Pearl. The Fishermaiden.

OPERETTA IN DUNGARVAN. HIGH-CLASS ENTERTAINMENT.

"Well done indeed ladies!" was the unanimous verdict of the two crowded houses which were entertained by the Mercy Convent Children of Mary on Tuesday and Wednesday nights to the delightful Operetta "Pearl" the Fishermaiden. Those of us who might have gone with the benevolent tolerance which is usually brought to Convent school entertainments, came away entirely satisfied that we had been mistaken for once, and that Dungarvan young ladies can vie successfully, and hold their own in acting, singing, and histrionic proficiency generally with most amateurs. In fact we were more than one remarked, "Had I not known it I should have thought they were Professionals." The scenery—the training, the dances, the general setting of the play was the work of the good Sisters at the Convent in Church Street. They deserve in the first place the congratulations of the people of Dungarvan for nothing else than the educative value of their weeks of hard work in training their young ladies.

The Company itself we must heartily congratulate next. That first scene by the sea shore, with its dream of pretty Fishermaidens seated around Old Daddy and Mrs. Whelk mending nets, with the fair Pearl, so sweet and coy. This is one of the prettiest settings we have ever seen in the Town Hall. The charming costumes of the Maidens and later of the brave Lorenzo and his Brigand Band, in this scene still live in our memories. So too, do the haunting melody of "Sea Shell" sung by Pearl, and the martial air of "Sing a Song of Sunny Spain" by Lorenzo. The choruses of "Many Happy Returns of the Day" beautifully rendered, closed the first act.

The dancing in this act of the Brigands and Fishermaidens and in the following act the Floral dance of the King's Dancing girls were gracefully executed.

The second act, the King's audience Chamber, where sat King Alphonso, surrounded by courtiers and soldiers, Lord Chancellor, ladies and gentlemen in waiting, was an admirable setting too. The King was Royal to his finger tips and the clamorous chorus "Death to the young Lorenzo" was the ending to an act remarkable for perfect acting by all from the King down to his Lord Chancellor. Pearl and the captured prisoner Lorenzo.

The last act a Court in the King's Palace was the scene of the happy denouement where as the Court jester so epigrammatically put it—"Nobody was himself and everybody was somebody else." This was well done by the King, Lorenzo, Pearl and Daddy and Mrs. Whelk. In these last two acts there was a strong humorous vein running through the Romance and tragedy. The jester was first-class throughout, and aroused roars of laughter.

In the name part of the piece, Miss Muriel Weeks, was an outstanding success. So was "Lorenzo" Mrs. Ryla Harris, and of course the King, Miss Mona Butler. On the same plane to come "Daddy Whelk," Miss Nora French, and his old girl "Maria," Miss Mona Casey. It is indeed difficult to apportion praise to anyone beyond the others, as the whole cast, even those in the minor parts were exceptionally good.

The singing of Mrs. Harris and Miss Weeks, was better than we have ever heard them their duet "Farewell," being touching indeed.

The Orchestra was just right—the music being so well-balanced. It was as it were the prop upon which the whole piece leaned, and Mr. McHugh, did his part well with the baton.

The Band Committee wish to thank all these good young ladies and gentlemen in the cast, in the orchestra, behind the scenes and elsewhere, who helped to make this production such a huge success—and thanks is overdue for more than one occasion to Mr. Thomas McCarthy, U.D.C., and the Dungarvan Dramatic Class for the loan of their Proscenium.

Thanks are also due to Messrs. Curwen and Sons, London, for giving permission gratis to produce the play. Orchestra—1st. Violins—Mr. M. J. Walshe, (Leader); Miss Boyle, Miss A. Crotty; 2nd. Violin, Miss L. Dalton; String Bass, Mr. J. Dunne; Clarinet, Mr. T. Costin; Flute, Mr. T. Crotty, Cornet, Mr. M. Hennesbery; Piano, Mrs. O'Hara, A.L.C.M.

Conductor—Mr. McHugh, B.M. Characters—"Daddy Whelk" (an old fisherman), Miss Nora French; "Mistress Whelk" (his wife), Miss Mona Casey; "Pearl" (their daughter), Miss Muriel Weeks; "Filletta" (A Fishermaiden), Miss Madeline Weeks; "King Alphonso" (King of Noland), Miss Mona Butler; "Lorenzo" (his son—kidnapped by Brigands when a babe and believed to be dead, but now a renowned Brigand Chief), Mrs. Harris; "Petruch" (his friend—a brigand), Miss Kitty McGrath; "Limerkins" (King's Jester) Miss

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

POSSESSION CASE. R.7310. (Before Mr. J. S. Troy, D.J.)

GARDA CASES.
Guard Regan, had a number of cases against the parents of children who had failed to send their children regularly to school. In some cases the charges were adjourned and in a few the usual penalties were imposed.

Amongst those summoned for cycling without light and such offences were John O'Neill, Cappagh, Michl. Curran, Dungarvan, Margaret Delaney, Windgap, E. Power, Lisfennel, Jas. Keohan, Youghal, Road, P. Curran, Ballinacourty, W. Flynn, Ballymacart, D. Morrissey, Helvick, and Thomas Foley, Gortnahda. Fines of 1/- each were imposed.

The charges were brought by Sergt. Gallaher, Ring and Guard Moloney, do.

A Nuisance.
Guard Farrell, summoned a tramp named Joseph Mooney, of no fixed abode with begging on the street. Some Shopkeepers complained that he was giving them annoyance. A sentence of 14 days was imposed on the culprit.

Possession Case.
In the adjourned case of Ml. Coffey, Four, against Ed. O'Brien, Moonbrack, Ring, for possession of a house at Moonbrack, Mr. Farrell, solr., appeared for the plaintiff and Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., defended.

Mr. Farrell said his client held the house and lands of Moonbrack under an agreement between him and Mr. Thos. Troy, which was drawn up by Mr. Williams. Mr. Troy was in America and Coffey was to look after the place for him until he returned. In December 1928, the defendant O'Brien wanted a house and plaintiff gave it to him and he was to look after the cattle and sheep on the place and report if anything were wrong to him (Coffey). Defendant did as required for some time, but a year ago defendant put a cow and a calf grazing on the place; tore down the fences and the ceiling of one of the rooms, and also trees. Plaintiff also lost sheep which were on the lands—one died and another was killed by a dog. On the 12th. November last his client demanded possession from the defendant, but the latter refused to give up possession. Coffey wanted to get up the place as until he had someone to look after his stock he could not put any cattle or sheep on it.

Mr. Ryan said Coffey took the place from Troy before the latter went to America. The house was the scene of a tragedy some years ago when a brother of Troy's was shot. Coffey was to keep the house in repair under the agreement and O'Brien got the house from Coffey and was not to be disturbed until Troy returned home. O'Brien spent a considerable sum in repairing the house and now a house was being built for him under the Gaeltacht Scheme and the new house would be ready in a few months. When that was ready he would give up the house to Coffey.

Mr. Troy—Are you getting a new house?—O'Brien—I cannot say.

Mr. Troy—If you had this place in 6 or 8 weeks would you be satisfied?

Coffey—No; as I had to take my sheep off the land and I cannot put them back until I have someone to look after them.

To Mr. Ryan, (Coffey said)—If O'Brien looks after the sheep in any fair way I won't interfere with him.

Coffey—He has opened 2 gaps into the garden I gave him. That was why I demanded possession.

O'Brien, in answer to Mr. Troy, said he was expecting a new house soon and in the meantime he would look after the place for Coffey.

Coffey—I have no ill-feeling against this man if he would look after the sheep for me.

On this condition the case was allowed to stand over until the Court to be held on the 22nd. March.

OFFALY DOCTORS STRICKEN.

Four medical officers were reported to Offaly Board of Health as being down with influenza.

Madgie Kiely; "Lord Chancellor" Miss Madge Kerins; "Mistress of the Bed-Chamber" Miss K. Cullinan; Guards—Miss Nan Morrissey, Miss Peggy Cullinan, Miss Biddy McGrath, Miss May Carey; Brigands—Miss Grella Murphy and Miss Teresa Regan; Footman—Miss Nora Keane; Floral Dancers—Miss Reenie Bennett, Miss K. Mahony, Miss M. Bennett, Miss A. Nicholson. Chorus of Fishermaidens, etc.—Mrs. T. Walshe, Mrs. M. J. Walshe, Mrs. Patterson, Miss May Fennell, Miss K. Rita Tobin, Miss Birdie Gorman, Miss Josie Foley, Miss Nora Daly, Miss Nan Whelan, Miss Birdie Whelan, Miss M. Beatty.

"History of the Eucharistic Congress."

BRILLIANT LECTURE IN CAPPOQUIN.

The spacious Hall of the C.Y.M.S., Cappoquin, was crowded with members of the Society and the general public on Sunday night, when an eloquent lecture entitled "History of the Eucharistic Congress" was delivered by Professor Thomas F. Olden, Cappoquin, a prominent member of the Teaching Staff in Mount Mellary Seminary, Hon. Sec., of the local Rowing Club.

Very Rev. Canon Whelan, P.P., D.D., Spiritual Director of the Society, presided, and in briefly introducing the lecturer, said that Professor Olden had chosen a beautiful subject for the occasion which he felt sure he would deal with in his usual mastery and learned fashion (applause).

The lecturer received a great ovation, and after a few preliminary remarks proceeded with his subject as follows:—

The 31st. International Eucharistic Congress held last Summer in Dublin, was so wonderful in its organisation, and so glorious in its success that the pride with which it filled the heart of every Catholic Irishman will not soon fade away.

At the same time when reflecting on the stupendous scenes presented during these historic days many thousands must have wondered as to the object, the origin and the history of the Eucharistic Congress.

OBJECT—The purpose of all Eucharistic Congresses is to manifest publicly Catholic love fealty and devotion to Jesus Christ in the Sacrament of the Blessed Eucharist; to promote and inspire a greater love for Our Divine Lord in the Sacrament of the Altar, and to endeavour to make reparation for the outrages which have been committed against His Divine Majesty in the Tabernacle. The Bishop of Lille inaugurating the 1st Eucharistic Congress in the city of Lille in June, 1881, set forth the reasons which prompted him to promote the unique undertaking.

Here are his words—"It is quite evident that the great evils of the day are traceable to the denial of Jesus Christ. 'Secularism has been the watchword of the enemies of God, and their aim is to keep religion and the supernatural away from the hearts of men.'

"We must open a way for Jesus to enter men's hearts, and this can only be attained through the Blessed Eucharist."

HISTORY—The history of the establishment of Eucharistic Congresses is the life-story of Marie Tamisier, who was born in Tourse, France, about the middle of the 19th century, and died in the year 1910. From her earliest years she had cultivated an extraordinary love for the Blessed Eucharist, and the one object of her life was to do all in her power to spread devotion to the Sacrament of the Altar. From the pilgrimages to Holy Places which formed so marked a feature of French life in the latter half of the 19th century Marie got her inspiration for the organising of Eucharistic Congresses in honour of the Blessed Sacrament.

"Why," she thought, "should not the Hidden King be honoured in the same way as the Holy Places? He had hidden Himself, and was it not our duty to exalt Him and bring Him in triumph from His hiding places?"

From now on Marie threw herself heart and soul into her work. Progress was, however, slow, and even after having obtained the approval and blessing of His Holiness, Pope Leo XIII, in 1878 many obstacles had still to be overcome. In September, 1878 a great Pilgrimage took place to Faverney, a town noted for great Eucharistic miracles in days gone past. Seven Bishops, 200 priests and 3,000 laymen took part in the Pilgrimage, and next day a meeting was held in the Parish Church which was attended by nearly all the clergy and 1,000 laity. In Marie's opinion, all was now ready, and the next step to be taken was the formation of a Central Committee with a view to making the Congress a permanent institution. Unfortunately, two serious difficulties now presented themselves; one, the trouble in getting the Central Committee, already mentioned, into being, and the other, the impossibility of holding Eucharistic Congresses in her native country owing to the fierce persecution of Catholicism which unexpectedly broke out in France about this time. Nothing daunted, Marie turned her eyes to Belgium, but her project found little favour amongst the higher clergy of this country.

Holland was next tried, but here her proposal was even less warmly received. Everyone whom she approached on the subject applauded the theory of the proposal, but seemed averse to lending a hand to translate it into concrete shape. As, frequently, when success seems assured our hopes are dashed to the ground, so it sometimes happens that when failure seems inevitable, victory crowns our efforts. In her dejection Marie suddenly thought of one man whose co-operation with her would almost certainly put the seal of success on her enterprise—M. Philibertvan—"the Holy Man of Lille."

This man combined great personal holiness (Beatification at present being considered) with business qualities of the highest order. The persevering girl immediately got into communication with him and received from him the following reply—"Since you persist in your idea of an International Eucharistic Congress, we cannot but put ourselves at your disposal. 'If you wish to hold a Congress at Lille we will do our utmost to help you. 'We are heartily with you in your beautiful project."

In a very short time this energetic business man had everything in readiness for the holding of the First Eucharistic Congress in Lille in the closing days of June 1881.

When His Holiness (Pope Leo XIII) had approved of these Congresses and had ordered that a Special Representative of Himself should attend each Congress, a permanent committee was appointed with a permanent chairman to preside over its deliberations.

The first President was Dr. Segur, Bishop of Lille, and since his time the position has been held by several eminent Bishops in succession.

At present Dr. Heylen, Bishop of Namur, Belgium, holds the honoured position. It is the duty of this permanent committee to prepare and publish a volume giving a Report of all Papers read and the discussions on them, the Sermons preached and the details of all that transpired at each Congress. His Holiness, the Pope, maps out the subjects to be discussed on such occasions.

To the local Committee falls the duty to arrange and procure the speakers, as well as to see to the organisation for the ordered carrying out of the different functions, etc.

LILLE—The First Eucharistic Congress was, as already stated, held in Lille in 1881, and, though by comparison with some of the magnificent Congresses held, especially in recent years, it was, indeed, miniature, yet it was a splendid function, and a striking demonstration of Catholic faith and piety. The fervour and piety of the 2,000 persons attending it was an earnest of the success of such meetings on future occasions.

Lille became the headquarters of the great movement thus set up, and there they remained for over 30 years.

Marie Tamisier's life-work was now accomplished, but who can estimate the depth of her emotion whilst she attended the solemn ceremonies at Lille, or the eagerness and delight with which she watched, until her death in 1910, the almost miraculous growth of the movement which, under God, she had been instrumental in establishing?

International Eucharistic Congresses have up to the present been held on 31 occasions. The following list of the more important ones will serve to illustrate the wonderful universality of the Catholic Church:—

Fribourgh (Switzerland), 1885; Paris, 1888; Jerusalem, 1893; Brussels, 1898; Lourdes, 1899; Namur (Belgium), 1902; Rome, 1905; London, 1908; Montreal, 1910; Vienna, 1912; Malta, 1913; (No Congress was held during the Great War), Amsterdam, 1924; Chicago, 1926; Sydney, 1928; Carthage, 1930; Dublin, 1932.

The Sixth Congress was that held in Paris 1888. It is estimated that 80,000 persons took part in the ceremonies in that great city where, 15 years before, the noted anti-clerical Thiers, had declared that the age of Pilgrimages in France had gone forever. No Congress before or since the Paris one has excelled it in wealth of Eucharistic dogma, history or means of propaganda.

In 1893 the Congress met in Jerusalem, and what more appropriate City could have been selected? A Second Triumphant entry into that city in which 1,900 years before, the Sacrament of the Blessed Eucharist had been established!

Here East and West testified to the unity of Catholics the world over. The Benediction was given in the Garden of Gethsemane on the very spot which tradition points out as the scene of the Agony of Our Blessed Lord. This, one of the most significant Congresses on record, was closed by the Papal Legate in the following words—"The Church of Christ is not Greek, nor is it Latin. It is Catholic, Universal, open to all."

In 1899 the 12th Congress met in Lourdes to celebrate the 45th. anniversary of the Dogma of the Immaculate Conception.

It is scarcely necessary to mention the fact that this was an outstanding Congress, especially from the point of view of fervour and piety.

One development which took place at this Congress was the admission of women to Eucharistic deliberations in a special section.

In 1905 Pope Pius X. to fittingly celebrate the Silver Jubilee of the International Eucharistic Congresses, ordered that Rome itself should be the venue of that year's Congress. The Holy Father himself celebrated the opening Mass, assisted by a Latin deacon and a Greek sub-deacon.

All the splendour of the See of Peter contributed to make the occasion a memorable one. It is claimed that this Congress was responsible for the conversion of hundreds to the true Faith.

The Congress held in London in 1908 was rightly regarded as the greatest religious triumph of its generation.

More than three and a half centuries had elapsed since a Legate of the Pope had set foot in England.

Indeed, there was still on the Statute-Book a law against Papal Legates, but this law was not invoked to arrest the most notable member of the Sacred College: Rome, Cardinal Vanutelli.

Accompanying the Legate were six Cardinals, 14 Archbishops, 70 Bishops and a host of Priests. No such gathering of ecclesiastics had in modern times been seen outside Rome.

Scenes of remarkable enthusiasm and the deepest piety were witnessed during all the stages of the Congress.

Over 15,000 people assembled in the Albert Hall and pledged themselves to promote devotion to the Blessed Eucharist.

Mr. Asquith, the then Prime Minister, yielding to the clamours of a bigoted section of Protestants, forbade the carrying of the Sacred Host in procession through the streets of the City; but the Papal Legate, without the Host, was accorded a wonderful procession, accompanied by a Guard of Honour led by the Dukes of Norfolk and Orleans and eleven other English nobles.

The final Benediction was given to the vast multitude from three open balconies on the facade of Westminster Cathedral—a great conclusion to a great event.

The first Congress held in the New World was that which met in Montreal in 1910. Splendidly did the great American Continent rise to the occasion, and with royalty did the New World welcome the Eucharistic King.

Cardinal Vanutelli was again the Papal Legate, and there were also present 420 Archbishops and Bishops, 4,000 Priests and 750,000 laity.

To the little island of Malta in the Mediterranean in April, 1913, came the delegates for the 24th Eucharistic Congress.

The most impressive scene at this Congress was the Benediction of the Sea.

The Sacred Host was placed on a high terrace overlooking the beautiful harbour of Valeta, whilst beneath the sparkling waters of the harbour were covered with the craft of the Maltese fishermen in their bright and picturesque attire. The boats were gaily decorated with flags and hunting, and crowds of devout and reverent worshippers were kneeling on the decks all round.

From the vast throng of 150,000 a mighty cheer resounded over the waters as the Blessed Sacrament was enthroned on the Altar, whilst the sirens of the ships and the mighty guns of the land batteries joined in the royal salute. At the solemn moment when the Sacred Host was raised at the Elevation to bless the assembled multitudes and all the seas of the world a great silence fell over all, which was broken only by the soft, musical tinkle of the Silver Benediction bell and the gentle lapping of the blue waters of the harbour against the sides of the countless craft that lay so peacefully at anchor during that awe-inspiring moment.

Malta had always been a bulwark of Christianity against the savage heathen hosts—it now proved that its loyalty to the See of Peter was as true and as steadfast as ever.

The Great World War broke the sequence of the Congresses for eight years, and no Congress was held from 1914 to 1922, when Rome was again the meeting-place.

In 1926 the New World was again chosen as the venue, and it was on Chicago that the honour was conferred on this occasion. Everything in connection with this Congress was colossal. Never was seen outside the Eternal City itself such a gathering of Cardinals, Archbishops. The Priests were numbered in thousands, and the laity in hundreds of thousands.

Close on 1,000,000 people assembled for the final Benediction which brought to a close the greatest and most inspiring religious ceremony the New World has ever seen.

We may feel sure that the sons of Holy Ireland, from the late reverend Primate, Cardinal O'Donnell, to the poorest exile working on the quaysides of New York, helped to make the Chicago Congress the wonderful success it undoubtedly proved to be.

Yet another Continent was invaded and conquered by the Eucharistic Congress in 1928 when Sydney (Australia) was chosen as the venue.

Again, the wonderful scenes of fervour and enthusiasm! Again, multitudes that could be counted in hundreds of thousands! Australia showed on this occasion that though she was the youngest daughter of the Catholic Church, she had the faith as firm and as virile as that of the older members of this great universal family.

So moved was His Eminence, Cardinal Gerretti, at the wonderful scene presented at the final Benediction before a gathering of 500,000 that, although the proceedings were formally closed by the Solemn Blessing, he could not refrain from addressing the following brief, but heartfelt words to the assembled throng—"In the presence of this vast multitude, which I did not expect, I cannot refrain from thanking you from the bottom of my heart for this great manifestation of love and faith in our Divine Lord. I invoke the Lord's blessing on you, your families and on Australia. I shall remember this great demonstration all my life.

I hope that God's choicest blessings will be bestowed on you and on your wonderful country."

What further proof is needed that this Congress was a splendid success? There were two chief reasons which prompted His Holiness, the Pope, to select Carthage for the 30th Congress in the year 1930.

The great St. Augustine, the Father of the African Church, died in 430, A.D., and hence 1930 was the 15th. centenary of his death.

The Pope earnestly desired that before the 50th anniversary of the establishment of Eucharistic Congresses (1931) one should have been held in every Continent of the world.

At the beginning of the Christian era so numerous were the inhabitants of Carthage who gave their lives for Christ in the great amphitheatre of the city that the Popes compared it to Rome itself, the city of martyrs. Small wonder, then, that Carthage was selected as the African home of the Congress. At the conclusion of this great event every Continent on earth had paid its homage and its honour to the Eucharistic King.

Well may the Catholic Church boast of its unity and universality! What other religious institution in the world can do the same?

The 31st Congress held last Summer in Dublin is still fresh in all our memories. Ireland had waited long for its turn, but when it came at last how splendidly she acquitted herself is known to us all.

An entire nation gripped with the spirit of Congress was a sight unique in the history of even the Eucharistic Congress. That the 31st Congress was the greatest of all, there can be little doubt. That it will ever rank as one of the greatest it is safe to assume.

Well done, Ireland! loud and continuous applause!

Very Rev. Canon Whelan, proposed a very hearty vote of thanks to Professor Olden for his beautiful and educational lecture which was both a religious and intellectual treat for them all that night (applause).

It must have gone to great pains to prepare his data for such an absorbing subject and he was entitled to their deepest gratitude for the able and eloquent manner in which he had delivered one of the grandest lectures ever held in the C.Y.M.S. Hall (applause).

Mr. R. J. Collender, President of the Society, seconding, fully endorsed everything Canon Whelan had said about the high quality of the lecture, and said it was a special pleasure to them to know that Professor Olden was a Cappoquin man and an old and respected member of the C.Y.M.S., and they all felt proud at being able to number such an able and eloquent gentleman amongst their members that night. (Applause).

The vote of thanks having been carried with acclamation,

Professor Olden briefly replied which concluded the interesting proceedings.

CURRAGHMORE WOODS.

In an interview in connection with the removal of Lord Waterford's woods, Messrs. McAnish and Co., timber merchants, Galway, said with reference to the reports published in recent issues of the Press in connection with Lord Waterford's woods, the statements made are grossly misleading. The firm who have purchased the timbers have operated for many years in Ireland and are a Co. registered in Saorstad Eirann. The engine and other machinery have simply been transferred from Emo Park, Leix, where they have finished after two years operations. With the exception of a few skilled operatives the whole of the labour has been recruited locally. At Portlaw the timbers which the correspondent describes as being stored for pit props are in reality telegraph poles for the order of the Department of Posts and Telegraphs, Ireland. The sawn timber is prepared for re-sawing into box shooks for the packing of eggs and other Irish produce. Special machinery for this purpose is being installed at Coolfin Saw-mills leased from Lord Waterford. These mills have been in operation for many years but have been closed down lately.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)

Fitzgerald v. Hurley. This was a defended Civil Bill by Mr. T. Fitzgerald, motor owner, against Mrs. S. Hurley, P.C., U.D.C., as administratrix of her deceased husband, for £4 7s. 0d., hire of motor. Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., for plaintiff and Mr. J. J. Ronayne, solr., Middleton, for defendant. After a hearing which lasted considerably over an hour, a decree for £2 13s. 0d., was granted. A childrens Court was then held, a boy aged 15 being charged with the larceny of 5/4, from the Offertory Box in Clashmore Catholic Church, and a flash lamp, value 3/6, the property of Miss Christopher, N.S. Supt. O'Shea, Dungarvan, prosecuted, and Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., appeared for defendant. Guard Regan, stated that while concealed in a confessional in the Church on the 12th, he saw the boy go to the box, loosen the screw keeping it closed take something out, close the box again and the leave the Church. Witness followed and overtook the lad, who on being questioned admitted taking 1/3d. that day and other small sums previously, amounting in all to 5/4. Sergt. O'Shea, stated that acting on information he went to the accused, who admitted taking the lamp two months ago. Mr. Hodnett said it was a very distressing case. The boy belonged to a very respectable family, and being always supplied with sufficient pocket money, his action was incomprehensible. Replying to Mr. Hodnett, Sergt. O'Shea said that the boy bore a very good character prior to that. The Justice said it was a surprising and distressing class of offence. Committing larceny in a church was, to his mind, tantamount to sacrilege. The only thing that could put such a horrible idea into the boy's head was the fact that a similar offence had been committed in the same church last year. Having given the accused a very severe warning regarding his future conduct, the Justice dealt with him under the P.O.A. binding him for 3 years in his father's recognisances of £10.

IRISH KENNEL CLUB.

Possibly there is not any loved of dogs in Ireland who has not, at some time or other, visited the great Irish Kennel Club Show which is held each year at Ballsbridge, Dublin, through the kindness of the Royal Dublin Society. Since the inception of the Show in 1921, it has continued to progress each year—an increase equivalent to 400% having been obtained in the entries in the last ten years, and in 1932, the unbelievable total of 888 dogs, representing 2,420 entries, were benched. The aim of the Council of the Kennel Club is to increase the entry to at least 3,000, and when this figure has been reached the Show will have attained a position of the utmost value to owners and breeders of dogs in Ireland and Great Britain. All the principal breeds of dogs have had Classes provided for them, and approximately 70 different breeds will compete for the prize money and special prizes to a total value of several thousands of pounds. Dogs that are usually not seen at our Irish Shows may be seen without any trouble at Ballsbridge on St. Patrick's Day, and dogs of the better known varieties will, of course be there by the hundred. Afghan Hounds, St. Bernards, and Chow Chows, and several other such breeds will be scheduled, and are nearly certain to be a source of attraction throughout the Day. A particularly interesting breed that will be up on exhibition will be some Tibetan Lion Dogs, owned by Miss E. M. Hutchins of Bantry, Co. Cork. Entries for the Show are, so far, well up to the figures for previous years, but it will be impossible for us to gauge the position exactly until the 27th. February, when the entries finally close. In deference to popular opinion, the Kennel Club has, this year, scheduled two Classes for General Obedience Tests for all types of pure-bred dogs. These Tests are nowadays becoming a popular feature at Shows, and provide much useful training and exercise for the dogs competing, and for the owners, are intensely interesting from a spectator's point of view. Of course, as a sport loving Nation, we are familiar with the performances of our well-trained Gundogs at Field Trials, and, of course, for some years past, the Alsatian or German Shepherd Dog has had its own excellent Tests at practically every Show. Neither Gundogs nor Alsatian, however, will be excluded from the General Obedience Tests on St. Patrick's Day, and, as such a well-known Field Trial Judge as the McGillicuddy of the Reeks has kindly consented to adjudicate, exhibitors and spectators may rely upon seeing a most useful and instructive, and, possibly, amusing exhibition. We have seen similar Tests, and to see a perky Pekinese compete against, say, a well-trained Retriever, or Airedale, is most interesting. At a recent Test we saw a Pekinese actually beat a Labrador Retriever that had, a short time previously, won a Field Trials Certificate.

Youghal Mental Hospital.

Mr. M. O'Donovan, T.C., presided at the meeting of the Youghal Mental Hospital Committee. Also present—Very Rev. D. Canon Dineen, P.P., D.D., Youghal. The Manager reported that since last meeting four female patients were admitted from the Cork Mental Hospital. Five patients died. The total number in residence was 428, of whom 246 were men and 177 women. A letter was read from the Department of Local Government and Public Health, pointing out that it had been represented to the Minister that local authorities as large purchasers of butter for consumption in the various local institutions were in a position to give appreciable help to home manufacturers of butter casks and kegs. It was understood that the boxes largely used for packing butter were almost entirely of foreign manufacture whereas casks of home manufacture were suitable for the purpose, and were used in large numbers for the packing of butter for certain British markets, and recently for the Continental trade. If local bodies in making their contracts would recognise the necessity for doing all that was possible to give a preference to butter put up in kegs and casks of home manufacture, it would keep in remunerative employment coopers and others engaged in the manufacture of this class of package. Institutions in which margarine was largely used, and supplies obtained in quantities of 56 lbs. and upwards, could also find it possible to have it packed in casks made of home-grown timber. The Chairman said the committee had already entered into their contracts for butter, but they could remember the instructions from the Department when they were next considering tenders. Dr. M. Twomey, M.B., Visiting Physician, reported as follows:—Since my last report there were five deaths, the deceased belonged to the Cork Mental Hospital. Seven patients are confined to bed on the male side, and six on the female side. There were no complaints of the water or food supplies, and the general health of the institution has been excellent. The report of the Land Steward was read and considered satisfactory. In the course of his report on his last annual inspection of the institution, Dr. D. L. Kelly, Inspector of Mental Hospitals, stated:—The institution is maintained in an excellent manner. The dayrooms and sitting rooms are nicely painted in bright colours. The floors are well polished. Sufficient bentwood chairs are supplied to all dayrooms. Home-made fire screens are also provided. The walls are hung with pictures. Books and picture papers are distributed to the patients. Musical entertainments and dances are arranged, and hurling and football games are played. A handball alley might be erected. I saw some of the patients at exercise and in the shelter. They were neatly dressed and their hair was tidy. A lighter and more suitable type of shoe is now being introduced. Several of the patients are congenitally weak-minded and require more care than others. The lavatories and bathrooms are kept in very good order. The dormitory accommodation is becoming crowded. The beds are clean, and are enamelled occasionally. The nurses' rooms are kept in excellent order. The wards on the male side are well kept, and are furnished with chairs, tables and upholstered seats. A bagatelle table and bookcases are supplied. Clothes baskets for day clothes are supplied to each patient. The bed clothing is well washed and all beds are neatly made down. A number of old people are confined to bed in the hospital. The manner in which they are nursed and attended by the Sisters and nurses is very creditable. I saw the patients at dinner. Their behaviour was exceedingly good, and the greatest order and decorum was maintained. A large number of patients are employed in the various shops, principally at carpentry, shoemaking, tailoring and painting. A number of the chairs are upholstered by the patients and cushions are also made by them. The hair-teasing machine is rather dangerous to patients using it, and a guard is required. A number of male patients work in the farm, the women are employed at needlework, and in the laundry, kitchen and dining halls. The resident Chaplain is most attentive to his duties. Patients assist at daily Mass. There were 265 patients at Mass on the Sunday preceding my visit. With regard to the suggestion to provide a ball-alley, it was considered there would not be sufficient patients able to take advantage of this form of exercise, and no action was taken. The report was deemed satisfactory to all concerned.

GRAVE ALARM.

EFFECT ON COUNTY FINANCES.

Grave alarm at the amount expended by the B.O.H. was expressed at South Tipperary Co. Council. Calculating that the estimate had been exceeded by £20,000 the Council asked the permission of the Minister to meet it with a loan repayable over 5 years, as otherwise the unduly heavy burden would shatter the Council's finances. "A downright swindle," was how Mr. P. L. Ryan (Chairman) described the Board's home assistance scheme.

MINOR CHAMPIONSHIPS AT DUNGARVAN. VICTORIES FOR LISMORE AND DUNGARVAN.

At the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday, before a large attendance, the Finals in the Minor Hurling and Football Championships for 1932 were brought off in fine dry weather and some really good play was witnessed. In hurling Lismore had an easy victory over Mount Sion, whom they defeated by 6 goals 1 point to 1 goal 1 point. In football, Dungarvan beat St. Stephen's (Waterford) by 3 goals 2 points to 2 goals.

Of the two, the football game was by far the better exhibition, and a great display by Dungarvan offers promise of a revival of the code in the West during the next few years. As a team, the boys from the Old Boro excelled themselves, and their success was a well-merited one in every respect. They revealed more effective and clever combination all round, and had the pull over St. Stephen's in every department, while individually, they succeeded in arousing memories of Waterford footballers who gained prominence in the distant past. They fought a great game with the city team, settling down to their work manfully and enthusiastically. Right through the first half they held the upper hand, but there was only a difference of three points in it at the interval, Dungarvan having scored 2 goals, to which St. Stephen's replied with their solitary major. Hopes that the city team would improve in the second half were dashed when the westerners went ahead another goal and two points, with really brilliant flashes of play, to take the minor title from St. Stephen's, who had held it for the past three years. The better team won.

An even greater blow for the city was yet to come. Mount Sion, champions for two years, failed to show anything like their true form against Lismore. True they were short one or two of their best players, notably Greene and Keane whose services were sadly missed, but even had they been in the side, they could hardly have made any appreciable difference. The principal cause of their defeat was the centrefield destructive tactics of Regan, who played against Tipperary last year. This lad was outstanding for the manner in which he broke up the rather loose approaches of the city forwards, who were never together and showed poor finish. The team in other departments also had its faults, and Mount Sion never succeeded in getting to grips with the opposition.

The Lismore backs played a sound part in their success, and H. Foley, their full back, took a large share in their success.

GAELIC LEAGUE.

YOUGHAL BRANCH.

At a special meeting of the Committee of the Gaelic League, Youghal Branch, held in the Bamba Hall, the Chairman (Mr. Dailhí Mac Slingaigh) stressed the necessity of fixing the attention of the public on the importance of fostering our native industries by buying Irish made goods. After a lengthy discussion, it was unanimously decided to organise an elaborate propaganda for home-products during the month of March, and the Hon. Secretary was directed to communicate with the Governing Body of the Irish Industrial Development Association and with the different Irish manufacturers seeking their co-operation for the project. It was also decided to approach local business men and ask them to display only Irish goods during the month and to push the sale of these goods as far as possible. The Committee also discussed the desirability of organising an Irish Goods Bazaar and Exhibition during Irish Week, the matter being ultimately held over pending the receipt of replies from the Association and the Manufacturers.

It was further agreed to organise a National Demonstration in the form of a Public Parade through the town on St. Patrick's Day to be followed by a public meeting at which addresses on the National ideal and the necessity of supporting home industries would be dealt by prominent speakers, the various Clubs and Associations in the town and the Branches of the G.A.A. in East Cork and West Waterford to be invited to co-operate. A deputation was appointed to approach the principals of the schools in the area with a view to getting young Ireland to participate in the demonstration.

Eoghan Mac Feorais, Seumas MacGilligan and Anraoi O Muirghreasa, were unanimously co-opted on the Committee to fill the vacancies caused by the departure of two members. A letter was read from the Urban Council stating that they had unanimously granted the League the use of the Town Hall on St. Patrick's Night, for a Gaelic Function. The Chairman said the Council had afforded them every assistance at all times required and he accordingly proposed a hearty vote of thanks to that body with the assurance that their kindness was highly appreciated by the League. The proposition was passed with acclamation. Preliminary arrangements were made for the usual collection in aid of the objects of the League.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., Chairman, Mrs. S. Hurley, P.C.; Capt. P. Dunne, Messrs. P. J. McMahon, P.C.; D. Dennehy, A. J. Fowkes, D. J. Linehan, P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.; J. Whelan, T. Beausang, E. Clancy, J. Kennedy, E. P. Lynch, Vice-Chairman.

Revised Bathing Bye-Laws. Messrs. J. Hodnett and Son, solrs., wrote enclosing for the Council's approval, a draft of the proposed new Bathing Bye-Laws prepared in accordance with the Council's instructions. It occurred to them that at 2 points the female and male bathing places, as the Council now proposed to fix them, were contiguous, namely, at Moll Goggins Corner and at the Broken Bridge of sea wall. In other words, there were so to speak, no "neutral" strips of beach at those places. Was that what the Council intended? Regarding the Bye-Law No. 6, what was to be the charge for use of bathing boxes, etc. The old charge was 2d. They also enclosed copy of the old Bye-laws and two ordinance maps which showed all the points on the shore which were mentioned in the bye-laws. After a short discussion, the Town Clerk suggested that a committee with the Town Surveyor, visit the Strand and go into the details. Mr. Clancy proposed that the members of the South Ward with the Town Surveyor and the Clerk be formed a committee. This was seconded by Mr. Whelan and passed. Capt. Dunne—I'm glad we are giving the South Ward members something to do (laughter).

Gallery In Ballroom. Arising out of a bill for work on the Gallery in the Ballroom, Mr. McMahon said there was a resolution on the books to the effect that any work costing over £2 should be done by contract. The Chairman said the gallery was in a very bad condition, and if any accident happened the Council would be held responsible. Mr. McMahon said the matter should have been brought before the Council. The Clerk suggested that in future anybody requiring the hall with the gallery down should be compelled to have the work done by a carpenter, and pay for it. This was agreed to.

Green Park. The Green Park Committee recommended that the dislodged concrete slabs on the promenade be broken where they were to serve as a foundation for resurfacing in concrete. The cracks in the remaining portions could be cement grouted. In the case of the Tennis Court, it was recommended that all defective uprights be renewed and placed in existing concrete sockets, said sockets to be raised 12 inches above level of Tennis Court. A concrete kerbing should be raised 6 inches above Tennis Court level, along full length of north side of Hard Courts level, and old and defective trellis work should be renewed where required along wooden promenade, and all painting and white washing required done at once. After a short discussion, it was proposed by Mr. McMahon to adopt the recommendations of the Committee, to get an estimate from the Town Surveyor and to invite tenders for the work. This was seconded by Mr. Dennehy, and passed unanimously. A letter was read from Co. Ronayne, in reply to a communication from the Clerk regarding the suggesting widening of the footpath along the sea-front. He wouldn't add to his arguments in favour of the idea. There was a danger—especially during the summer congestion—of somebody being accidentally pushed off the path, and run over by a motor scorching past. He wasn't au fait with the duties of the Urban Council, but he thought, caring and promoting local interests would be one of them—which, of course, would include seeing a place didn't get a "bad name." If so, the Clerk's reply seemed strange to him. He (the writer) was practically told to apply to the Cork Co. Council. In fact the reply to that matter and to the question of a shelter on the Ferry-point might be summed up as follows: "My dear sir,—It is nothing to us if residents or visitors catch 'their death of cold' waiting on the Ferry-point, or if they are run over by motors. Both these matters are outside our jurisdiction."

Mr. Beausang suggested calling a special meeting to deal with the matter (laughter). No action was taken. Wages Etc. On the proposition of Mr. O'Gorman, seconded by Mr. Linehan, a cheque for £95 3s. 8d., week's wages, etc., was passed. Accident At Cork Hill. A letter was read from Mr. W. Kelleher, Cork Hill, stating that a child of his had fallen and broken her leg, owing to the bad condition of the approach to his house. Mr. McMahon—That is very decent of him—not looking for compensation like others. Instructions were given to have the complaint remedied. British Legion Whist Drive. The British Legion applied for the use of the Town Hall on the 28th, to hold a Whist Drive in aid of their funds. On the proposition of Mr. Beausang, seconded by Mr. Dennehy, the application was granted.

Strand Improvements. The Clerk reported that the Committee appointed had visited the Strand to see if any means could be devised to prevent the flooding that took place from time to time. They had interviewed a prominent resident who said he feared they couldn't prevent the flooding caused by heavy seas breaking over the sea wall. Mrs. Hurley complained that the place was flooded by heavy rains as well as by the sea, and surely they could do something to let the water run off. Mr. O'Gorman said the Committee had the assistance of Mr. Flynn, Department Co. Surveyor, on the occasion. It was evident that nothing could be done to carry away at the time the huge volumes of sea water that broke over the sea wall, but they might do something to carry off the water after heavy rains, by sloping the road towards the promenade, or running a pipe to the back. They couldn't afford to go to any great expense. The road was a main road and therefore, a matter for the Co. Council. Replying to Mrs. Hurley, the Clerk said they received £75 towards the maintenance of the road. It was decided to carry out the suggestions of the Committee, and to reopen the question of maintenance with the Co. Council at the end of the financial year.

New Buildings. Mr. H. T. Spreadborough, Town Surveyor, wrote approving of the plans of two bungalows to be erected by Mr. Walsh, on the Seaford Road, subject to certain alterations in the sanitary arrangements. This was agreed to. Housing Schemes. A long discussion took place on the question of the proposed erection of 10 houses on the Sea View site and 10 on the field immediately to the north of the Gas Works. Mrs. Hurley, Messrs. O'Gorman, Fowkes, and other expressed strong opinions against the suitability of the latter site owing to its proximity to the Gas Works and the stench from the purifiers. Mr. Whelan said when he had approved of the site at a former meeting he did so because the L.G. Inspector had made no objection on the grounds stated. Messrs. Lynch and McMahon said that wasn't the time to object. The Council should go on with the houses as the public were complaining they were holding up the work. The Clerk said it was by the L.G. not the Council that the work was being held up. He was finally instructed to wire to Dublin to let them have the plans asked for some time ago for the required alterations.

Free Sites. Arising out of a discussion on the granting of free sites for workmen's dwellings to the Improved Dwellings Society and the Sailors and Soldiers Land Trust. Mr. McMahon said they were fools to give the land away. If it belonged to themselves personally they would not give an inch of it. Mr. Lynch said he was against it from the first. The Clerk said it was necessary to reiterate the resolution granting the sites. This was done on the proposition of Mr. Dennehy, seconded by Mr. O'Gorman, and passed. It was unanimously decided on the proposition of Mr. McMahon to retain all other sites for the future for their own use. Sympathy. Mrs. Hurley said that since their last meeting a cloud had been cast over the town by the drowning at sea of young Thomas Smith. She proposed a vote of sympathy with his poor mother in her great loss and expressed the hope that something would be done for her by the people. She (Mrs. Hurley) would be glad to give every assistance possible. Capt. Dunne seconded the proposition. The Chairman said they were all in sympathy with that proposition. Several members having expressed their association with it, it was passed in silence. Fire On Strand. The Town Supt. reported that on the 13th, the Fire Brigade were summoned to a fire at Mrs. Hurley's on the Strand. When they got there it had been practically got under. The volunteers called in expected some payment. Mr. Lynch said that he thought there was a hose and men available on the Strand, but they weren't called in. Mrs. Hurley said she was in bed ill at the time and in the hurry and excitement they phoned to the Guards who arrived quickly followed by the Brigade. She didn't think at the time about the hose on the Strand. Thanks to two of her neighbours—Messrs. Edinborough and O'Brien—the fire was quickly got under. She had to pay a high tribute to the manner in which the Town Supt. and his men worked. She would never say a word against him again (laughter). Mr. Dennehy said when he arrived on the scene he saw the Civic Guards under Sergt. O'Beirne, working like trojans. They certainly deserved great credit. The Clerk said that particulars about the hose in the Strand and the names of the local volunteers were given in the notice issued to all householders some time ago. Mr. O'Gorman said that was a pet subject of his. Nevertheless, he didn't know where the hose was kept, or the names of the Fire Brigade on whom

Waterford County Committee of Agriculture.

TOBACCO GROWING.

A PROFITABLE CROP.

FARMERS ANXIOUS TO GROW IT.

Mr. Thomas Flynn, V.C., presided at the meeting of the above. There were also present—Messrs M. Curran, Jas. Daly, P. R. Power, P. B. Sheridan, and Wm. Stack. The Department wrote approving of the various schemes and allocations of the Committee. They also asked for the views of the Committee and their suggestions in the revision of the schemes operating in the County.

Bull Premiums.

The following applications for Premium Bulls were granted:—

D. Moloney, Ballyphilip, Knockanore, half-bred, Registered Dairy Bull; Mrs. Condon, West Street, Tallow, pure-bred Registered Dairy Bull; J. E. McConville, Caherbrack, half-bred Registered Dairy Bull; Patk. Flynn, Ballylancan, Aberdeen Angus; Mrs. Carroll, Lacken, pure-bred Dairy Bull; Ed. Morrissey, Whitestown, Clonea, pure-bred registered Dairy Bull; T. Hanrahan, Ballinamalt, half-bred registered. Further applications will be considered by the Secretary, who was empowered by the committee to grant premiums.

Subsidies To Shows.

On the motion of Mr. Daly, seconded by Mr. Stack, £100 subsidy was voted to a County Show to be held at Dungarvan, on July, 13th 1933.

Tobacco Growing.

Mr. Sheridan said many people were anxious to have the question of tobacco growing in the County considered by the committee. He wished to know if they would encourage it. Chairman—We should go into the question now.

Mr. Sheridan—A number of farmers are talking about it and some have come to me on the matter. Mr. Stack—You cannot grow tobacco in this country.

Chairman—We have not tried it as yet. Mr. Sheridan—They have grown it in Co. Wickford.

Mr. Cogan—There is no good in growing it except you can market the crop. The seed was generally sown in March, but it was a far better plan for farmers to buy plants and plant the crop in May or June. It could be planted then like cabbage.

Mr. Curran—By the time it would be ripe the crop would be all stolen. Mr. Daly said Father Sweetman, who grew it extensively in Wexford estimated the profits at £100 per acre. He had been lecturing on the subject up and down the country. The most important point is to have a market for the crop when harvested. There was no use in having a commodity unless they could sell it. If there was a guarantee given by the Manufacturers it would be a good thing.

Mr. Cogan—It is quite easy to grow it, but the curing and the marketing of the crop is the big problem. Chairman—They say the crop grows better on bog land than elsewhere.

Mr. Daly—The late Sir Nugent Everard, grew tobacco on a considerable scale, and it was a great success. The revenue duty makes a big difference.

Mr. Cogan—It must be grown under license and under the supervision of the Excise Authorities and the license will hardly be granted unless some manufacturer is interested in it. I saw where there was £40 per acre profit from growing it, but that was outlandish.

Mr. Daly—Father Sweetman, O.S.B. has said over and over again that £100 per acre was easily obtainable as a good average profit per acre and that there would be no difficulty in making that amount.

Mr. Curran—There would be a lot of labour employed at it. Mr. Sheridan—If there is any profit at all the farmers would grow it. Mr. Curran—It would be better than growing wheat.

Mr. Cogan—There is a great desire to grow it all over the country. Mr. Sheridan thought it would be a good thing if they had some plots of tobacco put down in the county.

Mr. Power—Have you any idea of what the cost of the plants would be? Mr. Cogan said the plants could be had at 3d. each.

Chairman—Would there be any difficulty in getting the plants? Mr. Cogan—No.

Chairman—How many plants would you want for an acre? Mr. Cogan said about 4,000 plants would do for an acre. The plants are sown on the flat with a good space between the rows.

Mr. Sheridan suggested having some tobacco plots laid down as an experiment. Eventually, the matter of tobacco growing was deferred to next meeting when it will be further considered and further information on the subject will be available.

Large catches of salmon are reported from Carrick-on-Suir and district. The wholesale prices are 1/6 to 1/8 per lb. they could call in case of need. The Chairman said that notice referred to by the Clerk asked all householders to post it up inside their doors. On the suggestion of Mr. O'Gorman, it was decided to re-issue the notices in question.

KILMATHOMAS NEWS.

NO DISTRICT COURT.
In consequence of Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J., being on leave, the usual monthly District Court at Kilmathomas was not held.

BANK CHANGES.
Mr. F. W. Newport, manager of the Kilmathomas branch of the Provincial Bank, has been transferred on promotion to Listowel (Co. Kerry). This highly-esteemed gentleman was very popular in Kilmathomas, where he had lived for the last 64 years, his personality being regarded as all that was good and noble. His departure is very keenly regretted not alone by his office colleagues and the countless clients of the Bank here, but by his numerous friends throughout the whole wide parishes. Of a most gracious and obliging disposition, he carries with him on his well-merited promotion the very best of good wishes of all for years of unending happiness in lovely Listowel of "The Kingdom," where it is now installed in the performance of the duties appertaining to his responsible post. Mr. Mulcahy, of the ballydehob branch, succeeds Mr. Newport, at Kilmathomas.

A POPULAR PUBLIC APPOINTMENT.
The unanimous appointment by the County Board of Public Assistance—of Dr. J. C. Walsh, Bonmahon, (Coroner for East Waterford) to the position of Medical Officer of the Kilmathomas Dispensary District, which was rendered vacant by the lamented death of Dr. Bryan Foley, was learned of with great joy by the people of Kilmathomas, Stradbally and Comeragh Valley, who are long since well aware of his admirable attainments in the noble profession he so ably adorns. Dr. Walsh is undoubtedly a great surgeon and physician. In private life, his kindness, good humour, tolerance, and clubability, added to a unique knowledge of men and affairs, and a shrewd judgment, in which there is no uncharitableness, make him as loved as he is lovable. No one in the district he is about to leave will ever forget him, or cease to miss him. Indeed in Dr. Walsh, Kilmathomas will have a worthy successor to Dr. Foley, of honoured memory.

THE BONMAHON DISPENSARY VAGANCY.
We understand that the Medical Officership of the Bonmahon Dispensary District, which is rendered vacant by the appointment of Dr. Walsh for Kilmathomas, will be filled in accordance with the provisions of the Local Appointments Act. Applications will be invited from Medical practitioners in An Sionast by the Local Appointments Commissioners, who will subsequently submit three names to the Waterford County Board of Public Assistance.

THE WATERFORDS.
The Joint Masters, the Marquis of Waterford and Mr. R. Russell, were amongst the large party of regular followers who "fell in" in the wake of the Waterford Foxhounds at the meet at Kilmathomas on Friday of last week. A series of smart gallops were served out of the local coverts, but the best and most enjoyably exhilarating spin of the day was mapped by a stout fox, found at Ballyturn and lost in the wood-sheltered rockland of Cariganure—the refuge of many a famous Reynard pursued by this gallant pack in the past.

HUNTING MISHAP.
While hunting with the Waterfords on the occasion referred to in the preceding par, Mr. Joe Walsh, Hotel, Kilmathomas, was thrown from his horse, and sustained a broken leg. He was removed to Dr. White's Nursing Home, at Cappoquin, where he was detained for treatment. A few years ago, Mr. Walsh was one of the leading amateur riders at Southern Ireland Point-to-Point meetings. A universally-popular sportsman, his troops and legions of friends will be anxious for his speedy recovery from the effects of this unfortunate mishap.

TO YOUR NOTICE.
Mr. J. Flynn, family butcher, Kilmathomas, has a striking pronouncement published elsewhere in the present copy. Kindly see same.

DEATH IN ENGLAND.
A few days ago came the doleful news of the death, at his residence, Watford, England, of Mr. Joseph Heany, brother of Mrs. Norah Kirwan, Railway Road, Kilmathomas, and uncle of Mr. Michael Kirwan and the Misses Margaret and Mary Kirwan, do., and of Mr. John Kirwan, Watford. Mr. Heany, who was still in his early forties, fell a victim to the flu epidemic which has been raging in Watford for several weeks past. Ten years ago he left his native Kilmathomas to take up a lucrative post in Watford, where he had been faring finely until the dread germ of influenza closed his career. Possessed of a bright and cheerful disposition, his friends were legion on both sides of the Channel.

SOME KILMAC PRICES.

RUGBY FOOTBALL MATCH.

Playing at home in a field kindly given by Mr. Fred Boyle, Whitestown, on last Sunday evening, the Kilmathomas R.F.C. XV, riddled the visiting Carrick-on-Suir team in all phases of what proved a really good exhibition of the code, right well enjoyed by a very large crowd of spectators. P. Kirwan, R. Hearne, R. Casey, and W. Power, were the big men of the mix. Final score—Kilmathomas—1 try and 1 penalty goal (6 pts.). Carrick-on-Suir—1 try (3 pts.). Mr. T. G. Flahavan, refereed.

CLONEA-POWER J. H. MEDAL TOURNEY.

At Clonea-Power Gaelic Sportfield, on last Sunday evening, the Maurice Davin's (Carrick-on-Suir) crossed ashen-blades with the home fifteen in the semi-final of the above Tourney, with Mr. Denis Healy (Millvale H.C.) in charge of the siren. A great gathering of enthusiasts eyed the encounter, which was one of the best caman clashes ever played on that prettily-positioned Clondiagh Valley pitch. A ding-dong display from both bunches all the way closed in favour of the visitors by 2 goals to 1. The Comeragh Mountains were snow-covered on the occasion and a cold northerly wind held sway. The wintry conditions, however, did not trouble players or onlookers. The winners meet Mount Sion (Waterford), in the final.

CLONCOSKRAINE ESTATE.

SISTERS PURCHASE. TENANCY QUESTION.

Before Mr. Justice Meredith, in the High Court, Dublin, on Friday, Feb. 17th last. Judgment was delivered in an action in which the Very Rev. George Samuel Mayers, the Deanery, Waterford, and William Orr, 23 Eglantine avenue, Belfast, the plaintiffs, as trustees of the will of Sir John Nugent Humble, claimed to have questions and matters arising in the execution of the trusts of Sir John's will and of the will of Charles Nugent Humble, Cloncoskaine, Dungarvan, and in the administration of the estate of Elizabeth Nugent O'Dell, determined by the Court.

Mr. Jellett, K.C., and Mr. Matheson (instructed by Messrs. Barrington and Son) appeared for the plaintiffs. The defendants were represented by Mr. Overend, K.C., and Mr. Poole (instructed by Messrs. A. J. and A. Robinson) for Mary Frances Nugent Humble, Cloncoskaine, Dungarvan; Mr. Newell (instructed by Mr. Anthony Carroll) for the Rev. John Goings, the Rectory, Dungarvan; and John Kennedy, and Mary Carroll, both of Lacken Lodge, Dungarvan; Mr. Walker (instructed by Mr. Frank Gordon) for Mary Nugent, 15 Durban villas, Camden Hill, London, heiress of the late Elizabeth Nugent O'Dell, and Mr. T. P. McCarthy (instructed by Mr. W. E. Chapman) for Joan Nugent, 3, Rue du Lycée, Pau, France, one of the next-of-kin of the late Elizabeth Nugent O'Dell.

Mary Nugent Humble and the late Elizabeth Nugent O'Dell were sisters and were entitled as tenants in common to a mortgage which affected the Cloncoskaine estate, the property of their brother, the late Charles Nugent Humble. They contracted to buy the mansion house and demesne from the executors for the amount of the mortgage and £1,500. The question to be decided was whether the purchase by the two ladies was as joint tenants or as tenants in common. As Elizabeth Nugent O'Dell had died her intention could not be ascertained.

Mr. Justice Meredith held that a purchase as joint tenants was intended.

CO. WATERFORD EVICTED TENANTS AND LANDLESS PEOPLES ASSOCIATION.

A MIGRATORY LAND DISTRIBUTION SCHEME INITIATED.

A meeting of the members of above Association, has been arranged for Saturday, March, 4th, at 2.30 p.m. in Dungarvan, in compliance with the request of having the applications of all reps. of evicted tenants, uneconomic and landless people forwarded without delay for consideration in the new Migratory land scheme which has already begun. The Stevenson Murphy estate, Ballinacourty, was acquired for distribution on the application of the above Association, and as a result of continued pressure an Inspector visited the estate last week, and initiated plans for the operation of a Migratory Scheme in consequence of the mixed up state of the Small Holdings, and the deteriorated condition of the dwellings. Many new modern dwellings and Outfices will be built.

ITS LURKING DANGERS.

(To the Editor "Dungarvan Observer")
Dear Sir,—The subjects dealt with in the accompanying letter, are, I think, of interest and importance, so I hope you will find space for it in your popular paper.

The lower part of the letter deals with a suggestion of mine for widening the approach to the town—especially the narrow path at the top of Station Hill, and opposite the Loretto Convent.

The Council, in their reply, made no comment or observation of any sort on my suggestion; but merely remarked the road and path were the property of the Co. Cork County Council, and therefore, not under the jurisdiction of the Urban Council.—Yours faithfully,

(A) Gentlemen—Reference my recent complaint:—The following was the condition of the Strand Street refuse-bins site at 9.30 a.m. on last Saturday. Bits of various vegetables were scattered on the ground; also, a collection of large fish bones, and two, nearly whole egg-shells. In Hanover Street the condition was worse.

The battered, broken buckets, and boxes, overflowing with refuse, which residents themselves supply, can never be a proper substitute for the regular refuse-bins. Until these proper bins are in universal use, the only way, I can see, to deal with the matter is by supplying the men with short shovels and hand brushes, such as I describe. I might mention there is nothing original in my suggestion; the sort of shovels and brushes may be seen in all large cities, where the road sweepers work amongst the horse traffic.

The long handled shovels recently supplied, are not suitable for this sort of work.

(I should like to see a bunch of our people taken on a tour of the country towns and villages of Holland, Belgium, or Denmark. Everywhere, even in the smallest villages is perfect sanitation, and spotless cleanliness—what a contrast!)

(B) I am taking this opportunity to reply to your letter of the 10th. instant:—I will not add to my arguments for widening the footpath, except to say:—There is a very real danger—especially during the summer congestion—of somebody being accidentally pushed off the path, and run over by one of the numerous "scooting" motors.

I cannot say I am au fait with the duties of Urban Councils, but I should think, caring, and promoting local interests would be one of them—which, of course, would include, seeing a place did not get a "bad name." If so your reply seems strange to me. You practically tell me to apply to the Co. Cork County Council to have the path widened. In fact your reply, and your reply to the question of a public shelter on the ferry-point, which I urged some time back, might, I think, be summed up as follows:—"My dear Sir, it is nothing to us if residents, or visitors collapse, or catch their death of cold, waiting on the ferry-point for the boat; or if they are run over by motors. Both these matters are outside our jurisdiction."—Yours faithfully, moved they had to abandon the project for the present. The road has been in the course of repair for some time past, and recently discontent was expressed when a number of people in the district were unable to find employment on it. Objection was raised by a section to the employment of farmers on carting work and a number of men, it is stated, interfered with the carters who persevered in their work. All work has been suspended and traffic has had to be diverted to an old bye-road on which a daily service bus got broken up owing to the nature of the road. Civic Guards are on duty at the place. The work here has been carried out under the ordinary maintenance grants. In an adjacent area relief work had to be suspended owing to disputes of a similar nature.

OBITUARY.

DEATH OF MRS. M. O'CALLAGHAN, CORK

A great gloom was cast over Cappoquin on last Saturday when the sad news was received announcing the unexpected death of Mrs. May O'Callaghan, 44 Grenville Place, Cork, after a remarkably short illness. Deceased was the second daughter of Mrs B. Cunningham and the late Mr. Jas. Cunningham, Allen Street, Cappoquin, and had been resident in Cork for the past 15 years. She was married to a highly-respectable Cork gentleman, Mr. John O'Callaghan, who fills an important position in the firm of Messrs. O'Sullivan, Egg and Poultry Merchants, Cork, and was a great favourite with all in her native town, and enjoyed equal popularity in the city by the Lee since she went to reside there 15 years ago. Her premature death at such an early age would have caused the greatest regret under any circumstances, but the fact that she has left five young children as well as a loving and devoted husband to mourn her loss has added a special poignancy to the sad event, and the most sincere sympathy of her numerous friends in Cappoquin and Cork will now be tendered to her popular mother, husband and other relatives in the sad affliction which has befallen them.

The remains were removed from Fernville Hospital to SS. Peter and Paul's Catholic Church, Cork, on Sunday evening, and on Monday morning Requiem Masses for the repose of her soul were offered up there in the presence of a large gathering of mourning relatives and friends. The funeral later took place on that day to the family burial ground in Affane cemetery, Cappoquin, and proved one of the most impressive and representative manifestations of public sympathy and regret seen coming from Cork to Cappoquin for a long time.

Close on 40 motor cars followed the remains from the city, while at Lismore and other points along the route to Cappoquin large numbers of the more prominent people from the latter town met the funeral and swelled its proportions to such an extent that by the time Cappoquin was reached the cortege proved a magnificent tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased.

The Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., Cappoquin, met the remains at Lismore, and heading the sad cortege to the cemetery, read the last prayers at the graveside amid every evidence of deep regret and sympathy on the part of the large gathering of mourning relatives and friends present.

The chief mourners were—John O'Callaghan, Cork (husband) and children; Mrs. B. Cunningham, Cappoquin, (mother); Mrs. Condon, Blarney; Mrs. B. Driscoll, Cappoquin; and Miss Gissie Cunningham, do., (sisters); Eddie, John Joe, Patrick, James and Willie Cunningham, do., (brothers); Mrs. E. Cunningham, do., and Miss Annie O'Callaghan, Cork, (sisters-in-law); D. O'Callaghan, Cork, J. Condon, Blarney, and Simon Driscoll, Cappoquin, (brothers-in-law); Mrs. D. O'Callaghan, Cork; Mrs. Condon, do.; Mrs. Michael O'Mahony and family, do.; Jas. Lincoll, Cappoquin; Mrs. Hogan, Ard-sallagh; Mrs. Glenn, Cork; Mrs. Singleton, do.; E. P. and Mrs. Doyle, do., cousins, relatives and immediate friends.

A beautiful glass wreath from the staff of Messrs. O'Sullivan, Egg and Poultry Merchants, Cork, as well as a large number of Mass Cards from relatives and friends in Cork, Cappoquin, and other places were laid on the grave.—R.I.P.

DEATH OF MISS MASON, AGLISH.

The death took place at her residence, Aglish, on the 16th, inst., of Miss Lena Mason, daughter of Mr. Richard Mason, Cappoquin, after a brief illness and fortified by the rites of the church.

The late Miss Mason was an upright and honourable lady who carried on a large general business and was highly respected by all who came in contact with her and appreciated her charitable disposition and generous nature. Her death in early life is deeply regretted.—R.I.P.

The interment took place in the Aglish cemetery on Saturday last in the presence of a very large and representative attendance. The last prayers were recited by Very Rev. J. Gleeson, P.P., and Rev. M. Norris, C.C.

The chief mourners were—Richard Mason, Cappoquin, (Father); Kitty Mason, (née) Mrs. Meany, Carrick, (step-sister); Pat, (Michl. Jas. and Joe Mason (step-brothers); T. Brown, Killogher; P. and T. Brown, do.; Mrs. O'Conner, Cork; A. and Mrs. McCarthy, Tallow; T. and Mrs. McCarthy, Dungarvan; J. McGrath, do.; Misses Tully, Tallow; Mrs. McCarthy, Tallow; Mrs. Bransfield, Miss Merigan, Mrs. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Beston, (cousins).

KNOCKBRACK, DUNGARVAN.

GRAZING TO LET.

WE have been instructed by Mrs. E. M. Fleming, to invite Tenders for the Grazing of the above Lands, containing about 20 Acres, for the ensuing 11 months.

J. F. WILLIAMS & SON, Solicitors, Dungarvan.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

At the weekly meeting of the above on Friday night, Mr. M. J. Keane, V.C., presided. The others present were—Messrs. J. F. Moloney, B. Dee, D. Foley, J. Hackett and T. Power. The pay-sheet amounting to £10 8s. 0d., was passed.

B.S.'s Report.

In his report, the B.S. stated that he had the stones drawn for Shear's Street, Abbeyside and a roller could be got by giving 2 days notice to the Co. Surveyor.

Application For Use Of Hall. A number of applications for the use of the Hall, were referred to the Clerk.

Consultant Engineer.

A letter from the Department was read stating that there was no objection to Mr. A. A. Murphy, acting as Consultant Engineer for the Council in their coming Housing Scheme.

Mr. Power—Can the Council proceed now without a further meeting?

B.S.—We must consider the plans.

Mr. Dee—It would be well to call a special meeting.

Mr. Power—Will they be done by contract?

B.S.—That will come up at a later meeting most likely they will.

M.O.'s Report—(1) Bathing Boxes.

The M.O. (Dr. Casey) in his report called attention to the condition of the bathing boxes which he stated were used as sanitary conveniences, and their condition was a public nuisance and a disgrace.

Mr. Hackett—It's perfectly right, the bathing boxes are in a terrible way, all open and exposed.

Mr. Keane—It's a pity that they are allowed to be broken down.

Mr. Hackett—It was the storms and the sea that broke them; there was nothing malicious.

The M.O. (Dr. Casey) who attended the meeting suggested that collapsible canvas ones be used, as were used in Tramore. They could be taken away when the season was over. The existing ones were becoming a nuisance every year.

The S.S.O. was ordered to report on them.

Report On The Water Works.

Reporting on the Glendine Water Works, the M.O. said the filter bed was in a good condition. The flow in the bed appeared to be flowing too fast. There was a leakage in the storage tank with the result that an amount of water was going waste. He suggested that the B.S. get a new storage tank. The collection source of this water works was in virgin soil.

The Kildangan water-works were in a deplorable condition. The collection source was in a bog, grazed by cattle. The filter beds were their chief source of pollution. The filter beds to his mind were not filter beds at all, but were a collection of polluted material. The storage tank was exposed and open for anyone to throw material into it.

Sewerage.

Reporting on this matter, the M.O. said he was asked to furnish a report on the sewerage system of the town. He pointed out that money would be spent during the year on improving the sewerage system. The Council should put up arguments to get money. Referring to the sewers, he said that the slushen should be done away with. He would be happy to facilitate the Council in this matter and any other sewers in the town the members had in mind, he asked them to give him the names and he would see about them.

Mr. Hackett agreed as far as the slushen is concerned, it should be done away with. We approached the Department already in connection with it.

Mr. Keane—We should be grateful to the M.O. for his attention to the health of the town. All agree that a proper sewerage scheme is very essential to Public Health.

Mr. Dee—If Dr. Casey and Mr. McGrath went to Abbeyside, there are plenty places in Abbeyside where there is defective sewerage.

Mr. Power agreed and named some defective sewers there.

Mr. Keane—Every possible effort should be made to get a grant.

The B.S. said the amount for the Sewerage Scheme proposed years ago before his time was £7,000. To-day it would cost about £15,000. Some had already been carried out, others were very much needed. It would go into about £13,000 or £14,000. Referring to the building of a storage tank at Glendine, he went on to point out that it would be cheaper to build the new one inside the present one.

The M.O. suggested that water meters be used in the big establishments in the town.

Mr. Keane—I advocated the putting of meters in the big establishments. What would they cost?

B.S.—They vary according to the size.

Mr. Keane suggested getting four for a start.

Mr. Moloney—I suggest firstly to get quotations.

This was agreed on and the Council decided that Mr. Walsh and Mr. McGrath, visit the Kildangan water-works and report on it.

Congratulations to President De Valera.

A resolution congratulating President de Valera on his recent election victory, proposed by Mr. D. Foley, seconded by Mr. B. Dee, was put on the agenda for the next meeting.

MARRIED.

BULFIN and TERRY—Feb., 20th, 1933, at the Parish Church, Abbey-side; (with Nuptial Mass) by Very Rev. M. C. Crotty, P.P. John, son of the late Thomas Bulfin, and Mrs. Catherine Bulfin, Fethard, Co. Tipperary, to Margaret Josephine (Pearl), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Augustine Terry, Abbeyside, Dun-garvan.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

LOCAL ELECTIONS.

The L.G. Department have announce-d that elections for County and Urban Councils will be held in June next. As the elections will be on the new Register which comes into force on June 1st, all who wish to vote thereat should see at once if there names are on the register and if not have notice given.

LORD ABBOT BEREAVED.

Mr. Patrick Hickey, Rossmore, Thurles, who died at his residence a few days ago, aged 99 years was father of the Rt. Rev. Stanislaus Hickey, O.Cist., Lord Abbot of Mt. Mellary, and of Rev. Mother Mercy Convent, Kells, and the late Sister Aloysius, Mercy Convent, Ballymahon. The in-terment took place at Rossmore after Requiem Mass celebrated by the Lord Abbot of Mount Mellary. There were a large number of priests present.

CO. COUNCIL.

A Quarterly meeting of the Co. Council will be held on Tuesday next at Dungarvan.

DEATH OF MR. J. KIELY.

BALLYNABANOGUE, KILMAC-THOMAS. We regret to announce the death of Mr. John Kiely, Ballynabogue, Kil-macThomas, which took place at his residence, on Thursday morning after a brief illness, fortified by the rites of the Church.

The deceased was a well-known and highly-respected man. In his young days he was evicted from his farm at Lisnennel, Dungarvan and rendered all the trials and sufferings inci-dental to such harsh treatment. A sound and true Irishman he always fought for the cause of the down-trodden and oppressed and never spared himself when he could be of use to his fellow men. Some years ago he was re-instated on a farm at Ballynabogue, but his heart was ever in the old home he loved so dearly, adjacent to Dungarvan. A good living man and a pious Catholic, he has gone to his eternal reward and sincere is the sympathy extended to his bereaved wife, daughters and re-latives in their bereavement.—R.I.P. The funeral will take place on Sat-urday at 10 o'clock.

DEATH OF MRS. M. NOONAN.

BALLYMACABRY. We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Mary Noonan, which took place at her residence, Post Office, Bally-macabry, on Tuesday last, after a brief illness fortified by the rites of Holy Church. The deceased was an upright and honourable lady, noted for her kindness to the poor and her charitable disposition. Her death is deeply regretted by all who knew her and deep sympathy is extended to her bereaved family. The interment took place at Four Mile Water, on Thurs-day, after Requiem Office and High Mass for the repose of her soul. There was a large and representative con-gregation present to pay a last tribute to the worth of the deceased.—R.I.P.

GRAND CONCERT.

SCOUTS DEN, ABBEYSIDE. A Grand Concert will be held in the Scouts Den, Abbeyside, on Tuesday next, February 28th, under the aus-pices of St. Vincent de Paul St. Augustine's Convent. There will be a list of songs, dances, Musical items and a humorous Sketch, "Higher Finance" by the famous Cap-poguin Players. The great work done by the Society in Abbeyside and dis-tricts is appreciated by all and par-ticularly the needy poor, to whom the Society is a God send. We hope the public will show their apprecia-tion by turning up to the concert in big numbers on next Tuesday night. Popular prices for admission. Don't miss this treat.

NOTE.

The house for best Value in Drapery Goods, Phil Walsh's, Square, Dun-garvan.

CO. COUNCIL WORRIES.

"Worm Cutler" writes praising Mr Cunningham's letter in our last issue and suggesting that he propose a re-solution to reduce the roadmen's wages from 35/- in Cork, Mr Lemass said a farm labourers wage with board, etc., did not exceed 17/6 a week and why should ratepayers have to pay 35/- to road-workers. Roadmen working on grants get 24/-. Leitrim, Cavan and Galway, the road wages are 20/- and in Down and Armagh, 22/6. He says if there is not a reduc-tion in wages those Councilors should not be returned at the next election.

OMITTED.

In the list of Mares securing nomi-nations at recent Shows and published in our last issue, the name of Mr. J. J. Curran, Ballinacourty, was omitted.

PROLIFIC SHEEP.

A sheep, the property of Master Liam Morrissey, Mount Mellary Seminary, gave birth to 4 lambs on Mr. Morrissey's farm at Ballymac-mague, this week.

DEATH OF MRS. FARREL.

KILROSSANTY. Mrs. K. Farrell (nee O'Mahony), died at her residence, Carrigmorna, Kilrossanty, on Tuesday and was in-terred in Kilrossanty on Thursday. She was a most upright lady and highly respected.—R.I.P.

PARTY AT SCOUTS' DEN.

A very enjoyable Tea Party was held in the Den of the 4th St. Joseph's Catholic Boy Scouts, Abbeyside, on Tuesday night. The Party which was for the Cubs (the younger members of Troop not yet invested as Scouts), was organised by the Scout Master assist-ed by the A.S.M., and some of the senior members of the Troop. The Troop Chaplain (Very Rev. M. C. Crotty, P.P.) opened the proceed-ings and, indeed, an enjoyable even-ing was put in by the Cubs. Songs and Musical items were rendered by various members and a great Party was brought to a close with the sing-ing of "Faith of our Fathers," and the Scouts National Anthem.

WATERFORD BULLS: AT CORK SHOW.

At the Cork Show this week, the fol-lowing awards were won by Water-ford breeders:—Mr. P. Flynn, Bally-macmague, 3rd. prize in Pure-bred Dairy Class; Mr. T. Flynn, Kilnac-riga, Lismore, was awarded 2nd prize and Mount Mellary R. In the non-pedigree class, Mr. J. Hennessy, Kil-lossera, got 2nd. and Mr. C. Connors, Grange, R. Mr. Maxwell, Moorehill, was granted 2nd prize in Pure-bred Shorthorn Class.

DANCING.

The Farmers' Dance, to be held at the Hotel Monatrea, on Sunday night next, 26th. inst., bids fair to eclipse the many successful dances heretofore held at this popular venue.

Youghal Notes.

MORE BUILDINGS.

In these days of general depression in practically all kinds and classes of business, here there and everywhere, any indication to the contrary is one well worthy of remark and congratulation. In common with very many,
if not all the towns in the Free State—Youghal has had its own severe crack of the whip in this direction. Her shipping trade, which not so many years ago included scores of craft of a varied description from schooners to masted barques, giving remunerative employment to hundreds of hands has now dwindled down to one solitary 3-master. The local deepsea fishing industry, one of the most important in the South has been similarly practically wiped out, one motor boat only being left. A like tale could be told of land industries that once flourished here, such as brick, lace, etc. In the former line, Youghal supplied the building material not alone locally to the neighbouring towns and country side, but it exported large quantities by sea. With the all round change in the financial status of those who formerly spent money readily on the beautiful lace manufactured here by hand, that industry was also badly hit. In view of those and many other saddening results of the gradual revolutionary evolutions of the times, it is a real source of pleasure to be able to point to one branch that is holding its own in spite of all the prevailing handicaps—the building industry, cabined, cribbed and confined under the adjoining hill there is practically little or no room in the town itself for new ventures, but new buildings, houses and bungalows, are being erected continually in the Strand suburb and on the salubrious heights of Knockaverry, otherwise Cnoc-amhuir. In the field opposite McCurtainstown, formerly known as Williamstown, almost every available site has been utilised. A few short years ago it was a bare field, with not a stone upon a stone on it. And now the enterprising builders are going farther afield. Along the Main Road to Cork. In the very near future, it may be safely said, that this ideally situated district will be unrecognisable by a Youghal man who returns home after being some years in a foreign land. The whole place will become a new Youghal, of the Boachail Naadh. It is really encouraging to see every one of these new buildings occupied by purchasers or tenants soon after their completion.

LANGUAGE AND INDUSTRY.

As will be seen by the report elsewhere of a recent meeting of the Committee of the Youghal Branch Gaelic League, an ambitious and elaborate programme is in hand for the coming month. The Committee are evidently acting on the advice of some old philosopher—"Aim high and you will get somewhere; aim low and you may reach the bottom." These matters of language and industry furnish a common ground on which all Irishmen may meet and prove themselves real patriots and find a welcome change from the whirling of politics—parochial of the "la haute." One of the greatest troubles in connection with politics is that many well-meaning people identify it with patriotism with them on matters of detail are denounced as unpatriotic. While there is plenty of room for difference of opinions in the political sphere, all Irishmen can agree in the main on questions of the native language and industries. Some may think that the powers that be are pushing the former too strenuously, and perhaps the latter, but surely there can be difference of opinions without hurt or harm to the great principles involved. It is to be hoped that everyone having the welfare of the country truly at heart, will do all they can to back up the local Branch of the Gaelic League in its efforts to make next month a really Irish month, letting all questions of party politics in abeyance for the time being, say till the next general election.

NARROW ESCAPE.

A story is going around to the effect that a prominent fellow-townsmen of ours had a very narrow escape from "chokey" quite recently. It appears that he was travelling by bus to a neighbouring town at a time when the Civic Guards of the County were on the look-out for a certain individual to give an account of his movements on a certain occasion. At one stop an over-zealous member of the G.S. saw some personal resemblance between our friend and the sought for one. The result was that before he reached his destination he was requested to alight and accompany a G.S. to the local barrack, where he was interrogated.
Fortunately, he was in a position to establish his real identity, otherwise he might have been able to give us a modern version of "Le Mic Prigione."

WATERFORD DISTRICT MENTAL HOSPITAL.

STOCKTAKER WANTED.

The Committee of Management, at their monthly meeting on MONDAY, 13th March, 1933, will proceed to select a suitable person to Take Stock of Provisions, Clothing, Necessaries, etc., for the half-year ending 31st
March, 1933, at a remuneration of £10.
Applications to be addressed to the Resident Medical Superintendent, and lodged with him not later than 10
a.m., on Monday, 13th March, 1933.

By Order,
THOMAS F. CASEY, Clerk.
Offices of the Mental Hospital

HILL'S BUTTER SEED LOAVES

GRAVE STATE OF CO. CORK FINANCES.

MINISTER EXPRESSES CONCERN.

The adverse effects of the economic dispute with Britain were the subject of comment at Cork County Council, when the financial position was raised by a letter from the Department of Local Government.

The Secretary, reporting on the state of the rate collection, said £138,664 had been lodged to the credit of the Council. There remained outstanding £162,115. The amount collected represented over 47 per cent. At the corresponding period last year the amount collected was over 55 per cent.

The Department wrote that allowing for the abnormal factors which had more or less a detrimental effect on rate collection generally during the present year, the Minister observed with much concern the backward position of collection. Within two months of the close of the financial year of total warrants amounting to £284,497, £153,704, or 54 per cent., remained outstanding.

The unsatisfactory state of the collection had been the main cause of the present grave condition of the Council's finances.

The accounts were overdrawn to the extent of £179,000, and the Council should bring pressure to bear on collectors to proceed in a more diligent and effective manner, and that in the event of failure disciplinary action should be taken.

Mr. O'Gorman—I wonder did the Minister read the return for January before he wrote that letter. It is admitted that the principal source of income in this country are cattle and sheep.
In January of last year the farmers of the Free State received for their cattle £1,065,628. In January of this year they received £426,658.
Surely the Minister knows it is utterly impossible for the collector to collect what is not there to collect.

Mr. O'Gorman added he would move a resolution calling the attention of the Government to the serious loss in the amount received by Free State farmers for their export of cattle, and that it was unjust to press farmers for either rates or annuities.

Mr. G. Power—That is telling the people not to pay their rates.

Mr. Maurice Murphy asserted that there was a campaign not to pay rates, and Mr. O'Gorman retorted there was no need for any campaign, as 90 per cent. of the farmers were unable to pay.

Mr. Murphy maintained that since the English had lost £1,500,000 Ireland had consequently benefited to that extent.

The Chairman (Mr. W. J. Broderick, T.D.)
said, on Mr. Murphy's reasoning, if the Free State exported nothing to England the latter would lose the whole £5,500,000, but it did not follow that the Free State would gain that sum.

It was decided to send a copy of the Minister's letter to the various collectors, and Mr. Maurice Murphy emphasised that the Council would be strict in carrying out its terms.

Following a long debate, in the course of which the Chairman suspended the proceedings while an interrupter in the gallery was being removed,
the Council adopted a motion calling for a general reduction of 30 per cent. in the salaries of public officials.

CAPITALISM OR COMMUNISM

BOTH TO BE BROKEN UP.

Remarkable scenes of enthusiasm marked Connelt's victory celebrations. Tar barrels blazed on the streets and a procession in which about 1,500 people took part, headed by torchlights and two bands, marched through the principal streets, bearing a huge banner on which appeared a picture of Mr. de Valera.

Addressing a meeting, which was one of the largest held in the town for many years, Mr.
Sean Gaudin, T.D., said that Fianna Fail to-day maintained the same view as Pearse and his followers held in 1916. Fianna Fail had no use for Communism any more than they had for Imperialism.

In the world of to-day the two great antagonistic forces were Capitalism and Communism, and the Irish people were out to break both. In that way Fianna Fail were following very safe lines, for the conditions that obtained in the world to-day would not exist if Christianity were observed. It might be the privilege of the Irish people to save the world again from another form of paganism.

Mr. Sean Hayes, T.D., said he believed economic freedom could not be brought about without complete independence. A contented Ireland could only be a free Ireland.

IRISH-AMERICANS' ESTATE.

COUNTY WATERFORD INQUIRY.
£10,000 AT STAKE.

Mr. W. P. Corrigan, solicitor and notary public, attended at Bannmahon, as Commissioner appointed by the Orphans' Court, Philadelphia, for the purpose of taking evidence regarding the claim of Mr. James Kirwan, Co.C., licensed trader and farmer, to be one of the next-of-kin of the late Mr. Charles P. Rooney, a magistrate of Philadelphia city, who died on Feb.
3rd, 1930, and left £10,000.

The deceased, whose father married Catherine Kirwan, in 1853, left a will under which he distributed his estate in equal shares to his wife and only sister, Mary, both of whom predeceased him. Mr. James Kirwan claims that Mrs. Catherine Rooney was his aunt.

Rev. John Lennon, P.P., Stradbally, produced the parochial records as far back as 1797. The Philadelphia Escheator claims that in default of next-of-kin being found the money
escheats to the State.

Mr. C. S. Quinlan, for claimant; Messrs. McGrath and Sons, Dublin, for the Escheator of the State of Philadelphia; Mr. P. J. Roe, (instructed by Mr. P. Tallon, Drogheda), for some Drogheda claimants.

American President.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

On the 16th inst. a determined effort was made to assassinate Mr. Roosevelt, President-Elect of the United States, America, at Miami, Florida.

En route Miami to New York, Mr. Roosevelt told the story of his attempted assassination.

"I have heard so many accounts that I have been trying to think what really happened as I saw it," he said. "After I had finished speaking at the public reception at Miami someone from the talking-picture people climbed on the back of the motor car and said: 'You must repeat that speech for us.' I said I would not.
He said: 'We have come 1,000 miles for this.'
I said: 'I am very sorry, but I can't do it.'
Having said that, I slid off the back of the car into my seat."

"Just then Mr. Cernak came forward, and I talked to him for a minute about Chicago in general. Then he moved off behind the car."

"Bob Clark, one of our Secret Service men, was standing right by him. As he moved away a man came forward with a long telegram and started telling me what it contained. While he was talking I leaned forward."

"Just then I heard what I thought was a fire-cracker, and then several more. He was talking with me pulled back and the chauffeur started the car."

"I looked around and saw Mayor Cernak doubled up and Mrs. Gill in a state of collapse.
I told the chauffeur to stop. He did—about 15 feet from where we started. The Secret Service man shouted: 'Get out of the crowd.' The chauffeur started the car again, and I stopped him again."

"Looking back I saw Mayor Cernak being carried along. We put him in our car. He was alive, but I was afraid he would not last. I got my hand on his pulse and found none. He was on a seat with me, and I had my left arm around him. He slumped forward. A detective from Miami, standing on the running-board, and leaning over him, said he was afraid Mr. Cernak would not last."

"I was too fearful then that Mr. Cernak had straightened out, and I got his pulse. That was surprising. For three blocks I believe his heart had stopped. I held him all the way to the hospital, and his pulse constantly improved. It seemed like 25 miles to the hospital. I talked to him all the way. I remember I said:
'Tony, don't move—keep quiet, it won't hurt
if you do.'"

"I found that a bullet—the one probably that hit Mr. Cernak—had grazed the top of Bob Clark's hand, and it was bloody and scratched.
'I learned that Bill Simont, a New York detective, was wounded in the eye. I did not hit him at the hospital this morning and told him a bullet on his head would just bounce off. I told him that I left orders for them to stirve him and to take off at least 20 lbs.'"

Extraordinary precautions have been taken to protect the President-Elect and President Hoover
at the White House.

Before leaving for New York Mr. Roosevelt visited Mr. Cernak in hospital, and assured him that he would soon be on his feet again.
'I hope so,' the Mayor replied. 'I hope I will be in time for your inauguration.'"

ASSAILANT'S STORY.

Meanwhile in his cell on the 21st story of the County Jail, Joe Zingara has been subjected to a battery of police questions. He professes no regrets for what he has done, and speaks of his crime without any apparent realization of its gravity. A short, stocky little man, swarthy, with dark curly hair, he does not speak English fluently.

"Why do you want to kill?" asked the Sheriff. "Did you want to kill the policeman who caught you?"

"I no care kill police," Zingara is reported to have said. "They work for their living. As a man, I like Roosevelt. As a President I want to kill him. I want to kill all Presidents. In Italy ten years ago I wanted to kill the King,
but I could not get near him."

"Are you an anarchist?" "I don't belong to any society. I am not an anarchist. I'm sore at the Government because I had to work as a kid instead of going to school. I'm sick now because I had to work then. I am not a member of any party. I believe Bolshevism is all right. I've done my own thinking and reached this decision myself."

"Sometimes I get big pains in the stomach, and then I want to kill these Presidents," was another statement. He has a big scar on his stomach which, he says, was caused by an operation. He came to Florida two months ago because he was told that the pains would get better there. He bought a revolver for eight dollars in a pawnshop. He had at first intended to assassinate President Hoover, but when he read in a newspaper that Mr. Roosevelt was to visit Miami, he decided to shoot him instead.

Newspaper cuttings found in his possession described the President-Elect's movements. One gave an account of the assassination of President McKinley, who was murdered at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo in 1901.

Zingara is an American citizen, resident in U.S. nine years. He came from Ferruzzano, Italy, where he was born in 1900. He joined the Bricklayers, Masons, and Plasterers' Union at Paterson, N.J., eight years ago, and disappeared from there four months back when he was unable to find work.

CUMANN F.F. CLASHMORE.

The annual meeting of the above Cumann took place at Clashmore on Sunday night week. A very large gathering attended. Several new members were enrolled. A summary of the Cumann work for the past year taken from minutes was read. The outgoing officers were re-appointed, viz.—President, M. Lynch; vice-president, Sean O'Halloran, P.C., Co.C.; treasurer, Patk. Healy; secretary, Mary Ellen Barron. A representative committee was inaugurated.

The following resolutions were passed:—"That we, the members of Cumann Fianna Fail, Clashmore, congratulate President de Valera on his overwhelming victory in the recent election."

"That we congratulate our T.D.'s, Messrs.
Little and Goulding, on their re-election; Mr.
M. Mansfield on his high poll since last election.
Also that we especially congratulate Mr. P. J.
Little on heading the poll in this constituency,
and express our great pleasure at the honour conferred on Waterford by his appointment to the exalted position of secretary to President de Valera."

The members expressed their satisfaction at the high percentage of votes secured by Fianna Fail in the Clashmore area.

Agricultural Conditions 1st FEBRUARY, 1933.

Weather and Work.—The weather during January was of a more decidedly wintery character than any experienced since the season began. The month opened with heavy rain and rain, which caused some flooding in low-lying lands. Later the weather became dry but intensely cold with hard frosts, and in some parts of the country there was heavy fall of snow. On the whole, however, a fairly satisfactory amount of field work was accomplished, and at the close of the month the seasonal ploughing operations were very well advanced as compared with other years. In some districts additional sowings of wheat were made, and in the early potato growing districts satisfactory progress was made with the work of preparing the land for the planting of the seed. Farmers were engaged during the month in ploughing, harrowing, early potato land and in carting manure to the fields.

Prospects for Wintering Stock.—Owing to the mildness of the early winter farmers found it unnecessary to make serious inroads on the reserves of fodder, roots and grain. These supplies were larger than usual owing to the heavy yields of the cereal and potato crops, and also to the fact that owing to the relatively unattractive prices prevailing for oats, the bulk of that grain was withheld from market in the hope of better prices being obtainable later in the season. Consequently at the end of the month adequate supplies of home-produced food-stuffs remained available on most farms to meet all normal requirements until the end of the season. It was reported from most districts that farmers were using home-grown feeding stuffs to a greater extent than hitherto, less of the reported corn shortage than usual. Live stock were reported to be in good health and condition.

Cereals.—Very little grain was marketed during the month owing to the comparatively low prices prevailing. Small supplies of oats were offered which were quite equal to the demand. Best white oats realised from 9s. to 10s. per barrel. Black oats about 1s. 2d. less.

Flax.—Only odd lots of flax were scutched during the month. Demand showed a slight improvement, with a shade advance in prices. This season's fibre realised from 8s. to 9s. per stone, while last year's fibre realised 6s. to 7s.

Potatoes.—Very large supplies of potatoes were on hands on most farms at the end of the month despite the fact that they had been fed liberally to all classes of live stock during the month. The tubers were reported to be keeping well in the pits. As is usual in seasons when stocks are plentiful, demand was not brisk and prices were low. Export prices in the Cooley area of County Louth averaged 25s. per ton; and it was reported that rather more than 60 per cent. of the crop produced for sale had been marketed.

Mangel, Turnips and Sugar Beet.—Large supplies of mangels and turnips remained on hands at most farms, comparatively little demand having been made on the crop for feeding until the second half of the month. The roots were reported to be keeping well, and the supply sufficient to tide feeders over the balance of the winter season. Sugar beet proved a very satisfactory crop this season, the yield, in weight of roots being up to the level of the best years, while the roots were much richer in sugar than in any season since this crop was introduced.

Winter Cereals and Catch Crops.—Winter wheat germinated satisfactorily and branched well and evenly, and at the close of the month was reported from every district to be promising in appearance. Some additional sowings were made during December, and it was generally anticipated that large additional sowings would be made in spring. Comparatively little winter oats were sown, but the crops sown made good progress and were looking well at the close of the month. The area under catch crops is rather smaller than usual, but the crops made good growth and were healthy and vigorous at the end of the month.

Cattle.—The cattle fairs held throughout the country during January were generally of small dimensions, but buyers were, as a rule, well represented, and prices hardened as compared with preceding months. Well-bred store cattle with condition were in good demand. Fat cattle also met an improved demand. Springers and freshly-calving cows continued in moderate request.

The following may be regarded as representing the average prices for the various descriptions of stock at provincial fairs during the month:—Calves under 1 month, £1 2s. 6d. to £2 10s.; calves 1 to 9 months, £2 10s. to £5; first class stores, 9 to 12 months, £5 to £7 10s.; first class stores, 12 months to 15 months, £8 to £9; first class stores, 15 months to 2 years, £8 to £10 10s.

first class stores, 2 years to 3 years, £10 to £10 10s.; first class stores, 3 years and over, £13 to £15; fat bullocks and heifers, £12 10s. to £17; best fat cows, £10 10s. to £14 10s.; choice springing cows and heifers, £14 to £18 10s.; freshly calving cows, £13 to £16.

Sheep.—Flocks generally were reported to be in good health and to have benefited by the hard, frosty weather. Although the presence of liver fluke infection was noticeable in the livers of slaughtered sheep, the disease made no headway as flock owners are now familiar with the precautionary measures recommended by the Department and carry them out carefully. Sheep fairs held during the month were small, and it was reported from some districts that breeding stocks were being reduced in consequence of the poor prices recently prevailing. Trade, however, improved during January and prices were firmer. Fat sheep realised 27s. to 40s. each and lambs 18s. to 30s. each, with higher quotations for extra good animals.

Pigs.—The number of pigs on offer at the various provincial centres during the month was about the same as in December. From reports received it seems clear that the unfavourable prices obtaining in recent months have led to an appreciable reduction in breeding stocks, which is manifesting itself in the smaller number of bitches on offer. Prices for pigs, suitable for the bacon trade, improved progressively during the month, top prices increasing from 40s. per cwt. dead weight (or approximately 30s. on the live weight basis) at the beginning of the month to 48s. dead weight (36s. live weight) at the close. It is to be hoped that this sharp rise in price may tend to check the inclination to reduce breeding stocks, especially as large supplies of potatoes are available for feeding purposes at low values, the demand for potatoes being comparatively dull. The value of pigs of porker weights firmed up during the month and closed around 50s. per cwt. dead weight.

Horses.—The demand for horses during the month was more or less restricted, and prices showed no appreciable change.

Milk.—Milk yields, although showing the usual seasonal decline, continued to reflect the beneficial effect of the mild weather, and supplies reaching creameries during January were considerably greater than during the corresponding period of last year. Milk delivered to the creameries during December realised on the average 5 1/2d. per gallon, with separated milk returned. Milk collected in the adjoining counties for retail sale in Dublin returned 9 1/2d. to 11d. per gallon to the producers.

NEW SAINTS IN HOLY YEAR.

COMING CEREMONIES

Several new Saints will be added to the calendar during the Holy Year, reports Reuter's Vatican City correspondent.

On Whit Sunday, June 4, there will be the ceremony in St. Peter's for the canonisation of Andre Fournier, a French priest who died at Poitiers in 1834. He founded the Order of the Sisters of the Cross.

Blessed Bernadette, the little shepherd girl who saw the vision of the Blessed Virgin at Lourdes, will also be canonised.

Vincenzo Strambi, a Passionist priest, who died in Rome in 1824, will probably be canonised, as well as Don Giovanni Bosco, founder of the Salesians; and Giuseppe Benedetto Cottolengo, who founded an Order in Turin.

The facade of St. Peter's will be illuminated on the night following each of these canonisations, and special pilgrimages made from the birthplace of the new Saint.

In addition to the canonisations there will be a large number of beatifications during the Holy Year, and 2,416 missionaries killed in China between 1820 and 1904 will be raised to the rank of martyr.

TIMBER SOLD BY LORD WATERFORD.

LOSS TO A BEAUTY SPOT.

Following the sale to a Scottish company of about 300 acres of timber on the estate of the Marquis of Waterford at Curraghmore, a Southern beauty spot will be denuded of much of its wooded grandeur and sylvan charm. The thousands of larch and spruce giants now adorning Curraghmore will eventually have their gnarled strength used as pit props in Scottish mines.

Scottish woodmen have brought steam engines into use, and the timber is being stored to await exportation.

It is stated that Lord Waterford intends to replant the area.

The executive of the Capoquin Point-to-Point races were very lucky to get such a fine day for their venture, for at this period of the year a more ideal day could scarcely have been found. It was beautifully fine, and the exceptionally large company were entertained to some really good sport, in which there were some close finishes, while that for the Light-Weight Hunt Race was worth going a long way to see. The course was over a good line of country, and even though the horses were lost to view for a good bit, there was always sufficient to sustain interest in the various events. The committee made a big effort to get the races off up to time, and did really well in the early portion of the day, but later on some little time was lost.

One of the finest finishes seen in a point-to-point race for a long time was provided in the Light-Weight Race, for which there was a nice field of seven starters. Almost from the "off" Auld Glory went away with a good lead from Carlisheen and Royal Wave, with Decor last. Little change occurred in this order except that Auld Glory increased her lead and came for the last fence with a lead of forty lengths from Royal Wave, with Decor a long way behind. Landing over this Auld Glory pecked, and Royal Wave fell, and then Decor began to overhaul Auld Glory at every stride to win in a thrilling finish. It was a wonderful display of horsemanship with good staying powers on the part of Mrs. Lysaght's game horse, Decor. Just as the race proper had concluded another set-tee was witnessed for third place, the judge being unable to separate Ballybeg and Carlisheen as they passed the post.

As usual there was a big troupe of runners for the maiden event, and with the services of Mr. Collis Montgomery, The Larkinn was made favourite. He made the early running from Correct Card, but later on was unable to keep going with Garrymore and Wilderness Gem. When they jumped the last fence Garrymore held a slight lead of Wilderness Gem, but when the speed was turned on Garrymore failed to stay with Wilderness Gem, who capably handled, won in a rousing finish.

There was some disappointment over Sweet Affon for the Col's Race, the V.S. deciding that Mrs. Webb's pony was over the stipulated height and could not run. True Minstrel and Sheila Roy made the running alternately, followed by Cockatrix, but with the leading pair practically together, Sheila Roy fell three fences out. She was quickly remounted and had soon overtaken True Minstrel, but the fall had taken too much out of her and she could not stay with True Minstrel, who won comfortably from Cockatrix.

Our Paddy was certainly very unfortunate to fall at the second last fence at Tallow while he was still full of running, but now he made amends in the Open Farmers' Race, and those who saw him then did not forget to back him. Empire Lass and Mountain Dew fell early, and then Gurrane Cottage made the running for most of the journey, but when they came into view our Paddy was up with the leaders and then went on to win comfortably. The Confined Maiden Hunt Race was responsible for a lot of falls, and just as Cabin looked like justifying the confidence shown in him he became a bad purler at the last fence. Details:—

Also ran—Margate (Owner), Cabin (Mr. J. O'Connell).

IRISH DRAUGHT HORSE.

EFFORTS TO PRESERVE THE TYPE.

At the National Ploughing Championship competition which took place at Newlands, Clondalkin, the Royal Dublin Society presented a Silver Perpetual Challenge Cup, to be presented to the owner of the best pair of Irish draught horses, or horses of the Irish draught type, taking part in the contest.

Many similar efforts have been made from time to time to encourage the breeding of Irish draught horses. Not very long ago the "Irish Independent" offered a Challenge Cup for the best Irish draught stallion or mare at the Royal Dublin Society's Spring Show, but this class, unfortunately, has lapsed within recent years.

Much useful work has also been done by the Department of Agriculture, which established the Irish Draught Horse Book, containing names and particulars of recognised stallions and mares. As a further encouragement, the Department offered special prizes at the leading agricultural shows for registered Irish draught mares and stallions.

In spite of these efforts, however, the clean-legged draught horses for which Ireland was at one time famous are gradually becoming more difficult to procure, which is not only a distinct loss to Irish agriculturists, but also to the breeding industry in the country.

The decline in the breeding of Irish draught horses has, of course, been noticeable for over half a century. The extension of tillage at the close of the 18th century was mainly responsible for their evolution, but owing to the agricultural depression which set in about 1880 and continued up to the present time, small farmers were compelled to part with their good colts and fillies in order to meet with their liabilities.

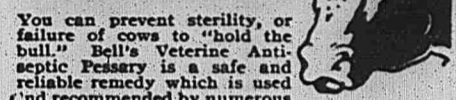

This disappearance of the Irish draught horse has left the small farmer and the breeder of hunters at a considerable disadvantage—the one requires an active, general purpose, hardy, clean-legged animal suited to the requirements of the Irish farm, the other needs bone and substance in his brood mares for hunter-breeding, for, given the Irish draught mare to mate with the thoroughbred sire, hunter-breeding becomes simplicity itself.

The restoration of the Irish draught horse is consequently a question of national importance, and on it the future of horse-breeding in the country to a great extent depends.

If tillage is to be revived successfully in Ireland Irish farmers must have strong, active horses available for work on their farms. The introduction of heavy cart horses of the Clydesdale and Shire breeds have not been to the general advantage of farmers. It is true that the progeny are saleable at an early age, which in some parts of the country gives a certain measure of temporary financial relief to small farmers, and in the neighbourhood of large cities there is a certain need for Shire horses for haulage purposes.

But the Irish draught horse is indigenous to the country, and a consideration of the circumstances under which the breed was produced will show the need for preserving the type as far as possible to suit farming conditions in Ireland. Any effort in this direction is worthy of support and encouragement.

OVERCOME STERILITY IN COWS

You can prevent sterility, or failure of cows to "hold the bull." Bell's Veterinary Antiseptic Preservative is a safe and reliable remedy which is used and recommended by numerous leading breeders.

Mr. P. McNulty, Cullen, Foxford, Co. Mayo, writes: "I used the Antiseptic Preservative on my dairy cows with good results."

Mr. Jeremiah Quinlan, Brickfield, Mallow, writes: "I used the Antiseptic Preservative on my dairy cows with good results."

Users everywhere report similar experiences. These preservatives are now made in an improved shape, and their use requires no instruments. Equally efficacious for mares. Send for a copy today. Two preservatives suffice for each cow. No injector or syringe required. Price 2/6 per doz. (postage 6d.)

"Veterinary" Preservatives are also excellent for cows after calving and "singing" or where the cleanings have been retained.

After Calving give all cows Bell's Special "Veterinary" Cleaning Drench, 3/- each, obtainable from the manufacturers: Henry Bell Ltd., Waterford. Sold by following local agents:

Agents Names:—Dungarvan Co-Op. Creamery and Branches. Moloney's, Dungarvan. Stradbally Co-Op. Hely, Capoquin. Knockmeal Co-Op. and Branches. O'Donnell, Lismore. Bride Valley, Stores, Tallow. Ring, Co-Op. And all Chemists.

The All-Steel Raleigh!

The local Agent at Dungarvan, J. B. Cooke, has received the following letter from Dublin:—

DEAR SIR—We regret that owing to the recently imposed tax on complete cycles our deliveries for the past month have been seriously dislocated. We have pleasure in announcing, however, that arrangements have been made for the assembly of all machines for the Irish Free State at our Dublin Depot under skilled supervision. We have decided not to make any alteration in our existing prices, and we will make every endeavour to reduce the accumulation of orders with as little delay as possible, for which we crave your kind indulgence. Yours faithfully,

THE RALEIGH CYCLE CO., S. GUY, Irish Manager.

The above letter speaks for itself. The All-Steel Raleigh is now an Irish product. Duty Free Prices from 8/11 per month upwards.

DUNGARVAN COUNTY HOME AND DISTRICT HOSPITAL COMMITTEE. TENDERS REQUIRED. The above Committee will at their Meeting to be held at the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Saturday, 11th March, 1933, consider Tenders for supplying the County Home and District Hospital at Dungarvan for periods of: (1) Three Months; (2) Six Months; and (3) Twelve months, beginning 1st April, 1933, and ending 30th June, 1933; 30th September, 1933; and 31st March, 1934, respectively, with the following:— FOR THREE MONTHS. 1. Irish-Cured Bacon (in Sides with name of Curer) to County Home and 1 Ham to District Hospital, at per lb. To be delivered on Tuesday of each week. 2. Irish Creamery Butter at per lb., about 60 lbs. per week (some 1/2 lbs. as required). To be delivered on Tuesday of each week. Preference will be given to the Contractor using Irish made butter. FOR SIX MONTHS. 3. Best White Bread made from Irish-milled Flour and Irish Yeast (in 8oz. loaves), at per 4lbs. To be delivered at or before 9.30 a.m. 4. Irish-bred Beef in Rounds (exclusive of legs and lap), at per lb. To be delivered at or before 3 p.m. 5. Irish-bred Beef in Fleishy Shoulders (exclusive of plate, necks and large bone), at per lb. To be delivered at or before 3 p.m. 6. Irish-bred Mutton in Quarters (to the Co. Home and in Legs to the District Hospital), not too fat and exclusive of neck, at per lb. To be delivered at or before 3 p.m. FOR TWELVE MONTHS. 7. Winding and Repairing Clocks from 1st April, 1933, to 31st March, 1934. 8. Supply of Coffins (Large, Middle and Small), neatly covered and mounted with large Brass Plates and lined with Pitch, from 1st. April, 1933, to 31st. March, 1934, (as required). 9. Pure New Milk—From 1st April, 1933, to 31st March, 1934. To be delivered at 9.30 and 5.30 daily. ALSO: 10. Coal—60 Tons Best Red Ash House Coal (Newport). To be delivered as required. 11. Contractors when sending in Tenders should mark on the Sealed Envelope "Tender for—". The Committee will be prepared to accept one Tender for the entire supply of Milk or to divide the supply between two or more Contractors as they may deem advisable. If a person tendering is unable to supply the entire quantity of milk required, he should state in his tender the number of gallons which he undertakes to supply daily. The Milk supplied must contain over 3 per cent. of fat, and the Storekeeper, in order to satisfy himself in this respect, will forward samples from time to time for analysis. The average number of gallons of Milk required daily is about 75, but this does not limit the future supply that may be required. The Contractors for Milk are hereby required to agree to the following conditions, viz.: That in the event of the supply being at any time short or being rejected owing to its not being up to the Standard, that the Storekeeper provide such substitute as the Medical Officer may approve at the Contractor's expense. Tenders on a prescribed Form, containing the names of Two Solvent Sureties who are willing to join the person tendering in a Bond for the due performance of the Contract, must be lodged with me not later than 12 o'clock (noon), on 11th March, 1933. The lowest or any Tender not necessarily accepted. (Signed) EDMOND KIELY, Clerk to Committee. Clerk's Office, Co. Home, Dungarvan. 20th. February, 1933.
