WATERFORD CO. COUNCIL.

APPOINTMENT OF SOLICITOR.

DOBBYN AND MCCOY CLAIM TO BE STILL SOLICITORS.

THE RATE COLLECTION.

A special meeting of the Co. Council was held on Tuesday. Mr. John Kiersey, Chairman, presided. There were also present—Messrs. P. O'Gorman, J. O'Donnell, G. J. Greene, W. O'Donnell, T. Power, John Power, D. Coghlan, L. Hallinan, J. Kirwan, P. Fitzgerald, J. Butler, W. Stack, J. F. Moloney, M. McGrath, J. Curran, T. Harty, M. Curran, M. Keane, O'Brien, P. Morrissey, M. F. Walsh, W. Cuffe, D. Heskin, P. Cunningham, J. J. Roche, T. Shipsey.

LATE MR. MCCOY, SOLR.

Mr. O'Gorman, moved and Mr. Curran, seconded a resolution of sympathy with the relatives of the late Mr. A. S. McCoy, solr., who had been solicitor to the Co. Council since its inception and paid tribute to his personal worth as a solicitor, who for courtesy and geniality could not be surpassed.

Mr. Bowen, on behalf of the officials paid eloquent testimony to the worth of the deceased. He said he had been closely associated with him for nearly 20 years, and he felt his loss very much. A more able and honourable man it would be difficult to find.

The Chairman in putting the vote joined in the tribute paid to Mr. McCoy's work, and said his place would be very hard to fill.

RATE COLLECTION.

Of last year's total rate warrant of £84,000, £40,310 was outstanding on the 23rd April, or 48 per cent. of the total. The amounts outstanding by each rate collector was—Mr. Quirk, £6,310; Mr. Nugent, £1,674; Mr. Quinlan, £1,788; Mr. Harty, £3,080; Mr. Cullinan, £2,814; Mr. N. Connors, £3,773; Mr. W. Connors, £3,833; Mr. Barry, £3,408; Mr. McCarthy, £2,840; Mr. Harty, £2,914; Mr. Condon, £872.

OVERDRAFT.

The Secretary said the Council's overdraft at the Bank was £37,588. The Chairman drew attention to the forms sent to all farmers relative to particulars of their employees with a view to their being given relief in rates. He said the forms were ambiguous and instanced a query relative to employees being in constant employment from April 1st to December 31st. If an employee left in September to better himself or for any other reason and the farmer had to get a man in his place, would he get the benefit.

Mr. Greene said an employee might join the Volunteers and so break his employment; he may get injured and be getting compensation, or he may be ill for a time. He thought the Ministry should settle those questions and give their ruling on them. According to the forms sent out, a man should be in continuous employment from 1st April to 31st December.

Mr. Heskin—They should allow for substitutes.

Mr. Halloran said the question of men engaged in other work such as horse-training, professional jockeys, etc., should be considered.

Mr. Greene—You cannot have agriculture without horses and they must be trained and they would be employees.

Mr. Greene's suggestion to ask the Ministry for a ruling on the points he raised was passed.

Mr. McGrath—You only get relief in rates in respect of male employees? Secretary—Yes.

Mr. McGrath referred to cases where a brother and sister might be joint owners and the brother would be rated.

Mr. Greene—If you have to employ as many men as we are told we must employ to get the full Agricultural Grant, it would be very hard to do so. A farmer of £100 Valuation would have to employ eight men and no farmer could do that. He knew no farmer of £100 Valuation employing more than two men. You would have casual labour.

Secretary—The Agricultural Grant is divided into three classes—Primary—Secondary and Supplementary. On the 1st £20 you get the same reduction as last year and also reduction this year in respect of each man employed.

GUARANTEE FUND.

Re the letter from the Department about the reduction in above due to the non-payment of annuities the Chairman said the time to deal with that was when they were striking the rate for the present year.

The Council approved the resolution of the Finance Committee.

A resolution was read from the Kildare Co. Council protesting against the scheme for the relief of rates on Agricultural land which raised the rates on many farmers who employed much casual labour; the great discrimination against holdings over £20 Valuation where mainly agricultural labourers were employed, etc.

Roscommon Co. Council also sent a resolution calling attention of the Ministry to the fact of farmers having daughters over 17 years who did all the work and by calf rearing, poultry-rearing, pig-rearing, etc., produced all the wealth of the country, and no allowance was made in respect of their work; also the case of farmers with large families under 17 years.

Both resolutions were unanimously adopted.

APPOINTMENT OF SOLICITOR.

The principal business of the meeting was the consideration of the appointment of a solicitor to the Council in place of Mr. McCoy, deceased.

Chairman—I propose that the business of the Council goes to the firm of Dobbyn and McCoy until such time as a new solicitor is appointed. My reason for doing that is that there is some work on hands in the office of Dobbyn and McCoy at present and after the long term that firm has acted as our solicitors it would be only fair they should get some breathing time to finish up. If you were to make a temporary appointment to-day, Dobbyn and McCoy, should hand over all documents in connection with our business at once and the person you appoint to-day may not be the person permanently appointed.

Mr. Fergus Power, solr., (Messrs. Dobbyn and McCoy) said there was no vacancy to fill in the office of solicitor to the Council. His firm (Dobbyn and McCoy) always did the business of the Council. All proceedings, letters, Paying Orders, etc., were always in the name of Dobbyn and McCoy, the firm was there still and so there was no vacancy for a solicitor. There was no question even of their appointment as solicitors to the Co. Council on the Minute Book.

The Chairman said the reason it was not stated on the minute book was because they were transferred officers.

Mr. O'Gorman—I was a member of the first Co. Council in 1899 and Mr. A. S. McCoy, was appointed solicitor to the Council. The late Mr. Paul, was Secretary and he stayed in the job for 6 months, but as no person was appointed Secretary by the Council in that time he was in the same position as a transferred officer. It was I proposed after a few months that Mr. McCoy be appointed solicitor. No one objected to him and he got the position. It was Mr. McCoy and not the firm of Dobbyn and McCoy was appointed.

The Secretary said there was nothing on the Minutes about it.

Mr. Greene—I intended to bring forward that question. Every bill of costs came from Dobbyn and McCoy; all paying orders were issued to the firm and all letters were signed in the firm's name. That put me in a quandary as to where we stood and I was taken by surprise to find there was nothing on the minutes about the matter. Until we get proper legal advice on our position we would be putting ourselves in a rather awkward position by appointing a solicitor. I would be very reluctant until we are fully informed on the question to make a permanent appointment. Why were letters addressed and paying orders made payable to Dobbyn and McCoy and not to Mr. McCoy? It was not clear to him that there was a vacancy. It would be a very dangerous experiment to declare a vacancy until they were quite sure such existed.

Mr. Stack—He is dead anyway.

Mr. Heskin proposed, they appoint a solicitor to the Council at the May Quarterly Meeting.

Mr. Walsh, seconded.

Mr. J. O'Donnell said he would second the Chairman's proposal that the business of the Council be left in Dobbyn and McCoy's office until they made the appointment of solicitor.

Mr. M. Curran—And when we have legal advice whether we can make the appointment or not.

Mr. O'Gorman—If you have not the L.G.D. will soon tell you.

The Chairman said a letter had just been received from the L.G.D. stating they had no objection to a temporary arrangement pending the making of an appointment.

Secretary—That is in reply to a letter of mine.

Mr. O'Gorman—That shows an appointment is to be made.

Secretary—I may be wrong in saying that Mr. McCoy was solicitor to the Council.

Mr. Halloran—Was not Mr. McCoy our solicitor? Secretary—Mr. Power says it was the firm of Dobbyn and McCoy were solicitors.

the Co. Councils, these bodies had the right to select their own staffs.

Chairman—I was under the impression that the Co. Surveyor, Co. Solicitor, and Secretary were all transferred Officers.

In reply to questions, Mr. O'Gorman said the late Secretary, Mr. Paul was not a transferred Officer. He acted as Secretary to the new Council and as the latter did not appoint a Secretary of their own in the first 6 months he automatically became Secretary.

Mr. Butler said the firm of Dobbyn and McCoy was mentioned in the resolution submitted and asked were they again appointing the firm in a temporary capacity. Mr. Power of the firm of Dobbyn and McCoy says there is no vacancy to fill.

Mr. O'Gorman—I hold there is a vacancy.

Mr. Greene thought legal advice should be sought on the question. This Council cannot solve a legal dispute.

Mr. O'Gorman—There is no legal question at all. You are only trying to make it a legal question.

Chairman—I will amend my resolution to read—"That Mr. Power, representing the firm of Dobbyn and McCoy act as solicitor to the Co. Council until such time as a successor is appointed."

Mr. Greene proposed, that the following words be added to the resolution:—"Subject to legal advice being obtained if there is a vacancy."

Mr. McGrath—From what quarter? Mr. Greene—That is for the Council. Chairman—We should take up the attitude that it is within our right to appoint a solicitor. I disagree with the point made by Mr. Fergus Power, for if the firm of Dobbyn and McCoy passed into the hands of a Dublin firm to-morrow, surely they would not step in and be solicitors to the Co. Council here.

Mr. Greene said his idea in having legal advice was to save the Council from any trouble afterwards.

Mr. Butler said if Mr. Greene's addendum to the resolution was carried no appointment could be made that day.

Mr. Power, solr.—All your resolutions are based on the assumption that there is a vacancy. All documents, payments, etc., were in the name of the firm Dobbyn and McCoy. Nothing was ever mentioned about Mr. McCoy.

Mr. O'Gorman—At the meeting 35 years ago at which a solicitor was appointed only the name of Mr. McCoy was mentioned. The firm was not mentioned.

Mr. Butler said by the resolution they were appointing Mr. Power as temporary solicitor. They should have an assurance that Mr. Power would act.

Mr. Power—Dobbyn and McCoy are the solicitors to the Co. Council and until a vacancy is declared you cannot make an appointment.

Mr. McGrath said the onus should be thrown on the Ministry to advise on the position.

Mr. J. Curran—If you create a vacancy here to-day, the firm of Dobbyn and McCoy complain it is not right and take proceedings.

Mr. Greene—We will be special defendants.

Chairman—The L.G.D. will not give you legal advice.

Mr. Heskin—It would be subject to sanction.

Chairman—Everything is in our own hands.

Mr. O'Gorman—Advise for a solicitor to be appointed this day month and let the business go on as usual.

The Chairman moved—"That the representative of the late Mr. A. S. McCoy, solr., carry on the work of the Council until May 22nd., and that we advertise the position of solicitor to the Council on a basis of taxed costs. The appointment to be made on May 22nd."

gard to Dobbyn and McCoy's claim that they are still solicitors to the Council.

Chairman—They have no claim. Mr. Butler—But it is made by Mr. Power.

Mr. Power solr.—As to whether there is a vacancy in the office of solicitor to the Council, it is a question of fact there is no vacancy and you can take no steps to fill it and you cannot deal with it at this meeting.

The Chairman said he would put Mr. Heskin's amendment to the meeting. It was as follows:—"That the representatives of the late A. S. McCoy carry on the work of the Co. Council until 22nd May, 1934 in room of the late Mr. A. S. McCoy and that the position of solicitor to the Council on a basis of taxed costs be advertised for the May Meeting."

Mr. Halloran, seconded. The voting was as follows:—"For the amendment—Messrs. Halloran, Keane, O'Brien, McGrath, Stack, Hallahan, Fitzgerald, Coghlan, Cunningham, Roche, Heskin, O'Gorman, Cuffe, Morrissey, Shipsey, T. Power—(48)."

Against—Messrs. M. Curran, Harty, J. Curran, Greene, J. O'Donnell, W. O'Donnell, J. Power and the Chairman—(8).

Did not vote—Messrs. J. F. Moloney, Kirwan, and Butler—(3).

The amendment was declared carried. Mr. Greene proposed and Mr. J. O'Donnell, seconded—"That legal advice be obtained as to whether a vacancy exists in the Office of solicitorship to the Co. Council by reason of the death of Mr. A. S. McCoy, member of the firm of Messrs. Dobbyn and McCoy."

The voting was as follows:—"For—Messrs. M. Curran, Harty, Butler, J. Curran, Moloney, Greene, J. O'Donnell, W. O'Donnell, J. Power, —(9)."

Against—Messrs. Halloran, Keane, O'Brien, Stack, Hallahan, Fitzgerald, Cunningham, Roche, Heskin, O'Gorman, Cuffe, Morrissey, Shipsey, Kiersey, T. Power, Coghlan—(16)."

Did not vote—Messrs. McGrath and Kirwan—(2).

The amendment was declared carried. The Secretary asked about the conditions to be advertised in the appointment; where the solicitor would have his office, etc.

Mr. Heskin—You have the telephone. Mr. O'Gorman—Except you put in any conditions about age and length of experience as solicitor.

Mr. Heskin—Leave it as it is.

Chairman—Put in the conditions that the solicitor appointed should attend the meetings of the Council.

Mr. Butler—He would submit his bill and it would be taxed.

Mr. Bowen said the officials of the Council would require legal advice six times a day and it would be very inconvenient to have a solicitor a long distance away. You often have very complicated business which you cannot do over the phone.

Mr. Heskin—If a solicitor is wanted six times a day you should appoint a whole time officer.

It was agreed to advertise for a solicitor on the basis of taxed costs, the appointment to be made at the meeting of the Co. Council on May 22nd.

Kilmacthomas District Court

(Before Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J.)

LATE MR. MCCOY, SOLR.

At the sitting of the Court, His Worship, referred to the recent death of Mr. A. S. McCoy, solr., and paid a well deserved tribute to his professional and social abilities. He tendered to his widow and relatives his deep sympathy.

Dr. Counihan, solr., Mr. Kiersey, solr., and Supt. Dennehy, also joined in the tribute.

Arrears Of Rates. Nicholas Connors, rate collector, Stradbally, sued Mr. N. Wall, Kilmacthomas, and Mrs. Flahavan, do., for the sums of £40 5s. 1d. and £69 14s. 4d., respectively. Dr. Counihan, appeared for the applicant. Neither of the respondents were present in Court, and they were not professionally represented.

Dr. Counihan said that the usual six-day notice was served in both cases.

Mr. Connors, produced the rate book, showing the amounts due. Decrees were granted, together with 25/- costs in each case.

Gardai Prosecutions. Fines ranging from 1/- to 2/6 and Court costs were imposed in a big list of Gardai prosecutions—chiefly breaches of the Lights Act—disposed of. The complainants were—Sergt. Dunne, Kilmacthomas, Guard Boyle, do.; Guard J. A. Parke, Leamybrien, and Guards Nevin, Burke, and Lucy, Kill.

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

Held on Wednesday before Mr. Troy, D.J.

Crotty V. Whelan.

In the adjourned case of J. J. Crotty, Grattan, Square, Dungarvan, against M. Whelan, St. Garvan's Terrace, for £11 8s. 10d., balance of an old account running between the parties for some time.

Mr. Ryan, solr., for the plaintiff, said that the defendant appeared in person at the previous Court with some receipts, which under some mistaken notion the defendant thought were receipts for some of the items in the account. Naturally, his (Mr. Ryan's) client resented that.

The Justice said he was satisfied that any of the receipts he had before him on the last day were not included in the account.

Licensing Prosecution.

Superintendent Walsh, charged Mrs. B. Quill, Ballymacmague, with a breach of the Licensing Act.

Patrick Longan, John Power, and Jas. Kiely, were charged with being on the premises.

Mr. Farrell, solr., appeared for the Publican, Messrs. Power and Longan, and pleaded guilty to the offence.

Guard O'Leary, in reply to the Supt. said he visited the premises on Sunday February 18th, and found the three defendants there. A young son of the licensee was in charge. The licensee told him afterwards that she did not know the men were there as she was not well and was upstairs resting. Kiely gave a wrong name at first. The house is a well conducted one.

James Kiely, in reply to the Justice said the reason he gave a wrong name was because he thought the Guard knew him.

The Justice imposed a fine of 10/- on the publican, not to be recorded. The men found on the premises were fined 2/6 each, with a further 5/- on Kiely for giving a wrong name.

Insurance Policy.

Mr. Ryan, solr., for plaintiff, Mr. Farrell, solr., for defendants. John Prendergast, Buttery street, Dungarvan, sued the City of Dublin Insurance Co., for £13 16s. on foot of a life policy taken out by plaintiff on his father.

Mr. Ryan, opening the case said it was one in which his client took out an Insurance policy on the life of his father, Patrick Prendergast. The premiums were paid in full and he submitted it was a case in which the Insurance Co., was acting shabbily in relying on a condition in the policy, which is that if the insured died within six months of the taking out of the policy, quarter of the amount would be paid, and if the insured died after six months and before the policy was out 12 months, half of the amount would be paid. After the 12 months from the taking out of the policy the full amount would be paid. The conditions in the policy stated calendar months and he was obliged to his friend, Mr. Farrell, for informing him of the difference between a calendar and lunar month. He would prove that fifty-three weekly premiums had been paid, whether the months were calendar, lunar, or Bolshevist. His client was offered half the amount, but the cheque was returned.

John Prendergast, deposed that he took out a life policy on his late father, who would have been 69 years on his next birthday. He gave the date accurately and the policy was for £13 16s., the premium was for 1/- a week. The date of the proposal was February 27th 1933, but he did not receive the policy until March, 1933. His father died on February 21st, 1934. The premium paid on February 27th, was in respect of the week commencing Feb., 20th., 1933. Witness paid 53 weekly premiums up to the date of his father's death. It was Mulcahy, an agent of the Company, who asked him to take out the policy. He made his claim to Mr. O'Brien, Church street, after his father's death, and O'Brien remarked he made a good run for it and just got there (laughter).

Mr. Ryan—By a short head (laughter).

Witness said O'Brien told him he would give him the benefit of the doubt, and that I had won the race by two days.

Mr. Ryan—It was a good way to put it, if he is a horse man.

Witness, continuing, said he got back a cheque for half the amount and an expression of sympathy on the loss I had sustained.

Mr. Ryan—They gave you their sympathy, but not the money.

By Mr. Farrell—Witness said it was not his signature that was on the proposal form. He never saw the form until now. The writing must be Mulcahy's. He never signed anything. He was able to read and write, but never took much notice of the conditions in the policy. Mr. O'Brien thought he was entitled to the full amount of the policy.

Mr. Farrell—So then Mr. O'Brien is not one of the crooked agents.

Mr. Ryan—I never said that any agent was crooked, I said in my opening statement that they were good businessmen with persuasive tongues, otherwise they would not be in their jobs.

Mr. Farrell said that a calendar year was a year of 365 days, in this case the insured person died after 356 days.

Mr. Ryan—The day he died he spent half of it in this world and let us hope the other half in Heaven. How will you apportion that?

Witness, continuing said he did know something about calendar and lunar months.

The Justice—If you got £20 and had to pay it back in 3 months from Jan., 31st., what date would you pay it back on?

Witness—On April 30th.

Mr. Farrell—Anyone who can read or write are expected to read the conditions on a policy.

Ed. O'Brien, said he was an Insurance Inspector for the City of Dublin Insurance Co. He saw John Prendergast and offered him the £6 18s., it was half benefit, he refused it. There were fifty-three premiums paid. The Justice—How did that happen.

Witness—They must have been paid in advance.

Mr. Farrell—Suppose a premium was paid on a Friday, what day would it date from.

Witness—The previous Monday.

Mr. Ryan asked the witness if the Company had a person in the office with a stop watch ready to clock a person to see if he goes off before or after the 12 months (laughter).

Witness—The date on the death certificate that counts.

Mr. Ryan—Isn't it a fact that there were 53 premiums paid. It puzzles you seeing that there were only 52 weeks due. If the insurance dated back to February 20th, plaintiff would have beaten the Company by one day.

Witness, in reply to further questions, said if the 1/- a week was paid regularly, 53 premiums could not have been paid. If witness was insuring a person he would go to see him and see if the life was good.

Mr. Ryan—How would you know if the life was good, you are not a medical man.

Witness—To see that he was not sick or in the bed. I would not insure a person that was sick or attending a doctor.

Mr. Ryan—We would all know about a man's health if he was dead. It would be all right if he was dressed up for the day. Did the proposer sign the proposal form in your presence? Is that your signature as witness on the proposal form?

Witness—It is.

Mr. Ryan—Was the proposer present when you signed?

Witness—No.

Mr. Ryan—The form says that John Prendergast signed the document in the presence of E. F. O'Brien. Is that a forged document.

The Justice—Who signed it? Witness—It was the agent that brought it to me.

The Justice, after hearing legal arguments for Mr. Farrell and Mr. Ryan, said that the book clearly showed to him that the premiums commenced on February 27th. He also took into account that the plaintiff in his evidence admitted that Mr. Mulcahy explained to him that if the insured person died after 6 months and before 12 months, that he would only be entitled to half benefit, and as there was no medical examination the Company took a fair risk. If the insured lived 12 months the insurer would be the gainer and even with 6 months the insurer is still the gainer. There was nothing unfair and he would decide that claimant is only entitled to half.

Mr. Farrell said the money was lodged in Court.

Unemployment Insurance. The Minister for Industry and Commerce, prosecuted M. Drohan, with making a false declaration as regards unemployment.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, S.S., prosecuted M. Farrell, solr., defended and pleaded guilty to the offence. He asked for lenient treatment and showed that the defendant, although entitled to do so did not draw unemployment benefit recently. Defendant has a family of ten.

Mr. Ryan said that while he did not wish to press the case unduly, owing to the large family which the defendant had, he should say that when this false declaration was made the defendant was in receipt of £3 10s. a week. Any man that can get £3 10s. a week now is not badly off. By making the declaration the defendant was trying to defraud his fellow-workers. Fortunately, cases of the kind were very rare in Dungarvan. What he would like to be known is that the penalty for this offence is imprisonment, and that it is at the option of the Justice to impose a fine.

Mr. Farrell—The amount is paid back.

The Justice said he would take that fact into account and impose a fine of 5/- with 10/- costs and give a month to pay.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Messrs. J. R. Smyth, P.C., Chairman; M. J. Fleming, P. J. McMahon, P.C.; D. J. Linehan, D. Dennehy, P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.; T. Beausang, A. J. Fowkes, M. D. Broderick, J. Kennedy.

Sympathy.

The Chairman moved a vote of sympathy with their Vice-Chairman, his brothers and sisters on the sad and tragic death of their mother. At their last meeting the whole Council had expressed their sympathy on the death of their father.

Mr. McMahon—We'll go out with whips and whip them in.

The subject then dropped.

Cost Of Houses.

Mr. P. Kenneally, Contractor, wrote re Field at Parknapike—"I am in receipt of yours of the 7th, in reply to mine of the 5th, in which you state 'that it will be open for me to submit a tender when the houses will be put up for public contract in the near future.' I would point out that my letter wasn't intended as a tender and was only to show that the field I offered to the Council (in which there is sewerage, water and gas) was economic and that the houses could be built on it for the all-in-cost of £300.

Breach In Sea Wall.

The Clerk reported that as a result of recent storms and high tides a serious breach had been made in the sea wall opposite Rick Lodge. He had notified the Co. Council and the Assistant Co. Surveyor, and had been informed that the work of repair would start on Monday.

Strand Road.

Mr. O'Gorman asked how the road stood as regards the road opposite the Esplanade. It was in a shocking condition.

The Clerk said they were getting a contribution of £150 from the Co. Council—£75 towards the upkeep of that road and £75 towards the scavenging.

Mr. Whelan said a lot of people had complained to him about that road; it was in a desperate state.

Mr. O'Gorman said the summer was approaching and steps should be taken without further delay to repair that road.

Mr. Dennehy said from the tourist point of view that was one of the most important roads in the County and shouldn't be neglected as it was.

Mr. O'Gorman said the road at Claycastle had been repaired recently but if tar or breeze were not put on the surface, the dust nuisance during the summer months would be awful.

Mr. Broderick said his impression was that the Council had taken over the Strand Road so that there might be no delay in having it seen to if the occasion arose. He suggested that they procure an estimate of the cost of repairing it.

It was finally decided to have the necessary steps taken to put the road in proper repair.

House Sites Report.

Mr. Whelan asked if Mr. Bloomer's report on the additional housing sites had yet been received.

The Clerk said he had written for the report on 24th March, 5th, 12th, and 18th April, but had not received any reply so far.

Mr. Broderick said that proved clearly that the Council were not responsible for the delay in going on with the new scheme. He, in common with his colleagues were most anxious to go ahead with the scheme, but they were held up in the absence of the Inspector's report. He would also like the people-workers and ratepayers—to know that while the Government would grant £200 to every £100 at the start of the scheme, the ratepayers would have to contribute over £200 yearly for ever to subsidise the scheme. They heard a lot about all the houses the Government were building, but only for the ratepayers substantial subsidy not a single one would be built.

The Clerk said the subsidy would mean about 6d. in the £.

Mr. Beausang didn't agree. If they didn't take the Government's offer of £200 to every £100, other towns would get it as the money came out of what they smoked and drank, they might as well have the benefit. What about the old scheme?

The Clerk said that scheme was just now economic, thanks to certain legislation. It would not be so with the present and future schemes.

Mr. O'Gorman said certain members of the Council had been wrongly blamed for holding up the scheme. It had now been made known who was holding up the scheme.

The Chairman—The Clerk has shown that.

Mr. O'Gorman proposed that the Clerk write directly to the Minister on the matter.

Mr. McMahon, seconded. The holding up of the scheme was nothing but an election dodge.

Mr. Beausang said he had got as much abuse as any of them, but he didn't see why they should complain about 1d. or 2d. in the £1.

Mr. O'Gorman said the Clerk had shown that it was going to cost the ratepayers 6d. in the £ for many years but they were prepared to go ahead with the work as quickly as possible.

Mr. Broderick said that rate would not cost some people a single penny, but would cost others a substantial amount. Nevertheless, they were all ready and anxious to go on with the work.

Mr. Dennehy said he always supported the scheme. He hadn't heard anything of the indictment complained of, but he did hear that they were too fond of watching the rates.

Mr. O'Gorman said undoubtedly they had been indicted and for some certain purpose.

Mr. Dennehy said he was a ratepayer and had consulted his conscience in that matter. He considered he would be guilty of a grievous injustice if they didn't avail of the Government's offer. The poor people should have got those houses seven or eight years ago.

The Chairman said every member of the Board was anxious to go on with the scheme.

Mr. O'Gorman said they wanted to make it clear to the public that it was the authorities in Dublin who were solely responsible for the delay.

Mr. Dennehy said if some of those gentils in Dublin were compelled to live in Carey's Lane and other slums like it for a time, they would put a move on.

Mr. Whelan said the onus for the delay had now been placed on the proper shoulders and the people could see for themselves that the Council wasn't to blame for the delay.

Mr. Dennehy—There's Clonmel, for instance (laughter).

Mr. McMahon—We have heard all that before. Let us go on with the business.

Mr. Dennehy said some members could speak as often as they liked, while others couldn't. He claimed the right to express his opinions as well as anybody else.

Mr. O'Gorman's proposition was ultimately passed unanimously.

The Town Wall.

A letter was read from Mrs. Smith, Warren House Hotel, London, stating she didn't acknowledge any responsibility for the upkeep of the old Town Wall adjoining her property, and was, therefore, unable to share the cost of the repair.

Mr. McMahon—She ought shut up so.

Gas For Industry.

The Gas Committee submitted a report, recommending a reduction in the price of gas for industrial purposes to 3/6 per 1,000.

On the proposition of Mr. McMahon seconded by Mr. Broderick, the recommendation was unanimously adopted.

Meat Inspection.

The Co. M.O.H., submitted the Veterinary Surgeon's report on his inspection of the meat for the month, which was very satisfactory.

Altering Electric Cables.

The Clerk read a letter from the E.S.B., stating that the cost of re-laying underground, the electric cables through the field suggested as a housing site opposite the Mental Hospital would be £212 (laughter). If the Council undertook to adequately wire the house they would make a reduction.

Lighting Of Strand.

A largely and influentially signed memorial was received from the residents in the Strand District pointing out that the summer season usually ended very early and suggested that if the promenade were electrically flood-lighted when the evenings became short, visitors would be encouraged to stay on longer. This would greatly enhance the business, not alone of the Strand District, but of the town in many ways. They requested the Council to favourably consider the project of putting up about 24 lights on the place.

Mr. Broderick—What would the cost be?

The Clerk said he didn't know. Mr. McMahon said there was a resolution on the books in favour of gas as against electrical lighting, and that should be first rescinded before any move could be made.

Mr. O'Gorman said the request of so many large ratepayers from the Strand deserved careful consideration. If the project would not cost too much they might see their way to do something.

Messrs. Broderick and Dennehy agreed.

After a short discussion, it was unanimously decided, on the proposition of Mr. O'Gorman, seconded by Mr. Broderick, to make inquiries as to the probable cost of lighting the Strand as suggested by electricity and by gas.

The Rates.

Mr. Broderick asked how Youghal stood as regards the payment of rates to the Co. Council. His impression had been that Youghal was doing as well as any other town and that they, therefore, didn't deserve the censure passed on them, and so prominently published in the Press.

The Clerk said that on the very night that report appeared in the "Echo," he held a receipt for a payment of £600, for which they didn't get credit. That meant that they had 52.8 per cent of their rates lodged with the Co. Council at the time. He expected that the full amount of their demand would be discharged at their next financial meeting.

Mr. Broderick said that fact should be noted by the Press in justice to Youghal. How did they stand as regards the collection and lodgment made by Mr. Condon?

The Clerk said that the agenda for their monthly financial meeting had gone out eight days previously, and therefore, it was impossible to deal with Mr. Condon's lodgment before the meeting of the Co. Council at which those statements had been made.

Mr. Broderick said the Clerk's statement had cleared the air and it was only fair to the ratepayers of Youghal that the facts should be made known.

Mr. Whelan said Youghal had been very adversely criticised. The facts put before them showed that the town was able and willing to discharge its liabilities.

Mr. O'Gorman—Will we liquidate fully our debt to the Co. Council at next financial meeting?

The Clerk—There is no reason why you shouldn't.

ON CANADIAN RANCHING LIFE.

An esteemed reader of the "Observer," from Calgary, Alberta, Canada, writes:—

As I have been in receipt of the "Observer" every week since 1918 from friends in the old land, you may be sure it is an interesting link with home and the news we always find interesting from both sides of the Blackwater.

Calgary is about four days journey by train from Montreal on the Atlantic sea board. We are only a day's journey from Vancouver on the Pacific side. Calgary is known as the "city of the Foothills," altitude 4,000 feet, on the slopes of the Canadian Rockies. The population is about 90,000, comprising Scotch, English, Irish and Welsh. The Scots predominate in all the Western Canadian provinces. In recent years a good number of Europeans have taken up their domicile here. The Irish population of the city would run to about 3,000, the majority of them being from Northern Ireland. One meets an odd Corkonian or Waterford man, but they unfortunately are few. The West of Ireland has a good proportion from Mayo and Clara, while the districts surrounding Dublin are well represented. The district around Calgary has been gradually broken up from Ranch lands of thousands of acres into farms varying from 160 to 640 acres each. The land is well adapted to the growing of hard wheat owing to the dry climate with scarcely any rain after June. Root crops, unless in low lying lands or in the vicinity of sloughs (ponds or small lakes) or where irrigation is supplied are somewhat retarded from the dry conditions prevailing. Nevertheless, the richness of the soil is remarkable for the prolific growth of all vegetables. Though the few remaining large ranch holdings are being split up to provide settlement for those desirous of taking up land for Agricultural purposes. Some are retained by old pioneer families such as the Burns and the Cross Family. The former who established the meat-packing industry in Calgary is now Senator Burns in the Federal House of Parliament, and is of Irish-Canadian stock (Co. Clare) and known throughout the Dominion of Canada as "Pat Burns the Cattle King." Mr. Burns has been instrumental in putting Calgary well in front of any of the cities of its size in the West. From a jobber to a millionaire packer he has succeeded within half a century mark.

The famous Calgary Stampede, held for a week every summer has also attracted many visitors from practically all over the Globe, since its inception in 1912. During that week the West lives again in the old reminiscences of the past, when Calgary was a cow town, cow boys, cow girls, broncho busters, pioneers and the Red Skins, all congregate for the big family re-union and make whoopee during the week of the Stampede. This gives a brief resume of the location of Calgary and what agricultural development has been made within the past 50 years. Each year new lands are developed and the vast prairie and grazing lands of bygone days, where the Bison, Wild horse, and the Indian roamed at will, now has its more extensive farm lands divided into suitable allotments according to the expansion of the individual who settles on the land. It is claimed that the hard northern wheat grown in Alberta is second to none and proven by the many awards given even at the grain exhibitions across the line each year.

HIGH-CLASS CO. WATERFORD BULLS. GREAT VICTORY AT LIMERICK SHOW.

There was a striking illustration of the superiority of the High-Class Dairy Stock produced in the County Waterford at the Annual Limerick Show and Sale of Bulls, on Friday last, when the well-known exhibitor and breeder—Mr. C. O'Connor Grange, Youghal, beat all comers in the class for half-bred Dairy Bulls, and annexed the Championship of the Show as well. Mr. O'Connor won 1st prize in the class for Half-bred Dairy Bulls, calved after March 1st, 1933, with his splendid exhibit Grange Conqueror and was second with another grand type of dairy Bull in Killesboro' Jack. With "Grange Conqueror" he won the Boyd Cup for best yearling Bull as also the Championship Gold Medal, presented by the Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society for best Dairy Shorthorn Bull—pure-bred or half-bred. Both animals were ment's Inspectors. Grange Conqueror was sold for 38 guineas to the Department of Agriculture and Killesboro' Jack to a Co. Clare buyer for 26 guineas.

Mr. R. Crotty, Ballinaclogh, Tramore, sold an Aberdeen Angus Bull to the Department at 3 1/2 guineas.

SYMPATHY.

Kilrossanty parishioners all deeply regret the death of their good friend, Miss Mary O'Phelan, who was a native of Comeragh and was sister of the late Rt. Rev. Dom Maurus O'Phelan, Lord Abbot of Mount Mellerey. The worthy members of a fine old stock of the Decies, she was liked by all; an humble generous-hearted genuine gentlewoman, a kind neighbour, and a sterling Catholic. She had been one of the few remaining landmarks connected with the past, whom we are sorry to lose, and she deserves everything good that can be said of her. On behalf of young and old in Comeragh Valley, we hereby express sincere sympathy to the deceased lady's niece, Mrs. T. K. Keohan, Cork, and to the other immediate relatives of the dear departed one.—Beannacht De la n-anam.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

At the weekly meeting of the Dungarvan Urban Council held on Friday, Mr. J. Butler, Chairman, presided.

FINANCE.

The weekly paysheet, which amounted to £15 8s. 2d., was passed.

FREE MILK SUPPLY.

A letter from the Department stated that the Minister approved of the recommendations made by Dr M. Casey, M.O.H., and requested that advertisements for tenders for T.F. milk be issued in the local Press.

Mr. Clancy—The question is, can you get a Contractor to do it. Chairman—It is not to exceed 1/- per gallon for tubercular free milk.

Dr. Casey, who attended, said that farmers could get their herds tested next week, and in six months have them tested again.

Chairman—The present contract is for one month and will expire at the end of this month. You could not at present get a tubercular free herd in Dungarvan.

Mr. Clancy—We should ask the Minister to let us continue as at present for another month, and then it would give time.

Mr. O'Donnell—The Department says to advertise forthwith.

Mr. Dec—We must make an effort to get tubercular-free milk, according to their letter.

Mr. Power—If we cannot get it, it will not be our fault.

Chairman—According to our Veterinary Inspector, there is no tubercular-free herd available.

Dr. Casey—It was stated at the last meeting that there was no tubercular-free herd available, but there could have been herds tested since I don't know. The present position is that we can only advertise for 5 months to September, at 1/- per gallon, and at 1/4 per gallon to March 31st next.

Mr. Clancy—You must give a little time, ten days is not sufficient.

Dr. Casey—Suppliers with tubercular free herds must know that there are also other conditions to be carried out, such as cleanliness, etc.

It was decided to ask the Department to allow existing arrangements to stand for another month, and in the meantime advertisements be issued for the four months ending September 30th.

EX-T.C.'S SUPERANNUATION

A letter was received from Mr. A. Farrell, solicitor, in connection with the amount of superannuation granted by the Council to the relatives of the late Mr. P. Mulcahy, ex-Town Clerk. The letter stated that, as there seemed to be no way of getting over the difficulty of receiving the sanction of the Minister before the overdraft would be given, his clients had instructed him to request the Council to pay the money out of the rates by yearly instalments, and would suggest that £100 be struck in the current year's rates.

Chairman—I am glad that the people now realise that it wasn't the Council who were holding up matters.

Mr. McCarthy—Everybody blamed the Council, and the Department was trying to put the blame on us.

Chairman—I am glad these people know the facts now. The matter was adjourned until the estimates were being adopted.

APPROVAL.

The Department were approving of the proposal of the Council to grant Mr. Walsh, Water Inspector, a sum of £6 in connection with extra work dealing with the Town Water Supply during last summer. They also approved of the sum of £4 to J. Costin, in regard to the same work.

HALL PORTER'S INCREASE.

Mr. McCarthy asked if the 5/- a week increase had been paid to the hall porter.

Chairman—The Department said it was a matter for the Council and did not require their sanction.

Clerk—There was no order made to have it paid.

Chairman—I understood it was being paid.

It was ordered that the increase be paid forthwith.

NEW HOUSES.

A report from the engineer stated that the new houses at Loughmore were practically completed.

A letter from Mr. Murphy, engineer, to the housing scheme, asked that his travelling expenses be paid by the Council. The letter referred to the Minister's letter to the Council which stated that he would raise no objection to the payment of the engineer's expenses.

As the Council had previously refused to grant expenses, the letter was initiated.

Replying to Mr. O'Donnell, the Clerk stated that the respective amounts paid to the Contractors up-to-date were—Housing Loan of £17,984; amount paid out £16,678; Roads Loan of £3,370; amount paid out £1,950.

Tenants and Sub-Tenants

INTERESTING CASE AT DUNGARVAN.

DEATH DOES NOT TERMINATE A TENANCY.

At the Dungarvan Circuit Court on Thursday week, before Mr. Justice Sealy.

Mr. J. A. Lynch, sought possession of a house at Emmet street, Dungarvan, from Mrs. Fitzgerald, and her husband.

The defence was that the defendants held the house as sub-tenants. Mr. Maguire, B.L., (instructed by E. A. Ryan, solr.) for the plaintiff and Mr. McEnery, B.L., (instructed by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr.) defended.

Plaintiff, as owner of a house at Emmet street, let it in 1925 to the late Sergt. McCarthy, as tenant. He died about 1931 and soon after his daughter Mrs. Walsh, came to the plaintiff and asked him to allow her mother, who was old and infirm, to remain on as tenant of the house, and she would be responsible for rent, etc. This was agreed to. Mrs. McCarthy, died last November, and soon after, Mrs. Walsh agreed to give up possession of the house to the plaintiff. But when the time for surrender came, she (Mrs. Walsh) said that Mrs. Fitzgerald, whom she put into the house to look after her mother, would not leave; nor would they allow her to remove her furniture on the plea that they were sub-tenants to Mrs. Walsh.

Plaintiff, in reply to Mr. Maguire, said he was the owner in fee-simple of a house at Emmet street. He let it to the late Sergt. McCarthy as tenant nine years ago. On his death some three years ago, Mrs. Walsh (Church street), daughter of the deceased came to him and asked if he would allow her mother to remain as tenant of the house. This he agreed to do and Mrs. Walsh undertook to see that the rent, etc., would be all right. Mrs. McCarthy, died in November last and shortly afterwards when Mrs. Walsh called on him the question of the house arose and she agreed to have the premises handed back to plaintiff at any time he stated. Early in the present year when plaintiff asked to let him have the house in March Mrs. Walsh agreed to do so, but came later and said that Mrs. Fitzgerald and her husband, who were in the house would not leave for her, and consequently she was unable to hand over the key. There was no question of rent as it had always been promptly paid. He never heard any question of a sub-tenancy being raised and did not know of any.

Cross-examined by Mr. McEnery—Witness said he knew nothing of Mrs. Fitzgerald and her husband, who were claiming to be sub-tenants to Mrs. Walsh. He denied Mrs. Walsh was ever tenant of the house; she never lived there, but naturally looked after her father and mother. In his view, Mrs. McCarthy was the tenant after the death of her husband.

Counsel here handed the witness receipts for rent given to Mrs. Walsh in the years 1932 and 1933, and asked why she got the receipts in her own name if she were not the tenant?

Witness said for some years before Mrs. McCarthy's death, it was Mrs. Walsh paid the rent and got receipts for same and when Mrs. McCarthy became tenant it was Mrs. Walsh paid the rent and gave her the receipts for same as her mother was old and her daughter was looking after her. He could not give receipts to anyone else under the circumstances. Asked if Mrs. Fitzgerald was running a profitable maternity home in this house for the past 2 years, witness said he was not aware of it. He did not remember being told by Mrs. Walsh when Mrs. Fitzgerald (then Nurse Galvin) was going into the house to look after her mother that she would like to have an assurance that the house would be given to her (Mrs. Fitzgerald) after Mrs. McCarthy's death, and that she was opening a maternity home there. As a matter of fact he could not promise the house at the time as it had previously been given away.

Mr. McEnery said Mrs. Fitzgerald paid the rent of the house to Mrs. Walsh and the latter paid the plaintiff and there was clearly a sub-tenancy established.

His Lordship said a tenancy did not expire with the tenant, but went on to his next-of-kin. Only a notice to quit would terminate it. Asked as to the agreement (produced) of the original-letting of the house to Sergt. McCarthy, which contained no reference to sub-letting, the witness said that when the question of a legal agreement was mentioned by him Mr. McCarthy said it was not necessary as he would carry out the terms submitted to him and that he did while he lived.

Mrs. Walsh, Church street, said she never lived in the house in question where her father and mother resided. There was an agreement between Mrs.

for the lighting of the town lamps for the 12 months for the sum of £254 10s. Chairman—Would it not be well to adjourn consideration for a week. This new area will require lights. Mr. Power said he would be looking for an all-night light in Abbesside to be erected opposite the Doctor's and Parish Priest's houses.

The matter was adjourned for a week.

WATER SUPPLY FOR PRIARY ST. Mr. Moloney, raised the question of an extension of the water supply in Priary street, for which a tender was accepted some time ago.

The matter was adjourned pending a report from the B.S.

Fitzgerald and witness in regard to the former going into the house and looking after Mrs. McCarthy. At the time Mrs. Fitzgerald wanted a house of her own and she was to pay the rent and rates of this house and witness was to pay her for caring her mother. That was in March 1932. Her mother knew nothing about the arrangement.

Cross-examined by Mr. McEnery—From March 1932 to 1934 was Mrs. Fitzgerald in possession of this house and paid the rent to you?—Yes. All the receipts for the rent in the years 1932 and 1933 were in your name?—Yes. Mrs. Fitzgerald had run the place as a Maternity Home?—Yes. It was in a good position in the town and suitable in everyway?—Yes. She kept patients there. Witness paid Mrs. Fitzgerald £2 a month to mind her mother. She remembered Mrs. Fitzgerald asking her to call on Mr. Lynch and get from him a promise of the house after her mother's death. She left the plaintiff to understand that Mrs. Fitzgerald was going to set up a Nursing Home there and he gave her to understand it would be all right. When she returned and told Mrs. Fitzgerald the result of the interview the latter asked her to go back and get the undertaking in writing. She did so, but the plaintiff refused. For the past two years her mother's mind was not right.

His Lordship said as the old lady was not able to do business the tenancy went to the next-of-kin.

Questioned by His Lordship, the witness said no administration was taken out after the death of her father or mother. She understood her father had some legal business with Mr. Ryan, solicitor.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr.—My recollection is that I drew up a will for her father, but I don't remember ever proving it.

To Mr. Maguire, B.L.—In March Mr. Lynch asked me to let him have possession of the premises. I went to Mrs. Fitzgerald for the key, but she refused to give it to me.

Was there any furniture in the house?

Witness—All the furniture there was mine.

Did you take it away? Witness—I got notice from Mr. Lynch to remove it, but I would not be allowed.

Mrs. Fitzgerald, the defendant, in reply to Mr. McEnery, B.L., said she was a nurse and her maiden name was Mary Galvin. She was married in April 1932. She had an interview in March, 1932, with Mrs. Walsh about setting up a Nursing Home. As a result of the arrangement with Mrs. Walsh she went into the house in question at the time—March 1932—as tenant to Mrs. Walsh. It was witness paid the rent since Mrs. Walsh, who in turn paid the plaintiff. She went with Mrs. Walsh to interview the plaintiff before going into the house and he said he would not turn her out. She had several maternity cases since starting the home there as also several in the district. The house was in a very good position and was very suitable for a maternity home. She meant to run it as a maternity home.

Cross-examined by Mr. Maguire—Witness said she went to Mrs. Walsh before going into the house and said she would not go in there unless she would be left there after Mrs. McCarthy's death and asked her to get a written promise to that effect. Mrs. Walsh went and saw the plaintiff who said she would be all right. He gave nothing in writing.

Mr. McEnery, quoted legal decision on the issue, and said Mrs. Fitzgerald was two years sub-tenant of the place. The McCarthy interest was now gone and Mrs. Fitzgerald was the tenant.

Mr. McGuire—The defence relies on the sub-letting from Mrs. Walsh. I don't think there was any sub-letting by Mrs. Walsh as the sub-letting claim is in 1932, when Mrs. McCarthy was alive and she was undoubtedly the tenant. If Mrs. Walsh ever became tenant it was only in November 1933 when her mother died.

His Lordship, giving judgment, said death did not destroy a tenancy at all; the tenancy goes on and becomes vested in the next-of-kin, and if you want to terminate that tenancy you will only terminate it by a six months notice to quit subject to the provision of the recent Increase of Rent and Mortgages Act. In this case the original tenancy was in Mr. McCarthy, and when he died the tenancy became vested in his next-of-kin—it would be his personal representative if administration were taken out. Mrs. McCarthy carried on as tenant for some time and when her mind began to give away, Mrs. Walsh, was the recognised tenant. Mr. Lynch gave her receipts for rent paid. Mrs. Walsh then had an arrangement with Mrs. Fitzgerald and as a result a sub-letting took place. That tenancy is still in existence and the plaintiff is not entitled to succeed. He dismissed the case.

WATERFORD—Three people had narrow escapes when two motor cars were wrecked at the junction of South Parade and John's Hill, Waterford. They were Mr. and Miss Hynes, Newtown, Tramore, and Mr. Morrissey, who was driving the car, the property of Mr. Faulkner, Railway Square, Waterford. Beyond shock, the occupants suffered no injury.

Agricultural Conditions

ON 1st APRIL, 1934.

Weather and Work.—The weather during the greater part of March was cold and unsettled. Rain began to fall heavily on the first day of the month, and from that until the 20th there were frequent heavy showers of rain and sleet, with at times snow. This change in conditions, although it hampered field work very considerably, was not unwelcome, as the long spell of unusually dry weather had deprived the soil of the normal degree of moisture; and fortunately the work of preparing the land for the crops had been so far pushed forward during the genial weather conditions which prevailed in February that less inconvenience resulted than might otherwise have been the case. Moreover, the last week of the month, although harsh and cold, was dry and some progress was made with the outdoor duties proper to the season. The only drawback arising from the unfavourable weather during the month was that in most of the early districts the sowing of the corn crops did not proceed as far as usual, extensive areas remaining to be sown at the close of the month. During the dry periods, farmers were engaged principally in the preparation of the land for the sugar beet and turnip crops, in planting potatoes, and in sowing cereal crops. Some sowings of spring wheat were also carried out.

Food Supplies for Live Stock.—Except in warmer and more sheltered localities, pastures remained comparatively bare up to the end of the month, very little growth being possible under the conditions prevailing. On most farms, however, there were ample reserves of hay, and mangels and home-grown grain, and although stocks of turnips were beginning to run out, supplies of all kinds of fodder and roots were sufficient to render it unnecessary, except in the case of the smaller farms, where stocks were more quickly exhausted, to have recourse to purchased feeding stuffs. The general position of supplies at the close of the month was at least as good as at the corresponding date last year.

Live stock were reported to be healthy and in fair condition. No reports of serious outbreaks of liver fluke or other diseases were received from any quarter.

Cereals.—Oats continued during March to be the only cereal marketed in any quantity, yet the demand was more than equal to the supply, with the result that prices continued to harden. As reported last month, owing to the small prices obtaining for oats in the early part of the season, farmers fed the grain liberally to livestock, reducing their purchases of imported feeding stuffs accordingly. The actual position regarding stocks of oats is somewhat obscure, but it is believed that there are some reserves still undrawn upon which may come on the market as soon as the requirements for seed for the new season's crop have been fully met. Generally speaking, there are not large stocks on the hands of grain merchants, and as mills in many districts were kept much busier than usual during the season in crushing or grinding oats for farmers for feeding purposes, it is doubtful if large surpluses exist anywhere in the country. At the close of the month the average prices for oats at provincial markets were:—White, 12s. 3d. per barrel; Black, 10s. 6d. per barrel. Prices for seed barley varied up to 2s. per barrel. Demand for seed barley was active during March, and indications pointed to a larger area being sown with barley this year.

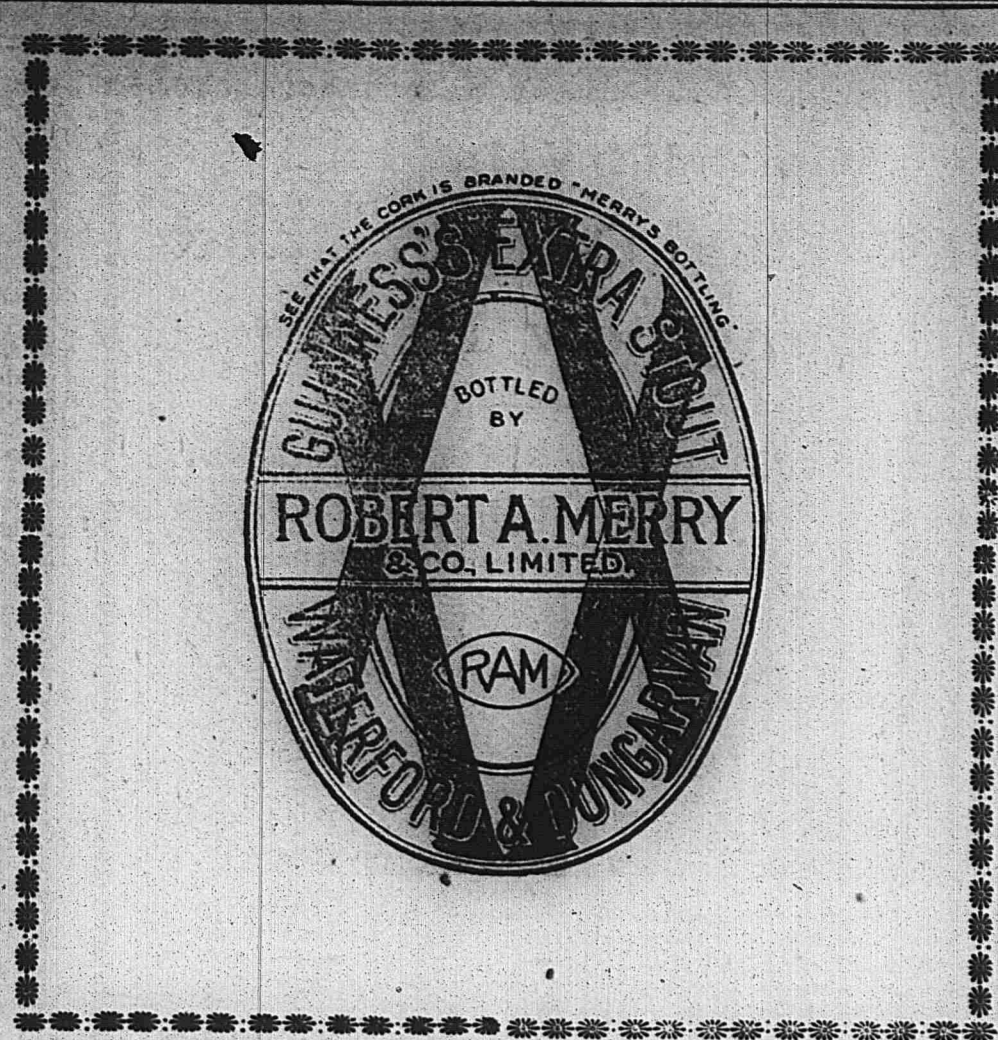

FLAX.—Scutching of flax proceeded during the month. The yields were well maintained and the quality of fibre was good. Demand for the fibre was firm during the month at prices ranging from 65s. to 70s. per cwt. Owing to the more active demand for flax this year, farmers in the flax growing area are disposed to extend the acreage under that crop in the coming season. It is reported from County Donegal that the demand for seed indicated that there would be a considerable extension of the acreage under flax.

Potatoes.—Ample supplies of potatoes were on hands on most farms at the close of the month, notwithstanding the liberal use made of potatoes for feeding live stock during the season. The tubers were reported to be keeping well. Demand for the home trade was fairly good during the month at prices averaging about 3s. 6d. per cwt. The export demand was less active at prices varying from 25s. to 35s. per ton.

Winter Cereals and Catch Crops.—Winter wheat continued to make good progress and was generally reported to be giving promise of excellent crops provided conditions continue favourable. Considerable additional areas were sown with wheat during the month. Much spring wheat still remains to be sown, and it is too early to form any reliable estimate of the total acreage that will be under wheat this year. It seems reasonable, however, to anticipate that it will be at least double that of last year.

Catch crops made satisfactory headway and some plots will be ready for feeding early in the present month.

Cattle.—Cattle fairs held during the month were on the whole of smaller dimensions. Store cattle in forward condition were in fairly steady request, but those lacking in condition were difficult to dispose of, and many lots remained unsold. Fat cattle carrying export licences were in fairly active demand, but others met a slow trade. Springers and freshly calved cows were in moderate demand.

MINOR HURLING IN CAPPOQUIN.

On last Sunday the Minor Hurling team of the newly-established Blackwater Rovers Hurling and Football Club, Cappoquin, made a very promising and successful debut when they played a friendly challenge match with Modeligo Minor Hurling team, which has also become affiliated for the first time this year.

The match was played in the Cappoquin Sportsfield, which has been rented for the season by the Blackwater Rovers Club, and no more ideal venue can be found for Gaelic matches in Cappoquin.

Although the early part of the day was extremely wet and stormy, weather conditions improved considerably towards the afternoon, and although a stiff breeze prevailed, the conditions generally were not too unfavourable for any form of manly outdoor sport.

Both Cappoquin and Modeligo having entered for this year's Minor Hurling Championships, great interest was taken in their first public appearance, but from the start of the game the Cappoquin lads easily proved their superiority as wielders of the caman and turned over at half-time with a big score to their credit against a virgin sheet for Modeligo.

The change of sides brought no relief to Modeligo, as Cappoquin dominated the play throughout, and won very easily on the final score of 7 goals 5 points to nil, which was a most encouraging start for this fast and promising young team.

Sheep.—Flocks were maintained in good health during the month. Except in late districts lambing was practically completed in lowland areas during the month and was progressing satisfactorily among mountain sheep. The yield up to date was well up to average, with losses still below average.

Demand for sheep was active during the month at steady prices, ranging in the case of fat sheep up to 46s. each, and in the case of lambs up to 37s. each.

PIGS.—The number of pigs marketed during March was rather larger than what marketed in February, while the total marketed for the three months ended 31st March showed an increase of 28,171 over the number for the corresponding period of last year. Average prices for pigs suitable for the bacon industry declined progressively during the month, as follows, namely, 1st week 62s. 9d. per cwt. dead weight; second week, 60s. 9d.; third week, 59s. 6d.; fourth week, 56s.; and fifth week, 55s. 9d. The price of porkers fell from 61s. 3d. per cwt. dead weight to 55s. Plentiful supplies of bonhams were on offer at prices ranging up to 25s. each for those of good quality or around twelve weeks old. Breeding stocks were reported to have been well maintained.

Horses.—The demand for good class farm horses was rather better during the month. There was also some stir in the trade in other classes or horses. Troopers made up to £30 each, and horses suitable for the hunter class made up to £60.

Milk.—The supply of milk to creameries during March was much above that during the corresponding period of last year. Milk delivered to creameries in February realised 5.28d. per gallon, with separated milk returned to the producers. Milk collected in Counties Kildare, Meath and Wicklow returned 8d. to 10d. per gallon to the producers.

SALE OF FARM.

TWO BIDS IN COURT.

Two sealed tenders for portion of land owned by J. Bluet, Millierstown, Stradbally, were opened in the Circuit Court, Waterford, by Judge Sealy.

The tenders were result of a Court Order for the sale of the land in this manner, following an administration suit. Mr. Budd, B.L., intimating that the defendant was, as next-of-kin responsible for a debt of £67 to Mr. P. Sheehan, Stradbally, Co. Waterford, the plaintiff. He recalled that there had been a public auction and the land had been bought by the defendant, who failed, however, to make the necessary deposit and comply with the conditions of sale.

His Lordship, on opening the tenders, found that one was from the defendant, Bluet, and the other from the plaintiff, Sheehan. In each instance the figure tendered was £100. Mr. Budd said portion of the land had been sold for £225. The defendant, who, at the sale, had bid £150, now stated he was prepared to put down the deposit and buy the land for £100.

At this stage Mr. Budd intimated that Sheehan was prepared to give a little more than £100 for it.

Mr. J. D. Palmer, M.I.A.A., stated that the top bid—and, therefore, the market value of the bid land—on the day of the auction was £150 and he thought that was a fair price. There had been unpleasantness at the auction, but the defendant did not cause it.

In reply to the Judge, Sheehan bid £110 in court, and Bluet went to £115.

Mr. Budd, B.L., was about to make a remark in regard to the money and Mr. Ryan, solicitor, intervened to say that he would secure the money for the defendant.

Bluet was then declared the purchaser.

Mr. Ryan said the deposit for the defendant would be £28 15s., and he would like to know what term would be allowed for the payment of the balance.

Mr. O'Conner, solicitor, for the plaintiff, intimated the period as seven days.

"You think you will never get your hand on the money," remarked Mr. Ryan, solicitor, who thereupon asked the court for one month and was granted this period by the Judge.

DUNGARVAN BRANCH, I.N.T.O.

The usual quarterly meeting of the Dungarvan Branch of the I.N.T.O., was held in the Technical School, Dungarvan, on Saturday 21st April. Following are the names of the members present—Mrs. Condon, Mrs. Conery, Mrs. Cullen, Mrs. Waide, Mrs. O'Leary, Misses Sweeney, Cullen, Delaney, O'Meara, O'Sullivan, Bluet, Courtney, Tobin, Brick, Moloney, Phelan, Tuohy, Gough; Messrs. Foley, Brennock, Delaney, Whelan, O'Neill, Wall, Lincoln, Cullen, Conery.

Mr. Conery, Grange, N.S., presented a very interesting account of the Derry Congress, the welcome extended to the delegates, and the unity evidenced by North and South in the really vital matters connected with education.

Mrs. Keever, Ardmore, N.S., and

Mr. P. O'Neill, Abbesside, N.S., were enrolled new members of the branch.

The Official Bulletin was read for the guidance and information of the members in procedure under professional difficulties. A letter acknowledging and expressing appreciation of a resolution of sympathy by the branch, was received from Rev. H. Synnott, C.C., Ardmore. Mr. O'Keefe, wrote thanking the members for their congratulations on his retirement from the principalship of Aghlish National School.

Resolutions were adopted relating to: (1) Pension Question and cuts in salaries; (2) Programme in Primary Schools; (3) Pronouncement of Minister of Education at Dun Laoghaire, March, 6th.

A meeting of the Branch Committee will be held on next Saturday, 28th April, in Dungarvan Technical School at 1.30 p.m. Summer Time.—S. U. Dubhshlaine, Runaidhe.

INTER-COUNTY CONTEST AT CLASHMORE.

On Sunday last a great inter-county challenge match was played at Clashmore, the contestants being Clashmore and Youghal.

It was the first game in the district for some years and a large crowd was present. Notwithstanding the fact that the forenoon was very showery, the evening cleared up wonderfully, and there was brilliant sunshine while the game was being played. The pitch was in perfect order, and was neatly lined and beflagged.

The Youghal team were accompanied by their President, Rev. Fr. M. Twomey, C.C., and Mr. P. Maloney of Aghlish, was an impartial referee.

Both teams fielded some young players, and the game was played in a very sporting spirit. Both Clashmore and Youghal should go a long way in the Championship of their respective counties.

The match was started sharp to time and Clashmore having won the toss elected to play with wind and sun. The play was very even for the first quarter of an hour, after which Youghal scored a goal and point in quick succession, but Barron soon scored a great goal for the locals. There was no other score before half time.

On resuming, Clashmore equalised and soon took the lead with another point per Keever. Clashmore pressed hard and struck the cross-bar twice. It looked now as if the local team would win, but towards the end the visitors scored a grand point to equalise. Thus a great game ended in a draw, the final scores being 1 goal 2 points each.

The teams were—Clashmore—Tobin, (Capt); Barron, (2); O'Rourke, (2); Curran, Keever (2); Ronayne, Healy, Murphy, O'Brien, Lenane, Coughlan, McGrath.

Youghal—Kelliher (Capt); Maddigan, O'Beirne, Sullivan, Norris, Doyle, Fitzgerald, Healy, Roche, O'Ryan, Sheehan, O'Mahoney, O'Donoghue, Walsh, Crowley.

On Sunday next Clashmore play Villierstown at the latter teams venue.

DRAW FOR MOTOR CAR. On Sunday night last at the Ocean View Hotel, Clonea, the draw for a "Whippet" car owned by Mr. E. Spratt, took place. Capt. P. Higgins, presided and addressed the gathering in Irish and English, and said the car to be drawn had speed and comfort to compare with any on the road. Miss Murphy, Dunhill, acted as drawer and the winning ticket was that of Mr. P. Ormonde, Rosslare Harbour.

WEDDING BELLS. At the Parish Church, Ballinacree, recently a very pretty wedding took place, the contracting parties being Mr. P. F. Croke, Mitchel street, Dungarvan, and Miss Pauline A. Christopher, Ballylemon, Cappagh. The ceremony (with Nuptial Mass and Papal Benediction) was performed by Rev. L. Egan, C.C., Dungarvan, assisted by Very Rev. J. Gleeson, P.P., Aglish. Both the bride and groom are well known and highly esteemed. The bride is daughter of the late Mr. Wm. Christopher, and of Mrs. Christopher, Ballylemon and is a most efficient and popular official of the staff of the Co. Board of Health, while Mr. Croke is a member of a highly-esteemed family, who was prominently identified with the Volunteer movement and the fight for freedom of past days.

At the happy pair have the best wishes of their numerous friends for their future happiness and prosperity.

SUMMER TIME. Sunday last brought us official summer time, but not with the evident consent of the weather clerks. The climatic conditions of the past week make it very hard to believe that we are in a heat wave at the moment. Men may make orders and decree the change of the clock's hands, but the Authority Who regulates the sun and moon and guides the planets, controls all, and mere man is a wash out in such matters.

WHAT'S THE DELAY? A considerable time ago it was decided we were to have a new hospital equipped in every modern way in Dungarvan. The money is available from the Hospitals' Trust Sweep Funds and that is the main plank. Sites were advertised for and offered and the Board of Assistance approved of a suitable one. That looked like ending it. But no. Next, the L.G. Department wrote stating that additions to the District Hospital would meet the requirements of the district, but with that view the public cannot agree. Since then the matter is hanging fire. And why the delay? We badly need a fully equipped hospital with every appliance of modern days. Other things may be deferred, but the relief of pain cannot. It is a vital necessity to us here in view of the great reputation of our hospital and the brilliance of its surgical and nursing staffs. The confidence reposed in them by the general public is unbounded, but they are not given full scope for their work through being handicapped for want of accommodation and the installation of an X-ray apparatus, which is urgently needed. It is time to have this serious question dealt with before the year advances much further.

G.A.A. Tallow, 5-5; De La Salle, 1-1; was the result from the senior hurling clash between the above teams at the Gaelic Field on Sunday last. Sliabh Gua, junior Football fifteen easily outclassed the Stradbally juniors in their tie at the same venue.

DEATH. An old resident of Abbeyside passed to her eternal reward on Tuesday, 18th April, at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, in the person of Mrs. Ellen Egan, Coolagh Road, Abbeyside. R.I.P. The deceased was mother of Mrs. Mce. Cowman, Coolagh Road, and Mr. W. Egan, King street., to whom deep sympathy is extended.

45 DRIVE. A 45 Drive will be held in the Scouts Den, Abbeyside (in aid of the Troop Fund) on Sunday night, April 29th, 1934, at 8 p.m. (S.T.). Admission 1/-.

CO. COUNCIL SOLICITORSHIP. The Co. Council at its meeting on Tuesday decided to advertise for a solicitor to the Council in room of Mr.

A. S. McCoy, deceased. There will be no salary attached to the position, payment being on the basis of taxed costs. There is much canvassing for the position, the favourites being Messrs. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, and Mr. M. M. Halley, solr., Waterford. The appointment will be made at the meeting of the Council on the 22nd May.

NOT TRUE. President de Valera has denied there was any cruelty in regard to the slaughter of calves as stated in some publications. There are laws against cruelty to animals which the police would enforce.

TIPPERARY SHOOTING. Following the shooting of a farmer named Ed. Kinane, Upperchurch, Thurles, last Saturday, several arrests were made.

SHERIFF'S SALE. Arising out of incidents at Naas last week, when cattle seized by the Sheriff were taken away a number of farmers have been arrested.

U. I. P. DANCE. A most successful dance under the auspices of the Kilrossanty Branch U.I.P. was held at the Hall, Leamybrien, on Sunday night week and was largely attended. All the surrounding parishes were fully represented. Blue Shirts and blue blouses were worn by nearly all present. Special Orchestral music was provided, and the catering by a ladies' Committee was excellent.

Late Mr McCoy, Solicitor.

COURT REFERENCES.

At the sitting of the Waterford Circuit Court on Monday, his Lordship, Judge Sealy, K.C., said that before opening the business of the court he would like to refer to the death of his old friend, Mr. Archibald McCoy. Death, said his Lordship, must come to us all sooner or later, and each of us would wish, who it did come, that it should be like his—at the end of a long and happy life.

Continuing, his Lordship said the late Mr. McCoy, was one of the best known and most respected citizens of Waterford. During the four score years he spent in this city he (his Lordship) felt he had earned the goodwill and approval of all. Anything mean or underhand was alien to his nature. Kindly charity and goodwill towards his fellow-man was apparent in his features. Of him it might be truly said: "You could read the mind's reflection in the face." The late Mr. McCoy, his Lordship proceeded, was endowed by nature with great qualities. He possessed good health and his good sense and ability combined with truth and modesty had endeared him to them all. His sane judgment and counsel were always ready for anybody who sought them, and his sympathetic understanding was always open to anyone who consulted him. As father of the solicitors' profession in Waterford he maintained a high standard of honour and integrity. Now that he had gone, he had left behind him the torch for younger men to carry as he did. His Lordship felt, great as his loss was to the court and his profession, how much greater it must be to his widow and family; and the sympathy of the court went out to them in their great sorrow.

Mr. Thornton, solicitor, said the sad event to which his Lordship had so feelingly referred had conferred on him the unenviable distinction of being the senior member of the solicitors' profession in Waterford. He could well wish the sad task now placed upon him should have been given into more competent hands. Indeed, it would require a ready tongue and ready speech to do justice to the memory of the late Mr. McCoy and to pay a just tribute to his life of integrity. The late Mr. McCoy was a remarkable man, and he had a remarkable career. He was admitted in 1875—some sixty years ago—and during that time he pursued a life of the most intense activity. He (Mr. Thornton) could say he had a career almost parallel with that of the late Mr. McCoy—younger it was true—but still he (Mr. Thornton) commenced his professional life (if he might count the year of his apprenticeship) in the year 1879—55 years ago. So he might say his life was parallel to that of the late Mr. McCoy—he meant parallel as regards time and proximity—not in point of work and value. He and Mr. McCoy had been associated during all that time, and he (Mr. Thornton) should, therefore, know him. Mr. McCoy was endowed by nature with a first-class brain and a logical and clear head. He had an almost uncanny faculty for pouncing on and seizing the real kernel of any subject presented to him for consideration, and swept away with a mere motion any surrounding tangle which might obscure the hard fact. That knowledge and those gifts were always at the disposal of his fellows. He was always ready and willing to give help and assistance to the younger members of the profession, and he (Mr. Thornton) had known him in the midst of his busiest time to devote an hour or more simply to help another. Apart from his intellectual gifts, he also possessed a distinctive social charm. Whilst the late Mr. McCoy was a man devoted to his work, and one who had an extraordinary appetite and industry for his profession, his society was always enjoyed by his fellow-men because of his remarkable social gifts. He was gifted by nature with a very retentive memory, and his mind was a store-house of interesting information, and he delighted his acquaintances with reminiscences, many of which were based on the humorous side of humanity, and which would from time to time come bubbling out of his mind. In this way he was most entertaining to all who knew him. He had now departed from their midst, but his memory would long dwell amongst them; but during his long career and his contact with his fellows in this city he had become almost an institution amongst them. He became affectionately known as Archie McCoy, a term which did not imply any undue familiarity, but rather one which showed how beloved he was and how much he was in their hearts. On behalf of the solicitors' profession, he (Mr. Thornton) took advantage of this the first opportunity of echoing the tribute which had so feelingly been paid to his memory by his Lordship. He (Mr. Thornton) had endeavoured apart from any language of exaggeration or fact, to express in simple words the genuine feelings of them all. With them his memory would be ever green and his life an attainments would be an inspiration to them to follow in his footsteps, and so to endure to the end until each one of them in his turn, according to Almighty God's will, went over the Great Divide and passed into that undiscovered country "from whose bourne no traveller returns."

Mr. Budd, B.L., on behalf of the Bar. Mr. Thomas F. Colbert, County Registrar, on behalf of the Courthouse Staff, and Supt. O'Mahony, on behalf of the Civic Guards, associated themselves with the remarks of his Lordship and Mr. Thornton.

The Volunteers.

A FEW REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD JOIN THE VOLUNTEERS.

1. HOLIDAYS—The Volunteers soldier will be given an opportunity of a pleasant holiday at a seaside or mountain training camp. He will also have the benefit of healthy military training and sound physical development, together with participating during his spare time in the games and sporting competitions which are special features of every training camp.

2. SOUND PHYSICAL DEVELOPMENT—During his Service, special attention will be devoted to the physical development of each Volunteer. He will thus combine dutiful service to his country with mental and physical advantage to himself.

3. TRAINING THAT WILL BE OF BENEFIT IN CIVIL LIFE.—Apart from its value to the State, Volunteers training will be of considerable benefit to individual members as it will teach much that will be useful and practical in civil life. Instruction will be given in a wide range of subjects varying according to the Unit of the Service, and including Horsemanship, Motor Driving and repairs, Cycling, Shooting, Field Engineering, First Aid, etc., etc. Volunteers will have an opportunity of choosing the Units with which they desire to serve, and facilities will be available for gaining proficiency in the subjects pertaining to their units.

4. BRIGHTENING RURAL LIFE.—The opening and development of Volunteers Halls in the various Sluagh Areas throughout the country will do much to improve social conditions in country areas. These Halls, in addition to their use for military training, may be utilised for concerts, ceildhes, lectures and dramatic entertainments arranged by the local Volunteers Committee.

5. UNITING NATIONAL FORCES.—The Volunteers are non-political and non-sectarian. Every Irishman, no matter what his political or religious opinions may be, has now an opportunity of serving his country in an Irish Army organised by an Irish Government—a privilege heretofore denied to many generations of our people.

YOU have your opportunity now. Take advantage of it and join your local Sluagh.

RUSH FOR SKIN BOUNTY.

A REMARKABLE SITUATION.

'CALVES' CARCASSES DUMPED. The rush to secure the bounty of 10s. on calf skins, coupled with the decline in the cattle trade and the totally uneconomic price for calves, apart from bounty considerations, has given rise to an extraordinary situation in several parts of the South of Ireland, says the "Cork Examiner."

There is a glut of veal on the market, and 1d. and 1 1/2d. per lb. are the prices for this commodity in several centres. In others the supply has become so great that carcasses are being given away free to poor people, are being fed to animals, and even then hundreds, for which no use can be found, are being "dumped" in old quarries, etc., as altogether valueless. Owners of kennels have been buying veal at prices unheard of for any kind of meat, not excluding old horse-flesh, and since the slaughter of calves has been steadily increased the meat is being offered free. Over 300 carcasses were offered free to a kennel near Cork, but the offer was rejected, as the kennel had a plentiful supply of flesh.

About 1,500 calves per week have been slaughtered in Macroom for the past month. A certain proportion of the carcasses have been sold in the Cork market, but many hundreds were buried by the butchers who handled the trade. Similar reports of the dumping of unwanted carcasses comes from Mallow and other towns in the South.

Another result of the rush to secure the bounty is the unskilled slaughter of calves under most unsuitable conditions.

In Cork City the market for veal is hopelessly over-supplied. A certain quantity of the choice well-fed cuts is on sale, and at low prices, in butchers' shops.

In some places on the outskirts of the city veal can be bought for a few pence per quarter of 7 to 10lbs.

A chemical works in Cork, which, prior to the bounty scheme, handled only an infinitesimal amount of calf flesh, has already received this week three tons of carcasses. These are accepted for the purpose of conversion into pig meal, but it has been found that calf flesh, consisting, as it does, of between 70 and 80 p.c. of water, is altogether unsuitable for the purpose to which it is being applied, and is scarcely worth the handling.

Some firms ordinarily engaged in slaughtering have been obliged to discontinue operations owing to the impossibility of disposing of the veal at a price that would not even pay for the small cost of handling.

The scramble for the bounty is also the cause of sharp depreciation in the commercial value of skins. The excessive slaughter has depressed the English market in skins to such an extent that values have fallen all round.

GIRL FINED FOR WEARING TROUSERS.

A native girl was fined 4/- at Lady-smith, Natal, for wearing trousers in the streets.

Pretty Wedding In Dungarvan.

POPULAR GARDA SERGEANT WEDS.

A very pretty wedding took place in the Parish Church, Dungarvan, on Easter Monday morning, April 2nd., when Sergeant John F. Rochford, Cappoquin, was married to Miss Norah Walsh, The Quay, Dungarvan. Sergeant Rochford, is son of Mr. Michael Rochford, and the late Mrs. Rochford, Cratlow, Co. Clare, and has been in charge of Cappoquin Civic Guards Station for the past three years, having previously served in Lismore, Villierstown and other districts in the Co. Waterford, and in all those places his great efficiency as a Peace Officer and his courteous and kindly disposition have won for him the confidence and respect of all classes of the peaceful and law-abiding public.

The bride is daughter of the late Mr. John Walsh, and Mrs. Walsh, The Quay, Dungarvan, her late father having honourably filled for many years a most responsible position in the commercial life of Dungarvan, while he was also a most valued and prominent member of the Dungarvan Town Commissioners and Urban Council for many years, and one of the leading lights in the "Old Boro."

She is a young lady of a most amiable and charming manner, who is extremely popular and respected in her native town, and she has now received the heartiest congratulations of her hosts of friends on the auspicious occasion.

The marriage ceremony was solemnised by the Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., Dungarvan, after which the wedding breakfast was served in sumptuous style in the Commercial Hotel, Dungarvan, where a large number of the relatives and friends of the bridegroom and bride were most hospitably entertained.

Later in the day the happy pair left for London and Brighton for the honeymoon amidst the best wishes of all for their future welfare and happiness.

The wedding present were both numerous and costly.

THE VOLUNTEER.

Air—"The Wearing Of The Green."

A Volunteer of Irish birth fought for his country's right, And wounded on the battlefield, his thoughts afar look flight To his mother dear in that little home so very far away, And a fervent prayer for her he loved his pallid lips did say:

Refrain:
"Dear Mother, I've been wounded in the gallant fray,
But soon my pain will end and my soul pass on its way
To meet the Heavenly Judge above and gain its due reward,
Oh, pray my recompense will be in the Kingdom of the Lord!"

This brave and gallant soldier, one of Erin's good, true type,
Fought bravely with his comrades against those of greater might;
The spirit of his native land was strong in his young heart,
He volunteered—his one desire to play man's noble part.

Refrain:
"I'm leaving those I loved so well, but have the honour great
To die upon the battlefield, accepting it as fate;
I faced the foe unflinching, and did his might defy,
Our cause was great, and for its sake I'm willing now to die."

Refrain:
"Farewell, oh, Mother dear, farewell!—you'll never see me more;
Farewell, my gallant comrades, I die midst battle's roar;
To Ireland dear a sad farewell, and to my happy home . . .
How dark the night, as in its flight my spirit forth must roam!"

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

UNLICENSED DOGS.

Guard Griffin, charged Daniel Flynn, with having an unlicensed dog. Fined 5/-.

In the case again Margaret Bernard, on a like charge, which was adjourned for inquiries.

Guard Carty, Killeagh, stated that defendant admitted that she had the dog, but destroyed it a week after.

The Justice—it means she is still liable. Fined 5/-.

School Attendance Cases. Guard Downes, charged Patk. Long, with the non-attendance of his child at school.

Complainant said the child was 14 days absent out of 49, no excuse was given.

The mother said the child was not well and was attended by the doctor. She sent word to the school. She did not think there was any occasion to tell the Guard she sent a doctor's certificate to the teachers.

The Guard said the woman was very careless about her children. Defendant was fined 1/-.

In a similar case against Edward Kenefick, complainant said the boy was 19 days absent out of 49.

There was no appearance for defendant, and he was fined 2/-.

Wandering Horse. Guard Kelly, charged John Mulcahy, Ardsallagh, with allowing his horse and cart on the Main street, with no one in charge.

The Justice said that was a very dangerous practice, especially in Youghal, where the streets were so congested.

Defendant was fined 5/-.

No Lights. Sergt. Lupton, charged Stephen Murphy, with using an unlighted cycle.

A friend appeared and apologised for defendant's absence.

The Justice said in the circumstances he would fine him 1/6. His stock fine for such an offence was 2/6.

Guard Stack, charged R. Keating, Ardmore, with a similar offence at 11.20. Fined 2/6.

In similar charges against A. Dent, and D. Kennedy, Clashmore, while returning from the pictures like fines were imposed.

Son's Larceny From Father. Charles McCarthy, Barry's Lane, plumber, was charged in custody with the larceny of a purse containing £18, the property of his father, Patk. McCarthy.

Supt. O'Kelly, prosecuted. Patrick McCarthy, Barry's Lane, plumber, Youghal, deposed that the defendant, his son Charles, lived with him over 8 years. No one else resided in the house. On last Tuesday, 17th April, he had £18 in notes in a purse in his left pocket. He had counted the money that day. That was the purse (produced). On going to bed he also left 4/- on the table. His son slept with him that night as usual.

Witness was in bed all day that day and the son came to bed about 11 o'clock. Next morning he saw the son going to the clothes and fumbling at them. He then came back to the bed again. He usually got up about 10 o'clock. On Wednesday morning the son got up again about 8 o'clock. He brought witness his breakfast and then he went for coal. Witness told him to take 1/6 for the coal from the money in the table. Witness didn't see him again till he saw him with the Guards last night. Witness got up and examined his pocket and missed the purse containing the £18. He did not see it again till he saw it with the Guards. He supported and clothed his son, but he gave him no money except for tobacco. The son did very little work. His son had no watch when he left him. After missing the money he made a complaint at the barrack. At odd times the son gave witness a few pence which he earned himself and witness gave him more. The son didn't own any of that £18.

Cross-examined by accused—Witness said in going to bed on Monday night he fell on the stairs, he wasn't well. He didn't offer accused his purse because he wouldn't trust him. He didn't send accused to Cork. Accused helped him to bed. He didn't give him a penny or a purse to go to Cork.

Guard Madden, Youghal, deposed that on 19th April, he took defendant into custody at Cork. He had been previously detained by the Guards at Cork. He had been searched previously and witness was handed over a purse (produced) containing £15 3s. 6d., and a wristlet watch (produced). On that date he charged the accused with the larceny of the money and gave him the usual legal caution. He made no statement beyond saying "No."

Accused, who pleaded not guilty, stated that on the evening in question his father gave him the purse with the £18 in it for safe keeping and told him to go to Cork and bring down his (witness's) mother and sister. His father told him that if anything happened to him, the money would go to bury him.

To the Justice—He didn't see anything happen on Tuesday night. He went to Cork on Wednesday about 12.30. His father told him to take the key and give it to his sister when she was coming down. Witness went to the doctor for his father. When he got to Cork he was told the Civil Guards wanted him and he went to the Watercourse Road Station.

Cross-examined by Supt. O'Kelly—Did you hear your father swear that he didn't give you the money?—I wouldn't be the first of his sons that he tried to transport and for very little reason. Why didn't you go to Cork that morning? I wasn't going to fly there—would you. Who was to look after him while you were away?—They were coming right back. Didn't you spend the whole morning drinking in the town?—No. Hadn't you a lot of drink taken when you arrived at Cork?—I don't know. Where did you buy this watch (produced)?—I have that a couple of months. Your father swore you had not it—where did you buy it?—From a traveller.

The Justice—How much did you pay for it?—3/-.

He was about 35 years of age. He was living with his father about 24 years. Before that he was in the war, after which he went to America. He did all the work, cooked the food and everything in the house. His father did very little work. Witness had no pension. His father had the Old Age Pension. He claimed a share of that £18 as his after all his work.

The Justice—Your father's story is that he supported you instead of you supporting him—could he not save that money?—I don't believe so.

Catherine Corbett, sister of previous witness said her brother came to her house at Cork about 4.50 on Wednesday evening. He gave her the key and told her to go down to Youghal to her father. When she arrived with her mother her sister was there.

Cross-examined by the Supt.—Witness said her brother had drunk taken when he arrived. He told her her father was feeling bad and to go down by the next train. She couldn't say how her sister got into the house.

Mrs. McCarthy, having given evidence, accused was recalled.

The Justice—How did you spend the £3 missing?—I think I gave a share to my brother-in-law. How did you spend the rest apart from your bus fare?—I can't account for it. What right had you to spend the money?—I got it to go up to Cork. Your evidence already is that he gave it to you for safe-keeping for his burial—what right then had you to spend it? Wasn't it mine as well as his when he handed it over to me.

The Justice said no ordinary rules would apply in that case. To try and apply the normal rules having regard to the extraordinary evidence they had listened to was a real puzzle. He held that that act amounted to larceny, but at the same time it was such a peculiar mix up between father and son, he didn't feel disposed to impose any punishment, especially as a substantial amount of the money had been recovered.

Accused was let out under the P.O.A. being bound over in the sum of £25.

Accused—Will I get back by watch? The Justice—You may. It is not worth much more than the price you paid for it.

YOUGHAL MENTAL HOSPITAL.

Mr. W. J. Broderick, T.D., presided.

Present—Ald. J. Allen, Messrs. D. Gamble, T.C.; J. R. Connolly, T.C.; and Rev. Fr. Wilson.

The Manager's report stated that since the last meeting two female patients had died and the total number in residence at present was 426 (250 men and 176 women). Sums amounting to £24 16s. 0d. had been received towards the maintenance of patients and lodged to the credit of the account.

The report of Dr. M. Twomey, visiting physician, stated that since the last report there had been two deaths, the deceased belonging to the Cork Mental Hospital. Nine patients were confined to bed in the male side of the house and eleven on the female side owing to debility and other causes. There had been no case of seclusion, restraint injury or violence.

The food supplies had been regularly examined and found up to the standard requirements, and there had been no complaint of the water supply. There had been no case of zymotic disease and the general health of the institution was excellent.

The report was approved. Mr. Connolly, proposing a vote of sympathy to Mr. N. J. Barry on the death of his father, the late Mr. M. Barry, Kanturk, said the deceased gentleman had been a most valuable member of the Board for a very long time. His loss would be extensively felt as the county had lost one of its most distinguished figures and foremost public men. He felt sure it would be some little consolation to their colleague to know that he had the respectful sympathy of the Board in his loss.

Mr. Gamble seconded, and Rev. Fr. Wilson, associating himself with the vote on behalf of the management, said the late Mr. Barry had been more than kind to the management during his association with the Board.

Dr. Twomey also associated himself with the vote, and the Chairman, paying a tribute to the services of Mr. Barry to the country, said he worked for the good of the people while he had health to do so. He (Chairman) had the honour of being associated with him on the Irish Convention and no man was more in earnest in bringing about a settlement. He had been prominently identified with the Board and all the other important public boards in the county, and was held in great esteem by everybody he came into contact with. He tendered to his son their deepest sympathy.

NO. 172.— DOGS OF ALL NATIONS. WORLD-WIDE FAVOURITES.

By "PHILOKON."

AN assemblage has just been held at Monte Carlo of the various kennel Clubs attached to the Federation Cynologique Internationale, at which all sorts of subjects relating to dogs were discussed in many languages. It is an illustration of the importance that is now assigned to dog breeding, showing and rearing. One assumes that mere ordinary dogs had no place in the deliberations of such a body, but they in turn will benefit by anything that is done for their more aristocratic brethren. Even those who do not care over much for showing must admit that the generality of dogs have had their condition improved by the increased knowledge that has accrued. Until they became of economic value as the result of pedigree breeding no one troubled much how they were fed and managed outside kennels of hounds.

When a few men ran the first dog show at Newcastle-on-Tyne in 1859 they cannot have anticipated the consequences of their action. Actually, they were starting a fashion that has since spread throughout the world. After fourteen years it became necessary to bring the sport under a central authority, and so the Kennel Club came into existence. We may flatter ourselves that our Kennel Club, which was the first body of its kind, soon had imitators. Within ten years similar bodies had been set up in the United States, Canada, France, Germany, South Africa and elsewhere, and now every civilised country has something of the kind. Most of the European Kennel Clubs have banded themselves together in the Federation Cynologique Internationale.

As a consequence of the interest aroused by shows the subject of dog-keeping received careful study, and to meet the needs of the increased canine population the great biscuit firms were established. Thanks to their efforts it is now possible to feed dogs on rations that are scientifically balanced, convenient and cheap. This is one of the things that showing has done for dogs. It has also introduced many new breeds of which we had never heard before, and it has opened up foreign markets for British pedigree stock.

In a sense there have been dog lovers in Great Britain from the earliest ages, but for a long time they were an exclusive hierarchy encouraged by the tyranny of the Forest Laws which were designed to preserve hunting for the monarchs and nobles. Down to the year 1200 the penalty for killing a greyhound was as severe as that of homicide. Under King Canute no man was allowed to keep a greyhound who owned less than £100 a year in land, which in those days was considerable wealth. An old proverb ran: "You may know a gentleman by his horse, his hawk and his greyhound." These dogs were worth much money, and in some reigns were accepted by the kings for the renewal of grants and in satisfaction of fines and forfeitures. Greyhounds and mastiffs were not allowed to be kept in the neighbourhood of forests unless they had been "lawed," which meant that three claws of the forefeet were cut off with a chisel. In the course of time exemption from this cruel enactment was probably the forerunner of the granted as a special privilege or on payment of fines, a concession that present licensing system.

This chat is issued by THE TAIL-WAGGERS' CLUB OF IRELAND, 23, Old Abbey Street (off Marlborough Street), Dublin, C.S. The Club will be pleased to answer any enquiries submitted by Tail-Wagger Owners in connection with canine hygiene and welfare.
