DEATH OF LORD ABBOT OF MOUNT MELLERAY

AFTER A DAY'S ILLNESS.
GREAT CISTERCIAN PASSES AWAY.

The announcement of the death of the Right Rev. Dom. Stanislaus Hickey, Lord Abbot of Mount Mellera, which occurred late on Saturday night, came as a shock to the wide circle of associates of the famous Abbot. This sad event, which has robbed the Cistercian Community of a Lord Abbot, who only had been raised to that exalted position, came with almost tragic suddenness. The Lord Abbot was apparently in his usual state of good health up to Saturday morning, when he took ill, passing away at 11 o'clock that same night. Thus, when their still newly-elected head had little more than entered on a presidency that held every promise of length of years, the Community has suffered this great blow.

Only a week ago the Lord Abbot attended the funeral of his father in Co. Tipperary, who had reached the ripe age of 99 years. He was elevated to the Abbotial throne following the demise of the late Right Rev. Dom. Maurus O'Phelan, his solemn blessing taking place on the 28th October, 1931. The blessing, performed by the late Most Rev. Dr. Hackett, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, was presided over by his Grace Most Rev. Dr. Hartly, Archbishop of Cashel, and the enormous attendance of clergy and laity marked the occasion as one of outstanding ecclesiastical importance.

The late Lord Abbot was a native of Rossmore, Good's Cross, Co. Tipperary. He was son of Mr. Patrick Hickey, who has predeceased him by so short a period, and was the fifth Abbot to be elected since the foundation of Mount Mellera, a little over a century ago. His personal association with Mount Mellera extended over fifty years, both as a student and a priest, and among the important positions he occupied were those of Dean of Studies of the College and Father Prior of the monastery. He had acted in the latter capacity for seventeen years, with the exception of two years spent as Definitor to the Cistercian House in Rome. He was a noted writer on ecclesiastical subjects. Some of his works are standard books in ecclesiastical circles, notably his "Summula Doctrinae Scholastica," which is regarded as a standard work in Church Philosophy.

FUNERAL OBSEQUIES.
The funeral obsequies of the late Lord Abbot took place on Wednesday in very inclement weather.

The celebrant of the Mass was the Rt. Rev. Dom. Celsus O'Connell, Lord Abbot of Mount St. Bernard, Coalville, Leicestershire; the deacon was Rev. Fr. Declan, O.Cist., and sub-deacon, Rev. Fr. Aedre, O.Cist.

The Mass music was sung by the Mellera Community choir, augmented by the presence of three visiting Abbots—Rt. Rev. Dom. Corentin Guvader, Lord Abbot of Mellera, France; Rt. Rev. Dom. Dominic Noques, Lord Abbot of Thymadeuc, Brittany; Rt. Rev. Dom. Jasmin McCarthy, Lord Abbot of Besere, the Prior of Cady Abbey, Wales. (Very Rev. Fr. Aedre) was also present.

Amongst the clergy present were: Most Rev. Dr. Cohan, Bishop of Cork; Most Rev. Dr. Roche, Cardinal Bishop of Cloyne; Most Rev. Dr. Leo, Bishop of Clifton; The Most Rev. Dr. Brown, Bishop of Cloyne, was represented by Rev. Wm. Walsh, Adm., Cathedral, Cove.

In the sanctuary were: The Ven. Archdeacon W. Byrne, P.P., V.G., Ballybricken; Rt. Rev. Dean W. J. Walsh, S.S. Peter and Paul's, Clonmel; Canon J. Kelleher, President, St. John's College, Waterford; Canon D. Whealan, P.P., Cappoquin; Canon F. Dr. Murphy, C.S.Sp., do; Very Rev. Fr. Hickey, O.C., Provincial, Upton, Co. Cork; Very Rev. Dom. Gerard Francois, A.S.B., Prior of Glenstal; Very Rev. B. C. CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

THE LATE LORD ABBOT.

The unexpected death of the Right Rev. Dom. Stanislaus Hickey, Lord Abbot of Mount Mellera, which occurred about 11 o'clock on Saturday night, after a very brief illness, caused a painful shock to the people of Cappoquin when the sad news became known at an early hour on Sunday morning. The late Lord Abbot, James Stanislaus Hickey, was son of the late Mr. Patrick Hickey, Rossmore, Co. Tipperary, was born on Feb. 18th, 1865 and first entered Mount Mellera Monastery on July 16th, 1884, where he was ordained Priest on June 15th, 1890. Having filled the responsible position as Dean of Studies in the famous Seminary for a number of years, he was appointed Sub-Prior in 1908, being raised to the position of Prior on April 26th, 1914.

For 14 years he filled this position with remarkable ability until 1925, when he was elected by the General Chapter as Definitor of the Cistercian House, in Rome, and left to take up his duties there on October 27th, the same year. After close on two years in the Eternal City, he returned to Mount Mellera on October, 12th, 1927, when he was again appointed Prior, a position which he filled until the death of the Right Rev. Dom. Maurus O'Phelan, Lord Abbot, on July 10th, 1931. On August 17th, 1931, he was elected Lord Abbot, so that his death occurred exactly 18 months and 1 week after his appointment to the highest position in the gift of the Cistercian Community in Mount Mellera. A Scholar and Churchman of rare ability and erudition, his whole life was marked by kindness and humility, while his charity and generosity, although always of the most unostentatious nature, were outstanding features in his saintly and lovable character.

His death now, just as he had passed his 68th year, has proved a genuine loss to the members of the Community whom he loved, and all of whom loved him so well and the prayers of all will be offered up that his pure and saintly soul has now received its well-merited reward from his Creator whom he served so faithfully and well during his span on this earth. Peace to his ashes!

In asking the prayers of the congregation for the repose of his soul at last Mass on Sunday, Very Rev. Canon Whelan, paid a touching and eloquent tribute to his memory, both as an eminent scholar and a distinguished Churchman, and his funeral on Wednesday was attended by all the leading people in Cappoquin, irrespective of class or creed, for he was particularly beloved in this town, and deep and sincere is the regret now felt by all over the death of one whose whole life was a model of sanctity and saintly qualities to those who knew him, and more particularly those amongst whom he had lived since 1884. R.I.P.

LOCAL INDUSTRY REVIVED.
The attention of the public is respectfully directed to the important advt. in this issue announcing that Mr. Thomas Scanlon, has now reopened the Cappoquin Sawmills, which had been derelict for a considerable time past.

The re-opening of these works will supply a long-felt want in this district, especially for the farming and trading classes, and as Mr. Scanlon is a young business gentleman of rare enterprise and sound progressive ideas we hope he will be generously supported by the public, because if the trade of the concern develops sufficiently, it will be the means of providing more employment in Cappoquin, which is so badly needed at present. Read his announcement in another column, and judge for yourselves!

ALLEGED LARCENY OF A BAG OF MEAL.
At last week's District Court, before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L., a young man named Thomas Coughlan, residing at Knockalara, was charged on remand by Inspector Hart, Waterford, (acting for Supt. Quinlan, Lismore,) with the larceny of a bag of meal, the property of John O'Brien, Bewley, Cappoquin.

Accused had been arrested on the previous Tuesday and remanded on bail by Mr. M. F. Walsh, P.C., and when the case was now called, Inspector Hart, applied for a further remand as the Guards had not yet completed their inquiries in the case.

Accused was accordingly remanded on continuing bail to the Lismore District Court next week.

A number of assault cases between local parties were adjourned to the April Court in Cappoquin, Mr. Farrell, D.J., stating that there would be no Court held in Cappoquin in March, as he would be away on holidays at the time.

Mr. W. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, made the application for adjournment on behalf of the defendants and Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., Dungarvan, for the complainants, agreed to this course.

Three small cases of no public interest constituted the remaining business before the Court.

ANNUAL DANCE ABANDONED.
The annual Shrovetide Dance, which was to have been held by the Rowing Club on Monday night, was cancelled as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Lord Abbot of Mt. Mellera, and the decision of the Committee was heartily endorsed by the townspeople under the circumstances.

PRICE OF PIGS.
The top price for fat pigs in the Cappoquin Bacon Factory this week was 45/- per cwt., dead weight, the same figure which has prevailed for several weeks past.

Dungarvan Urban Council.

At the weekly meeting of the above, Mr. M. J. Keane, V.C., presided. Other members present were—Messrs. B. Dee, D. Foley, J. McEvoy, and T. Power.

Paysheet.
The weekly paysheet amounting to £9 15s. 2d., was passed.

State of Finance.
The clerk submitted the Financial Statement and said that nearly 69 per cent. of the rates had been collected and lodged and there was 31 per cent. outstanding, but would be lessened by a big lodgment on Saturday.

The cost of services had been over-spent by £280.

The other accounts were: Balance in Bank—£315 5s. d. Poor Rate A/c.—£395 11s. 8d. Harbour A/c. £43 3s. 2d.

Chairman.—The rate collection is satisfactory considering the present depression.

Housing Scheme.
Mr. A. A. Murphy, wrote that as he received the sanction of the Minister to work in conjunction with the B.S., in the Council's Housing Scheme, he would be able to start immediately.

The B.S. said that Mr. Murphy had told him that he would attend the meeting to-night, but a s/he hadn't arrived, he was probably unable to get down on account of the snow.

Mr. McEvoy—There is nothing decided about the number of houses?
Chairman—Nothing. We should have a special meeting for that.

Clerk—It would be well to have one.
Mr. Dee (to B.S.)—Would you be able to state when it would begin?
B.S.—It won't be long. The plans must be got ready—they can be got ready in a couple of days—and then get the sanction of the Department.

Mr. Dee—Will it begin before the 1st of April?
B.S.—In or about that. Of course there is the sewers and water to be done first.

Regarding the calling of a special meeting, the matter was left in the clerk's hands.

Correspondence.
A letter from the Department was read re the rents of two Council tenants, stating that it was a matter for the Council to deal with on their own responsibility.

Another letter from the Department regarding the Council's decision to send a deputation to the Minister for a grant re the Council's proposal to erect swimming pools, stating that a deputation was not necessary, but that the drawings and plans should be forwarded for examination and if the proposal is thought necessary the sites will be inspected.

It was referred to the B.S.

The Price of Coal.
A strong protest was made by Mr. Power, against the price of coal in the town, he said that he saw in the Press that the consumer was not to suffer any increase in the price of coal, the merchant was to suffer. The price of coal in Dungarvan before the tariffs was 24 per cwt., it was now 24. Everyone of them knew how hard it was on the poor person to pay 2/- for their coal not alone 24. Coal being bought per ton only 2/- per cwt was charged whilst the poor person has to pay 24.

It wasn't right that the poor person should suffer.

Mr. Keane pointed out that the Council had no control over the fixing of the price of coal, but if Mr. Power wished he could propose a resolution protesting against the price.

Mr. Foley—Acquaint the Minister for Local Government.

Mr. Power stressed the fact that the consumer was not to suffer any increase in the price. This appeared on every paper, but it appears now that it was the poor that were suffering. He would wish in fairness to the poor of the County to seek a channel from the Council to the Government for an explanation.

A resolution protesting against the price of coal and asking the Government for an explanation, was then passed, proposed by Mr. Power and seconded by Mr. Foley.

rest constituted the remaining business before the Court.

Politics in Ring.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY CHARGE. SEQUEL TO ELECTION MEETING.

At the Dungarvan District Court on Tuesday, before Mr. J. S. Troy, D.J., an interesting case was heard in which the clashes of political opponents led to a suit for damages for assault and battery.

All the evidence was given by the witnesses in Irish. They were examined and cross-examined by the solicitors engaged in the case in English, but gave their replies to the queries in Irish to the Justice.

Michl. Curran, Ballinagould, Rings, sued two brothers—Thomas and James Hartly, Gorthadilla for £10 damages for assault and battery arising out of a dispute which took place after a meeting held at Ring Schoolhouse, on Dec. 4th, last, in connection with the then pending by-election and at which Professor Hayes, ex-Speaker of the Dail was the principal speaker.

Mr. Farrell, solr., for plaintiff, and Mr. Ryan, solr., defended.

Plaintiff stated that on Sunday, Dec. 4th 1932, he attended a meeting at the Ring School, under the auspices of Curran Na Gaedheal. At that meeting he asked permission to put a question to the speaker and that permission was granted. He put the question subsequently and soon afterwards left the meeting and went out. When he came outside he heard a man named Bate-man arguing with a man named Fitzgerald. Bate-man was saying something about the old volunteers and that no one could answer him on it. Hartly said that's right. Witness then said he would answer it. Hartly then struck witness in the face as he was standing with both hands in his pockets. Witness turned against the wall and then received a severe kick from Jas. Hartly. He believed he was picked up by Wm. Tobin. He was advised by the Priest to go home which he did. He suffered severe pain, and was attended by Dr. Casby. He did not say anything to provoke the Hartlys.

To Mr. Ryan—Witness had not got a ticket to attend the meeting. He did not keep up a running fire of questions. Professor Hayes was speaking. He asked permission to put a question. He had no drink taken. He did not say anything to the effect that those at the meeting were supporters of the Union Jack, but he heard that remark passed. There was not a regular scuffle in which 50 or 60 people took part. It was in the face and not in the chest that Thos. Hartly hit him. When going to the barracks next day he did not jump over the wall, but went in by the gate. He was not building a hen house a few days later.

Sergt. Gallagher, deposed to being on duty outside the school on the night in question. He saw the plaintiff Curran come from the meeting about 8.30, and walk about to yards down the road. Witness heard an altercation between Bate-man and Fitzgerald. Bate-man said something like there were very few Volunteers in Rings when they were wanted. Hartly said that's right and there is no one can answer you there. Curran said I can answer him and Hartly then struck Curran in the chest. Witness then removed Hartly, he had to draw his baton, but did not use it. Witness did not see the assault by Jas. Hartly, as he was removing Thos. Hartly. He subsequently visited Curran to look a statement from him.

By Mr. Ryan—He could not say if admission to that meeting was by ticket. The affair was not very serious. Witness did not hear Curran threatening the Hartlys and saying that he would fight them anywhere even in the chapel-yard. There were about 200 people present and there were five or six arguments going on simultaneously. He heard shouts inside the school about the Union Jack. What I saw Thos Hartly do was to give a few blows in the chest to Curran. He did not see Curran on the ground. When he went for the statement he saw no marks on Curran's face, but he complained of the kick and that he was still sore. He came to the barracks the day after the meeting, but witness was not present. Witness would not like to say that Curran was malingering. Curran wanted the Guards to take proceedings but witness would not do so when he got the statement, Curran was standing up after getting struck on the chest by Thos Hartly.

Wm. Tobin, deposed to being present when Jas. Hartly kicked Curran. Witness nicked up Curran and put him on the fence and rubbed him. Curran then went home.

By Mr. Ryan—Curran was not kicking up any row. Witness was in at the meeting with him, and he did not create any disturbance.

Dr. Casey, M.O., Rings, deposed to attending Curran, who complained of a pain in the abdomen which was tender, his right ear was contused and slightly lacerated. Witness advised him to rest for four or five days. He had him under observation for five days. Curran paid him his fee £2.

My Mr. Ryan—He was slightly injured about the ear and the abdomen.

There was no visible sign of injury in the groin.

Thos. Hartly, defendant, deposed the meeting was by invitation. Curran was at the meeting and passed remarks. Witness heard remarks passed about the Union Jack. He saw Bate-man and Fitzgerald outside, they were talking about Volunteers. Curran challenged witness to fight.

By Mr. Farrell—He shouted challenging me. Sergt. Gallagher took witness away. Witness did not see the Sergt. drawing his baton. He did not see his brother James at all. Curran asked a question at the meeting after getting permission. Witness was in America. He never spent a term in jail there, and was not deported from America. He was at one time warned by Sergt. Gallagher as to his conduct in Court.

Jas. Hartly, gave evidence of Curran interrupting at the meeting. Curran was in the whole business. He told one man he was sorry he did not shoot him. Curran was working three days after the meeting making a fowl house. He never had any trouble with Curran before.

By Mr. Farrell—Witness never had a grudge against Curran, but he was arrested and brought to an unknown destination on account of a decree for 10/- which he refused to pay. He did not kick Curran, but struck up against him when moving in to help his brother. Witness had no drink taken that night. There was a crowd gathered in the chapel yard for the purpose of breaking up the meeting. Curran got permission to ask a question.

Guard Lacey, corroborated the evidence of Sergt. Gallagher and added that when the meeting was over there was a scuffle at the school door. He heard Curran say it is strange that Professor Hayes could not answer the question I put. He saw Thos. Hartly strike Curran and while he was putting back Hartly with the Sergt. he heard Curran say he was kicked by somebody, but he could not catch the name he mentioned.

The Justice in the course of summing up, said—There is no doubt but there was an assault on Curran. I don't think there was provocation. It appears that Thos. Hartly broke into some conversation and said it was right and that no one could answer it, and Curran said he could answer it and he was assaulted by Thos Hartly. Jas. Hartly wanted to see what was going on and pushed his way in. With regard to the plaintiff, he asked permission at the meeting to put a question, and he did nothing unreasonable in doing that, although personally I think when people are not in agreement with a meeting, they should keep away from it. He held Curran did not cause any trouble and was entitled to a decree.

He would give a decree for £5, with 4/- expenses.

Dungarvan Hospital.

CLAIM FOR SWEEP FUND URGED.

MATERNITY HOSPITAL NEEDED.

We notice from the papers of late that the funds from Irish Hospitals' Sweep Fund have been availed of to improve and make up-to-date the Hospitals in many provincial centres. Under that heading the towns of Youghal and Middleton have secured very large grants—Youghal having been apportioned £25,000, and Middleton £20,000, for the erection of New Buildings, and the improvement of the existing institutions.

In view of the important area served by the Dungarvan Hospital and the excellence of the service it provides we hold that it should be entitled to equal consideration with the centres referred to. Dungarvan is badly in need of a Maternity Hospital, and also requires to be modernised with the installation of an X-ray apparatus, as well as having the existing buildings generally improved.

We are glad to learn that the Medical Inspector of the Local Government Department, in his recent report on Dungarvan Hospital, defined it as "A highly efficient, well administered institution." That is just as those who know our Hospital would expect. We have always recognised the wonderful work carried on there by the late Dr. J. C. Hackett, and which has been continued on the same lines and with such conspicuous ability and success by his brilliant successor—Dr. McCarthy—a success which is fully appreciated by the public throughout the county.

No Hospital has a greater claim for a large share of the Hospitals' Sweep Fund than Dungarvan, and we are sure that its claim will be duly appreciated by the Authorities. We hope our Public Bodies and Dail representatives will give their whole-hearted support to the claim of our Hospital, and see that the people of the County Waterford will have at their disposal an up-to-date Hospital equipped with every modern appliance so that the sick poor will be able to get all the advantages of modern science under the best possible conditions.

Waterford County Council.

CO. SURVEYOR'S REPORT.

SEEDS ACT.

LATE LORD ABBOT.

The Quarterly meeting of the County Council was held in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Tuesday. Mr. John Kiersey, Chairman, presided. There were also present—Messrs. C. J. Curran, M. O'Ryan, J. Halloran, T. Harty, W. Stack, P. Cunningham, D. Coghlan, M. F. Walsh, D. Heskin, L. Halahan, J. Roche, M. McGrath, P. P. O'Gorman, M. Curran, P. J. Fox.

Finance.

The financial position of the County Council on Tuesday, was as follows:—Amount of rates outstanding—£35,845; Overdraft at Bank—£24,399. On the corresponding day last year the amount of rates outstanding was—£23,020 and at the Bank the Council had a credit balance of £6,637.

Acknowledgment.

Mr. John Butler, wrote thanking the Council for their resolution of sympathy in his recent bereavement. It was ordered that the letter be inserted in the minutes.

Co. Surveyor's Report.

Mr. Bowen, reported as follows:—Your contractors have done a reasonable amount of work during the last quarter, and most are recommended for payment. The winter generally has been dry, and favourable for roads. Patch rolling in some of those roads would be desirable, but there are difficulties in the administration of such work.

The work on direct-labour roads was very light, all the heavy work having been completed earlier. Some patch-rolling has been done, and some is still in progress. The reduction of estimates a year ago led to serious curtailment of this work.

All rolling and tarring work for the current year has been completed. The steam-rolling of the Melleray road, referred to in my last report, has now been completed, likewise the Portlaw road. A supplementary grant was obtained for this work.

A further Relief Grant has been obtained amounting to £3,000, for road works. This sum has been divided up into eleven parts, for works in various parts of the county. Work is proceeding and will be completed in all cases before the end of the financial year. I attach list of works as approved by the Department.

The total Relief Grants obtained for the year is £14,700. In our opinion this is much less than we should expect, and if repayment deductions will be made on the basis of our usual proportion for the distribution of Improvement Grants we are likely to fare badly for some years to come.

A sum of £3,500 is being expended by the Commissioners of Public Works on Minor Relief Schemes. These are generally road works, and some are of a very useful nature.

Five steam rollers and other plant have been hired out to various road authorities in County Cork. The plant will thus be kept going, as well as our drivers, all of which would otherwise have been idle.

The rules for the passing of vessels through Bridge Bridge need revision, as regards vessels propelled by mechanical power. Numerous accidents to the bridge have occurred, and it is desired to allow vessels to pass only against the current. The old and proposed new rules will be submitted for your approval.

£3,000 Road Relief Grant.

List of Works Approved by the Department. Stradbally-Kinnaethomas, County Road, widening and strengthening surface, about 3,000 cubic yards stone and spalls rolled in, and two corners cast—£400.

Widening road, easing bend, and extending culvert of Trunk Road T.12, at Ballyharahan—£200.

Quarrying and preparing stone (at Ballincoush quarry) for improvement of sides of Trunk Roads T.30, and T.175. Index Nos. D.19, and D.17, about 2,000 cubic yards stone—£200.

Quarrying and preparing stone for steam-rolling of part of County Road, Dungarvan-Ardmore-Youghal—£300.

To make diversion at Kilmurrin, on Trunk Road Tramore-Dungarvan, T.63, where cliff collapsed into sea on December 24th, 1932, length about 150 yards—£300.

To quarry, prepare and deliver stone for rolling part of main road (Link), L.27, Index No. A.8.—£200.

To quarry and prepare stone in Ballymartin, Tallow and Ballyanchor, Lismore, quarries for improvement of roads—£400.

To quarry and prepare stone at Ballyhest quarry, for Trunk Road T.56.—£200.

To quarry, prepare and deliver stone from Kibree quarry, Cappoquin, for County Roads L.32, L.38, and L.33.—£400.

To quarry stone for rolling of main road, Dungarvan-Heivick, and improve drainage.—£200.

To ease bends at Grouse Bridge, and quarry stone for rolling of County Road, Index W. 41, Waterford-Tramore—£200.

As to the amount of the grants received, Mr. Bowen said the Co. Waterford percentage was 2.6 of the Free State and that would amount to £26,000 out of the million Road Fund, whereas they only got £14,000. Assuming a million pounds was obtained on loan as he believed it was it should be paid back from the road fund each year in principal and interest and as a consequence the Road Fund would be reduced and they would have to pay their proportion. If they got 2.6 per cent. of the whole thing it would mean £26,000, but they were not. He was pressing that point with the Authorities and would continue to do so. As to the safeguarding of the Bridge from damage by vessels passing through, Mr. Bowen submitted a variation of the regulations in force which would mean that the bridge would be better protected and this was unanimously approved. He said in 1923 the Council lost £1,200 over the matter. They should protect their property and the new regulation would mean very little hardship. Vessels go through that bridge with 24 feet beam and the opening of the bridge is only 25 feet 6 inches.

Travelling Expenses.

In connection with the travelling expenses of the Co. Surveyor and Assistant Surveyors, the Secretary said last year the mileage allowed was 6d. Chairman—Mr. Butler makes objection to that, but he is not here. He said hiring cars were given at 6d. per mile and the Surveyors should take a little off.

Mr. Halloran—When petrol was much cheaper we paid the Surveyors 6d. a mile travelling expenses and it is not fair to reduce the figure now. To reduce the figure the Surveyors would be losing money.

Chairman—No. Mr. Halloran—Petrol is now 8d. a gallon dearer than it was and how then can we reduce the mileage allowance?

Mr. O'Ryan said sometime ago that matter was referred to a Committee of members who had motor cars to go into the subject, and they were satisfied that 6d. a mile was a fair rate and he did not think they should interfere with that.

Mr. Halloran—When they did not reduce the figure when the petrol was cheaper they should not do so now. He proposed that 6d. a mile be allowed as heretofore.

Mr. Cunningham, seconded. Mr. Bowen—The total amount paid me for travelling was £165 18s. and my expenses were £174 13s. 8d. for the year.

Election in June. In accordance with the letter read from the Minister for Local Government re holding the County Council elections in June, the Council fixed the date of the election as Tuesday, 27th June next.

£6,900 Wanted. The Secretary Co. Board of Public Assistance, applied for an advance of £6,946 to enable them to meet their liabilities for the year 1932-33.

Mr. O'Gorman—The only thing is for the Council to give it. Mr. Coghlan asked would the Corporation pay their share, viz., £3,000? Mr. Walsh—They have been asked. Chairman—But they have not consented.

Mr. C. J. Curran—Is the Co. Council liable if the Waterford Corporation does not pay? Chairman—I understand there is nothing compulsory about it.

Mr. C. J. Curran—How will we fare if the Corporation does not pay? Are we as a Council liable for the requirements of the Board of Assistance? Mr. O'Ryan—We are only liable for our portion of it.

Mr. Coghlan—But we must get an overdraft and pay interest on it. Mr. O'Gorman said it was the same as with the Mental Hospital where the Corporation are bound to pay their portion of the expenses. He asked were they in the same position as regards this question? Chairman—We are not on all fours. The Secretary explained that the Board of Assistance had exceeded their expenditure for the year by £10,000, and they applied to the Co. Council to advance their portion of that sum, viz., £6,964, and they have applied to the Corporation for the balance £3,000 odd. The Board of Assistance wanted an overdraft but the Ministry told them they should get it from the Co. Council and the Corporation.

Chairman—If we marked the application "Consideration postponed" and see what is going to happen it would be better. There is no compulsion to make the Corporation pay.

Mr. O'Gorman—If we get an overdraft we must pay for it and the Waterford Corporation will not pay for it and we would be paying Home Assistance for the City of Waterford.

Mr. McCoy—They are liable for their portion. Mr. O'Gorman suggested that the Council give £3,000 and the Corporation £3,000.

Mr. O'Ryan, proposed that they make the Co. Council payment contingent on the Corporation paying their share—£3,000.

Mr. M. F. Walsh, seconded. Mr. McGrath—If the Corporation refuse to pay their share, can you refuse to pay Home Assistance in Waterford? Mr. O'Gorman—No. The Board of Assistance is the parent body.

A resolution was then passed to pay the £6,946 subject to the Corporation paying their £3,000.

Seeds and Fertilizers Act. Under the Seeds and Fertilizers Supply Act, 1932, by which seed, etc., was advanced to a number of applicants, the Secretary explained that the number of persons who applied for seeds under the scheme was 36. The entire amount involved was £231 6s. 11d. Number of persons who have paid in full 14; number who have paid on account 11; number who have paid no portion of the amount due 11. Amount repaid £130 17s. 0d. Amount unpaid £100 9s. 11d.

The Secretary said he had notified the defaulters and 4 or 5 of them did not answer him at all. Some of the others asked for time. One man said—"He did not secure anyone for seed oats," and another replied—"I regret to say I am unable to meet it at present. One man asked for time to the next fair, while another wrote stating he was building a house and when he got the grant he would pay the amount due.

Mr. Roche said if they wanted to give something under the Scheme they should give it gratis for people who are down and out cannot pay. After considering the Council decided to prosecute the defaulters, and the list was submitted to Mr. McCoy, solicitor, to take the necessary proceedings.

Motions. Mr. Halloran moved that the road from Glenbeg school through Glenmore to Mount Stuart near Anglim's contract be declared a public road. This was passed.

Mr. Bowen said that road had been done by a Board of Works relief grant. Mr. McGrath, moved that the road from Thomas Hanrahan's house at Ballinault to Barron's cottage at Doon be declared a public road.

Mr. Bowen asked to have that road adjourned to the next meeting. Mr. O'Gorman, moved that the road between Michl. Scanlan's house at Glenribbin and Wm. O'Brien's of Toor in the townlands of Monamoon and Toor, be made a main road.

On the suggestion of the Co. Surveyor this motion was adjourned to the next meeting. Late Lord Abbot Of Mt. Mellery.

Chairman—It is with very much regret that I have to propose a vote of sympathy with the Community of Mt. Mellery in the great loss they have sustained by the death of their revered Lord Abbot—a loss which they all felt. I beg to propose—"That we, the Waterford Co. Council, beg to tender to the Community at Mount Mellery, our very sincere sympathy on the great bereavement they have sustained by the death of their great Lord Abbot, who was an illustrious Churchman and an ornament to the Cistercian Order, and that this meeting be adjourned as a tribute to his memory.

Mr. M. F. Walsh, seconded. The Secretary, on behalf of the staff, associated himself with the resolution which was passed in silence.

Clock For Lismore Courthouse. Mr. O'Gorman asked that the Lismore Courthouse be finished by having a clock put on the tower. The cost of the clock would be defrayed locally. If the Co. Surveyor finished it the people were satisfied to pay for it as a district charge.

Regulations for Lent. TO BE OBSERVED IN THE DIOCESE OF WATERFORD AND LISMORE.

The Law of Fasting and Abstinence, as binding in the Diocese of Waterford and Lismore during the coming Lent, will be as follows:—

I. Those who have completed their twenty-first year and have not reached their sixtieth are bound by the Law of Fasting. The Law of Fasting allows one full meal, but however prohibiting, morning and evening, some food, the quantity and quality of which is regulated by custom.

The following are exempt from the Law of Fasting:— (a) Those who are engaged in labourious or exhausting occupations. (b) The very poor whose meals are scant and uncertain. (c) Those who suffer from sickness or delicate health.

Meat may be used at the principal meal on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, in Lent, with the exception of Saturday of Quarter Tense, 11th March.

II. All who have completed their seventh year are bound by the Law of Abstinence. By the present legislation of the Church the Law of Abstinence forbids only the use of meat and extracts therefrom. Lard and dripping are allowed as condiments.

Those who are not bound to fast are obliged by the Law of Abstinence only. Hence they are forbidden the use of meat and extracts therefrom only on Wednesdays, Fridays, and the Saturday of Quarter Tense.

III. (a) Fast and Abstinence are removed on St. Patrick's Day. (b) From mid-day on Holy Saturday Fast and Abstinence cease. Parish Priests and Administrators for their flocks and Confessors for their penitents have power to grant, in individual cases, further Dispensations.

W. BYRNE, Vicar Capitular of the Diocese of Waterford and Lismore.

UNUSUAL CHARGE AT WATERFORD.

An unusual charge was made in Waterford when John C. Timmins, Nore Tee, Kilkenny, was remanded in custody for public mischief. It was alleged that at Thomastown on Dec. 14th, he informed the Garda that two men, whose description he gave, had knocked him down, bound his legs with rope and his wrists with shoelaces, and had stolen from him a bag containing £12 and a cheque for £8 payable to Catherine Carew, and had thereby caused members of the Garda to devote their time to the investigation of false allegations, and had rendered certain male citizens liable to suspicion, accusation, and arrest. Only formal evidence was given by Supt. O'Riordan.

TALLOW DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.). Sergt. Quirke, Tallow, charged Mr. Carroll of no fixed abode, with being drunk and disorderly and giving great annoyance to the people. He was in jail at present for a similar offence.

The Clerk said the man was committed to jail on the 15th inst., at Cappoquin. The case was adjourned to next Court.

Guard S. O'Leary, Tallow, charged Wm. Murphy, West Street, with a similar offence. Complainant stated he heard the defendant shouting out filthy expressions. Witness told him to clear home but he refused to go and witness had to use force to get him inside the door. When he got Murphy inside he made a kick at witness, hitting the door instead. After a time Murphy came out again and witness again put him back. He then got a stick and witness had to hit him a shot back. The man was in a terrible temper, and using very filthy expressions all the time.

The Justice to defendant—What are you smiling at? Defendant—I didn't say a word—not a word. The Justice—Do you expect me to believe that? Defendant—You may. The man came into my door.

The defendant, sworn, stated he was in his own house at the time, boiling his supper, when that man came and rapped. The Justice—What time of the day was it?—About 6 o'clock.

Defendant, continuing, said he had not a sign of drink, only two small bottles of porter that a friend from Castlelyons gave him early. The man (the Guard) came in to the house, put up his fist and struck witness in the mouth, cut his lip and broke that tooth. He after ran in again and punched witness into the side eleven bells and raised a lump that size.

The Justice—Do you mean that the Guard made an unprovoked attack on you in your own house?—Yes. Why I don't know. If I had the price of a summons, I'd summons him, but I hadn't.

The Justice—Why should he do that?—I couldn't say, but I suppose he was put up to it. Dr. O'Mahony is attending me ever since. There is the Sergt. there, he will tell you. Complainant asked the Justice to adjourn the case. He could produce evidence to show that the man was on the street.

The case was adjourned to next Court. Obstruction. Guard J. Farrell, charged John Beecher, Kilkenny, with obstructing the passage from the course on the day of the Point-to-Point Races.

Complainant said defendant had the way out blocked with his horse and trap. He had a number of motors held up and refused to make way. The horse finally crashed into a motor car smashing the shaft. There were 300 cars there.

Defendant denied causing any obstruction. His animal got frightened at all the commotion. He didn't block the way on a lot of motor cars, but was himself blocked by a car.

After a lengthened hearing, the case was adjourned for the attendance of Guard Martin, who was with Guard Farrell on duty on the occasion.

Entertainment Tax Case. John O'Brien, Chapel Street, was charged with a breach of the Entertainment Tax Regulations, on Oct. 5th.

Mr. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, Dungarvan, prosecuted, and Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, defended.

Mr. Ryan said that O'Brien was the proprietor of the Cinema Hall, which had been let for a dance on the night in question. O'Brien had been informed by the Revenue Officer of his responsibilities, but on that occasion he chanced his arm. It was a clear case of a breach.

Mr. Hodnett—Are we being prosecuted as owner of the Hall, or as Chairman of the Committee? Mr. Ryan—As proprietor. Mr. Hodnett—Because we are not the sole proprietor.

Mr. J. P. Dennehy, Excise Officer, stated that he had an interview with defendant on the 28th September last, and he admitted that he was the proprietor of the Hall. Witness informed him as to his position regarding the Entertainment Tax under the New Act.

The Justice—What is the new Act? Mr. Ryan—The last Finance Act which made certain exceptions and altered duties.

Witness, resuming, said that he had handed a notice about the matter to defendant, and he believed there was a record that he had been otherwise notified. There was a dance advertised to be held in the Hall on the 5th Oct. in aid of the Tallow Hurling Club. It was a public dance, a charge being made. Witness attended and paid 1/6 for admission. The ticket produced was the one he got. There was no stamp on it. Ed. Flynn was collecting the tickets. Witness took up the tickets from him and found that none had been stamped that night. O'Brien was superintending, more or less. As well as being proprietor and owner of the Hall.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett—We had it from the State Solicitor that O'Brien is being prosecuted as proprietor of the Hall—is that so?—As proprietor of the entertainment, which—Hall or Entertainment, we must have that clear?—I didn't frame the prosecution. I couldn't answer that. Mr. Ryan said the prosecution was against the proprietor of the entertainment and he stood by the summons.

Mr. Hodnett here quoted from a letter received by defendant from the late Mr. P. J. Hurley, Excise Officer, to the effect that the matter they had a conversation about didn't refer to such places.

Witness—The Finance Act of '32 wasn't passed then. That made a big alteration. Mr. Hodnett said that letter was obtained in answer to a question as to whether he, as proprietor of the Hall, was liable. The dance was held under the auspices of the G.A.A. for the local hurling club.

Mr. Hodnett—Do you know the total receipts taken that night?—No. Mr. Hodnett said the point he wished to make was that the defendant was only one—the Chairman—of the Committee and that the whole lot should have been summoned.

Defendant stated he was Chairman of the local hurling club. Under the Rules of the G.A.A. they were obliged to have a Committee of Management with a Treasurer and Hon. Secretary. The joint Hon. Secs. were Ed. Flynn and J. Harigan, and the Treasurer W. Sheehan. The dance was got up in aid of the funds of the club. They produced the minutes book. He was not at the meeting of the Committee which decided to hold the dance, being sick at the time. Apart from that he was only part owner of the Hall. The total receipts for the night were £7 15s. 0d., and the expenses £6 4s. 6d.

The Club had no intention of breaking the law. They knew nothing about the Act referred to. He was led to believe by the previous Excise Officer that he wouldn't be liable for the tax. He had nothing to do with the selling of the tickets or the conduct of the dance that night—he attended merely to fix the lights.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ryan—He recognised now that they were liable for the tax, but didn't know it at the time. He was Chairman of the club. He was one of the recognised proprietors of the Hall. He didn't supervise the dance that night. It was held under the auspices of the Committee of which he was Chairman. They were paid for the use of the Hall. He had nothing to do with the purchase of the tickets which were got in Dundalk. He got his tickets from William, in England. If he had been aware that they were liable he would have advised them to stamp the tickets.

Who was responsible for the refreshments that night?—I think it was the Hon. Sec. I wasn't there. I am not a dancing man at all. They are willing to pay the tax.

Mr. Hodnett—I would like to say that we are only too willing to pay the tax. I submit the prosecution can't succeed. The Justice—I am not so clear about that.

Mr. Hodnett—I would suggest that seeing the thing was done in ignorance, Mr. Ryan might withdraw the prosecution and we will pay the tax.

Mr. Ryan—My instructions are if this point was raised to ask for an adjournment for further evidence.

After a further protracted hearing, the case was adjourned to next Court. Mr. Ryan being asked by the Justice to place the facts of the case before the Revenue Commissioners.

Malicious Damage. Kate Collins, Knockamuck, was charged with malicious damage to property.

Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, prosecuted and Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, defended.

The Superintendent said that the defendant was charged with malicious damage to a sign board, the property of Cornelius Curley, damage estimated at 2/.

Cornelius Curley, Tallow, stated he was a hackney car owner. He placed a sign-board on Tallow Hill, advertising motors for hire. On the morning of the 20th Nov., he found it completely covered over with red paint. There was a lot of writing on the road opposite the sign-post. The damage done was about 2/.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Gorman—Witness said he had heard that the girl had got into trouble, but he could not say who was responsible. He knew nothing about it.

Pressed on the point, witness said he wouldn't answer the question. The Justice said before he allowed any question of the kind, he should hear it first.

He didn't think the girl was mentally correct. The riddle on the sign-board was washed off easily.

The Justice—Mr. O'Gorman, what position are you taking up? Mr. O'Gorman—We plead we did it.

Sergt. Quirke said the matter was reported to him on Nov. 20th, and he visited the scene. The writing on the road was—"Michael Curley I will shoot you within 48 hours." He went to defendant who made a statement (hand in).

Having read it, the Justice said she didn't admit anything in the statement, but she pleaded guilty now.

The Sergt. said he asked the girl to produce her cloths and he found on them marks of paint the same as that on the sign-board.

The Sergt. was producing the clothes in question. The Justice—You need not bother. Mr. O'Gorman handed up a letter regarding her mental capacity.

The Justice said that took away from the force of her allegations of which there was no proof.

Replying to the Court, the accused promised to conduct herself for the future and not to interfere with anybody's property.

Having got a strict warning, she was let off in her own recognisances of £5 for 12 months.

HOBBIES FOR THE PEOPLE.

PLEASURES OF DOG BREEDING.

By "PHILOKON."

THE average man craves for amusement or occupation in his spare time, and those who have neither will either be miserable or get into mischief. Few interests for those of moderate means are comparable with that of breeding livestock. I do not care what it is, whether cage birds, pigeons, dogs, rabbits, or even fancy mice. The man who takes up one of these hobbies will never be dull, and if he is at all clever at the game he will be able to add to his income. I have heard of men making £80 a year from their canaries, and there is always a market for the best of anything.

Naturally, my own tastes run in the direction of dogs. People sometimes object that these are the prerogative of the rich, which is a misconception. It is true that the well-to-do figure more conspicuously at shows, because they have the leisure and can afford to exhibit more continuously, but there are now shows in nearly every part of the country, and many of their supporters belong to the workers. It may be said roughly that the wealthy exhibitors provide an outlet for dogs bred by those in poorer circumstances.

Those whose means are moderate and accommodation restricted, will, of course, go in for one of the smaller breeds, buying one of two bitches of approved pedigrees. It is not necessary to have a champion for breeding champion. Many of the best have come from moderate dams, whose breeding is on the right lines. When the Duchess of Newcastle changed over from borzios to fox terriers she determined to build up a strain by her own talents, and not to depend upon the power of the purse. I think I am right in saying that the matrons that founded her kennels, famous now for many years, did not cost more than £5 each, and she has seldom gone outside, preferring breeding champions to buying them.

At one time Yorkshire working men bred in boxes in their houses, made money out of the little toy terriers that are called after their county. The advantage of a stud of the smaller toys is that there is an outlet for the males, those that are not up to show form, as ordinary companion dogs. This is an important consideration, for no one wants to go to the expense of rearing puppies that will do no good at shows. The sooner they are out of the way the better the opportunity of concentrating attention on those that really matter. The cost of keeping small dogs is infinitesimal, and puppies sold at a few pounds each will soon clear expenses. The others can be disposed of more profitably if they show indications of growing on well, or retained for the purpose of improving the stock. With limited means, one has to build up a strain in this way. It may take several years, but under careful management one's capital is growing all the time.

Supposing there are no profits? Well, if one has a fascinating hobby to fill up spare hours, there is not any reason to grumble if both sides of the account balance, or one is a trifle out of pocket. It will then be much cheaper than many other amusements that do not afford as much genuine satisfaction. I went in for dog breeding as a recreation in a busy life without any expectation of making money, and was content so long as the expenditure was not more than would have been incurred in other ways. As it happened, my tastes ran in the direction of two breeds that were never likely to bring in great returns, but I managed to keep well within my limits.

INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT. MINISTER'S STATEMENT.

Speaking at a meeting in Dublin of the Federation of Irish Industries, Mr. Lemass, Minister for Industry and Commerce said:—A glance at the import list suggests that there is something fundamentally wrong in a country predominantly agricultural which imported during recent years an average of almost £20,000,000 worth under the heading of animals, foodstuffs, and drink. A certain proportion of this import cannot be replaced by native produce, but obviously there is ample scope for the expansion of home production. The position at the moment is that, as a result of protective duties importation has completely, or almost, ceased in respect of meat, poultry, bacon, butter, margarine, eggs, condensed milk, flour, meal, bread, sugar and chocolate confectionary, preserves, etc. It is our intention to proceed as speedily as possible to an extension of home production under every possible heading in this category. The home production of cheese is growing gradually. It is hoped in time to meet the total sugar requirements from home-grown beet, and to promote a more extensive production of vegetables and fruit. This involves the establishment of a canning industry, with which a beginning at least has been made. As you are aware, we have drawn up a programme of wheat growing which should in time make us largely independent of foreign wheat supplies. There is no reason why, once our plans for development have been definitely accepted and worked out in what we hope may be an enthusiastic spirit, that the total food requirements of this predominantly agricultural country should not be supplied from home sources. The major responsibility of carrying out the programme of extending the home production of animal and human food rests with the Minister for Agriculture, but there are many branches of food production of a more or less industrial type, and in all these I can assure you that there is close co-ordination between my own department, responsible for industry, and the Department of Agriculture. Now flour mills will be built, and previously silent mills will be re-opened, which will produce not only the national requirements of flour, but will yield offals sufficient to decrease correspondingly the import of feeding stuffs. A new market for home grown oats and barley has been created not only at the oat meal mills, but in the numerous small grist mills to be found in nearly every rural area.

Under arrangements in force for the last few months, a 10 per cent. admixture of home-grown grain is ground with maize, and with an increased proportion of native grain at a later date, a new market is provided for the farmer.

The four new beet factories which are being planned will provide industrial employment on a large scale. In addition, the increased tillage involved and the income from his beet crop made available to the agriculturist, will bring new life-blood to the countryside. In the more definitely industrial side of national production, I may remind you that the average import under the heading of textiles and apparel during recent years was over £10,000,000. Conditions have now been created which will gradually bring such import to an end. These messages have given a fillip to the woolen industry and to a lesser extent to the linen and cotton industries, and jute industry. The point will, I hope, soon be reached when the import of woolen piece goods will have altogether ceased as our manufacturers enter new branches of production. The same remarks apply to linen and union piece goods. While the production of the all-varied classes and qualities of cotton piece goods required is a long way off, still a certain progress is being made, and at some point it should be possible to intensify the rate of progress. Men's clothing of all types is now being made in a thoroughly effective way and at competitive prices. The moment is fast approaching when, so far as men's clothing is concerned, there will be no import. The position is respect of women's clothing is a little more difficult for many reasons, but at least the foundations have been laid, and such conditions established as make it possible to hope that steady progress will be made in the coming year. There is no insuperable reason in the case of women's clothing any more than men's clothing why native production should not reach the point of meeting the total national requirements. The same remarks apply to the manufacture of boots and shoes, which, as you are probably aware, is in many respects a difficult industry, and one in which the training of labour takes some time.

In addition to the main industries of making men's and women's outer garments, there is a number of other textile and apparel trades in which marked progress has been made. The shirtings industry supplies at the moment the total requirements of the country. Other industries which have made rapid progress are the making of corsets, caps, umbrellas, handkerchiefs and women's underclothing and light outer clothing. A beginning has been made with the leather glove industry, and I anticipate that a new factory will be opened in the near future for the manufacture of felt hats. Such is the record of what has been done in the direction of wiping out the £10 millions' worth of imports under the heading of textiles and apparel.

There is more to be done, and in addition to the leeway to be made up in women's clothing and boots and shoes, there is a scope for expansion in the hosiery industry, and ultimately possibly in the manufacture of artificial silk-yarn, which is the basis of a large and growing branch of the hosiery industry. Technical difficulties are involved, but I can assure you that no stone will be left unturned to arrive as speedily as is practicable at the point in which the various branches of the textile and apparel trade are in a position to supply the home market.

Under the heading of timber and manufactures of wood, there has been an average import over recent years of almost one and a half millions. Of this total about half a million pounds worth was made up of boxes and parts, furniture, builders' wood work, and other manufactures of wood. Such duties have been imposed as will compel the making of all these articles in the Saorstad within a reasonable time. Our woodworkers are capable of making all that is required, and it is only a question of a little time to have machinery installed and a new organisation created to reach the point when satisfactory prices can be quoted. Of the £1 million worth of raw wood and timber imported we hope in the first place to replace a certain possibly small proportion in the beginning by native-grown timber, though in later years, when afforestation schemes, as we hope, have been carried into effect we should be in a position to depend increasingly on native supplies. In the second place the bulk of the timber has been so far imported in the form of planed and dressed flooring, sheeting, etc. At the moment the principal timber importing and sawmilling firms are installing planing machines of a modern type to plane and dress the timber which will in future be imported in an unplanned and undressed condition. The woodworking industry is developed should add to employment in rural areas, particularly as it is an industry which is peculiarly suited to rural working, especially when native timber supplies are available. At a later date we are considering the possibility of restricting the export of native timber in the round so as to afford a sufficient supply of raw material for rural woodworking industries.

Under the heading of vehicles and parts, the average import in recent years has been in the neighbourhood of 3 millions, more than half of which is made up of motor cars, commercial vehicles, and buses. The duties already imposed have, however, resulted in a situation in which all horse-drawn vehicles will in future be made in Saorstad firms. Further arrangements have been made for the partial manufacture and assembly in the Saorstad of perambulators, mail cars and cycles. At the moment all the commercial motor vehicle bodies and buses required are built in the country. Plans are under consideration for the building of private car bodies, and, although certain difficulties have been encountered, the policy will not be abandoned of securing at some point that all this employment will be retained in the country, and that the import be restricted to the chassis. In addition, arrangements have been made by which there is an opening for the assembly of certain chassis parts in the Saorstad.

Under the heading of manufactures of iron and steel and other metals, including machinery and electrical goods, the average import in recent years has been over five millions. It will probably be some time before a heavy metal industry is possible, or the manufacture of certain types of machinery. A beginning has however been made with branches of certain metal industries and, amongst these, it should be noted, that in future all constructional steel work must be fabricated in this country. The manufacture of wire and wire fencing, etc., has progressed to the point of already employing over 100 workers. To this there may be added at some point in the near future the manufacture of the raw material of this industry, i.e., raw wire, including nails, tacks and similar types of allied products. The manufacture and assembly of stoves, grates and ranges has made a hopeful commencement, and the industry of wrought iron, galvanised hollow ware will shortly meet the total needs of the country.

A certain measure of protection has been given to brass and gunmetal foundries. The industry of tin-box making has received a definite fillip, and will be shortly in a position to supply the whole requirements of the country. The agricultural implement and machinery industry, already well established in the country, has been saved from a position in which it was being gradually wiped out by an increasing flood of imports. This has been done in such a way that practically no extra cost has been laid on the farming community, who have for many years been acquainted with the qualities of the Irish-made implements. The iron founding industry enjoys a limited measure of protection which should make the foundation for a more expanded production as opportunity offers. This industry, like the engineering industry generally in the Saorstad has been languishing for years, owing to increasing imports. In former years local foundries did a large share of general foundry and machinery work which, for various reasons, has been lost. Arrangements have now been made in addition to the direct protection offered to induce or compel Saorstad firms erecting machinery to have a certain definite proportion of the pulleys, shafting, and auxiliary gear required made in this country, and this has already been of definite assistance to the engineering trade. Further, certain assembly industries have been established as a result of arrangements made to the Department, e.g., gas stoves and cookers, meters, weighing machines, wireless sets, batteries and accumulators, etc. Plans are under consideration for the manufacture in the Saorstad of certain types of electrical machinery and parts. There is also a hope that it may be found possible to make the most of the dairy machinery required in this country, as well as certain other simpler types of machines.

Under the head of mine and quarry products, there appears a total import in recent years, of over one million pounds in respect of bricks and tiles, cement, slates, sanitary and general earthenware, bottles and other glass ware. The re-establishment of the glass-bottle factory at Ringsend on modern lines should result in the production of almost every type of bottle and glass jar required in the country. It may be possible in the near future to consider the establishment of a works for the manufacture of sheet glass. The import of slates and roofing material generally will in the near future cease, as a number of new slate quarries have, with the assistance of the Department, been opened up and in addition several new firms have begun to manufacture concrete tiles. In future practically all the roofing material for buildings will be from home sources. Further, the importation of all wrought and monumental stone has ceased with a corresponding increase of employment in the industries involved. Plans are under consideration for the establishment of a brick and tile industry which should be in a position to produce all the requirements of the country. Excellent clays are available on good sites and the completion of this scheme is only a matter of arranging for the organisation of a company to take charge of the operations. Similarly, plans have almost reached the point of completion as a result of which the cement requirements of the country will be manufactured in the Saorstad. This item alone will reduce imports by something over £500,000 per year.

General earthenware affords a clear field for expansion. One firm with a commendable initiative has made a beginning with domestic earthenware. Difficult questions of technique and scale of production arise in the case of stoneware and chinaware, but investigations will proceed in the direction of a complete exploration of the possibilities. Ordinary clays and fire clays of excellent quality are available in various parts of the country. The prospects of finding china clay deposits of good quality and under workable conditions are at the moment being examined into. There are mineral possibilities in this country which are or will shortly be under examination. One of these in particular may lead to a large scale development and produce at least one of the basic materials for a heavy industry. A certain amount of unemployment relief money has been spent on various types of mineral exploration. This form of expenditure in relief of unemployment is, in my opinion, an investment which may lead to later development work on a commercial basis.

Under the heading of manufactures of iron and steel and other metals, including machinery and electrical goods, the average import in recent years has been over five millions. It will probably be some time before a heavy metal industry is possible, or the manufacture of certain types of machinery. A beginning has however been made with branches of certain metal industries and, amongst these, it should be noted, that in future all constructional steel work must be fabricated in this country. The manufacture of wire and wire fencing, etc., has progressed to the point of already employing over 100 workers. To this there may be added at some point in the near future the manufacture of the raw material of this industry, i.e., raw wire, including nails, tacks and similar types of allied products. The manufacture and assembly of stoves, grates and ranges has made a hopeful commencement, and the industry of wrought iron, galvanised hollow ware will shortly meet the total needs of the country.

CHARGE AGAINST A WATERFORD T.C.

INFORMATION REFUSED.

Information was refused at Waterford District Court, against David Nash, T.C., representative of the unemployed on the City Council, who was charged with receiving a home assistance voucher valued for 11/- by falsely pretending that he had not received any wages during the week previous to Feb. 9th, whereas he had earned wages amounting to £3. Evidence was given by Jas. McGrath, H.A.O., that he issued the voucher to Nash, who stated he had earned no wages that week.

William Brazil, an official in the office of Mr. T. A. Colbert, solr., Returning Officer, said Nash was employed as poll clerk at the General Election and also at the count on the two following days, for which he received two cheques of £1 10s. each.

In reply to Mr. Fahy (Acting D.J.), who asked if the cheques had come back marked "paid," the witness said they were still in the bank.

Mr. Fahy—I cannot accept the mere issue of a cheque as proof of payment. If you showed me the paid cheques with the endorsements on them it would be different. He seems to have got away with it all right so far.

Cappoquin C.Y.M.S.

ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING.

The Annual General Meeting of the Cappoquin C.Y.M.S. was held in the Society's Hall in Mill Street, on Sunday night. Very Rev. D. Canon Whelan, D.D., P.P., presided, and there was a very large attendance of members, including Rev. J. Crotty, C.C.

Secretary's Annual Report.

The Hon. Sec., Mr. James P. Olden, submitted the following interesting report:—Very Rev. Canon Rev. Father Crotty, and gentlemen, in submitting a report of the working of the Society for the past year it is pleasing to record despite the prevalent depression, a rather healthy condition of affairs. An examination of our financial position reveals a balance to our credit of £22 10s. 0d., which I am sure you will agree is very satisfactory in view of the heavy liabilities which had to be discharged. The receipts from Billiards and Snooker reached the substantial figure of £69 12s. 2d., and were it not for a rather marked decline of interest on the part of some of our members in this very interesting social pastime we would very nearly have recorded a "century break".

The Annual Concert, held during the year proved a great success, both socially and financially. Owing to circumstances over which we have no control, the Billiards and Snooker Handicaps were not completed in time for this meeting, so that the prizes in connection therewith will not be presented until this night month.

It is regrettable to note the lack of interest in the Handicaps, as evidenced by the small numbers participating and it is to be hoped that a revival of interest will manifest itself in the near future.

The attention of members is respectfully directed to a matter of paramount importance in the Society's welfare, the vital matter of subscriptions. The receipts from this source show a very large falling off, as compared with the previous year.

This is a much-to-be-deplored state of things, and I would earnestly exhort members to have a better appreciation of their responsibilities in this most essential regard and keep this subscriptions up to date, as it frequently happens that when arrears become heavy the parties concerned cease membership of the Society.

The infusion of a Literary spirit into the Society, to which we adverted in last year's report, made itself manifest during the year, when we had a very practical and interesting paper read by Mr. F. X. O'Leary, N.T., Cappoquin, followed by a beautiful Lecture from that distinguished Churchman and Writer, Rev. Father Owen Dudley. It is the intention to have further literary contributions from other prominent people in the future, which we trust will be equally well attended by the members of the general public of Cappoquin.

The standard of conduct of the members during the year has been admirable and exemplary, the note of discord being conspicuous by its absence. We all, I am sure, regret very much the unfortunate indisposition of our genial and efficient Caretaker, Mr. Joe Walsh, but it is very reassuring to know that he will very soon be in a position to resume his duties amongst us.

In conclusion, a tribute must be paid to the members of our Committee for the practical interest which they have evinced in the Society's welfare, as shown by their regular attendance at the meetings during the past year, and to Mr. P. Cahill, our worthy and indispensable Treasurer, the best thanks of the Society are due for the marked ability which he has always shown in his management of the finances of the Society.

Our esteemed President, Mr. R. J. Collender, has also given proof of his keen interest in the progress of the Society by his unceasing attention to the duties of his office. We are also much indebted to Mr. J. E. Crowe and Mr. J. Walsh, for valuable services rendered to the Society in their different capacities on various occasions, while to our Spiritual Director, Very Rev. Canon Whelan, we owe a debt of gratitude for the paternal solicitude which he has so consistently shown since his advent amongst us, and his very real regard and zeal for the Society's progress and welfare.

The reading of the above report was greeted with applause, and after a short discussion it was unanimously adopted.

Mr. P. Cahill, Treasurer, submitted a very satisfactory statement of Accounts showing the receipts and expenditure of the Society during the past year, and leaving the substantial sum of £22 10s. 0d. to credit, and this was also unanimously adopted.

The election of officers was then proceeded with and resulted in the unanimous reelection of all the outgoing gentlemen as follows:—President, Mr. R. J. Collender; Vice-President, Mr. M. J. Sargent; Treasurer, Mr. P. Cahill; Hon. Sec., Mr. James P. Olden, all of whom suitably returned thanks for the renewal of confidence placed in them which they hoped to justify by strict attention to their duties during the coming year.

The following outgoing members of the Committee were also unanimously re-elected, and briefly returned thanks: Messrs. J. E. Crowe, E. Dunne, E. J. Fraher, Jas. Curran, Senr., and John Singleton.

Canon Whelan then briefly addressed the meeting and pointed out the great social and educational advantages of having such a flourishing Society as this in the town, and paid a high tribute to the members for their exemplary conduct at all times, and some matters of detail having been dealt with, a cordial vote of thanks to the Very Rev. Chairman, concluded the meeting.

We regret to announce the death of Master Edward Fives, youngest son of Mrs. Fives, Burgerry, which took place on Tuesday last, fortified by the rites of the church. POPULAR OFFICIAL PROMOTED.
Mr. T. H. Faughnan who for the past 8 years had been the capable and efficient Post Master at Dungarvan, has been promoted to the charge of the Bantry Office. During his time here, Mr. Faughnan was most courteous and business-like in his dealings with the general public and carries with him to his new centre of activity the best wishes of all who knew him and appreciated his worth as an official and a citizen while amongst us.

PRESENTATION FROM POSTAL STAFF.
On Thursday evening, Mr. Faughnan, was presented with a Cabinet for his wireless set by the Postal Staffs. In making the presentation, Mr. Mooney, said the office was much the poorer in losing the services of their genial P.M., as one member said "they begrudged him to Bantry."

In reply, Mr. Faughnan, returned thanks to the staff for their presentation and said his promotion was due to the fine co-operation he always received from them. In fact they were like one big family. The staff then bade goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. Faughnan.

"PEARL THE FISHERMAIDEN."
At a special meeting of the Committee of the Dungarvan Band, on the 27th, ult., Rev. M. F. Hearne, C.C., presiding, the following resolution was proposed by Mr. J. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Cartwright, and resolved:—"That the best thanks of the Band Committee be tendered to the Community of the Sisters of Mercy, for their kind efforts in the preparation of the actresses for our recent Musical success—"Pearl the Fishermayden"—and to the girls individually and collectively, for their splendid display both in vocal production and excellent acting."

It was unanimously agreed that the Operetta "Pearl the Fishermayden," would be produced in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on St. Patrick's Night, March, 17th, under the aegis of the Band Committee, for the Parish Church Decoration Fund.

GRAND CONCERT AT ABBEYSIDE.
A most enjoyable Concert under the auspices of the St. Vincent de Paul, St. Augustine's Conference, Abbeyside, was held in the Scouts Den, Abbeyside, on Tuesday night last and proved a great success from every point of view.

The organising Committee with their capable and efficient Secretary, Mr. J. McHugh, had all the arrangements perfect and made sure that all details were in order.

The spacious Scouts Den was crowded and had the weather being a little more favourable the hall would not have held the crowds.

The proceedings opened with a chorus by the local Scout Troop, and the following well-known artists contributed:—Mrs. Ryla Harris, Miss B. Waters, Messrs. Jas. Keohan, E. Phelan, P. Croke, L. Lanigan, and F. X. O'Leary, Cappoquin.

At the interval a drawing for two valuable prizes took place and the winning numbers were drawn by Mrs. Boland, Abbeyside, and Master P. Morrissey, Ballycove after which the talented Cappoquin Players, produced the One-Act Comedy "Higher Finance," by F. X. O'Leary, N.T., Cappoquin. The parts were ably filled by Miss E. Mullins, Mr. P. Mason, Mr. M. Whelan, and Mr. T. Flynn. The players were loudly applauded by the audience for their great display and a word of praise is due in no small way from the organising committee to the Cappoquin Players and to Mr. F. X. O'Leary for their great help in making the Concert such a great success.

The accompaniments were played by Mrs. O'Hara, A.L.C.M., assisted by Miss A. Crotty (Violin), and a string and Brass combination under the conductorship of Mr. McHugh, B.M., rendered some pleasing selections of music during the performance.

Before the last chorus, the Very Rev. M. C. Crotty, P.P., thanked the different artists for their help and also the people that came in such inclement weather to support the noble cause of the poor, and hoped that many such evenings would be held in the future.

The singing of The Scouts' National Anthem and Faith of Our Fathers brought the Concert to a close. The National Anthem then being played by the Orchestra.

DAILY MEETS.
The Daily met on Wednesday, and dealt with a number of questions. The Bill to remove the Oath, was sent back to the Senate, Mr. McGilligan, stating it was a breach of the Treaty. The resolution to send it back was passed by 75 votes to 49. A motion by Mr. MacDermott, that a re-union of the Irish Nation founded on good-will should be the primary object of Government policy was agreed to.

KILMATHOMAS NEWS.

A NOTEWORTHY INCIDENT.

We have received the following for publication:—A little over a year ago, Miss Mary Jane Power, a native of Fewes, Co. Waterford, died suddenly and intestate at Lynn, Mass., U.S.A., leaving personal estate, in stocks and shares, to a considerable amount. Following her demise, intimation to this effect was received by her sister, Mrs.
 John Mooney, Rathmeaden, Kilmac-thomas, from Mr. W. S. Bishop, Attorney-at-Law, Lynn, Mass. Mrs.
 Mooney, who is rather old and infirm,
 by a happy inspiration, decided to consult Mr. M. F. Sheehan, P.C., Ballyhussa, in the matter. Nor was her confidence misplaced. Courtroom and consistorate at usual, Mr. Sheehan took up her case at her earnest solicitation, with the result that without legal or other assistance and without trouble or expense on Mrs. Mooney's part he single-handed and alone recovered for her the sum of £2,210, her full share in her late sister's estate. As will be readily understood, a matter of this kind is extremely difficult and tedious, and one from which the ordinary layman would shrink, yet our good friend carried it through without hitch or mistake from first to last.

RECENT LOCAL DEATHS.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Patrick O'Connell, Ballydunn, Kilmathomas, which occurred on the 27th ult., after a protracted illness and in his 89th year. The deceased was father of Mr. James O'Connell, the famous goalie on the Waterford intercounty hurling teams of over twenty-five years ago—He then belonged to the Clonea H.C., and for the past two decades is living in the U.S.A. All through the life of the late Mr. O'Connell was an earnest and energetic supporter of the Irish-Ireland movement. A model Catholic and a kind neighbour, his friends were many, and the deepest sympathy is extended to his sons and daughters at home and abroad. The remains, accompanied by a big cortège, were removed to Newtown Parish Church on Tuesday evening, and after Requiem Mass on Wednesday morning, the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. May he rest in peace.

The death took place on the 28th, ult., of Mrs. Ellen Donovan, relict of the late Mr. John Donovan, Barrack street, Kilmathomas, after an illness of some months duration, and in her 86th year. She belonged to an old and respected local family that was connected with a number of well-known persons in the City and County.
 Mother of Mr. Thomas Donovan, Bal-linarrid, Bonmahon, she was an exemplary Catholic and a very charitable lady. The remains were removed to the Convent of Mercy Chapel of Ease on Wednesday evening, and after Requiem Mass on Thursday, the funeral took place to Ballylancean cemetery, where she was laid to rest in the presence of numerous relatives, friends and sympathisers.—R.I.P.

CLONEA WEDDING.

The marriage took place on the 22nd ult., at Clonea Catholic Church, of Mr.
 Patrick Foran, son of the late Mr.
 John Foran and Mrs. Ellen Foran, of Ballyleen, Dunhill, and Miss Maima
 Moore, eldest daughter of Mr. George Moore and Mrs. Mary Moore, Clonea.
 The ceremony was performed by Very Rev. James Canon Wall, P.P., Clonea.
 The best man was Mr. Edward Foran, brother of the bridegroom, whilst the bride was attended by her sister, Miss Moore. The wedding breakfast took place at the Imperial Hotel, Waterford, and amongst the numerous guests was Rev. Father Cullen, C.C., who presided. The honeymoon was spent in Dublin.

ADVERTISE YOUR GOODS.

Messrs. D. O'Reilly and Sons, family Victuallers, Kilmathomas, are amongst the innumerable progressive traders who know and appreciate the value of advertising. You will please notice their latest advertisement elsewhere on the present copy.

THE FEBRUARY FAIR.

There was a small supply of stock on offer at the monthly cattle fair held at Kilmathomas on Tuesday, and prices were lower than those prevailing a month ago. The demand was poor, and there were very few buyers present. Yearlings made £3 to £7 each;
 two-year-olds, £7 to £10; springers, £12, and calves, £4. First-class beef fetched 55/- per cwt. (d.w.) and second-class 35/- per cwt. (d.w.). There was an increase in the price of mutton, which was sold at from 8d. to 9d. per lb.

THE SNOW.

Within the week the whole wide countryside was heavily covered with snow, and folks moving out-of-doors found the thermometer uncomfortably
 low. Awfully "sneeze-onable" weather, was the comment of a neighbour, who, handkerchief in hand, was making the echoes ring with resounding "a-choos."
 Some people—and they are the sail of the earth—cannot restrain their little joke even when the "flu" is trying to howl them out. Mention of snow tempts us to tell the story of the origin of the famous hunting song, "Dye ken John Peel." It dates back to a snowy evening of October, 1829
 when Graves and Peel sat in the parlour of Graves' house at Middleton, near Calbeck, Cumberland. Graves' mother was singing to one of his children an old rant called "Bonnie (or "Cannie) Annie." An inquiry about the words of the rant eventually set Graves writing the renowned hunting song. Four years after writing it, Graves emigrated to Tasmania, where he died in 1887, at the age of 91. It was not till 1868 that William Mel-cafe, the Carlisle conductor and singer, hunted out the original rant,

 "Bonnie Annie," and from it composed the tune to which the song is now sung.

THE PERFECT PIG.

Do you know the man who has spent tens of thousands of pounds in a search for the perfect pig? He is Mr.
 S. van Zwaneberg, and he is Holland's director of pig industry development.
 Under his guidance more than 3,000,000 are reared every year and are developed to the modish porcine figure ("not too fat, not too lean"). Mr.
 Zwaneberg explained to a reporter (other than the present writer) that the ideal pig must weigh about 200 lbs.
 have a "long" back, and give much lean but little fat. He thinks that an almost ideal combination would be the large white Yorkshire pig with the German "lop ear." Holland has several experimental stations in which the perfect pig is being sought. It must, according to these experts, have a balanced diet of proteins, vitamins and the rest. Maize meal is the cheapest feed, but not the best, as the pigs tend to get "oily." Nor must there be too much white fish meal, or the pigs will get "fishy." Skimmed milk is good.
 And it is quite a wrong idea that sheer, crude fatness is all pig breeders aim at. Exercise is, in fact, an important part of a pig's training, for otherwise it would become far too fat.

EYES.

A Cross-Channel journalist on a visit to these parts has just stated that the eyes are the distinctive charm of the Munster girl. But the Irish poet, Thomas Moore, discovered long since that there are eyes and yes, for he wrote:—
 Some eyes there are so holy,
 They seem but given, they seem but given
 As splendid beacons solely
 To light to heaven, to light to heaven!
 While some (oh, ne'er believe them)
 With tempting ray, with tempting ray
 'Would lead us (God forgive them!)
 The other way, the other way.

But the collens of the Decies may not be guilty. We wonder.

DEATH OF MRS E. PRENDERGAST, LISMORE.

Much regret has been caused in Lismore by the death of Mrs. Ellen Prendergast, wife of Mr. Michael Prendergast, an extensive Farmer and Cattle Dealer, which occurred at her residence, Bridge Street, Lismore, at a ripe age, on Thursday night, 16th, inst., after a comparatively brief illness. The late Mrs. Prendergast was a native of Lismore and belonged to one of the oldest and most respectable families in West Waterford, and during her long residence in her native town she was always noted as a most kind, industrious and respectable lady who enjoyed the greatest popularity amongst all classes of the general public.

She was mother of Miss Cecilia Prendergast, Senior Assistant in the Lismore Post Office, a most courteous and efficient young lady, and had reared a most respectable family of sons and daughters, all of whom hold prominent positions in the counties of Cork, Tipperary and Waterford.

Her death, now in the fullness of years, and honours has created a void in the social life of Lismore, and the deepest sympathy of all is extended to her popular husband and the surviving members of her respected family in their sad bereavement.

Requiem Masses for the repose of her soul having been offered up in her late residence on Friday morning, the remains were removed to St. Car-thage's Catholic Church on that evening and were followed by an imposing cortege of the townspeople, and on Saturday morning Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated in St. Car-thage's Church before an unusually large congregation of mourners from the town and surrounding districts.

The celebrant of the Mass was the Rev. Father Power, C.C., Lismore; the assisting priests being the Very Rev.
 W. Canon Burke, P.P., V.F., Lismore;
 Very Rev. D. Canon Whelan, P.P.,
 D.D., Cappoquin; Rev. T. O'Gorman,
 C.C., Lismore; Rev. Father Morrissey,
 C.C., do.; and the Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., Cappoquin.

The interment took place immediately afterwards in the new cemetery, Lismore, all the above-named clergymen officiating at the graveside.

The attendance at the funeral was of immense proportions, and included all the most prominent people in Lismore, Mr. Sean Goulding, T.D., being amongst those present.

The chief mourners included—Mr.
 Prendergast husband; Patrick, Rd.
 and Win. Prendergast (sons); Mrs.
 Fennessy, Woodstock; Mrs. Hyland, Cove; Mrs. Laffan, Gabbally; and the Misses Mary, Anne and Cecilia Prendergast, (daughters); D. Fennessy, Woodstock; D. Hyland, Cove, and J.
 Laffan, Gabbally, (sons-in-law), etc.
 Some beautiful wreaths and a large number of Mass Cards were laid on the grave.—R.I.P.

Barrister: If my client had not gone

 he?—Barrister: A plumber.

Magistrate: You want a solicitor?
 Prisoner: Yes, sir. I have no defence.

Mange in Cattle.

SYMPTOMS AND TREATMENT.

Mange is spread to healthy cattle by direct contact with affected animals or indirectly by contact with contaminated pastures, cowsheds, and utensils employed about mangy cattle.
 The sites most commonly affected are the root of the tail, the neck, the buttocks and the withers. The parts under the jaw and around the base of the horns may also be affected and if the ailment is neglected it may spread over the shoulders and chest to almost any portion of the body, but is rare for the legs to be involved.

The presence of the parasites feeding or burrowing in the skin cause an itchy condition, and the animal scratches or rubs itself against other animals, or any fixed object, with the result that the hairs over the affected parts are rubbed off, exposing bare, scabby patches of skin.

As the disease progresses and the irritation is increased the animals become very restless, continually rubbing, biting and scratching themselves. They go off their food; the milk yield is diminished; they lose condition and flesh, and have an un-thrifty, wasted appearance.

It is only through negligence that cases of mange become advanced; with ordinary care and attention the disease can be detected in its earliest stages, and with proper treatment cured.

SUITABLE DRESSINGS.

Affected animals should be isolated.
 In some countries, where cattle are kept in large herds, and several are affected at one time, the affected and contact cattle are dipped like sheep in a prepared dip. If the numbers are large the cattle can be driven through a swimming bath, or should a dipping tank for cattle not be available, the dip can be applied by means of a sprayer.

Another method is to wash the affected patches with soap and warm water, and then dress the parts with one of the common mange dressings, such as spirit of tar, linseed oil and sulphur, or an efficient sheep dip might be used. The dressing should be applied twice or even three times at intervals of 10 days. In serious cases necessitating treatment of the whole body, or to settle difficulties in diagnosis, veterinary advice should be sought.

A good watch should be kept for a chronic case, in which the mites are few in number and the affected parts small in extent. Such a case in a herd of cattle, while it may be the means of spreading the disease amongst the other animals, may itself escape attention.

It has frequently been observed that cows appear to become cured spontaneously when turned out to grass in the spring. This usually means, however, that under open-air conditions the parasites do not increase at the same rate, and hence the active symptoms are merely less marked. When the animals are again brought into the sheds in the autumn the parasites which have persisted in small numbers resume their activity, and this sometimes leads to an erroneous belief that re-infection has taken place.

DISINFECTING.

The litter from an infected animal should be removed and burned each time after dressing, and the flooring, wood, and other fittings used about affected animals should be well sprayed with a 5 per cent. solution of carbolic acid in water or a solution of an approved disinfectant.

The eggs retain their vitality off the animal for about a week, the time depending on temperature and moisture.

All forms of the parasite are capable of living away from the animal's body for some weeks, and fresh cases of mange in healthy cattle may occur even after many animals have been removed. Healthy stock, therefore, should not be put into cowsheds that have been recently occupied by mangy cattle until such places have been cleaned and disinfected. An infected stall or shed, unless its construction and state of repair allows of thorough disinfection, should not be used for healthy cattle for at least a fortnight, or, better, for 3-4 weeks.—Extract

 by the English Ministry of Agriculture, price 1d. per copy.

MUNSTER COUNCIL.

At the Annual Convention of the Munster Council, G.A.A., at Tralee, on Sunday, Mr. McCarthy, B.A., and subsequently Mr. Clifford, Chairman, presided.

The following delegates represented Waterford Co. Board—Messrs. W. Walsh, P. Whelan, C. Ware, J. Ross, F. Ryan and W. Lawlor.

The Secretary (Mr. McCarthy), reporting on the championships played off in the various grades, stated that the normal number of thirty matches had been disposed of at twelve different venues. The separate draw which had been made in hurling and football added further attractiveness to the competitions, the arrangements for which worked quite satisfactorily. The Munster group of the Football League had been brought up to date, two years' competitions being concluded. Cork won both, Clare and Limerick respectively providing the opposition in the finals. Cork also stayed on to contest the issue with Kerry in 1934 National League Final. In the All-Ireland Championships Kerry won in senior and minor football, in the former for the fourth successive season, and in the latter for the second year in succession. Tipperary won in minor hurling. Clare and Cork just failed by a single score on each occasion in the senior hurling final and junior semi-finals.

It pointed out that economies had been effected during the year, and that there was further scope in this direction, especially in the running of the fixtures at Thurles, where it was desirable to have a complete reorganisation of the system. Turning to the financial aspect of the Munster Council, he stated that to date a sum of £2,251 had been invested in playing fields, and it had been decided to make further investments of £150 in Croon field and £400 in the Fitzgerald Memorial Park. In order to meet these commitments it seemed that they would have to fall back on their reserve account, but to do so the authority of the Convention would be necessary.

Concluding his report the Secretary said he had to thank the Press, the Railway Company, his fellow-officers, members of the Munster Council, the Secretaries of the respective counties, the schools and colleges, the county teams and the Central Secretary and his lieutenants for their co-operation in the year's work. He expressed the view that some of the clubs were not giving that support and co-operation to their kindred organisations which were engaged in promoting the Irish Ireland movement, the advancement of the language and the development of industries, culture, customs and dances.

The report presented by the auditors, Messrs. D. O'Connor and Co., Dublin, set forth that the assets at the 31st December, 1932, amounted to £3,382 7s. 8d. The liabilities certified by the auditors at that date amounted to £185 2s. 9d. The balance to credit of the Council at the end of the year was £3,217 4s. 11d. Included in the assets were sums amounting to £2,251 for sums invested in county grounds or advanced to Co. Boards towards purchase of grounds. During the year £100 was given to the directors of the Davin Memorial Park Co., Ltd., which with the £300 already advanced, made up £400. Four hundred shares of £1 each in that company had been allotted to the Council during the year. The other investments and advances were as they appeared in last year's balance sheet.

Revenue Account.—The income for the year amounted to £4,419 14s. 7d., and the expenditure to £4,018 5s. 10d., resulting in an excess of income over expenditure of £401 8s. 9d. In the year 1931 the income was £5,551 2s. 2d., and the expenditure £4,755 18s. 7d., with an excess of income over expenditure of £795 3s. 7d.

A proposal embodied in a motion that in view of the all-Ireland Hurling

Final being played in Thurles the Munster Convention should give a grant to carry out some improvements in the Thurles Sports Field, was referred to the Finance Committee.

The following motions from Cork were passed.—That the Munster Council be authorised by this Convention to refuse consideration of further applications for grants in respect of any grounds until existing commitments of the Council under that heading are duly honoured. That henceforward a grant of not less than £50, in addition to the ordinary scale of expenses allowed, be given to each of the counties contesting the Munster Senior Hurling Championship Final. That in future in lists of names handed to referees in all Munster inter-county championship matches the clubs from which players are selected must be stated.

The Chairman complimented Mr. J. Barry, Cork team trainer, on his efficiency and the success of his work, and presented him with a gold watch and chain on behalf of the Munster Council.

Mr. Barry suitably returned thanks. Mr. Sheehy said that every county was getting a fair crack of the whip, and any future commitments could safely be left to the discretion of the Munster Council. While there was, he said, a slight fall in revenue, the patronage given to the games during the season was greater than the previous year. The slight reduction in revenue was due to the fact that there had been no drawn games. He regretted that the Tipperary delegates were not present, as he would like a discussion with them on matters relating to the Thurles grounds.

The Chairman said the reports in all instances were very satisfactory, and he congratulated the officers and all concerned, on their successful year. He thanked the Gaels for the token of regard paid him.

Mr. Clifford took the chair after the luncheon interval, and explained that he had been delayed through transport difficulties. One could not, he said, fail to be struck by the growing strength of the association. That strength was owing to the fact that there had been no departure from the ideals the founders of the association had in their minds. There was no amateur association in the world as large as the G.A.A., and none with such a great history.

The outgoing officers were unanimously re-elected, as was the Chairman. Mr. J. J. Sheehy, asked to be relieved of the position of Hon. Treas., but at the request of the delegates he consented to remain for a further year.

The report of the Colleges Council was adopted, the Chairman remarking that he hoped that other colleges would work with the association. It was decided that Kerry should automatically enter the Munster Senior Football Final, same as last year.

Limerick was graded junior in football.

THE DRAWS.
The following draws were made—Senior, junior and minor hurling—Clare v. Limerick; Cork v. Kerry; Waterford v. Tipperary. Junior Football—Cork v. Waterford; Clare v. Tipperary. Junior and Minor Football—Waterford v. Kerry; Tipperary v. Clare; Limerick v. Cork. Thomond Feis draws—Clare v. Limerick; Cork v. Tipperary. The dates and venues were left over to a meeting of the Munster Council, to facilitate the Tipperary delegates.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., Chairman; Capt. P. Dunne, Messrs. M. J. Fleming, P. J. McMahon, P.C.; D. Donnelly, Mrs. S. Hurley, P.C.; E. F. Lynch, Vice-Chairman; D. J. Lincihan, T. Beausang, T. Murphy, P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.

Acknowledgment.
Mrs. Norah Smyth, North Main St., wrote thanking the Council for their kind vote of sympathy to her on the death of her son, drowned recently off the French coast.

Want Of Ambulance.
Mrs. Hurley said she wished to again express her strongest protests and horror against the action of the South Cork Board of Health in not granting an ambulance to the town. There was a poor drowning man awaiting hours that evening to be removed to hospital and only for the kind-heartedness of an English lady on the Strand he would have at serious risk been left out in the open. Sergt. O'Beirne, and Guard Pottrill, were doing their best to revive the poor man and endeavouring to get an ambulance to have him removed. It was a shocking state of affairs.

Mr. Lynch expressed his thorough agreement with Mrs. Hurley.

The Chairman—We all agree.
Mr. Lynch said the South Cork Board were only cloaking the whole thing. The Council had sent several deputations asking for the ambulance but they might as well have sent them to the North of Ireland for all the good they did. In the circumstances they should appeal to the Local Government Department.

Mr. McMahon said the facts put before them by Mrs. Hurley furnished very serious proof of the necessity of an ambulance.

Mrs. Hurley said the fishermen had to go up their necks in the water and with the assistance of a local teacher, had to carry the man a half mile before they got a house to take him in.

The Vice-Chairman said the ambulance wasn't coming to Youghal till the New Cottage Hospital was built. In the meantime they might as well look for a donkey and creel (laughter).

The Chairman said it was a crying shame to let the town without an ambulance till the New Hospital was built.

Mr. O'Gorman suggested that they should communicate with their T.D.s. and ask them to take action.

One member suggested that they should lay their complaint before the L.G.

The Clerk said that had been done long ago and the L.G. referred the matter back to the Cork Board. In the meantime some poor person might die on the roadside.

The Chairman—What are we to do? Mr. Murphy—Get it yourselves; you can't expect lorry owners to throw their goods on the road to do the work which should be done by an ambulance.

Mr. Lynch said the Board of Health had asked for tenders and had received one offering to store the ambulance keep it in order and supply a driver when required for 25/- a week.

Mr. O'Gorman said in the old days the Board of Guardians kept a man and horse for the purpose and that cost more than 25/- weekly. There was something wrong somewhere.

Mr. Lynch said the last deputation to the Board of Health were told there were a couple of old ambulances on hand and they said they would be glad to take anyone.

It was finally decided to write to the T.D.s. and the L.G.

Gaelic League.
A letter was read from the local Branch of the Gaelic League thanking the Council for granting the use of the Town Hall for a Gaelic Entertainment on St. Patrick's Night, and inviting the members to participate in the intended Patrick's Day Demonstration. The League deeply appreciated the assistance always willingly given them by the Council.

On the proposition of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Beausang, a resolution was passed that the Council march in a body.

Housing Scheme.
Mr. Beausang asked was there any development in connection with the Housing Scheme.

The Town Clerk said he had wired to the Department on the subject on the 12th Feb. On the 21st Feb., he got back the plans and specification for amendment. He had already instructed the Surveyor to proceed with the work. After which the plans would have to be returned to the L.G.

Mr. McMahon—Is there anyway in which we could expedite the scheme?
The Clerk—You can see what is holding it up.

Mr. O'Gorman—The delay is not our fault.

The Clerk—It is very obvious it is not the Council's fault.
Mr. O'Gorman—The Council are being blamed in spite of the plain fact that we are doing everything possible to expedite the scheme.

Water Main Connections.
A heated discussion lasting over an hour took place on the question of tapping the water main for new buildings on Upper Strand, the Council's rule being that only half-inch connections should be put in. Applications were received from two builders for permission to tap the main.

The Water Curator, reported that both applicants had already put in three-quarter inch connections, without waiting for the necessary permission.

Mr. McMahon proposed, and Mrs. Hurley seconded, that the applicants be called on to take up the three-quarter inch connections and replace them by half inch as required by the resolution on the books.

Mr. O'Gorman said the mischief was done and it would be hard to ask those builders who had the energy and enterprise to erect houses to go to the expense involved. They ought to be encouraged instead.

The Chairman said the matter could be met by the insertion of a half inch reducing stub.

Ultimately Mr. McMahon agreed to withdraw his proposition at the request of his colleagues on the understanding that anyone breaking the rule in future would be prosecuted.

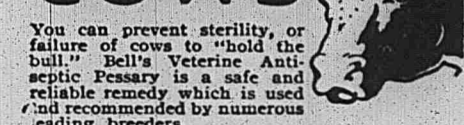

The Chairman's suggestion was then adopted.

Relief Of Local Rates.

The following resolution was received from the New Ross Urban Council.—That in view of the abnormal depression in trade, lessening the earning power of the community of the town, and with a view to assisting Ratepayers in Urban Areas to meet the increased Rates Demand without reducing purchasing power, it is the considered opinion of the Council that it is high time something should be done by Local Administration to press forward a campaign with all possible speed and energy towards relief in Municipal Rates. The Agricultural community has succeeded in retaining both Rates and Annuities on their holdings in a way which is too recent to require repetition. Following on the lines conceded to the farmers, the obvious method to be adopted in towns appeared to be immediate recognition by the Government of the fact that the town is labouring under a heavy annual burden occasioned by the loans obtained from time to time from the Commissioners of Public Works to build houses under the Working Classes Acts, to construct sewers and to provide a sufficient supply of water for the people amongst other things. The repayment of Principal and Interest on such loans constitutes a very heavy tax amounting to more than half the annual liabilities of an Urban District Council at a time when ratepayers can ill afford the payment. It is admitted that as the farming community are suffering and have been suffering severe losses, the towns dependent on the prosperity of the farming community must be suffering and have suffered. Recognition that the Landowners are entitled to relief in their annuities is tantamount to a recognition that the taxpayers of the towns are entitled to relief in that part of the rate which is assessed for the purpose of repaying the annuities due to the Local Loan Fund. Now, we, therefore, resolve that the Government be requested to consider legislation if necessary to meet out the same treatment to the annual payments in the town as they have to the farming community, that is to say, by the granting of a moratorium for two years and the halving of the annual payments thereafter.

On the proposition of Mr. Donnelly, seconded by Capt. Dunne, the resolution was adopted.

OVERCOME STERILITY IN COWS

You can prevent sterility, or failure of cows to "hold the bull," by using the "Veterine" and "Septic Penicillin" which is a safe and reliable remedy which is used and recommended by numerous leading breeders.
Mr. P. McNulty, Cullen, Foxford, Co. Mayo writes: "I use the 'Veterine' Penicillin on my dairy cows with good results."
Mr. Jeremiah Quinlan, Bickfield, Mallow writes: "I use the 'Veterine' Penicillin on my dairy cows with good results."
Users everywhere report similar experiences. These pessaries are now made in an improved shape, and their use requires no instruments. Equally efficacious for mares. Send for a supply today. Two pessaries suffice for each cow. No injector or syringe required. Price 3/6 per doz. (postage 4d.).
"Veterine" Pessaries are also excellent for cows after calving and "ailing" or where the cleanings have been retained.

SNOW STORM. CREATES DESOLATION.

MANY LIVES LOST. The Snowstorm which swept over this country on Friday last was the severest in memory. Nothing like it was experienced in recent years. In some parts of the county especially in the midlands, snowdrifts were 20 feet high and travelling was out of the question. In all parts communication by railway, bus, telephone and telegraph, was cut off, and each town and district was isolated. In various parts of the country 12 lives were lost, while the trials and hardships of those who were caught in the storm were very severe.

The County Waterford fared very well as the snow drifts in this county were not bad and by Saturday evening things were fairly good. During Friday and Saturday no people could travel to town, and business was at a standstill. In Dungarvan the electricity supply gave out on Friday morning, but it was restored in a few hours. No mails or papers arrived those days as trains and buses with the capital had ceased. The greatest fall was in the midlands where towns and villages were completely cut off for days. In fact in the County Meath, bread was supplied to the beleaguered towns by aeroplane from Dublin. Following the snow fall a thaw set in followed by heavy rain, and during the week floods have been the general order up and down the country. Since the disappearance of the snow numbers of people in various places who were supposed to be lost were merely isolated, and have now returned home to write their experiences.

Let us hope we have seen the end of these snowstorms, accompanied as they were with thunder and lightning, and that a mild and propitious spring-time will follow in the wake of the bad and rough storm which has passed away.
