KILMATHOMAS NEWS.

ADJOURNED—

Owing to Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J., doing duty for a colleague in Co. Wexford, who is on holidays, the Kilmathomas District Court was not held last month, and the calendar listed for the occasion will be the first dispensed with at the next sitting here on the 20th. inst.

SAD TIDINGS—

American exchanges to hand convey the sad tidings of the death of Mr. Patrick Whyte, which happened at his home at Brooklyn, N.Y., after a brief illness and at a comparatively young age. Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Whyte, Moonarud, Dungarvan, he is survived by his wife and three children—the youngest of the family being only a month old this week. The deceased was brother of Mr. J. J. Whyte, Moonarud; Rev. T. Whyte, O.S.A., Irish College, Rome, and Rev. Sr. Benedict, Convent of Mercy, Limerick and cousin of Mr. P. Whyte, Crough, do.; and Mr. James Kirwan, Kilmathomas. Prior to emigrating at the end of 1913, he had been in business in Dublin for a number of years. While in the Metropolis he became a prominent member of the Irish Republican Brotherhood, and was a personal friend of the leaders of the 1916 Rebellion. Beloved of all who knew him, there was a huge concourse of Co. Waterford exiles in attendance at his interment. Ar dheis De go raibh ananam.

A REGRETTED DEMISE.

The news of the death of Mrs. Daniel Cooney, licensed vintner, Square, Dungarvan, which sad event was announced in our previous number, came as a great shock to the members of her family, friends and to the general public. A member of a good old stock of the parish of Stradbally, held in highest esteem, the sympathy of all goes out to her deservedly-popular husband who was for a long period at business at Kilmathomas, brothers and sister, and other immediate relatives. The deceased lady was sister of Messrs. William and Patrick Connel, Ballygarron, Bonmahon; Mr. Andrew Connel, Dublin, and Mrs. J. J. Joy, The Square, Kilmathomas. On Thursday evening of last week all that was mortal of the late Mrs. Cooney, was laid to rest in the family burial plot in Stradbally Catholic Churchyard. Rev. T. O'Shea, C.C., Ballyaneen, officiated at the graveside. The chief mourners included the husband; brothers and sister of the deceased; Mrs. E. Cooney, Carriglea, Dungarvan, (mother-in-law); Rev. T. Cooney, O.S.A., New Ross; Mr. E. Cooney, Carriglea; Mr. J. Cooney, Dublin; Mr. M. Cooney, Cork and Mr. John J. Joy, Kilmathomas (brothers-in-law); Messrs. Andrew and John Joy, Kilmathomas, and Mr. Edmund Joy, Dungarvan (nephews). It would be impossible to give a list of the general public present, which included Very Rev. J. Murphy, P.P., Stradbally; Very Rev. Fr. Farragher, O.S.A., (Prior), Dungarvan; Rev. P. Donegan, O.S.A., do.; Mr. J. J. Crotty, do.; Mr. P. A. Walsh, do.; Mr. J. J. Lynch, junior, do.; Mr. E. McCarthy, Ballyshiff, do.; Mr. Percy Kirwan, Kilmathomas; Mr. Daniel Kirwan, do.; Mr. J. J. Maher, do.; Mr. D. Coghlan, do.; Mr. T. G. Flahavan, do.; Mr. E. Hill, junior, do.; Mr. Patrick Barron, do.; Mrs. Graneey, do.; Mr. Michael Walsh, do.; Mr. Robert Phelan, do.; Mr. M. Kiely, do.; Mr. Wm. Kiely, Carriglea, do.; J. Condon, Seafield, do.; P. Gleeson, Stradbally; F. A. Crowley, do.; Miss K. Hannigan, do.; Mr. P. Whelan, do.; Mr. P. Kirwan, Drumlohan, do., etc. May she rest in peace.

CONDOLENCE.

Her troops of friends and well-wishers will unfeignedly condole with Mrs. M. Flynn, wife of Mr. Nicholas Flynn, victualler, Main street, Kilmathomas, on the death of her uncle, Mr. Nicholas Hally, farmer, Darrigle, Portlaw. Much sympathy goes out to Mr. Patrick Carey, Upper Ballyaneen, Kilmathomas, on the death of his wife (nee Curran), whose remains were buried in Fews Catholic Churchyard on the 23rd ult., in the presence of a big gathering of mourners and friends.

ANENT A WORD—

Has anyone noticed how frequently one hears the word "definite" or "definitely" in colloquial service just now? At one time the same effects were obtained with "absolute" or "absolutely." Ask a T.D., if he is in favour of the foreign policy of the Peruvian Government, or of the Broderingnagians, or of the re-opening of the Bonmahon copper mines, and eleven to two his reply will be: "I am 'definitely' in favour of it," or "I am 'definitely' against it." Ask an enthusiastic Kilmac' bridge player if she or he agreed with the convention followed in a particular call, and a fiver to a farthing the reply will be: "It was 'definitely' wrong," or "It was 'definitely' right." Fashions in conversations seem to change like fashions in apparel. As a note of emphasis, definite or indefinite are never out of place, but their constant repetition suggests that the expressions have become more a habit than otherwise. It is to be hoped the habit is only seasonal and not indefinite.

A CATCHPHRASE—

You may not be in the know, but you say "Diddy, angsum, dangsum" to one of a certain coterie of Mid-Waterford people, it will be the signal for an instant explosion of laughter. If, however, you should chance to say it to one particular individual, the phrase will act "like a red rag to a bull." It will infuriate him. The secret is known only to a few, and we are not at liberty to disclose more than that. The catchphrase is a sequel to a little convivial party the other afternoon when a jolly good fellow jolly well "put his foot in it" as never before.

DEATH OF MRS. AHEARNE, KNOCKBOY, BALLINAMULT.

"Friend after friend departs; Who hath not lost a friend? There is no union here of hearts That finds not here an end. Were this frail world our only rest Living or dying, none were best."

News of the death of Mrs. Catherine Ahearne, wife of Mr. Thomas Ahearne farmer, Knockboy, Ballinamult, was received with feelings of deep sorrow over a wide area, for deceased was well known and held in highest esteem by all who had the pleasure of being acquainted with her. Of a kindly unassuming disposition, generous and warm-hearted, she was beloved in the family circle, where her example as a good Catholic mother was reflected in the esteem in which her family are held. She was mother of Rev. T. Ahearne, C.C., Kill, a universally popular young priest. The late Mrs. Ahearne was indisposed for some time, and, fortified by the rites of Holy Church, her demise was a truly peaceful and happy one. Her husband is a man of fine Catholic instincts, an agriculturist, enterprising and successful, a great friend, charitable and hospitable, and a sterling Irishman whom it is a joy to meet in or out of his own home. After the celebration of Office and High Mass of Requiem for the repose of the soul of the deceased lady in Touraneena Parish Church, on Friday morning of last week, the funeral took place to Knockboy cemetery, whereat interment was made amid many manifestations of profound sorrow. The large concourse of people from near and far, who attended to pay their last tribute to this worthy member of a highly-respected stock, and the numbers, including many clerical friends, who sent messages of condolence, manifested plainly the regard entertained for the deceased lady and her grief-stricken husband and family. Deep sympathy goes out to Fr. Ahearne on the loss of his dear mother, whose record of duty well and nobly done, excites the admiration of all who knew her.—R.I.P.

Ahearne in his bereavement.

DELIGHTFUL DANCE—

The Charity Dance, held at Stradbally Boy's School on Sunday night last, proved a stupendous success from every standpoint. More than 150 couples from the city and county favoured the function. Splendid music was provided by the Glen Valley Orchestra, and the catering, in charge of a committee of local ladies, left nothing to be desired. Mr. T. Lincoln, N.T., acted as M.C., and an unforgettable enjoyable night rolled merrily but all too rapidly by.

TO YOUR NOTICE—

Don't forget to remember to come with your friends to the "45" card drive and céilidhe at Ballyaneen schoolhouse on to-morrow (Sunday) night, in aid of a most praiseworthy parochial purpose. Doors open at 6.30. Admission, 1s. only.

KILMATHOMAS FEBRUARY FAIR

Held on Tuesday. Small-sized. Trade dull, save in fat sheep (Downs and Crossbreds, 30/- to 36/- each) and young pigs (from 20/- to 30/- each). Beef averaged 16/- per cwt. Springers and milch cows from £9 to £16; 2-year-old stores, £5 to £8 10s.; yearlings, £2 10/- to £3 5/-. Snow on the Comeragh mountains and "woe" on the farmers' countenances were features of the fair day that were fairly "sticking out."

THE KILROSSANTY PLAYERS—

The 3-act comedy, "Trader Kieran's Dilemma," was faultlessly produced by the above talented performers to a large and appreciative audience at Fews schoolhouse on Sunday night last, in aid of a laudable local object.

PERSONAL—

A valued reader, who is an admirer of the weekly contributions of "mise bocht feih," has just sent me (through my good friend, Mr. Editor) a beautifully bound book, dealing with life in the Decies in the 18th century—a most appreciable gift. Indeed, I am deeply grateful to the generous donor, to whom I respectfully tender the cinquin hereunder:

My heart illumed and drenched With joy your kindness caused Pain bids a benediction gush O'er you.

LOCAL LADY LEAVES—

On Tuesday of this week, Miss Bridie Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Fitzgerald, Knockyelan, Kilrossanty, left here to enter the nursing profession in one of the best known London hospitals. Her troops of friends will cordially wish this charming, highly talented young lady the very best of luck and success in the vocation of her choice. By the way, her equally estimable sister, Miss Mary Fitzgerald, passed her final nursing exam. with honours some time ago, following which she received an important and lucrative appointment at Harrow Hospital.

"Spring-time is surely out of plumb with official-time and cow-time," writes Spinster Susannah Stasia Snipe—the stoutest of the sex in the seven parishes. And the dear damsel (She's belle of the Barony of Middle Third, by the way) puts it to us that true-sight is more out of focus in the spring than it is in any of the other seasons of the year. Anyway, let her be wrong or otherwise, we right here and now write the hope that her own superfluity of adipose tissue is nothing more or less than another one of life's optical illusions.

Love, liquor and lunacy, and many things besides, prove that the organ of vision, the human eye, is an unreliable instrument whose judgements are not to be trusted. When a man is filled with the spirit of the "hard task" (Thiggin tu?) he will solemnly report the presence in his bedroom of flying fleas and dancing donkeys. The genial inmates of the foolish house will tell you with an easy and confidential assurance that they have just been chatting with President de Valera or Mr. J. H. Thomas, while the love-stricken are continually meeting with gods and goddesses in these mundane asphalt streets. If to our eyes those divinities are just dull or unrefree beef-eating citizens like ourselves that is because we are not wearing at the moment love's rose-coloured spectacles. Love has been called "life's most beautiful optical illusion;" not only does the loved lady become miraculously endowed with every conceivable perfection of face, form and character, but the very mud in the street or road glistens with celestial light, and the barren landscapes of winter are clothed in the myriad hues of spring—a seasonal phenomenon quite indiscernible to what we are pleased to call normal eyesight. So Shakespeare says:

"Oh me? What eyes hath love put in my head, Which have no correspondence with true sight."

On the one hand all lovers deplore the defective vision of their friends and neighbours, who are either waiting for love, or whom love has passed by; on the other hand these unhappy and ignorant beings scratch their polls in stupefied incomprehension at the perversities of vision and judgment displayed by every Daisy and Declan bemused in love's dream. When two people see differently, which see aright? The lover claims that what we call his blindness—meaning blindness or deficiencies in character and person—is the only true sight, and that all previous seeing was a form of astigmatism. What is a piece of ophthalmic surgery can a woman perform upon a man? New eyes for old? If you didn't behold beauty before, would you see it when you fall "head and heels" in love? There is no optician half as skilful as love. The optician may help you to love. Your copy of the "Observer," read your copy of the "Observer," but he cannot help you to see in some hard-featured and hard-hearted Hannah "a phantom of delight," nor can he transform my head hair into "golden tresses," wistful grey eyes through the intercession of Dominic Savio. From that day forward little Alfred was able to take food without any harmful results. In a short time his natural colour returned, and now he is a fat little fellow and full of life. He has a passion for Dominic Savio. He never stops kissing Dominic's picture, and shows it to everyone that visits the house. Any of our readers that send a stamped addressed envelope to the Rector, Salesian Missionary College, Pallaskeeney, Co. Limerick, will receive a picture of Dominic Savio with a short account of his life. The Novena starts on the 1st March and will end on March 9th, the anniversary of his death.

NOVENA FOR THE BEATIFICATION OF DOMINIC SAVIO. A PUPIL OF ST. JOHN BOSCO

A very remarkable cure attributed to the intercession of Dominic Savio, occurred last March, as vouched for by Rev. P. Joe Valentem, Rector of Salesian Church, San Paulo, Brazil. He writes to the Vice Postulator of the cause as follows:— On March, 1st, 1934, I came across a very painful case of a baby named Alfred Cespi, aged one year and ten months. It had a death-like aspect, the stomach was enormously extended and hard, while the rest of its little body was but skin and bones. The illness had started twenty days after the child's birth, and had gone on uninterruptedly for twenty-five months.

Four of the eight doctors that in turn attended the case, were specialists of infantile sickness, but all of them alike declared the case to be hopeless. Not the slightest good was done by any of their remedies. The child got thinner and thinner and it was impossible to explain how on earth it kept in existence. Every possible food and remedy for sick babies were tried. The child vomited everything that was given to it. The precise nature of the illness was enteritis.

Mr. and Mrs. Cespi, the parents had quite a pharmacy in the house which cost them quite a large sum every month. On March 1st when I advised the mother to recommend the cure of her child to the Ven. Dominic Savio, with full confidence, she placed him under the protection of the saintly little pupil of Don Bosco.

For this purpose she came on March 5th to our Church of St. John, in order to receive the blessing which was given to sick children. In giving the blessing I implored its efficacy through the intercession of the Ven. Dominic Savio. The mother too made the same intention. Little Alfred, in his mother's arms held tight to a picture of Dominic Savio, which he repeatedly kissed before and after the blessing.

On leaving the Church the baby still carried by its mother began to vomit, and continued to do so until it reached home. Here the vomiting continued for over half an hour. It was brought to such a state of prostration that it was nearer to death than to life, and so much so that it was considered as almost dead. Then it was the mother broken-hearted but resigned uttered a prayer that if Dominic Savio wished her son to die and go to heaven than God's will be done.

That evening, however, the baby began to get better. It took some milk and there was no more vomiting. The night passed tranquilly. At six o'clock the next morning, the child who before found it difficult to stand, got up and began to walk about the house and yard. He was able to take food that before always made him sick. Naturally the parents had not ceased to thank God, for what they considered a miraculous cure through

ANGLO-IRISH RELATIONS STATUS QUESTION At Ballinamore, Co. Leitrim, Mr. Frank MacDermot, T.D., referred to the recent statements of President de Valera and Mr. J. H. Thomas, and said the exchanges seemed to indicate that once again constitutional issues took precedence of all others, and that agreement on matters of finance depended upon agreement on the question of status. "When Mr. de Valera," proceeded Mr. MacDermot, "says that Ireland has a right to determine her own destiny and to decide whether or not we are to be a member of the British or any other Commonwealth, he says something with which I entirely agree. "If British notions of prestige or constitutional law prevent them from admitting that in so many words, I think it is a pity. But I do not take it tragically, because they have over and over again admitted it in practice by implication, and they have as nearly as makes no difference admitted it in words, not only about ourselves, but about all the nations of the Commonwealth." What they should be thinking about were the welfare, peace, and dignity of the Irish nation, and it was for the sake of these things that he was in favour of cordial and frank acceptance of Commonwealth partnership. Speaking of the policy of Fine Gael, Mr. MacDermot said they should get rid of the unnatural boundary and show the people of Northern Ireland that they were prepared to remain in the Commonwealth to recognise the King as King of Ireland, and the Crown as the link which bound all nations of the Commonwealth together in partnership. While he approved of the Government's work to have minor industries started, he thought they should use the same zeal and energy to put the farming industry on a proper basis and save the farmers. Gen. Sean MacEoin, T.D., said he agreed that membership of the Commonwealth was the only thing for this country, and he said so as an uncompromising and definite Republican. The question of a Republic had ceased to exist, and it should never have been allowed to occupy the position it had.

PARAFFIN IN HALL BLAZE

When fire was discovered at Playfair Hall, Clonmel, local headquarters of the new Volunteer Force, bottles smelling of paraffin were found on the floor. A passer-by discovered smoke coming from the hall, and on breaking open the door found the floor on fire. Paraffin was found sprinkled with paraffin, he stated. The fire was extinguished before much damage was done. A flame, under the auspices of the Volunteer Force, is to be held in the hall on Sunday next. The Minister for Defence may attend.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

TITHE RENT SEIZURE.

On Monday last Mr. English, Assistant to Co. Registrar, accompanied by Civic Guards, visited the farm of Mr. Nicholas Beresford, Skeharrine, Dungarvan and seized 5 milch cows which were lodged in Dungarvan pound. The seizure was made in respect of a decree against the defendant for £6 10s. 9d. due as arrears of Tithe rent on the lands of Kilgrovan, Dungarvan, to the Duke of Devonshire, and the Lismore Estates Co., Lismore. A sum of £7 18s. 3d. for costs and expenses brought the total amount to £14 9s. 0d.

On Wednesday, Mr. English, put up the cattle for sale in the pound. Bidding was opened by a man giving the name of "O'Neill" at £12. Mr. D. Foley, U.D.C., bid £12 15s. on behalf of the owner. The cattle were eventually knocked down to Neill at £14 9s. but were later by arrangement bought by the owner.

Mr. Beresford, referred to the fight for freedom, and asked if this was all that was got by it. Their Government was going round seizing cattle for an English Duke!

Mr. English said he could do nothing. He got the decree and had to execute it.

Mr. Beresford—I had no right to buy them. I should have left them go across to the Duke and the Duchess could put on an apron and milk them.

WATERFORD BULL SALE.

The Bull Show and Sale under the auspices of the Co. Waterford Branch of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society, to be held at Kilcohan Park, Waterford, on Tuesday, March 12th, promises to be most successful. Large entries of high-class animals have been received including 15 Pure-bred Registered Dairy Bulls; 28 non-pedigree registered Dairy Bulls; 16 Pure-bred Shorthorns; 30 Aberdeen Angus and 7 Hereford Bulls. Buyers as usual will come from near and far for the dual purpose. Bulls always to be had at Waterford. The committee in charge have the arrangements perfect.

A provisional committee was elected and a General Meeting was fixed for Monday March 11th.

20 YEARS AFTER.

At the Quarterly meeting of the Co. Council February, 1915—20 years this week—the Council appointed Mr. Bowen, B.E., as Co. Surveyor, in succession to the late Mr. Duffin. Many of those who voted on that occasion are no longer with us, but by their selection that day they gave the county the services of an Officer who has done an enormous amount of solid lasting work for the ratepayers and made our roads the wonder of the traveller. Traffic conditions today are the very reverse of 20 years ago. The class of road making in vogue 20 years ago would not last a week under modern fast traffic. Mr. Bowen always kept abreast of the times and so his roads are able to stand any test put on them. In his hands the affairs of the county have been carefully watched and we are sure that his ripe experience and sane judgment will in the coming 20 years (D.V.) give greater advantages to the travelling public and all users of our highways. So here's to his success for another double decade in health and strength.

BONMARION COPPER MINES—

An effort is being made to reopen the Bonmarion Copper Mines, and in this connection a group of gentlemen...

Messrs. Nils Erik Lenander of Norway and A. B. Broughton-Edge and Lawrence Austin Impey of England are interesting themselves in the project. For some time past surveying work has been carried out over a portion of the area and owners of other land in the district are being approached with a view to securing leases of their mining rights, so that surveying, boring and sinking of test shafts may be carried out. Proposal Forms are, we understand, already in the hands of the various owners of mining rights. The Solicitors acting for the gentlemen named above are Messrs. Whitney, Moore and Keller, Kildare Street, Dublin, whilst Mr. John D. Palmer, Auctioneer, Waterford, is the local representative of the promoters. It is to be hoped that owners of the lands approached will do all in their power to assist in the efforts now being made and will help to start a local industry, which will not only be of benefit to them but may attract the interest of other people in far distant countries. The Free State Government are already giving every encouragement to those interested in this enterprise and it is hoped that the project may be brought to a successful issue.

CARNIVAL DANCE—

The Carnival Dance in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Wednesday night, under the auspices of the Children's Health Committee, was the most successful held for many a day. The organisers who worked hard and earnestly for many weeks must have been highly pleased at seeing nearly 300 couples present, drawn from all the surrounding areas and one and all had a most enjoyable time. The Ballroom was beautifully and artistically decorated for the occasion, while the floor was specially treated. Every thing to ensure the comfort and enjoyment of patrons was carefully attended to. The music by Billy McSweeney and his band left nothing to be desired, while the catering by the Ladies' Committee, was perfect. Mr. M. Morrissey, C.U.D.C., was president of the committee and Messrs. J. A. Cartwright and J. O'Gorman, were the capable Hon. Secs. Dancing was kept up with zest until morning. A feature of the night was the awarding of prizes, which were valuable and numerous.

The draw in the Stop Watch Competition took place during an interval. The winner being Mr. C. Lawn, St. John's College, Waterford.

DUNGARVAN TECHNICAL SCHOOL—

After a long delay the plans for the New Technical Schools, Dungarvan, have been approved so that now the good work can be begun without delay and useful work given to those in need of it. The New Schools to be erected at Fair Lane, will be a great addition to the public buildings of the town.

SYMPATHY—

At a recent meeting of the Villiers-town F.F. Cumann, a vote of sympathy was passed to Mr. Matthew Lynch and the members of his family in their recent bereavement.

SPRING WHEAT.

Many a farmer who had intended to sow winter wheat this season was, for one reason or another, prevented from doing so. Some had even gone so far as to procure seed, and their problem now is should they sow this seed or not. Much depends upon the variety. It is now too late for the sowing of winter varieties of wheat, because, if sown after the 1st of March, there is a grave risk that they may not ripen. The risk is, therefore, too great, and even if the seed already procured has to be used for the making of flour or stock feeding, it is better to do so rather than take the chance of losing a crop, which is likely to happen if a winter variety is sown too late.

Even if a farmer has missed the season for the sowing of winter wheat he need not think that he is out of the running as far as wheat is concerned this year. There is still ample time to get in the spring varieties. It is true that the latter are not, as a rule, as prolific as winter varieties, but this does not mean that they do not give a good return. In fact, they do. Indeed, the bulk of the wheat produced on the famous prairie lands of North America is spring sown. In this country, too, quite a big acreage of spring wheat is put down annually. In some districts the spring varieties are preferred, because, in the first place, it is held that they do better on the lighter types of soil than the slower maturing winter strains. Moreover, where sowing can be put off until the month of March it is possible to get the ground well cleaned and in good dry condition before sowing, which is not always possible where sowing has to be done in the winter time. Spring varieties have the further advantage in that they are better suited for sowing as a cover or nurse crop with grass and clover seeds.

The cultivation and manuring for spring varieties is the same as that required for the winter varieties. Typical spring types of wheat do not produce a great number of tillers, and consequently it is advisable to seed at a slightly heavier rate than in the case of winter types.

The principal spring varieties are Red Marvel, April Bearded Red, Red File, and Marquis. Red File is a fine sowing variety, and for this reason...

LISMORE NOTES.

SUCCESSFUL VOLUNTEERS' DANCE IN LISMORE

Under the auspices of the new Volunteer Force of the West Waterford Slough area a grand all-night dance was held in the Volunteers' Hall, Lismore, on Sunday night, and proved a most enjoyable and successful social event from every point of view.

Splendid arrangements had been made by an efficient committee, comprising Messrs Sean Bennett, Lismore, James Scanlan, do.; and Jerry O'Brien, Moonamon, while Mr. Thos. Kelleher, Cappoquin, as Hon. Sec., proved a most courteous and hard-working official whose great energy and organising ability added greatly to the success of the event.

Mr. Goulding, T.D., was one of the guests and enjoyed the dancing with all the zest and vigour of the more youthful patrons, many of whom appeared in uniform, and their smart and well-disciplined movements were greatly admired.

High-class music was provided by the "Nightingale Orchestra," Lismore, the programme including a large percentage of Irish dances, as well as many other old-time melodies, and the popular conductor, Mr. P. Gillan, was the recipient of the best thanks of all for the delightful programme rendered.

Mr. Jerry O'Brien, proved a most courteous M.C. Catering arrangements carried out by Mrs. K. O'Connell, Lismore, could not have been excelled anywhere. Dancing was continued with great enjoyment until after 5 o'clock in the morning when the playing of The National Anthem concluded a very successful social event.

FISHING AT LISMORE

Salmon fishing on the Blackwater at Lismore-Ballyduff area, has improved considerably during the last week owing to the recent rain. Some fine catches have already been made the largest yet being a 36-pounder caught by a member of the Duke of Devonshire's party.

45 DRIVE

A 45 Drive and Ceilidhe Mor were held in the Town Hall, Lismore, under the auspices of the Ballyin Hurling Club, and both proved very successful.

Although rain fell heavily early in the night it did not deter the people from coming from the neighbouring towns. There were 100 couples present, which speaks well for the revival of Gaelic culture in Lismore, and all present spent a very enjoyable night.

Splendid music was supplied by Thomas Keating's Ceilidhe Band. The Ballroom was attractively decorated and lighted and nothing was left undone by the committee to make it a success.

DEATH OF MR. O'BRIEN, TALLOW

We regret to announce the death of Mr. John O'Brien father of the Rev. H. O'Brien, C.C., Rathgormack, which occurred at his residence on Sunday, February, 24th.

Deceased, was a leading merchant in Tallow, and was ever held in the highest esteem by his numerous friends. Deepest sympathy is extended to his bereaved wife and children. Requiem High Mass was celebrated for the repose of his soul on Tuesday, and the funeral which took place immediately afterwards demonstrated in a striking manner the sympathy occasioned by his death.

There were sympathisers and mourners from far and near, and such a manifestation of public sympathy must have been extremely consoling to the members of the family.

COUNTY LIBRARY

To the Editor "Dungarvan Observer." Dear Sir.—We read in a recent issue of the "Dungarvan Observer," that steps are about to be taken to remove the Public Library headquarters from Lismore to Dungarvan.

If such is the case, we would be very much obliged to the Library Committee, as citizens of Lismore, to restore our former reading room, now used for the storing of books, as the present room is too small to accommodate reading visitors from Lismore. We would also like if the committee could lengthen the hours for reading, as during these days reading is the only pastime we can look forward to.

MORE PIGS FOR CURING.

Last month 85,681 pigs were bought for bacon curing in the Irish Free State, compared with 74,122 in the corresponding month last year, and 52,705 in 1933. For the three months ended January 31, 254,043 pigs were purchased for curing, as against 224,608 in the previous corresponding period.

IMPORTANT MEETING

Messrs. W. T. Cosgrave, T.D., Frank MacDermot, T.D., and other leaders will speak at a Fine Gael meeting and conference in Cork City on Saturday next. The gathering will be held at the Imperial Hotel at 3 p.m.

THE WORLD'S RICHEST RACE

IRISH-BRED HORSE WINS £21,900.

The Santa Anita Handicap has set a variety of money records. When Azucar won the race here he captured £21,900, the largest individual winnings ever reaped in a single race.

Mr. Fred M. Alger, a young Detroit capitalist and sportsman, paid £1,600 for the Irish horse last autumn.

Betting on the race amounted to £150,000, of which £48,000 passed through the pari-mutuel. This established its own world record for any race.

Although Azucar paid more than £5 on an 8s. ticket the crowd of 50,000 cheered him to the echo.

All their money was on Equipoise, who was seeking to earn the title of money-winning champion of the world. This honour is still held by Sun Beau with £75,000. Equipoise is a close runner-up with a total of £68,000.

There was such a rush to bet in Pari Mutuel that the parade of horses was delayed to enable the machines to absorb the money.

The handicap itself, which Californians are confident will rival the Kentucky Derby as a gorgeous spectacle and moneymaking venture, was worth £25,400. This is beaten only by Futurity, run at Belmont Park in 1929 when £26,000 was paid out.

George Woolf, riding Azucar, netted £2,200 for his two minutes work. There were 20 starters, including Mr. M. L. Schwartz's Gusto and Mr. A. C. Bostwick's Mate, both well known on English tracks. Mate was well forward early in the race, but flattened out badly, and really had no excuse for not winning.

The race was remarkable for the fact that it was so truly run that none of the horses was able to set a genuine alibi for his defeat.

Azucar was so lively after the finish that he broke away from the photographers and galloped away on his own. His ostler was dragged 50 yards trying to stop the horse while the crowd yelled "Turn him loose." Only the fact that Azucar jerked his rein free saved Ostler's life.

Azucar is Spanish for sugar and the seven-year-old chestnut certainly brought sugar to his owner yesterday. Mr. Alger bought him from Mr. Joseph Widener with the intention of running him in the 1936 Grand National. The stable says the horse can still jump and it is believed that Mr. Alger will send him to Aintree.

When Mr. Alger himself was a gentleman rider he bought Azucar as a steeplechaser, but he showed such amazing speed on the flat that he was scheduled to try his luck in the Santa Anita Handicap.

Azucar was bred by the executors of the late Mr. Edward Kennedy, at the Straffan Station Stud, Co. Kildare, and is a seven year old chestnut gelding, by Milesius (by Roi Herode), out of Clarice, by Picton, out of Clariaw, by Persimmon. At the Doncaster yearling sales of 1929 Azucar was sold for 1,050 gns. to Mr. J. E. Widener. At two years old, being still unnamed, he won the Gosforth Park Biennial Stakes of £708, ran second to Pomme d'Api in the Fulborne Stakes of £1,183 at Newmarket, and he was placed third, beaten a neck and a head, in the Woodcote Stakes of £1,332 at Epsom.

In 1931 Azucar started in five races in England, his best performance being third to another Irish-bred Nitsichin, in a £1,000 London Cup at Alexandra Park, giving Achtol's good daughter 6lbs.

Shortly afterwards Mr. Widener shipped him to America and put him to steeplechasing with great success until last year, when he was purchased by Col. Fred Alger, junr., of Detroit, and was put to flat racing again. In twelve starts since that time Azucar has won six races, finished second twice, and third once.

BEET GROWERS ACCEPT COMPANY'S TERMS.

The Irish Sugar Beet Growers' Association has decided reluctantly to accept the Irish Sugar Company's offer of 37s 6d. per ton flat rate for beet delivered at the company's factories during the next three years, with free pulp at the rate of 13 cwt. for each ton of beet supplied.

The announcement of the Association's decision was made after a deputation of beet growers had had an interview with representatives of the Sugar Company.

The following official statement was issued by the Company:—

"The Irish Sugar Beet Growers' Association, Ltd., accepted the Company's offer for sugar beet, namely: a flat rate price of 37s. 6d. per ton for a period of three years, pulp to be returned free to the growers.

"The Company is now open to receive applications for beet acreage. Applications should be made to the Company's branch offices at Carlow, Thurles, Tuam and Mallow."

The Company wrote that, following the fullest consideration, they were unable to depart from the offer already made, viz., a flat rate of 37s. 6d. per ton net factory weight for beet delivered for the next three years, with the return of dried pulp free. The Company asked for a reply without delay.

The offer was then accepted. Mr. J. M. Greene (Chairman) said they had been refused an opportunity of having a frank discussion in the presence of the Minister for Agriculture, whilst the Department of Agriculture refused to express an opinion on the flat rate, or to accept responsibility for it.

Knowing the distress that prevailed amongst the farming community, "we are forced," Mr. Green said, "to accept the terms dictated pending final agreement on details of the contract."

He also stated that at the sub-committee meeting a resolution was adopted, on the motion of Mr. M. Corry,

APPRECIATION:

They seem to us God's sweetest gift to creatures.

The first spring flowers that make the dull earth show Some faint reflection of His own vast glory.

I think He must have loved them here below.

And yet, more welcome than the rarest blossoms An Irish mother's gift—this shamrock spray.

Telling anew love's oft-repeated story In this, her thought for us, on Patrick's Day.

I'm wondering where the little spray was gathered. In this "meadow" maybe, or this "barley" field.

In happier days e're yet life's woes unfolded Such treasures that familiar ground could yield.

I see again, where harsh March winds are sweeping The bare, scant grasses—rising wild and free.

With wind exultant, as the winds unfettered, 'Mid shamrock haunts—the child that once was me.

I had been told—in Ireland old the story— Of absent ones beyond the ocean's swell.

And how the triple-leaves o'er times dim vision Recall old scenes, some homeland ridge or dell.

My joy it was for them to gather shamrocks. To speed abroad in emerald boxes gay.

Thinking the while, like plaintive natives music, Such emblems on those exiled hearts must play.

Careful was I to mark where best they flourished, Hoping the plough would that one spot let be!

Is it from that same place in far-off Woodhouse The shamrocks now are plucked and sent to me?

What matter since they speak to me of Ireland— Her quiet fields, her subtle, witching spell.

The changing lights upon her lovely mountains, The Hills of Home I miss and love so well.

TENANTS WITHOUT A CARE

They get the dole, home assistance, free milk, and free beef—but they can't afford 1s. 2d. a week rent.

This allegation about cottage tenants astounded members of Leitrim Board of Health.

These low-rented cottages have an acre of land attached. Some of the tenants owe from £20 to £30 each and several of them received the assistance mentioned it was stated.

In one instance it cost the Board of Health £15 legal expenses of recover possession. The arrears are steadily mounting up, the total now amounting to £1,579.

Repairs have also to be carried out to these cottages at the expense of the board, and instead of being an asset the entire cottage scheme is a constant drain on the revenue of the County.

Members stated that these tenants were in a happier position than themselves, as they were living rent free, and receiving public assistance, and had not a care in the world.

They felt it was a poor incentive for the board to proceed with another cottage scheme.

It was decided to stand "no-further nonsense" from these tenants, and to instruct the board's solicitor to take action against them.

Notices to quit are now in preparation.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; R. Savage, W. O'Sullivan, M. Ahern, M. Cashman, J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., T. Beausang, D. McCarthy, E. D. Condon, R. Power, M. D. Broderick.

Wages Etc.

On the proposition of Mr. McCarthy seconded by Mr. Condon, a cheque for £22 11s. 7d., wages, etc., for week was passed.

The M.O.H. reported that there had been 25 vaccination defaulters on 14th January. Of these 17 had since been successfully vaccinated. One left the district; 5 were unfit, leaving 2 defaulters.

The Chairman said that was satisfactory.

Strand Church Fund

Mr. Savage, applied on behalf of the Strand Church Fund Committee, for the use of the Town Hall on Shrove Tuesday night, to hold a Whist Drive. The application was granted unanimously.

Rent Of Allotments

Some discussion took place on the question of rent to be charged to holders of allotment plots, and it was decided to fix it at the nominal sum of 15 yearly.

Unemployed Carters

A letter was read from a few unemployed carters stating they had been refused work on the local housing and other schemes although a non-Union carter was employed.

The Clerk was directed to request the Contractor to employ them if possible.

Cork Hill

The following was read from residents of Cork Lane:—

We beg to refer you to previous complaints by us re condition of Cork Lane; to the visit of some members of the Council; to the orders of your Council as a result of that visit; and to our subsequent reminders which prove that you have failed in your capacity of local administration to put your promises and orders into effect.

We now report that beyond spreading a generous coat of mud and sprinkling some stones on road near Baboon Lane and some tarred cinders in a few feet of side surface below Kenny's Lane to help to distinguish it from the part intended for use by vehicles, no attention has been bestowed on this area since before last Christmas, when a most cursory and curtailed examination was carried out by some Council employee's who appeared to not know where to start work until it was just time to stop.

Users of the road, biped and quadruped, particularly those affected by blemishes, defective eyesight or bad tempers, have suffered. Many have had their joints or muscles wrenched or jarred, knee caps displaced, blood vessels burst, fetlocks stripped and noses disfigured. One woman has spent two months in bed and will probably spend many more there suffering from extensive bruises received in a fall into a hole in the footpath and from being rescued therefrom.

The stale filth which festers on footpath and road surface, may from your point of view, be finely adapted for raising foul aromas and breeding disease; be pleasant and helpful for the microbe population; be considered to possess high bacteriological values, whereby doctors, vets., chemists, hospital staffs and the kindred disease lovers derive knowledge—but we object, and now demand that our complaints receive consideration and attention. We ask that if such a condition is essential for urban experimental purposes some other region be selected for a period (selection to be made by signatories).

Another matter which wasn't incorporated in the original report is that at the Main street end of Cork Lane, private motor cars and lorries are regularly parked on the footpaths for hours at a time, consequently compelling the good as well as the evil pedestrians through mud and filth outside them. The road is very wide at this spot, but apparently too dirty for cars to rest on. (This par does not refer to lorries taking loads from stores while loading, but to parking of vehicles while their owners transact business elsewhere.

We now demand treatment compatible with our status as ratepayers, citizens and humans, otherwise, we must proceed one step further.

(Signed by some 30 residents).

The letter was punctuated by member's laughter, Mr. Power suggesting, when the Chairman was half way through that he read no more of it.

The Chairman said they had had numerous complaints from Cork Lane Mr. O'Sullivan—Any complaint made about Cork Lane is well merited Mr. Power said that matter had been before them three times recently. The Town Superintendent was asked to see after the place but he had not done so.

Mr. O'Sullivan said he had got permission to employ an extra horse and staff to do the work.

The Town Superintendent was called in and he gave a detailed account of what he had done from time to time in the place.

Mr. Broderick said it was only fair to Mr. Troy to say that he and the staff were employed at rebuilding the wall at Ashe street. He had more than enough to do.

After considerable discussion, the Chairman said if an extra horse and men were required, they should be got, but the work must be done.

Building Bye-Laws

A letter was read from Mrs. M. M. O'Donovan, the Gibraltar Terrace, stating she had received their notification to cease operations on her new houses. She had already submitted plans, etc., as required by the by-laws. Others had been allowed proceed without having plans approved. Apparently those who broke the by-laws were not victimised, while those who complied were. "I read in the newspapers that Mrs. Hurley has not complied with the bye-laws, yet her building is allowed stand. A false report was given to the papers that I had not complied with the bye-laws. I require this false statement corrected at once." The Council should encourage people to build new houses and thus promote the growth and improvement of the town instead of retarding it by putting objections such as raised in her case. Her Engineer, Thomas O'Donovan, A.R.C.Sc.1., graduated I.E.E., would attend the meeting to answer any questions regarding the new houses she wished to erect.

The Chairman said the Town Surveyor had not approved of the plans. She proceeded with the work meantime, and they were therefore, compelled to call on her to desist.

Mr. O'Sullivan complained that outside labour was being imported, while local men were idle, and he would like to know if Trade Union rate of wages was paid.

Mr. Power—Is it the duty of the Council to see that Trade Union wages were paid?

The Chairman said that Council had always paid Trade Union rate and inserted a clause in their Contracts. They could not go up to every contractor and ask what rate he was paying.

Mr. Beausang—Is not that the engineer's business?

The Chairman—We are dealing with the subject of Mrs. O'Donovan's houses now.

Mr. Savage—Are we in a position to say that Mr. O'Donovan is applying for a grant?

The Clerk—No. If he expects a grant he must comply with the wages clause.

Mr. Broderick—We are bound to tell him—that is all.

Mr. O'Sullivan said some pressure should be used to prevent the importation of labour, while local men were unemployed.

Mr. Power—That is for the Trades Union.

Mr. Broderick—I agree.

The Town Surveyor called in, said that the plans in question didn't show the line of sewer or water, or the adjoining buildings.

Mr. O'Donovan subsequently arrived and a long discussion in details took place.

The Chairman suggested that the 2 Engineers should put their heads together and come to some reasonable arrangement. The Council would do everything possible to facilitate builders. Mrs. O'Donovan had referred to one builder going on with the work although his plans hadn't been approved. The fact was that the plans in question had been already approved 10 years ago.

Fire Brigade

A long discussion took place on the condition of the Fire Brigade and appliances, and it was decided to place two of the staff on the Brigade, to hold a practice quarterly in the different wards and to have all appliances up-to-date.

March 18th.

The Chairman pointed out that March 18th was to be a Bank and Public Holiday, and it was also Fair Day. What about holding the fair on Tuesday?

Mr. Broderick—It won't make much difference.

Mr. McCarthy suggested that they write to the Cork Cattle Trade Association.

Vote Of Sympathy

On the proposition of Mr. Beausang seconded by Mr. Broderick, a vote of sympathy was passed with the relatives of the late Miss Murray, North Main street.

Milk Samples

The usual milk samples were submitted, all being marked "good."

Mr. Broderick said he had always taken a deep interest in the question of clean milk and he was highly pleased to see that display.

EGGS FOR GERMANY.

In connection with the Irish-German trade agreement, made recently, one of the first shipments was made from the Port of Cork last Saturday.

Youghal Mental Hospital.

At the usual monthly meeting of the Committee of the above there attended—Messrs. Wm. J. Broderick, T.D., Chairman; Very Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P.; J. R. Connolly, T.G., Dr. M. Twomey and Rev. Dd. Dwane, U.C.

Manager's Report

The Manager's report was as follows:—Since last meeting 3 patients (one female and 2 male) have been admitted from the Cork Mental Hospital, one female patient has been transferred, and one male has died—leaving in residence at present a total of 423 patients (250 men and 173 women). A wireless set was installed on the 18th ult. and is working satisfactorily. The patients have had some enjoyable entertainments during the month. The work of safeguarding the fire-escape stairway has not yet been carried out. The report of the Auditor was submitted. A cheque value £34 15s. 7d., had been received for 9 pigs and lodged to the credit of the Mental Hospital.

Auditor's Report

Some discussion took place on the following extracts from the Auditor's Report:—"When considering the contracts for the Cork and Youghal Hospitals attention might be paid to the prices quoted for the respective institutions and the benefit of a low contract might be acquired also for the other institution, e.g., the price of mutton at Youghal was 32/8 and at Cork 61/0. It might be found cheaper to purchase at Youghal for delivery at the Cork Hospital. While the cost of fire and light has been reduced at the Cork Hospital from £2 2s. 2d. per head in 1932-'33 to £1 14s. 8d. in 1933-'34, the cost at Youghal has increased in the same period from £1 14s. 8d. to £3 10s. 0d.

The Chairman said he had some doubt about the alleged increase in the cost of lighting, etc., at Youghal from £1 14s. 8d., to £3 10s. 0d.

Mr. Connolly—He is continually making mistakes.

In reply to the Chairman, it was stated that the batteries had to be renewed as they were worn out.

The Chairman said that the increase in the cost of coal would account for the substantial portion of the increase as also would the quality of the coal used. He had no hesitation in saying that that statement was incorrect. The administration had no control over the price of coal, nor the quality—that was fixed by the competition.

Canon Dinneen—it is a rule of thumb report.

Mr. Connolly—A most frivolous matter.

Fr. Dwan, said that the heating capacity of the coal should also be taken into consideration.

Doctor's Report

The doctor's report was as follows: Since my last report there has been one death. Ten patients are confined to bed on the male side of the house, and 10 on the female side, owing to debility and other causes. There has been no complaint of the water supply. The food supplies have been regularly examined and found up to the standard requirements. There has been no case of zymotic disease, and the general health of the Institution is excellent.

Tenders For Coal

The following tenders for 2 qualities of coal advertised for were received:—Messrs. Sutton, Ltd., Cork, 40/- and 40/-; Messrs. M. J. Fleming, Youghal, 35/- and 32/9.

The cheaper tender was unanimously recommended.

Canon Dinneen—If the duty is taken off, how shall we stand?

The Chairman—They never take off they always put on (laughter). We must insert a proviso to deal with the matter.

DEATH OF MR. PATK. BATEMAN, CAPPOQUIN.

Deep regret has been caused in Cappoquin by the death of Mr. Patrick Bateman, an old and respected inhabitant of the town, which occurred at his residence, Mill street, Cappoquin, on Tuesday night, Feb. 19th, after a brief illness.

Deceased, who was a native of Co. Limerick, and a Joiner by trade, went to America when quite a young man, and after a prosperous time there for some years came to Cappoquin over 30 years ago (in 1874) where he was employed on the construction of the new railway bridge which spans the Blackwater in preparation for the opening of the railway service known as the "Waterford, Dungarvan and Lismore Railway" which was formally opened for traffic in 1878.

The Chief Engineer in charge of the construction of the railway bridge at Cappoquin was Mr. Frazer, the Second Engineer being Mr. Connelly, step-father of Mr. Bateman, and during his four years' employment on this important work deceased married a popular Cappoquin lady, Miss Ellen O'Keefe, a member of one of the wealthiest and most important families in the town at the time who, under the trading title of "O'Keefe and Killigrew," carried on a most successful Posting Establishment in Cook street, and also owned considerable house property in Cappoquin, including one of the most up-to-date Hotels in the Co. Waterford. Having completed his work at the Cappoquin railway bridge, deceased, accompanied by his wife, went to Dublin where he was again employed under Mr. Frazer on an important contract in connection with the Dublin Main Drainage Scheme, and having completed his contract there, he returned to Cappoquin and soon started a successful coffin-making establishment in the extensive premises owned by his mother-in-law, Mrs. M. O'Keefe, in Cook street, on the site of which a splendid terrace of red brick dwelling houses now stands.

In addition to the coffin-making business, deceased also carried out several important Joinery contracts in connection with local building schemes and in every branch of business in which he was engaged he always proved himself to be a workman of great ability and honesty, whose services were ever in high demand in the town of his adoption.

Owing to advancing years he retired from active business a considerable time ago, since when he had lived a quiet life in his private residence in Mill street, where his family had purchased considerable house property some years ago. Of a quiet, kindly and generous nature, and a most interesting raconteur, he was a great favourite with all and was extremely popular in Cappoquin, and his death now, at a ripe age, is sincerely mourned by all who knew him.

The remains were removed from his late residence to St. Mary's Catholic Church, on Wednesday evening, and on Thursday morning Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated for the happy repose of his soul before a large congregation of the townspeople. The celebrant of the Mass was the Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin, the other clergymen assisting being Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., do., Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., Lismore, Rev. Fr. Power, C.C., do., and Rev. Father Murphy, C.C., do. The funeral later took place to the New Cemetery, Dromroe, Cappoquin, when there was a most representative cortege of the townspeople to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of the deceased.

The coffin was received at the cemetery gates by the Very Rev. Father Fitzgerald, P.P., and the Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., who read the final prayers at the graveside.

The chief mourners included:—Mrs. E. Bateman, (widow); Mrs. J. Gillan, and Mrs. D. Hill (daughters); Mrs. Killigrew, Modeligo; Eugene O'Keefe, Shanbally, Miss Bride O'Donnell, do., M. J. and Mrs. Sargent, Cappoquin; A. J. and Mrs. Sargent, do., J. P. Ryan, do., etc., (cousins and relatives).

The Sisters of Mercy, Cappoquin, sent their carriage and a number of lay representatives to the funeral, all the arrangements being satisfactorily carried out by Mr. P. Walsh, Undertaker, Cappoquin.—R.I.P.

A BRILLIANT FAMILY

The success obtained by the family of Mr. Wm. Brazil, ex-Sergeant, R.I.C. and late Clerk in the Office of the Co. Registrar, Courthouse, Waterford, are a high tribute to the intelligence of the children of this well-known Nire man, who for many years was Clerk to the late Mr. J. T. Hudson, Sheriff, Dungarvan.

His eldest son Mr. James Brazil is a clerical officer in Dublin Castle and his daughter, Miss Mary Brazil, who won a Waterford Corporation Scholarship, is at present spending four years free secondary education at the Mercy Convent, Carrick-on-Suir. The report that his youngest son, Master Michael J. Brazil, has taken 8th place in a competitive Civil Service Examination in which over 600 competitors sat for twelve vacancies, has just been received by Mr. Brazil.

Master M. J. Brazil attended the C.B.S. Mount Sion Secondary Schools and his splendid success is due to the painstaking efforts of Mr. Kennedy, his teacher.

Ex-Servt. Brazil is a native of the Nire Valley, County Waterford. He served 26 years in the R.I.C. and 19 years in the Sheriff's Office at Dungarvan and Waterford.

"HOME, SWEET HOME."

How is it when a man takes ill no place in the wide world appeals to him like home? How is it that when a man is getting better he wants to leave that same home at the very earliest opportunity, even before the doctor will allow him? An esteemed Portlaw reader who is well on the road to recovery after a sharp attack, but who is still confined within the four walls of his domicile, in a line to hand says—"Everyday is a week at home when you are confined." This is a healthy sign and cannot be read as any reflection on the ministering angels into which our women-folk are transformed when "pain and anguish writing the brow." Most of us like to anticipate the doctor when we are on the mend. He won't allow us up before a certain date; but before that date arrives we have been out of bed, and then feel as guilty as a truant schoolboy when he pays his next visit. He won't allow us out-of-doors before a certain date, but we generally slip into the open air a day or so in advance. Our medical advisers, of course, quite right to play for safety, but we have noticed that when doctors themselves fall ill they act in defiance of rules and regulations they lay down for their patients.
