DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above. Other members present were:—Messrs. P. Byrne, J. Mansfield, S. Hayes, P. Quann, J. Dahill, P. O'Dwyer, T. McCarthy, J. Christopher, J. Foley.

WEEKLY PAYMENTS

The payments passed for the week were—General A/c. £20 4s. 1d.; Harbour A/c. £4 9s. 4d.

MILK TESTS.

Mr. R. Byrne, V.S., reported on two milk tests he had carried out in the Urban Area. The results of the tests were:—(1)—Ml. Ronayne, Coolcormack, milk, dirty. N. Beresford, do., milk—satisfactory.

APPLICATION FOR HALL.

The use of the Town Hall was given to the Dungarvan Band Committee to hold a practice dance on the 19th inst.

COUNCIL'S TENANT COMPLAINT

A tenant in St. Garvan's Terrace, complained that the range in the house was working very badly and requested the Council to accede to his request to have it repaired.
Referred to the B.S.

SCAVENGER'S GRIEVANCE

The Scavenger appeared before the meeting complaining of extra work that was falling on him. He particularly drew attention to the extra work that fair days involved. He wasn't looking for extra money, but what he was concerned with was the principle of the thing. He wanted fair play.
Chairman—What you want is payment for overtime?
Scavenger—I want fair play on fair days.
Mr. Dahill—If you got another man to help you with a shovel.
Scavenger—That would be a good idea.
Mr. McCarthy—You're supposed to work only a 50-hour week.
Scavenger—All I want is a little consideration. The public should be notified when and where to put out stuff. I'm only too glad to accommodate any person at any time.
The Scavenger then withdrew.
Mr. McCarthy—He is a member of the Union and the first place he should make a complaint is to the Union. I told him 50 hours was his week and that he wasn't entitled to work overtime. This is the first complaint I've heard of this.
B.S.—It's the first I've heard of it too.
Mr. McCarthy—I told him if anything happened to report to me.
Mr. Dahill—He is a very good man.
S.S.O.—I told him if he wanted help I'd employ a man. He never came to me, however about it. No doubt, he is doing his job, and if he wasn't there two men would be needed. He collects refuse from 400 houses whilst two years ago he collected only from half that number.
The B.S. explained that he got a full week with three-quarter time on Saturday night.
It was decided to employ an extra hand on fair days.

ARCHITECT'S FEES

Mr. Williams, solicitor to the Council, wrote stating that as the L.G.D. had sanctioned the payment of the expenses to Mr. Murphy, Architect, he saw no reason why Mr. Murphy should not be paid by the Council.
Chairman—On the last night we referred Mr. Murphy's letter asking the Council to grant him expenses of £66 to our solicitor, and this is his reply. The Council decided not to pay, but the question has arisen so often we referred it to our solicitor.
Mr. Christopher—The Department will pay two-thirds?
Chairman—Yes.
Mr. Foley—We've got to pay him. The Council agreed to pay.

SLAUGHTER HOUSES TO BE LICENSED.

A letter from the Department was read pointing out that all slaughter houses, under clauses 125, 126, and 127 of the Towns Improvement Act (1847), should be registered and licensed and that no slaughter houses could be used unless conforming to these regulations.
The matter was referred to the responsible officials to report on.

FEES FOR RELIEF SCHEMES.

The Department wrote stating that the Minister was unable to sanction payment to the B.S. for his supervision of Relief Schemes. They also stated that fees paid by other Councils were paid out of the Councils funds with the sanction of the Department.
Chairman—That means that we must pay him out of our own funds.
In reply to a member, the Clerk explained that the amount was £6 12s.
Mr. Foley proposed that the payment be passed by the Council.
Mr. Christopher seconded.
Mr. McCarthy—We can't expect him to work for nothing.

The proposition was passed.

OPENING OF NEW HOUSES.

At a special meeting of the Council last week, a letter from Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., acting for a number of landlords in the slum area of the town the tenants of which were to be housed in the new houses at Loughmore, was read stating that his clients were agreeable not to re-let the houses if the Council would remit the rates on these houses.
After a discussion, it was decided to remit the rates on the understanding that the landowners would indemnify the Council in case of a surcharge.
The reply from the landlords with one exception was now read stating that they were agreeable to this decision of the Council. In the case of the exception, Mr. Cartwright, agent for the estate of the late John R. Dower, wrote stating that he would not agree to indemnify the Council in case of a surcharge.
Mr. Christopher—How many houses has he?
Clerk—29.
Mr. O'Dwyer—What are his rates?
Clerk—About £20.
Chairman—I don't think the Department will surcharge. I don't think they are anxious to do it—that's the tone of their letter.
Mr. Christopher—I wonder does Mr. Cartwright know about the other letter?
Mr. Byrne—I propose now that the new houses be opened within 14 days.
Chairman—Personally, I'd like to get the opinion of the whole Council.
Mr. Christopher—This will bring public opinion on him.
Mr. O'Dwyer—This is being put off too long. The houses should be opened as soon as possible.
Chairman—I wonder if he was let know of the agreement of the other landlords, would he fall into line.
Mr. Quann—Put it before him and tell him he is holding up the opening of the houses.
Mr. Byrne—He knows very well that he is holding them up. I don't think this should be let go any further.
Mr. Byrne here handed in his proposition.
Mr. Dahill suggested that a small committee from the Council approach Mr. Cartwright about the matter.
The Chairman, after reading Mr. Byrne's proposition, said that there was a danger that the other landlords might withdraw from indemnifying the Council. This proposition was letting him get off without giving any indemnification.
Mr. Christopher—Let Mr. Cartwright face his tenants so.
Mr. Dahill—And his year's rates.
After further discussion, Mr. Byrne amended his proposition to read:—
"That the new houses be opened within 14 days provided that Mr. Cartwright indemnify the Council similarly as the other landlords."
Mr. O'Dwyer seconded, and the proposition was passed.
It was also decided that the Clerk communicate with Mr. Cartwright about the matter on Saturday morning and a committee was appointed to consider Mr. Cartwright's reply.

OIL SKINS FOR EMPLOYEES.

Mr. McCarthy, proposed that the Council employees be provided with oil-skins. He said it was a custom of the old Council to supply workers of the Council with oil-skins. He thought that leggings and short coats would be suitable.
S.S.O.—The leggings we got before were very bad value. They did not remain waterproof for one day.
Mr. McCarthy—Mr. Walsh can see about it.
The proposition was passed.

OPENING CEREMONY.

A discussion followed as to the most suitable day to hold the opening ceremony.
The Chairman suggested that it be held on a Thursday, the weekly half-holiday.
The Council agreed to this.
Regarding the date of the ceremony, the Clerk suggested, after discussion, that the Chairman get in touch with the Minister for L.G. over the phone on the following morning and see what day and date would suit the Minister to come.
This was also agreed to.
Suitable arrangements for the opening ceremony was then suggested.
Decorating the houses with bunting, presenting an Address of Welcome to the Minister, and asking the Band Committee to have the Brass and Reed Band present were suggestions that were formally approved of.
It was decided to ask the Parish Priest—Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, to bless the houses.
The B.S. was directed to employ a

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE.

DENTAL TREATMENT.

LADY M.O. FOR DUNGARVAN.

Ald. J. O'Donovan, Chairman, presided at the meeting of the above on Wednesday. Other members present were—Messrs. Commissioner Moynihan, T. Synott, P. Caulfield, J. Cassidy, J. Cosgrave, T. D. Connolly.

DENTAL TREATMENT

Arising out of the order made at the last meeting in above matter.

The Secretary reported that the amount paid for free dental treatment in West Waterford was £260 for the 12 months and in the city £290, or a total of £550.

Commissioner—In addition to that is not the ambulance employed in bringing in the patients?
Secretary—Yes.
Commissioner—That must be rather costly. The ambulance goes to the most remote parts at this side of the county?
Secretary—Yes. The ambulance is employed only about one day of the week at this work.
Commissioner—Say it costs £80 for the year, that with £260 makes a total of over £300, and this is evidently increasing. I don't see why the ambulance should be sent for patients who are getting free dental treatment. I think we should appoint a dentist for this side of the County, at say a salary of £150 a year, to attend at Dungarvan on one day of the week and at Lismore on another. That would cut out the cost of the ambulance.
Mr. Cosgrave—I fear there are a lot of people getting treatment who could afford to pay for it. Have we any guarantee that the doctors are not sending patients in a haphazard way. Are they being sent according to their means?
Commissioner—The doctors haven't any interest, I believe other than looking after the teeth. It is rather difficult, of course we can't assume that.
Mr. Cosgrave—Would it be possible to have them sent through the Relieving Officers?
The Commissioner said in his opinion that would not be practical.
Mr. Caulfield—Mr. Flynn made a good case here the last day about the people in the City Infirmary. Now here in West Waterford, my idea is that there are people who could afford to pay 2/6 for taking out teeth, but who are taking advantage of this free treatment. That was my idea in bringing this matter forward. My point is that only the poor, those in receipt of Home Assistance, should get free dental treatment.
Chairman—I think Mr. Moynihan's suggestion would get us over the difficulty. I think we might adopt it.
Mr. Cosgrave—I agree.
Commissioner—At present we are paying over £300. We could reduce that by £180 by appointing a dentist at £150.
Mr. Cosgrave—Out of that £300, what amount is salary and what are the incidental expenses?
Secretary—£260 was paid as salary.
Commissioner—We estimated £60 for the bringing of patients by ambulance.
The Secretary suggested circularising the dispensary doctors regarding the sending of patients for treatment, allowing only those who could not afford to pay.
Mr. Cassidy suggested getting forms to be filled in showing the means of those getting treatment.
The Commissioner said Mr. Flynn's suggestion regarding circularising the doctors was as far as they could go. Filling in forms would discourage poor people, and we should try to encourage poor people to get treatment.
Secretary—This should be in the form of a notice of motion. If Mr. Moynihan will hand in his proposition I will have it put on the agenda for next meeting.
The Commissioner promised to do so.

PROSECUTION COSTS.

The Secretary submitted an account for £2 12s. 6d. expenses incurred by the Garda in the recent prosecution of a man who deserted his wife and family.
Payment was passed.

PAYMENTS.

Payments amounting to £4,500 was passed. The Secretary explained that being the end of the half-year, it was much heavier than usual.

HOME ASSISTANCE.

The Superintendent reported that the amount of Home Assistance paid out during the month was £2,013 18s. 3d., for the preceding month the amount was £2,115 2s. and for the corresponding period last year £3,564 19s. 10d.

Secretary—That is roughly a reduction of £20 a week over the 5 weeks.

Mr. Cosgrave—Is there any reply to the resolutions from this Board asking for representation on the Board of Referees?

Secretary—There is a reply stating that the resolution is forwarded to the Ministry of Industry and Commerce.

Mr. Cosgrave—Where will it go then?
A member—Into the fire (laughter).
Mr. Cosgrave—I don't hold with this cheap sneering at the Ministry. The Ministers are doing their best under very difficult circumstances.

SEWER FROM CO. HOME.

Mr. Spreadborough, Engineer, reported applying for 2 1/2 per cent on the expenditure on the above work.

On the proposition of Mr. Caulfield, the amount was passed subject to sanction.

REPAIRS.

Dr. Heskin, Ballyduff, wrote regarding the condition of the dispensary residence.

The matter was referred to the Engineer for report.

Mr. Spreadborough, Engineer, reported on the repairs required to the Clashmore dispensary. The cost would be £44 10s.
The report was approved.

DUNGARVAN DISPENSARY MEDICAL OFFICERSHIP.

Dr. Casey, Dungarvan, wrote asking for six months leave of absence in order to attend Ring College. He would be able at the same time to carry out his duties as temporary Medical Officer of the County. He recommended that Dr. Rita McCarthy, Abbeyside, be appointed locum tenens in his absence at no expense to the Board.

Mr. Cosgrave—A lady?
Secretary—Yes.
This was approved of.

Mr. Connolly said Dr. Casey had worked hard to attain a higher status in his profession which was an example to other dispensary doctors and by so doing he was giving the benefit of his skill to the people of the district. He (Mr. Connolly) would like to learn of Dr. Casey's new appointment.

Dr. Rita McCarthy, was appointed locum tenens.

APPOINTMENT OF TEMPORARY NURSES.

Arising out of a report from Nurse O'Keefe, Lismore district hospital, Mr. Cosgrave asked the Secretary if it was a fact that temporary nurses were brought from Cork to do duty in the absence through illness of nurses.

The Secretary said with regard to Lismore, the nurses there at present were from the district. He believed some time ago a nurse was brought from Cork.

Mr. Cosgrave here gave the names of various qualified nurses in Waterford who were not employed half their time and held that nurses from another county should not be brought in while there were nurses whose people were paying for the upkeep of these institutions idle in the county and city.

The Secretary said in some urgent cases the appointments are made before he is aware of it.

The Board were unanimous in giving first preference to local nurses.

CO. WATERFORD MOTOR ACCIDENT.

The Board were unanimous in giving first preference to local nurses.

APPEAL FROM £1,250 DAMAGES.

APPEAL DISMISSED.

In the Supreme Court, Dublin, the appeal by defendants in the case in which Rev. D. Power, C.C., Dunmore East, Waterford, and now C.C., Aglish, was plaintiff, and Mrs. Sarah J. Graham, and Arthur Graham, Mitchelstown, were defendants was heard.

The action was for damages for personal injuries received by plaintiff when there was a collision between a motor car driven by Arthur Graham and plaintiff's motor car. In the High Court the jury found in £1,250 damages. The appeal was on the grounds that certain answers given by the jury were against the evidence, and that their finding that plaintiff was not negligent was perverse. Alternatively the appellants asked that a new trial should be ordered.

The Court by a majority, the Chief Justice dissenting, dismissed the appeal with costs.

Mr. J. M. Fitzgerald, K.C.; Mr. M. Binchy, K.C.; and Mr. Wm. Black (instructed by Messrs. Little, O'Uadhaigh and Proud) for the appellants; Mr. Lavery, K.C.; Mr. B. McGuckin, K.C.; and Mr. M. J. Connolly, B.L. (instructed by Mr. H. D. Keane) for the respondent (plaintiff).

KILMACHTHOMAS NEWS.

CLOSE OF MISSION AT NEWTOWN.

Last Sunday night witnessed the close of one of the most successful Missions in the history of Newtown and Kilmachthomas. Conditions climatical have been continuously impractical—Autumn-tide is strewing the paths with lifeless leaves, and 'the winds are never weary,' but, regardless of the volume and velocity of Ventus, record congregations have attended the morning and evening ceremonies in Newtown's spacious parish church, and the all-round manifestation of true Catholic piety was exemplary in the extreme, and the parochial clergy (Fr. Galvin, P.P., and Fathers Ahearne and Hally, C.C.'s) have deservedly earned the fervent gratitude of the people for their untiring efforts in the spiritual interests of their flock. The closing ceremonies were grand and impressive, and worthy of the best traditions of the Mission in the parish. With unflinching regularity, the Mission has come to our midst every half a decade like a great tidal wave, stirring the still water to its depths, or to use a happier simile, like the regular impulse of spring in a barren world, touching the very core of nature and re-energising the sources of our purer and holier ideals, and leaving life to-day sweeter to a degree than it was yesterday. And the influence of the Mission is a permanent one. Old timers, stepping reluctantly, perhaps, towards the inscrutable bourne, love to recall each his favourite Mission of the past and speak of it as if it were only yesterday, and dwell with wistful pleasure on the kindly graces of the different Missionary Fathers all a-down the grey years. So the Redemptorist Fathers will hold a dear place in the memory of Newtown and Kilmachthomas for many a year to come. Typical exponents of militant Catholic energy, Fathers Coyle and Curran are, in personality, temperament and spirit racy of the green hills of holy old Ireland—the dear land of their birth. Saintry, gentleness, and eminently lovable, these gentle Fathers, whose mission is world wide, wield a supernatural power for the winning of souls to Christ Our King. The social structure is rent, the fabric of human society is crumbling to pieces, and amid the chaos of theories and bizarre systems nothing seems stable save Catholic solidarity. And we believe the best thinkers of to-day are agreed that it is only the Catholic ideal, the Catholic spirit, and earnest Catholic action will save the world from endless turmoil and ultimate ruin. Our own beloved Banba is racked by political dissension and seething with social unrest. As a factor in saving mankind and maintaining the social order, the Mission has no parallel; for 'treasons, stratagems and spoils' cannot outline the aroma of its healing grace. And all men must in the end realise that—

"The world is all a fleeting show
For man's illusion given:
The smiles of joy, the tears of woe,
Deceitful shine, deceitful flow,
There's nothing true but Heaven!"

The General Communion for the parishioners on the closing day was a grand and most edifying spectacle. At 7 o'clock on Sunday evening, the church was thronged to its utmost capacity when Fr. Coyle preached the final sermon, taking his text from the 24th chapter of the Holy Gospel according to St. Matthew—"He that perseveres to the end shall be saved." In the course of his eloquent discourse, the good Missioner passionately exhorted his hearers to be loyal, practical Catholic subjects; men and women of honour and to preserve their noble catholic traditions. Then followed the renewal of the Baptismal Vows and the imparting of the Apostolic Blessing. Again addressing the congregation, Fr. Coyle, speaking, he said, on his own behalf, and on behalf of his confreres, Fr. Murray, and of the priests of the parish, thanked the Church Choir (in charge of Mrs. M. Coffey, N.T., who presided at the organ), the altar boys, the lady sacristan (Mrs. Lenihan) and her helpers, and all who assisted in making the Mission an unqualified success. Following the impartation of Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, by Fr. Galvin, assisted by Fr. Hally, the singing of the hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers," by the entire assembly, brought to a conclusion an impressive ceremony and a very successful Mission.

AT KILL.
Fr. Curran, C.S.S.R., preached the opening sermon of the week's Mission in Kill church on last Sunday night. The attendance showed the desire felt by all classes to participate in the Mission devotions. The Mission services consist of an early morning Mass at 8 o'clock, followed by a brief instruction. Confession from 10.30 a.m. to 3.30 p.m., and in the evening the Rosary at 7, followed by sermon and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament. On to-morrow (Sunday) evening, the Mission will be brought to a close by Fr. Coyle, with the renewal of the Baptismal Vows and impartation of the Apostolic Blessing. It is well to record that the response of the faithful of Kill and Knockmahon to the call of the Mission is daily proving a noble and generous one.

DEATH OF MRS. J. CULLINAN.

Mrs. Johanna Cullinan, Coolinahorna, Kilmachthomas, died in Waterford Hospital on Sunday last, at the ripe old age of 88 years. The possessor of innumerable charming characteristics, she was a most likeable lady of the good old times. She was mother of eight children, including Mr. Patk. Cullinan, evicted tenant, and Mr. Wm. Cullinan, Coolinahorna. The remains were conveyed by motor hearse to the Parish Church, Kilmachthomas, on Monday evening, and, on the following morning, Masses were celebrated for the happy repose of her soul, after which interment was made in the Old Cemetery, nearby, in the presence of a huge gathering of relatives, friends and sympathisers. Very Rev. W. Kehoe, P.P., Kilmachthomas, officiated at the graveside.—R.I.P.— (American papers please copy).

PRIMROSES.

In his well-kept garden at the back of his premises in the Main street, Kilmachthomas, Mr. Maurice Barron had a bed of primroses in full bloom within the week.

GAELIC GARNERINGS.

Local lovers of the caman were overjoyed by Waterford's smashing victory over Kildare in the All-Ireland J.H. Final (home), and cordial congratulations are extended to the triumphant team.

At Ballymacarbery on Sunday last, Kilmachthomas and Ardinnan (South Tipperary) met in the first round of the Ballymacarbery Senior Football Medal Tournament, with Mr. James Flynn, Ballinacult, in charge of the whistle. A good gathering witnessed a capital contest, which wound up in favour of Kilmachthomas by 9-1 to 1-5.

"Dixie" Veale, Paddy Veale and "Maher" Moroney, were the "sharp" spearheads of a sterling Kilmachthomas set.

Playing at home against De La Salle (Waterford) Stradbally suffered defeat to the tune of 3 clear goals. The clash was a friendly senior football one in aid of the injured Stradbally player, John ("Fox") Wall. Final figures: De La Salle, 3-3; Stradbally 0-3. Early in the game, the Stradbally skipper, Dick Fitzgerald had to retire injured. Happily this fine player's mishap is not so serious as was at first anticipated.

PLUCKY PADDY RUSSELL.

Riding Mr. Martin McDonagh's Kilrue (trained by Senator J. J. Parkinson) in the Nursery Plate at the Naas meeting on the 6th inst., Paddy Russell, who was making his first public appearance on the pigskin, piloted his mount into third place, being but two heads behind the winner, and beaten a head for second place, in a field of fifteen runners. As Kilrue was returned at 50 to 1, those who had him backed each way were "sitting pretty"—to "put it to you" in racing parlance. At the Curragh meeting on the 11th inst., Paddy Russell rode The Red Boy (property of Senator Parkinson) the son, Mr. W. J. Parkinson) to victory for the Loughbrown Plate of 100 sovs. (5 furs.), in which there were 12 runners, and the winner was returned at 20 to 1 against—a beauty to have been "on"! Paddy Russell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Russell, Tailor, Kilmachthomas, and is serving his apprenticeship at Maddenstown Lodge training establishment at the Curragh. His friends locally wish him continued success.

FARMERS FOR TRIAL.

The 37 East Cork farmers now in Mountjoy Jail, Dublin, will be tried before the Military Tribunal.

The 14 men of the Whitegate and Aghada districts rounded up at the week-end arrived in Dublin in a special bus, heavily escorted by Garda and detectives.

Notice that they are to be brought before the Military Tribunal has been served on the 23 Co. Cork men already in Mountjoy.

Intense Garda activity also prevails in Co. Kilkenny, where a number of Blueshirts, including Captain Patrick Quinn of the headquarter's staff in Dublin, were taken into custody.

HUSTLE IS SAID TO BE THE CAUSE OF MUCH ILLNESS NOWADAYS.

The horse we backed in the three-thirty the other day must be enjoying perfect health.

"Does Betting Pay?" asks a headline. Well, we know one or two book-makers who seem to be scraping a living out of it.

Irish Missionaries in the Argentine

ADDRESS BY ARCHBISHOP OF TUAM.

At the Eucharistic Congress at Buenos Aires, last week, which was attended by millions of people. The Most Rev. Dr. Gilmartin, Archbishop of Tuam, delivered a striking address on the work of Irish Missionaries in the Argentine. He said it was for him a great privilege and a great pleasure to be there that day as one of a delegation from an old Catholic nation to take an humble part in this great international demonstration of public honour to Christ Our King, present in the Holy Eucharist.

Although religion transcended nationality, it was still lawful to rejoice in meeting there in that far away southern land so many sons and daughters of St. Patrick and St. Brigid. The joy of meeting them was all the greater on account of the occasion that brought them together, because for Irishmen and their descendants the bond of Faith was also the bond of nationality. Whereas Peter was the Head, the Holy Eucharist was the Heart of the Catholic Church. And to the Head and the Heart the Irish people, by the Grace of God, have been loyal through good and evil days for the past 1500 years.

There are two Irelands—the Ireland at home and the Ireland abroad. The Ireland abroad is no less to the Faith of St. Patrick than was the Ireland at home. If the Irish at home should ever begin to grow cold in Faith or slack in devotion to Jesus our King and Mary our Queen, the Irish abroad would, he believed, send voices of warning across the seas, for they realised, perhaps more than they did at home that the one undimmed glory of Ireland at home and abroad is allegiance to the Holy Catholic Church.

"But you will be glad to know," said his Grace, "that there is no sign of falling away at home. The Irish at home are to-day as profoundly conscious of the presence of Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist as their ancestors were when the only sanctuary lamps that remained alight in Ireland were those which shone unseen in the hearts of her sons and daughters. New churches had sprung up as if by magic to replace the Mass rocks, huts and thatched chapels, which had taken the place of the great churches built by Irish and Norman chiefs.

"The number of religious vocations is even greater at present than it was in the past, so much so, that there is a big overflow, not only into English-speaking countries, but also into pagan lands, of boys and girls who feel called to the religious state.

"I feel to-day that my first duty is to congratulate you that Providence brought your ancestors to a land where the Mass and the Most Holy Sacrament had found a safe home, where the ecclesiastical authorities were always alive to their spiritual needs, and where the colours of this great Republic are white and blue, the colours of Mary Immaculate, Queen of Ireland.

"I must also congratulate you, that as your numbers increased here, there were Irish Priests found to come from the old land and to follow you over the wide plains of the Argentine. In response to a request from the Archbishop of Buenos Aires, Archbishop Murray, of Dublin, sent you in the early years of the last century Fr. Moran, S.J., and Fr. O'Gorman. Later in 1842, he sent Fr. Anthony D. Fahy, O.P., a native of Loughrea, whose zeal and labours for the Irish people in this land, are an echo of the zeal and labours of St. Patrick. For 23 years, from his arrival here in 1842 to his death in 1871, he was a father and a friend to the Irish emigrants. He made arrangements with All Hallows College, for a supply of chaplains to attend to the spiritual wants of the increasing Irish population.

"He founded an Irish Hospital here in 1848 to meet the urgent needs of emigrants—from Ireland, and, with the cordial consent of Cardinal Cullen, Archbishop of Dublin, he brought the Sisters of Mercy here in 1856. He visited the Falkland Islands, and had Irish priests sent there to minister to the Irish residents of that distant region until the arrival of the Salesian Fathers in 1888.

"Again I must congratulate you, that when the spiritual needs of an increasing Irish colony required it, the Archbishop of Buenos Aires succeeded in getting two religious Congregations from Ireland who represent the best traditions of Irish missionary zeal. I refer to the Passionists and the Pallottines.

"The Church of Holy Cross, Buenos Aires, and the Church of St. Patrick, Mercedes, are examples of the work they have been doing since their establishment in this great archdiocese.

"The history of Irish land roads like a romance. I note that the first Irish priest, and probably the first Irish man that set foot on these shores, was Fr. Field, an Irish Jesuit, who at the risk of his life arrived here as far back as 1586, and took part in the famous reductions of Paraguay.

"In 1824, the Irish colonists numbered about 400. Their spiritual needs were looked after by an Irish Dominican, Fr. Burke, who died in 1828. In 1879 the number had reached 28,000, and they were ministered to by ten of the Irish Chaplains, who braved dangers from flood and field and disease in the discharge of missionary duty.

"What the number is at present I cannot exactly say, but I can say that hand in hand with increasing numbers went an increase of missionary zeal, until to-day the Irish Argentine colony is blessed with an ecclesiastical organisation that is fully up to the needs of the time, including churches, colleges, schools, convents, charitable institutions, and social organisations. "They have also the 'Southern Cross,' founded by Dean Dillon in 1875, to voice their sentiments. In this wonderful record the Irish laity were not behind the clergy. The union of priests and people was a reflex of the union that always existed in the old country. If there are distinguished names among the clergy, there are also distinguished names among the laity, to mention one, William Bullfin, who, as editor of the 'Southern Cross' for 20 years, was a fearless defender of Irish interests at home as well as here.

"In all these days the Irish of the Argentine never forgot the old land. In the black days of '47 they sent aid for distress through Father Fahy.

DUBLIN CONGRESS.

"In the day of their greatest triumph they sent a delegation to assist at the 31st International Eucharistic Congress that was held in Dublin in 1932. It was a remarkable coincidence that we were privileged to have our turn of this Congress on the 15th Centenary of the coming of St. Patrick to Ireland. It is an equally happy coincidence that it was the turn of Buenos Aires to have this Congress in the Holy Year, when they were celebrating the 19th Centenary of the Institution of the Eucharist and of the Passion of Our Redeemer.

"We carry with us from Ireland," his Grace added, "the congratulations and best wishes of the Cardinal, Archbishops, Bishops, clergy, and people of Ireland for the spiritual and temporal welfare of this great Republic, where so many Irishmen have found a home.

"We carry with us the prayers of our people at home that this Congress will bring the ineffable blessings of unity, charity and peace to all the peoples of Latin America.

"We shall carry back with us indelible impressions of the faith, piety, organisation and co-operation which has made your Congress such a triumphant success, proclaiming that the Argentine and the other Republics of Latin America are true to their most glorious traditions.

"And it will be welcome news—if news it be called—that the people whose ancestors came from the little Green Isle in the North Atlantic took their allotted part in this great international act of faith and worship and were as enthusiastic in their devotion to the Eucharist as were the million who assembled in 1932, when the voice of Pius XI. came across from Rome and the tinkle of St. Patrick's Bell came down the centuries to unite in proclaiming that the Faith of Patrick is the Faith of Peter.

"We shall take back with us your good wishes for the spiritual and temporal welfare of the Motherland. We feel sure that your chief wish is that, while ties of blood and kindred will not be forgotten, the faith of Peter will in the future, as in the past, be the bond which will for ever keep the Irish at home and the Irish abroad knit together in an indissoluble body—the body spoken of by St. Paul referring to the Holy Eucharist."

The great Congress of representatives of all the nations of the world, added his Grace, at which they were assisting must remind them there would be a final Congress, not merely of representatives but of all men of every nation under Heaven, at which the King Whom during these unforgettable days they adore under the Sacramental veils would appear in the unclouded splendour of His Majesty to render to each according to his works.

"Let us hope and pray," his Grace concluded, "that at that final Congress the children of Ireland at home and abroad, will appear united in their millions on the right side, to make one great, everlasting Ireland among the nations and tribes and peoples and tongues standing before the Throne and in the sight of the Lamb, clothed in white robes and with palms in their hands."

MOTOR CASES AT CARRICK-ON-SUIR COURT

At Carrick-on-Suir Court on Monday, Mr. McCabe, D.J., fined John Brennan, Carlow, £3, and endorsed his licence on a charge of careless driving on the way from Carrick-on-Suir fair.

The Justice dismissed a charge of drunkenness while driving against the same defendant.

The evidence for the prosecution was that defendant was on the wrong side of the road. His car collided with that of Mr. P. Hickey, Excise and Customs Officer, near Carrick-on-Suir. Mr. Hickey's children were injured. Defendant was also injured.

The Justice said Ireland should be a Paradise for motorists if they would drive carefully. But for the good character of the defendant as a driver for 20 years he would have suspended his licence.

The Justice said Mr. Hickey struck him as being most conscientious and honest witness that had come before him for some time.

John Lacey, was fined 10/- for careless driving of a motor car which collided with a motor cycle driven by Thos. Reidy.

Thos. Reidy, the owner of the motor cycle was fined 10/- for not having the cycle licensed and 5/- for not having it insured.

Political Row in Aghlish.

CLASH BETWEEN FIANNA FAIL SUPPORTERS AND BLUESHIRTS.

At Lismore District Court, before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L., the adjourned cases of Patrick Coleman, the big drummer of the Villierstown Band, and Francis Hackett, the side drummer, do., against Thomas O'Brien, Aghlish, and his son, Terence O'Brien, do., for assault and damage to the two drums were again before the Court when reserved judgment was given by the Justice. The cases were first heard at the August Court in Cappoquin when the evidence showed that on Saturday night, July 7th, a large Fianna Fail procession from Villierstown, headed by the Villierstown Band and a number of horsemen, passed through the village of Aghlish, which was described as a Blueshirt stronghold, and when returning through the village the processionists came into conflict with a small party of Blueshirts and a general row followed, in the course of which the two drums of the band were broken, and the two drummers alleged that they were also assaulted by the two O'Briens.

Having heard the evidence at considerable length at this court, the Justice adjourned the further hearing to the September Court in Cappoquin for the purpose of hearing the evidence of Sergt. O'Mahony, Villierstown, and after hearing this evidence, and also the evidence of Detective-Officer Paterson, Cappoquin, (all of which has been published) the Justice adjourned the cases to the October Court in Lismore for final decision.

As on the two previous occasions in Cappoquin, the proceedings now aroused great interest, and the large Courthouse in Lismore was crowded with the followers of both parties, a large contingent of members of the League of Youth from Aghlish, all wearing Blueshirts, making an imposing display.

Mr. W. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, appeared for the two defendants. The Justice said he had given these cases two very full and patient hearings in Cappoquin, and had kept notes of the evidence given on both sides, so that he was fully aware of all the circumstances of the occurrence.

After reviewing the evidence at length, he said it was fortunate that this clash between the rival parties had no serious consequences, beyond the damage to the two drums, and a rather serious wound inflicted on one of the Blueshirts through being struck with a stone.

He was satisfied from the evidence that the people of Villierstown were mainly supporters of Fianna Fail, and he was equally satisfied that the village of Aghlish was a Blueshirt stronghold, if he may use such a term.

It, therefore, appeared to him that it was an act of great provocation for the Villierstown Band and procession to march 3 miles into Aghlish on this night, and not only this, but they held two distinct Band parades through Aghlish in the same week, which was certainly looking for trouble, and it was not surprising that trouble resulted from their provocative action. Fortunately, as he had said, there was very little actual damage done, which was remarkable, considering that they had about 200 "invaders," including a number of horsemen, on one side, and about 10 or 12 Blueshirts on the other.

With regard to the charges of assault against Thomas and Terence O'Brien, he did not regard those charges very seriously, as he thought the more serious injury, which one of the Blueshirts (Veale) had received was a good "set-off" to those charges, and he would accordingly dismiss the two charges of assault on the merits.

Dealing with the question of damage to the two drums, he said it was clear that the drums and the band had been responsible for causing all the trouble that night, but, at the same time, he had to hold that the drums were maliciously damaged on the occasion and he should make the two defendants pay for this damage, as he was satisfied that the hands which broke the drums were the hands of the two O'Briens. £5 had been claimed for the damage to the big drum, and 30s. for the side-drum, but while he had no direct evidence as to the actual damage done to them, he would now fine Thomas O'Brien and Terence O'Brien 1/- each on this charge, and also order them to pay 20/- compensation and 20/- costs each, and he would dismiss the charges of assault on the merits.

Mr. Hodnett said he had quotations from various firms to show that a new head could be put in the big drum for 12/6, but the Justice said he had already heard sufficient evidence in the cases, and wished to hear nothing further, so that his original ruling should stand.

Arising out of the above cases, the Attorney-General, at the suit of Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, prosecuted a number of young men, including Fianna Fail supporters and Blueshirts, for unlawful assembly and being guilty of conduct calculated to lead to a breach of the peace in Aghlish on the night of July 7th.

The defendants were John Quinn, Villierstown; Thomas Morrissey, do.; Wm. Lennon, Clashmore; Michael Noonan, Woodstock; Private Timothy O'Sullivan, The Carragh; Pat. Shanahan, Aghlish; Thomas O'Brien, do.; Terence O'Brien, do.; John O'Brien, Ballinacorney; Thomas McCarthy, Cooney; Walter Terry, Aghlish; and Hugh Power, do.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, Dungarvan, appeared for the Attorney-General, Mr. L. D. Skinner, solr., Mitchelstown, appeared for the Fianna Fail defendants, and Mr. W. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, represented the Blueshirts.

Mr. Ryan said he was glad to be able to say that up to the regrettable occurrence which led up to these cases on Saturday night, July 7th., all the young people involved had conducted themselves with restraint and common sense, such as young Irishmen should always do, and the object of these prosecutions to-day was not so much to punish the defendants, but was for the purpose of ensuring that peace and good order should be restored in the district and maintained there in the future.

The facts of the case were already familiar to the Justice, and showed that on this night a Fianna Fail procession visited the village of Aghlish, which was resented by the Blueshirt supporters there, and in the course of the melee which followed, a sort of "cavalry charge" was made on the Blueshirts, which might have had very serious consequences.

Intemperate language had, undoubtedly, been used on both sides which led to a general row, but as no serious consequences resulted, he was now going to ask the Justice to adopt a certain course which, he hoped, would exercise a healing influence over the defendants, and which at the same time might have a good effect on other parts of the county as well. It was a great pity that young Irishmen could not agree to differ in politics and live side by side in friendship and good-fellowship, because when all this political rancour and bitterness had died away they should still live together, and it was far better for them all to be friends than enemies. He then suggested that if the defendants gave an undertaking that there would be no more trouble between them, the Justice should adjourn the cases for three months, as he (Mr. Ryan) had adopted a similar course in other cases of this kind in Waterford City, and he found it had a very salutary effect, and he hoped it would have the same good effect in the present instance.

Mr. Skinner, solr., said he wished to thank Mr. Ryan for the attitude which he had adopted in these cases, and so far as his clients were concerned he would give an undertaking that they would keep the peace in the future.

Mr. Hodnett, solr., having given a similar undertaking on behalf of the Blueshirts, who, he said, were only on the defensive all the time, the Justice said he was going to fall in with the splendid suggestion of Mr. Ryan, whom he thought had adopted a very kind and generous attitude towards the defendants, and he accordingly adjourned all the cases for three months and expressed the hope that there would be no further trouble between the parties in the meantime.

Road Blocked.

FOR A BLUESHIRT DANCE SIX YOUNG MEN CHARGED AT LISMORE.

The blocking of the main road between Cappoquin and Lismore on the occasion of a Blueshirt dance in Lismore Courthouse, on Sunday night, September 23rd., had a sequel at Lismore District Court before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L., when Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, charged six local young men under Section 154 of the Traffic Act with obstructing the traffic on the occasion.

The defendants were:—Thomas J. Condon, John Farrell, Thos. O'Keefe, Timothy Doherty, Thos. Feeney, and Augustine O'Brien.

Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, appeared for all the defendants.

Detective-Officer McCabe, Cappoquin, examined by the Supt. stated that on Sunday night September 23rd, there was a Blueshirt dance held in Lismore and he was on duty there until 11.30 p.m. At that hour he returned to Cappoquin in a motor car driven by Joe Mason, and the road was all clear on that occasion. As he was returning to Lismore at 12.45 a.m., in the same car he found a tree stump and a bank of large stones right across the road near Ballygelane-cross which completely obstructed the traffic. He and the driver having removed some of the stones, the car was able to get through with difficulty, and on continuing the journey to Lismore he saw six men on the road, between the obstruction and Lismore. Witness went into Lismore where he met the Supt. and reported the matter to him, and he then returned back the road and meeting the same group of men he got out of the car and questioned them and took their names.

Replying to Mr. O'Gorman, witness said the tree stump was right in the middle of the road, and at each side of it a big bank of stones was built, some of the stones being so heavy that it required two men to lift them. Some of the stones appeared to have been taken from the wall enclosing the land at Ballygelane.

Guard Houlihan, Lismore, gave evidence of having interviewed the defendant, Doherty, the next day, and also the defendant John O'Farrell, who made a statement, after being legally cautioned. Doherty also made a somewhat similar statement, both defendants admitted the offence.

The Supt. read the statement made by O'Farrell, in which he stated that they had all been at a dance in Cappoquin that night, and on returning home to Lismore they were accompanied by a man named O'Brien from Meonamon, who left them at Meonamon Cross and went home. Farrell then told the others that as he was going to Cappoquin to the dance earlier that night he had heard some men sawing down trees to block the road for the Blueshirt dance in Lismore. This was a lie, but he then said to his friends it would be a good idea if they blocked the road. They then saw a stump of a tree on the fence over the road beyond Ballygelane Cross and pulled it down and placed it in the middle of the road and took some stones off the fence on the south side which they placed at both sides of the stump.

MULCAHY'S,

DUNGARVAN

The Supt. added that Doherty's statement was to the same effect, and the Justice said it was not necessary to read it.

Robert Norridge, owner of the lands at Ballygelane, said the damage to his fence amounted to £1.

Mr. O'Gorman, solr., pleaded guilty on behalf of all the defendants, and said they were all respectable young boys who had never been in any sort of trouble before.

Their action on that night had no political significance whatever, and was the result of a foolish boyish prank which they now sincerely regretted, and as there was no damage done to anybody he asked the Justice to deal as leniently as he could with them, as he could promise that they would never be guilty of such foolish conduct again.

On the charge of obstruction, the defendants were then let off with a fine of 5/- each, no order being made as regards the damage to the fence.

INTERESTING WARRANTY CASES AT CARRICK-ON-SUIR.

At Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday, before Mr. McCabe, D.J.,

Wm. O'Meara, farmer, of Kildroughane, near Carrick-on-Suir sued Michael Kennedy, a horse dealer, Lough St., Carrick-on-Suir, for £7 for breach of warranty in respect of a pony plaintiff bought from defendant to use driving his children to school to Carrick-on-Suir.

Plaintiff's case was that defendant gave guarantees. When the pony was tackled to the trap and later on to a cart she kicked up and broke the cart and was unmanageable. Defendant refused to take back the pony.

The Justice dismissed the case on the grounds that plaintiff did not give defendant an opportunity to see the pony being driven in the car so that he might see she was not satisfactory.

Wm. Hallahan, farmer, Kiltegan, Clonmel, sued Major Power, Mount Richard, Carrick-on-Suir for breach of warranty in respect of a bull bought by plaintiff from defendant.

Plaintiff's case was that he got a guarantee that the bull was in every way fit to serve cows and had served cows that had calved. The bull completely failed to serve his cows. He tried the bull for over an hour. He had to buy another bull and sell the bull he had bought from Mr. Power for £4 10s. He gave £2 to Major Power for the bull. He tried the bull on a neighbour's cow and it failed again.

A point arose as to why Major Power had not sent his man to Kiltegan, to see if the bull had failed as alleged.

Mr. O'Reilly solr., for plaintiff, said they had asked Major Power to do that but it was not done.

The Justice gave plaintiff a decree for £4 10s. and £2 10s. for cost of keeping the bull.

CATTLE SEIZURES IN CO. WATERFORD.

CLASH WITH GUARDS. WIRES CUT.

A determined effort to rescue cattle seized by Messrs. English and O'Neill, Assistants to Waterford County Registrar, in respect of land annuities arrears, was made at Dunmore, Waterford, on Monday morning.

It is stated as 13 cows were being removed from a shed on the lands of Mr. J. Ivory, Ballyglan, a number of persons appeared and offered a strenuous resistance. In the resultant melee, a number of Gardai and detectives—a large force of whom accompanied the Court Messengers—was forced to draw batons, and several exchanges of blows are alleged to have taken place, two Gardai being knocked to the ground. The cows were eventually taken by road to Waterford North Station and entrained for Clonmel pound for sale.

The amount of annuities involved is said to be in the neighbourhood of £18.

Other farmers in the area were also visited, but the amounts demanded it is stated were paid.

It was learned later that three farmers in the district have been taken into custody subsequently.

Telephone and telegraphic communication between Waterford, Dublin, and Clonmel was disrupted for several hours on Monday owing to the cutting of communication wires at several points in Kilmacow, Mullinavat, Ballyhale and Glenmore districts. Roads in the area were also blocked with felled trees and the train services were dislocated.

CATTLE SALE IN KILKENNY.

LARGE FORCE OF GUARDS AND DETECTIVES PRESENT.

A Sheriff's sale of seven cattle seized from Mr. Edward O'Gorman, of Woollengrange, in connection with non-payment of land annuities, passed off without incident in Kilkenny. The sale was conducted by Mr P. Kearney, Sheriff. There was a strong force of Civic Guards and detective officers inside and outside the pound where the sale was held. They were in charge of Acting-Superintendent O'Halloran, Supt. Farrell, Kilkenny, Supt. Hunt, Callan, and Inspector Tobin, Waterford. A large crowd assembled in the vicinity of the pound, but only a small number attended the sale. The cattle were two and a half years old.

There were only two bidders, one a stranger and the other a local farmer. The latter opened the bidding at £1, and the stranger offered £10. Bidding went on between the two until £19 was reached, and at that figure the stranger was declared the purchaser. The Sheriff declined to disclose the name of the purchaser. The sale lasted only about one minute. The cattle were subsequently driven through the city to the railway station and entrained. They were escorted to the station by the Civic Guards and detective officers and driven by the purchaser.

On roads leading to the city trees had been felled during the night or early hours of the morning but the obstacles were removed by Civic Guards. Wires were also interfered with direct telegraph and telephone communication between Kilkenny and Dublin was interrupted, and messages had to be sent by a circuitous route.

The Irish Fiddler.

It is the Ireland of fifty years ago that I am going to write about dear Editor. About those racy old times when the manners and usages of Irishmen were more simple and pastoral than they are at the present day. Dancing was then cultivated as one of the chief amusements of life and the fiddler looked upon as a person essentially necessary to the proper enjoyment of our national recreation. What a host of light-hearted associations are revived by the thought of that living fountain of fun and frolic. Everything connected with him was agreeable, pleasant and jolly. The remembrance of his anecdotes, songs and sketches, bring us back from the pressure and care of life to those happy days and nights when the heart was as light as the heel and both beat time to the exhilarating sound of the fiddle. It was always the instrument most essential to the enjoyment of an Irishman. In fact, I think the fiddle ought to be our national instrument, as it is most agreeably associated with the happiest impulses of the Irish heart.

It is now time to say something about the Irish fiddler. On looking through all the classes of society it was impossible to find any individual so perfectly free from care or in other words so completely happy as the fiddler, especially if he was blind, which generally he was. His want of sight circumscribed his other wants, and while it diminishes his enjoyment not only rendered him unconscious of their loss, but gave him a greater zest to those that are left to him simple and innocent as they were. Marriages, fairs and dances created the atmosphere of mirth and happiness which he was ever wont to breathe. With the dark designs the crimes and outrages of mankind he had nothing to do and his light spirit was never depressed by their influence. By him the aged man was again created into youth and forgot his years; the labourer snatched a pleasant moment from his toil and was happy; the boy was enraptured with delight and the child was charmed with a pleasure that he feels to be wonderful.

'Tis well I remember Blind Kennedy the fiddler of Ballyvoile. He was about middle size and of slender build. He possessed an intelligent countenance in which beamed the singular expression of inward serenity so peculiar to the blind. His temper was sweet and even, but capable of rising through the buoyancy of his humour to a pitch of exhilaration and enjoyment. The dress he wore as far as I can remember was always the same in colour and fabric—to wit a brown coat a sober tinted waistcoat, grey stockings and black corduroys. Poor Kennedy, I can picture him still; his head erect as is characteristic of all blind men; the fiddle-case under his left arm; his hazel stick held out like a feeler exploring with experimental strokes the nature of the ground before him. How often I led him myself an honour of which I boasted to my companions for many a mortal to come. But alas—the days of the fiddler are gone. To-day we have the politician at a fair and sports instead of him. The fiddler, however, was a thousand times better than the politician, and was a true philosopher without knowing it. Every man was his friend unless he was a rival fiddler. Every house too, and every heart was open to him. He never knew what it was to want a bed, a dinner, or a shilling. Good Heavens, what more than this can the cravings of the human heart desire. For my part I do not know what others might aim at, but in my opinion I think the highest proof of a wise man would be the wish to live and die an Irish fiddler. MICHAEL TOBIN, Island Strabally, (late of New York).

DEATH OF MR. P. FAHY.
Deep felt condolence is felt with the relatives of the late Mr. Patrick Fahy, Croughan, Kilmachthomas, whose remains were laid to rest in Clonacree Power Churchyard on a recent date. The deceased, who was a familiar figure at the local fairs and markets, was a good, practical Catholic, and a prominent supporter of Gaelic games and pastimes. A fast favourite of all, his departure hence is deeply mourned.—R.I.P.

SHOULD COWS BE FED DURING MILKING?

It must be a question as to circumstances whether or not feeding of the cows is advisable at the hour of milking. Where clean milk is the main object, and it ought so to be everywhere, feeding of dusty fodders at the time of milking must be ruled out of count. Roots should never be fed immediately before nor during milking. The roots are best fed immediately after the cows are milked. Then the milk will not be tainted with a turnip flavour. A soft mash or a bucket of water with a handful of meal or bran on top and a teaspoonful of salt stirred into it may be placed before the cow while she is being milked.

A newly-calved cow or heifer will relish a draught of water with the chill off, and a handful of meal. But there are sometimes objections to this in the case of heifers, or young cows, just commenced to milk. Inasmuch as they are sometimes difficult to break off the habit. Some heifers resent handling at the outset, and it is often advisable to give them something to eat or drink to occupy their attention during the ordeal of milking. The trouble is usually over when the udder assumes its normal condition, and the feed or drink may then be discontinued. An obstinate kicker is rarely a good milker, and her place in the herd will profitably be filled as soon as possible by a cow of a more productive and tractable character. When the cows are milked by machine it is sometimes found that to feed during milking keeps them more easy and quiet.—L.S. in "Farmers Gazette."

AND REAP PROFIT FROM A GUARANTEED PRICE AND A PROTECTED MARKET

Bread has been the staple food of mankind from the earliest ages. Until cheap foreign grain came pouring unrestrictedly from the virgin soils of the New World, Ireland produced 600,000 acres of wheat every year. Now the Saorstát is mainly dependent upon outside sources for her bread supply, while a home market worth £5,000,000 awaits the Irish farmer. The government has protected this market, and has fixed a guaranteed price for all the millable wheat.

Now is the time to plough and remember that:—

1. Wheat is as easy to grow as any other grain crop.
2. It can be grown at any point in the rotation, and, if necessary, on lea.
3. If grown on lea the land should be ploughed at once and a firm seed bed prepared before the seed is sown.
4. Even if he does not intend to sell wheat, no farmer should fail to grow at least enough to provide wholesome nutritious bread for himself, his family, and his employees.
5. Make sure of your seed supply at once by ordering from your Seed Merchant or by arranging to get it from one of last season's growers.

A POPULAR VERDICT.

His numerous friends, clerical and lay, join in congratulating Rev. David Power, the esteemed C.C., of Aghish, on his great victory in the Supreme Court last week on the question of the appeal against £1,250 damages awarded him in a motor accident near Dunmore, when he was badly injured. The appeal was dismissed with costs.

PLEA FOR OLD AGE PENSIONERS.

Now that Pensions have been provided for big numbers of deserving people by a paternal Government, we think there should be a short Bill introduced by which Old Age Pensioners could get the pension on reaching the age of 65 years. Big numbers of our old, honest, and hardworking people, die between 65 and 70 years, and if the pension were given at the earlier age it would make quite a big difference to them. All those are deserving cases who have earned their pension, and there is no reason why they have to suffer on to 70 years before being provided for. Further, we think there should be no qualifying test beyond having reached the age of 65 years, as any man or woman who has worked up to that hour is entitled to some State recognition for the work done since school-going days. Perhaps, some T.D., would take up this question and bring joy to that army of honest and upright people who are trying to keep going from 65 to 70 years to qualify for the pension, but unfortunately at present many fall by the wayside.

CHILDREN'S HEALTH COMMITTEE.

Curran, Glenmore Dairy, 1/2 per gallon; Mr. Nicholas Beresford, Coolnagour, 1/4 per gallon. Mr. Curran's tender was accepted. Butter—The tender of Messrs. R. A. Merry and Co., for a supply of best creamery butter at 1/4 per lb., being the only one received, was accepted.

AUCTION OF LICENSED PREMISES WITH EXTENSIVE YARD AND OUT-OFFICES.

DAVID NOONAN, has been instructed by Mr. Michael B. Kelly, (who is leaving)

TO SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION ON THE PREMISES

ON TUESDAY OCTOBER, 30th 1934.

At the hour of 12 (noon).

ALL THAT AND THOSE THE Residence, Shop and Premises held under lease from Sir John Keane, for a term of 99 years commencing on the 29th day of September 1934, at the yearly rent of £12, payable half-yearly. Included in the lease are the Premises and garden at the rear, which were previously held as a separate tenancy. P.L.V. £7 10s. 0d.

These fine two-storied Premises centrally situated in the Main Street, Cappoquin, comprise on the ground floor: a well equipped Bar, Bar Parlour, Kitchen with Range, and a large Tap-room with sink, which could be utilised as a Restaurant.

On the Upper Storey there are 5 Bedrooms; a Sitting room and also a Bathroom with Flush Lavatory and Hand Basin. Electric Light and Water laid on.

At the rear is a Large Yard with Archway giving access to the Main Street. The accommodation here comprises four Box and Seven Standing Stalls; a Large Garage with Pit; a Bottling Store with all necessary appliances, and a Hay Loft. At the end of the yard on an elevation is a nice Garden, approached by a flight of stone steps.

Subscribers would draw the attention of intending Purchasers to the sale of these Premises where formerly a very extensive Bakery Business was carried on. Their situation in the main thoroughfare of this important market town—the centre of a large Creamery and Bacon Factory—together with their low rent and valuation, all combine to make this Property a most attractive proposition.

The Household Furniture and Shop Stock can be taken over by the Purchaser at a very reasonable Valuation, thereby securing an uninterrupted continuance of business.

For further particulars and conditions of Sale, apply to: MESSRS. E. A. RYAN & Co. Solicitors, having Carriage Sale, Dungarvan, or: DAVID NOONAN, Auctioneer & Valuer, LISMORE.

NO. 108.—
FASHION IN DOGS.
WHAT THE PUBLIC LIKE.

By "PHILOKON."

FASHIONS come and go in dogs as well as in frocks—with a difference. Dog lovers do not change as rapidly in their loyalties as women do in the matter of attire. I have known families that have been faithful to one breed for many years. As one pet pays the inevitable debt to nature, another of the same kind fills the missing place. King Airedale is dead; long live King Airedale II!

Yet in spite of this conservatism on the part of some, breeds rise and fall, taking their cue largely from the example of exhibitors. Anyone desirous of knowing what it to be the popular breed of to-morrow, should watch the entries at shows. When I was a boy few house-dogs rivalled the collie. At that time the collie classes at shows were filled by large numbers of these intelligent animals, the best of which commanded prices that were almost incredible. Then by degrees the benches became less and less thickly populated. The enthusiasm of exhibitors waned, until to-day the collie is no longer one of the most important breeds. This state of affairs had its influence upon the general public. How seldom now do we see a collie occupying the comfortable position of the family friend. When I met one the other day, it came almost as a surprise to me and was a welcome variation to the fox terriers, Scotties, Dalmatians, Airedales, cocker spaniels, Cairn terriers, Alsatians, to say nothing of Pekingeses, that seem to be principally in vogue.

Those of us who visited the Kennel Club Show last week (10 & 11th) at the Crystal Palace failed to see any indications of changes in taste. Cocker spaniels, as usual, were more numerous than any other breed, and most of those mentioned above occupied commanding positions. At the beginning of this century cocker spaniels were regarded as country dogs—the dogs for the sportsmen who wanted a sort of canine maid-of-all-work. Then began the upward movement which has placed them in the foreground of show dogs, and now they are to be met with everywhere as pets. That, perhaps, is not surprising, for they are uncommonly nice dogs, although, strange to say, I have had several complaints about their temper, which is somewhat remarkable, for the spaniel has always had the reputation of being unusually friendly to all men. The Clumber is the only exception. He acknowledges one master and it not ready to transfer his allegiance to the rest of mankind.

Although Alsatians are not doing so well at shows as they did from five to ten years ago, they are still liked by those who want a bigger dog than the terrier. The Cairn terrier is another example of what can be done by the influence of shows. In 1900 they were practically unknown south of the Scottish borders. Until the cessation of shows, brought about by the War, they had made steady progress without giving much indication of the prosperity that was to await them in times of peace. Since then they had a decided boom, and wherever we go now, we are almost certain to see Cairns in the streets or roads.

The fox terrier holds his own well as a household companion and he is also among the most important of the show dogs. Strange to say the smooth variety completely eclipsed the wires at the Kennel Club, but we must not draw any hasty conclusions from a single instance. It would be a pleasure to see them coming back to their former strength for they owe nothing to the manner in which they are trimmed, and their coats never become shaggy and untidy.

This chat is issued by THE TAIL-WAGGERS' CLUB OF IRELAND, 23, Old Abbey Street (off Marlborough Street), Dublin, C.S. The Club will be pleased to answer any enquiries submitted by Tail-Wagger Owners in connection with canine hygiene and welfare.

TALLOW DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)
LICENCE APPLICATION.

Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., applied on behalf of Mr. Patrick O'Callaghan, West Street, for confirmation of an interim transfer of a license already granted by the Court. He hadn't yet got the probate involved, but he asked the Court for the necessary confirmation subject to the production of the probate.

There being no objection, the application was granted.

Assault.
James Murphy, Bailknock, Ballynoe, charged James O'Connell, same address, with assault.

Complainant said he was coming from Mass last Sunday, when defendant attacked him on the road, looking for a fight. He only defended himself.
The Justice—What happened, did you fight?
Witness said it as all over a farm that defendant's father signed to his father 19 years ago. They were good friends up to 12 months ago when the O'Connells asked him to give up the farm. Since then a lot of mischief had been done. The gaps were broken down, the gates smashed and some of their cows driven seven miles off.

The Justice—How did it finish?
Witness said he asked the defendant was he going to leave off, and he said it wasn't half finished. The defendant had five more brothers and his father, while he had no one but himself.

Cross-examined by defendant—Witness said he didn't owe the O'Connell's any money. He got a couple of stone of oats, worth about 1/- and he had paid for some rabbits he got from them.

Defendant was sworn.
The Justice—What is your defence?
Defendant said he met that man coming from Mass and asked him for the money coming. He said the oats was only brass. Witness caught him by the coat and struck him three "clouts" and they left each other go.

The Justice said it was perfectly obvious that defendant's only object was to pick a quarrel with Murphy. He strongly objected to the defendant appointing himself general collector of debts to the family, and also to the process of collection. He was suspicious of the whole affair and if there was any trouble about the question of the farm, he would send the persons involved to jail without the option of a fine.

Defendant was fined 1/- and costs and bound to the peace, himself in £5 and one surety of £5.

Sergt. Grey, charged John Condon, Kilmacow, with cycling without a light.

Fined 2/6.
At the suit of Guard Shehan, Thos. Fitzgerald, Rearour, and Martin Hefernan, The Pike, were fined in like sums for similar offences.

At this stage the Court was cleared.

Attempted Suicide.

Percival Willis, The Mall, Curraglass, was brought up in custody, charged by Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, with attempted suicide.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, Dungarvan, prosecuted.

Edmond Cotter, the Mall, Curraglass, labourer, deposed that he knew defendant for a number of years. He lived with his brother, Charles. He met the latter at 1.30 p.m. at the Mall on the 1st October. In consequence of what he said they searched for defendant through the village, and in a disused outhouse near their dwelling, they found the door bolted on the inside. Witness prized open the door. He saw nobody in the house only the defendant. He was lying down on a sop of hay. Witness asked him what happened and he replied he wanted to die. He then noticed a quantity of blood on the hay near his head. Witness shifted him and saw a wound on his throat. He found a razor near him. It was open. Witness took it and put it on a shelf near a razor case. He then got a cloth and put it up to the cut, but didn't touch him after that till Dr. Riordan, came. There was some blood on the razor. He pointed out the razor to Sergt. Grey, when he came and he took possession of it.

Charles Willis, brother of defendant, deposed that his brother, Percy lived with him. He was unmarried, aged 34. He was never a robust man. In September he was sometime in Fermoy Hospital, and after leaving hospital he came back to live with him. He still complained of pains and used remain in bed. He was attended by Dr. Riordan. Witness left his house about 10.30 on the 1st October to go to the dispensary to get a bottle of medicine for his brother. He was then in bed. He was moaning and complaining of pains and said he hadn't slept all night. He later met Ed. Cotter, as he had described and they found Percy in a disused outhouse, bleeding from the throat. Witness called the priest and doctor for him and he was brought to Fermoy hospital and Dr. Riordan went with him. His brother had never threatened or attempted anything like that before.

Dr. Wm. Riordan, Conna, deposed that he went to the house of the accused on the 1st October, arriving about 3.40. He was lying in an outhouse on some hay. He was in a collapsed condition and suffering from a gaping incised wound in the front of his throat, just above the hyoid bone. Witness dressed the wound, got the man into his car and accompanied by Sergt. Grey, and Charles Willis, took him to Fermoy County Hospital where he assisted Dr. McSweeney and Dr.

Smyth, to stitch up the wound. In his opinion the wound was self-inflicted, and likely to have been caused by a razor. He was in danger of death as a result of the wound. They couldn't say at first whether he was going to live or die. His life wasn't in danger now. Accused had been a patient of his. He had him sent to hospital suffering from sciatica in June as far as he could remember. He didn't stay long and didn't finish the treatment. He saw the accused on the 28th September previous to that attempt and found him in a very depressed condition. He complained of pains in the back and legs. On examination he decided the man's principal trouble was neurasthenia.

Sergt. Grey, Tallow, deposed he was called to the house on 1st October and found the accused as described by the previous witnesses. He took possession of the razor (produced). Witness also accompanied the accused to the hospital at Fermoy where he arrested him on the 13th October when he was discharged, and charged him with attempted suicide. He made no statement.

The question of bail having been raised by the Justice,
Accused's brother said they were not circumstanced to give bail, but Capt. Carew, Curraglass, who was in Court, agreed to go bail.

Accused was then returned for trial to Waterford Circuit Court, bail being fixed at himself in £25 and one surety of £25. Dr. Riordan stating that he would have him removed to hospital as soon as possible.

HENS LAYING AWAY.

Fowls on free range enjoy a number of advantages. The natural food they find when foraging over the fields reduces the food bill; and the healthy exercise promotes increased vigour. But poultry kept in a semi-wild state are prone to form bad habits which may result in serious loss to their owner. On a free range birds are not so easily controlled and protected, while in their foraging it is conceivable that they may do some damage to crops or fall a prey to vermin.

Another possible source of loss is the risk of the hens laying away, or "stealing a nest" in the hedgerows or in growing crops. A great many eggs are lost in this way every summer on some farms. Sometimes the eggs are still fit for use, but large numbers are either devoured by vermin, such as rats and magpies, or spoiled by the hen sitting on them, or remain in the nest until they are stale. It is not uncommon to find a nest with a score or more eggs, all spoiled, when cutting corn or trimming hedges.

In other instances a hen may reappear with a brood of chickens, of may be discovered after sitting some time. Some of these broods are not unwelcome, but when they appear late in the season they may be somewhat of a nuisance. It is generally noticed that such eggs hatch well, and the percentage of pullets is usually good. Late-hatched pullets, however, are seldom profitable, and although the owner may not care to destroy them, they would really be better out of the way.

It is only natural that hens should seek a secluded spot in which to lay; but the tendency to look out for one in a hedgerow or other out-of-the-way place is increased when the nests provide a filthy and verminous condition or occupied by a vicious broody.

One has only to put one's hand inside a fowl house on some farms on a warm day to realise why hens prefer to lay outside. When a house contains several months' accumulation of droppings and the nesting material is dirty and infested with vermin, or broody hens which should have been removed to a broody coop several weeks previously occupy the nests, it is not surprising if the hens lay elsewhere.

Many old hen-houses are badly constructed, and it is impossible to keep them dry and well ventilated. If they are not kept clean they will become both unhealthy and uncomfortable for the birds in hot weather. The breeder who allows his birds free range should be even more particular with regard to housing than the poultry-keeper whose birds are kept in confinement, otherwise he will have a lot of trouble with hens laying away.

It is sometimes stated that where no danger from foxes exists, fowls may be allowed to roost out in the open. While this may be beneficial to their health, it undoubtedly aggravates the tendency to lay away. The hen that roosts out in the branches of trees can hardly be expected to go to a house to lay, especially if the house is of the character previously described. A clean, well-ventilated house, with clean nests, is one of the best preventives of laying away.

BUTTER PRICES PROBLEM.

The Government, it is understood, have decided to reject a claim made by the dairying industry for a guaranteed price of 102s. per cwt. for creamery butter produced this season. This represents a drop of from 2s. to 3s. 6d. per cwt. as compared with the price paid last year, and means a loss of anything from £125,000 to £250,000 for the year to the dairying business.

The position from the Government point of view is that they cannot reasonably find the money to meet the farmers' demands. It could only meet it by one of two ways—either by increasing the price to the consumer at home, or taking it out of the taxpayer's Duty on Sugar.

President de Valera presided at a meeting of the Executive Council held at Government Buildings. Three new Orders—two under the Control of Imports Act, 1934, and one under the Emergency Imposition of Duties Act, 1932—were made and issued.

Under Order No. 7 the importation is prohibited as from the 13th October, 1934, of— (1) All woven tissue in the piece not less than 2 1/2 inches in width, which, has for the purpose of proofing been coated with rubber or rubber solution; and (2) all composite cloth in piece which is not less than 2 1/2 inches in width and contains any woven tissue which has for the purpose of proofing been subjected to a process involving the use of rubber or rubber solution.

The following articles are excepted from the prohibition.—Woven tissue intended for use as floor covering, or which is tubular in form, and composite cloth for use as floor covering or which is tubular in form.

Under Order No. 6 the importation is prohibited as from the 13th October, 1934, of all articles of personal clothing or wearing apparel or component parts thereof (whether completely or partially manufactured) made wholly or mainly of the materials covered by Order No. 7, with the exception of the following—Articles of external footwear, articles of a surgical or medical character, articles of a protective nature against injury or disease, and any component part of wearing apparel in the nature of a crest, badge, or motif.

BEEF SUGAR DUTY.

Under the Emergency Imposition of Duties Act, 1932, an excise duty at the rate of 2s. 4d. per cwt. has been imposed on home manufactured sugar and the present Customs duty of 16s. 4d. per cwt. on imported sugar has been increased by an equivalent amount. The new duties have effect immediately.

The Government Information Bureau states that factories of the Beet Sugar Co., which commence production this month, will be in a position to supply the major portion of the country's requirements, and with a view to securing the home market for Irish manufactured sugar, the Government have already made an Order under the Control of Imports Act, 1934, restricting imports of foreign sugar. Home manufactured beet sugar has not hitherto been subject to any duty. It will be remembered, however, that in the debates on the Sugar Manufacturers Bill in the Dail, last year, the Minister for Finance emphasised the fact that sugar constituted an important source of revenue and that there would be a substantial decrease in the yield of the Customs duty on the imported article when imports declined following the extension of the sugar beet industry and the production of home manufactured sugar in large quantities. He then stated that it would be necessary in due course to impose an excise duty on home manufactured sugar and to increase the Customs duty which at the time stood at 11s. 8d. per cwt. In his forecast of the additional duties which would have to be imposed to meet the requirements of the Exchequer, the Minister indicated that these might be such as to involve an increase of as much as three farthings per pound in the price of sugar to the consumer.

In February of this year it became necessary, with a view to the prevention of dumping of foreign sugar at prices with which the Beet Sugar Co. could not be expected to compete, to impose an additional duty of 4s. 8d. per cwt.—i.e., one half-penny per lb.—on imported sugar, bringing the Customs duty up to its present level of 16s. 4d. per cwt.

In connection with the imposition of the new duty, the Government have borne in mind that the increased duty imposed in February necessitated some time afterwards an advance of one half-penny per lb. in the retail price, and while they have been bound to ensure that the revenue from sugar will be substantially maintained they have been anxious that the new duty should not involve a total increase in the retail price of sugar beyond the figure of three farthings per lb., which was foreshadowed by the Minister for Finance in introducing the Government's proposals for the extension of the sugar beet industry. The rate of 2s. 4d., per cwt., i.e., one farthing per lb., was decided upon as the lowest which could be imposed, having regard to the requirements of the Exchequer.

ers' pockets by increasing the export bounty.

The Government are not prepared to do either of those things.

An important deputation representing the dairy farmers, waited on Dr. Ryan, Minister for Agriculture, at Government Buildings, Dublin. The deputation made the case that butter could not be produced economically at less than 102/- per cwt. to the creamery. The ruling price since June meant a loss of several thousand pounds to individual creameries. It was urged that 4d. per gallon for milk only met production costs, and that the price was based on 102/- per cwt. for butter. Butter, it was argued was the only commodity which the Southern farmer now had which could be converted into ready cash, and if the income from that source was reduced the plight of the farmer would become much worse than it was.

Dr. Ryan's attitude, was that he had not promised 102s. per cwt. to the farmers this year, but the farmers' retort is that they were allowed to infer that the position would not be worse than last year.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; M. Ahern, D. McCarthy, W. O'Sullivan, T. Beausang, R. Savage, T. K. Keane, solr., J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., J. P. Smyth, P.C.; J. Whelan, R. Power, J. Forrest, E. D. Condon, E. P. Lynch, Capt. C. Watson, M. D. Broderick, R. G. Farrell, Vice-Chairman.

Acknowledgment.

The Rev. T. Wilson, P.P., Ballyhea, wrote thanking the Council for their kind congratulations on his recent promotion. He also thanked the Clerk for his association with same.

Repairs.

The Co. Surveyor, wrote stating that their communication regarding repairs to the groyne, kerbs, paths, etc., would have his attention.

Applications for Houses.

Several persons wrote applying for tenancies of the new houses and their names were placed on the waiting list.

The Gresford Disaster.

The Town Clerk, Wrexham, wrote thanking the Council for their letter of sympathy for the bereaved relatives of the men lost in the recent Gresford Colliery disaster. The Council's expression would in the first instance be sent to the local Press and later, it was hoped, to communicate directly to the relatives concerned.

Rate Relief.

The Minister for L.G. and P.H., by his Secretary wrote stating that the question of relief from rates of occupiers of agricultural land had been recently discussed with the deputation from the Urban Farmers and Landowners Association. It wasn't proposed to provide any portion of the Agricultural Grant in urban areas that didn't already receive part of the grant. The grant was provided for the relief of occupiers of lands in rural areas and no urban area participated originally. Rural areas that had since the passing of the L.G. (Ireland) Act, 1898, become urbanised had merely retained the rights which they had.

Mr. Beausang—Refer that back again. It is very unfair that certain farmers just outside the town received the benefit, while their neighbours across the road didn't.

Mr. Broderick endorsed Mr. Beausang's remarks.

Sympathy.

On the proposition of Mr. Beausang, seconded by Mr. Power, a vote of sympathy was passed to their colleague, Mr. Daly, on the death of his uncle.

The Chairman and other members, and the Clerk desired to be associated with the vote.

Questionable Letter.

The Clerk said he had received a letter from a resident on the Upper Strand, which he had submitted to the Chairman. It appeared to be an attack on a certain builder and they were, therefore, of the opinion that it should not be read before the Council.

Some discussion took place, several members saying that all communications received should be read, while others argued that the Council should not be made a medium of airing, perhaps in the Press, differences between outsiders.

The letter was not read, but was handed around to those who desired to read it.

New Clerk Of Works.

A report was read from the Town Surveyor, recommending Mr. M. J. Galvin, Friar Street, for the position of Clerk of Works to the new Housing Scheme. He had acted in that capacity with satisfaction over the previous Scheme.

On the proposition of Mr. Beausang, seconded by Mr. Smyth, Mr. Galvin was unanimously appointed.

Auditor's Report.

The Clerk read the Auditor's report on his audit of the accounts for the year ending March 31st, which was declared very satisfactory.

Mr. Beausang, proposed a vote of thanks and congratulation to the Clerk and his assistant on the result of the audit.

Mr. Power, seconded. The Chairman said they all cordially concurred in that proposition.

Mr. Smyth said that, considering there was no less a sum than £23,000 involved in the year's working, that was well deserved.

Mr. Savage said that their ex-Chairman, Mr. Smyth, should be included in that proposition (hear, hear).

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. F. Farrell, D.J.)

Civil Bills.

Decrees or adjournments were granted in a number of undefended Civil Bills, in which Messrs. W. J. Barry, W. R. Hodnett and J. N. R. Macnamara, solrs., appeared for the plaintiffs.

Occasional Licence.

Mr. Hodnett (for Mr. J. J. Ronayne, solr., Middleton) applied on behalf of Mr. P. S. Ronayne, Middleton, for an occasional licence in connection with the United Hunt Club Gymkhana on the 17th.

There being no objection, the application was granted.

Attempted Indecent Assault.

A young man named Arthur Roche, of no fixed residence, was brought up in custody, charged with attempting to indecently assault two girls aged 7 and 9, the children of his employer at Araglen, Fermoy.

Sergt. O'Gorman, Araglen, having given formal evidence of arrest, applied for a further remand to enable him complete his inquiries.

The Justice—Did he apply for bail? The Sergt.—He would not accept it. No one would go bail for him.

Accused was remanded in custody to next Fermoy District Court.

ago to £2. They all recognised Mr. Nelligan's merits, but he thought the proposition to increase his present wage by £1 per week was going too far.

Mr. Power said they all recognised Mr. Nelligan's worth, and they should remember that the street men were getting 36/- weekly.

Mr. Whelan—Does he assist in making out the Rate Books?

The Clerk—Yes, and formerly we were allowed employ outside assistance.

Mr. Beausang—Is he good at his work? The Clerk—Exceedingly good.

Mr. Whelan said in view of the volume of work that passed through the office, and of the Clerk's recommendation, the Assistant Clerk deserved that increase on his merits.

Mr. Lynch said that the Clerk and his Assistant were overpowered with work from morning till night. Anything less than £3 would not be a living wage and he was surprised at anyone opposing the proposition.

Mr. Broderick, proposed that they grant an increase of 10/-. At a future date they could consider the question of a further increase.

Mr. McCarthy, seconded. Mr. Farrell—Did Mr. Nelligan make any application, officially or unofficially?

The Clerk—No, but that doesn't affect the matter.

Mr. Farrell agreed with Mr. Broderick, that a 50 per cent. increase was excessive. 50/- weekly was a fair salary at present for an assistant. When times got better the question could be raised again. Reference was made to the gas works. He suggested that the consumers who furnished the profits should be considered by lowering the price of gas.

Mr. Power said that the people who could best afford to pay, were kicking up the greatest row. They talk about the state of the times and going around in their swank motor cars.

The Chairman—Keep personalities out of it. This is the third time you have spoken. Please resume your seat.

Mr. Power—I will resume when I am done.

The Chairman—You were the proud possessor of a motor car yourself once. Mr. Power—Yes, but then the economic war came on. I gave it up and I am game enough to stick it out (laughter).

After further discussion a poll was taken with the following result:— For £1—Messrs. Savage, Whelan, Pomeroy, Lynch, Forrest, Beausang and O'Sullivan—7.

For 10/-—Messrs. Smyth, Macnamara, Farrell, Keane, McCarthy, Watson, Broderick, Ahern, Condon and the Chairman—10.

An increase of 10/- weekly was, therefore, granted.

Mr. Lynch—If it was proposed by the other side it would be passed all right.

The Chairman said he thought as much of Mr. Nelligan as anyone in the room, but he owed a duty to the ratepayers.

Mr. Lynch said it was all politics. The Chairman said there was nothing whatever to do with politics in the case. It was purely a matter of public business.

Messrs. Lynch and Power continued to intervene.

The Chairman (standing up) called on Mr. Lynch to desist—he was on his feet.

Mr. Lynch—I don't care what you are on. I'll say what I think.

The Chairman, ringing the bell, left the chair, saying—That finishes the business for to-night.

The meeting then dispersed, although the agenda was not gone through.

FATAL FALL FROM MOTOR John Lynch, aged 30 of Blake's Lane, Waterford, died on Sunday night at Carrick-on-Suir Hospital, from a fractured skull, caused by falling and striking the kerbstone in Carrick when entering a motor car. He and members of his family were visiting friends in Carrick. No inquest was held.

Youghal Mental Hospital Committee.

At the usual monthly meeting of the above there attended—Messrs. W. J. Broderick, T.D., Chairman; D. Gamble, T.C., J. R. Connolly, T.C., Rev. D. Dwane, C.C., and Dr. M. Twomey.

New Chaplain.

The Chairman welcomed Father Dwane, who replaced their old friend Father Wilson, recently appointed to the pastorate of Ballyhea. Fr. Dwane's return to Youghal, after many years, was some compensation for the loss of his esteemed predecessor (hear, hear).

Manure.

The Chairman asked was there any report regarding the purchase of manure from the Urban Council as arranged at 2/- per load delivered.

The Manager said that there had been none procured so far.

The Chairman—Then there is no cause of complaint (laughter).

Patient's Expenses.

In connection with the sending of an attendant for operation to the North Infirmary, the Chairman said the question of expense arose. The tendency was to send cases of the kind to their own institutions.

It having been stated that the patient expressed a desire in the matter.

The Chairman said they would go as far as they could to meet the patients' wishes.

Mr. Connolly said that where a patient was sent as he desired he ought to be responsible.

It was decided to leave the question to the general committee.

Farm Report.

The Farm Steward reported that work was proceeding satisfactorily. He had about half the potatoes dug, and the rest would be done in a week's time if the weather continued favourable.

They had 50 barrels of barley, which was sold at 15/- less 6d. per barrel delivered. They had 22 pigs in stock; 13 nearly finished. It would be advisable to get about 10 stores next fair.

Good Service Pay.

Mr. D. Dempsey, farm steward, applied for the usual good service pay.

Replying to the Chairman, the Manager said that the steward was giving satisfaction.

On the proposition of Mr. Connolly, seconded by Mr. Gamble, the application was granted.

Tenders For Coal.

There were two tenders for coal—32/- per ton German and 30/- for best home coal, and 35/- and 32/9.

Later another tender was read which was declared informal as it wasn't marked "Tender for Coal."

It was decided to refer all to the general Committee.

One Tender For Butter.

There was only one tender for butter at 130/- per cwt.

The Chairman said the tender last time was 137/-. It seemed rather strange that farmers were selling butter around the town at 7d. or 8d. per lb., while they were called on to pay such a big price.

Mr. Gamble—Twice the amount. Mr. Connolly—Refer it to Cork. This was agreed to.

Manager's Report.

The Manager reported that since last meeting one male patient had died and the total number in residence at present was 122—246 men and 176 women. The stocktakers inventory and Report was submitted. The condemnations were ready for the Committee's inspection. Contracts had been carried out satisfactorily during the month. Cheques value £59 had been received towards the maintenance of patients and lodged to the credit of the Mental Hospital Account.

Thanks To Donor.

Thanks are due to Mrs. Arbutnot, Myrtle Grove, Youghal, for gifts of pictorials for the Institution.

Doctor's Report.

Dr. Twomey's report was as follows: Since my last report there has been one death and the deceased belonged to the Cork Mental Hospital. Seven patients are confined to bed on the male side of the house and 5 on the female side owing to debility and other causes. There has been no case of seclusion, restraint, injury or violence. There has been no complaint of the water supply. The food supplies have been regularly examined and found up to standard requirements. There has been no case of zymotic disease, and the general health of the Institution is excellent.

YOUGHAL TECHNICAL COMMITTEE.

At the initial meeting of the above there attended V. Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, D.D., Rev. Bro. O'Connell, Superior, Christian Schools, and Messrs. R. Savage, U.D.C., and E. D. Condon, U.D.C., and E. Ryall, Headmaster.

On the proposition of Mr. Savage, seconded by Mr. Condon, Canon Dinneen was re-elected Chairman.

On the proposition of Mr. Savage, seconded by Bro. O'Connell, the Rev. F. T. Deacon, B.A., Rector, was elected Vice-Chairman.

In his report, the Headmaster stated that there were 240 students registered on the Vocational classes.

Surplus Cattle.

PROPRIETORS OF SLAUGHTER HOUSES.

The Minister for Agriculture (Dr. Ryan) met newspaper representatives and supplied them with the following explanatory memoranda on the Slaughter of Cattle and Sheep Act, 1934.

"The necessity for the legislation embodied in the Act arises primarily from the fact that since the inception of the quota restrictions on the importation of cattle into the United Kingdom, a considerable disparity has prevailed between the prices paid for fat cattle and the returns from the sales in the export market. This was due to the surplus of cattle resulting from the quota restrictions.

"Part II.—As a preliminary, the slaughter of cattle and sheep for home consumption will be controlled by requiring registration of slaughtering and victualling premises. As a consequence the business of slaughtering cattle or sheep for sale for home consumption, or of selling beef, veal, mutton or lamb, may not be carried on in any premises that are not registered under the Act. The proprietors of these registered premises must keep records giving detailed particulars of the persons from whom they buy cattle and sheep, the weight of each animal, and the price paid therefor. The records must also show clearly how the carcasses of the slaughtered animals were disposed of.

"Part III.—Every registered proprietor of every registered slaughter-premises will be required to pay a levy in respect of cattle and sheep slaughtered on his premises for home consumption as the following rates:— Cattle, excluding calves under 6 months old, £1 per head; calves under 6 months old, 1s. per head; sheep under 6 months old, 5s. per head.

"For this purpose each registered proprietor will furnish a monthly return showing the number of cattle and the number of sheep slaughtered on his premises for home consumption.

"Part IV.—So as to prevent a glut of cattle and sheep being thrown on the market, with a consequent decline in value, the Minister has power to inspect, select, and mark cattle and sheep intended for sale for slaughter for home consumption, and also to determine the order in which such cattle or sheep may be sold. The necessity for the exercise of these powers may not, however, arise immediately.

"Part V.—As from the 31st October, the minimum price at which bullocks and heifers over 6 months old may be bought by a registered proprietor of registered premises, has been fixed at 25s. per cwt. actual live weight, if the sale takes place where public weighing accommodation is provided. Elsewhere the cases may be based on estimated live weight. It is not proposed at present to fix any minimum price for other classes of cattle or for sheep.

"Part VI.—The Minister has power to prohibit the exports of cattle and sheep except under licence granted by him. It may be found necessary to exercise this power if exporters are unwilling to pay for fat bullocks and heifers intended for export the minimum price that must be paid by registered proprietors purchasing animals of this class for slaughter for sale for home consumption.

"Part VII.—No person may engage in the manufacture of linned or canned meat or the making of meat extracts and essences except under a licence granted by the Minister.

"Part VIII.—Should difficulties arise in the marketing of cattle and sheep, the Minister has full power to engage generally in the cattle and sheep trade or businesses associated therewith. He has also power to lend money to companies or firms engaged or intending to engage, in the treatment of the carcasses, offals and by-products of cattle and sheep for commercial purposes.

"Part IX.—With a view to relieving the congestion in the home market, due to surplus cattle stocks for which no economic outlet is available, the Minister intends to make contracts with registered proprietors of registered victualling premises for the free supply of beef of good quality to recipients of unemployment assistance and outdoor relief or home assistance. For this purpose beef vouchers will be distributed to recipients through Unemployment Exchange offices and through relieving officers entitling a recipient to receive beef at a contractor's premises on presentation of a beef voucher. The scale of issue of free beef will be related to the number of each recipient's dependent, and the quantity of beef will be specified on the beef voucher in each case. Part of the cost of this scheme will be met by the levy raised under Part III of the Act.

It is proposed to bring the Act into operation on the 31st October, with the exception of Part IV, and Part VI.

As to Part VI, of the Act, which does not for the present come into force, the Minister, answering questions, said that under the marking provisions, the farmer would apply to the Department of Agriculture as to cattle he wished to be marketed. The Department would then send down an inspector, who would mark cattle as he thought fit to be killed within a certain time. No butcher could then kill cattle except marked cattle.

To further questions, he expressed the opinion that the tendency in future would be to buy better class cattle for slaughter.

Very great organization would be necessary to bring in the marking system by inspectors, and it was doubtful if it could be brought in until the grass season ended—December or January. With a demand for more meat, there should be a fall in the price of the better quality meat. There should be an increase in cattle prices under the Act, for sales could not take place at less than 25s. per cwt., so that the better class should fetch more. Inferior cattle could be dealt with by export—that is cattle could be exported for feeding and not for slaughter.

JUNIOR HURLING FINAL.

WATERFORD GAIN AN EASY VICTORY.

Waterford: 5-3; Kildare: 1-3

The Junior All-Ireland Hurling final between Waterford and Kildare, played at Wexford Park, on Sunday, was attended by a fair gathering. The game was rather a disappointing one, Waterford gaining a rather easy victory by 5 goals 3 points to 1 goal 3 points. Kildare failed to reach expectations, and at no stage offered serious opposition to Munster's representatives, who outclassed them in most phases.

Waterford played with the breeze in the opening moiety and were quickly on the offensive. From a free penalty Kehoe registered the first point. Kildare infringed after frustrating a Waterford movement. A penalty from fully 140 yards by Colgan resulted in a magnificent shot over the bar. Creed shortly after, sent them a further minor ahead. McDonnell sent Kildare attacking. Walsh, having cleared, regained possession and registered another minor. Waterford continued the pressure and netted per Donnelly, Meehan increasing the lead by a point. Hogan sent Kildare away and Doyle and Sheehan relieved. Waterford again netted but the score was disallowed. On the puck-out Murphy scored a goal. Power (Kildare) broke away, missing a score by inches. Returning to the attack, Murphy credited Waterford with a major which was followed by a point, and Regan increased Waterford's lead by a point. Before the interval a Kildare rally ended in W. Burke registering their first score. Waterford led by 3 goals 7 points to 1 point at half-time.

Kildare got away on resuming and McDonnell sent in for a goal. W. Burke enabled Kildare to attack strongly, but a wide resulted. From the goal delivery Kildare continued the aggressive, Foley reducing the lead by a point. Pressure in Waterford territory was relieved by a penalty. Power, Burke and McDonnell were conspicuous in a Kildare advance which Regan checked. Kildare returned from a 70 and Kehoe converted. Murphy shot wide for Waterford, and Kildare, whose play had improved, fought hard, and a strong onslaught ended in Foley sending over the bar. Two seventies came to Waterford in quick succession, and Mahony beat the defence for a goal. The same player added a minor on the puck-out. Exchanges in midfield put Kildare in possession, and the Waterford defence cleared. In the last quarter Kildare were mostly on the defensive, and Waterford's scoring vein continued with another major. Towards the end Kildare rallied and McDonnell scored a point.

WHEAT GROWING

PREPARING THE GROUND AND PLANTING.

The shortening days and the cold snap in the air at night inform us that the best of the season's growth is over. The weather is becoming more uncertain and rain causes more frequent breaks in fieldwork. Instinctively, we feel the necessity of speeding up the preparation of the ground for the planting of winter wheat. In land where potatoes or a root crop have been grown and where the crop has already been harvested, the work of sowing wheat can be rushed forward without delay. Large areas of old lea will, however, be put into cultivation and many a sod which for upwards of a century has remained unbroken, save for the hoof marks of grazing stock, will be ploughed down and wheat will be sown in the mellowed soil. The ploughing of such land is the first concern and as it cannot now be done too soon we will deal with it first.

CO. WATERFORD FARMERS REMANDED.

There was a sequel to the conflict between Co. Waterford farmers and Gardai at Ballygan, following cattle seizures, when four farmers were remanded on bail by Mr. P. J. Murray, P.C., on charges of assault on Detective Nicholson and obstruction.
The names of defendants are Patk. Ivory and his two sons, William and John Ivory, and Robert Morrissey.
The three last-named were taken into custody immediately after the encounter. Ivory, senior, was arrested later at Waterford Barracks, where he went to visit his sons.
