

ABERNETHY'S FRESH BREAD. Fresh Supplies Daily. Brown Bread a Specialty. E. FLEMING, 32 GRATTAN SQUARE, DUNGARVAN.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, S. Hayes, P. Byrne, P. O'Dwyer, M. Connors, J. Mansfield, J. Christopher, J. J. Crotty, M. Clancy, J. Butler, J. F. Foley, P. Quann, J. Dahill, D. Foley.

MEMBERS BEING IGNORED. Arising out of the minutes, Mr. O'Dwyer, objected to them being signed and said that regarding the building sites, it was an understood thing that the Council have the Architects' report at this meeting. He wished to know did the report come?

Mr. O'Dwyer—I think it was the wish of several of the members of the Council to have the Architects report to-night. It is now being put off to another night. The same thing happened in the last Housing Scheme. It seems that the same thing is going to happen this time also. Mr. Buckley, the Department's Inspector, reported on this land and that ought be sufficient for the Council to buy the land.

Chairman—I understood that the Council was to wait for the report of the Architects when they were sanctioned. Mr. O'Dwyer—It was on the understanding that the Council get the report to-night. Some of the members here are being ignored altogether.

Mr. Byrne—I think the Council were unanimous in getting it. There is a big number of unemployed in town and nothing should hold up the employment of the men. Mr. Clancy—What part of the minutes are being objected to? What part is not correct?

The Clerk then read the portion objected to—i.e. "Regarding Mr. Ryan's it was finally decided to get reports from the M.O.H. and the Architects when sanctioned." Mr. Clancy—I hold that that is correct and I propose that the minutes be signed.

Mr. Butler—No doubt, they are correct. Mr. O'Dwyer—In that case some of the members are being ignored. Chairman—I can't see why you say that.

Mr. McCarthy (to Mr. O'Dwyer)—Did you put it in the form of a resolution? Mr. O'Dwyer—No. Mr. McCarthy—Well, then, it can't be on the minutes. Chairman—Is there any objection to the minutes being signed.

Mr. O'Dwyer—I have stated my objection. Mr. Crotty—But it wasn't put in the form of a proposition. Mr. Mansfield—The discussion about this matter took place alright; but the Council decided that they could do nothing further until the Architects were sanctioned.

Chairman—I understood that too. Mr. O'Dwyer—That means another delay. Mr. Butler—But it is not our delay. Mr. O'Dwyer—There is a report from the Chairman of the Housing Committee approving of the land. That ought be enough without waiting for a report from the Architect.

Chairman—I take it that the Council are unanimous about signing the minutes except Mr. O'Dwyer. Mr. Byrne—And me, too, Mr. Chairman. I agree with Mr. O'Dwyer. Mr. O'Dwyer—I think there were several members outside of Mr. Byrne and myself.

After further discussion, Mr. O'Dwyer said he would withdraw his proposition because of Mr. Dahill's notice of motion. The minutes were then signed.

MILK TEST REPORT. Mr. Crotty said that regarding the milk report from the Veterinary Inspector, it looked very bad having them made public. In his opinion they should not be reported in the Press.

Chairman—I think they are doing very good. Mr. Dahill—They should be made public. Mr. Crotty—What I mean is that they are so contradictory. Sometimes a man gets a bad report and some of his customers leave him to go to some other man. This other man may then get a bad report. One night a man gets a bad report and on another night he gets a good report. If a man gets a bad report for a number of times, the Council could take action without the report being made public.

Chairman—Giving the reports publicly would not prevent us from taking action. Mr. Crotty—I know; but it looks bad having contradictory reports. If the Council think the old method is alright, well, I am agreeable. The Council decided to adhere to the present method.

PAYMENTS. Payments passed for the week were: General A/c. £12 12s. 9d.; Relief Grant A/c. £53 15s. 8d.

STONE BREAKERS' COMPLAINT.

Arising from the Relief Grant Account, Mr. Hayes drew the Council's attention to the case of a stone-breaker named John Kirby, who was cut 3 yards of stone.

The B.S. said Kirby and another man Crotty had got 3 yards more than what was broken. At least, he could not discover where they were broken. Mr. O'Dwyer—I would like to have Kirby and Crotty here before us.

The two men then came before the meeting. John Kirby said he was cut three yards last week. He wished to know why he was cut. Mr. O'Dwyer—The B.S. said you broke 15 yards in one day.

B.S.—Did not you tell me that you broke 15 yards in one day? Kirby—No, sir. B.S.—You told me that. Kirby—I couldn't break 15 yards in one day.

B.S.—Wherever they are gone, I'm short 6 yards. Mr. O'Dwyer—Can you prove that shortage? B.S.—All the stones that were drawn I have accounted for.

Mr. McCarthy—You say there are 6 yards short. How do you attribute the cause to Kirby? B.S.—The other men's tallies were correct.

Mr. McCarthy—I think there is some mistake being made. It is not fair to Kirby and Crotty that they should be marked out. I know John Kirby and he is a very honest workman. B.S.—Kirby told me that he broke 15 yards of stones in one day and could break more if he had them.

Kirby denied breaking 15 yards of stones in the one day. It took him from Thursday morning to Friday at dinner time. He (Kirby) was never accused of anything like this before. Mr. Byrne—I propose they be paid. Kirby—We are 3 weeks getting 4 days work.

Mr. Dahill—Could the foreman throw any light on this? Kirby—I think he couldn't throw light on anything. The two workmen then withdrew. Mr. Mansfield said that there was no proper supervision on this kind of work. If there was proper supervision, a lot of this trouble would be avoided.

After further discussion the Council agreed to pay the two men for the 3 yards of stones. WORK ON RELIEF GRANT. Mr. Butler asked what amount of money had been spent on the grant.

The Clerk after giving the figures spent to date, said that the Grant was exhausted at the moment. Mr. Clancy—Is the work finished? B.S.—Practically. Mr. Clancy—We must be able to keep within the grant and it is very essential that the B.S. should see that the work is done within the amount.

There was a lot of disturbance at the start. The B.S. was interfered with. Men were giving their opinion on the way to break stones. They were putting their opinion against that of the Engineer. It is all very fine speaking platitudes here, but we should see that no further burden is placed on the ratepayers. I hope we will be able to do the work within the estimate.

Mr. Dahill—It is a good job they had the free beef or they would not be able to work at all. Mr. Clancy—It is work the men want—not free beef. Mr. D. Foley—You have very little sympathy for the labourers. Mr. Clancy—I have as much as you. Mr. D. Foley—I say you haven't. I could go back 10 years ago when you left us down.

Mr. Clancy—You are getting personal, Mr. Foley. I ask you Mr. Chairman, to protect members from personal insults. Chairman—There should be no personalities introduced here. Mr. D. Foley—Mr. Clancy is trying to get a slap at the Government behind their backs. This Government is the best Government that ever was in the country. You are talking about the labourers. What do you care about them?

Mr. Clancy—I am a labourer myself. Mr. D. Foley—So am I. You said some time ago that you were a John Redmond man—I say you are a John Bull man. Chairman—Order. No member should be personal here. After some more exchanges the matter dropped.

APPLICATION FOR HALL. As there was only one application for the hall for Friday night—the Cumann na gCeilidhe were granted the hall. Mr. O'Dwyer said that the Eire Og Club were going to apply for the hall on every second Friday night.

MILK PROSECUTION.

LARCENY OF A BICYCLE. DRINK THE GAUSE. Held on Wednesday before Mr. Justice Troy, D.J.

MILK PROSECUTION. Guard O'Leary, Inspector of Food and Drugs Act, summoned Mr. Thomas Curran, Glenmore, Dungarvan, in respect of deficiency of fats in milk supplied. Mr. M. M. Hally, solr., Co. Council, appeared for the prosecution, and Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., defended.

Guard O'Leary, said on the 12th Nov. he took a sample of the milk the defendant was supplying in town for analysis. He met Mr. Curran in Mary street, and told him his business and asked him to come into Mr. Ducey's shop where he took the samples. Mr. Curran took a bottle of milk from the car and having taken off the seal poured it into 3 bottles one of which was sent for analysis, one handed to the vendor and the third kept by the Guard.

The Analyst's report which he handed to the Justice showed that the sample analysed contained 1.90 per cent. fat, 9.31 non-fatty solids and 88.79 per cent. water. He (Analyst) was of opinion that 36.66 of the original fat was extracted. Continuing, the witness said that the defendant called to him after the summons was issued, but he was out and he called later and was very upset over the analysis, and said he would lose the supplying of free milk. He said he had 23 cows newly-calving and he had let his other cows go dry.

Examined by Mr. Farrell—Would you be surprised to know that only one or two cows had calved. You say he said he would lose his contract for the supply of free milk? Witness—He mentioned to me he had the best results for his milk from Mr. Byrne, V.S. You saw the report in the "Observer" in which it was stated Mr. Curran's milk was clean and quite satisfactory?

Yes. Mr. Farrell here read the paper report showing that the defendant had a herd of 35 cows that were subjected to the Tuberculin Test in October. Justice—Is shows nothing about the fat. Further examined by Mr. Farrell—Witness said he asked the defendant for a pint of milk and he got a pint bottle which he took out of the milk car and brought it in after witness to Ducey's shop. Witness told him to shake the bottle. Did he shake the bottle?—I cannot say.

Further questioned, he said he did not see him shake the bottle. Mr. Troy—Did you take the bottle in which the milk was?—No. Defendant took it away. Witness said he took the sample in accordance with the regulations and had it divided into three parts; one for analysis one for the vendor and one was retained. Mr. Farrell having quoted the law on the taking of samples, asked witness if he knew the bottle was shaken first and he said he did not.

Did Mr. Curran tell you subsequently he did not shake the bottle?—Yes. Did he say the cause of the trouble was that he put all the cream into one of the bottles (the first one) and the rest into the other two. Mr. Troy—Did you get your sample analysed? Witness—I told him shake the bottle and I could not say if the cream was at the top or bottom of the bottle.

To Mr. Hally, witness said it was the second time Mr. Curran came in that he said the bottle was not shaken. Mr. Farrell said he had no case to meet as the sample was not properly taken. It was the first time a sample was taken from Mr. Curran and he thought all three bottles would be sent away. The bottle containing the cream was not sent at all. Mr. Troy—You can have that analysed.

Mr. Farrell—The sample was unfairly taken and a stir was cast on this milk which was not justified. In this case when the bottle was not shaken all the rich milk was on top. Ed. Curran, in reply to Mr. Farrell said he was a brother of the defendant. He was in charge of the bottling apparatus. They had 35 cows and 30 were milking at this time. Three had calved a few days before and in the previous 3 weeks 16 or 18 calved. His three brothers milked the cows. They milked that morning about 31 gallons from the cows. The cows are milked in half-covered cans to prevent dirt and then the milk is poured into a can over the cooler and thence to the bottling machine. Witness bottled the milk that day. About 4 to 5 gallons was not bottled that morning. The milking was completed an hour before the delivery began. The milk-fat will rise almost immediately in the bottle as can be seen through the glass.

On the application of Mr. Williams, solr., Mrs. Monahan, Ocean View Hotel, was granted an occasional license for January, 23rd, for the Literary Club dance.

ENJOYABLE DANCE AT CAPPAGH.

Organised by Mr. O'Connor, Creamery Manager, Cappagh, assisted by a splendid Committee, including Messrs. J. Reynolds, M. Hickey, P. Collender, J. Flanagan, M. Casey and J. Killigrew, a grand dance was held in the New Hall, Cappagh, on Little Xmas Night, and the large and generous measure of support accorded the event was a great tribute to the organising powers of the above gentlemen. Despite the counter-attraction of a big all-night dance in the New Volunteers' Hall, Lismore, there was a remarkably large attendance of most of the best-known young ladies and gentlemen from all parts of West Waterford, and the fine gathering present constituted a record for the Cappagh Hall.

The Committee deserve high credit for the perfection and smoothness of all the arrangements, which were only in keeping with the admirable manner in which all previous dances in Cappagh have been conducted by them. The Hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion and the floor was in splendid condition for dancing, while a high-class programme of all the latest and best dance music, interspersed with many old-time waltzes and other popular numbers of a by-gone age, was provided by the Shamrock Dance Band, Rockfield, (Flanagan Bros.), augmented by two accomplished musicians from Dungarvan, so that the music was the best heard in Cappagh for several years.

The catering arrangements were in charge of a local Ladies' Committee, comprising the Misses K. Collender, M. E. Hickey, L. O'Donovan, M. O'Keefe, and Josephine Dunphy, who attended to the creature comforts of all in a manner which could not have been excelled, even at a city dance. Mr. P. Collender proved a capital M.C., and performed his duties with such rare tact and efficiency that, despite the unusually large attendance, there was not the slightest confusion or disorder at any period of the night, and dancing was continued with unabated vigour and enjoyment until 4.30 in the morning, when the members of the Committee were warmly thanked by all for having provided one of the most lively and successful social functions held in the Cappagh Hall for a long time.

CUMANN NA gCEILIDHE. A committee meeting of the above club was held in the Town Hall, on Tuesday night, 8th inst. Miss M. O'Callaghan, B.A., chairman, presided. Others present—Misses M. Neylon, N.T., A. O'Sullivan, N.T., Messrs. E. Hayes, Vice-Chairman, S. Delaney, N.T., Hon. Treasurer, C. Wall, N.T., Hon. Sec., J. O'Gorman, J. O'Higgins, N.T., M. Brennock, N.T. Various matters dealing with the organisation of the club were discussed. A resolution—"That we, the committee of Cumann na gCeilidhe, tender our deepest sympathy to our patron, Canon O'Brien, on the death of his brother," was unanimously passed. It was decided to hold a Ceilidhe on Friday night, 11th inst.—Conn de Val, Runaide.

IMPORTANT POST IN INDIA FOR CORNISH MUSICIAN. Mr. Benjamin Angwin, of St. Just, has just been offered and accepted the post of Director of Music at the Royal Lawrence Military College, Sinawar, in the Simla Hills, India. Mr. Angwin, who is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Angwin of Victoria Road, St. Just, was formerly a scholar of Penzance County School for boys, whence he went to the Royal College of Music London. After graduating Bachelor of Music at London University and being made an Associate of the Royal College of Music, he was last year appointed Director of Music at Brixham School. The Royal Lawrence Military College is the largest and oldest "white" school in India and Mr. Angwin is to be congratulated on his securing the Directorship of Music at the age of 23 years. Mr. Angwin is married to Miss Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lynch, Ballyduff, Dungarvan.

above stated that he could not give the site near the Co-Operative Society's premises for use as a dump. Mr. Spreadborough, Engineer, said that there was a waste space at the Lismore side of the bridge owned by Mr. Dunne. The Commissioner requested the Engineer to see Mr. Dunne with a view to acquiring the place for use as a dump. COLLECTORS EXPLAIN. The explanation as to the large amount of arrears of rent was received from two collectors, and was considered satisfactory. The Commissioner stated that the collectors were doing better now.

SECRETARY'S REPORT AND ESTIMATE.

The following report and estimate was submitted by the Secretary:—I beg to submit my estimate of the expenditure to be provided for in respect of year ending 31st March, 1925, the total amount being £13,854 against £14,020 last year or an increase of £1,944. Of the total sum required £13,604 is for repayment of loans and £2,250 for other expenditure as against £10,842 and £4,075 respectively in my estimate for the current year. It will, therefore, be seen that while other expenditure shows a reduction of £818. The amount required for repayment of loans has increased by £2,762. This increase is due to the interest payable on loans obtainable for the erection of cottages under the present scheme, as the entire amount of such interest for a period of two years after the date of the mortgage must be provided from the rates and the total amount included in the estimate for this purpose is £5,784. Expenditure under the Tuberculosis Acts shows an upward tendency, while there is a fairly substantial reduction under the head of separate charges. There will be increased revenue from the rents of the new cottages as they are completed. The estimate was adopted.

APPLICATION FOR WATER SUPPLY.

An application from the residents of Glenclair for an extension of the English water supply which was signed by about 20 residents, was before the meeting. Mr. Spreadborough, Engineer, estimated the cost of the extension at £1,102. The application was refused, the Commissioner stating that the Board would not be justified in expending a sum of £1,102 on the extension.

LETTING OF COTTAGES.

A man named Dower, single, and with no dependents, was the only applicant for a vacant cottage at Ballinroad (Old Parish). Called before the Commissioner, Dower said he was an agricultural labourer and worked with Mr. Mansfield. He had no dependents, but if appointed tenant he would furnish the house and get married. The Commissioner advised Dower to get married and said he would then have no difficulty in giving him the house. He could not let him that house at present as he had no dependents. An order was made to readvertise the cottage.

TINALIRA COTTAGE.

This cottage was let to Patk. Morrison, Abbeyside. There were four applicants. The Secretary said that no applications were received for four further cottages which were vacant. The Commissioner thought that the present practice of advertising the cottages by posters put up only in the district where the cottages happen to be was not effective and suggested that in future the cottages be advertised in the Press. An order to that effect was made.

LISMORE COURTHOUSE AND DANCING.

The Garda Supl. Lismore, wrote stating that the Courthouse, Lismore, was not licensed for dancing. The Secretary said that the County Council gave the license. It is not clear whether the owners or the persons holding the dances should apply for the license. The matter was referred to the Co. Council.

TRAMORE PUBLIC HEALTH.

Arising out of the minutes of the above the Secretary said that the permanent Secretary had some time ago got three months holidays and another man was doing temporary duty. The man doing temporary duty was not appointed by the Board. He (Secretary) always addressed his letter to the Chairman of the committee. The permanent Secretary to the committee resigned on November 13th. Commissioner—Did the Tramore committee appoint the temporary Secretary? Secretary—Yes; by resolution which was not approved by this Board. Secretary—If the temporary Secretary is to be paid he should be only paid as from November 13th the date of the permanent Secretary's resignation. The Commissioner said he would allow payment from that date.

KILMACHTHOMAS NEWS.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN DUNROW GENTLEMAN

One whom the people of these parts acclaimed as their most popular neighbour, Mr. James Walsh, farmer and licensed vintner, Durrow (Stradbally), died after a short illness, in his 73rd year, on Thursday of last week. A born humourist with an inexhaustible fund of wit and repartee, he brought from his boyhood days a spirit of light-heartedness that never deserted him. Because of this he never grew old, but carried through life this spirit of innocent humour and gaiety which sparkled even up to the very end. He seemed to solve life's problems with a new, but pleasant philosophy, and succeeded in making many friends, but never an enemy. Sprung from one of the oldest, wisest, connected and most highly-respected families in the Dese, he was an exemplary Catholic, a sound Nationalist, a practical, progressive agriculturist and business man, and his neighbours and friends testified to his unfeinting hospitality and cheerfulness. He was a true friend to the poor and needy and always assisted them gladly. The late Mr. Walsh was a sportsman to his finger-tips—he was a noted fowler and angler; an excellent judge of a horse and fearless rider to hounds, and, in his heyday, a footballer and all-round athlete of considerable merit. A well-read man, he was a brilliant conversationalist, and it was always a pleasure to be in his company. His demise leaves a blank, and his absence will be missed from the every-day associations of local life, into which he always brought a cheeriness that dissolved its darkest clouds in laughter. The sympathy of those close to his most estimable wife, his sister, and other relatives in their bereavement. At 3 o'clock on Friday evening, the remains were removed to the parish church, Stradbally. The accompanying cortege, which was headed by Very Rev. T. Murphy, P.P., Stradbally; Very Rev. M. Norris, P.P., St. Patrick's, Waterford; Rev. J. Hart, C.C., Fews, and Rev. P. O'Farrell, C.C., Stradbally, was a remarkably large and representative one. Office and High Mass of Requiem were offered up for the eternal repose of his soul on Saturday morning. Rev. P. O'Farrell, C.C., Stradbally, was celebrant of the Mass; deacon, Very Rev. J. Walsh, P.P., Ballyduff-Portlaw, sub-deacon, Rev. T. Aherne, C.C., Kill, Chanters—Rev. T. O'Shea, C.C., Stradbally and Rev. J. Parry, C.C., Kilrossanty. In the choir were—Very Rev. T. Murphy,

P.P., Stradbally; Very Rev. W. Kehoe, P.P., Kilrossanty; Very Rev. T. Galvin, P.P., Newtown, and Rev. J. Hally, C.C., Kilmachthomas. An enormous concourse of relatives, friends and sympathisers joined in the last response that asked for his eternal peace as he was subsequently laid to rest in the adjoining cemetery. The chief mourners were—Mrs. Walsh (wife); Mrs. Hassett (sister); Maurice, Michael Ned and Pat (brothers); Willie and Cuan Hassett, and Lar, Monnie and Michael Walsh (nephews); Mrs. Nellie Walsh (niece); Mrs. Ned Walsh and daughters; Mrs. Lar Walsh; Mr. and Mrs. Connington, Waterford; Mrs. and Miss Kirwan, Coolinahorna; Mr. Michael Halloran and daughter, Clashmore; Madge and Michl. Larunain, do.; Mrs. Sexton, Durrow; Mrs. Cummins, and family, Newtown; Mr. and Mrs. John Crotty and family, Leamybrien; Mr. A. Draper, Commercial Hotel, Dungarvan, etc.

NUMEROUS MASS CARDS AND LETTERS AND TELEGRAMS OF SYMPATHY WERE RECEIVED.

HISTORIC ACTIVITY AT LEAMYBRIEN

A packed house! masterly performances; rapt admiration; these, on Little Christmas Night, were the characteristic features of the unforgettable entertainment at Mr. John Crotty's Hall, Leamybrien, in aid of a most praiseworthy local purpose. The programme contained something for everybody save the real sensation-mongers and persons of a really poor taste. It is one thing to put down on a programme, say, "a scene from Oliver Twist" but it is quite another thing to perform it effectively. The recently formed Kilrossanty Amateur Dramatic Club, who performed the sparkling 3-act comedy "Trader Kiernan's Dilemma," really surprised the cultured audience. To speak of the great height of success which every episode attained would require a certain facility in the art of painting word-pictures—a display more ample than we dare attempt to give. Suffice it to state that the following named talented young ladies and gentlemen played their respective parts in a most highly commendable manner: Miss Margaret, Hayes (Trader Kiernan's daughter); Miss Hannah Power (Trader Kiernan's wife); Miss Madge Power (Trader Kiernan's assistant); Mr. John Drohan (in title role); Mr. Maurice Dee (Bank Official); Mr. Peter O'Connor (Butcher); and Mr. Joseph Blevins (Shoemaker). Clear enunciation, distinct articulation, and true to life movements and gestures were the distinguishing features of their doings. The comedy was indeed well staged and the acting of the cast of seven-named, was excellent. And concert-goers who like something worth seeing in the way of plays and slating of them will be glad to know that the piece will (by special request) be repeated in Mr. Crotty's Hall on to-morrow Sunday night, augmented by a select concertial card. Mr. Patrick Cullinan acted as stage-manager. A concert programme supporting the play last Sunday night was opened by Mrs. J. J. Maher, the well-known Kilmachthomas contralto, who received a rousing ovation for her singing of "passed by your window," and, as an encore, "The Lost Rose of Summer." This gifted artiste played her own accompaniment on the piano. Mr. Berchmans ("Berky") Power, of Graigursh, is a universally popular tenor alto, and he was vociferously applauded for his beautiful rendition of "The Rose of Tralee" and "Mother Machree," for which items, his sister, Miss E. Power played the accompaniments. Miss B. Conway, Clarkestown, Grange, and Miss Margaret Hayes, Leamybrien, tripped out a double in faultless fashion, and were cheered to the echo for their fine number. Miss Kitty Morrissey, Leamybrien (recently returned from New York City), and Mr. Jerry Halpin, of Durrow, danced a double-jig to the proverbial veins of nicety, and fairly took the house by storm. Mr. Halpin reappeared, and executed a hornpipe in imitable style. Miss M. Brennan (Feis Gold Medalist, Kilkenny City) gave a truly magnificent exhibition of Irish step-dancing, including "The Blackbird" (hornpipe), which readily gained her the hearty plaudits of the audience. Mr. John Drohan, Kilrossanty, is a tenor of outstanding merit, and he impressed the hearts of the assembly by his delightful delivery of "Bonnie Mary of Argyll" and "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," being warmly applauded for his efforts. Mr. Thomas Norris, the gifted Ballyvoile violinist, played for the step-dancers with his usual ability. The musical part of the programme was simply catchy. The graceful and rhythmic movements of the dancers, and the clear and sweet-toned voices of the singers were greatly collateral with all that contributed to the success of the entire entertainment. Mr. John Parke, Leamybrien, Garda Station, proved himself an M.C. par excellence. The costumes of the Kilrossanty Amateur Players were a capital feature of the comedy. The stage (erected by Mr. Denis Mullins, Ross) was brilliantly lighted and admirably arranged in every detail. At the close of the night's captivating card, a deservedly-esteemed member of the promoting committee, thanked the audience for their attendance in such large numbers, and the various artistes for their splendid performances. The speaker voiced the committee's special gratitude to the local Gardai (under Sergt. O'Shea) for their valuable assistance; to Mr. and Mrs. Crotty, for the use of the hall and seating accommodation, and to Mrs. K. O'Donoghue, Merchant, Main street, Kilmachthomas, for her kindness in providing decorations for the stage gratis; also to Mrs. J. J. Maher, Kilmachthomas, whose help was deeply appreciated, and Mrs. M. Walsh, Ballingown, for use of piano.

KILROSSANTY CUMANN, F.F.

Mr. Michael Keating, presided at the annual meeting of the above, and the attendance showed a marked increase over last year. Mr. Thomas J. Power, P.C., Hon. Sees., said that during the year a move had been made by the Cumann to have the turf and afforestation schemes developed in the district. The turf areas in the Currawan and Comeragh Mountains have been inspected and a grant from the Department of Industry and Commerce is being spent in having a road made to the Comeragh Bog. The Department has also promised to have a road constructed from the top of the Mama Road to the Currawan Bog in time for the next turf season. During the past couple of weeks an Inspector from the Department of Forestry has examined a large area in the district and he is favourably impressed with the lands offered for planting. He sincerely hoped that during the coming year all those who are now unemployed in the district would be fully occupied with the development of these turf and afforestation schemes. He paid a tribute to the "Irish Press," and stated that it has not only curbed the evil effects of British influences in this country, but it has created a higher standard of Nationality amongst the Irish people generally. He appealed to the meeting to give it their fullest support.

The following officers and committee were appointed for the coming year: President—Mr. Michael Keating; Vice-President—Mr. Sean Kirwan; joint hon. treasurers—Messrs. James Brown and Thomas O'Donnell; hon. secretary—Mr. Thomas J. Power, P.C. Committee—Messrs. Michael Brown, Michael Coffey, Sonny Donovan, John Dalton, J. Walsh, and John Drohan. Delegates to Comhairle—John Dalton, Patrick Donovan and Eddie O'Donnell.

Christmas to "Liffle" Christmas, for which happy feature all sections of our community feel deeply thankful. It would be too much to expect, perhaps, that the political discords which have sundered brother Irishmen in recent years, will utterly and completely vanish during the present annum. All good Christian Gaels will hope, however, to find a cessation to some extent of the bitterness and asperities associated with party strife in An Saorstát during the past decade or so.

DR. RYAN'S ADVICE TO FARMERS

Speaking at Wexford on Sunday, Dr. Ryan, in dealing with the Government's difficulties since they came into office, said they had been faced with continuous economic pressure from Britain, with unscrupulous tactics from the Opposition on the right, and with senseless obstruction from the left. In spite of that they had succeeded in cutting many of the bonds that tied them to the Empire.

While he knew that the people were anxiously expecting them to cut the last cable, they must remember that it was the Government that had the responsibility for the moment.

Before taking the last step they must be sure of one thing, that was that they could maintain the freedom that so many generations, including our own had fought to achieve.

Since they took up office great progress had been made in building up their industries, and every year they were becoming more self-sufficient in agriculture. This year they expected to grow eight or nine times as much wheat as they did in 1931 and four times as much beef.

They would produce more than 80 p.c. of their requirements of sugar, and if they still had to import huge quantities of wheat they at least could claim that they were having that wheat milled by Irish millers and that they no longer went to the bakers of Belfast to make bread for them.

When at the end of 1933 the Opposition asked who was going to take this country's barley and oats since they lost the British market, he had advised the farmers strongly to keep their barley and oats.

The few who had taken his advice got 100 p.c. more for it in the spring than those who sold on the advice of Fine Gael.

In dealing with the bacon trade, he said: "When the Dail reassembles I hope to have the new Bacon Bill placed before it. This Bill will have the effect of levelling up prices for pigs throughout the year."

sudden changes in price which are a feature of the pig market.

He mentioned that three days previously one factory was prepared to give 8s/6 for a 12 stone pig, while another was only offering 7s/-. Such anomalies at factories and fairs would be removed by the new Bill.

He could assure them that the Cattle Bill was not a dead letter. Its administration, particularly in securing the payment of minimum prices, had been handicapped severely by the fact that not one of the 120 inspectors they required was available until New Year's Day. These men are taking up duty now, and he asked the farmers to help them.

He was not much concerned now with exporters, because he had decided that the producers would get the licences for fat cattle in future. This time last year he advised farmers to hold stall-fed cattle as long as possible, promising that a market would be found for them all before the end of the season. At that time the leaders of Fine Gael were inquiring what was to become of their 58 p.c. surplus. A number of farmers listened to Fine Gael and sold their cattle at sacrifice prices.

Perhaps after that experience they would take his advice now to hold their cattle until they got the minimum price.

With the very substantial increase in home consumption added to the cattle required for free beef, and with the increase in the export quotas, they would find a market for all their cattle.

He added: "I want to make myself perfectly clear on the cattle question. I have said that we shall find a market for our cattle in time, and there is no necessity for panic. There is, however every necessity for caution."

"Any increase in cattle production would be ruinous. To maintain our present production is a doubtful economic proposition, certainly risky, and, therefore, not desirable.

"Less cattle would create a better demand, and would remove grave difficulties in future in case it suits British policy to reduce our quota."

"We have not altered our intention to proceed with schemes for the conversion of old cows into meat meal; for the manufacture of meat extracts and tinned beef; for the supply of free or cheap beef to certain classes, and, above all, for the encouraging of veal consumption by offering a liberal export bounty on calf skins."

The Minister added that while he issued a special warning against over-production of cattle, he might also include other agricultural products.

ABOUT BOUNTIES—

In the matter of Government bounties for agricultural produce, general complaint has been voiced, and with justification, too, that these bounties have not reached the pockets of the producers. This unfair system should be ended as early as possible, in justice to producers and consumers alike, for it is clearly not meet and just that one section of the community should be permitted to grow rich at the expense of the general mass of our people.

I.R.A. and the Republic in Congress

CONDENSED BY MOST REV. DR. KINANE.

A WEIGHTY PRONOUNCEMENT

Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, Bishop of Waterford, arising out of the dismissal of a local teacher, made an important pronouncement in the Cathedral, Waterford, on Sunday, with regard to the Republican Congress and the I.R.A.

Addressing a large congregation in the Cathedral, Waterford, Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, said:—"The event which is the occasion of my addressing you to-day is the termination of a teacher's appointment in the Christian Brothers' School, Mount Sion. I understand there is a certain amount of sympathy for this teacher in the City, that resolutions in his favour have been passed by certain bodies, and there is an agitation on foot to secure his continuance in the position.

"These facts have brought home to me the necessity for an authoritative statement from me on this matter, and for authoritative teaching on certain other matters connected with it."

Having referred to the teaching authority of the Bishops, his Lordship proceeded:—"I have given this matter careful study and much thought, and I have exhausted all natural means at my disposal to arrive at the truth. I wish, however, to state that I am not speaking to you merely as theologian or canonist; I am speaking to you principally as your Divinely-constituted teacher in Faith and morals, and I intend, whatever teaching my address contains to have all the authority and binding force which can be derived from the sacred office which I hold.

"The Superior of the Christian Brothers' School, Mount Sion, consulted me before issuing the notice terminating the services of the teacher in question. He informed me that this teacher, despite public warning, twice issued by his parish priest and co-manager of his school, attended the Republican Congress, and took an active part in its discussions.

"This fact was published in the Press and is admitted by the teacher himself. Now the principles and aims of the Republican Congress movement are opposed to the teaching of the Church. Its principles are Socialistic and Communistic. It aims at setting up a Socialist Republic, evidently on the Russian model, for one class in society whom, in approved phraseology, it styles 'workers and working farmers,' and one of its weapons for achieving this end is class hatred and class-warfare.

"Evidently one who belongs to a movement of this kind is unfit to be a teacher of Catholic children. The most appropriate course, in the circumstances, would have been instant dismissal. A spirit of leniency and a desire to recall the teacher from the error of his ways, however, prevailed. Instead of instant dismissal, with my approval, notice terminating his appointment after a period of three months was issued.

"This desire, however, which dictated this procedure has not been fulfilled; the spirit of leniency has not borne fruit. During the past week, having invited this teacher to come before me in my official capacity as bishop of the diocese, I explained to him the opposition between the principles of the Republican Congress movement and the teaching of the Church, and I told him of his own grave obligations in the matter.

"I then asked him to sign the undertaking, which would be made public, to disassociate himself from the movement, and not to join any similar movement in future. Whilst I urged him to sign the undertaking principally because of his duty as a Catholic and for the welfare of his immortal soul, I at the same time, promised if he did sign it I should recommend him for employment to the Christian Brothers, and I gave him an assurance that my recommendation would be accepted. He refused to sign the undertaking.

"I need not enter into whatever other considerations may have had weight in this matter. If there were any, the one just explained is the only one that concerned me, and it is vital. One who associates oneself with the Republican Congress movement is not a fit and proper person to teach Catholic children. It is hardly necessary for me now to state that it would be sinful to try to prevent the action of the manager of the Christian Brothers Schools, Mount Sion, from becoming effective or to cause him or anybody else inconvenience on account of it.

"I know the great faith of the people of this City and their respectful and dutiful attitude towards ecclesiastical authority. They have been a constant source of edification to me since my appointment. Now when the good Catholics of this city are aware of the vital religious issues at stake, I am confident that whatever little agitation has been afoot will immediately cease.

"This agitation and the ignorance from which it has arisen have taught me the need for some further authoritative instruction on cognate points.

"I have said practically enough on the Republican Congress movement. Evidently it is gravely sinful for any Catholic to belong to it or assist it notably in any way whatsoever. I warn legitimate Labour unions against its machinations, and those of similar Socialistic Communistic bodies.

patriotic complexion and in this way to deceive the unwary, and one of their tactics is to penetrate the legitimate unions in order to stir up trouble between workmen and their employers. When class warfare has been aroused, when the great Christian virtue of charity has been set aside, then Socialism and Communism have a congenial atmosphere in which to work and spread their virus.

"I exhort, with all the earnestness of which I am capable, workmen and their unions, on the one hand, and employers and their associations, on the other, to be guided in their mutual relations by the two great Christian virtues of justice and charity. If they are so guided, if they regard each other not as enemies, but as what they really are, brothers in Christ and children of the same Heavenly Father, then the chief obstacles which stand in the way to adjusting whatever differences may arise between them will be removed.

"I must say a word or two upon another body, namely the body which styles itself the Irish Republican Army. In October, 1931, the Archbishop and Bishops of Ireland issued a joint Pastoral which contains the following:-

"You have no need to be told that there is in active operation amongst us a Society of a militarist character whose avowed object it is to overthrow the State by force of arms. In pursuit of this aim they arrogate to themselves the right to terrorise public officials and conscientious jury men, to intimidate decent citizens into silence or acquiescence, and even to take life itself. Such methods and principles of action are in direct opposition to the law of God, and come clearly under the definite condemnation of the Catholic Church."

"The Pastoral further states that this Society is sinful and irreligious and that no Catholic can lawfully be a member of it. Although the Society named in the Pastoral there is no doubt whatever, that the I.R.A. is intended. This has been the universal interpretation and, moreover, there was no other Society of the kind described, in existence in Ireland at the time, a fact which the Pastoral assumes to be well-known. That condemnation still continues.

"Since 1931, however, a further and even more important reason for the condemnation of the I.R.A. has emerged from its official statements, and from declarations of its responsible leaders. From the published Constitution of the Republic which it envisages it is evident that this Republic is to be a Socialist one on the Russian model in which again only one class in society is to be represented—the workers and the working farmers.

"In fact, as far as its ultimate aims are concerned, there seems to be no practical difference between it and the Republican Congress movement.

"It is, however, far more dangerous than the latter because there is a certain patriotic glamour attached to its name. The vast majority of its adherents do not recognise that whilst the name remains the same the Republic at which the I.R.A. originally aimed has been abandoned, and one based on the Russian model put in its place.

"I declare, with even stronger reason than the Irish Hierarchy had in 1931, that the I.R.A. is a sinful and irreligious society; that it is a mortal sin for a Catholic to belong to it; that it is a mortal sin for any Catholic to assist it or co-operate with it in any notable way; that it is a mortal sin for any Catholic to belong to any other society which has the same aims and aims."

"I exhort the young men to be on their guard against it. By joining it or by remaining members of it not only are they putting themselves in opposition to the Church's teaching and imperilling the salvation of their immortal souls, they are also cutting themselves off from all that is best and most glorious in the historic past of their native land, and they are preparing for her, should the I.R.A. aims ever be realised, woes greater than any she experienced even in the darkest days of persecution.

"One of the means used to foster agitation in favour of the teacher with whose case I have dealt is the assertion that he was being deprived of his position, not for any religious reason, but because of his Republican principles. Hence a brief comment on the terms Republic and Republican is called for.

"A Republic, in the traditional accepted sense of the term, in which all classes in society are represented and have their rights, is a perfectly legitimate form of government, and the principles upon which it is based are in complete accord with God's law. That, as I understand it, is the form of Republic at which one of our political parties is aiming. Needless to say, Republican principles of this kind had nothing whatever to do with this case.

"A Socialist Republic, however, is not a legitimate form of government, and one who professes the principles upon which it is based, by that very fact, puts himself in opposition to God's law and to the teaching of His Church.

"I have stated my teaching plainly I think, and rather bluntly. Some perhaps, would say too bluntly. I have been led to do so because of the fear of misconception and on account of the tendency that there is to shelter behind the slightest ambiguity, not through any desire to repel those who have wandered from the paths of truth and salvation. On the contrary, for these I have the tenderest solicitude, knowing especially as I do that many of them are in their present position not through malice, but through want of appreciation of the issues involved.

"And I invite them most earnestly and most cordially to return to that obedience from which they have departed. Only by doing so can they secure the happiness not merely of themselves, but also of that land which is so dear to us all."

GUIRY—(First Anniversary)—In loving memory of John Guiry, Dro-more, who died January 8th, 1924.—R.I.P. Sacred Heart of Jesus have Mercy on his soul. Masses offered. Inserted by his wife, son and daughters.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

CLERICAL CHANGES.—Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, Bishop of Waterford, has made the following clerical changes in the Diocese.—Very Rev. J. Nugent, P.P., Ring, to be P.P., Clonca and Rathgormack in succession to Rev. R. Meskill, P.P., deceased. Rev. E. English, C.C., Ballylooby, to be P.P., Ring; Rev. J. McGrath, C.C., Ballyduff, to be C.C., Ballylooby; Rev. T. Wall, to be C.C., Ballyduff.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.—The committee of the local branch of the above society, desire to thank all who so generously contributed to their monthly collections at the Church gates. The usual monthly collection will be held on Sunday next, 13th inst. Help us to help the poor. The smallest donations are welcome.

CUMANN NA gCEILIDHE.—A Ceilidhe will be held in the Town Hall, on Friday night, 11th inst. A full attendance of members is requested.

POPULAR PROFESSOR BEREAVED.—His numerous Dungarvan friends extend to Mr. M. H. O'Hara, the popular Professor at St. Augustine's Seminary, their deepest sympathy on the death of his father, which occurred in Co. Sligo, last week.

DEATH OF MR. D. V. STOKES, DUNGARVAN.—We regret to announce the death of Mr. Daniel V. Stokes, O'Connell St., Dungarvan, which occurred on Sunday after a long illness borne with Christian resignation and fortified by the rites of the Church.

The deceased was a member of a well known and highly respected Dungarvan family. He was a well known builder and contractor, and also carried on an extensive licensed business. In his day he carried out several large building contracts with the utmost efficiency. Possessed of a kind and genial disposition with a rich sense of humour, the deceased was a most entertaining personality, and in his younger days his services were much sought after as a vocalist and high-class comedian. With all sections of the community he was most popular, and his death is deeply regretted by all who knew him and appreciated his worth. He was brother of Very Rev. John Stokes, Def. O.S.A., Hoxton, London, and of Mr. P. J. Stokes, Manager M. & L. Bank, Dublin. His bereaved wife and family, brothers and sisters have the deep sympathy of all in their sorrow.—R.I.P.

On Monday evening the remains were removed to the Parish Church, and were followed by a very large and imposing cortege. The remains were received by Very Rev. Fr. Farragher, Prior, O.S.A.; Very Rev. T. Conlon, O.S.A.; New Ross and Rev. M. Foley, O.S.A. On Tuesday the interment took place in the family burial ground adjoining in the presence of his family, relatives, friends and a large attendance of the general public. The last prayers were recited by Rev. T. Walsh, C.C.

SYMPATHY.—At a special meeting of the Dungarvan Literary Club, resolutions were passed with Mr. J. C. Keohan, Main street, and Messrs. W. and G. Stokes, Squares, on their recent bereavements. The meeting adjourned as a tribute to the memory of the deceased.

DEATH OF MR. PATRICK CURRAN, BALLYGURRY.—We regret to announce the death of Mr. Patrick Curran, Ballygurry, which occurred at his residence on Sunday last fortified by the rites of the Church.

The deceased was an extensive and practical farmer who was held in the highest esteem by his friends and neighbours. He was kind and charitable and always doing good turns. A sound Irishman with broad views on all matters carried much weight. His death is deeply regretted and sincere sympathy is extended to his family and friends in their bereavement.—R.I.P.

On Monday the remains were removed to Kilgobinet Parish Church, and were followed by a large and representative cortege. On Tuesday after Requiem Masses for the repose of his soul the interment took place in the adjoining graveyard.

FANCY DRESS BALL IN DUNGARVAN.—The Fancy Dress Ball in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Wednesday night in aid of a charitable purpose, was one of the most successful functions ever held. Over 200 couples drawn from far and near attended, 80 per cent. of the dancers being in fancy dress. The hall was beautifully decorated for the event. Excellent music was supplied by Harry McCarthy's Orchestra and a rare night's enjoyment was had by all. Special prizes were presented for the most original costumes—Ladies or Gent's (2) for the most topical and comical costumes and (3) for the most elaborate costumes. So elaborate were the costumes that it was a matter of much difficulty for the Judges to make their awards, but in giving pride of place for the most original costume to Mrs. and Mrs. Bulfin, Abbeyside, they had an easy task. The "Sour Baby" delineated by Mrs. Bulfin in her gown adorned with feeding bottle, etc., and carefully attended by her "nurse" Mr. J. Bulfin, in full nursing regalia and who catered for her baby wants in the most orthodox style, was an easy first, and won the applause of all present. "Bride and Bridegroom" represented by Miss Queally, Mary street and Miss Buckley, Michael street, were awarded second prize.

For the most topical and comical costumes—Mrs. C. McCarthy, N.T., Abbeyside, as "Burn More Turf" was first in the ladies class and Masters Queally as Gaybricks were awarded second place.

For the most elaborate costume A. O'Shea, Abbeyside and E. Keyes, Main street, tied for first place. For the most elaborate costumes, Miss Queally, O'Connell street and Miss Nancy Christopher, Church street, as "Night" tied for 3rd place.

A special prize was awarded to Mrs. Morrissey, Hermitage, for her personification of a bag of potatoes (Abundance). A dancer in the guise of a sweep was awarded a consolation prize.

It was one of the most enjoyable dances ever held and all went home delighted with themselves and with everybody else.

Mr. J. A. Mooney, made a most efficient M.C.

GOLF DANCE.—

A dance under the auspices of the Dungarvan Golf Club will be held at Ocean View Hotel, on February 4th. (Circuit Court week). Full details later.

CONCERT AT BALLYMACARBRY.—

A grand Concert in aid of Parochial Funds will be held in the Old Mill, Ballymacarbry, on next Sunday night, 13th inst. All the leading artists in the district and outside it will contribute items on the occasion and make the event the best ever held at the Old Mill. A Drawing of Prizes will also be held on the same occasion. No one should miss being present at this grand Concert which will eclipse anything yet seen, and as the object is a most deserving one we hope the support it will get will be worthy of the esteemed Pastor of the Parish—Very Rev. L. Egan.

PRIZE DRAWING.—

A grand drawing of prizes under the auspices of the Stephen street Social Club, was held in the Club Rooms on Sunday night, January 8th. Mr. Thos. F. Boyle, presided. The winning numbers and ticket holders are as follows:—1st prize £25 10s.—Miss Margaret Flynn, No. 1 Davis St., ticket No. 5. 2nd prize, £1 10s.—Miss Helen Walsh, St. Augustine's street, Dungarvan, ticket No. 702. 3rd prize £1.—Mr. Patrick Moroney, Kilgreany, Cappagh, ticket No. 474.

CO HOME TREAT.—

On January 6th., the Feast of the Epiphany, an entertainment was given to the inmates of St. Joseph's County Home, by the members of the Legion of Mary. The programme consisted of a concert and farce followed by a tea. Towards the concert local artists generously contributed with music, songs and dances, the orchestra rendering not a few beautiful items. Mr. Frank X. O'Leary's Dramatic Company from Cappoquin staged a farce entitled "High Finance" which appealed to all in suitability of theme and wealth of wit. As the curtain fell all joined in singing "Faith of Our Fathers."

Canon O'Brien, then addressed the audience and on their behalf thanked the Legion for the enjoyable evening they had spent. He said it had been a great work of charity bringing as it did some of the festive spirit of Christmas in among those people less fortunate than ourselves.

All then adjourned to the dining hall. Here, when a most sumptuous tea had been partaken of, the opening chorals of the National Anthem were played and with no small volume the guests chorused the grand finale.

The Legion of Mary avail themselves of this opportunity of thanking all those who contributed towards the success of the entertainment, to the Mastron and Sisters of the Co. Home, to all those who took part in the concert and farce, to the subscribers and to all those who so generously sent cakes, fruit, sweets, etc. All that was required for such an unprecedented feast.

PORTLAW FARMERS VISITED.—

After a lapse in his activities, Mr. English, assistant to the County Waterford Registrar, accompanied by his usual escort of bailiffs and Garda, visited the Portlaw area of County Waterford this week at an early hour. He made visits to several farmers, but it is understood, that payments were forthcoming, and, consequently, no seizures were made. No untoward incidents characterised his activities.

LOCAL BROADCASTER.—

Deuglan Supple, Grange, the well-known and popular Deise singer will broadcast a number of Irish songs from 2 P.M. on Friday January, 11th, at 9.45 p.m. A great tribute has been paid to his talent by the London Gaelic League, who have engaged him to sing at their Annual Concert in the Queen's Hall, London, on St. Patrick's Night.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

CAPPOQUIN RACES.—

An important meeting of the Cappoquin race committee will be held on Saturday, 12th inst., at 9 p.m. A full attendance is requested.

DENSE FOG.—

A dense fog hung over Cappoquin on Wednesday night making it very difficult to travel out of doors. Motorists and cyclists found it almost impossible to travel.

45 DRIVE.—

A Monster 45 Drive with £12 for the first pair; £6 for the second and £4 for the third pair, has been started by the Cappoquin Rowing Club to raise funds for the Club. It is anticipated the Drive will be a great success.

A DANGEROUS NUISANCE.—

It is had enough to have hawkers from Cork to Timbuctoo coming to Cappoquin on every Fair Day and in-juring the trade of the local business people, without making the town a veritable "Dump" for their refuse when they take their departure.

On the evening of last week's fair the condition of the streets in the vicinity of the Square, where the hawkers had "pitched their tents" that day, presented a most disgusting appearance. Rotten onions, apples, oranges and other kinds of "fotsam and jetsam" were strewn about everywhere and it was dangerous to walk along this part of the town, while the offensive odour was such that few persons could stand. Who is responsible for permitting this dangerous nuisance on the public street, or when will the necessary steps be taken to abate it?

A WRETCHED FAIR.—

The January Fair in Cappoquin was miserable. Practically no buyers attended and little business was done.

PRICE OF PIGS.—

The price of fat pigs at the Cappoquin Bacon Factory this week was 4s/ per cwt. dead weight.

GOOD RUNS WITH THE WEST WATERFORD HOUNDS.

On New Year's Day hounds met in Aghish, and after drawing Dromore blank they found a fox in Coonen, on the banks of the Blackwater. Leaving the covert at once hounds ran fast by Tinniscart to Slieven, across the Cappoquin road at Clashmore, and through Mr. Curran's place, to Glen Lickey. But turning right-handed by Laurentium they ran on to Ballycroppane, where hounds marked to ground. This was a fast run of three-quarters of an hour and a point of four and a half miles.

On Friday they met at Modeligo, and after drawing the gorse blank we went on to the covert at Soldier's Cross. Here a fox jumped up and hounds were entering the bog, and went away with the leading hounds on his brush. They ran very fast towards Ballykerin, and turning right-handed near Garryduff crossed the main Clommel-Dungarvan road, near Knockenpower, and after running parallel with the road for about a mile hounds marked their fox to ground in a shore. Fenton's was the next draw, and leaving the covert on the eastern side, they ran as if for Lackendarra, but turning right-handed just short of the main road went on almost to Brett's, but before reaching the covert they again bore to the right, and after running through the top of Killeagh to Sleepy Rock, he got to ground in Fenton's. This good hunt of forty minutes finished an excellent day's hunting.

It is worthy of note that of the nine days this season on which hounds have met on this side of the country, eight have provided exceptionally good sport.

NEW COMPANIES IN FREE STATE.

220 REGISTERED DURING 1933

A total of 229 new companies were registered in the Free State in 1933, according to the annual report under the Companies Acts issued by the Department of Industry and Commerce.

Thirty-five companies were dissolved during the year and 26 were struck off the register. The number of companies on the register at the end of the year was 2,141.

Of the new companies 225 were in the limited class, with a nominal capital of £8,330,000, the paid up capital being £217,155. Two companies in the unlimited class have a nominal capital of £107,000, whilst two others were registered without capital, but were limited by guarantee.

The number of private companies registered during the year was 224. There are in the Statist 1,861 private companies.

The number of limited and unlimited companies registered in 1934 was 247, an increase of 20 on the previous year.

Dairy Shorthorn Breeders

ANNUAL CONGRESS

The Annual Congress this year was held in Clonmel and the attendance was good.

The Duchess of St. Albans, president.

The report of the Executive Committee, which was adopted, stated that members of the Cow-testing Association had been put to a severe test during the past year owing to the unexpected and enormous depreciation in the value of their cattle.

So far, however, the report proceeded, they had not been disheartened, and the work went on with virtually the same number of cows on test that they had a year ago.

They were fully alive to the fact that the country was undergoing a great social and economic revolution. They realised that inevitably such a revolution would bring gains to some sections of the community and losses to other sections. They realised, too, that a decent livelihood must be obtained for an increasing population.

The Society was prepared to march with the times and do its share to build the country on sound, practical lines, but they maintained they were entitled to demand that all the care and attention, all the money and time spent in developing dairy cattle must not have been in vain.

"Our demand is, briefly," it was stated, "that there shall be not only no lessening of official activity concerning cattle improvement schemes, but that the cow-testing movement shall be encouraged and fostered, that it shall be so encouraged and fostered that it may become a great national movement—better, a great national industry."

The dairy cow was the most economical producer of human food in the world, and dairying was always regarded as our chief native industry.

They trusted that no revolution, social or economical, would ever lower the status of that industry, or tend to diminish the standard to which the cow-testing movement had raised our dairy cattle.

After many years' experience it had been proved that low yielding, un-economic and unhealthy cows were a source of immense loss to farmers year after year, and that they were a very definite barrier to national progress.

Mr. McElligott, Listowel, moved resolutions urging steps by the Government to deal with tubercular and surplus cattle, and calling for the immediate opening of Roscrea factory and an additional canned meat factory.

Mr. McElligott said there were over 4,000,000 cattle in the country as against 3,000,000 people. They had, he said, been legislated into a prairie and made like cowboys.

The pagan and modern way was to destroy the surplus, and he submitted they should use the Christian way of using what was sound and destroying what was diseased.

The extent of tuberculous in cows ranged from 15 to 20 per cent. He suggested that a conference on the matters raised be sought with the Department of Agriculture.

Mr. E. Cussen, Cork, seconding, said that unless a special market was created, dairy farmers would eventually have nothing left on hand but redundant cattle, because they would be compelled for want of capacity to dispose of saleable cattle in normal markets.

He did not think it was wise to kill off a large proportion of young calves, as it would strike at the foundation of the cattle population and deliberately leave unsaleable cattle in unduly high proportions.

He was satisfied that the milk consumption would be far greater were it not for alarms concerning the dangers of infected milk. He was sure the Minister for Agriculture would not reject the resolutions.

Mr. R. R. Pierce, V.S., Listowel, said tuberculous was rampant in the dairy herds of Ireland and was waging a deadly warfare against milk producers. Almost every milch cow he pronounced tubercular was the best cow the owner had.

Tuberculous was lowering the value of our live stock by deaths, unhealthiness, loss in production, loss in milk, and condemnation of carcasses for human consumption. Tuberculous was more prevalent in milch cows than in any other bovine animal, and it seemed on the increase in dairy herds. It was a menace to public health and caused heavy losses to the pig industry.

In the human subject bovine tuberculous was responsible for 70 per cent. of cases of tuberculous in children under 17 years of age in Britain. There were no figures for the Free State, but it could be taken for granted that the toll was just as heavy here.

The resolutions were adopted, and it was agreed to send a deputation to the Department of Agriculture concerning the matter.

Alderman E. V. White, Mayor of Clonmel, welcoming the delegates, hoped that the deliberations would be of mutual benefit.

The Duchess of St. Albans appealed to delegates to abstain from introducing any matters of a political nature. The Congress was of a purely business nature for the purpose of fostering one of their oldest and most valued national industries.

Mr. D. C. Maher, B.A., Cashel, moving the adoption of the report said that it was as optimistic as they would wish it to be, and in that connection they should face the facts. The Society had been carried on under great difficulties, and it was not a healthy sign that their funds were decreasing.

A balance of £100 at the bank at the close of the previous year had been reduced to a balance in hands of £12 odd.

A Society which had done so much and was determined to do what it could for the dairying industry should get more support. The Government had not given the Society the support it deserved, and a grant of £50 made in former years had been cut off.

The dairy cow had been the most stable asset of the farming industry, but conditions were not so flourishing at present. They hoped that greater support would be given to a society which had raised the milk yields of the dairy herds under tests by nearly 200 gallons of milk per year per animal. It was only by continuing such work that the dairy herds could again be made an economic proposition.

Mr. D. P. Forde, B.L., Cork, seconded, and the report and statement of accounts were adopted.

A resolution calling on the Government to consider the subsidisation of winter dairying was adopted, on the motion of Mr. M. Farrell, Cashel, seconded by Mr. D. C. Maher.

Another resolution, moved by Mr. Farrell, and seconded by Mr. W. Hughes, Dublin, requested that where a farmer had paid part of his rates and was making a genuine effort to pay the balance he should not be debarred from the benefit of various Department schemes.

"There is no more perfect or wholesome food for growing boys and girls than wheat, and even without the Cereals Act there is no reason why the farmer should not at least grow sufficient for his own use."

Mr. T. O'Connell, chief inspector of the Department of Agriculture, made the foregoing statement in a talk on "Wheat Growing" to the Congress.

There were very few crops about which so little was known as wheat, Mr. O'Connell proceeded. It was regarded as something about which there was an unknown risk. That should not be so, having regard to the centuries' old association of wheat with the country.

In the '40's approximately 670,000 acres were grown, but the amount had declined in 1930 to 21,000 acres.

It was quite obvious, in view of the steps taken in other countries, that it was only a matter of time until the Free State did something to produce a home wheat supply.

In that connection the Agricultural Produce Cereals Act was introduced in 1932, and in that season, although growers were not sure of what the terms would be, the area under wheat increased by 30,000 acres to 50,000 acres after the 1933 harvest.

The area was further increased in the past season to roughly 94,000 acres, and that with the exception of two years during the European War, brought them back to the position of 1882. Imports into the country of flour and wheat totalled 550,000 tons, and represented the cultivation, after making provision for seed wheat, of about 750,000 or 800,000 acres. At present they had only reached one-ninth of that amount.

As a result of the "grow more wheat" campaign, and despite bad weather over the past few months, the Department had no doubt that 150,000 acres of 100,000 acres would be grown in the coming season.

There was no doubt that they could grow wheat. A good deal of work was now being carried out to secure the production of a suitable spring wheat. The wheat yield was higher in Ireland than in most European countries. At a time when farmers everywhere were looking for markets the greatest incentive to grow wheat here was that we had a guaranteed market for it and a fairly decent price.

He thought there was no greater tragedy than the cessation of wheat growing by the farmer and the grinding of it at the local mill.

Mr. J. W. Browne, Chief Agricultural Officer, Clonmel, said they were degenerating as a race, because they were not as constitutionally fit as their grandfathers, and that was due to the elimination of wheat from this country.

Senator Baxter (Cavan), having congratulated Mr. O'Connell on his recent promotion, said Mr. O'Connell could tell them that some Continental countries had pursued wheat growing to such an extent that the land would give only five cwt. an acre there now.

The great tragedy here was the effort of the Government to encourage wheat growing side by side with the demoralisation of the cattle trade.

Wheat growing should stand on its own legs as a practical proposition. Wheat growing was a paying proposition now, but was it more profitable than cattle raising was five years ago or would be five years hence?

They had to consider psychological factors in wheat growing as in other matters. A farmer might use his own wheat, but he might find it difficult to persuade other members of his family to do the same. In some areas, farmers who used their own wheat were not getting the benefit of the subsidy.

Mr. J. Mason, Ardinnan, said wheat growing in the past had died the land to death in his area.

Mr. O'Connell, replying, said wheat was no more exhausting on land than any other crop. Land was exhausted in the past because it had not been properly treated.

Mr. T. Turpin, B.A., Sc., Albert Agricultural College, Glasnevin, in a paper on "The Limitations of the Inheritance of Milk Yield" said they must break away from the old one-sided type of pedigree and substitute a short extended one. The sire was equally important to transmit the capacity for high production to his daughters as was the dam to the daughters.

By careful selection of "line-bred" animals, descended from animals of outstanding merit, good qualities could be concentrated to the exclusion of any accumulation of constitutional weakness or other undesirable characters.

Mr. M. Farrell, Cashel, said most intelligent farmers believed that the introduction of dairy shorthorn had deteriorated our stock as store cattle.

Mr. Turpin, replying, said no research had been carried out in this country concerning milking inheritance. Was the raising of the milk yield within the past 25 years a sign of the deterioration of our animals?

Across the water the opinion was that the quality of our store cattle had increased considerably.

Mr. W. O'Callaghan, Lombardstown, said it was time to stop the antiquated method of entering pedigrees in catalogues. While good prices were paid for yearling bulls at various shows, from the dual purpose standpoint progress depended on the progeny tested bull.

Mr. P. Powell, Roscrea, said that beef bulls should be wiped off the map, with a few exceptions, and they should go in completely for dairying.

Mr. J. J. Galvin, Irish Sugar Co., gave a talk on "The Utilisation of Dairy Farmers of the By-Products of Sugar Beet."

Mr. E. J. Cussen, expressed disappointment at the small attendance. The people, he said, should maintain their interests in the Cow-testing Association and in the Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society.

The Duchess of St. Albans was elected President, Dr. P. J. Doyle (Offaly), Vice-President; Mr. P. J. Halliden was re-elected Hon. Secretary, and Mr. W. O'Callaghan, Hon. Treasurer.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; R. Savage, E. P. Lynch, T. Beausang, J. Daly, M. Cashman, J. Forrest, W. O'Sullivan, R. Power, D. McCarthy, T. K. Keane, solr., M. Ahearne, E. D. Condon, Capt. Watson, J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., R. C. Farrell, Vice-Chairman.

The Chairman—At this our first meeting for 1935, I wish you all a Happy New Year. Several members—Many Happy Returns.

The Sloblands Mr. Daly said he had made inquiries regarding the membership of the Sloblands Board, and he found that all the members were dead.

Clearance Orders A letter was read from Messrs. Hodnett, solrs., re Clearance Orders. They understood that two of the condemned houses were still occupied—one at Pender's Lane and one at Old Castle Lane.

Mr. Power said the notice at the Sloblands was in a very dangerous condition, and should be seen to at once. The Clerk was asked to inform the Land Commission.

Mr. Power proposed a similar vote to Mr. and Mrs. Torpey, on the sad death of their daughter, in the prime of her life, also with Miss Torpey.

Mr. Beausang, seconded, and other members asked to join in it. The Clerk, on behalf of the other officials and himself, expressed his association with both votes.

Mr. Power proposed a similar vote to Mr. and Mrs. Torpey, on the sad death of their daughter, in the prime of her life, also with Miss Torpey.

Mr. Beausang, seconded, and other members asked to join in it. The Clerk, on behalf of the other officials and himself, expressed his association with both votes.

Mr. Power proposed a similar vote to Mr. and Mrs. Torpey, on the sad death of their daughter, in the prime of her life, also with Miss Torpey.

Mr. Beausang, seconded, and other members asked to join in it. The Clerk, on behalf of the other officials and himself, expressed his association with both votes.

settled—thanks to President de Valera. Mr. Farrell, the ending of the Economic War, if it is really and definitely over—will be welcomed by everyone in the country with a sincere "Thank God," (hear, hear). It doesn't matter by whom it is settled.

Mr. Power—If not finally, it is the beginning of the end, and then we'll all shake hands, (hear, hear and laughter).

Mr. Lynch, seconded, and all the other members expressed their sincere association with the proposition.

The Chairman said that having laboured zealously many years amongst them, Father Roche had been well-known and beloved by all.

Mr. Power proposed a similar vote to Mr. and Mrs. Torpey, on the sad death of their daughter, in the prime of her life, also with Miss Torpey.

Battle All Disputes

SAYS MR. DILLON

Speaking on Sunday, Mr. J. M. Dillon, P.D., said Mr. de Valera and Mr. Connolly had faced round on their previous policy and concluded a bargain with Britain for allowing 150,000 extra cattle into England.

When Fine Gael, served a memorandum on Mr. de Valera sometime ago, Mr. de Valera replied that the matter was not worth discussing, yet two of the things they suggested had now been put into operation, and before they were finished he hoped that the third would be accepted.

His Party welcomed the agreement in order to secure a market for their people, but when they came to examine the agreement they had to pay now the British tariff on cattle going into Britain and the de Valera tariff on British coal coming into Ireland.

He welcomed the sign that the Fianna Fail Government was coming to realise that we have to get our market in Britain for our surplus agricultural produce, as it was on that market that the ultimate prosperity of the country depended.

He believed that once they had persuaded the present Government to walk along these lines, they were confident they would learn by their own mistakes and in subsequent agreements they might repair the shortcomings of the present agreement.

He suggested that Mr. de Valera should now take his courage in his hands and try to settle all outstanding difficulties, and the Irish people were entitled to expect from their Government that they would be able to secure the British market for their agricultural surplus without in any way jeopardising the future interests of their industrial development.

His Party would be only too glad to give any assistance they could in the making of further agreements, and did not want to make any cheap Party capital out of it. But they expected larger and more concrete results from future negotiations.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

ENJOYABLE FUNCTION AT YOUGHAL

The annual Christmas function, which was attended by the pupils, parents, and a large number of visitors, was held in South Abbey School, Youghal, on Wednesday.

The concert was opened with the pupils of the school, to which the following contributed—The Misses J. and S. Peters, S. McLean, B. Westbury, K. McLean, E. Smith and Masters V. and G. Kaye, W. Fowkes, W. Mathias, E. Edwards, G. Riey, A. Cole, A. Fowkes and W. Westbury.

A Christmas tree was provided for the children by Rev. F. Deacon, M.A., and Mrs. Deacon, and a large number of willing helpers. The delight of the children was sufficient recompense to the organisers for their untiring efforts.

Rev. F. Deacon thanked the pupils for the excellent treat provided, the parents and visitors for their kind co-operation, and in a special manner, their teacher, Miss D. Vance, for the labour, energy, and skill which he knew such a successful entertainment must have necessitated.

The school prizes were then distributed by Rev. F. Deacon, and a short dance brought a thoroughly successful function to a close.

DOG LICENCES BY INSTALMENT.

By "PHILOKON."

THE FIRST TEN THOUSAND

DOG LICENCES BY INSTALMENT.

By "PHILOKON."

AT the beginning of this year it was announced that the Tail-Waggers Club had inaugurated a scheme under which people could affix a two-penny stamp to a card weekly, and when the appropriate time came they would receive a licence for their dog.

It was realised that many found it extremely difficult to pay 7s. 6d. down on the first of January, especially in distressed areas. Under the method adopted there are spaces on the cards for fifty stamps.

It is not necessary to affix more than forty-five, but those who can afford it are asked to fill up the card and in this way contribute towards the cost, which is borne by the Club and is necessarily heavy.

Cards and stamps can be had from many retailers of dog foods and appliances, R.S.P.C.A. branches, and sub-post offices.

Nearly one thousand agents are now selling stamps, but that is not nearly sufficient to cover the whole of the country and it is hoped that next year many more will volunteer.

At least 3,000 are required. Up to the present more than 300,000 stamps have been sold and it is expected that as many as 10,000 licences will be issued on the first of January.

For a beginning this is wonderfully encouraging and is evidence of the need for such an organisation. In some cases kindly persons are filling up the cards themselves, to help those who cannot afford to buy licences.

The scheme could not have been made workable except for the financial resources of the Tail-Waggers Club and their national organisation. It is evidence, however, that their funds are not unlimited, considering what is done in return for the 2s. 6d. paid to make a dog a life-member of the Club.

I am asked to say that all who are stamping their cards should send them complete by December 28th to Captain H. E. Hobbs, at the Tail-Waggers Club, 58 Mark Lane, London, E.C.3.

That does not mean that any cards received later will be disqualified, but delay will prevent the prompt despatch of the licence. It may not be generally known that the revenue derived from dog licences goes to the locality in which these licences are issued.

It would not be fair to purchase all these 40,000 licences in London, and the Tail-Waggers Club is arranging to buy them in the districts in which the owners reside, and it is in touch with local taxation officials everywhere.

It is not merely those in receipt of unemployment benefit who find it a relief to pay twopenny a week instead of 7s. 6d. in a lump sum. There are large numbers of people of limited means to whom this instalment principle is a great convenience.

I have heard it said that those who cannot afford a licence comfortably should not keep a dog, but experience has proved that these four-footed companions bring so much pleasure to a home that men and women are prepared to make a little sacrifice in order to have one, and my sympathies are entirely with them.

The actual cost of keeping a small dog is infinitesimal and in no way commensurate with the happiness that is derived from it. This scheme is therefore the solution of the problem.

A HAPPY NEW YEAR FOR OUR DOGS!

A HELPING HAND

By "PHILOKON."

THE Tail-Waggers Club sends New Year's greetings to all good dog lovers. It has now nearly 600,000 members, the numbers of which are growing daily.

Is it too much to hope that before another New Year comes round we may be approaching the million mark at which we are aiming? If every owner of a Tail-Wagger would bring in one recruit in 1935 the object would be achieved.

Surely that is not beyond the bounds of possibility. Before this remarkable organisation was started ordinary dog-owners had no common bond of union.

Exhibitors had the Kennel Club in charge of their activities, directing and controlling, but that body takes no cognisance of ordinary household dogs that are not destined to be shown. It is concerned with preserving the purity of the various breeds and improving their physical appearance, or encouraging the training of gundogs.

NEW VOLUNTEERS' HALL, LISMORE
SUCCESSFUL OPENING DANCE

The new Volunteers' Hall in Lismore, which has recently been equipped as a Recreation Hall and Gymnasium for the use of the members of the new Volunteer Force in the West Waterford Slough area, was formally opened on 1st Sunday night with a grand 1st gaelic all-night dance which proved a wonderful success.

The interior of the spacious building was gaily decorated with flags and bunting, the National Tricolour being very much in evidence, the entire scheme of decorations being of a most tasteful and artistic nature which added greatly to the brightness and general appearance of the Hall.

The dancing floor was in excellent order, and the general arrangements were perfect in every detail, for which great credit must be given to Mr. Thomas Kelleher, Cappoquin, the courteous and efficient Hon. Sec., who was ably assisted by an energetic and hard-working Committee, comprising Messrs. Jeremiah O'Brien, Moanarney, an Bennett, Lismore, James Scanlan, do., and Thomas Lincoln, N.T., Cappoquin, in whose capable hands everything was carried out in the most orderly and harmonious manner during the night.

Practically all the Volunteers in the West Waterford Slough area were present, either in uniform or civilian attire, while there was an extremely large attendance of civilians from Waterford, Kilmacthomas, Dungarvan, Ardmore, Clashmore, Fermoy, Tallow, Ballyduff, Lismore, Cappoquin and other districts, there being over 150 couples in all, which proved the widespread popularity of the opening dance.

Mr. Sean Goulding, T.D., Lismore, Captain O'Mara, Waterford, Area Administrative Officer, and Sergeant Foley, Waterford, Drill Instructor, were amongst the guests, Messrs. P. J. Little, T.D., and Dan Breen, T.D., being unavoidably absent. Splendid music was rendered by the popular "Nightingale Orchestra," Lismore, under the baton of Mr. P. Gillan, Conductor, Irish dances being a special feature of the delightful programme, and these were thoroughly enjoyed as a lively and welcome departure from the foreign dances which have figured in programmes within recent years.

A grand spice of variety was introduced by the graceful dancing of Irish Jigs and hornpipes by Messrs. P. Gillan, Lismore, and P. Lynch, Cork, who proved themselves finished exponents of Irish step-dancing, and they were loudly applauded for their clever and highly-acceptable contributions.

Excellent catering arrangements were carried out by Mrs. K. O'Connell, Main street, Lismore, who supplied splendid suppers at most reasonable prices, and the careful and courteous manner in which she and her very efficient staff attended to the requirements of all added greatly to the success and enjoyment of the function.

Mr. "Jerry" O'Brien, proved a most capable and courteous M.C. and under his experienced management the best of order and good humour were maintained during the night until the playing of "The National Anthem" at 5 o'clock in the morning concluded a really enjoyable and highly-successful opening dance.

CO. WATERFORD COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE.

NOMINATIONS OF MARES, 1935.
The County Committee have decided to offer Nominations to Farmers' Mares to be served by Thoroughbred Irish Draught or Halfbred Stallions on the Register or Selected List of the Department of Agriculture, under the conditions set forth in the Department's Scheme for encouraging improvements in the Breeds of Horses, 1935.

The following are the Centres and the days and hours at which Mares will be judged in each district:—
Dungarvan—Shandon, Tuesday 12th February, 11 o'clock a.m.
Youghal No. 2—Clashmore, Tuesday, February 12th, 2 o'clock p.m.
Clonmel No. 2—Ballymacarbery, Wednesday, 13th February, 11 o'clock a.m.
Lismore—Lismore Show Field, Wednesday, 13th, February, 1 o'clock p.m.
Carrick-on-Suir No. 2—Clonea Power, Thursday, 14th February, 11 o'clock a.m.
Kilmacthomas—Kilmacthomas, Thursday, 14th February, at 1 o'clock p.m.
Waterford No. 1—Ballybricken, Friday, 15th February, 11 o'clock a.m.

The Value of Nominations to Thoroughbred and Irish Draught Stallions shall be £3 and to half-bred Stallions £2.
Preference will be given to the best Young Mares under six years of age.
Each Mare must be the property of a Farmer, the Tenement Valuation of whose Holding or Holdings, wherever situated and for which he is rated does not exceed £200.
As far as possible two-thirds of the Nominations shall be reserved for Farmers valued at £50 or under. The term "Farmer" is to be understood to mean a person who derives his means of living mainly from Farming.
Special attention is directed to the following Regulations:—
1. Only such Farmers as are rated for Holdings within the County are eligible to exhibit Mares.
N.B.—(This Regulation does not apply to Herds).
2. Each qualified Rated Farmer is entitled to compete for a Nomination for One Mare only, but the Committee may award a Second Nomination to Owners of Mares on the Reserved List.
3. Special Notice—Any person found (a) exhibiting a Mare not his Bona Fide Property; (b) attempting to obtain more than One Nomination through any misrepresentation as to the Ownership of his Mares; or (c) sending for service a Mare other than the one in respect of which the Nomination was awarded, is guilty of a Criminal Offence, and will be prosecuted.
The Committee shall not select any applicant who has an undischarged liability to the Co. Council on foot of rates for the financial year immediately preceding the one current on the day on which such person's application is being considered.
Further particulars regarding these Awards, Copies of the Department's Live Stock Schemes, 1935, and Entry Forms, must be filled and returned not later than Wednesday, 6th February, may be had from:
JOHN O'DWYER, Secretary,
Co. Waterford Committee of Agriculture,
Courthouse, Dungarvan,
4th January, 1935.

N.B.—No Entries will be received on days of Shows, nor will Mares be allowed to compete for Nominations whose Entries do not reach me at latest on WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY, 6th, 1935.—J. O'D.

WATERFORD BOARD OF PUBLIC HEALTH
FREE MILK SCHEME

The Persons for whom the Free Milk Scheme is intended do not appear to be taking full advantage of it and consequently the Government Grant for this purpose cannot be fully availed of.
To avoid any misunderstanding as regards the persons eligible for Free Milk under the Scheme the Commissioner administering the affairs of the Board of Public Health desires to point out that the receipt of Home Assistance is not a necessary qualification for Free Milk and that employed persons whose earnings are not sufficient to enable them to provide an adequate supply of milk for such of their children as are under five years of age are equally entitled to the benefits of the Scheme.
All applications received by the Home Assistance Officers will receive due consideration and no genuine case will be refused.
