Farmers' Candidate.

MEETING IN DUNGARVAN

On Wednesday a large and enthusiastic meeting was held in the Square, Dungarvan, in the interests of Mr. N. Wall, the Farmers' Candidate. The greatest interest was taken in the addresses by all present and the speakers were listened to with the closest attention.

Mr. W. Hearne, Glen, presided and called for whole-hearted support for the Farmers' candidate as the surest means of having their prosperity restored. He introduced to the meeting Mr. Wm. Kent, member of the wellknown patriotic family, the Kents of Castlelyons and Farmers' candidate for East Cork. In the course of an eloquent appeal Mr. Kent asked the people of Waterford to return Mr. Wall at the head of the Poll. He said that at the last election he stood as one of the Fianna Fail candidates, and had made certain promises which were not fulfilled, but that was not through his fault. They heard a great deal about the prosperity which had been brought about by the Fianna Fail Party, but he asked where was the prosperity to be seen? He had left that party, but he did not bear any animosity or hatred towards any individual of it, but he could not subscribe to a policy which had brought to the country only ruin and misery.

If the Centre Party were returned to the Dail they would see that employment was created of a permanent character, and it was not on a heap of stones they would place the workers. They had been promised industries, and for the past ten months they had been told that many mills would be opened. He hoped that would be the case, but he pointed out no industry could be started unless there was capital behind it.

He was out for a united Ireland economic war, and to have an hon- day at the poll. ourable agreement which would not be made behind the backs of the Centre Party.

. It had been said that he had turned his back, but he was the same to-day try. They said they would reduce tax- as he had been always-unchanged ation by 2 millions a year and no sooner were they in office than they much much as they wished at him, but much mud as they wished at him, but no matter what they may say he could held his head high and he did not give a straw for them.

Concluding, Mr. Kent said that if the Centre Party were returned he would make every endeavour to unite the two big parties in the Dail and bring back that peace and prosperity which had been lost to the country. He asked the Farmers to close up their ranks, work with might and main for the return of Mr. Wall, and so restore the general prosperity not only of the Farmers' but the whole cheered on coming forward, and explained the aims and objects of the Farmers' and Ratepayers' League. He said their Party was out to end the bitterness existing between the big political parties. He emphasised the fact that the Farmers' Party were independent in every way and had nothing to do with either of the two Political Parties. Referring to the election literature of C. Na.nG. in which they asked their supporters to give their No 4 preference to the Farmers' candidate, he said that was done without his consent. He paid a tribute to Mr. McDermott, their leader, a gentleman who death came as a great shock to us all. was hardly known in Irish politics 12 There was nothing frivolous or empty months ago and whose rise as a leader of the Farmers' was almost mythical. return their nominee to the Dail, where their interests would be care-By so doing they would have done their entire community and country, (applause).

Mr. N. Fitzgerald, Bonmahon, in the course of a practical speech dealt with the prices prevailing at their fairs and markets for some months past and expressed the hope that upward tendency in prices so noticeable at the fair that day would continue. That could be done in one way and that was by voting solidly for the candidate and Party pledged to look after their interests and to see that they got the best return for their produce and for their work. He asked them to rally to the standard of the Farmers' Candidate and put him in his proper position on polling day, viz., at the head of the Poll, (applause).

Mr. Thomas Flynn, Coolnagour, also spoke and said that all the promises made to the Farmers by the two asked the return of one member in the big political parties in the past few constituency. He appealed earnestly months on the question o fthe reducto the voters to give their No 1 to months on the question of the reducto the voters to give their No 1 to tion of annuities were due to the in Nicholas Wall, who would, as their farmers. AIMS AND OBJECTS.

In a manifesto issued by Mr. Frank McDermott, on behalf of the National Centre Party (Farmers' and Ratepayers') he explains what his Party wants, They want :-

To revise the Treaty by consent, so that it recognises our right to leave rounding districts and the greatest enthe Commonwealth if we wish. (2) To abolish partition. For this purpose it is necessary to get rid of

(6) To build up a new and united Ireland founded on charity, courage, commonsense and respect for the Fianna Fail supporters. rights of the individual.

THE BALANCE OF POWER IN NEXT DAIL.

We expect with 20 members or more to hold the balance of Power in the next Dail. For this purpose it is necessary that the Fianna Fail Party and the Labour Party should lose seats and I therefore, advise our supporters, after voting for their own candidates to give their next preferences to candidates who are not members of the Fianna Fail or Labour Parties. AN APPRECIATION.

A vote of condelence was passed at special meeting of the Committee of the National Commercial Club, St. Mary's Street, Dungarvan, to the family of the late Mr. Paddy Byrne, Modeligo.

"Paddy," who had been a member of the Club for the past sixteen years, had endeared himself in an especial manner in the hearts of all the members, and the unexpected news of his about him, no studied smoothness in about him, no studied smoothness in his manner, no assumed behaviour to it. If money was to be spent like that, He asked the Farmers' to work with hide the real character of the man; he if that sum of money were available was of that nature that rejoices with those who rejoice and weeps with those who weep. It was not in him to inflict the slightest wound-in a word, "he was a man you don't meet every day."

He gained the esteem and won the hearts of the members by his candour and natural bearing, and oft-times at the Club he threw oil on troubled waters with his "let ye throw it away boys." We shall miss him, and it is sad to think that one of such sterling stuff should be borne so swiftly on the stream of life into the ocean of eternity. May he rest in Peace. "A MEMBER."

Land Annuities. Dealing with the question of the Land Annuities, he asked what did 53 millions heretofore paid as Annuities to Britain mean? "Five and threequarter million pounds a year, which is almost exactly the sum that was spent on the construction of the works of the Shannon Scheme, that vast scheme which employed thousands of the wages of those workers, for the prevailed. profits taken by the contractor, and for all the material that had been put (To the Editor "Dungaryan Observer") into the work. Such was the enormous sum you were sending over every year from this country to another country, making to them therefore, an annual present, not one year, but every year, of the sum of money equivalent to the cost of the Shannon for ourselves, with it we could, every year-not one year or two years, but every year-make a present to ourselves of a national work as big as the Shannon Scheme. But we were giving that money away to another people, and the greater part of it we gave away without any legal or moral obligation upon us to do so. I am not going to deal to-day with the basis of our claim to retain the land annuities, or the claims Britain put forward to get them. I am sure that at the last eelction, that case was explained in full by me. I am not going to go into it again now except to say that the more it has been examined and the more it has been opposed by those who don't want us to succeed, the more strongly are we convinced that our case is sound in law and sound in morality (cheers). And being convinced of that, we are not going to pay over that money,"

"I said at the last election that we would not pay it over unless Britain was able to prove a case for getting it, and no such case had been proved."

Reduction Of Land Annuities. "We said" the President continued, that we would retain the land annuities, and we said that with the money thus retained, we could do much work of national importance. We said, for nstance, that if we were elected, we would give two millions back again to the farming community. We did British cletter than that (cheers). We are do-

As to the arrears he proposed to give people 50 years to pay them. They were not going to cancel the debts or make grants of money without putting interest on it. They were also providing for the completion of land purchase and those people too would only have to pay when their Bill was passed. As to the agricultural situation, he said the old system of land production would have to change unless they wanted Ireland to become a deserted island off the coast of Europe.

Fianna Fail wanted to make living on the land attractive and so in the first part of their programme they were encouraging agriculture. They wanted to make agriculture the backbone of their whole policy.

Dealing with wheat-growing he pointed out that at one time Ireland grew wheat for export. At that time there were 750,000 acres under wheat. The Election.

MRS. REDMOND'S GREAT RECEPTION IN WEST WATERFORD.

On Sunday after last Mass, a large meeting under the auspices of Cumann Na nGaedheal, was addressed from the Square ,Cappoquin, by Mrs. Redmond, candidate, Mr. James Daly, Dungarvan, and Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, all of whom were most enthusiastically received by the representative gathering present.

Several extra Guards had been drafted in from Lismore, but their services were not required on a single eccasion, as the best of order and good humour prevailed throughout the meet ing. Mrs. Redmond was accompanied by a number of prominent supporters, including Ald. Bryan Cunningham, Waterford, Miss Cunningham, do. Mr. C. Quinlan, solr., while practically all the prominent traders and farmers from Cappoquin and the surrounding districts were also present.

Mr. Dempsey, Chairman of the Cappoquin Branch of Cumann Na nGaed-heal, presided, and on introducing Mrs. Redmond, she received a wonderful ovation.

In the course of an eloquent and cultured speech she said that she felt highly honoured by being asked to represent the Co. Waterford as the representative of Mr. Cosgrave's Party and as the successor of her late husband who had represented this constituency for several years, (applause). If elected on this occasion she promised to do everything in her power for the welfare and prosperity of the Co. Waterford and the country as a whole, as her late husband and his father had so faithfully done for so many years, (hear, hear).

The present election was of great importance for the future of our country, as the Party she stood for were out for a policy of friendship and full co-operation with Great Britain which had been their best and principal market for all their produce in the past. The Fianna Fail policy, on the other hand, was one of hatred, hostility and non co-operation towards England, and this policy had brought nothing but ruin and misery on the farmers and shopkeepers within the last 9 or 10 months since they had come into power, (hear, hear).

They had been promised alternative markets by Mr. de Valera and his speakers, but they had since to admit that no such markets could be found, and she wondered how long intelligent voters of this country going to allow this insane and disastrous policy to continue. She strongly appealed to them to vote in this election for the Cosgrave Party which was the one and only Party which could re store their markets for them and re-vive their fairs and bring prosperity to their country, which had been brought to the verge of ruin and poverty within the past 10 months, hear, hear). She next dealt with the wholesale tariffs introduced by Mr. de Valera which were supposed to be a remedy for unemployment and all our economic ills, but instead of relieving unemployment this disastrous policy by closing down factories had resulted in an increase of 70,000 in the ranks of the unemployed since the Fianna Fail Government had come into power.

The question of the Land Annuities was next dealt with, and Mrs. Redmond explained Mr. de Valera's cheme of remitting half the amount to the farmers as a result of which the farmers would lose all their rights and title to their land which had been won for them by Parnell and John Redmond after many years of hard work and agitation in the British House of Commons (applause). To the farmers of the Free State she would now say, Keep a firm grip on your holdings and don't blindly relinquish those rights which have been won for you by Parnell and John Redmond in the (Cheers) She then explained Mr. Cosgrave's policy by which no Land Annuities would be collected until 1934, and showed that under this scheme the farmers would stand no risk of having their land confiscated by the State, the same as had been done in Russia under a Communistic Government.

It was nothing short of National embezzlement for the people of Ireland to refuse to pay the Land Annuities to the holders of Irish Land Stock who had advanced the money which had enabled the Irish farmers to purchase their holdings and become owners of their own land, and when those Acts were being passed in the British House of Commons John Redmond said that an Irishman's word was his bond, and were the farmers of Ireland now going to dishonour that solemn pro-

LAND ANUITIES NOVEMBER

THE SAORSTAT

It is being alleged that when I become President the farmers will immediately be compelled to pay up their land annuities in full.

This allegation is untrue.

My attitude is that the Fianna Fail economic war has temporarily destroyed the farmer's capacity to pay, and that as long as the economic war continues, no Government has a right to collect land annuities at all. This attitude was expressed plainly by me in the Dail as long ago as last November. In actual fact the farmers during the past year have paid their annuities at least twice over in Export Taxes and Bounties.

My policy therefore is:

- 1 The funding over a period of years of arrears in respect of the annuities which fell due in June 1932.
- The entire remission of the Annuity payments due in December 1932, June 1933, December 1933 and June 1934.
- The withdrawal of all writs now issued for any of above payments.

I therefore will not collect any further annuities till December 1934. This will compensate the farmers and give them an opportunity to recover from the injuries they have suffered.

I will immediately end the economic war. I will thus re-open their markets to farmers, and re-establish their capacity to pay their way.

I will immediately re-open with Great Britain in honorable negotiation the financial questions now in dispute, and will press for and obtain a new settlement based upon capacity to pay. The benefits of this new settlement will be passed on to the farmers.

The farmers in the new situation are unable to pay more than half what they have been paying, and I will not collect from them more than that half when collection is resumed in December.

The remission of Land Annuity payments will be accompanied by an absolute guarantee of the farmer's title to his land. This will secure that the land annuity payments will be terminable and will not be converted into a Land Tax.

and were the farmers of Ireland now going to dishonour that solemn promise, (hear, hear).

The farmers should not sacrifice their National Birthright by refusing to honour their obligations in this mather, as they had been advised by Mr. de Valera and his Party to do, (cheers). She was delighted to be able to say that she had already held many successful meetings in various parts of Waterford, and that those meetings had been free from interruptions and infimidation, because intimidation was the weapon of the coward, and she felt sure that here were no cowards in Cappoquin, (loud applause).

In conclusion, she asked the voters of the Co. Waterford, to vote on the 24th inst. for a policy of; construction instead of destruction, for peace with England instead of hatred, and above all, to vote for a policy which would open their markets and fairs and bring of the course of the farmers of the farmers of the first sure that here were not cought napping as they hoped to be able to prove when the result of this election became known (applause).

ELECTION ISSUE

CLEAR AND SIMPLE.

On Sunday Mr. Cosgrave addressed a meet. ing of 50,000 people in College Green, Dublin. Mr. Cosgrave, who was given a rousing reception, being cheered for several minutes, said The issue in this election is plain and simple, although every effort has been made to obscure the simple issue by wild propaganda against Cumann na nGaedheal.'

In the emergency and disturbance created by themselves, the Government invited the people to end uncertainty. "Who has caused the uncertainty in this country right through the last ten years?" asked Mr. Cosgrave. "Employment has been impeded during the last ten years, because of their refusal honestly to accept the political status won under the Treaty.

"The head of the Government himself has admitted in the Seanad that progress has been made by use peacefully and under the Treaty in the last ten years which he never would have believed possible.

UNITY OF IRELAND.

"The acceptance of that Treaty and its de. veloping status is the only road along which the unity of Ireland may be sought and attained, and in our judgment and in our experience that Treaty allows us, without abandoning any of our rights, to live peacefully and profitably with our nearest neighbour, the British people." "We believe." Mr. Cosgrave went on, "that the agreements which we made were advantageous to the Irish people, and should be honoured. New circumstances, however, have arisen in Ireland and in the world which would enable a new agreement to be made, of advantage to the Irish farmer, the Irish taxpayer, and the Irish worker. The agreements we made were so framed as to allow us to seek for and obtain an advantageous revision at an opportune moment.

LAND ANNUITY CAMPAIGN.

"The Land Annuity campaign had its origin at one of the secret meetings of what was called he second Dail. One of the so-called Republican deputies pointed out to his fellows that if they really wanted to destroy the Free State they would have to adopt a policy which would capture the imagination of the people, and he proposed the non-payment of the Land

"That policy was put forward in an effort to destroy the Free State, and the campaign which was in its origin an effort to induce the Irish farmer to repudiate his liability for the payment of the annuities, developed under the auspices of the Fianna Fail party after they had cut adrift from the mythical Republic into a claim by the Free State to enforce the payment and to divert the moneys from their proper and statutory purposes into the coffers of the Exchequer.

A COMMUNIST. The policy was first put forward by a Comin a comic opera parliament for the purpose of destroying the Free State. It was adopted by the new formed Fianna Fail party for the solitical purpose of destroying the Free State Government, and in the last ten months has gone a good distance towards the achieve ment of the original aim."

Mr. Cosgrave went on to refer to his tuction n the Dail calling on the Government to release the farmers from their liability to pay annuities during the continuance of the economic war and how it had been rejected by the Government. It was not until after the Dail had been dissolved that any effort was made by the Govern ment or any indication given of what they means y their promise of a substantial reduction. Last week for the first time the farmers were offered, as an election bribe, remission of half their amounties by the Government which had previously insisted that the farmers had no right to any remission at all. "We say," said Mr. Cosgrave, "we have publiely announced our infention, if returned to power, to negotiate with Great Britain for a revision of our financial commitments in reference to the annuities based on the farmers ability to pay. The British themselves are endeavouring to negotiate with the Americans for a substantial remission of their own War Delt, and in those negotiations we hope ther will b successful. "In these circumstances a new agreement must be at noce and urgently negotiated without any abatement of Irish claims or of Irish rights, and without abandoning any power that we possess under the Treaty or otherwise, for natineal or economic development.

"We have had no contract of any kind, good, bad or indifferent, direct or indirect, with British Ministers, but we know our job, and we undertake to do it" (applause).

NEW TARIFFS. Dealing with tariffs, Mr. Cosgrave said:-In this new state of things, finding as we do a multitude of tariffs, even though these have been hastily and improvidently imposed. it would be our duty to examine them with a view to finding out how many we can retain rather than search for those that should be taken off.

"Those who have obtained employment in tarified industries need have no fear of a disturbance of their prospects by the new Govern-

The railways had suffered because traffic had been reduced to a point not yet fully understood. Under the blow of economic war the transport services were reeling to destruction, and it was no proper solution of the difficulties brought upno the railways from outside to propose, as they understood the Fianna Fail Government did propose, to write down the railway capital by 50 per cent., and to make both employes and shareholders bear the brunt of the Government's misdeeds.

FUTURE PLANS.

"We propose, by ending the economic war, again to restore the old traffic to the railways, and to make our docks once more a scene of orderly activity instead of confusion and stagnation." Mr. Cosgrave stated, "After that we propose to stop the uneconomic competition as between road and rail in the matter of goods traffic, just as last year we stopped it in relation to passenger traffic.We shall institute for goods carried by road almost the same ing conditions as we established in our 1932 legislation for omnibus passenger services and we shall do everything in our power to restore to the railways whatever traffic has been filched from them by road vehicles, and to secure for the railways whatever portion of new traffic originating in this country they are able and willing to handle."

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

Mr. J. Butler, Chairman, presided at he meeting of the above on Friday last. The others in attendance were Messrs. M. J. Keane, Vice-Chairman, Jas Hackett, W. O'Donnell, J. McEvoy, J. F. Moloney and T. Power.

Payments. The following paysheet was submitted by Mr. Bowen, out of the £2,200 grant for the Shandon Road. Paysheet for previous fortnight £194 15s. 10d. Previously certified £1,936 6s. 7d. Balance to credit £70 0s. 7d. The General Account amounting to £19 19s. 10d. was also passed.

Stone And Concrete.

Mr. E. Butler, Secretary of the local. Branch of the Amalgamated Society of Masons and Plasterers, wrote calling the Council's attention to Section 8, Part 2 of the New Housing Act, which deal with the question of having local labour employed. The letter also referred to the question of having Acknowledgment. A letter was read from D. Riordan. Shandon, acknowledging the Council's resolution of sympathy passed on the death of his mother.

Housing Scheme. A letter was read from the Ministry of Local Government and Public Health, stating that the Department approved of the Council's proposition to acquire site No 2, containing 8.393 acres from Mr. Michl. Ryan, at £111 2s. per acre. In order to expedite the preparation of the necessary documents in connection with the scheme, the Council should employ a qualified Consultant Engineer or Architect to work in conjunction with the Town Surveyor in the preparation of the house designs, lay-out plans, specifi-ions and contract documents. The development of the site and rection of the houses should subsequently be carried out under the direct upervision of the Town Surveyor.

I am to add that the Minister proposes to make an order perscribing the scale of fees for Architects and Engineers employed on housing schemes and the remuneration to be paid in connection with the Council's proposed scheme will be subject to such

Chairman—The Council after a very long time know where they are tonight, and how far the Department are with them. We know exactly where we are now, we are at liberty to buy 8 acres. With regard to the second part of the letter, they have also agreed with us. I suppose the first thing to do is to acquaint our solicitor and ask him to complete the sale. Mr. Moloney Yes that's the first

Mr. Keane-The Council should feel pleased that this thing turned out so satisfactory, and that the interpretation of the previous letter was not as some of us thought.

The Clerk was directed to instruct the solicitor to complete the purchase on the terms specified, viz., £111 2s. per acre (fee simple).

Chairman—As regards the last por-tion of the letter the Department make it very easy for us. We will have no dealing with Engineers, fees, etc.

Mr. Moloney—1 take it all we will have to do is to know if the man appointed is a qualified man. Chairman-He is to assist the B.S. in the lay out, etc. In my opinion the man we want is an Architect. The an Architect for the next meeting.

"Owing to the very close proxmity of the town to the foreshore a large portion of the area is only a couple of feet above H.W.O.S.T. and main drainage by gravitation is more or less difficult for that reason many of the houses are at present without any drains whatever and several of the streets have no sewers. A number of the existing sewers are old stone "square built" structures covered with flags. These are described as septic tanks. It is desirable that the Urban District should be freed from the objectionable and, indeed disgusting if not possibly dangerous condition arising from the discharge of crude sewerage as at present disposed of.

Mr. Moloney—Still we live on. Mr. Power—They don't say anything about the grant that was asked to put a sewer in King Street.

Chairman—No. They ask us for our observations. The only thing to tell them is that the people of Dungarvan would be very glad to have a perfect sewerage system, but that would require a lot of money.

Consideration of the letter was adjourned to next meeting.

Sympathy.
On the proposition of Mr. Keane, seconded by Mr. O'Donnell, a vote of sympathy was passed to the family of the late Jas. Morrissey, Helvick.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

DUNGARYAN FAIR.

In anticipation of the ports being opened after the General Election, prices at Dungarvan Fair on Wednesday showed an upward tendency, but farmers were not anxious to sell even at an advance of £2 over previous fairs. Three year olds made £10 to £12; 2 year olds, £8 to £10, and yearlings, £5 to £6. Sheep were scarce and prices ruled high. There was a good supply of store pigs at 25s. to 40s. according to quality.

ELECTIONEERING.

During the past week everything has given way to electioneering in this old land, and inegtings are being addressed at all hours of the day and night all over the country, and even the severity of the frost has been unable to damp the ardour of those politically-minded. A few days more and all will be over. Oratory will get a holiday, and the people will once again be up against the stern realities of life. For no matter who is in power, the general public must get to work again and work out their own salvation.

No one should miss voting this time, and all should mark their papers carefully so that there will be no sporlt ballot papers.

FIANNA FAIL MEETINGS.

Last Sunday Mr. Mansfield, Fianna Fail Candidate, addressed large meetings at Kil. brien and Four-Mile-Water and at Tramore at night. He promised to do all in his power to justify the trust placed in him. Meetings at Knockanore and Glendine were also addressed by Messrs, Goulding and Mansfield. MEETING AT ARDMORE.

Rev. H. Synnott, C.C., presided over a large and enthusiastic Cumann Na nGaedheal meet ing at Ardmore on Sunday. Stirring addresses were delivered by Mr. Roe, B.L., Dublin; Professor Kissane, Cork, and Mr. C. S. Quinlan, solicitor, Waterford, in which the Cumann Na nGaedheal policy was shown to be the only policy feasible in this country at present and the only one which would bring back prosperity to our people. The various speakers were listened to with the closest attention despite the attempts of a few interrupters. A hearty vote of thanks to the speakers was moved by Father Synnott, C.C.

BUGBY IN DUNGARYAN.

St. Augustine's lingby Football team experienced a set back at Abbeyside on Thursday, 12th inst., at the bands of a team composed mostly of College students home on holidays, The result was a draw of one try (3 points) each. INCREASED ESTIMATE OF EXPENDITURE.

Mr. Patk. O'Gorman, chairman, presided at the monthly meeting of the above on Saturday last. The others present were—Messrs. Michl. Curran, G. J. Greene, Mce. Keane, J. O'Donnell, Wm. Stack, D. Heskin, J. Butler.

Estimate.
The Secretary reported as follows:-I beg to submit my estimate of the Expenditure to be provided for in respect of year ending 31st March, 1934; the total amount being £14,362 as against £12,151 last year. The increase of £2,211 is mainly accounted for by the inclusion in my estimate of a sum of £1,540 for the payment of interest on loans required for the carrying out of the proposed schemes of Labourers Cottages and to the fact that you expended over £700 out of Revenue during the current year in connection with the Tramore Sea Wall and Sewerage Scheme for which no provision was made in my previous estimate and your credit balance on the 31st March, next will be reduced accordingly. This latter item will, however, only affect the particular area of charge fixed for the Tramore Sewerage Works.

As you are aware expenditure under the Labourers' Acts will be a general charge from the 1st April next and for this reason expenditure under be held in various parts of the county by the the head of General Charges shows a considerable increase, while there is a corresponding reduction for separate charges. Mr. Greene, suggested that consideration of the estimate be adjourned. The Secretary pointed out the regulations, and stated if the meeting failed to deal with it he should send it to the Co. Council, and it would then pass out of the Board's hands.

The Board then decided to adopt the Forget the Farmers' Candidate and Council for their assent to the raising of a loan and that the Government be asked to give a grant towards the cost of the work which is for the benefit of the Gaeltacht.

Shanakill Water Supply (Ring). The Engineer was also requested to prepare plans and specifications and detailed estimate for the L.G.B., in connection with the above supply. A being worked continuously for 5 hours and yielded 360 gallons an hour without exhausting the supply.

It was also decided to look for a grant as the supply is required for the Gaeltacht.

RATES CASE. Thomas Barry, collector, summoned Mrs. Hannah O'eesse, Barrack Street, Talkiew, for

Mr. Wm, R. Hodnett, solr., defended. Plaintiff handed up documents in connection with the case.

Justice-The name here is Theresa O'Mallony, but the defendant is Hannah O'Keeffe. Plaintiff-That is so, but the house became hers that year. Mr. Hodnett said it was admitted that Theresa O'Mahony was the occupier at the time the rate was struck. He submitted that that proceeding must fail, because his client vias the subsequent occupier. Proceedings against her were statute-abrred as they were not instituted within the statutory period. Proceedings against her should therefore take another form.

Justice-On the basis of the assets? Mr. Hodnett-Yes. They should be issued against her as executrix, or executrix de sor ort. It should be on the civil side.

Justice-That is so. Mr. Barry said that when Mrs. O'Keeffe got he house after the death of her sister. Theresa O'Mahony, she promised to pay the rates when she would sell the house, and she asked him not to take proceedings against her. Justice-If the debt is statute-barred we can't o further with it. Mr. Hodnett having quoted from the 19th Section of the Poor Relief Act of 1849, The Justice said that Mr. Barry had given her too much time. In the circumstances of the case it would be no great hardship on the

Mr. Barry-The hardship is on me as I will have to pay the amount. The case was dismissed without costs.

NO LICENSE. In the adjourned cases against George Bradley for not having his motor bicycle taxed and not having a driver's license, Sergt. Conboy, Ballynoe, said he had ascerained that the defendant had taken out the necessary licenses the day after he was caught. Replying to the Court, the sergeant said that the defendant ran a cinema show in a small way, and used the motor bike for posting notices. Defendant was fined 2s. 6d. in each case.

CRUELTY TO DONKEY.

The same complainant charged Patk. Higgins Cullenagh, with cruelty to a donkey. Complainant stated that he had found the defendant using the animal under a cart on the 5th. The donkey suffered from trembling and lameness and, taking him all round, was not in a fit state to be used under a cart. Witness caught him at Ballyragan, near Bally noe, and he told him to return home with the donkey as the animal shouldn't be under a cart. On the same day he found the man with the donkey at Tallow, 61 miles from home. If the hip was touched the animal fell down.

Justice-What was the cause? The Sergeant said probably from a burt on the hip. The animal was old and unshed, walk ing on the hair of the hoof. Justice-What is the defendant?

The Sergeant said be was an extensive and well-to-do farmer with thousands in the bank and a field of cattle. He was somewhat eccentric. His brother, who lived with him, was convicted on a previous occasion of cruelty to another donkey.

Defendant was fined 10s.

SCHOOL ATTENDANCE CASE Guard J. Farrell, Tallow, summoned Elizabeth Heffernan for the absence from school of her daughter Bridget, aged 10 years. She attended 10 days out of 34. Defendant was a widow, who found it hard to rear her family. The Justice said he would adjourn the case if the defendant undertook to send the girl Defendant said she would. The Justice said he didn't like to fine people n her position.

The case was adjourned for three months. Margaret Walsh applied for an occasional icense on 8th February in connection with the Tallow Point-to-Point Races-hours 12 to 5.30. There being no objection, the application was

REPLY TO INTERRUPTER.

Ald. Horgan (candidate), at a meet ing at Mayfield, referred to the smashing blow which Mr. W. R. Kent had given to the Fianna Fail Party. A man on the outskirts of the meeting shouted-"He was well paid for it."

The interruption was dealt with later by Mr. B. M. Egan (candidate), who characterised the observation as a cowardly slander on the Kent family. "It's a d-d lie," said Mr. Egan, The tradition of the Kent family is one of the noblest in this country. It was not to-day or yesterday they stood up in armed conflict for the rights and honour of their country. As far back as the days of the Irish Volunteers of 1782 the Kent family played a prominent part as Irishmen in the struggle for independence, their names being enrolled on the roll of the Castlelvons Volunteer Corps. Action Defended.

MR. KENT EXPLAINS HIS POSITION.

At Midleton fair on Monday Mr. Kent explained why he left Fianna Fail and joined the Farmers' and Ratepayers' League. He was selected as candidate for the farmers of East Cork. Mr. John Dinneen, P.P., Clonmult, who presided, said that some of them might think it was as big a sensation to have Mr. Kent on the platform as the quick and sensational dissolution of the Dail a few days ago. When they pondered on the question, it was only natural that Mr. Kent should be there—on the right platform—where his on the right platform—where his family for generations had fought for the farmers' interests and for the wel-fare of the country and for the freedom of the Irish people to make their own laws. The farmers were faced with laws. The farmers were faced with the greatest depression they had experienced for the past fifty or sixty years, and if they did not rise to the occasion that presented itself at the motinent and combine in a united and determined body, they will be but the slaves of the political parties for exploitation in the future, as they had been too often in the past (applause).

Mr. Kent, who was cordially received, said it may seem strange to the ceived, said it may seem strange to the people of that constituency and all over Ireland why he should be associated with this party. At the last general election he was one of the candidates of the Fianna Fail policy.

A Voice—And now you've turned Mr. Kent—I will let you know who the turncoats are. Continuing, he said that they had promised the electors they would abolish the oath, retain the land annuities, and have full de-rating in three months. He, as a member of Meat Inspection.

Mr. Dennehy said he had read in the been gloriously ignored. Shopkeepers and Labourer have now realised this fact—since both have had "to taste the winter of their discontent."

Mr. Broderick said the Christmas business was very heavy and it was been gloriously ignored. Ten months of depression has vindicated the Farmers' worth as an indisputable commercial asset, in a country which is ninety per cent. devoted to the pursuit of agriculture. It is about the oath and land annuity questions, he did admit, were kept, but on the question of the faithfully promised the people at the last election. He could not stand any longer to make false promises to the people of East Cork (applause). "What I say to-day," he continued, "I mean to morrow. My nationality, my printer of their discontent." DUNHILL COURSING MEETING.
At a general meeting of the Dunhill Coursing Club, Mr. Frank Murphy, presiding, in the unavoidable absence of Mr. John Harney, it was desided to hold the annual coursing meeting on Thursday, February, 9th next. Also it was decided to promote a card-drive to further and swell the funds of the Club.

WATERFORD HUNT RACES POSTPONED.

Owing to the General Election, the Wateford Hunt Point-to-Point Races have been postponed from the 24th inst., to Thursday March 2nd, 1933.

KILMAC' MAN IN TROUBLE.

At Waterford District Court, on the 13th inst., an auxiliary postman, named Wm. Cullinane, was charged with that on the 2nd October, 1928, he did, at Kilmacthomas, steal one postal packet containing 30/- in money, whilst said postal packet was in the course of transmission by post; and that he did forge the signature of Mrs. Power, to a receipt issued in respect of said postal packet.

Supt. Kelly, who prosecuted, said he would ask for a remand to the next District Court at Kilmacthomas.

Defendant (in reply to his Worship, Mr F. J. McCabe, D.J.,) pleaded guilty, and said he had nothing to say. His Worship—Were you up before me ever before?

Defendant—Yes. Supt. Kelly—He was up for deser-

D.J.—I understand he was an auxiliary postman.

Supt. Kelly-Yes; the amount involved is only 30/-, and he has paid that. D.J.—I would like to see how I can deal with him. When a man takes money out of a letter, I cannot look upon that as an ordinary larceny. It is rather a serious offence.

Asked where he was since 1928, the defendant replied he was on the run.
D.J.—It is a long time to be on the run for 30/-. The case was adjourned to the next Kilmacthomas Court.
