hospital when it was sent on to Lismore, that child was not convalescent. He would not object if only convalescent cases were sent to Lismore.

Mr. O'Donnell's amendment was then put and passed on a show of hands by 6 votes to four.

Painting.
Mr. Jephson, reported the probable cost of painting two wards of the County Hospital was £15.

The Engineer was directed to have the work carried out. A like order was made in the case of the Nurses Home, where repairs costing £15 were recommended.

Superintendent's Report.

Superintendent Assistance Officer Phelan, reported a man named Patk. Dwyer, Dungarvan, a sailor who deserted his wife. He was at present on a boat going to South America, and would be back by the end of November.

The Board decided to take legal proceedings against him.

Home Assistance.
Mr. Phelan reported the amount of Home Assistance paid out during the month was £2,361 8s. 7d. for the preceding month the amount was £2,283 13s. 4d. and for the corresponding period last year £1,971 0s. 2d.

Milk Distribution Scheme.
The following tenders were submitted to the Board by Mr. Phelan in connection with the milk distribution scheme for the children of parents in receipt of Home Assistance.

Cappoquin—quantity required 4 to 6 gallons per day—Patk. Collender, 1/- per gallon. A Walsh 1/- per gallon; Declan Foley, 1/- per gallon; R. Bell (Cappoquin Estates Co.) 1/- per gallon; Wm. O'Donnell 1/4 per gallon.

Mr. Walsh asked as there was four of them on the same figure if it would be worth dividing it between the four.

The Board held it would not as the amount required was so small and put the names in a hat. Mr. Declan Foley's name been drawn, he was appointed contractor.

Lismore—quantity required 4 to 3 gallons per day—Jas. Duke, 11d. per gallon; Miss Jacob 11d. per gallon; Mrs. O'Brien, 1/- per gallon; Mrs. M. O'Farrell, 1/4 per gallon. Miss Jacob's tender was accepted.

Tramore—quantity required 5 to 6 gallons. Mr. Halley's tender was accepted.

Mr. Phelan suggested starting the scheme on October 26th.

Secretary—In that connection the scheme is not yet sanctioned. The Department wrote stating that the Medical Officers should obtain periodical reports from the Veterinary staff on the condition of the byres, etc., of the milk suppliers. They also requested to be furnished with a full statement of the proposed systems of vouching and recommended a more economical arrangement in the city.

The Board decided to comply with the request of the Department and to point out to them that the present arrangement for the city was the best they could make.

Increase Of Salary.
An application for an increase of salary from Margaret M. Walsh, Nurse Instructress, was ordered to be put on the agenda for next meeting.

Compensation.
Mr. Ryan wrote, asking £50 as compensation for the running of a sewer from the Co. Home to the seashore through his land.

Mr. Caulfield—What would be fair to give him, would £5 be too much?

Mr. Dunne—£10.

Mr. Butler referred to the necessity of getting the work started soon as apart from the fact of the nuisance existing at the Co. Home, you have men waiting for work and the Urban Council are held up with another sewer.

Mr. Cosgrave—Why don't you get someone to interview this man who want to get £50 compensation.

Mr. Caulfield suggested that the Secretary, Messrs. Butler and Stack, interview Mr. Ryan and make the best bargain they can with him.

Ardmore Dispensary Residence.
Mr. Spreadborough, Engineer, reported the probable cost of painting and colouring rooms in the above was £10.

Mr. Butler—Do we do internal painting?

Secretary—No.

Mr. Butler—I thought not.

Secretary—This is a case where the rooms were plastered.

The matter was referred to the Engineer to get done.

Financial Statement.
The monthly financial statement showed a credit balance of £5,633.

Increase Granted.
The application for an increase of £2 from Miss Rogers, caretaker of the Passage East Dispensary was next considered.

The Secretary said the existing salary was £4 a year.

Mr. O'Halloran said it was the wrong time to be looking for increases.

Mr. Butler—I agree entirely with Mr. O'Halloran that it is the wrong time, but it is a very different matter when a poor woman is looking for £2 a year, or about 9d. a week on the whole county.

The £2 was granted.

Attendants Outfits.
Arising out of the minutes of the Co. Home Committee at which an application was read from the attendants of the male idiot wards at the County Home, Dungarvan, for clothing.

Mr. Butler, speaking in support of the application, referred to the duties of the attendants which at times necessitated changes of clothing during the day.

The Board unanimously decided to grant each attendant two pairs of overalls.

The Savings' Movement.

INTERESTING PRESENTATION AT TALLOW.

ADDRESSES BY VERY REV. CANON PRENDERGAST, P.P., AND MR. NOLAN.

A very interesting presentation took place on Tuesday last in the Tallow Girls National School, when Savings Certificates were presented to three pupils of these schools for having won the prizes in the Irish essay competition, promoted by the Saorstát Eireann Savings Movement. There was very keen competition for these prizes from all the schools in the County, and it is a striking tribute to the efficiency of the pupils of Tallow Girls School and their capable teacher (Miss Delaney), that they won the three prizes. The successful pupils were—Bridget Scanlan, 1; Mairead Kelleher, 2; Lily Deane, 3.

Address By Canon Prendergast P.P.

In presenting the prizes to the successful pupils, Very Rev. Canon Prendergast, P.P., said it was a great honour that the three prizes for essays in Irish open to the Co. Waterford, should be won by the pupils of the Tallow Girls School. Great credit was due to Miss Delaney the very efficient principal of the school. That was not the only distinction won by the school he was happy to say. The Department of Education had seen fit to confer a very special prize honour on Miss Delaney in token of her efficiency. He thought the school was one of the best in the County, and in this age of competition when schools all over the country were broadcasting their results, he considered it only fitting that a word should be said in favour of the fine school they had in their midst.

Speaking of the Savings Movement, he thought it was one which should find a place in the programme of every school and he hoped the younger children on reaching the senior standard should not only participate in the movement, but enter for the competitions promoted by the Savings Committee from year to year and he felt sure they would do credit to themselves and their school, (hear, hear).

Mr. J. J. Nolan, Savings Officer, speaking in Irish said he desired on behalf of the Central Savings Committee to congratulate both the school and the pupils on the active interest they evinced in the recent competitions. The three prizes were awarded to the Tallow Girls National School principally because of the originality they displayed. In Essay Competitions of that kind a very high standard of economic knowledge was not expected. What was expected, however, was originality of ideas and clearness in presenting that idea. In the coming year the school would have the opportunity of entering for another competition, and he hoped that the essays from that school would be again present in the Irish language.

He thanked Canon Prendergast for his attendance at the presentation and for the genuine interest he displayed in the Savings Movement and everything connected with it, (hear, hear).

Miss Delaney, on behalf of the children thanked Canon Prendergast and Mr. Nolan, for their kind words of appreciation and for their attendance at the presentation.

O'GORMAN BROTHERS, CLONMEL.

In the High Courts, Dublin, Mr. Justice O'Byrne, delivering his decision on the application made to him on behalf of John Francis O'Gorman, of Clonmel, to set aside a judgment of the High Court obtained against him and O'Gorman Bros., Ltd., at the suit of Patrick Stokes and others, whereby the plaintiffs had obtained judgment against the company for £21,000 moneys paid by them as guarantors of the company to the Provincial Bank and judgment for £3,000 against John Francis O'Gorman as being his contribution as their co-guarantor.

Dairy Shorthorn Breeders'

COMING CONGRESS IN DUNGARVAN. THE HEIFER SCHEME. CENTRES FOR SALES.

This Annual Meeting of the County Waterford Branch of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders Society, was held on Saturday, in Dungarvan. There was a big attendance of members, and the meeting was most enthusiastic.

Mr. D. Dempsey, presided. There were also present—Messrs. P. J. Halliden, F. O'Connor, Live Stock Inspector, John Kiersey, T.D., Thos. Flynn, N. Connors, B. G. Ussher, J. J. Drohan, T. G. Flahavan, N. Power, P. Morrissey, M. McGrath, Lismore; P. Gough, M. Ryan, J. Kennedy, Sec.; C. Cogan, B. Agr. Sec.; D. O'Sullivan, C.T.L.; Rev. Bro. Gibson, T. Lynch, T. Smith, J. Lynch, J. Carroll, P. Dwan, R. Bell, Jas. Power, J. Butler, J. Murphy, T. Flynn, Touraneena; W. Connors, etc., etc.

Waterford Show & Sale.
The Annual Show and Sale of Bulls under the auspices of the Society, was fixed for Waterford, on Tuesday, 14th March, 1933, subject to the Department's approval.

Statement of Accounts.
The Secretary (Mr. Kennedy) submitted the statement of accounts of the Bull Show and Sale held in March, which showed a balance on hands of £61 4s. 10d.

Chairman—You have heard the statement of accounts read by our Secretary, what have you to say to it?
Mr. Coghlan—Would it cost much to have that statement typed and sent to the members?

Mr. Drohan—I propose that the consideration of the statement of accounts be adjourned until they are printed and circulated to the members, and Mr. T. Lynch, seconded.

The resolution was carried unanimously.

The Heifer Scheme.
Mr. O'Connors, Department's Live Stock Inspector, addressed the meeting on the new scheme for the purchase of heifers by loan, and said the intention was to select suitable heifers for dairy purposes and in order to make a success of the sales proposed to be held, members of their Association should give their whole-hearted co-operation and assistance in having all suitable animals put forward. There was no definite ruling as to the type of heifer to be selected beyond that they are of the shorthorn or Kerry type. By that you will see that while tattooed heifers may get preference at the sales, the ordinary commercial cattle are eligible for inspection as well.

Loans.
In connection with the granting of loans, the applicant must pay one-fifth of the purchase money down and the balance will be paid in three annual instalments on the 1st November of each year. In relation to that I would like you to understand that the chief object is not to stock derelict farms as some people think, but the fundamental principle is to retain the good class heifers and improve the cattle of the country. The loan scheme is not confined to any particular class of people. It is on the same principle as the Credit Corporation scheme of loans for any other purpose and these are not confined to any particular class. The only additional expenditure in connection with it is the stamp duty which is £5/3 up to £50 and 9/- from £50 to £100. £100 is the maximum loan to be granted to any individual.

So far as the scheme was concerned it was very necessary that all the requirements were carried out. All applications for loans should be made a reasonable time in advance so that all necessary preliminaries in connection with it could be carried out. No loans would be granted on the days of sales, but they would have to be arranged previously. As to the age of heifers to be sold at the proposed sales, there is a wide scope for selection. Heifers selected under the scheme will vary from weanlings to heifers carrying their second calf. That leaves a very wide field which is highly desirable in view of the fact that many people would be anxious to buy the younger heifers, while others would prefer heifers springing down. As to the type selected it would depend on the class of animals at the centre, but the outstanding feature will be for good suitable heifers for breeding purposes. As this matter is of the greatest urgency he would invite those present to ask any questions on which they needed information. The first of these sales would be held in Thurles on November 1st. As to the selection of the centres, it was highly advisable that at those decided upon sufficient facilities should be available for marking the cattle and also for the discharge of the clerical work. On the day of the sale one-fifth of the purchase money should be paid to the Department's staff on the same principle as the loans are given at the spring sales of Bulls. Hence they should provide the necessary facilities required for carrying out the scheme.

Mr. Kiersey—Will any loss that will ensue from this scheme for the sale of heifers fall on the particular county, or will it be a national loss spread over the 26 counties?
Mr. Halliden—Last Saturday in Cork, it was decided to hold a number of these sales and the Co. Committee of Agriculture appointed 15 centres to cover the whole county. These were submitted to the Department of Agriculture, but they cut the number down to seven and stated in their covering letter that the particular centres were primarily selected because they were the headquarters of the branches of the Dairy Shorthorn Society. The reason was because Shows and Sales were held year after year at those centres and carried out by the D.S.B. Society. Cow Testing superiors and others should encourage people to bring forward their heifers and also have sufficient buyers in attendance. An Auctioneer should be appointed for each centre and he will be held responsible for the arrangements in connection with the sale. As to the responsibility for the collection of the loan, that would be a matter for the Credit Corporation.

Mr. Ussher asked was it open to any person to buy heifers under this scheme and attend any sale he wished or would he have to attend at a particular centre and would the Auctioneer know the number of buyers who would attend? Would there be a printed catalogue so that the buyers may know how many animals would be available at a particular sale?

Mr. Halliden—We made suggestions in Cork to have the sales carried out on the same lines as at the Spring Shows, and a small nominal figure of 1/- per heifer would be required from each exhibitor to pay the expenses. It would be necessary to have a catalogue in the case of pedigree heifers, and they had asked the Department to allow them charge an entry fee of 1/- a head to cover expenses.

Mr. N. Connors—Can anyone buy at these sales?

Mr. Halliden—Yes; whether they make application for a loan or not, the animals will be sold to the highest bidder.

Mr. Ussher—Will the Auctioneer have any idea before hand as to how many persons granted loans will attend and can a man attend any sale he wishes?

Mr. Halliden—Yes. It will be the same as in the purchase of premium Bulls. You can buy at any sale you wish.

Mr. Kiersey—Will any loss to be sustained on this scheme fall on the particular county or will it be made a national charge?

Mr. O'Connor (Inspector)—I am afraid you have a wrong idea in regard to that as the loans are not intended to be granted to derelict farms or people not capable of making use of them. No one need be worried about the loans or the security for same as the Credit Corporation would take very good care of that matter. The applicants must have two sureties before any loan is granted and prior to the granting of the loans there will be a chattel mortgage on the sureties as well as on the applicants. So there was no danger of the county suffering the loss of it in the matter.
Mr. Flynn—Must the heifers be insured?

Mr. O'Connor—No.
Mr. Kiersey—As Chairman of the Co. Council, I want a guarantee that the ratepayers of the county will not suffer any loss by this scheme.

Mr. O'Connor—I am in a position to give you the guarantee you are seeking. I take it to be as reasonable to ask a guarantee as regards the Bull Sales, as they are carried out under the very same lines as this scheme and the ratepayers have sustained no loss up to the present in connection with them. And so far as we are concerned in the discharge of our duty we will see there is no loop-hole left and I don't anticipate it. The sales will be on the same lines as the Bull Sales and that being so, they will be absolutely water tight.

Mr. Flynn—It would be water tight if you could get the heifers insured as you do the bulls.

Mr. O'Connor—No application for a loan will be considered unless it is received a fortnight before the date of sale.

Chairman—You need not worry Mr. Kiersey, no loss will arise.

Mr. Kiersey—I hope not. These sales were not on all farms with the Bull Sales. If I go to the Waterford Bull Sale I pay cash down.

Mr. Halliden—You can pay cash down now if you like. You can buy a bull for cash or on loan and heifers can be bought in the same way.

Mr. O'Connor—Not only is this scheme intended to improve the dairy cows of the country but it is also intended to create a market for the heifers that are unsaleable at the moment.

Mr. Halliden—Every year at the Dairy Congresses we have been advocating to the Department to devise some scheme to keep the heifers at home. Of all the money spent on premium Bulls and Cow Testing Associations and the Live Stock Act, a great deal of it is lost through the heifers and this scheme is devised to stop that and we are advocating it a long time. For that reason we welcome it. It has no political significance.

Mr. Ussher asked would they have a guarantee that the heifers were maiden heifers?

Mr. O'Connor—That would be for the vendor to tell.

Mr. Ussher—Would an action lie against the vendor if a heifer was bought as a maiden heifer and proved to be in calf?

Mr. N. Connors—It would be worse if she was not in calf.

Mr. Flahavan—Does the man who buys a premium bull have to give a chattel mortgage?

Mr. O'Connor—No, as the loans for that purpose are from a different source. These present loans are obtainable from the Credit Corporation.

Mr. Halliden said that any scheme which meant the retention in the country of their best heifers was bound to improve the cattle of the country. They were asked to give their co-operation to carry out the scheme as far as possible. In Cork they decided that the Co. Committee of Agriculture and the Dairy Shorthorn Society would carry out the sales at the approved centres.

A good deal of the organisation would rest with the Cow Testing Associations. It would be well to have every facility given to the people in the matter of filling up applications for loans. For a great many of their heifers there was no sale and in some places they were being almost given away to go across the Channel at very low prices. These heifers were utilised in England and Scotland to form the nucleus of their dairy herds and if that went on for a few years their market for heifers would be taken away. It was up to everyone concerned to avail to the full of this scheme.

Mr. Flynn—We are having a special meeting of the Co. Committee of Agriculture to deal with this question today.

Mr. N. Connors—Would not it be better to select the centres for the sale here now?

Mr. Halliden—You can only suggest centres to the Co. Committee.

Mr. Kiersey said the natural centres for sales in the Co. Waterford were Waterford, Kilmacthomas; Dungarvan and Lismore.

Mr. O'Connor said in the application form the applicant had to answer a query stating the day on which the last annuities had been paid.

A member—That finishes it.

Mr. O'Connor—That query would give one the idea that unless the annuities were paid the applicant would not get a loan. That is not the case, as every application sent in will be considered on its merits. The fact of the annuities not being paid up to date will not debar an applicant from getting a loan.

Mr. Ussher asked whether the local Association would be responsible for the expenses of the sales?

Mr. O'Connor—No; it is for the Auctioneer.

Mr. Lynch—Would it be advisable to hold these heifer sales on fair days. Chairman—I don't think so.

Mr. Halliden said the Department would advertise the sales and the Auctioneer would be responsible for the expenses.

On the motion of Mr. Kiersey, seconded by Mr. Drohan, a resolution was unanimously passed supporting the Co. Committee of Agriculture in carrying out the scheme.

Beef And Dairy Shorthorns.

Mr. O'Connor said the segregation of beef and Dairy Shorthorns had been carried out in most countries except in Ireland, yet their store and dairy trade was superior to most countries due to their having combined beef and milk in their cattle. In England and Scotland they had either beef or milk, while in Ireland they were building up the dual purpose animals. In those countries where they had divided their cattle into beef and dairy they hadn't succeeded in getting the same results. In shorthorn herds you have direct lines of breeding and these are directly of the types that aim at dual purpose cattle for the reason that most of the crossing done for years in this country was done with beef bulls and the ordinary dairy cows. In connection with that a good deal lies with the Dairy Shorthorn Breeders and while it is necessary that due attention be paid to milk production the development of the store cattle side should not be lost sight of. Whether that store trade would continue or whether they went in for beef these things were fundamental to their breeding. The health of their cattle was something they should be proud of and that their cattle were free from most diseases depended on their herds which were more healthy than in any other country.

As to the breeding of cattle recent investigations had shown that when dairy heifers were mated in a beefy condition they were likely to turn out bad milkers. At Cambridge University a number of heifers were divided into two lots, one lot was mated in poor condition and the others were kept in strong condition. Both lots were slaughtered afterwards and it was found that the chief cause was the development of the gland in the udder. The heavy fleshy heifers turned out bad milkers as the gland in the udder responsible for the secretion of the milk could not develop. That was also their experience in this country. Heifers intended for the herd should be given the opportunity of developing the gland so necessary for the secretion of the milk.

As to the maintenance of bulls for sale he would say that at least 50 per cent of them have turned out badly because they were over done. Most people who rear bull calves begin to feed them a month or two before the sale and are surprised when they do not get premiums or prizes. Their aim was to have bulls in good form, but not fat. If bulls were presented at centres in good form and having the use of themselves it was far more important than to have them loaded with flesh. How were they to prepare bulls for that purpose from the time they were calves? Most people prefer to suckle their bull calves for the first three months. That is the handiest way of rearing them. When the calf reaches 5 or 6 months, there is no necessity to give him any kind of linseed cake. The less cake bull calves get the better they are, and the more economically they can be reared as well. His idea was to keep them as far as possible in normal condition and to maintain them as long as they could outside and only put them in if it were absolutely necessary. If calves were fairly well fed for 4 or 5 months they could then get a mixture in a clean trough. The amount of food to be given should not be big. It was big quantities of food at irregular times caused most harm. A small quantity three times a day would do and let them have as much room and exercise as possible. Cattle tied up would not do as well as those that had their freedom and the same applied to bull calves. They wanted all the freedom possible. The bull calves from registered cows should be kept for the stock bulls of the country and for heifers. Until they started the Dairy Shorthorn Association, they had very little pedigree behind their cows and when they had a pedigree behind them there was sure to be milk in the heifers they produced. As to the beef side of the shorthorn, it was necessary to remember that when dealing with beef they should ignore the milking side. Quite a number of the best type of beef bulls were producing excellent milking heifers which showed that the breed was not altogether responsible for the milk but the management has a lot to do with it.

Mr. Kiersey proposed a vote of thanks to Mr. O'Connors for his interesting address which was seconded by Mr. Coghlan, and passed unanimously.

Mr. O'Connors duly returned thanks.

Answering a member, Mr. O'Connor said it was a recognised fact that for certain purposes the bull from the registered cow was superior to the pure bred bull and the Co. Waterford farmers have seen to that as the number of half bred bulls in this county is far in excess of the pure bred. There was a time when he (speaker) was very much against the use of half bred bulls but now he was satisfied that for the production of good dairy heifers the use of the half bred bull had justified itself.

Mr. Ussher referred to the large number of bulls who went to the sales and selling at small prices went to the butcher for slaughter. These bulls were the pick of the country, and was not it a pity they could not be utilised for breeding purposes up and down the country. While that was happening every year, very many bulls by no means as good were licensed at local centres and used by farmers. He thought some remedy should be found for the use of those good bulls and not have them slaughtered.

Mr. O'Connor said a large number of the bulls shown at the Royal Dublin Society's Sales were disposed of to butchers.

Mr. Kiersey—And in Waterford also. Mr. O'Connor said Mr. Ussher's point had been impressed on the Department and on the Royal Dublin Society, and the Department asked the R.D.S. to pay the expenses of these bulls back to their destination. He understood the Railway Company were now taking them back free. He thought that when given the same facilities of transit as Premium Bulls, farmers should go to Dublin and buy them. These animals at £15 to £17 each in Dublin would be 50 per cent better value than the Bulls licensed at the rural centres and sold at £20 or £25 each.

Mr. N. Connors—Would these bulls come home free?

Mr. O'Connor—The R.D.S. were asked and they have agreed to do so.

Mr. Drohan said if these facilities were given in Dublin the same facilities should be given to Waterford Sale by the Railway Company.

On the motion of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Connors, a resolution was proposed asking the Department to get the Railway Company to carry back bulls from Waterford Sale free of cost to purchasers.

Subscriptions.

On the motion of the Chairman, it was proposed to grant £15 to the I.D.S.B.S.

Mr. Drohan—The price of everything is gone down. I propose £12. Mr. Lynch, seconded.

On the suggestion of Mr. Kiersey, it was agreed to give 12 guineas.

Annual Congress.

The Annual Congress of the Dairy Shorthorn Society, will be held in Dungarvan on Wednesday, January 4th 1933.

Mr. Halliden said the Annual Congress was held for a number of years in Mallow and then they decided it should go round. In 1927 it was in Waterford and now it was back in Dungarvan. At first it was proposed to hold it in Waterford, but owing to the representation of Mr. Thomas Flynn and others it was agreed to have it in Dungarvan as being very central. It would be necessary to provide a suitable hall, speakers and Lecturers and to arrange that leading citizens would open the Congress. In Waterford the Mayor received the visitors. In Thurles, Archbishop Harly, opened the Congress; in Dublin, ex-President Cosgrave, T.D., and the Lord Mayor attended and in Cork, they had the Lord Mayor and the Catholic and Protestant Bishops. He wondered if they could get as many here.

Chairman—You won't get as many. Mr. N. Connors—They may be as good, but they won't have so many titles.

Mr. Halliden hoped the Congress in Dungarvan would be a great success. They would also hold the Congress Dance in the Town Hall on the night of the 4th January.

Mr. Kiersey, T.D., said he was delighted the Congress was to be held in Dungarvan this year, and he was sure that this town would give the Congress as good a show as any other centre at which they had met.

As to the Congress Committee in charge, Mr. Flynn stated they had already a committee on the spot.

Mr. O'Sullivan—We have a Dance Committee, but not a Congress Committee.

Mr. Halliden—in addition to the Committee Mr. Flynn speaks about, you want the various Presidents and Supervisors of the Cow Testing Associations.

Mr. O'Sullivan—And in addition we want the enthusiasts round Dungarvan area.

Messrs. J. O'Dwyer, D. O'Sullivan,

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.)

Beausang v. O'Hanlon.
This was a Civil Bill by Dr. J. B. Beausang, against Jer. O'Hanlon, farmer, for £4 for medical attendance on a child named Dwane.

Mr. J. N. R. Maenamara, solr., for plaintiff, and Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., for defendant.

From the evidence given in the course of a very protracted hearing, it appeared that the boy, Patk. Dwane, was knocked down on the 8th June, by defendant's milk cart, driven by his son, who alleged that the child crossed the street and under the wheel of the cart. The plaintiff's case was that O'Hanlon called on him the following morning, told him to attend the child and that he would pay the fee.

For the defence it was stated that they hadn't instructed the doctor to attend the boy and that the latter's mother had brought him to the dispensary with a "white ticket."

The Justice said he thought that the doctor had been misled and that the defendant's hadn't given such instructions as would render them liable.

The case was dismissed.

Insurance Case.
The Irish Insurance Commissioners had a Civil Bill for £11 2s. 8d., against John Hyde, farmer, in respect of three employees.

Mr. D. Casey, State Solicitor, for plaintiffs and Mr. J. L. Keane, solr., for defendant.

The case having been let stand for consultation between the parties, Mr. Casey announced that a decree for £8 had been agreed to, and he applied for witness's expenses and costs.

Mr. Keane said it was a very hard case. The man had 100 acres, with only one cow.

The Justice granted a decree for £8, payable in instalments, but refused expenses in the circumstances.

Exemption Order.
Mr. Maenamara, applied on behalf of Mr. R. Power, for the usual exemption order for fair and market days.

There being no objection, the application was granted.

Licensing Case.
The adjourned case against Vincent Ahearne, vintner, for a breach of the Licensing Act, was taken up, Supt. Dennehy, prosecuting, and Mr. J. L. Keane, solr., defending.

One of the men charged with being on the premises was called and Mr. Keane said if the Court would like to examine him, he was at disposal.

The Justice—If you wish you can call him.

Mr. Keane—I will call him.

The Justice (to defendant)—You are summoned as a defendant, you knew the charge and you may give evidence or not, as you please.

Defendant—I will give evidence.

The defendant then said that on the Saturday night in question he was at the Strand Palace dance. He left for home about 1.30 a.m. On his way home at the Clockgate, he saw the two Guards. Passing along Tallow Street, he met the two other men charged with being on the premises. They went down the laneway at the back of Mr. Aherne's and remained talking awhile when Sgt. Lupton came on the scene. They were there about 10 or 15 minutes talking about the St. Leger before the Sgt. came. (Witness here corroborated the evidence previously given by the other defendants.) It wasn't true to say that he came out of Aherne's house that night, or that he smelt of drink. He hadn't a drink at all that day. It was false to say that he refused to come to Court the first day and give evidence, or that he said he wouldn't perjure himself for any publican. He wasn't in Aherne's since Christmas.

Witness was cross-examined at length by the Supt.

Mr. Keane—That is my case. If you think it is necessary for me, I would like to address the Court.

The Justice—I don't think any address would make any difference in this case.

Mr. Keane—If you are going to decide against me, I would be much aggrieved if you didn't permit me to address you.

The Justice—Very well.

Mr. Keane said while it was quite possible the police might have made a mistake, there could be no mistake on the part of the defendants and if they didn't succeed the Court must come to the conclusion that their story wasn't true. He submitted there was nothing to justify a decision of that kind. Regarding the noises heard by the Guard, they might have come from another house. If the Sgt. had gone in the yard door instead of running after one of the men, he would have found the back door locked, as had been stated by the publican. Had he done so all that trouble would have been saved. He submitted the Sgt.'s evidence wasn't convincing. The evidence given by the four men was against him and their evidence hadn't been shaken on any point.

The Justice said that Mr. Keane had done everything possible to induce

J. Kennedy, and C. Cogan, were appointed Secs. of the Congress Committee.

On the motion of Mr. Kiersey, Mr. Dempsey was elected Chairman of the Congress Committee.

On the motion of Mr. Kiersey, seconded by Mr. Ussher, a vote of thanks was passed to Mr. Halliden for all he had done for the Dairy Shorthorn Breeders.

Mr. Halliden, suitably replied.

him to take a favourable view of the case for the defence, but the evidence was too clear. He regretted having been called on to decide such a case at all. He was always inclined to take a lenient view of breaches of Licensing Regulations. The case wasn't at all of a serious type and he was, therefore, surprised that it was thought necessary to resort to perjury.

There was no possibility of mistake in the case. The Guard was knocking for seven minutes, during which he heard noises of men running to the back. The Sgt. saw those three men coming from the back gate of those premises. Where was the possibility of a mistake? He was forced to the conclusion that the story of the defence was false. The publican would be fined 20/-, to be recorded, as he couldn't regard the offence as trivial. The men found on the premises would be fined 10/- each.

Daniel Butler, of no fixed abode, was charged in custody with that at Killeagh, Glanworth, on the 10th inst, he was found in possession of one donkey cart wheel, believed to have been stolen.

Patk. O'Leary, of no fixed abode, was charged that (1) at Ballylong, Ballindangan, he did unlawfully break into an out office, the property of Wm. Roche, and steal therefrom one harness winkers, value £1 12s. 0d; (2) at the same time and place did steal a harness reins, the property of the said Wm. Roche, value 10/-; and (3) at Killeagh, Glanworth, was found in possession of one winkers and wheel believed to have been stolen.

Supt. Dennehy, prosecuted, said they would give formal evidence of arrest and ask for the remand of accused to next Fermoy District Court.

The Justice said he was disposed to give a remand in the case of Butler, but there was no legal charge in the case of O'Leary, who was said to be in possession of a wheel "believed to have been stolen."

Guard Coleman Martin, Glanworth, deposed he arrested the accused Patk. O'Leary, at Glanworth, on the 11th, October, and charged him with the offences set out. Having duly cautioned him he made the statement—"I had nothing to do with it, I can prove that I am not guilty. Witness was still pursuing inquiries into the case and asked for a remand to next Fermoy District Court, when from what had come to his knowledge he would be able to give evidence to connect accused with the offence.

O'Leary said he wasn't guilty. He got the reins from one of his own equals, but he didn't know who he was.

Refusing to the Court—Guard Martin said he found the two men together. They each had a van.

The Justice—Is there any complaint that the cart wheel is missing.

The Guard—Not so far.

Butler was discharged and O'Leary was remanded in custody to Fermoy Court.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., Chairman; Capt. P. Dunne, Messrs. D. Dennehy, D. J. Linehan, J. Whelan, T. Harrington, M. D. Broderick, T. Murphy, T. Beausang, E. Clancy, J. Kennedy, E. P. Lynch, Vice-Chairman; A. J. Fowkes.

Meat Inspection.
 The Co. M.O.H., submitted the usual monthly report of the local Vety Inspector, on the meat supply. The report was very good all round. The Clerk read a letter from the Veterinary Inspector, stating that his remarks at the recent meeting in the city were inaccurately reported and that he had forwarded a correction. Mr. Lynch said what he took exception to was the statement that they were cloaking his reports. Mr. Broderick said that the local victuallers always gave the Inspector every possible facility for the inspection of their meat. It was impossible even for the Inspector himself to know that a beast was unsound until it was slaughtered. If he pronounced it unsound it was at once condemned and destroyed. That concerned only the butcher, who had to suffer the loss. If there was any attempt to sell unsound meat he could understand the necessity of publicity, not otherwise. After a short discussion, the matter dropped.

Housing Sites.
 The following letter was read from the Irish Sailors and Soldiers Land Trust:—Dear Sir,—In connection with a visit recently paid to Youghal by Sir Geo. Franks and myself, I am now informed by the local branch of the British Legion that your Council have been good enough to decide that they will grant a free site to the Trust for building. The Greens Quay site which we inspected appears to be very suitable and the Trust will be glad if your Council will be kind enough to let us have this site. It is assumed that facilities for water supply and water-borne sewerage are available. I understand that a recently-formed Public Utility Society has also applied for a site, but it appears that the site at the Green's Quay will probably suffice for both schemes. I shall be glad if you will be so good as to confirm at your early convenience, as the Trust are very anxious to make a start with this scheme as soon as possible. It was decided to write to Mr. Macnamara, solr., for the Utility Society, that the Council would have to proceed with the allotment of sites without any further delay. A letter was read from Mr. Thomas O'Connor, Seaford, offering a site for workmen's dwelling for £65. A letter was read from Mr. Kenneally, refusing the Council's offer of £50 for his site at Windmill Lane. He would accept £80 free to pocket. Mr. Dennehy proposed, and Capt. Dunne seconded, that they accept Mr. Kenneally's amended offer. Mr. Lynch asked what about the other site offered. It was one of the finest sites in the town. Mr. Broderick suggested they instruct their Engineer to visit and report on both sites, and adjourn the matter meanwhile. This was agreed to. Capt. Dunne—We are holding up the scheme too long. The Chairman said there was no time lost. Many things had to be considered. More Ranges. It was decided to put a range in one of the Council's houses at Parkapika. The Clerk then read a joint application from the remaining tenants asking for ranges (laughter). Mr. Beausang suggested that they get a quotation from Germany for a cargo of ranges, (laughter). The Town Surveyor was instructed to inspect the ranges before taking any action.

German Coal.
 Mr. Linehan, drew attention to a report in the "Independent" of the Athlone Urban Council, regarding their experience of the use of German coal in the Gas Works. Even with the lower price, they were at a loss taking into consideration the gas and coke produced. Mr. Broderick asked had they any report yet from their Gas Manager? The Clerk—Not yet. The Chairman said they were only talking in the air until they got a report. Mr. Lynch—I don't agree with that letter. Mr. Linehan—It is not a letter; it is a report. Mr. Lynch—There are more experts in Ireland than those. The Chairman said it was premature to discuss the question at present.

Library Committee.
 On the proposition of Mr. Dennehy, seconded by Capt. Dunne, the Very Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P., was appointed on the Carnegie Free Library Committee, in room of his predecessor, the late Very Rev. Canon O'Donoghue. Mr. Broderick proposed, and Mr. Dennehy seconded, that they invite the co-operation of the Youghal and Killeagh Cow-Testing Associations in providing a clean supply of milk. Mr. Lynch proposed, and Mr. Beausang seconded, that they leave the matter as at present in the hands of their Inspector. On a poll being taken, the proposition was defeated by 7 to 6.

Lismore Assault Suit.
TEETH INJURED.

LIAR, IMPUDENT PUPPY AND BLACKGUARD.
 At the Lismore District Court, before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.
 Mr. John Noonan, Blackwater Vale Hotel, Lismore brought a civil action for £2 10s. against Richard Walsh, Main Street, Lismore, for assault and damage to his artificial teeth on the night of September 20th. Mr. O'Gorman, solr., for plaintiff, and Mr. Carroll, solr., for defendant. Mr. O'Gorman said this was an action for damage caused to the denture plate of Mr. Noonan's set of artificial teeth in the course of an assault on him by the defendant in the house of the latter's sister on the night of September 20th and when the Justice had heard the evidence he was sure he would agree that a most serious and unprovoked assault had been committed on the occasion. Plaintiff stated that he had been a personal friend of Miss Lucy Walsh (defendant's sister) for years and on this night he was in her shop as usual when the defendant came in and a conversation took place between them about the cost of building repairs in the locality. Plaintiff mentioned in the course of the conversation that a local contractor George O'Brien, had been paid £80 for carrying out certain repairs to a house at Ballygelane, and the defendant said he didn't believe a word he was saying. Plaintiff resented being called a liar, and said defendant was an impudent puppy and blackguard, and Walsh then struck him with his fist on the face while he was sitting in a chair, cutting his mouth and breaking one of his artificial teeth and denture plate.

Cross-examined by Mr. Carroll—He was quite normal on that night the same as at present. He denied having told Walsh that people had been shot in daylight near Lismore. He admitted that Miss Walsh had ordered him to leave the house when the trouble started between her brother and himself. Kathleen Whelan, examined by Mr. O'Gorman, said she was in Miss Walsh's shop on this night and saw Mr. Noonan sitting on a chair there. When Mr. Walsh came in she heard Mr. Noonan speaking about Surgeon Crowley's house at Ballygelane and saying how much money George O'Brien had got for carrying out repairs there. Walsh then said that he didn't believe a word he was saying, and Noonan then called him an impudent puppy and a blackguard. Walsh had gone into the kitchen at this time, but returned and struck Noonan, and Miss Walsh then came between them and asked Noonan to leave the house. Replying to the Justice, she said she saw blood on Noonan's face after he had been struck by Walsh. Witness was briefly cross-examined by Mr. Carroll.

Mr. Carroll said he understood that Mr. O'Gorman had summoned the defendant's sister as a witness, and was he afraid to call her now? Miss Lucy Walsh, was then examined by Mr. O'Gorman and said when her brother came into the shop on that night Noonan was there before him and said wasn't it a terrible thing to have shots fired at the tennis party at Crowley's on that day. She then detailed the further conversation which followed when her brother told Noonan he didn't believe a word he was saying. As she didn't wish to have any trouble between them she sent her brother into the kitchen and Noonan then said that he was an impudent puppy and a blackguard and that he would kick him in a certain place. Her brother then came out to the shop and struck Noonan one blow on the face and she then ordered Noonan out of the house. Mr. O'Gorman—Did you know that Mr. Noonan's tooth was broken at the time? Witness—Well, if his tooth was broken he wouldn't be able to remain and keep talking from 10.30 till 20 minutes to 12 (laughter). Mr. Carroll—And did he remain talking all that time? Witness—He did, sir, and used all kinds of language, and he's able to (renewed laughter). Replying further to Mr. Carroll she said she told Noonan at least 20 times to leave the shop, but he wouldn't go from half-past-ten until he looked at his watch at 20 minutes to 12, when he said it was time to be going. Richard Walsh, defendant, was examined by Mr. Carroll, and said on the night in question he had been across the street listening to the wireless at Mr. Daly's and when he came home about 10 o'clock John Noonan was sitting in his sister's shop and they had a short conversation at first about the wireless programme. Noonan then began to speak about certain things which had taken place at Ballygelane, and said it was a shame that people who spent money in the country like them should be compelled to leave the country. He also spoke about a local contractor, George O'Brien, having got a big sum for carrying out certain repairs there, and he told Noonan he didn't believe a word of what he was saying. He then went into the kitchen and heard Noonan calling him an impudent puppy and a blackguard and saying he would kick him, etc. As he continued using foul language he then came out and struck him on the cheek, and his sister ordered Noonan out of the house, but he refused to go. Cross-examined by Mr. O'Gorman—Was Mr. Noonan sitting on a chair when you struck him?—He was. Did he make any attempt to strike

National Farmers' and Ratepayers' League Constitution.

The official title of the League shall henceforth be the National Farmers' and Ratepayers' League. Membership of the League is open to all Irish citizens who accept the principle that the Irish Free State is a sovereign and independent nation and who are in favour of the League's objects. These objects are as follows:— (a) To promote the interests of agriculture and to give farmers the power that they ought to have in moulding Government policy, having regard to the paramount importance of their industry, and the numbers engaged in and dependent on it. (b) To restore and develop overseas markets while building up the home market by attracting capital into it and encouraging enterprise and honest work, and to improve marketing facilities. (c) To reduce public expenditure to a figure within our means. (d) To maintain the rights of individual liberty and individual ownership. (e) To get rid of the bitter memories of the civil war, and to promote good feeling between all classes. (f) To encourage a friendly attitude towards other countries, and obtain a fair and honourable settlement of the disputes at present affecting our export trade. (g) To abolish partition by abolishing the animosities which are the cause of partition. The League shall consist of: (a) A Central Executive in Dublin including a President, Vice-President, Honorary Secretary, and two Trustees, annually elected by General Convention, and a paid Director of Organisation appointed by the Standing Committee. Casual vacancies may be filled by co-option. (b) A Standing Committee of 26, one for each County, and elected by each County Association separately. The President of the Central Executive shall be Chairman of the Standing Committee. A Vice-Chairman shall be elected by the Standing Committee themselves from among their number. All members of the Central Executive shall be ex officio members of the Standing Committee. (c) 26 County Associations which may arrange their own organisation as suits them best in each case. General Conventions shall be held as often as called for by the Standing Committee, or in emergency, by the Central Executive, and shall be composed of 6 Delegates from each County Association. Until otherwise arranged, meetings of the Standing Committee shall be held once a month, but they may be summoned at any time by the Central Executive. The affiliation fee for each County Association on joining the League shall be a minimum of £10, but where £20 can be afforded, it is hoped that it will be paid. The annual subscription to the funds of the Central Executive shall be £20 for each County Association, payable before January 31st each year beginning 1933. Each County Association will have complete control of its own financial affairs and the Central Executive will not supervise or be responsible for them in any way. The Central Executive will circulate its own accounts to the County Associations at the end of each half-year. All the present officials of the League are provisional only, and an opportunity will be given of changing them if desired at the first annual election to be held not later than January, 1933. Further regulations may be provisionally made as required by the Standing Committee, but must be subsequently submitted for approval to a General Convention before becoming permanent. It shall be within the scope of the League's activities to put forward candidates for the Dail and Local Government Elections, but no candidate for the Dail shall be regarded as officially representing the League, unless his adoption has been approved not only by the County Association concerned, but also by the Standing Committee. In elections where no League candidate is going forward, the County Association may give advice to members as to their action in the election, where such advice has received the approval of the Standing Committee.

Recorder: You cannot "manslaughter" a person who dies more than a year and a day after the infliction of the injury. Question: Did you hit her? Woman: Oh, no. She is too much of an outsize in females for me to do that sort of thing. you?—He had his stick "at the ready," but I struck him one blow on the cheek before he could use it. Replying to further questions, he said he struck Noonan as a reprimand for the foul language he was using in presence of his sister and Miss Whelan. This closed the evidence and Mr. Carroll said that his client had admitted having struck one blow on account of the foul language which Mr. Noonan was using in the presence of two ladies, and he asked the Justice to say that if he was assaulted that night it was brought about and fully justified by his own conduct on the occasion. Mr. O'Gorman having briefly replied, the Justice said he was satisfied that an assault had been committed and damage done to the plaintiff and he would give a decree for £2 10s.

DUNGARVAN SHOW.

LATE MR. T. A. MOLONEY.

A special meeting of the Show Committee was held on Wednesday. Mr. A. Hunt, President, in the Chair. There were also present—Messrs. S. J. Power, D. Dempsey, J. J. Crotty, R. Bell, P. B. Sheridan, J. A. Lynch, N. Connors, P. A. Walsh, T. Lynch, N. Morrissey, and John Lynch, (Secy.)

The Chairman referred in feeling terms to the sad death of their esteemed colleague, Mr. T. A. Moloney, who had done so much for the Show since its start and deplored his early demise.

Mr. J. J. Crotty, proposed—"That we beg to place on record the expression of our deepest sympathy on the sad and untimely death of our esteemed colleague, Mr. Thomas A. Moloney, who had worked so zealously in the interests of the Show since its inception."

"That we tender to his bereaved widow, his brother—our esteemed Hon. Sec.—Mr. P. J. Moloney and the other members of his family our sincere condolence in the great loss they have sustained, and that this meeting be adjourned as a tribute to his memory."

Mr. S. J. Power, seconded.
Mr. Dempsey, associating himself with the resolution paid an eloquent tribute to the esteem in which the Moloney family are held and especially the deceased. His brother, Mr. P. J. Moloney, was one of the finest characters he ever met, and he was very sorry that the occasion had arisen for this resolution.

Chairman—We are all unanimous in that. We regret very much indeed the early death of Mr. Moloney. From the business point of view, you could not have relations with a more honourable firm than Messrs. Moloney's.

Mr. Connors—We are all deeply sorry for his loss.
The Secretary said he would like particularly to associate himself with that resolution. He regretted the occasion for it had arisen, and that it would be his sad duty to convey its terms to the family of deceased. He need not refer to the great friendship that existed between him and the Moloney family for the past 25 years and particularly with the late Mr. Tom Moloney, who was a thorough gentleman from every point of view—commercially or socially. He also paid tribute to his respected widow, who had acted as judge at their Show when they needed her.

The resolution was then put to the meeting and passed in silence.

Army Comrades

FIRST NATIONAL CONVENTION TO COMBAT PERILS CONFRONTING THE COUNTRY.

The first National Convention of the Army Comrades' Association and Volunteer Division was held at Dublin, Dr. T. J. O'Higgins, President, in the Chair.

Dr. T. J. O'Higgins, Chairman, said it was his very pleasant duty and peculiar honour to welcome each and every one of the Delegates to the Convention. There was not a county in the whole of the Free State that was not represented.

They came to the conclusion that if anything was to be done even for the primary object for which this Association was formed, if ex-army men were to get fair play in the race for employment they had to do something to bring the whole situation prominently before the people.

So they threw out the call to the youth and manhood to rally round the old soldiers, in the first place, to obtain the original objects of the Association—a fair hunt for the ex-army man; and in the second place to stand once again for real freedom for the plain people.

At Kilmallock, his followers again gave ample evidence of the necessity for an organisation such as this, and he (Dr. O'Higgins) was proud to say that the members of the A.C.A. from Cork and Limerick gave ample evidence of the value of their organisation.

He was glad to say that that appeal to the manhood of Ireland to band themselves against Communism, Bolshevism, and Blackguardism met with a grand response.

"We have no other aims in mind," said Dr. O'Higgins, "and if we had other aims in mind we would be men enough to come out and publish them to the world. Our objects are objects

HEIFER SCHEME.

CENTRES FOR SALES.

APPOINTMENT OF AUCTIONEERS

WHEAT SCHEME.

A special meeting of the Co. Committee of Agriculture, was held on Saturday evening, to consider the sale of Heifers scheme and the wheat growing scheme, etc. Mr. Thomas Flynn, V.C., presided. There were also present—Messrs. M. Curran, P. Morrissey, P. B. Sheridan, James Daly, Thomas Hart, P. R. Power, M. McGrath, D. Coghlan, P. Fitzgerald, J. Greene.

Heifer Scheme.

In connection with the scheme of loans for the purchase of heifers, the Secretary read a letter from the Department of Agriculture on the subject, asking the Committee to fix centres and appoint Auctioneers, etc. They also suggested that the Auctioneer's Commission be 2½ per cent.

Chairman—The first thing we have to do is to select centres for the sales. At their meeting that day, the Dairy Shorthorn Breeders Society suggested four centres for sales, viz.—Waterford; Kilmathomas; Dungarvan and Lismore or Cappoquin, as to Ballymacarby, Mr. Cogan, said there was a sale at Clonmel which would cover that area.

Mr. Daly said the suggestion of the Shorthorn Breeders Association was perfect and correct from the geographical point of view.

Mr. Halliden (who was in attendance) said in Cork they selected 15 centres, but only 7 were approved by the Department. As to the terms of the loans for purchases, viz. one-fifth paid down and the balance in three annual instalments payable as from the 1st November, 1933. Mr. McGrath said the term was very short.

Mr. Daly said the County would have no responsibility in the matter as the Credit Corporation when granting the loan would have to get a chattel mortgage and also two sureties.

Mr. Power thought the heifers should be insured and that such a scheme of insurance was absolutely necessary.

Secretary—A voluntary scheme of insurance would be very good. Any man who wished could insure.

Mr. Daly—Why not our Secretary ask some Broker of a tariff Co., and let those who buy heifers insure. You would get the same terms for a County Scheme as for the whole country.

Secretary—It is a matter that should be put up to the Department to have a Voluntary Scheme of insurance at a low rate.

As to the centres for sale of Heifers, Waterford, Kilmathomas, Dungarvan and Lismore, were approved of by the Committee, subject to the sanction of the Department.

Mr. Greene—The Department should be guided by the considered opinion of the Farmers of the Free State and the Co. Committees of Agriculture.

Secretary—The Scheme will be subject to revision after 1st December. The date of the sales were provisionally fixed as follows—Dungarvan, 16th November; Kilmathomas, 20th November; Waterford 30th November; Lismore, 14th December.

Mr. Daly said by selecting Fair Days they would give people a chance of selling them at the fair also.

Mr. Sheridan said such sales if held on Fair Days would not be a success. Chairman—That is my opinion also.

Mr. Curran—Any man with a few heifers for sale will not go to the fair with them.

Mr. Sheridan—He will. Answering Mr. Hart, the Secretary said the Auctioneer would have a list of the animals for sale.

Mr. Halliden said in Cork they thought that fair days would be bad for the sales and would lead to confusion.

Mr. Daly said the day before the fair would be better.

Mr. Hart—The Heifers should be inspected the day previously.

Mr. Curran asked about the vendors knowing whether the heifers were in calf or not.

Mr. Greene—There are as good judges of heifers at this meeting as you could find, and it is fair that their opinions should be overridden by the Department. Why not postpone it for a time.

Mr. Curran—There may be additional sales between now and April next. Mr. Hart agreed.

As to the dates selected, Mr. Sheridan said Fair Days were bad days.

The four dates selected were then approved of.

Appointment of Auctioneers.

Mr. Daly—How do you propose to appoint Auctioneers?

Chairman—You have an Auctioneer in each centre.

Mr. Curran—Give two centres to each Auctioneer.

Chairman—I think each local man should get his own area.

Mr. Daly—I propose that Mr. Hayes be appointed for Dungarvan. Mr. Hart seconded.

Mr. Curran—And also for Lismore. Mr. Daly—Is Mr. Walsh eligible, he being a member of the Co. Council?

Secretary—He is. No fees in the matter are payable out of the Poor Rate.

Mr. Fitzgerald proposed, that Mr. Flahavan (Flahavan, Hart and Co.) be appointed for Waterford.

Chairman—What about Mr. Palmer? Mr. Curran—He has the Bull Sale and every thing. I propose that Mr. Flahavan be appointed for Waterford and Kilmathomas.

Mr. Greene seconded.

Mr. Fitzgerald—I support that.

Mr. Hart proposed, that Mr. Walsh be appointed for Lismore. Mr. Morrissey, seconded.

The Secretary said he had no objection in the world to what they did, but in the Department's Offices in Dublin, they held that local men had a certain clientele which outside men would not have.

Mr. Curran—Mr. Palmer was only imported into Waterford.

Mr. Greene—I wouldn't be in favour of Mr. Palmer at all.

Mr. Power—Mr. Flahavan has an office in Waterford as well as in Kilmathomas.

Mr. Flahavan was unanimously appointed Auctioneer for the sales at Waterford and Kilmathomas; Mr. Hayes for Dungarvan and Mr. M. F. Walsh, for Lismore.

It was also requested that the Auctioneers appointed publish a catalogue and that an entry fee of 1/- per exhibit be charged.

Insurance. On the motion of Mr. Power, the following resolution was adopted:—"That in the opinion of this Co. Committee of Agriculture, the Department of Agriculture in the interests of the purchasers should formulate a voluntary National Scheme of insurance at a low rate to cover animals.

Wheat Growing. The Secretary read a communication from the Department re the Wheat Scheme which set out that all growers would be registered as well as all millers. The crop when harvested would be sold to the local millers in the ordinary way and the average price paid by the millers for wheat of "millable quality" would be made out by the Government, who would then pay to the growers the difference between the average price and the fixed price which would be 23/6 per barrel of 20 stone up to December 1933 and 25/- per barrel for grain sold after the 1st January, 1934.

Mr. Cogan said they had a Conference in Dublin last week, and the wheat scheme was explained in detail. It was up to the farmer selling his wheat to get the best possible price for it from the miller. When the average price per barrel for the 26 counties was worked out—if that average price was 15/- per barrel the difference between that figure and the standard price fixed 23/6 per barrel, viz., 8/6 would be paid by the Government to the growers. Thus if one farmer got 20/- per barrel for his wheat, he would get in all 28/6 per barrel, while another farmer who only got 12/- for his crop would with the 8/6 have only 20/6 per barrel.

Mr. Daly—The wheat must be of milling quality so that if the miller decides it is not up to milling quality what redress has the grower?

Mr. Cogan—So far the Government has not defined what milling quality is. I take it to be ordinary commercial wheat, properly harvested, clean and with no weeds in it.

Mr. Hart—And if you get a bad season and the miller will not buy your wheat and then Mr. Daly or some other person buys it for 8/- or 9/- a barrel, will the farmer get the difference? In the war times I bought a big quantity of wheat, which was spoiled, at 8/- or 10/- a barrel. That was at the time there was no Indian meal in the place and I gave some of it to Mr. N. Connors for feeding purposes.

Chairman—You will only get the subsidy for corn of millable quality.

Mr. McGrath—In your opinion, Mr. Cogan, if a man grew wheat and kept it for himself, will he get the subsidy?

Mr. Cogan—Every grower growing wheat for sale must be registered and must send in a special form showing the total area he is growing for sale and he must sell it to a registered buyer.

In answer to a member who asked about the case of a man who could not buy seed wheat, Mr. Cogan said where a man was unable to pay for his seed, no arrangements had, so far as he knew been made in connection with that matter. The price of seed wheat to Co-Operative Societies, dealers, etc., was 27/6 per barrel and to farmers direct was 31/6 per barrel.

Mr. Hart asked were there many farmers in the County ready to put down the wheat in the next few weeks? Mr. Cogan said they were. Very many farmers were getting ready for it.

Mr. Cogan asked that the Committee grant a small sum of money as a grant for the purchase of seed wheat to be used as seed next year.

Chairman—If we agree to that, we must fix a minimum as we may have too many applicants.

Mr. Sheridan said numbers of farmers had come to him as regards wheat growing. He did not believe so many would grow wheat. That Committee had been criticised for its previous action on the matter, but every farmer who wishes to grow wheat was entitled to do so, and if not fit for milling they can use it themselves.

Chairman—We are not preventing any people from growing wheat. We only gave our experience here.

Mr. Sheridan—It has been widely criticised up and down the country.

Mr. Hart—We were not against any person growing wheat.

Mr. Morrissey—We want our cattle trade as well. There is plenty room for both.

Mr. Daly—You are going ahead with the wheat growing scheme and we have nothing to add to the merits or demerits of it.

As to the amount necessary for pedigree seed wheat to be available for seed next year, Mr. Cogan suggested £30 so that they would have 20 or 30 acres of good seed.

After further discussion the Committee allocated £30 for the requirements of Mr. Cogan in the matter.

Late Mr. T. A. Moloney.

Mr. Curran moved—"That we, the Co. Committee of Agriculture, beg to tender to Mrs. Moloney, Helvick House, our sincere sympathy on the death of her esteemed husband and also on the recent death of her brother." Continuing, he said he knew the late Mr. Moloney very well and deeply regretted his passing away. He was a great loss to the poor of Dungarvan and Ring, who would miss him very much. Men of his class were very scarce.

Mr. Daly—it is with great grief I second that vote of sympathy. For years Mr. Tom Moloney, was one of my closest personal friends. He had a charming disposition and was a most genial friend. What was more he was one of the most charitable young men I was ever associated with. His charity was unbounded and whenever he found a deserving case it was ever a pleasure to him to be of assistance. He was the very soul of honour.

Chairman—We are all very sorry for his death, which came as a great shock to everyone. His esteemed wife was for some years a respected Officer of this Committee, and we deeply sympathise with her in her loss.

Mr. O'Dwyer, Secretary, on behalf of the officials, associated himself in feeling terms with the resolution which was passed in silence.

WINTER AILMENTS OF DOGS.

THE DISTEMPER PERIL.

By "PHILOKON."

THE putting back of the clock seems to bring us appreciably nearer to the season in which all dogs need a little extra care. Each division of the year has its peculiar troubles. In the hot weather, eczema and other skin complaints are more prevalent; winter brings chills, bronchitis, and rheumatism, and usually distemper, the most serious of all is commoner then, and far more dangerous.

If a few simple precautions are taken however, there is no reason why dogs should not go through the winter in normal health. I do not like outdoor kennels except for the very hardiest, and they will be more comfortable with accommodation in a shed or out-house, where they can be protected from draughts. An extra allowance of straw bedding will help to keep them warmer. Dogs indoors may also contract chills unless their sleeping box is away from draughts. None but the most delicate of the toy breeds need to be coddled, as they can adapt themselves to the cold, and it is wiser never to allow them to lie close to the fire. When they do this they get overheated in time, and then seek a cooler place.

The rations may be increased a little now, to compensate for the loss of body heat, and cod liver oil biscuits are useful, given several times a week. They can also do with extra exercise, so long as they are dried after getting wet. Never allow them to remain wet. They may be hardy enough to avoid colds, but in time they will become victims of rheumatism, which is as painful to them as it is to human beings. Muscles or joints may become affected; the sufferers walk stiffly, and show evidences of pain on attempting to rise after they have been lying down. A course of rheumatism tablets will bring relief, and the parts may be rubbed with a good embrocation or liniment.

In cases of bronchitis, characterised by difficult breathing and a cough, the patients should be kept warm and may receive expectorants, such as five to twenty drops of ipecacuanha wine, or thirty to sixty drops of spirits of mildererus in a little water, the dose depending on the size of the patient. For ordinary colds give cough pills, and half a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful of cod-liver oil in the food. As a rule cods soon improve if the dog remains indoors for a few days.

It is easy enough to teach a dog to shake himself when he gets wet. Take hold of the loose skin of his neck, shake it and say "shake." He can then be wiped with a big sponge, and dried with wash-leather or towel. If he is muddy underneath, cleanse with a wet sponge or brush before drying.

People often write to the Tail-Waggers Club saying their dogs have a "slight touch of distemper." Cases of distemper are occasionally mild, but unless dogs are put into a warm place coated with flannel, denied exercise, and fed a number of times a day on light strengthening invalid foods, they will soon become worse, and the attack may have a fatal ending. This is a contagious disease, caught from contact with those that have it, or it may be conveyed in the clothing. One of its peculiarities is that a few days after contracting it, the dog may appear to be better, and his temperature will fall. The improvement is only temporary, however, and he soon goes back. Remember that the normal temperature of a dog taken in the lower bowel is 101.4 degrees.

CORK BEATS WATERFORD.

Cork and Waterford met on Sunday at Dungarvan, in beautiful weather. The Field was perfect and was a tribute to the great work being done to it by Mr. M. Fraher.

The meeting of Cork and Waterford was favoured with ideal weather, and a large-sided gathering watched the game with the closest attention. Cork journeyed to the venue by bus.

The pitch was in splendid order. Cork played with a strong wind and sun, aiding their efforts, and turned over with a 3-3 to 0-1. Waterford's best efforts were evidenced in the second half, in which Cork's backs were given a "hot" time. Waterford had the larger share of the game, and their compilation was better than that of their rivals, but on the general run of the play the superiority lay with Cork, whose backs played an outstanding game, in which Jim O'Regan was the star. The final score was—Cork—3-4; Waterford—1-3.

Cork closed in after a sharp exchange, and getting a free, the ball was shot wide. Mulcahy sent Waterford up in the next passage, but O'Keefe returned, and Dullea supported well. Waterford had the throw in from the wing. It was checked, and, Cork moving on, Sullivan passed to McKenna, who landed the initial score—a goal. Waterford's backs were hard pressed in the next challenge, but Roche and Gaffney saved. A free to Cork went wide. Waterford broke away, but O'Connor and Grainger held them. Waterford covered ground and a menacing situation for Cork was saved by Lynch. O'Connor having cleared, Waterford returned, and Newton was tested to hold up his net in fine fashion. Cork getting to the other end, there was a nice display, in which O'Connor found the Waterford net with a rasping shot, and the captain of the Cork side (O'Sullivan) followed up with a further goal. Pressing again, Cork lost one or two chances, but made up for it in the next offensive, McCarthy clearing the cross-bar for a neat point. Whelan brought Waterford up, but Cotter returned smartly, and the challenge wound up in an over at the Cork end. A free to Waterford was stopped by Browne, but Waterford continued the pressure to an over. Cork took the offensive, for Redmond to save his net impressively. Cork once more pressed with success, Donald McCarthy getting through for a minor, and this was followed up with a like register. After much hard trying Power (Waterford) had a point up, after which the short whistle went.—Score—

CORK—3 goals 4 points.

WATERFORD—1 goal 3 points.

The sun had gone down in this half, but the strong wind prevailed, with added intensity. Waterford pressed, for Cronin to clear, and after a tough exchange by O'Connor, Cork were in possession but nothing attended the movement. Waterford had a free-in, but the good chance was left by Power. They came again, but the Cork backs were too good. After a stiff encounter in centre field Waterford finished command, and Hunt put the finishing touch to the movement by pulling off a goal. A free to Waterford severely tested the Cork backs, but O'Regan came to the rescue with a clearance, and Grainger sent back. A free to Waterford having been frustrated by Newton and O'Regan. Cork got a fruitless free. Waterford were now giving the Cork back division plenty to do, before an opening was made by Cork for McCarthy to run up a point. A free to Waterford having gone wide, Lynch brought up for Cork, who conceded ground, and Waterford shot wide. A filly to Waterford went out after a hard tussle, but renewing the attack, they had a point (Moriarty). O'Regan was a tower of strength to the Cork backs. Following a lost chance at Waterford's net, the latter entered at the Cork lines for a point (Hunt), and the closing stages, though favourable to Cork, were unproductive, and the full whistle went with the score standing:—

CORK—3 goals 4 points.

WATERFORD—1 goal 3 points.

The teams were:—Cork—M. Newton (goal); D. O'Keefe, C. Cronin, J. Lynch, J. Dullea, M. O'Connor, T. Cotter, W. Grainger, D. McCarthy, T. Brown, W. Lynch, M. Brown, D. O'Sullivan (capt); J. O'Regan, J. McKenna.

Waterford—Redmond, Sullivan, P. Byrne, P. Gaffney, M. Whelan, Roche, O'Shea, T. Cronan, R. Mulcahy, P. Gough, J. Hunt, R. Troy, B. Power, M. Noonan, J. Moriarty.

Referee—Mr. P. O'Donnell, Dungarvan.

Preceding the above, a challenge match was played between Abbeyside Rovers, Abbeyside, and Dungarvan junior hurling teams. Abbeyside proved superior at every stage of the game and ran out easy winners on the score of 7 goals to 1 goal 4 point. Dungarvan, who feided below full strength, will meet the winners of the Eastern Division in the near future for the final of the County, and will want to improve on Sunday's display if they hope to bring the honours Westwards.

If the winners can produce the same team for next year's Championship, they will undoubtedly be concerned in the final.

The Abbeyside Rovers were best served by the Burke and Cowman brothers, Cashman and Duggan, while for Dungarvan Goode, Fitzgerald, Keohan, and Dwyer played well.

Lismore District Court.

EVADING ENTERTAINMENT TAX. MOTOR AND CYCLE COLLIDE.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.)
At the suit of the Attorney-General a travelling entertainer, named William Walsh, who trades in the name of "Billie Walsh," was prosecuted for having failed to comply with the Entertainment Tax regulations on the occasion of a Picture Show given by him in Lismore, on the night of June, 21st 1932.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, conducted the prosecution, and Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, appeared for defendant.

Mr. Ryan said that on the night of June 21st, the defendant gave an entertainment of Talking Pictures in the New Hall, Lismore, which was attended by Guard Mason, Lismore, and a friend.

The Guard purchased two admission tickets for 1/6 each, which should have borne a 4d. Revenue Stamp and which should have been separately torn up and half of each handed back to him and his friend, but instead of this being done, only one ticket was torn up and cancelled and the two halves of the one ticket handed back, and on examination it was found that the ticket had only a 2d. stamp on it, instead of a 4d. stamp as required for a 1/6 ticket.

Guard Mason, stated that on the night in question Talking Pictures were shown in the New Hall, Lismore, by "Billie Walsh" which he attended, accompanied by a friend. He bought two tickets for 1/6 each at the door and as he went up the Hall he saw a man who took the tickets from him, but as the man made no effort to tear or cancel the tickets witness held out his hand, when he got back two half tickets which he found to be portions of one ticket and which contained only a 2d. stamp, while there should be a 4d. stamp on every 1/6 ticket.

Cross-examined by Mr. Farrell, he said he saw only the one man checking the tickets that night, but he saw half of a 1/6 ticket handed back to another Guard which contained a 4d. stamp.

Henry Walsh, brother of defendant, in reply to Mr. Farrell, (stated that he was issuing the tickets at the door and he tore up all the 9d. tickets as they were issued and gave half of each back to each person who purchased one. There was another man further up the hall whose duty it was to check the 1/6 tickets and tear them up, but this man, Jimmy Reid, had since left the Show.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ryan, he said he did not remember Guard Mason coming into the Hall on that night, but he admitted that the two portions of a ticket (now produced) were part of a 9d. ticket which must have been issued to the Guard in mistake.

Mr. Ryan—But even so don't you see that this 9d. ticket contained only a 2d. stamp when it should have been a 3d. stamp for a 9d. ticket.

The Justice, having examined the portions of the ticket produced, said he noticed that the price of the ticket was not shown on the face of it, and there was nothing to show whether it was a 9d. or a 1/6 ticket. He considered that the price of each ticket should be clearly shown on the face of it in all such cases.

Defendant explained that he had to use the ordinary roll tickets on this occasion as there was some delay in getting his other tickets back from England.

Mr. Ryan (jocosely)—Don't you know that that was another offence getting your tickets printed in England instead of in Ireland (laughter).

Mr. Walsh said he was getting all his printing work done in Ireland now.

Mr. Farrell, asked the Justice to take a lenient view of the case, as whatever had happened on this occasion was clearly due to a mistake, and Mr. Walsh and his brother had been put to considerable expense in having to travel specially from Dunmanway on that day in order to meet the case. He also commented on the long period which had been allowed to elapse before the proceedings were brought which rendered it very difficult for Mr. Walsh or his brother to remember an incident which happened last June.

Mr. Ryan replied that they had some difficulty in tracing the defendant, who travelled from town to town, and he was in no way responsible for the delay.

The Justice in commenting on the long delay in taking proceedings said that in all cases of this kind proceedings should be taken on an earlier date, which would be more satisfactory to all concerned. He then imposed the statutory fine of £50, mitigated to one-fourth (£12 10s. 0d.) and said if a memorial were prepared for the Revenue Commissioners praying for a further reduction of the fine he would support it.

Sequel To Motor And Cycle Collision.

John Whelan, Fisherman, Dromore, Villierstown, brought an action for £10 against Wm. J. Baldwin, Kilmacarrige, Lismore, for personal injuries and damage caused to his bicycle by reason of the defendant's motor car colliding with him on the road between Dromore and Clashmore on May 16th, 1932.

Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., appeared for plaintiff, and Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., defended.

Plaintiff's case was that on the day in question he was cycling from Dromore to Clashmore about 3 o'clock in the afternoon, and was only about 2 feet from the grass margin on his own side of the road. When passing Margan's house he saw defendant's motor car coming against him in its wrong side of the road and a collision occurred as a result of which he sustained a broken nose and a fractured ankle, while his bicycle was damaged to such an extent that it cost £2 8s. to repair it.

In cross-examination by Mr. O'Gorman, plaintiff denied that he was free-wheeling down the hill at the time or that he had heard the horn of the motor car blown as he approached. He admitted, however, that he had gone fishing that same night even though he had a broken nose and fractured ankle.

Replying to the Justice, he said he had to go to bone-setter to have his ankle put right, and he had received a bill for a guinea from Dr. White, Capouquin, for attending to his nose.

The Justice—Had any operation to be carried out on your nose?—No, sir.

The Justice—Well, I must say that your nose looks all right now without any operation.

The defence was a complete denial of negligence on the defendant's part, and evidence was given by Wm. Baldwin and Timothy Geary, Fishermen, Dromore, who was in the latter's car, that the motor was coming up a steep hill at the time in low gear and was at its proper side of the road when plaintiff was seen free-wheeling down the hill on his wrong side and when he attempted to cross over to the proper side he dashed into the mud-guard on the right hand side of the motor.

Evidence was also given that the horn had been frequently sounded before the car came around the bend of the road, and after the accident Geary said to Whelan "Johnnie, why didn't you hear the horn."

It was also stated that Mr. Baldwin offered to drive the injured man to a doctor after the accident, but he refused to go, as he said he should go home and tell his people first.

Evidence of measurements and a sketch of the scene of the accident having been handed in, the Justice said that the plaintiff had not disclosed the onus of proof that the defendant was responsible for the accident, and the case was accordingly dismissed.

A Tallow Ejectment Case.

In the adjourned case at the suit of Dr. Eaton Waters, Conna Weir, Tallow, against John Barry, West Street, Tallow, for possession of a house held by defendant at 4/6 per week, Mr. Anthony Carroll, solr., Fermoy, for the plaintiff, said this case was adjourned the last day on the application of Mr. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, who then appeared for defendant, for the purpose of showing that defendant was entitled to a reduction in his rent.

Mr. Hodnett, however, had written to him in the meantime stating that he had now withdrawn from the case so that showed that 4/6 was the proper rent and he now asked for a decree for possession.

Evidence was given by Mr. Conway, Rent Collector, Tallow, showing that defendant owed £28 5s. 9d. rent, including rates which the landlord had to pay, and the Justice granted an order for possession.

Defendant asked to have a stay put on the decree.

The Justice said he had been hearing these cases ad nauseum since last February and he could put no further stay on the ejectment unless the defendant was prepared to pay £1 per week off the arrears and the full rent of 4/6 per week.

Illegal Fishing.

The Lismore Estates Co., summoned two men named Thos. Hickey, and Laurence O'Hara, for illegally fishing on the river Blackwater near Glencairn, such portion of the river having been leased to Mr. Burroughs for the past two years.

Mr. Anthony Carroll, solr., Fermoy, appeared for complainants and the defendants were not professionally represented.

Patk. Dooley, water bailiff, gave evidence of finding the two defendants fishing in the preserved waters on July 27th, remarking to them—"Trespassing as usual."

The defendant, Hickey, stated that he had permission from the Duke of Devonshire to fish there for years and he had no knowledge that the fishing rights had been leased to Mr. Burroughs at the time.

He created laughter by saying—"A crane would do more damage there in one day than I could do in fifty years."

Having given an undertaking that he would not fish there again, the case against Hickey was then withdrawn, and O'Hara was fined 10/- and ordered to pay 10/- costs.

O'Hara (to the Justice)—I won't pay it, sir.

The Justice—Very well.

Larceny Of Timber.

The Lismore Estates Co., summoned a young lad named Michael O'Mahony, Coolydoody, Tallow, for the larceny of 12 young larch trees, value 1/- each, from complainant's wood at Coolydoody.

John Keating, Woodranger, having proved the case, Mr. E. E. Hey, Sec., to the Estates Co., said on receiving a complaint from the last witness he accompanied him to the wood and saw where a number of growing young larch trees had been taken, and on later visiting the defendants house he found 12 larch trees there which corresponded with those missing from the wood and which were value for 1/- each.

The defendant, and a young girl named Kate Dalton swore that they took only some dead trees, or "wind-falls," the evening they went to the wood and denied that they took any young larch trees.

Further evidence having been heard, the Justice said it seemed hard that this young lad should have been brought into the case as defendant, in-

IRELAND'S OLDEST WOMAN DEAD.

The Hon. Katherine Plunket, last surviving daughter of the second Baron Plunket, died at Ballymascanlon House, Dundalk, within a few weeks of her 112th birthday.

Miss Plunket was born in Kilsaran Rectory, Co. Louth, on November 22, 1820. Her father was then rector, but later became Protestant Bishop of Tuam. Notwithstanding her great age her mental faculties were maintained to the end.

For ten years she had been confined to her room, but from her window she directed the cultivation of her garden. She was passionately fond of flowers, and each year was a successful competitor at the Dundalk Show. This year she won out the Plunket Cup, which she had herself presented. She then presented the Show Committee with a silver bowl to replace the Cup.

Until physical weakness compelled her to remain in her bedroom she drove to the little church at Ballymascanlon in a carriage drawn by four white horses.

Her last visit to the church was 12 years ago, when she was present at the unveiling of a stained glass window which she had presented to the church. Miss Plunket had no fads about food and always enjoyed a healthy appetite. On her birthday she always had a helping of roast turkey. In her young days she was a great traveller and saw most countries in the world.

When Walter Scott came to Ireland she was introduced to him, and until the time of her death she could describe incidents which occurred a hundred years ago.

The late Miss Plunket was a granddaughter of the first baron, who was Lord Chancellor of Ireland, 1830-34, and 1835-41. She had seen six holders of the title, and had lived in the reigns of five English sovereigns.

Solicitor: What do you recollect? Man: Nothing. My head was knocked off.

Licensee witness: These men are not much better than teetotalers.

stead of his father in whose place the trees had been found.

He also referred to the evidence of the young girl that only "windfalls" had been taken from the wood, and said this was a puzzling feature of the case.

However, on the evidence for complainants he should consider the case proved, and he imposed a fine of 1/- on the defendant and ordered him to pay 12/- the value of the timber taken.

MEDICAL FACTS.

1. The human pulse had a rather wide range, but the general average is as follows:—At birth—140; at 2 years—100; at from 16-19 years—80; in manhood—75; old age—60 beats a minute. But this last is rather dubious.

11. It has long been known that posture has a considerable effect on the number of beats of the heart and experiments of a very interesting nature have been made by a Dr. Guyrothers, with a view to determining the exact number of beats in the relative positions of standing, sitting and lying. It seems that for males, the beats per minute are—standing 81; sitting 71; lying 66; females—standing 91; sitting 84; lying 80. Thus between these averages there is a difference for males of about 10 beats in standing and sitting and 15 between standing and lying. The female variation is not so great.

The explanation of this difference is that it is caused by muscular efforts required to support the body in the different positions.

11. Some years ago an experiment was made in France on human endurance. A Spaniard, aged 43, underwent it. An oven (cylindrical) constructed in the shape of a dome was heated for four hours by a very powerful fire. The Spaniard, at 8.10 o'clock dressed in flannel descended into the oven, where he remained seated on a footstool during 14 minutes, exposed to a heat from 46° to 50° of a metallic thermometer, whose gradation is not more than 50°. He sang while a fowl was roasted by his side. At coming out of the oven, it was found that his pulse beat 134 per minute, while at going in it was only 72 per minute. The oven again reheated, he went in at 8.45 o'clock, seated himself, ate the fowl and drank a bottle of wine to the good health of the spectators. Coming out his pulse beat 175 and the heat was 276 Fahrenheit. The third experiment took place on a plank with lighted candles by his side, and the mouth of the oven closed this time. He was nearly 5 minutes and then at the request of the spectators, he was taken out. Anxious and suffocating vapour of tallow issued forth and the candles were melted down. His pulse now was 200 beats. He threw himself immediately into a cold bath, and in two or three minutes, he was well and sound. This proves the height to which human endurance can go.—"Yo Yo."

TALKING ABOUT CYCLING.

We read occasionally of somebody who has travelled from Land's End to John O'Groats on a particular make of bicycle, and as this is not written to advertise any particular bicycle, we will refrain from registering the name of the machine upon which a Comeragh Valley man has covered 14 miles a day for 12 years without any sort of mishap or replacements, except covers and tubes. Better than 61,000 miles—sez you!

A "BOTTLED" ITEM!

A Kilmac-side gentleman and his friend were returning from the greyhound racing at Clonmel late on a recent evening in a Baby Austin, when, in the vicinity of Kilsheelan, the petrol supply petered out and the car came to a standstill. The stranded pair were directed by a couple of cyclists to a neighbouring house, where a lady might possibly be able to help them. She proved a veritable good Samaritan. A difficulty arose, however, as to how best to transfer petrol from the tank of the lady's car to that of the stranded Austin. "I have it," cried the lady. "I have a fairly large-sized bottle of petrol which I keep for household cleaning purposes. There should be sufficient in it to take you home." The bottle was produced, and as its contents were being poured into the tank of the little Austin, the lady very wittily observed: "This is not the first baby that has been fed out of a bottle."

POPULAR YOUNG PRIESTS FIRST APPOINTMENT.

Within the week, Rev. Michael Flynn, C.C., son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Flynn, Killerguile, Kilmathomas, left his old home to take up his first Curacy in the important parish of Irlan, Manchester. Fr. Flynn received his early education at Mount Melleray and completed his studies at St. John's College, Waterford. He was ordained in the Cathedral, Waterford, last June. His troops and legions of friends on all sides whole-heartedly wish the very best of health and happiness to Fr. Flynn in the clime of his appointment. By the way, his Reverence is an enthusiastic admirer and supporter of all things Gaelic, and while at home he particularly interested himself in the welfare of the Clonea Hurling Club, whose recent tourney tie with Millvale Rovers was refereed right "rulefully" and well by him.

A FEATHERED VISITOR.

A falcon captured in an exhausted condition near his residence at Riverside Terrace, Kilmathomas, by Mr. Jeremiah Collins (postman), has a red-coloured ring attached to one of its legs and a blue-coloured ring attached to the other. There are no identification marks on the rings. One side of the bird's head is very much swollen and the eye thereon is closed—evidently the bird almost met its match in a fierce fight recently. Mr. Collins is of opinion the bird is a "breeder," it is feeding splendidly and will live "to fight another day." The owner can have it returned on communicating with its present possessor.

BY THE WAY.

Quite recently Cross-Channel newspapers which feature pictorial photographs were making something of a fuss about a Londoner who was on such intimate terms with the pigeons of the great metropolis that, as was depicted, they sat on his shoulders and in turn fed from his mouth. The Londoner long ago had his counterpart in Comeragh Valley, according to authentic information to hand, as one of Kilrossanty's nice-mannered goosons has been doing the same for a long time. So far, no newspaper photographer has visited the Tay-vale, where the tameness of the pigeons that congregate thereabout can equal the ability of birds of the order Columbae to be seen anywhere.

LIBRARY LURE.

As well as handuffed to the ghost of Denny O'Dowd's great-grandfather as to be without our Public Libraries. Because books rank one among the first half-dozen primary pleasures of life, and it would be nothing short of a calamity if those of us so far "undoughed" by the golden goddess of Sweepstake luck could not draw our supply from the poor man's reservoir. The County Waterford Public Library Committee's distributing depot at the Courthouse, Kilmathomas, is never without a fine range of refreshing, wholesome reading matter to select from, and the stocks are removed and replaced at regular intervals by the competent County Librarian, Mr. Fergus Murphy. The local hon. Librarian, Mr. P. Cullinan, is always most anxious to please all patrons, and he right readily and willingly facilitates his ticket-holders in the procuring of any particular work they may hunger after. It is all a delightful hobby to friend Pat. And, mind you, there is an art in picking 'em out at the library.

BRIEFLETS.

A branch of the labour union has been established at Kilmathomas. The October devotions are being splendidly attended by the faithful of these parts. The new Parochial House being built at Scrahan, Kilmathomas, is nearly completed. A handsome spacious structure, it is positioned in one of the most picturesque panoramas in the Province. Very Rev. Father Fitzgerald, Adm., Newtown, hopes to be in occupation before Christmas.

Wheat Scheme, 1932.

It is the intention of the Government to obtain legislative sanction at the earliest possible date, for proposals to encourage wheat growing in the country. A market will be ensured by restricting the importation of flour and wheat and each miller will be required to purchase each year, home-grown wheat to represent a definite percentage of the total quantity of wheat milled by him during the year. Growers of wheat who desire to take advantage of the scheme must submit particulars of their acreage under wheat to the Department of Agriculture before the 1st of May 1933, and must sell their wheat to registered buyers. The sale of wheat in the first instance will be effected by free bargaining between the seller and buyer, and it is up to every grower to produce the best possible sample he can, harvest it properly, clean it thoroughly and store it under suitable conditions until it is delivered to the buyer and sell his produce to the best advantage. The season for selling wheat will be divided into two periods (a) 1st August 1933 to 15th December, 1933, and (b) 15th January 1934 to 31st July 1934. At the end of each period the average price which buyers paid for wheat will be computed from particulars furnished by each buyer. The difference between the average price per barrel and the standard price of 23/6 per barrel during the first period and 25/- per barrel during the second period, will be the amount of the guaranteed subsidy which each registered grower will receive for each barrel of millable wheat sold by him irrespective of the price which he received in the first instance. All wheat, irrespective of variety, will be eligible for the subsidy provided it is of millable quality, but it is desirable to concentrate on some of the well-known varieties, e.g., Queen Wilhelmina and Square Head Master, which give consistently good yields. On the higher and poorer soils, the latter invariably gives the best results whilst on the better class land Queen Wilhelmina gives good results. Prospective growers should endeavour to sow their crops as early as possible now provided the soil, as in the case of every crop, is in a suitable condition at sowing time. Success can be ensured by proper cultivation and suitable soil conditions, adequate manuring where necessary, selection of suitable varieties and early sowing. Prospective growers should consult their Co-operative Society or merchant at once re obtaining their requirements of seed. This Scheme does not apply to growers who produce their own requirements of wheat and get it milled for their own use at a local flour mill.

WE HAVE AGAIN AND AGAIN warned our customers on the absolute necessity of potato spraying. It has been conclusively proved during the past few years that not only has spraying prevented potato blight, but it has almost doubled the crops in every instance. It also improves the quality of the potato by extending the period of growth, thereby allowing the crops to come to maturity.

The necessity for spraying this season may be more urgent than usual. The present weather is proving favourable for the spread of the disease which has already made its appearance in the South of Ireland. We stock the latest types in horse and knapsack sprayers, and we also keep large stocks of sulphate of copper and washing soda. We shall be very pleased to answer any enquiries regarding quantity to be used per acre, and will quote special low prices for cash for sprayers or spraying materials.

The All-Steel Raleigh!

The local Agent at Dungarvan, J. B Cooke, has received the following letter from Dublin:—

DEAR SIR—We regret that owing to the recently imposed tax on complete cycles our deliveries for the past month have been seriously dislocated. We have pleasure in announcing, however, that arrangements have been made for the assembly of all machines for the Irish Free State at our Dublin Depot under skilled supervision. We have decided not to make any alteration in our existing prices, and we will make every endeavour to reduce the accumulation of orders with as little delay as possible, for which we crave your kind indulgence. Yours faithfully,

THE RALEIGH CYCLE CO., S. GUY, Irish Manager.

The above letter speaks for itself. The All-Steel Raleigh is now an Irish product. Duty Free. Prices from 8/11 per month upwards.
