WATER IMPROVEMENT SCHEME HOUSING SCHEME

Mr. Mi. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday. Also present Messrs. T. McCarthy, V.C.; P. Byrne, J. Dahill, P. Quann, J. F. Foley, J. Mansfield J. Christopher and M. Connors

PAYMENTS The pay sheets for the week—General Account £17 18s. 5d., Harbour Account £9 13s. 8d. and other payments of £119 13s. 10d. were passed.

MILK TESTS The following was the result of the mini dirt test on samples of milk taken from the following—Mrs. Curran, Mitchel street, satisfactory; Mr. T. Flynn, O'Connell street, satisfactory; Mrs. Burke, O'Connell street, fair; Mr. D. Dempsey, Square, unsatisfactory; Miss McCarthy, Main St., good.

NEW HOUSES Mr. Mi. Whelan, contractor was granted permission to connect with the water main at Shandon where new houses are in course of construction.

CEILIDHE Mr. Thomas Kyne, Secretary local G.A.A. wrote asking the use of the hall on Sunday August 4th for the purpose of holding a Ceilidhe at which they proposed to entertain the visiting Junior teams from Tipperary and Cork.

Chairman—What are the hours. Clerk—Up to 2 a.m. Chairman—What is the charge? Clerk—The G.A.A. Club have it at a reduced rate—2/- an hour.

Mr. McCarthy—The Dungarvan Club is an asset to the town and so is the Band, and any organisation that is an asset to the town should get the hall free.

Mr. Dahill—It is very seldom the G.A.A. ask for the hall, and we should give it free now. The G.A.A. brought thousands of pounds into this town.

Mr. McCarthy—I am sure they are all already at a reduced rate? Mr. Byrne—The Club is very badly off financially.

Mr. McCarthy—They are running six teams from the Club. If you had not a Club affiliated you could have no matches here. He would propose that they get the hall for 10/- and to pay for the light.

Mr. Dahill seconded the proposition which was passed unanimously.

GLENDINE WATER WORKS Denis Dee, Caretaker at the above reported on the quantity of water in the storage tank, two filters were working and the other was cleaned.

Mr. Dahill—Any report from the Kiladangan Caretaker. B.S.—No. He got his instructions. I had to send two men up there this week.

Mr. Foley—To Kiladangan? B.S.—Yes. Mr. Foley—Tell me when was the sand or gravel in the filter beds renewed?

B.S.—Not during my connection with the Council over 20 years. Mr. Foley—You will agree it is required? B.S.—Yes.

After some discussion, it was decided to renew the sand in the filter beds.

PUBLIC LIGHTING

The tender of the E.S.B. to light 38 public lamps for a sum of £272 was accepted.

Mr. Byrne referred to the promise given to him that an extra light would be put at Loughmore.

Chairman—When the dark nights come, we will put it there.

YOUGHAL RESOLUTION

A resolution from the Youghal Urban District Council dealing with recent disturbances in Belfast, was, on the proposition of Mr. Dahill, adopted.

VENTILATOR FOR COUNCIL CHAMBER

For the putting in of a ventilator on the roof of the Council Chamber, a tender was received from Wm. Sandford, for £12 7s. 6d.

Mr. Dahill—The B.S. told us it would cost about £3.

B.S.—Yes, for labour I think. The material would cost about £3 and it would take about 3 days work to fit it.

Mr. Mansfield—You think the tender exorbitant? B.S.—I do, and so do the members I am sure.

Mr. McCarthy—Why not do it by direct labour so. Mr. Byrne—Wm. Sandford told me the material would cost £3.

Mr. McCarthy—As Sandford was the only one who tendered, he should be asked to do the work by direct labour and the Council supply the material.

The matter was left in the hands of the B.S. to deal with.

QUARTERLY REPORT

Mr. Dahill referred to the fact that other Boards in the County always have periodical reports from their Engineers on the amount of work done during a certain period; the amount of money spent, etc. He was of opinion that they should have like reports from their own Engineer.

Mr. McCarthy agreed, but said that would be extra work on the B.S. and he was sorry Mr. Dahill made no reference to that. When you give a man extra work you should also give him extra pay.

The B.S. promised to have a report for the next Quarterly Meeting.

UNEMPLOYMENT ASSISTANCE

A letter was read from the Minister for Industry and Commerce relative to the resolution passed by the Council re an increase in the present scales of Unemployment Assistance, stating that the financial position will not permit of any increase in the scales payable under the Act.

HOUSING SCHEME

The following letter was read from the Ministry for Local Government and Public Health: With reference to entry in minutes of meeting of 21st ultimo, regarding the acquisition of additional sites for the erection of houses. I am directed by the Minister for Local Government and Public Health to state that he sees no justification for departure from the terms of his letter of the 17th ultimo on the subject pending the receipt of information referred to in that letter.

I am at the same time to urge on the Council the necessity for the formation of an interim scheme for the re-development of the Clearance Areas included in the Dungarvan Compulsory Land Purchase Order, 1924.

The Council decided to ask the solicitor for a report on the present legal position as regards the Compulsory Purchase Order.

WATER SCHEME

The following report and recommendations were read from Messrs. Delap and Waller:—

In reply to yours of the 17th inst. and the enquiry by the Department of Local Government and Public Health of 12th ultimo, as to progress, we now have pleasure in reporting as follows:—

The British Pitometer Company carried out tests under our supervision on your 6 inch Main and Distribution System, June 18th and 20th, and reported to us on July 3rd, a copy of their report is attached. As the report is mainly of a technical nature from which deduction would be difficult for others than Water Engineers, we also forward a day to day memorandum of our own.

Having examined the Expert's Report, we put certain queries to the Pitometer Company and your Borough Surveyor, and held back a report you until they had been answered. Relative to these, we attach a copy of the Pitometer Company's letter of the 15th inst., re carrying capacity of the main and desirability of having it scrapped.

Briefly the tests show a maximum rate of flow of 8,350 gallons per hour during the day and a minimum of 7,280 gallons per hour during the night.

The cause of this serious loss of water at night was ascertained to be chiefly waste, though leakage and weak points were also found in the Distribution System. A big proportion of the night flow is probably distributed over a large number of defective fittings. On branch mains supplied from the 6 inch main services to cattle troughs had been left open, one 1 inch tap being broken and left running full bore.

The 6 inch Main from Deelish to Grattan Square is sound, but the capacity is low, as it is in dirty condition. The quantity taken by Main Street is definitely too high, and the Pitometer Company's Report gives comparative figures for other Street and Sections which will assist your Surveyor in tracing small leakage and wastage. A number of valves were also found to be out of order and should be attended to.

We particularly draw your attention to the last three paragraphs on page 3; and the paragraphs on page 4 of the Pitometer Company's Report, which read as follows:—

We are of opinion that a very large proportion of the flow at night is distributed over a large number of defective fittings. Many of the houses are supplied from a street fountain which consists of a big tap mounted on a pillar. At times of low pressure the supply to some of the taps is deficient and it seems to be the practice of the inhabitants to leave the tap fully open if they are unable to obtain water from it. These taps should be replaced by fountains which cannot be left open when unattended. All supplies to cisterns, cattle troughs and the like should be given through a ball valve to shut off the supply automatically when the tank is full.

All supplies given for trade purposes such as those to the Creameries, Baths, Hotels, and for all non-domestic uses should be metered. Many of these establishments can take a large quantity of water, and if a flat rate is paid irrespective of the quantity taken, there is no inducement to the consumer to be careful in the use of water.

The quantity needed to be supplied to the Town would be very considerably reduced if these precautions are taken.

A house to house inspection of all services and fittings should also be made and notices served on the persons responsible for their repair where necessary.

The length of the 6 inch mains from the proposed new reservoir to Grattan Square is given in your letter of 30th April as 15,900 feet, and the distance measured on your drawing B5771/1 is 1,200 feet from the proposed new reservoir to the impounding reservoir, making 16,800 feet in all. There is a short length of 3 inch pipe in the bypass connection at Glendine.

Even a small flow to the Town when valve number 12 is opened causes a considerable drop in pressure, and when the fire hydrant plug blew out during the test on section 4, the pressure dropped to 60 feet when there was a flow of 8,230 g.p.h.

It is evident that the internal condition of the 6 inch main is bad and we have no doubt that the carrying capacity would be greatly increased if it were scrapped.

In view of the above, and from our own experience, we strongly advise the adoption of these recommendations:—

(1) The examination and repair of the main in Main street. Attention to all leaky valves, and insertion of valves on sub-mains now without valves.

(2) House to house inspection, the responsible persons to be called on to make repairs where necessary.

(3) The replacement of bib taps by self-closing taps on street fountains.

(4) All supplies to Cisterns, Cattle Troughs, and the like to be given through ball valves.

(5) All supplies for non-domestic use and for trade purposes such as to the Creameries, Baths and Hotels to be metered.

(6) The 6 inch trunk main from Deelish to Grattan Square to be scrapped by contract.

We are satisfied that the mains and Distribution System will reasonably withstand the additional pressure which our Scheme for improvement in supply, quality, and pressure—as recommended in a report already submitted to you—will provide, and if our scheme is to be carried out this year, your Council should now ask for the final approval of same from the Department of Local Government and Public Health, as it could be carried out simultaneously with the above work recommended on the Distribution System.

We also advise your Council to ask for immediate sanction for the scrapping of the 6 inch Main by contract. Our estimate for same amount to £300 including incidentals, fees and expenses, and we are in course of obtaining estimates from a couple of well known firms for comparison.

The cost of the tests on the System amounts to a total of £168 3s. 1d., of which the British Pitometer Company's Account comes to £107 3s. 3d. the remainder being our own fees and expenses.

The Accounts are attached separately.

With regard to the recommendation the Council decided to go ahead with the suggestions contained in numbers 1 and 2 and approved of numbers 3, 4 and 6.

Mr. Mansfield said that if recommendation number 6 was carried out on the Kiladangan main there would probably be no need for an improvement scheme.

The following propositions, proposed by Mr. Byrne and seconded by Mr. McCarthy, were considered:—

(1) That the Council make an order to have a man for one day a week visit Loughmore to sweep and clean up the streets.

Approved.

(2) That the pump in Tom Moore street, be removed from the lower to the upper end and so relieve poor people who at present have long distances to go for water.

Refer to B.S.

(3) That a gate be erected in the right of way between John Dalton's and Mrs. Noonan's Loughmore to prevent damage to their gardens.

Deferred.

Mr. Mansfield—Messrs. Hearne's did not remedy the defects. Secretary—No. They ignored it. The Committee decided to retain the £5, until the terms of the specification are carried out.

COLLEGIATE SCHOOL, LISMORE.

In our advertising columns to-day will be found particulars of the great success won by the pupils of the Christian Brothers Collegiate School, Lismore, at the recent Leaving Certificate examinations. Out of 12 pupils presented 11 passed 6 with honours. That is a record of which any school may be proud and Lismore schools have thus once again proved that they are in the front rank of the high-class educational institutions in the Free State. This year's Leaving Certificate Examination papers were of a very high and difficult standard and to secure honours was a feat of which any boy might boast. Yet here in Lismore we find 6 boys securing very high honours and 11 out of 12 passing with distinction. Such results show highly efficient teaching by the staff and steady application by the pupils and we heartily congratulate all associated with the Lismore Collegiate School on securing such outstanding results. The school is true to its best teaching traditions of the past and the ancient town by the Blackwater in justly proud of what it has done and is doing for the higher education of its local youth. We tender heartiest congratulations to Rev. Bro. Mullan, the capable Superior and his brilliant staff.

Farmers' Troubles.

AGRICULTURAL POLICY OF GOVERNMENT DEBATED

ABLE SPEECH BY MR. W. J. BRODERICK, T.D.

PRESIDENT'S REPLY

In the Dail last week on the motion for the adjournment of the House a lively debate took place on the position of the Farmers at present and the terrible difficulties which confront them.

Mr. W. J. Broderick said a good deal of the time of the session had been wasted dealing with non-essentials, and there had been a good deal of unnecessary irritation, whilst the real interests of the country had been to a great extent ignored.

argument surely the same would apply to ground returns due in this country. And no one will point out to me if I say that the ground rents leaving the cities and towns in this country to British owners are considerably more than the entire annuities. Yet any refusal to pay would be compelled by the courts of this country.

Mr. W. J. Broderick said a good deal of the time of the session had been wasted dealing with non-essentials, and there had been a good deal of unnecessary irritation, whilst the real interests of the country had been to a great extent ignored.

best or wheat growing, and the cattle trade being practically ruined and the people living on these holdings are unable to meet their local or national liabilities. I am not going to deny that some men who were able to meet their liabilities did not in loyalty to the people who were not able to meet them do so. I am not going to deny it. I do not know whether it is a fact, but it has given the Minister an excuse for the ruthless enforcement of the law, regardless of whether or not the people were able to pay.

school had been exposed time after time, and the Deputy knows it. The Opposition were out to get back into power, and they were appealing to the farmers to use the methods that were formerly used against the landlords in this country. They had it specifically stated that that was what they wanted. The annuities had been reduced by half.

Mr. Belfon—That is untrue, and the President knows it is untrue. The Deputy Speaker called on the deputy to withdraw, but he refused, saying "I have stated on several platforms that the opposite is the truth, and I am going to stand by it. I am sorry to say that the President was guilty of an untrue statement, but it is a fact that the farmers are paying the annuities three times over."

Mr. Holohan—You are doing what is worse. The President—The people of the country are not going to believe that. Mr. Holohan—They know it. The President—They know well that this Government put a policy before the people, and that they have acted up to this policy, and when they go before the people again they will go on the same policy.

Mr. Dillon—It took a long time to get that out of you. Mr. de Valera said he himself had stated that with peace and ordered conditions they would be able to cut down the police force by half.

GIRL SHOT THROUGH SHOP WINDOW WATERFORD ACCIDENT

Esther Prendergast (10), Griffin's Lane, Waterford, is detained at Waterford Co. Hospital, suffering from serious injuries received when she was pitched from her bicycle through the plate glass window of the general provision store of Messrs. O'Brien, Michael St., Wexford.

After she had successfully negotiated the steep hill in Patrick st., she shot across Michael street at high speed and was pitched over the handle bars of the machine through the window. She was picked up bleeding from numerous gashes on the head and face.

NEGRO LYNCHED IN U.S.A.

A negro accused of killing a farmer with an axe was hanged by an infuriated mob in Louisiana after he had been seized from the sheriff.

4,000 SILVER PENNIES

An earthenware jar containing about 4,000 King Edward III, silver pennies was unearthed by a workman at Boyton Manor, near Warmistler, Wilts. The find has been reported to the Wilts. Coroner, who is to hold an inquest to determine whether the coins are treasure trove.

DISEASES OF ANIMALS COMMITTEE.

At the meeting of the above, Mr. Thomas Flynn, chairman, presided. There were also present—Messrs. P. R. Power and P. B. Sheridan, Messrs. T. R. Mulcahy, V.S., and C. P. Hynes, V.S., were also in attendance.

The clerk said the number of cattle slaughtered in the past quarter under the Bovine Tuberculosis Act was very much increased. The amount of compensation was £136 15s. It used to be only £40 or £50 for the quarter.

NEW TANK

In connection with a new Dipping Tank erected at Poulavinogue and which was approved of by the Department provided the whole cost did not exceed £15, Mr. Mulcahy, V.S., said he got the site from Mr. Phelan, Clonmel, for £5, and he had it built for £10. There would be no pollution of any water supply at the place.

KNOCKANASK DIPPING

In connection with the dipping of sheep at Mr. Mulcahy's tank at Knockanask, it was stated that Mr. Mulcahy dipped the neighbour's sheep at his tank, his own being dipped free in return. Owing to his own sheep having fallen from 140 to 40 he asked for payment in future for sheep dipped at his tank.

NOT LIABLE

Mr. P. Flynn, Stradbally, wrote to Mr. Hynes, V.S., asking who would pay for the loss of his sheep which perished after returning home from being dipped recently.

Mr. Hynes, replied that the Co. Council had made a rule that they or their officials were not liable for any losses incurred through dipping operations and notice of same was posted on the tanks.

WATERFORD CO. COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE.

ELECTION OF CHAIRMAN

Mr. Thomas Flynn (outgoing Chairman) presided at the monthly meeting of the above. Also present—Messrs. S. J. Moynihan, Commissioner; P. B. Sheridan and P. R. Power.

INSPECTORS

The appointment of Mr. John Kennedy, Stonehouse, Kilmarden and Mr. P. Dwan, Kilminton, Dungarvan, as inspectors under the Cattle Licencing regulations for the Co. Waterford, was confirmed, it being stated by the Chairman that they were both very capable men.

AGRICULTURE INSTRUCTOR

In connection with the vacant position of Agriculture Instructor for the Co. Waterford, it was stated by the Secretary that the Appointment would be made by the Appointments' Commissioners, but that the post was not yet advertised.

SHEEP BREEDING

The Department wrote approving of the Sheep Breeding Scheme for Border Leicester.

Chairman—I am not satisfied about that scheme. I don't think it is worth the money. I don't see any of the progeny of the Border Leicester rams at all.

Mr. Sheridan—They are not to be seen around here.

Secretary—Mr. Dahill, Tallow, Dromana Estate, and Mr. T. Connors, Faha, have Border Leicester rams.

Chairman—The idea for giving premiums to Border Leicester was with a view to keeping the progeny in the County and I don't see them.

Secretary—They are not around here.

Chairman—They are not keeping them for the purpose intended.

Secretary—Mr. Dahill keeps them for breeding purposes and sells them for the same purpose. The idea at the start was to have a local sale of rams, but we had not that. Even in Cork that failed.

The scheme was approved. A premium for a black-faced ram was granted to Mr. Wall, Knockanaffin, Ballymacarbray.

Some routine business having been transacted the meeting adjourned.

Millstreet (Modeligo) Novice Sports UNDER N.A. & C.A. RULES

KEEN COMPETITION AND CLOSE FINISHES

Committee—Messrs. P. Power, W. Cahill, T. Fitzgerald, M. O'Donnell, J. Lyons, T. Lynch, M. Foley, P. Walsh, Jas. Walsh, E. Walsh, J. Ducey, J. Power, P. Ducey, G. Nugent, J. Looby, D. O'Brien, J. O'Brien, P. Scanlan and W. Kearney.

The Annual Athletic and Cycling Sports under N.A. and C.A. Rules, which had to be postponed owing to the inclemency of the weather on Sunday week, were held on last Sunday under glorious weather conditions in a splendid field south of the village of Millstreet, and were attended by a fairly large gathering of spectators, despite the great counter-attractions in Thurles on that day.

The members of the Committee are practically all prominent members of the Modeligo Football Club, and are all thorough sportsmen, so that under their capable and experienced management all the arrangements were carried out in a highly successful manner, and the interesting programme was run off with the greatest smoothness and despatch, for which much credit is due to Messrs. T. Nugent and P. Nagle, the efficient and hard-working Hon. Secs.

Large entries had been received for the various events, competitors being present in plenty from all parts of the Co. Waterford and many districts in Tipperary, so that competition was very keen in most cases, and some grand and exciting finishes were witnessed during the afternoon.

This fact was mainly due to the well-judged handicapping of Mr. W. J. Nolan, Dungarvan, who acted as Handicapper and Starter, and performed his arduous duties with his usual success and impartiality.

The Very Rev. M. Carroll, P.P., Modeligo, was present during the sports and was greatly interested in the programme from start to finish.

The proceedings were opened with a Cycle Road Race from Cappagh Garda Barrack to Millstreet, and attracted 11 starters and after a grand race the event was won by J. Daly, Waterford, by two lengths from G. O'Brien, Lismore, who was heavily handicapped owing to having won the race on the previous Sunday, while J. Hyde, Youghal, was a very close third.

Another very interesting event was the Ladies' Cycle Race for a valuable Cup kindly presented by Mr. W. Kearney, Millstreet, last year, and which should be won twice in succession before it was won outright. Last year it was won by Miss B. Curran, and as this clever young cyclist also finished first in the race on Sunday, the cup was won outright by her amidst great cheering, and she was warmly congratulated by Mr. Kearney, the generous donor of the trophy, as well as by the members of the Committee on her brilliant performance.

It should be stated that all the other prizes were of an unusually attractive and valuable nature and these were presented to the lucky winners at the close by Mr. P. Nagle, Hon. Sec.

A GREAT DOG.

At Shelbourne Park, Dublin, on Monday night, our local sportsman, Mr. Andy Sandford, won his heat in the Irish Dog Derby with his well-known track performer "Ropewalk King" in the very fast time of 30.39 secs. We hope to record the final victory of Ropewalk King in the Derby for his owner is a great sport and deserves any honour that comes his way.

DISTINGUISHED VISITOR.

During the week Most Rev. Dr. Carroll, Bishop of Lismore, Australia, visited Dungarvan and stayed at the Devonshire Arms Hotel.

MILITARY TRIBUNAL—LOCAL MEN SENTENCED.

The young men recently arrested in this area under the Constitution Amendment Act were brought before the Military Tribunal on Tuesday.

John Tobin, Killineen, Dungarvan, was charged with the illegal possession of three rounds of ammunition and was sentenced to three months imprisonment. Wm. O'Donoghue, Crowhill, Cappoquin, was charged with refusing to give an account of his movements and was sentenced to three months imprisonment also.

In the case of Joseph McCarthy, Kilmurray Cross, Dungarvan, who was charged with being in illegal possession of one round of ammunition and pleaded guilty, sentence was deferred and the Tribunal ordered his release. The other young men arrested at the same time—John Tobin, Cross Strand street, Dungarvan; Jas. Carlton, Fair Lane, do., and John Egan, Mitchel street, do., were liberated on Monday and returned home.

CAPT. QUISH GETS A YEAR.

On Wednesday the Military Tribunal sentenced Capt. D. Quish, Galbally, Co. Tipperary, General Secretary of the League of Youth to 12 months imprisonment on the charge of being a member of an unlawful association which promoted the obstruction of the enforcement of the law and encouraged the non-payment of land annuities. It was stated that Capt. Quish had attended sales at Belfast of cattle seized in the Free State in respect of the non-payment of annuities and had there adopted the attitude of dissuading intending purchasers from buying.

Capt. Quish denied he had dissuaded anyone from buying the cattle. He said he had gone to Belfast and other places on the instructions of the Director-General of the League of Youth to report on the prices and conditions under which seized cattle were sold.

ABBEYSIDE PATTERN.

We understand that a very big day in connection with the Abbeyside Pattern will be held towards the end of the month of which full particulars will be given later.

The Home Club won by a comfortable margin, the ladies section doing more than their share to secure honours. On Sunday last 28th ult., the local Club were at home for a return match with Tra more. It was a very pleasant afternoon in ideal weather conditions. The Home team with Mr. J. O'Dwyer as Captain, won by 11 to 6. Mr. O'Dwyer in appropriate phraseology tendered a hearty welcome to the visitors to which Mr. J. H. Lodge, Capt. Tra more team replied.

The July monthly medal for the best net score returned on 25th ult., was won by Mr. M. Egan, whose score was 67 playing on a 24 handicap.

DEATH OF MR. FRANK BOYLE, DUNGARVAN.

Deep regret is felt at the death of Mr. Frank Boyle, which occurred at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, on Monday. The deceased was a member of a well known local family and was eldest son of the late Mr. John F. Boyle. He was prominently associated with the commercial life of the South for any years and was a young man who was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him and who regret his early death. His funeral to the Parish Cemetery was largely attended. To the members of his family deep sympathy is extended.—R.I.P.

OTHER PEOPLE'S MONEY.

The late Mrs. Mary J. O'Keefe, Rossville, Tallow, left £2,000.

IRISH LABOUR PARTY.

A public meeting for the purpose of forming a branch of the Irish Labour Party in Dungarvan was held in the Town Hall, on Wednesday night at which there was a good attendance. Mr. P. Lynch, occupied the chair and introduced the principal speaker, Mr. Dan Foley, N.T., who explained in detail the policy and objects of the Irish Labour Party's programme. At the conclusion of the proceedings a temporary committee was appointed. A further meeting will be held next week.

GRAND CARNIVAL.

On Thursday of last week a parade of decorated donkey carts took place from Abbeyside to the Carnival Grounds. First prize was won by P. Hackett, and A. Power, representing American Tourists; 2nd prize P. Crotty and Gough, representing "Free Meat"; 3rd prize, Miss Dunne, representing "Irish Washerwoman"; 4th prize, Mr. A. Shea, representing "The Gold Rush to Wicklow."

On Friday night the proceedings opened with a sack race from the Square to the Grounds, this was won by P. Lewis. On Saturday and Sunday nights the gay festivities went on with unabated vigour. On Sunday night the draw for a Suite of Furniture, value £15 for which tickets at three pence each were on sale, took place, the valuable prize being won by Miss Deveraux, 22 O'Connell street. This week the Carnival is being run in aid of the funds of the Jubilee Nursing Association and the Abbeyside Parish Church. The obstacle race on Monday night from the Cinema to the Grounds caused much merriment. The competitors had to take off their boots at the Cinema and all the boots were then placed in a sack which was taken to the Square and after the boots had been mixed and tied together, etc., the sack was securely tied and left for the competitors to open, find their boots, lace them and continue the race to the grounds. The race was won by P. Flynn, Garvan's Terrace, E. Power, Glemore A.C., being second. On Tuesday night a grand parade of the local and visiting Boy Scout Troops, and Girl Guides, headed by the Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band took place from Abbeyside to the grounds. There was a big attendance at the Carnival grounds each night and the best of sport was enjoyed by all patrons.

HANDBALL CHALLENGE.

Before a big crowd at the new Ball Alley, Stradbally, on Sunday evening last, a challenge rubber of the best two out of three games was played off between the Fahy brothers, Kilmachthomas, Dungarvan, and the Hanly brothers, Kilmachthomas. The Kilmachthomas couple won the opening game; the Hanly pair levelled up in the next bout, and went on to another triumph in the decider. The rubber was a thriller through and through and the contestants were repeatedly cheered for their sparkling displays.

CATTLE LICENCES.

At a special meeting of the County Agricultural Committee on Tuesday at which Messrs. T. Flynn (Chairman); S. J. Moynihan, Commissioner, P. R. Power, and P. B. Sheridan, attended, the Secretary (Mr. O'Dwyer) announced that the number of cattle licences received for the County Waterford for August were 233 for fat cattle and 42 licences for bulls and dry cows. For July the number was 132 fat licences and 35 for bulls and dry cows. The Committee were engaged for several hours in allocating licences for which there were a big number of applications.

OUR WATER SUPPLY.

The recent tests on the urban water supply and the report of the Engineers on the subject published in this issue is very reassuring reading showing that there is absolutely no danger of a water shortage if only ordinary care and supervision are taken. The tests showed that there is a plentiful supply always available and that there was a very big waste caused by leaking and faulty taps. In one instance it was discovered that a 1/2-inch pipe supplying a cattle trough was running at all times. Now that wastage alone would give a water supply to a big urban area. The use of meters for large water users is recommended and should be a great saving also.

But satisfactory, on the whole, as our water supply is, careful attention should be paid to Glendine and every effort should be made to stop all leakage and waste so that the maximum amount may be available for the citizens. Now that the town is expanding on all sides nothing should be left undone to ensure that a water supply to meet any demand made upon it should be available and with the Glendine and Bohadon supplies kept up to the mark, the lowly can face the future with composure. Thanks to the tide which sweeps our sewers twice a day and a plentiful supply of good water we have the healthiest town north of the Equator and by regular attention and careful supervision of our water works we can maintain that happy state. Our City Fathers now know exactly how they stand in the matter and in their hands the town is safe in that respect.

DEATH OF MR. ED. FLYNN, BOHADON.

The death of Mr. Ed. Flynn, Bohadon, which took place in the Dungarvan Hospital last week after a brief illness, fortified by the rites of the church is deeply regretted by all who knew him. He was a good upright, honest, hardworking man, held in the highest esteem by all who knew him and to his children deep sympathy is extended in their bereavement.—R.I.P.

On Friday evening the remains were removed to the Parish Church, Kigobinel, where the interment took place in the presence of his family, relatives and a large gathering of the public. The last prayers at the grave-site were recited by Very Rev. P. Sheehy, P.P.

WEDDING.

The wedding took place on Sunday last 28th July, at St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., officiating, of John J. Savage, son of Mr. and Mrs. Savage, Builders and Contractors, Warrenpoint, Co. Down, to Birdie B. O'Sullivan, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. O'Sullivan, Mitchel street, Dungarvan.

CORK: TIPP: WATERFORD: SUNDAY NEXT IN DUNGARVAN.

At the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan on to-morrow (Sunday) Cork and Tipperary meet in Junior Football Final of the Munster Championships and Cork and Waterford in the Junior Hurling semi-final. These should be highly scientific and closely contested games as all the teams have been in hard training for the fray. The Gaelic field Dungarvan, has no equal in Munster as a centre for a first-class display in football or hurling. The arrangements are more perfect than any where else and the accommodation and comfort of patrons are catered for in a thorough manner. The stands, sideline and banking at Dungarvan are the best to be found, while the picturesque and ideal location of the field on the brink of the ocean cannot be beaten. Mr. Fraher has spared no effort in having the pitch as perfect as it would be and there is no doubt but that Sunday's display will be a treat which no one should miss.

CEILIDHE MHOR.

On Sunday night a Ceilidhe Mhor under the auspices of the Dungarvan H. and F. Club will be held in the Town Hall from 9.30 p.m. to 2.30 a.m. It will be a great night of Irish music and a special Ceilidhe band of noted musicians. The Hall is being specially decorated for the occasion by the local Camogie Club. Contingents of Gaels from Lismore, Tallow, Clashmore, Ring, etc., have promised to attend, while the visiting Cork, Tipperary and Waterford teams have been specially invited. It will certainly be a great night's enjoyment.

AN EXILE RETURNS.

During the past week we had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Nicholas Barron, Counsellor at Law, San Francisco, California, who is home on a visit to his native land. Mr. Barron, who is a young man of splendid physique, is son of Mr. and Mrs. Barron, formerly Poultry and egg merchants, Dungarvan, and nephew of Most Rev. Dr. Sheehan, Coadjutor Archbishop of Sydney. He has had a brilliant legal career in San Francisco and a promising future is in store for him in his profession.

KILMATHOMAS NEWS.

PRETTY WEDDING

Newtown Parish Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday morning of last week, the contracting parties being Miss Mary ("May") Joy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Joy, The Square, Kilmacthomas, and Mr. William West, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur West (coal merchant, haulage contractor and licensed vintner), North Warrborough, Adham, Hants. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. Hally, C.C., Kilmacthomas, with Nuptial Mass. The bride, who looked charming in a robe of "Jubilee" blue, with hat to match, and carrying a bouquet of assorted flowers, was given away by her father. The bridesmaids, who wore frocks of blue and white, were the Misses Mary and Bridie O'Connell, Ballingarron, Bonmahon (first cousins of the bride), and Mr. John Joy, junr. (brother of the bride) acted as best man. After the happy ceremony, the bridal party repaired to the bride's home, where a wedding breakfast was served to upwards of fifty relatives and friends of the newly-united couple. Many congratulatory messages were received, and the guests were charmed with the numerous costly and serviceable wedding presents which were on view. After spending a most enjoyable few hours with their company, Mr. and Mrs. West left on their honeymoon. We join with their countless friends at both sides of the Channel in wishing Mr. and Mrs. West length of years in the fullest enjoyment of conjugal bliss.

BALLYLANEEN PATTERN

Friday of last week the Festival of St. Anne, Patroness of Ballylaneen, Holy Mass was celebrated in St. Anne's Church there on that morning by Rev. T. O'Shea, C.C., Ballylaneen, assisted by a very large congregation, the majority of whom approached the altar rails. During the Mass the local choir in charge of Mrs. T. McCarthy, who presided at the harmonium, prayerfully rendered a series of appropriate hymns, and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given following the recital of the prayers after Mass. Many of the parishioners visited the church and adjacent Holy Well throughout the day.

HOLIDAYING

The Rev. Michael Flynn, C.C., of the English Mission, is at present on a holiday visit to his old home at Kiltreague, Kilmacthomas. His Reverence is in excellent health and spirits, and the music of the clash of the ash is as sweet to him to-day as it was before his ordination. Friend Fr. Michael was one of the many sterling songsters in attendance at the enactment of the Thurlies, programme of last Sunday.

STARS

The average Mid-Waterford layman would not care to challenge the eminent astronomer who asserts that there are well over a hundred thousand million stars (no reference to Hollywood "lights"), and that the largest telescope surveys a mere 1,500,000,000, but when he goes to declare that persons with the very best eyesight can see only about three thousand stars one is inclined to be doubtful. Have you ever, for instance, crashed into a lamp post on a foggy night, or as a boxer received what is flippantly described as a "knock-out"? How many stars did you then count? Which, by the way, reminds your simple scribbler that on one occasion—away back about the heel of 1912—I was close behind a corpulent Cappoquin citizen who, while walking along reading a newspaper, came a nasty cropper against the "Old Corner Stone." He fell heavily and evidence of the jolt he received was provided when he replied dreamily to me as I knelt by his side inquiring if he were knelt hurt: "Just a minute, fear bocht. Let me hear what music they are playing!"

HOUSE-WORK

One of the biggest business men in Clonmel whom we know is a "grass widower" at the moment. He is toiling away from morning till night while his wife and family are enjoying themselves at Bonmahon. He is getting on admirably at home on his "ownio," but his pet aversion is cleaning up after a meal. He would rather walk all the way to Helvick Head than wash up the dishes. In fact, he told us (on our way home from Thurlies on Sunday) he takes a new cup every morning and evening—he dines in Irish town—and is leaving a pyramid of them to deal with when his good woman returns. "I am well into the china now," he confessed laughingly when we were speaking to him. "All husbands should do a little house-work" is the dictum of a prominent University Professor of Philosophy, who since the end of the summer term has spring-cleaned his house with the help of a charwoman, while his wife and son were on a visit to friends of the family at Portlaw. "I have not only spring-cleaned the house, but I have re-decorated some of the rooms, and when my Mrs. returns she will find the house in perfect order," said the learned Professor to us. We fear the majority of men folk—and women folk, too—would not endorse this industrious and good-natured Professor's attitude. The average hubby's view of "a house in perfect order," and of the most appropriate colours for wall-papers and other decorative details might not always coincide with those of the average wife. We are afraid, in the majority of cases there would be a clash of opinions. That it is better to let the women have their own way in these things is our philosophy. What's your? (Who said "a billy"?)

GALIC GARNERINGS

Full 30,000 faces fringed the faultlessly laid out Thurlies arena of action on Sunday. Four bands "musiced" the occasion. Two hard-fought hurling encounters were eyed. Archbishop Harty set the major mix in motion. Here are the figures of that fierce fray: Limerick—5 seventys, 8 frees, 8 ovars, 3 goals 12 points; Cork—2 seventys, 7 frees, 10 ovars, 2 goals 3 points. The figures of the minor set-to read:—Cork—1 seventy, 4 frees, 15 ovars, 7 goals; Waterford—3 seventys, 8 frees, 10 ovars, 1 goal 3 points. The homely and hospitable people of the Cathedral town wined and dined the multitude right well. It was an unforgettable day. And now all trails turn to Dungarvan for the 2-part Munster Championship card to be enacted there on to-morrow (Sunday). Cork and Waterford in junior hurling, and Cork and Tipperary in junior football. Sparkling struggles for supremacy are assured. It is to be hoped that the second string of the Deise will qualify for the Provincial ultimate. The home-county representatives already encountered fared poorly and our junior camanists are out "last hopes" for a Munster Crown this year.

WE PUT IT TO YOU (SERIOUS AND NOT)

That one of the two things all Touraneena thirsts after is salt hering. That "Be Bright!" is the newly-adopted slogan of the Comeragh Valley chap who has just purchased a series of gay, multi-coloured ties at the Old Borough shop wherein his great-grandfather before him bought a ready-made claw-hammer-coat umpteen moons ago. That, in the opinion of Annetown Anne, George Washington was more like Ananias than the Metal Man of Tramore is. That the always genial and graceful-mannered Garrahanne girls who are partial to the fashion of wearing natural flowers in the hair at parties, have a passion for gardenias and white camellias, which they pin behind their shapely ears, Carmen fashion.

That the most attractive and intelligent young bean-a-tighe in Bohadon wore a cool-looking white muslin dress, with sleeves tight at the wrist and enormously full at the shoulder, while helping her husband at the hay-making. That Kilbrien's own knock-out beauty, with wee features, dark eyes and a cloud of cuckoo-coloured hair is now sporting laced scarlet sandals with amusing square heels for sun-bathing on Clonca strand. That if all the cottagers hope to obtain the benefits of the promised Purchase Act, they must make a supreme effort to have all arrears wiped out before the Cottiers' Purchase Bill passes through the Dail and Senate. That the default in payment of their rent by the tenants of the recently-built labourers cottages is calculated to militate against further building schemes, so that tenants who fail to pay their rents regularly are doing an injustice not only to the ratepayers, but to applicants for new cottages. That horse flies are the bane of all farmfolk latterly. That the Plain People are embarrassed at the great difference existing in prices of various articles of food which we consider the mainstays of life. That flour appears to be subjected to variations of price almost unknown and to figures which to the ordinary bean-a-tighe looks high, judging what the same article costs in Northern Erin.

That the wheat market which to all intents and purposes is controlled in Chicago, is, as the annum advances tending to drop, and the "spot" quotation seems to tend likewise. That its produce in An Saorstad does not seem to respond to the falling market. That the alleged reason is the stimulus being given to home-grown grain. That however wise and good this policy may be, it is a very costly one on the poor with large families, who are the greatest consumers. That the amount of flour-milled in the 26 counties, roughly, supplies our needs. That butter, which is generally consumed with bread, comes next as regards demand and also price. That the price of this commodity is about five times the price of the milk per gallon that produces it. That it is of little advantage to the producer when the consumer is charged this stupendous sum, so it is again the consumer that is hit. That those who are eking out an existence in dairy farms must stifle themselves of many of these necessities of life in order to "keep their heads above water." That the plain man in the street does not realise the position the ordinary agriculturist is placed in owing to the increased cost of living which inclines every day to go higher here in the Free State, while there is a falling market abroad. That all customers hope that everyone has seen the limit of these increases reached and that he day is not far distant when our consumptive capacity will be satisfied by our own production, without the extra expense we are now subjected to. That the contemplated slaughter of all milch cattle suffering from tuberculosis ought to be widely welcomed, for the drinking of milk from such

CAPPOQUIN DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.) Owing to the absence of Mr. P. O'Keefe, Court Registrar, who is on holidays, Sergt. O'Neill, Dungarvan, performed the duties of Clerk of the Court in a most courteous and efficient manner.

Cruelty To A Donkey
Guard Torney, Cappoquin, summoned a man named Henry Sexton, of no fixed abode, for cruelty to a donkey by working the animal while suffering from sores. Defendant did not appear, and the Justice said it did not seem to be any good imposing a fine on a man like this who had no fixed place of abode. Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, said that the fact of having a fine hanging over him might be the means of keeping him out of this district, and saving the Guards from further trouble. The Justice agreed with this view and imposed a fine of 2/6.

Unlicensed Motors
Guard Torney, Cappoquin, summoned J. F. Broderick, Dublin, for failing to produce a licence for his motor car, and a fine of 5/- was imposed. The same complainant summoned Edmond Morrissey for driving a motor car for which the licence had expired, and he was fined 2/6.

Guard O'Mahony, Cappoquin, summoned George Bradley, Proprietor of a Touring Cinema for using a motor cycle on June 22nd., the licence and insurance policy of which had expired on June 6th. Defendant appeared, and said he had come a long distance in order to be present in Court. He stated that he had since taken out the licence and insurance policy, which he now produced, and he was let off with a nominal fine of 1/- which he promptly paid.

The same complainant summoned H. P. Flood, Dublin, for using a motor lorry without a licence. The Justice said in this case the service of the summons was bad, because it had been served on his landlady, who was not an authorised agent for the purpose, and he should dismiss the case.

Application For Dance Licence.
Mr. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, applied for a Dance Licence for the Cappoquin Rowing Club for the purpose of holding a Cinderella Dance on Sunday night, August 4th from 9 o'clock p.m. until 3 a.m.

Mr. O'Gorman said the Boathouse Hall had been already licensed for dancing purposes, but the licence expired in June and could not be renewed until the September Court, so that a special licence was necessary for the dance of August 4th.

Supt. Quinlan said he knew the premises well, which were very suitable, and he had no objection to offer. The licence was accordingly granted.

Licence for Dramatic Entertainment
Mr. O'Gorman made a further application for a licence for the Boathouse Hall for a Dramatic Entertainment to be held there by Mr. Dobell's Co., starting on August 10th.

The Justice said he did not think a licence was necessary for any form of entertainment except a dance. Mr. O'Gorman said that under the Board of Health Regulations a licence must be got for dramatic entertainments as well. The necessary licence was then granted.

GUINNESS DIVIDEND INCREASE 20 PER CENT. FOR THE YEAR
The directors of Arthur Guinness Son and Co., Ltd., recommend a final dividend on the Ordinary Stock for the year ended June 30 last of £12 p.c., and a bonus of 25 p.c. (together 3 1/4 %), per £1 unit of Stock) less income tax, making, with the interim, a total distribution for the year of £29 p.c., as against £27 p.c. for the preceding 12 months.

A sum of £200,000 has been placed to reserve (against nil), and £38,512 (against £35,000) to depreciation before computing profits. The amount carried forward is £246,308, as compared with £811,724 brought in.

cows has been a grave menace, to youngsters particularly, so that for public health reasons alone the measure is long overdue.

That the owners of tubercular cattle will be compensated in due course. That under a former measure farmers who suspected any of their cattle of being tubercular were bound to report the matter to the Veterinary Surgeon, who, if satisfied that the animal was so affected, had it slaughtered, and the owner received the amount of compensation allowed under the Act. That the average farmers found it extremely difficult to detect traces of tuberculosis in its earlier stages, with the result that serious harm was wrought before the disease was detected.

That the manifest danger will be adequately dealt with under the Amending Bill. That in view of the fact that it will take at least eighteen months to dispose of the old and uneconomic cows, and that the operations of the Cattle Diseases (Amendment) Bill cannot commence before then, the benefits of the amending measure are not likely to accrue until a couple of years hence.

That the old forge and the pump and mill are still amongst the most interesting places in the villages of the Barony of Doffin within and without Drum.

No. 239.— INJURIES TO THE FEET

BEWARE OF TARRED ROADS

By "PHILOQUON."

THE other day our dog came home with its feet thickly clogged with tar. He had been out for a walk with a friend who did not realise the mischief that might be caused by contact with this objectionable liquid that is now being applied to many roads. Butter being the only grease that was immediately available, we applied this liberally to his feet, thus softening the tar and enabling us to wipe it away with a cloth. The dog was obviously in considerable discomfort by the way in which he tried to lick himself and get rid of the sticky substances that adhered so tenaciously.

Grease is the only thing that will remove it efficaciously. People do not realise that this may be the means of setting up those interdigital cysts that are so painful and that have an unpleasant habit of recurring when they have once started. Many dogs suffer severely from this complaint, which at one time was attributed to a condition of the blood. A cyst, however, is a local swelling, and the most recent veterinary research has led to the conclusion that these swellings are caused by septic infection taking place through a small wound or by the stoppage of the sweat glands. When they appear the usual treatment is to poultice or foment the affected foot and then when the swelling is ripe, to open it with a sharp knife or large needle and squeeze out the contents. It then has to be washed in disinfectant and bandaged. This is a good deal of trouble and is necessarily painful to the animal.

There is a homeopathic remedy known as Graphites that is sold by the Tail-Waggers' Club, which seems to act as a preventive if given immediately there are indications of a slight swelling. An accompanying ointment called Dianimol is also useful for rubbing on the places or, if the places are too painful to touch, a powder to sprinkle on the feet. Anyone who has watched a judge at work at a dog show will have noticed that in all probability he examines the feet carefully, and in the standards of many breeds there is the provision that the pads should be thick and the toes close together. There is good reason for thick pads being regarded as a virtue in dogs, for time after time I have noticed that those with thin pads and open feet are more susceptible to injuries and are the first to go lame.

Sporting dogs particularly are liable to foot trouble. Greyhounds, for instance, frequently get a toe knocked up, as it is called, which causes the dog to become so lame that he cannot course or race for some days. This is a matter for surgical treatment. Soreness of the feet is common in gundogs, especially when they first go out to work, and for this reason it is important that they should be subjected to a source of exercise on hard ground before the shooting season begins. Iodine is excellent for dressing swollen toes or sore pads. Where the pads are simply bruised, nothing but rest for a day or two is necessary, but relief can be effected by the application of compresses of sugar of lead water. If the skin is abraded, paint with tincture of benzoin and then bandage with sugar of lead water.

If the nails get broken they should be made smooth with a file, and an eye should be kept on the dew claws, the nails of which sometimes grow so long that they penetrate the flesh. These supernumerary toes are useless to most dogs, and it is always safest to cut them off when the puppies are a few days old.

This chat is issued by THE TAIL-WAGGERS' CLUB OF IRELAND, 23, Old Abbey Street (off Marlborough Street), Dublin, C.S. The Club will be pleased to answer any enquiries submitted by Tail-Wagger Owners in connection with canine hygiene and welfare.

TRAGEDY NEAR CLONMEL
While bathing in the Suir near Clonmel with about 100 other boys, Patrick Fennessey (15), an inmate of St. Joseph's Industrial School, Ferrybank, got into difficulties and was drowned, despite all efforts to save him. At the inquest, at which a verdict of accidental drowning was returned, the jury found that there was no neglect or negligence on the part of the school authorities. Deceased was a native of Clonmel.

Rowing Club Regatta
The Southern Rowing Club, applied for permission to enclose the Mall for their Regatta on 5th August. On the proposition of Mr. Lynch, seconded by Mr. Daly, the application was granted unanimously.

Apology
A letter was read from Wm. Corbett, apologising for his attitude to the Town Superintendent. He was sorry if he wounded that official's feelings. He didn't mean to threaten him.

Housing Rent Arrears
The Collector reported that certain tenants owed from 4 to 9 weeks' rent, and asked for the Council's instructions. The Chairman said that if it were to continue it would leave the Council in a very nasty position and where would it lead to? It was hard to press people who couldn't pay the rent.

Limerick Childrens Excursion
The following letter was read:—Limerick—24/7/35.—Town Clerk Youghal—Dear Sir,—Will you be so kind to convey to the Chairman and members of your Council, the very best thanks of the Committee of the above Excursion for the very kind way in which they placed the Town Hall at our disposal last Sunday. We can find no words to express our appreciation of the hospitable way in which we were treated in your charming town.

Ardmore Pattern
Sunday was a gala day at the pretty seaside village of Ardmore, Co. Waterford, the principal scene of the missionary labours of the holy St. Declan. His actual feast day falls on 24th July, which has been religiously observed by the people of the place and of all the surrounding neighbourhood from time immemorial.

Youghal Bridge
Mr. J. Bowen, B.E., Co. Surveyor, Waterford, wrote stating that they hoped to advertise for contractors at an early date for the repairs of Dolphins at Youghal Bridge.

Town-Strand Bus Service
A letter was received from the Ministry of Industry and Commerce stating that notification had now been sent to Mr. E. Fielding of 26, O'Connell street, Dungarvan, that the Minister was prepared to grant annual passenger licenses for the operation of passenger road service between the Strand, Youghal, and Cork Hill, Youghal and Knockadoon.

Housing Scheme
The L.G. wrote with reference to the Housing Scheme proposed to be undertaken by the Council, stating that tenders should be invited for houses of the 3-roomed and 4-roomed type both in brick and concrete walling. Full working drawings should be furnished in respect of both.

Restaurants
From the widely-known, well-knit Nire neighbourhood, who cares not more or less than three shakes of a god's tail about any man, we have received the subjoined for insertion.

Restaurant Humour
The Chairman—I hope it will come in soon. Sympathy
The Chairman said that an old and valued servant of the Council had just passed away. Mr. John O'Keefe, and he proposed a vote of sympathy with his family.

Mr. Power—Don't be so pessimistic. You will find times and things improving. The Chairman—I hope so. Mr. Forrest—It is not too bad considering the unemployment prevailing.

Mr. O'Sullivan—Give them a warning. It was decided to take no action for the present.

Mr. Power cordially endorsed Mr. Keane's remarks. He was glad to see that the Chairman, Mr. Keane and the Town Clerk had co-operated in making their visit as enjoyable as possible for the poor little ones in the circumstances. Mr. Lynch said the good nuns of the Presentation deserved their warmest thanks for placing their schools at the disposal of the Committee.

Mr. Power agreed. How many amongst themselves were bothered with a scullery, growing up (laughter) The Chairman—Mr. Savage's statement is a very common sense one. The Clerk said the Department had already amended their plan on a suggestion made by Mr. Lynch regarding the front door. They might see their way to agree to Mr. Savage's suggestion also.

Mr. R. F. O'Connor, Co. Surveyor, wrote stating that Mr. Flynn, A.S.C., was proceeding to carry out repairs etc., to windows, etc., at Youghal Courthouse. He wasn't aware that a complete overhaul was required, but he had instructed Mr. Flynn to report on the matter.

The Chairman—It is in a disgraceful condition. I don't know how any Magistrate or Judge sits there, especially in winter time. Mr. Lynch said it was scandalous to allow such a fine Courthouse remain in such a neglected condition so long. Mr. Keane said there was a Bill being introduced to take the Courthouses out of the County Council hands.

Patrick Dooley, Head Water Bailiff, employed by the Lismore Estate Co., in reply to Mr. Keane, stated that on Monday morning, June 24th he was on duty on the Blackwater accompanied by two other bailiffs, John Hickey and Patrick McCarthy.

When they had got as far as Dromore in their boat they met two of the Conservators' bailiffs, named Hurlin and Casey, coming against them in another boat, and while witness was speaking to them he heard voices near the bank of the river at the Dromore side, and the Conservators' men then pulled down the river while witness pulled towards the spot where he had heard the voices. As he approached, he saw two fishing coils with two men in each, but one of the coils got away and he was unable to identify the men in it.

Witness added that O'Connell at first refused to give his full name, but Cotter gave his name when asked for it.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Gorman—Witness said he was 27 years a water bailiff on the Blackwater, but he did not know O'Connell before that morning, and that was why he asked him for his name. Cotter was a young fellow, and he understood that O'Connell was his uncle. After hearing the voices, witness first saw the shadow of the cot from a distance of about 85 yards.

When he charged O'Connell with a breach of the Fishery Laws the latter asked him what was he doing out of the way, and also asked witness what time it was.

In reply to further questions by Mr. O'Gorman, witness said he knew that Strancally was part of O'Connell's fishing grounds, and this would be about 2 miles up the river from Cooneen, where defendant lived, so that defendant would be on his way towards Strancally when witness caught him.

Re-examined by Mr. Keane—The cot which got away was about 12 yards away from O'Connell's cot when he first saw them.

John Hickey, Cappoquin, one of the bailiffs who accompanied Dooley on the occasion, said when they first heard the voices near Dromore the Conservators' men pulled down the river and Dooley's boat pulled towards the bank, and he then saw the two men jump ashore out of their cot and one of them brought a net with him out of the cot.

In reply to Mr. O'Gorman, witness said it would take O'Connell and Cotter 20 minutes to get up to Strancally from the place where they found them.

Thomas Hurlin, Conservators' bailiff, generally corroborated the previous evidence, and in reply to Mr. O'Gorman he said he heard young Cotter ask Dooley what were they doing out of the way, and he also heard O'Connell asking him what time was it.

Mr. O'Gorman—Was the net tied up or loose when you saw it? Witness—It was tied up the same as it would be after fishing, and was not ready for fishing. Witness, in reply to a further question, said he knew that a man named John Whelan was a member of O'Connell's fishing crew.

For the defence, Laurence Cotter, defendant, who stated that he was over 18 years of age, said that the distance from Cooneen, where he and O'Connell lived, to Strancally, where their fishing grounds were, was about 2 miles, and they were on their way up there when Dooley caught them.

Mr. O'Gorman—Will you explain to the Justice why you tried to get away when you saw Dooley?

Fishery Prosecution

INTERESTING CASE

CAPPOQUIN

At Cappoquin District Court before Mr. G. P. Farrell, S.J., a Fishery case of an unusual nature was heard when Mr. Thomas Drohan, Bailiff, Secretary of the Lismore Board of Fishery Conservators, prosecuted Thomas O'Connell and Laurence Cotter, Cooneen, for a breach of the Fishery Laws by having a salmon net in their boat at 3.45 a.m. on Monday morning, June 24th this hour being within the period of the weekly close season.

Mr. John L. Keane, solr., Youghal, appeared for the Fishery Conservators and Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, defended.

Mr. Keane explained that the weekly close season extended from 6 a.m. on Saturday morning until 6 a.m. on Monday morning and the present prosecution was brought under a Fishery Bye Law dated 31st August, 1881, which made it illegal for fishermen on the river Blackwater to have nets in their boats between the hours of 8 a.m. on Saturday morning and 4 a.m. on Monday morning, this being two hours after the start of the close season on Saturday morning and two hours before the opening of the fishing season on Monday morning, the object being to deprive fishermen of facilities for poaching within the weekly close season.

Patrick Dooley, Head Water Bailiff, employed by the Lismore Estate Co., in reply to Mr. Keane, stated that on Monday morning, June 24th he was on duty on the Blackwater accompanied by two other bailiffs, John Hickey and Patrick McCarthy.

When they had got as far as Dromore in their boat they met two of the Conservators' bailiffs, named Hurlin and Casey, coming against them in another boat, and while witness was speaking to them he heard voices near the bank of the river at the Dromore side, and the Conservators' men then pulled down the river while witness pulled towards the spot where he had heard the voices.

As he approached, he saw two fishing coils with two men in each, but one of the coils got away and he was unable to identify the men in it. The other cot pulled in towards the bank and two men jumped out of it and took a net out of the cot with them, but as they were attempting to get away they got stuck in the mud and witness got up to them and found they were the two defendants, Thos. O'Connell and Laurence Cotter.

It was about 3.30 when witness first heard the voices, and it was 3.45 when he caught the two men.

When he challenged them about the net, O'Connell said that the young fellow (Cotter) had got excited and tried to take the net away with him, but they were doing nothing wrong, as they were only going up to call another man who was a member of the fishing crew.

Witness added that O'Connell at first refused to give his full name, but Cotter gave his name when asked for it.

Cross-examined by Mr. O'Gorman—Witness said he was 27 years a water bailiff on the Blackwater, but he did not know O'Connell before that morning, and that was why he asked him for his name. Cotter was a young fellow, and he understood that O'Connell was his uncle. After hearing the voices, witness first saw the shadow of the cot from a distance of about 85 yards.

When he charged O'Connell with a breach of the Fishery Laws the latter asked him what was he doing out of the way, and also asked witness what time it was.

In reply to further questions by Mr. O'Gorman, witness said he knew that Strancally was part of O'Connell's fishing grounds, and this would be about 2 miles up the river from Cooneen, where defendant lived, so that defendant would be on his way towards Strancally when witness caught him.

Re-examined by Mr. Keane—The cot which got away was about 12 yards away from O'Connell's cot when he first saw them.

John Hickey, Cappoquin, one of the bailiffs who accompanied Dooley on the occasion, said when they first heard the voices near Dromore the Conservators' men pulled down the river and Dooley's boat pulled towards the bank, and he then saw the two men jump ashore out of their cot and one of them brought a net with him out of the cot.

In reply to Mr. O'Gorman, witness said it would take O'Connell and Cotter 20 minutes to get up to Strancally from the place where they found them.

Witness—Well, sir, I got excited and jumped out of the cot, as I thought Dooley would accuse me of poaching; I had such a bad name amongst the fishermen (laughter).

Cross-examined by Mr. Keane—Witness said that John Whelan was a member of their crew, and he was one of the men who escaped in the other cot.

Thos. O'Connell, defendant, examined by Mr. O'Gorman, said he left his own house at Cooneen about 1.30 o'clock that morning with young Cotter for the purpose of proceeding to Strancally, where they had the right to fish, and they had no intention of fishing before 6 o'clock. When Dooley held them up, he asked Dooley what was he doing out of the way and what time it was, as he was not aware he was committing any offence.

Mr. Keane—How long would it take you to get to Strancally from the spot where Dooley met you at 3.45? Defendant—About twenty minutes. Mr. Keane—So that you would be at Strancally about five minutes past four, and what did you intend to do then, when you knew you could not fish before six o'clock?

Defendant—Well, I would have waited there, sir, until I saw the other men starting to fish. This completed the evidence, and Mr. O'Gorman then addressed the Court, and asked to have the defendants leniently dealt with, as only a technical offence had been committed at the worst.

Mr. Keane briefly replied, and pointed out that there was a statutory fine of not less than £5 for this class of offence, as well as the forfeiture of the net.

The Justice said that he was much impressed by the evidence of young Cotter, as it was a very pleasant and refreshing thing to hear the truth being told, as he had told it, and he thought that the case against him should be withdrawn.

Mr. Keane said he would be glad if this were done, and Mr. T. Drohan then agreed to withdraw the case against Cotter.

The Justice said in the case against O'Connell, he should convict, and as he was bound to inflict the statutory penalty of £5, he should now impose this fine, but he expected this sum would be considerably reduced if a petition were presented to the proper authorities. He also allowed £1 costs against the defendant and ordered the forfeiture of the net, but he would like to add that he believed Dooley was a truthful witness, but he appeared to be too anxious and elaborate in going into details in the course of his evidence.

As the result of an appeal by Mr. O'Gorman to Mr. Drohan, the latter kindly consented to sell the net back to O'Connell for the nominal sum of 2/6, and Mr. O'Gorman suitably thanked Mr. Drohan for his kindness, and also for the lenient and impartial manner in which he had presented the case in Court.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

CHARGE OF MANSLAUGHTER

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.

A number of civil bills were adjourned on the application of Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara and several other cases were also adjourned on the application of Supt. Kelly. John C. Crotty, 6 Ardfoyle Place, Ballintemple, Cork, was brought up on remand, charged with the manslaughter of Kate Hamilton at Ballycotton, on the 8th inst as result of a motor collision.

Superintendent Kelly, prosecuted. Sergt. Kennedy, Ballycotton, deposed that he had arrested the accused on the above charge at Cork on the 20th inst. Having been given the usual caution, accused said—"I have nothing to say at the moment." Having given evidence of his remand to that Court by the District Justice at Cork, witness stated that he was still pursuing inquiries and asked to have accused remanded to Middleton Court on 15th August, when he expected to be in a position to connect him with the charge.

Accused asked no question. He was then remanded on his own bail of £100.

WEATHER VANES—

With the holiday season in full swing, all eyes are focussed on those wily servants of the wind—the cock, the fish, and the arrow—as they oscillate gently between the compass points of the weather-vane. Perched on their lofty pinnacles above city, town and village, they faithfully record the vagaries of the wind that herald the arrival of fair weather or foul. Why have the cock and the fish been specially selected as weather indicators? Would any other bird, animal or reptile not do equally well?

The answer is yes, and no. The reason is that, in common with the feathered arrow, they have good sizeable tails to catch the wind, and small heads to point the direction. There are other creatures with similar virtues, but they are less commonly known to the public. A pheasant, for example, has a magnificent tail, but it is not everyone who would recognise a pheasant from his own experience. On the other hand, everybody knows what a rooster looks like, and as it is, in addition, the emblem of vigilance, it has a very special claim to distinction as a weather-vane. A solid copper weather-vane, weighing 30 lbs. costs about £10. Once erected in position, it rarely requires attention. For the wind pressure is always sufficient to turn it. This is a fortunate circumstance, for if the weather-vane had a tendency to stick, it is doubtful if the owners would go to the expense of engaging a steeple-jack at intervals to tug it up the spire with an oil-can. The vane is loosely pivoted about one third of the way along on the perpendicular rod, and the longer and extended section takes the thrust of the wind. In the city it is customary to find the arrow adopted as a weather-vane.

The cock appears more frequently on the steeples of churches in the town and in the village. The fish is generally to be observed at seaside places, where it is in harmony with its surroundings. Perhaps some kind reader will be able and willing to inform us where the largest weather-vane on view in the Decies is positioned.

Butter Making in Warm Weather

Not the least of the many advantages of the creamery system is its perfect control of temperatures which enables cream to be churned at any degree of heat or cold required and butter turned out in firm condition instead of as formerly, in a semi-liquid state during weather such as we have now to contend with.

The conditions of transit are now greatly improved, and on the longer voyages steamship companies have provided mechanical refrigeration. The Department have, by regulation, fixed a minimum temperature for exported butter so that unless in exceptional circumstances, such as might happen in the case of delayed week-end journeys, there should be no complaints from British or foreign retailers of the condition in which Saorstát butter reaches them.

There are, however, still large areas which have no creameries and where the many scattered farm butter makers have to wage an unequal fight with heat waves, such as we are passing through at the time of writing. In previous issues, in this column, we have already indicated ways in which the adverse effects of warm weather can be mitigated—for, on the ordinary farm, they cannot be entirely overcome even where there is an abundant supply of spring water, which is a vital essential. In the first place it has to be remembered that no subsequent hardening of the butter will maintain it in firm condition once it has been churned at too high a temperature. Its physical condition will be such that even if it were frozen hard it would break up into a sloppy state when again exposed to ordinary temperatures. Hence the necessity for keeping the temperature of the cream as low as possible, not only for churning, but during the whole period of ripening. To accomplish this it is necessary to have a cool dairy and to keep the cream vessels immersed in cold water.

ELIMINATING OLD TUBERCULOUS COWS. Moving the Second Reading of the Diseases of Animals (Amendment) Bill, which was passed in the Dail, Dr. Ryan, Minister for Agriculture, said the principal Act dealt with four specific diseases—cattle plague, pleuro pneumonia, swine fever and foot-and-mouth disease. The last-named disease was unknown in this country since 1923, and swine fever which had been rather common here was now also unknown. In 1932 there were 42 cases of swine fever, in 1933 there were 37, in 1934, 26, and now none. He did not know what the improvement was due to. Some people said it was due to the stoppage of the imports of foreign bacon. Under the principal Act any other disease of animals must be administered by the local authority. It was now proposed in this new Bill to give the Minister for Agriculture power to deal directly with any disease.

As already indicated in this column the main preparations for efficient butter making have to be made during the winter months, such as improvements in the construction of the dairy with a view to keeping it as cool as possible, providing a supply of good spring water, a gravity supply is set available, but where it can be had it is a great acquisition. For the proper making of farm butter the Department and County Agricultural Committees give valuable advice and assistance, and, if such is availed of, there is no excuse for making a poor quality on any farm possessing reasonable—not necessarily expensive—equipment for the purpose. Not so, however, the marketing in the disposal of the butter the maker must to a great extent depend on himself, or rather herself. For several reasons, which we need not here go into, the export market is practically barred to finished farm butter. Sales, therefore, have to be confined to home towns where delivery can be effected within a few hours. Even there it has to contend with a good deal of prejudice, the result of inefficient makers in the past, the want of uniformity, irregular supply, etc. This is pretty hard on the good maker, and in order to combat it successfully, she must go to great lengths to put the butter up in as attractive a form as possible. Even in a local market it might pay to use cartons printed on two sides with the maker's name and the name of the farm, and on the other two sides with a brief description of the methods of manufacture, e.g., that all stages of same are under the supervision of the maker; that it is from the milk of healthy cows; that strict cleanliness is observed throughout; prizes obtained at shows (if any). Care should be taken to avoid the possibility of any other butter being sold under a similar name—a thing which often happens in the case of goods which have acquired a reputation. To avoid the possibility of infringement a design should be used embodying both the maker's name and residence, such as "Brown's, Ballyhalloo Butter," each of the words being placed within a circle or triangle, or simply "Daly's Dairy, Kiltoran." There need be no registration of a design intended for such limited use. At the same time, when it is for some time in use, it will not be open to anybody to copy it with a view to leading the public to think they are supplied with the same article.

To the dairy farmer who can turn out a few hundred lbs. of butter in the week this putting up in printed cartons is a proposition well worth considering provided he is in a position to "deliver the goods." The carton is a splendid and continual advertisement; it gives him distinction; raises him out of the rut, and makes him realise that he has a reputation which he must guard with eternal energy and vigilance. The consumer in the country town will appreciate butter put up in such a neat, tidy form, and appearances count a good deal. As a container in hot weather the carton is excellent. Of course, the butter should be wrapped in good parchment (printed or unprinted) inside the carton.

The dairy farmer or his wife should not, however, make such a departure until he is first satisfied that he can produce the right quality butter and keep up a regular supply of it and not until he has ascertained that he will have customers—either retailers or "private"—who will take all or most of his make. Except in large quantities, which only a factory could purchase, printed cartons can only hardly be bought for less than 20s. per 1,000, or, say, a farthing for each 1-lb. roll. But, then, they should sell for a penny per lb. extra, and, once the maker gets a reputation for his brand he has an assured market—a market of great importance. In that event his difficulty would be to supply the increasing quantities which the public would demand. "Farmers Gazette."

WATERING DAIRY COWS

Some dairymen claim that limiting the amount of water allowed to a cow raises the body temperature and modifies the composition of the milk, the percentage of fat especially being increased. In order to test this assertion, experiments on the effect of watering cows at different intervals with varying quantities of water have been undertaken by American research workers. In one experiment carried out, four animals were divided into three periods of watering, separated by periods in which the ration was normal.

In the first period the animals were watered every 24 hours, in the second every 60 hours, and in the third with half the normal ration of water. When the cows were watered once in 24 hours, instead of two or three times, there was a slight decrease in the total amount of food taken and in the quantity of milk produced, but this second decrease was not proportionate to the first. During the thirty days of this period the animals lost an average of 11 lbs. per head in weight. This loss was much greater during the second and third periods.

When the cows received only half the normal amount of water, there was a marked decrease in the amount of hay consumed, milk produced, and body weight. In all the tests the composition of the milk and butter fat remained absolutely unchanged, a fact which is supported by other experimental evidence obtained elsewhere. It is for this reason that a cow receiving insufficient water goes dry without there being any modification in the composition of her milk.

Frequent watering has little influence on the quantity of milk produced either; but when the normal water ration was reduced by half the milk yield fell off a little at the start, this reduction increasing as the experiment continued until it was about a quarter. There is no doubt that the cows would have gone dry if this ration had been continued. The abnormal physical conditions brought about by withholding water were nervousness, gauntness, and high body temperature.

This experiment proves what most keepers of dairy stock recognise, viz., that a good dairy cow probably requires more water than any other food, distributes it to the different parts of the body, and removes the waste products. I may add that in farm practice the watering problem with cows, as with horses, is best solved by allowing the animals continual access to water. Nature is the safest guide to both the amount and frequency of watering.—T.D. in "Farmers' Gazette."
