DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL

FINANCE MEETING.

LATE TOWN CLERK'S SUPERANUATION.

ARCHITECT'S EXPENSES.

Mr. M. Clancy, presided at the meeting of the above on Friday. The other members present were—Messrs. T. McCarthy, Jas. Hackett, M. Griffin, T. Power, D. Foley, B. Dee, J. Moloney, W. O'Donnell, C. Lawn.

Finances.

The Clerk submitted the Treasurer's advice note amounting to £83 15s. 0d., which included payments on instalments of loan, accounts, wages, etc.

Chairman—The position is that we have no money to-night to pay anything, and the Rate Collector will not be in a position to collect the new rates for another month or so. I would like to know what is the best course to adopt.

Clerk—You have still a sum of £62 4s. 6d. on hands, so that you have enough to pay the wages.

Mr. McCarthy—How much would be required to carry on.

Clerk—About £600 would carry us on until the rates come in.

Mr. McCarthy—If you approach the bank.

Clerk—You will require the Department's sanction.

The Clerk was directed to ask the Department for sanction, also to approach the Treasurers.

Wages.

A sum of £27 17s. 1d., week's wages was passed.

Abbeyside Dump.

Mr. McCarthy—A few weeks ago we made an order to close Cooney's Lough as a dumping ground. Since the order was made I saw two loads dumped right in the passage to the Abbeyside dump, that should not be allowed and we should make an order to prosecute. Mr. Griffin made a suggestion at that time and I am sorry I did not back him up, that was to open a new dump further down the road at Abbeyside.

Clerk—There is a letter from the residents in the vicinity of the dumping ground, protesting vehemently against the decision of the Council to still further aggravate the existing nuisance, by extending its facilities to town residents, and demanding in the interest of the health of the residents, the immediate closing down of the dump.

Chairman—We decided to close Cooney's Lough and open Abbeyside, as a dumping ground. It was suggested by Mr. Griffin that a new dump be opened further down that road, and I thought that suggestion was carried.

Mr. Griffin—There is one matter you will have to attend to soon, if you continue at the present dump and that is the extension of the sewerage pipes.

Mr. Moloney—If the people go further up the passage, they will get further from the houses and will be reclaiming land, by going down further you are only creating a second nuisance.

Mr. McCarthy—But the trouble is they won't go up the passage for you.

Chairman—The whole difficulty is to stop dumping on the surface.

Mr. Griffin—If you close the present entrance and open one 20 yards further down they will then have to go in by the edge of the dump, and will throw it over.

Mr. O'Donnell—If there was a small platform erected at the edge people would not be afraid to back their horses out to the edge. Two planks would do.

Mr. Dee—I suggest we ask the B.S. and S.S.O. to report for the next meeting on the best course to adopt.

This suggestion was approved. An application from Mrs. M. Keating for a water supply to her field at Granite Lodge was adjourned to next meeting.

Water Charges.

Mr. J. H. O'Sullivan, Secretary Co. Council wrote enclosing extract from Co. Council finance meeting, and order made on correspondence re water charges to yard at Cody's Quay and Courthouse.

Order—"That unless the U.D.C. is satisfied to accept £1 per annum for supply of water to Cody's Yard, the Council may cut off the supply. We also consider the sum of £5 per annum charged for water to the Courthouse premises most excessive, and should be reduced to £2 per annum.

Mr. O'Donnell—As regards Cody's Quay, they are not using very much water there now.

Mr. Hackett—There is no machinery there now.

On the suggestion of Mr. O'Donnell, it was decided to reduce the charge on Cody's Quay by 20/- and the charge at the Courthouse by 20/-.

Public Lighting Contract.

The E.S.B. wrote enclosing a quotation for the public lighting of the town for 12 months, viz.,—81 lamps for the sum of £251 10s.

Mr. O'Donnell—What was the charge last year?

Clerk—The same figure.

Mr. O'Donnell—Five or six months ago I mentioned the need of an extra light at Youghal Road. I think it was adjourned until the tender came up. It is not too much to ask that it be put up now.

Mr. McCarthy—Nicholas street also requires an extra light, it is the worst lighted street in the town.

Chairman—The lighting contract is high, and every extra lamp cost £3, if we keep adding on lamps, we won't know what it will come to. I agree with Mr. O'Donnell and Mr. McCarthy that lamps are required where they said.

Mr. O'Donnell—With regard to the position of the lamp at Youghal Road, the angle between the Parish Priest's house and Bluet's, where very many accidents occur, is the best place for it.

Chairman—I suggest we ask the E.S.B. for an estimate.

Mr. O'Donnell—We all know the cost of a lamp.

Chairman—But not the cost of putting it up. The one in Nicholas street must be taken from the main in Mitchell street.

It was decided that the Clerk write for an estimate for the putting up and lighting of 2 further lamps.

On the suggestion of Mr. Dee, the Council also decided to get a pole and lamp shifted at King's street Abbeyside.

The Late Town Clerk, Mr. P. Mulcahy.

The following letter was read from Mr. Farrell, solr.,—"I have been approached by the next of kin of the late Patk. Mulcahy, to bring before the Council again the question of granting them compensation in respect of their father's loss of office of Town Clerk to the Dungarvan Urban District Council. My clients have received a communication to the effect that the Minister for L.G. is now prepared to sanction such a sum by way of compensation, but the question must first be brought before the Council again. If the Council can see their way to grant a sum as compensation the amount should then be brought before the Minister for sanction by him.

There is very little necessity for me to go into the facts of the late Mr. Mulcahy's loss of office, as I feel sure that all the members of the Council are fully conversant with same. In arriving at a figure by way of compensation, I would ask your Council to take into consideration the number of years Mr. Mulcahy lived after losing his office, and to allow him in respect of each such year, an amount equal to the pension to which he would have been entitled if he had resigned from office in the normal way. I feel sure that your Council will deal as generously as it is in their power with my clients, having regard to the fact that the late Mr. Mulcahy suffered a great personal loss by living up to his principle.

Mr. McCarthy—You will remember some few years ago, an application was made here, and the Council fixed a certain sum as superannuation for the late Mr. Mulcahy. The Government that existed at that time said they could not see their way to grant it.

Mr. Power—What amount was fixed the last time?

Mr. McCarthy—I think we granted a sum of £80 a year.

Chairman—The first thing we should consider is the number of years service. I think we should instruct the Clerk to put this matter on the agenda for the next meeting and have all the necessary information before us. This suggestion was adopted.

Architects Travelling Expenses. Mr. Murphy, Architect, under the Council's Housing Scheme, wrote—"I understand that the scale of fees sanctioned by L.G. Department for consulting Architect in connection with the above for preparing plans, specifications, etc., and supervision of works, is at the rate of £5 per house or £430 and in addition there will be the usual travelling expenses. Your Council will undoubtedly understand that there has been considerable expenses involved in preparing the documents in connection with this Scheme, so I trust you will let me have cheque on account of work done to date, and I suggest that half total fees, i.e., £215 would meet the case at the moment."

Mr. McCarthy—That's rather quick.

Mr. Moloney—What does he say about travelling expenses. There was nothing like that in the appointment.

Mr. McCarthy—The Department say nothing about travelling expenses, they say definitely that he is to receive £5 a house.

Mr. O'Donnell—Did not the Department say they would deal with Architect's fees?

Clerk—Yes.

Mr. Moloney—Would it not be well to get the Clerk to write to the Department for information on this point.

The Clerk was directed to write for information.

Glendine Water.

Denis Dee, Caretaker, reported that when cleaning the storage tank at Glendine he found several cracks, the intake tank required to be cleaned of silt.

Mr. Moloney—On the recent report from the Doctors did we not ask the B.S. to do something.

B.S.—Yes. To report fully for the next Quarterly Meeting.

Mr. Griffin—Why was not the hand-rail put up there, it will not cost much the bars are there and you have only to bolt on the rail.

A member—Is it a public right of way?

Clerk—No. The Caretaker requires it.

B.S.—It is necessary.

Breakwater At Abbeyside Strand.

Mr. Griffin—The Council have a big number of empty tar barrels in the yard, and they are only taking up room. Anything else can hardly be put in there. I would make a suggestion, that the barrels be put on Abbeyside strand, fill them up with the stones on the beach (anyone could not walk the beach at present), they will act as a breakwater, and if the Council liked to put a little cement on top, they would act as seats. It would not cost much, a few men would have them filled in two days.

Mr. O'Donnell—They would act as groynes?

Mr. Griffin—Yes.

Chairman—I would prefer to see a bit of a wall there.

Waterford County Committee of Agriculture.

PIG TRIBUNAL.

BULL INSPECTION AND APPEALS.

Mr. Thos. Flynn, V.C., presided. There were also present—Messrs. P. R. Power, W. Stack, P. B. Sheridan.

Blight.

A Circular from the Department re Potato Blight was read, and the Secretary said all the recommendations of the Department in the matter had been carried out.

Fruit Growers Association.

The Department wrote re the formation of a Fruit Growers Association of which all fruit growers should be members.

Mr. O'Shea, H.I.—They are going ahead with the Association all right. So far we have only five members in the Co. Waterford. It is in the interests of every fruit grower to join.

Mr. Sheridan said there should be sufficient fruit growers in this County to form an Association.

Mr. O'Shea—There are about 40.

Mr. Sheridan—Call a meeting and form a Fruit Growers Association.

Mr. O'Shea—This is the All-Ireland Fruit Growers' Association. There are no branch Associations.

Chairman—Even if they would not join an all Ireland Association, they would join a County Association if one were formed and then they could link up afterwards with the other.

The Committee approved that the best way to deal with this question was to recommend the starting of a County Association, and later amalgamate with the Central Association if such were possible.

Cow-Testing.

The Department wrote stating there were in the County 17 Cow-Testing Associations, with 25 members and 2,984 cows under test.

Chairman—Is that an increase or a decrease?

Secretary—It is a decrease, but not very much.

Inspections.

The Department wrote informing the Committee that Mr. Tynan, Offaly, would judge the Cottage and Small Farm Prize Scheme, of the County Waterford, and that they had appointed Mr. C. Cogan, A.I., to Judge in the Co. Wicklow Scheme.

Mr. Power asked were there many entries for their Prize Scheme in the Co. Waterford?

Secretary—There are nearly 100.

Pig Industry.

The Department wrote re the Pig Industry Tribunal, and asking the Committee to notify the names of any persons who would give evidence for the Committee.

Chairman—The economic struggle and the Pig industry will settle that. I don't see the use of giving evidence while the economic position remains as it is.

Mr. Stack—What does it all mean? Chairman—They are holding an inquiry into the pig question and how they are to improve it.

Mr. Stack—Who will we send to give evidence?

Chairman—We will send no one until they settle the economic question. They want to fix the price of bacon and find out the cost of feeding, etc.

Mr. Power—They have fixed the price in England for 12 months.

Chairman—Not until August.

Mr. Cogan said the terms of reference of the Tribunal covered pig production, feeding, marketing and quality of bacon, etc.

Mr. Stack—Go on with the business and leave it alone. It will be all settled in a few weeks time.

Chairman—I hope so.

Mr. Cogan—Mr. Coleman, Ballinacorney, and Mr. Hogan, Waterford, are going to give evidence.

Mr. Power suggested the Chairman as a very suitable man to give evidence on behalf of the Committee.

The Chairman was unanimously appointed to give evidence at the Tribunal.

Hearing Appeals.

In regard to a resolution from the Wexford Co. Committee re length of time between Bull Inspections and the hearing of appeals, it was agreed that the Committee consider that all appeals should be dealt with within six weeks from the inspection, and same was recommended to the Department for their consideration.

GREYHOUND INDUSTRY HIT.

Mr. T. A. Morris, Clonmel, secretary I.C.C., managing director, Clonmel Racing Track, stated in an interview that the greyhound-breeding industry which was worth practically £500,000 and which was bringing considerable revenue into the homes of thousands of farmers and workers, had been gravely imperilled, if not destroyed, by the entertainment tax. One of the most successful new industries that had been established in Ireland had been brought to this pass.

Mr. Lawn—This won't cost much, and is worth a trial.

Acknowledgments.

Letters acknowledging Council's resolutions of sympathy were read from Rev. J. D. Quailly, Rev. A. Quailly, Mrs. Quailly, Thos. Quailly, Mrs. Kelly, P. Broderick, North Circular Road, Dublin, Mrs. Mary Tobin, Coolnasmeary, Jas. Kiely, Shandon.

Sympathy.

Votes of sympathy were passed to the relatives of Mrs. Stokes, Miss Martin; also to Mrs. Ryan, Sexton street, on her recent bereavement.

TALLOW DISTRICT COURT.

KNOCKANORE ASSAULT CASE.

"WE HAVE THE DIRTY RAT NOW"

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.).

Poor Rate.

Mr. J. Condon, Collector, had a number of farmers summoned for arrears of Poor Rate.

In the majority of cases, small amounts had been paid on account, and decrees were granted for the balances.

Hard Case.

The Cork Co. Board of Public Health summoned Denis O'Keeffe, Kilkronat, for possession of a labourer's cottage.

Evidence was given to the effect that the weekly rent was 8d., the arrears due £5 6s. 10d., and that no payment had been made for a considerable time.

Defendant said it was very hard for him to pay. He had a wife and seven children, and it gave him too much to do to feed and clothe them.

The Justice—8d. a week is a very low rent.

The Collector said the man couldn't keep the cottage without paying for it. He would hold over the decree to give defendant an opportunity of approaching the Board.

The Justice said he would give a decree for possession with a stay to enable the man make a bargain with the Board of Health.

Unlighted Vehicles & Unlicensed Dogs.

The Court disposed of a number of unlighted vehicles and unlicensed dogs cases, in which the usual fines were imposed.

Family Squabbles.

Superintendent Quinlan, Lismore, charged Patrick Landers, Knockanore, and his wife Mary Ellen, with assaulting Michael Landers, brother of the first named defendant.

Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, defended.

There was also a charge of assault by Mary Ellen against Michael Landers, in which Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, appeared for the defendant.

Michael Landers, in reply to the Superintendent, said that on the evening of the 26th. April, his sister-in-law attacked him with a fire shovel, knocking him senseless. When able to rise, he tried to get away, but his brother appeared on the scene, and they both beat him up against the door.

His mother heard him shouting and she came along. He reported the matter to the Sergeant at Killeenagh, who saw his condition.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett—He had never called his sister-in-law or her child bad names. His brother wasn't at the first rumup. He didn't strike his sister-in-law. Her husband was waiting outside the door.

That case in another phase was before the Court some months ago. It was ridiculous to say that he had assaulted her the day after the Court, or that her husband had to come to her protection.

You are very anxious to get your brother out of the house?—All I want is peace, there is no possible chance of living with them in the house.

His mother didn't write to America asking his brother to come home. She didn't write for the past 10 years—her sight was bad.

But could she not get someone to write for her?

The Justice—That is very hypothetical. What brought your brother and his wife home from America?—They came on a summer holiday. Your brother sunk £120 in the place?—I deny that—he sent £54 home, but my mother lost £30 sending him out. Are you willing to pay him back what he put into the place?—Not at all. Has he not as much claim as you to the place?—Yes. There was some talk of a will in his favour if he came home and paid some money down.

Mrs. Norah Landers, mother of previous witness, stated that her daughter-in-law struck Michael with the fire shovel on the face for a quarter of an hour. Patrick then came on the scene and struck his brother. The wife using the fire shovel on him all the time. They put him against the wall saying "we have the dirty rat now, and we'll kill him."

Cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett—Witness said Michael didn't strike his brother. She never heard Michael call the woman names. She didn't write the letter referred to.

The Justice—What did you write?—I said he could come if he paid Michl. £40 and agreed to keep and bury me.

Mr. Hodnett said the letters then must be forgeries. The defendant must have invented them.

The Justice—How does all this justify the assault. This case comes back to me like a recurring decimal (laughter). At the source it is a case for the Equity Court.

Mr. Hodnett—My defence on the merits in this case is that Michael started the assault.

Sergt. Corby, Killeenagh, stated that Michael Landers came to the barrack on the evening of 26th. April. He had marks on his face as if he had got a bit of mauling.

The Justice—Superintendent, why did you prefer this summons?

The Superintendent—The man declined to prosecute. My application is to have the defendant bound to the peace, as they are a source of great annoyance and a danger to the public peace.

Mr. Hodnett said he thought it would have been better if the Guards had let that case alone, and not made it a State prosecution. He believed he could prove that the aggrieved parties were his clients.

The Justice said he remembered all about that case, and he didn't see the good to be gained by going into that family history again. Mr. Hodnett's clients having sent money from America came home expecting to get the place, but the trouble was there had been no legal agreement, and the old woman and her son, who held the preponderating shares, were still in the place. It was only a farce to deal with the assault charge in the circumstances. As he could not deal with the cause of the assault he was powerless to settle the matter.

Mr. Hodnett said the old woman had invited his client home having promised to make a will in his favour.

The Justice—If he paid £40 and gave her her support.

Mr. Hodnett—The letters speak for themselves they can't be forgeries.

The Justice—How much further does that get you?

Mr. O'Gorman said they were quite willing that Patrick could work the forge, provided he left the house.

The Justice said he wished he had jurisdiction to deal with the whole thing, but he had to confine himself to the question of the assault and that wouldn't settle anything.

After further arguments said that on the evening of April, 26th, Michael started the row by throwing her child's shoes around the kitchen. She remonstrated with him, and he slapped her face. She defended herself as best she could, but she never saw the fire shovel.

The Justice—A house divided against itself can't stand—how does this stand I don't know.

Witness said her husband came along and took Michl. away from her. On the night after the previous case he threw a chair at her. He was continually calling her and her child filthy names.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Gorman—Witness said she was perfectly satisfied to leave the place—she hated it. She tried to tell the Guards that Michl. had assaulted her, but the "old one" was interfering all the time. Her husband only pushed him away from her.

Patk. Landers, said that on the evening in question, his brother started the row and was beating witness's wife, when he went to her help. He showed Michael against the door and wall. His wife had nothing in her hand. The old woman was urging Michael on.

The Justice—Where is the good of washing all this dirty linen in Court, for the amusement of the public?

Witness, continuing, said he had a job worth £9 a week in America—he was a skilled blacksmith—and he gave it up to come home. Now there was no job to be got.

The Justice said there was ample invitation to him to come home—for what it was worth. Are those people to go on living together—a hopeless arrangement?

Mr. Hodnett—It is very hard on this man to get out in the circumstances.

Mr. O'Gorman—We are willing to allow him make a living in the forge, if he gets out of the house. The wife is a nuisance, and the cause of the whole trouble.

The Superintendent said that case showed an extraordinary state of affairs, and if something were not done it would finish up badly. Mr. Hodnett had said that the Civic Guards should not have intervened. Well, in the interests of all concerned, it was absolutely necessary that somebody should intervene. For that reason he would ask to have the whole lot bound to the peace. Not a day passed that there wasn't a complaint to the Guards.

The Justice—The less the value of a place the more trouble there is about it.

After a further protracted hearing, the Justice said he would bind all the parties to the peace in the sum of £5, except the old woman, and he would bind her if it became necessary. In addition Patk. Landers and his wife would be fined 5/- each for the assault.

Hurling On Street. Guard S. O'Leary, Tallow, charged three young men—D. Doyle, T. Sheehan and T. McCarthy, with hurling on the public street.

Complainant said that the Guards had received many complaints regarding that dangerous practice.

The Justice—It is a practice that will be stopped. Complainant said that Sheehan gave him nothing but insolence. Sheehan was fined 10/- and the others 1/- each.

Deficient Milk. Guard Caulfield, charged Wm. McAuley, with selling milk 8 per cent. deficient in milk fat.

Mr. Hodnett, solr., for the defence, said that the milk was sold at it came from the cow.

Evidence was given to that effect. Replying to the Court, defendant said he couldn't account for the deficiency. He fed the cows on fine meal and bran in the morning and mangolds and hay at night.

The case was dismissed, an application for expenses being refused.

Larcenies. John Riordan, Glentane, Ballynoe, was charged with the larceny of a ladder, value 12/- the property of John O'Keeffe, farmer.

Superintendent Brady, Fermoy, prosecuted. Defendant said he only took the loan of it.

The Justice—He stole the loan of it. The Supt. said there was a similar charge in respect of a feeding trough, value 7/

KILMATHOMAS NEWS.

PORTLAIRGE ABU!

On behalf of the Gaels of these parts, we warmly congratulate the Senior caman representation of the Decies who trounced Tipperary in praiseworthy style at Davin Park, on Sunday last. Thirteen of the live-wires of the victorious team belong to the Erin's Own (City) H.C. The assisting pair were from Dungarvan and Tallow—Tom Greany, and Noel Condon, respectively. During the fray captain Charlie Ware (Capt.) and his colleagues proved time and again that in strategy, and ability to take in the situation at a glance the Portlairge product is in no way behind the best that comes from the other counties. Bravo Erin's Own! and three-times-three to the topping twain West Waterford, were able to ably aid you with. Here are the full figures of this memorable mix, which was refereed right rulefully and well by "Tull" Considine, of Clare—Waterford—5 goals 4 points, 5 overs, 9 frees, 2 "70's", Tipperary—5 goals 1 point, 7 overs, 3 frees, 4 "70's".

It is to be hoped that our Senior footballers will conquer Cork in the Fraher Field on to-morrow (Sunday). This replay should attract a monster gathering to the far-amed enclosure, and should pan out a thrilling tussle from commencement to close. Be there with the rest!

A SAD OCCURRENCE.

Patrick Power (44), farm labourer, employed by John Baldwin, Kilmacranage, Kilmacranage, received fatal injuries when the heavy old felt roof of a shed where he was working on Thursday of last week collapsed and pinned him to the floor. He was unconscious when extricated, and died shortly afterwards. He leaves a wife and four young children to mourn his loss. That death was due to fracture of the base of the skull, caused by his having been struck by portion of a roof which collapsed when a standard supporting it suddenly gave way—the verdict at an inquest held by Dr. M. F. Moloney, Coroner, Dungarvan, on Friday. Of a quiet and retiring disposition, deceased was a general favourite, and a great wave of public sympathy goes out to his grief-stricken widow and family. The remains were removed to Fews R.C. Church, on Friday evening. The funeral was largely attended, testifying to the popularity and esteem in which the departed one was held in by a huge circle of friends. Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. J. Hartly, C.C., Fews, on Saturday morning, and the burial subsequently took place in the adjoining cemetery, in the presence of innumerable relatives, friends and sympathisers. Fr. Hartly, officiated at the graveside.—R.I.P.

SYMPATHY.

The many friends and well-wishers of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald, Post Office, Bonmahon, will sincerely sympathise with them in their bereavement occasioned by the death of their child, which sad event happened in a Cork hospital last week.

CONDOLENCE.

Waterford County Executive, G.A.A. voted condolence to Mr. Frank Drohan, P.C. (hon. treasurer to the Executive), Newtown, Kilmacranage, on the death of his father.

THE JUNE DISTRICT COURT.

When Mrs. Mary Anne Kirwan and Miss Nellie Kirwan (mother and daughter), of Ashdown, Kilmacranage, appeared before Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J., at the usual monthly District Court here, charged with the concealment of birth of an infant, born to Nellie Kirwan in or about June 8th last, Inspector Mahony, prosecuting, informed his Worship that the Garda had not completed their inquiries, and he prayed for a remand to the next District Court.

Dr. Counihan, acting for the defendants, applied for their release on bail. His Worship adjourned the hearing of the charge for one month, and allowed the accused to be released from custody on bail of one surety of £20, which was forthcoming.

Fines ranging from 1/- to 2/6 and Court costs were imposed in a heavy list of Garda prosecutions of the usual ilk. The complainants were Guards Boyle and Rice (Kilmacranage), and Guards Fulham, Carroll and Murphy, (Kill).

Decrees for full amounts claimed together with costs in each application, were given in a big number of undecided civil bills dealt with. Dr. Counihan and Mr. T. C. Williams, were the professional gentlemen engaged.

GENERAL BEER DEALERS' LICENCES

granted to Mrs. Kate O'Donoghue, Kilmacranage, and Messrs. Edward Hill, and John Kent, do.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT, BUT—

A dear old lady, one of the good old-fashioned type—she is well on towards the century—was the proudest woman in Comeragh Valley one day this week. Her sons and daughters—some of them from across-Channel—joined in a happy home-coming in honour of the grand old dame on her birthday. Motherlike, she looks on her family still as children. She had never allowed her boys to smoke—always had frowned on the habit—and not one of them produced a cigarette or pipe at the birthday reunion, out of consideration for the good old soul; whereas, to our way of thinking, lay the essence of thoughtfulness and courtesy, and nothing of a deceptiveness to be condemned. It was the dear old lady's day.

BY THE WAY.

Once again we have rounded the land-mark of "the longest day." It always appears to us to be a matter for regret that we reach it so soon. Every other day the sun will be a little slower in rising and will go to bed a little earlier. Some folk will soon begin to remark that days are getting shorter and others that the nights are getting longer. Nothing impresses visitors from the antipodes more than the prolonged twilight of these latitudes, especially those who have never experienced it before. In their own regions there is no gradual declension of daylight, but rather a sudden extinction when the sun dips below the horizon. We like the gloaming in these parts, and our gorseons and colleens like roaming in the gloaming, a season that seems to breathe and whisper romance and sentiment.

A PLEASING FACT.

It is refreshing to record that the Irish name for Kilmacranage has been printed on the notice board at the local Railway Station, in accordance with the present policy of the Great Southern Railways Company. The pleasing fact that ours is the first Railway station on the Waterford-Dungarvan section to receive the Gaelic nomenclature is a tribute to the robust national spirit prevailing in our area.

THE JUNE FAIR.

Kilmacranage June fair, held on Tuesday, was well supplied in all sections, but trade was unusually dull. Prices in all departments were on a par with those which obtained at the Dungarvan monthly fair of the 21st, ult., and which were published in last week's issue of this paper. Farmers are a very sorry plight at the present time, and the sooner the tide turns in their favour again the better it will be for every other class of the community.

CO. WATERFORD BRED DOG WINS DERBY.

At the White City Track, London, on Saturday night, a crowd estimated at 75,000 witnessed Mr. Evershed's Future Cutlet win a thrilling race in the final of the Greyhound Derby. He beat Beef Cutlet by a short head, with Wild Woolley, last year's winner, two lengths away, third. Future Cutlet thus signally reversed the placings with Wild Woolley in 1932, when Mr. Evershed's dog was unluckily beaten a neck.

It was a triumph for Irish-bred dogs, as the winner and runner-up are by Mr. T. A. Morris's famous sire, Mutton Cutlet. Future Cutlet was bred by Mr. T. Fitzgerald, Shanbally, Kilmacranage, and it out of Wary Guide. He was sold at a long figure to Mr. Evershed two years ago and since then has been a consistent performer.

The placings were—
1.—Mr. W. Evershed's Future Cutlet.
2.—Miss Merrett's Beef Cutlet.
3.—Mr. S. Johnson's Wild Woolley.

Also ran—Roving Loafer (4th.), Lutwyche (5th.), Deemsters Mike (6th.), Beting—6/4 against Wild Woolley, 2/4 Beef Cutlet, 6/1 Future Cutlet, 7/1 Lutwyche, 100/6 Roving Loafer, 33/1 Deemsters Mike.

Future Cutlet found his stride immediately after the start, and led Deemsters Mike by half a length for the first 25 yards, the next being Wild Woolley and Beef Cutlet. They went around the first bend without a single bump, and along the back stretch Future Cutlet increased his lead to two lengths. Beef Cutlet then put on a spurt, with Wild Woolley also improving his position. Making the last turn to the home straight, Beef Cutlet put in a terrific burst and endeavoured to get up, but failed by a short head; two lengths divided second and third. Official time—29.80.

"Why, my dear man already my poetry is being read by twice as many people as before." "I didn't know you had married."

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL HOUSING SCHEME.

Mr. M. Clancy, presided at a special meeting of the above on Wednesday week in connection with the new Housing Scheme. The other members in attendance were—Messrs. W. O'Donnell, B. Dec, Jas. Backett, T. Power, J. Moloney, and T. McCarthy.

Mode Of Construction.

The Department wrote approving of the suggestion of the Council to build 56 four-roomed houses in mass concrete, and 30 three-roomed houses in concrete blocks. The Department also wrote referring to their circular letter of December last, relative to the employment of labour on the Housing Scheme.

Mr. Williams, solr., wrote enclosing draft bond prepared for the Contractor also stating that he had obtained permission from Mr. Ryan, solr., for Mr. O'Reilly to start the preliminary work even though the balance of the purchase money has not yet been paid.

The Council approved of the letter of the Department, and signed and sealed Mr. O'Reilly's tender, and approved of the draft bond submitted. A resolution was proposed by Mr. Moloney, seconded by Mr. O'Donnell, and passed, asking the L.G. Minister to reconsider his decision in connection with the scale of fees to be paid to the B.S., for his work in conjunction with Mr. Murphy, architect, in the preparation of plans, etc., as it is the opinion of the Council that the onus for the success of the scheme depends solely on the constant supervision of the work for which we assert 30/- per week is entirely inadequate.

EASY PAYMENT COWS NOW.

DELIVERED AT YOUR DOOR FOR £4.

You can now buy cows on the easy-payment system in England. For a deposit of £4 you can have a British Friesian or an Ayrshire delivered to your door.

A north country firm of breeders has introduced this scheme—which has been operating successfully in America for some time.

A director of the firm said to the "Sunday Express": "The purchase of stock by deferred payments is one practical way of assisting the farmer, now that ready money is so short. A farmer can purchase a cow for £22. On receipt of £4 deposit we will send the animal on seven days' trial. If he keeps it he sends us £1 12s. 6d. at the end of the month—roughly 18s. a week for a cow."

COUNTY COUNCIL OF WATERFORD.

DRAINAGE DISTRICT OF BRICKLEY.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the County Council of the above-named County in exercise of the powers conferred upon them by the Drainage Maintenance Acts 1886 and 1924 and of every other power therein enabling them, are about to make a Drainage Maintenance Rate on the Lands chargeable therewith in the above-named Drainage District.

The total amount of such Drainage Maintenance Rate to be levied in respect of year ending 31st. March, 1934, is £36 8s. 2d. and same will be assessed on the proprietors or the reputed proprietors in the proportions in which the lands drained and improved are to be annually charged towards the cost and expenses of maintaining the works executed as set forth in the Charging Order of the Commissioners of Public Works in Ireland dated the 22nd. day of December, 1926.

AND NOTICE IS HEREBY ALSO GIVEN that in addition to the above-mentioned Drainage Maintenance Rate a sum of £112 16s. 3d. will be levied and collected in the proportions aforesaid, being the amount of two half-yearly instalments of Principal and Interest which will become due to the said Commissioners within the said year, and ordered to be paid to the said Council by the Proprietors or reputed Proprietors of the lands chargeable therewith as set forth in the said Charging Order.

The Charging Order is deposited in the Office of the Secretary of the County Council, Dungarvan, County Waterford, and may be inspected by any person affected thereby between the hours of 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. during the 14 days next ensuing the date hereof exclusive of Sundays and Bank Holidays.

"And mind this—no woman ever made a fool of me!" "Who did then, dear?"

for a cow.
"If a cow falls sick or the farmer is dissatisfied with its milk production, we restock it and send him another. If it dies or has to be destroyed, all he does is to send us a veterinary surgeon's certificate, and payments cease from that date."
"We are selling about 100 cows a week in this way."

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

REVIVAL OF ROWING.

We are now glad to be able to record that a wonderful revival has taken place within the past couple of weeks in Rowing, as a large number of the former oarsmen, who had brought credit on the Club in the past, have now made a spirited start at this grand old pastime, and it was a most pleasing sight to see an eight-oared crew and two four-oared crews out on the Blackwater indulging in genuine practice.

Although it is too late in the season to be able to prepare crews for Regattas, it is still comforting to know that the newly-awakened rowing enthusiasm will be certain to enable the Club to get several crews prepared early in the season next year, so that Cappoquin will once again be able to take its rightful place amongst the leading Rowing Clubs in the South of Ireland.

Too much praise cannot be given to Mr. T. F. Olden, Hon. Sec., owing to his great efforts to keep the Rowing Club alive in the face of discouraging circumstances during the past year, and the present revival of the sport is but a fitting reward for his plucky and strenuous efforts to save aquatic sport from complete extinction here. With a view to further stimulating an interest in rowing, Mr. Olden and the Committee have now decided to hold a series of interesting "Scratch Races" on the August Bank Holiday, and as valuable prizes will be given to the winning crews, we hope the members will settle down to serious and intensified practice during the intervening weeks, so that when those races are held they will be able to show the public that Cappoquin has not yet lost any of that great prowess in aquatic sport which was the pride and glory of this sporting old town in former years.

Meeting in Lismore

ADDRESS BY MRS. REDMOND, T.D.

Mrs. Redmond, T.D., addressed a public meeting in Lismore, on Sunday evening. Mr. Thomas Crotty, C.T.C., presided.

Mrs. Redmond said it was time the people got down to plain facts and realised the present sad plight of the country instead of allowing themselves to be covered any longer with smoke-clouds, such as they were at the last General Election. They should realise that the policy of the present Government, had brought nothing but misery and desolation on the farmers, and the agricultural industry of the country by closing the English markets against them with the result that their fairs and home markets were ruined and they were unable to obtain anything but starvation prices for their cattle and produce.

They were promised peace and prosperity at the last election, but instead of peace they had now the spectacle of bodies of armed men publicly drilling in the open, while they all knew where their prosperity had gone. She asked were the people any better off now than they were before the last election when Fianna Fail told them that they had a certain cure for unemployment and all the other ills from which the country suffered, but they knew now that owing to the impoverished condition to which the farmers had been reduced they were not able to employ labourers to the same extent as in the past with the result that the plight of the labourers was worse than ever,
and when the farmers and labourers were down the Shopkeepers and every other class in the country suffered also.

The withholding of the Land Annuities and the Economic war were the worst sample of statesmanship ever known, because if the Government instead of persisting in this policy, only went to England and told them that the farmers of Ireland were not able to pay their annuities an honourable settlement could be easily reached,
and the farmers need not be paying the amount of the annuities twice over as they were doing through the reduced prices they were getting for their stock.

They had heard a lot of talk about alternative markets having been found by the Government to compensate them for the loss of the English market, but when the Minister for Agriculture was challenged on the point recently in the Dail, he was not able to give the name of one such market anywhere, which showed how the people were being bluffed and fooled.

They heard a lot about establishing a Republic for the 32 Counties, but every act of the Government was only estranging the people of the North and widening the gap between North and South, and making the realisation of this ideal absolutely impossible.

For her part she would never stand for a 26 Counties Republic, because we had many people in the North as good Nationalists as in the South, and they should never be ignored by us.

Having touched on various other aspects of the present situation, she said she did not know when the next General Election would be held, but whenever the time came, she appealed to the people to send back to power a Party who would restore their markets and fairs and bring back law and order, peace and prosperity to their country, (applause).

Mr. Quinlan, solr., also spoke.

Landlady: "Your bottle of whiskey is finished, sir. Shall I get another?"
Lodger: "Well, it's about your turn isn't it?"

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

A BROKEN WINDOW.

(Before Mr. J. S. Troy, D.J.)

Miss M. Gough, Main street, Dungarvan, sued Mrs. Meany, Killinenc, for £10 damages for the breaking of the plate glass window in her shop by defendant's donkey backing a cart through it. Mr. Williams, solr., for plaintiff.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., for the defendant, said the defence was a plea of not guilty.

Miss Gough said she had a shop at Main street in which there was a plate glass window. It cost £6 to put in 14 years ago. On May 4th, witness was out, it being a half-holiday. She got a message and came back and found the window broken. It was since boarded up and is very inconvenient to her. She got an estimate to replace it (produced) for £11 15s. She did not see defendant's cart breaking the window, as she was not there. Witness went to defendant's house sometime after, but defendant was not in. The defendant came to her later and offered to pay in small instalments, and afterwards said she would pay half the cost.

To Mr. Ryan—The window was in the house when witness went into it.
There was a wide board across it, as a guard. There was no storm on that day as far as she remembered. She was thinking of going to the Clonmel Races, but came back home when she got word about the window. A few days after witness went to defendant's house, but did not see her. The defendant came in a few days after and told witness to put in the window and she would try to pay, but witness told her she could not afford to do that.
The window was insured up to a few years ago, then the premium went up too high. Defendant delivered eggs to witness, so she knew her well. Her donkey seemed to be very fit when brought back by the Guard. She did not admit breaking the window when the Guard brought her back.

Mr. Thos. Walsh, S.S.O., said that on that day he was standing in Coffey and Boreford's shop from a shower.
He heard a noise like breaking glass and went out and saw the back of the cart through the window. He knocked at Miss Gough's door and getting no answer went across to Mr. Williams' office and asked Mr. Tobin to phone to the barracks. When he came out he saw the defendant getting on the cart and driving away. Some men at Keohan's corner shouted after her to come back. The evening was squally and showery. The back of the cart went in under the wooden guard.

By Mr. Ryan—I know Mrs. Meany, she was not there at first, but when I came from Mr. Williams' office, she was sitting on the cart. He was positive that there was no other donkey and cart on the street at this time. No slates were being blown down that day. He did not speak to Mrs. Meany, but saw her on the cart driving away.
Witness was not there when the donkey was brought back by the Guard.
The donkey and cart he saw broke the window.

Mr. Tobin of Mr. Williams' office, said he saw the defendant coming down Main street, and stopping the donkey opposite Miss Gough's. She then went into Mr. McGarry's. Witness then went back to his desk and later heard a crash. He looked out and saw the cart just coming out from the window.

By Mr. Ryan—He did not actually see the thing happen. He saw the donkey arrive. She drove down Main street.

Mr. Ryan—My client will tell the Court differently. She says she came down the Quay and up the lane opposite Mr. Miller's and stopped her donkey at McGarry's.

Mrs. Meany, defendant, stated on that day she came down the Quay and drove up the lane opposite Miller's.
She stopped opposite McGarry's leaving the donkey in charge of the little girl. Mrs. McGarry did not want any eggs, so witness sat up again. No one challenged her and she drove up to O'Connell street, and later brought the donkey to the Weigh house and tied him there. Sometime after the Guard came and witness went back with him.

Justice—Was the niece with you all this time.

Witness—No, she was gone for sweets or something. When witness went back with the Guard, Miss Gough said that she had broken the window and that Mrs. McGarry told her so. Witness asked Miss Gough to come into Mrs. McGarry to make her prove it, but Miss Gough refused.
Some time after Miss Gough called her in and told her she should put in the window. There was no question of her offering to pay for the window.
Her donkey could not have done the damage as the little girl was at his head.

By Mr. Williams—She heard no crash while in at McGarry's. There were a few donkeys up and down the street. She saw two donkeys opposite Mr. Williams' door. The little girl is with her always. It was a very wet day and while she was in at McGarry's
the little girl came out to shake herself as she was drowned wet. Witness only went to McGarry's door and did not go inside. She could see the donkey all the time. She thought the Guard was joking at first, but she got frightened after. Witness asked Miss Gough to go into Mrs. McGarry's, but she refused. She never offered to pay for half the window, and she never went into Miss Gough until Miss Gough called her in. She never offered to pay a penny for the window.

Mr. Walsh, recalled by the Justice, said there was no one but Mrs. Meany in the cart.

A niece of defendant deposed she remembered coming to Dungarvan on May, 4th, with her aunt. It was a wet blustery day. They left home 10 o'clock, they got very wet. Her aunt had a shawl on that day over her hat, they came over the bridge and down the Quay. When they got to McGarry's, they both got out and her aunt went into McGarry's and witness held the donkey. The donkey did not stir, and when her aunt came out, they both sat in again and drove to Good's, O'Connell street. There were other donkey carts on the street below McGarry's. The first she heard about the window was when outside Good's and a girl was passing up and pointed at the donkey and said that's the donkey that broke the window.
They then tied the donkey at the Weigh house and witness went over to Casey's for sweets. When she came back she could not find her aunt, and she next saw her coming down Main street.

To Mr. Williams—Witness is not living with her aunt but stays there often.
They left home at about 10 o'clock that day. Two and a half hours was a reasonable time to do five miles. There were five or four other donkey carts
in the street that day.

To the Justice—It was about half an hour after leaving McGarry's that the girl passed by Good's and said: "That's the donkey that broke the window."

To Mr. Williams—She had no business in town that day and although it was very wet she came in with her aunt. She could not say what colour
Miss Gough's house it.

Mr. Walsh, who lives next door to Miss Gough, said he heard the crash and went out, and found the donkey turned out across the street, and as he was about to back in again witness with the assistance of Mr. Miller's assistant turned the donkey so that it would not do so. That was the only donkey in the street at the time. He recognised the donkey as on the Wednesday previous, the donkey was inclined to back into his window. The defendant was the woman that had the cart that day. She came out from McGarry's and went into the cart.

To the Justice—If the girl was there,
I must be blind.

W. Claxton, corroborated the last witness. Mr. Walsh and himself lifted the cart on to the axle and turned the donkey. He went back to the shop and did not see the defendant.

Guard Rafferty, deposed to getting the donkey tied at the Weigh house.
Mrs. Meany denied breaking the window when he told her. He advised her to go down. When she went down to Miss Gough's she also denied it.

To the Justice—She made no mention either in the Square or at Miss Gough's of the little girl being in charge of the donkey.

Justice—I very much doubt if the girl was there at all that day. If she was, then when the Guard accused her, the first thing she would have said was that her niece had the donkey by the head. Mr. Walsh, an independent witness, said he saw Mrs.
Meany (whom he knew before) sit up on the cart and drive away. Mr. Tobin and Mr. T. Walsh, two other independent witnesses have given similar evidence. I think there could not be any doubt about it, and I will give a decree for £10.

Beer Dealers' Licenses.
Mr. Williams, solr., on behalf of Messrs. R. A. Merry and Co., and Mrs.
Mary Power, Square, was granted wholesale Beer Dealers' licenses.

No Lights.
Guard Moloney, Ring, had about 20 prosecutions under the Lights' on vehicles Act, against residents of the Ringville and Old Parish areas.

Fines ranging from 1/- to 2/6 were imposed.

Milk Prosecutions.
Guard O'Leary, Food and Drugs Inspector, charged Mr. Lynch, Bally-duff, with selling milk deficient in fats.

Mr. Ryan, solr., defended.
Mr. Lynch, deposed he was delivering milk in the town for 9 years and to the creamery 30 years. There were three or four samples taken every year and his milk was always up to the standard. He milks 30 to 40 cows by machinery, and he supervises the milking himself. He could not account for the deficiency this day except that the month was very wet and the rush of grass.

Answering the Justice, Mr. Lynch said he had some milk sold before the samples were taken by the Guard. He had stirred the milk round (bringing all the fats to the top, instead of up and down).

The Justice said it was pure negligence in not stirring the milk properly.
He was satisfied that there was no fraud intended, and that it happened
as a result of carelessness in stirring the milk. He would dismiss the case under the P.O. Act, defendant to pay £1 5s. 6d. expenses.

Guard O'Leary also prosecuted Thos.
O'Mahony, Shandon, with selling milk
28 per cent. deficient in fat.

Mr. Ryan, solr., for defendant explained that his client was only selling milk about two years, and had now given it up owing to the free milk scheme. He had just bought the milk from a farmer when the sample was taken. Several samples were previously taken without complaint.
This case was also dismissed under the P.O. Act.

Breaking Footpath Surface.

The Waterford Co. Council, prosecuted Thomas Egan, Mitchel street, with breaking the surface of the footpath at Mitchel street, without the required permission.

Mr. Power, solr., (Messrs. Doherty and McCoy), for the County Council.

The defence was that a drain was stopped and defendant was inside in the yard. He sent his son and another boy to run in the rods and they broke a small portion of the surface. He handed in a Doctor's certificate dealing with the condition of the place.

The case was adjourned to next Court, the defendant to pay 10/- towards costs, and 5/- compensation in the meantime.

DEATH.

MORRIS—On the 25th. of June, 1933, at Main Street, Dungarvan, Mary Morris, at an advanced age.—R.I.P.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

GOLFING NEWS.

At Clonmel Open Meeting, on 18th. June, Miss Harrie Power, Dungarvan, won the Ladies Cup. This is the second Cup that has come recently from Clonmel to Dungarvan. Well done Miss Harrie.

A closely contested mixed foursome has just concluded at the Clonca Links. The winners were Miss Lawlor and Mr. J. B. Cooke, with Mrs. Fleming, and Mr. W. Barr, as the runners-up. During the week the Cup presented by the President (Mr. E. A. Ryan), was up for competition. There was a large entry. The following members qualified—Messrs. Mike Fitzgerald, C. J. Murphy, W. S. Miller, D. Dempsey, W. Barr, E. Fitzgerald, J. B. Cooke, and Supt. O'Shea. After an exceedingly keen competition Mr. D. Dempsey, was victor with Mr. Barr as runner-up.

CLASHMORE F.F. CUMANN.

At a meeting of the Clashmore F.F. Club, a resolution was unanimously passed heartily congratulating Mr. Paddy Healy, on his success at the recent Co. Agricultural Scholarship examination.

SHOW DANCE.

Look out for the Great Dance to be held at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Show Night—July 13th. Special Orchestral Music. Popular Prices.

CORK V. WATERFORD.

To-morrow (Sunday) at Dungarvan, Cork and Waterford meet in their Football replay and the game should be one that will give a splendid exhibition and be worth seeing. Both Counties are putting their best men on the field. In view of the display put up by the home team a few weeks ago, when a draw was the verdict, they should be hot favourites in Sunday's encounter. The Brickey Rangers and Ardmore also meet in the Junior Football Championship.

Mr. Fraher, as usual has the Gaelic Field at his best.

DEATH OF MISS MORRIS.

MAIN STREET, DUNGARVAN. An old and respected inhabitant passed away last week end in the person of Miss Morris, Main street, Dungarvan. She had reached an advanced age and was ever held in the highest esteem by all who knew her. She was interred in the Parish Cemetery.—R.I.P.

POPULAR CITIZEN INJURED.

While cycling on Sunday last, Mr. Michl. Glancy, U.D.C., Mitchell street, Dungarvan, received rather serious injuries through falling off his machine. As a consequence of which he had to be medically treated. Mr. Glancy is one of our most popular citizens, and as a representative of the people on the Municipal Council, he has proved himself a man of sterling worth and business capacity.

CINEMA DANCE.

Next Sunday night (July 2nd.) will be the occasion of another of these Cinderella Dances in the local Cinema, which have, since their inauguration, become steadily more popular, and always proved highly successful.

With the best of floors, best music (the Pierrot Band specially augmented by Mr. M. Burke, accordionist), and popular admission charges, a splendid night's enjoyment is assured to all.

DUNGARVAN SHOW, JULY 13th.

Everything points to the coming Show being a complete success. Large entries in all Departments have been received and the quality of the exhibits will be found to be equal to the best of any previous year. In Horses, cattle, sheep, pigs and Home Industries, the lists are well filled, and the event should be one to prove once again that as a Provincial Show we are in the front rank. The Sheep Dog trial demonstrations by Mr. R. Latta, Ferns, will be a wonderful attraction and should on no account be missed. The two great jumping competitions are drawing entries from all over the Province. The Committee have the arrangements as perfect as they could be. A Band Promenade will be a feature of special interest to all music-lovers.

SHOW COMMITTEE.

A special meeting of the Show Committee will be held at the Commercial Hotel, on Tuesday evening, July 4th., at 3.30 p.m. sharp. All members are requested to attend. The business is important.

BOY INJURED.

On Wednesday evening a young boy named Ed. McGovern, Abbeyside, was knocked down by a motor cyclist from Lismore area on the Square, Dungarvan. Fortunately he only received minor injuries. He was attended by Dr. Casey.

PRICE OF PIGS.

At the Cappoquin Bacon Factory this week the price of pigs was 56/- per cwt., dead weight. A striking tribute was paid this week to the superior quality of the Cappoquin bacon by Mr. McCarthy, one of the leading Provision Merchants in Cork, who stated that this bacon was now commanding a better price in Cork than the produce of any other firm on sale there.

Most Rev. Fr. KINANE.

CONSECRATION CEREMONY.

IMPRESSIVE RITUAL.

On Thursday, Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, was Solemnly Consecrated Bishop of Waterford and Lismore in the Cathedral, Waterford, by Most Rev. Dr. Hartly, Archbishop of Cashel. The Assistant Bishops were Most Rev. Dr. Cahalan, Bishop of Cork and Most Rev. Dr. Fogarty, Bishop of Killaloe. Other members of the Hierarchy present were—Most Rev. Dr. O'Brien, Bishop of Kerry; Most Rev. Dr. Codd, Bishop of Ferns; Most Rev. Dr. Roche Co-adjutor Bishop of Cloyne; Most Rev. Dr. Mageean, Bishop of Down and Connor; Most Rev. Dr. Keane, Bishop of Limerick; Most Rev. Dr. Collier, Bishop of Ossory; Most Rev. Dr. Shanahan, C.S. Sp., Dublin; Rt. Rev. Dom. Ceisun O'Connell, Lord Abbot of Mount Mellary.

There were hundreds of clergy present from the Diocese of Waterford and the adjoining Dioceses, as well as many from foreign parts.

A brilliant sermon was preached by Rev. M. Kirwan, S.J., who took for his text: "And the Spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him." He shall not judge according to the sight of the eyes, nor approve according to the hearing of the ears. He shall judge with justice and shall reprove with equity and faith shall be the guide of his reins (Isaiah XI).

Subsequent to the Ceremony the presentation of addresses to His Lordship took place at the City Hall, at which there was a distinguished attendance. Addresses were presented by the Waterford Co. Council and Dungarvan Urban Council amongst others.

The Co. Council address was as follows:—

May it please your Lordship, We, on behalf of the County Council of Waterford, beg to tender you our sincere "Cead Mile Failte," and heartiest felicitations on the occasion of your Solemn Consecration as Bishop of the Ancient Diocese of Waterford and Lismore.

Mindful of your brilliance as a Student and of your eminence as a profound Theologian and learned Professor, we feel that in you we have a worthy successor to the long line of distinguished Ecclesiastics who have adorned the ages adorned the See of SS. Otteran and Carthage.

We wish you "Ad multos Annos" in health and strength to lead the Flock entrusted to your care under Divine Providence by the See of Peter, and to guide them along the one true path in love of Faith and Fatherland.—John Kiersey, Chairman, J. H. O'Sullivan, Secretary.

His Lordship replying to the addresses, paid a special tribute to the great work done by the late Bishop Hackett, whose steps he would follow. (Full report next issue).

Feast of the Sacred Heart

IMPRESSIVE CELEBRATIONS IN CAPPOQUIN.

In honour of the Feast of the Sacred Heart, on Friday, June, 23rd. Quarant' Ore began in the pretty Chapel of the Convent of Mercy, Cappoquin, at 10 o'clock, when Mass was celebrated by the Rev. P. J. Flavin, Thurles. (a native of Cappoquin), and was attended by all the Community, the members of the Sodality of the Children of Mary, large numbers of the children attending the Convent School, the boys of the Industrial School, and many of the general public from the town and parish.

The beautiful High Altar, in the Chapel was profusely decorated with flowers and evergreens. The music of the Mass was rendered with great harmony and solemnity by the Convent Choir, augmented by the Children of Mary.

After Mass a procession was held around the picturesque grounds of the Convent, the entire proceedings being marked with great solemnity and devotion which proved a touching tribute of fealty to the Sacred Heart on behalf of the people of Cappoquin. The boys of the Industrial School headed the procession, neatly dressed in white, with red sashes, and carrying banners and bannerettes with appropriate sacred inscriptions, these being followed by the girls of the Convent School, in white, and wearing white veils, surmounted by garlands of flowers; next came the Children of Mary, wearing the rich blue cloaks, medals and ribbons, after whom followed the Community; next came the Cross-Bearer and acolytes, followed by a number of tiny girls all in white who, strewed fragrant flowers in front of the Blessed Sacrament, which was borne by the Rev. P. J. Flavin, under a richly-embroidered canopy of crimson and gold which was carried by Messrs. P. Cahill, J. Hogan, J. P. Olden and Jas. Ahearne. Sacred hymns were sung as the procession wended around the grounds. Having

FULL PROGRAMME FOR BOYS AND GIRLS ALSO. M. J. SARGENT. M. F. WALSH, Hon. Secs.

Important Notice.

We wish to call the attention of our customers and the general public to the fact that we have erected a Waterworth Patent Kiln at considerable expense to treat the native Grain which it is incumbent on us to mix with Maize. Under the new Cereals Bill the quantity of this Admixture has been raised by a recent order of the Department of Agriculture from 10 per cent. to 15 per cent.

Owing to this increased percentage to secure good sound Meal, the Kiln-drying of the home-grown Grain is in our opinion absolutely necessary. We therefore guarantee that the quota of native Grain used by this Firm in the Admixture will be Kiln-dried. This combined with the stone grinding at our Water-power Mill at Kildangan should secure a first-class article.

We shall supply Maize Meal with the stipulated Admixture of either OATS or BARLEY. In the case of BARLEY being used a slight increase in price will be required.

encircled the grounds, the procession returned to the Chapel.

On Sunday morning, Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father Flavin, after which a further procession took place around the Convent grounds, the order of procession and general procedure being the same as on Friday morning.

The local Brass and Reed Band attended and played the hymn, "Pangalanga," in a sweet and impressive manner under the able baton of Mr. J. P. Hogan, Conductor. The Rev. James McCarthy, C.C., Knockanore, took part in the ceremonies on Sunday morning, and on the procession returning to the chapel, Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by the Rev. Father Flavin, when a hymn of Adoration to the Sacred Heart was sung by the choir and the Children of Mary, which brought the ceremonies to a close.

Before the people departed from the Convent grounds, the Rev. J. McCarthy, said that he had been requested by the Reverend Mother and Members of the Sisters of Mercy Community to specially thank the members of the Band for so kindly attending there on such short notice on that morning, and giving such valuable assistance in the procession, and he also thanked the members of the general public who had taken part in the closing ceremony and assured them all that the Sisters of the Community felt deeply and gratefully for their kind attendance and assistance on the occasion.

A GENTLE MAMA.

A five-months old baby left in charge of an older brother was carried away by a leopard in a jungle village near Colombo. The villagers combed the jungle for hours, and at last heard a faint cooing in the undergrowth. They found the baby being nursed by the leopard, and they believe that the beast had lost its cubs and had carried off the child as a substitute.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., Chairman; Mrs. S. Hurley, P.C.; Capt. P. Dunne, Messrs. D. Dennehy, T. Ecausang, J. Whelan, D. J. Litchan, E. P. Lynch, Vice-Chairman; P. J. McMahon, P.C.; J. Kennedy, P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.

Mental Home Water Supply. The Town Clerk read a report on the water supply to the Mental Home to the effect that the Institution was getting a regular 40 hours supply daily, equivalent to about 80,000 gallons. Formerly the supply used to be from 50,000 to 60,000 gallons. The Home was unable to take the supply available.

Mr. O'Gorman—There must have been some juggling with the supply. Mr. Lynch—There was something more than juggling with the water supply.

Malicious Injury Claim. Messrs. J. Hodnett, and Son, solrs., wrote stating that they couldn't advise the Council to settle the Malicious Injury claim of Mrs. Bridget Green. They had never heard of a claim of the kind being settled out of Court. It must be left for the Court to decide whether the injury was malicious or not. A surcharge would probably follow if money were paid on foot of the claim without a decree of the Court being obtained.

Several members protested that the amount of the claim was very extravagant. It was decided to get independent evidence on the matter.

Dancing At Claycastle. Mr. S. Field, Claycastle, applied for the use of the dancing boards in the Green Park, the same as last year. The application was granted.

Mayo Fisheries Resolution. Regarding the resolution of the Mayo Co. Council, re the repeal of Section 43 of the Fisheries Act, 1925, a letter was read from the Secretary of the Council, stating that the point of the resolution was that the general body of the ratepayers were losing the amount of local rates on the valuation of Fisheries, and the object of it was the repeal of the Section referred to. He presumed in Youghal that the Duke of Devonshire was valued for the Fishery mentioned, and that the ratepayers in the Urban Area were losing the amount of local rates which he should pay to the Council if that Section was repealed. He suggested that they forward a copy of the resolution as adopted to the Minister for Lands and Fisheries, and the Minister for Local Government and Public Health.

Replying to a member, the Clerk said he couldn't give them the terms of Section 43 at the moment. The Chairman suggested a postponement till they had the Section before them. Capt. Dunne said if it meant giving power of turning sewerage into the rivers he would oppose it strongly, as it would poison the salmon. The Clerk said nothing of the kind was intended. Mr. Lynch said they wanted to make the Duke of Devonshire pay the rates to the local body. Capt. Dunne said the Duke was paying the rate to the Fishery Board. Mr. Kennedy said if the Fishery Board were deprived of the rate, they wouldn't be able to preserve the fishing. Mr. Whelan said the resolution should not be adopted till they knew how it would affect the interests concerned. Finally the matter was adjourned for further inquiry.

Motors On Strand Road. Mr. Dennehy complained of the extensive parking of motor cars on the Strand Road. The road being narrow, it was a very dangerous practice and ought to be stopped, especially as there was a place set apart for parking. The Clerk said it shouldn't be allowed when there was a free public parking place. Mr. McMahon thought the Council ought not to be too strict in the matter. They should give their visitors every possible facility. The Chairman—But the people are complaining about it. Mr. Dennehy—A donkey and cart won't be allowed stop in the street, but a motorist can do as he likes. One law for the rich, another for the poor.

Mr. McMahon said not so long ago they had hives of horses and donkeys on the streets, but they were unfortunately all gone. As for talking about the law—there was no law in the land now; it was all bust up (laughter). Capt. Dunne said they were there to take steps to protect the people and should do their duty. Mr. Lynch said the way that cars, and especially motor cycles, drove through the town was a scandal and a danger to the public. Something should be done before they had any more accidents in their narrow streets. It was decided to put up a notice warning motorists.

Combined Purchasing. Mr. McMahon said he had seen the men trying to clean the streets with brushes completely worn out. It was a hardship on the men and a pure waste of time. The Clerk said that the brushes had been ordered under the Government Purchasing Scheme since last month, but they had not turned up yet. They could purchase them locally in the circumstances. Mr. Kennedy—Then I propose that we get them locally.

Mr. O'Gorman bore out Mr. McMahon. He had seen the man trying to do an impossible act. It was unanimously decided to buy the brushes locally.

Mr. Whelan asked had there been any reply received from the L.G.D. regarding the tenders for the Housing Scheme which had been sent to them. The Clerk—No sir, although I wrote about them. The Chairman—Great bodies move slowly (laughter).

Regarding the second Ferry boat, the Clerk said she was not in commission owing to the fact that certain spare parts, not made in the country, were held up in the Customs. He did his best to have them cleared, but failed.

Mr. O'Gorman said the Customs and their officials did not know where they were between tariffs and rules and regulations.

Good and Bad Hay.

Quite a number of things influence the quality of hay, such as the nature of the herbage, the weather, the time of mowing, the manuring, and the nature of the soil. Under the best conditions, hay, although it changes much in appearance in the process of curing, loses nothing except moisture. The green material contains about 80 per cent. moisture, and the dried about 45 per cent. When there is too much fermentation in the stack, it is generally considered that the hay loses in nutritive value, but slight fermentation is not believed to be injurious. Rain falling on newly-cut green material does little or no harm, but, if the material is partly dried before rain comes, the deterioration is very rapid. It has been proved by experiment that, if hay is spread out and exposed to wet weather for 20 days, it loses 45 per cent. of its albuminoids and 46 per cent. of its soluble carbohydrates; hence the necessity of making the most of good weather during hay time. The weather cannot be depended on for half a day. Whenever the material is fit for stacking, it should be stacked without an hour's delay. If there is excessive heating in the stack, there will be great deterioration in the quality of the hay, as, in extreme cases, it becomes carbonised, and may even end in spontaneous combustion. Heating in the stack, caused by the natural sap of the hay, does not do so much harm as when it arises from the presence of rain water, in which case there is great development of moulds, resulting in hay of the very poorest quality and most unpalatable and unwholesome nature. A slight sweat gives the hay a pleasant aroma that is valued by many experienced farmers. Old hay, provided it has been well preserved, is better than new hay, particularly for horses.

The following table gives the analysis of good and inferior hay, respectively, also various kinds of legume hay; and, although such analysis does not always prove to be an accurate guide, it is, in this instance, pretty well confirmed by the results of practical tests:— The best pasture hay contains (per cent.) 16.0 moisture, 7.7 ash, 43.5 crude albuminoids, 3.0 fat, 40.4 soluble carbohydrates, 49.3 crude fibre. Poor pasture hay (not including the musty or moulded variety, which is injurious) contains 14.3 moisture, 5.9 ash, 7.5 crude albuminoids, 6.6 pure albuminoids, 1.5 fat, 38.2 soluble carbohydrates, 38.5 crude fibre. Lucerne hay (cut just before flowering) contains 16.0 moisture, 7.2 ash, 46.2 crude albuminoids, 12.2 pure albuminoids, 2.4 fat, 41.1 soluble carbohydrates, 27.0 crude fibre. Best red clover hay contains 16.5 moisture, 7.0 ash, 45.3 crude albuminoids, 11.6 pure albuminoids, 3.2 fat, 35.8 soluble carbohydrates, 22.2 crude fibre. Inferior clover hay contains 15.9 moisture, 5.1 ash, 11.1 crude albuminoids, 9.4 pure albuminoids, 2.1 fat, 37.8 soluble carbohydrates, 28.9 crude fibre. Medium quality red clover hay is 55 per cent. digestible. Medium quality pasture hay is 60 per cent. digestible. A close scrutiny of the above table shows that the best quality pasture hay is much lower in the crude fibre content than any of the others, including lucerne, and this is a very important point. Legumes, such as lucerne or red clover, mount up quickly in crude fibre content if curing is delayed, and this is due to the great loss of leafage in handling, resulting in a greater percentage of stalk or stem. The above analysis is an average of several samples of the various kinds of hay.

DEATH OF MR. E. MELICAN. Fortified by the rites of his Church, Mr. Edward Melican, Garrunturton, Kilmachomas, breathed his last after a brief illness and in the fullness of his years. The possessor of a patient and lovable disposition, deceased was noted for his whole-hearted unselfishness, and was at all times affectionate, sympathetic and charitable to all who had the good fortune of calling him a friend. He was a near relative of Messrs James and John Sheehan, farmers, Garrunturton, two of the most popular residents in the whole wide parishes. Following the celebration of High Mass of Requiem at St. Anne's Church, Ballylanean, on the 21st ult., the burial took place in the adjoining graveyard. A big concourse of people came to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of the late Mr. Melican. Peace to his soul.

MEETING AT KNOCKANORE.

ADDRESS BY MRS REDMOND, T.D.

At a public meeting held at Knockanore, Mr. W. Kelly (presiding), introduced Mr. C. S. Quinlan, solr., Waterford, who said that while politicians were preaching, the people were losing their markets, and the prices of cattle, sheep and pigs had dropped to give-away figures. Having started an economic war, the Government were now undertaking another—a war on muck rats. In the meantime, anyone who dared utter a whisper against the Government was accused of playing England's game and advocating abject surrender. They wanted no surrender—they merely echoed the sentiments of Cardinal MacRory and other distinguished Irish prelates in favour of an honourable settlement, while their accusers were paying 2/6 a ton to import English coal. If the Government took such a great interest in the development of the turf industry, why should they encourage the introduction of English coal while the Irish people were waiting to see the smoke arising from all the new factories. The Government were manufacturing new Peace Commissioners and calling everybody not agreeing with them in their madcap policy traitors. The various members of the Government were fighting tooth and nail to justify their existence, for their occupation would be gone if the people saw through them. The Irish people were told a lot of fairy tales about the bankruptcy of England, the international markets at their disposal and so on, ad nauseum. But England was still one of the foremost nations in the world, and for the alternative markets, Dr. Ryan would tell them all about them, but they could hardly take all he said as Gospel truth. What about his Belgian cattle bargains? He (the speaker) had no love for England, but he could not see how they would in the smallest degree compromise their independence by trading on honourable terms with England. England imported more food and other stuffs than Germany and the United States put together, and they would be fools to fall out with her. Even if the Irish people had factories all over the country, where were they to find purchasers for their products with a limited population of three million? At present they were living on their capital, and if they made by in the same way the sacrifices made by the farmers, shopkeepers and labourers in the Land League days would be all wasted. If those in power had their way, the land belonging to the people would become the property of the State, and the people themselves little better than serfs. He urged on his hearers to come forward and demand that the foolish, suicidal economic war should be stopped. If they did that, they could look forward to the future with some hope of peace, progress and prosperity.

MRS. REDMOND'S ADDRESS.

Mrs. Redmond, T.D., who was well received, said some might ask why that meeting was being held. There was no election now. Well, they were there, not to talk politics, but mere common sense. They had had enough of politics in the country, and the object of that meeting was to prepare the people against the evil which threatened them, and that was the policy of the present Government, influenced by pressure from behind the scenes. They had heard a great deal about secret societies and their power, and many of them were inclined to think that they could be ignored; but recent happenings had put a different complexion on the matter. The head of the State had said that he would not tolerate any armed force but the one lawfully constituted army. In spite of those brave words, recruiting and drilling were going on openly all over the country. Indeed, they were told that the objects of the two were the same. The fact was the country was following a "Will-o-the-Whisp" leading them nobody knew where; while what was really wanted was peace, work and some degree of prosperity. It was high time to drop this talk about a Republic, somewhere away in the dim distance and come down to the solid fact. What the people wanted was a market for their products, not shadowy mirages, ending in sad disappointments. Those mirages always turn up when an election was about to take place. The last time they were told they would hold the land annuities, and there would be a settlement with Great Britain. What was the sequel? Great Britain had succeeded in collecting the greater part of the withheld annuities, which were further paid in the shape of bounties and tariffs. As another result of the retention of annuities, England had succeeded in keeping out a formidable rival to her own farmer, who was hoping that the economic war would long continue. The Englishman was getting Irish butter 4d. a lb. cheaper than the people at home because of the tariff. Was there one amongst her hearers who could honestly say that he would rather that the economic war should continue than that he should pay his annuities? As a result of that unfortunate and silly conflict, many of their farmers were not in a position to pay their rent, rates or taxes, or any of their lawful debts, much less their annuities. She did not suggest that everything had been rosy amongst them for the past ten years, but she would say that two years ago they were far better off than to-day. Then they had their markets and fairly good prices. It was now up to them to ask themselves the question how long the present state of things was going to last and how long they could stand it. It was only a question of time when the trade of the country, bolstered up by tariffs and bounties, would come a cropper. The people should, therefore, realise their position before another election was sprung on them, perhaps like the last—they would not be told about it till the last moment. They should not let themselves be carried away by popular catch-cries and false promises, as they had been before. They saw how all the fine promises made at the last election had been utterly falsified. She earnestly appealed to them to prepare themselves when the occasion arose to return a Government that would stand for law, order and peace, and for a strong and united Ireland. Mr. Dennehy, Lisnora, also spoke, and a vote of thanks to the Chairman and speakers brought the meeting to a conclusion.

THRESHING AND CLEANING OF HOME-GROWN WHEAT.

As wheat bounty under the Agricultural Produce (Cereals) Act, 1933, is payable only in respect of home grown wheat which is millable, the attention of farmers and of owners of threshing sets is drawn to the necessity for having home-grown wheat properly cleaned before being offered for sale. Wheat is liable to be rejected by millers as not millable if it is not commercially clean, and no bounty will be payable in respect of wheat which is not sold for milling and certified by the buyer to be of millable quality. Owners of threshing sets would, therefore, be well advised to have their machines thoroughly overhauled and have new parts such as brushes, riddles and screens fitted in all cases where the existing parts are in any way defective. Wheat growers, before having their wheat threshed, should satisfy themselves that the threshing mill to be used for the purpose is in good working condition and capable of cleaning their wheat sufficiently well to enable them to offer it for sale as millable wheat. Growers of oats and barley also should see that their crops are properly threshed and cleaned, as maize millers are obliged, by the terms of the above-mentioned Act, to include in all maize, meal mixture manufactured by them a percentage of home-grown cereals which, before being ground, must have been commercially clean and in sound and sweet condition. It is, therefore, the interest of growers that their grain should have been effectually cleaned before being marketed, as maize millers may be expected to offer a better price for grain that has been well cleaned than for grain which contains an excessive quantity of weed seeds and other impurities.

PAYMENT OF WHEAT BOUNTIES.

Farmers who are growing wheat with the intention of offering it for sale should realise that they will not be entitled to any bounty unless they have been registered in the Register of Wheat Growers by the Minister for Agriculture. Growers who have not already done so should apply at once for registration as the Minister may refuse to accept applications which are not made in good time. A grower who waits until harvest to decide whether he will become a registered grower may find that he cannot then do so and that no bounty will be paid to him. He may even find difficulty in disposing of his wheat at a reasonable price, as licensed millers will not be under any obligation to purchase home-grown wheat in excess of the quantity grown by farmers who have been registered as wheat growers under the Agricultural Produce (Cereals) Act, 1933.

Farmers who have up to the present neglected to apply for registration should obtain a form for application at once from the nearest Garda Síochána Station, from the Instructor in Agriculture, or from the Secretary to the Committee of Agriculture for their county. If there should be any difficulty in obtaining forms locally the prescribed forms will be supplied on application to the Secretary, Department of Agriculture, Dublin, C.17. Letters so addressed need not be stamped.

MUNSTER CHAMPIONSHIPS. WATERFORD'S GREAT WIN. BIG DAY AT CARRICK.

At Carrick-on-Suir, on Sunday last, in fine weather and before 10,000 spectators, one of the fastest hurling games of recent years was witnessed between Tipperary and Waterford and resulted in a meritorious win for the boys from the Suirside with a margin of 3 points to spare. The previous meeting of the two teams had taken place on Waterford's native soil, and it was thought that this was a factor mainly responsible for the home county holding Tipperary to level scores. It was known that Waterford was an improving county, and that this year a bold bid was being made to bring there some of the higher honours of the code. Although there was a certain amount of optimism as to their capacity to defeat Tipperary on the replay, there was no gaining that the majority of opinion favoured a win by the Kickham county's representatives. Hence the joy was all the greater that the laurels of Sunday should have come Waterfordwards.

The Suiriders won on their merits. They fought hard for their victory; they made certain that when it was within their reach it was not fled from them. Tipperary played them a dashing game. Every minute of the hour held a thrill, and there never was too great a division to put the issue beyond the realms of doubt. Even when Jim Ware, one of the famous Ware brothers, left his goal untenanted in his anxiety to stem a rush beyond the square, and suffered the penalty of his net collapsing behind him, the crowd was thrilled. There was room for a real thrill just then, for this incident occurred at the close of the play, and when Waterford could all afford to suffer such a score. It was only grim determination and full-blooded gameful youth that could have lived up to the demands of the dogged Tipperary men. The latter gave nothing away. They contested the ground inch by inch to the final whistle.

Waterford sailed away at the start. Perhaps it was too good a beginning. There was room for thinking so when their opponents settled down to business, and got to registering, until they had at first drawn level and then passed out their rivals. But this only increased Waterford's incentive, and it was then that they began to show the mettle of which they were made. Lighter than the Tipperary side, they suffered more the brunt of the fray, but they did not seem to mind. At half-time they had succeeded in getting on even terms at 4 goals 1 point.

This was, in fact, a duplication of the position of the respective teams in their previous meeting. Then, too, they were equal at half the distance. What would the second half decide?

SECOND HALF.

The resumption brought a renewal of magnificent camanship. Dourly they went at it and eagerly they struggled. The favours wavered this way and that. Now Tipperary's following gave full-throated acknowledgment of their side's prowess; again it was a roar of approval from Waterford's even greater backing. So the battle waged. There were injuries and consequent stoppages, but these did not mar the interest that every re-beginning awakened. Tipperary had taken the lead and time was precious. Nobody appreciated its preciousness better than the Waterford forwards, who thereupon set themselves to excel any of their previous efforts. They were well served from the backs and mid-field men, and they made use of that service. Nor did they cease till they had outdistanced their contestants with a comfortable credit to boot. But even minutes can mean goals in the fast exchange of first-class hurling, and the question that everyone asked was if Waterford could hold gallant Tipperary to the end. Again and again Tipperary launched their mighty onslaughts; the Waterford net quaked often, but it held erect sufficiently long to hear the final whistle bestow the honours of the day on its defenders.

The afternoon was delightfully fine, with a warm sun bathing the pitch. The latter was in first-class order, and the local Gaels are to be congratulated on the efficiency with which they handled the large crowd. The stewarding could not have been excelled. Many who saw the Davin Memorial Park for the first time were vastly impressed with its lay-out. The Carrick-on-Suir Brass and Reed Band played the teams on to the pitch, and the rendering of the National Anthem preceded the setting of the teams in motion by Mr. Pat Davin, brother of the late Maurice Davin, one of the G.A.A. founders, to whose memory the grounds have been dedicated. Mr. T. Considine (Clare) held the whistle.

Waterford, by Sunday's win, have qualified for the final, in which they will meet the winners of the Cork-Limerick tie at Thurles on July 16th. The final will be played on August, 6th.

MINOR REPLAY.

Tipperary, 4-1; Waterford, 2-1.

The minor hurling replay, also between Waterford and Tipperary, took place before the senior match. This provided a sterling tussle, which was followed all the way with enthusiasm. In this the Tipperary youngsters proved too much for the others, whose forward line lacked the necessary finish. Tipperary won a well-contested hour by 2 clear goals.

Rev. Fr. Hamilton (Clare) referred to this match.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell D.J.)

No More Adjournments.

Arising out of an application for the adjournment of a Civil Bill case, The Justice said he was going to stop adjournments in that Court for a very good reason. He could not have the books cluttered up with adjournments as was happening.

Cottage Rent Cases.

The Cork Co. Board of Health, had a large number of cottier tenants summoned for arrears of rent. Evidence was given to the effect that the amounts due ranged from £2 to £6, the weekly rents being from 10d. to 1/2.

Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., appeared for two defendants and applied for a stay.

The Justice said he couldn't stand between the Board of Health and the tenants. His function was to give a decree where so much money was due.

The Collector said he was compelled to ask for decrees in all the cases. The Board of Health had made a rule that not more than four weeks rents should be allowed accrue. He would place the tenants' offers before the Board.

Decrees were then granted in all the cases unsettled.

Knockadoon Assault Cases.

There were a number of assault and cross cases between two families named O'Brien and Shanahan, there being 14 summonses in all—both parties residing at the old Coastguard Station, Knockadoon.

Mr. J. L. Keane, solr., appeared for one side of the dispute and Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., for the other.

Mr. Keane said he was happy to say that with the good offices of Mr. Hodnett, they had arrived at a conclusion which he hoped would meet with the approval of the Court and obviate the necessity of going into the cases. Each side had agreed to withdraw all the charges against the other. As all the parties lived in the one building, he submitted that would be much better than a victory for either side.

Mr. Hodnett expressed his agreement with the arrangement.

The Justice—That ought be satisfactory.

All the cases were then marked "withdrawn."

Children's Court.

The Court was then cleared and a woman named Jane Wilson, of no fixed abode was charged with cruelty to her son David, aged 8 years.

Superintendent Dennehy said the little boy was found wandering on the public road by the Guards at 1.30 that morning. The woman had two other children, and they all slept in a pram. They had neither house nor lodging.

Replying to the Court, Sergt. O'Beirne said they were vagrants. The father had a caravan, and he had left them about a fortnight ago. He would not come to Youghal as there was a fine hanging over him.

The Justice—The father is the person who ought be brought up. The children's custody is in his hands.

Guard Penlon, stated that at 1.30 that morning they found the child on the road near the Lighthouse. He said he was going to the barracks for a night's lodging. Later on they found the mother near the Atlantic Garage. She and the other two kiddies had spent the night under a bush at the Tennis ground. She did ask about the boy.

The defendant said the boy strayed away from them. They had walked from Dungarvan that day. To tell the truth they fed themselves by begging. Her husband left them at Dunamaggin, Co. Kilkenny, a fortnight ago. She didn't go to the Guards because he threatened to beat her. She was Scotch and the children were all baptised Protestants.

The Superintendent said only for the religious question the boy could be sent to an Industrial School.

It was ultimately arranged to have mother and children sent to the Midleton Home for the present, and inquiries be made for the father.

Substitution Of Hours.

Mr. J. J. Brennan, Market Square, applied for a substitution of hours.

There being no objection, the application was granted.

A BOON FOR THE BLIND.

DOGS DOING THEIR SHARE.

By "PHILOKON."
THAT admirable movement known as Guide Dogs for the Blind is in need of money. Amid the welter of appeals for public assistance, societies that are working quietly on with their job without any fuss are in danger of being overlooked. This particular committee is composed of practical men and women, who expect full value for every pound spent, yet at the same time they are actuated by sentiment, a most praiseworthy sentiment that seeks to bring happiness and comfort into the lives of men who have been deprived of their sight.

There may be some misconception about the duties of these dogs, and what their assistance means to their masters. People who have seen dogs helping blind men to coax coppers from passers-by are apt to be prejudiced because they do not understand. The Guide Dogs are trained so perfectly that they can lead their masters anywhere in safety, watching over them as a mother guards her children. I am not using exaggerated language in any sense. They will take them along at a normal pace, pausing at any obstacle, and refusing to move when there is any danger from traffic. They will cross a busy street when there is a pause in the stream of traffic, or amid quieter surroundings they will guide a man in his daily avocation. A poultry farmer tells how his dog takes him round the poultry houses while he is trappening, and, on finishing, will carry the basket of eggs to the storehouse.

Another recipient of a dog wrote that the Guide-Dog movement had given him back his freedom. "The next best thing to giving me back my eyesight was to give me Bella." Bella serves him so well, leading him through streets to a railway station and then through a labyrinth of railway tracks and bridges to the place where he is employed at some docks, that people seeing him are unaware of his disability. The psychological effect of regaining this freedom of movement cannot well be described.

More than 10,000 dogs have been trained for this purpose in Germany, where there are State training schools. How modest in comparison are our own efforts, which are left to private enterprise. The dogs are given by private breeders. One lady of my acquaintance has given up exhibiting Alsatians, but is continuing to breed them for this object. The training is long and thorough, for the responsibilities are great, and it costs approximately £60 a dog. Included in the curriculum is three weeks' training for the blind men themselves with their dogs. The promoters of the movement speak modestly of a minimum of from £1,200 to £1,400 a year, but what is that for such a splendid cause? They want now to rent a house large enough to accommodate a trainer a few dogs, and the blind men who are to undergo the three weeks' instruction before receiving their friends.

A first-class trainer is coming from the continent, who will educate the dogs and train five Englishmen in the work. As the scheme grows they in turn will be qualified to instruct others. The house they require will have to be in the centre of a busy town, and will therefore not be as cheap as one in the country. Am I too sanguine in thinking that the work will not be allowed to suffer from want of funds? A very little will do so much towards promoting the happiness and efficiency of men who suffer under a dreadful disability. Contributions should be sent to the secretary, Miss M. E. Croke, 3, Warren Drive, Wallasey, Cheshire.

This chat is issued by THE TAIL-WAGGERS' CLUB OF IRELAND, 23, Old Abbey Street (off Marlborough Street), Dublin, C.8. The Club will be pleased to answer any enquiries submitted by Tail-Wagger Owners in connection with canine hygiene and welfare.

Quite supreme in the dog's esteem!

Three to One on the Maid of Steady.

AMUSING ASSAULT CASE AT CAPPOQUIN.

At the Cappoquin District Court, before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L., a rather amusing case was heard when a farmer named James Hally, Ballykerin, summoned James Burke, from the same locality, for assault, and applied to have him bound to the peace.

Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, s.r., Lismore, appeared for complainant, and Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, represented the defendant.

Complainant stated that on the night of May 25th, he was riding a pony along the road near the village of Millstreet, when he passed the defendant, who was accompanied by Maurice Power and Patk. Lonergan.

As he was passing them one of the men shouted "Three to one on the Maid of Steady." (Laughter).

The defendant then said "She's no good anyway," and witness replied "She's as good as you ever had." Burke then asked him to come off the pony and he'd give him "what was coming to him," but he rode away about his business and when he was returning the same way later the three men were still there and repeated the same remarks to him.

Mr. Farrell—Is she any good? Complainant—Well, she's not much good.

Mr. Farrell—So that when Burke said on that night "She's no good" he was simply telling the truth?

Replying to further questions by Mr. Farrell, Hally said this was the only remark Burke had used before he replied "She's as good as you ever had." He did not agree that his reply to Burke was more insulting than Burke's remark to him.

Mr. Farrell—According to your evidence Burke then threatened to give you "what was coming to you." Can you now tell us what that meant, or what was really coming to you?

Hally said he did not know. Leading up to the assault later, he said he was not trotting the pony, but walking her, when Burke followed him up the road so that it was easy for him to overtake him and assault him.

James Burke, defendant, in reply to Mr. Farrell, said that the remark passed by one of his friends when Hally was first passing was "Three to one on Nancy," (laughter). Witness then remarked "She's no good," and Hally said "Neither you nor the likes of you ever had one as good." Hally then rode away, but when he was returning later he was muttering something as he passed them and witness went up the road after him to know what he was saying, when Hally said to him, "I have you now." He denied that he committed any assault on Hally on the occasion.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Gorman, solr.—He was quite positive that he did not lay a hand on Hally, as he did not go any nearer to him than the pony's tail.

Mr. O'Gorman—Did the pony kick you (laughter)?

Defendant—She did not, because I kept out of the way (renewed laughter).

The Justice—I don't know about the "undoubtedly" part of your application, but I am prepared to consider the matter. What expenses do you want?

Defendant—Well, I had four witnesses summoned for the defence to-day, and each of them will lose a day's pay by coming here.

The Justice—Bring up your four witnesses until I see them.

Defendant—Well, I have only one witness actually in Court now, sir, as I learned this morning that Keniry was not going on with the case and I told the other three they needn't come to Court.

The Justice—What do you mean by trying to convey to me that you have four witnesses here, when, as a matter of fact, you have only one?

Defendant—The other three are employed by the Co. Council and will lose their day's pay whether they are here or not.

The Justice eventually allowed 20/- expenses against Keniry.

No Respect For The Lighting Act. Sergeant J. Rochford, Cappoquin, had five defendants—including three ladies—summoned for riding unlighted bicycles on the same date, and stated that all of them were coming from a dance in Camphire on the night in question.

A fine of 1/- was imposed in each case.

Guards Teehan, O'Mahony, and Moloney, Cappoquin, had similar summonses against another batch of defendants for offences on various dates, and fines varying from 1/- to 2/-, were imposed.

General Dealers' Licence. Messrs. McCarthy and Watson, Coal Merchants, etc., Cappoquin, were granted a General Dealers' Licence, which concluded the business of the Court.

Two small girls were playing in the park. "I wonder what time it is!" said one of them, at length. "Well, it can't be lunch-time yet," replied the other, "because my mother said I was to be home to lunch—and I'm not."

CHARGE OF ASSAULT.

When the adjourned case of Thomas Keniry, Carrowgorive, Cappagh, against Patk. O'Keefe, do., for assault was called, there was no appearance on behalf of the complainant, and the Justice said the case should be struck out and marked "No appearance."

Defendant (addressing the Justice)—Undoubtedly I must get my expenses, sir, as I have attended here the last day and also to-day to meet this case.

The Justice—I don't know about the "undoubtedly" part of your application, but I am prepared to consider the matter. What expenses do you want?
