DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman, Messrs. S. Hayes, M. Connors, P. Byrne, J. Foley, J. Mansfield, J. Dahill.

Week's Wages.

A pay-sheet for the week amounting to £27 19s. 5d., was passed.

Bishop's Visit To Abbeyside.

Mr. Hayes, referred to the visit of Most Rev. Dr. Kinnafe, to Abbeyside, on Sunday, 18th and asked that the Council's men be sent to give Abbeyside a good cleaning, particularly down by the Church.

The matter was left in the hands of the Borough Surveyor.

An application from one of the new tenants at Loughmore for permission to install a range and put down a concrete path from the road to the door was granted.

Minit Dirt Test.

Mr. Byrne, V.S., submitted a report on a minit dirt test taken by him as follows:—P. Curran, Glenmore—milk satisfactory. T. Flynn, Coolnagour—milk fair. D. Dempsey, Shandon—milk fair.

Mr. Dahill—That is an improvement on the last report.

Acknowledgment.

Very Rev. Canon Ryan, Ballyneale, Carrick-on-Suir, wrote thanking the Council for resolution of sympathy to him on the recent death of his sister.

Applications for Hall.

The Eire Oge H. and F. Club were granted the use of the Hall for a practice dance on Tuesday 13th November.

An application by the I.R.A. for the use of the Hall for a concert and dance on December 8th.

The matter was referred to the Clerk to make enquiries as to the duration of the dance.

Compulsory Acquisition Of Land.

A lengthy circular from the Department re the Council's powers for the compulsory acquisition of land for the purpose of supplying allotments to the unemployed and the supply of seeds, manures, etc., to enable them to till the plots was read.

Chairman—It is a very long document and would require much consideration.

Mr. McCarthy—We know the substance of it.

Mr. Dahill suggested publishing the circular in the Press so that the people concerned would see it, then if they are interested they would come here and put their views before us.

Mr. McCarthy—Would it not be better to call a meeting of the unemployed and let them form their own association.

Mr. Mansfield—The Council have power to acquire land compulsorily?

Clerk—Yes.

Mr. Hayes—If the matter was left over for a week, it would enable any member who wished to come here and study the circular, so that they could explain it outside to the unemployed.

Mr. Mansfield—If you haven't an association the Council might be taking big risks by not having proper guarantees.

Chairman—I t would be very hard to deal with individuals in a scheme of this kind.

Mr. Connors—Are any others but unemployed entitled.

Clerk—It is principally for them.

Mr. Foley—How would you differentiate in the event of the scheme materialising between Dungarvan and Abbeyside unemployed. Would you acquire plots at both places.

Mr. Dahill—During the war there were plots at Abbeyside and Dungarvan.

Further consideration was deferred to next meeting.

Site For Forge.

The B.S. reported that as directed he met Mr. Mahony, at Loughmore, they both agreed on a site for a forge down at the end of the houses. He suggested a nominal rent of 1d. per week be charged, and that Mahony be requested to sign an undertaking to remove the forge in the event of the Council extending the scheme further in that direction.

Mahony, who appeared expressed his willingness to agree, and the Council approved the report.

Mr. Connors said that the Council should bear this case in mind, and if any house in a more favourable place became vacant to give that house to Mahony where he could have his forge at the back.

Tenders.

Only one tender was received for the making of a cart and wheels for scavenging purposes, viz.—Thos. Barry, Mary Street.

The specification mentioned hickory shafts and oak frame, and the contractor said in his tender that if unable to

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

Held on Wednesday before Mr. Troy, D.J.
Superintendent Walsh, charged John Beresford, Kildangan, with having a shotgun without the necessary certificate.

Superintendent Walsh, said the position was that defendant made an application for a certificate. He sent Guard Regan to make inquiries and when Guard Regan visited the place he found a shotgun there without any certificate.

To the Justice—The Superintendent said defendant was a proper person to get a certificate.

The case was dealt with under the P. O. Act.

CARELESS DRIVING.

Superintendent Walsh, charged James McLoughlin, Sexton St., Abbeyside, with carelessly driving a motor car on the night of October 5th.

Mr. Farrell, solr., appeared for the defendant.

Mr. Kyne, in reply to the Superintendent, said that on Friday October 5th, about 3 p.m. he visited the Devonshire Arms Hotel and met Jas. McLoughlin there. They proceeded to Waterford and stopped at the Imperial Hotel. There were four in the car and the four went into the Hotel.

Superintendent—What drink had you there?

Mr. Farrell, objected to the question of drink being raised by the Supt. and said the charge was one of careless driving and there was no question of drink.

Superintendent—I am not trying to allege drunkenness. He then read a procure hickory or oak, the next best in timber would be used.

Mr. Mansfield—It is surprising we have only one tender.

B.S.—I send notices to eight carpenters.

Mr. McCarthy—Is that tender in order. Did the contractor read the specification?

Clerk—Yes.

Mr. McCarthy—I hold that tender is out of order apart altogether from being unable to supply the material required. According to a resolution on the books all men employed by the Council should be Trade Union men. I know several carpenters who would have tendered for this, but said it would be no use owing to the clause re Trade Union men in the specification. It would be very unfair to these men to accept this tender to-night, even if it was in order.

Mr. Dahill asked if the resolution on the books passed last March included skilled as well as unskilled labour.

Mr. McCarthy—It included both.

After a further protracted discussion on the interpretation of the resolution, which the Clerk read, Mr. McCarthy said if the Council decided on waiving the paragraph re Trade Union labour in the specification for this contract, fresh tenders should be invited.

It was decided to rule Mr. Barry's tender out of order, and to invite fresh tenders.

Tenders For Plastering.

The following tenders for the plastering of the piers of the houses at Mitchell Terrace (labour only) were received, viz.—Patk. Fitzgerald, £34 12s.; E. Fitzgerald, £32 2s. 6d.; David Riordan, £23; James Butler, £17 10s. Butler's tender was accepted.

Another Housing Scheme.

Mr. Dahill, proposed and Mr. Mansfield, seconded the following resolution which was passed:—That the Council request Dr. Casey, M.O.H. to inspect the houses in the Urban Area and report on how many are not in a fit condition to live in, with a view to starting another scheme of houses to replace any that will be condemned by that report.

Mr. Dahill—It is nearly time to set the ball rolling again. Some of us are tormented from people asking for houses. Then there is a big number of unemployed waiting for work.

The B.S. replying to a member said that Dr. Casey, about three years ago reported on the number of houses required to rehouse those living in the slum areas. When that report went to the Department, Mr. Strahan, L.G.B., Engineer, was sent down to inspect. He agreed with Dr. Casey's report that 350 houses were needed in Dungarvan.

Mr. Foley—Was there anything about further houses at the recent inquiry.

B.S.—No. The inquiry was confined entirely to the Clearance area.

The Council agreed to ask Dr. Casey, to report.

Sympathy.

Sympathy was voted to the relatives of the late Jas. Walsh, Ballyduff, and to the relatives of the late Mr. Harty, Ring.

section of the Act in support of his line of examination.

Mr. Farrell argued contrary. The Justice—The charge, as Mr. Farrell says, is of driving in a dangerous manner. There is no mention of drunkenness.

Continuing his evidence Mr. Kyne, said they arrived back in Dungarvan about 8.30 or 9 p.m. and stopped at the Hotel. Mr. McLoughlin agreed to drive Mr. Curran home and when turning at the Youghal Road, he took the turn wide, the car going between the wall and the telegraph pole. Witness hit his head on the windscreen and was later taken home.

To Mr. Farrell—He had no objection to go with Mr. McLoughlin. He asked witness to go as he did not know the road. The turn at the Youghal Road is a very sharp one. Witness noticed that after taking the turn Mr. McLoughlin could not straighten out the car on the road when he tried to do so. The car was traveling at anything from 10 to 15 m.p.h. before coming to the turn. Witness told Mr. McLoughlin to take the turn wide.

When he failed to straighten the car and when it got on the path, the defendant tried to avoid the telegraph pole by going between it and the wall. Defendant put his hand across in front of witness to save him from the glass and at the same time switched off the engine.

Supt. Walsh—Would a reasonable man try to get a car between the pole and the wall.

Witness—Yes. If the engine hit the post it might be driven back and kill both of us.

Mr. Curran, Ballinacourty, Ring, deposed to going to Waterford on October 5th, accompanied by a traveller and returning in defendant's car. He tried to get one of the Hotel cars to drive him home, but they were out. He asked defendant to drive him. Witness was in the rear seat. When approaching the Youghal Road, witness said it was a dangerous corner. His impression is that after taking the turn, that the steering got locked as the car went diagonally across the road.

To Mr. Farrell—He was quite willing to allow Mr. McLoughlin to drive him home. The speed of the car before coming to the turn would be nearer 10 than 15 m.p.h. The car would not answer the steering and mounted the path. The driver had no trouble with the car prior to this. He was quite prepared to allow Mr. McLoughlin to drive him again.

Jas. Clancy, Mitchel street, deposed he was returning from a walk on Oct. 5th. He saw a car approaching the Youghal Road turn. After going around the turn, witness heard a crash and went back. The car was between the pole and the wall. Witness took Kyne into his house and attended to him. He was later taken home. The car came slowly to the turn.

To Mr. Farrell—The car was going at a normal pace round the corner.

Guard O'Leary, deposed that on the evening in question his attention was drawn to the Youghal Road by a crowd collected there. He went there and met Mr. McLoughlin, who told witness he had an accident round the corner. Witness asked was anyone hurt, and he replied no. They went to the car where witness saw a track of blood. Witness asked what it was and defendant said he did not know. Witness then followed the track of blood, which led into Clancy's house, where he found Kyne, who was bleeding. He then went back to the car and found Curran in the back seat, and he told witness he thought his knee was hurt. The width of the road between the poles at each side is 23 feet and the pole is 40 yards from the corner. It is a very busy thoroughfare.

To Mr. Farrell—Defendant was going to report the matter when he met witness, that was what he was supposed to do. When witness asked if there was anyone hurt defendant said no. Kyne was sitting beside the defendant when he was injured. The car was pushed back to Abbeyside by 5 or 6 men, the defendant steering. He had difficulty in steering it at corners.

Daniel Crotty, Garage, deposed the car was taken to the garage the following day for repairs. Witness supervised the repair work. The steering was not properly set, that would be a reasonable explanation of the accident.

To the Justice—Witness said if he were driving the car round that corner at 10 to 15 miles he would not have to go into the path. Witness then detailed a serious accident which he nearly met with owing to the same cause.

To the Superintendent—The impact with the pole would not cause the looseness of the steering.

Mr. Farrell asked for a direction at this stage, saying that there was no evidence of careless driving.

The Justice agreed with Mr. Farrell, and dismissed the case.

Farmers Acquitted.

SEQUEL TO CO. WATERFORD CATTLE SEIZURES.

At the Waterford Circuit Court on Wednesday, the trial was opened of four farmers from the Ballyglan district of the Co. Waterford.

Their names are—Patrick Ivory and his two sons, John and William Ivory and Robert Morrissey, Harristown.

They were charged in six counts as follows:—(1) That on the 15th October, 1934, they did conspire together with persons unknown to unlawfully assemble together and did obstruct the Garda Siochana and the County Registrar's Assistant in the execution of their duties; (2) That they did unlawfully assemble together on the 15th October; (3) That William Ivory did unlawfully assault, resist or obstruct Guard R. A. Nicholson in the execution of his duty; (4) Similar charge against Wm. Ivory in the case of Guard J. E. Murphy; (5) Similar charge against Patrick Ivory in regard to Guard Nicholson; and (6) same against Robert Morrissey in regard to Guard Nicholson.

Mr. Connolly (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor), appeared to prosecute, and the accused were defended by Mr. J. Mooney, and Mr. J. C. Conroy (instructed by Mr. C. S. Quinlan, solr.).

When the jury were being empanelled nine were ordered to stand aside by the State, and three were challenged on behalf of the accused.

Mr. John English, Assistant to the Co. Registrar, said he proceeded to execute the warrant with Thomas McCarthy, and a party of about 20 Guards, under a Superintendent. He reached Ivory's farm about 7.30 a.m., on the 15th October, and seized 13 cows. He saw Patrick Ivory and gave him an inventory of the cattle taken. Witness asked Ivory to pay some of the money. He said he would not pay anything. Witness waited until the cows were milked. He also saw the other three accused there. In the cowshed witness saw two men standing on the bales over the heads of the two cows which had not come out. Witness's assistant was there. Witness was of the opinion the two men were on the bales did so as to prevent the cattle coming out. McCarthy could not get the cows out while the men were standing there. Guard Nicholson moved towards the men on the bales, and Wm. Ivory drew out and made a kick at him. Witness later saw the men off the bales, and there seemed to be a scuffle going on with a couple of Guards. It was dark at the time, and witness did not identify Morrissey at the time. Patrick Ivory was standing behind him. He also saw Nicholson struck on the face, but he could not say who struck him. When the cattle were out a struggle was going on outside the door, and he saw Guard Murphy fall. He saw William Ivory there again, and he took it that Guard Murphy was trying to hold Wm. Ivory. One of the defendants made a drive at witness, and he drew back to defend himself. He saw all the accused in the yard before the cattle left the yard. They were standing at the gate. He did not see any obstruction there. When he saw the four accused on the road they seemed to be angry. The cattle were subsequently sold at Clonmel.

Cross-examined by Mr. Mooney, B.L., the witness said he was assisting the Co. Registrar for 61 years. He denied that he had made 2,000 seizures since last April, but he might have made 500 seizures.

Thomas McCarthy, who acted as assessor to Mr. English, said there were bales in the byres, and they had to lift up an iron holding the bales together to release the cows. When the last two cattle were being released witness could not raise the bales because two men were standing on them. They made no move when he asked them to let him remove the cattle. One man was Wm. Ivory, and the other was either Robert Morrissey or John Ivory. The men were looking out a skylight and making remarks to Detective-Officer Nicholson, asked if he had his gun still. One of the men said: "You—Broy Harrier." D.O. Nicholson and Guard Murphy entered the shed later and the men continued standing on the bales. Nicholson asked the men to get off the bales, but they would not move. The officer then went about pulling them off and one of the men came down, but Ivory remained, and he caught hold of a cross-beam. Wm. Ivory swung out of the beam and kicked Nicholson in the back of the head. It seemed to be to witness a deliberate kick. Nicholson seemed dazed and was standing against the bales when Ivory dropped down from the cross-beam, and struck Nicholson in the mouth with his clenched fist, making him bleed.

Detective-Officer R. A. Nicholson, said Ivory swung off the beam and kicked him in the back of the head, dropped down and hit him in the mouth with his fist. The defendant's father then walked up and struck him in the nose and Morrissey advanced and witness drew a gun and kept them off. He was bleeding and had a violent pain in his head.

Asked by Mr. Mooney what was the first thing he said when he went into the shed, witness said he addressed McCarthy, and later the men standing on the bales asked if he said: "Where is O'Duffy now," the witness said Mr. Quinlan had invented that charge, as it was on the disciplinary files to be seen.

Asked why Mr. Quinlan should invent anything like that, the witness said he did not know why, except that Mr. Quinlan wanted to prejudice the case. It was not, he admitted, the first thing on a file about him. He had a complaint made about trouble in Tramore some time ago about conduct in a public-house. It was brought by an ex-policeman.

Judge—That's not so awful really. You put it in a voice as if it were something terrible against a policeman.

He had joined the detective force at 23 years of age, said the witness continuing. He did not know of any reason why he should be accused of uttering political slogans in a shed on this occasion. He had been an insurance agent and before that a farmer.

Judge—How long is this to go on. You don't want to ask about how long he was in his mother's lap.

Mr. Mooney—Were you a candidate for the Waterford Corporation—Yes.

Judge—I will not have any of these silly questions. It is nothing to the witness's discredit to say he was a candidate for the Corporation. You owe a duty to the Court and to the jury, and if you persist in this questioning I will have to take another course.

Mr. Mooney—I am bound by the answer of the witness.

Judge—You may be instructed to ask these questions, but you should turn them down. You are old enough at the Bar to know all about it. For heaven's sake if you have anything against his character put it to him and don't be wasting the time of the court.

THE VERDICT.

Evidence for the defence having been taken, the jury after a fifteen minutes' retirement, returned a verdict of not guilty on all counts.

Judge—I cannot say I approve of your verdict.

Seed Wheat.

ALLEGED BREACH OF WARRANTY

INTERESTING CASE

At the Dungarvan Circuit Court on Thursday week before Mr. Justice Sealy, Mr. M. O'Brien, Kereen, Aglish, sued the Dungarvan Co-Operative Creamery Ltd., for £100 damages for breach of warranty in the sale of seed wheat.

Mr. Ryan, solr., for the plaintiff. Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr.), for the defendants.

Mr. Ryan said plaintiff is a large experienced farmer who had considerable experience in the sowing and growing of wheat. Defendants are the Dungarvan Co-Operative Creamery Ltd. A very big concern, one of the biggest in the South of Ireland and do a very big business as suppliers to farmers. The evidence will show that on the 20th November, 1933, plaintiff purchased a quantity of wheat from the defendants for £8 2s. 6d.

The defence was a denial of any breach of warranty.

Mr. O'Brien, in reply to Mr. Ryan, said he farmed 144 acres always going in for a considerable amount of tillage. Witness was farming since he was 15 years. Witness's uncle spent 15 years growing wheat in California. The land is good sound land on high ground. Witness in 1932 purchased a small quantity of seed wheat which he sowed in a hawn. In 1933 he had a 7 acre field under green crops which made a perfect bed for seed wheat.

On 20th November his son went to Clashmore creamery and ordered 100 stone seed wheat. The wheat was left at David O'Brien's, Ballinaparka. In consequence of a communication from David O'Brien, witness sent his son for it, and he stored it in the dairy for one day and sowed it on the following day. Witness mixed some tar through the wheat. He spilled the wheat into a cart and sprinkled tar on it. That is as he was recommended by Department's instructors. Mr. James Lennane, sowed the wheat with a machine, the seed was sown in a proper manner. The crop should show in about 6 or 7 weeks. It never came up. Witness visited the defendants Manager (Mr. Maher) who promised to put the matter before the company, they bought the seed from, with a view to compensation. Witness got seed oats from Mr. Maher which he sowed in April, it was a poor crop being so late. He sold the product—27 barrels at 9/- a barrel and 10 tons of straw at £1 per ton, which did not pay for the seed. He should get at least 10 barrels to the acre if the wheat was right at 23/6 per barrel, with 10 ton of straw at £1 a ton. The labour and seed wheat cost £19 and his loss on the wheat crop was £92.

To Mr. Budd, B.L.—Witness grew wheat the year before and before that in his uncle's time. With regard to the date of delivering it was made to David O'Brien on 14th November. He sowed the wheat the day after bringing it home.

Mr. Budd, produced a letter written by Mrs. O'Brien, to the Manager of the Creamery stating that the seed was sown since early in December. Witness said it may be a mistake on his part. November or December is all the same if you get good weather. He put the seed in the dairy which is perfectly dry. The dressing comprised tar, and a little lime after, so that it would run through the machine. He sowed the seed to a depth of 3 to 4 inches. After 6 weeks a very odd blade came up. He shot 5 or 6 crops in the field. He may have shot a dozen altogether.

Mr. Budd—There is the local report that this particular field was black with crows.

Witness—The tar was to prevent the crows taking the seed. There were crows in every field. He would not agree that the wheat germinated, but was pulled up by the crows. With regard to the oat crop in 1932, he got 9/- a barrel. He sold this year at 9/- to Mr. Flynn. 27 barrels come off this 7 acres. There is a mixture of wheat in the oats, but not 10 per cent. There was an odd blade of wheat here and there. Witness did not sow the wheat too deep. In January he realised the crop was a failure, but he gave it a chance. Then he could not get more seed as it would be a serious loss to buy seed wheat again. If he sowed seed in January and it grew he would only be at the loss of the £8 paid for the seed in November. If witness put the seed in in January the people would say that he did not give the seed a proper chance. He could have got seed oats in February. The ordinary wheat return from my land is not an average of 8 barrels. The next to me grew 14 barrels to the acre. It is not less than 10 barrels. He sold the oats to Mr. Flynn for 9/- per barrel as it was hard to get any one to buy it. He was not aware he could get 12/- for it from the Co-Operative Creamery. Witness complained to Mr. Maher that the crop was a failure. He left the matter in his hands to do something for him. Witness got a few pints of tar from a neighbour. He heated the tar to make it liquid and spilled it over the wheat.

To Mr. Ryan—Witness said that whatever date the wheat was delivered witness sowed it one day later. Before sowing the oats witness invited Mr. Maher out to see the place.

Mr. James Lennane, Clashmore, deposed he was 6 years working a corn drill. In 1933 about the end of November, he sowed seed for Mr. O'Brien.

Witness came to see the crop in January, but there was nothing there. He was there again in February and there was no signs of a crop. Witness uncovered the ground in January and found the seed dead in the ground not having sprouted.

By Mr. Budd—There was not one single blade of wheat up.

To his Lordship—He uncovered the seed in three of four places and it was dead. He did not tell O'Brien to go in to Mr. Maher as the seed was dead.

Mr. Thomas Lynch, deposed he had 2 1/2 acres bounding Mr. O'Brien's. He had a field about an acre under wheat. He ploughed it out of bawn. He had a great crop. He got the seed from a neighbouring woman. He treated it with tar. There is only a fence between himself and Mr. O'Brien. He had 14 barrels to the acre. He had Mr. O'Brien's field under observation every day. There was no sign of a crop of wheat coming up. He had 50 years experience of wheat. If the wheat was kiln-dried it would never grow.

To Mr. Budd—Witness never saw a field before in which no blade grew. He noticed some crows in the field. Mr. O'Brien shot some. Everyone looks after their crops from the crows as they are in every field.

John O'Brien (15), son of plaintiff, deposed in November 1933, he ordered 5 barrels of Squarehead Master seed wheat at Clashmore. The Manager at Clashmore was not able to supply the seed and he had to send to Dungarvan for it. A few days after Mr. Collins (the manager) told witness that the seed wheat was at O'Brien's, Ballinaparka.

By Mr. Budd—Witness heard his father dictating a letter to his mother about the seed.

Mr. Maher, Manager, Co-Operative Creamery, said he purchased Squarehead Master from the Irish A.O.S. Store, Waterford, took delivery from the store by lorry. He had disposed of his previous supplies of Squarehead Master, because Queen Wilhelmina is usually used. Squarehead Master is only for lighter types of soil. There were several others supplied by witness's company, the same stock as was supplied to Mr. O'Brien. Mr. O'Brien, in an interview in April told him his crop had failed. That was the first witness heard of it. Mr. O'Brien made no claim. Witness had handled wheat from Mr. O'Brien's locality this year. It was about 8 barrels to the acre.

By Mr. Ryan—Witness got a specific order for 5 barrels of wheat from the Manager at Clashmore. Witness had not the seed in stock. He had no invoice showing that delivery of 5 barrels. The seed is described as imported re-cleaned seed wheat. He had a representative of the I.A.O.S. present, Mr. O'Brien complained of the failure of the crop but did not intimate to him that he was going to make a claim. If Mr. O'Brien swears that he asked me out to see the field, I will accept it, but I don't remember it.

Mr. F. Shear, representative of the I.A.O.S., Manager of the Seed Department, deposed that their seed is tested in the Department's Seed Testing Station, Government Buildings, Dublin. Witness produced results of tests of Squarehead Master of 12th December, showing germination 100 per cent. and purity 99 per cent. He sold roughly about 1,000 barrels Squarehead Master with not one single complaint. About 40 barrels were sold in Waterford. This was the only complaint. This particular wheat came from Essex. With regard to the wheat in the oat crop, witness could only imagine that the seed was lying dormant, and when the ground was stirred it came up. Witness could only say that the wheat was down too far in the ground and did not rot. It is risky to sow wheat in December. O'Brien, if he sowed the crop in December should know by the end of January if he would have a crop.

Replying to Mr. Ryan—Witness said that their firm was in no way connected with the Government. His sole connection with the seed given to O'Brien, was that he brought that sample of seed from Waterford to Dublin for test. Witness took a sample. Their store in Waterford is a good building and the seed is stored in tiers. The seed wheat O'Brien received was sent before the test was made. He agreed it may not be strictly right, but they had several lots from the same dealer tested since September.

By Mr. Budd—Witness bought that wheat in England by sample. The English people test the wheat for themselves.

Mr. Traynor, local representative, I.A.W.S., Waterford Branch, produced books showing delivery of 40 barrels of Squarehead to the Co-Op. Delivery was taken by lorry from witness. Witness delivered the sample taken from the Squarehead Master to Mr. Shear, who took it to Dublin.

By Mr. Ryan—He did not know anything about the tests. The bags are branded with a letter. He would test 10 out of every 40 bags.

John Peeney, lorry driver, deposed he took the seed wheat in November, 1933. It did not get wet in transit. Witness left it at David O'Brien's, Ballinaparka, as he was not able to get up to plaintiff's, the road being very bad.

Mr. Lafferty, Head of the Seed Testing Department of Agriculture Station, gave evidence of the tests.

By Mr. Ryan—The testing is a very important thing. He would agree that the test should be carried out before the seed is distributed.

Mr. McEneaney, local instructor, Co. Committee, Agriculture, in reply to Mr. Budd, said wheat is an easy crop to grow. The first consideration is to treat the wheat for bunt or smut with tar. If the tar is not properly mixed the crows take the untreated grains. If wheat is sown too deeply, it may not come up. If Mr. O'Brien sowed a spring crop he would have as a result about 8 barrels to the acre.

To Mr. Ryan—He never heard of wheat being treated with tar in a cart before. It is usually treated in a loft or barn, filled in bags and taken to the field.

Mr. Ryan—But nevertheless, it was treated in a practical way?

Witness—Yes. Mr. Maher, Manager, recalled said a Mrs. Flynn and the Co. Committee of Agriculture got portion of the same consignment as Mr. O'Brien.

To Mr. Ryan—Theirs would be in separate bags from those delivered to O'Brien.

Mr. McEneaney, recalled said that 14 stone bought by the Department was sown on the lands of Mr. Kelly, Knockanore, as a demonstration plot, which gave a good return.

Mr. Hayes, Kilmeaden, said he bought 4 barrels of Squarehead Master from the Dungarvan Co. Op. in 1933 and had a return of 9 barrels to the acre.

Mr. Casey, Ballyllynch, also said he had a return of about 9 barrels per acre from Squarehead Master bought from the Dungarvan Co. Op. in 1933.

To Mr. Ryan—He had heard Mr. O'Brien's evidence and would agree that he had done as much as witness to get a good crop.

Mr. M. Flynn, Square, said he purchased 32 barrels of oats from plaintiff. There was a fair percentage of wheat in it. It would not be 50 per cent. It might be a quarter per cent.

To Mr. Ryan—Witness is brother of the Chairman of the Co-Operative Society.

His Lordship said it is always very hard on a farmer, who depends for a living in crops to find that the seed sown does not come up. Then it is a difficult thing to say who is responsible for it, and it was never an easy task for the farmer to put the responsibility on the seller. Mr. O'Brien has brought himself inside this section 14 of the Seeds Act, and he found there was an implied warranty that the seed was reasonably fit for its purpose. The vendors have called a mass of evidence, and in my opinion no vendors could do more in taking samples. I think they acted properly, and that they could not be expected to go through each bag to take samples. The result of the evidence is that the vendors discharged their liability under the section. The vendors made plaintiff a generous offer in the beginning which he did not see fit to take. He would dismiss the case with costs. A sum of £6 5d., expenses was allowed.

PROGRESS OF AFFORESTATION IN THE IRISH FREE STATE.

The Irish Free State Government is proceeding with an afforestation scheme, in accordance with which, during the past five years, 17,290 acres of land have been planted, the species used being Sitka Spruce, Scots Pine, Corsican Pine, European Larch, Pinus contorta (on high-lying exposed areas) and a small proportion of broad leaved trees. Most of the seedlings are raised on the State nurseries, which cover 102 acres, of which 75 acres is under a crop of trees, the remaining 27 acres being sown with oats, field peas, and vetches, which were ploughed in during the past year to ameliorate the soil conditions. The following particulars as to the area and description of the State forests is taken from the second annual report of the Minister for Agriculture for 1932-33:—

"During the year ended March 31st 1933, ten new forest properties, containing in all 3,900 acres, were acquired. Of the new areas acquired, 2,179 acres were purchased in fee-simple, and 1,721 acres were leased. Two new forest units have been established—one at Delgany, County Wicklow, and the other at Loughrea, County Galway—in consequence of the additional acquisitions.

"The total area acquired up to the end of the period under review amounts to 54,408 acres, of which 39,245 acres were purchased, 11,103 acres were leased; 3,814 acres were transferred, free of cost, from the Department of Defence, and 336 acres were acquired compulsorily under the powers vested in the Minister for Agriculture under the Forestry Act, 1923. This total area is for convenience of administration, grouped into 44 forest units. Negotiations, in various stages, were proceeding on the date mentioned for the acquisition of over 15,000 acres.

"Of the total area of 5,498 acres acquired, only 52,604 acres are actually in hand, the remaining 1,894 acres being leased land, which will come into the Department's possession at intervals during the next ten years. It is estimated that of the area in hand only 14,048 acres or 83 per cent. is productive. Of the productive area, 8,753 acres, or 19 per cent., was cleared woodland, and 2,904 acres, or 64 per cent., was covered with scrub, which had to be cleared preparatory to planting. The remaining 24,202 acres, or 55 per cent., was bare land immediately available for afforestation.

District Justice Troy, at Clonmel, bound to the peace two farmers' sons named Halloran and Sullivan, who were charged with felling a tree on the Barne road in August on the occasion of a cattle seizure. An undertaking was given that the defendants would not offend again.

ARDMORE DISTRICT COURT.

Before Mr. J. P. Farrell, D.J.

The Waterford County Board of Health, charging John Connery, Pilotown, with using an unlicensed dance hall.

Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, prosecuting, said they had re-issued the summons in that case, which had been dismissed without prejudice at a previous Court. Now he understood the defendant was in hospital.

Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, said he was in a peculiar position. He had appeared for the defendant on the previous hearing of the case. Owing to his illness, his client couldn't instruct him, and he attended only in deference to the Court.

The Justice—Mr. O'Gorman, can you act on that summons?

Mr. O'Gorman said the case might be adjourned sine die. On the last day Mr. Hodnett had objected to the summons, arguing that it didn't cover the case. He had since procured the order empowering his clients to prosecute.

Mr. Hodnett—I am not appearing at all.

The Justice—I won't act on this service.

Mr. O'Gorman—I hand in the Order made by the Minister giving power to all Boards of Health throughout the Saorstát to adopt the Act in question as Urban Areas, so that they have full authority to proceed.

The Justice—That will keep for another day. I think I ought to D.V.P. the summons on the service.

Mr. O'Gorman said the summons was served at the last known place of abode. He would agree to an adjournment sine die. He would place the facts before the Board of Health and he believed the case would be withdrawn.

The Justice said he would adjourn the case for that purpose. Obviously when the man was unable to instruct his solicitor, he didn't see what more could be done about it.

The case was accordingly adjourned.

Guard O'Neill, Ring, charged Mathew Barry, Gates, Ballymacart, with the non-attendance of his child, Margaret, at school.

Complainant stated that the child was absent 34 days out of 61, and continually absent for the past month, no reason being given.

Replying to the Court, the child's mother said the child had got a terrible beating on the head on shoulders and was unable to go to school. The teacher was summoned for next Court.

The Justice said he thought it would be better in the circumstances to adjourn the case.

Superintendent Walsh, Dungarvan, suggested that it might be a bad policy to adjourn the case.

The Justice—Do you mean you are bringing a charge against the teacher for the next Court?

Mrs. Barry—Yes, sir.

The Clerk—The summons is issued, I understand.

The Justice—Is it about this child, Margaret?

Mrs. Barry—Yes. I have a doctor's certificate.

The Justice said the certificate covered from 5th to 10th of October. It didn't say what was wrong, but that she would be unable to attend for a fortnight. When did she get the beating?

Mrs. Barry—In September—on the 10th.

The Justice—How was she attending before that?

The Complainant—Badly.

The Justice—What are you going to do with the child till next Court?

Mrs. Barry said when she sent her child to school she wasn't taught. The teacher said they should get a governess.

The Justice said if he found that the child had reason for staying away, he would not fine the defendant. Otherwise it would be a serious matter for him if the child didn't go to some school. He was taking Mrs. Barry's word for the time being till he had heard the other side. In the meantime the parents would have to make up their minds whether they would send the child to school or not.

The case was then adjourned to next Court.

The same defendant was charged by Guard O'Neill, with having an unlicensed dog.

Mrs. Barry said the dog strayed into them. They kept it and had taken out a license since.

He was let off.

Sergt. Fitzgerald, Ring, charged John Moore, farmer, with a like offence.

Defendant said he was only a pup 3 months old. He thought he had time till February.

The Justice said that law was 10 months in force, and it was high time people should know that a pup one month old should be licensed.

The same complainant, charged John Dee, farmer, with a like offence.

Defendant said it was a 5 months' old pup.

The Justice—Let the defendant be sworn.

Defendant—Well, I'm not sure. He might be more than 5 months'. By jingo, I'm not sure (laughter).

John Curran, charged with a similar offence, said he didn't know exactly how old the pup was. He could not keep anything in his head (laughter).

The Justice said he had often endeavoured to find excuses for those offences, especially for poor people, but it was obvious that the men be-

Tallow Accident.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE AT WATERFORD.

CHILD'S DEATH.

Before Judge Sealy and a jury in the Circuit Court, Waterford, Michael J. Lee, Youghal, was charged with the manslaughter on September 7th, of Christopher Grey, Tallow Bridge, Co. Waterford, aged 5 years and 3 months.

The charge was a sequel to a fatal motor accident near Tallow Bridge.

Mr. Connolly (instructed by Mr. Ryan, State Solicitor) prosecuted; Mr. Budd (instructed by Mr. Keane, Youghal) for the defence. Mr. Connolly explained that the accused was driving a 30-cwt lorry from the direction of Tallow Bridge to Tallow, and the accident occurred on a stretch of 480 yards with a clear view for that distance and the road was over 30 feet wide. It occurred at 5 p.m., in broad daylight. Mrs. Grey and her children were walking in the direction of Tallow Bridge to Tallow. Mrs. Grey was pushing a pram in which there was a baby and was accompanied by her little children, Nancy and Christopher. There was nothing on the road for a reasonable distance to obstruct his view, if he were acting reasonably in the driving of his car. The child was in and out of the footpath with a little hoop he was rolling, and at one stage he got across to the other side—the right hand side of the road—where he rolled the hoop near the grass margin. A motor van came from the Tallow direction and the mother told the child to stay where he was until the van passed. When it had gone by the child took up the hoop and began to run across the road slant-wise towards his mother. The vehicle driven by the accused came along and struck and knocked down the child, the body being hurled under the vehicle for a distance of twenty feet.

Sergt. O'Neill, Dungarvan, said he was at home on a visit to Tallow and was walking with his wife between Tallow Bridge and Tallow on September 7th when the vehicle passed. It was a laundry motor van and was doing about 25 m.p.h. There was no other vehicle of any kind on the road in front of him. "I then heard a crash and a shout, and I saw a body being hurled about underneath the van, and after travelling about 20 feet the body fell on the roadway behind it." He heard no horn after the van passed him. The body lay more to the left side of the road, facing Tallow and it had a bicycle wheel grasped under its arm. The boy appeared to be dead, but was bleeding freely from the mouth and nose and one of the eyes was hanging out. The van travelled some distance after the body of the child had been dropped.

Witness, continuing said he tested the defendant's car an hour after the accident on the same road. He instructed him to drive the car at 20 or 25 m.p.h. and pull up. When the test was in progress the road was slightly wet, but the accused said the test was quite fair and the wet on the road did not make any difference.

After a short retirement the jury returned a verdict of not guilty, and the accused was discharged.

Proposed Dungarvan Industries.

INDUSTRIAL ASSOCIATION FORMED.

WAYS AND MEANS DISCUSSED.

A public meeting was held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Thursday, 8th inst., to discuss ways and means in regard to the establishment of a suitable industry or factory in the town, which would give much local employment now so badly needed.

Amongst those present were:—Rev. T. Walsh, C.C., Messrs. S. Goulding, T.D.; N. Wall, T.D.; P. J. Moloney, M.I. Morrissey, Chairman, U.D.C.; W. O'Meara, Town Clerk; B. Mulcahy, M.I. Clancy, Main street; Dr. M. Casey, J. Christopher (Jnr.); S. J. Moynihan, Commissioner; J. J. Crotty, M.I. Moloney, M.I. O'Meara, Rate Collector; Mr. O'Neill, Manager M. & L. Bank; Mr. Ashe, Mgr., Bank of Ireland; Mr. Dennehy, M. & L. Bank; P. J. Hallahan, Square; P. Foley, do.; P. Casey, Main street; M. J. Cogan, Mary street; John Flynn, do.; J. F. Foley, U.D.C.; J. Mansfield; U.D.C.; T. McCarthy, U.D.C.; S. Hayes, U.D.C.; Miss M. Broderick, Miss L. McCarthy, Messrs. J. Cahill, P. J. Craddock, P. Ormonde, Jas. Barron, John Hill, H. Foley, D. Barron, T. Walsh, J. A. Cartwright; P. Renahan, Thos. Barry, etc., etc.

Mr. M.I. Morrissey, Chairman, U.D.C., presided and said that the Urban Council were responsible for convening that meeting as he thought it was its duty to do so. Their object was to form a Committee of business people—moneyed people—of Dungarvan, to start a factory or an industry for the benefit of the town. He was sure that the people would not be backward in this respect and would not be behind when factories were being started in every town around, in Carrick, Clonmel, Portlaw.

There was no need to stress the importance of getting a factory for Dungarvan. It wasn't to-day it should be thought of, it should have been discussed two years ago. It should be the business of every person irrespective of politics in town to see that some enterprise was started that would benefit the town.

The Chairman then read a communication from Mr. P. J. Little, T.D., Parliamentary Secretary to the President. The letter stated that it was very important to the citizens of Dungarvan that they should move in this matter of starting an industry in Dungarvan. The starting of an industry in Dungarvan depended upon their initiative and on their courage to back this work by putting up, at least, a portion of the capital required.

If at that meeting that day, they were prepared to put up a fair offer, the Government could be approached and necessary information as to starting an industry could be ascertained. Further assistance could be sought by way of tariff and further capital, if necessary, could be got from the Industrial Credit Corporation.

He (Mr. Little) always regarded the Dungarvan people as energetic and he was sure that they would not be open to the charge of leaving large sums dormant (rusty money someone had called it) which might be used to the great advantage of its owners and the nation by investing in local enterprise.

Mr. Little regretted at not been able to attend the meeting. A letter of apology at not been able to attend owing to the Circuit Court, was also read from Mr. E. A. Ryan, solicitor. He added that he supported the idea of getting a factory for the town.

The Chairman then suggested electing a chairman for the meeting. After some names had been put forward for the chairmanship, it was finally agreed that a committee be elected forthwith and then elect a chairman.

Chairman—Before electing a committee, I'm sure the meeting would like to hear the views of our T.D.'s. Mr. Goulding, T.D., said by having a discussion now it would clear the air. Speaking from the T.D.'s end of the business he would tell them what the T.D.'s could do, and what was done in Portlaw.

Due to the initiative of Mr. Wall and himself, they had approached the Department of Industry and Commerce and put up the case of Portlaw. Now in Portlaw there was a factory before and it was in the position of having very commodious and extensive buildings. Mr. Wall had got these buildings examined. Mr. Wall and himself then went to the Department and put up to the Department the position and suitable locality of Portlaw. In Portlaw there had been operated a factory that gave employment to 2,000 men. They recommended Portlaw to the Department of Industry and Commerce with the result that a Tannery factory was now about to be started there. That was as far as the T.D.'s could go. If they could put a case in Dungarvan; if they could get a site and if the people of Dungarvan were prepared to put up a certain amount of capital, they would do every thing they could for the people of Dungarvan. The Government wanted initiative of the people; the will to work and help. They would help those who wished to help themselves. The Government was very willing to help them, but much depended on the people themselves. In Dungarvan they had plenty of men of initiative. There was the late Mr. Thomas Power, who had the brewery, Mr. Moloney and plenty of other people. The Department had a list of possible industries. These could be inspected by members of the committee. The establishment of a factory in Dungarvan, however, depended to a great extent on the people of Dungarvan and especially on the initiative of the people to start an industry. Mr. Wall and himself would give any assistance and support that was needed and would be happy to do so (applause).

Mr. Wall, T.D., said that Mr. Goulding had explained very well what the T.D.'s could do for the people. It was for the people to see what industry would be most suited for the town. The case of Portlaw had been cited by Mr. Goulding. Portlaw was in the exceptional position that they had a cotton factory there long ago. When the cotton industry failed, there was no employment left and those who had the means emigrated to America, and those who had not the means had to remain at home. There was no local employment there. In fact, it was a dead town. No Government, however, could reasonably refuse to help a town like that. In Dungarvan, he believed it would not be difficult to start a factory. There was any amount of people he thought, could put up the money. However, there was one aspect of this matter which he would like to point out. It was the purchasing power of the people. It was no use setting up an industry if there was not the purchasing power in the country or if the people were not able to purchase the goods.

Mr. Wall then went on to refer to the Agricultural Industry, and said that the first duty of the Government was to restore it to prosperity in order to start the purchasing power. It was futile setting up an industry if there was no purchasing power.

After they had made their efforts to start a factory, by using their initiative and by cutting out politics, which were unfortunately the bone of their existence, he and Mr. Goulding would give them every help. It was up to the people to put the ball rolling (applause).

Chairman—We have heard the views of our T.D.'s, we would like to hear the views of the business men. Mr. P. Casey, said that some time ago Mr. Briscoe and another man, on the advice of Mr. Goulding, had come to Dungarvan looking for a site. They went away, however, without getting one. If this meeting had been held then they might have had a factory now. He (Mr. Casey) was only stressing the necessity for this committee.

Dr. Casey, suggested establishing a Chamber of Commerce, not alone for establishing an industry, but to look after the resources offered in the town by way of making the town attractive as a seaside resort.

The Chairman thought this would be too big a project at the present time. They were here to consider an industry for the town and he thought that they should keep to it for the present at any rate and try and make a success of it.

Mr. P. J. Moloney—Have the promoters any views to put before the meeting? Chairman—The promoters are the Urban Council. They have no views whatsoever. It all rests with the committee to be formed.

Mr. James Patterson, suggested that the election of the committee be gone on with. The Chairman agreed.

Continuing, the chairman said that in Carrick they had raised £3,000 alone for the factory there. He was sure that they in Dungarvan would be able to raise this amount and much more. This, however, was a matter for the committee to deal with.

The committee elected consisted of: Rev. T. Walsh, C.C., Dungarvan; Mr. Commissioner Moynihan, Messrs. P. J. Moloney, B. Mulcahy, Main street; M.I. Clancy, Main street; Dr. Casey, M.O.H. Main street; M.I. Moloney, Square; J. J. Crotty, Square and Mr. Morrissey, Chairman U.D.C.

Mr. Goulding suggested that the committee co-opt any men that they would think suitable afterwards. This was agreed to.

Chairman—I am very pleased that we have such a good committee. I believe that it is a good committee, and I have great hopes that it will do its best to get some industry. Before ending, I would like to thank Father Walsh, C.C., our T.D.'s, and all those that attended the meeting. I hope we have made a good start in getting an industry for Dungarvan and bringing prosperity to the town.

This concluded the proceedings of the public meeting and the committee then adjourned to the Urban Council Chambers and held its first meeting.

Rev. Fr. Walsh, was unanimously elected chairman.

For the Vice-Chairmanship Mr. P. J. Moloney, on the proposition of Mr. M.I. Clancy, seconded by Mr. J. J. Crotty, was elected unanimously.

Mr. M.I. O'Meara, was elected Hon. Sec.

Rev. Fr. Walsh, said that he felt this a great honour to be elected chairman of this committee. They had here in Dungarvan men of sufficient enterprise to help in the starting of an industry for the town and so help in the building up of an industry for the town and so help in the building up of the nation. He thought that if they all got together, as they were here now, they would be able to do something. There were a number of practical industries that could be started in this county and this committee with the help of the T.D.'s should be able to formulate some plans to get one. Dungarvan was ideally situated. It was a good market town and they had the advantages of sea, rail and road. It was a very good centre. In other parts of Ireland they were being shown an example of what was being done and please God, they, with the good-will and co-operation of the people of Dungarvan, irrespective of politics, creed or class, would be able to do something for the prosperity of the town.

Mr. Goulding said that the young men and girls should be trained quickly for the work required in industries and factories. It was a pity that they had to get men from other countries for some of their factories. In Portlaw, they had to get an Englishman.

Mr. Wall, referred to the Rev. Chairman's remark about the ideal situation of Dungarvan. Dungarvan was not approachable by road. People couldn't come to Dungarvan on the road because they were almost impassable. There should be a certain margin left for horse traffic. From Kilrossanty side people could not come to Dungarvan.

Commissioner Moynihan said he would tell the Co. Surveyor of this matter.

Dr. Casey, read a communication from Trufood Products Ltd., England, relative to the starting of a factory in Dungarvan in which it was stated that the establishment of such a product would not alone entail a great amount of capital, but would be such that the income from sales should be very high from the outset. On this account, the letter concluded, the firm regretted very much that such a project could not be entertained.

Continuing, Dr. Casey, said that a project of this kind would be very profitable. He pointed out that £100,000 was spent in this country on imported dried food products and the cost of the raw food in each tin was only about 4d.

Mr. Goulding said that the Department were rather reluctant on putting a tariff on this commodity, as they were of the opinion that the people who used this brand of food were so accustomed to it that they would look on any other brands as being inferior or unsatisfactory. Mr. Maher, Manager Co-Operative Creamery, was endeavouring however, to get such a food on the home market and was making representation to the Department to put a tariff on the imported foods. As they saw, there were some enterprises in the town in the process of development.

Commissioner Moynihan, said he wouldn't be in favour of having one large industry. He would rather see several small ones. Large industries created slum conditions in a place. In Dungarvan he saw the nucleus of small industries that could be developed. He saw tweeds made in Dungarvan that were as good as any in Dungarvan. There was some fine cheese made here, as good as one could eat in Ireland and it was even heard of outside the town market. They should get on with the local nucleus. They should have the will to work and the confidence in themselves to do it. If the people were as it were—Sinn Feiners—enough and get on with the development of their local trade, they would have success.

The Vocational Committee should train the young boys and girls of the town in those trades that are required in the Industrial nucleus that could be developed in the town.

Mr. Goulding said that as far as the tweed industry was concerned, it would be rather impractical to have such an industry in the town. The difficulty was in getting cheaper clothing.

Mr. Mulcahy, agreed.

Dr. Casey, also referred to some iron deposits about 4 miles outside the town. If this place could be developed it might mean a big thing.

Mr. Goulding said that Department Engineers had surveyed the County for its mineral wealth and they found that there were scarcely any in the county.

References were made to the Bonmahon Copper Mines and the Slate Quarries at Clashmore. Mr. Goulding referring to the latter said it was probable that these quarries would have to close shortly as in the mining operation a bar had been struck cutting off the slate deposits. This was very unfortunate, as the slate found there was the best in Ireland.

Chairman—We must do something that will grow; an industry that will appeal to the people and get as many shareholders as possible. It must be a Universal store, as it were, a thing that will appeal to everybody. I want to mention also, the interest that labour will have in it. The labourers in Dungarvan have as big an interest as anyone and we should have the full support and approval of labour.

The development of the Cider Factory and a revival of the old Fishing Industry of the town were also mentioned.

Eventually the committee decided that Messrs. S. Goulding, T.D., and N. Wall, T.D., approach the Minister for Industry and Commerce and get all particulars and information regarding a suitable industry for the town, and also to ascertain the possibility of developing any of the present local enterprises.

Mention was also made of the Talloo iron deposits and the development of Dungarvan Harbour. Mr. Moloney pointing out that Dungarvan possessed a splendid natural harbour that could be developed.

It was also decided that the committee be known as the Dungarvan Industrial Development Association, and that a nominal fee of 5/- be charged for membership.

CO. WATERFORD VOCATIONAL EDUCATION COMMITTEE.

Summary of the Inspector's Report upon the working of the Scheme of Technical Instruction in operation in the County of Waterford, during the academic year 1933-34.

The organisation of the Scheme for the session 1933-34 was on sound lines and the Day Vocational classes in the permanent centres were placed on a firm basis.

DUNGARVAN TECHNICAL SCHOOL.

Four day classes, viz.—Junior Technical, Junior Domestic Economy, Junior Commercial and Specialised Commercial were organised, with an enrolment of twenty, twelve, eighteen and thirteen students respectively. The courses were well balanced in every case and ample provision was made for suitable practical work. The Domestic Economy class was highly efficient. The Instructress took a keen interest in her work and the girls received a very useful training. The teaching of Commercial subjects was very satisfactory and in the specialised course, was so designed as to ensure that the students would be well fitted for posts in Commercial life at the end of the session. The Junior Technical course was arranged for those desirous of entering trades. The teaching of Woodwork and General Subjects was on the right lines.

Evening classes in Irish, Domestic Economy, Woodwork, Engineering and Business Training were held for those engaged in occupations during the day. The total enrolment was approximately one hundred and twenty and a satisfactory average attendance was maintained. The instruction, with the exception of that in Engineering subjects, was satisfactory and the students profited considerably by their session's work.

CLASHMORE: This centre was very successful and sixteen boys and twelve girls were enrolled in the day class. Owing to the shortage of staff it was not possible to make adequate provision for training in Domestic Economy for the girls, but the limited instruction provided in this subject reached a high standard of proficiency. Rural Science and Woodwork were the major subjects of the course for the boys who received a very sound training in these subjects. The teaching of the general subjects was satisfactory. The evening classes in Rural Science and Woodwork were well attended and good progress was made.

DAY CLASSES OF DOMESTIC ECONOMY: Day Classes of Domestic Economy were held in Portlaw, Ballymacarbery and Tallow, with an enrolment of thirteen, fifteen and twenty students respectively. The classes at Portlaw and Ballymacarbery were discontinued after Christmas, but the girls derived much benefit from the sound training they received. The accommodation provided at Ballymacarbery was unsuitable and this was a serious handicap to progressive work. The Tallow centre was the most successful of the three and was held from the beginning to the end of the session. The instruction in the various branches of Domestic Economy was quite sound and the students derived considerable profit from their training.

ITINERANT CLASSES: Domestic Economy courses were organised in eight centres and attracted a total enrolment of over one hundred and seventy students. The instruction reached a very high standard which should be reflected in improved housekeeping in the localities concerned.

IRISH CLASSES: About three hundred students attended the Irish classes which were held in sixteen centres. The teachers worked diligently and did good work for the promotion of the National Language.

The accommodation at Dungarvan is cramped and does not permit of desirable expansion. This defect will soon be remedied when the New School is erected. The difficulties experienced in securing a site in Kilmacthomas still continue to hold up the building of a school in this centre if these difficulties cannot be surmounted in the near future. The Cappoquin School is a commodious and attractive building and it should now be possible to cater fully for the needs of important rural centre.

The success of the session just concluded was in no small measure due to the untiring efforts of the Committee who deserve to be congratulated on their keen interest in the welfare of the Scheme.

The Chief Executive Officer discharged his duties efficiently and the work made steady progress under his guidance.

SOLILOQUY.

(By Thomas Murphy, Dungarvan)

When all alone in silence we oft times think of days Long past but not forgotten, our mind in fancy strays; We pause and think of happy hours in youth's bright hopeful times, Of friends departed, other gone to far off foreign climes.

A visionary glance we take while pondering o'er the past, When pictures spring up in our minds as though one some screen cast. To clasp again a friendly hand, a sweetheart to embrace.

Such memories flood our consciousness dispelling all the gloom, And as for things of present time they simply have no room. Old scenes more dear than life itself before our vision float, Like music from a bygone age they strike a vibrant note.

Sweet memory brings such visions clear to make our souls feel glad, And dreams of childhood's happy days when hearts were never sad. We visit haunts of long ago, 'mongst woodlands green we roam, Through country lanes and winding paths, perhaps a straw-thatched home.

Those days like shadows in our lives are gone forever more, The hands of time have changed for aye the scenes much loved before. Our parts in this queer play of life we never can renew, Each actor struts a little time and then is lost to view.

One thing alone we all can keep, our tender memories dear, Of friends and scenes beyond recall as if though once more here. How good it is to know indeed they can be called to mind— Perhaps when passed beyond the grave these friends we'll once more find.

BUILD MORE HOUSES.

Replying to the Fianna Fail Ard Fheis on Wednesday to resolutions relating to the grievances of town tenants, the Minister for Justice said that the only definite solution regarding anomalies and hardships was that there must be more building. If it were to go abroad to people building houses and letting at rents which the tenants were formerly prepared to pay that a Government was to come along and fix another rent later, there would be an end of building so far as private builders were concerned.

The Bullock raffled by R. Clancy, Sheskin, was won by Mick Grady, Rathgormack, Carrick-on-Suir.

MARRIAGE

JOYE and EGAN—November, 3rd at Augustinian Church, John's Lane, Dublin, (with Nuptial Mass) by the Rev. J. Condon, O.S.A., Laurence, youngest son of Laurence and the late Mrs. Joye, Coolacussane, Dundrum, Co. Tipperary, to Anne, eldest daughter of Patrick and Mrs. Egan, Egan's Hotel, Dungarvan.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Mrs. Troy, Garranbane, and the members of her family, beg to return sincere thanks to those who sent telegrams, letters, and votes of sympathy on the occasion of their recent bereavement, and trust that this acknowledgment will be accepted by all.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

ABBEYSIDE PAROCHIAL IMPROVEMENTS. SUNDAY'S CELEBRATIONS.

Within the past few months very extensive improvements and alterations have been carried out at the Abbeyside Church, and obstacles which appeared almost unsurmountable, were overcome in the matter of the provision of funds to carry out all that was required. But co-operation won and backed by an energetic Committee, Very Rev. N. Dunphy, P.P., and Rev. M. Power, C.C., were able to carry out a steady practical programme which leaves the Church to-day one of the most up-to-date in the Diocese, and one of which the parishioners are so justly proud.

On Sunday, the crown of success will be set to the work when His Lordship, the Bishop, Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, accompanied by Rt. Rev. Monsignor Byrne, P.P., V.F., Ballybricken and Rev. Canon Kelleher, D.D., President St. John's College, will visit the Parish and preside at the solemn High Mass at 11 a.m. after which the new marble altar rails and the steps leading to the High Altar will be blessed. This will be followed by a special sermon by Archdeacon Byrne, P.P., who is a great friend of Abbeyside and its people. The worthy Pastor (Very Rev. N. Dunphy, P.P.) and Fr. Power, C.C., request that all take their places in the Church as early as possible.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS, COLLEGE, LISMORE.

In our advertising columns to-day will be found particulars of the great results achieved by these high-class schools at the recent examinations. Both in the Civil Service; Pupil Teachers; Leaving and Intermediate Certificate grades, they have acquitted themselves with the same distinction as has characterised these schools in the years gone by. With a big curriculum, the Brothers and their pupils have achieved great results, which go to prove the steady keen teaching of the Professors and the application of the boys. With competition getting keener every day, it is a pleasure to see such a famous Institution as the Collegiate School, Lismore, doing such excellent work for the children of the town and the whole surrounding areas. The good Brothers certainly deserve well of the people and we know the high place they hold in the public regard and esteem. We wish them further laurels as the years roll by.

DROMORE BEAGLES.

The meet of the above was at Shanakill on Sunday last. It was an ideal hunting day, good scent and plenty of hares. There was a very large attendance of ladies and gentlemen from the surrounding districts. The Point-to-Point course at Shanakill was first visited, where hounds soon had a hare in front, which took them back towards Mr. Beston's house. Swinging them across the Brad and up towards Mr. Fenton's and back again to the race course, where he eluded his pursuers for a short time. They soon picked up again when he changed his course, and took them over a nice line of country on towards Tinniscart and back again to the race course, where after an exciting run of nearly two hours, they killed him quite close to the road.

A splendid view of the hunt could be seen from the top of the hill where many of the followers remained, and who must have enjoyed a most exciting afternoon's sport. Next meet will be at Dromore, on Sunday next, when another good day's sport is in store for the followers of this game little pack.

IRISH CATHOLIC GIRL GUIDES.

During the week the Rev. Father Power, C.C., Abbeyside, Chaplain, officiated at the Investiture of St. Una's, Abbeyside Troop of Irish Catholic Girl Guides, and to mark the occasion a very pleasant entertainment was held at the "Den."

The Rev. Chaplain, presided and there was a full attendance of the Troop Committee. The Den was beautifully decorated by the energetic Captain—Miss M. Morrissey, Assistant Capt. Miss Anderson and P.F., B. Coffey and E. Daly.

After having partaken of a lovely tea, the Guides entertained their committee with songs and dances at the close of which the Rev. Chaplain thanked the Guides for the lovely entertainment and congratulated them on their Investiture, which he said was a step forward in the great and necessary movement of Catholic Action. The singing of Faith of Our Fathers by all present terminated a very pleasant evening.

REMEMBRANCE DAY. DUNGARVAN.

All members of the British Legion as well as relatives and friends of the fallen, attended 10 o'clock Mass at the Parish Church. After Mass the members of the Legion formed up under Sergeant-Major Pyne, late of Connaught Rangers, all wearing their decorations. The President of the Branch, Major E. P. Shine, M.B.E., addressed the men, and was accompanied by Lt. Comdr. J. Murphy, R.N., Chairman. He appealed to all present to help to foster that spirit of comradeship which is so necessary at the present time.

The Last Post and Reveille having been sounded by B.M. McHugh, Connaught Rangers, the parade dismissed. Special thanks is due to Miss Blanche Hardwicke, Master McCormack, and M. J. Duggan, for their wonderful Poppy sales. They have beaten all previous records.

DUNGARVAN AMATEUR DRAMATIC CLASS.

A meeting of the above will be held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Friday night November 16th at 9 o'clock, for the purpose of selecting the characters for a new play. Only those attending will be considered.

A DATE TO REMEMBER.

Wednesday November, 21st, when The Third Annual Fianna Fail Dance will be held at the Town Hall, Dungarvan. Everything is in apple pie order for this gala event, and with sparkling music by Billy McSwainery, No. 1 Band, and excellent catering, patrons are assured of a real night's enjoyment.

Messrs. P. J. Little, T.D., S. Goulding, T.D., and Senator Quirke, will attend the dance.

BILLS IN DAIL.

PROVISION FOR CITIZENS OF CONSTITUTIONAL REMEDY. MINISTER FOR JUSTICE DEFENDS THE GOVERNMENT'S POLICY.

Dail Eireann reassembled at 3 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon after the summer recess.

All approaches to Leinster House were strongly guarded by a large force of Civic Guards to prevent a proposed march of unemployed men from reaching the Dail, where they intended to demand an interview with the Minister for Industry and Commerce.

Shortly after the Dail met, the unemployed procession endeavoured to reach Leinster House, and tried to break through a cordon of police.

Several clashes took place between the police and the unemployed, near Kildare street.

The police, it was stated did not draw their batons.

Little public interest was otherwise shown in the meeting of the Dail, only a few spectators being present in Kildare street to watch the arrival of deputies.

The Land Bill, which was introduced in the Dail on Wednesday by the Opposition leaders, was rejected by 76 to 60.

It sought to delete the Section of the 1933 Act enabling the County Registrar to act on warrants issued by the Land Commission for land annuities. Mr. Dillon said that the object of the Bill was to provide for the citizens of the State a constitutional and legal remedy whereby they could ventilate their grievances.

"Bearing in mind that at the present time President de Valera is waging war most vigorously with the whole resources of the State to vindicate before the eyes of the world the right to go into an impartial tribunal to decide whether the State is liable to pay certain monies claimed against it, it is strange that his Government denies exactly the same right to his own fellow countrymen."

The Minister for Justice said the introduction of the Bill was an abuse of the Parliamentary machine. They would deal with the campaign against the payment of annuities.

Big Fire in Dungarvan.

CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY CORN STORES DESTROYED.

The large four-storied Corn Stores, the property of the Dungarvan Co-operative Creamery, recently purchased from the Shandon Dairy Co., in which thousands of tons of corn and cheese was stored, was completely gutted early this morning. The alarm was raised by Mr. M. D. Walsh, Commercial Hotel adjoining, but the fire at this time had got such a hold that it was utterly impossible to save the building.

Four young men who were working a hose from an adjoining roof had a very narrow escape, when portion of the roof collapsed.

XMAS.

Christmas is coming. There is no need to tell postman this simple fact. They know! Daily their work gets heavier with mails for faraway parts of the world. An official at a sub-office, not a hundred miles away, had an amusing encounter with a typical "dear old lady" one morning this week. She handed him a bulky parcel—"a present for my son," she confided—and requested him to see that it was delivered at about 11 a.m. on Christmas morning. The address was somewhere in New Zealand.

NO. 202—

OBLIGATIONS OF DOG OWNERS ADDRESSES ON COLLARS.

By "PHILOKOUON."

HOW many people are aware that every dog must bear the name and address of its owner on its collar? Judging from the number of letters that reach the Tail Waggers Club at 47, Temple Chambers, Temple Avenue, E.C.4, one imagines that ignorance upon this important matter is widespread. Yet ignorance is no excuse if one comes in contact with the law, and I have been asked to remind readers of their obligations. Under the Control of Dogs Order 1930, provision was made that all dogs in public places must "wear a collar with the name and address of the owner inscribed on the collar or a plate or badge attached thereto." The requirement does not apply to packs of hounds, dogs that are being used for sporting purposes or killing vermin, or cattle or sheepdogs.

Immediately this order came into force the Tail-Waggers' Club took steps necessary to enable members to conform to its provisions, and in exchange for the life subscription of half-a-crown the owner of a member receives a medallion suitably inscribed. If the tally is lost it can be renewed for a trifling sum. With a view to the prevention of cattle worrying the order also empowers local authorities to institute a curfew for all or any class of dogs, whereby they shall be kept under control between the hours of sunset and sunrise.

A motorist who was responsible for killing a dog was surprised to learn the other day that it was his duty to report the occurrence to a police constable or police station as soon as was reasonably possible and at the latest within twenty-four hours. Nor did he realise that the person in charge of the animal had the right to demand his name and address. Then there is the question of dangerous dogs. A dog that chases sheep, worries cattle or kills poultry is legally "dangerous," and may be dealt with accordingly, even to the extent of being condemned to death by magistrates. At the best, his owner may be ordered to keep him under proper control.

The number of dogs killed on the roads every week is considerable, and is likely to increase as traffic grows. Many of the accidents are unavoidable, the dogs themselves being responsible, but this is not invariably the case, and motorists may be reminded if they are in any way contributory by their negligence they may have to pay damages according to the value of the animal. A short time ago a County Court judge awarded £50 damages and costs to the owner of a valuable Sealyham.

Old misconceptions die hard. One still hears that it is an offence to steal a collar but not a dog. The law does its best to make difficult the ways of dog stealers. Imprisonment up to six months may be imposed upon any one who steals a dog for the first time, and laterly it has been made an offence for any person to offer to recover a stolen dog on payment of a specified sum. At one time it was a common thing for tribute to be levied in this way on the understanding that no questions should be asked.

This chat is issued by THE TAIL WAGGERS' CLUB OF IRELAND, 23, Old Abbey Street (off Marlborough Street), Dublin, G.8. The Club will be pleased to answer any enquiries submitted by Tail-Wagger Owners in connection with canine hygiene and welfare.

The Holy Year Jubilee.

IMPRESSIVE DISPLAY BY THE PARISHIONERS OF LISMORE.

A wonderful display of Catholic piety and truly religious fervour was witnessed in Cappoquin on Sunday, when over 1,200 of the parishioners of Lismore visited the former town for the purpose of making two visits to St. Mary's Catholic Church in connection with the Jubilee ceremonies proclaimed by His Holiness, the Pope, during the Holy Year.

Two visits to a Church in an outside parish being necessary for the purpose of completing the requirements of the Jubilee, the Very Rev. W. T. Canon Burke, V.F., P.P., Lismore; Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., do.; Rev. T. A. Murphy, C.C., do.; and Rev. R. Fower, C.C., do., arranged for a special train to convey the parishioners to Cappoquin and back, and the splendid manner in which the people of Lismore town and parish cooperated with their reverend clergy in making the event and epoch-making one, was fully worthy of the proud traditions of the town of St. Carthage, and fully in keeping with the great spirit of Catholic devotion which has always been the cherished heritage of the people of the beautiful town of Lismore.

Having made the first visit to St. Carthage's Catholic Cathedral, Lismore, on Sunday, the entire party then left Lismore by a long special train, drawn by two engines, and on arrival in Cappoquin the party was met at the station by a large gathering of the population of Cappoquin, who watched the entire proceedings with the greatest reverential interest and respect.

The party was divided into two sections, viz., The Mens' Confraternity of the Sacred Heart, accompanied by a large party of Catholic Boy Scouts and boys from the Christian Brothers Schools, while the second section comprised the Womens' Confraternity of the Sacred Heart, members of the Catholic Girl Guides and children from the Presentation Convent Schools, etc.

Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., Lismore, Spiritual Director, was in charge of the Mens' Section, while the Rev. T. A. Murphy, C.C., Spiritual Director, took charge of the Womens' Section; the Christian Brothers boys, numbering 150, being in charge of the Rev. Brother Mullan, Superior and the Rev. Brothers Murphy, Treacy and O'Mahony, and the Convent School girls in charge of three lay teachers, the Misses Cullen, Creedon and Wright.

The Boy Scouts were in charge of Scoutmaster H. Russell, and the Girl Guides were led by Captain Gough, while the following Marshals were in complete charge of all the arrangements:—

Messrs. O. W. Madden, M. McCarthy, M. Corbett, D. Mason, James Ross, James Ryan, J. Kavanagh, P. Sullivan, J. Sullivan, E. A. Murphy, D. L. Noonan, T. Conlon, J. Morrissey, Wm. Lyons, G. Murray, etc.

The Mens' Section was the first to alight from the train at Cappoquin, and having formed into processional order outside the station, they marched four-deep to St. Mary's Catholic Church, being headed by a beautiful Papal Banner and Cross-bearer the entire party singing "Faith Of Our Fathers," and several other religious hymns through Cook street, and Mill street on their way to the Church.

This section then filed into the Church, where the special prayers for the occasion were recited by the Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., after which all marched through the town, via the Main street and Castle street, the Womens' Section in the meantime, following the original route from the station and also visiting the Church where the prayers were again recited by the Rev. Father O'Gorman.

The women then followed the same route through the town as the men, and the latter then paid their second visit to the Church, being followed by the women in due course, after which all marched around the town again in the same processional order and back to the Railway Station, where all entrained for Lismore. On arrival in the home town, the entire party marched to St. Carthage's Cathedral for their final Jubilee visit where Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given by the Rev. T. A. Murphy, C.C., which concluded one of the grandest religious ceremonies ever carried out by the faithful parishioners of Lismore.

Owing to the state of his health, the Very Rev. Canon Burke, V.F., P.P., was unable to accompany the party by train from Lismore, but he specially travelled over by motor car and took up a position outside the Catholic Church in Cappoquin from which he was able to observe with pardonable pride the impressive and highly creditable display made by his faithful flock in Lismore.

It must be said that as the two processions slowly wended their way through Cappoquin, they created a great impression on the people of all creeds and classes in that town, as the streets were lined with people, and all were struck with admiration of the perfect order and regularity with which everything was carried out.

The weather was gloriously fine and bright, and the brilliant colours of the Papal Banner, and the smart and picturesque uniforms of the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides lent additional impressiveness to the scene, while the chanting of the sacred hymns by both sections completed a scene of solemnity and Catholic fervour rarely witnessed in Cappoquin. The ranks were never broken from the time the party left the station until they returned to KILMACTHOMAS NEWS.

LICENSED TRADE.

Mr. P. J. Kelly, presided at the meeting of the committee of the Licensed Grocers and Vintners' Protection Association, at which the Secretary announced the result of the election of the forty provincial representatives on the National Council of the trade: Waterford City and County—Messrs. Martin Breen, Waterford and Edward Hill, Kilmacthomas.

The Chairman said this election of county representatives was a very important one, and he trusted the newly-elected members would during their period of office use their influence in their various districts towards forcing a realisation by their Deputies of the trade's grievances, both legislative and financial. Continuing, the Chairman said the annual meeting of the National Council would be held on Thursday, 2nd inst., when a very important agenda would be under consideration. He sincerely trusted that not one of the newly-elected provincial representatives would be absent from that meeting. Their trade was still a big unit in the national economy and yet it was only by activity and agitation on the part of those who represented it that they could ever hope to secure even a reasonable measure of justice or fair play.

A VISITOR—

During an incessant downpour on an afternoon within the week, a one-legged weather-beaten fiddler appeared on the streets of Kilmacthomas. His bow squeaked, and he played:—

"I'll take you home again Kathleen, Across the ocean far and wide, To where your heart has ever been When first you were my blushing bride."

The fiddle spoke it, clearer, louder than words, and in it was tragedy for listeners who feel. A penny was pitched into the player's hat; more followed. The tune changed. He played "Lay My Head Beneath A Rose." The situation called for it, and then to raise a laugh or raise his own spirits, he played "John Brown's Body Lies A-Mouldering In The Grave," which isn't half as gruesome as it sounds. There was no levity, however. A silence and a depression like a wet blanket settled down upon the Deme, broken only by the brool of the pattering raindrops. There was an air of sorrow somehow hard to shake off.

THE IVY—

Ivy retains its green hue all the year round, and apart from its utility in keeping old castles together and ornamenting the modern home, it serves a great purpose as a symbol—"Just like the Ivy I'll cling to you." What could be more sentimentally effective than such an assurance from Romeo to Juliet in the first flush of let us say, a Comeragh Valley courtship, or what could be more touching than the added avowal:—

As you grow older
I'll be constant and true,
And just like the ivy
I'll stick to you.

or words to that effect. No son or daughter of "bobbed-headed" Banda could not be otherwise than a champion of the ivy, because of its poetic and artistic appeal.

"NOT DEAD BUT SLEEPING."

A Bonmahon-born exile has kindly forwarded a paper from the Panama Zone. There is a very Irish way of telling one of the news stories in its columns, which are printed both in English and Spanish. It centres round a pretty young woman who was pronounced dead by the family doctor, and was accordingly registered such on his certificate. In the middle of the wake—though the word wake does not occur in the paragraph—when relatives and friends were weeping round her, when the candles were burning and the air was laden with the scent of flowers, the "deceased" suddenly came to. Then the report goes on deliciously to state that the lady nearly died of fright on waking up to find herself "dead!"

AN-OLD "DYE (I) DEA."

The idea of changing the exterior of a creature with the purpose of disguising its real identity, as revealed in a certain case concerning greyhounds recently, is by no means new. Years ago there used to be a musical song, a parody on "Comin' Thro' The Rye," and the following verse will explain itself:—

Sister Mary bought a canary from a butcher's boy;
That canary was Sister Mary's
Pride and only joy.

the train, and the excellent manner in which everything was carried out was a high tribute to the wonderful organising powers of the Rev. Father O'Gorman and the Rev. Father Murphy, as well as all the lay marshals in charge of the general arrangements.

Mr. D. Colbert, Stationmaster, Lismore, deserves much credit for the admirable manner in which he carried out all the arrangements for the entrainment of such a large party, while Mr. J. Kelleher, P.C., Stationmaster, Cappoquin, and his able staff, cannot be too highly praised for their brilliant work in de-training and entraining the party in such a smooth and expeditious manner, all the arrangements in Cappoquin being carried out without the slightest hitch from start to finish.

Strange to say, it could not whistle—Echo answers "Why?" Then they saw the sparrow's feathers Comin' thro' the dye.

(To be continued in another number).

NASTY WEATHER.

Despite the exceptionally severe rainy spell of weather experienced during the past three weeks, good progress has been made in the storing of potatoes, the quality and yield of which have exceeded all expectations, and the tubers have now for the most part been stored in prime condition. Recent ground frosts have made it imperative that the mangolds be raised without delay, and the work is now proceeding apace. The yield is stated to be very satisfactory, notwithstanding the check in growth caused by a month's drought in the early summer. Turnips which suffered considerably more during the same period, have also come up to expectations. There are indications of an early scarcity of grass, and in many Mid-Waterford districts foddering of cattle has already begun. Hay is plentiful and of good quality, and supplies are of such quantity as to be comfortably sufficient to cope with any extra demand that may become necessary. Due to the early approach of wintry conditions, the milk yield has fallen below the average for the season.

CASH FOR YOUR TURKEYS EARLY, "MRS. HOUSE"

The early marketing of turkeys this season is recommended by the Department of Agriculture, in a circular letter sent to Poultry Instructors and County Committees of Agriculture in An Saorstát. The proper method of preparing the birds for market is also stressed in that important official communication. It will be of the utmost advantage to sellers to dispose of their birds as early as possible, and not wait until the market becomes glutted later in the season, and "handled properly," they will prove more remunerative to the sellers. An old axiom had it that "the morning's price was best" at our local fairs. Many sellers of cattle who refused the morning offer were forced to sell their stock later in the day at lower prices, much to their chagrin. The same might apply to the sellers of turkeys this season, if they do not follow the advice of those best competent to judge. While on the subject we deem it right to warn all who have turkeys for sale not to be misled by specious advertisements offering "highest prices for turkeys" across-Channel. Care should be taken not to send birds to any person so advertising, without first obtaining satisfactory assurances as to the financial stability of the person so advertising. Many Irish people have been duped in this way already. There are no doubt many firms of high repute engaged in purchasing turkeys in England, but clever swindlers are to be met with in every country in the world.

GAELS SAY:

That Clashmore could do everything but score in their replay with Rathgormack at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan on last Sunday.
That the Four-Mile-Water minor camanachs gave Mount Sion "a smashing game of it" on the same sod on Sunday.
That Clashmore's "Richie" Tobin is the star veteran "big-ball" player of Gaeldom in this "Golden Jubilee" year. (Good luck to doughty Dick!)

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; R. Power, T. Beausang, W. O'Sullivan, E. P. Lynch, R. Savage, J. Forrest, J. N. R. MacNamara, solr., J. Daly, J. Whelan, M. Cashman, E. D. Condon, R. C. Farrell, Vice-Chairman; D. McCarthy, M. Ahern, Capt. C. Watson.

Fishery Question. Mr. Power, referred to a letter which appeared in the "Examiner," during the week from Mr. Brooke-Brazier.

The Chairman suggested that Mr. Power address a letter to the "Examiner" if he wished to reply to the letter. He didn't think it was a matter to be discussed at the Council, as it was rather a personal matter.

Mr. Power—He refers to certain members of the Council.

The Chairman—In that case it is up to the members referred to to reply to Mr. Brazier's letter if they wish. I would suggest that, as the Council have gone as far as they can for the present they should drop the question.

Mr. Power—Why not the certain members referred to stand up to reply to Mr. Brazier?

The Chairman said he was sure the "Examiner" would give them every opportunity to do so.

Mr. Power—I will do anything at all in reason, but when I find this gent going up and giving evidence before the Commission, while we are refused a hearing and then writing this letter to the Press, I think it very unfair to certain members.

The Chairman—I am not going to allow this discussion to develop further.

Mr. Power—I will wait till I get Mr. Brazier face to face.

The Chairman—There is no use having it on here night after night.

Mr. Power—I'd like to show that we are not going to take it lying down from him.

The matter then dropped.

Housing Question.

Messrs. Hodnett, solrs., wrote stating that as the time for appeal to High Court had expired and as no notice of such appeal had been received, they saw no objection to the admittance by the Council into the new houses of such of the occupiers on the houses mentioned in the Clearance Orders as were willing to go into the new houses.

As the Council was aware, Notices to quit had been served upon all the occupiers. If any of the occupiers should fail to comply with those notices, proceedings would have to be instituted against them in the local District Court, as provided by the Acts.

The Clerk said he had, on the Chairman's suggestion, notified the persons concerned. One replied that he couldn't pay the rent, as his income was only 8/- a week.

The Chairman thought it would be well if the members paid a final visit of inspection before the tenants got possession.

Mr. Forrest inquired would they have an official opening. Some of the tenants approached him and said they would like to have Canon Dineen bless the houses first.

On the proposition of Mr. Daly, seconded by Mr. Forrest, it was decided to invite the Canon to the opening ceremony.

League Of The Cross. The Hon. Sec., League of the Cross Dramatic Society, applied for the use of the Town Hall, on the 28th and 29th inst., to hold a play in aid of the League.

Republican Memorial Committee. Mr. Daly, on behalf of the Republican Memorial Committee, applied for the use of the Hall on the 25th to hold a Ceilidhe and old time dance. Both applications were granted unanimously on the proposition of Mr. Beausang, seconded by Mr. Whelan.

The Water Supply. The Clerk said that in view of recent rumours regarding their water supply, they would be glad to hear that recent analysis had proved most satisfactory. A sample had been taken first, after the rainy weather when the river was in flood. Last month two other samples had been taken one from the pure water basin and another from a fountain in the Market Square. The analyst's certificate stated that the water was soft and suitable for drinking.

The Chairman said that report showed that their supply was excellent in quality as well as quantity. A letter was read from Mr. W. St. Clair Rice, solr., Midleton, on behalf of Mrs. Hanly of Montmorency, Youghal, stating that unless he had a letter by Saturday, undertaking to rebuild her boundary wall, he should not correspond further, but would take proceedings on his client's behalf.

The Clerk said the letter had been referred to their solicitors Messrs. Hodnett, who had replied that "the wall in question is the Ancient Town Wall of Youghal. It is approximately 12 feet in height and 6 feet in width. The portion referred to collapsed. It wasn't pulled down by our clients. Our clients having removed all rubbish from the base there is now, from the ground level, portion of the old wall about 6 feet in height and over that our clients have erected a paling 3 feet high, making an effective barrier 9 feet in height which prevents trespass one way or the other. Surely your clients don't expect our clients to rebuild the wall to its original dimensions. Our clients have been guilty of no misdemeanour, and, in the circumstances we fail to see what grievance or legal claim your client has."

Slum Clearances.

Dr. T. Kennedy, M.O.H., reported that he had again visited and examined the houses in the condemned areas and had placed them in the following order of demerit: (1) Kenny's Lane and the New Found Out, 10 houses, 10 families; (2) Power's Lane, 8 houses, 7 families; (3) Hurley's Lane, 5 houses, 7 families; (4) Water Lane, 1 tenement, 4 families; (5) Buckley's Lane, Gillett's Hill and Foxe's Lane.

After considerable discussion Mr. Whelan, proposed, and Mr. Power, seconded, that Clearance Orders be applied for in respect of the following: Kenny's Lane and the New Found Out, Power's Lane, Hurley's Lane, Water Lane (one tenement), and one house in Murphy's Row (omitted on the previous occasion).

Tenders For Milk. Tenders for the supply of milk in connection with the School Meals scheme were received at following figures, 1/- per gallon, 10d., 9d., and 1/4.

On the proposition of Mr. McCarthy, seconded by Mr. MacNamara the lowest, Mr. M. Flavin, Coolaha, at 9d., per gallon was unanimously accepted.

Buns and Sugar. The tenders of Messrs. Condon for the supply of sugared buns at 7d. per dozen, and of Messrs. Pasley and Co., for crystal sugar at 3/8 per stone (subject to alteration) were also accepted.

Dirty Milk. A number of tested samples of milk were submitted, two being declared "dirty" and one "slightly dirty."

On the proposition of Mr. Farrell, seconded by Mr. McCarthy, it was unanimously decided to serve warning notices on the owners of the 3 referred to.

Overdraft.

The L.G. wrote sanctioning the obtaining of a temporary accommodation by means of an overdraft of £400, pending the availability of the loan of £9,000 under the New Housing Scheme.

It was unanimously decided, on the proposition of Mr. McCarthy, seconded by Mr. Savage, to pass a cheque for the purchase price of the site, to instruct the legal adviser to complete the contract and to arrange that the contractor might enter the field.

Cost Of Brick Houses. The Clerk said it was satisfactory to know that although the houses were to be built of Youghal Brick, the price per house had been brought down to £284 0s. 11d.,

Congratulating Dr. Browne. Mr. Whelan, proposed a hearty vote of congratulation to the Most Rev. Dr. Browne, Bishop of Cloyne, on his attaining his 90th year.

This was seconded by Mr. Cashman and joined in by the Chairman, other members and the Town Clerk.

It being now 9.45, the remaining business was adjourned to next meeting.

REMEMBRANCE DAY.

YOUGHAL.

200 ex-Servicemen assembled at the Legion Hall, McDonald's Quay, on Saturday morning and headed by their band, marched through the principal thoroughfares to the Parish Church, where a Commemoration Mass was celebrated by the Rev. W. Carey, C.C. Subsequently, they proceeded to the North Abbey Cemetery, where Remembrance Crosses were laid on the graves of 35 of their deceased comrades. On Sunday morning they again assembled and marched to St. Mary's Collegiate Church where they were met by their Protestant colleagues, headed by Col. Roch, to whom they presented wreath for the Memorial Screen.

The usual appropriate services were conducted by Rev. E. Millar. The Last Post was sounded by Bandmaster Bushe. At the conclusion, they returned to their hall, where the two minutes silence was observed.

WHIST DRIVE.

A very successful Whist Drive was held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Sunday night, under the auspices of the Children's Health Committee, for the purpose of providing meals for necessitous school-going children.

The first prize (Ladies) was won by Mrs. McGee, Abbeyside, with a score of 145. The second prize going to Miss Mulcahy, Abbeyside, who scored 144. The Gentlemen's first prize was won by Mr. P. Spratt, who scored 154 and the second prize by Mr. J. F. Foley, with a score of 151.

Mr. J. F. Foley, at the conclusion of the drive thanked all present for the support given and expressed the hope that the success of this, their first drive, was but the forerunner of a succession of successful drives which the committee intend holding in aid of such a deserving cause.

LORDS PASS BILL.

In the British House of Lords the Government's Incident of Disaffection Bill was read a third time, and passed without a division.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)

Power v. Joyce.

This was a civil bill for 24 7s. 11d., for goods sold and delivered by Mee. Joyce, Mount Unacke, against Ed. Joyce, Ballyknock.

Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., for plaintiff and Mr. T. K. Keane, solr., for defendant.

Plaintiff produced his Account Book—the only one he kept—which was handed up to the Bench.

Cross-examined at great length by Mr. Keane, witness said that Joyce and his sons got goods at his shop, paying for some and not for others. He had furnished bills for the latter.

Defendant, his wife and two sons gave evidence to the effect that they had been dealing in the shop for many years, but had always paid for what they got. The plaintiff had never furnished any bills till last month.

After a very protracted hearing of contradictory evidence.

The Justice said that applying the ordinary rules in cases of the kind, he thought he ought gave a decree for the amount. He would not allow any expenses.

Mr. Hodnett—We are not asking for any.

Undeclared Civil Bills.

Having disposed of a number of Civil Bills in which Messrs. Hodnett, Keane and J. N. R. Macnamara appeared.

O'Leary v. Fitzgerald.

This was an application for an Examination Order, by Mr. Keane. The application was granted.

No Lights.

Guard Ceasor, charged John Meagher, farmer, with allowing his horse and cart wander on the public street with no one in charge.

He was fined 5/- the Justice remarking that he considered that a very serious offence.

No Rear Reflector.

Guard P. J. O'Connor, charged Jas. Gleeson, Mill Road, with using an unlighted vehicle and also with having no red reflector behind.

The defendant admitted having no light, but he had never heard anything about the reflector.

The Justice said all cars would have to have red reflectors.

Defendant was fined 2/- for having no light and 6d. in the other case.

CITIZENSHIP OF THE FREE STATE

WOMEN WHO MARRY FOREIGNERS

A new Irish Free State Government Bill, which proposes to define citizenship of the Irish Free State, was issued to Deputies of the Dail from Government Buildings, and will come up for discussion in the House when the winter session is resumed.

The Bill is entitled "An Act to provide for and regulate the acquisition by birth or otherwise of citizenship of the Free State and the forfeiture or loss of such citizenship, and to provide for divers matters connected with the matters aforesaid."

According to the proposals contained in the Bill a person will be a citizen of the Free State, if he was born in the country after December 6, 1922, when the Free State was established; if he was born in a ship registered in the Free State; or if he was born outside the country with a Free State father.

The Citizenship Act must be read in conjunction with the Constitution of the Irish Free State, which means that persons born in any part of Ireland, including Northern Ireland before December 6, 1922, and living in any part of Ireland, have the right of Free State citizenship.

Any person who is not a citizen of the Free State can apply for citizenship to the Minister for Justice, and his application will be considered.

A special clause in the Bill provides that if a Free State woman marries a foreigner she shall not forfeit her Free State citizenship.

Another important clause provides that where a Free State citizen enjoys the citizenship of other countries, such as in Great Britain and Northern Ireland, there will be a reciprocal arrangement, provided that the law as it now stands remains unaltered.

This means that Irish people in Britain will enjoy the full rights of Free State citizenship.

If a person born abroad is of good character, of sound mind, and not under the age of 21, and has lived in the Free State for at least four years, he is entitled to a certificate of naturalisation.

In every Free State Legation or Consulate a foreign birth-book will be kept for the purpose of registering the birth of a child whose father is Irish, and by doing so Free State citizenship will be established.

600th ANNIVERSARY OF COMING OF FRIARS.

Preparations are being made at the Franciscan Convent, Carrickbeg, Carrick-on-Suir, for the celebration of the 600th anniversary of the coming of the Friars to Carrickbeg.

Father O'Keary, who was martyred for the Faith was a member of the Carrickbeg Franciscan Community.

A POSSIBLE CAUSE OF STERILITY

Food is given to a cow in order that it may maintain her in good health and condition, and may subserve the purposes of calves and of milk.

The actual ability to conceive, apart altogether from the question of growth of the calf and subsequent milking, depends to an extent which is not generally recognised on the food factor. It is not a question of sufficient bulk of food, but of whether the food is composed of the right elements.

The writer and, no doubt, others have frequently noted that sterility is more frequent on a clay or gravel subsoil than in a chalk or limestone district. In one particular case the effect of the removal of a herd on to a favourable subsoil was most dramatic.

From this it would seem clear that the mineral salts, more especially calcium and phosphorus, are necessary for the proper functioning of the reproductive organs. It may be noted that turning a cow out to pasture and the normal resumption of pasturing in the spring in this country are usually equivalent to calcium and phosphorus feeding, these elements being insufficiently represented in roots, cake, grains, etc.

How does the deficiency of calcium and phosphorus arise?

Milk contains a proportion of calcium phosphate, which is certainly not large, but which, when regarded as constant in many gallons of milk tells of a very great drain on the resources of the milking cow. The calf contains a very great deal of calcium and phosphorus, all of which must be obtained from the mother, even to her detriment. The calf's bones begin to harden by the deposition of salts in the last three months of pregnancy, and when the cow is being milked at the same time the drain of salts must be enormous.

But there remains still another part which these salts play. They provide the necessary material for the milk and the calf, but they have also some determining influences on the harmonious interplay of the ductless glands which is a condition of fertility. Of what this influence is we have already confessed our ignorance, although of its existence we are not in doubt. But we do know that it is not entirely supplied by the mere feeding of these salts. Something more must be done. As far as we can tell, this something is rest. Not only must the cow have the proper foods, but it must also have at least a temporary approximation to natural conditions during the last months of pregnancy, in order that these foods may be utilised, not only for calf making, but also for repairing the cow's own structure and machinery.

It is probable that other food factors should also be considered, and in particular perhaps, those containing iodine. The question of vitamins might also be considered, but both subjects are as yet in an experimental stage, and their discussion would produce no decisive or authoritative guidance.—D.H. in "Farmers Gazette."

LIFTING THE BEET CROP.

At a demonstration of beet-lifting carried out last week at the farm of Mr. W. Fahy, of Mountjoy, Malloy, Mr. Burke, B.Agric. Sc. Assistant Agricultural supervisor at Malloy Beet Factory, who conducted the demonstration, dealt with various aspects of cultivation and harvesting. All lifting, he said, is carried out in practically the same way. The plough or lifter is run under the drill of beet at the left-hand furrow, and the beet is then left undisturbed for from 10 to 14 days or even longer. Allowing the raised beet to stand in this way is most important as it increases sugar content to the value of 2s. 6d. to 5s. per ton.

When pulling beet, the farmer need not be afraid of knocking it about as it will stand a fair amount of this treatment, which also helps to remove soil. After pulling the beet is stored in loose heaps with roots turned inward and leaves out to protect frost. If these heaps are allowed stand for four or five days or longer, the beet will dry out and the dried soil will fall off easily.

The crowning process, Mr. Burke pointed out, is most important, and it is imperative that farmers should realise that improperly crowned roots will be crowned at the factory at the farmers' expense. Any green leaves left on badly crowned beet have a tendency to shoot, thus lessening the sugar content of the root. Crowning should remove all foliage and also the coarse top or crown beneath the leaves and can be carried out with an ordinary snigging knife. Beet may be crowned as it is required for feeding purposes, or may be clamped by a fence or ditch and protected from frost by a covering of old straw or litter. The beet is stored in pits in the same way as mangolds are kept.

Answering inquiries about the disease known as crown rot, Mr. Burke was most emphatic in his statement that this disease does not in the least affect the sugar content or value of the crop. The farmers of Co. Carlow area have had this disease affecting the crop year after year without causing any serious losses.

Farmers in the Malloy Factory area Mr. Burke stated, will receive 1 1/2 cwt. of sugar pulp per ton. If it is required farmers may receive small quantities of pulp even before their crop has been delivered at the factory. This sugar pulp is an excellent ration when used dry with maize meal mixture or steeped in water from 10 to 12 hours. It is superior to turnips or mangolds. Sugar pulp is in great demand for feeding purposes in Scotland and the CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

TRANSFER OF LICENCE.

At Lismore District Court last week, Miss Bridget Guiry, Dromore, Aglish, was granted a transfer of the licence recently held by Mrs. Ellen Coleman, Aglish, whose premises were purchased by Miss Guiry last September.

Miss Margaret Guiry, Dromore, sister of the applicant, gave evidence of the purchase, and Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, (for Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., Dungarvan), produced the necessary legal documents.

LOCAL LADY'S SUCCESS.

In the second Knitting Competition held by Messrs. Martin Mahony and Bros., Ltd., Blarney, Co. Cork, the first prize of £10 was won by Miss Kerfoot, Cappoquin, for a beautiful Lady's Jumper made by thread manufactured by this famous Blarney firm. The Jumper is one of beautiful design and artistic colours, and is a real work of art and has been on exhibition in the windows of Mr. M. J. Ryan's Drapery Establishment, Main Street, during the week, where it has won the admiration of all.

The second prize of £7 was won by Miss Kitty O'Gorman, Lismore, while the fourth prize of £3 was won by Miss A. Tobin, Coolnasmea, Dungarvan, and a Consolation Prize of 10/- was won by Miss B. Geary, Camphire Cappoquin.

Considering that this competition attracted entrants from every part of Ireland, we should feel proud that our clever young County Waterford ladies were able to come out on top on this occasion, and everyone will wish them further success in all future competitions of this kind.

XMAS TURKEYS.

Messrs. J. O'Connor and Sons, Egg and Poultry Exporters, Cappoquin, announce in our advertising columns this week that turkeys for the Xmas Trade, as well as all classes of poultry and fowl, will be purchased at their premises Castle street, daily at the best possible market prices. The present price of turkeys is 7d. per lb., geese, 4d. per lb., fatted chickens, 6d. per lb., and old fowl, 2/- to 2/6 per pair.

This enterprising and progressive firm is now extremely busy in coping with the heavy Xmas Trade for cross-Channel markets, and owners of turkeys are advised to sell their birds as early as possible this season.

MONSTER WHIST DRIVE.

A Monster Whist Drive in aid of the Parochial Improvements Fund, will be held in the C.Y.M.S. Hall, Mill street, on Sunday night, December, 9th., when unusually valuable prizes will be offered. The object of the Drive is a most deserving one, and should be generously supported by all classes of the parishioners, and as free refreshments will be given to all competitors on the occasion, this should greatly enhance the pleasure of the event, and we have no doubt it will be a huge success.

POPPY DAY.

Poppy Day proved a great success in Cappoquin on last Sunday, 11th inst., Armistice Day. The financial results from the sale of Poppies have accordingly, been the best yet recorded here, and the young ladies responsible for their sale are to be congratulated on the excellent result of their voluntary work.

ANNUAL MASS FOR THE DEAD.

The annual Requiem High Mass for the repose of the souls of the deceased parishioners of Cappoquin was celebrated in St. Mary's Catholic Church on Tuesday morning. The celebrant was the Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., and the other clergymen assisting included the Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., Lismore; Rev. T. A. Murphy, C.C., do.; Rev. R. Power, C.C., do.; and Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin. There was a large and devout congregation present, and the proceedings were most impressive.

CO. WATERFORD MAN ORDAINED IN ROME.

The Rev. Michael Joseph Leahy, B.D., was ordained in the Irish College, Rome, by his Eminence, Cardinal Marchetti Selvaggiani, on the 1st November for his native diocese of Waterford and Lismore. Father Leahy, is son of Michael and Mrs. Leahy, Templemichael, Co. Waterford, and was educated at Glendine N.S., the Christian Brothers School, Youghal, and Mount Melleray Seminary, Cappoquin. From these he proceeded to St John's College, Waterford, and then to the Irish College, Rome, where he underwent a brilliant theological course, obtaining his B.D. degree. His numerous friends join in wishing his every success in his sacred calling.

SOME SLOGAN!

We notice that a "Say thank you" campaign is being carried out in Warsaw. This slogan is posted on all trams and buses. It appears men here have lately ceased giving up their seats to women because they say they are never thanked for doing so. Consequently, the local Council are trying to revive the old spirit of chivalry. Although Kilmachthomas is by no means an Impolite Deme, a similar campaign would not have a harmful effect on its inhabitants. The slogan indeed, is one which might be displayed to advantage in any community.

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC HEALTH.

Commissioner Moynihan, sat the Board Room, Co. Home, Dungarvan, on Wednesday to deal with matters under the Board of Public Health.

KILNAGRANGE PUMP.

Arising out of an application by a number of residents from the Kilnagrange, Kilmachthomas area, asking the Board to repair a pump and which was referred to Mr. Jephson, Engineer, for a report. Mr. Jephson, reported that he found an overflowing well on the lands of Mr. Dee, Kilnagrange, but it is in a dangerous state.

Secretary—The Board could not touch that, it is private property. Mr. Jephson said he thought the owner of the land would be delighted if the Board erected a pump there.

Secretary—Have the public been using this well? Have they a right of way to it?

Mr. Jephson—The cottiers around are using it. Secretary—If the public have a right to use this water, we would be responsible.

Commissioner—If we do anything such as putting on a board we immediately assume responsibility.

The matter was adjourned to allow Mr. Jephson to make inquiries as to whether the well comes within the meaning of a Public well.

LETTING OF COTTAGES.

Five applications were received for the tenancy of a vacant cottage at Clashganney, Portlaw, viz., John Mooney, Ed. Cahill, Thomas Tobin, John Morrissey, and Ml. Power.

After going through the applications carefully, the cottage was let to John Mooney.

TINALARA COTTAGE.

Four applications were read for the above cottage, viz., R. Casey, James Dunne, W. Looby, and Ml. Power. Michael Power, was appointed tenant.

GLENBOY COTTAGE.

The vacant cottage at Glenboy, Lismore, was let to James Leahy.

BALLINGOWN COTTAGE.

There was no application for the vacant cottage at Ballingown, and it was decided to re-advertise same.

BALLYDUFF WATER SUPPLY.

Arising out of the application at the previous meeting from residents in the Knockaun and Carrigroe district, for an extension of the above supply. A letter was read from Mr. E. A. Ryan solicitor, stating that his clients were prepared to pay a water rate of £10 a year until such time as the Board is recouped the expenditure caused by the extension.

His clients were prepared to pay as follows:—W. Brown, £3 per year; E. Cooney, £2; T. Power £2 and the following 10/- each per annum:—James Greaney, Ml. Walsh, Wm. Mahony, Thos. Tobin, Patk. O'Keefe, and E. Glavin.

The application was refused in view of the limited supply and the cost of the extension.

ARDMORE WATER SUPPLY.

With reference to the proposed tests to be carried out at Ardmore well, Mr. Spreadborough, Engineer, reported that he was in communication with a Well Boring firm re the tests, but considered that it would not serve any useful purpose at present owing to the continual wet weather to carry out such tests.

The matter was adjourned for more favourable weather to carry out the tests.

TALLOW SEWERAGE.

Arising out of the visit of a deputation from Tallow at the previous meeting relative to the necessity of a sewer at Chapel street, Tallow, on which the Commissioner directed the Engineer to report.

Mr. Spreadborough, reported that he had taken levels from which it could be observed, that the lower end is too low to admit of a sewer being laid to the main sewer at the Square. The alternative is to lay a sewer from the centre of Chapel street northwards through the lands and connect with the Convent street sewer a distance of 450 yards. The approximate cost of which would be £500 to which must be added compensation to land owners.

The matter was adjourned to the next meeting. The Engineer in the meantime to ascertain what amount of compensation would be required.

SUGAR BEET PULP FOR FATTENING CATTLE.

Stall-feeding experiments conducted by the Department of Agriculture, showed that, when a basal ration of roots and hay was supplemented by a mixture of crushed oats, maize meal and decorticated cottonseed meal 2:2:1, "sugar pulp" could be used safely to replace all the maize and part of the oats. The pulp was fed so that 1 1/2 lbs. replaced 10 lbs. maize meal or 1 1/2 lbs. oats. When pulp is used in large amounts, up to two-thirds of the concentrates, it is advisable to use linseed cake or some other high grade oilcake for the last three weeks of fattening. Cattle of 10 to 10 1/2 cwt. are better able to use a ration with a high proportion of "sugar pulp" than younger beasts of 8-9 cwt.

G. A. A.

Very unruly scenes were witnessed at the Gaelic Field on Sunday, when Four-Mile-Water met Mount Sion in the Minor Hurling Co. Final and Rathgormack and Clashmore contested the Junior Football Final.

At the close of the Minor game, the trouble originated on the side line. When some spectators, evidently not satisfied with an umpire's ruling came to grips and blows were exchanged. It is only to state, however, that the two teams took no part in the brawl.

Both teams gave of their best in a fine, clean, fast hurling game with plenty of thrills and good hurling. The City boys had somewhat the better of the exchanges during the first half and led by 3 points at the interval.

The Four-Mile-Water team fought hard in the second half to reduce the lead, and were in hard luck on a few occasions. The city team, however, held fast to their lead and finished Co. Champions on the score 2 goals 5 points to 2 goals 1 point for Four-Mile-Water.

JUNIOR GAME.

Playing with the breeze in the first half, Clashmore had the opposition for the greater part of the time on the qui vive, but bad and erratic shooting left them with a scoreless sheet at the interval. The Eastern Divisional Finalists played steadier football and were rewarded by leading by a point at the half-time whistle.

The second half was a very rugged affair. Clashmore got splendid scoring opportunities in this period also, but they went begging. Rathgormack increased their lead to the extent of 1 goal and 2 points. Clashmore did not improve their position. Towards the end of the game a Clashmore player was ordered off the pitch. The final scores were—Rathgormack 1 goal 2 points; Clashmore—Nil.

TRAMORE MEN SENTENCED AT CIRCUIT COURT.

SHOP BREAKING CHARGES.

He would sentence each of them to four months' imprisonment with such labour as the prison doctor thought suitable to their condition, decided his Lordship, Judge Sealy, at the Circuit Court, Waterford, when two men named Dunne and Hutchinson, from Tramore, were put forward for sentence, both having pleaded guilty to breaking and entering the Ballinaclough Creamery, Kilmeadan, and Mr. Troy's shop, Railway Square, Tramore, and committing larcenies therein.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, prosecuting, said there were other charges against the accused which were pending. These included the larceny of a bicycle from outside the Franciscan Friary by Dunne, and both were also charged with the larceny of pencils, etc., from the Summerhill Schoolhouse, Tramore. They might wish to have these taken into account now.

The accused agreed to this course. Supt. Dennehy, Tramore, said Dunne was a married man with two children and was in poor health. Both men said they committed the offences because they were in want. Up to this they had clean records.

His Lordship said everybody was sorry for men whose families were starving. Even so he could not allow them off without punishment in account of the wholesale deprivations they committed.

THE DUNGARVAN RAMBLERS.

The inaugural meeting of this Club was held at Phelan's Hotel, Dungarvan, on Wednesday night, presided over by Mr. Bulfin, President. Mr. C. O'Connor, Hon. Secretary, detailed what had been done in the matter of organisation. The first outing was provisionally fixed for the first Sunday in July, the venue chosen being Killarney, via Cork and Glengarriffe. The objects of this Club have made an instant appeal to the youth of both sexes and upwards of seventy members have signified their intention of taking part in the first outing. A general meeting of all members and intending members will be held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, at 8 o'clock on next Wednesday night. Further particulars will be published in our advertising columns in due course.
