was required and the price of same.

Mr. Connolly said the Board appointed an Architect, and the Engin eer surveyed the ground. The report urged the demolition of the existing buildings, and the building of the New Hospital on the site. There was an alternative report, suggesting that sufficient ground at the South side together with portion of Mr. Fennessy's land could be used. Dr. McDonald, prepared plans for the County Hospital at the southern end of the Work house buildings. He (Mr. Connolly) understood that Dr. McDonald, was anxious to wipe out the old existing buildings until he found out that it would not be feasible. The Local Government Board examined the plans submitted by Dr. McDonald.

Commissioner-We should have Dr. McDonald's report before us. I was in Dublin lately, and the answer I got from an official in this Department taking action; and these other counties are well under way now. Any holding up of our plans for a County Hospital was not the fault of the Board but was due to the gentlemen in Dub-lin. They were not agreeable to the site we selected and the mmbers of the Board were unanimous against the demolition of the existing buildings.

The spacious Restaurant in which the display was given was artistically laid out in blue and gold, while streamers and bunting gave a most picturesque setting to the various manufactures, for which Power's Bakery is famed. Charmingly arranged on shelves all around, the Xmas Cakes, Confectionery, etc., were the admiration of the visitors, while the genial and practical proprietress, Mrs. M. C. Power, ably assisted by her son, Master Paul Power, explained to all patrons the intricacies of the Confectioners' Art. And here we beg to say that after a good experience of such like displays we never saw more finished or more artistic workmanship than was shown by Mrs. Power's Con-fectioners in the style and finish, icing, etc., of the various cakes. They would defy competition anywhere and were a tribute to the excellence of Dungarvan workmanship. Surprise was the general note at the wonderful quality of Power's Confectionery, but those who have had experience of it competition. All during the evening visitors came and went and one and all were loud in their appreciation of the grand display to which they had been treated. So deep was the impression made that during the affermoon, the courteous staff were ker very busy taking orders for various lines

YOUNG MAN REMANDED AT LISMORE

A young man named John Kent, son of Mr. James Kent, Mogeela Castle, Curraglass, Co. Cork, was charged at Lismore District Court before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L., at the suit of Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, with the cutting of several telegraph poles and wires at Kilmacow, Curraglass; Roseybower and Lisnabrin, all in the Tallow area, on various dates between October 20th and October 25th.

The case had been originally before the Tallow Court, but was adjourned to Lismore on the application of the Supt. for the attendance of Mr. Ryan. State Solr., the defendant being allowed out on bail.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solr., Dungarvan, appeared for the prosecution. and Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, appeared for the defendant.

Sergt. Grey, Tallow, in the course of e lengthy deposition, stated that on October 24th he found a telegraph pole freshly cut and a quantity of fresh sawdust lying at the foot of the pole. About 3 feet from the pole, on the Tallow side. there is a gateway leading into a field which the cut pole ha. fallen. He found the imprint of a man's nailed boot in the sawdust, and inside the gate he found a similar imprint, as if the wearer of the boot had stepped off the gate into the field. Both imprints were quite fresh and he was present when the casts of them were taken later. On October 27th he went to accused's residence, accompanied by Det. Officer McCabe, Caphouse, accused not being present at the time. He saw Det.-Officer McCabe finding a pair of nailed boots in a cupboard in the kitchen, and those boots appeared to correspond with the imprints which he had seen near the cut telegraph pole. They both remained in the house until the accused returned about 6 p.m. On arrival in the kitchen he asked—"What do you want me for?" and witness said—"How do you know I want you?" Accused then replied

"The Guard outside told me." Witness then asked him to show him his working boots, and accused went to the cupboard where Det. Mc-Cabe had previously found the pailed boots, and having searched there he said-"They are gone from here." Witness said-" Go out to the Guards, they may have them." He then arrested accused under Article 2 of the Constitution and gave him the usual legal caution after charging him, but he made no statement.

The casts and boots were now produced and witness described certain peculiarities in the formation of the rows of nails in the boots which were also reproduced in the casts taken.

Witness, who had been reading his evidence from a document, in crossexamination by Mr. Hodnett, solr., admitted that the type-written document produced had been proved to be inaccurate, yet he had now sworn to its

Re-examined by Supt. Quinlan, he said that he had rectified the inaccurate references in the copy produced. Having heard some further evidence, the Justice at this stage said he would adjourn the further hearing of the case to the January Court in Lismore and allow defendant out on continu-

In the Dail last week a warning to land owners in connection with the use of their land was given by Mr. O'Kelly, Minister for Local Government, when speaking on the second reading of the Rates on Agricultural Land (Polici Pill)

Land (Relief) Bill.

"This Bill," said Mr. O'Kelly, "is the beginning of a new systm, but only the beginning, and landowners of the higher valuations who are not making proper use of their land would be well advised to take note of the fact that the day of unconditional relief of rates on land is at an end."

Gen. Mulcahy (Fine Gael) stated that the Minister had not said a word about the financial condition of local public hadies and of the same of the sam public bodies and of the people as a

Neither had he referred to the condition of the agricultural industry, nor to the fact that the wages paid to agri-cultural labourers had fallen calami-

Gen. Mulcahy said that in order to collect outstanding rates the Minister abolished local authorities in Waterford, Kilkenny, South Tipperary, and Leix. These Commissioners went down with instructions to take most active steps to collect these rates. They did take active steps and what was the result? In Waterford, in 1931, the last year of the previous Government's administration, he found that 47.9 p.c. of the rate warrant had been collected on September 30. On September 30, 1932, when the effects of the Fianna Fail agricultural policy were beginning to make themselves felt the figure had dropped to 31 p.c., and by the same date in 1933 the collection was down to 12 p.c.

Then the Commissioner started to make the threatened skin and hair fly, and the result was that on Sept. 30, 1934, 1.2 p.c. of the rate warrant had been collected. In South Tipperary the corresponding figures for the four years were 1931—46.1 p.c.; 1932— 26 p.c.; 1933—7 p.c., and in 1934, when the Commissioners had got to

On the application of Inspector Muically, Clonmel, the Justice adjourned to next Court for attendance of Supt. Feore, the charge of house-breaking and larceny of boots against Nicholas O'Donnell, Carrick-on-Suir.

Kate Rvan, who admitted having taken 17/6 worth of tobacco from a short in the Main et seet, said she had

The Justice dismissed with a strong caution the charge against Nicholas Phelan, New Ross, for using a dirty lorry for carrying calves.

Mr. Patk. Feehan, Westgate, Carrick-on-Suir, was granted a transfer of licensed premises from the name.

It was useless for the Government to say that farmers in Waterford, Tipperary and Leix were conspirators and dastards because they belonged to Fine Gael and did not pay their rates.

dastards because they belonged to Fine Gael and did not pay their rates, while farmers in Clare and Kerry were self-sacrificing patriots because they shouted "Up, de Valera!" and kept their rates in their pockets.

Mr. O'Kelly, explaining the Bill, said that it provided for the giving of legal effect to the decisions taken in the early part of the year with regard to the Agricultural Grant. The grant for the current year would be increased to a total of £1,970,000, or £200,000 more than last year, and would be apmore than last year, and would be applied to the relief of rates in a new

This year's grant was the highest figure it had ever reached, except in 1932-33, when the land purchase annuities were still at the old figure.

While increasing the grant, however, a new method of giving relief had been adopted. Last year's rate of relief on the £10 valutaion was being taken as the standard rate, and the Bill provided that every occupier of land not exceeding £10 in valuation would in the current year get this would in the current year get this rate of relief, and occupiers of larger holdings wold get an equal rate on the first £20 of their holding.

The relief on the first £20 valuation was designated the primary allow-ances and these, including urban dis-trict shares, would take £1,182,000 of the grant and cover valuation amounting to £3,700,000.

ed to two millions. The supplementary rate of relief would be everywhere below the primary allowance rate. In most counties the difference was slightly over 2/-.

Each county was allotted a sum equal to last year's share of the Grant and credited with payments that they were bound to make to certain urban

The County Councils would pay urban districts in receipt of the Agricul-tural Grant first, a sum equal to what they paid them last year, and in addition, whatever might be necessary to bring the rate of relief on the first £20 in the urban district up to the county relief rates.

The problem presented by these urban farmers was not quite so simple as it might appear. The point for consideration was whether there was a case for placing land in the 39 urban districts that did not now receive any part of the Grant on a par with similar land in rural areas.

The Bill was temporary, and the Dail would have an opportunity of considering a permanent measure, which he hoped to be able to present early next year.

The second stage of the Bill passed without a division.

Stephen's Night, and gives every promise to eclipse in brilliancy and enjoyment any similar dances held in this popular Hall for a long time.

St. Stephen's Night in Cappoquin without the familiar Rowing Club dance would be worse than "Hamlet" without the ghost, but the officers and committee of the Club always take good care to ensure ample scope for enjoyment on this great night, while the festive spirit of Christmas is still in the air.

Elaborate arrangements have been made to ensure that this year's popular "Annual" will prove unusually enjoyable and attractive, as the celebrat-ed 'Bohemian Dance Band," Tipperary, has been specially engaged for the occasion.

Excellent catering arrangements will be carried out by Mr. G. Watson; and refreshments can be had in the Billiard Room at reasonable charges. Tickets will still remain at 2/- each for ladies and 2/6 for gentlemen which should ensure a full house for this annual gala event.

DEATH OF MR. WM. DUGGAN. QUAY ST., DUNGARVAN. FAMOUS INCIDENT RECALLED.

Last week the death took place of Mr. William Duggan, Quay street, Dungarvan, after a brief illness. His passing recalls a famous tragedy—the wreck of the Moresby in Dungarvan Harbour, on Xmas Eve, 1895. On that occasion the weather was so bad that the lifeboat crew refused to go out and a volunteer crew from Dungarvan which included Wm. Duggan, took the lifeboat to the rescue. Out of a crew of 25, the lifeboat rescued seven, two of whom succumbed on reaching land. The heroic crew who manned the lifeboat were each awarded a Medal and Cetrificate of Valour for their bravery and Mr. Duggan valued this most highly. Deep sympathy is extended to his family in his loss.

Plaintiff—Certainly not.

Cross-examined by Mr. Williams, solr., plaintiff denied that he saw any notice in the Cappoquin weighing-room giving the names of the Acting Stewards at the meeting. Mr. Williams produced the National Hunt Rules which provided that an objection as to the qualification of a horse or owner could be heard by the Stewards within 14 days after the race, and said the rule about having an objection lodged within 15 minutes after the race did not apply in this case. The Justice, having read the rules produced by Mr. Williams, said it seemed quite clear that objections should be lodged within 15 minutes after the race could only have r ference to foul riding, or something also which might have happened in the race, and could not apply to the question of the qualification or otherwise of a horse, as this matter may not be known for several days after-

Captain Holroyd Smyth, Ballinatray, was examined by Mr. Hodnett and was examined by Mr. Hodnett and asked was he summoned to the meeting of the Acting Stewards who had disqualified Mr. Browne?

Witness replied that although his name appeared on the programme as one of the Acting Stewards, he was not present at the races and did not adjudicate as an Acting Steward there consequently he was not sumthere, consequently he was not summoned to the meeting of the Acting Stewards held later.

Disqualified Racehorse.

William O'Keeffe, Banteer, examined by Mr. Hodnett, stated that he ran a mare named "Carrigeen Lass" at the Youghal "Flapper" meeting in Aug., 1933, but entered her in the name of "William Browne," although he did not know Mr. Browne at the time.

Cross-examined by Mr. Williams, he said it was only by a coincidence that he had used Mr. Browne's name, as it was usual to use false names at "Flapper" meetings. Witness continu-respectively.

Mr. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, for the plaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, examined Mr. M. J. Sarplaintiff, and Mr. Mr. Hodnett explained that at the Cappoquin Point-to-Point Races last February, one of the events on the card was the Confined Maiden Hunt Race for £20, and a Challenge Cup, the winner to receive £15, second £3 Browne having competed at an illegal mosting in Youghel and after herein and third £2.

Mr. Browne entered his horse, "Iron Duke," for this race and won it, and ed, the Acting Stewards upheld the at the conclusion of the meeting he objection and awarded the race to Mr. was publicly presented with the Chal-Sweeney, owner of the second horse

Cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett as Secs., that an objection had been laid usual to use the names of influential the third horse in the race "Margate," the third horse in the race "Margate," the third horse in the race "Margate," the fairly treated by such that the fairl they would be fairly treated by such Stewards. He added that it would be refuse any entry without giving far better for the Race Committee that this race had been awarded to Mr Browne, because by awarding it to Mr. Sweeney it meant that he had disqualified on the ground that he won the Challenge Cup outright, and next meeting, which showed the honesty of the Acting Stewards in deciding the matter as they did.

Mr. I. Villiers Stuart, M.F.H., who acted as Judge at the Cappoquin meeting, was then examined by Mr. Wilper meeting mean, and Mr. Hodnett liams, and explained that when the ponsible for loss or accidents. held under the Irish National Hunt Objections were received from Mr. Entries Close THURSDAY, DEC., 27th Red Breast Costin and Mr. Sweeney against Mr. Continuing, Mr. Hodnett then quot- Browne, a special meeting of the Acting Stewards was held which was attended by witness, Lord Charles Cavendish, Miss Freda Keane and Mr.

R. L. Keane. Having heard the evidence of all the parties, the full facts of the case were submitted to the National Hunt Stewards, but they referred the matter back to the Acting Stewards and ordered them to decide the matter, and it was then decided to disqualify

In reply to the Justice, witness explained that while the horse, ?"Iron Duke," was qualified to run at the been hunted with the West Waterford Hounds during the necessary period, the National Hunt Rules clearly laid down that where the owner of a horse had either entered or ridden a horse at an illegal meeting, he was automatically disqualified from competing at any meeting under National Hunt Rules afterwards, until his disqualifi-cation had been removed by the National Hunt Stewards.

As this had not been done in Browne's case, the Acting Stewards had no alternative on the evidence before them but to disqualify him, and their action was perfectly honest and bona fide in the matter. Mr. R. L. Keane, Belleville Park, another of the Acting Stewards, having generally corroborated Mr.

Stuart's evidence, The Justice said he was asking himself was it open to him at all to try this case in view of the decision of the Acting Stewards who were perfectly justified in hearing the objection within the period of 14 days provided by the National Hunt Rules.

On all the evidence before him, he was satisfied that the ruling of the Acting Stewards was perfectly bona fide and proper in the circumstances, and he accordingly dismissed the
