SATURDAY, JULY 27, 1935

Price 2d.

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

ASSAULTING A GUARD
Held on Wednesday before Mr. Troy, D.J.

EJECTMENTS
The Dungarvan Urban District Council sought a decree for possession of a house at Loughmore in the tenancy of Patrick Hayes.
Mr. M. O'Meara, Rent Collector, in reply to Mr. Williams, for the Council, gave evidence that £12s. 6d. was due for rent and that Hayes has already left the premises.
A decree was granted.
The Misses Scanlon, got a decree for possession of a house at Mary St., Dungarvan, in the occupation of Mr. Fleming.
Mr. Ryan, agent for the Misses Scanlon, said the rent due was £10 16s. 6d., it was a weekly tenancy at 9/- per week.
Mr. Williams, solr., made the application.

LIGHTS
Guard Sheehan, Cappagh, charged M. Cullen, Grange, Youghal, under the above Act. A fine of 3/6 was imposed.
Guard Deasy, charged M. Flynn, Graunfoda, with using an untaxed car on June 21st, 1935.
Complainant said he saw the car unattended in the street and the licence displayed showed the tax paid up to December 1934. There was no insurance either for the period.
Defendant said the car was at Power's garage for repairs, and there being so many cars in the garage, Mr. Power pushed it out on the street. The Guards watched the car all day, but when the Guards were at their tea it was again brought back into the garage. He drove the car to the garage for repairs himself. The car was at home jacked up since Dec. He asked for an adjournment to enable Mr. Power to attend.

THREE MONTHS HARD LABOUR
Superintendent Walsh, prosecuted Patk. Keohan, Buttery Street, Dungarvan, with an assault on Guard Deasy; with resisting arrest and with being drunk and disorderly on 4th July.
Mr. Farrell, solr., said he had been asked by defendant's wife to make a plea for leniency on behalf of the defendant who would go to London to a job. He would ask his Worship to allow him to go to this job.
Superintendent Walsh said he would sooner see Keohan leaving the country after punishment had been inflicted. The defendant was a bully who tried to terrorise people.
John Flynn, an employee at Fitzgerald's Cycle Stores, Main street, deposed that on 11th July, he was working outside Fitzgerald's when Keohan came up and said—"You a tough looking guy, but I am tougher." He then assaulted witness and there was a fight.
Witness refused to prosecute.
To Mr. Farrell—He never knew Keohan until that night.
Guard Deasy, said that on July 11th he was on duty at Mary street and in consequence of a report went to the quay, where he saw Keohan with a woman and a blind man who was led by a dog. The blind man made a complaint to witness and he approached Keohan for his name. He refused to give his name and was very abusive. He gave his name later and another man came on the scene. When witness asked this man for his name Keohan used most filthy language and told him not to give his name. The other man said he did not see why he should give it and as witness was writing down the name Keohan gave him a severe blow which knocked him. He got up and caught Keohan and they both fell. Keohan had his hand on witness's throat and kicked him on the ribs with his knee, as a result of which witness was off duty for some time, and is now certified for light duty. A man named Wm. Sullivan, came to witness's assistance and they took Keohan to the barracks.
Keohan in reply to the Justice, said he did not wish to question the Guard. He was drunk at the time and did not know what happened. He wished now to apologise to the Guards and promised that the like would not happen again.
Mr. Farrell asked the Justice to adjourn the case and let Keohan go to London, and if he returned again the proceedings could be renewed.
The Justice imposed 6 weeks imprisonment with hard labour in each of the first two summonses, one sentence to follow the other and dismissed the charge of drunkenness.
Superintendent Walsh, said he would like to publicly thank Wm. Sullivan, for the assistance given to the Guard on the occasion.
The Justice complimented Sullivan, who he said did his duty as a good citizen.

INSURANCE CASES
Jas. Quinlan, Ballincourty, was prosecuted by the National Health Insurance Co., with failing to stamp the cards of two employees for a period in 1934.
Mr. Mortell, Inspector, under the Act, gave evidence and in reply to Mr. Ryan, solr., who appeared for the Minister for Local Government and Public Health, said that Mr. Quinlan paid up without deducting anything from the employees.
A fine of 10/- costs and 10/- expenses in each case was imposed.

LARCENY OF MONEY AND CIGARETTES
The Attorney-General, prosecuted Patk. Maher, (Junior), Burgery, with the larceny of a sum of money and a quantity of cigarettes from Mrs. Fives, Burgery, on Sunday, 14th July.
Mr. Williams, solr., for the accused pleaded guilty.
Superintendent Walsh said that on Sunday July 14th Mrs. Fives locked her premises and went to ten o'clock Mass. When she returned she heard someone inside and entering heard somebody escaping by a window. She reported the matter and as a result the accused was arrested and admitted entering and taking 21/- and five packets of cigarettes. Mrs. Fives said that 36/- was taken.
Mr. Williams, solr., said this boy is only 20 years of age. He admitted taking 21/- and 3 packets of Players and two of Woodbines. He is the son of a small farmer, who is very badly off. This boy who works as a farm labourer took some drink the night before and next morning found he had not a penny. He told me he went in with the intention of taking a drink and finding some money he took some, but did not take it all, believing it would not be missed.
Accused in reply to Mr. Williams, said, on the Saturday night he spent his wages. He had a wage of 15/- a week, but had some of it drawn before Saturday.
To the Justice—He spent that also on drink and did not give any of it to his father.
Justice—Although he is badly off, Mr. Williams—He admitted taking the twenty-one shillings; three packets of Players and two of Woodbines. He would pay it back if he got the chance and would give an undertaking never to steal again. This was the first time he was in trouble.
To the Superintendent—He was in England and had a job at £1 a week. He gave his father some of it. Since he came home he gave him nothing, but spent it all on drink. He spent 11/- out of the 21/- on that Sunday.
Mr. Williams, pleaded for leniency for his client who he said was only just a kid beginning his life and he asked the Justice to deal with the case under the P.O.A.
The Justice said out of the 21/-, 10/- was found on accused, leaving 12/10 due to Mrs. Fives. He would adjourn the case to the next Court to give accused time to pay this back. He may deal with this under the Probation of Offences Act, but on the condition that accused kept off drink.

DRUNK
Guard Raftery, charged Patk. Gallagher, no fixed abode with being drunk and incapable, at Abbeyside. A fine of 2/- was imposed.

CHILDREN'S COURT
LARCENY OF TENNIS SHOES AND BALLS
Superintendent Walsh, charged Wm Egan (Junior) and his father Wm. Egan (Senior), Abbeyside, with the larceny of two pairs of tennis shoes and four tennis balls from the grounds of the Dungarvan Tennis Club, at Abbeyside.
Maurice Egan, O'Connell street, said he was Secretary of the Dungarvan Tennis Club and on Monday 24th June, he found two bolts broken. He missed two pairs of shoes, one value 5/- and the other 4/- and four tennis balls, value 1/3 each.
Guard Regan gave evidence of interviewing the junior accused who after a caution made a statement in which he said that with a number of other youths he was on the wall of the tennis ground and saw four young fellows from town, two of whom were named Hayes and McCarthy, and the other two he did not know their names. Hayes and McCarthy took the shoes and put them under their coats. Accused admitted taking a ball and hiding a pair of shoes under a wall. He (Guard Regan) accompanied him to the field, but could not find the shoes.
Replying to the Justice, Egan said he did not break the bolts. The shoes were on a stool and witness took them and put them under a wall. He would show the Guard where they were if he got a chance.
The case was then adjourned to next Court.

Dungarvan Carnival

A SWEEPING SUCCESS
UNLIMITED FUN

The Dungarvan Carnival was continued during the week and has been a great success. The unlimited merriment and enjoyment continued unflagging and all associated with it have every reason to congratulate themselves on the great success, financial and otherwise of the undertaking. It has shown what can be done to entertain and amuse the public when an energetic committee get in charge, and we hope that the foundation now laid will be superseded by a structure to cater for gaybricks, tourists and all who 20 years ago made Dungarvan and its ideal and picturesque location and unrivalled bathing centre the Mecca of their holidays.
On Thursday night 18th inst., there was a parade of decorated bicycles in which the following took part—Annetta McGrath—Flour Girl; May Kiely—Airman; J. Mackey—Father Xmas; L. Murphy—Greengrocer; E. Murphy—The Guy; M. Power—Coleman's Mustard; M. Kelly—From the Plane; P. Lynch—Indoor Troughs; E. Fielding—Support Dungarvan Enterprise; P. Power—Aerial; A. Power—Mae West.
First Prize was awarded to E. Fielding—Support Dungarvan Enterprise; 2nd prize Annetta McGrath—Flour Girl; 3rd prize—M. Power—Coleman's Mustard.
On Friday evening a very interesting event was staged on the Square. It was a trial at catching a greasy pig. There were 40 entries and all were determined to catch a porker no matter how greasy he was. The competitors were divided into tens, and placed at the four corners of the Square. Then two store pigs arrived and being duly greased and oiled were let loose in the centre. A wild dash was made after the pigs and one each was secured by Tommy Parsons, Man street, and P. Donovan, Barrack Lane.

CHILDREN'S PARADE
On Sunday a Children's Fancy Dress Parade was billed for 3 p.m., but owing to the inclemency of the weather it had to be postponed until 8 p.m. At that time the town was thronged with spectators who lined the road from the Cinema to the Carnival Grounds and cheered the forty-six competitors as they paraded in their artistic, quaint and original make up. It was a most entertaining display and highly artistic. The following competed—
Latchford—Gipse; G. Latchford—Cowboy; J. Young—Farmer; Wade—Irish Emigrant; Noonan—Off to Philadelphia in the Morn; Ahearn—Grow More Wheat; Rosister—Miss Japan; I. Condon, Gaybrick; Quinn—Ring Woman; M. and P. Condon—Support Home Industry; B. Young—Fishwomen and husband; T. Quinn—Harry Lauder; M. O'Hara—Indian Prince and Princess; Alice Power—Sailor Boy; Peg Condon—Shepherdess; Francis Condon—Rainbow; Condon—Red Riding Hood; P. Maher—Baker; G. Condon—Gandhi; P. Power—Sweep; L. Meeney—Daniel O'Connell; P. Meeney—Robert Emmet; Patterson and Slattery—Departed Spirits; Morrissey and Flaherty—Pierrot and Pierrot; L. Power and group—First Aid; Carrolls—Darby and Joan; J. McCarthy—Henry Ford; Casey—Fairy Queen; C. Wall—Tir-na-Og Queally family—All the way to the Carnival; Hackett—Ag Dul go Oti un Margad; Cowling—Free Meals; Barron—Going to Market; Whelan—Cockles; McGovern—Jockey; Morrissey—Gipse; Morrissey; Gipse; Morrissey—Mickey; Cowm—Mickey; Cowling—Dance Hall; Connors—Old Timers; G. The Judges made the following awards:—Most original and artistic group—Power and party—First Aid, 1; M. Cowling and party—Free Meals, 2.
Individual, original and artistic—1st prize—Miss Ita Condon, representing a gaybrick arriving in Dungarvan for the baths from the hinterland and looking the part to perfection; 2nd prize—P. Power—The Sweep.
Consolation prizes were awarded to Master McCarthy—Henry Ford; Miss Ahearn—Grow Wheat; J. Young and group—Farmers; Master Quinn—Harry Lauder.
On Sunday night a Grand Carnival Dance was held in the Town Hall, the attendance at which beat all records. Over 500 couples were present and dancing was kept up with zest until morning. The hall was beautifully decorated for the occasion; first-class music was supplied and the catering was excellent. The committee in charge had all the arrangements perfect and all present were loud in their appreciation of the night.

In the evenings the Carnival Grounds are the gayest of the gay and with every form of amusement provided there is not a dull moment had by the thousands who assemble there.
This week the Carnival has been continued under the same auspices in aid of the funds of the New Mortuary Chapel and has been liberally supported.

On Monday night there was a Donkey Derby from G. Crotty's, Abbey-side to the Carnival Grounds and 30 competitors faced the starter, but after a good start the field soon scattered out. All the running was made by D. Cullinan's Mount, Ballyduff, who won by a distance. On Tuesday evening a three-legged race from the Square took place. Twelve teams competed and the event was won easily by J. Christopher (Junr.) and P. A. Casey.
On Wednesday night there was a race for decorated wheelbarrows. The passenger in each barrow was under the rules to stand up so that spills were frequent. Ten competed. E. Lynch and Finn, were declared winners.
On Sunday night 28th inst., another big dance will be held in the Town Hall.

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, U.D.C., is President of the Carnival Committee; Messrs. D. Regan and P. A. Casey, Hon. Secs., and J. O'Gorman and J. A. Cartwright, Hon. Secs.

LISMORE NOTES.

LATE MR. P. CUNNINGHAM.
A special meeting of the members of the Lismore Comairle Ceannair was held in Lismore when the following resolution was proposed by Mr. T. J. O'Dwyer, seconded by James Scanlon, and passed:—"That we the members of the Lismore Comairle Ceannair, tender to the wife and family of the late Mr. Philip Cunningham, our sincere and heartfelt sympathy in the great loss they have sustained by the death of a devoted husband and father, our friend and colleague."
DEATH OF MRS. M. O'KEEFFE.
The death at Deepark, Lismore, on Sunday July, 21st, of Mrs. Mary O'Keefe, occasioned feelings of widespread sorrow and deep regret throughout the countryside, where she was held in such high esteem.
Deceased had been in failing health for some time and her death was a peaceful and happy one, fortified by the rites of the Church.—R.I.P.
The remains were removed from Deepark for interment in the Old Cemetery on the 23rd inst, and the cortege showed in a striking manner the deep sympathy which her demise evoked.
The chief mourners were—Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Keffe (son and daughters); Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Melligan (son and daughter); Miss Mary O'Keefe, (daughter).

DANGER OF SECRET SOCIETIES

Rev. R. Murphy, C.S.S.R., in the course of his closing sermon at a Mission in Glencar, referred to the danger of secret societies, and made a moving appeal to parents not to allow their young boys to become members of them; and if they had the misfortune to be members, to get them to sever their connection at once.
"There is one association, in particular," Fr. Murphy continued, "which has been condemned by the Church, and by the Bishop of your diocese and that is the I.R.A. This organisation is openly subversive to the authority of the Church and State and its declared aims and objects embody Communistic principles. It is my duty to tell you here and now that this so-called patriotic association is sinful and dangerous, and that no Catholic can lawfully belong to it."
"Young boys will say to me: 'We are in the I.R.A., but we are good Catholics.' There is no use in going behind facts. You might as well say: 'I am a souper and a Catholic.' You are all aware of what has happened in Russia, Mexico and Spain, and which of you would like to see similar happenings in your dearly beloved country?"
"It is only fair to say," he continued "that the great majority of these young men are only the dupes of their leaders, who are paid to spread a foreign heresy in this country. But now once those men know they are wrong, it is their duty to shun this organisation immediately."

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

MILLSTREET SPORTS
The promoters of the above Sports, under N.A. and C.A. Rules, which were to have been held last Sunday, were in hard luck when the rain began to come down rather heavily just as the events in the Sportsfield were about to commence, and there was no alternative but to postpone the fixture to next Sunday, when everything points to the weather being far more favourable for the event. Numerous entries had been received and there was a large attendance of competitors on the field, but all agreed that a postponement was the only alternative under the circumstances.
Before the rain became too heavy, the Committee were able to run off the Cycle Road Race from Cappagh Garda Barracks to Millstreet, and this attracted a big number of competitors. A great race was provided and was won in brilliant style by that promising young cyclist, George O'Brien, Lismore, by about two lengths, T. Burke, Ballinameela, being second, and J. O'Brien, Ballinamull, third, only about the distance of less than a wheel separating second and third after a grand race.
The Committee intend to run a special Cycle Road Race over the same distance on next Sunday, and as all the items on the original programme will be run off afterwards a great day's sport can be safely looked forward to.

ANOTHER VICTORY FOR THE CRICKET CLUB
The members of the Cappoquin Cricket Club were "At Home" to Cahir Park Cricket Club on last Saturday afternoon when an interesting match was played on the excellent pitch in the Cappoquin Sportsfield under the most favourable weather conditions. Cahir went in to bat first, but were all dismissed for the small score of 23 runs, due mainly to the splendid bowling of Captain Jameson and the smart fielding of the Cappoquin team.
Cappoquin scored 41 in their first innings, and on going in for the second time, Cahir scored 65 for six wickets, when they declared for a total of 88 runs. This left Cappoquin with 48 runs to make in order to win, but on E. E. Hey and Joe Collins opening the batting for the second innings, they rapidly scored 51 without the loss of a single wicket, so that Cappoquin led by three runs with their ten wickets still standing, and the time limit being now reached, the game ended in a very easy victory for the Cappoquin Club.

A RUNAWAY DONKEY
It takes a very good driver, as a rule, to get the ordinary donkey to travel at more than a snail's pace, so that some surprise and mild excitement were caused here on Saturday evening when the unusual sight of a runaway donkey was witnessed in the Main street. The animal had been pulled up outside Mrs. B. Sargent's Main street, but, apparently, getting bored by the long absence of its owner, it suddenly became restive and started to dash down towards the Square with all the force and fury of a trumpeting elephant.
Fortunately, Thos. O'Shea, an employee of the Bacon Factory, happened to be passing at the time, and although unaccustomed to the ways of an infuriated ass, he pluckily grasped the animal by the head and brought it to a standstill.

RAID FOR ANNUITY ARREARS
Sheriff's officials, escorted by a number of Civic Guards and Detectives, raided a local farm on Wednesday with the intention of seizing a number of cattle on foot of a claim for arrears of Land Annuities. The cattle were only graziers on the land, and did not belong to the owner of the farm, but the owner of the cattle promptly paid up the amount due, so that no seizure was made, and the officials returned with an empty lorry.

LOSSES OF WATERFORD VICTUALLERS
REGULATIONS BLAMED
Waterford Victuallers' Association, at a special meeting, passed a resolution expressing the unanimous opinion that owing to the conditions imposed by the Government subsequent to the introduction of levies and vouchers they were unable to cover their overhead expenses, and had been carrying on their business at a substantial loss, which could not be continued.
It was decided to await the result of the general meeting of Free State victuallers in Dublin before calling another meeting "to request the Government to establish their own shops for the purpose of free or subsidised beef, and to abolish levies and vouchers as far as private traders are concerned, as, if they are to exist, Waterford traders must refuse to comply with the Act."

DRANK 17 PINTS OF BEER FOR WAGER
Sixty-year-old Fred Penistone, York-shire, is a man with a thirst. He put it to the test when, for a wager, he drank seventeen pints of beer on end without effect.
For Fred is no ordinary man. He has been a strong man in his time, though he is slight of build.
He could lift a public-house table with his teeth—and as a rule they are no light weight. He could pull a six-inch nail out of wood with his teeth. He has lifted two bags of cement each weighing sixteen stone, and even raised a man on each end of a plank from the ground.

A GREAT ATHLETE
At the Waterford Sports last Sunday, Mr. J. McGrath, the well-known Cappoquin Athlete, added further laurels to the long list of athletic successes already to his credit by winning the 220 yards, 440 yards and 890 yards in convincing style, while he secured second place in the 100 yards, although this is an event he does not usually specialise in.
Mr. McGrath, is son of the late Mr. D. F. McGrath, Victualler, Cappoquin, who was himself a well-known athlete, and of Mrs. McGrath, Dromore East, Rockfield, and is grandson of Mr. Patrick Sexton, Dungarvan.
At the same sports, Mr. Charlie Guest, Lismore, won the half mile, one mile and two miles cycle events from large fields of crack cyclists, so that it can be seen that this area of West Waterford is well able to uphold the high prestige which it won many years ago both in the athletic and cycling branches of sport.

ENJOYABLE EXCURSION
As a signal mark of his appreciation of the great services rendered by the members of the choir and altar boys during the recent Mission in Cappoquin, the Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., provided a grand excursion for them on last Sunday afternoon to Youghal, when about 25 ladies and gentlemen participated in a most delightful outing.
A number of local motor cars were engaged for the occasion, and accompanied by Father Fitzgerald, the company started off about 3 o'clock and arrived in good time at the popular seaside resort.
The weather proved somewhat drizzly and depressing when the party arrived in Youghal, but the rain soon ceased, and was followed by a glorious burst of sunshine which made the conditions ideal for all.
The entire party arrived back in Cappoquin in good time, deeply grateful to Father Fitzgerald for such a delightful outing.

Belfast Outrages

SEVERAL LIVES LOST

CATHOLIC WORKERS MOBBED

Ever since the 12th July celebrations the state of affairs prevailing in the Northern City is appalling and its continuance is a reflection on our boasted civilisation. Orangemen have evidently broken loose. Several combatants on both sides have been killed and wounded and the police and military seem to be unable to cope with the disturbances.

In all eight people have lost their lives and in many areas of the city the Catholics have had their homes burned down and they have had to seek shelter elsewhere. Despite the appeals of the leaders of the churches of all denominations and the leading public and business men, the internecine strife goes on and the city is reaping the reward of the wild speeches of some of its political bosses.

REPRISAL OUTRAGES

Hundreds of Catholic workers throughout the city have not returned to work owing to the attitude of their fellow employes. There was a further attack on girl workers in a York St. factory, when they were leaving. Some of the girls were chased up Upper Meadow street, into the Nationalist area of North Queen St.

In some of the mills which reopened Catholics who turned up to resume work were chased, and those who refused to go were threatened and ordered not to return after the dinner hour.

In several of the mills the attitude of the workers was so menacing that the Catholics did not return after dinner time.

In one Belfast mill, 20 Protestant girls refused to go on with their work while Catholic employes were allowed to remain. The demand of the girls was not granted and they left their work. A short time afterwards the management decided to close the mill. The mill has not been closed temporarily.

The extraordinary spectacle of 20 clergymen restoring of peace was witnessed at all approaches to Queen's Island Shipyard when work began after the Twelfth holidays. Very few of the Catholics included in the one thousand employes put in an appearance fearing trouble, and that their action was justified was shown by the behaviour of a crowd which gathered outside the shipyard gates, scrutinised all arrivals, and threatened to throw all Catholics into the Lagan.

NATIONALIST STATEMENT

At a special meeting of the Nationalist members of the Northern Parliament and Senate all the members were present. At its conclusion the following statement was issued:— "As representatives, meeting in Belfast at a critical moment in its history, we realise the responsibility resting upon each of us of advancing the cause of peace by every means in our power.

"We have waited for two weeks observing silence and withholding criticism to see if the Northern Government were really sincere in their efforts to restore law and order.

"Not only have they failed in this obvious duty, but they have endeavoured to minimise the gravity of the situation. We declare our belief that members of the Government by their bitter sectarian speeches advocating the boycott of Catholics are in the main, responsible for provoking the tumult and orgies of destruction let loose upon the city in the last two weeks. Some of them as late as July 12 repudiated the Christian advice of the Protestant Bishop of Down and his plea for forbearance and tolerance on the ground that making compromises of that kind, there would soon be an end of everything for which their common Protestantism and the Order stood.

"Instead of endorsing this appeal we had an intensification of the campaign of hate directed against a helpless minority. It was started by the repetition of a malicious canard about 'peaceful penetration,' which has been definitely proven to have been without the slightest foundation. Coincident with the circulation of this story there was a widespread campaign to exclude Catholics from employment in violation of Christian principles and of the rights guaranteed them in the Government of Ireland Act, 1920.

"Not merely did the Government fail in its duty to restrain the activities of those who had set themselves to make the lives of Catholics intolerable, but it took under its wing an organisation which forms the spearhead of this attack, and has, to quote the Prime Minister deliberately avowed itself to be a Protestant Parliament for Protestant people."

"In renewing our appeal for peace and good relationship in this area, we have no hesitation in declaring that the plight of our people cannot be relieved by the action of certain misguided individuals across the Border."

Amazing incidents, which are generally looked upon as a retaliation for the Belfast disorders, took place in the Free State during last week-end.

In Limerick a mob between two and three hundred youths appeared in the streets. The windows of a number of Protestant premises, including those of the Trinity Church, were smashed.

A strong force of Civic Guards pursued the rioters, who broke windows as they ran. The outbreak of violence assumed such serious proportions shortly after midnight on Saturday that a company of military carrying rifles with fixed bayonets were placed on duty in the streets. The latter formed a cordon across O'Connell street, and the Guards making a baton charge, scattered the rioters.

In Clones, County Monaghan, the Masonic Hall was completely burned down and a Gospel Hall and the Pringle Memorial were partly damaged. The rioting and burnings, which were referred to at the Masses in Limerick and Clones, were strongly condemned by the clergy.

Kilmallock Protestant Church was burned to the ground on Monday. The damage is estimated at £15,000. Glass was broken in five windows at the Rectory, nearly a mile from the town.

The fire was discovered at 7.45 a.m. and when the Guards arrived the roof was falling in. There was then no chance of anything being done to save the church, particularly as no fire-fighting apparatus was available. The church is stated to have been built on the site of an old Catholic church.

Verly Rev. Canon Taylor, the Rector, who heard men moving in the vicinity of his residence said that he believed there were not many persons concerned in the affair.

He heard them shouting, but when his dogs commenced to bark they cleared off.

He could give no reason for the outrage, but he said he heard one of the party say something as if he entertained a grievance. The Canon expressed his belief that the affair was a reprisal for occurrences in Belfast. Windows were also broken at the lodge at the entrance to Mountcoote,

Cattle Prices

DEBATE IN THE DAIL

In the debate in the Dail on the Slaughter of Cattle and Sheep Amendment Bill, Mr. MacMenamin, said that the Amending Bill was unworkable and represented the last word in bureaucracy. It was going to put out of business the small trader, especially those who supplied beef to the people in the congested districts. Was it the intention of the Minister to go down himself and open shops for the distribution of bully beef.

Mr. Victory said he did not see where the crime was in compelling butchers to conform with the law. It was unfair to those butchers who paid the fixed prices to allow their competitors to buy below the minimum. He could not understand how any farmer deputy could get up in that House and criticise the Government's attempt to stabilise prices.

Mr. Desmond said that the butchering trade was being unduly hampered. They had inspectors watching them at every hands turn, and he did not know how they were going to carry on their business. He did not believe that this Amending Bill would help the farmers at all. It was no help to them certainly to appoint an extra lot of inspectors.

Mr. Cosgrave asked what sum the Government hoped to raise from the levies imposed under this Amending Bill, and also under the Bill of last year. He would also like to know what would be the likely expenditure under the Bill of supplying meat at reduced prices to the people. The principal Act was a very complicated measure, and one of its main provisions was designed to ensure that the farmers would receive the minimum price. It failed to effect that purpose. In some cases when the Ministerial inspectors visited the farms to ensure the payment of minimum prices there were no sales. They should be told the result of the Minister's examination of the situation with regard to prices last year. When the Principal Act was being introduced they were given to understand that the receipts from the levy would practically balance the outgoing in respect of free beef.

With regard to proposals in the Bill that the Minister should go into beef himself, Mr. Cosgrave said there were more serious objections to that than the normal objection that State or municipal undertakings were never as cheap or efficient as private enterprise. In the present circumstances it would be practically impossible for the Minister to send an inspector to a fair to buy cattle without giving rise to all sorts of political allegations from one Party or another. Surely the Minister must know that after each visit of his inspector to a fair questions would be asked as to who the inspector bought from, whether he bought the best cattle, and above all, whose cattle he did not buy.

The Bill greatly increased the restrictions on trade and it would fail to secure a guaranteed minimum price if interfered with the law of supply and demand, and the net result would be to bring much more money to the Exchequer than it received last year. In the circumstances that was not fair to the cattle industry.

Mr. E. O'Neill, said he was afraid the Bill was going to accentuate the difficulties of the situation. Many parts of the Principal Act were unworkable, and the machinery proposed in this Bill would be still more cumbersome. As a trader himself he protested against any interference by the State with trade. State trading machinery was always costly, cumbersome, extravagant, and inefficient.

Dr. Ryan, Minister for Agriculture, said he was asked why he had not ensured the payment of minimum prices by cattle exporters. The principal Act dealt only with cattle and sheep bought for consumption in the Irish Free State. It was true that the Secretary of his Department had made a speech to the exporters, for which he took full responsibility, and asked them to give the minimum price. It was felt at the time that as the exporters had the handling of the licences it was only just they should pay the minimum prices. Since then the system had been altered, and now the producers were getting the licences.

Mr. Belton said they were getting one licence for each 12 beasts.

The Minister said that Mr. Belton had tried to make the point that the exporters could pick and choose, because where as there were 20,000 cattle, there were only 9,000 licences. That was not so, because the licences were attached to 9,000 cattle.

Mr. Belton pointed out that the licences were given to the farmers and not ear-marked for any particular beast.

The Minister said his point still held because the farmer selling cattle at a fair, and possessing a certain number of licences, was not going to point out at the beginning of the deal which beast the licence was attached to. The Opposition should make up their mind as to which view they took of the Bill. They had told him it was too drastic, and also that it was unworkable. The finances of the principal Act were that the levy would raise from £300,000 to £325,000. They expected to pay £325,000 for free beef, about £100,000 for the supply of cattle to the Roscrea Factory, about £20,000 for cattle to be made into canned beef, and about £40,000 for miscellaneous expenses. The net expenditure this year would be £200,000, and that calculation was based on the present Bill coming into operation.

Mr. Cosgrave said the estimates were prepared last December. Did the Minister mean that in December last the introduction of this measure was contemplated?

The Minister said it had been the intention that this contributory basis should commence on April 1st, and also that the Roscrea Factory would open on April 1st. Neither anticipation had proved correct. They had balanced out each other.

Prof. O'Sullivan asked what would have been a normal year's cost had the Act continued.

Dr. Ryan said if they had continued to supply free beef in the same quantities for a whole year it would have cost £230,000. A whole year's working of the Roscrea factory would have meant spending £150,000 in the purchase of cattle for it, and about £20,000 for cattle for canned beef. Against that they would have to set £300,000 to be raised by the cattle levy. Where the minimum price was not paid he agreed with Deputy Hazlett that the farmer paid the levy; but if the victualler paid the minimum, the levy could only be passed on to the consumer. The Minister agreed with Deputy Cosgrave that neither State nor municipality could do business as well as the people who were in that business. But under this Bill they were only buying a few cattle in order to hand them over to a butcher—they were not taking over the whole business. They were not interfering to any great extent, and they would be very glad to step out and let each butcher concerned buy for himself again—if he would go back to the old method he had before the original Act came into operation, and buy from the surrounding farmers.

Replying to Mr. Cosgrave, the Minister said the Inspector would not buy "on speculations." The butcher would give him on order stating the types and number of beasts he wanted and the Inspector would oblige as far as he could.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

Rent Civil Bills
There were a number of civil bills by Sir Arthur de Capel Brooke, against tenants in Killeagh for arrears of rent.

Mr. J. J. Stanton, solr., Cork, for plaintiff.

T. F. Colbert of Messrs. Guinness Mahon, Dublin, agents for plaintiff proved that in some of the cases there was 6 or 7 years rent due.

Decrees were granted.

De Capel Brooke v. O'Brien

This was an ejectment civil bill.

Mr. Stanton said there had been a mistake on the part of the summons server and he, therefore, applied to have the case adjourned.

It was adjourned to the first Court in October.

Same v. Murnane

This was a similar case.

Evidence having been given that there was 7½ years rent due, a decree was granted.

Good v. Power

This was an examination order as to means.

Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., for plaintiff, said that no statement of means had been lodged, but he had received a letter from defendant's wife offering to pay 7/6 till harvest when the balance would be settled.

This offer was made an order of Court with £1 costs.

Licensing Case

Supt. Kelly, charged Palk Murray, Vintner, with a breach of the Licensing Act.

Mr. Macnamara, for the publican.

The Supt. said the offence was admitted. On Sunday 7th at 6.5 p.m. the Guards found a number of travellers and one local man on the premises. The offence was trifling and he didn't press the case as the house was well conducted.

Mr. Macnamara said the man had been admitted by a member of the family, unknown to the publican.

The publican was fined 10/- not to be recorded and the man found on the premises 5/-.

Bathing Offence

At a Children's Court, Guard O'Neill, charged a boy aged 13 with bathing without a costume, at the Sloblands.

Complainant said he found the boy bathing at the Sloblands near Blackwater Bridge.

Mr. Macnamara said the boy had lent his "togs" to a chum, and he was now suffering for his mis-placed generosity.

The Justice said he wouldn't fine the lad that time; he would be content with the publicity. Under the new Act costumes must be worn by all.

Supt. Kelly—That is the reason the case is brought.

The boy was let off with a caution.

GARDAI ACTIVITY

NUMBER OF CO. WATERFORD MEN ARRESTED

RIFLES FOUND IN DITCH

Following the arrest of a number of young men in Dungarvan under Article 2a of the Constitution, a young farmer named Wm. O'Donoghue, residing at Crowhill, Cappoquin, has also been arrested and detained in Lismore barracks.

Guards from Cappoquin and Lismore were very active in search for arms over a wide area in the Cappoquin district, and it is stated they found seven rifles of an obsolete pattern hidden in a ditch in a mountain area, some miles from Cappoquin.

Free Beef to be Stopped

POOR NOW ASKED TO PAY

A proposal to abolish the Free State system of granting free beef is contained in the Slaughter of Cattle and Sheep (Amendment Bill) 1935, which was issued to deputies of the Dail.

Under the Slaughter of Cattle and Sheep Act introduced last year for the purpose of reducing the cattle population of the country persons in receipt of unemployment benefit and Poor-law grants received free beef from the authorities according to their means.

The Government proposed to ask these persons to pay a few pence a pound for the beef in future.

Another proposal to this Bill is that butchers should buy their cattle through Government inspectors. Apparently this is to ensure that the farmers will get a fixed price of 22s. a cwt. for their beef, which the farmers allege that they are not receiving at present.

Dr. Ryan, Minister of Agriculture, has announced his intention of enforcing this proposal on all butchers in the country.

MR. MCGILLIGAN ON DAIL DECISION

TAXATION BURDEN

"The Government are so much annoyed by criticism from the Opposition that they decided last week to close down any argument in the Dail, and public representatives are obliged to promulgate at meetings what they are not allowed to say in the chief deliberative assembly of the country," said Mr. P. McGilligan, T.D., speaking at a Fine Gael meeting in the Square at Ferns.

Both Mr. de Valera and his Minister for Agriculture admitted in the Dail that England was succeeding in collecting the annuities, he stated, and they declared that the Irish people must tighten their belts and last out the economic war.

When asked how long the situation was going to last Mr. de Valera could only give the despairing reply: "I am sorry I see no way out."

The Government way out was to tax the bread, tea, sugar, and butter of the poor and to waste the money in maintaining a war that was bringing the country to bankruptcy.

The Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister admitted in the Dail that the Government could get money only by imposing taxes on the necessities of life, because such taxes could not be evaded. The fact that the Fianna Fail Government could only get the same revenue from an income tax of 4/0 in the £ as Mr. Cosgrave's Government got from a tax of 3/6 showed that the people of the country were not able to earn as much money to-day as under Mr. Cosgrave.

KILMACHTHOMAS NEWS.

THE MONTHLY COURT—

Held before Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J., Mr. T. O'Brazil, Clerk, and Supt. P. Denny, G.S., Tramore, were in attendance. Messrs. E. A. Ryan and T. Kiersey, solicitors, appeared for several of the applicants in a big sheet of undefended civil bills, which his Worship disposed of in the usual way. Breaches of the Lights Act and of the Schools Attendance Act were brought against a number of persons by Sgt. O'Mahony, Kill, and Guard O'Connor, Kilmecaden, respectively, and fines ranging from 1/- to 10/- and costs were imposed—save in a few instances, where the cases were adjourned to the next sitting.

UNLICENSED BULLS—

The Minister for Lands and Agriculture, prosecuted Mrs. Catherine Cheasty, Ballybrack, Kilmachthomas Mr. Thomas Burke, Shanacoolie, Stradbally, and Mr. Thomas McGrath, Gardennorris, Kill, for having failed to license yearling Short-horn bulls, their property, in accordance with the provisions of the Licensing of Bulls Act, 1925.

Mrs. Cheasty, was charged in respect of two bulls: Mr. McGrath, two, and Mr. Burke, one.

Mr. Ryan, S.S., appeared for the prosecution. The defendants were not professionally represented.

On the suggestion of Mr. Ryan, the cases were taken together. Inspector D. J. Ryan, L.S.B.A., swore that he visited the lands of Mrs. Cheasty, on the 21st May last, and found one white Short-horn bull not ear-marked. Both were calved in January, 1934, and neither had been castrated. They were "weedy" animals. He met Mrs. Cheasty's son on the occasion, who admitted the bulls were a year old. On the same day witness visited Mr. McGrath's lands, and found two Short-horn bulls unlicensed. Number 1 bull was, in his opinion, calved in May, 1934, and No. 2 bull in June, 1934. He met Mr. McGrath, who told him the animals were not a year old then. Witness visited the lands of Mr. Burke on the 21st January and found a red Short-horn bull, which was calved in May, 1934. He met the owner who admitted the animal was calved in that month. Mr. Burke also admitted that the animal had served cows and said he thought he need not have the bull licensed till next month. The animal was castrated following witness's visit.

In reply to the Justice, witness said he was a judge and breeder of cattle for a long period. Calves born from January to June would rank as year-olds on the following February.

Mr. Thomas Cheasty, told the Court that his mother was away from home when the Inspector made the visit. Witness did not admit to the Inspector that he didn't think they were.

Mr. Thomas Burke, did not appear in Court.

Mr. Thomas McGrath, said his two bulls were off winter cows, and were not a year old when the Inspector called. He could bring a witness—the man who since castrated both animals—to prove that.

Mr. Ryan, S.S., informed the Justice that the expenses incurred by these cases totalled £4 18s. 5d.

His Worship fined Mrs. Cheasty 5/- plus 16/6 costs in respect of each bull. Mr. Thomas Burke, 5/- and 16/4 costs, and he adjourned the cases against Mr. Thomas McGrath to the next Court, to give this defendant an opportunity of bringing forward a witness to corroborate his statements.

His Worship told Inspector Ryan he need not again attend in connection with McGrath's case.

The District Justice announced that as next month would be holiday time for solicitors and Guards, he would hold no sitting here until the third Wednesday in September; but should any custody cases transpire in the meantime, he will be available to deal with such.

The Court then rose.

HOLIDAYING—

Clonea (Dungarvan), Stradbally, Bonmahon and Annesdown are amongst the many bright and clean seaside resorts that came out of their ennui and lethargy with the advent of the first touch of real summer weather at the beginning of the month; when the cloak of torpor was cast off, and they assumed the holiday spirit; when the glare and glare of the swimming season broke upon them in all its rush and bustle. Besides the hundreds of inlanders visiting these centres for their "daily dip" there are several people spending their annual vacation at each place.

There is a large company of American Catholic clergymen staying at Ocean View Hotel, Clonea, where tennis, golf and bathing are affording them the greatest pleasure. Very Rev. Fr. Ramsdale, London, and Mr. Bowers, Postmaster, Kildare, and his wife and family, are amongst the guests at Whelan's Hotel, Stradbally; and parties of nuns from Carrick-on-Suir are in occupation of private residences in the village, which the owners have let to them for the season. Mr. and Mrs. Eamonn Power (the well-known Gael) and family, Slieve Keane, Waterford, and Mr. and Mrs. John Kent and family, Kilmachthomas, are also staying at Stradbally. Mrs. Agnes Foley and family, Newtown, Waterford, and Mr. Boyle, Ulster Bank, Kilmachthomas, are amongst the numbers sojourning at Bonmahon.

The Rev. Patrick Cummins, O.S.A. Cork, has just concluded a most enjoyable holiday at his old home at Island, Stradbally. Fr. Cummins, who is engaged at missionary work, is an enthusiastic supporter of hurling, handball and football. He was one of the leading exponents of the "big ball" code in the Deise in his student days. His reverence is a first-cousin of the eminent Cork specialists Dr. Patrick and John Kiely, and of the distinguished Dungarvan surgeon Dr. McCarthy.

Miss Kathleen McCarthy, Belfast, the estimable daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCarthy (licensed vintner), Ballylonea, Kilmachthomas, and sister of Mr. Thomas McCarthy, of the literary staff of the "Belfast Telegraph," is spending her annual holiday at her parental roof-tree, and is having a jolly good time amongst her many friends in these parts.

FRUIT AND FUEL—

It is anticipated that it will be a plentiful fruit year, as all the trees are heavily laden, and ripening very quickly. Plentiful supplies of turf are cut in Leamybrien, Garrunturton and Glen bogs and on the Comeragh mountain slopes, and some farmers and cottiers cut double supplies. The turf in most places is well saved, and those who have quantities for sale find it always in demand, at remunerative prices, the quality being of the very best.

A TRAGIC TOSS.

Whilst riding his push-bicycle down Kilmurraun Hill, near Kill village, on Sunday morning, Michael Byrne, aged 35 years, labourer, was flung violently off the vehicle, sustaining a broken neck to which he immediately succumbed. Judging from the appearance of the bicycle when seen later, it would seem that the tyre on the front wheel burst off and somewhat got entangled in the spokes, causing the machine to stop short with such suddenness that the rider had not time to do anything to avoid the spill. The body was discovered by Mr. Patrick Murray, a cottier whose home is quite close to the scene of the tragedy. He informed the Kill Guards and the relatives of the occurrence. The deceased, who was a good-natured honest and industrious man, leaves a wife and young family to mourn his loss. Dr. J. C. Walsh, Marlfield, Clonmel, (Coroner for East Waterford), held an inquest on Monday, when a verdict of "Accidental death" was returned, after which the remains were removed for interment to Dunhill Churchyard, followed by a large cortege. The deceased was son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Byrne, Ballybraggan, Dunhill, and was employed by Mr. Michael Morrissey, farmer, Dunabratton. A great wave of public sympathy goes out to the young widow.

AN ATHLETE'S "DOUBLE"

Congratulations are cordially extended to Guard David Bermingham, Kilmachthomas, who won the two weight events listed on the programme of the Waterford Cycling and Athletic Championship Sports, held at Waterford Gaelic Field on Sunday last. Guard Bermingham slung the 56lbs. (without follow) 23ft. 9ins., and the 16lbs. shot 38ft. 4 ins.

Gaelic Garnerings—

Rain was a spoilsport at a number of arenas on last Sunday. The East Waterford Minor Hurling Championship of this year was decided at Ballyduff Lower Gaelic Sportsfield, and resulted in a convincing win for Portlaw over Mount Sion (Waterford) on the scores:—Portlaw, 5-2; Mount Sion, 2-1.

The Junior Hurling Championship clash at Clonea-Power venue between the home team and Erin's Own (Waterford) resulted in a win for the visitors by a clear margin of 2 points, out of a grand total of 16 points notched in the hour of action.

The Gaels of the Decies will be glad to learn that learned Liam O Mioda-cain, the genial manager of Ring, C.-O. Operative Society, Ltd., is now on the high road to complete recovery from the effects of his recent serious motor-ing mishap. Friend Liam is one of the foremost of Irish-Irelanders in our country to-day.

Here's heartily hoping the Waterford Minor Hurling Team will take home the bacon from Thurles on tomorrow. No doubt about it, but the Tipp Cathedral town will gain a record invasion. It is generally thought that the winners of the major mix will prove the All-Ireland Champions of 1935.

DEATH—

Fortified by the rites of Holy Church, Miss Mary Dee, Faha, Kilmachthomas, passed hence on Friday of last week, after a protracted illness and at an advanced age. A most amiable lady, she had spent the greater part of her fine career in the U.S.A. To her esteemed sisters, the Misses Bridget and Margaret Dee, Faha, much sympathy is tendered in their sorrow. The remains were removed to the Parish Church, Stradbally, on Saturday afternoon, and the Rev. P. O'Farrell, C.C., recited the prayers for the dead thereat. After the late Mass on Sunday, interment was made in the adjoining cemetery, in the presence of numerous relatives, friends and sympathisers. Very Rev. J. Murphy, P.P., officiated at the graveside.—R.I.P.

AND—

That many a Comeragh Valley Romeo won his Juliet because of looks to which his moustache was a contributory factor.

FROM THE PAST—

At an old-fashioned Comeragh Valley country house well over a century ago, one of the members of the party being entertained explained an ingenious method he had devised for cleaning chimneys. His plan was to place a large goose at the top of the chimney and then, by means of a long string, attached to the feet, pull the bird down. The goose would naturally struggle vigorously, and by means of its resistance could not fail to sweep the chimney completely. "Goodness me!" said an elderly lady present, "how cruel that would be to the poor goose!" "Well, madam, he solemnly replied, "if you think my method cruel to the goose, a couple of ducks would do."

HARD AT IT—

That the progressive farmers of Mid-Waterford are taking full advantage of the summer days of bright sunshine and cooling breezes—so appreciable for haymaking purposes—is a fact obvious as it is pleasing to chronicle. Already a large proportion of the earlier crops are safe either in substantial cocks or carted right into the shed. Another week of similar weather is wanted to finish the fine work so readily and vigorously begun. The later meadows claim attention and the sooner mowing is commenced on them the better. Experience has taught us that conditions climatical are sometimes very indecipherable in late summer, and consequently no effort should be spared in profitably availing of the sunny hours that may continue now until the 24th prox. (The 40th day after St. Swithin's). The fact that hay crops are on the light side generally this year is chiefly attributable to the absence of growth during the month of May. However, the crops are not altogether as bad as was at one time feared. The early June rains benefited them. Beet crops are coming on nicely in most districts. Thinning was undertaken and completed in good time. Root crops in general are as good as could be expected. They had a rather rough passage through the seedling stages. It takes them some time to recapture. The potato crop is splendid on the whole, and blight has not made its appearance so far. Stalks are strong and rich and in heavy blossom since the application of the final clay to the roots. It is not yet safe to neglect spraying. Late spraying keeps foliage green and healthy right up to "diggin' time." This leads to few small waste tubers, and greater yields.

BY THE WAY—

A valued reader in "life insurance" takes advantage of the information laid before him by his clients—but in a nice way. He never forgets their birthday. All his policy-holders are greeted by him on their anniversaries. Which reminds us: "Insurance" and "assurance" how often are these words misused and confused. Yet, to use them correctly only requires a moment's thought. People insure against things that may happen—motor accidents, etc.—and assure against things that are bound to happen, such as old age and death. Simple, isn't it?

A "GREAT KICK"

Fairly often one hears of cars killing rats on the road; not so often are rabbits struck. Recently, however, a motor acquaintance hit a rabbit. It happened on the Glen Road, between Kilmachthomas and Stradbally. He stopped at once and found it was not dead, merely stunned. He took it on his journey with him. After attention it revived. Someone suggested that he should keep it as a pet. But he did not think so at all. Instead, he took it back to the exact spot where it came to grief. And on leaving it down, he tells us, he got a "great kick" out of seeing it scuttle off through a hedge to locate its pals.

BREVITIES—

"Cig." pictures have staged a wonderful come-back. Not only children, but grown-ups as well are collecting them now. Mid-Deise youngsters incidentally, have a rather unusual game by means of which they exchange their "twigs" and complete their sets. Two or more can play. Each puts down a card on a table or any flat surface, and then in turn the participants try to blow the cards over. Those they manage to blow over become their property.

DAMAGE TO PROPERTY ACT, 1933

In Dail Eireann, on Tuesday Mr. Kilroy asked the Minister for Finance whether he will state if applicants for compensation under the Damage to Property (Compensation) (Amendment) Act, 1933, who had through lack of knowledge on their part, or for other good reasons, failed to have their applications lodged in time may now be granted permission to bring their cases forward, and if so, in what way that such permission gets ample publication so as to avoid further disappointment.

Mr. MacEntee—I would refer the Deputy to the statement I made in the House in reply to a question addressed to me on the 18th ultimo. I then indicated that the grant of extensions of time for lodging claims under the Damage to Property (Compensation) (Amendment) Act, 1933, was a matter entirely within the discretion of the Circuit Judge, but that the State Solicitors would be instructed to offer strenuous opposition to any extension of time where the claim is not lodged on or before the 30th September, 1935. That statement received widespread publicity over the radio and was also reported in the Dublin and Provincial Press. I am, moreover, taking such steps as are open to me to ensure that the matter receives further publicity.

BOY SCOUTS

Abbeyside is the home of Boy Scouts this week. We have contingents of scouts from Dublin, Cahir and Lismore each encamped in different fields and the boys in their uniform seem to be enjoying our seaside with zest. Marching to the Augustinian Church to Mass each morning, they make a very attractive turn out. Very Rev. M. C. Crotty, P.P., Cahir, and formerly P.P. of Abbeyside, is also in town on a holiday. Fr. Crotty is devoted to the Scout Movement and believes in its efficacy to engender the virtues of self-reliance, fraternal charity and good citizenship in the rising generation, and when these virtues are properly understood and acted upon then you have good sound Catholics with a perfect outlook on the world and models of Catholic Action in all things.

Her sister Miss Eileen Madden, age 11 years, observing her predicament although a non-swimmer jumped in fully dressed to her assistance. Both children were in grave danger of being drowned but for the fortunate appearance of Mr. Maurice Keane, Department of Education, Dublin, who gallantly rescued both. The children were none the worse for their immersion. We understand Mr. Maurice Keane, has several rescues from drowning to his credit.

MAKING FARMING PAY

In the Dail last week several members who never spent an hour on the land in their lives and whose knowledge of the difference in quality between the land of the Golden Vein and the highways of Donegal is as limited as their cheek is unlimited made various suggestions as to how farming would be made pay at present. Now if farming could be made pay no one could do it better than the practical men who have devoted their lives to the job and they say it cannot be done while the existing state of affairs prevails. Ireland has grass in abundance. We have neither oil or wine. Gold and silver and copper we may have but evidently they are hard to explore, if they have not been mined out centuries ago. And having grass in abundance we should make it pay. Government policy is opposed to the bullock and in his absence the grass won't pay. Therefore to be prosperous once again the bullock must eat the grass and pay for it. If T.D.'s who speak so eloquently of making farming pay would only exchange places with farmers for a year or less and have their salaries suspended in the meantime, then we might expect to find a change in tone together with real reasons why farming does not pay now. Prosperity and freedom of country can have while its principal industry is choked with tariffs and restrictions.

IS IT FAIR?

In this age of restriction in all things and depression in many, it is surprising that no action has been taken against those who publicly act diametrically to the wishes of the Government. For some time past the halless brigade has been gaining recruits by the thousand. Since the hot weather came along stockings have been shed by young and old. Coats have been cast aside and the good service boots of best Irish make have been rejected in favour of rubber-soled slippers. How can people talk of helping our young and old industries if they wear neither hat nor cap, stockings or boots. Where does the Government come in? If people refuse to wear our manufactures what will become of our factory employees? It is a very serious matter and notice should be taken of it by our T.D.'s. We have numbers of hosiery factories on short time and no wonder when our women and young girls will go stockingless. Something must be done on this question or the results will be far reaching. No wonder the Emperor of Ethiopia says he will either die fighting and go to Heaven or else he will live in peace and prosperity.

MUNSTER CHAMPIONSHIPS

S.F.—Tipperary 2-8; Cork, 1-2.
M.F.—Tipperary, 3-5; Cork, 0-4

The Football Championships at Fermoy on Sunday were played in juicy weather and before a fairly large attendance. Tipperary won the senior and minor football games with a big margin.

THE MINOR MATCH

Cork took charge from the start with the Minor match, and maintained a steady pressure on the Tipperary backs before relief was effected. Cork ought to have scored before the clearance came about. A free to Tipperary was stopped, and Cork again had possession. A free to Tipperary brought them up the field without result. Hickey and Dillon were doing good work for Tipperary, and Holly, Casey and Ash were prominent for Cork. The first honours went to Cork, and on the return Tipperary sprang a surprise with Greensmith finding the Cork net. This success had its encouraging effect on Tipperary, who made matters lively for their opponents, who ran up a point not many minutes later. Power was responsible for the score, which was easily got. After a wide by Rafferty (Tipperary), Cork covered ground, and the Tipperary net had an escape from C. O'Leary. A fifty to Cork taken by Lowery did not materialise. A free to Cork by Holly went out by inches. Cork were fighting hard for scores, and after some tough tussles Brosnan pointed. Hickey, who was left unmarked, having given Tipperary another point, the interval was reached with Tipperary leading by a goal (1-2 to 0-2). Smyth held the Tipperary net very efficiently.

On the resumption, a free was given Tipperary, who pressed after strong opposition for a point by Power, Tipperary's left full. A nice movement by Cork was spoiled by O'Meara. After some wide kicking by Cork Tipperary had a free and Greensmith found the Cork net, but the score was disallowed. Holding Cork's territory, Hickey put up a goal and Power a point. Cork next replied with a point per Ash, after Casey had brought the leather along the wing. Tipperary's fielding was very good. The score was now: Tipperary, 2-4; Cork 0-3. Cork having added a point. A great chance of a goal to Cork was averted by Smyth, and Tipperary sailed off for a goal (Greensmith). Cork had hard luck for a goal in the next passage, the ball colliding with the upright. Cork's forwards were pressing against a stonewall defence, after which Tipperary broke away for a point by Hickey. The game finished with the score at: Tipperary, 3-5; Cork, 0-4.
Referee—Mr. D. Ryan, Tralee.

SENIOR MATCH

The senior teams were played to the line out by the Thomas Kent Pipers' Band and, the National Anthem having been played by the Confraternity Brass and Reed Band, Fermoy, the players were put into action with two overs to Tipperary. The attack was then taken up by Cork who pressed to a fifty, after a close shave of the Tipperary net. Nothing followed on the fifty and Tipperary from the next challenge broke away to be stopped by Harrington, who was throwing his full weight into his work. A great burst by Cork saw Healy shoot wide by inches. Houlihan sent Cork on for Morrissey to cause a retirement. Cork's pressure was successful with the first honours—a point (Sheehan); Tipperary then lashed out with a similar score (Loneragan). A free to Cork was stopped by Tipperary's backs for whom Purcell replied. Power and Allen were jointly responsible for Tipperary's next point. A free to the same side from short range saw Holland point. At half-time Tipperary led by 4 points to one point for Cork.

The match was resumed with a few exchanges in the Cork field placings. Tipperary were first to open with a strong visit to their rival's territory but nothing happened. Cork then took up the rugging but Williams held his net intact from a fierce lash by Duggan. Cork forced another visit, Healy sending wide. A free to Cork, taken by Harrington, brought Williams (Tipperary) again into the picture with a great clearance. A free to Cork was unavailing and McGann frustrated a further encroachment on the Tipperary net. After two wides at the Tipperary end Cork's winning chances were not looking too hopeful, Condon, Morrissey and Purcell being sound opponents. A smart performance by Duggan and Healy (Cork), saw the point flag go up. The next stage brought a free to Cork, but it was smashed by Williams in the nick of time. The pressure on Tipperary's lines was being maintained against O'Keefe and Purcell, but on a clearance, a goal was captured for Tipperary by Nunn, off Scott, and Allen and O'Keefe got through for a minor each. After a further scoring success J. O'Regan (Cork) pulled off a goal. Tipperary wound up with a strong finish amidst much excitement and a voice from one of their admirers—"We are going to Croke Park." Tipperary were good winners by 2-8 to 1-2.

At Dungarvan Gaelic Field on Sunday evening at 8 p.m. Eire Og lined out against Cathal Brugha's in the Junior hurling Western Championships. Eire Og were away from the start and for the first half had a monopoly of the play, the score at half time was: Eire Og 3-1 to a blank sheet for Cathal Brugha's.

On the turn over Fitzgerald's team tried hard for scores, but could not penetrate the Eire Og defence, where N. Noonan, G. Burke, and P. Queally kept them at bay. Eire Og increased their lead and ran out easy winners on the score: Eire Og 5-4; Cathal Brugha's Nil.

Prominent for Eire Og—P. Lannon, J. Foley, N. Noonan, Gunner Curran, and the goalie, who saved the situation time and again. Cathal Brugha's were well served by Paul Lannon, Ned Power, J. Houlihan, Ned Daly. Street in goal, was sound, and only for his brilliant display a bigger score would have been registered against Cathal Brugha's.

Mr. Decan Goode, Dungarvan, refereed in his usual capable style.

WEST WATERFORD CHAMPIONSHIPS

HURLING AT CAPPOQUIN

One of the grandest hurling matches witnessed in West Waterford for years was played in the Sportsfield, Cappoquin, on Sunday, when Lismore met Ballyin in their tie for this year's Junior Hurling Championship for the Western Division of the Co. Waterford.

Both teams, which belong to adjoining parishes, had shown great form in the earlier ties, as Lismore had defeated a strong team from the Blackwater Rovers, Cappoquin, after a close game, while Ballyin had proved victorious over Four-Mile-Water, one of the best Junior Hurling teams in West Waterford for many years. With such a high reputation behind them, extraordinary interest was taken in Sunday's match in Cappoquin, and an unusually large following of the supporters of both sides attended, while Cappoquin and all the surrounding districts were represented in force, so that despite the inclement state of the weather, the general attendance of spectators was the largest seen at a Junior match in Cappoquin for a long time.

The weather although dull, was dry and bracing and gave promise of a fine afternoon, but, unfortunately, rain began to fall about one o'clock and continued for some hours, so that when the match started at 3.30 the climatic conditions were most unfavourable for a high-class display of hurling, as the field was wet and slippery, and falls were numerous, while on several occasions the hurleys slipped out of the players' hands and robbed them of a possible score when they had the ball in a favourable position.

Notwithstanding this handicap, the hurling was of a very high standard right through the game, and under more favourable conditions should have provided a masterly display, while the rain militated considerably against a much larger attendance, which would have constituted a record had the weather been fine. Ballyin were undoubtedly the faster and more stylish players, but what Lismore lacked in this respect they made up for by their more rugged and determined style which enabled them in the end to win a great game on the score of 10 goals 2 points to 8 goals for Ballyin, these high scores faithfully representing the fast and strenuous nature of the play.

The field had been well laid out, and all the arrangements, in the hands of the Blackwater Rovers Hurling Club, Cappoquin, were perfect in every detail. With few exceptions, the game was played in the proper sporting spirit, but there were the inevitable casualties in the course of the match, the case of Murray, Ballyin, being the most serious, as he received a nasty wound over the forehead, and although he resumed play after first aid had been rendered, he later had to get two stitches in the wound when he went for treatment to Dr. White, Cappoquin. Hallinan and O'Donoghue, Ballyin, also received injuries but were able to continue playing, while some of the Lismore men also received a few knocks, but, on the whole, the game was free from very serious accidents which reflected credit on the good temper and care displayed by most of the players.

Details.—Lismore won the toss and played towards the road end with a slight breeze and the rain in their favour, but play had not been long in progress when Ballyin attacked in whirlwind style and had the green flag raised for a goal after about five minutes' play.

Lismore then worked up the field and launched a strong attack on the Ballyin posts, but they were met with a stout defence and the ball went over.

Two further overs for Lismore followed in quick succession, after which Ballyin relieved the pressure and taking play down to Lismore territory were looking dangerous, but a splendid defence saved the Lismore net and the ball went over.

and scientific nature now followed in mid-field, which resulted in Lismore breaking through for a rather soft goal, and playing with much greater vigour, Lismore shot two further goals, which left the half-time score: Lismore 4-1 Ballyin 3-0

Second Half

On resuming play, Lismore had the better of the opening exchanges and soon sent over, but returning to the attack shortly afterwards the Ballyin net fell for a major score. Ballyin next looked dangerous around the Lismore posts, and the ball had to be sent over by one of the Lismore backs in order to avert what looked like a certain goal.

The seventy was well taken by V. O'Donoghue, who placed the ball in nice position for the Ballyin forwards who were not slow to avail of the opportunity of shooting a grand goal. Lismore next got a point, but Ballyin quickly followed with a goal which reduced Lismore's lead to two points, the score now being 5-2 to 5 goals. Lismore soon increased their lead by another goal, but a seventy penalty to Ballyin, taken by O'Donoghue, resulted in giving the forwards the opportunity of shooting a goal which again brought them to within two points of Lismore.

Both sides were now playing a beautiful game, the exchanges being fast and vigorous, but Ballyin at length pierced Lismore's stubborn defence and shot a well-judged goal point for the first time in the second half. The score was now Ballyin, 7 goals, Lismore, 6-2, and the Ballyin supporters were cheering loudly, while the greatest excitement prevailed amongst all sections of the spectators who were thrilled by such a close and rapidly-scoring game.

Lismore soon took the lead again with a goal, which was followed soon afterwards with a further goal but Ballyin were not set done with and soon shot a goal which again brought them within two points of Lismore. This was the last score Ballyin were able to register, as they were now showing signs of the strenuous game which they had played so far, and Lismore starting a strong offensive, scored two further goals within the last eight minutes of play and the full-time whistle found them winners of a hard-fought game on the score: Lismore 10-2 Ballyin 8-0

LIMERICK POOR CHILDREN'S EXCURSION

The Third Annual Limerick Poor Children's Excursion to the seaside at Youghal, under the patronage of the Mayor, Mr. J. M. Casey, P.C., and the Society of St. Vincent de Paul, took place on Sunday. The long train with the engines decorated with bunting landed well ahead of time with 1,300 young trippers on board.

The Mayor who was accompanied by Messrs. J. A. Dalton, F. F. Daly, A. Riordan, D. J. Treacy, solr., A. Conington, T. Duggan, etc., was in chief charge. The Lady Mayoress and the Misses Casey, also taking part. Ably assisting him were the Boy Scouts under Mr. Kevin Dineen, and members of the Legion of Mary, there being 100 stewards and 60 Scouts guiding and tending the youngsters.

The excursionists were received at the Terminus by Mr. J. Power for the local Society St. Vincent de Paul, and the Mayor was joined by Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman U.D.C.; T. K. Keane, solr., U.D.C.; M. H. Walsh, P.C., Town Clerk and others. The weather on their arrival was dull but dry and a procession was quickly formed and all marched along the Strand road to a field beyond Claycastle. By this time a nasty drizzle had set in, and after a consultation it was decided to march back and on to the town, a course which proved more than advisable as many of the little ones were anything but prepared for the heavy drizzle that developed and lasted for several hours. The boys proceeded to the Town Hall, where the large Ball Room was placed at their disposal, while the girls were accorded a welcome shelter by the good nuns of the Presentation in their school in South Abbey.

In both venues the Committee, Scouts and Legionaires were unspiring in ministering to their creature comforts, the good things provided being done full justice to.

As the rain still held on, both boys and girls were afforded a treat in the shape of special free Cinema performances by Mr. R. Hurst and Messrs. Horzian Bros., in their Picture Halls in Friar Street, for which the Committee were very grateful. At the conclusion the boys returned to the Town Hall, and as it cleared up soon after they were allowed a free leg on the Mall and the Mall Stand, much to their delight. At 5.50 the procession again formed and they marched back to the Strand where they enjoyed a magnificent dinner of the dirty dirty and of the grandest kind, and on the homeward journey in joyful good humour.

The Mayor asked your representative to record the sincere thanks of his Committee and himself to the Chairman, members and Clerk of the Youghal Council and to Mr. J. Power for all their kind help on the occasion.

BRITISH DOGS ABROAD

FAVOURITE BREEDS

By "PHILOMUN."

FEW people realise the extent to which British dogs are sent abroad. Great Britain seems to be a universal provider of livestock of all descriptions, a mart to which most nations resort. That is why it never disturbs me much when foreign dogs are introduced into this country, for experience has shown that as soon as we have established a breed we begin exporting at favourable prices, and any outlay that has been made is returned quickly. There is constant demand for good show dogs such as can be guaranteed to win straight away.

A law has been made in Norway prohibiting the exhibition of dogs until they have been domiciled in the country for three months, the idea being, presumably, to give native breeders a chance. In America it is a common thing to have classes for American-bred dogs. Apart from show dogs, however, large numbers leave these shores every year simply to go as companions or to be used for sport. Or it may be that our own people who are excited wish to take their dogs with them.

Requests have reached the Tail-Waggers Club at 58 Mark Lane, London, E.C.3., from editors of English papers abroad asking for information upon certain points. One from Japan wishes to know about the position of dogs that are returning to England with their owners. It is a curious thing that although the quarantine laws have been in force for a good many years, people are still unaware of their provisions, many being under the impression that if a dog has been inoculated against rabies the period of quarantine may be avoided. That is altogether erroneous. Every dog brought into Great Britain from overseas must undergo a six months' segregation in kennels approved by the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries, and a licence to land the dog has to be obtained from this Government Department in Whitehall Place, London. Dogs are well looked after when in quarantine, but, of course, they miss their masters or mistresses.

Another editor asks how Alsatians fare in hot climates. Mrs. Leslie Thornton, who has sent many to India and has visited kennels in that country, assures me that they do very well, though they are inclined to feel the heat, and that most owners manage to get them to the hills in the very hottest weather. There, of course, they do as well as in England. Mrs. Thornton has met Alsatians in Malaya that have never been up country, and their blood needs watching and cooling medicines given from time to time to counteract the likelihood of skin complaints. In Colombo precautions are taken against the blood becoming overheated, but all those that Mrs. Thornton has judged there were in excellent coat.

One of the Indian Maharajahs has recently bought from her Ch. South-down Helga, but he, I believe, is opening auxiliary kennels in Darjeeling to which dogs can be sent when the hot weather begins. Generally speaking, smooth-coated dogs are the most suitable for hot countries, since it is possible to keep them free from insect pests with less trouble. Bull terriers are particularly popular in India and other parts of the East, where their high courage makes them appreciated.

WATER SUPPLY FOR COACHES BELFAST POGROM CONDEMNED

Present—Messrs. J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., moved to the Chair; M. Cashman, M. Ahern, W. O'Sullivan, R. Savage, Capt. C. Watson, R. Power, T. Beausang, E. D. Condon, E. P. Lynch, J. Daly, B.E., J. Whelan.

Apology Demanded

Mr. Power asked if there was any reply from Mr. Corbett, who had attacked the Town Superintendent recently.

The Clerk said he had a letter from the man's wife or daughter stating he was away on business.

Mr. Power—He is in town all the time. Give him another week to apologise, and if he doesn't we'll take action in the matter.

Stoker's Holiday

A letter was read from the I.T. & G. W. Union, stating that the stokers in the gas works were entitled to a fortnight's holidays with pay and asking for the Council's immediate consideration and approval.

Mr. O'Sullivan said that no workers deserved a holiday more and he proposed that they get it with pay.

Mr. Cashman, seconded. The Clerk said if they did that they would be surcharged.

Mr. Whelan—All industrial workers will come within the ambit of the New Act.

The Chairman—Our hands are tied at present. They certainly deserve a holiday.

The matter was adjourned.

Dancing Platform

Mr. Samuel Field, Ballycastle, applied for the use of the Council's Dancing platform for concert purposes.

On the proposition of Mr. Beausang seconded by Mr. Savage, the application was granted.

Deck Chairs For Strand

Mr. Savage, on behalf of the Strand Church Fund Committee, applied for permission to hire out deck chairs on the beach.

On the proposition of Mr. Ahern, seconded by Mr. O'Sullivan, the application was granted unanimously.

Water Supply For Coaches

Mr. T. J. O'Hanlon, Dysert, applied for a water supply for the railway coaches on his land, for sanitary and domestic purposes.

The Clerk said the Town Surveyor reported that the cess pits concerned didn't comply with the bye-laws.

The Chairman—This is a very serious matter. The Council's authority has been flouted.

Mr. Lynch—It is not the first time. I propose that he get the water.

Mr. Power, seconded. The Clerk—You are up against an extraordinary proposition which can't be accepted. The erection of those coaches has been referred to your solicitor to take proceedings.

The Chairman—I don't think I can accept.

Mr. Lynch—It is proposed and seconded. The Council often did things they shouldn't strictly do.

The Chairman—Two wrongs don't make a right.

Mr. Lynch—No, nor five.

Mr. Daly, proposed and Mr. Whelan, seconded that the matter be referred to the Co. M.O.H.

The Chairman—I decline to accept the proposition.

Mr. Ahern—It would be ridiculous to accept that proposition. We have refused permission for the erection of those coaches.

Mr. Power—The land is his property and I hold he is entitled to do what he likes with it.

Mr. Savage asked if they had a little property on the Strand themselves how would they like to see those monstrosities erected up against them.

The Clerk said the matter was urgent and in the absence of their own solicitor on holidays, they ought employ another.

Messrs. J. L. Keane, solr., Youghal, and C. T. F. Russell, Cork, were proposed and seconded, and on a poll being taken, the local solicitor was appointed by 7 votes to 5.

Meat Inspection

The monthly meat report of the Vet. Inspector, was submitted and declared excellent.

Pacific Hotel

The Clerk said he had received a report that Miss Meade, Pacific Hotel, had put up a private sign board on their lamp standard at her side entrance.

The gas manager reported that the lighting of the passage had been rendered ineffective by its erection. He (the Clerk) wrote to the lady reminding her of their solicitor's opinion that no private sign could be put on a public lamp, and she replied that she would refer the matter to her legal adviser on his return to town.

After a long and lively discussion and several propositions, the Clerk was directed to write again to Miss Meade, giving her a fortnight to remove the sign.

Belfast Outrages

Mr. Power said they were all aware from the reports in the Press of the terrible happenings in the North, where their fellow Catholics were being hounded to death and murdered by those infamous Orangemen. He therefore, asked leave to propose the following resolution—

"That we make emphatic protest against the barbarous treatment meted out to our fellow Catholic countrymen in the North and knowing that the Orange or Protestant community to be in the majority, we the Catholic majority who are in the majority down here in Southern Ireland live and are pleased to live amongst our Protestant people whom we hold in the greatest esteem and respect, but while doing so we respectfully request the Protestant people of the South to remain no longer silent on the matter. We ask that they protest through the medium of the Press against the vile and barbarous attacks on the Catholics of the North. That we accuse Lord Craigavon, Prime Minister of the Northern Government of being responsible for the cowardly assaults on our people and demand that he call a halt to those Orange celebrations which are the direct cause of all the bitterness, and that copies of this resolution be sent to Lord Craigavon and public bodies.

The Chairman—That is a very sound proposition in which we are all in full agreement.

Mr. Ahern, seconding, said it was about time that they should move in the matter.

Mr. Lynch suggested that, besides calling on all public bodies to join in the protest, they should also call on the Governments—their own and the British—to put an end to the persecution. The Orange Lodges were now calling for the withdrawal of the military to replace them by the Specials, to do as they did in 1921-22, when the McMahon and other families were done to death. God help the Catholics of the North if the Specials get their own way. The Bishops should also speak out in denunciation of those murderers.

Mr. Daly suggested that the President of the Executive Council should also receive a copy of the resolution. The Bishop of Down and Connor had already protested. There was a deeper undercurrent than the present bitterness gathering for years. The same thing happened in 1913 when Carson, Smyth and others started the Ulster Volunteers for the purpose. The same thing happened again in 1921 and the spring of 1922. He held that that deeper undercurrent originated in the Orange and Freemason organisations. Therefore, the powers that be should use their influence to stop this outrageous persecution.

Mr. Power said it was like sending coals to Newcastle to speak further on the subject. Those Northern bulies shouldn't forget that there were good snipers in the South also and that they could have a good pot if it came to it.

Mr. Lynch suggested that they ignore Lord Craigavon. He was asked to take action before the 12th, but he failed to do so.

The resolution was unanimously adopted, Mr. Lynch, objecting to sending a copy to Craigavon.

Strand Church Bazaar

Mr. Savage, on behalf of the Strand Church Fund Committee, extended a cordial invitation to the Chairman, members, the Town Clerk and the Press to the opening of the Church Bazaar on Saturday.

The Chairman—We'll all be there.

Acknowledgment

A letter was read from Mrs. Hayes, Strand street, on behalf of her husband, family and self, thanking the Council for their kind message of sympathy in their recent sad bereavement.

Bands In Green Park

Pipe-Major McCarthy of the Pipers Band, applied for permission to perform in the Green Park during the season.

The arrangement of dates for the several bands was left to the Chairman and Clerk.

Limerick Excursion

A letter was read from the Mayor of Limerick thanking the Council for the facilities granted to the Poor Children's Excursion and expressing the hope that fine weather would render it unnecessary to avail of them.

Housing Scheme Tenants

A letter was read from the L.G. regarding the tenancy of houses under the Housing Scheme, where the people for whom they were intended declined to take them.

Mr. Whelan said the Minister had not answered their questions at all. He knew of one case, where the tenant in the condemned area was in receipt of 4/- outdoor relief. How could he possibly pay a rent of 3/6? There were others somewhat similarly situated.

The Chairman—I am inclined to agree with you. The Minister merely states the law on the subject.

Mr. Savage said that by a little alteration they could do away with the scullery, which wasn't required, and give an additional room.

The Clerk said that had been already suggested to the Department, but they refused to alter the plan—No. 4 A—and suggested that the obvious remedy was to erect four-roomed houses.

Mr. Savage—With all due respect they are very thick-headed (laughter).

After a protracted discussion, the Clerk said they were bound down by the Act, and the subject was adjourned.

Award For Bravery

The Royal Humane Society wrote stating that the Society's Honorary Testimonial on Parchment had been awarded by the Committee to Robert O'Connor, O'Neill Crowley street. The award, when prepared would be forwarded for the favour of presentation.

YOUGHAL CIRCUIT COURT.

Fetherston v. Hickey

This was an Ejectment for non-payment of rent and an application to remove stay for the decree to possession granted on 6th February, 1935.

Mr. G. J. Daly, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. J. L. Keane and Sons, solrs.) for plaintiff and Mr. J. F. Meagher, B.L. (instructed by Mr. C. T. F. Russell, solr., Cork,) for defendant.

Plaintiff's case was that there was a sum of 258 lbs. 6d., due in accruing rent to 1st May, in all 283 5s.

For the defendant, it was stated that she was in the house 27 years and that the rent had been increased some time ago from 226 to 232 6s.

On the defendant undertaking to pay £10 in Court and £10 on July 27th, his Lordship said he would continue the stay.

McLoughlin v. McLoughlin

This was a Civil Bill by John J. McLoughlin, against his brother Thomas J. McLoughlin, for £62 3s. 6d., for goods, and there was a counter claim for £73 board and lodging and tuition.

Mr. Meagher (instructed by Messrs. Keane) for plaintiff, and Mr. O'Driscoll (instructed by Mr. Barry) for defendant.

A decree was granted for the amount of the Civil Bill with costs and the counter claim was dismissed without costs.

Edward Keegan, Main street, Carrigtwohill, applied for £50 compensation for damage to his premises by tarring on the night of 11th or morning of 12th May. Mr. Daly (instructed by Messrs. Julian and O'Brien, solrs., Cork,) for applicant and Mr. A. M. Healy, for Co. Council.

Applicant stated he was a horse dealer and proprietor of livery stables. On the morning of the 12th May, he found his premises had been extensively tarred during the night, on both sides of the street. He got an estimate from John Fitzgerald for the work of restoration, which was going on at present.

John Keegan, son of previous witness, corroborated. He reported the matter to the Guards. On 25th May he received a certain document addressed to his father and self and he handed it to the Guards.

Sergt. Curran, Carrigtwohill, stated the premises were extensively tarred and more than one must have been engaged in it. Nobody had been made amenable.

John Fitzgerald, said his estimate of £50 for doing the work was accepted and he was going on with it. It was a fair figure for the job.

Mr. Healy, who cross-examined witness at length said there was no question as to the malice, but the amount.

Mr. Daniel Daly, Bandon, said he inspected the premises and estimated the cost of restoring the premises at £15 7s. 2d.

Cross-examined by Mr. Daly—He had experience of removing tar from cement. He didn't think it called for hacking. The stuff used was Road Board tar.

To the Court—Witness said tar did not penetrate a smooth surface.

His Lordship—Take the walls of this attractive Courthouse (laughter), I don't know whether they are cement or what—but they are a credit to this prosperous seaside resort (laughter)—and do you think tar wouldn't penetrate through those walls? It would not.

A decree for £45 with £1 16s. 3d., was granted, to be levied off the Electoral District of Carrigtwohill.

Wm. O'Grady, Main street, Carrigtwohill, applied for £15 in similar circumstances and a decree for £9 was granted.

Mary Crotty, Loughane, Ightermurragh, applied for £300 compensation for the malicious burning of a house.

Mr. Daly (instructed by Mr. J. J. Ronayne, solr., Middleton), for applicant, and Mr. F. McCarthy Morrogh, B.L. (instructed by Mr. Exham, solr.), for the Co. Council.

Mr. Daly said the house, which was thatched, was formerly owned by deceased's brother. It was maintained and visited by applicant and her sister but they lived in another house about 200 yards distance. They left the house about 6.30 on the evening of the 20th April and at 10.30 the place was observed to be on fire by some persons leaving a cottage near by, where they had been playing cards. The applicant had been a customer of a carrier named Donaldson, who had given evidence at the Military Tribunal in connection with tree-cutting cases from the district.

Mr. D. J. Tierney, B.E., Cork, handed in a map of the scene. From an examination he believed the place had been fairly well preserved. He estimated the damage at £161, allowing 30 per cent. for the difference between old and new. It would be easy to get to the thatch from a wall on the east side.

His Lordship—£161 is net? Witness—Yes, my Lord.

Cross-examined by Mr. McCarthy-Morrogh—He didn't see the house before it was burned; but saw the remains.

Seriously do you think an old barn with a thatch roof and mud walls worth £161?

It was in good condition judging by the remains.

Miss Mary Crotty, stated she became the registered owner of the house on the death of her brother, Michael, two sisters and a brother lived in the other house. Her sister and she left the burned house, having locked it up at 6.30 on the evening in question. They had used no artificial light. They had a workman, Dan Donovan. He came over with the keys at 7 o'clock. They were thinking of going to sleep. His Lordship—Do people think of going to sleep? (laughter).

Witness, continuing, said they were almost asleep when they were wakened by Wm. Kenefick knocking at the window telling them about the fire. They went over, tried to put it out and removed timber and seeds. The thatch was ablaze from end to end. They were there for generations and had no trouble with any of the neighbours. She was aware of the hostility to Donaldson, carrier, whom she employed when required. She had difficulty in getting a sowing machine.

His Lordship—How long since anybody lived in that house?—Ten years. Could it be more?—About eleven (laughter).

Cross-examined by Mr. McCarthy-Morrogh—They used the house for storing corn and other things.

To the Court—Donovan left the burned house about 7 o'clock.

To Mr. McCarthy Morrogh—In her statement to the Sergt. she said Donovan went to Ballycotton for his pension on Friday.

And now you say he came to supper at your house?

To the Court—That is not true. I forgot about it.

She gave Kenefick the wrong key—she didn't know what she was doing. Miss Ellen Crotty, stated they all went to the burning house on getting word and helped to take the things out. The roof fell in about 2 or 3 o'clock. She or her brother had nothing to do with the burning of the house.

Cross-examined—In her statement to the Guards she might have made a mistake.

His Lordship—Do you know you are on your oath—Yes. And is that a matter of laughter?

Cross-examined—It would not be true for Kenefick to say they were slow in turning up to the fire.

Wm. Kenefick, stated that he and four others tried to put the fire out. The Crotty's all came together to the roof over the loft. They removed the things. Ellen Crotty remained after and he told her to come down or she would be burned.

Cross-examined—Did you notice the Crotty's were very slow in arriving on the scene?—Yes.

His Lordship—Did you say that?—I passed that remark.

Cross-examined—He thought they took it very cool and showed no signs of excitement except saying—"Isn't it terrible?" They said they had no one to send to the Guards and he eventually sent his son. They came on Sunday morning.

Guard Windell, Ballycotton, said he saw a notice on a telegraph pole, with the words—"Informers beware." Donaldson, who was a carrier, gave evidence for the prosecution at the Military Tribunal.

Ed. Donaldson, Ballycotton, stated he had lost a lot of customers since giving evidence at the Military Tribunal. Miss Crotty was still a customer.

Wm. Kenefick, stated that he was the first to see the fire. It was then about an hour burning he thought. That was about 10.30.

Mr. McCarthy Morrogh asked for a direction. He was in a difficult position, having no evidence to put before the Court but that of the Guards.

Sergt. O'Donoghue, Cloyne, gave lengthy evidence regarding his investigations into the occurrence and of two statements made by Miss Crotty.

To Mr. Daly—What is the reputation of the applicant in your district?—Everybody as far as I know seems to be the best of friends with her.

Do you suggest she burned the house deliberately?—I could not give an opinion. Do you suggest that it was burned accidentally?—No. If it were not it follows it was burned by some man or men?—That is right.

Sergt. Kennedy, Ballycotton, having given evidence, said in reply to his Lordship that he had heard of hostility towards Donaldson since giving evidence before the Military Tribunal, but he couldn't find any evidence of it.

Daniel White, Bandon, Valuer, said he estimated the damage at £118, including barley which he since learned had been removed.

Having reviewed the evidence at length, his Lordship refused the application without costs.

White v. Abernethy

This was an application under the Workmen's Compensation Act by John White, baker, against Messrs. T. W. Abernethy and Co., Ltd., Castle-martyr.

Mr. O'Driscoll (instructed by Mr. Barry) for applicant, and Mr. Daly, (instructed by Messrs. Keane), for respondent.

Mr. O'Driscoll said that while at work for Messrs. Abernethy on 17 July 1934, a wooden splinter went into his middle finger as a result of which the whole finger was removed. He was paid full rate of 25/- weekly to 5th May last. The respondent stated the applicant had recovered capacity for work and offered him occasional work in rush time.

Applicant corroborated. His wages had been 4 guineas weekly. He had refused the offer of a day's work.

To the Court—Mr. Abernethy said he wouldn't put out a man to take me back and that he would give me a day's trial. That is all as far as I can remember.

If Mr. Abernethy would give you as soon as he can work at 4 guineas weekly, would you take it and try to do it?—Yes.

Mr. Daly—You got a copy of the doctor's certificate on 6th May stating you had recovered from the injury and that your condition was immensely improved?

His Lordship—Don't you think it is a slight exaggeration to say that he had fully recovered?

Mr. Daly—His condition is not likely to become worse.

His Lordship—I agree, but he will never grow another finger.

To Mr. Daly—He was invited by Mr. Abernethy to try a day's work and he said he should see his solicitor, but he wouldn't go in for one day.

His Lordship—Are you fit for full work?—No, sir.

Mr. Daly—Will you go back now and do full work?

His Lordship—Is that an offer? Mr. Abernethy—I would like to have a trial of the man first.

Dr. J. P. O'Brien, gave evidence regarding the man's injury. He didn't think White could do his full work as a baker.

To his Lordship—He estimated the incapacity at from 30 to 40 per cent. and that would be permanent.

Mr. Daly—Though he says he is fit for full work.

His Lordship—He would go to work and take full wages, I think he said (laughter).

The case was ultimately adjourned to Cork Borough Sessions.

Maguire v. Jeffrey

This was a similar application. Mr. O'Driscoll for Paul Maguire, applicant and Mr. Daly for Elizabeth Jeffrey, respondent.

It appeared the applicant was cutting timber with a circular saw which slipped, as a result of which he lost his fourth finger. His average wage was £3 weekly. He was paid £1 while laid up. Applicant was a decent man and his employer found work for him.

A suspensory award of 1d. per week was granted.

There were a number of applications for leave to extend the time for service of notices under the Damage to Property Compensation (Amendment) Act, 1933.

Replying to the Court, Mr. D. Casey, State Solicitor, said he would leave the matter in his Lordship's hands.

Leave was granted in the following: Richard Devlin, Thos. Langtry, John Cronin, John Moherway and Ellen Cashman. Mr. Daly (instructed by Messrs. Keane and Sons), Wm. YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

CHAIRMAN RE-ELECTED

At the annual meeting of the Youghal Urban Council, Mr. Broderick, T.D., in proposing the re-election of the outgoing Chairman said that as one whose attendance at the Council was so infrequent, perhaps it may be said that he should not be the one to do so, still he believed he had the right, as he always followed with keen interest the proceedings, and he was glad to be able to testify that its management, under the chairmanship of Mr. O'Gorman, appealed to him and accordingly he proposed the re-election of the old town they all loved. He was capable and energetic, and although at the beginning of his term of office things did not look too rosy, still by his capable handling of matters on all occasions he managed things so well that today there is no sign whatever of any gloom.

Mr. R. C. Farrell, seconding, said that Mr. O'Gorman, during his term of office, filled the chair with the ability he expected.

Mr. R. Savage, in proposing Mr. E. P. Lynch for the chair, said that he reiterated all that had been said by the previous speakers of the outgoing Chairman, but it was a party vote, and he accordingly proposed Mr. Lynch, as he was of the Government Party and has had experience for some years in the position of Vice-chairman.

Mr. R. Power, seconding, said that the proposer, he, too, could pay well deserved tributes to Mr. O'Gorman whose conduct in the chair was always impartial. Fair play for all seemed to be his motto, but although he might like to support him, he must support the Government party.

A poll resulted as follows:—
For Mr. O'Gorman—Messrs. T. K. Feane, J. N. R. Macnamara, R. C. Farrell, J. R. Smyth, M. D. Broderick, M. Cashman, M. Ahern, C. Wilson, W. J. Broderick, T.D.; D. McCarthy, E. Condon, and P. J. O'Gorman—12.

For Mr. Lynch—Messrs. R. Savage, E. Daly, B.E. R. Power, T. Beausang and E. P. Lynch—5.

Chairman's Thanks
In declaring himself elected Mr. O'Gorman said he desired to thank you sincerely the different members for the eulogistic tributes they had paid him. He felt he was not worthy of such kind expressions, yet it was a source of pride to him that his actions in the chair during the last 12 months had met with their approval. It was quite apparent to him, as it must have been to every member present, that a much better spirit prevailed amongst the members during the past six months than their first few months of office. It had always been his wish—in fact, he had adopted it as his motto—that in necessary matters we should have unity; in all things fraternal charity, and in all things liberty of opinion, and in all things being the most important of all. All of them loved that old town each in his own way, and it should be their aim and ambition to enhance and further its interests, and it, owing to the exigencies of present day times, matters are not as contented for everyone as we would wish to be. They express a hope that very soon a brighter dawn will be in store for this land of theirs. They were at all times subject to criticism, and rightly so. Some may say they could do more, but let them always remember they were spending other people's money, and it behooved them to safeguard it more carefully than if it were their own. They had done their best, and he felt sure that during the next 12 months they would carry out schemes of benefit to the town, which would react with credit on themselves and satisfaction to those who had sent them there to serve them (applause).

Mr. Power congratulated the Chairman on his election. He had done a great deal for the town, but he could do still more by having a factory started in Youghal.

Mr. Savage also congratulated the Chairman and complimented him on the fair play he extended to all during the past year.

Mr. Lynch, as the defeated candidate, congratulated the Chairman. He bore no grudge to any of his colleagues, and he would pay Mr. O'Gorman the tribute that during his year of office he acted without fear or favour, gave everyone a fair crack of the whip, and carried out the business of the Board, if he might say, above board (applause).

Mr. T. K. Keane, proposed Mr. R. C. Farrell for the vice-chair, adding that on the few occasions he had deputised in the Chairman's absence he equipped himself in a most business-like way. His manner appealed to them all.

Mr. M. D. Broderick, seconded and complimented Mr. Farrell on the ability displayed whenever he got a chance of presiding.

Mr. R. Power, proposed Mr. R. Savage for the vice-chair.

Mr. E. P. Lynch, seconded.
The voting in this case was the same as for the chair, and the Chairman having declared Mr. Farrell elected to the vice-chair, Mr. Farrell having suitably thanked the Council, he was complimented by the other members present.

County Council Chair.
Mr. Power complimented their colleague, Mr. W. J. Broderick, T.D., on his unanimous election to the premier chair of the county. It was a great sign of the times, and incidentally of Mr. Broderick's ability that all shades of political thought could repose such confidence in him that for many years his election had been unanimous.

Mr. R. Savage, seconded, the Chairman and other members present joined in the compliments to Mr. Broderick. He (Mr. Broderick) said he accepted the congratulations of his fellow-members on the Council, not so much for himself as for the town of Youghal, who had helped to send him there. It was a source of great satisfaction to him to know that he had succeeded in being fair to all parties, and that he had handled all questions of county administration to the satisfaction of all. Going into public life as their nominee, he deeply appreciated their approval of his public actions. He came into public life with the welfare of his country at heart, and while that heart beat in his body it would always be his ruling passion that his first thought would be for his country, and not for parties or individuals (applause).

Youghal Church
OPENING OF BAZAAR IN AID
The second annual Bazaar and Sale of Work, in aid of the Strand Church Fund, was opened by Very Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, P.P., D.D., at the Strand Palace Ballroom, Youghal, on Saturday last. Long before the official opening, which was timed for 4 p.m., all stands were in perfect order, and the Hall was packed to capacity.

Very Rev. Canon Dinneen, who was loudly applauded, said that he was sure the ladies were anxious to get on with the work, so he would not delay them very long, with his speech, nor was it necessary, as history was only repeating itself to-day. The Rev. speaker, continuing, said—Before we have finished paying off the debts on the new church it will be essential to hold some more bazaars. He hoped that the bazaar which he was now about to open, would be so successful that they would get the approval of his Lordship the Bishop to start the work of building in the coming year (applause). He also hoped that the bazaar would be favoured with fine weather, and that on account of its most deserving object it would be well patronised.

Before declaring the bazaar open, the Rev. speaker said he would like to congratulate the organising committee and all connected with the preparation of the event. He admitted that the work was hard and tedious, but nevertheless those in charge left no stone unturned to assure enjoyment for the visitors, and most of all, for the success of the function. The committee, he said, worked in perfect harmony with their commander-in-chief, Rev. Dr. Twomey, and he (the speaker) sincerely hoped that their good work would be appreciated.

Very Rev. Canon Dinneen, on behalf of the committee, then thanked all those who had presented gifts. Lovely gifts, he continued, were received by us, not alone from the people of Youghal, but especially from many well-known citizens in Cork City. The speaker then concluded by saying: "God bless those for their generosity, and let us hope that before this bazaar closes all the stalls here will be empty and the committee purse well filled" (applause).

He then declared the bazaar officially open, and the many hundreds of people who had listened to his touching words for support, immediately began purchasing tickets, etc., for valuable prizes to be raffled for during the week.

In all there are eight stalls erected in the Hall, each of which is artistically decorated and contains an abundant variety of useful goods, and offered to visitors at unbeatable prices. There is also to be found in the spacious ballroom a number of novel and attractive games to suit young and old. These include roulette, hoopla, etc., as well as a few comparatively new sideshows which are bound to "get" those who happen to try their luck at them. The bazaar which remains open for one week, will cater for the younger generation on Thursday, when a children's fancy dress ball will be held at 3.30 p.m.

On Thursday evening at 8.30 a high-class concert will take place, while on the following day, singing and dancing competitions will be held at 4 o'clock.

At 8.30 on Friday evening a second concert will be staged, and it should be noted that for this event there will be an entire change of artists.

A continuous programme of music will be rendered during the bazaar by the Commanders Dance Band under the direction of Joe Hodson.

20-1 AGAINST COLD CURE THIS YEAR

Chances of a cure for the common cold being discovered within the next twelve months are estimated by Lloyd's underwriters at 20 to 1 against odds of only 4 to 1 can be obtained however, against a cure being found within the next five years.

Suppose, therefore, some one offered £5,000 for a cold cure, and wished to insure against the risk of having to pay the prize, Lloyd's underwriters would want—

A premium of £400 against the possibility of the £5,000 being won in six months, or a premium of £250 to cover a period of twelve months.

If a time limit of five years was given in which to find a cure the policy would have to be renewed annually, involving the payment of premiums amounting to £1,250—or a quarter of the prize money.

Doctors estimate that the common cold—for a cure of which the Minister of Health has offered its discoverer "any honour he cares to specify"—costs the nation at a minimum £50,000,000 a year in lost time and production capacity and in medicines and doctors' bills.

PROMISES NOT FULFILLED

To the Editor "Dungarvan Observer".
Sir,—On the 9th inst. the Political Correspondent of the Fianna Fail organ in the daily Press stated in that paper that: "It was hoped that the Government programme of legislation will be completed by the end of the month and that the House can adjourn in time to enable the rural Deputies to engage in the summer work on their farms." While engaged in the summer work on their farms these Deputies will continue to draw an allowance of £20 a month.

On the 17th inst all unmarried men in receipt of Unemployment Assistance in rural areas had their allowances withdrawn. No further payment will be made to them until October 1st. Under the Unemployment Assistance Act an order has been made setting out the period July 17th to October 1st, as an "Employment Period," but anyone conversant with the conditions obtaining in rural districts knows that 90 per cent. of those whose allowances were withdrawn will not secure employment for any part of that period. The few miserable shillings that were being paid to these men were not sufficient to keep them above the hunger line.

The great majority of unemployed rural workers, dejected having to fall back on this degrading dole; they want work. They still remember that the Fianna Fail orators told them at the elections that not only would the Fianna Fail Government find employment for all, but it would be necessary to call home thousands of our exiles to fill the vacancies in field and factory. What has happened? The unemployment position has grown more serious; no attempt has been made to reduce the allowances payable to members of the Free State Parliament; the salaries of the higher paid Civil Servants have not been reduced; the country is overrun by hordes of inspectors, the majority of whom never gave one solitary hour active service to Ireland—in a word, the few are prosperous, the many are in want. The Fianna Fail leaders say that their ideal is a Christian Social State, but they can scarcely claim that they are progressing very rapidly towards that goal.
