Compensation Claims.

GOODS TAKEN BY I.R.A.

On Thursday and Friday last, Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C., heard a number of claims under the Damage to Property Act at the Dungarvan Circuit Court.

THREATENED TO BE SHOT.

Thomas Walsh, Photographer, Youghal, claimed £200 for cameras, gramophone records, bicycle, etc., taken from him by the I.R.A. in 1922.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solr., appeared for the Government in all the cases. Mr. Ryan said he was contesting Mr. Walsh's claim as being exaggerated.

Claimant said he was a travelling photographer and carried on his work in Youghal and the surrounding districts. On the 22nd August, 1922 he went to Ardmore College to take photos.

TO BE SHOT.

To His Lordship—I did not take any action to get compensation before this as I was terrified by the I.R.A. and was taken out to be shot.

Claimant continuing, said he was accused by parties at the College, Ardmore, of having Free State troops brought to the College. Some teachers reported that he was responsible for that and he was held up by armed men who told him they wanted him. They took him towards Youghal and threatened to shoot him.

He had two valuable cameras with him, which they took, and also his bicycle. When they let him off they told him to go to his home and that he was a spy. He never saw the cameras or the bicycle since.

He valued the half plate camera at £20 and the bicycle at £10. He got one of the cameras very cheap from a man on a ship.

Mr. Ryan—You are claiming £180 for what you gave £40.

Witness—I don't know the name of the ship, the Captain of which sold me the camera in exchange for gramophone records, etc.

To His Lordship—I reported my loss at the time to Sergt. O'Shaughnessy, Youghal. Since then I work at anything I can get. The bicycle was a Lady's cycle. I also claim £12 for photos taken. I would not chance going round the country again with the camera.

Applicant was examined at length by Mr. Ryan as to the value of the cameras and records.

His Lordship said it was a very difficult case to deal with and he would report for £92 and £2 expenses.

£5 FOR A GUN.

Mrs. Mary E. Power, Ardmore area, claimed for a gun taken by the I.R.A. in 1920.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Hodnett, solr.), for the claimant.

Mr. Grady, a member of the I.R.A. at the time said he collected the gun which was a double barrelled one and new.

His Lordship said he would report for £5.

ANOTHER GUN.

John Lynch, same area, claimed £2 5s. for a gun taken by the I.R.A. in August 1920.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (Mr. Keane, solr., Youghal), for applicant.

His Lordship said he would report for £2 5s.

GUN TAKEN BY R.I.C.

MI. Begley, Ballinamona, claimed £3 for a gun taken by the R.I.C.

Mr. Budd, B.L. (Mr. Keane, solr., Youghal), for claimant.

Mr. Ryan said all these guns taken by the R.I.C. were deposited at Island Bridge, Dublin. He had got back numbers of them for their owners and if the claimant could identify his he would get it back.

His Lordship—I can give you nothing. Look to Island Bridge for your gun.

"COURTING A GUN."

Thos. Smith, Ardo, claimed £10 for a gun taken from him in Oct., 1920 by two members of the I.R.A. He got the gun from the land steward to Capt. Odell, and paid £6 in cash for it, together with £4 worth of work also. "I courted the gun for 2 years before I got it" (laughter).

Claimant further stated he used make a lot of money shooting wild duck and used so far as snipe (laughter). With that gun I would kill a running rabbit at 70 yards.

Mr. Ryan—If the rabbit was sitting he would be blown to pieces altogether.

His Lordship reported for £5.

MI. Hourigan, Lismore area, claimed £6 for a bicycle taken by the I.R.A. in 1922.

His Lordship reported for £6.

Mr. O'Gorman, solr., for applicant.

The claim of Mr. Roger Shanahan, Kilmacthomas, was adjourned.

HAY BURNED.

Mrs. Kelleher, Ballymacarby district, claimed £100 for the burning of hay in August, 1920.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (Mr. Shannon, solr.), for applicant.

Applicant said the hay was supposed to be burned by the Black and Tans. At the time the district was very contrary.

Mr. Ryan—I have no instructions about this. I think it is an ordinary malicious injury case.

Applicant said the roads round her place were patrolled by the Black and Tans at night as they were stationed in Kilmannahan. Her sons were members of the Volunteers. Just before the burning of her 10 tons of hay a tree was knocked across the road near her house. There were 3 or 4 other burnings around the district, viz., J. Ormond's, Mrs. Power's, Beehive, Thos. O'Donnell's and J. Mulcahy's. She was warned against making a claim in court for the damage.

By Mr. Ryan—No one else but the Black and Tans could have burned the place. I am sure it was burned because my sons were Volunteers.

Wm. Dalton, Vice-Commandant of the I.R.A. at the time said some of the applicants sons were in the I.R.A. then.

Mr. Ryan contested that the burning was not one of the kind associated with the Black and Tans, who on every occasion of this kind beat up all round them and generally terrorised all who came in their way. He could not believe they would silently set fire to the hay and then run away quietly. That was not their way for doing business.

His Lordship said that did not look a bit like a Black and Tan action. He was not satisfied it was malicious and dismissed the claim.

WROTE FIVE LETTERS TO PRESIDENT.

Laurence Walsh, Doon, Ballinamult, claimed £12 10s. for 2 overcoats and a scarf taken by the I.R.A. in 1921.

Mr. Budd, B.L. (Mr. T. C. Williams, solr.), for claimant.

Mr. E. A. Ryan—This man wrote five letters to President de Valera looking for the value of the coats and scarf.

Applicant said numbers of I.R.A. used put up in his house. The two coats were value for £10 and the scarf was a lady's and cost £2 10s.

Mr. Ryan then produced the five letters which the claimant wrote to President de Valera looking for the money for the coats. In the first letter read by Mr. Ryan, the claimant congratulated Mr. de Valera on becoming President; reminded him of the evening he had tea in his house and hoped he would make good the loss of the two coats and scarf taken from him.

Mr. Ryan—Is that all you lost—two coats and a scarf—in the service of your country? Witness—I lost more.

His Lordship—Why did you write to the President about your two coats and scarf? It throws the greatest doubt on your claim—writing those letters.

Mr. Ryan—If the President had to take tea with all his followers he would be kept busy.

His Lordship said he would report for £10.

DAMAGE TO HOUSE, ETC.

Mr. M. O'Ryan, Knockalishen, Ballymacarby, claimed £36 for damage to his house by rifle fire of Government forces and also for goods taken from his house.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Williams, solr.), for the applicant.

Mr. O'Ryan in his evidence stated that he had been on friendly terms with the forces opposing the Government and on the 4th November, 1922, they had been in his house, but all left when the Government forces were seen approaching. That was about 8 or 9 o'clock in the evening. The troops took up a position east of his house and opened rifle fire on it. They fired at the roof seriously damaging it, as also a big lot of slates. In the morning when he returned to the house he found everything was broken up and several valuable articles were taken away, including an A.O.H. Presentation he had from Mr. J. D. Nugent, General Secretary, and which took the form of a Collarette with a gold chain.

Mr. Budd—How would you describe a Collarette?

His Lordship—Well, Malachy wore a collar of gold (laughter).

Witness continuing, said his watch was also taken; also a suit of clothes, value £10; Ladies silk stockings; bicycle, etc., bed-clothing 2 bags apples, etc.

Witness had no idea of what it cost to repair the house as he did most of it with his own man. He bought the materials.

Mr. Doyle, C.E., said he valued the work to the house at £7. £22 10s. would get the house right again.

His Lordship said he would report for £14 for damage to the house and £16 for the articles taken.

FOR MILK.

Mr. N. Power, Fahafeela, Kilmacthomas, claimed for milk supplied to the I.R.A. in 1922.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Williams) for applicant.

His Lordship said he would report for £32.

In the case of a claim made by Catherine Howell, it was stated the claim was made too late.

Pak. Ducey, claimed £8 for a bicycle taken by the I.R.A.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Farrell, solr.), for applicant.

His Lordship reported for £8.

In the claim by Miss Ethel Troy, for £14 14s. 8d. for cigarettes taken by the I.R.A. in 1921 and 1922.

His Lordship said he would report for £13.

claimed £37 5s. 6d., for milk supplied to the I.R.A. in Dungarvan in 1922. The price was 1/4 a gallon.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Williams) for applicant.

His Lordship said he would report for £32.

In the case of a claim made by Catherine Howell, it was stated the claim was made too late.

Pak. Ducey, claimed £8 for a bicycle taken by the I.R.A.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Farrell, solr.), for applicant.

His Lordship reported for £8.

In the claim by Miss Ethel Troy, for £14 14s. 8d. for cigarettes taken by the I.R.A. in 1921 and 1922.

His Lordship said he would report for £13.

£20 FOR MILK.

Mr. N. Power, Fahafeela, Kilmacthomas, claimed for milk supplied to the I.R.A. in 1922.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Kiersey, solr.), for applicant.

Applicant stated he was supplying milk to Kilmacthomas Workhouse. He was claiming £21 16s. 4d., for milk commandeered by the I.R.A. from the 12th January to 31st March, 1922. He supplied 238 gallons at 1/10 per gallon which was the contract price for the unit at the time. For the half year previously he got 2/7 a gallon for the milk.

His Lordship said he would report for £20.

£300 FOR DRAPERY GOODS.

Messrs. Morrissey, Bros., Main St., Dungarvan, claimed £377 for Drapery goods supplied to the I.R.A.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Farrell, solr.), for the applicants.

Mr. M. Morrissey, gave evidence of the items making up the amount and said at the time this claim was incurred he was in the I.R.A. and his brothers were in sympathy with the movement. He gave detailed evidence of the account which was in the name of the Waterford Brigade and the Quarter Masters of 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, Battalions of the Waterford Brigade.

Mr. Ryan solr., said he was satisfied that Morrissey Bros., were supplying wholesale to the I.R.A. and it was a question of the amount. Substantiation amounting to £215 had been paid already.

Mr. Budd—We tried to get the balance from the I.R.A. funds, but did not get it.

Mr. P. Whelan, formerly Brigade Commandant of the I.R.A. in Co. Waterford, said he was aware that Morrissey Bros., supplied the Brigade with drapery goods. They were the main source of supply for the Brigade in this area. At times he had 250 men on active service under him. He had looked over the account and he was satisfied that the goods were supplied to the Brigade, as also to the Battalion Commandants. He had endeavoured to get this money from the I.R.A. funds to pay the account.

Mr. Ryan said he thought £300 would meet the case.

His Lordship said he would report for £300 and £2 expenses.

PONY AND TRAP.

James Cashin, Burgery, Dungarvan, claimed for a pony and trap injured while taken by the I.R.A.

Case dismissed.

Miss Hannah Boyle, O'Connell St., Dungarvan, claimed £32 12s. 5d., for stationery goods supplied to the I.R.A. in the year 1921-1922.

Evidence was given by the claimant of the goods taken the bill for which included 124 per cent. profit.

His Lordship said he would report for £28.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Williams, solr.), for the claimant.

FOR BALLINACOURTY.

Mrs. Cullinan, Main street, Dungarvan, claimed £17 18s. 7d., balance of an account for goods taken by the I.R.A. stationed at Ballinacourty in 1922.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Messrs. J. F. Williams and Son, solr.), for applicant.

Mr. Ryan, State Solr., defended.

After going into the items, Mr. Ryan questioned a sum of 10/- for dinners eaten in the house.

His Lordship said he was not going to allow anything for dinners eaten in the house.

His Lordship reported for £17 8s.

SCRAP IRON. James Curran, Harbour View, sought £14 2s. 6d. in respect of four iron pillars and scrap iron taken by the I.R.A. in 1922.

Examined by Mr. Ryan, applicant said he shipped scrap iron and was at the moment loading a cargo. The present price is 4/7 1/2 a ton. The pillars taken were worth twice the price of ordinary scrap. He understood they were taken for the making of land mines.

John Riordan, deposed he was a member of the I.R.A. in 1922. He helped to take the pillars, but would have no idea of their value. The pillars were afterwards cut in sections and the scrap used to put in the mine.

The officer in charge at the time was named Mooney.

His Lordship reported for £5.

BROKEN WINDOWS.

Mrs. Mary Brown, Church Street, Dungarvan, claimed £8 3s. 11d., for damage to windows, ceiling, etc., by the explosion of a bomb in September 1922.

Applicant gave evidence of the bomb being thrown at 10 p.m., on a night in September 1922. The explosion wrecked 23 panes of glass and damaged ceilings. She paid £8 3s. 11d. for material and repairs. Some of the National troops were injured by the explosion.

Joseph Burke, Glazier, deposed to doing the work in 1922. He put in a lot of glass; he should say about 30 panes and was paid by the Manager at Maurice Flynn's. There were carpenters employed there also.

His Lordship reported for £8 3s. 11d.

BULLY BEEF.

Messrs. G. Stokes and Sons, Square, claimed £3 in respect of 36 lbs. of Bully Beef at 1/8 per lb., taken by the I.R.A. in 1922.

His Lordship reported for £3.

DINNERS AND CLOTHES.

Mrs. Haniah White, Knockanore, claimed £113 in respect of meals supplied to the I.R.A. and £17s. 6d., in respect of clothes taken.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Messrs. J. L. Keane, solr., Youghal, for applicant.

Mr. Ryan, solr., defending, raised the question of meals.

His Lordship ruled that meals eaten in a house could not be classed as chattels taken away, and reported for £4 17s. 6d.

MOTOR HIRE, ETC.

Peter Hehir, Mitchel Street, Dungarvan, claimed £188 12s. 6d., for motor hire and motor accessories, etc., taken from his garage.

Having heard the evidence, his Lordship said he would report for £50.

Mrs. Fogarty, claimed £254 6s. 11d., in respect of goods taken at Modelgrove. His Lordship gave a report for the full amount.

PICTURES AND TABLES BROKEN.

Owen Corbett, Knockalara, Cappoquin, sought £15 damages in respect of pictures, tables, etc., broken in the course of a raid by National forces in June 1923, also damage to a loft in which a quantity of oats was stored.

Applicant deposed that about 2.30 a.m., in June 1923, National troops came to his house looking for diaphanous. They demanded guns and ammunition and searched the house with the aid of flashlights. Two tables and several pictures were broken, and the weight of about 25 soldiers searching the oats for firearms damaged the floor of the loft, the repairs to which cost £7 or £8.

After legal argument by Mr. Ryan, His Lordship held that the claim of damage to the loft was too vague, he agreed as to the damages to the furniture and held it was a case for a decree, and granted a report for £5 5s.

CLAIM FOR SHEEP.

Mr. O'Gorman, solr., for applicant. Mr. Ryan, State Solr., defended.

Mr. O'Gorman said this was a claim by John Hurlery, from the Melleray area for £108 for the loss of sheep.

Applicant deposed he lived at Melleray and was a ranger for Sir John Keane. He had a number of sheep on the mountain about 80 in all. There were 36 ewes in a different place. In February 1923, applicant had to leave and go to England. He came back in June when all the sheep had disappeared except six.

To Mr. Ryan—He did not know what happened to them all. Some had broken legs, others had their eyes out. He was away from February until June. When he came back he did not think it safe to make a claim. There were thousands of sheep on this mountain but it is an unusual thing to have 36 sheep go in three months.

To Mr. O'Gorman—These 36 sheep were in a different place to the others. His Lordship ruled that he could not give compensation in this case.

EGGS TAKEN.

Messrs. Dee, Bros., Dungarvan, claimed £28 10s. for 120 dozens of eggs taken by the I.R.A. in 1922.

Bernard Dee, deposed that in August 1922, the I.R.A. came and demanded the eggs. The eggs were packed by his brother and taken away by the I.R.A. The price at the time was 4/9 per dozen.

His Lordship reported for £25.

RATES QUESTION.

COMMISSIONER AND JUDGE. At Friday's sitting of the Circuit Court before Mr. Justice Sealy.

Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., said that he had been asked by Mr. Commissioner Moynihan to come before His Lordship and apologise to him for having sent out notices re rates to rate-payers whose cases were at the time pending in His Lordship's court. He explained that numbers of copies of the letter were printed and handed to the rate collectors to be sent to defaulting rate-payers in their areas and they were sent to these men knowing nothing whatever about the law. He regretted that the notices were sent out in the case and begged to apologise to His Lordship in the matter.

His Lordship—I appreciate he is in a very difficult position and I accept the explanation.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

ROWING CLUB VICTORY.

At the New Ross Regatta last Friday the Cappoquin Maiden Four scored a notable victory when they won the Ladies' Challenge Cup for which crews from Athlone, Waterford, Barrow and New Ross Clubs competed.

In the first heat Cappoquin easily beat Athlone by 3 lengths, and in the second heat Barrow beat Waterford and New Ross by a good margin. The final between Cappoquin and Barrow was expected to provide a close race, but Cappoquin got away from the start, and without having to extend themselves won comfortably by over 3 lengths. Considering that the Cappoquin crew has not been together very long, and started practice rather late, this season, it was a very promising performance to achieve such a victory in their first outing this year, and the result gave unbounded satisfaction to the many friends of the Rowing Club in Cappoquin.

The members of the crew were—M. Landers (bow), J. Fives (2), P. Landers (3), Martin Daly (stk.), A. J. Sargent (cox).

The same crew will compete at the Cork City Regatta on next Wednesday 11th inst., and also at Waterford Regatta later on, and on present form they should be able to render a good account of themselves at both fixtures.

The Cappoquin Regatta will be held on Monday August 6th (Bank Holiday) and should prove a record success.

OMITTED.

In the list of subscriptions published last week as having been collected by the members of the Ladies' Committee for the Children's Excursion to Youghal, the name of Miss H. Barron, Castle Street, who collected £2 6s. 6d., was inadvertently omitted, the total sum collected up to Wednesday, 27th ult., being £20 3s. 11d.

In connection with the above, Mr. J. J. Barron, Cappoquin, writes:—Re your report of Cappoquin Children's free trip to the seaside in last week's "Observer," I beg to draw your attention to the figures given and I submit that by no mathematical construction could you total them £20 3s. 11d. I ask you to publish this letter and thus be fair to the subscribers of the area—Green Street, Castle Street, Pound Lane and the Square.

In our report of the Concert in another column in this week's issue, the name of Miss Gretta Walsh, Cappoquin, should have appeared as one of the accompanists on the piano during the Concert.

A MEAN BURGLARY.

While Mrs. J. Colbert, who keeps a small shop near Kilmolash, was attending a mission in Ballinacoola Church one night recently, her premises were entered and a quantity of cigarettes, groceries and other articles, as well as a small sum of money taken. The Cappagh Guards have since been actively investigating the affair, but no arrests have been reported up to the present.

PRICE OF PIGS.

The price of fat pigs at the Cappoquin Bacon Factory remained unchanged at 56/- per cwt., dead weight, this week.

SPORTS AT BOOLA.

An interesting Sports meeting under N.A. & C.A. Rules will be held at Boola, between Cappoquin and Melleray, on Sunday 22nd inst., full details of which will appear in our next issue.

CLONMEL CATTLE SALE.

General Mulcahy, asked the Minister for Justice if he was aware that Mr. M. Mansfield, who was a Fianna Fail candidate for Co. Waterford at the last election was conspicuous as a member of the detective force at a sale on June 7 at Clonmel, of cattle seized from a Waterford farmer; what was the reason for his presence and by whose instructions he was there. Mr. Rutledge replied that the officer was present in the ordinary course of his duty. He was stationed in Clonmel for a long time before the sale.

explained that numbers of copies of the letter were printed and handed to the rate collectors to be sent to defaulting rate-payers in their areas and they were sent to these men knowing nothing whatever about the law. He regretted that the notices were sent out in the case and begged to apologise to His Lordship in the matter.

His Lordship—I appreciate he is in a very difficult position and I accept the explanation.

Cappoquin Children's Excursion.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT IN AID OF FUNDS.

For the purpose of helping to raise the necessary funds to provide a free trip to the seaside at Youghal on Friday, 6th inst., for 350 schoolchildren from Cappoquin town and parish, between the ages of six and fourteen years, a grand concert was held in the C.Y.M.S. Hall, Cappoquin, on Sunday night and was very generously supported by all classes of the townspeople.

The idea of giving a free excursion to the children, the first of its kind ever held in Cappoquin, was suggested by the Rev. J. Rea, C.C., about a fortnight ago at a meeting of the C.Y.M.S. in Cappoquin, and although the difficulties of undertaking such a big project seemed at first sight to be insuperable, Father Rea seemed so confident of bringing it to a successful conclusion that his optimism became so infectious that the members of the committee of the C.Y.M.S. at once entered into the spirit of the suggestion and agreed to give him their whole-hearted co-operation in the matter.

Mr. M. J. Sargent, Vice-President of the C.Y.M.S., who is a most energetic and successful organiser of every worthy movement in Cappoquin, threw himself enthusiastically into the difficult task of organising the excursion in conjunction with Father Rea, and in a short time an influential Ladies' Committee was formed, and the necessary steps taken to collect money to meet the heavy expenses of the excursion. The ladies did splendidly in the work of collection, and in a few days were able to lodge the substantial sum of over £20 as a nucleus for the project, but as this amount fell far short of the sum necessary for a successful excursion, it was then decided to hold a concert on Sunday night for the purpose of augmenting the amount so generously subscribed by the townspeople.

An unusually attractive programme had been arranged at short notice for the concert, and this, together with the worthy object for which it was being held, drew a very large and appreciative audience to the spacious C.Y.M.S. Hall on Sunday.

In order to guard against congestion in such warm weather, a special matinee for the children was held on Sunday afternoon and was attended by some hundreds of the juveniles, so that the performance on Sunday night was confined to an audience of adults who were treated to a rare vocal, instrumental and dancing entertainment of great merit.

The programme was opened by a splendid selection of popular songs and choruses by the C.Y.M.S. Pierrot Troupe, the first number being "You Can't Whistle and Sing" which was sung by Mr. T. Flynn, with harmonised effects by the Troupe. "Moonlight Bay" was beautifully rendered by Mr. Joe Barron, the chorus being most tunefully sung by the Troupe, while similar effects assisted Mr. James Curran, Junr., in his faultless singing of "Come Where My Love Lies Dreaming."

After the Pierrot Troupe had finished their most acceptable contributions, Miss D. Kelleher, sang in Gipsy costume a pretty song, "Play to me, Gipsy," with full chorus and effects, for which she was warmly applauded, no encores being allowed owing to the length of the programme.

A recitation entitled "The North Pole," was given with such realism by Mr. J. Moynihan, that the audience seemed to feel the icy chill of the Arctic wastes, and actually shivered in their seats.

Mr. Joe Walsh, the popular and versatile Cappoquin entertainer, was loudly applauded for his sweet singing of "The Cruskeen Lawn," which was well harmonised by the Troupe, after which Miss Bridie Crotty's sweet soprano voice was heard to great advantage in the pretty song, new to Cappoquin, "Will The World Miss Old Ireland," which was very warmly received.

A very attractive turn was next provided when a number of old-time airs, with choruses, were sung by the Pierrot Troupe, including "Lock Lomond" by Mr. Jas. Ahearne, a beautiful waltz song from "The Merry Widow" by Mr. M. J. Sargent, "Daisy Bell" by Mr. N. Regan and "After the Ball" by Mr. M. Regan, the various artists being rapturously applauded for their tuneful and perfect performances which proved a great treat.

The pupils of the Elocution, Singing and Dancing classes conducted by Mrs. Violet McCarthy, Lismore, (late of the Abbey Theatre, Dublin), next treated the audience to a delightful sketch entitled "The Wedding of The Painted Doll," in which the principal parts of the bride and bridegroom were filled by Miss Pauline Collender, Cappoquin, and Master Sean Kelleher, Tallow, the latter role having been ably filled at the matinee performance by Miss Eleanor Crowe, Cappoquin.

Some beautiful figure dancing was introduced by the children during the "Wedding festivities," and the entire sketch was presented in the most perfect and polished manner which reflected great credit on the young performers as well as on their clever and accomplished teacher.

Mr. J. Barnes, the well-known Lismore comedian, received a great ovation for his effective singing of the humorous song, "Valencia," which was rendered in his usually rollicking and inimitable style.

Mrs. Ivy Crowe, Cappoquin's leading soprano, received a wonderful round of applause for her beautiful rendering of "Bird Songs At Eventide," in which her cultured and well-trained voice was heard to great advantage. This popular lady's voice seems to improve both in richness and range at each successive concert in which she appears, but her singing on this occasion, was certainly her best performance, and she fully deserved all the applause which greeted her from all parts of the Hall.

Another delightful item, entitled "The Percussion Band," was given with rare musical effect by a number of Mrs. Violet McCarthy's pupils, a special feature being the perfect and graceful performance of a pretty little girl, Miss Patricia Sargent, aged 6 years, daughter of Mr. A. J. and Mrs. Sargent, Cappoquin, who acted as conductor of the band and filled this exacting role with all the charm and efficiency of a girl of twenty, which was a high tribute to Mrs. McCarthy's brilliant tuition and training.

Mr. Jack Fogarty, Lismore, always a popular contributor at Cappoquin concerts, fully sustained his high reputation as a comedian by his effective singing of the humorous song, "A Day At The Zoo," which brought laughter and applause from the delighted audience.

An Irish Reel was next danced with wonderful grace and precision by Miss Eleanor Crowe, Cappoquin, who had already successfully appeared in various dances and sketches in the earlier part of the programme, and her great versatility was demonstrated by the charming manner in which she now executed this lively Irish dance for which she was very loudly applauded.

Mr. M. J. Sargent, Cappoquin, created a great impression by his beautiful and impressive rendering of the popular song, "Sanctuary," in which his rich baritone voice was heard at its best, the final stanza of the song being given instrumentally, with Mr. Sargent (cornet), Mr. J. E. Crowe, (Euphonium), Mr. M. J. Walsh (violin), Mr. Jas. Lincoln (mandoline), and Miss Eily Mullins (piano), which proved a delightful musical treat for which all the performers were most enthusiastically applauded.

A selection of pretty songs and dances from "The Arcadians" was given in most perfect style by Mrs. McCarthy's pupils, with Miss Rosamund Ebrill, Cappoquin, and Miss Eleanor Crowe, do., taking the principal parts, all the young artistes acquitting themselves in the most brilliant manner.

Miss Gracie Walsh, Cappoquin gave a perfect and expressive rendering of the song, "Sing Me To Sleep," which was very cordially received, after which Mr. J. Barnes, Lismore, again delighted the audience by his masterly rendering of the humorous song, "Our Canary went Coo-Coo."

Perhaps the most acceptable item of the night was the splendid singing of "Anchored" by Mr. Joe Barron, Cappoquin, whose rich and musical baritone voice was heard at its best and he was the recipient of a well-merited round of applause from all present.

Next came "Just A Cottage Small," which was sweetly rendered by Miss D. Kelleher, Cappoquin, after which Miss Nellie Forde, Tallow, a prize-winner for elocution at the recent Cork Feis, gave the beautiful recitation, "Death In Exile," with great expression and declamatory power for which she was very warmly applauded.

A Four-Hand Reel by four of Mrs. McCarthy's young pupils, Miss Tessie Mason, Cappoquin, Miss Lal Ryan, do., Miss Pauline Collender, do., and Miss Maureen Keating, do., was danced with wonderful grace and artistry by those young performers, whose perfect and well-timed evolutions were a treat to witness, and they received the most enthusiastic applause of the night for their delightful and cleverly-executed turn.

The Rev. J. Rea, C.C., who was received with loud and prolonged applause, said he wished to heartily thank the people of Cappoquin, and also those from other places, for their great attendance there that night and for their kindly and generous action in coming to support the children's excursion to Youghal on Friday.

This movement was now only in its infancy, but he hoped it would develop and become an annual event, because anything they would do to brighten the lives of the young children and make them happy, even for one day, would have God's blessing and would bring His blessing on all those who supported the movement, as the people of Cappoquin had so generously done, (applause). He said when they first suggested the holding of this concert a bare week ago he thought it would be only a "scrap" concert owing to the short time they had to prepare for it, but instead of being a "scrap" concert he could say it was one of the most delightful and successful concerts which he had attended for many years, (applause). He wished to thank all the artists for the splendid entertainment which they had given them that night, but he felt that his special thanks were due to Mrs. McCarthy, Lismore, and her clever pupils, particularly the children from Tallow, for their grand performance in singing, dancing and elocution which had proved such striking features of the programme, (applause). He asked all present to pray for fine weather on Friday so that the children could spend one enjoyable day at the seaside and remember with gratitude in the years to come the kindness of the people of Cappoquin, the Ladies Committee and all the members of the C.Y.M.S. and all others who had co-operated with them in helping to brighten their lives for one glorious day, such as he hoped and prayed next Friday would be (loud applause).

The singing of The National Anthem brought the enjoyable proceedings to a close.

The piano accompaniments during the concert were played by Mrs. McCarthy, Lismore, Miss H. Lawton, do., Miss E. Mullins, Cappoquin, and Mr. John Regan, Junr., do., while the duties of master of ceremonies were most efficiently carried out by Mr. J. Olden.

EAST CORK CHAMPIONSHIPS.

Castlemartyr fielded against Gurtroe at the latter's venue on Sunday for a round in connection with the East-Cork Championship and a most enjoyable and well fought game ensued. The visitors showed up well in the first half, which concluded with 3 points to their advantage. They kept up their lead for a good share of the second half, but to the surprise of the onlookers the home team bucked up in a most unexpected manner and walked off victors with a substantial credit margin. A veteran Gael, Mr. Tom Garde, acted as referee.

Castlemartyr won the toss and played with a slight incline and side wind in their favour. Gurtroe took possession and invaded, but Castlemartyr met the attack, rushed the ball down field, but went wide. Again and again Gurtroe made strenuous efforts at scoring, but the defence was too good up and down went the ball, the home goalie saving nicely on two occasions and the visitors narrowly missing a score. About half the first period elapsed when Castlemartyr drew first blood with an easy goal. With varying fortunes the play proceeded and at half time the score stood:—

CASTLEMARTYR ..... 4-2
GURTROE ..... 3-2

Resuming play, the visitors again forced the pace and after a tough fussle near the posts scored a major. This evidently put the homesters on their mettle, following up with a like score. Both teams now warmed up to the fight, and score for score major or minor was piled up by either side, till nearing the end, when Castlemartyr seemed to have lost their grip. Gurtroe put on a big spur, first leveling matters up and then forcing ahead with three running majors. The final score was—

GURTROE ..... 8-3
CASTLEMARTYR ..... 5-4.

DUNGARVAN CIRCUIT COURT.

DAMAGES FOR ASSAULT.

At Dungarvan Circuit Court, before Mr. Justice Sealy. Mr. E. Carroll, solr., for plaintiff. Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., defended. This was an action by Richard Fitzgerald, Ballynoe, against John O'Neill, Ralph, Glencairn, for damages for assault on March 17th, as a result of which the larynx of his throat was damaged. Jas. H. Foley, in reply to Mr. Carroll, deposed he was a Specialist from the Eye, Ear and Throat Hospital, Cork. He examined Richard Fitzgerald on June 25th and found the larynx, or Adam's Apple, disturbed which caused considerable interference with the right vocal cord. There was a fracture of the thyroid cartilage. By Mr. Ryan—The present hoarseness is due to the vocal chord being displaced. Witness could not say if the plaintiff was being attended by a doctor for the throat and nose before. Richard Fitzgerald, deposed he was a carter and contractor for the conveying of mails to Tallow Road station. He called every day to the house of a Mrs. McGrath, which is opposite that of defendant and had his meals there. On March the 17th he was waiting for Mrs. McGrath. While in at McGrath's house, he got a message and went to the door. O'Neill was there and witness said "hello" O'Neill, and went out to him. O'Neill had a share of drink, and while walking down the path to the road said to witness that he did not want the lorry there at all, and that it was the cause of his mare losing her eye. Witness said that he did not believe it, and defendant then said there is no other way to make you believe it but this—and turning round hit me in the throat. Witness reported the matter to the Guards. John McGrath came along and was taking me to the doctor, but I was not able to go. He then went for the doctor, who brought me to Fermoy hospital, where he had to stay two weeks. He had to employ a man for 6 weeks to take his place at 10/- a week, and his keep. Witness then detailed what he had to pay at the hospital and to the doctors. His throat is still paining him and he found great difficulty in swallowing. Before this assault he had a very strong voice. Examined by Mr. Ryan—They were great friends before this, but witness always called him O'Neill not John. O'Neill married into this place five or six years ago. At that time witness garaged the lorry in an outhouse at O'Neill's. He took it away not because O'Neill said he wanted the house for himself, but because he wanted me to pay myself instead of paying the old Missus. The taking away of the lorry did not make them unfriendly, but witness avoided him after that. Witness is not a T.T., but was not asked at any of the Post Offices where he called that day to "down the Shamrock." The lorry did not block the entrance to defendant's stable and witness is not aware that defendant was about half an hour trying to get a young mare into his stable between the lorry and the fence. He did not hear O'Neill shouting and did not hear the girls at McGrath's laughing in reply to the shouts. After the assault witness went to the barracks and reported the matter. Doctor O'Mahony, examined him there and brought him to Fermoy hospital. It was not right that witness had the starting handle of the lorry at the time O'Neill struck him, but he went around the lorry then and got it out. His daughter came between them immediately after he being struck. Miss M. Fitzgerald, corroborated her father's evidence and said when her father left McGrath's with O'Neill she followed them down the path. She demonstrated how O'Neill struck her father and how she screamed and ran between them, keeping her hands against O'Neill's chest. John McGrath, deposed he went to the bridge after hearing of the assault where he found Fitzgerald who could not sleep and was spitting blood. Witness brought him to the barracks and sent for the priest and doctor. Dr. O'Mahony took Fitzgerald to hospital. Witness at one time worked for O'Neill. John O'Neill, defendant, deposed he married into the place 5 or 6 years ago, at the time Fitzgerald had his car garaged in one of the outhouses. Witness then wanted the house and Fitzgerald had to take the lorry. They remained good friends until witness found it necessary to order Mrs. McGrath out of his yard. On 17th March witness spent a quarter of an hour trying to get in a thoroughbred mare into the stable. He shouted for Fitzgerald to remove the lorry, but the only reply he got was a laugh from McGrath's house. He then had to take the mare back into the yard and take an old mare from another stable and put the young mare there. He then went to McGrath's house and met Fitzgerald and asked him to stop the lorry either above or below where it was in future. Fitzgerald's answer was—that he stopped the lorry there before witness came there and it would be there after him. Fitzgerald then caught the starting handle and witness put up his hand to save himself. Fitzgerald's daughter screamed, father, father, don't hit him with the iron, only for putting up his elbow to save himself, he would be in his box to-day. Examined by Mr. Carroll—He went to McGrath's for Fitzgerald and asked him to remove the lorry and to park it further up or down in future. Fitzgerald got excited and went around the lorry and rushed back with the iron. Witness put up his arm, but did not get the blow on the arm as he got in under it. Mr. Carroll—Anyway you got in your's first. Witness—I may have hit him with my elbow. His Lordship said he had no doubt but that O'Neill struck Fitzgerald a blow, it may not have been a very heavy blow, but it had very serious results, and he would give a decree for £45, together with witnesses expenses £9 and Specialists fee £12 12s. CAPPOQUIN BOATHOUSE. Mr. Williams, solr., made application under the Public Health Act for a licence for the purpose of holding dances in the Boathouse Hall, Cappoquin. Replied to his Lordship, Mr. Williams explained that the section of the Act governing dance halls was only recently adopted by the Board of Health. Mr. S. Hickey, said the Cappoquin Rowing Club was in existence for the past 60 years, and dances were carried on there for 25 years. There being no objection from the Guards, the licence was granted. WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION. SHEEHAN V. WATERFORD CO. COUNCIL. Mr. Molloy, B.L. (instructed by Mr. Farrell, solr.), for applicant. Mr. Halley, solr., to the Co. Council, defended. This was an application to His Lordship to fix the amount of compensation for the loss of an eye by Michl. Sheehan, Ballyvoile, sustained while in the employment of the Waterford Co. Council. Applicant deposed that he was 56 years old, married, and had a family. From 1924 he worked on and off for the Co. Council. While working in May 1933, at stone-breaking he was hit by a splinter of stone in the right eye. Dr. Walsh, Kilmacthomas, treated him, and sent him on to hospital at Waterford. He had lost the sight from his right eye from the accident and must wear a shield to keep out the cold. His left eye is affected since. Black bubbles float before his eye and he suffers from headaches. He could not do any work and could not till the acre of land he had. By Mr. Molloy—He was injured in May 6th 1933 and went to Waterford on May 8th. He was five weeks in hospital under Dr. Duggan. When he left the hospital he was getting pains in the head but did not tell Dr. Duggan. He never told anyone about the pains, but the people at home knew it as he often had to stay in bed with them. He was examined by Dr. Duggan recently and was put through certain tests. On January 22nd, he was offered work by Mr. Murphy for the Co. Council. He told Murphy that he was willing to work if he could. Murphy offered him light work scarting, stone-breaking and digging banks. He never rode a bicycle since the accident. If a man named Murphy said he saw witness on a bicycle it would not be right. From the time he started work for the Co. Council he never worked any place else, but drew the donation (Unemployment Assistance). His Lordship—Why did you not try to get work from the farmers. Witness—I could not get it. Dr. McCarthy, deposed that he examined the applicant about a week ago. The right eye is blind and in his opinion the vision of the left eye is now 40 per cent. defective. Applicant complains of dizziness and staggers. To Mr. Molloy—Witness said there was slight inflammation on the left eye. In his opinion the light work which he could do would have to be of a particular nature requiring no eye strain. Dr. Duggan, Waterford, deposed he first examined applicant on May 8th, 1933, and again last week. The right eye is blind, the left is practically normal. In witness's opinion the applicant is fit to work as a general labourer. By Mr. Molloy, B.L.—Applicant would not in my opinion be fit to break stones, or trim hedges with thorns in them. John Murphy, Overseer, deposed to calling on Sheehan and offering him light work. He told him that he was sent by the Co. Surveyor. Applicant said he could not do it. To His Lordship—He looked just as depressed at that time as he does now. Continuing, witness said he saw applicant with a bicycle five or six weeks ago. Witness at the time was speaking to Dr. McCarthy on the road. His instructions are to give this man light work. By Mr. Molloy, B.L.—The light work consists of scarting, stone-breaking and digging banks. That is light work. He had a one-eyed man working at present at stone-breaking earning five shillings a day. To His Lordship—Applicant usually worked three or four months each year, mostly piece-work. His Lordship said he would make the usual order of liability and fix the average weekly earnings at 30/-. In his opinion applicant is fit for light work, but is inclined to nurse this eye as long as he can draw insurance and donation. He had suffered to a certain extent a certain amount of injury and he would fix compensation at 15/- a week. MR. F. MACDERMOT TO REST. Mr. F. MacDermot, Deputy Leader of the Opposition, has left Dublin on medical advice for a rest. His health has not been too good for some weeks, and he has been advised that he needs a long respite from the heavy duties he has been performing for some time.

THE HAY TIME.

June hay, properly treated in the saving process, is unsurpassed in feeding value, and, provided good weather obtains from cutting to carting, no cheaper food for stock is obtainable on the farm. Good hay can provide for full maintenance and also assist in production, thus affording opportunities for economy in the use of concentrated foods. It is, therefore, both of individual and national importance that the season's crop be secured under best possible conditions and at the stage when it reaches its greatest feeding value. Without exaggeration it may be stated that a large percentage of the annual crop is allowed to become too far advanced in growth before cutting time. One of the most important factors affecting the quality of hay is the stage at which the grass is mown. After the main portion of the plants have flowered, deterioration in feeding quality rapidly sets in, and the sooner after this that the crop is cut the more valuable and digestible is the hay likely to be. Immature crops, like this, are more difficult to dry to a condition in which they can be secured in strong cocks without incurring risk of damage, and a longer time should be allowed to elapse in the saving process on this account. In aiming at quality produce one needs to mow early and save the produce without undue tossing about or drenching with heavy rains. The entire operation calls for skill and judgment in taking advantage of a favourable weather spell and the expert handling of the mown produce. Balance in Hay-making Routine. While early hay-making is most desirable, there is, however, no occasion to go head-over-heels after this, and forget that there are other branches of farming equally claiming attention. A balance in farming routine is never more appreciated than at this critically busy season of the year. Before getting entangled in the hay crop it is desirable to complete as much as possible of the hand-hoeing and singling of root crops. This is all the more necessary where the available labour capable of being mustered is limited. When thinning amongst the root crops is commenced early, there is little fear of congestion at hay time, and early singling is becoming more and more important with the increasing acreage of sugar beet. Good weather is certainly the most important single factor in the making of good hay next to cutting the grass early. This being so, it is sound business to take advantage of the most suitable fine spell, even if the crop has not reached that state of maturity which is sometimes regarded as desirable or necessary. Bulk of crop is not so important for the average farmer who uses his own hay as quality. Under certain conditions a greater bulk of crop may be desirable. In such an event cutting may be delayed for a week or so, and a greater yield will certainly accrue, but its quality will have been considerably reduced in the interval. Hoing and Singling. The softness of the weather during last week, for which we may be thankful, gave a very welcome fillip to the different root crops, which until then were looking somewhat sickly. Side-hoeing, weeding, and thinning have, therefore, suddenly jumped to a position of major importance, and will continue to give periodical employment for some time. To the large grower of sugar beet these operations are a considerable source of expense in labour and deserve close study, with a view to reducing costs somewhat. One thing, at least, is quite certain: they are highly beneficial forms of inter-culture amongst the root crops, and should be repeated as often as may be necessary. A certain amount of these cultivations may be carried out by means of horse implements, but much hoeing is done by hand, and is necessary where a thorough clearance of weeds is to be effected. Efficient and quick hoers are needed if the cost of the work is to be kept within the value of the benefit derived. Efficiency and speed vary to an enormous extent in individuals, and to some extent in districts, according to the varying textures met with. Also the tools met with vary from big blades of three inches or more down to something like a thin wire. Increased efficiency and speed are encouraged by allowing workers to undertake this type of job by the piece-work system, and by giving a bonus on the quality of the finished operation if satisfactorily performed. One should, for preference, encourage the use of hoers having narrow thin blades that will retain their sharpness longest. The narrow blade is also advantageous in singling and in removing weeds from around the tiny plants. Sugar-Beet Spacings. One of the most important factors in sugar-beet cultivation having a topical interest is the question of regularity of plant, which can only be obtained by a full plant in the first instance and by most careful singling and the avoidance of loss in hoeing. Mangolds, swedes, and other roots crops respond more or less well to comparatively wide spacing. Not so with beet, however. The size of the individual beet-root is influenced mainly by the nature of the soil, manurial treatment, cultivation, and freedom from weeds. As a rule, the largest yield per acre without unduly increasing the cost of cultivation, is obtained from a spacing somewhere in the neighbourhood of 9 inches between plants in the row, and obtaining a full crop will depend to a considerable extent upon getting an average spacing of about this interval. Unfortunately, singling is sometimes done in a very hasty and haphazard fashion, and best results do not accrue from such methods. A small variation in the spacing between plants of, say, 11 ins. may result in a reduction of 2 1/2 to 3 tons per acre, and the gross value of this would be upwards of £5, which is sufficient to cover the cost of properly thinning a couple of acres. Increased yields per acre would appear to be one of the ways of meeting the lower price that will be paid the grower, and the number of plants per acre is a vital point in this direction. "MAC." in "Farmers Gazette." ANNUAL WEEDS. There are two periods in the year when farms look their best. The first is in spring about the beginning of mangel sowing, and the second is in late summer, just previous to harvest. At both these seasons a well-run farm looks particularly neat and tidy, although at first one cannot give a reason for it. It is only upon reflection that one realises that it is the absence or non-visibility of weeds which makes the fields so attractive. A weedy field is like a dusty room, unpleasing to the eye. Unfortunately, the weed-free condition of the land in spring is not lasting and the well-groomed appearance of fields just showing their neat rows of oat and barley seedlings soon becomes marred by the thousands of annual and other weeds which are the curse of arable land farming. It is on light land that these annual weeds are discovered in greatest abundance, clay lands supporting few species and fewer individuals. Perhaps this is just as well. It is difficult enough to keep down weeds on light loams which will work easily in almost any weather, so that if the stronger lands produced the same crops of weeds, there would be no alternative but to let them go out of cultivation or put them down to grass. If we exclude such pests as the creeping thistle, dock, and twitch (couch grass), we shall find that the majority of light land weeds are annuals—that is, they are plants which germinate, grow and produce seed in the same year. They are consequently dependent upon seed for their distribution and reproduction and measures taken against them must either aim at killing of the seedlings as they germinate or at preventing the maturing plants from forming and shedding seed. Well has it been said "one year's seeding means seven years' weeding," and a little thought as to the best way of killing annual weeds will usually be amply repaid.

SCRAP AT YOUGHAL.

Although there have been occasional wordy exchanges between political opponents locally, the first real scrap took place only last Friday night. On Thursday night there was a Blue Shirt march through the principal streets. On Friday night Fianna Fail supporters held a similar display and later they assembled in front of the residence of Mr. J. Daly, Cork Hill, one of the successful F.F. Urban Council candidates. It is stated that a number of Blueshirts from another part of the town came on the scene. Party cries were bandied about, with the result that contact was made and blows exchanged, one young man getting some nasty head wounds. The action of the originators is roundly condemned by everybody. Edward Murphy (55), sacristan at Fenor Church, Co. Waterford, collapsed as he was about to take up his position as door collector at the Church and died in a few minutes. Deceased was Commandant of the local I.R.A. during the Anglo-Irish war.

THE ROADS TO CLONEA.
Now that the summer has really come to stay and visitors to the seaside are many, we would recommend to the kind attention of Mr. Moynihan, the Commissioner administering the affairs of the Co. Council the state of the road leading to Clonea strand at the Castle end, and would ask him to have it made fit for pedestrians, cyclists and motorists. It is in a bad state at present, but if given sanction Mr. Bowen with his wonted efficiency would have it made perfect at a trifling cost. The road from Garrynagheagh school to the Ocean View Hotel also needs attention and in view of the enormous traffic over it, it should be attended to without delay. On Sunday last there was an enormous number of visitors at Clonea Strand, and with the approach of the dog days and the lure of the sea, more and more will visit this charming resort.

NURSING ASSOCIATION.
A Flag Day in aid of the Dungarvan and district Nursing Association will be held on Thursday next—Show Day.

DEVELOPING ABBEYSIDE.
An Abbeyside correspondent draws the attention of our new Urban Council to the necessity of developing the seaside resort of Abbeyside. He says a beginning could be made with some badly needed improvements which would not be very costly and would give welcome employment. He suggests a thorough cleaning of the Strand and the running out of groynes to conserve the sand and also the construction of a Promenade from Abbeyside Church to the New Road on the sea-front. The provision of amusements should also be considered if they were to compete successfully with their neighbours.

DUNGARVAN SHOW.
This great annual event will take place on Thursday next 12th inst and will be up to the high standard of previous years. The entries in Horses and cattle are very big and in addition they will be noted for the excellence of the quality of the animals on exhibit. All the Munster Counties will be represented in the rings and competition will be very keen. The Industrial Section is also largely patronised. The Jumping will be the best ever seen as entries are pouring in from all parts and it is anticipated over 100 competitors will come before the Judges. The Committee have the arrangements perfect to the minutest detail. A Bar and refreshment tent has been provided as the weather promises to be very summery altogether, and nothing is being left undone to cater for the enjoyment and comfort of all patrons.

CINEMA NEWS.
A great treat is promised picture-goers during the coming week, when the famous comic opera "Fra Diavolo" will be shown at the Cinema, for three nights commencing Wednesday July 11th. The screen's finest comedy team Laurel & Hardy take leading parts in this grand entertainment, while the production is greatly enhanced by the glorious singing of Dennis King, Metropolitan Opera star, who plays the role of the bandit chief. It is an altogether magnificent film which is well worth seeing, and patrons might note that there are matinees on Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 4 p.m.

HURLING SEMIFINALS.
On Sunday next at Thurles Cork and Limerick meet in the semi-final of the Munster Hurling Senior Championship and the match should be as fine an exhibition of the hurling code as has been seen for many a long day. Both counties have several recent wins to their credit and with perfect training and dash in the teams there will be nothing given away by either combination until the final whistle goes. Tipperary and Clare will also fight out the Minor Hurling semi-final. Special arrangements have been made to cater for the huge crowd that will be present. A train leaves Waterford at 10.30 a.m. on Sunday, stopping at all stations and returning at 6.45 p.m. Fare 4/6.

HORSE SHOW DANCE.
The annual Horse Show Dance will be held in the Dungarvan Town Hall on next Thursday night, July 11th. For all particulars see advt.

COMPENSATION CLAIMS.
At Waterford Circuit Court the following awards were made:—
Kate Kent and others, Kilmacthomas £83; P. Kiersey, Kilmacthomas, £70; Jas. Coffey, do., £16; Kathleen Flynn, and Anthony Cullinane, £7 10/-; M. Doyle, draper, Quay, Waterford, £45.

BALLYIN TOURNAMENT.
Full details of the Ballyin (Lismore) Tournament under G.A.A. auspices will be found in our advertising columns.

WHERE ARE THE TOURISTS?
Up to the moment Tourists have been very scarce in these parts. Swallows came as usual, but tourists failed to put in an appearance. Perhaps now that the weather has promised to be good they will swarm over the land, filling our hotels and restaurants and basking in our sunny spots. If they come we can entertain them.

NO BUYERS.
At Waterford Fair on Monday there were very few buyers and trade was almost at a standstill.

JUBILEE YEAR G.A.A.

The Essay-writing competitions—Irish and English—promoted by the Committee in charge of the G.A.A. Jubilee celebrations in Dublin have attracted widespread interest and further circulars detailing the conditions have been issued in response to requests by teachers.
The idea underlying the competitions is to seek to bring home to the youth that the G.A.A. has a wider significance in the life of the nation than the development of hurling and football and the title chosen for the essays—"The G.A.A.—its cultural and national Aspects"—should afford plenty of scope to intending entrants. It is expected, of course, that teachers everywhere, particularly those who have been actively identified with the work of the G.A.A., will lend their encouragement.

Three medal prizes are offered in each section and, in addition, the schools to which the first-prize winners are attached, will each be awarded a silver cup. The competitions are open to children under 15 years of age on November 1, 1934, and entries will be received at 15 Parnell Square, Dublin, up to July 21.

Meanwhile the Dublin Committee is busily engaged in forwarding the arrangements for the Jubilee Celebrations, which are intended to have an all-Ireland appeal. In this connection, again keeping in mind the necessity of bringing the younger generation into close contact with the G.A.A., attention is directed to the Inter-Provincial Schools contests—hurling and football.

The programme for September includes also open competitions in raising and striking the hurling ball and football place-kicking. There should be keen rivalry in these departments and the Dublin Gaels look to the co-operation of the counties in their efforts to make the celebrations all round a signal success. It should be noted that, apart from the Essay-writing competitions, entries close on July 15.

The Central Council at its meeting on Saturday was unanimously of the opinion that the ash-planting campaign, initiated by the Dublin Committee, and proposed for Saturday, November 3, to mark the Jubilee in a very practical manner, was deserving of the whole-hearted support and co-operation of the Gaels of Ireland.

CREAMERY MILK.—Answering Mr. J. M. Burke (F.G.) Dr. Ryan, Minister for Agriculture, said that creamery owners had not yet calculated the price payable for milk delivered during June. It was estimated that the average price would be between 3.8d. and 4d. per gallon.

CALE SKINS.—Dr. Ryan, Minister for Agriculture, informed Mr. J. M. Burke, (F.G.), that the number of calf skins exported during June was 30,685. It was not possible to state how many calves had been slaughtered, as the bounty scheme took into consideration only the inspection and export of skins irrespective of the date of slaughter.

NO. 183.

CHECKING BAD HABITS.

By "PHILOKON."

IN the heavy post bag arriving daily at headquarters of the Tail-Waggers Club, 47, Temple Chambers, Temple Avenue, E.C.4, are many letters from foreign parts. One recently received from a South African Editor suggests a Tail-Wagger Chat on a subject that is perplexing one of his readers. This gentleman has a puppy of a large breed that may possibly become savage as he grows up and should that happen, he would run the chance of being poisoned. What can be done to prevent him scavenging or taking food that is offered to him? The matter is worth discussing being of general interest. As far as possible, all dogs should be discouraged from contracting either of the habits mentioned, as their usefulness as guards is impaired.

A few breeds refuse food instinctively from a stranger, Alsatians especially declining to be tempted. In some of them the trait is developed to an embarrassing extent as they would rather starve than eat a supper offered by any but master or mistress. A Pyrenean Mountain dog that we once had was often offered dainties when she went shopping with her mistress and her only response was a growl. Most breeds, however, more socially inclined, show no disposition to avoid any good things that are going. Why should they, unless they are taught otherwise? The manner of teaching is not always simple, but obviously one of the first things to do is to get such complete control of the dog that obedience grows into second nature, and the desire to please becomes so deeply rooted that he will respect our wishes even in absence. Try to make him obedient in all things, beginning when he is young. Immediately he does anything wrong, say "No," very firmly, but not harshly in case he should be frightened. In time, as he comes to understand your meaning, he will refrain from transgressing and a gentle rebuke will ensure the observance of your wishes.

With regard to picking up garbage or food, train him by dropping pieces of meat where he will find them. Directly he approaches, give the cautionary "No," and if he ignores your order repeat it more severely, at the same time slapping him with the hand or using a light cane. Continue the lessons until he obeys. It may be necessary to doctor meat with mustard, bitter aloes or something else that is nauseous, but as a rule a sensible dog will appreciate that he is doing wrong. Always feed him at regular hours, and never in any circumstances let him have tit-bits in between times or allow visitors to give him anything at meals. The best-mannered dog can be spoiled when this is done.

You may proceed a little further in the lessons by getting a friend to offer the dog something he likes and then checking him sharply with the admonitory "No" if he shows any disposition to accept it. It is a good plan to let him have his principal meal in the evening so that he will have no inducement to eat in the night.

This chat is issued by THE TAIL-WAGGERS' CLUB OF IRELAND, 23, Old Abbey Street (off Marlborough Street), Dublin, C.8. The Club will be pleased to answer any enquiries submitted by Tail-Wagger Owners in connection with canine hygiene and welfare.

Feeding the Brood Sow.

WHEN TO INCREASE AND TO REDUCE THE RATION.

Hard and fast rules as to the feeding of brood sows cannot be laid down if the best results are to be obtained. The reason for this, as every pig-breeder of experience knows, is that no two sows are exactly alike. Some are what are called "good doers," others are precisely the opposite, and it would be absurd to treat both alike. The usual trouble with sows of the former type is that although their capacity for making good use of their food is a desirable quality, there is a risk of their overdoing it. If they are allowed to have all the food that they are able to consume, they are likely to become fat and clumsy, and such sows, as a rule, do not make the best of mothers. A sow in this condition is not, in the first place in the best condition for farrowing; and in the second she is not in a fit state to take care of her pigs or to nourish them properly. She will probably lie upon or trample on some of her litter, and because she is composed too largely of fat, her pigs will not draw from her so much nourishment as they would from a more meaty but less fat mother.

The over-lean pig, on the other hand, may not have sufficient stamina to support a large and hungry family. If she be allowed to get into poor condition before farrowing, she will certainly become much poorer afterwards and then either she or her young ones, or possibly both, will suffer. One has often heard it said of a sow that she is a good mother because she "gives it all to her pigs," which is all very well so far as it goes. It is natural for a sow to lose a certain amount of flesh within two or three weeks of farrowing, from which time up to the date when her young ones are taken away, she is subjected to the heaviest strain. But a rapid loss of flesh during this period is bad and usually means that, although the sow may have been getting plenty of food, she has not been getting the right kind.

A breeding sow, if she is to produce and rear two litters in the course of the twelve-month or a little over, as she is commonly expected to do, must be fed on the right food throughout the year. There is but a very short period during which she is neither pig nor rearing a family, so that it is necessary to do something more for her during the whole time than enable her just to keep body and soul together. But that does not mean that she should be over-fed. The time to increase her food to the maximum is when her young ones are with her and growing rapidly: the time to reduce it is when her family is away from her.

But no change in quantity of food should be made too rapidly. It may seem that when a sow's pigs are taken away from her her ration could be drastically reduced at once because she had been receiving so many extra pounds a day for the benefit of her pigs. But it has to be remembered that at this time there is lost ground to be made up on her own account. She can do with less from the day her pigs leave her, but the reduction must be by degrees. A reduction of a pound or so per day will be quite enough at first, and that process may be repeated week by week until she is back to a normal diet. The latter may be taken to be about 6 lbs. per day for a normal animal. From this time in particular, her feeding will have to be gauged according to circumstances. She should now be in good condition, but not too fat. If she keeps so well and good, but if she begins to fall away at all, she should have a slight and gradual increase up to the time of farrowing, always bearing in mind the fact that she must never be allowed to become too fat.

At farrowing time, and for two or three days afterwards, her food should be of the lightest, and the quantity may be reduced to some extent. After that a gradual increase should begin again, so that during the whole time her litter is with her she has enough. Barley meal should never figure too prominently in the sow's ration. Oats and crushed wheat can take the place of most of it. Oats are good for milk production, and not too fattening. Finally, green good in plenty should always be supplied.—L.S. "Farmers' Gazette."

THE LATE MR. ED. WARD,
PILTOWN, CO. KILKENNY.

The death under tragic circumstances of Mr. Edmond Ward, Piltdown, Co. Kilkenny, cast a gloom over that village and adjoining district on Saturday.

Deceased was Manager at Messrs. Sutton's Ltd., Coal Merchants, Waterford branch. He was well known and most popular and respected throughout Munster and Leinster. He was found dead in bed on Saturday morning by his brother in his home at Piltdown, with his head partly blown away and a shot gun lying beside him. At the inquest, evidence of suicide was returned, the cause of death was testified to by Drs. Ryan and Conlan, as laceration of the brain and shock and hemorrhage.

Deceased was in his usual health and spirits on Friday night when he returned from Waterford. Evidence given at the inquest showed his accounts etc., with Messrs. Sutton's were in perfect order, and that he was a most capable and valuable business man. He was aged 45.

EXCITING SCENES IN CARRICK-ONSUIR.

Exciting scenes were witnessed in Carrick-on-Suir on Thursday (Fair Day) and again on Friday evening. On fair day four cattle, the property of a farmer named Patk. Halpin, Curragheen, Co. Waterford, had been seized on Thursday morning for rates and were driven to the Railway station at Carrick and impounded by police and detectives. The cattle were redeemed at the station by friends of Mr. Halpin. When Bailiff J. Bagge, was leaving the railway station he was struck with sticks. Later on the Guards arrested four farmers sons named Wm. Phelan, Newtown, Jas. Murphy, Grange-mockler, Jas. Purcell, Ballyheney, Thos. Carroll, Templeoran and Jas. Kennedy, Figlash, they were charged at a special court with riot and unlawful assembly and assaulting bailiff Bagge.

They were remanded on bail to next Carrick Court.

A protest meeting of farmers held later on was addressed by Messrs. G. Green, Heffernan, and others.

On Monday night when the Carrick contingent of the League of Youth was returning from the Piltown Blue Shirt parade, the Guards at Carrick re-buffed them for noisy scenes when passing the barrack. Sergt. O'Shea, it was alleged was assaulted by one of the Blue Shirts who struck him on the forehead with a baton. When Sergt. O'Sullivan took one of the Blue Shirts inside the barrack wall a number of them jumped over the wall and got into hand-grips with the Guards, who used their batons. Some of the Blue Shirts sustained head injuries and one was detained in hospital. Early on Saturday morning eleven of the Carrick Blue Shirts who had been in the crowd returning from the Piltown parade were arrested and charged with riot and unlawful assembly and assaulting the Guards and they were remanded in custody.

UNSUSTAINABLE.

Before Mr. Justice Sealy, at Dungarvan Circuit Court.

In the action by James Bluet, Stradbally, against James Sheehan, for £3, 13s., amount alleged to be due for grazing of defendant's cattle on plaintiff's land at Millerstown in 1928.

Mr. Esmonde (instructed by Mr. Ryan, solr.) for plaintiff; and Mr. Budd, (instructed by Mr. P. O'Connor, solr.) for defendant.

Mr. Budd, for the defendant, said it was a bogus claim. His client never took the land or made any contract. Sheehan's cattle were seized on this farm in 1928 by the sheriff and sold.

His Lordship said the action was unsustainable, and he dismissed it with costs.

BY THE WAY.

The Viennese papers are demanding that the policeman there should wear moustaches. They got the idea from Budapest where the police director made it obligatory for the officers of the law to grow martial-looking moustaches in order to frighten rogues. Will Vienna follow suit? We doubt it, for according to all accounts the Viennese women have expressed decided opinions in favour of a clean-shaven corps, without any regard to the psychological significance of the matter. There was a period when the old R.I.C. sported side-whiskers and moustaches, but such a facial display would look extremely odd to-day.

MIND YOUR EYE!

"The other day" (writes a Bonmahon biped) "I met a friend suffering from an irritating sty—a little boil protruding from the edge of his eye. Without extending very much sympathy, I remarked that he looked rather ridiculous and half asleep. My friend grinned. "You wait," he says; "styes are contagious, and its more than likely you'll have one yourself before long." I laughed and forgot the incident until next morning, when I discovered that the laugh was on me—I had a sty." (It is difficult to explain this extraordinary infection. We had heard before that a person who looked at a sty was liable to develop one, but we had not credited the statement.)

ON THE FARM.

The prevailing heat after the spell of welcome wet weather is proving of great benefit to the crops in general. Potatoes have gained their fullest foliage, and many farmers have sprayed, as a precaution against blight. Cornfields are very promising, and a high yield is anticipated. The turnip crop is faring finely, and mangolds and beet are doing splendidly, in fact, far better than at this time last year. Hay cutting and saving operations are in full swing over Mid-Waterford this week.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

RATES CASES.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)

There were a number of undefended civil bills and ejectments in which Messrs. J. L. Keane, solr., Youghal, and Mr. W. St. Clair Rice, solr., Middleton, appeared for plaintiffs.

Another batch of farmers from Co. Waterford were summoned for arrears of rates.

Decrees were granted where there was no appearance for defendants, and the others adjourned to next Court, when a large number adjourned from previous Courts will be decided.

At the request of the Collector, all decrees under £5 were ordered to be handed to the Civic Guards.

In reply to questions of the District Justice, the Collector, Mr. J. Condon, stated that the Commissioner for the district had given instructions that the most active steps should continue to be taken against defaulters who had distraintable effects, and that the Commissioner intended to make personal inspection to see whether the Collectors were carrying out their duty in that respect. The Commissioner further stated that from reports of cases brought before the Courts, he didn't consider that either the collectors or their solicitors pressed their full cases before the Courts. Sufficient stress was not laid on the fact that the defaulters had already got about 12 months time and that a new demand for the current rate would fall due for payment in a short time, and that any undue extension for the old rate would place defaulters in a false position in face of the further demand, and at the same time paralysed the Co. Administration.

LARCENY CASE.

John Kennedy, Ballysherdane, Mitchelstown, was brought up in custody on remand, charged with the larceny of 2 calf skins, value 22/-, the property of Julia Rea of Drough, Mitchelstown.

Inspector McConville, prosecuted. Sergt. Lenihan, Mitchelstown, deposed that he arrested the defendant on 25th June, at Mitchelstown, and charged him with that on the night of the 22nd or the morning of the 23rd, at Drough, Mitchelstown, he did steal 2 calf skins, value 22/-, the property of Julia Rea, of same place. He gave him the usual legal caution. Defendant stated—"I never did anything like that mind." Witness applied for a further remand to Mitchelstown District Court. His inquiries were not yet complete. From what had come to his knowledge he expected to be in a position to give evidence connecting accused with said offence, at next hearing.

The Justice—Is this a summary charge of larceny?

The Sergt. said there might be another charge—for maliciously killing. The animals were killed and left on the land.

The Justice—How were they killed?

The Sergt.—Their throats were cut with a knife.

The Justice said there was a special section dealing with a charge of that kind, which amounted to felony.

Asked if he had any questions to put to witness, defendant said he wasn't guilty and asked how could the Sergt. prove his case.

The Sergt.—I decline to answer that question—I am privileged.

Defendant—I don't see why I am brought up on this charge. I am as innocent as the God over me.

The Justice—The case is not being tried to-day.

Defendant—It shouldn't be tried any-time.

Replying to the Court, the Sergt. said he wouldn't object to substantial bail. Defendant was an idle butcher of no standing.

Accused was remanded in custody to Cork Jail, bail being fixed at £50 and 2 sureties of £25 each.

CO. KILKENNY MEN CHARGED AT CARRICK-ON-SUIR COURT.

At a special Court at Carrick-on-Suir on Monday, Philip Grace, P. Morris, Ashdown, Raheen, J. Oakley, Templeoran, and Laurence Murphy, Raheen, were remanded on bail on a charge preferred by Inspector Hunt, of riot and unlawful assembly and assaulting Wm. Butler.

It is understood that the five defendants are members of the League of Youth, and that Wm. Butler is a member of the new Volunteer Force.

Imposing Consecration.

SS. PETER AND PAUL, CLONMEL.

ADDRESS BY ARCHBISHOP OF LIVERPOOL.

On Saturday, the magnificent Church of SS. Peter and Paul Clonmel, which cost over £80,000 and is now free of debt, was solemnly consecrated by Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, Bishop of Waterford.

The new church is an imposing edifice, and its consecration marks the completion of a work begun by the late Most Rev. Dr. Sheehan, Bishop of Waterford, continued by the late Archbishop Flavin, and completed by the present pastor, Rt. Rev. Monsignor W. J. Walsh, D.D., V.G., Dean of Waterford.

The Consecration was followed by Solemn High Mass at which Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, presided, and the preacher was his Grace, Most Rev. Dr. Downey, Archbishop of Liverpool.

Most Rev. Dr. Downey arrived in Clonmel on Saturday evening and was received by the Bishop of the Diocese, Right Rev. Monsignor Dean Walsh, and the Parochial Committee.

At 8 p.m. he attended at the Council Chamber in the Town Hall, where he was presented with the freedom of the Borough, and an address from the Corporation, signed by Mr. R. Stapleton, the Mayor, and Mr. J. J. Berkery, Town Clerk, on behalf of the citizens. A Guard of Honour of Catholic Boy Scouts was on duty outside the Town Hall.

The town was gaily decorated with bunting and scrolls expressing welcome to his Grace and the Bishop.

The Mayor and members of the old and the newly elected Corporation gave his Grace a cordial welcome. Members of the Corporation were presented to Most Rev. Dr. Downey, who got a wonderful reception when he rose to sign the Roll of Freemen of the Borough.

The last to receive the honour was the late Countess Markievicz, date November 2, 1917. The list also includes the name of John Dillon, Charles Stewart Parnell and W. E. Gladstone.

The address of welcome was read by Mr. Berkery, Town Clerk.

Replying to the address, his Grace, having sketched the historic associations of Clonmel, said he esteemed it a singular privilege to have his name inserted as a freeman of the borough with its magnificent traditions and glorious history.

He was, he said, always glad to come to Ireland, and that day he had had the pleasure of seeing his own home in High Street, Kilkenny. If he was proud of anything, next to being a Catholic, he was proud of being an Irishman.

First High Mass. SERMON BY MOST REV. DR. DOWNEY.

There was a fitting close to the consecration ceremony when High Mass was sung in the new church on Sunday, in the presence of a crowded congregation.

Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, presided, and the celebrant, the deacon, and the sub-deacon at the Mass were natives of the town.

The Mayor, Mr. R. Stapleton, in his robes of office, and the members of the Corporation, old and new, occupied seats in front of the High Altar.

At noon a procession, headed by the cross-bearer and acolytes, followed by the prelates and clergy, passed from the Parochial House to the church through lines of Catholic Boy Scouts. As the head of the procession reached the entrance gate a bugler sounded the General Salute.

The Mass in the flower-bedecked church was most impressive. The Gregorian music was sung by the choir of the church, augmented by the male voices from the Franciscan Abbey. Mr. W. Scott Minchin the organist, specially composed "The Gloria" and the "Agnus Dei," and at the Offertory he gave a delightful rendering of Boellman's beautiful organ solo, "Prere A Notre Dame."

The Archbishop of Liverpool, in an impressive sermon, said that was a red-letter day, a day of rejoicing, a day when they might well ring joyous peals in the belfry of their hearts, for they were met to celebrate the solemn consecration of that beautiful church on the Sunday within the octave of its patronal feast.

The hour had struck for the people's reward a hundredfold for the struggles and sacrifices which they and their forefathers had made in the past to build that sacred edifice, the hour of their recompense when their eyes saw that which many had desired to see and had not seen—the crowning ceremony of the dedication forever to the service of God of that enduring monument of Catholic faith and piety.

All along the pathway of the ages the faithful had striven to make their churches worthy temples of the living God. It was in this spirit that the great medieval cathedrals were built, to be edifices not merely in which, but with which, to worship God. And it had always been considered fitting that before a church was solemnly dedicated it should be made in every way worthy of the superb ritual of the ceremony of consecration.

As he beheld that church, he should congratulate the people on its balanced proportions, its spacious dignity, its spirit of reverence, and its devotional adornment.

"Your church," continued Dr. Downey, "has a history of which you may well be proud, from its humble beginnings as a chapel of ease in 1814 down to the period of its restoration, begun

25 years ago by Archdeacon Flavin, and carried to its present happy completion by Monsignor Walsh.

"You have indeed erected a worthy shrine for the Lamb, Who is its Lamp. But the internal beauty of the temple is meant to be reflected interiorly in your own souls. 'Be you also as living stones, a spiritual house,' says St. Peter.

"By using the means of grace afforded to you in His sacred edifice you become the active complement of Him Who is fulfilled in all His members. It is the end that crowns the work, and the end, aim, and object of your consecrated church is to draw you into closer union with the Lamb of God.

"Sometimes, perhaps, as you have wandered about the ruins of some old pre-Reformation church or cathedral, and you have marvelled at what must have been the splendour of those ancient temples of God. Why did your ancestors build them thus glorious and magnificent?

"Not, I assure you, to be mere places of prayer meeting or psalm singing or even of preaching, but because they believed in the Living Presence of the Living God upon the Christian altar, because they believed that the Lamb was the Lamp thereof. Therefore did they build them thus glorious and magnificent, to be each of them, as it were, an outer shell enshrining the Lamb upon His throne.

"And their blood is flowing in your veins. You have walked in the old ways and not departed from them. You have kept that which was committed to your trust. You have built as your fathers built, in the same spirit and in the same faith.

"This temple of God which you have raised to His honour and glory is a true reflection of the heavenly city of the Apocalypse in that its foundations are bejewelled with prayers, its gates adorned with blessings, its aisles sanctified by the passage of the relics of the saints, but, above all and beyond all, in that the glory of God hath enlightened it and the Lamb was the Lamp thereof."

In the afternoon the Archbishop of Liverpool and the Bishop of Waterford were entertained at a banquet in the Sisters of Charity Schools, and in the evening Dr. Downey delivered a very interesting address in the Oisín Theatre, entitled "If I were Dictator."

The catering at the banquet was carried out by Mrs. Lawler and Sons, Na Ríog Hotel, Naas.

At the conclusion, Mr. Beausang, proposed a vote of thanks to their capable Town Clerk, Mr. M. H. Walsh, and his staff for the admirable and prompt manner in which both the election and the counting were carried out.

Mr. M. D. Broderick, seconded. He wished to avail of that opportunity to thank the people for having elected his brother and himself to the same position as before, and also the voters of the South Ward for having given so prominent a place to their friend Mr. Kevin Keane. He would like to include the Civic Guards for the capable manner in which they handled things.

Mr. P. J. McMahon, P.C., as one of the defeated candidates in the South Ward, begged to be associated with the vote. He wished the 21 members of the new Council the best of good luck. Having had a good run for their money, there was no cause for ill-feeling (hear, hear).

Mr. R. Power, asked to be associated with the proposition. It was highly creditable to the officials that they had discharged their difficult task so well, and so expeditiously.

Mr. Kevin Keane, as a new comer, endorsed all that had been said by the previous speakers. He had never expected to be in that position, and he desired to express his deep sense of gratitude. He hoped that the new Council would be worthy of the people of Youghal and prove themselves equal to the task before them.

Mr. C. O'Regan, as a representative of Labour, expressed his concurrence.

Labour candidate, Mr. O'Sullivan.

Mr. R. Savage, said the previous speakers had left little or nothing to him to say regarding the efficiency displayed by the Town Clerk and his staff. What they had seen that day was a lesson to them.

Mr. M. Cashman, also asked to be associated with the proposition.

The Town Clerk, on behalf of the staff and himself, returned grateful thanks for all the nice things that had been said of them. It was only a pleasure to them. The new Council could rely on his best co-operation in the work before them.

FIRE AT YOUGHAL.

CHILDREN'S ESCAPE.

About midnight a fire broke out in the bedroom of a house occupied by W. Bullman, motor driver, and family at Kennally's Terrace, Cork Hill. Some of the youngsters were in bed and others in cots. It would appear that the fire originated with a candle lighting alongside the bed, the clothes of which caught the blaze. The children in the bed got out, ran downstairs into the open, where their crying raised the alarm. A neighbour named John Kiely, was quickly on the scene, dashing up stairs he set about extinguishing the flames. Two others, Patk. Kelly and M. J. Collins, came to his assistance and removed the other children to safety. Their timely arrival must have averted a tragedy, painful to contemplate and their prompt and capable handling of the situation deserves commendation.

GAELIC GARNERINGS.

Ideal weather favoured the enactment of the three-part programme at the Gaelic Field on last Sunday, and the attendance of onlookers got full alure for their money.

For the victors, Captain Joe, Willie and Berky Power, "Plus" Dalton, Michael Troy, John Keane, Michael and Paddy Morrissey, Paddy Veale, Mick Halpin, Nicholas Crotty, and the versatile Johnny Power, were a gallant group; while Kilmac were best served by Tom Scurry (a lovely hurler) "Cella" Flynn, Paddy Walsh, Mickey Morrissey, Peter and William Troy, Paddy Bluett, Ned Brien, Larry Veale, Tommy Morrissey, David Power, and Michael Downey (Michael proved himself a goalie par excellence).

Mid-Decies' Gaels will be in Thurles with the rest on to-morrow (Sunday), for the Cork-Limerick mix in this year's Provincial penultimate, senior hurling. A great game is assured, and it is anticipated the attendance will be a record.

Many share in the opinion that the winners of this test will capture All-Ireland honours. But Waterford isn't beaten yet!

LISMORE NOTES.

THE NEW COUNCIL.

It is a great tribute to the popularity and efficiency of the outgoing members of the Lismore Town Commissioners that eight of them were again nominated for re-election and returned unopposed, while in the case of the ninth member, (Mr. R. Ormond), he had previously left Lismore, so that Mr. R. Lineen was returned unopposed in his stead, leaving the political strength of the two big political parties the same, viz., United Irish Party, 5; Fianna Fail, 4.

Mr. Thomas Crotty, outgoing Chairman, and Mr. Andrew Hickey, outgoing Vice-Chairman, have both been members of the Town Commissioners for over 30 years, Mr. Hickey being Vice-Chairman for over 20 years, so that he filled this position under the late Mr. Wm. Ahearne, who was the worthy and esteemed Chairman for a long number of years.

Both Mr. Crotty and Mr. Hickey are extensive merchants and large ratepayers in the town, and as such have always worked hard and consistently in the best interests of their fellow ratepayers, and if they are again elected to their old positions of Chairman and Vice-Chairman, respectively, as appears almost certain, the civic affairs of Lismore will be in safe keeping in their hands.

SYMPATHY.

The recent death of Mrs. O'Brien, wife of Mr. J. V. ("Vin.") O'Brien, Woodlands, Lismore, has caused much sorrow in the town and district where the deceased lady was held in the highest esteem by all.

Mr. "Vin." O'Brien is an extensive and practical farmer, and a prominent member of the U.I.P., and at a special meeting of the Lismore Branch League of Youth, held last week, it was proposed by Mr. M. Byrne, seconded by Mr. Corbett, and passed in silence, that the deepest sympathy of the Branch be tendered to Mr. O'Brien and family in their recent sad bereavement.

INTER-DIVISIONAL CONTEST AT FENOR.

On Friday, 29th June, at Fenor the Clashmore football teams engaged the locals in a challenge contest.

The day was beautifully fine and there was a good attendance. It was evident from the start that the teams were evenly matched, but an outstanding feature was the superb Clashmore defence, which again and again repulsed the attacks of the speedy Fenor forwards.

CLASHMORE 0-1. FENOR 1-2. During the second half the game was even still better, the play being of a very fast nature. Shortly after the restart, D. Barron kicked a grand goal for the visitors. The play continued to be even, but towards the end Clashmore took charge of the game, and Coughlan scored another goal to leave the final scores:—CLASHMORE 0-1. FENOR 1-2.

Clashmore team—Tobin (Cap); Murray, Barron (2), Curran, Connors, Coughlan, O'Brien, O'Rourke (2), Cunningham (2), Levane, Keever, Murphy.

The Clashmore team journeyed to Tramore, where a very enjoyable evening was spent.

CLASHMORE V. VILLIERSTOWN. On Sunday last at Clashmore, the local team lined out against Villierstown Co. Champions in a challenge football match. The final score was: CLASHMORE 0-2. VILLIERSTOWN 0-1.
