DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

DUMPING GROUND. TENDERS.

Present-Messrs. J. Butler, Chairman; M. J. Keane, V.C., Ml. Clancy, T. McCarthy, Mce. Griffin, and T. PAYMENTS.

A payment of £11 2s. 1d., week's wages ,etc., was passed.

FINANCE. The Clerk submitted the monthly financial statement showing the balances to credit in the various accounts. The report on the rate collection showed 70 per cent, of the first moiety collected together with 11.2 cf the second moiety. Chairman-The rate collection is very good. Mr. Clancy It is very satisfactory considering the bad times. Chairman-What do we generally get on the warrant; do we get 98%. Clerk-Something over 90%.

REPORT OF BOROUGH SURVEYOR.

The B.S., reported as follows: -(1) I beg to make application for £20 on account of my fees in connection with the erection of the 86 houses at Loughmore. (Payment ordered).

(2) In accordance with order there are 105 yards in the sewer at Coolagh Road, and the probable cost of putting down same, including two manholes with heavy street covers, also resurfacing road, will be £72 10s. 0d. A letter was read from Mrs. Kiely, stating that she was prepared to con-Mr. Power-What do you intend to do with this sewer? Chairman This is in connection with the new houses at Coolagh Road. Mr. Power-Could the houses further down be connected? B.S.-No.

Mr. Griffin said if the sewer was put at the back of the houses there would be a better fall and the cost would be less. Mr. Power The other tenants there are looking for a sewer also. If the sewer is put down will the landlords connect up. If we can see our way to do this work, we should do it. Chairman Is Mr. Griffin's suggestion feasible. If it is carried out the people at the other side of the street will have no opportunity to connect

Mr. Power- The people at the other side of the street are very anxious for a sewer, and some of the houses are in have explained is this, it is five years a bad state. The S.S.O. can bear me since the contract on that road expired out, as he was asked in to see the and although there are about 50 yards place. The Government are very anxi- specified for this road every years ous that building and sewerage schemes be carried out, and we should give all the help we can to private individuals who are building and giving employment to men who would otherwise be idle.

Mr. Clancy How much money is in that account?

Clerk-I could not say off hand as I had not time to look into the matter Mr. Clancy-I understand there are five landlords in this part of the street and the suggestion is that some are prepared to contribute, but we have nothing before us but a letter from one landlord: Chairman-It would be well to get from those other people what they are prepared to contribute. Mr. Power-There are at least three private owners outside Mrs. Kiely, who would benefit, and who are anxious to connect up. Mr. Clancy-As it will serve other owners, why should this Council and Mrs. Kiely bear the whole cost. I suggest that the other owners be approached or written to for next meet-

Chairman-Yes, Mr. Walsh wou'd be the man to interview these people and ascertain what they are prepared to pay. When we have that information we could deal with the matter on Tuesday night.

REVISION OF RATES.

Mr. Farrell, Solr., wrote regarding the rate assessed on the Scouts' Den, Sarsfield Street, Abbeyside, and pointed out that the building is used solely as a recreation place for the Abbeyside troop of the Catholic Boy Scouts, and is solely a charitable institution. Similar buildings in Dungarvan and Waterford are exempted, from rates, because of their charitable purpose.

Mr. Power-The Council should do what they can in the matter. The question was referred to the Clerk.

DUMPING GROUND. Mr. P. Dunne, Shandon Dairy, wrote stating that he now finds refuse of all kinds still being deposited by the Council employees and others. While appreciating the fact that your Council is endeavouring to find an alternative dumping site, I am compelled to request that the place should be closed to prevent access.

the Railway Engineer at the Cause way to-day. He said he would offer no objection, and would advise the Railway Co., to allow the opening on the Causeway. Mr. Keane-In case there is a delay by the Railway Co. in replying, I suggest that we resume dumping at the Cat's Lough, as there are a good many loads required there yet.

B.S.-Yes. It would take about 100 loads yet. Mr. McCarthy-Not the kind of stuff that was dumped there before. Chairman-Are we satisfied that the Causeway is the best place. Mr. Power-I would say so. Mr. Clancy-I would object very strongly to it, even though it is very hard to find alternative dumps.

Mr. McCarthy-The place I suggested opposite the Shandon Dairy could be used as a dump for years yet, and there is no trouble only to open a gate- townbarry, Co. Wexford, a position way. The only thing against it is that there are trees planted there now, but they could be avoided.

BIRTH AND MARRIAGE RATES FALLING IN FREE STATE.

POPULATION UP; EMIGRATION STOPPED.

The report of the Registrar General for the year 1932 states that the increase in the population which commenced in 1931 continued in 1932. The total number of persons in the country in the middle of the latter year was estimated to be 2,947,000. 17,000 more than the number in 1931. Marriages and births have again decreased and a slight increase has taken place in the number of deaths register-

The number of marriages registered was 13,029. This is 104 less than the number in the preceding year and 1,018 less than the average (14,047) for the ten years 1922-31. The rates per 1,000 of population were 4.38 in 1932, 4.44 in 1931, and 4.72 in 1922:31 These rates are low as compared with other countries.

In Northern Ireland the rate for 1932 was 5.51, in England and Wales 7.6, and in Scotland 6.79

Births have again declined, so that the number in 1932 replaces that in 1931 as the lowest ever recorded. The number was 56,240. The average annual number during 1922-31 was 60,013. In terms of the population the birth rate in 1932 was 18.91 per 1,000, in 1931 it was 19.30, and during 1922-31 it averaged 20.17. Between the periods 1911-15 and 1928-32 there has been a fall of 13.0 per cent.

The birth rate in Northern Ireland n 1932 was 19.89, in England and Wales 15.27, and in Scotland 18.64.

The number of illegitimate births registered was 1,819. This is equal to Exposition of the Most Blessed Sacrament took place after Mass, the High Altar being brilliantly illuminated [1921, and 2.90 for 1922-31. In Northrn Ireland the percentage in 1932 was 5.1, in England and Wales 4.4, and in Scotland 7.1

The number of deaths registered during the year was 42,984. This is 37 more than in 1931, but in proportion to the population it represents a decrease, the rate being 14.45, as compared with 14.52 in the previous

In Northern Ireland the death rate Wales 12 04 and in Scotland 13.53. The principal causes in 1932 occupy substantially the same relative posttions as in previous years. Of definite diseases heart disease is found in the first place, followed in order by tuberculosis, cancer, pneumonia, bronthitis and cerebral haemorrhage, each of which caused more than 5 per cent. of the total deaths.

A decrease has taken place in deaths from tuberculosis, and the mortality from this disease is now lower than ! ever before. The number of deaths for 3,902 and 3,676 respectively. the population of Saorstat Eireann is estimated to have been 2,874,000 persons in the middle of 1932-males numbering 1,514,000 and females 1,460,000. These figures are calculaton the basis of the census of 1926 by adding the number of births and immigrants in each successive year and deducting the number of deaths and emigrants. The total figure represents a net increase of 17,000 persons over the number in 1931. There is thus a continuance of the upward movement which commenced last year. The cause is the same in both years. Emigration has declined to such an extent that the excess of births over deaths is allowed to have its nafural effect. At the same time immigration has increased and now exceeds the loss by emigration.

EMIGRATION AND IMMIGRATION. The returns turnished by the Department of Industry and Commerce show that the number of emigrants and immigrants to and from places of Europe and not within the Mediterranean Sea, during the year 1932 were 871 and 5,044 respectively, including 315 to and 3,861 from the United States: the corresponding figures for Canada being 86 and 392, for Australia 178 and 251, for New Zealand 20 and 106, for the Union of South Africa 72 and 88, for India 72 and 94, and from other countries 128 and 251 respectively. number the emigrants: 13,029 marriages were registered during the year 1932. This number affords the smallest marriage rate that has been recorded during the present century, viz., 4.38 per 1.000 of the estimated population. Lower rates were, however, recorded in earlier years, age for the ten years 1922-31 was 4.72; for 1931 the rate was 4.44. Marriages of Catholics numbered 12,177 equal to 93.5 per cent, of the total and those of persons belonging to other denominations 852. As compared with the numbers in 1931 a decrease of 54 has occurred in Catholic marriages and 53 in others. According to the census Catholics represented 9; in 1932 was 14.11, in England and of the population, Protestant kinsten pallans 5.5 per cent, Presidents 11. Methodists 0.4, and all atter dedocate ations 0.4.

The marriages of Catholics in 1932 are equivalent to a rate of 4.2 per 1,000 of the estimated Catcolic popullation, or 6.33 open the average rate for the preceding ten years, and the rate for other marriages was 3.87 per 4,000 of all persons other than Cather hes in the population, or 0.46 below the average as shown. These rates however, must be accepted with some reservation, as the estimate of the 1922-31, 1931 and 1932, were 4.265, population by religious is based on

ACREAGE GUARANTEED.

At a public meeting in Mallow on Monday, at which Deputies of the various parties were in attendance, it was announced that the minimum acreage required for the establishment of a Beet Factory in Mallow had been secured. It marked the success of a great united effort by the people and parties of all shades of opinion to secure for Mallow one of the three new Beet Factories to be built by the Irish Sugar Co., in the Free State. The others are to be located at Thurles

Very Rev. Canon Corbett, presided. Mr. W. J. Broderick, T.D., Youghal, said he would leave it to the experts to put before the meeting the details of the growing of beet. His func-tion there, and that of those associated with him on the platform, was to typify a united effort-an effort which they hoped would reverberate through the county and country (applause). They were united in availing to the full of the advantages which Mallow had to-day at its disposal. Along with the natural advantages of its great railway connections, there were the advantages that the establishment of the factory, which would mean an initial expenditure of £35,000 in the building of the factory and an annual circulation of money through it working of approximately £500,000. There would be security of payment at a time which, to say the least of it was not too good. United effort had brought all this about. Politics had been sunk when it meant a question of the welfare of the people, and when that welfare was clearly outlined they aid not permit any political differences to divide them (applause). They were a small country, and please God the time was coming when those same efforts would be united rather than in opposition (applause). Mallow was now to be a centre and a dynamo where this large amount of money was to be circulated. Were the people on their part going to show the necessary initiative and determination to make the project a success? (A voice: We will.") "I'm glad to hear that," observed the speaker. It is yours for the asking and for the having, and all you have to do is that every man does his best in the matter of canvassing and showing the advantages to his neighbour, and also by the practical illustration of his own output of beet. You can thereby bestow on your locainto the life of this country a unity of effort that is going to be the best sign of peace and hope for the future (ap

The establishment in Mallow would mean an expenditure of between £300,000 and £400,000, and he was not going to commit the taxpayers to such an expenditure unless he was perfectly satisfied that the Mallow factory when established would produce the maximum quantity of sugar. When in the area last week he felt very despondent on the figures before him, but when he re turned on Friday from Dublin be found the acreage had increased by leaps and bounds at the rates of thousands of acres per day (applause) Since I have come on this platform to-day," said Mr. Galvin, "over 200 acres have been guaranteed in the office with the Secretary, and I am now in the happy position to be able to announce with the full responsibility of my directors that the mini mum acreage required for the establishment of the Mallow factory is se cured' (loud and prelonged cheering) Having secured the minimum acreage he continued, it was up to the people to work towards securing the maxi mum. The committee would leave no stone unturned towards that end, and he was satisfied they would get more than the 13,000 acres, and had told his directors that he expected from Mallow a figure greater than that of Tuam and Thurles put together (applause). He complimented the committee on having surmounted enormous difficulties, and having made the project a success. The farmers who signed up now would be on the permanent list of suppliers to the factory. 13,000 acres would be roughly what the factory could handle. The people who hesitated to sign up now would regret it later. The names of the Ven. Signor Mussolini was expected to kiss nearly seven hundred Roman

Over 2,000 couples in all were married in the city and province of Rome at the same moment in the same parish churches. The seven hundred couples in the city were driven in the pouring rain to the famous Church of St. Mary of the Angel to hear Nuptial Mass together. Crowds of people assembled to watch the couples arrive and at ten o'clock (local time) when Mass began the rain had stopped and the sun came out to brighten

The couples in their wedding clothes formed into processions and entered the church as they arrived. After the Mass the couples were ceive a present from Signor Mussolini. The streets were lined with Blackshirts and Fascist children's organisations-indeed, children are the main motif of the festival and here and there bands were stationed to play wedding marches as the couples passed and the bells of the churches pealed merrily. As the procession passed, confetti and bits of paper were shower ed on the blushing couples from the high houses along the route. Many of the couples had put on ordinary clothes and some of them were carry ing suitcases in preparation for their departure on their honeymoon immediately.

All along the route were drawn up little girls with white blouses and black skirts, each holding a basket filled with confetti and paper flowers It looked as if half the people of Rome had crowded the streets to watch, and many women fainted in the crowd. It had been hoped that the Ducmight attend in person. However, his wedding gift was presented to each couple by Signor Starace, Secretary of the Fascist Party, who contented himself by giving them the Fascist salute the Duce's face stamped on it, containing a 500-line note (£8 6s. 8d.) By arrangement with the Holy Sec. it is understood that the first children of these marriages will be baptised in St. Peter's which is a privilege usually severely restricted. A mass Baptism in St. Peter's has also been arranged in the near future, and it is announced that Signor Musolini will give each child a complete baby outfit.

Referring to public life, he touched on political differences among the people. Differences of opinion on matters of merely political concern, he said, were perfectly legitimate, and political meetings or demonstrations on one side or the other were, of course entirely in order. But what was not legitimate, but, on the contrary, was utterly condemnable, was that any rent should be made in the seamless robe of Christian charity, the robe of Christ the King. Politics, however important in themselves, belonged to the sphere of things earthly and temporal, and it was utterly deplorable that individuals or groups of individuals should, in pursuit of political aims, inflict injury in matters of supreme and heavenly concern, on Christian charity and the loyalty and fidelity which they owed to Christ the King.

DEATH IN EXILE.

Mrs. Ellen O'Keeffe, who went to America fifty years ago from her birthplace, Kilbrack, Rathgormack, East Waterford, died recently in South Dakota, after a protracted illness and in the fulness of her years. in the fulness of her years. Deceased was Miss E. Norris, before her marriage. She belonged to one of the oldest and best-known families in Rath gormack parish. Last Summer, her niece, Rev. Mother M. Justin, who is a Dominican Nun in New York, spent a two months' holiday at her old home at Kilbrack. Mother Justin's previous visit was made twenty years ago. Masses for the repose of the soul of the late Mrs. O'Keeffe were celebrated of Mrs. Thomas Power, The Hill, do., in Rathgormack Church within the recently returned to New York, after

DEATH OF MRS. O'CONNOR

The death is much regretted by her many friends of Mrs. O'Connor, Bohadoon. Deceased belonged to a respect-ed West Waterford stock and was very popular. She was a sister of Mrs. Edward Fitzgerald, Gortnalacht, Kilrossanty, to whom, as well as to the other relatives, the deepest sympathy is extended in their trouble. There was a large and representative attendance at the funeral to Kilgobinet. After Mass of Requiem for her soul on Monday, the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery, amid many manifestations of sincere sorrow.

WINTRY WEATHER.

On Friday evening of last week, showers of snow and hailstones fell heavily the while the temperature lay at freezing point or slightly below. Our esteemed friend, Mr. John Lalor. of Currabaha, Kilmacthomas, informs us that that was the first time he saw a fall of snow in the month of Octo-ber. Mr. Lalor, by the way, has pass-ed his 80th birthday milestone, and is still hale and hearty for his years—more o' that to 'm! On Saturday, a remarkably fierce gale from the Polar regions swept the whole country, giving the final reminder, as it were, of the presence of King Winter in our midst. Happily, the gale, which at times gained a velocity of ninety miles an nour, did not cause any damage a a serious nature hereabouts.

EXIT KILROSSANTY S. F. TEAM. At a meeting of the Co. Executive, G.A.A. held at the Gaelic League Hall, Ladylane, Waterford, on the night of the 27th., ult., Mr. W. Walsh, (chairman), presiding, the Kilrossanty Senior Football team were suspended for six months. In justice to Kilrossanty, we must repeat that while their bout with the Old Boro XV, at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, held sway, none of the visiting players or their camp followers had interfered with any of the flagmen engaged that day. Again, in justice to Kirrossanty, we must state that they did not desire the suppression from the referee's report of the name (or names) of any player or players) on their side whom the arbiter deemed it his duty to caution during the period of play. In 1927 the Waterford Senior Hurling intercounty team refused to finish out their match with Tipperary for reasons which were quite obvious to all fairplay loving persons who eyed the engagement. Arising out of the unfinished Waterford-Limerick S.H. Munster Championship Final at Cork this year. both the Munster and Central Councils of the Association, respectively, broke rules of their own making to worst Waterford. I still hold that a replay of the Dungarvan-Kilrossanty tie would be a decision in keeping with true sportsmanship. The circumstances which caused Kilrossanty to leave the arena, were a replica of those associated with the caman contests just referred to. Anyway, Kilrossanty are a S.F. team second to none in the Decies to-day, and it is a pity to see them beaten by the Board rather than by a team on the field.

Selecting Pigs.

Treat them rough-

They're very tough.

A breeding sow should be:-(1) Quiet, good tempered and docile; (2) Prolific; (3) A good mother; (4) Of good constitution; (5) Well developed and of good conformation; (6) She should have at least 14 teats.

TEMPERAMENT.—Many breeders consider it wise to be at hand to render assistance at the time of parturition and even when it is the practice to leave sows to farrow unattended occasional help is necessary. The task of rendering aid to a nervous, bad tempered sow is at the best difficult and occasionally it is positively dangerous. Not only is an excitable nervous or bad tempered sow much more likely to kill her young than is a quiet animal, but she is more likely to have Bolton Greyhound Racing Company's a difficult time at farrowing. It is track was described to Bolton magisexcitable animal and many of the troubles that arise at farrowing are caused by sows being upset when heavy in pig. Some of the piglings will have a temperament similar to aged fifty, unemployed, pleaded guilty that of their mother and the quiet pigs invariably feed the best. It will thus be seen that it is very essential that a costs, and ordered to pay £10 each in breeding sow should be quiet, good tempered and docile.

PROLIFICACY. For comparative purposes we may roughly estimate the cost of a pigling at birth by dividing the cost of keeping the sow for half the year by the number of pigs weaned; thus the bigger the farrow the lower the cost of producing pigs.

It is very essential, therefore, that only prolific sows should be used for breeding. It must, however, be remembered, that many maiden sows produce first litters small in numbers. subsequently producing large ones Such sows, right in other respects, should therefore be given a second chance, but no more.

MOTHERING .- It is very necessary that the sow should be a good mother, Arthur's Black at £10. Arthur's Black that is to say produce plenty of milk and "mother" the piglings well.

THE BOAR.

It is a generally accepted principle that points that are common in both parents will be emphasised in the off spring. The boar should, therefore, possess many of the features we have seen to be essential in the sow.

A good boar should, therefore, b. -(1) Quiet, good-tempered and docile (2) Of a prolific strain; (3) Of sound constitution; (4) Well developed and of good conformation. With regard to temperament, in addition to the influence the boar will have upon his progeny it should be remembered is unpleasant to handle and often dan-

With reference to prolificacy, most breeders hold the opinion that the boar, if fertile, does not influence the size of the litters thrown by the sows he stocks. Thus it is only when his offspring are to be bred from that it is essential for him to be of a prolific strain. In addition to the above a good boar should be :-(a) a prepotent sire; (b) fertile and active.

POULTRY MANURE

CALCULATING ITS RESIDUAL VALUE.

An interesting point, says a writer in The North British Agriculturist, has been raised by some of the branches of the National Farmers Union in England in regard to poultry manure. The practice of folding large flocks of poultry over agricultural land is now greatly extending, for poultry production is now being regarded as a very important side-line in agriculture. It is reported of one farmer in the Midlands of England. for example, that he grazes his grasland alternately by a flock of sheep and a large flock of poultry, and as poultry to be profitable must necessarily be liberally fed with well-balanced foods, it can be understood that a considerable manufial residue of productive value must be left on the land. It has been found that the increased fertility due to the poultry manure has given earlier grass, and hence the claim that the unexhausted manurial value of feeding stuffs should apply under the Agricultural Holdings Act to grass upon which poultry have been folded out. Foods consumed by poultry are not at pre-"At what age was your mother mar-, sent covered by the Act, but in the conditions now operating in the sphere of modern poultry production. is is strongly felt that they should be It is understood that already in certain English counties it has actually been agreed to include poultry foods when calculating residual values, but it would be well that the principle should be generally recognised.

Turkeys intended for the Christmamarket should be fed more liberally from now onwards. A mash made up of ordinary cereals, wet with separated milk, or butter-milk, is most suit able for fattening purposes.

THE CHARGE.

I am told that there appeared on day last summer before a Washington (D.C.) police magistrate a very welldressed man, accompanied by an Irish policeman. "Well, what are you charged with?" asked his Honour. "I," stuttered the prisoner, "I'm ch-ch-chchar-char."- "Officer," interrupted belave he's charged with sody-wather.

Important Notice.

We wish to call the attention of our customers and the general public to the fact that we have erected a Walworth Patent Kiln at considerable expense to treat the native Grain which it is incumbent on us to mix with Maize, Under the new Cereals Bill the quantity of this Admixture has been raised by a recent order of the Department of Agriculture from 10 per cent. to 15 per cent.

Owing to this increased percentage to secure good sound Meat, the Kilndrying of the home-grown Grain is in our opinion absolutely necessary. We therefore, guarantee that the quota of native Grain used by this Firm in the Admixture will be Kiln-dried. This combined with the stone grinding at our Water-power Mill at Kiladangan.

should secure a first-class article We shall supply Maize Meal with the stipulated Admixture of either OATS or BARLEY. In the case of BARLEY being used a slight increase in price will be required.

As the percentage of admixture of Home-Grown Grain fixed on July, 24th at 25 per cent, has been further increased to 33 1-3 per cent, to come into force on October 9th, the KILN DRYING of native grain is still more necessary. Combined with KILN DRYING all native grain we have been dehulling the Oats since the increase of July 24th

Finally, we find the percentage of moisture in the new crop much in excess of that in last season's Crop.

FINALS AT DUNGARVAN.
On Sunday next November, 5th.,
two very important Football finals are down for decision in the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan. Lismore and Villiers-town meet in the Junior Football Final of the Western Division and on their previous records these teams should give thrilling displays as both are out to win or die. In the County Senior Football Final, Dungaryan will oppose De La Salle, and here in-deed there will be a splendid contest. Both teams are at their best and in view of the honours at stake, the game will be keenely contested from the throw-in to the final whistle. The public will have the opportunity on Sunday of witnessing high-class foot-ball at its best.

Present-Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., Chairman; Mrs. S. Hurley, P.C.; Capt. P. Dunne, Messrs. E. P. Lynch, Vice-Chairman; T. Beausang, D. J. Line-han, P. J. McMahon, P.C.; P. J. O'Gorman, J. Whelan, E. Clancy.

M.O. To Child Welfare Scheme. A letter was read form the Minister tely before it is sown with oats. L.G., regarding the employment of Dr. T. Kennedy, M.O.H., in connection with the Maternity and Child Welfare Scheme carried out by the Verstel District On the Maternity and Child welfare Scheme carried out by the land, as early Youghal District Nursing Association of the 9th March last might be regarded as sanction to the proposal of the Urban Council.

Dr. Kennedy wrote conveying his position of M.O. Maternity and Child most to make it a success.

A letter was read from the Hon. Sec. of the Association inviting the Chair-able. man, members and Town Clerk to be present at the first Clinic to be held on the 27th. October.

Proposed Dump At Muckridge. A letter was read from residents of Muckridge, protesting against the proposal to make a refuse dump as intended by the Council in the district. After some discussion, Mr. Mc-Mahon, proposed, and Mr. Linehan, seconded that the site selected be not accepted.

This was passed unanimously. Mr. Lynch, proposed, and Mr. Beausang, seconded, that they keep their Mr. McMahon said that wasn't an amendment. Mr. Hurley-That has been condemned by the Co. M.O.H.

The Clerk said it was a very difficult problem. Mrs. Hurley's suggestion of an incinerator was, perhaps the most feasible one.

Rent Of New Cottages. In connection with the question of the weekly rent for the new cottages, would be from 4/10 to 5/-. If the Counhave to be a subsidy of about 13d, in and insufficient.

the £ from the rates. Mr. McMahon-If the rent were 4/-, what would the ratepayers have to contribute never mind your decimals? (laughter).

The Clerk -1d, in the £ thought 3.6 would be a reasonable rent. It would be well the people should know that at that figure, the should know that at that figure, the and vigorous growth, and the plants glarly at Messrs. Martin and Blackweek towards the rent. Mr. Whelan agreed with Mr.

The Chairman-Goodness knows it is enough for the tenants.

After some further discussion, Mr. Whelan, proposed, that the rent be 3,6 This was seconded by Mr. Clancy and passed unanimously.

Clearance Areas. In reply to a question, the Clerk said those houses couldn't be given to anyone except persons taken out of the

Mr. Lynch asked what would happen if some of the people from the clearance areas weren't able to pay

The Clerk said the probabilities were that they wouldn't but that was a hypothetical question and it was a mistake to anticipate trouble.

After a very protracted and rambling discussion, the question of the declaagenda for the next meeting.

Suggested Factory. Mrs. Hurley said she had heard a suggestion that day week, which she thought should find favour amongst them-it was that some steps should be taken to start a glass factory in the locality. Youghal sand was most suitthat factories of various kinds were being started all over the Free State, the time was opportune. She sug-gested that they should approach the Minister for Industry and Commerce on the matter. The Chairman—On what authority do you say that Youghal sand is suitable for glass making?

The Clerk said that the sand had been tested by German experts some years ago and pronounced highly suit-

Mr. Lynch said it was all very fine to talk of factories, but would they get the local monied to stump up a share of the capital? That was the whole crex. They would get a grant all right if they could get the capital

Mr. Whelan said the Irish Credit Corporation would help if the people raised half the capital.

The Clerk was directed to write to the Ministers for Finance and Industry on the matter.

For a successful root crop it is essential that the land should be not only in the rooms of the Carnegie Library thorough'y cultivated, but also rendered absolutely free from weeds, otherwise the germination of the seed and the proper development of the young seedlings are interfered with. The soil must be clean, deep, and fine, yet not too dry at sowing time. Experience has taught the successful farmer that to attain such conditions the corn stubble should be ploughed as early as possible, so that he may reap the full benefit of the influence of air and frost in pulverising the soil.

The ploughing of lea ground is often delayed because of a mistaken idea as to the value of the winter grazing it affords. As very little growth takes place after the month at home complaining. > DIED AS PAUPER BUT LEFT £50,000 CLAIMANTS FOR FORTUNE.

The names of 700 Irishmen living in four continents have been paraded in the Court of the Master in Equity in Sydney in an endeavour to allocate a miser's fortune. Each one claimed that he was the direct heir of another Irishman, Martin Burke, when it was found, ten years after his death in poverty that he had left a fortune of selected by the court as most probable selves sometimes thrown into the river for their claims with Irish tenacity. Burke died in 1923, aged 80, in the Prince Alfred Hospital, Sydney, with were at his bedside; none of the 760 claimed the 14s 2d. But on the night of his death his former landlady noticed some lumps in his mattress. She investigated, and found £50,000 in notes and securities.

His history was traced and explained the mystery. Burke came from County Clare and setled in Australia locality. Youghal sand was most suitable for the purpose, and, considering police, and then joined the postal service. He retired in 1903 with the pension of postmaster. But with his small capital he carried out secret land transactions, which brought him a rich reward.

He won a fortune, but it made no change in his life. He lived as usual, contributed to no charities and carried his secret to the grave.

YOUGHAL NOTES.

WINTER NIGHTS.

Of late the very roads we walk call on us to "Boycott British" but it is the considered opinion of many good Irishmen that that suggestion can be carried too far. Was it Dean Swift that advised the Irish to burn everything English-but their coals and now the time has come when his advice is being taken up and acted upon. Nevertheless, someone has truly said we can learn occasionally from our enemies and here is a bit of wholesome advice from a writer in an English weekly:

"Nobody likes to think that the long summer evenings are gone. . . . but winter has come and with it those evenings that most of us waste so shockingly. Why not make this winter profitable? Of course, the winter is dull if you are content to do nothing about it. Take up something new Learn a new language. . . . go to a night class . . Take up cookery . . . Take up something that will qualify you to earn bigger money later on. Put a little real ambition into life instead of grumb-class . . . , but for Heaven's sake do something about it all People who have got there have made themselves valuable. They have slogged and earned a better salary and the extra fun brought with that extra salary . . . Winter evenings make the most excellent time to invest a little more capital of self to earn a bigger dividend for self. . . . Get out of the rut . . . Put some imagination into life. Get at it from another angle. Take up something-it doesn't matter what, but for goodness sake don't stop

This appears to be addressed to ladies, but it could be very easily paraphrased to suit many young fellows, whose present occupation seems unfortunately to be trying to kill time as pleasantly as possible. It is a great pity-a tragedy of our days-to see the many bright-looking boys with little or nothing to do, and perhaps worse, making no effort to prepare themselves for some of these unexpected opportunities which turn up from time to time.

HOUSEBREAKING-Seems to be growing a favourite practice amongst us of late. The local Garda Superintendent stated lately in Court that wood's last Saturday morning, was particularly daring, the thieves effecting an entrance by a gate at the back, facing the door of the Garda Barrack. This reprehensible practice was roundly denounced at Mass on Sunday morning, and the preacher said it was the duty of every decent person in the community to help the authorities to capture the culprit or culprits: Unfortunately, this absence of a proper civic spirit is very widespread and can be frequently seen in the senseless and wanton, sometimes dangerous destruction of public property. Lifelines attached to life-buoys placed on the quays and at bathing centres for the purpose of saving life being cut $50,000. Seven of the 700 have been and taken away and the buoys themclaimants, and now they are fighting or the sea. Last winter the ferry boat was hauled up alongside the Lifeboat House. To protect her from the weather, a valuable canvas cover pur-11s 2d., in his possession. No friends chased by the Council was wantonly slashed by some blackguards. > The news of the drawing for the first time and at long last by a Youghal resident of a horse in the Hospitals' Sweepstakes' was received with much rejoicing, for up to this time it looked as if Youghal was never to come into the limelight on this matter of course, there were a couple of hundreds won in former years, and this time a local gent won another, but it was with a ticket sent home from the U.S.A. It is probable that a very Conservative estimation of the amount spent on tickets by Youghal and the surrounding districts since the Sweepstakes were initiated is a five-figured one, anywhere over £10,000. Up to the present including the latest win, only about £1,000 has come back to the town and district. The only consolation left is that we have contributed perhaps ten times that amount to a good object, sez you!

Housing Dairy Cows in Winter.

ENSURING HEALTH AND CLEANLINESS.

On farms where it is customary to house dairy cows in winter there is little to be gained by delaying to bring them in at nights, especially when newly-calved cows are concerned.

Discussing this point in the current issue of the Journal of the English Ministry of Agriculture, Mr. H. G. Robinson, M.Sc., of the Midland Agricultural College, says that the extension of ranching systems of dairy farming under which cows are kept outside, winter and summer alike because winter and summer alike, has suggested that winter housing is a luxury that might well be less general. This form of dairy farming, however, is not well adapted to intensive condi-tions. It is necessary to have welltrained pastures with a sound bottom, a fair proportion of winter grazing available, and a certain amount of natural shelter. These conditions do not obtain universally, hence the desirability of housing. If suitable conditions are available for running milking cows out of doors the might have killed the owner as well as the dog. In another instance the dog was crossing an empty road when a van knocked him down without the drive set to down ing cows out of doors the whole of the winter, there are some advantages that of the ply his brakes or swerve. There was one case in w This is principally reflected in the building up and maintenance of a healthier herd. It is very easy to pamper stock, whereas exposure to natural conditions favours the law of the survi-

That does not mean, however, that dogs should The maintenance of a cooler interior not be under reasonable control in winter. The ideal system ensures the changing and circulation of air without apparent draughts. The latter or injure a dog, and will often incur when present are apt to be dangerous. Cleanliness in the production of milk is now legally necessary. The difficulties are sometimes increased in winter. The chief troubles arise from the lessness. A short time ago a County tendency of cows to soil themselves Court Judge awarded £50 damages with their dung and litter when lying against a man who had killed a valudom. This tendency is most marked able animal, and in announcing his where the length of the standings is such that the cows deposit their dung on the place which is occupied by their hindquarters when they lie down. To standings has been shortened in many instances with quite successful results. There is a danger, however, that standings may be so short as to be distinctly uncomfortable for the cows, and this feature is observable in many modern cowsheds. It seems desirable to study the comfort of the cow at rest, even, if down cattle before milking. The flooring of cow standings has received much intensive study. The ideal from the sanitary viewpoint is not always ideal for comfort. On the In most instances, concrete is utilised as the soundest material for flooring, but it is essential to have it underlaid with insulating material such as the soundest material such as the tends to soften the hardness, and it may well be borne in mind that, as an economy, chopped straw goes farther than long at the straw goes than long straw.

Incidentally, the use of chopped and applied to arable land throughout the winter with entirely satisfactory results. The use of a low-loading cart equipped with pneumatic tyres has proved an asset for this purpose.

The most recent development in cowshed flooring consists of the use of At Carrick-on-Suir District Court rubbed blocks or mats for the standings. It is too early to pass judgment item and a flooring that dispenses with litter is likely to prove an asset. Where in there is an abundance of straw, the Court, where they pleaded guilty.

DOGS ON THE ROAD.

RESPONSIBILITIES OF MOTORISTS.

By "PHILOKUON."

MY post bag recently has contained letters from readers of these articles whose dogs have met with mishaps on the road. Some have been killed by motor cars, and others injured.
"What action can we take?" ask the writers. In several cases the answer seemed to be clear, because the aggrieved parties had evidence to show that their dogs were in no way to blame. One driver exhibited a negliwithout the driver attempting to ap-

There was one case in which the owner had to be told that his dog apparently was to blame, and therefore it would be useless trying to seek damages. Diseases Which Follow the Beautif, ing your Homes and The_ Land.

A large and representative gathering of farmers met in the Schoolhouse Touraneena, on Sunday last (Oct. 29th) with a view to forming a branch of the United Ireland Party.

Mr. J. Power, presiding, said that he was extremely grateful to see such an enthusiastic gathering and that he hoped the organisation would be carried on in the same spirit in which it was started.

At one time lime was supposed to be a kind of general wonder-worker, a grand an oless grand compound for other manures. It was deluged on the land in tons to the acre. Then the customary reaction took place and land was supposed to the promotion of tree planting. The idea was first initiated by a small group of thoughtful citizens in the State of Nebraska, and has since to be getting so much artificials that lime was no longer necessary. DIED IN AMERICA.

News has come to hand of the death GREEN this must be added the need for making the disinfection of the soil part of the regular rotation. For this purpose was formerly Miss E. Norris, of Kilbracy, Rathgormack, Co. Waterford. She went to America 50 years ago. Last summer her nieces Sister M. Justin of the Dominican Order and Miss E. Norris, spent a holiday in Rathgormack, after 22 years absence in America.

A Negro taxicab driver was charged with having run down a pedestrian. WONDERFUL.

Well fleshed tegs and lambs met a Norah, fresh from old Ireland, stared at the baby's toy balloon, which dearer; trade generally firmer. First to hit some person, you should zigzag higher than her head, and was anchored to the back of a chair.

"Tis quare and wonderful entirely!" she said, raising her hands.

"To see it up—and balancin' its own self—and it standin' on a string!"

LABOURERS' ACTS, 1883 TO 1931.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS AND BUILDERS

The Waterford Board of Public Health will, at their Meeting to be held at the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Saturday, the 11th., November, 1933, consider Tenders for the Building of Cottages and the Fencing of Plots not previously contracted for.

The Plots are arranged in Groups, and intending Contractors for Cottages may tender for any number of Groups, but not for a smaller number of Cottages than that included in any one Group.

The Group System will not apply to fencing nor to the following Cotages in the Clonmel No. 2 Rural District, viz:—

No. of Plot.	Townland.
39. 38. 40. 35.	Glendaw, Glenpatrick, Glenpatrick, Poulavone,

Lists, giving the number and location of each Plot and particulars regarding each Group can be obtained on application to my Office, County Home, Dungarvan, where copies of Plans and Specifications can also be obtained on payment of Five Shillings.

The Provisions of Section 8 of the Housing (Financial and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1932, will apply to the Contracts, and it shall also be a condition of each Contract that preference be given to local labour.

Tenders on the Official Forms (t) be had on application) containing the names of two solvent sureties or of a Guarantee Society willing to join the person tendering in a bond in the sum of £300 for each. Cottage and £25 for the Fencing of each Plot included in his tender, must be lodged with me not later than 12 o'clock (noon) on the 11th. November, 1933.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.
