KILMATHOMAS NEWS.

DOING WELL.
William Joy, the well-known young Irish jockey, who fractured the base of his skull by a fall at the Curragh meeting on April 12th. last, has arrived at the parents' home, the Square, Kilmathomas, from the Curragh Hospital. He has improved wonderfully and hopes to be able to return to the saddle in July.

IMPRESSIVE SCENES.
Favoured with brilliant sunshine, scenes of remarkable and edifying impressiveness were provided in St. Anne's Church, Ballylane, on Sunday, when the annual procession in honour of the Sacred Host took place at the close of the Forty Hours Adoration. The various incidents associated with the solemn and beautiful occasion were never more inspiring or devotional in their character. The attendance was larger than in many years past, and hymns appropriate to the august function were prayerfully rendered by the Church choir, under the leadership of Mrs T. McCarthy (organist). The proceedings concluded with the imparting of Solemn Benediction of the Most Holy Sacrament, by Rev. P. O'Farrell, C.C., Stradbally, who celebrated Missa Cantata in the final hour of the Quarant Ore.

LOCAL G.A.A. GAMES.
Rathgormack and Windgap easily eclipsed Newtown and Kill in their tie in the first round of the East Waterford Divisional Championship, junior football, played at Portlaur on Sunday evening last. The winners registered 2 goals 3 points as against a solitary point to the credit of the losers.

Stradbally, playing at home in a friendly football challenge with Ardmore, surprised their most ardent supporters, by commanding the contest in its every phase from commencement to close. Homesters 1-7; visitors, 0-1. Mr. Jack Colbert, was an impartial referee.

De La Salle junior football XV, readily succumbed to the Kilrossanty senior set at Leamybrien in a friendly trial. During the game, player Patrick O'Keefe (aged 18 years), of the city set, was seriously injured and had to be carried off the field. Kilrossanty 5-3; De La Salle, 0-1.

KILMATHOMAS MAY FAIR.
The monthly fair, held on Tuesday, was well stocked in all sections, but business on the whole was very dull. Good conditioned yearlings were the only class in request and £7 per head was the highest price paid for same. Store pigs met a brisk trade and realised from 25/- to 40/-, according to quality. Recent rates ruled other exchanges enacted.

ANENT OUR ROADS.
The roads in Co. Waterford are as good as can be found elsewhere in the country. This tribute did not come from one of our own surveyors, but from a motorist on a visit to the Deeries from Dublin, and a traveller of wide experience. We must say that even in the last ten years our city and rural thoroughfares have undergone a change for the better. Farmers and others who can go back fifty or sixty years remember when even main roads were far from what they are. All this reminds us that roads in England and Ireland were not roads, but were tracks as late as 1736. The earliest law on the subject of the safety of our "ways" was in 1285. It directed that all trees and shrubs on either side of the horse tracks between market towns should be cut down for a distance of 200 yards to prevent highwaymen and robbers from taking people unawares on the road or track. Thank goodness, we have got far beyond "your money or your life" ritual, but sometimes we do not act as if we fully appreciated our blessings.

"LICKED THE LOT."
A collie dog caused a certain amount of alarm to a children's picnic party at Bonmahon on Sunday last. Running in front of its master, the animal suddenly dashed in amongst the boys and girls, and before they could do anything about it, pushed its head well into a bag of biscuits. When they had recovered from their surprise and dismay, one of the youngsters went over to the ruined biscuits, picked them up, and throwing them violently at the collie, exclaimed with disgust, "Ah, go on, you can just keep them now, for you've licked the lot." The dog's owner, we were glad to learn, resorted to the happiness of the day by "forking out" sixpence to make good the damage.

AN ADMIRABLY ACTED DRAMA.
On Sunday night last, in the Fairgreen Hall, Kilmathomas, the Dungarvan Amateur Dramatic Class presented Wilson Barrett's "Sign of the Cross." To elaborate on the great histrionic abilities displayed in the staging of this exceptionally heavy piece would be akin to "painting the lily white." Suffice it to state that the DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

At the weekly meeting of the above, Mr. J. Butler, Chairman, presiding. Also present—Messrs. T. Power, M. Griffin, T. McCarthy, M. Clancy, J. Hackett, D. Foley, B. Dee, J. Moloney.

Housing.
The Clerk asked if he would make application for a loan for housing. Chairman—Better make application, we need not draw it if we don't want it.

Mr. McCarthy—Now that we are going to make a start with the housing it is well to come to terms about the sewerage and the Board of Health should be asked to settle matters.

Mr. Clancy—I hold that provision should be made for sewerage before you do anything. I suggest that the Clerk write the Department and ask that matters be speeded up.

Mr. McCarthy—The Board of Health should have come to terms long ago. The Clerk was instructed to write to all the parties concerned with a view to expediting matters.

Payments.
Payments passed for the week were—General A/c. £8 16s. 1d. Footpaths, £5 4s. 5d.

The Clerk stated that a balance of £166 2s. 6d. was left for footpaths.

Mr. Griffin—Is it intended to finish King's street?
The Clerk stated that the men employed on the paths were not insured. He also read a letter from the Insurance Company stating that when the policy fell due on the 12th prox. they did not intend renewing it. The Insurance Company suggested an alternative Company.

Mr. McCarthy—The matter of insuring with another company is a matter for the Council.

In reply to Mr. Griffin's question, the Chairman asked what amount would be left over when the paths on hands were finished?

Mr. Power—What will it cost to finish King street?
B.S.—I suppose it will cost about £15.

Mr. Power—And it only cost £20 to do two-thirds of it.
The B.S. was asked to give an estimate at next meeting for the completion of King street path.

Overspent.
The Clerk stated that the Council had overspent by £300 their estimate for last year.

Mr. Clancy said that it was the result of not having an eye to business. He however hoped that the Council would not strike a higher rate this year, but would spend wisely and rectify the adverse balance.

The Chairman said there had been demands made on them owing to unemployment.

Mr. Clancy—I hold it is the Government's duty and not the ratepayers to look after the unemployed. However now that this year the Council are embarking on a £25,000 housing scheme if we economise in our accounts we can straighten matters.

Chairman—This matter will be thrashed out again at the meeting for estimates and I think it would be as well to leave it to that meeting.

Mr. Griffin—I will say that things that provision was made for were left undone and things that no provision was made for were done.

AEROPLANES ON TRAMORE STRAND.

When the members of the Tramore Development Association met at an adjourned meeting, the Chairman (Mr. P. J. Fox, M.C.C.) referred to the dangerous practice of aeroplanes stunting along the Strand, and said some steps should be taken to prevent it, as the lives of thousands of visitors were in danger.

Mr. Quaid said they were also encroaching on the liberties of people using the Strand, and it should not be allowed.

The Hon. Secretary (Mr. J. J. Healy) thought it was only necessary to bring the matter under proper notice, when the practice would be stopped. This will be done.

audience present were all highly pleased with the entire production in which good characterisation was the predominant note.

BREVITIES.
A country milky with hawthorn and honey-splashed with whim; that was Comeragh Valley in a blazing sun as a happy-humoured Urbs Intacta party found it on the opening day of this week.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

ANOTHER GREAT CYCLE RACE.
Encouraged by the great success which attended the first cycle road race held here a fortnight ago, the members of the local N.A. & C.A. Club held a similar event on Thursday evening, 25th ult., which attracted eight competitors, compared with four the previous week, so that this event proved far more interesting and exciting than the initial race in every respect. The course on this occasion was also from the "Corner Stone" and on to Messrs. Paxman's Butter Factory, near Lismore, where the competitors turned round and raced back the Ballygelane road, finishing at the starting point, a distance of nearly 8 miles. Owing to the previous race having been won rather easily by C. Guest, Lismore, he was set a stiffer task this time, the limit man receiving 5 minutes start, instead of 3 minutes as on the first occasion, with the result that one of the second limit men, Thos. McGrath, Boherbery, romped home a good winner by a couple of lengths, with the scratchman last.

The various competitors were despatched in the following order:—D. Hayes, Affane, (5 minutes); T. McGrath, Boherbery, and J. Cullinane, Tour, (4 minutes); John McGrath, W. Farrell and T. Burke (3 minutes); D. Cullinane, (1 1/2 minutes); and C. Guest, Lismore, (scratch).

Hayes, who is only quite a young lad, but a very promising cyclist, made the pace a hot one from the start and maintained his lead for the greater part of the journey until he was caught and passed less than a mile from home by T. McGrath and J. Cullinane, between whom a great race ensued for the remainder of the distance. Coming into Cappoquin, McGrath established a slight lead, and resisting a plucky challenge by his opponent, he won a most exciting race by about two lengths from Cullinane, with the youthful Hayes a good third, some lengths behind. Valuable Silver Medals were presented to the first and second by the Committee, who were delighted with the growing popularity of this form of sport as was evidenced by the large attendance of spectators who lined the Main street during the progress of the race.

Mr. M. J. Sargent, again acted as handicapper, assisted by Messrs. M. F. Walsh, and Aiden Walsh, while Messrs. J. V. Conway, Joe Mason and other members of the Athletic Club, also rendered valuable assistance on the occasion.

THE INTER-CLUB SPORTS.
The important Inter-Club Sports (confined to the Co. Waterford) already announced to be held in the Sportsfield, on Sunday, June 18th, will now be held on Thursday, June 15th, the Feast of Corpus Christi. The promoters having learned that there will be an impressive Corpus Christi Procession held in Dungarvan on Sunday, 18th inst., did not wish to have their Sports fixture clash with this Solemn Ceremony, so that the date of the Sports was accordingly changed the moment their attention was called to the fact.

In any event the change will be all for the better, because owing to Thursday being a Church Holiday it will prove a more suitable day for all classes of the sporting and business people in the town, and throughout the Co. Waterford generally.

The Sports will start at 6 o'clock in the evening, and a splendid programme has been arranged for the occasion, comprising the following popular athletic events:—100, 220, 440 and 880 Yards; one mile flat race; high jump; long jump; pole jump; hop, step and jump; one mile relay race between teams from the various Clubs in the County; slinging 56 lbs. etc., while the popular taste of the public will be specially catered for by the inclusion of three interesting cycling events, viz., half-mile; one mile and two miles' cycling races.

A Grand Programme of Juvenile events will also be run off on the same evening for boys and girls of various ages, entries for which will be taken on the field.

As the object of the Inter-Club Sports is for the purpose of selecting the best athletes and cyclists in Co. Waterford to represent the county in the more important Inter-County Championships to be held on a later date, we hope to see the cream of the county competing on the 15th inst., and we feel sure that the newly-formed Kilmathomas Club, which is the latest addition to the N.A. & C.A. Co. Board, will be well and worthily represented on the occasion.

The full programme appears in our advt. columns this week, and further particulars can be obtained from Messrs. M. J. Sargent and M. F. Walsh, the two efficient Hon. Secs., who have charge of all the arrangements.

On that night a grand dance will be held in the Boathouse Hall in aid of the local N.A. & C.A. Club when all the fleet-footed competitors during the evening will be able to complete their programme of enjoyment by a glorious night's dancing on the well-waxed and smooth Boathouse floor. Further particulars as to the music and other important features of the dance will appear next week.

HURLING.
On Ascension Thursday a most interesting challenge hurling match was played in Villierstown between the local junior team and the famous Tallow juniors, who are regarded as the best hurlers in their grade in the Western end of the Co. Waterford.

The weather proved fine, but rather cold, and there was a large attendance of spectators, who were treated to a fast and scientific exhibition of hurling on both sides. Villierstown held their opponents well during the first half, the interval score being one goal each, and after a further exhibition of clean and brilliant play in the second half, Tallow emerged the victors of a great game on the score of four goals to three, which was a very creditable performance for the Villierstown team.

On next Sunday Villierstown will meet Cappoquin in Dungarvan in the re-play of their match in the first round of this year's junior hurling championship.

Those evenly-matched teams first met in Cappoquin over a month ago, when Villierstown won by the narrow margin of one point, but an objection by Cappoquin as to the constitution of the Villierstown team, and a counter-objection by Villierstown, resulted in the County Board ordering a re-play, hence next Sunday's second meeting in Dungarvan. Keen rivalry now exists between them, and as both teams have undergone a strenuous course of training in the meantime, a thrilling and closely contested game should be witnessed on Sunday.

Another great match on the occasion should be the re-play between Eire Oge, Dungarvan, and Four-Mile-Water also in junior hurling, and as the Finisk Rovers and Stradbally will meet in junior Football in the same venue, Dungarvan should provide a rare programme of attractions on Sunday, which we trust will be well supported by all lovers of Gaelic sport in the Country.

THE DISTRICT COURT.
Apart from the interesting case, which is published under a special heading in another column, the business at the last District Court was extremely light and uninteresting.

Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, was granted a renewal of the licence (on behalf of the Shell B.P. Company) for the storage of petrol in their premises in Cappoquin. An unusually large number of defendants were charged with using bicycles and other vehicles without lights after Lighting-up time, and fines varying from 1/- to 2/6 were imposed.

Guard Sheehan, Cappagh, was the complainant in one case, while Guards Moloney and Teehan, Cappoquin, had charge of the remaining cases.

A case of assault from the Cappagh district was adjourned to the next Court and a similar course was adopted in a case at the suit of Guard Moloney, Food and Drugs Inspector, Cappoquin, against a local vendor of new milk on the application of Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, who appeared for the defendant, and submitted a medical certificate showing that his client was ill.

The number of cases for using unlighted bicycles appeared to be increasing in this district for a considerable time past, and considering how dangerous to the public this practice is on dark nights, the Guards deserve every credit for the vigorous action which they are taking in their efforts to stamp it out.

Sergeant J. Rochford, had a local man fined 2/- for permitting his donkey to wander on the public road, and this completed the business of the Court.

THE LAWN TENNIS CLUB.
Local lovers of the popular and exhilarating sport of Lawn Tennis will be glad to learn that the Cappoquin Tennis Courts will be formally opened for the season on next Sunday, 4th inst., when we hope to see a large attendance of members present in their latest sporting outfits to enjoy the opening games of their favourite pastime.

Football, hurling, cricket and rowing being rather too strenuous for the ladies, Lawn Tennis makes a special appeal to them, and we are proud to be able to say that the ladies of Cappoquin have been able to worthily uphold the high reputation of the town in this form of sport for several years past, and why not do the same this year?

SHAMROCK CHURCH.

Father James Kelly, who was born in Co. Waterford, and spent nearly 50 years in South Africa, has died in Matroosfontein, aged 74. According to the B.U.P., he built a church in the shape of a shamrock.

Ensilage Making.

PRACTICAL DEMONSTRATION AT COOLNAGOUR, DUNGARVAN.

For quite a number of years the question of making hay into ensilage has been agitating the minds of practical farmers and many systems have been tried with more or less success. Owing to the fact that grass is the main product of our country; that it grows here more natural than in any other land in the world due to our moist climate, and that making it into hay is a matter of extreme difficulty owing to intermittent showers the necessity for a system which will enable the farmer to turn it into first class fodder for his cattle in spite of the weather has never been apparent.

In Finland—a Northern European country—which specialises in its Dairy products, they have brought the making of silo to a high degree of perfection and claim that by their system of making it they conserve the full feeding value of the grass for the winter season and so feed their cows in winter as in summer with enormous profit to the Dairy Farmer. And what applies to the milk cows applies with equal force to the store cattle. With this ensilage no roots are required and cattle thrive enormously on it.

The Department of Agriculture and Co. Committees of Agriculture have been advocating this system of hay making in recent years and several experiments were carried out last year with successful results. So far in the experiments the ensilage has been made without acid, but under the auspices of Imperial Chemical Industries, Ltd., this year, an acid solution stated to almost completely conserve the full feeding value of silage is used in some cases.

The first demonstration in the making of silage with the acid solution in the Free State was carried out at Mr. Thomas Flynn's farm, Coolnagour, Dungarvan, on Tuesday, Mr. Flynn is a most advanced, practical and extensive farmer, who is always found as a pioneer in agricultural development. A big number of farmers from the Co. Waterford and the adjoining Counties of Cork and Tipperary, attended at Coolnagour on Wednesday, and carefully studied the process of silage making.

Professor J. Lindsay Robb, of Imperial Chemicals, Ltd., who also holds the chair of Grass, etc., in the University of Pretoria (South Africa); Mr. O'Reilly, B.Agr., Sc. I.C.I.; Mr. Cogan, Agricultural Instructor; Mr. J. O'Dwyer, Secretary Co. Committee Agriculture; Mr. J. W. Brown, Secretary Tipperary Co. Committee, etc., were in attendance. During the day Prof. Robb, Mr. O'Reilly and Mr. Cogan, gave lucid explanations of the process to the visitors.

To make the silage, Mr. Flynn had two large circular concrete pits erected in his haggard. Each pit is 47 feet in circumference and 6 feet in height. They are sunk in the ground a depth of 3 feet, have concrete bottoms with a bunge-hole for drainage of water underneath. A drain outside takes away the water from the pits. He had also a timber superstructure 4 ft. high constructed to fit on top of the pit and this can be removed when the silage later subsides to the level of the concrete.

According to the experts, the day was ideal for the work. No man could dream in normal circumstances of making hay on such a day. It was damp, murky weather. The grass in the field set aside for cutting averaged about 8 inches high. As the machine cut it, the rake gathered it and horses drew the loads to the pit. There it was thrown into the pit while three men kept walking round condensing it. A mixture of hydrochloric acid diluted with water was sprinkled over the layers of grass at the ratio of 15 gallons to the ton. This mixture has the quality of preserving the protein, the most valuable constituents of the hay, and according to the Finnish Authorities, maintains the feeding value of the silage at full strength.

All day long the work went on, and at evening the silo was filled to the top and part of the superstructure also. On Thursday the work was continued until the silo was filled. Its capacity would be over 20 tons. It is Mr. Flynn's intention to fill the second pit with grass which will not be submitted to an acid solution.

In the course of a very interesting interview our special representative had with Professor Robb, he said the primary object of the demonstration was to show how surplus grass can be conserved for winter feeding with its full feeding value and to save the terrible loss farmers endure in making hay in damp wet weather. He says the best time to cut the grass is when it is 6 to 8 inches long and in this country you can have two or three such cuttings. Every country was now doing it and no where would it be more practical than in Ireland, where the climate was ideal for the purpose and where so much wastage in grass occurred. He paid a tribute to the progressive ideas of Mr. Flynn, and said

Derby Sweep Stake.

NEARLY £2,000,000.
LUCKY DUNGARVAN PEOPLE.

The Draw for the Derby Sweepstake in which the Prize Money reached nearly £2,000,000, which began on Monday morning, Dungarvan was in luck when a ticket numbered—E74688—"S.A.G." Abbyside, Dungarvan, drew "Solar Boy." The lucky holders are Mr. E. Maher, Manager, Dungarvan Co-Operative Creamery and Mrs. P. Spratt, Coolcormack, Dungarvan. The ticket was sold by Mrs. B. Spratt, Coolcormack. Only 29 tickets for horses were drawn in Ireland.

There were 19 first prizes of £30,000 each; 19 second prizes of £15,000 each and 19 third prizes of £10,000 each. The holders of tickets for other horses will draw £1,521 14s. 9d. each.

Dublin drew 8 horses; Belfast 5; Cork 3; Armagh 2; Leitrim 2; and 11 other counties one each.

HOW THE DRAW WENT.
England drew 300 horses; U.S.A. 49 horses; Ireland 31 horses; Scotland 27 horses; Canada 16 horses; Wales 13 horses; South Africa 12 horses; France 11 horses; Holland 9 horses; India 9 horses; Switzerland 2 horses; Dutch East Indies 2 horses.

The following drew one each—Mauritius, N. Rhodesia, S. Rhodesia, Algeria, Italy, Palestine, Hawaii, P.M. States, Belgium, China, B.W. Indies, Isle of Man, S. America.

THE FIGURES.
Mr. Jack O'Sheehan announced the figures relating to the Sweep. The full details are as follows:—Proceeds of the Sweepstake on the Derby, 1933, calculated in accordance with the Public Charitable Hospitals' Acts, 1930 to 1932—before deducting sellers' prizes, £3,010,141; less sellers' prizes, £38,000, leaving £2,972,141. Prize Fund to be distributed by the trustees on and after Wednesday, 14th June, 1933—£1,941,846, divisible into 19 units of £100,000 each—£1,900,000, and a balance of £41,846—total, £1,941,846.

Each prize unit of £100,000 is divisible as follows:—Drawer of winning horse, £30,000; drawer of second horse, £15,000; drawer of third horse, £10,000; drawers of 23 other horses not declared forfeit for or before the final acceptance, £1,521 14s. 9d. each—£35,000; drawers of 100 cash prizes of £100 each, £10,000—total £100,000.

The balance of £41,846 is divisible into 10 cash prizes of £4,184 each. Nineteen sellers of tickets drawing winning horse, £1,000 each—£19,000; 19 sellers of tickets drawing second horse, £750 each—£14,250; 19 sellers of tickets drawing third horse, £250 each—£4,750. Total sellers' prizes, £38,000.

Amount payable to the charitable hospitals participating in the scheme, and to the Minister for Local Government and Public Health, to be applied to poor law hospitals and nursing organisations, £557,280. Stamp duty amounting to £188,760 under the Finance Act, 1932 has been provided for before arriving at this figure.

The total expenses, including the promoters' remuneration, will not exceed 10 per cent. of the proceeds, which compares with 10.90 per cent. in the last Sweepstake, which was held on the Grand National, 1933.

QUAY ACCIDENT.
MAN'S HAND TORN OFF BY SHIP'S WINCH.

While working at a motor winch aboard the Ketch of Ayr, of Bideford, unloading coal at Ballinacash Quay, on the river Blackwater, on Tuesday morning, William Browne, mate, got entangled. One hand was torn off, and the other badly injured. The son of Capt. T. Browne, Strand street, Youghal, he joined the vessel only on Saturday last.

CREAM FOR BEER.

The 250 patrons of the Springville (Iowa) Creamery may now exchange two pints of cream for one pint of beer.

Cream deliverers are allowed to take cases and half cases of beer on their routes to exchange for cream, adds Reuter.

AT A GUESS!
It probably is a capital crime in Berlin for Jewish boys to have German measles.

it was a great pleasure to him to find such a practical up-to-date farmer so eager and anxious for a demonstration such as they had that day. In that tribute all who had had the pleasure of attending joined wholeheartedly.

All visitors to Coolnagour on Wednesday were hospitably entertained by Mr. Thomas Flynn, assisted by his charming daughter, Miss Flynn.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)

Agricultural Credit Corporation Cases. Decrees were granted in a number of cases by the Agricultural Credit Corporation against defaulters from the adjoining district of West Waterford.

The Plight Of The Farmers. There were a large number of Default Civil Bills at the suit of R. H. Dring, Glyntown, Glanmire, against farmers from the surrounding districts.

Mr. J. L. Keane, solr., for one defendant asked for time till harvest. They were very hard times on farmers.

Mr. Ronyane, solr., asked for a monthly payment of £1. Mr. Keane, solr., said it was impossible for a great many farmers to pay anything now.

A decree on these terms was granted. In another case of the kind in which the amount claimed was £8 ss. 0d.

Mr. Keane said the debt was incurred for pig feeding. Six out of the ten pigs defendant had had died.

Of course, he didn't blame the feeding for that (laughter). Mr. Ronyane suggested 10/- a month and the balance in the harvest.

Defendant—I have nothing only the corn that is growing. A decree was granted, with a stay till October 15th.

Dickenson v. Ryan. This was a Civil Bill by Alexander Dickenson and Son, against Daniel Ryan, Ladysbridge.

There was no appearance for plaintiffs. Defendant appeared personally and asked to have the case dismissed.

He would prove that the account had been paid. The Justice—Mark it D.W.P.

Defendant—Am I to get any expenses coming here on a false process? The Justice—I won't give expenses.

Loughlan v. Keohane. This was an application for an Examination Order. Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., for applicant.

The application was granted for the 16th June. Cattle Stealing Case.

Charles Cahill, Monina, Ballyvorgan, and John Cooney, Gortnaclohy, Ashford, Co. Limerick, were brought up in custody on remand from Mallow Court, charged with the larceny of 2 cattle, value £17, the property of Mr. D. B. O'Sullivan, Merchant, Mallow.

Supt. Mooney, Mallow, prosecuted. Mr. O'Sullivan, Main street, Mallow, deposed that the accused, Charles Cahill, was in his employment on the 23rd. May, as general caretaker in his farm at Ballyvorgan, Buttevant. The man was nearly three years in his employment.

There were about 60 head of cattle on the lands and a cow that the accused had the use of. He gave Cahill no authority to take any of the cattle to Mitchelstown fair for sale on the 23rd. May. On that day he had received a complaint, as a result of which he went to Mitchelstown, where the Sergeant of the Guards showed him a red bullock and a black heifer.

He identified them positively as his property by special marks. Neither of the accused had authority to take those cattle from his lands. Roughly speaking he valued them at £17. John Cooney lived with Cahill. He knew him to see.

Sergeant M. Lenihan, Mitchelstown, deposed there was a fair at Mitchelstown on 23rd. May. As a result of information received, he went to New Square, at about 10 a.m., where the fair was being held. He saw John Cooney with a black heifer and a red bullock and 2 colts. He questioned Cooney who said he wasn't the owner—that the owner was coming up.

Charles Cahill, the second accused, arrived on the scene and asked "what's up?" Witness said they were looking for missing cattle, and that the cattle he had answered the description. He asked from what direction they were missing and witness answered "from Kilmacne side." Cahill then said "those are my cattle anyhow, and I have them sold, but the buyer it a bit slow about taking them so if you want to know anymore about them I'll give you my name and address."

He then gave the names of "Charles Cahill, Monina, Ballyvorgan, Kilmacne." Cooney gave his true name, John Cooney, Gortnaclohy, Ashford, Co. Limerick, but said he was residing with Cahill for 12 months. Cahill said that was so, that Cooney was a cousin of his and was helping him. Witness then detailed two plain clothes men to watch them, and proceeded to make inquiries himself. As a result he came back to the accused about two hours later. They then had the cattle removed about 400 yards away on the Fermoy-Mitchelstown road. He took them into custody and brought them to the barracks. Some time later Mr. O'Sullivan came along and identified the cattle as his property. He then charged and cautioned both accused. Both made statements and signed them. Cahill said—"I brought two cattle belonging to my boss from his land to Mitchelstown and sold them. He could only say he was guilty and was very sorry for he had never seen anything but kindness from Mr. O'Sullivan. Cooney stated he was very sorry for assisting in the doing of it as he never saw from the owner only kindness."

At this stage, Mr. O'Sullivan said—"I would like to say something, your Worship."

The Justice—We haven't come to that yet. I think this case ought to go to the Circuit Court.

Supt. Mooney—Cattle stealing is a very serious offence. Mr. O'Sullivan said he paid a visit to Cahill's home, where he saw his wife and five or six children.

The poor woman was very delicate and suffering from heart trouble. From what he had seen there he would as soon be in trouble himself. If his worship witnessed the scene, he would not be unthankful to him (Mr. O'Sullivan) for bringing the facts before him.

He had nothing against Cahill before, and he suspected that in the present instance, the man was in trouble and had taken some drink. The sight of that poor woman and her lot of beautiful young children was before him since, some of them not yet walking. It would be a great act of charity if his Worship could see his way to let the man go back home to them—even if you put me in the dock for saying so.

The Justice—The only trouble is that cattle-stealing is a very serious offence especially when committed by the man paid to mind them.

Replying to the Court, Sergt. Lenihan, said they knew nothing against accused, and Mr. O'Sullivan said that the man had £1 weekly and the milk of two cows, with but little to do.

The Justice said it was very hard to resist the attitude taken by the owner of the cattle—he wasn't over-painting the picture.

Mr. O'Sullivan—If only your worship saw what I saw you would help me in the painting—it was a house of tears and Cahill himself felt it very much. He lost 2 stone weight.

The Justice—He would hardly have lost 2 stone since Tuesday last (laughter).

Mr. O'Sullivan—He had to pull in his belt—he need not try slimming any way (laughter).

Supt. Mooney—Are you going to take him back into your employment? Mr. O'Sullivan—It is quite possible. Many a young sinner made a great old saint (laughter).

Replying to the Court, Cahill said—I took the cattle and am sorry for it. Cooney—I am guilty of assisting in bringing them in.

Both accused were finally let out under P.O.A., each to give a surety of £20.

The Justice—I sincerely hope nobody will take that case as a precedent for regarding cattle-stealing as a minor offence. I never had greater difficulty in making up my mind to let accused men out. That is all I will say.

MUNSTER COUNCIL MEETING.

CHAMPIONSHIP DATES FIXED.

At a meeting of the Munster Council, held at Thurles on Sunday last, Mr. W. Clifford, presiding, the following fixtures were made:—

Senior Hurling—Second Round—Limerick v. Cork at Thurles, July 16th. (Referee—Mr. Dan Kennedy). Tipperary v. Waterford—Replay at Carrick-on-Suir, June, 25th. (Referee—T. Considine).

Junior Hurling—Second Round—Clare v. Cork at Buttevant, July 9th. (Referee—W. Gleeson). Minor Hurling—Tipperary v. Waterford at Carrick-on-Suir, June 25th. Cork v. Clare at Thurles, July 16th.

Senior Football—Cork v. Waterford—Replay at Dungarvan, July 2nd. (Referee—R. Redmond). Junior Football—Kerry v. Tipperary at Listowel, July 9th (Referee—W. Hough).

Minor Football—Kerry v. Clare at Kilmuck, July 2nd.

The Council passed a vote of congratulation to Rev. Dr. Kinane, Mayo, on his appointment as Bishop of Waterford and Lismore.

PROPOSED CEMENT FACTORY FOR WATEAFORD.

In connection with the proposal to establish a Cement Factory at Waterford and the decision of the Chamber of Commerce to join the Corporation in sending a deputation to Dublin to press the City's claim for such a factory, a letter was read from the Ministry of Industry and Commerce at the last meeting of the Chamber which stated that the Oireachtas does not give the Minister any function with regard to the selection of the site for cement work. The Bill empowers the Minister to grant licences to persons to manufacture cement, and such licences will be issued to those who submit proposals, which, having regard to the manner in which the intended factories will be financed and the price at which the product will be available to consumers, appear most suitable. It will not be possible for the Minister to issue a licence for a cement works at Waterford unless proposals for the establishment of such works are submitted by persons prepared to finance them. It appears, therefore, that if the members of the Waterford Corporation and Chamber of Commerce are interested in having a cement works established in the vicinity of their city, the better course for them to adopt is to endeavour to ensure that a satisfactory application for a licence will be made by suitable persons interested in the Waterford site. A meeting with the Minister would serve no purpose until such application has been received.

TURF FOR ALL HOMES.

Mr. Lemass, Minister for Industry and Commerce, interviewed a number of Press representatives on Monday concerning the Government's peat proposals for the coming year. He stated that the preliminary steps had been taken and the necessary measures to give effect to the proposals were now in train. It is hoped to bring the scheme into operation in certain areas in the near future.

The scheme will, it is hoped, be eventually extended to a large number of areas, but a beginning must be made somewhere. In these areas local agents, who will act as middlemen between the producers and the merchants in the towns and cities, will be approved by the Department of Industry and Commerce. Approval merely involves the acceptance by these agents of an obligation to handle standard quality peat only. The Department will furnish a list of approved agents to coal merchants, who will be requested to order supplies through them.

It is not intended to prevent others engaging in the peat trade. On the contrary, all persons will be free to do so, but the approval of an agent by the Department of Industry and Commerce will confer obvious advantages.

The approved agents will purchase the standard peat from the producers and consign it to the merchants who have ordered supplies, receiving a commission on each ton handled. It is expected that a price of from 10s. to 10s. 6d. per ton will be paid to the peat producers. The peat will be packed in sacks to facilitate transport. Very favourable transport charges are being conceded by the Great Southern Railways Co.

It is not possible to state at what price peat will be available to consumers. There will not be a fixed price. Each merchant will probably announce his own price. It is hoped for example, to get peat delivered in Dublin to merchants at about 18s. per ton. To this will be added the merchants' handling costs and profits, and also the cost of delivery to consumers where desired. These costs should not amount to more than a few shillings per ton.

A standard of quality for peat to be handled under the scheme will be announced. It will be so fixed as to ensure that fuel of good quality will be available, and having regard to the probable price will be very attractive as a substitute for coal.

At a later stage an attempt may be made to organize peat producers in co-operative societies, but it is not intended to delay the bringing of the scheme into operation in this year to enable this to be done, except where such delays may not arise. It is hoped that a substantial addition to the available market for peat will result from this scheme.

At the present time peat is consumed in the Soarstat to the extent of about four millions tons per year. The Government intends to embark on an extensive publicity and advertising campaign to popularise the use of peat for household purposes, as soon as merchants in the principal centres have supplies in store. Certain difficulties will arise in bringing into the scheme peat producing areas which are distanced a long way from the main centres of consumption, but these difficulties are being examined with a view to overcoming them.

CLARE V. LIMERICK.

LIMERICK TO MEET CORK.

MINOR CONTEST WON BY CLARE.

Clare and Limerick divided the honours in the Munster hurling championship matches played at Thurles on Sunday. The senior event proved to be a rather disappointing affair, the younger and more speedy Limerick team proving much too formidable for Clare, who had to acknowledge defeat by 6 goals 8 points to 1 goal 1 point. Cork will now meet Limerick.

In the minor contest Clare were opposed by a smart combination from Limerick, but eventually secured the victory by 5 goals 2 points to 3 goals 1 point.

The attendance exceeded ten thousand, and the gate receipts amounted to £717.

NO MONEY.

SUSPENSION OF SERVICES IN COUNTY CORK.

Cork Co. Council's application to their Banker for a further overdraft of £25,000 to enable them to carry on with public services has been unsuccessful.

The decision of the bank involves the suspension of all works on roads and between 2,300 and 2,400 roadworkers in the county will be unemployed, and not alone idle, but without the wages passed to them at the meeting of the Council.

Payments due to the North and West Board of Assistance for next month will be held up, while the Mental Hospital demand will not be met.

The directors of the bank, on consideration of the Council's application, decided that they could not vary the terms of their letter to the Council a fortnight ago, in reply to a similar application, which was then granted "on the clear understanding that that would be the limit of accommodation in the present circumstances."

Waterford County Committee of Agriculture.

AGRICULTURAL INSTRUCTOR.

TRIBUTE TO MR. COGAN, B.AGR., SC.

Mr. Thomas Flynn, V.C., presided. Also present—Messrs. Jas. Daly, P. B. Sheridan, P. R. Power, E. Quinlan, W. Stack and M. McGrath.

The Chairman referred to the great and satisfactory service which was being rendered to the Agricultural community of the County by Mr. Cogan, Agricultural Instructor, and said he was only yet on a temporary basis which was very unfair to him. While in the County for the past three years he had given perfect satisfaction and he thought they should ask the Department to make his appointment permanent.

Mr. Daly—How does that affect his pensions rights? The Chairman said until he was on a permanent basis there were no pensions rights.

Mr. Sheridan—Mr. Cogan has done great work for the last 3 years and that is admitted from all parts of the county. Mr. Daly then proposed the following resolution which was seconded by Mr. P. R. Power, and passed unanimously:—That this Committee having regard to the excellent services rendered by Mr. Cogan, as Agricultural Instructor during the period of his employment in this County in a temporary capacity for the past three years request the Department of Agriculture to establish him on a permanent basis as County Agricultural Instructor.

Scholarships For Girls. In connection with the recent examination for Scholarships for girls in the Co. Waterford, the following report on the results were read:—

Madge Cunningham, Clashmore, 83 per cent. Marguerite Connolly, Park Kilsheelan, 77 per cent. Bridget Barron, Ballyneeta, Dungarvan, 73 per cent. Bridget Scanlon, Mount Fair, Tal-low, 70 per cent. Margaret McGrath, Brook Lodge, Modeligo, 67 per cent. Johanna Dunne, Bridane, 67 per cent. Mary Morrissey, Coolnasceina, Cappoquin, 66 per cent. Margaret Eva O'Donnell, O'Kylle, Cappoquin 60 per cent. Nan Power, Lyre, Ballymacarbry, 56 per cent. May Aherne, Ballintaylor, 52 per cent. Only one girl failed to qualify.

The first three candidates were granted Scholarships. The examiners commented favourably on the excellence of the answering of the girls who went to the examination.

Boys' Scholarships. For 3 Scholarships tenable at recognised Agricultural Schools in the Free State, and granted by the Waterford Co. Committee of Agriculture.

Four candidates presented themselves at the recent examination held in Dungarvan, but only one candidate—Mr. Patrick Healy, Ballycurrane, Clashmore—qualified. Mr. Healy, secured 69 per cent. marks. The other candidates failed. A Scholarship was awarded to Mr. Healy.

Tobacco Growing. In connection with the growing of Tobacco locally, it was stated in many cases the tobacco plants had failed.

Mr. Daly—Would not the tax of 8/8 per lb. proposed on the crop make it an uneconomic proposition?

Mr. Cogan—There is no tax this year. A number of farmers are growing about 50 plants to see how it will do. A Cork manufacturer has gone to America to look after machinery for the coming crop.

Mr. Daly—That tax is a very heavy one and is a dead deterrent. It would be very foolish to put down a large quantity of tobacco plants without any previous knowledge. No farmer could understand the principle of tobacco growing without having it explained to him.

Diseases of Animals Committee.

At the monthly meeting of the above Mr. Thomas Flynn, V.C., presided. There were also present—Messrs. Jas. Daly, M. McGrath, P. B. Sheridan, W. Stack, P. R. Power and E. Quinlan.

The Department of Agriculture wrote approving of the Sheep Dipping arrangements made, and sanctioned the Sheep Dipping Inspectors.

Foot and Mouth Disease, Etc. In connection with the Foot and Mouth Disease and Swine Fever (The Boiling of Foods) Order, 1933 which was read, Mr. McGrath asked how was the Order to be enforced?

The Chairman said they would want an Inspector at every farm. The Clerk said the Order was to be enforced by the Local Authority.

Mr. McGrath—It is compulsory on us then? Clerk—Yes.

An order was made that the memorandum of the Order be published in the "Observer."

In connection with the reported case of glanders and farcy from the Glencairn district, the Veterinary Surgeon reported he had examined the case and found it was not glanders.

The remaining business was routine.

Grand Selection of Irish Suitings.

My New Range of Irish Suitings having just arrived, I am now able to put before you Better Value than anything offered in the Tailoring Business before. My prices for hand-tailored suits are the lowest on record. Not only are the prices right, but a perfect fit is also guaranteed, as all garments are cut, fitted and tailored on the premises. TEACHERS AND CUTS.

SECRETARY I. N. T. O. REPLIES TO DAIL CRITICISMS.

Mr. T. J. O'Connell, General Secretary I.N.T.O., made the following reply to the Dail speeches on cuts for teachers:—

It is clear from statements made in the Dail during the debate on the question of national teachers' cuts, that considerable confusion exists in the minds of Deputies in regard to the negotiations which have taken place between the Government and the teachers' organisation during the past few years on the subject of pensions and salaries—a confusion which is, no doubt, shared by many members of the general public. I trust, therefore, you will afford me an opportunity of stating the facts.

In 1926 the Teachers' Pension Fund was found to be insolvent; the actuary's report disclosed the fact that the Government side of the fund, the teachers' side having approximately a quarter of a million surplus. For over two years the I.N.T.O. repeatedly urged the Government to make good the deficiency in the fund. Their pleading was in vain; they were, indeed, told that the teachers themselves would have to bear a considerable share of the sum necessary to put the fund right. In view of the fact that the discrepancy was entirely on the Government side of the fund, the teachers resolutely refused to agree to this proposition, despite the fact that they were told on more than one occasion by the late Ministry that it would be to their advantage if they agreed, rather than have the Government impose the burden on them. Matters drifted until November, 1931, when Mr. Blythe introduced his Supplementary Budget, increasing the income tax by 6d. and imposing a tax of 4d. on petrol. These new taxes, he estimated, would go half-way towards meeting the anticipated Budget deficit of £900,000. The remaining £450,000 was to be provided by a "scheme of general economies." It was common knowledge at the time that drastic reductions would be proposed in the public services and that teachers would be included in the "economy" scheme. It was at this stage negotiations were again reopened with the late Government for the settlement of the pension question. A proposal was advanced to accept a 6 per cent. "cut" in addition to the 4 per cent. already being paid for pension purposes, the Government would accept full responsibility for the payment of pensions in the future; the non-pensionable classes would be made pensionable, and the teachers would be regarded as having made their contribution to "the general sacrifices that were necessary to balance the Budget."

SPECIAL CONFERENCE.

This proposal was submitted to a special delegate conference on December 19, 1931, and was accepted by a majority. As much capital has since been made out of the acceptance by the special conference, it should be stated here (4) that the proposal was clearly accepted under duress. The letter containing the offer distinctly stated that "provided the adjustment could be effected with consent, the Government were prepared to demand of the teachers distinctly less than they had contemplated," and that if the offer were refused, "the Executive Council would have to consider the whole matter afresh." (2) That the cut was not to come into operation except as part of a general scheme of economies. (3) That the general attitude of the late Government to wage reductions was well known to the teachers through bitter experience.

Some weeks later the dissolution was announced. Prominent members of the Fianna Fail Party, including the present Minister for Finance, were among those who during the election campaign, denounced the Teachers' Executive for their "surrender" to the Government. I was alluded to as a "betrayor of the teachers." It is possible, as suggested by Deputy Norion, that the purpose of these attacks was to make a political scapegoat of me, in view of the dual position which I then held. My duty, however, as a paid official, was to carry out the instructions of my Executive. At the Special Conference of December, 1931.

I said nor did nothing to influence the decision of the delegates. It is well to recall here President de Valera's famous statement at Rathfriland, in which he virtually promised that a Fianna Fail Government would not cut salaries of £300 or £400, and his further statement published on the morning of the General Election of 1932, to the effect that his pronouncement at Rathfriland would apply equally to the case of the teachers.

It is scarcely to be wondered at in these circumstances, that when the annual elections to the Executive took place in March, 1932, every member of the old Executive who presented himself for election was defeated by a big majority, and that at the Easter Congress, following the decision of the December Special Conference, was practically unanimously repudiated. It did, however, come as a shock to the new Executive when they met the new Minister for Finance some weeks later, that his first proposal to them was that they should accept the offer of the late Government, which he and his colleagues had only a few months previously so strenuously denounced. As a result of further negotiations, certain concessions were made, and Mr. McEntee's offer in its final form was undoubtedly a considerable improvement on that of Mr. Blythe. The general cut was reduced from 6 to 5 per cent., and the income for pension purposes was not to be interfered with. The cut on the lower paid classes was also less than Mr. Blythe's demand. The new Executive, however, had no authority to make any compromise, or accept any cut. They were elected to oppose all cuts, and accordingly they did the only thing left to them as a democratically elected body—they put the Minister's offer before the general body, and the general body turned it down. When the present Bill was introduced, the Executive asked for an interview with the Minister to discuss the cuts. This interview was refused.

MINISTER FOR FINANCE.

The Galway Congress sent a telegram to the President asking him to receive a deputation which would put the teachers' case before him. He refused to meet them for the purpose of discussing the proposals in the Bill, as these were final and definite, but promised that if the Congress appointed delegates "with full powers to arrive at a settlement of the pension question," he was prepared to meet them. Congress refused to send a deputation on these conditions, and there has been no further communication between the Government and the Executive on the subject of the cuts. Some statements were made during the course of the debate by the Minister for Finance, which are not in accord with the facts. He stated that after his letters denouncing his agreement with the late Government were published "a special teachers' conference accepted the agreement." That is not so. His letters were published in January, 1932. The conference referred to was held in December, 1931. He stated further, that the teachers had forgotten they were Irishmen, that they had declared that they would not teach Irish, or organise Irish games, that they would not do their duty to the State, and that they had passed a resolution to that effect. That also is not correct. A resolution to the effect that teachers should not engage in certain activities outside their schools was proposed at the Congress, but it met with such opposition from the delegates, that it was withdrawn without being put to the vote. I venture to suggest that there are many men in the Teachers' organisation whose work for Ireland and for the national language and national games and pastimes will compare favourably with that of the Minister for Finance.

AFTER THE ELECTION

"COURT NOT A ROMAN CIRCUS"

D.J.'s REMARKS AT CAPPOQUIN

At the Cappoquin District Court, before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L., D.J., Maurice Whelan, Shop Assistant, Cappoquin, summoned Mr. G. Hely, a prominent member of the A.C.A., for abusive language and sought to have him bound to the peace.

Defendant had a cross summons against the complainant for abusive language on the same occasion.

Mr. A. F. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, appeared for the complainant, and Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., defended.

On account of the political nature of the case, great local interest was manifested in its hearing and the Court-house was packed with the general public.

Complainant in his evidence stated that on the night February, 17th, last, he was at a dance in the Boathouse Hall in Cappoquin, and as he was passing out through the porch between 2 and 3 o'clock, a.m., he saw the defendant and another man speaking together at the door. As he had passed them he heard his name mentioned and turned back and asked the defendant if he wanted him, and the latter then called him a b—— and witness said he would make him prove it. Defendant then challenged him to produce his birth certificate, after which witness went away.

Cross-examined by Mr. Williams, solr., complainant denied having used any insulting expression towards the defendant as he was passing out. He also denied having made any reference to the A.C.A. and did not know if defendant was a member of that body at the time.

Further pressed by Mr. Williams, he said he was not an active politician and was not bitterly opposed to the A.C.A., and had voted at the General Election according to his conscience.

Sergeant J. Rochford, Cappoquin, stated that he was present when the complainant passed out the defendant and another man who were engaged in conversation at the door.

As he was going up the steps the complainant turned back and said to the others, "Are ye at it, again," and the defendant then said, "How dare you speak to me like that, you b——," and complainant then said he would make him prove it.

Defendant, in reply to Mr. Williams, solr., stated that when complainant was passing out of the Hall the remark he used was "The 'mice' are at it, again," which he took to be an offensive reference to the A.C.A., the members of which have been called "White Mice" by their political opponents. As he is Chairman of the Cappoquin Branch of the A.C.A., and Regional Commandant of the West Waterford Division of that body, he naturally resented this insulting remark and lost his temper and called complainant the name complained of.

Mr. Williams—Did you use the expression in its literal sense at the time?

Defendant—Oh, no; I simply used it as a word of abuse and attached no serious meaning to it at the moment.

He regretted having used such a remark, and went to apologise to the complainant on Easter Sunday night, but complainant only brushed past him and would not accept his apology.

Replying to further questions, defendant said he used no threat of any kind towards complainant, whom he met in a house about half an hour later, when he did not seem in the least afraid of him. He had seen complainant nearly every day since then and had not interfered with him in the slightest way.

Mr. Williams—Are you aware that complainant is a rather active politician on behalf of the Fianna Fail Party?

Defendant—Oh, yes, and I might add that on the night of the victory celebrations in Cappoquin after the General Election, he was very prominent in the procession coming down the Main street, which stopped opposite my door, and he shouted out "where are the members of the A.C.A. to-night?"

Defendant further stated that this case was a sequel to the assault case heard at the previous Court, as it was thought that by summoning him it would result in the other case being settled before the last Court day.

Complainant was recalled by the Justice at this stage and asked about the incident on the night of the Victory Celebrations, which he denied.

Asked by the Justice why, if he were afraid of the defendant he did not bring the summons at the time of the alleged abuse, instead of bringing it three months afterwards when political excitement should have died down in Cappoquin, he replied that he knew there would be no Court held here in March.

The Justice—How could you know that, as this arrangement was known only by Mr. Troy and myself.

Addressing Mr. Farrell, solr., he asked—"Does it do any good to bring on a case like this three months after the occurrence?"

Mr. Farrell—I am not responsible for the delay, your Worship, as Mr. Hodnett, solr., was originally engaged by the complainant, and it was only after he had withdrawn from it that I was instructed in the matter.

The Justice said he was strongly opposed to the practice of having the Court used as a public vehicle for ventilating political differences, such as had occurred at the previous Court, and he would do all in his power to discourage this practice.

Speaking with some heat, he said he had a distinct distaste for having the Court turned into a sort of "Roman Circus" for the amusement of partisans of rival political parties, and he was glad to know that throughout the entire area over which he adjudicated Cappoquin was the only town where political differences were ventilated in open Court.

He was satisfied from the opening of this case that complainant had been holding back certain material facts which he should have disclosed and was not a frank or candid witness, as the defendant was the frank witness in this case, and not the complainant.

It was not his function to inquire into the political views of other people and his duty in this case was to see

Tobacco-Growing

FARMERS URGED TO TEST THE EXPERIMENT.

In urging Free State farmers to avail themselves of the concession, free of licence or other impediment, which the Revenue Commissioners have recently granted in regard to the growing of tobacco, Major J. M. Little, Chairman of the Carlow Tobacco Growers' Association, in the course of a letter, says: "This concession permits any person to grow sixty plants free of licence or bond, provided he grows more than one variety. In case he grows only one variety he is limited to fifty plants."

"In recent times there has been an impatient demand on the part of very many of the agricultural industry in this country that the Government should give tobacco a prime place in its agricultural policy and that, in spite of the fact that throughout the entire country not more than one dozen persons have had practical experience of the growing of tobacco in its commercial aspects. Now, then, this year, thanks to the above concession, every farmer, big or small, has the chance through tobacco organisation, of becoming just such as any one of these dozen experts. Facilities without impediment have been afforded to grow and dry the produce of sixty plants, and consequently, through properly constituted tobacco-growers' organisations, of obtaining a sale for that produce. An experiment which affords experience of a most useful nature, and which in itself ensures a profit, is one that no one but a fool would omit."

"With all my energy I call upon every farmer to make the experiment; even those who have already sown their spare land with potatoes should root out a strip of three drills, and so leave that strip ready for planting the tobacco plant at the end of May. The tobacco plants (60) would be planted one yard apart each way."

"By Christmas this year the country will be full of farmers, not, as heretofore, only theorists as regards the tobacco agricultural industry, but men of practical knowledge gained by personal experience, and keenly alive to the monetary value of the industry on a more extensive scale."

"Tobacco-growers' organisations should now at once get into communication with nursery men as to the placing of their orders for delivery of plants in the last week of May. These plants should be carefully packed in bales of 20 plants of the same variety in each bale. Freight charges will be reduced considerably if each organisation arranges to get its supply in one or two consignments, directed to one local centre for distribution."

The total number of persons (men, women, and children) in receipt of public assistance on the last Saturday of April, 1933, was 144,463, which is 4,912 less than the previous month, and 31,414 more than on the corresponding day last year. The total is equivalent to 48.6 per 1,000 of the estimated population.

The number of persons on home assistance was 126,061, or 4,553 less than the previous month, and 31,087 more than on the corresponding day last year.

The average cost of home assistance was £16,008 per week, or £284 per week lower than the previous month, and £3,835 higher per week than in April, 1932.

DUBLIN'S SHARE.
The numbers on home assistance in Dublin City and County were 30,690, or 26 p.c. of the total for the Free State. The above figures relate only to persons who were receiving home assistance or were maintained in county homes, hospitals, extern institutions, etc., by poor law authorities on the last Saturday of April, 1933. The following classes are not included, namely, persons receiving medical relief only at dispensaries, sick persons attended in their own homes, and patients in public mental hospitals.

Death of Mr. Michael Moore, LISMORE.

Much regret has been caused in Lismore by the death of Mr. Michael Moore, General Merchant, Main St., which occurred at his residence after a short illness on Thursday evening, 25th ult.

The late Mr. Moore was a native of Ballysaggartmore, and started business in Lismore over 20 years ago where his kindly and genial personality and his great commercial ability soon built up one of the most extensive and prosperous business connections in Lismore.

He was always noted for his sterling honesty and integrity in all his commercial transactions, while his cheery and affable disposition and his well-known generosity made him a great favourite with all classes of the general public.

A devout and exemplary Catholic, he was regularly attended during the latter stages of his illness by the Rev. Father O'Gorman, C.C., and the Rev. Father Power, C.C., Lismore, and his premature death at the comparatively early age of 55 years has now caused a general feeling of sorrow amongst all who knew him.

The remains were removed from his late residence to St. Carthage's Catholic Cathedral on Friday evening, and the following morning Solemn Requiem High Mass was offered up for the repose of his soul before a large congregation of the townspeople and friends from many distant districts.

The celebrant of the Mass was the Rev. Father Morrissey, C.C., Lismore, the other clergymen assisting being the Very Rev. W. P. Canon Burke, P.P., V.F., Lismore; Very Rev. D. Canon Whelan, D.D., P.P.; Cappoquin; Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., do.; Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., Lismore and Rev. Father Power, C.C., do.

The interment afterwards took place in the New County Council Cemetery, Lismore, when there was an extremely large and representative attendance of the general public present to pay a fitting mark of respect to the memory of a gentleman who was such a great favourite with all.

The final prayers at the graveside were recited by all the clergymen who had assisted at the High Mass.

The chief mourners included: Mrs. Moore (daughter); Master Patrick Moore, (son); Wm. Moore, Ballysaggart, (brother); Miss M. Moore, do., (sister); the Misses Bridie, Norah, Maggie, Kate, and Bridget Moore, (nieces); William, Daniel, Michael W., John and Patrick Moore, (nephews); Eugene and Patk. O'Donnell, Deer park, and Joseph O'Donnell, Bridge-street, Lismore, (brothers-in-law); Mrs. O'Donnell, Deerpark, Mrs. O'Donnell, Lismore, Miss Alice O'Donnell, do.; Miss Josephine McGrath, do.; Mrs. D. O'Riordan, Cove, etc., (cousins and relatives). R.I.P.

Farmers' League.

MEETING IN DUNGARVAN.

On Saturday last at Dungarvan, a meeting of the Committee of the Waterford Branch, Farmers' and Ratepayers League, at which there was a full attendance. Mr. W. Hearn, Glen, president, said it would be hard to allow that occasion to pass without expressing his views on the crisis which had developed in the country—and in a country such as this—which depended for its existence on the prosperity of Agriculture, it was very serious. One would be inclined to forget the folly of the civil war and the waste of 35 millions, if it were not followed by that economic war which was sapping the very vitals from the land. To one who has studied the economies of farming it would be hard to be reconciled to the policy pursued by those in power. But let them assume with them that 2 and 2 make 5 which was at variance with accepted computation. The effect is apparent to the plain man. He sees his eggs get hard, his fowl get fowler, his pigs get slim, his sheep shy, his old cow ashamed because she could not make 2 and 2 equal 5, and his horse frightened out of his life. Who has provided the means for these lavish services carried on for sometime past? It was the farmers and they alone. The yoke was lifted from their shoulders by that great Emancipator, Charles Stuart Parnell, the unrepentable Dillon and the Redmonds. Don't surrender what they won for you—Fair rent, Fixity of Tenur and Free Sale. No man knew the soil as good as the man who tilled. Especially did that appeal to Co. Waterford farmers. They were told they were getting as good a price for their cattle as ever, but he would not insult their intelligence by comment. The frothy vehemence of politicians would not draw money to the public services. A discussion on rates, etc., followed.

WOMAN OF 84 YEARS WINS £30,000.

Mrs. Sarah Martin, aged eighty-four, who won £30,000 in the Sweep, heard the news while she was travelling in Berkshire. "At last," she said, "at last! I have had a ticket in every Irish sweep," and now I have won I don't know what I shall do with the money."

£1,640 FOR 1/-.

Ten Birmingham wives, unknown to their husbands, invested one shilling each in a ticket which drew Hyperion. They sold a half share for £1,400. Their one shilling each has brought each of them £1,640.

DEATHS
TOBIN—On May 30th., 1933, Michael Tobin, Coolnasmear, Dungarvan. Deeply regretted.—R.I.P.

PURCELL—On May, 27th., 1933, at The Mercy Home, Cork, Thomas Purcell, Scart, Ballinacree, aged 30 years. To the inexpressible grief of his sorrowing family.—R.I.P.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

THE SWEEP.
All questions of national, social or political importance gave way this week to discussion on the Sweep and the chances of everybody to win a fortune and so spend their remaining days in peace and luxury.

THE DERBY.
The Derby Stakes on Wednesday at Epsom were won by Hyperion at 6 to 1 with King Salmon 2nd. and Statesman 3rd. 24 horses ran. The race was won in record time and was won by a horse of 15.1 hands who is a tremendous stayer.

DUNGARVAN'S LUCK IN THE SWEEP.
Dungarvan people had more luck than usual in the draw for the Derby in the National Hospitals' Sweepstake which began on Monday.

ABBEYSIDE TO THE FORE.
A ticket held by Mr. E. Maher, Manager Co-Op Creamery, and Mrs. P. Spratt, Colcormack, Dungarvan, drew Solar Boy. There was a peculiar incident about this ticket which bore the non-de-plume—"S.A.G."—Abbeyside, Mr. T. Kyne, Park Terrace, was listening-in to the broadcast of the draw by wireless and being the holder of a ticket bearing the non-de-plume "S.A.G." Abbeyside, he naturally concluded he and his colleagues Michael O'Brien, who was associated with him in the ticket, were the winners and were heartily congratulated on all sides.

WALL PAPERS.
Moloney's are going to offer during the next few weeks, 5,000 pieces Wallpapers at prices that will stagger the public. Come early on Saturday and have the pick of the basket. Bridge St., and Square, Dungarvan.

QUARANTE ORE IN DUNGARVAN.
On Sunday last after High Mass in the Parish Church, Dungarvan, celebrated by Very Rev. T. O'Brien, P.P., V.F., there was a procession of the Blessed Sacrament, after which there was Exposition for the Forty Hours Adoration. On Sunday evening there were special devotions at 7.30 o'clock, 8 o'clock and High Mass at 10.30 o'clock. There were special devotions in the evening. On Tuesday morning Masses were celebrated at 7 o'clock, 7.30 o'clock, 8 o'clock and High Mass at 10.30 o'clock. The attendance at the several ceremonies during the Quarante Ore was extremely large and edifying.

DEATH OF MR. ML. TOBIN. COOLNASMEAR.
We regret to announce the death of Mr. Michael Tobin, Coolnasmear, which occurred at his residence on Tuesday after a brief illness fortified by the rites of the Church.

ANNUAL MAY PROCESSION AT ABBEYSIDE.
The Annual May Procession in honour of Our Blessed Lady, was held in Abbeyside on last Sunday evening, amid scenes of fervent devotion. The weather was beautifully fine and the route of the Procession was tastefully decorated by the people of the parish.

DUNGARVAN MARKETS.
Meal (special) 16/6; middiecut 16/-; flour 15/6; bran 8/-; pollard 6/6; Creamery butter 1/4d. lb.; fresh butter 7d. lb.; eggs 6d. per dozen.

VISITORS TO CLONEA STRAND.
Miss M. Gough, begs to inform her friends and the general public that she will re-open her Café at the Strand Clonea, (Castle side), on Sunday, June, 4th. Teas served daintily at moderate prices.

AGRICULTURAL SCHOLARSHIPS.
With the results to hand of the recent examination held at Dungarvan for Agricultural Scholarships offered by the Waterford Co. Committee of Agriculture, we are pleased to note that a Scholarship has been awarded to Mr. P. Healy, Ballycurrane, Clashmore, tenable at one of the Department's Training Schools.

HOLY YEAR GIFT.
BY ABBEYSIDE PARISHIONERS.
In commemoration of Holy Year and the 19th centenary of the Crucifixion, the people of Abbeyside have erected a beautiful figure of Our Lord on the Mission Cross in the Church.

QUAY ACCIDENT.
MAN'S HAND TORN OFF BY SHIP'S WINCH.
While working at a motor winch aboard the Ketch of Ayr of Bideford, unloading coal at Ballinacree Quay, on Tuesday last, for the Clashmore Branch of the Dungarvan Co-Operative Creamery, Ltd., the mate, William Browne, got entangled and suffered serious injuries.

DEATH OF MR. THOMAS PURCELL, SCART, BALLINACREE.
On Saturday last, the death took place in a Cork Hospital of Mr. Thomas Purcell, Scart, Ballinacree. The deceased was a splendid type of young man held in the highest esteem by all who knew him.

FIANNA FAIL, BALLINAMULT.
The Drawing of Prizes in aid of above Cumann has been unavoidably postponed on account of some of the blocks not being returned.

EARLY POTATOES.
Early potatoes were dug this week at Ballinacree and exported across the Channel. The output is considered very satisfactory.

BLIGHT.
During the past week blight has made its appearance in the potato crop chiefly in the Ballinacree area. To check its ravages early efficient spraying has got to be done.

MUSICAL SUCCESSES.
At the recent Leinster School of Music Pinaforte Examinations, held at the Mercy Convent, the six candidates presented by Mrs. O'Hara, A.L.C.M., gained the following successes:

NO FUNDS FOR PAYMENT OF ROAD WORKERS.
All work on the roads throughout Cork County was suspended on Saturday night and as a result between 2,300 and 2,400 road workers have been unemployed.

DANCE AT CLONEA.
There will be a grand dance in Ocean View Hotel, Clonea, on Sunday night, and with a brilliant weather forecast for the occasion, there should be a big gathering present.

SUPPOSED COMMUNISTS.
At Dunmanway Fair, on Wednesday two young men who got up to address the public were set upon as being Communists and they had to scot out of the town.

POPULAR WHITSUNTIDE DANCE.
In keeping with the festive spirit of the Whitsuntide holidays, a great Cinderella Dance will be held under the auspices of the Rowing Club in the Boathouse Hall, on Whit Monday night, June 5th, at most reasonable and popular prices.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C.; Chairman; Capt. P. Dunne, Messrs. E. P. Lynch, Vice-Chairman; P. J. McMahon, P.C.; P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.; D. Dennehy, T. Beausang, D. J. Linehan.

A.C.A. An application was received from the local branch, A.C.A., for the use of the Town Hall, on June 4th to give a reception to Mr. Blythe, Dr. O'Higgins, Comdnt. Cronin and others, who were visiting the town. Mr. McMahon said he had great pleasure in proposing the application be granted. This was seconded by Mr. O'Gorman, and passed unanimously.

Bathing Bye-Laws. Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., submitted two copies of the new Bathing Bye-laws for formal approval and signature by the Council. The necessary resolution was proposed by Mr. O'Gorman, seconded by Mr. Dennehy, and unanimously adopted.

G.A.A. The G.A.A. applied for the use of the Town Hall, on June 11th, to hold a céilidhe and reception in honour of the Cork and Kilkenny teams who would be playing at Copperalley on that day. The application was granted unanimously.

Buildings At Claycastle. The Town Surveyor, wrote:—With reference to the application of Mr. W. Barrett, Upper Strand, for permission to erect a Hut at Claycastle, to be 18' x 14' x 8' high, having discovered that the applicant had erected the framework, I requested him to cease work until he had an authority from the Council in writing, to proceed with the building. A proposal of this kind can't be considered under the Council's Bye-laws, as it is not a building within the meaning of the Bye-law. Therefore, should the Council be disposed to allow the erection to be carried out, the permission should be conditional for a specified time and at the pleasure of the Council. Buildings such as shacks, huts and the like, are usually not provided with proper sanitary arrangements, and it would be well to consider the advisability of allowing them to be used as dwellings even for a short time. My attention has been drawn to the extension made to the nearest existing hut on Slattery's field, which is a very ugly looking blot on the landscape, and erected without permission. Persons making application to erect structures are strictly confined to the area set out on their respective plans and should not be allowed to extend without making a further application showing the existing building and the proposed extension, otherwise haphazard structures will arise all round the locality of Claycastle to the detriment of this very popular resort, the amenities of which should be preserved.—H. Spreadborough.

On the proposition of Mr. McMahon, seconded by Mr. Dennehy, Mr. Barrett's application was granted subject to the pleasure of the Council.

The Clerk—What about the extension complained of, erected by P. Fitzgerald?

Mr. Beausang—He is a poor man. I move he get permission. Mr. Dennehy seconded. "Blots on the landscape, indeed," laughter. The Clerk said there might be trouble if the M.O.H. took the matter up, there being no sanitary conveniences.

Mr. O'Gorman—Is the thing an eyesore? Mr. Linehan—Certainly it is. After some further discussion, it was unanimously decided to instruct the Town Surveyor to see that the extension be improved so as not to be objectionable.

Late Mr. J. C. Foley, Cork. Mr. McMahon, proposed, a vote of sympathy with the widow and family of the late Mr. J. C. Foley, Cork, on his sad and untimely death. He was a good father, a good Co. Cork man and a good Irishman.

Mr. Beausang seconded. The Chairman associated himself with the proposition. He had known the late Mr. Foley for 25 years and had always found him a live wire in anything concerning the welfare not alone of the South, but of the whole country.

Mr. O'Gorman expressed his sincere concurrence. He was an outstanding personality, a perfect gentleman in every sense of the term. The Clerk and others having joined in the proposition, it was duly adopted.

Milk Samples. The Veterinary Inspector, submitted six tested samples of milk. They were all perfectly clean.

The Clerk said they had never had anything like that before them previously.

Mr. Linehan—They saw the report in the Press. Mr. O'Gorman said it was a credit to the milk producers.

New Buildings. The L.G. forwarded copy of a letter sent to the Town Surveyor regarding the two houses proposed to be erected by Messrs. Horgan near the Church Field. Having regard to the density as reported by their Inspector, they were not prepared to issue a certificate for more than one.

Children's Playing Ground. The Circular Letter of the National Playground Association, was read, HANDBALL.

GARDA CHAMPIONSHIP IN CO. WATERFORD.

In connection with the Garda Handball Championships now being held throughout the Free State, a most successful Tournament has just been completed in Tallow between members of the Civic Guards in the Lismore District, which is in charge of Superintendent Sean Quinlan, Lismore. The various games, which were of 21 aces each, were played as a handicap, the rubber in each contest being the first two games out of three.

The competitors from the Lismore area included Sergeant C. Quirke, Tallow; Guards Keogh, Cullen, O'Leary, and Farrell, do.; Guards McLaughlan, and O'Connell, Ballyduff, and Guard J. J. Buggy, Villierstown.

In the first round Guard Buggy (scratch) beat Guard O'Leary (8 aces up) by two games to nil.

Guard McLaughlan (12 aces up) beat Guard Cullen (8 aces up) by two games to one.

Guard Farrell (8 aces up) beat Guard O'Connell (12 aces up) by two games to nil and Guard Keogh (8 aces up) beat Sergt. Quirke (8 aces up) by two games to one.

In the second round Guard Buggy (scratch), beat Guard McLaughlan (12 aces), by two games to one, while Guard Keogh (8 aces), beat Guard Farrell (8 aces), by two games to one.

The final therefore, lay between Guard J. J. Buggy, Villierstown, (scratch), and Guard J. Keogh, Tallow, (8 aces), and was played off in Tallow on Tuesday evening before a large attendance of Guards from the various stations in the Lismore District, all the arrangements being under the careful supervision of Supt. Quinlan, Lismore.

Guard Buggy, who was the only scratchman in the Tournament, although conceding the big handicap of 8 aces to his opponent, won the first game by 21 to 19, while the second game in which both men started from scratch, was won easily by Guard Buggy by 21 aces to 3.

The latter was then declared the winner of the Tournament and was presented with a valuable Silver Medal, with gold centre, by Superintendent Quinlan, who warmly complimented him on his well-deserved success, which brought the winner the further congratulations of all present. Guard Buggy, who has been stationed in Villierstown for a considerable period, is the efficient Hon. Sec. of the Villierstown Hurling and Football Club, and a valuable member of the Hurling team, while he is an ardent and successful all-round sportsman, who is extremely popular with all classes of the public in the Villierstown area.

He will next compete in the Inter-District Handball Championships in Waterford, the winners of which will qualify to compete in the All-Ireland Championship to be decided during "Garda Week" in Dublin, on an early date, and his numerous friends now wish him further successes during the remaining stages of the Championship.

The Clerk said they had got a grant of £100 from the Carnegie Trust Fund, which enabled them to provide a playing ground and a series of amusements. He believed Youghal was a pioneer in that respect.

Mr. O'Gorman—All due credit to our gallant Capt. Dunne.

The Late Mr. J. Desmond. Mr. O'Gorman, proposed a vote of sympathy with the father and relatives of the late Mr. J. Desmond, dentist. His death, tragic in its suddenness, was a big loss to the town, and particularly the poor. His grand personality endeared him to everybody.

Mr. Beausang seconded. Messrs. Lynch, Dennehy, McMahon and the Clerk associated themselves with the proposition.

The Chairman said not alone would every member of the Council, but the whole town join in that tribute to the memory of a kindly and charitable gentleman.

MEMORANDUM.

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE AND SWINE FEVER (BOILING OF ANIMAL FOODSTUFFS) ORDER, 1933.

Certain Foodstuffs To Be Boiled

1. It is unlawful for the owner or other person having charge of any cattle, sheep, pigs or goats to feed to any such animals and it is likewise unlawful for any person having in his possession or under his charge any such animal to permit to be fed to such animal any of the following articles unless such article has been first boiled, that is, exposed for a period of at least one hour by any process to a temperature of not less than 212° F.

The articles requiring to be so boiled are:—

- (a) meat (including bacon, ham and pork), bones (including ground green or raw bones), offal or other part of the carcass of an animal.
- (b) swill, that is, any broken or waste foodstuffs including table or kitchen refuse, scraps or waste, containing any meat, bones, offal or portions thereof, or any other part of the carcass of an animal.
- (c) any other broken or waste foodstuffs which have been in contact with meat, bones (including ground green or raw bones), offal or other part of the carcass of an animal.

ANIMALS NOT TO BE ALLOWED TO HAVE ACCESS TO UNBOILED FOODSTUFFS.

2. Every person having in his possession or under his charge any of the above-mentioned foodstuffs which have not been boiled, as explained, is required to take steps to prevent animals having access to such unboiled foodstuffs.

UTENSILS, IMPLEMENTS, ETC., USED FOR OR ABOUT SWILL TO BE KEPT CLEAN AND SEPARATE FROM ANIMALS.

3. Every person having in his possession or under his charge any utensil, implement, or other thing used for or about swill is required by law to keep at all times such utensil, implement or other thing in a clean condition and separate from animals, as far as practicable.

Note.—Offences against the above-mentioned Order render persons liable to prosecution and penalty under the Diseases of Animals Acts, Department of Agriculture, Dublin, C.17.

MAKING ENSILAGE.

ITS ADVANTAGES TO FARMERS.

Increased attention has been given during the past few years to the conserving of grass as ensilage. This is due partly to increased productivity of our pastures owing to better care and manuring and partly to the results of recent investigations on the nutritive value of grass at different stages of growth. Again, the type of silos favoured at present is definitely a more practical proposition for the ordinary farmer than the tower silos in vogue some years back necessitating a very large initial capital outlay.

The County Waterford Committee of Agriculture are keenly alive to the possibilities of the new method and as a result two experiments were carried out last year on the farms of Messrs. N. Fitzgerald, Bonmahon, and J. Flanagan, Kilmathomas. Silos of the rectangular type were erected, and as a result of these experiments it can be stated that the production of good grass ensilage depends on (1) type of grass and stage of growth at which cut; (2) packing, particularly at the walls; (3) Prevention of access of water to the silo.

The fact that all types of cattle consumed the ensilage greedily, leaving the usual feeding stuffs untouched until after, is conclusive proof of the quality of the material turned out.

Attention having been directed to new methods of making ensilage which have been adopted to a large extent in Continental countries, viz., the sprinkling of a chemical on the fresh green material as it is being placed in the silo, it is proposed to carry out one experiment this year in which this method will be adopted. The object in view is to find out the increased benefit, if any, to be gained by the addition of a chemical and how far the method would appeal to the ordinary farmer.

The type of silo now favoured is of the circular rather than the rectangular type. It is considered that a few small circular silos on a farm are more convenient than one large rectangular one, both as regards filling and subsequent feeding. If a chemical is being used they are essential. A circular silo is much simpler to construct than imagined by most people. A special mould is available for constructing concrete blocks with the required curve in each to suit the particular diameter, and it is only necessary to place the blocks in position and pack in between a little fine concrete.

Grass ensilage opens up possibilities in providing a cheap, succulent winter feed, particularly for those with a large acreage of hay to save each year.

INTER-COUNTY SENIOR HURLING TOURNAMENT.

CARRIGTWOHILL V. TALLOW.

Under ideal weather conditions the above Senior strings decided their tie in the Gold Medal Tournament run under the auspices of the Waterford Co. Board, at the Gaelic Grounds, Tallow, on Sunday. A fine crowd witnessed the contest, which was brimful of interest in the initial half, but the superiority of the Carrig men was in evidence in the concluding period. The custodians of both teams gave a sterling display. The home forwards were unable to make much of an impression on the Carrig defence, in which the Barry brothers shone. Hartigan played a sterling game for Tallow and Sheehan, at centre-field, did splendid work. The teams took the field punctually, and Mr. P. O'Donnell, Waterford, Co. Board, acted as referee in a very capable and most impartial manner.

Details:—
 Tallow won the choice for ends and played with the sun and a slight breeze in their favour. Carrig initiated the first attack, but Curley, between the sticks, brought off a timely and lengthy clearance. The homesters invaded, but T. Barry sent to Loftus, who gave a nice pass to Morey, the latter player opening the scoring by raising the green flag. A strong delivery saw the visitors on the defensive and an over resulted. Tallow were pressing hard for a score, but J. Barry cleared, and Curley saved at the other end at the expense of a 70. Tom Barry placed the ball accurately, but Flynn saved in fine fashion. Sheehan sent in a long one which O'Keefe saved, but Doyle got possession and equalised for Tallow. Carrig sent over in reply. The Carrigs had several narrow escapes in the ensuing five minutes. They started some clever passing movements, one of which wound up by Conroy placing the ball in the net. A few seconds elapsed when the same player beat the defence and raised the green flag again. Curley brought off several fine saves which elicited well-merited applause. A fast movement along the left wing saw the homesters bring off a neat point. Tallow were now pressing hard, and were awarded two 70's in quick succession, the first, though well directed, was cleared, but the second was sent all the way by Hartigan for a minor score. Prior to the half-time whistle, Carrig increased their lead by a major, the score then being:—
 CARRIGTWOHILL—4 goals.
 TALLOW—1 goal 2 points.

On resuming, Carrigtwohill shot two lightning-like goals. The game was being played in the same clean spirit which marked the opening half. Only one free was given in that half, and only for a minor infringement. After ten minutes of the second half had elapsed, the superiority of the visitors became evident. Their defence was much too strong for the home forwards. Carrigtwohill scored a point and in a temporary recovery by Tallow, O'Brien shot a fine goal. Tallow never rallied sufficiently following this score, though their backs played valiantly to the end. When the full time arrived, Carrigtwohill were comfortable winners on the following score:—
 CARRIGTWOHILL—7 goals 3 pts.
 TALLOW—2 goals 2 points.

The teams were:—
 Carrigtwohill—J. Barry, P. O'Keefe, (goal); J. Long, J. Barry, — Loftus, T. Pratchi, T. Barry, W. Morey, J. Morey, P. O'Donovan, D. McCarthy, D. Barry, W. Conroy, T. McCarthy, T. O'Donovan.
 Tallow—P. Shehan (Capt.); — Curley (goal); B. Condon, E. Flynn, J. Hartigan, T. Shehan, T. Burke, W. Sheehan, D. Doyle, T. McCarthy, W. O'Brien, J. O'Brien, N. Condon, M. O'Brien, F. Fitzgerald.

INFALLIBLE PROPHECY.

Brown: "Why so glum, old bean?"
 Green: "I've just had my fortune told."
 "But surely you don't believe in that rubbish. Whom did you go to?"
 "My bank manager."

A fortnight's retreat—the first week being devoted to the Women's Confraternity of the Holy Family in particular and the women of the parish in general, and the second week to the Men's Confraternity and those outside it—was brought to a happy conclusion on Sunday evening. It was conducted by the Rev. Fathers Kerr and McDermot, C.S.S.R., Limerick, and thanks to their eloquent preaching, inspiring zeal and untiring efforts the function was attended by a highly edifying degree of success reaching a record in the numbers taking part in the General Communions on both women's and men's days. Both the early morning Masses and the evening devotions were regularly attended by crowded and attentive congregations. As regards the attendance at the confessional, the people all, women and men, were warmly congratulated on the manner in which they flocked around the boxes day after day. The concluding ceremonies on both Sunday evenings presented striking pictures of religious fervour, the function including Solemn renewal of Baptismal Vows with lighted candles in hand, the imparting of the Papal Blessing and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. Addressing the men on Sunday night, Father Kerr enumerated and emphasised the various means available for the attainment of final perseverance. He strongly denounced the reading of imported newspapers and their generally immoral tendency and quoted a number of headings from two recent issues of the principal offenders in support of his action. While the daily issues were taxed, the Sunday issues, often worse, were allowed in free. That was a shame and a scandal. He appealed to all who had any influence with their political leaders to endeavour to remedy that terrible immoral grievance. As regards the growing evil of Communism, he said there were certain indications that if emissaries of that cult were not already in their midst in Youghal, they soon would be. Sometime ago politicians peep-pooched the idea of Communism in Ireland, and one said that all the Communists in the country could fit into one small room. "It would now take a very big room indeed, to house them all." He earnestly appealed in God's Holy Name to the Catholic men of Youghal to take all possible steps to keep out the agents of Soviet Communism.

POTATO BLIGHT.

IMMEDIATE SPRAYING NECESSARY.

A severe attack of potato blight has been reported from Clonakilty, County Cork. This is one of the earliest outbreaks on record and should serve as a warning to potato growers of the need for spraying their crops before the disease appears. Unless energetic measures be taken immediately, especially in southern and western counties, the disease may spread in the affected area and to other parts of the country and cause very serious loss.

The Department of Agriculture, therefore, warn growers of the grave danger of serious loss this season through unduly postponing the first spraying. Growers are often reluctant to spray backward crops, but it should be remembered that a backward crop is as liable to attack from blight as a crop in a more advanced state of growth.

It is of the greatest importance that the spraying mixture should be properly prepared. Full information on this subject will be found in leaflet No. 14, "Potato Blight and its Prevention," which can be had post free on application to the Secretary, Department of Agriculture, Dublin, C.17.

UNDER THE BRITISH.

TEACHERS' PRESIDENT GIVES FIGURES.

Mr. Cormac Breathnach, said he would like to correct some misstatements. Deputy Gearoid O'Sullivan had stated that the Free State had emancipated the teachers. That was not correct. The teachers obtained their highest salaries under the British Government. Shortly after the Free State was established the Free State Government cut them by ten per cent. The Minister for Education had said that the teachers' executive accepted a ten per cent. cut in December, 1931. That was not true. It was a six per cent. cut they accepted, and that acceptance was rejected afterwards by an ordinary congress. Deputy Lynch had said that they enjoyed their full salaries for three years. That was not true. They enjoyed them only for a year and a half. The Minister contended that teachers were not being treated unfairly. He (Deputy Breathnach) contended that the teachers as well as the civil servants, had suffered serious losses in the past ten years. The ten per cent. cut came into operation in November, 1923, and since then it had cost the teachers £3,375,000. The four per cent. which they contributed to the pensions fund cost them about £1,000,000. The fees for Irish, which lapsed in 1922 on the coming into operation of the new programme, cost them £210,000. Fees for extra subjects, like mathematics and rural science, which were taken away in 1929, cost them £28,000. Leaving school fees, which were also taken away, cost them £32,000, making a total loss of nearly £5,000,000. In addition, the teachers had expenses which other civil servants did not incur. Many teachers supplied pupils with free pencils, books and stationery and he estimated this cost £50,000. He maintained that teachers had been unfairly treated in the Bill, and this unfair discrimination had caused the teachers more discontent and raised more anger than the cuts themselves. That discontent was augmented by the Press summary that had been issued by the Department of Finance, in which it was stated that teachers were getting concessions. Instead of concessions there was the reverse. The teachers were being asked to pay 62 per cent. of the cut, or about 64 10s. in every £10. They were told that there was to be equality of sacrifice, but the total amount paid in wages and salaries by the State was 12 1/2 millions, and the salaries of the teachers was, roughly, 3 millions, and if there was to be equality the teachers should pay 25 per cent. instead of 62 1/2 per cent. There was an opinion abroad that the teachers were overpaid. The average salary of the national teacher, including junior assistant mistresses, was £4 10s. a week, and excluding junior assistant mistresses, £5 a week. Was that too high a salary to pay to the teachers of this State?

Referring to the suggestion that this country spent too much on education, Mr. Breathnach gave the following figures of the amount per pupil spent in various countries on education:—
 England, £11 5s. 4d.; Norway, £9 10s. 1d.; Switzerland, £9 8s. 4d.; Holland, £17 4s.; United States, £11 16s. The figures for the Saorstát were as follows:—1925, £7 11s. 11d.; 1926, £8 9s. 9d.; 1928, £8 4s. 9d.; 1929, £8 6s. 5d. Thus the cost in other countries was far higher than it was in the Saorstát. Yet people said that they spent too much on education.

The conditions of service in the case of teachers was totally different to that of other public servants. They had incidental expenses in connection with their work. The civil servant, once entering on his position was certain of his employment, but a teacher was not. He might train for one or two or three years and not find employment. The State did not guarantee employment and he might lose his employment through declining averages. That was a state of affairs that did not exist in any other public service. They had several teachers losing their employment through declining averages every month. If a teacher fell ill he had to employ his own substitute. In the other public services officials were congregated so that they could easily find accommodation, but teachers in the country often found poor accommodation, and he himself spent the first years as a teacher in a labourer's cottage. That was a common experience. In the case of the other public services a marriage allowance was available, but in the case of the teachers there was no such allowance. The teachers had also to contribute 4 per cent. of their salaries towards pensions. He would like the House to be aware that the national teachers were responsible for the secular and religious instructions of 97 per cent. of the children of the Saorstát. If they wanted to prevent this country lapsing into pagan darkness they must have schools and teachers. This country was free from Bolshevism more than other countries, and he believed that much of the credit for that must go to the national teachers. Yet, this was the service that was to be worse treated than others.

They heard references to Ireland free and Ireland Gaelic. How could they make Ireland free or Gaelic without the aid of the teachers? He would appeal to the Minister, even at that late stage, to make some gesture to allay the discontent and soothe the ruffled tempers, which had been very much embittered by the very unfair discrimination against the teachers contained in the Bill.

The "Cuts" were carried.

PREMONITIONS.
CAN DOGS PEER INTO THE FUTURE.

A PRESS cutting reached me the other day in which was recorded a statement that a man had been forewarned by his dog of something that actually happened. This is a belief almost as old as dogs themselves—that Providence has blessed them with powers greater than any possessed by human beings. Superstitious people, not always ignorant and uneducated, have occasionally entertained this idea.

Proissart was responsible for a story about Richard II, who had a favourite greyhound called Mithe. "As the kyng and the Erle of Derby talked togyder in the court, the grayhonde who was wonte to leape upon the kyng, left the kyng and came to the Erle of Derby, Duke of Lancaster; and made to him the same friendly continuance and chere as he was wonte to do to the kyng. The duke, who knewe not the grayhonde, demanded of the kyng what the grayhonde wolde do? 'Cousin,' quod the kyng, 'it is a grete goode token to you, and an evil signe to me.' How knowe you that? 'quod the duke. 'I know it well,' quod the kyng. 'The grayhonde acknowledgeth you here this daye as Kyng of England, as ye shal be, and I shal be deposed; the grayhonde hath this knowledge naturally; therefore take hym to you, he wyll followe you and forsake me.'"

And so it came about. The story has its weakness, for if the dog had been the constant companion of the king, as we are told earlier, he must surely have known the Duke of Lancaster. In any case, coincidences are strange sometimes, and I am not convinced that the dog was aware of what would happen in the future. Men have always credited dogs with the power of foretelling death or sensing imminent disaster to those whom they are attached. As for myself, after many years study of them from a physical and psychological aspect I have never yet observed anything to make me accept such a view. It does not seem reasonable that they, with their lower intelligences, should be able to read the future, near or remote any more than we are. Are we, with our better brains and capacity of reasoning and acquiring knowledge, to own that in some respects we are their inferiors?

Perhaps in a few we are. They exhibit fidelity and gratitude in a way that would shame many human beings, and they have a capacity for devotion of a simple and straightforward kind that we might well imitate. They are clever readers of character, too, understanding almost instinctively who is friendly and who is not. These are traits that excite our admiration, and perhaps induce us to cherish the delusion that they have occult powers as well. It is not wise, however, to read too much into actions which may be merely instinctive or imitative; or to draw far-fetched inferences from behaviour that would be simply commonplace if it had not been followed by an occurrence that was unusual.

There is, of course, a great difference between intelligence and an assumption of the role of seer. Psychologists are now studying the mind of dogs in an effort to find if they have powers of reasoning apart from instinct. Even if there should be a consensus of opinion that they are able to reason we should be no nearer to settling the question about their prophetic abilities.

Quite supreme in the dog's esteem!
