Death of Marquis of Waterford.

TRAGEDY AT CURRAGHMORE.

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING.

The seventh Marquis of Waterford was found shot in the gun room at his residence Curraghmore, on Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock, a rook rifle lying beside him.

The discovery that the Marquis had been shot was made by Mr. Miller, his valet, who was called by a footman sleeping over the gunroom. The footman heard moaning and told Mr. Miller, who went at once to the gunroom and found his Lordship unconscious.

An official statement was issued from Curraghmore House saying that Lord Waterford was in the habit of shooting at hares from his bedroom window. "It is supposed that, getting up early to go cub hunting, he saw a hare on the lawn, and went to the gunroom and got his .22 bore rifle. Having loaded it, it is probable that he slipped on the stone floor and in doing so discharged the rifle."

The sad news spread throughout the country like wild fire and on every side the deepest regret was felt at the passing of this fine young man, so excellent a sportsman and so large and generous an employer—at the early age of 33 years.

The young Marchioness was overcome with grief at the tragic occurrence. He leaves behind him two sons—the heir being 15 months and Lord Patrick Beresford a baby of 3 months.

The first to arrive at Curraghmore after the sad discovery were the Duchess of St. Albans (his mother) and his brother Lord William Beresford of Geogestown House, Kill, and Dr. Walker, Portlaw.

THE INQUEST.

On Tuesday afternoon an inquest was held by Dr. Walsh, Coroner for East Waterford and a jury of six employees of the Estate, Mr. James Cleary, being foreman.

Supt. Dennehy, Tramore, conducted the proceedings on behalf of the Civic Guards.

Lord William Beresford, Geogestown House, brother of the deceased Peer, was the first witness examined. It will be remembered that Lord William Beresford himself was the victim of an accident in the hunting field some weeks ago when he fell off a horse and received severe facial injuries.

Lord William said he last saw his brother alive on Friday last during the afternoon. He was then in his usual health and perfectly normal mentally; he was very happy. "So far as I knew," said his Lordship, "my brother had no worries. He was 33 years of age and married."

Michael Harris, footman at Curraghmore House, stated that at 5.45 that morning he woke with a start and heard a thud as if something had fallen. "I got up," he continued, "out of bed, and I looked out of my window. I saw a light shining from the room underneath the gunroom. I went along and I told Mr. Miller, his Lordship's valet. I said to him that I had heard something fall, and that I heard groans coming from the gunroom. Mr. Miller was first down and he opened the door of the gunroom with his keys. I looked in and saw his Lordship on the floor; then I called the housekeeper."

Supt. Dennehy—Was there blood on his face?—Yes.

To the Coroner, witness said he saw deceased the previous day and he seemed to be in his usual health in every way.

VALET'S EVIDENCE.

Mr. James Miller, the late Lord Waterford's personal valet, stated he was thirty-four years in employment at Curraghmore House. Continuing, he said: "On the late Marquis's instructions I had made arrangements to call him at 6.30 in the morning, as he was to go hunting. Michael Harris came to my room at 5.45; witness proceeded, and in consequence of what he told me I went to the gunroom. The door was locked but I had a key and opened it. When I opened the door I saw his Lordship lying on the floor. I also smelt powder. He was lying face downwards with his knees drawn up and his hands under his body. He was not dead; he was moaning. I went over to him and said 'My God, what has happened?' He did not reply. There was blood on the right side of his face, and a .22 Waltham was lying about two feet from the body, the stock point towards the body. The gun had evidently been taken from a case of guns in the room. His Lordship was in the habit of taking out the rifle to shoot rabbits, cranes and hares. Sometimes he kept the rifle in his bedroom and shot them from his bedroom window. He often took the rifle from the gunroom in the morning early. I am in charge of the rifle case. I don't think the rifle had been used since the end of August. It was cleaned last week, but I don't know whether it was used since. I examined the rifle that morning and found one empty shell in it. The magazine was empty. His Lordship was never in the habit of filling the magazine, and he used it as if there was no magazine. He had been in perfect health, and very happy, and had made arrangements to go to South Africa on Friday next. The children were to go to London, and remain there till his Lordship returned."

He came down at 7 p.m. on Monday and told me when to call him for hunting. He was very jolly then. He had made arrangements to go to South Africa on Friday next. The children were to go to London, and remain there till his Lordship returned."

WATERFORD CO. COUNCIL.

COUNTY MEDICAL OFFICER OF HEALTH

TEMPORARY APPOINTMENT.

DR. CASEY, APPOINTED.

A special meeting of the Co. Council was held in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Tuesday by Mr. Commissioner Moynihan.

CO. MEDICAL OFFICER.

The principal item on the agenda was the appointment of a temporary County Medical Officer of Health and School Medical Officer at a salary of £10 10s. per week, pending the appointment of a permanent Co. Medical Officer of Health at a salary of £800 per annum and vouched travelling expenses.

There were 18 applicants for the temporary position as follows:—

Dr. M. C. H. Purcell, M.B., B.Sc., D.P.H., (1930) 4 years general practice; good knowledge of Irish and 14 years I.R.A. service at date of truce.

Dr. D. F. McCarthy, Alexandra Ave., Luton, Bedford, M.B., B.Ch., B.A.O., L.M. D.P.H., (1926) 8 years general practice; no knowledge of Irish and no pre-truce I.R.A. service.

Dr. C. F. McCann, West Cromwell Road, London, M.B., B.Ch., B.A.O., B.Sc., D.P.H. (1925). 9 years general practice; good knowledge of Irish and no pre-truce I.R.A. service.

Dr. J. V. Ryan, Clonliffe Road, Dublin, M.B., B.Ch., B.A.O., B.Sc., D.P.H. (1923) 11 years general practice; passed Matriculation Irish; served in A Company I.R.A., Cork City Area.

Dr. J. V. Roche, Talbot Hall, New Ross, M.B., B.Ch., B.A.O., D.P.H., (1931) 3 years general practice; no Irish or pre-truce I.R.A. service.

Dr. G. E. Donovan, 4 Strand Street, and Primate of All-Ireland; another was the second Marquis (Henry De La Poer).

The third Marquis was killed in March 1859, by a fall from his horse at Corbally, near Carrick-on-Suir. The fourth Marquis was in holy orders a rural dean, incumbent of Mullaghbrack, in the Diocese of Armagh—and his second son was created Lord Beresford. His heir, the fifth Marquis, was Lord Lieutenant of County Waterford, and also Member of Parliament 1856-6. He married—secondly—Lady Blanche Elizabeth Adelaide Somerset, only daughter of the eighth Duke of Beaufort. His only son (by his first wife) succeeded him, and the sixth Marquis, who served in South Africa in 1902, was married to Lady Beatrix Frances Fitzmaurice, daughter of the Marquess of Lansdowne. Their son was the seventh holder of the title, whose tragic death has occurred.

The heir to the Marquisate is the first son, the Earl of Tyrone, born in July 1933. A second son was born in June last. When the Earl of Tyrone was baptised, he wore the heirloom christening robe of the Waterford family, to which is attached a romantic story. The robe—a creation of Brussels lace mounted on rich cream satin and of great beauty and value—disappeared after the marriage of the late Lord Waterford's parents in 1897. Efforts to find it proved useless and the elder children of the sixth Marquis had to be christened in other robes. Shortly before the birth of the seventh Marquis his mother received a letter from a former housemaid at Curraghmore in which the writer said she was on her death bed. She confessed to having disposed of it to a dealer in old lace. It was recovered after considerable difficulty.

The seventh Marquis had an adventurous life and his luck in the hunting field had been no better than the rest of his predecessors. In 1931 he dislocated a shoulder and a few days later his lovely wife was thrown and badly injured.

Lord Waterford's grandfather, the fifth Marquis, kept 100 hunters in his stables. One day in 1885 he was thrown while hunting in Leicester and was taken home a cripple for life. This led to him being granted the special privilege of remaining seated while speaking in the House of Lords. He shot himself after years of suffering. The third Marquis was killed by a fall from a horse. Another member of the family, Lord Delaval Beresford, was killed in a railway accident in Texas, while in 1910 Captain C. C. De La Poer Beresford died after trying to stop a runaway horse.

According to a curse put on the Beresford family by a woman whose son was ill-treated by a former Marquis none of the heads of the family to the 7th generation would die in bed. None of the last four Marquesses have died in bed.

THE FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Marquis will take place this day (Friday) at 3 p.m. to the family burial ground at Clonagh, overlooking Curraghmore House and estate.

Youghal, M.B., B.Ch., B.A.O., B.Sc., D.P.H. (1930), 4 years general practice, Matriculation Irish; 15 years I.R.A. service at date of Truce.

Dr. M. Casey, Main St., Dungarvan, M.B., B.Ch., B.A.O., D.P.H., L.M., L.A.H. (1923), 11 years general practice and good knowledge of Irish. Pre-truce service—3rd Company 3rd Batt., Dublin Brigade, 1918; 2nd Batt. Waterford Brigade 1921-1922.

Dr. Dorothy M. James, 64 Francis St., Eccleston, Birmingham, M.B., B.Ch., D.P.H., (1928), 6 years general practice.

Commissioner—There are 18 applications altogether. There are three from the Co. Waterford, whose qualifications and experience are second to none of the other applicants I think Dr. M. Casey, Dungarvan is the best qualified candidate, and I hereby appoint him to the position of Temporary Co. Medical Officer of Health and School Officer.

KNOCKMAHON SLIP.

In connection with repairs and improvements of landing facilities at Knockmahon, the Commissioner said he did not think he could go into it. He had seen the place and he thought it would be very difficult to build an approach to the slip-way and it would cost a lot of money. I will adjourn the matter and will go and see the place with the Co. Surveyor and see what can be done about it.

SECOND INSTRUCTOR IN AGRICULTURE FOR THE CO.

In connection with the proposal to appoint a second Instructor in Agriculture for the Co. Waterford, the Secretary Co. Committee Agriculture, wrote asking the Commissioner as representing the Co. Council to consider the striking of a rate of 4d. in the £ to defray the cost of such Instructor and the Department of Agriculture would recommend the Department of Finance to contribute the balance.

The Commissioner said owing to the increase in tillage it would be necessary to have a second Instructor, but he would like to have some particulars of the cost of the Instructor. A half-penny rate would produce about £540.

Mr. O'Dwyer, Secretary Co. Committee Agriculture, gave the items of expenditure for a second Instructor, the total cost being £511.

Commissioner—If we give you £d. in the £, we will be giving you more than the whole cost of the Instructor. We are only supposed to pay one-half of the cost.

Mr. O'Dwyer said the Department of Agriculture were anxious to have two extra Instructors appointed in Agriculture. The Committee only asked for one.

Commissioner—I am quite in sympathy with appointing one Agriculture Instructor in view of the Government's tillage policy. All I can do is to adjourn the matter until I get more information about the cost.

CREDIT NOTES.

The Acting Secretary (Mr. T. B. Boyle), stated that £225 Credit Notes are being issued to ratepayers of which £327 have been already sent out and the balance of 928 for the Waterford area will be issued in the course of a few days. These Credit Notes are in respect of land Valuations on which ratepayers have had no reduction in their demand notes.

Recent Tallow Fatality

VAN DRIVER RETURNED FOR TRIAL

At Tallow Court, before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J., Michael J. Lee, Youghal Steam Laundry, was charged with the manslaughter of Christopher Grey, at Tallow on the 7th inst.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solr., Dungarvan, prosecuted and Mr. T. K. Keane, solr., Youghal, defended. Having given the details of the accident as deposed to later by the witnesses for the prosecution, Mr. Ryan said they showed that the speed of the car driven by defendant, having regard to the way in which it was equipped with brakes was excessive and that he wasn't able to control it within a reasonable distance; also if a proper look out had been kept the accident might have been avoided.

Sgt. D. O'Neill, Dungarvan, deposed that on 7/9 he was on leave in Tallow. He was returning with his wife from Lismore to Tallow about 5 p.m. and approaching the town. He was walking on the right hand side of the road. Mrs. Grey was walking in the same direction on the left hand side of the road on the footpath some distance in front of him. She was pushing a pram. There were two other children, Christopher, the deceased, and a little girl Nancy. Christopher was playing with a hoop on and off the footpath. Witness heard a motor coming from behind. As it was passing him he looked and saw it. He estimated the speed was about 25 miles per hour. He heard a horn being sounded when the van was about 40 yards behind him. He didn't see the deceased at the time the van was passing. Immediately after the van passed he heard a shout and a crash. The van was more to the left of the road. He looked and saw the body of a child being hurled round under the van. The van appeared to be going at the same pace as when it passed him. He saw the body being dropped from behind after the van travelled about 20 feet. He rushed up and saw that the child was badly injured. The hoop—a steel bicycle rim—was grasped under his arm. The vehicle then went along some distance and stopped at the left, close to the footpath. The defendant came out of the van threw his hands up over his head and said "Oh! he's killed." He then went to where the child was lying and Mrs. Grey the mother of the child said "You killed my child" and he said "I could not help it." The road surface was perfectly dry. Witnesses examined the road for signs of the brakes having been applied, but didn't see any distinct marks, but very faint impressions of the tyre tracks. He saw showed that the car had travelled on a straight course some distance from where the child was lying. He examined the van for marks; there was a mark on the radiator, another on the inside of the left mudguard. The glass of the left head lamp was broken. An hour after he carried out a brake test of the van driven by the defendant himself, Guard Sheehan was with him. Witness sat beside the defendant, Guard Sheehan was on the road. He told defendant he was going to carry out the test and the method he would employ, driving first at 20 m.p.h. and to stop the car in the shortest possible distance. It was on the same stretch of road, Guards Sheehan and O'Keefe measured the distance from the fixed point to the front part of the van. He carried out a similar test at 25 m.p.h. Defendant applied the footbrake only. There had been a shower in the meantime, making the surface rather wet. He remarked on that to the defendant who said in reply to a question if he could put up as quickly with the road in that condition and if there was danger of a skid. He said that the test was quite fair and that he could pull the car up just as quickly as if the road were dry.

Cross-examined by Mr. Keane—Witness said he was roughly about 25 yards behind Mrs. Grey. They were all approaching Tallow. He didn't see anybody on the road in the immediate vicinity. There could have been people behind him. He saw the boy on the left. The last time before the accident. He didn't see the collision actually occurring. The car might have been going a little slower than 25 m.p.h. when it passed him. He didn't think it slowed down after passing him. He made no measurement of the distance the boy was dragged by the van. He didn't suggest that the brakes were full on from the point of the accident to where it was pulled up. Defendant was very agitated and distracted when he came back. The bit of road in question was straight and safe. He said that there must be marks on the road where brakes were applied. Defendant was very agitated and distressed at the time of the brake test. He wouldn't say that he was in a condition to do himself full justice. Defendant knew the fixed point, it was when witness shouted "stop" that he was to apply his brakes. He didn't test the brakes himself.

Mrs. Hannah Grey, mother of deceased, deposed that on September 7th she took Christopher, Nancy and the baby for a walk. The baby was in a pram. On the way home at about 5 o'clock from Tallow Bridge to Tallow, she was on the footpath. Christopher had a hoop. Nancy was walking with her by the pram. Witness picked some fruit from a blackberry bush. Christopher was 5 years and 3 months old. He rolled the hoop across to the other side of the road. She noticed a motor car coming from the Tallow direction. While that car was passing, Christopher remained with his hoop at the ditch. She noticed him leaving that side of the road and came slantwise across as if it had in front of her. He was running and had the hoop in his hand. When the van came up on her side Christopher was about 4 yards from her in front, so near to the footpath that she could see his head over the left front wheel of the van. She saw the car strike him and his body come clear afterwards. The defendant came out of the van and she said "You killed my child" and he said "I couldn't help it."

Cross-examined by Mr. Keane—It was immediately before the van came that the car came from Tallow. After that the child started to run across the road. It was not that the child ran out from behind that car as it was gone 2 or 3 minutes and the road was very clear. He took up his hoop after the car passed and came over towards her. If Mr. Lee and his man said that the deceased was rolling his hoop on the right hand side of the road they would be wrong. She didn't see the van at all till it had passed her out and she heard no horn. She threw out her hands and shouted to him to stop when the van was passing. The van was nearer to the footpath than the centre of the road. He saw the van coming and threw down his eyes as the van closed on him. He would have been saved with half a chance. Deceased didn't dive suddenly in front of the car, he was running in front to get to the footpath. What she meant by "half a chance" was that he was so near safety that she saw his head over the left front wheel of the van. He was a couple of minutes crossing the road at an angle.

To the Court—When she threw out her hands and told him to stop where he was as the van was passing he was then on the right hand side of the road away from her; he was in front of the car at that time. After that another car from Tallow had passed deceased had never got back on the footpath. He didn't heed her. She kept shouting at him and he kept running for the footpath.

Mrs. Mary O'Neill, wife of first witness, deposed she noticed the boy playing with the hoop off and on the footpath. She saw the van passing then out going towards Tallow, she couldn't say where the boy was, but when the van was 20 yards in front of her she saw the boy running towards the path from the middle of the road. She thought he was running from the van towards the path to be over before it. He appeared running in a slant way across. She heard and saw the van hit him. At that time she would say he was 2 or 3 yards from the footpath. She next saw the body on the road.

Cross-examined by Mr. Keane—There were a few cars passed before that time but she didn't take notice of them. She didn't see him at her side of the road at all. From the time she saw him in the middle of the road till the accident it was only a couple of seconds. She thought he made a sudden dive to get to the footpath. When she saw him the car was almost on top of him. She thought he was nearly passed it, that he would be just in time.

To Mr. Keane—She didn't think if he stood his ground he would have been saved. She thought if the car swerved a little towards the right that he would have been saved.

Dr. J. O'Mahony, Tallow, deposed that he examined the body of deceased on the roadside where the accident happened. The skull was badly crushed. There was a large lacerated wound and compound fracture of the vault of the skull over the left ear exposing the brain which was lacerated. The left eye-ball was pushed out of its socket. The left thigh was fractured. The child was dead before he got there, and he would say that death was instantaneous consequent on the injuries received.

Mr. Keane, didn't cross-examine. Guard C. Sheehan, Tallow, deposed that in consequence of a complaint he went to the scene of the accident at Tallow Bridge Lands and saw the dead body of the child Christopher Grey lying on the road. It was on its face, the head pointing to the grass margin and its feet towards the footpath. He took measurements and found from the head of the body to the footpath was 1ft. 3 ins. and to the grass margin 1ft. 2 ins. The road was 30 feet 5 inches wide and 40 feet 11 inches from fence to fence. At a distance of 3 feet 2 inches at the Tallow Bridge side there was hair and matter on the road, and further back again he found a piece of glass 24 feet 6 inches further back. There were other pieces of glass strewn in and around the body. There were no wheel marks near the body. About 83 feet 6 ins. from the body he found the first traces of wheel marks. Further on again the van was pulled up at a distance of 58 feet 3 inches, including the length of the van, being a total of 141 feet 9 inches from the body. The van was 16 feet x 5 feet 2 inches. It was a 30-cwt. Ford van. There was a scratch on the radiator. The glass of the front left head lamp was broken. The lamp was turned inwards and there were pieces of glass between the radiator, the bonnet and the left front mudguard. (Witness handed two stiches showing measurements.) He assisted Sgt. O'Neill carrying out the brake tests described by him. There were two tests. He measured the distance from a fixed point indicated by Sgt. O'Neill to where the van pulled up. The first measurement was 105 feet. In the second test the measurement was 112 feet 6 inches, including the length of the van. After rounding Tallow Bridge there was a clear view of the road to the body of 460 yards. He arrested defendant on the 7th, and charged him. He made no statement.

Cross-examined by Mr. Keane—As far as he could see the first point where the body hit the road was 3 feet 2 inches back from where the body lay. The greater portion of glass he found was around the body. There were a number of people around and it was possible that the glass he measured from could have been kicked back. He first measured from some glass to the body, a distance of 12 feet 2 inches. He discovered a small bit of glass 24 feet 6 inches back from the patch of hair and matter. When the car first pulled into the footpath, from the first impression he got at the footpath of the car it travelled a distance of 58 feet 3 inches. He saw the first impression where the road got a bit soft.

To the Court—He couldn't remember finding any other glass from the bit which was 24 feet 6 inches from the hair and matter till he came to the body. Looking for glass he walked away from the body and found 12 feet 2 inches from the body, and another 27 feet 8 inches. He could not say definitely whether there was any glass between those points.

Laurence White, Mill Road, Youghal, labourer, deposed he was with the defendant on the day in question, in his delivery van. They drove to Dungarvan, Cappoquin, Lismore and then to Tallow, delivering parcels of laundry. After passing Tallow Bridge he saw children on the road in front of the car. Mr. Lee, the defendant was driving. They drove past those children, and after passing these, when they were close alongside him nearly, he saw a boy rolling a hoop on the right hand side of the road. They were on the left centre. There was a woman with a pram on the footpath. The boy grabbed the hoop under his arm and ran across the road. He saw the boy in front of the van and saw no more till he saw the boy on the road after they stopped. He saw the glass breaking on the left head lamp and falling on the mudguard. The driver pulled up the car, released his foot break and ran on into the side of the road.

Cross-examined by Mr. Keane—When he saw the boy his back was to the van and facing Tallow. The hoop was rolling and he grabbed it. He then dashed across the road right in front of the van. On the footpath Mrs. Grey had her two hands up in the air towards him just as the boy was crossing the road. The last thing he saw was the child being hit and the glass breaking. He could not say what broke it. Mr. Lee slowed down while passing the children further back, and after that kept the same speed. He heard the horn sounded several times from Tallow Bridge to the point of the accident. When pulling up, the defendant pulled the hand brake. He knew what 25 m.p.h. was. He didn't agree that they were doing that at the time of the accident—he was doing less after passing Tallow Bridge. His usual speed that day was 25 m.p.h. Witness made a statement that evening to a Guard and his statement that day was the same. After the accident Mr. Lee was terribly upset, and appeared to have lost his nerve.

To the Court—He didn't take any particular notice of the boy before anything happened. The first thing he noticed about him was that he grabbed the hoop and ran to cross the road. They were very close on him then. He knew that something had happened when he saw the glass falling on the mudguard. Defendant applied his brakes after the breaking glass. The car answered to the brakes a kind of sudden—he didn't stop at all because he released the brakes and the car went onto the side of the road.

Mr. Ryan said that was the case until he asked to have defendant returned for trial.

Mr. Keane said he wished to say at the outset that the sympathy of everybody went out to the parents of the child who had so tragically lost his life, and particularly to the mother who had witnessed the sad occurrence. He asked the Court to refuse informations as there was no evidence of a prima facie case to go before a jury. It had been inferred that the brakes were defective because the car didn't pull up quickly, but that was explained. Defendant had applied the brakes, then released them and let the car run into the dyke. As regards the brake tests, the Sergt. very fairly admitted that the defendant wasn't able to do justice to himself being obviously very shaken after the shocking occurrence. The Sergt. also admitted that the hand brake wasn't used, defendant forgetting it owing to the state of his nerves at the time. He submitted that disposed of the question of the brakes. As regards his not seeing the child, Mr. Lee would tell them that he had never seen the boy at all till right on top of him. His attention was fixed on the mother on the footpath waving her hands and didn't anticipate any danger till the boy appeared before the head lamp. He then did all he possibly could, but it was, unfortunately, too late. The Sergt. didn't see the boy and his wife didn't see him till he was in the centre of the road. The child obviously cut suddenly across rolling the hoop which he grabbed when in front of the car, giving Mr. Lee no time to do anything. It wasn't denied that the child was on the road and did run across. Mr. Lee didn't expect any danger except from the Guards evidence regarding the glass found on the road, Mr. Keane submitted that there was no evidence whatever of criminal negligence on the part of his client, whom he had no objection to put in the box.

The Justice—Take your own course about that, Mr. Keane. Defendant then deposed they arrived at Tallow Bridge about 7.15 on the day in question. He was driving several people, including children, and knew the horn when passing. He saw the lady on the footpath with a pram going towards Tallow. When practically level with her he thought he saw her moving her hands. Without any warning the next thing he saw was the child on front of the right lamp and disappearing under the car. He applied his brakes immediately, but knowing he had passed over him he released them and went into the side of the road. Up to the time that the boy appeared in front of the car he didn't see him at all. It was impossible to do anything to avoid the accident. His ordinary speed was 20-25 m.p.h. About 100 yards before the accident he slowed down to about 15. With the brakes he could stop in about 14 or 2 lengths of the car. They were perfect, having been re-lined about three months ago and adjusted by himself nearly every week. He had considerable experience of driving. Being a teetotaler, he had no drink. He was too shaken by the accident to make the test given by the Sergt., not using the hand brake at all, and not being ready for the shout by the Sergt. The brakes had been tested since by a Youghal Guard and found perfect. He hadn't done anything to them meanwhile. The only explanation he could give for not seeing the child till he was in front of the car was that his attention was taken up by the lady on the footpath.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ryan—He attributed the accident to the fact that he didn't see the boy in time to avoid it. He would have avoided it had he seen him 4 or 5 yards away. He heard White swear that he had seen the boy rolling the hoop in the same direction as they were travelling, that he had seen some one rolling a pram on the left side and that he saw the boy actually take up the hoop and run right across the road towards the footpath, but his attention was fixed on the lady waving her hands. He didn't see the boy till his head was in front of his right lamp. White had nothing to do but sit and look on—he had to mind the wheel. Immediately after the accident he released his brakes to run across to the side of the road. In the circumstances he was not in a fit condition for the Sergeant's test. He had been driving since 1919 and never had an accident before. To the Court—He was a skilled driver, being at it since 1919. He drove the car himself up to 4 or 5 years ago. He had driven it for three months up to a fortnight before the accident. There was nothing in the car to prevent him seeing to the light. The Justice here retired, and on his return said he would express no opinion on the evidence, but return him for trial on his own bail of £100.

League of Youth Dance in Lismore.

Under the auspices of the West Waterford Divisional Executive of the League of Youth a grand all-night dance was held in the Town Hall, Lismore on Sunday night, and proved a great success.

The officers and members of the Executive had made the most elaborate preparations for the event, and as Lismore is a well-known stronghold of the League of Youth movement, their efforts received the most cordial co-operation of all the young ladies and gentlemen in the town. The Hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion by a willing band of enthusiastic young ladies and gentlemen from Lismore and Cappoquin, and presented a most gay and festive appearance which reflected much credit on the artistic tastes of those responsible for the work.

The dance was attended by between 90 and 100 couples, drawn from all the districts in West Waterford and East Cork, and with all the men wearing the regulation Blue Shirts and the young ladies in blue blouses, the scene was a most heartening one when the dance got into full swing after 10 o'clock.

The music was provided by the celebrated Nightingale Orchestra, Lismore, which had never previously been heard to better advantage, and to its lively and haunting strains the large attendance kept up dancing with rare vigour and enjoyment until 7 o'clock in the morning.

Mrs. Redmond, T.D., accompanied by Ald. Bryan Cunningham, Waterford, and other supporters from the "Urbs Intacta," arrived in the Hall about 11 o'clock, and were accorded a most enthusiastic reception, the entire party forming a Guard of Honour, with the ladies on one side and the gentlemen on the other, all of whom raised their hands in the regulation fashion and gave her a grand salute as she passed through the cheering throng. When the applause had subsided, Mrs. Redmond, in a short but graceful address, warmly thanked all present for the splendid reception which they had given her, and said she was glad to say that this dance had been so well attended, as all similar functions should be well supported in order to cement a closer bond of sociability and good comradeship amongst all, while they should also attend their various Branch meetings in full strength, so as to keep the organisation of the League of Youth in a healthy and virile condition throughout the country, (applause).

A grand supper was served after midnight by the Ladies Committee under the careful personal supervision of Mrs. Rice, Lismore, Miss Agnes O'Shea, do., and Miss Bridie Morrissey, Cappoquin, who were most assiduous in looking after the comfort and enjoyment of the numerous patrons during the night.

The dance on the whole proved a great social and financial success, and the perfect arrangements during the night reflected great credit on the Committee in charge, special praise being due to the ladies for the graceful and kindly attention which they paid to all.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above. Other members present—Messrs. M. Clancy, J. Dahill, M. Connors, P. O'Dwyer, P. Byrne, J. Butler, J. Mansfield, J. Crotty, S. Hayes, T. McCarthy, P. Quann, D. Foley, J. F. Foley.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS.

The general paysheet account for the week amounting to £15 8s. 7d., was passed.

RANGES IN COUNCIL'S HOUSES.

Arising out of the minutes, Mr. Dahill referred to the installation of a range in the house of one of the Council's tenants—John Reardon, and asked what it put in.

The Clerk pointed out that there was no order to that effect made.

Mr. Byrne said that Reardon was entitled to some concession in the matter.

The Clerk pointed out that there was an order on the books that the tenant should pay half the cost of the range.

Mr. Crotty—Have other people who got the ranges paid half the cost?

Clerk—Some of them. There is great difficulty in collecting the amount.

Mr. Butler—Are there many people in this account?

Clerk—There are; some of them have paid nothing at all.

Mr. Clancy—How long it is going on?

Clerk—Some time.

Mr. Clancy—And they refuse to pay anything!

Mr. Crotty suggested that the Council get a security for half the amount from tenants who wanted ranges.

The B.S. said that there was a range which he was taking out of Mr. Hurley's house and it could replace the one in Reardon's house.

Mr. Byrne—In your opinion, Mr. McGrath, would you have Reardon's range in your home?

B.S.—I would not have it in my house. This is an open range. I don't know how he lives in the house with the smoke. It's very bad.

Mr. Byrne—Reardon is entitled to a range as well as any other man.

Mr. Dahill explained that Reardon was prepared to pay half the cost of the range.

Mr. Mansfield—I propose we give the range and collect the amount by instalments.

Mr. Crotty—Some security should be given to the Council. It is not fair to him to pay while other tenants get off scot free.

Mr. Clancy—Could the Council take steps to recover it? I think we should be very slow about this and act on the Borough Surveyor's advice. By all means give what is needed urgently. I don't know if private owners would be so ready to give their tenants every nice thing that they wanted.

Mr. McCarthy said that this range was in the House since it was built.

Mr. Dahill seconded Mr. Mansfield's proposition.

After further discussion it was decided to give a new range subject to Reardon paying half the cost.

CO. HOME SEWER.

The Clerk read the agreement between the Council and the Board of Assistance whereby the Council was to contribute two-sevenths of the amount for the maintenance of the sewer, and the Board of Assistance two-sevenths.

The B.S. explained that Mr. Spreadborough and himself had met and agreed on those figures. He thought that arrangement was in accordance with their wishes.

Mr. Dahill—Great credit is due to Mr. Butler for this.

C.B.S. CONGRATULATED.

Mr. Clancy proposed a resolution tendering congratulation to Rev. Brother Gibson, on the recent splendid intermediate examinations results.

Mr. Clancy said that the people of the town should feel proud that they had such a fine school in their midst.

Mr. Crotty, seconded the resolution.

Mr. Foley—I have great pleasure in supporting the resolution as it was my Alma Mater.

Mr. Dahill—I wish to support the resolution also, as my son, who is now in the far East got his education there.

Chairman—I also wish to associate myself with the resolution. It's a fine thing to have such a good school in Dungarvan and I hope it will keep up its great name.

Mr. Butler also associated himself with the resolution saying that parents should feel proud of having such a school in their midst. The resolution was passed unanimously.

A PROTEST.

Mr. Foley said that there was a rumour afloat that Superintendent Walsh was to be removed from Dungarvan. He wished to protest very strongly against his removal. Supt. Walsh was here only six months and a man like him could not be met everyday.

Chairman—It is very unfair to the Council to bring this matter up here and ask the Council to interfere. It should not be discussed here at all. It's very unfair to dictate to the Government on a question like this.

Mr. Foley—If the Council won't listen, I'll see that it be done outside.

Mr. Hayes, Auctioneer and Valuer, stated in a letter that he had visited the lands of Mr. Ryan in connection with the assessment of damages caused through the laying of a sewer through the lands. He estimated the damage at £30.

The estimate was approved.

Mr. McGrath, B.S., applied for £40 10s. the amount due to him for supervising the laying of the new sewer.

The application was granted subject to sanction.

Letters thanking the Board for resolutions of sympathy passed were received from Mrs. Flaherty, Cork; Mr. J. Whelan, and Mr. J. Attridge, O'Connell street.

Mr. Daly, Fermoy, contractor for the new sewer, appeared before the meeting in connection with the contract.

The Clerk informed Mr. Daly that a sum of £357 7s. had been certified at the meeting.

Mr. Daly asked had Mr. Spreadborough sent in any certificate for extras?

Clerk—Not so far.

Mr. Daly stated that the work was finished since July 23rd, and in consequence of the delay he was out of pocket. He would ask the Board to pay him the full amount less 10 per cent. It was, he thought, a reasonable request. He at the request of some members handed in an application for the immediate payment of 10 per cent. of the retention money.

On leaving the room Mr. Daly said he was glad to see by the Engineer's report that the work was satisfactory. He would also like to say that during his time in Dungarvan he had received every consideration, and the workmen employed were the best he had met with anywhere. They had played the game for him, and he had done likewise for them.

Mr. McCarthy—On behalf of labour I thank you for your remarks.

The application of Mr. Daly was then considered, and it was decided to recommend to the Department the payment of the amount asked for in the application.

Arising out of a letter from the Weights and Measures Inspector, it was decided that the contractors be asked to attend to the scales.

INSURANCE.

The letter from the London and Lancashire Insurance relative to the raising of the employees' insurance by 15 per cent. ordinary, and 25 per cent. to include medical and surgical attention, was before the meeting.

After a discussion it was decided to accept the terms contained in the Insurance Company's letter.

A letter was read from Mr. Thomas Whelan, Abbeyside, asking that the rent of his house be reduced. He stated in support of his application that he was 11 years in the house and was the only original tenant in possession of those particular houses.

The matter was adjourned.

GENERAL O'DUFFY RESIGNS.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT ISSUED.

A meeting of the National Executive of Fine Gael was held at 3 Merrion Square, Dublin, on Friday, and continued throughout the evening.

General O'Duffy presided.

The following statement was issued: "General Eoin O'Duffy, having tendered his resignation, the National Executive of Fine Gael and the Central Council of the League of Youth unanimously accepted same with very deep regret. Both bodies desire to express their very keen appreciation of his great services to the country, and their conviction that the cause of Ireland's freedom will always find in him a sincere and strenuous friend."

Commandant E. J. Cronin was unanimously selected by the Central Council of the League of Youth as Director-General. His appointment was unanimously approved by the National Executive of Fine Gael.

OFFICE OF PRESIDENT NOT FILLED.

LEADERSHIP IN DAIL.

The announcement that General O'Duffy had resigned his position as President of the Fine Gael organisation and Director-General of the League of Youth was the main topic of conversation in political circles during the week-end. Commandant Cronin has been appointed Director-General of the League of Youth, but the position of President of Fine Gael has not yet been filled. Under the constitution of the party the President is elected at the annual congress. The new President, therefore, cannot be elected until the next annual congress of Fine Gael, which is due to be held in February, 1935. In the meantime Mr. Cosgrave will continue as Leader of the Party in the Dail, and the organisation will remain under the control of the four vice-presidents—Messrs. Cosgrave, MacDermot, Dillon, and Cronin.

The resignation of General O'Duffy was quite unexpected. General O'Duffy when approached for an explanation refused to make any comment at the present stage.

It has been suggested that the General may go forward as the Fine Gael candidate for the Seanad triennial elections, but inquiries made during the week-end revealed that such an event is most improbable.

From a jovial Kilmac man, who is at present holidaying in Dublin, we have it that in one newspaper office, closed down for many weeks on account of the strike, there are between 400 and 500 arbitrary notices awaiting publication. This certainly lends a "grave" aspect to the unfortunate deadlock.

On last Sunday evening, at Clonsilla Power Gaelic pitch, a pretty large crowd witnessed a well-contested friendly challenge football match, between Stradhally and Rathgormack, which wound up with "honours easy" each side scoring 4 points.

SOW WHEAT FOR 1935

The profitable crop

In 1933, the shrewd farmers who took advantage of the Wheat Scheme netted at least seven shillings per barrel of 20 stone above the normal selling price.

A higher average price will obtain for the 1935 crop, namely, 23/6 per barrel for wheat sold up to mid-December and 26/- for wheat sold after mid-January.

Wheat was once grown successfully in every county in the Saorstát. Only cheap foreign competition and the lack of protection in the home market prevented Irish farmers from producing this indispensable food-stuff in greater quantity in recent years.

The market is now protected and imports rigidly controlled, a remunerative price is assured and there is, therefore, no reason why once again waving fields of golden grain should not form the principal feature of our harvest landscape.

NOW IS THE TIME TO PREPARE

1. Wheat is as easy to grow as any other grain crop.
2. It can be grown at any point in the rotation and, if necessary, on lea.
3. If grown on lea the land should be ploughed at once and a firm seed bed prepared before the seed is sown.
4. Even if he does not intend to sell wheat, no farmer should fail to grow at least enough to provide wholesome nutritious bread for himself, his family and his employees.
5. Make sure of your seed supply at once by ordering from your Seed Merchant or by arranging to get it from one of last season's growers.

NO. 195.

THE DAY OF THE GUNDOG.
SENSIBLE AND USEFUL.

By "PHILOKON."

WITH the advent of the 1st of October, the shooting season will be in full swing, and a thought may well be given to the dogs that serve their masters so well in the field. Although retrievers are now used the most, they are upstarts compared with spaniels, setters and pointers. As long ago as the fourteenth century, spaniels were here, and it is quite possible that their first appearance in England was before that period. Chaucer refers to them in his "Canterbury Tales," but our chief authority is "The Master of Game," written by the Comte de Foix in 1387, and translated by Edward Plantagenet, grandson of Edward III. Here it is stated definitely that spaniels came from Spain.

We gather that their duty was to put up game birds, principally partridges and quail, for hawks to be flown at them. Some that were taught to be "crouchers" were used for driving birds into nets and no doubt this habit was adapted to work with the gun when firearms were invented. That was the beginning of setters, which have since diverged into three varieties—the English, Irish and Gordon, or black and tan. The smaller spaniels would beat covers or hedge-rows to flush the game and retrieve it afterwards. In later times they were classified as land and water spaniels, and again we had a further sub-division into the larger and smaller land spaniels, the latter of which became known as the cocker because of their uses in woodcock shooting.

Clumbers had classes to themselves at shows, being entirely different from the others, and the Sussex spaniels also came to be recognised as distinct on account of their rich golden liver colour. They are long in the body, short of leg, and heavy in bone. Cocker and English springers were interbred until 1892, when the Kennel Club recognised the little ones as a variety. It was ten years later before English Springers were separated in like manner. Cocker, at first limited in weight to 25 lb., began to make headway at once, but the greatest development has occurred since 1901, when the limitation was withdrawn and the standard made to read that "the total weight should be about 25 lb. to 28 lb."

Sometime about the signing of the Peace of Utrecht in 1712, pointers were introduced, also from Spain, but no records are extant to show how they came. All we know is that in 1725 the then Duke of Kingston was painted with a team. That pointers and setters were regarded as of paramount importance in 1859 may be inferred from the fact that the first dog show in that year was for them only, and so were the early field trials which started in 1865.

The most momentous event in connection with retrievers was the importation of the lesser Newfoundland or Labrador in the 1830's. It was soon discovered that they were accomplished retrievers, especially from water, and when shooting men began to think it would be more convenient to relieve pointers and setters of this duty, setters were crossed with Labradors and the flat-coated retriever came into being. Water spaniels were used to make the curly retriever. During this century Labradors have acquired an enviable pre-eminence, having supplanted the others to a considerable extent, and the goldens have acquired popularity.

WEST WATERFORD DIVISIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS.

FOOTBALL AND HURLING FINALS AT CAPPOQUIN.

On Sunday two important matches in Junior Football and Junior Hurling respectively, for the finals of this year's West Waterford Divisional Championships were played in the Cappoquin Sportsfield and provided two well-contested, and thrilling games which frequently roused the spectators to a high pitch of enthusiasm.

The weather, fortunately, held fine and dry, but rather cold, and considering the heavy rains of the previous few days and nights, the sod was in excellent condition and gave no cause for complaint in either game.

All the arrangements were admirably carried out by the Blackwater Rovers Minor Football Club, Cappoquin, the general lay-out of the ground winning the admiration of all, while the substantial wire paling, supplemented by lettuce wire, kept the spectators outside the playing pitch, and the general stewarding and other perfect arrangements ensured the best of order throughout the evening for which the Committee responsible were warmly complimented by Mr. Frank Ryan, Tallow, and Mr. Pat Whelan, Dungarvan, Chairman and Secretary, respectively, of the West Waterford Divisional Board.

There was a very good attendance of spectators, which proved the great popularity of the Cappoquin Sportsfield as a venue for County matches, and in view of the careful and successful manner in which all the arrangements were carried out on this occasion, it is to be hoped that more frequent fixtures will be made for this splendid field in the future than has been the case in the past. The ground around the playing pitch was gaily decorated with flags and bunting, while a large Tricolour flag fluttered from a tall flagstaff, it being a rule of the G.A.A. that the National Flag must be hoisted in the case of all Championships finals in future.

The Junior Football final, which was played first, lay between Sliabh Gua (Touraneena), and Clashmore-Kinsalebeg, joint parishes which have been famous for the all round excellence of their footballers in years gone by, and although the Touraneena team contains several brilliant players, they lacked the dash and combination of their opponents who fully upheld the proud record of Clashmore by winning a hard-fought game on the score of 2 goals 2 points against 1 goal 1 point for Sliabh Gua.

Dungarvan and Lismore were the teams engaged in the Junior Hurling final, and although the latter were quietly confident of winning, their hopes were shattered by the superior play of Dungarvan, whose great speed and splendid overhead play made them deserved winners of a really fast and scientific game on the score of 5 goals 1 point against 2 goals 2 points for Lismore.

A number of casualties unfortunately occurred on both sides during this match, the most serious being the case of E. Hayes, Dungarvan, who was playing a brilliant game in the back division, and who received a blow of a hurley on the head which inflicted such a serious wound as to necessitate stitching by Dr. Wm. White, Cappoquin, but in some of the other cases the injured men were able to resume playing after a short rest.

Details:—

Junior Football.

Clashmore, having won the toss, played with the breeze in their favour towards the road end of the field, and after some even exchanges in mid-field they soon became aggressive and were rewarded with a goal (per D. Barron) within the first ten minutes of the game. This put the Touraneena men on their mettle who were soon attacking the Clashmore posts, but the defence proved too sound, and play was quickly transferred to the other end where the Touraneena goalkeeper (M. Dalton) effected some brilliant saves, the ball eventually going wide. Following the kick-out, Touraneena made a determined rush into Clashmore territory but were quickly driven back, and a Clashmore shot for a goal only missed by inches. Touraneena next did the attacking, their forwards proving most resourceful, but they met with a stone-wall defence and had to be content with two overs in rather quick succession.

Clashmore at length relieved the pressure, and by a series of long kicks soon had the Touraneena backs busy, but only a wide resulted. Still keeping up the pressure, Clashmore returned to the attack and shot a beautiful point (per Keever) and although Touraneena strove hard to reduce the lead, they were unable to raise a solitary flag until the half-time whistle went, leaving the score as follows:—

SLIABH GUA Nil.

Second Half.

Clashmore made a determined attack on their opponents' citadel immediately after the resumption of play, but the Touraneena backs showed wonderful defensive powers and beat them back twice in succession. Bringing the ball along the right wing, Touraneena next looked dangerous, but a long kick from one of the Clashmore backs quickly transferred the leather to the other end where an exciting tussle ensued which resulted in Touraneena getting clear, and they were later awarded a free near the Clashmore goal, but the kick went wide. Some fast and even play having followed in neutral ground, Touraneena broke away and were severely testing the Clashmore backs when a foul by one of the attackers gave Clashmore a free, which brought them welcome relief. Touraneena had hard luck soon afterwards when a hard kick for a goal went outside the post by a small margin, but Clashmore then put more steam into their work and after twice sending wide, they were eventually rewarded with a point. Some splendid forward play by Touraneena next brought the ball in front of the Clashmore posts and a swift shot for a goal was beautifully saved by the Clashmore goalie. In kicking out the ball, however, it struck a Touraneena man and rebounded back to the net, thus giving Touraneena their first score—a goal. They added a point soon afterwards, to which Clashmore quickly responded with a goal, and the latter were still attacking when the full-time whistle went, leaving Clashmore winners of a fast and hard-fought game on the score:—

SLIABH GUA 1-1

The teams were as follows:—
Clashmore-Kinsalebeg—R. Tobin (capt.), J. Barron (vice-capt.), D. Barron, R. Murray, D. Connors, J. Coughlan, P. O'Rourke, J. O'Rourke, J. Cunningham, M. Cunningham, J. Keever, J. Lenane, M. Murphy, J. O'Keefe and Pat O'Brien.
Sliabh Gua—T. Power (Capt.); J. Power, P. Cliffe, J. O'Keefe, J. McGrath, T. Quigley, J. Power, M. Dalton, W. Nagle, M. Fitzpatrick, V. Wall, J. Flynn, J. Dalton, M. Power, and M. Burke.

The match was impartially refereed by Mr. Seamus Hayes, Dungarvan.

Junior Hurling.

Lismore played with the wind and had the best of the opening exchanges, getting an over a few minutes from the start of play. In a second attack the Dungarvan goalkeeper had to send the ball over to save his net, and the resultant "70" free to Lismore was well blocked by the Dungarvan backs. Playing in whirlwind fashion, Lismore again attacked, but another brilliant save by Dungarvan brought the leather down the field when the Lismore backs were tested, but could not be pierced. Relieving the pressure through brilliant defensive play, Lismore next invaded Dungarvan territory when a flying shot (per O'Neill) drew "first blood" for Lismore with a point. A free to Lismore soon afterwards was well placed by Regan and resulted in a goal. Dungarvan now settled down to work, and following up the puck-out, they were soon all over the Lismore backs, eventually breaking through for a goal, and sending wide a few minutes later. Play was then transferred to the Dungarvan end where an impregnable defence was met with and several attacks by Lismore were brilliantly repulsed. Dungarvan then forced the ball down to Lismore territory, and after sending wide on two occasions, they at length broke through a stubborn defence to raise their second green flag for another goal. In the course of a determined attack by Lismore, E. Hayes, Dungarvan, put in some grand defensive work for his side and proved a veritable stone wall in the back division. Power, Dungarvan, got injured at this stage and had to retire, his place being taken by W. Sullivan. Dungarvan had decidedly the better of the following exchanges, and having sent wide, they were again attacking vigorously when the half-time whistle sounded the score as follows:—

DUNGARVAN 2-0

Second Half.

Lismore again were first away when play was resumed and soon got a free in front of the Dungarvan goal, but the shot was well blocked and a wide resulted. M. Coleman, Lismore, had now to retire through injuries, and was replaced by John O'Brien, and after some lively play of an even nature in mid-field, Dungarvan brought the leather into Lismore territory when they were rewarded with a cleverly-shot goal. They added a further goal a few minutes later, quickly followed by a point which made the score 4-1 against 1-1, which showed that they were gradually wearing down the resistance of Lismore.

Play was now of a decidedly fast and scientific nature on both sides, and after Dungarvan had got two overs, Goode, Dungarvan, was injured, but was able to resume after a short interval. Lismore then became aggressive, and just as the referee's whistle was blowing for a foul by a Dungarvan man, Lismore rushed out a goal, which was promptly disallowed. The free awarded them for the foul brought them a point, and soon afterwards they added a goal. J. Ormonde, one of the Lismore forwards had to retire soon afterwards owing to injury to his leg, and was replaced by J. Foley and a few minutes later E. Hayes, Dungarvan's brilliant full-back, had also to retire owing to a severe injury to his head, which had to be stitched by Dr. White. W. Stack was called in to fill his place, and at this stage it was feared that the closing portion of the match should be played by substitutes. Fortunately, there were no further accidents, and on resuming play, Dungarvan scored a beautiful goal, next sending the ball over the end line. Lismore then transferred play to the other end, but had to be content with an over. No further flag having been raised by either side, the final whistle found Dungarvan the winners of a great match on

The Paying Crop for Farmers.

W H E A T.

Reports received from various parts of the country indicate that with few exceptions wheat has been harvested in excellent condition and that farmers who grew wheat during the past two seasons, and who appreciate the comparatively handsome return which it gives at the guaranteed price, are preparing to extend further the area devoted to the crop. Other farmers who have not grown the crop for many years, or indeed on whose land it has not been grown since their fathers' days, are said to be moving with time and making preparation for sowing wheat this autumn. They, too, realise that a price of 23s. 6d. per barrel for wheat sold during the period up to mid-December is an attractive proposition, and that at 26s. per barrel—provided the wheat is not sold until after mid-January—the growing of wheat will give a return in excess of that from any other crop.

While on this aspect of the question we would remind those who have wheat for sale that it is well worth their while to refrain from marketing it until after mid-January. An extra two and sixpence per barrel will amply repay the cost of storage; in fact, no extra cost need be incurred in most cases, for wheat saved in reasonably good condition can be kept in properly thatched stacks for several months and will improve in quality by being so kept. Little or no damage will be caused by vermin up to the end of the year—even where proper stack stands are not available—and threshing can then take place in preparation for the sale of the grain immediately after mid-January, when the higher price of 26s. per barrel will be obtainable.

Unless growers intend to procure fresh seed they must, of course, thresh such portion of their crop as will provide sufficient seed for sowing the new crop, for the sowing season is now rapidly approaching.

We hope next week to deal briefly with the question of varieties, and meantime would say to last season's growers: Do not rush your grain on the market, but rather wait for the higher price. To the new growers, and they will be many, we would say: Select the land on which you intend to sow wheat. If it is lean land plough it at once and pack the sod as would a ploughing match cup winner. If it is tillage land get out the present crop as soon as possible and be ready for sowing during the bright sunny days of October, when the soil is usually in good condition and when the seed is certain of the quick germination and the early braird which invariably spells the good crop of the following season.

SEIZED CATTLE.

SALE AT CLONMEL POUND.

Sixty-five cattle, seized on County Waterford and Tipperary farms for arrears of annuities and rates, were sold at Clonmel pound on Monday, the amounts claimed being realised. One lot was bought in for the owner, and two other lots by a buyer who gave his name as "O'Duffy."

There was a good attendance of farmers, and no disturbance. A protest meeting was held. While travelling to Clonmel on Sunday evening to attend the cattle sale, Mr. English, acting for the County Waterford Registrar, collided with a cyclist named Brennan, at Two-Mile-Bridge. Brennan was conveyed to hospital where he died on Monday morning.

After the sale of the cattle a crowd of farmers assembled near the pound to hold a protest meeting.

When the time came to remove the cattle from the pound the police moved to push back the crowd.

Chief Inspector Quinn ordered the Garda to draw batons. Some of the crowd moved away, but others stood still and faced the police.

The charge did not take place, and the meeting was held.

The crowd followed the cattle to the railway station, but no further incident took place.

Excursion Trains.

A letter was read from the G.S.R., stating that no favourable opportunity for running an excursion train to Youghal would be overlooked.

Suggested Rope and Net Industry.

A letter was read from the Minister for Industry and Commerce, regarding the possibility of starting a rope and fishing net factory at Youghal, stating he appreciated the interest the Council were taking in the development of industry. The Minister would be very glad to co-operate with the Council to the fullest extent of his powers in any practical proposal for the establishment of a suitable industry at Youghal.

As the Council were aware of the establishment of factories outside the cities and larger towns, especially in places such as Youghal which offered so many commercial advantages, was a matter in which the Minister was particularly interested. In pursuit of that objective he was constantly urging intending industrialists to select sites at places such as Youghal, but they would realise that generally speaking his powers to influence the location of an industry were limited and that the final choice of a site for an industry must rest with those who were prepared to finance and conduct the business.

The starting of an industry was primarily a matter for private enterprise, but where a workable proposal was submitted to him by any person (or firm) who was prepared and competent to undertake it and to finance it at least in part, the Minister was in a position to assist financially through the medium of the Trade Loans (Guarantee) Acts on which an Explanatory Leaflet was enclosed for their information. In the event of the Council being able to interest any party of that character to engage in a net-making project at Youghal they should put him into immediate communication with that Department when every possible advice or assistance would be readily afforded to him.

As regards the production of ropes, cords and twine, he was informed that very considerable expansion might be anticipated in the immediate future. A new works was being inaugurated in Cork and certain Saorstad firms were being enlarged. When those factories were working to full capacity it was expected that they would be capable of supplying the entire needs of the country. The practicability of a Saorstad factory for the production of the country's requirements in fishing tackle, had for some time been the subject of investigation by the Department. The position was, however, complicated by the wide variety of nets used throughout the country and the varying specifications for the several types, according to the locality in which they were used. From the information available and bearing in mind the factors mentioned and the comparatively small turn over in each variety of nets, it certainly appeared that such a factory to have any prospect of success would need practically a monopoly in the making of fishing tackle. Even then, it was at least an open question when the enterprise would be a sound economical proposition. In that connection it was of interest to note that, even in England, where there was a very extensive market, there was comparatively very little competition in the manufacture of certain types of net, and the fact that production was allowed to remain in the hands of a small number of specialist firms would appear to indicate that the commercial possibilities were not very attractive.

The production of nets by hand to meet local requirements was another aspect of the general question which was under investigation. Trammel nets, well constructed, were at present being produced by a man on one of the Arran Islands. There was among others a maker of inshore trawls at Balbriggan, another at Murrisk near Westport and a third at Portstewart. As already stated, however, that whole question was under examination and if, ultimately, there was any opportunity of having a centralised net-making industry established on an economic basis, the claims of Youghal as a site would not be overlooked. In the meantime, the Department would welcome any practical proposal which the Council could arrange to have submitted for consideration from any experienced person or Group at Youghal.—E. M. Forde.

Mr. Daly said that matter had been raised by Mr. Power and himself. The attention of the authorities ought to be called to the fact that Youghal was immediately surrounded on all sides by the Gaeltacht and was therefore a most suitable centre for any industry intended for the benefit of the Gaeltacht. They had the Decies in County Waterford on the one hand and the famous Irish-speaking districts—the Barony and Ballymacoda in the other.

On the suggestion of the Clerk, it was decided to get into touch with the O'Sullivan family, who for many years manufactured ropes, etc., locally.

Mr. Sean Gouding, T.D., wrote acknowledging the Council's resolution re the Blackwater Fisheries. The whole matter of Inland Fisheries was being examined into by the Commission now sitting and Legislation based on its findings would be drafted after the conclusion of its sittings. He would do all that was possible to help in the matter, but nothing could be done until the Commission issued its report.

Mr. W. Kent, T.D., wrote assuring the Council that he would do his utmost to have that long standing confiscation of their God-given rights vested in those who had the moral right to the harvest of the sea.

Mr. W. Broderick, said that his colleagues and he, irrespective of politics, had discussed that subject frequently, and they were all prepared to do everything possible to get the grievance of the fishermen removed. Owing to the question of title involved it was a matter for natural action.

After a short discussion, the Clerk said he had been referred by the Department to the Fishery Commission sitting at present and he had written asking them to hold a sitting at Youghal, when the rights of the question could be put before them.

It was decided to instruct their solicitors, Messrs. Hodnett, to draw up a case for the fishermen when the Commission notified their intention of sitting at Youghal.

Housing.

The Clerk said, with a view to expedite the starting of the New Housing Scheme, he had written to their solicitors, Messrs. Hodnett, in connection with the question of entering on the site on Lynch's field as quickly as possible and he suggested that the Council pass a resolution placing the purchase money in deposit when received.

A resolution to that effect was passed unanimously on the proposition of Mr. Beausang, seconded by Mr. Whelan.

Mr. Daly—How long is it since the loan was sanctioned?

The Clerk said it was sanctioned some time. All they were waiting for was an advice from the Department.

Mr. Broderick said he had heard that the tenants of one slum area were about being evicted. It was a shame to have them left in those unsanitary hovels. When would the new houses be available for them?

The Clerk said he had written to the Department asking for permission to allow the tenants in, but had received no reply.

Official Guide.

The Clerk said, as requested by the Council, the Chairman and he had gone into the question of the issue of the Official Guide to the town, and they decided to recommend the Council to transfer the right of issue to the Irish Tourist Association, as requested by that body. It would be advantageous from several points of view.

On the proposition of Mr. Whelan, seconded by Mr. W. Broderick, the recommendation was unanimously adopted.

YOUGHAL MENTAL HOSPITAL.

At the usual monthly meeting of the Committee of the Youghal Mental Hospital there attended—Messrs. W. J. Broderick, T.D., Chairman; J. R. Conolly, T.C., Rev. T. Wilson, C.C., and Dr. M. Twomey.

The doctor's report was read as follows:—Since my last report there have been two deaths and the deceased belonged to Cork Mental Hospital.

Four patients are confined to bed on the male side of the house and three on the female side, owing to debility and other causes. There has been no complaint of the water supply. The food supplies have been regularly examined and found up to standard requirements. There has been no case of zymotic disease and the general health of the Institution is excellent.

The Manager's report stated that since last meeting two patients (one female and one male) had died and the total number in residence at present was 423 (176 women and 247 men).

The corn was threshed on the 11th inst., and there are about 65 barrels of oats and 65 barrels of barley. The oats would be required for the house, and the Committee's instructions were asked as regards the barley.

A cheque for £43 10s. has been received for the sale of 12 pigs and lodged to the credit of the Mental Hospital.

SYMPATHY.

At a specially convened meeting of the Kilrossanty hurling and football Club, a vote of sympathy was passed to Mr. John Power, Robertstown, Kilrossanty (the prominent club performer in both codes) in his recent bereavement occasioned by the death of his grandfather, Mr. William Walsh, Comeragh.

TALLOW DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)

In connection with an application for confirmation of an ad interim transfer of a license, Mr. Wm. R. Hounett, solr., on behalf of Patk. O'Carlaghan, West St., Tallow, said he was still engaged in the process of extracting probate of the will of deceased, and he asked for a transfer subject to the production of probate.

The application was adjourned to next Court.

In a similar application by Mr. Hodnett, on behalf of Agnes O'Mahony, Tallow, formal evidence was given, and there being no objection by the Guards, the application was granted.

Mr. Hounett applied on behalf of Mr. T. J. Keniry, Tallow, for a wholesale Beer Dealer's License.

The application was granted.

In the adjourned case of Supt. Brady, Fermoy, against Kate O'Keeffe, and Matthew Twomey, for breaches of the Licensing Act, heard at last Court, and adjourned for the production of evidence to justify the Court in certifying that the offences were trivial.

Mr. Hodnett, defending, submitted that the framers of the Act of 1927, went a bit too far and were too drastic in the Section under which they were charged. He thought that fact had been recognised pretty generally in all the District Courts in the land with possibly one exception and District Justices had as time went on given the Act a liberal interpretation. In the two cases before him, the punishment would certainly not fit the crime, if a record was put on. The evidence was that here had been an other hunt in the vicinity of Conna on the day in question, and there was a big influx of outsiders. In one case two persons, not travellers, were found on the premises and three in the other. There had been no general drinking riot and it was the first offence in each case.

Evidence was then given by Miss Kate O'Keeffe, the niece of the defendant in one case and by Mat Twomey, the defendant in the other, corroborating Mr. Hodnett's statement.

The Justice said that prior to the Act of 1924, for nearly 50 years it was absolutely discretionary with the Court whether a conviction would be recorded or not. By the Act of 1927, a conviction automatically implied a record, except where the Justice could certify that the offence was trivial. The onus of showing that lay on the defendants themselves. It was not the function of the Justice to extract proof that the offence was trivial. He was there to administer the law as it stood. Having regard to all the facts involved he would in the circumstances hold that the offences were trivial.

They were each fined £1 not to be recorded.

CO WATERFORD FARMERS RETURNED FOR TRIAL.

With the exception of Ed. Cheasty, in whose case information was refused, Mr. MacCabe, D.J., at a private Court, returned for trial all the County Waterford farmers, who appeared before him on remand to answer charges of alleged unlawful assembly, obstruction of the Co. Registrar's assistants in the carrying out of cattle seizures for the non-payment of land annuities and endangering the public peace. The accused were—George Moore, Thos. Skehan, Thos. Maher, John Kelly, Ml. Phelan, Ed. Flynn, Thos. Halley, John O'Brien, Ml. Kavanagh, Ed. Cheasty, Wm. Cullinane, Ed. Phelan, Thos. Murray and Ml. Behan. They all reside in the Kill and Kilmeaden districts. They were represented by Mr. J. C. Conroy, B.L., Dublin (instructed by Mr. F. Power, solr.) and Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, conducted the prosecution.

MORE CATTLE SEIZURES.

After a two-day lull, Mr. English, assistant to the Co. Registrar, with bailiffs and a force of about fifty Civic Guards, under Supt. Fahy, was again active on Friday morning, when two further seizures of cattle were effected in respect of the non-payment of land annuities. Leaving the city at an early hour, they proceeded to Brownstown, Traamore, where they seized 15 cattle, the property of Mr. Patk. Halley. The farm of Mr. Philip Cusack, of Gortahilly, Dunmore East, was next visited, and here 14 cattle were taken. The amount involved in the former case is stated to be £23, and in the latter instance £24 3s. The cattle were removed to the Waterford North Station, where they were entrained for Clonmel, there to await a sale. Beyond the interest which the passing of the cattle and their formidable escort through the streets of the city aroused, the seizures were not marked by noteworthy incident. There was no demonstration of any kind, nor were any obstructions encountered prior or subsequent to the visits.

TALLOW BEAT MALLOW IN KEEN GAME.

Tallow, 2-7; Mallow, 2-3.

Before a fairly large attendance at Fermoy Grounds on Sunday evening favoured with fine weather the concluding game in the first round of the Fermoy Hurling Tournament took place between teams representing Tallow and Mallow. The arrangements were all that could be desired and the Thomas Kent Pipe Band was in attendance during the interval. Both teams were accompanied by a strong muster of followers, and with the Mallow team was their former president, Very Rev. P. Canon Casey, F.P., New market. The game from the start was keenly contested with good reliable defences on both sides. Tallow appeared to have the pull at centre and their wings were quicker on the ball, with the result that their forwards got more scoring opportunities, especially in the second period. Individual play on the part of Mallow was good but they lacked team work and, in a few instances, were rather unlucky in not registering, whilst they lost the services of Ned Barrett for almost three-quarters of the game, owing to a rather serious injury to his eye. On the play Tallow deserved their win of four points margin and, on form, should have more than a sporting chance in annexing the valuable suit length prizes offered by the committee.

The game started punctually with Tallow defending the town goal with a slight wind in their favour. The opening passages placed Mallow on the offensive to meet with a good resistance followed immediately by a "70" to Tallow, off which they scored a point. A good combined effort on the part of Tallow helped to maintain the attack in which Barret was injured, whose place was taken by P. Magnier. A free to Mallow fifty yards out was taken by Fahy and well placed between the posts for a point. Play was in Tallow ground for some time and Fahy again sent over the bar for a point for Mallow. After a nice bit of combined play on the part of the forwards Condon got possession and a goal resulted. Play became interesting with Mallow on the defensive in which Moriarty and Clancy did great work. Play was transferred to the right wing when the ball was centered to Murphy who neatly scored a point for his side and, at half-time, Tallow led by 1 goal 1 point to 3 points.

After the interval Tallow were on the offensive with Moriarty conspicuous in defence, an over resulting. From the goal puck Mallow broke away and a nice centre to Murphy was availed of to score a goal for Mallow, giving his side the lead. Two seventies to Tallow were nullified. Play now became more exciting and better striking was noticeable. A point to Tallow was followed almost immediately in Condon getting possession and an accurate shot from far out was sent past the goalie to send Tallow ahead. Mallow now lost the services of Ryan, but Buckley, receiving from the wing, registered a further goal. A point now separated the teams in Mallow's favour, but Tallow were not done with, and, confining the game from the centre to their forwards, began laying siege to Mallow's posts. Several wides resulted but Tallow were determined and Sheehan, nipping in, equalised with a point. Tallow were now playing in splendid style and were beating down the opposition except in the case of a few incursions by Mallow centre. Tallow got away and Sheehan sent over the bar for a point. A seventy to Tallow followed and another point was added. Towards the closing stages T. Sheehan, on the left wing, was always certain and without much opposition secured another point which almost immediately followed by another in their favour.

Mr. A. Hallinan, Fermoy, refereed. Tallow—W. Sheehan (Capt.); M. Curley, W. Hanley, R. Condon, E. Fitzgerald, T. Burke, J. Hartigan, C. Curley, P. Sheehan, T. Sheehan, T. McCarthy, E. Condon, W. O'Brien, W. Condon, M. Cronin. Mallow—W. Clancy (Capt.); P. Buckley, E. McCarthy, J. Gyves, P. Donovan, T. Byrne, A. Moriarty, J. Clancy, E. Barrett, J. Murphy, J. Fahy, J. Weldon, M. Buckley, E. Ryan and R. Byrne.

ALL-IRELAND FOOTBALL FINAL.

At Dublin on Sunday before 40,000 spectators the All-Ireland Football Final was played.

In S.F. Galway 3-5 (14 pts.) beat Dublin, 1-9 (12 pts.). In J.F.—Louth 4-11 beat Down, 0-9.

Amidst scenes of tremendous excitement Galway won the All-Ireland football Championship from Dublin at Croke Park on Sunday. It was the closest fight seen in a football final for many years.

Galway maintained a lead throughout despite the strenuous play of Dublin, and were worthy victors of the Jubilee honours. The winning margin was a very slight one, but two points separating the rivals.

The weather for the fixture was very favourable, and a huge crowd estimated to total forty thousand, watched the game.

KILMACHTHOMAS NEWS.

PEAT DEVELOPMENT.

Within the week, Mr. McCarthy, Peat Development Section of the Department of Industry and Commerce, and Mr. O'Kelly, Irish Agricultural Wholesale Society, made an inspection of the large turf area in the Curraun section of the Comeragh Mountains. Mr. T. J. Power, Kilrossanty, who accompanied them, has interested himself in the development of the area for some time back. Mr. McCarthy (after making a minute inspection in which he took a good many soundings over a large area) declared that there was an abundance of superior quality turf, both brown and black. Situated only a few miles from the main road between Dungarvan and Waterford and convenient to both it would be an excellent bog to supply these centres from. At a conference, at which Messrs. Hickey and Keating (Chairman and Secretary, respectively) of the Kibrien Co-Operative Turf Society, and representatives from Kilrossanty, including Mr. Power, P.C., attended, it was suggested that a large Co-Operative Turf Society be formed to work the whole area. Several suggestions were put forward for the laying down of a new road, and one branching off the main road at its highest point and linking with the bog as a practically dead-level rug, was considered the most feasible. It is to be hoped the Department will lose no time in adopting the scheme.

THE MONTHLY COURT.

Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J., held the usual monthly District Court at the Courthouse, Kilmachthomas, and the officials in attendance included Mr. T. O'Connell, Registrar, and Supt. Dennehy, G.S., Tramore, and the Solicitors present were: Messrs. T. Kiersey, Kilmachthomas and M. Halley, Waterford. Decrees for full amounts claimed, together with the costs of each application, were granted in an unusually heavy crop of undefended civil bills.

Having ascertained that the Garda had no objection, his Worship granted a renewal of their licences to sell petrol to Catherine Hannigan, Stradbally and Michael McKeon, do.

Confirmation of an ad-interim transfer of licence was granted to Mr. Jas. Dumphly, respecting the establishment of the late Mr. Pat Cummins, Kill.

Fines ranging from 1/- to 2/6 and costs were inflicted in a long list of Garda prosecutions—chiefly breaches of the Lights Act—disposed of. This being the annual Licensing Sitting, there being no objection by the authorities, the Justice signed all publications certificates, and, on the application of Mr. Kiersey, granted the customary exemption orders for Fair mornings to the local traders.

At a Children's Court held subsequently in camera, charges of alleged house-breaking and larceny were preferred against two Ballyduff Lower youngsters named Richard Larkin and James Power. The lads were remanded for the purpose of making arrangements to have them confined in Industrial Schools.

THE OLD ROAD HOME.

Under the above caption, "A Kilmac Man, 8th Avenue, New York," sends the subjoined stanzas for insertion in this column. Nice to note that our exiled friend has not missed a copy of the "Observer"—mailed from his old home here every Saturday—since he emigrated more than thirteen years ago.

I would know it in the darkness, were I deaf and dumb, and blind; I would know it o'er the thrashing of a million miles of foam; I would know it, sun or shadow: I would know it rain or wind—The road that leads to Ireland, aye, the old road home.

Sure the angels up in Heaven would be pointing it to me From every track that man has made since first he learned to roam, And my feet would leap to greet it, like a captive thing set free—The road that leads to Ireland, aye the old road home.

I would find the hawthorn bushes, I would find the horehen's gap, With one cabin old there standing mid the softly greening loam; If the world were all a-jumble on the great Creator's lap, I would know the road to Ireland, aye the old road home.

BLACKBERRYING.

An extra attraction to hiking in these days is found in plucking the blackberries which are found in such luxurious abundance in the hedgerows along the byways rather than the highways. This is a good blackberrying, and groups of gatherers may be seen any fine day in the country searching for the fruit with what one of the poets aptly called "purple-stained ardour." The bulk of the fruit is home consumed in jams and tarts, but the blackberry is also being canned nowadays. With the departure of the cuckoo and the swallow, and a nip in the air, we can say goodbye to summer and get ready for the winter.

CONDOLENCE.

At a meeting of the Dunhill (O'Brien's) Hurling Club, a vote of condolence on the death of his mother was tendered to Mr. William Keane, a prominent member and representative on the Eastern Divisional Board. The meeting adjourned as a mark of respect.

DEATH.

The death of Mrs. Mary Melligan, wife of Mr. E. Melligan, Carrabeen, Kilrossanty, which took place on Thursday of last week, after a protracted illness and in the fullness of her years, has occasioned deep regret. As an exemplary Catholic and a loving and devoted wife she was very popular, her many fine qualities making her a warm favourite with all who knew her. The greatest sympathy is felt with her husband, who is well-known and highly esteemed in the district. The large crowd of people that accompanied the remains to the Parish Church, Kilrossanty, on Friday evening manifested the popularity of the deceased lady. After the celebration of Mass of Requiem for her soul on Saturday morning, interment was made in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of numerous relatives, friends and sympathisers. Very Rev. W. Kehoe, P.P., Kilrossanty, officiated at the graveside, assisted by Rev. J. Hart, C.C., do., and Rev. W. Flynn, C.C., St. Mary's, Clonmel (nephew of the deceased).—R.I.P.

"SEQUAH."

A Portlaw reader writes:—"I right well remember seeing 'Sequah,' in Western guise, forty years ago, with his carriage drawn by four cream ponies, his cowboys and his brass band. They were as great an attraction as a travelling circus, if not more so. 'Sequah' invariably opened the proceedings by scattering small coins among the crowd. Then he would lecture them and introduce his own 'special intallible' embrocation which made the crippled walk and brought the joy of life to millions (according to the eloquent quack). He sold bottles by the thousand, and some people who came to him with crutches publicly professed to be completely healed. My father had a tooth pulled by 'Sequah.' He was told it would be painless, but he never forgot the sensation. He screamed, but the hand blared so noisily that it was impossible to hear anything. Hannaway Rowe, if he was the 'Sequah' I remember, was a great showman, a great student of human nature, and he did some good, if not by his medicine, by his personal magnetism and generosity. It was sad to read that he died in poverty."

COMERAGH'S CENTENARIAN.

THE LATE MR. WM. WALSH.

To have reached the hundredth birthday is a privilege granted only to the very few, and may be regarded as a record in those strenuous days of strife and strain, and such a case deserves more than a passing notice. Last week it was our sad duty to chronicle the demise of a familiar centenarian, Mr. William Walsh, Comeragh, whose remains were laid to rest in Kilrossanty churchyard, in the presence of his children grandchildren and great-grandchildren and numerous sympathisers. For some years past in this paper we have now and again referred to this grand old man of the Comeraghs. His native humour, mental alertness, and wonderful vitality had always appealed to us. He was born on St. Patrick's Day 1834, so just passed away at the remarkable age of one hundred years and six months—probably the oldest man in the Decies, if not in Ireland. The late Mr. Walsh was a man of powerful physique and robust health; he scarcely knew what sickness was during his long life, and invariably attributed his years to plain food, a good glass of whiskey, and a smoke—coupled with active work. When he entered into this world early in the last century, our country, so to speak, was perishing; thousands of British soldiers patrolled our shores, menacing the Irish race so long denied their rights. In this atmosphere, his early years were imbued with a patriotic spirit. The O'Connell Movement was in the ascendancy; Catholic Emancipation won, and the Irish race recovering from the depressing effects and aftermath of the '98 Rebellion. Mr. Walsh always contended that Waterford deserved the honour of winning Catholic Emancipation, having smashed the power of the Beresfords in the election previous to his birth. He was acquainted with all the principal leaders in every patriotic movement from his early childhood to the present day. He knew Thomas Francis Meagher, Charles Joseph Kickham, Michael Doheny, Charles Stuart Parnell, O'Donovan-Rossa, John E. Redmond, Eamonn de Valera and a host of others, and took a great joy in recalling how he travelled long distances to hear these men address meetings. As orators, he placed John E. Redmond and Thomas Francis Meagher as the best of all; but his great admiration went out to Michael Doheny, whom he saw trekking from house to house along the bleak-mountain-side, hunted down by the soldiers and police. And worthy of mention here is the fact that Mr. Walsh it was who gave the warning on that memorable morning when Doheny was all but surrounded in a Farmer's place on the side of the Comeraghs. In his recollections of that great man, he was wont to sing his always favourite song, "The Felon's Track." As a young boy he witnessed the sailing of the old emigrant ships from Passage, having accompanied some of his early companions on their outward journey, and often, too, deplored the fine specimen of manhood he saw leaving our shores. There was no railway or motor connecting up our cities and towns in these days, and it was interesting to hear him describe the convoys of horses and wagons which were a daily sight on our main thoroughfares. He also saw the now

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

Held on Wednesday before Mr. Troy, D.J.

INSTALLMENT ORDERS.

John Beston, Dromore, Aghish, sought an instalment order against E. O'Brien, Church St., Dungarvan, in respect of a decree for £9 8s. 3d. for repairs to a motor car.

Mr. Ryan, solr., for plaintiff. The Justice after reading the statement of means handed in by the defendants, made an order for £1 per month and costs.

The Waterford Co. Council and Nicholas Queally, Rate Collector, sought an instalment order against Thos. and Wm. Burke, Ballyneety in respect of a decree granted by the Court for £34 10s. arrears of rates and costs.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., (for Mr. Williams).

Mr. Ryan said the Justice made an order that the amount be paid in instalments, the first to be paid on June 15th. Nothing has been paid since.

A further order was made that the first instalment be paid in one month.

CROTTY V. POWER.

DI. Crotty, Garage, brought a Civil Bill against Thomas Power, Dungarvan, for £15 4s. 6d.

Mr. Ryan, solr., for plaintiff. Miss Burke, deposed to the amount due being £15 4s. 6d. less credit £1. A decree was granted.

TRANSFER OF LICENSE.

Miss Catherine Crowley was granted a transfer of the license recently held by the late Mrs. Bridget Fahy, Sexton Street, Abbeyside.

Mr. Ryan, solr., for applicant.

NO LIGHT.

Guard O'Leary, prosecuted P. Power, Coolnagour, for not having a light and a red reflector on his bicycle. A fine of 2/- in each case was imposed.

STEALING APPLES.

John Greene, Burgery, Dungarvan, prosecuted Liam O'Mahony, John Lowman, and J. Anderson, all of Abbeyside, with stealing apples from his orchard.

Mr. Ryan, solr., for the complainant said the summonses were brought in the hope of putting a stop to the wholesale deprivations to his orchard.

MI. Fives, nephew of the complainant, said on the 4th September he saw Liam O'Mahony in the orchard, defendant did not seem to have any apples as he was only coming into the orchard. The orchard was being continuously robbed before that. On the 14th September, witness saw Cowman and Anderson in the orchard, both were picking apples off the ground and putting them in their pockets.

Asked if they had anything to say, Anderson said they were sorry.

Justice—What right had you to go into any man's orchard and steal his apples. You would not put your hand in his pocket and take his money.

Anderson—No.

Justice—It amounts to the same thing.

Mr. Ryan—Mr. Greene does not want to press the cases unduly. The complainant has an up-to-date fruit and vegetable shop in the Square, which he supplies from his orchard.

The Justice said the penalties for stealing apples were very severe. In view of what Mr. Ryan said he would impose a penalty of 2/6, with 2/- compensation and 10/- costs in each case.

The Court was then cleared and the same complainant charged Sean Leahy, and his father; Sean Maher and his father; Sean Mulcahy and his father and John Cashman and his father with a similar offence.

As the defendants were not in Court and some relatives said they were in school.

The Justice ordered the Guards to bring them to Court, as well as their fathers.

Mr. Ryan said his client would be satisfied with an adjournment to the next Court.

The Justice accordingly adjourned the cases to next Court.

In the adjourned case of Keohan v. Reardon and his father. The Justice adjourned the case for 3 months on the father giving an undertaking that he would look after the boy and pay back the balance of the money due by weekly instalments of 5/-.

all-important postal service in the embryo, and used to relate with a smile how he got his "Freeman's Journal" once a week by post from Dublin—no up-to-date deliveries then; letters had to be called for at the post office. It was pathetic to hear him narrate the appalling history of the famine years; the numbers he saw dying of starvation and disease beside the old Kilrossanty cemetery, where many of the dead rest, and always spoke touchingly of the kind neighbours of the district and their benevolence towards those poor, famine-stricken people, and under such awful circumstances.
