DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

SHORTAGE OF WATER FREE MILK SCHEME

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at the meeting of the above held on Friday. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, V.C.; S. Hayes, P.O. Dwyer, J. Mansfield, M. Connors, J. Dahill, D. Foley, J. F. Foley, J. J. Crotty, M. Clancy, J. Butler, J. Christopher, P. Byrne.

SHORTAGE OF WATER

Mr. Dahill said his attention was drawn to the shortage of water at the bungalows at Knockateamore. The Water Inspector recommended that the Council make an order directing Mr. R. Dee, and Mrs. Morrissey, to have ball cocks fitted to the tanks on their land to prevent waste. An order to this effect was made, and the Water Inspector was directed to see that the work was carried out. Mr. McCarthy—While we are on the question of water, it is my opinion that the Council are not taking the water question as seriously as they should. What are we to do with the new houses, if we can't give them water we should make an order to close the water closets. The best thing to do would be to nail them up. If we can't give a supply. Chairman—What can we do. We are awaiting sanction for the improvement scheme.

Mr. McCarthy—We are taking things too slow. We should impress upon the Department the urgent necessity of the scheme, and we should try and work in a friendly manner here, instead of being fighting and do the best we can for the people. Chairman—We are all aware the people are in a bad state for water, but what are we to do. We could stay discussing it until 3 o'clock in the morning and we can get no farther. Mr. Mansfield—Would it be possible to give the people at Loughmore an hour's supply each day. B.S.—I could put a man up there for an hour. Mr. Connors—How long is it since the scheme was adopted by the Council?

Mr. McCarthy—It is about four months. I say it is a disgrace that there is not a reply from the Department yet. The Chairman suggested a further resolution to the Department. Mr. Christopher—Accompanied by a report from the M.O.H. Mr. Crotty—Even that the scheme is approved, you won't have the supply improved by the summer. Mr. McCarthy—You have 86 new houses up there. You can multiply that by five at least, and all those poor people have no water. I would suggest that the Clerk write to the Department asking why the letter from the Council four months ago was not answered. This was agreed to and the Clerk was directed to enclose a report from the M.O.H. also.

PAYMENTS

Paysheets for £21 7s. 8d., on the General A/c, and £1 11s. 11d., on the Harbour A/c, were passed.

CONTRADICTION WANTED

Mr. M. Condon, Michel street, whose tender for the delivery of stone to the Council was accepted at the previous meeting appeared before the meeting and said that he wanted a statement made at the last meeting by Mr. D. Foley, and which appeared in the Press, contradicted, and that was that he paid only 10d. per yard for breaking stones. Mr. O'Dwyer—I was responsible for the statement, but from enquiries I since made, I understand your rate was from 1s. to 1/8. Mr. Foley—What I said at the previous meeting was that the men would be paid better if the Council got the stones broken. Mr. Condon asked what proof Mr. Foley had of what he paid the breakers. Mr. Foley—I did not come here to be attacked by you. If you want to attack me do so outside. Mr. J. F. Foley—Are we to have "fireworks" here every night now? Mr. Condon said he did not come to attack anyone. He wanted the statement contradicted. He never made the wages, it was the breakers themselves made the wages, and he had them outside to prove that. Mr. O'Dwyer—The Council pay 2/2 per yard, and your rate is 1s. to 1/8 per yard. Mr. Hayes and himself were putting a resolution to-night that only unbroken stone be taken by the Council. Later when the resolution came before the meeting the Chairman refused to accept it, holding that the matter was covered by the terms of the contract which was for broken or unbroken stones as required.

WATER

Mr. Patk. McGrath, Two-Mile-bridge, was granted permission under the usual conditions to take a water supply for the building of a new house at Hermitage, Abbeyside. A complaint by Mr. P. F. Croke, on the high-water rate (£2) to his house at Youghal Road, and asking for a revision was adjourned.

KILADANGAN CARETAKER

The Clerk informed the Council that Mr. Patk. Wade, Kilgobinet, called on him during the week, to know if he could get a grazing tenancy of the lands around Kiladangan Waterworks. He would also undertake to carry out the duties of caretaker if necessary. His taking the matter up would be conditional on Mr. Lynch, the present caretaker surrendering the place and having no objection. Chairman—Where do we stand with the caretaker? Clerk—Lynch is still your caretaker. He wrote here some time ago agreeing to give it up, but the matter was deferred pending the improvement scheme.

Mr. Crotty suggested letting the shooting rights. There are a lot of snipe there. Chairman—The fact remains that we are losing revenue. Mr. Clancy said the caretaking is a very important matter. Wade may be prepared to carry out the duties. I suggest the matter be put on the agenda for next meeting. Mr. Butler—In the meantime the Water Inspector could interview Wade. Clerk—He will be calling here tomorrow. The matter was adjourned.

SLAUGHTERHOUSES

Arising out of an application by Mr. Brennan, Square, for a Slaughterhouse licence. Mr. Dahill suggested having a report from the M.O.H. and V.S., on all the slaughterhouses in the town for next meeting.

PERMISSION TO OPEN ROAD

Mr. Bowen, Co. Surveyor, wrote regarding the Council's request to open the road at the New Line for the purpose of erecting a pump at the bridge, stating that before permission would be given he would like to know where it is proposed to erect the fountain and if on the main road what provision the Council propose to make for drainage of waste water. Unless suitable drainage is arranged he could not allow any fountain to be erected there. Mr. Dahill—There is a fountain at this end and there is no provision to draw off the surplus water. Mr. Clancy—Considering the great shortage of water in the town, the Council should be very slow in giving any further extension until the supply is improved. Mr. D. Foley—The Council unanimously agreed to put a fountain at the bridge. Mr. Clancy didn't understand the long draw those poor people have in bad weather. Replying to Mr. Butler, the B.S. said the total cost to bring the supply to the houses would be about £5. Mr. Butler—Would the Railway Company object. B.S.—You should have their permission. Mr. Mansfield suggested putting a spring tap which would prevent any overflow or waste. A report was asked from the B.S. and water inspector.

FREE MILK SCHEME

In a letter from the Department it was stated that the Minister wished to point out that the circumstances of the milk supply in Dungarvan and Dublin County Borough are very different and the Minister cannot approve of preference being given to Tuberculin-tested milk to the extent contemplated in Dungarvan and that if Mr. Curran, Glenmore (whose tender for the supply of milk under the Free Milk Scheme was accepted by the Board) was not prepared to supply milk at the old price, viz., 10d. per gallon in summer and 1s. 1d. per gallon in winter, the Board should get quotations from suppliers of ordinary milk. Mr. Dahill—I am surprised at the Department going back on the T.T. milk. Dr. Casey, M.O.H., who appeared before the meeting, said that Mr. Curran had lost a lot of money in putting in the machinery necessary for the supplying of T.T. milk. It was his view that a person like Mr. Curran, who had gone to such trouble to ensure a perfect milk supply, should be encouraged. If the Department insisted in refusing to accept Curran's T.T. milk it would mean that other suppliers would not trouble to produce T.T. milk, and thus the chance of getting a pure milk supply would be lost for ever. Breach of Promise.

OLD MAN OF 72 SUED PRESENTS OF BULLOCKS AND THREAD £300 DAMAGES CLAIMED

At the Dungarvan Circuit Court on Thursday before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C., an action for breach of promise was heard. Miss Ellen Murray, aged 36 years, of Kilbeg, Tallow, sued Mr. John Coleman, Glenaghlough, Tallow, farmer, aged 72 years for £300 damages for breach of promise of marriage.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., for plaintiff, and Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Keane, solr., Youghal) for defendant. Mr. Ryan said the plaintiff was the daughter of a small farmer near Tallow, but the farm was so poor she had to go to service in 1922. Before she went away, she met the defendant at Mrs. Donovan's, Pike, Tallow. He took a fancy to her and she reciprocated. He asked her to meet him on the road a few nights after and she did. From that until 1924 she met him every night of the week. Then she went as dairymaid to Mr. Duke, Lismore, at 15s. a week and her support and when she went home later she met the defendant and he asked her would she marry him and she agreed to do so. He then told her not to go back to Duke's any more and he would help her at home as best he could. He gave her a present of two bullocks that made £26 and he bought her thread to make stockings. There was no correspondence as the parties lived near each other and the whole business was carried on viva voce. Later when time was going and the plaintiff did not want to be wasting her sweetness on the desert air of Knockanore, she asked him about redeeming his promise to marry her, but he said he would after a month, but when that time expired he would not marry her at all.

Miss Murray, the plaintiff, said they had a farm of 30 acres at Kilbeg, Tallow. She said in August 1922 she met the defendant at Mrs. Donovan's, the Pike, Tallow. He walked with her and she arranged to meet him in various places. He showed much affection for her and was a healthy man. In 1924 she went to Mr. Duke, Lismore as dairymaid at 15s. a week. In August that year she met the defendant and he told her not to go back, but stay at home and that he would get married to her in a short time. I in Waterford were paying 1s per gallon all the year round, and then the milk was not delivered in sterilised flasks. The Council should take very definite action in this matter and give it all the publicity it deserves.

Chairman—The question is what are we to do about it? Curran's contract will expire on Sunday next. Dr. Casey—I think Curran should be asked to supply the milk at the old price for, say, one month, to give the Board time to try and get his tender sanctioned. It is a pity that the Local Government Board are so discouraging. Mr. J. Foley—Make it a fortnight. Mr. Connors—We are the only town in Ireland able to supply T.T. milk as asked by the Department and now when we have what they asked us to get they turn it down. Mr. Crotty—It is not encouraging to other farmers. Mr. Butler—T.T. milk is killed. Dr. Casey—I think I am right when I say that the Department some time ago said they would pay 1s to 1s 4d. for T.T. milk. Mr. Butler—I think they said they would give a preference of 3d. or 4d. for T.T. milk. Mr. Walsh, S.S.O., said that the present supply of milk was 164 gallons per week. Dr. Casey—That would mean only a difference of 2/6 a year in the price. It would cost more to send two patients to a sanatorium.

Mr. Curran appeared before the meeting and said he would supply the milk at the old price for one month. The meeting thanked Mr. Curran for helping them out, and agreed that a strong letter urging the Minister to sanction Mr. Curran's tender of 1s. per gallon during the summer and 1s. 4d. in the winter be sent in the meantime. Mr. Clancy brought up the question of the Hospitalisation Scheme for County Waterford, and the Clerk was instructed to request the Clerk of Public Assistance to act in the matter. A proposition by Mr. McCarthy, seconded by Mr. Hayes, that the cost of the week, was deferred until the next week, was defeated by the majority of the Council at a previous meeting.

said I was satisfied, but I had no money, and he said—"I have as much money as the two of us will never spend." He said not to go back to my situation and he would do the best he could for me. In 1925 he made me a present of two bullocks which I sold for £26. He said if I ever wanted anything to go to him. He gave me thread to knit stockings. He was most respectful towards me. He used to meet me very often in the evenings and marriage was discussed, but he appeared in no hurry. His brother died 3 years ago and then defendant went to live with Patk. McCarthy, who was a neighbour of his. She kept company with him up to August last. Then she asked him what he was going to do about marriage and he said to give him a month to consider. When next she met him on the 1st September, he said he would not get married at all and she said when he put her astray and kept her at home she would have to get compensation.

Cross-examined by Mr. Budd—The conversation with the defendant took place around the Pike at Tallow. I knew him well since 1922, but there was no friendship between us until 1924. The first time we went out together he suggested marriage. I was not at Percivals, but I only obliged the lady for two months. I got a present of a little money. Defendant is not 72 years of age.

Do you know he has not been in good health for the last 10 years?—No.

Did he give up the farm because he could not look after it?—Yes.

It was his brother was failing for years. Did you take any steps to compel this old man to marry you?—I did not. He said whenever I would be short he told me he would help me.

Why didn't you do something to make him carry out his promise?—No reply.

To further questions she said he made her a promise of marriage in 1925, but she did not think it was her place to take steps to make him marry her for the last 10 years, but she had to do it now. She said she was not allowed to see him for 12 months that his brother was ill, but she did not write to him as she did not think he could read a letter. That was in 1930. I met the defendant, by appointment nearly every night of the week and often spent two or three hours with him.

Mr. Budd—I am instructed that this man never met you except casually on the road? Witness—Oh, he did. That would be a lie. He met me regularly for years—nearly every second night. It was in 1925 defendant made me a present of two bullocks. At the time we had two cows on the farm.

Do you ever have hallucinations? Do you ever imagine things have happened that have not really occurred?—I don't make many mistakes.

Is not it all imagination of yours that this old man proposed to marry you?—I did not imagine it.

You did nothing about it for ten years?—No.

Mr. Budd—If what you say is true, why did not you bring the neighbours to show you met this old man every night? She denied saying to the defendant last July that three or four fellows wanted to marry her.

Mr. Budd—When plaintiff said that he had promised to marry her defendant replied—"When did I make the promise" and witness replied—"When you were going to school."

Mrs. Doherty, Kilbeg, sister of the plaintiff, said she saw the defendant very often in her house or in the fields outside. He used come to see her mother who was ill. He used ask her sister out for a walk when going out. She saw some demonstrations of affection.

His Lordship—What form did it take? Witness—He put his arm round her neck.

His Lordship—Where did that take place? Witness—On the road. Where were you?—I was with them.

His Lordship—Did he say anything? Witness—I don't know. I went away.

Cross-examined by Mr. Budd—Defendant was much livelier looking 4 years ago than to-day. He was a different man then.

Mr. Ryan—A shave and a hair cut would tidy him up (laughter).

Thomas Murray, aged 27 years, Ballynatray Commons, gave evidence that he knew the parties all his life. He remembered a meeting in his aunt's house 15 years ago between Ellen Murray and John Coleman, and often afterwards he saw the parties walking together. That relationship continued all the years.

By Mr. Budd—Defendant used see the plaintiff home a bit of the road. His Lordship—Did you see any sign of love-making with these people? Witness—I saw defendant with his arm round her waist.

DUNGARVAN CIRCUIT COURT.

The Circuit Court sitting was opened on Wednesday in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, by Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C.

Longan v. Walsh
 Mr. McDonald, B.L., instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., for applicant.
 Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr.) for respondent.

This was an application by Patk. Longan (Junr.) Ballinamuck, Dungarvan, for an order of the Court to determine the amount of compensation payable to him in respect of injuries received while in the employment of Patk. Walsh, Mount O'Dell, Dungarvan.

Applicant, in reply to Mr. McDonald said he was 22 years and employed as an agricultural labourer 6 years.

On January 24th 1934, while employed by the Defendant feeding cows he fell off the rick and the hay knife fell down on him and cut his knee below the right knee-cap. He was taken to hospital and the wound was stitched by Dr. Lenihan, next day he came to Dr. McCarthy and gave three weeks in hospital. After leaving hospital, witness attended at the dispensary and Dr. Casey told him to have the wound dressed by the Jubilee Nurse. He also said witness would be able to work in a few days. Dr. McCarthy told him he would not be able to work. In February 1934 his leg gave way under him and he was taken to hospital in the ambulance by Dr. Casey's orders and was operated on in March. In August 1934 he was sent to Dublin by the Insurance Company and was told by a surgeon that another operation was necessary which was carried out by Dr. McCarthy in October. He went back to work in February 1935 but could not do it, as he could not walk on rough ground or put any weight on his toes. He worked Monday and Tuesday. His leg got swollen on Tuesday night, and he could not work on Wednesday. He then worked Thursday, Friday and Saturday, but had to give up on Saturday. His condition is still the same. He must always keep the weight on his heel.

Mr. Molloy, B.L.—He can bend the leg back, but cannot straighten it out. He had no band on it now although told it would benefit his knee. He had the band on from December up to a week ago. He walked to Court that morning 1 1/2 miles and his leg did not swell. He rode a bicycle once since the accident as Dr. Casey said it would benefit his leg, but when he got off he could hardly walk. He worked Monday and Tuesday of one week in February, but could not work on Wednesday. He went about three miles to play cards on the Tuesday night, he rode half the way on a bicycle and walked the other half.

To his Lordship—He walked half the way back after playing cards. To Mr. Molloy—He did his best in February to do the work, but could not. The swelling would go down when he rested.

Dr. McCarthy said he examined Longan in the District Hospital in January 1934, and had him under his care for three weeks. He returned to the hospital in March and witness operated on him for divided tendon. In his opinion he was fit for light work. He would not consider the work he was put to in February (cutting timber and cleaning out houses and feeding cattle) light work. The injury was going to be permanent. The tendon was completely divided. To Mr. Molloy—The accident occurred in January, 1934. The length of time an ordinary severed tendon in normal circumstance would take to knit would be four or five weeks. This wound was septic.

Dr. Casey and Mr. Walsh, the employer were examined for the defence. Replying to his Lordship, Mr. McDonald, said his client was paid full compensation at the rate of 2/- a week up to 10th March, 1935, it was then reduced and he was paid 10/- for one week, and nothing since.

His Lordship in the course of summing up said it was very hard for doctors to swear definitely as to what is going to happen in any case. I would have great hope that this young man's condition will improve to some extent. The tendency of the young is to get well, and in time if he does not injure it again he may be alright. At the present time he is entitled to compensation at full rate for total incapacity. He would fix compensation at full rate of 2/- up to this date, and from this day partial compensation at 12/- a week.

This closed the evidence for the plaintiff. Mr. Budd held there was no corroboration of the promise and quoted legal decisions as did Mr. Ryan also.

His Lordship held there was no evidence of corroboration of the promise of marriage and dismissed the action with costs.

Anglo and Civil War Days Recalled.

FARMER'S CLAIM FOR £1,673 AWARDED £800

At the Dungarvan Circuit Court on Thursday before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C. Mr. M. Hickey, Cahernalega, Ballinamull, claimed £1,673 for loss and damage sustained by him in the Anglo Irish war and Civil war; goods, etc., given to the I.R.A., etc., etc.

Mr. Lennon, B.L., (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solr.) for the State and Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Shannon, solr.,) for Mr. Hickey.

On the suggestion of Mr. Budd, His Lordship gave a half hour to Counsel on both sides to consider a settlement of the claim. This was done and the report was submitted to His Lordship.

Mr. Hickey, Cahernalega, said between 1920 and 1923 he farmed 400 acres and had two houses and well stocked farms. His sympathies were with the I.R.A. in the days of the British and also against the Provisional Government. His place was a headquarters for the I.R.A. all the time. He purchased various articles of clothing, etc., for the I.R.A., which he gave them when needed. The articles taken away from him from 1919 to 1923 were taken by the I.R.A. From February, 1923 to May 23rd several articles set out were taken by the Free State troops. In the case of claim for a horse shot and poultry damaged his place was frequently raided by Free State troops, and he had set out the damage done him accurately. A good deal of damage to his house was done by those searching for ammunition. His hay and straw was also burned. In March 1921, he was repeatedly raided by British military and a good deal of furniture was destroyed, bedding burned, etc.

Mr. O'Sullivan, Q.M., I.R.A., in the period of this claim, said Mr. Hickey's place was Headquarters for the I.R.A. and was repeatedly raided by the British military and Free State troops. His claim would be a genuine one.

By Mr. Lennon—He kept billeted men also. Mr. Molloy—Det-Sergt. Mansfield, Wm. Dalton, Capt. O'Meara and Mr. Dalton are also here to give evidence if necessary.

His Lordship made awards for £800 and £20 special costs.

DEATH OF MRS. M. E. POWER

BALLYKNOCK, DUNGARVAN. After a brief illness, Mrs. Mary Ellen Power, relict of the late Mr. Thomas Power, farmer, Ballinamuck, Dungarvan, passed peacefully away on Thursday of last week, fortified by the rites of the church, of which she was a most exemplary member. The deceased lady was a worthy member of a most respected family—the Navins, of Ballinavogua, Kiltrossanty. She made a multitude of friends by her ever cheerful disposition and un-failing hospitality. Widespread sympathy is felt for her sons and daughters, who are left to lament the loss of a good Irish mother. To her esteemed family the condolence of the community is extended. The great respect in which the late Mrs. Power was held was demonstrated on Friday evening when a large cortege followed her remains to St. Bridg's Parish Church, Kiltrossanty, Requiem Masses for the repose of her soul were celebrated on Saturday morning, and the burial took place afterwards in the family plot in the adjoining cemetery. Very Rev. W. Kehoe, P.P., assisted by Rev. J. Harty, C.C., do., officiated at the graveside. It would be impossible to give a complete list of the mourners and sympathisers present. A number of beautiful wreaths were placed on the grave. May she rest in peace. (Cross-Channel and American papers will please copy).

CALVES SUCKING ONE ANOTHER

When a number of young calves are being reared on the pail and herded together in a pen or shed, they often give trouble by sucking one another. Once the habit is acquired there is nothing but isolation for the worst offenders if rubbing those parts sucked with a distasteful but innocuous smear or lotion does not have the desired effect. One of the evils of this habit is the quantity of hair that may be swallowed. A ball of hair in the stomach of a calf may prove fatal. No doubt a good deal of the troubles experienced with the rearing of young calves arise from the swallowing of hair and other indigestible materials.

POSED AS "BROTHER OF ST. FRANCIS"

Wm. Waddington, a York fitter, with a ten years' criminal record, who posed as a "Brother of St. Francis," as a method of obtaining money, was sent to prison for 8 months with hard labour at Dorset Quarter Sessions.

BLACKWATER FISHERIES.

At the usual monthly meeting of the Lismore or No. 4 Board of Blackwater Fishery Conservators at Tal-low there attended—Messrs. J. Kennedy, Chairman, Jas. Kent, Capt. R. Holroyd Smyth, J. Power, W. Dunne, W. O'Neill, E. P. Maxwell, E. E. Hey, Major Longfield and W. Baldwin.

Messrs. T. Drohan, Clerk and Inspector were also in attendance.

Mallow Factory Effluents.

The following letter was read from the Department—11/3/35.—A Chara, in reply to your letter of the 5th inst., relative to effluents from the Mallow Beet Factory, I am directed by the Minister for Agriculture to state that in his opinion the appropriate time for an Inspector of Fisheries to attend for consultation on this subject with the Lismore Board of Conservators will be immediately before the opening of the next season for work at the Factory.

The Chairman—I thought that you reported favourably on the factory and the effluents from it.

Major Longfield said if the Chairman read the correspondence on the subject he wouldn't make such a foolish remark.

The Chairman—There is nothing foolish about it.

Major Longfield said they went into the matter with the Manager before the season opened, and he gave them his full assurance that there was nothing deleterious going into the river. They had examined the effluent which seemed perfectly clear. However, on 1st February, they found a lot of slime, which they know nothing about in the river. On next day he picked up the slime at Ballyhooley. There he was informed that the river was very filthy, lumps of that slime being all over the river bed.

The Chairman—Were there not some dead fish?

The Clerk—That was caused by a leakage of lime from the Factory.

Major Longfield said that had been admitted by the Factory Authorities. It was due to a break in the wall of the lime-slaking pit. Judging by the state of things at present he feared that the bed of the river would be in a very bad condition for a stretch of 18 miles.

The Chairman—Has it done any harm?

The Clerk—I cannot say definitely.

Major Longfield said a lot of the young fry were bound to get suffocated. How could those delicate little things struggle through that sticky slime. What was the Inspector's opinion?

Mr. Drohan—In my opinion it would be detrimental. It was well known that heavy floods with mud did a lot of damage, the little things getting choked.

Major Longfield—I have never seen any substance more liable to choke any small fry than that horrible glutinous stuff abounding in the river at present.

500 Yards Nets

The Clerk referred to a statement made at the previous meeting regarding alleged poaching at Youghal, where it had been suggested, nets 500 yards long were used. He had made investigations and found there was no truth in it. Further, he had searched the records 26 years back and couldn't find any record of a net of such length being used.

Major Longfield said his recollection of the matter was that a member of the Board had made that statement, but when asked about it he said that any statement he had made outside was entirely a matter of his own responsibility. There was no charge.

The Clerk—There was an insinuation.

Major Longfield believed that the matter would not have arisen, if there had not been some talk about it. It might have been all little tattle.

The Clerk said he had the nets at Youghal measured from time to time.

Mr. Dunne—Fishermen would laugh at the mention of a net 500 yards long. It could not be fished.

Mr. Kent—What is the legal limit?

The Clerk—200 yards. I questioned a bailiff with 36 years service and he had never heard anything of the kind. 400 yards was found.

Major Longfield—Possibly two nets tied together.

The Clerk said Mr. Hey had made a statement.

Mr. Hey—I didn't accuse anybody. I merely asked if another member had reported a net 500 yards long.

Mr. Baldwin—It is a case of dub-

Signal to Motor Car on Cappelquin

TWO CARS BADLY SMASHED

At the Cappoquin District Court, before Mr. J. S. Troy, D.J. Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, summoned Miss Kathleen Bennett, Portlough, Mooncoin, Co. Kilkenny, for having negligently driven a motor car on March 3rd., as a result of which she collided with a motor car driven by Mrs. Mary O'Shea, Glendonough, Dungourney, Co. Cork.

Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, appeared for Miss Bennett.

Mrs. Mary O'Shea, in reply to the Supt. stated that on Sunday, March 3rd., she was driving a Baby Ford motor car and went to see a meet of the Dromore Beagles between Clashmore and Aglish. She left her car on the side of the road, facing towards Cappoquin, and about 4.30 p.m., when she was about to return home she proceeded to reverse her car in order to turn it towards Youghal. Her driver, Maurice Tobin, was with her and remained on the road, and before getting into the car she looked carefully up and down the road towards Youghal and Cappoquin and seeing no traffic on either side she then got into the car to turn it. She had faced the car across the road and was partially turned towards Youghal when she felt a bang on the left side of her car, which was practically stationary at the time. She then saw that it was a Baby Austin car, driven by Miss Bennett, coming from the Youghal direction which had violently banged into her car which was swung round in the direction of Cappoquin by the force of the impact. Her car was struck on the left front wheel, and after the collision the Baby Austin car crashed into the ditch on the opposite side of the road. The left wheel, front axle and running board were damaged on her car, while Miss Bennett's car also appeared to be badly damaged.

Witness added that Miss Bennett was accompanied by a gentleman named Mr. Meade, Dublin, and said that she was racing to catch a train in Clonmel for Dublin, as her friend should be in Dublin that night, and she asked witness if she would be able to drive him to Clonmel, but she was unable to do so, as her car had been completely knocked out of action.

Cross-examined by Mr. Farrell, solr., Mrs. O'Shea said she had been driving cars for the past 20 years, and had great experience as a driver. She had the Baby Ford car only since before Christmas, but did not know that hairt bean lionn go ndubhairt bean lei (laughter).

The Clerk—I am glad that the air has been cleared.

Alleged Poaching

The meeting was engaged for a considerable time investigating alleged poaching between Dromore and Cooneen.

Inspector Buckley reported that they saw three boats poaching on last Sunday night. They made chase. They saw lights flashing from the vicinity of a bailiff's boat. They seized two coats without name or number.

The Clerk—Flash lights are plentiful at Cooneen and Dromore. Poachers there have a 'Morse Code' of their own (laughter).

Mr. Hey—Is Mr. Buckley satisfied that the bailiffs there are doing their duty?

The Clerk—Apparently he is not.

Mr. Buckley said that poachers were operating within 150 yards of the bailiff's boat.

Mr. Power suggested that the bailiff concerned be called before them.

Mr. Kent—Is it bailiffs or poachers or both you are bringing up? (laughter).

The Board gave the Inspectors authority to handle the bailiffs, and the matter should be left in their hands. The men having been called in and questioned separately, it was decided to have the Inspectors deal with them. Replying to a question, the Clerk said they were not empowered to seize a boat, unless they could prove a previous conviction.

A letter was read from a man named McCarthy, stating that the coats were his. It was owing to a mistake that the name and number were not on them. He regretted the fact. He had arranged for the transfer of both.

Mr. Hey said they ought take proceedings against the owner for not having his name on them.

Major Longfield said that notices calling for the name and number to be put on all boats had been out for the past six weeks, and he, therefore, agreed with Mr. Hey.

It was finally decided to give back the coats to the owner.

Boat Taken

Major Longfield said that Mr. Annesley's boat's chain had been cut, the boat taken and used and then left at Careyville—the work of the Fermoy gang.

Mr. Buckley said there were too many boats in that vicinity for the bailiffs to watch.

Financial Condition

Some discussion took place on the financial condition of the Board.

Mr. Hey said after paying that day's bills there would be an overdraft.

Mr. Kent—There are many more than the Board in debt to the bank these times (laughter).

THE LATE MRS. B. POWER

The death of Mrs. Bridget Power (nee Baldwin), relict of the late Mr. David Power, farmer Ballyboy, Kilmacthomas, which, as briefly announced in our previous number, occurred unexpectedly on Tuesday of last week, in the fullness of her years, removes from the district a fine type of Irish Catholic womanhood.

A member of an old and highly respected family, with numerous connections in County Waterford and South Tipperary. Because of her many kindly and generous acts, which were in keeping with her naturally pleasing and hospitable nature, she was most popular and much esteemed by all who knew her. The remains were removed to Few's Catholic Church on Wednesday evening, followed by a cortege of extremely large proportions. Solemn Office and Requiem High Mass, at which the Very Rev. W. Kehoe, P.P., Killoarsanty, presided, were offered up for her soul on Thursday morning.

Rev. J. Harty, C.C., Killoarsanty, was celebrant of the Mass, and the other priests in attendance were—Very Rev. J. Murphy, P.P., Stradbally; Very Rev. T. Galvin, P.P., Newtown; Rev. T. O'Shea, C.C., Ballyaneen; Rev. T. Ahearne, C.C., Kill; Rev. P. O'Farrell, C.C., Stradbally; and Rev. J. Harty, C.C., Kilmacthomas. Interment was subsequently made in the adjoining cemetery in the presence of innumerable relatives, friends and sympathisers.—R.I.P.

IRISH GUARDS' BAND FOR CANADA

The Band of the Irish Guards, stationed at Wellington Barracks, London, will perform at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Speaking at a meeting of the National Executive of Fianna Fail in Dublin on Friday week, President de Valera dealt with the intervention of the I.R.A. in the Dublin Transport strike.

He said:— "One of the cardinal principles of our policy, is to improve the conditions of the workers and give them a reasonable measure of comfort. It was in pursuit of this policy that we replaced by a unified system the chaotic conditions which existed in the transport services in Dublin. These conditions meant for many of the employees unreasonable hours of work, inadequate wages, and general insecurity.

"The Government realised that in unification there were dangers. A strike or lockout would cause much more serious hardships than before. When the present strike occurred the Government naturally deplored it. The inconvenience and loss which it would cause to the whole community, including the workers themselves, were certain to be considerable.

"When it was clear that the strike was likely to last for a long time, we felt it our duty to come to the relief of those who were not sufficiently well off to have private cars to bring them to their work or business.

"It is entirely untrue to suggest that the use of Army lorries for this purpose was intended to break the strike. It could only have that effect if the men on strike were counting on the inconvenience to the public as a means of enforcing a settlement. It seems clear that that was not the case. On the occasion of a railway strike some time ago Army lorries were similarly used for civilian transport, and the tramway busmen themselves worked an alternative service provided by their company.

"The serious aspect of the charges of partiality is that they were used by an avowedly military organisation as an excuse for intervention in the strike. Now when an organisation which has the use of arms as one of its methods proposed to intervene in a trade dispute, there was only one thing for the Government to do.

"When we accepted office we assumed the obligation to maintain peace in the community and to safeguard all citizens against violence. That is our supreme duty as a Government, and must be fulfilled.

"We have been very patient during the last three years. We have used the powers we possess sparingly. Realising the need of the country for harmony and anxious to put an end to the disastrous divisions that have existed amongst us, we have put up with things which no other Government in the world would tolerate.

"We have hoped all along that commonsense and patriotic instincts would at least assert themselves. Our hopes have apparently been misplaced.

"The use of violence against the forces of the Government and against individual citizens has continued. Recently the life of one citizen was taken in an armed raid in County Longford, and policemen were fired on and wounded in Tralee and in Dublin. It is time that this should stop.

"Violence by one section must provoke violence by others. The result is anarchy and ultimately one form or other of dictatorship. At the least it brings comfort and encouragement to the enemies of the country. It creates dissension and weakness amongst ourselves.

"I find it hard to understand how any Irishman with any sense of duty to his country could adhere to such methods during years when our economic life was being subjected to attack from outside and when every exercise of our right to determine the nature of our own institutions was being challenged.

"It is particularly difficult to understand how people who claim to cherish the ideals which the Irish Republican Army held and fought for could be associated with such methods.

"Those who remember the old I.R.A. know that it always regarded itself as the army of the nation, pledged to defend the rights and liberties of the whole people. It stood for the maintenance of order. No one could conceive it as an instigator of sectional strife or as lending itself out, as if it were some racketeering organisation.

"What excuse can now be offered for the use of violence in our domestic differences? Every section which desires to do so can without forfeiting any principle submit its policy to the judgment of the people and become the Government with control of all the resources of the community if it secures a majority.

"Any one who is not prepared to adopt peaceful methods in such conditions must intend to attempt to overthrow the elected Government and to impose his own will on the people by force. That is a completely insane policy which could not possibly succeed. At any rate, it is not the way to Irish independence. It would mean at the outset a civil war which would leave the country quite incapable of asserting or maintaining its freedom as against an outside Power.

"I hope that those who think the Government is not moving fast enough will seriously ponder these words. If they are convinced that they could do better, the way is open to them. Let them go to the people. I am satisfied, however, that our way is the only effective way. We are pledged to work for the complete independence and unity of Ireland as a

WEST WATERFORD DIVISIONAL BOARD

A meeting of the above Board was held in Cappoquin on Sunday, Mr. Frank Ryan, Tallow, Chairman, presided, and the following delegates were present:—

The Liam Lynch Memorial. The Secretary stated that all the Clubs concerned in the fixtures made for next Sunday, April 7th had requested to have all these matches postponed to a later date.

The Chairman said they were all probably aware that the ceremony of the unveiling of the Liam Lynch Memorial would be held at Newcastle, Clonmel, on next Sunday, and as most of the Gaels in the Co. Waterford were anxious to be present there, this was the reason why the Clubs concerned in Sunday's fixtures were now anxious for a postponement, and he would now take any proposition which may be made in the matter.

Mr. E. Lonergan, Cappoquin, proposed and Mr. E. Brady, do., seconded that all fixtures made for next Sunday be postponed, and this was unanimously agreed to.

The Secretary said it would be necessary to make fresh fixtures now for later dates in respect of the three fixtures made for next Sunday and the following dates were unanimously decided on:—

Walk-Overs. The Secretary reported that two Clubs had given "walk-overs" in the first round, as Kilmachomas had failed to field a team in the Junior Football match against Dungarvan fixed for Stradbally on March 17th, and Ballycurran had also failed to turn up for their match in Junior Football against Kinsalebeg-Clashmore at Kinsalebeg on Sunday, March 24th and it was now open to the Board to take what action they deemed fit in the matter, as the giving of "walk-overs" in this way should not be encouraged.

Mr. Connors, Dungarvan, asked if the Convention had not decided on certain penalties being imposed on Clubs which failed to field a team in this way?

The Secretary said a rule had been made that when a Club was affiliated each year the names of 15 players should be submitted in each case, and in the event of any Club failing to field a team in a county fixture the 15 players named by such Club should be suspended. However, as they had no delegates either from Kilmachomas or Ballycurran present at this meeting, he did not wish to have any drastic action taken in their absence, and he suggested that the Hon. Secs. of those Clubs be requested to attend the next meeting of the Board and explain why they did not field teams on the dates named, and this course was unanimously agreed to.

The Nomenclature Of A Club

The Secretary said that some question had been raised about having the name of the Kinsalebeg-Clashmore Club changed to the name of Kinsalebeg only, as they had already a Clashmore Club affiliated, and as both were Football Clubs, it was most confusing to have the name of Clashmore also tacked on to the Kinsalebeg Club.

Mr. Curran, Clashmore, said as several Clashmore men were members of the Kinsalebeg Club they were anxious to have the name of Clashmore added to Kinsalebeg, but he agreed that it would be much simpler if each Club went under its own name.

After some discussion, the Secretary was directed to write to Mr. Connery, Kinsalebeg, and ask him for his views on the matter.

A Drawn Game

A discussion took place about the Junior Football match between Ballyin and Ballyduff-Mocollop which was played in Ballyduff on Sunday, March 24th and which resulted in a draw with level scores.

The question of venue for the replay having been raised, Mr. A. Harris, said the match should be again played in Ballyduff, as they would get a good "rate" there, and be sides it would give a great fillip to the game in that district.

The Ballyin delegates objected to this, as they had incurred considerable expense in travelling to Ballyduff for the first match, and they held it would not be fair to ask them to travel there again unless they were allowed expenses.

After a lengthy discussion, Mr. Connors, Dungarvan, proposed that the replay be again in Ballyduff, and that Ballyin be allowed £1 expenses, and this was agreed to. The date was fixed for Sunday, May 5th, Mr. J. O'Shea, Tallow, to again referee.

Other Fixtures

Mr. M. V. O'Donoghue, Lismore, reported that he had refereed the two Junior Hurling matches in Cappoquin on Sunday between Cappoquin and Melleray and Four-Mile-Water v. Ballyduff-Mocollop, the result of the first match being, Cappoquin 7 goals, 4 points, Melleray Nil. In the second match Four-Mile-Water defeated Ballyduff by 2 goals 2 points to 1 point and as Ballyin had got a bye in this round, they should now meet Four-Mile-Water in the next round.

The question of venue for this match was then considered, and Mr. E. Lonergan, proposed that it be played in Cappoquin.

It having been pointed out that the Melleray Club was entitled to a match it was then decided that Four-Mile-Water play Ballyin in Melleray on Sunday, May 12th, with Mr. John O'Donoghue, Cappoquin, as referee.

Cappoquin Junior hurling team will meet the winners of the Lismore v. Tallow match, and the venue was fixed for Ballyin on Sunday May 19th.

Some discussion followed on the selection of a referee, and it was decided that if the match should be between Cappoquin and Lismore, Mr. A. Harris, Ballyduff, will act as referee, but if Tallow should qualify to meet Cappoquin, the match will be refereed by Mr. Wm. Hogan, Lismore.

Reinstatement Of Suspended Players

An application was received from John Doherty, Lismore, a suspended player, for reinstatement, and having briefly discussed the details of his case, the application was granted.

A similar application from Michael Whelan, Lismore, was read, but as Mr. John F. O'Donnell, Lismore, said that his Club had taken no steps to get him reinstated, as he had continued to play "foreign games," the application was refused.

The Secretary said he had received a similar application from the Hon. Sec. of the Cappoquin Club in respect of a suspended member, but as the Cappoquin delegates present stated that they knew nothing about the matter, no order was made, and the subject dropped.

An application made by C. Downey, formerly a member of the Cappoquin Club, asking to be transferred to Dungarvan Club, as he now resided in the latter town, was unanimously granted.

Too Late

A letter was read from the Kilrossanty Club asking to be allowed take part in this year's Championships, as they had not affiliated in the usual time. It having been pointed out that all the draws for the first rounds in Hurling and Football were now complete, the application was refused.

Tournament For Clashmore

Mr. C. Curran, applied for a permit to hold a Football Tournament in Clashmore for a valuable set of medals, and the necessary permit was granted.

Votes Of Sympathy

On the motion of Mr. J. F. O'Donnell, seconded by Mr. P. Whelan, votes of sympathy were passed to the family of the late Mr. P. Power, Hon. Sec., Four-Mile-Water Club; to Mr. M. Connery, Piltown, on the death of his sister; to Mr. E. Hayes, Dungarvan, on the death of his mother; to Mr. John Beecher, Tallow, on the death of his brother, Paul; and to Messrs. P. and T. Cowman, Dungarvan, on the death of their mother, all the members standing, which concluded the proceedings.

DUNGARVAN HARBOUR BOARD E.S.B. CRITICISED

At the meeting of the Dungarvan Urban Council, Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman presiding.

The Harbour Master Mr. Curran reported that he had applied on March 22nd to the E.S.B., to renew a broken shade on a harbour light. He had called on several occasions at the local offices and had written to Waterford, but nothing had been done.

Mr. Butler said that if there was a mishap to a ship although they were insured, the insurance company might not admit a claim when a leading light was defective. He suggested that a strong letter be written to the head office in Dublin. The E.S.B. he said were not doing their duty in carrying out the contract.

Mr. Mansfield—If they fail in their contract we needn't pay them.

Mr. Butler—They are always covered for any deficiencies on a piece of paper.

Mr. Clancy—We should write a strong letter.

It was agreed that a strong letter be written to Dublin calling attention to the delay in providing the shade.

LIGHT KEEPER

It was decided to issue advertisements for a light-keeper at Ballinacorney, the annual contract ending on April 1st next.

Fashionable Wedding in Cappoquin

St. Anne's Protestant Church, Cappoquin, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday when Mr. Charles Langley, Tay Lodge, Kilmachomas, was married to Miss Winifred Fowler niece of Mr. David Hall, Bleach House, Villierstown, Cappoquin.

The bridegroom is a member of a very old Co. Waterford family whose members have been always prominently identified with the social and sporting life of East Waterford, while the bride is connected with many of the leading families in the county, and is extremely popular in West Waterford, where she has resided for some time with her uncle, Mr. D. Hall.

The pretty church was beautifully decorated for the occasion by Mr. A. Dawson, Dromana, flowering almonds, Japanese cherries, lilies, primulas and narcissi forming a most attractive picture around the altar and other parts of the sacred edifice.

There was a large and fashionable attendance of the relatives and friends of the bridal couple present when the ceremony commenced at 2 o'clock the service being fully choral, which added greatly to the impressiveness and beauty of the proceedings.

Mr. George Russel, Cappoquin, was a most courteous and efficient M.C., while Mr. C. Boyd, Organist, St. Anne's Church, presided at the organ.

The opening hymn was "Lead us, Heavenly Father, Lead us," and during the Service the Psalm, "God be merciful to us and bless us," and the hymn, "Oh, Perfect Love, all human thoughts transcending," were beautifully played, and as the party were signing the Register in the Vestry Mr. Boyd played "Here Comes The Bride," while Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" pealed out as the bridegroom and bride were leaving the Church.

The marriage ceremony was solemnised by the Very Rev. Canon Parkinson, Hill, Rector, Zion Church, Rathgar, Dublin, (uncle of the bride), assisted by the Ven. Archdeacon R. B. Burkitt, M.A., Rector, Cappoquin.

The bride, who was given away by her uncle, Mr. D. Hall, looked charming in a dress of Parchment Ring velvet, with a long veil of Limerick lace, and she carried a large sheaf of Madonna lilies.

The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Fowler, (sister of the bride), who wore a pretty frock of gold brocade and carried a large bouquet of St. Bridgid Anemones, while Lord William Beresford, Georgetown House, Kilmachomas, was best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Bleach House, Villierstown, the residence of the bride's uncle, and later in the evening the happy couple left for the honeymoon which will be spent in a motor tour through Ireland, the bride's going away dress being of grey flannel with a blue hat.

A large number of valuable wedding presents were received, while telegrams of congratulation were sent from various parts of the country during the afternoon.

LISMORE NOTES.

TALLOW V. VILLIERSTOWN.—Tallow's Junior Football team were very successful against Villierstown at the Gaelic Field, Tallow on Sunday, in their first round tie for this year's championship.

Favourable weather prevailed and the pitch and general arrangements were perfect. The play was fairly evenly distributed, but Tallow were faster on the ball and combined to better effect. Their rivals lost some good scoring opportunities, and this setback coupled with their apparent lack of training, were factors which largely entered into Villierstown reverse.

Tallow played a sound game all the way and fully deserved their victory. M. Regan, N. Condon and M. Toomey, were prominent in the Tallow team and contributed to their victory, while M. Dooney, Sullivan and Quigley, made up a sound defence for the Villierstown team.

The final score read— Tallow 4-4; Villierstown 2-0. Mr. J. F. O'Donnell, Lismore, refereed.

LISMORE TOWN COMMISSIONERS.

Mr. Thomas Crotty, Chairman, presided at the meeting of the above. Also present—Messrs. E. A. Murphy, R. Linneen, C. O'Gorman, T. Duggan, J. F. O'Donnell and D. Lawton.

Four tenders were received for the painting of two houses at Lismore Townparks. The tender of Patrick Morrissey, South Mall, Lismore, was accepted, being the lowest of the four.

It was mentioned at the meeting that the Town Commissioners reduced the rate from 2s. to 1s. in the £1 as it was formerly. The Lismore Estates Co. are still charging 2s. to the £1, which seems very unfair.

MOCOLLOP CASTLE

By James O'Neill.

The Castle of Mocollop is situated on the banks of the Blackwater river, on the boundary between County Waterford and Cork, and midway between the towns of Fermoy and Lismore, a distance of about eight miles. The existing ruins of the Castle itself, consists of a large round tower, with several smaller square ones flanking its intermediate base; it has a very picturesque appearance when viewed in almost any direction, but particularly across the river, from the spot where it is said Cromwell, in the year 1640, with an ill directed cannon shot, reduced it to its present delapidated state.

The situation of the modern house, which is plain and rather low, seems as if designed to give the Castle the most advantageous appearance, while the church, which fills up the chasm in the centre, with a well planted hill screening the most distant mountains of Clonkeen and Aragon, complete one of the prettiest landscapes which imagination can convey to the mind. The lawn and adjacent low grounds are judiciously planted with well grown timber and the river, which here enters the County of Waterford, and winds almost under the Castle, adds much to the beauty of the scene.

SEED FOR ONE YEAR'S HAY AND PASTURE

Nowadays, with the market for hay rather restricted compared with what it should be, unless in certain areas, the quantity mowed is not of so much importance as the security of a first-class pasture in the succeeding year, and this is probably, particularly so in the case of farms, where dairying and stock-breeding are the principal activities.

To dairy and stock-feeding farmers, then, the results of some experiments conducted in the West of Scotland will be of interest. In the experiments under notice grass-seed mixtures were sown that were specially selected with the idea of having one year's hay and several years' pasture. From these experiments it is concluded that the hay yield was affected less by the composition of the seed mixture than by a number of other factors, the chief of which was the presence or absence of a sufficient supply of lime to enable the useful grasses and clovers to establish themselves. The difference due to this factor was nearly 50 per cent., as opposed to a minimum of 9 per cent., between seed mixtures. This is a point worth noting.

Another factor is the influence of the preceding root crop and its manurial residues, possibly in this case the amount of available potash, and it is rather interesting to note that the yield of hay after early potatoes was 55 cwt.; after late potatoes 67 cwt., after mangels and kale, 53 cwt., the previous year the hay yield of oats was also following a similar and unimproved than had been applied in manure, while on the late potato crop this difference was only 50 lbs. Taken all over, the results may raise important questions in the matter of fixation of values for unexhausted manures.

CORRESPONDENCE—Dear Sir,—In reading the report of the Urban District Council meeting of last week, I noticed a reference made by Mr. Butler, to the field in Loughmore which is my property and which was on offer to the U.D.C., for building purposes. The reference was—that Ryan's field was the rottenest in Dungarvan. I challenge Mr. Butler to answer this letter himself and repeat his statement and then I will have means of dealing with him. He made the reference sheltered by his privileged position of Urban District Councillorship, in which capacity he can say what he likes without being liable.—Faithfully yours—Michael Ryan.

UNVEILING OF LIAM LYNCH MEMORIAL—The Secretary of the Liam Lynch Memorial Committee informs us that no person will be allowed to sell pictures, badges or literature at Clonmel Station or at Newcastle on Unveiling Day without the permission of the Memorial Committee. No banners or slogans may be carried without the permission of the Committee.

BALANCING YOUR BUDGET—In National affairs, the papers always talk at the beginning of April each year about balancing budgets, but nobody seems to worry whether the ordinary man or woman who keeps the pot boiling for all those who live by hot air. Where is there a man or woman who lives by farming to-day can say he has balanced his budget except he did it on his head? It is all very well to talk about bank balances and balancing budgets but in the cooking world hard facts have to be faced and with no money on hand you can balance nothing. Puzzle—where to find it?

FINANCES—In connection with the Co. Council demand, Mr. O'Meara (Clerk) informed the Dungarvan Urban Council that the balance to credit of the Poor Rate account was £336 16s. 7d., and suggested transferring £160 to that account thus enabling them to pay the balance due to the Co. Council. The Council approved of the transfer. They also granted permission to Mr. Shanahan, Abbeyside to erect a shed for a forge at the rear of his house.

KILMATHOMAS NEWS

GONE AGAIN—After spending a most enjoyable three months holiday in the home-land, Miss Kitty Morrissey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Morrissey, Knocklyan, Kilrossanty, sailed out of Cobh on Sunday morning, returning to New York, where she has been well positioned for the past seven or eight years. Her troops of friends throughout these parts will heartily join in wishing this most estimable young lady continuous success in the climate of her adoption.

DEATH OF MRS. HASSETT.

Fortified by the rites of her Church, Mrs. Catherine Hassett, wife of Mr. Thomas Hassett, farmer, Kilclooney, Clonea-Power, breathed her last on the 27th ult., after a protracted illness and at an advanced age. Deceased was a member of one of the oldest families in the parish of Rathgormack; she was noted for her charity and hospitality, and was beloved of all. There was a very large gathering of the general public at the burial which took place in Clonea-Power churchyard, after Requiem High Mass on Friday of last week. Many expressions of condolence were conveyed to her husband and other immediate relatives. Peace to her soul.

BREVITIES

A copper coin of the Cromwellian period was found in an old wall at the rear of his father's residence at Railway Road, Kilmathomas, by Mr. Thomas Scurry. A number of Co. Council workmen are now employed at blasting operations at Mr. Thomas Cunningham's quarry at Ballynabanogue, Kilmathomas. It is thought locally that the re-surfacing, shant-pulling and tarpaying of the Kilmac-Bonmahon road, from Ballygarry to Bowe's Hill will be proceeded with in the near future. This will be a much-used thoroughfare if mining again goes on in full swing in Bonmahon. The many bridge disciples in the Decies will rejoice over the amended law which provides that in certain contingencies "dummy may speak." For even without the regulation the feminine urge to put in a word here and there has not been entirely restrained. It is comforting to know that in future "dummy" need not be necessarily mute.

"Guess, how I got this beautiful blackhorn stick," said a middle-aged Comeragh Valley husbandman to a circle of friends in Kilmac at eleven of the clock on the forenoon of All Fools' Day. There was a variety of guesses. All were wrong. "We give it up," said one man; "Where did you get it?" "I bought it and paid for it," was the answer. No one ever thought of that, you see!

The cream of Co. Waterford card players will meet at Ballylaneen Schoolhouse on the 28th inst. (Low Sunday), to play out the final rounds of the locally promoted "45" Drive (in aid of parochial purposes). The winners will receive £6, and the runners-up £4. Entry cards (containing full details) can be obtained from Mr. Jeremiah Foley, Ballynabanogue, Kilmathomas, who is the Secretary of the Organising Committee.

Thanks to a Kill-born reader of the "Observer," residing at Arvada, Wyoming, U.S.A., for a copy of the newly-published dictionary, "A Dictionary of American Slang" (Harrap, 8/6) which has been compiled by Maurice H. Wessen, Associate Professor of English at the University of Nebraska. A glance at the book convinces us that no occasion in life finds Americans speechless. We are grateful to the learned Professor for his explanation of the oft-used "and how," the meaning of which had hitherto eluded us:—"And how"—to a superlative degree; to a great extent; to a large amount; on a large scale. "The Government is spending money, and how." "And how" emphasises and intensifies any statement that precedes it.

TO YOUR NOTICE

What about our luck, or lack of luck, in the latest Sweep and the Spring Double! The lilt of the little lark in the rosy-liquid ether cannot but exhilarate our spirits. Be that as it may, you know that our erstwhile fickle friend, Mr. Weatherman, is wont to "skin the old cow" in April. But are you aware that ere the present month of grace will have expired, it will be the fate of innumerable young Mid-Waterford and non-Mid-Waterford men and women to fall ill with that seasonable complaint which cannot be cured by an aspirin or by an apple a day? Even the wizards of Medicodom throw up their hands when it comes to treating this deep-seated and obstinate malady. For softening of the brain something might be done, but for softening of the heart and a newly-acquired taste for moonlight and roses there is no known specific in all the arsenal of medicine. For one thing the Spring puts new eyes in your head. The girl next door has not hitherto drawn a second glance from you; she has excited no more emotion in you than a bull or a baillif. But one Spring morning, when the sky is an electric blue and the atmosphere thrills like a Manhattan cocktail (a tonic sure to put a shine in your beard, by the way!), she trips past you, just as she has always done; but you suddenly see her for the first time. What! You have had this bright and alluring wisp of femininity living next door to you all this time and you have only now wakened up to the fact! Surely you have been blind, blind in the senses and almost unconscious! You look after her wonderingly. And you begin to think about her. . . . Something queer has happened to your work. It fails annoyingly to hold your attention. Your mind (assuming you have one of course!) keeps drifting away into unbusiness-like trains of thought, and you find yourself humming a stave of a soulful ballad about dewy lips or starry eyes. You see her again that evening, and by a peculiar law of gravitation that operates in the spring you are impelled to speak to her, to laugh with her, and then to walk beside her. By the same law she consents to your doing so, and answers your piffing remarks with amiable gurglings that mean no more than the flutings of a Spring robin as he goes hob-bob-bobbing along. Yet these babblings, look you, are more important than the weighty words spilt at international conferences, for do they not clear the way for negotiations between the Simons and Statias of this world? Maybe you look at the moon together through a lattice-work of trees; or, maybe, you stand and listen to water lapping lazily against a river bank; or, maybe, you gaze at the planet Venus shining in lone splendour just over the western horizon. Anyhow you have for the time been sufficiently inoculated with the stuff called romance to set your heart dancing and your blood singing. It is the first fine careless rapture of love—no less. For the next few days you will walk on rose-clouds. "If this is love it's a big bit of all right," you heartily affirm. "Let's have more of it. And you eye the enchantress again. For the nonce you are full of light-hearted gaiety, free as a bird. And the affair progresses. It deepens. And one day you realise with solemn alarm that you cannot possibly go on living without having the permanent society of this goddess and supplying her needs, necessities and superfluities, during the term of her earthly existence. . . . And this is the girl whom two moons ago you regarded no more than your door mat! Suddenly romance has turned from gay to grave. You are blissfully unaware of the fact, but the fall of man has begun. For such fatalities is the Spring responsible ("Bad serams to the Spring and to the hussy in the house next door," says you!) And, well—sic est vita.

WE PUT IT TO YOU

That the encouragement of fruit and vegetable cultivation is a subject of supreme importance at the present time, seeing that a tariff, amounting to a practical prohibition has been imposed on foreign fruit and vegetables.

That (as previously suggested in this column) this profitable industry can be undertaken by cottiers and small farmers as well as by those with ample land at their disposal.

That when formulating their schemes for the next season, the Co. Committee Agriculture would be well advised to renew the premium scheme formerly adopted, for the most neatly kept labourers' cottages, and for the best-tilled plots.

That if this scheme were in force the arrears of rents due of these cottages and plots would not be so heavy, nor would there be need for expending so much money annually in the repairs of the cottages.

That branches of the Cottage Tenants' Association in different parts of An Saorstát are demanding the immediate introduction of the long overdue Purchase Bill.

That the sooner such a measure becomes operative the better it will be for the cottiers, and for the ratepayers as well.

That a Public Utility Society for the whole county of Waterford would be a really useful organisation.

That sporadic effort has been one of our worst characteristics.

That it might be possible that this reminder may induce some practical people in Portlairge to aid in the advocacy of the project and translate it into practicability.

That the uppermost topic of conversation in social circles on all sides is the Easter Sunday night dance at Mr. Patk. Baldwin's Hall, Kill, in aid of the Newtown and Kill parochial debt.

That a good gathering of Mid-Waterford Fianna Fail supporters accorded an enthusiastic reception to Messrs. Little and Goulding, T.D.'s, at Messrs. Flahavan's Hall, Kilmathomas, on Sunday evening last.

That the Deputies have promised their fullest assistance to the Kilmathomas Housing Committee.

That twelve just men of the Barony of Middle Third are fully bent on having an uncorking good time of it together immediately after Lent.

That the higher the tallest resident of the Rathgormack region gets in the evening the lower he feels in the morning—and.

That many a windgap wife has found that hugging her husband is the very best way to get around him.

INCREASE RETURNS FROM THE LAND

A farmer who aims at a high standard of efficiency must always be on the look out for information respecting new varieties of crop plants. Farming conditions change, like everything else in the world, and it may happen that the old standard sorts are no longer the most profitable. There is today a large and increasing output of new varieties, and plant breeders have, in many cases, succeeded in producing something very much superior to that previously available. Of the many ways for securing increased returns from the land, perhaps none has more to commend itself to the farmer than the introduction of better varieties of plants. The increased profit cost next to nothing, for the cost of cultivation and manuring and harvesting remain the same. It is impossible, in the existing state of knowledge, to make a complete catalogue of the things which constitute merit in a variety. The capacity to produce a profitable crop under a given set of conditions can be partly stated in terms of power to resist disease, earliness, the "quality" of the produce, and so forth. But to a considerable extent the characteristics which determine productiveness, under a given environment, have been found incapable of analysis, so that cropping capacity can only be determined by experiment or experience.

One of the factors which may set a limit to the productiveness of a variety is its capacity to resist disease, and hence one of the usual objects of the plant breeder is to secure a maximum of natural immunity to any disease that is of serious practical concern. Occasionally, indeed, disease prevention can be accomplished by measures so easy and inexpensive of application as to make the efforts of the plant-breeder unnecessary. Thus, in the case of smut and leaf-stripe resistance can be obtained by the expenditure of a modest sum per acre on seed treatment, and hence natural immunity is a matter of little or no consequence. At the other extreme are diseases like wart of potatoes. In this case no preventive or remedial treatment of any value has been discovered, but, on the other hand, it has been found that there is a great variation in natural resistance, and that many varieties are absolutely immune. Potato raisers are endeavouring to produce resistance varieties, and are at the same time taking precautions to prevent the stocks from becoming infected.

A measure of resistance to insect and other animal pests can likewise be obtained by selection. Thus varieties of turnips and swedes that make rapid growth in the early stages may survive the attacks of the flea beetle, while other slower-growing types succumb. Similarly, varieties of oats that tiller strongly have a considerable power of recovery from grub attacks, whereas if the tillering habit is ill developed, the power of recovery is small.

In the case of grain crops under modern conditions, perhaps the most important of all the factors which set a limit to production is strength of straw. Very often the consideration that makes the farmer hold his hand in manuring is not the cost of the manure or the fear that the crop increment will be insufficient to repay it, but it is the risk of causing his crop to lodge. It is true that something can be done here again by cultural methods—e.g., by the use of carefully-balanced manures, containing ample proportions of phosphates and potash and by early sowing. But in the main an increase in the yield of cereals is dependent on the breeding of varieties that will stand up under better treatment.

It is a matter of obvious necessity to choose varieties that can complete their growth and ripen within the limits of the growing season, and it is an additional advantage if ripeness can be attained at an early period in the year, when conditions for harvesting are likely to be good. On the other hand, it is only reasonable to suppose that the productiveness of a variety must be rather closely dependent on the length of its growing period and it must be admitted that, taking the evidence as a whole, one is rather driven to the conclusion that in general early varieties are low producers, while late sorts are heavy yielders.

With cereals, cultural conditions have an important influence on date of ripening. It has already been mentioned that thoroughly ripened and well-got seeds tend to germinate rapidly and evenly, and so produce an early crop. Thickness of seedling has also quite a pronounced effect. Experiments have shown that, whereas quite large variations in seed rates may be made without any substantial effect on the yield, the seed rate has a marked influence on earliness, the thickest sowings producing the earliest crops.

New varieties, of course, require a certain time to become known and appreciated especially where, as in the case of the potato, the judgment rests with the general public; but, broadly speaking, the price realised must be taken as a final decision in respect of quality. It is a much more difficult problem to form a true opinion in regard to the quality of the crops that are grown for stock feeding. In the case of roots there is great variation in the dry matter content, and it is obvious, if we assume a constant value for dry matter, that a yield of 18 tons per acre, with a dry-matter content of 12 per cent, would be as good as a yield of 21 tons with 9 per cent dry matter. Indeed, the lower yield

CHALLENGE MATCHES AT DUNGARVAN.

On Sunday last, two interesting challenge matches were played at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan between the local Club teams.

The first match—Minor Football between Dungarvan and Cathal Brugha's proved a great game played in a fine manly spirit and was a very clean and fast match from start to finish. During the run of play Dungarvan held a slight superiority and emerged victors on the score:—

DUNGARVAN 3-3
CATHAL BRUGHA'S 2-1

The second match—Junior Hurling—was played in the best of spirit and proved a great game. Some very nice hurling was witnessed and the match was very exciting at times. Cathal Brugha's forced very hard towards the end and their forwards with some rasping shots tried to get level, but the brilliant saving of the Dungarvan goalman—Dick Sullivan was a feature of the game.

The final scores were:—
DUNGARVAN 4-6
CATHAL BRUGHA'S 5-1
Mr. E. Hayes, refereed both matches in his usual capable style.

would be preferable, because the other would involve the farmer in the handling and carting of 6 tons per acre of useless water. Arguing on these lines, the Danes make their selections of stock roots on the basis of dry-matter content; but it must be admitted that the dry-matter content is a rather doubtful measure of feeding value, because a high dry-matter content seems sometimes to be associated with an increase in the proportion of fibre rather than of valuable nutrients. At any rate, chemical analyses do not explain the well-known differences in feeding value that exist between roots grown in different districts. In regard to oat straw the situation is much the same. The feeding value varies from variety to variety, from district to district and from season to season.—S.W. in "Farmers' Gazette."

TOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

LATE BISHOP OF CLOYNE

MEETING ADJOURNS

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; M. Cashman, T. Beausang, R. Savage, T. K. Keane, solr., Capt. C. Watson, J. Forrest, R. Power, J. Daly, M. D. Broderick, E. D. Condon, W. O'Sullivan, E. P. Lynch.

The necessary financial business having been disposed of.

Mr. Keane moved the adjournment of the Board as a tribute to the memory of their late revered Bishop, whose death was deplored by all. A great Churchman, a great Irishman and a great man. The ranks of the Irish hierarchy would be the poorer by his passing. Many distinguished men had in the past filled the office of Bishop of that great diocese, but they all recognised that Dr. Browne, during his long episcopate of over 40 years had lived up to the highest traditions of the ancient See of St. Colman's. May God rest his soul.

Mr. Broderick, seconding, said he could only add that they tendered their deep sympathy to Dr. Roche and the priests of the diocese on the death of one of Ireland's most illustrious sons in the Church.

Mr. Savage said the people of the diocese had reason to be grateful for the fact that on the wise dispensation of Providence in a most chequered period of their history, they had their late illustrious prelate to guide their destinies.

The other members and the Clerk having individually expressed their association with the proposition.

The Chairman sincerely endorsed all that had been so well said of their late Bishop. It was the least tribute they could pay to the memory of the great man, who for 41 years had so well guided the destinies of that ancient diocese of Cloyne. The extraordinary display at his obsequies, at which himself and other members with the Town Clerk had represented the town, was a striking proof of the place the late Dr. Browne held in the minds and hearts of the people. He had passed away from them but his memory would never fade. It only remained for him to tender to his successor, the Most Rev. Dr. Roche, their sincere congratulations and to assure him that the people of Youghal would be amongst the most faithful in his large flock.

The meeting then adjourned.

WEST WATERFORD DIVISIONAL CHAMPIONSHIPS.

On Sunday two matches in the first round of the year's Junior Hurling Championship of the West Waterford Division were played in the Sportsfield, Cappoquin, in the presence of a rather small attendance of spectators. The weather proved fine, but cold, a sharp south westerly breeze making things somewhat unpleasant for those not engaged in the games. The field was laid out to perfection by the local Club, and all the arrangements were admirable in every detail.

The first match was between "Black-water Rovers," Cappoquin, and Mellera, the latter being practically new comers to the game, so that they lacked the experience of their opponents and put up a very poor show, although there were some very promising individual players on the team.

Play had not been long in progress when Cappoquin opened the scoring with a goal which was followed by two further goals and a point in the first quarter of an hour. A 70 yards to Cappoquin resulted in another goal, but this score was disallowed. The half-time whistle found the score:—

MELLERA Nil.

Playing with the wind in their favour in the second half, Cappoquin had an easy victory adding 4 goals and 3 points to their score. The final whistle left the score:—

CAPPOQUIN 7-4
MELLERA Nil.

The teams were as follows:— Cappoquin—E. Lonergan, P. English, W. Galvin, J. O'Donoghue, R. O'Donoghue, J. Lewis, J. Crowley, P. O'Shea, J. Brackett, T. Collender, P. Cunningham, W. Grene, J. Ryall, T. Morrissey, and T. Moore.

Mellera—T. Coleman, J. Coleman, M. Ormonde, T. Ormonde, J. Ormonde, Jas. Flynn, M. Veale, J. O'Rourke, M. McGrath, M. Quinn, J. Cahill, John Cahill, T. Quirke, J. O'Brien, and J. Browne.

The second match between Four-Mile-Water and Ballyduff-Mocollop, provided a much more scientific and better contested game.

Playing with the breeze in their favour, Ballyduff had the better of the opening exchanges, and were soon swarming round their opponents' posts, but the defence withstood the attack in convincing style, and Ballyduff had to be content with an over.

Four-Mile-Water followed up the puck-out in determined fashion and soon drew first blood with a point. The Western men breaking through a stubborn opposition scored the equalising point and were in hard luck in sending wide later.

The half-time score was:—

FOUR-MILE-WATER 0-1
BALLYDUFF 0-1

The change of sides, with the breeze behind them, saw Four-Mile-Water showing up to much better advantage, and they repeatedly tested the Ballyduff back division, which proved very sound.

After effecting some brilliant saves, the Ballyduff backs were at length beaten, and Four-Mile-Water scored a grand goal. This was followed soon afterwards by a point, after which Ballyduff became aggressive, but their forwards again proved faulty in their shooting. Four-Mile-Water added a further goal near the end of the play, so that the full-time whistle found them winners of a fast and hard-fought match on the final score:—

FOUR-MILE-WATER 2-2
BALLYDUFF-MOCOLLOP 0-1

The following were the teams:— Four-Mile-Water—P. Grant, J. J. Moore, Jas. Fraher, W. Grant, T. Fitzgerald, J. Kennedy, Thos. Halpin, R. McGrath, J. Corbett, J. Grant, P. McCarthy, P. Mackey, W. Kennedy, M. Morrissey, T. Cotter.

Ballyduff-Mocollop—Ml. Feeney, T. Scanlan, E. Lehane, P. Kearney, P. Feeney, J. Daly, T. Foley, D. Hennessy, T. Cuffe, Owen Geary, J. Corcoran, W. Scanlan, J. McGrath, P. Callaghan, J. Enright.

Both matches were refereed by M. V. O'Donoghue, B.E., Lismore.

the seed ready for the developing seedling. But we are still very much in the dark concerning best depths at which to sow farm seeds. Wheat if not interfered with, would shed its seed on to the surface of the soil, and the young seedling would develop at, or just beneath, ground level. Are we to infer from this that the surface sowing of wheat should be preferred to the method of sowing in drills? We have no figures, but we know that men who have tried surface sowing of wheat both praise and condemn the method.

Definite conclusions regarding the best depths for sowing such seeds as the cereals, beans, peas, buck wheat, etc., might be of considerable value, since our existing machinery is capable of being suitably adapted to the various depths. But in the case of grass and clover seeds the probability is that the differences in depth between medium and optimum would be so small, involving such distances as one-eighth to one-tenth inch, that the information would be of no practical value.—H.D.

Grand National

WON BY IRISH HORSE. SIX HORSES COMPLETE COURSE AND ALL ARE IRISH

CO. WATERFORD HORSE RUNS FIFTH

The Grand National Steeplechase—the blue riband of the Chase, was run on Friday last at Aintree, Liverpool, and once again the result demonstrated what has been so often demonstrated before—that Ireland is the homeland of steeplechasers and no other country can compete with our jumpers and racers. Of the 27 horses who faced the starting post in the greatest, longest and most difficult Steeplechase race in the world only 6 completed the course, all the others having fallen at some or other of the 37 big jumps which had to be negotiated on the rounds.

Golden Miller who won the race last year and was favourite this year threw his jockey.

The winner, Reynoldstown, is an 8-year-old horse bred by Mr. R. Ball, Reynoldstown, Co. Dublin, and now owned and trained by Major Furlong, formerly of Fermoy. Major Furlong purchased the horse from his breeder for £800. He was ridden by Mr. Frank Kurlong, son of the owner. Reynoldstown is by My Prince and his dam is Fromage by the Co. Meath sire Frontino.

The second horse Blue Prince was sired by Prince Galahad, who stands at Mr. Baker's Stud Farm at Bansha, Thomond II by Drimrose was third. Lazy Boots a 200 to 1 chance by Frontino was 4th. Uncle Batt bred in Knockanore and sired by Mr. Wm. Curran's horse Saxhan, was fifth and Bachelor Prince by Southanna was 6th.

As owner, trainer and jockey, the three cups accompanying the race go to the Furlong family as also £10,000 or thereabouts which is the annual value of the Grand National to the winner. So if ever you hear any person say we have not the best horses in the world in this old land just remind them of what Irish-bred horses did in the Grand National in 1935 and what became of the competitors from other countries.

GRAND NATIONAL STEEPLECHASE (handicap) of £10 each. £50 extra if left in after January 29, with an additional £40 if left in after March 19, with £4,000 (including a trophy value £200) added; second £800, third £500 and fourth £200. About 4m. 856yds.

SYMPATHY—Much public sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Patrick O'Donnell, Glendalligan, Kilrossanty, on their recent sad bereavement occasioned by the untimely demise (due to pneumonia) of their eldest son, John (aged 29 years), whose remains were laid to rest in Kilrossanty churchyard amid many manifestations of regret.

No. 222.— POPULAR PET DOGS PREFERENCE FOR PEKINGESE By "PHILOKON."

OF the eleven breeds classified as toys by the Kennel Club there is no doubt whatever that the most popular are Pekingese, which always obtain the biggest entry at shows and are to be seen everywhere as house dogs. Perhaps the reason for the demand is that they are hardy, full of pluck and self-esteem, endowed with an intelligence that gives them individuality, and clad in a coat that makes them pleasing to the eye. While the best show specimens are worth a great deal of money, ordinary puppies may be had for a moderate price.

In praising the Pekingese I have no desire to depreciate the merits of the other toy breeds, most of which make pleasing pets, and are little trouble to keep. All have a character and appearance of their own, and I am merely recording facts. One has difficulty in explaining why the Chinese dogs sprang so suddenly into favour towards the end of last century. At the close of the war between Great Britain and France in alliance against China the European troops occupied the Summer Palace in Peking in 1860, and our troops found a few of the little dogs that were the favourites of the Empress. At least five were brought home, one of which was presented to Queen Victoria and named Lootie. Judging from his picture he was equal to anything that we have had exhibited. Several others passed into the family of the Duke of Richmond, where they have remained ever since.

Not being exhibited, however, they were unknown to the general public until a few appeared in classes for foreign dogs about 1893, several having been brought home by Captain Loftus Allen. At first they excited little attention beyond arousing speculation as to what they were. Then some more were imported, and within a short time they were all the rage, eventually supplanting the Pomeranians, that up to that time had enjoyed supremacy. From Great Britain they spread to America and the continent, and to-day they have a wide distribution.

The heavy front parts, clothed in a more profuse coat than on the loins, gives them a lion-like appearance. To make the best of them they should be well groomed every day, being thoroughly brushed, a soft brush being used for the parts that are not protected with long hair. It is not desirable to comb too much as the hair may be broken and the undercoat raked out. Enough must be done, however, to prevent any tangling of the long hair. Wipe the corners of the eyes with boracic lotion, using cotton wool. The prominent eyeballs make them susceptible to ulcers, and if one is seen a little boracic lotion should be dropped in, and twice a day the place should be anointed with golden ointment.

Feeding is a simple matter. A few scraps of meat, several Ovals, Pet Biscuits or Pet Rodmin, varied with a little fish or rabbit will be ample, and not more than two meals a day should be given. Never indulge with tit-bits at meal times, but let them be content with regular hours. This chat is issued by THE TAIL-WAGGERS' CLUB OF IRELAND, 23, Old Abbey Street (off Marlborough Street), Dublin, C.S. The Club will be pleased to answer any enquiries submitted by Tail-Wagger Owners in connection with canine hygiene and welfare.

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE.

ESTIMATE REDUCED BY £5,000

On the proposal of Mr. Moynihan, Commissioner administering the affairs of Waterford Co. Council, Waterford Board of Assistance adopted by 4 votes to 2, a resolution reducing by £5,000 the Secretary's estimate of £59,046 for the current financial year. The resolution stated that the reduction was due to deductions made in the Agricultural Grant amounting to over £26,000 in the past two years, also to annuity defaults in the county and in order that ratepayers could be reasonably expected to bear the expenditure.

The reduction represents a total decrease in the estimate of £19,000 as compared with last year. Mr. Moynihan said he regretted having to move the resolution, in view of the highly satisfactory estimate put forward. He did not wish that any further deductions should be made in the home assistance estimate, but it was the inevitable reaction on their social services, due to the failure of many people in the county to pay their annuities.

They had no remedy in the matter, he added, as the Government merely deducted the amounts of unpaid annuities from the grants due to the Co. Council. Of course, a great part of these unpaid annuities would be collected by the Sheriff, but not in time to save any relief in the current year. It might be urged that the reduction of £14,000 in the estimates for home assistance as compared with last year would be sufficient, but this reduction was principally due to the operation of the Unemployment Assistance Act and partly to economies carried out by the Board.

He hoped that the Act would further operate in their favour in the coming year, and he trusted it would not be necessary to have any drastic reductions in home assistance. Mr. T. Dunne, T.C., moving that the original estimate stand, said the 8s. paid to a man and wife, with 4s. for each child, formerly was a miserable allowance, and he now understood that this would be further reduced by 1s. or 2s. Under the Unemployment Assistance Act men with a valuation of over £4 on land were cut off, and many other dependants would be dealt with similarly on the assumption that work would be provided for them. But the assumption of work did not mean the resumption of work, and he believed the numbers seeking assistance this year would be at least as high as last year, and these men could not be allowed to starve.

Ald J. O'Donovan said there would not be a scintilla of hardship caused by the reduction. The Unemployment Act would be operating much more successfully in future, and much more work would be provided during the summer months. The Commissioner then pointed out that if the estimate was not reduced it would mean an increase of 2s. 9d. in the £1 in rates. It would be impossible, he said, for the agricultural community to shoulder such a heavy additional burden.

Replying to Mr. Cosgrave, the Commissioner said it was impossible to give a guarantee that the amounts to assistance recipients would not be further reduced. Mr. T. D. Connolly, T.C., remarking that the Unemployment Assistance Act had not worked out as had been expected, said he thought economies had already been brought to the very minimum. He did not see how further economies were going to be effected without inflicting hardship on deserving poor, and he would not stand for that.

Mr. J. Cosgrave, T.C., did not vote in the division. Wires and poles cut. General dislocation in Co. Cork.

Wires and Poles Cut.

Interference on a considerable scale was made with telegraphic communication in many areas throughout Co. Cork during the small hours of Tuesday morning in districts as far apart as North and East Cork. South West Cork, and also even as far as the Kerry borders. The districts affected were totally isolated. The cutting of wires was on a wide spread scale and in many cases telegraph poles were sawn through. Following the discovery of the wire-cutting, repair gangs from various centres were dispatched to the affected districts without delay. In the Fermoy, Ballyhooly, and Rathcormac districts, many wires were cut. The Dublin-Cork main trunk line was also severed near Mallow, only one circuit being left untouched, and telegraph communication was only possible with Dublin via Waterford. The damage to the important trunk line caused considerable inconvenience until the situation was rendered normal before midday after prolonged efforts on the parts of a specially dispatched repair gang.

The wire cutting and interference with telegraphic communications was effected on a very large scale in the North Cork area, particularly around Mallow, Kanturk, Newmarket, Banteer, and Lombardstown. This district was completely isolated. In Mid-Cork there was also an interference with overhead communication on a fairly large scale.

G. A. A.

For the purpose of greater efficiency the Co. Board have divided West Waterford into four divisions for the current year's Junior Championships. Each Divisional Committee have power to make their own fixtures, regulate finance, etc. Also each group will have a Senior Team in the Championships. This will be drawn from the Junior Clubs in each Division.

Divisional Secretaries appointed by the Board are:— Group 1 F. and 2 H.—T. Kyne, Dungarvan. Group 2 F. and 1 H.—V. O'Donoghue, M.A., Lismore. Group 3 F.—C. Curran, Clashmore, Youghal. Group 4 F.—E. Lonergan, N.T., Lackendarra, Ballinamult.

COUNTY WATERFORD CATTLE SEIZURE

AN OWNERSHIP ISSUE

Mr. Justice Sullivan and Mr. Justice Hanna, in the High Court, Dublin, allowed the appeal by the plaintiffs in an action by the Stradbally and Comeragh Valley Co-operative Agricultural and Dairy Society, Durrrow, Waterford, against Andrew Kirwan, farmer, Curraun, Kilrossanty, Waterford, in regard to an issue tried between the plaintiffs and Pierce White, Cullteen, Kilrossanty, in the Dungarvan Circuit Court.

The origin of the suit was a decree by plaintiffs against Andrew Kirwan, for £42 and the subsequent seizure of cattle on the lands of defendant. Before the sale of the cattle, Mary Kirwan, sister of defendant, claimed the cattle were hers. The Court Messenger was instructed to sell the cattle only to defendant or his representative. Mary Kirwan went to the sale with Mr. White, and £18 was paid for the cattle, as well as pound fees.

The cattle were put on Kirwan's land, and some of them were sold to pay rates. Later some of the cattle were again seized on plaintiffs' decree and Mr. White claimed ownership. The issue whether Mr. White had good title to the cattle was tried by Judge Sealy, who held the cattle were the property of Mr. White, and from that ruling plaintiffs appealed.

Mr. J. L. McGuire (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan) appeared for appellants; Mr. G. Budd (instructed by Messrs. J. F. Williams and Son) for Pierce White.

LOOK AFTER THE LAMBS.

HOW TO ENSURE GOOD PROGRESS

The good progress made by the lambs must naturally depend upon the feeding of the ewes. All is well after good grazing is available. But it sometimes happens that the period between lambing and the first flush of young grass is rather protracted, and the feeding of the ewes hardly suitable to maintain a good flow of milk. Lambs will not grow as they should if the ewes are milking poorly. The percentage of weakly lambs is always higher in a backward season than when an early and nutritious bite of grass is available. No other food is productive of better milking results than fresh young grass. It might often be advisable in the interests of the ewes and lambs to dress a given acreage of grassland with a quick-acting fertiliser, so as to obtain good early grazing. The chief fertiliser for this purpose would be nitrogen, in the form of sulphate of ammonia, nitrate of soda, or one of the newer nitrogenous artificials suitable for top-dressing.

Sheep in general thrive best when frequently moved to fresh pastures. In no case is a change of pasture more beneficial than for ewes and lambs. Yet we often see small flocks of ewes and lambs confined to the same pasture until it becomes stale and bare. Under such conditions the ewes cannot suckle their lambs so well as they should. If the lambs were well suckled, the ewes being well fed, there would be fewer weakly youngsters in the flocks. The lambs may be weakly at birth sometimes, but, if their dams are milking well, they rapidly improve, whereas when the ewes are not fed well, the weakly lambs are likely to become stunted or undersized, if, indeed, they actually survive the rigours of a cold, backward spring season. Nothing detracts more from the intrinsic value of a flock, be it adult sheep or lambs, than a lack of uniformity and general signs of thriftiness.

When there are weakly lambs an effort should be made to provide them with special treatment, either by feeding the ewes more generously on nourishing food or by feeding the lambs a little ewe and lamb nuts as soon as they will eat dry food. Weak lambs may often become quite hardy if well cared for, and it seems a pity to allow them to drift into a condition of semi-neglect if practicable steps can be taken to save them, and to pull them up to the level of the rest of the flock.—R.

A LARGE SALMON.

The salmon-fishing on the Blackwater is proving fairly satisfactory so far, and some large hauls of fish have recently been taken. Mr. W. J. Baldwin, Fish Dealer and Exporter, Cappoquin, despatched some splendid specimens of salmon to the English markets within the past week, one of which weighed 36 lbs., the largest fish purchased by him this season.

CO. WATERFORD COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE.

SCHOLARSHIPS TENABLE AT RAMSGRANGE SCHOOL OF RURAL DOMESTIC ECONOMY

The above Committee have made provision for three Scholarships tenable at the above-mentioned School during the 1935-'36 session.

The Scholarships will be confined to girls whose parents derive their livelihood wholly from farming and are rated occupiers of the county. Intending applicants must be not less than sixteen or more than thirty-five years of age on the date of admission to the School. Girls who have already attended a Residential School of Rural Domestic Economy are not eligible to compete for these Scholarships.

The course of instruction given is intended to qualify the pupils to perform efficiently the work of rural life, and includes Dairying, Poultry-keeping, Household Management, Cookery, Laundry-work and Needle-work. The school year extends from July to June and is divided into two terms which begin, respectively, in July and January.

The Scholarships will be awarded on the result of an examination to be held at any early date and forms of application for admission thereto may be obtained from the undersigned by whom all applications must be received not later than 13th APRIL, 1935. Competitors are required to produce certificates of good character. The eligible candidates will be duly notified of the date, place and hour of the examination.

The examination will comprise questions in English (including Essay and Dictation), Arithmetic (involving a knowledge of fractions, decimals, percentages and mensuration) and Irish. There will also be an oral examination for the purpose of testing candidates' general knowledge of rural conditions. The standard required generally will not demand higher educational attainments than are usually achieved by pupils who passed the sixth standard in a primary school, but candidates must reach the necessary standard of qualification in all subjects to be eligible for the award of a Scholarship. Successful candidates will be required to produce evidence of age and good health.

WATERFORD MENTAL HOSPITAL (Ospuaidhe Lucht Lag-Intinne)

YEARLY REQUIREMENTS

Provisions, Clothing, Boots and Bedding, Brushes and Hardware, Paints, Oils, Washing Materials, Candles, Leather and Grindery.

The Joint Committee of the above Mental Hospital will, at their monthly meeting to be held on MONDAY, 8th APRIL, 1935, consider tenders for the above in competition with the Daily contracts. Other things being equal (taking into consideration cost of cartage to this Hospital and cost of return of empties), preference will be given to the local contractor, and to articles of Irish manufacture, which must bear the Irish Trade Mark. Where the contractor quotes for "foreign" manufactured goods, he must state "foreign" on his Tender Form; otherwise he must supply Irish manufacture. The quantities given on the Tender Form are approximate, and may be exceeded or otherwise.

Form of Tender (none other accepted) can be had at the Office of the Mental Hospital. All goods must be equal to the standard samples to be seen in the Stores of the Mental Hospital, on application, between the hours of 10 o'clock and 1 o'clock. The conditions of the Tender will be strictly enforced.

Tenders will not be accepted by hand, but must be posted to reach this office not later than 10 a.m. on MONDAY, 8th APRIL, 1935. All goods delivered free at the Mental Hospital.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted. By Order, THOMAS F. CASEY, Clerk. Offices of the Mental Hospital, 22/3/35.
