DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above held on Friday. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, V.C.; J. Dahill, J. F. Foley, J. Christopher, P. Byrne, P. O'Dwyer, P. Quann.

PAYSHEET

The paysheet for the week amounted to £16 19s. 6d.

Mr. Dahill asked when the contract for caretaking the Park would terminate.

Clerk—Usually the first week in October.

Mr. Dahill asked if anything had been done to the road from the New Line to Skeaherine.

The B.S. said that Mr. Bowen had seven steam-rollers idle and they could be got any day. Mr. Bowen also said it was too early for patch rolling.

Mr. Dahill—Not on our roads. Our roads are not like the Co. Council roads.

CLAIM AGAINST COUNCIL

Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., wrote on behalf of Mr. Richard Dee, Moonang, stating that his client had been injured on the Old Hospital Road by coming in contact with a heap of stones. Mr. Dee, he said, was riding a bicycle and in trying to right the bicycle out of the rut in the road fell against the stones. He would later let the Council know the amount of the claim when the extent of his client's injury was definitely known.

Mr. McCarthy—When did Mr. Dee break his collar bone?

Clerk—I do not know.

Mr. McCarthy—Does the letter state when the accident took place?

Clerk—No.

Mr. McCarthy—That's strange. It is only right that if he is entitled to compensation that he should get it. Should we have depots for the stones?

B.S.—Depots are very scarce all over the county.

Mr. O'Dwyer—Ignore that letter.

Mr. Quann—The Co. Council when putting out stones take up half the road.

Mr. McCarthy—Maybe we should have lights.

B.S.—This should not be discussed. Chairman—We will mark the letter noted.

DANCES

The usual dances applications from local clubs were considered, and the applications granted.

LIGHTING

Mr. Walsh, S.S.O., reported that it would not be advisable to shift any of the present lights to Abbeyside.

The matter was referred for the attendance of the Abbeyside members.

PIG-KEEPING

Mrs. Condon, Square, wrote objecting to the keeping of pigs by a neighbour of hers.

The matter was referred to the M.O.H.

MEAT BYE-LAWS

The meeting had before them bye-laws concerning the sale of meat.

Mr. Christopher raised the question of putting the bye-laws into operation, and on his suggestion the adoption was deferred until the Veterinary Inspector gave them an idea of the cost.

IRISHMEN'S RACE TO ADDIS ABABA

FEAR FOR RAIL LINK

Three Irishmen, the first Irishmen to join the Ethiopian Army Red Cross medical units in Abyssinia, who left London some days ago and are now in a liner near the Suez Canal, are engaged in a great race against time.

They are: Dr. Pierce Patrick Martyn, a native of Flaskagh, County Galway; and two former non-commissioned officers in the Royal Army Medical Corps, Mr. James Hickey and Mr. Marius Brophill, both of Dublin.

They are due to reach Aden to catch special connections arranged by the Ethiopian authorities to enable them to get to Addis Ababa, but daily the probability grows that the sole railway line from Djibouti (French Somaliland) to Addis Ababa will be cut by the Italian forces.

Dr. Martyn studied at University Colleges, Galway and Dublin, and qualified in 1921. He has had considerable experience abroad.

The three men were personally authorised to travel by Mr. Charles H. Collyer, Governor of the Bank of Ethiopia, who visited Dublin acting under special instructions from the Emperor. Contracts with the three men were obtained through newspaper announcements. Actually three doctors are required under this scheme, but only one has volunteered so far.

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE.

AMALGAMATION OF DISPENSARIES

Ald. Jas. O'Donovan, Chairman, presided at the monthly meeting of the above on Wednesday. The other members present were—Commissioner Moynihan, Messrs. Jas. Cosgrave, J. Cassidy, T. Caulfield, T. Synott and T. D. Connolly.

DISPENSARY AMALGAMATION.

A deputation consisting of Messrs. N. Fitzgerald, M. Veale, Jas. Kirwan, P. O'Byrne, and J. Brennan, appeared before the meeting representing the residents of Dunhill, Kill and Bonmahon, who appointed them as a deputation at a largely attended meeting on Sunday October 13th, at which the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—That the people of these districts deeply resent the proposed amalgamation of the Bonmahon and Kilmachomas Dispensary districts, and are determined to resist such amalgamation by the most effective means in their power, because of the hardships it would impose on the poor people who have no means of travelling.

Mr. Nicholas Fitzgerald said the resolution was unanimously adopted at a large and representative meeting held at Bonmahon. There is no communication whatever with Kilmachomas in the night time and no telephonic communication. There is one barrack in the area, but it is not connected by telephone. It was a weak point to say the doctor would not reside in Bonmahon. Dr. Walsh, who was there before the last doctor lived there 13 or 14 years. He then referred to the possibility of the Bonmahon mines re-opening, and said if they did there would be a second doctor required in the district.

Mr. Brennan, secretary to the deputation, said the poor people of the areas had no modern means of travelling to Kilmachomas which was about ten miles distant. The district is also a very scattered one, and some places are practically inaccessible in parts.

Mr. Cosgrave—Something like Abyssinia.

Chairman—I can assure the deputation that this Board will give every consideration to the views put forward by the deputation. It was the farthest thing from our minds to inflict any hardship on the poor. We discussed this matter with a view to effecting a saving. It rests now with the Department, and it may not materialise at all. It was a pity we had not the views of the deputation before us when we had the matter under discussion at the last meeting. This matter may not develop at all, but if it does, we will put your views before the Department. No member of this Board intended to place the slightest hardship on the people of the area and the deputation can rest assured that whatever happens the Board will consider the views of the deputation.

Commissioner Moynihan said he raised the question of telephonic communication, and understood the village was connected.

Mr. Caulfield said he was speaking to Dr. Shelly, and he told him he would maintain a telephone at Bonmahon at his own expense for the convenience of the people.

Mr. Fitzgerald—In what house?

Mr. Caulfield—He is to put it there at his own expense.

Mr. Fitzgerald—That is put up as a joke. That would be in the nature of a public call office. What do the country people know about telephones.

Mr. Caulfield—The people of Bonmahon are not as green as they are cabbage-looking. They would get into it in five minutes.

Mr. Fitzgerald—If I am not mistaken there is no telephone in Dr. Shelly's house at Kilmachomas.

Chairman—We will give the people of Bonmahon every sympathy.

Mr. Cosgrave—I would like to know if the deputation wrote to the L.G.D.

Mr. Fitzgerald—No; we came straight to the Board.

Mr. Cosgrave said he thought it would be wise for the deputation to put their views before the Department. This Board is after taking certain action (he might say now rather unwittingly) and the matter is now with the Department. He thought it would be wise for the deputation to place their views before the Department.

Mr. Fitzgerald said that when (as he had hoped) they would soon be appointing a doctor at Bonmahon again, the Board should compel him to reside in the house. No doctor lived in the house since Dr. Shelly left, and the country people coming in found it very difficult to find where the doctor lived.

The deputation then withdrew.

Chairman—We should pass a resolution that in deference to the wishes of the deputation we think that the amalgamation of the two districts is not desirable.

Mr. Caulfield—I still hold that same opinion as the last day. He understood that the present district were defined years ago when there were only horses as a mode of travelling. Now there is the telegraph, telephone and motor. We should not jump back of what was done the last day because Mr. Fitzgerald and others have an axe to grind. We all know that Dr. Shelly is capable of doing the two districts, as he has done for a long time.

Chairman—We have nothing at all to say to Dr. Shelly.

Mr. Caulfield—If you accede to the request of the deputation, I will dissent. There is no hardship at all.

Mr. Synott said they should approve of the request of the deputation. Undoubtedly, the place will become industrialised in the near future and the people are within their rights in sticking to their doctor.

The Board approved of the request of the deputation, Mr. Caulfield dissenting.

BUTTER CONTRACT

The application from Mr. O'Sullivan, Lismore, concerning the butter contract for the Co. Home, asking for a refund in respect of the higher price fixed by the Department after the contract had been taken for April, May and June, 1935.

The Secretary read a circular from the Department dealing with the Act. Mr. Caulfield said that the Act was passed in June, and Mr. O'Sullivan had to pay from April. It was placing them in a false position.

The Secretary said that previously the Department had told them that they could pay the money on their own responsibility.

Mr. Caulfield—From all the facts the man is entitled to a refund.

Commissioner—I agree with Mr. Caulfield, it would be different if the price was due to the markets, but where it is the result of an order by the Government I think there should be a refund.

Mr. Caulfield—The order made him pay for a thing they were at the time only thinking about doing.

On the Commissioner's suggestion the whole matter was referred to the solicitor for his observations as regards the Board's position in the matter.

TO BE PROSECUTED

It was reported that Thos. Cullen, Waterford, obtained Home Assistance under false pretences. The report stated that Cullen was a patient in the County Hospital and while being there went out without leave and obtained Home Assistance. Cullen had not yet been discharged.

The Secretary said the only way to deal with the matter was to prosecute.

Mr. Caulfield—I agree, but the Justice will let him off with a caution, and ask him to pay back the money. That is all humbug, it is only throwing money away.

It was ordered that the man be prosecuted.

HOME ASSISTANCE

Home Assistance for the month amounted to £1,467 8s. 9d., compared with £1,489 10s. last month and £1,540 for the corresponding period last year.

LOOKING FOR INCREASE

Miss Delaney, caretaker, Dunmore East Dispensary, asked for remuneration on account of the increased work caused by the increased number coming to the dispensary.

The matter was adjourned for a month.

REPAIRS TO DISPENSARIES

Mr. Doyle, B.E., reported on the Ballymacarbery dispensary, and stated the cost of putting in water and a bathroom would be about £100.

The matter was adjourned.

WATERFORD HOSPITAL

It was decided to distemper three landings at the Waterford County hospital at a cost of £15.

NEW AMBULANCE

It was decided to buy a new Ford ambulance for Dungarvan, County Home and District Hospital.

The question of a new ambulance for Waterford was adjourned.

REPAIRS

It was ordered that the Engineer be instructed to get the repairs required to the dispensary at Touraneena carried out.

PORTER'S LODGE

Mr. Doyle, reported on his inspection of the Porter's Lodge, Co. Home, in which it was stated that the sanitary arrangements are primitive in the extreme. He suggested the erection of a flush lavatory which could be connected with a sewer 50 yards away at a cost of £16. Other necessary repairs would cost £14.

The Engineer was directed to have the work carried out.

LISMORE DISTRICT COURT.

DANCE HALL LICENCES

At the Lismore District Court, before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.

Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, applied on behalf of Daniel and John O'Brien, Tallow, for a Dance Hall Licence for their Cinema in Tallow, for the purpose of holding short dances on Wednesday and Sunday nights each week from 8 o'clock until 10.30 p.m., and also one Cinderella Dance from 9 p.m. until 2 a.m.

The Justice asked why this application was not made at the Annual Licensing Sessions held a month previously, and Mr. O'Gorman said that his clients were not in a position to make their application at that Court.

Evidence was given by Mr. Daniel O'Brien as to the suitability of their Hall for dancing purposes, and also that dances had been held there regularly for some years past.

Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, said the only objection he had to raise was in respect to suitable lavatory accommodation in the Hall, but on Mr. O'Brien giving an undertaking that ample dressing rooms and suitable lavatory accommodation would be provided in the course of a few days, the Supt. withdrew his objection, the Justice at first said he would adjourn the application to the next Tallow Court, but on an appeal from Mr. O'Gorman, he changed his first decision and granted the licence forthwith, as the hours asked for were most reasonable in his opinion.

Very Rev. Canon Prendergast, P.P., Tallow, who was in Court, raised no objection.

Mr. O'Gorman, solr., next made application on behalf of Mr. James O'Neill, Hon. Sec., G.A.A. Club, Lismore, for two Ceilidhe to be held in Lismore Courthouse on Sunday night, November, 3rd and Sunday night Dec. 1st, from 8.30 p.m. until 1.30 a.m.

The Justice said he had already expressed his views about the holding of dances in the Courthouse proper, and said if the dances were to be held in the Hall downstairs, Mr. O'Gorman would have to deal direct with the Co. Council, but as regards the Courthouse Hall, Mr. O'Keefe, the Court Registrar, was the gentleman who should be consulted under the new Act.

Mr. O'Keefe said there would be no objection to properly-conducted dances in the Courthouse, so far as he was concerned.

Canon Burke, P.P., V.F., Lismore, repeated his previous objections to Sunday night dances, and said when the present Courthouse was being built it was built partly as a Court of Justice and not as a dance hall.

Mr. O'Gorman made a similar application on behalf of Mr. Sean Kavanagh, Hon. Sec., Lismore Branch of the Gaelic League, for a special licence for a Ceilidhe to be held in the Courthouse from 7.30 p.m. until 11.30 p.m. on Sunday night, October 27th.

Canon Burke said there were so many Clubs and Societies now springing up in Lismore for the purpose of holding dances that he did not quite know what Club was applying now.

He then made a vigorous attack on the manner in which certain dances had been conducted in the past in the town, and referred in particular to a certain scandal which occurred at a dance held about 9 years ago, and also referred to a case where a man, who had been charged with a serious offence acted as M.C. later.

The Justice said that he was principally concerned in administering the law on the merits of each application which came before him, and as the applicants in the present two applications seemed to be respectable young men he saw not the slightest risk in granting the licences asked for. He could not see how dances carried on in a hall like this next door to the Civic Guard Barracks, could lead to much abuse, and as the purpose of the New Act was to legalise dancing, he was not going to penalise the present respectable applicants because certain scandals may have occurred in the past. He then granted licences to the G.A.A. Club for two Ceilidhe on the nights asked for from 8.30 to 1.30 a.m., and to the Gaelic League for a Ceilidhe from 7.30 to 11.30., but said no persons under 18 years of age should be admitted to any of those dances.

Mr. Sean Kavanagh appealed to the Justice to relax the 18 years limit in the case of the Gaelic League, as it was young persons, principally, who attended for the purpose of learning Irish dances and Irish culture, and he asked that persons not under the age of 16 years should be admitted in his request.

Cork Aero Club Dance.

Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., Dungarvan, applied on behalf of Mr. Ion Villiers Stuart, Dromana House, Cappoquin, for a temporary licence for the annual dance of the Cork Aero Club

DUNGARVAN BRANCH

The quarterly meeting of the Dungarvan Branch L.N.T.O. was held in the Dungarvan Technical School, on Saturday, 12th October. The following members attended:—Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Conner, Mrs. Condon, Mrs. Waide, Mrs. Beresford, Misses Power, Brennock, Fitzgerald, Delany, Whelan, Brennock, Tobin, Brick, Moloney, Tuohy, Murphy, Whelan, Messrs Conner, Walsh, Cullen, Quinlan, Lincoln, Wall, Brennock, Foley (Chairman); Delany and Whelan.

The Quarterly Bulletin was read and discussed under the following headings:—(1) Teaching through the medium of Irish; and (2) Averages—Government's recent concessions.

Messrs. Foley (Chairman), Conner and Walsh, were appointed on a committee to interview the Bishop of the Diocese on suggested changes in the Religious Programme. A resolution of sympathy was passed, in sorrow, with the family and relatives of the late Mr. R. Dalton, N.T., Mr. T. Phelan, N.T., was felicitated on his recent marriage. The following resolutions were also unanimously passed:—(1) That we urgently demand, in the best interests of education, that assistants and J.A.M's. continue to enjoy security of tenure, irrespective of averages, until appropriate positions be found for them. Otherwise these men and women, trained as the public expense, will be of much loss to the State, and will be cast forth in a most heartless manner. Teaching will no longer be considered an honoured profession and will not be aspired to accept by those of mediocre ability. (2) That we, again reiterate our just and insistent claim to the restoration of "cuts" in salary, and we will not cease to agitate therefor in season and out, until this claim is conceded. The teachers are the only body in the Free State who have been thus penalised, and we can but describe such discrimination as disgraceful and despicable on the part of the Government, which boasts of its impartiality towards all its subjects. (Run.)

News of the death of Mr. John Flynn, Kilmacarriga, Lismore, was received with feelings of deep sorrow over a wide area, for deceased was well-known and held in the highest esteem by all who had the pleasure of being acquainted with him. Of a kindly unassuming disposition, generous and warm-hearted, he was beloved in the family circle, where his example as a good catholic father was reflected in the esteem in which his family are held.

The late Mr. Flynn was indisposed for some time and fortified by the rites of the Holy Church, his death was peaceful and happy. He was most enterprising and successful as an agriculturist, a great friend, charitable and hospitable, and a sterling Irishman whom it was a joy to meet in or out of his own home. After the celebration of Office and High Mass for the repose of his soul in St. Carlisle's Cathedral, Lismore, on Friday morning, the funeral took place to Ballinacorney, Co. Cork, where the interment took place amid many manifestations of profound sorrow. The large number of people from far and near who attended to pay their last tribute to the worthy member of a highly-respected stock, manifested clearly the regard entertained for the deceased gentleman and family.

"HOLY WAR" ON ITALIANS

EMPEROR'S PLEA

Following news of the fall of Aksum, the "holy city" near Adowa, Emperor Haile Selassie summoned the Chief Bishop of Abyssinia to the palace and urged him to instruct the priests to preach a holy war against the Italians.

Another step was taken by the Emperor to restrain from causing further trouble the troops from the Kamata hills, who created disorders on Saturday.

In a speech which he made at a banquet he warned them to refrain from attacking Europeans.

"All the Italian residents have left our country," he said, "and the Europeans here are friends. If you want to show your courage do it at the front."

A story is current, though it is of doubtful authenticity, that one of the Emperor's sons-in-law, after accepting a letter which had been dropped by an Italian aeroplane and which made overtures for his desertion, was shot by a loyal old chief who had observed the incident.

Arrangements were made to bring the wounded man by air, but it was too dangerous to move him, and it is stated he died in a village in the Arame district near Eitrea.

"HOLY WAR" ON ITALIANS

EMPEROR'S PLEA

Another step was taken by the Emperor to restrain from causing further trouble the troops from the Kamata hills, who created disorders on Saturday.

'Twas a good day we put in Wheat'

The neighbours tried to dissuade me, and many's the doubt I had myself. But they were wrong, and I needn't have hesitated. For that's as fine a crop of wheat as ever was grown in Ireland, and it gave me no trouble—it's just as easy to grow as oats or barley.

If other farmers knew how easy it is to handle wheat, and what a heavy yield it gives on most soils, they too would go in for this crop. It can be grown successfully in all districts. And, most important of all, the Government guarantees the market.

Here are the guaranteed prices for next year's crop.

23 6 per barrel during September, October, November and December; 26/- per barrel after January 1st. These prices are for wheat bushelling 60 lbs. For wheat of a higher or lower bushel weight the prices will vary 3d. per lb. up or down, as the case may be.

WHEAT is a paying crop

Mr. Cosgrave, T.D.

ON PRESENT POSITION

Speaking at a big meeting in Carlow on Sunday Mr. Cosgrave, T.D., said the present Government promise to reduce taxation by two million pounds per year. Not alone was the taxation of the country not reduced, the Government had added on six million pounds, and the people, in addition, were paying four million pounds in hidden taxation. Rich and poor have been affected, he said, but this hidden taxation is pressing more heavily on the poorer members of the community. You have sugar, flour, meat, tea and other commodities. It is ten millions extra taxation. But there is more than that. The Government undertook to have five million pounds that was going over to England every year. Two millions of that represented compensation to ex-servicemen, to civil servants and people of that sort, and also local loans, and they are spending two million pounds which used to be devoted to other purposes. They had two millions which they could use for social services and other purposes. They have added to the cost of administration of this State that two million pounds, and if you want to know how it is done look up three or four of the different services provided by the State. The Guards are costing £200,000 more than they did three or four years ago, and the cost of the Army is £250,000 more than it was three or four years ago. You were told, said Mr. Cosgrave, that the five millions that was being paid to Britain would be stopped; but the British are getting it, and getting it from the moment the dispute started. The Government is getting that money from their own people who were told it would be used to reduce taxation and for the purpose of de-rating. The people are paying that five millions to the Government in the shape of annuities—a rather expensive method of settling a dispute. We advised the Government to settle the dispute with Britain. There are very different circumstances existing now to what existed four years ago. At that time Great Britain was staggering under her vast internal problems and the fall in the pound sterling. Their taxation was increasing, unemployment was going up, and their whole financial position was shaken. What was our position then? The price of agricultural produce was low, our exports were not of the same value as before. At that time it was stated by the League of Nations, when countries like England and the United States were staggering from internal economic trouble, that there were two or three nations that were able to stand on their own feet at that time, and one of them was the Irish Free State. Since then Great Britain put their house in order and are now economically and financially sound, and the number of unemployed has been greatly reduced. Dealing with the League of Nations, Mr. Cosgrave said we stand for keeping our international obligations. We say our international obligations can be attended to while we look after our national obligations. There is a national duty on the representative of the Government of this country at Geneva as great as there is an international duty on him. We say it is time to bring about a settlement of the dispute between this country and England. We have been told we have nothing to bargain on. This country has suffered very considerably since the dispute started. So also has Great Britain suffered. Her trade has diminished by the same amount. Great Britain could not deny at Geneva that she had applied sanctions to this country in the shape of tariffs. The dispute could be settled, and settled on favourable terms to this country. As regards their agricultural policy, Mr. Cosgrave said they proposed to derate agriculture in order that the farmers would be able to compete with the farmers of Great Britain and Northern Ireland, who had got de-rating. They realised that dairying was the foundation of agriculture, and that was their opinion six or five years ago. There are competitors in the market, he said, who have their creameries in order for 30 or 40 years. If the Irish farmers are going to compete then they must go in for creamery organisation. It is possible because it's being done elsewhere, to pay 5d. per gallon for milk because of the increasing price of butter. We are paying 6d. per lb more in the town and cities in this country for butter than they are paying in Great Britain and Northern Ireland. They proposed to retain tariffs as a protection to the people who had put money in certain industries. They also proposed to retain unemployment assistance, because he believed that when the new Government would be elected there would be less money required for that purpose. Referring to the beet industry, he asked if any farmer present could say they were getting as much for their beet as they were getting three or four years ago. When the late Government started the industry they were faced with tremendous opposition by the Fianna Fail Party. The policy which Fine Gael had drawn up had the approval of farmers, business men and traders. It is a sound policy, he said, and we consider it is one capable of being put into operation (applause).

CHARGE AGAINST RETIRED SOLICITOR

At Fermoy a further adjournment was granted in the case of the State v. William J. Magnier, junior, a retired solicitor, on a charge of converting to his own use £1,500 part of the trust fund under a will of which he was joint executor and trustee. The hearing was fixed for November 11.

MULCAHY'S, DUNGARVAN

The Pope and War

The Archbishop of Westminster addressing a London audience dealt with the Pope's position in the Italo-Abyssinian war.

"I am told that the Catholic public and perhaps members of other religious bodies expect that on the earliest opportunity I should express my thoughts and feelings on the Italo-Abyssinian situation as affecting the Pope and the Church," he said. "I seize on this occasion to speak my mind. I will speak freely without fear of the favour or of the hostility of extremists—whether they be Fascists, Nazis, Bolsheviks, or Imperialists of any type, whether they be pacifists or jingoists.

"Well, what can the Pope do to prevent this or any other war? He is a helpless old man with a small police force to guard himself, to guard the priceless treasures of the Vatican, and to protect his diminutive State which ensures his due independence in the exercise of his universal right and duty to teach and to guide his followers of all races. Can he denounce a neighbouring Power—a Power armed with absolute control of everything and with every modern instrument of force? It is said that he could communicate. Yes! and thus make war with his dictator-neighbour inevitable, besides upsetting the peace and the consciences of the great mass of Italians, with the result of a fierce anti-clerical outbreak.

Has he been invited by the contending parties in this Italo-Abyssinian dispute to be judge and arbitrator to settle the quarrel? He has not. I have insisted, and I insist again, that the Pope was expressly excluded by the secret Pact of London in 1915 from future deliberations in the Council of Peace. Until he is invited to intervene by both sides, he cannot act as a judge. As an independent Sovereign he has no grounds for intervention in this present case, not even those grounds enjoyed by a member of the League of Nations, to join which League, through Italy's express stipulation, he was not invited. The present Pope and his predecessors have made incessant and unavailing efforts to avert war, or to infuse some measure of moderation in the conduct of war and to instil some ordinary commonsense into the conditions of peace. As head of the Church he has no grounds to interfere in purely political matters, unless, as I have intimated, he is invited. But when morals are involved, as in this case and in the case of any war where morals are involved, he has a right and a duty to lay down the law, with the object of warning those whom the cap fits.

"The League of Nations might have indicated the person whom the cap fitted month ago, but actually only a week after the aggression which has now taken place did they decide who it was whom the cap fitted. Before that verdict of the League, the Pope could not in decency have stigmatised either one side or the other as the wrong-doer. One can imagine—nay, we know—how he would have been blamed if he had done any such thing. But on several occasions he has laid down the law, he has condemned aggression, he has branded that self-aggrandisement, he has laid down the limits of desired expansion. He could not more pointedly have alluded to the present conflict.

"Reasonable men, and Catholics in particular, will understand the delicate and most difficult position of the Pope. Hot-headed, war-scared minds, will not, I know, listen to reason or use a balanced judgment, on any course he may take; unlike our King, 'who can do no wrong,' the Pope, in their estimation, can do nothing right. He must always be in the wrong. Our Holy Father's choice is between two evils. Either he must seem to condone what the world regards as a monstrous injustice and a violation of international compacts and treaties, or he can denounce a neighbour as a law breaker. He will never condone injustice. If, on the other hand, he denounces his neighbour as a breaker of treaties and a brigand, he will put a grievous burden on the consciences of such of the subjects of his neighbour as believe that neighbour to be in the right, and he will risk active reprisals—in fact, he will introduce additional cause for conflicts and violence. Remember that for years the slave-Press of Italy has forced the Government view, or rather the Fascist Party view on its subjects, and Italians consequently, generally speaking, know no other view. It is easy to say 'Let justice be done though the heavens crash.' But no man, least of all the Pope, can contemplate the crashing of the heavens with equanimity. The existing Fascist rule, in many respects unjust—it is one example of the present-day deification of Caesarism and of the tyranny which makes the individual a pawn on the chessboard of absolutism—and I say that the Fascist rule prevents worse injustice, and if Fascism, which in principle I do not approve, goes under, nothing can save the country from chaos. God's cause goes under with it.

"Sins of blood-guiltiness have too long deluged the world," the Archbishop had said earlier in his address. "Words fail to tell of the orgy of blood and horror with which our sins have filled these unhappy times. Apparently no lessons suffice to warn some rulers of the world against the demon of war. The people do not want war, the people loathe war. It is not the people who make war but those who think to be safe from its awful consequences or even to gain thereby; it is they who want war. Now, in spite of all we ought to have learnt from the last great war, there are men who do not shrink from the chance of hurling the world once more into a whirlpool of blood, men who seem not to heed the utter ruin of our civilisation which will follow another world-war. No less than that is the menace of this moment.

"Indignation has no bounds when we see that Africa, that ill-used continent of practically unarmed people, is made the focus and playground of scientific slaughter. The educated African—the intelligence of the native population—and nowadays there are many intelligent, cultured Africans—may well and do cry out: 'You Europeans, have you not done enough to enslave us, to use us for your own ambitions and for your own avicious purposes? We are weak and not capable of uniting, but the day will come when the black races of our country, and the black descendants of our forebears whom you made slaves for your commercialism will become conscious of their numbers and perhaps of their power.'

"I would impress on you all the necessity of keeping yourselves free from the war-mind. The war-mind means the loss of balance and judgment, the surrender to unreason. The symptom of the war-mind is disregard of facts and indifference to truth. For instance, a number of people suffering from war-mind have said and written that the bells of St. Peter's in Rome were rung for the great Italian rally five days ago. I am authorised by the Holy See to let it be known that this assertion is absolutely false. I am even reproached for ordering bells to be rung here in this diocese on the outbreak of war. That is a ludicrous falsehood."

Replying to the suggestion that bells in Rome and other parts of Italy were rung for the rally, the Archbishop said: "The Canon Law expressly forbids the use of church bells for secular purposes and a special decree of the Sacred Council of the Congregation warns bishops and others against allowing any breach of this law.

"I reply further that the Fascist can commandeer the church bells and much else, and I have reliable testimony that church bells were rung—if any when they were rung—by compulsion. But the Pope allows priests to go with the Italian forces as military chaplains? Could he refuse to do so. The poor soldiers of the Italian Army, mostly conscripts or forcibly volunteers, are not to blame, and their souls are the objects of God's loving care in war or out of war."

KILMATHOMAS NEWS.

KILROSSANTY WEDDING.

St. Brigid's Church, Kilrossanty, was the scene of a pretty wedding on the morning of the 9th inst. when Miss Margaret O'Donnell, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Donnell, Leamybrien, became the wife of Mr. John Lennon, son of Mrs. Marianne Lennon and the late Mr. Michael Lennon, Glen House, Lisnageragh, Bonmahon.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. P. Ahearne, D.D., St. John's College, Waterford (cousin of the bride), with Nuptial Mass and the Papal Blessing, assisted by the Very Rev. W. Kehoe, P.P., Kilrossanty; Rev. J. Harty, C.C., do., and Rev. J. Hally, C.C., Kilmathomas (cousin of the bridegroom).

The bride, who looked charming, was attended by Miss Alys Walsh Kilrossanty, as bridesmaid, and Mr. Denis Lennon (brother of the bridegroom), acted as best man.

Following the ceremony the wedding party motored to the Hotel Metropole, Waterford, where a reception was held and upwards of fifty guests were entertained, after which the happy pair left on their honeymoon.

In addition to the clergymen already named the following priests were amongst the guests: Very Rev. J. Walsh, P.P., Portlaoine; Very Rev. J. Cullinane, P.P., Touraneena (cousin of the bride); Rev. T. O'Shea, C.C., Ballyaneen; Rev. P. Ahearne, C.C., Ballybricken (cousin of the bride); Rev. J. Ahearne, C.C., St. John's (do.); Rev. J. O'Donnell, C.C., Carrickbeg (cousin of the bridegroom) and Rev. J. Walsh, C.C., Liverpool.

The wedding presents were numerous, costly and serviceable, and many congratulatory messages were received. The newly-united couple belong to well-known highly-respected stocks of the Deise, and their troops of friends on all sides will wish them length of years in the fullest enjoyment of the graces and blessings of conjugal bliss. Mr. Lennon is a nephew of the late Very Rev. John Lennon, P.P., Stradbally.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

On Wednesday of this week, Dr. J. C. Walsh, Marlfield, C.ommel, (Corner for East Waterford), took his departure from Bonmahon, after passing a fortnight of his annual holiday period there, accompanied by Mrs. Walsh. Our deservingly honoured and esteemed Coroner, is a brother-in-law of the famous Dublin artist, Mr. John Keating, whose always realistic art the eminent critics find more satisfying than the all-to-often inarticulate art of the "moderns." In a metropolitan journal to hand the names of Dr. and Mrs. Walsh are mentioned among the guests at the recently-given private view of Mr. Keating's paintings. Dr. Walsh's wife is daughter of Mr. S. Troy, D.J., Clonmel, who is one of the most distinguished and most highly-esteemed occupants of the Magisterial Bench in An Saorstát.

Another interesting visitor to these parts is the Rev. James Walsh, C.C., of the Archdiocese of Liverpool, son of Mrs. M. Walsh, and the late Mr. Michael Walsh, Comeragh, Kilrossanty. Fr. Walsh was ordained in Waterford on June 14th, 1931. A lovable young Sogzarth, whose happy humour and kindness are as limitless as the water of Coughshannan, his hosts of friends and well-wishers up and down the Deise will be delighted to know that he is in excellent health and enjoying his visit immensely.

SYMPATHY.

Mid-Waterford Gaels join with the many admirers of first-class hurlers Mick and Denny ("Sonny") Wyse, of Portlaoine's peerless Erin's Own Caman Club, in extending sincere sympathy to both in their recent sad bereavement.

Kilmathomas Hurling Club, and Stradbally Football Club, respectively, voted sympathy to Mr. Seamus Hayes, Treasurer of the Waterford Co. Board, G.A.A., on the death of his father; and to Messrs. James, John and Roger McKoon, Ballydwan, Bonmahon, and Messrs. Patrick and John Hurley, Ballynarrid, do., on the death of their cousin, the late Miss Margaret Veale, Patrick street, Waterford.

HOME.

After an absence of about 8 years in America, Miss Bridget Foley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Foley, Glen, Stradbally, has returned to her parental roof-tree on a three-months holiday. She looks in the proverbial pink, refreshed by the sight of the pals and places of her school-going days.

AWAY.

Nurse Mary Fitzgerald, Mill Hill Hospital, London, (daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Fitzgerald, Knockeylan, Kilrossanty) has returned to her professional pursuits after spending a pleasant vacation at her old home.

OUT AND ABOUT.

Cards are now out and about for a 45 Card Drive, under the auspices and in aid of the Ballyaneen Parochial Debt Committee. Splendid money prizes will be given, and the finals will be played at Ballyaneen School-house on the first Sunday in December. It is to be hoped that the event will receive the widest support, the object being a particularly worthy one. Persons desirous of helping can obtain cards on applications to the organising secretary, Mr. Jeremiah Foley, Ballyaneen, Kilmathomas.

The sterling Stradbally Gaels are running a 45 Card Drive to further and swell their club funds, and it is pleasing to publish that their efforts are receiving appreciable patronage. We look forward to finding all junior teams in the city and county on the list of entries for the Kilmathomas Medal Tournament. Friend Dathi de Paor has furnished full particulars of the competition to the secretary of each Club.

A CURE FOR HICCUPS.

There is nothing more embarrassing to the sensitive individual than the hiccup, more especially as its origin is not infrequently associated by the uncharitable, of course, with those beverages which temperance reformers are averse to. It is, of course, wrong to assume that a hiccup is necessarily caused by a cocktail or other spirituous concoction. The greatest martyr to the affliction your simple scribbler can remember was an inveterate "pussfoot," a biped of the Barony of Middle Third, who refused a helping of plum-pudding because it was flavoured with wine sauce. But whether it is the sequel to a tectotal social or a spree, the news that a simple cure has been found for it will be hailed with satisfaction. A Viennese specialist has discovered that the inhalation of the ordinary gases given off by a soda water syphon will silence the most violent of hiccups. Of course the snag in this recipe is that a person addicted to hiccup cannot carry a soda water syphon about on his daily rounds, but it may not be voted unwell to suggest that at all meetings of public bodies (such as the Waterford Corporation, Harbour Board, County Board of Public Assistance, Dungarvan U.D.C., Lismore Town Commissioners, etc.), a syphon of soda water might be available for the use of a hiccup patient. But nothing stronger must be introduced—it "prolonged stays," and "spakes" as long as roller-towels arc to remain on the "ruled out of order" rank (Thiggin thu?).

OBITUARY.

Fortified by the rites of Holy church Mr. Thomas O'Farrell, Drumlohan, Stradbally, answered the Great Call on Friday of last week, after a protracted illness and in the fullness of his years. One of nature's gentlemen, the deceased was worthy of the very wide circle of firm friendships he formed throughout his honourable and useful career. A truly large and representative cortege accompanied the remains to their last resting place in Kilrossanty churchyard, on Sunday evening. Fr. Kehoe, P.P., officiated at the graveside.—R.I.P.

CLAIM AGAINST A VICTUALLER.

At the Cork District Court, an interesting case was tried in which the evidence alleged that certain conditions prevailed in some parts of the country, and that certain practices existed in the matter of fixing prices for cattle outside the figure of 25s. per cwt., laid down by the Department of Agriculture.

John O'Brien, Killeagh, sued Pth. Mannix, victualler, Cork, for £10 11s. 4d., alleged to be the balance due for the price of two bullocks sold to the defendant on March 19th.

Mr. W. Sinclair Rice, solr., Middleton, for plaintiff, and Mr. M. Powell, solr., for defendant.

Mr. Rice said that the regulation fixing 25s. per cwt. for cattle was recently suspended. Despite the previously existing Government regulation fixing a minimum price, stated Mr. Rice, the victuallers in many cases took advantage of the farmers' plight and paid low prices for beasts bought at fairs.

John O'Brien (plaintiff) stated that he attended Youghal Fair in March last. He had two polly bullocks for sale. The defendant came up to him, and witness asked £19, the defendant offered £8, which was refused. Later on defendant came up to him again, and they agreed on a price of £10 for the two beasts, less 3s. as "luck" money to defendant. Witness knew that this was contrary to the Department's regulations, which laid down a price of 25s. per cwt. Witness was compelled to get rid of his cattle by absolute necessity and he could not take them home from that fair, as he had no means of feeding them, and all his feeding was gone. The beasts were weighed, and according to the weight the price at the prescribed rate should be £20. After the deal witness complained to Mr. Ryan, the Government Inspector, who was at the fair. He showed Mr. Ryan the sum of £9 17s. 0d. in cash, which he had received from the defendant. The Inspector saw the cattle at the station later.

Cross-examined—Witness knew that he was liable to be prosecuted for selling cattle under the prescribed rate. The bullocks were nearly three years old. He had to get rid of them at the price. Witness then alleged that some of the licensed victuallers knew the difficulty of the farmers, and said that prices much below the Government fixed prices were being offered to farmers, who were compelled to accept through hard necessity.

Michael Hankard, corroborated. Michael Ryan, Government Inspector under the Act, said that he was at Youghal Fair on the date in question. The minimum price was 25s. per cwt. and plaintiff complained to witness of the price given to him by defendant. Plaintiff showed witness £9 17s. 0d., which, he stated was the money given him for the two beasts by defendant.

D. McCarthy gave evidence that the beasts were weighed in the town, and from the weight registered the regulation minimum price would be £20 8s. 4d.

John Twomey, local supervisor under the Act, said he had several conversations with the defendant, after a complaint by O'Brien. Defendant said he paid £18 10s. 0d. for the beasts, and that O'Brien had asked £19 0s. 0d.

Mr. Powell (for the defence) said that the victuallers were compelled to pay an exorbitant price at fairs and then had to sell beef at a very low rate.

Defendant stated that he is a licensed victualler. He met O'Brien at the fair, and O'Brien accosted him and asked about £13 for the two beasts. The deal was closed at £10. Witness asked O'Brien what he would say to the Government inspector about it.

A big following favoured the meet at Graigue, Stradbally, on Sunday last, and exhilarating sport was experienced in the locality. The pack met at Newtown, at midday to-morrow, and on the 27th inst. Kilmoylan will be the trysting place.

Cubbing with the Waterford foxhounds continues, and the coming meets are as follows:—Next Tuesday, Mount Bolton; Wednesday, Rathgormack; Friday, Woodhouse; 30th Durdow; 1st prox., Scrahan; 2nd, Kildarmoy. The mottled ones are in fine fettle.

THE TANG O' THE TURF.

A respected regular reader of the "Observer," resident in Waterford City, writes as follows:—"Last Sunday, calling on some friends who came to live in the city last year, I found them, to my delight, burning peat. They had brought a few pieces home with them when out on a motor run in the Stradbally district on the previous day. The aroma from that burning turf was, to my nostrils anyway, extremely pleasant—like a refreshing whiff of the country. What a wonderful commodity coal would be had it just the smell of peat!"

and O'Brien replied that "he did not want Dr. Ryan's price" (laughter), and that he was satisfied with what he got. Witness paid for the weighing of the cattle. The Justice gave a decree for £10 8s. 4d.

WHEAT

Farmers interested in wheat growing, and surely every rational farmer has had his interest quickened in the matter by the outstanding success of this year's wheat harvest, coupled with the keen market demand for the crop, should refer to the further notice on the subject which appears in our advertising columns.

Now is the time to get ready for sowing next season's crop. Those about to sow wheat for the first time should realise that there are two distinct classes of wheat—one class embraces all winter varieties, and the other all spring varieties. The class suitable for sowing now is some one of the winter varieties, and the most favourable time for sowing any of the winter varieties is during October or November, although, if necessary, sowing may be delayed as late as February. Spring varieties should not be sown earlier than the beginning of March, and, generally speaking, not later than mid-April. Spring wheats will not withstand the rigour of winter conditions, nor will winter wheat, if sown in spring, ripen in time. The advantage of having varieties of wheat capable of being sown successfully in spring is realised in all countries, but, although there are several fairly useful varieties of spring wheat available, there is none quite as satisfactory as regards yield and quality as the winter varieties.

The varieties of winter wheat which have already proved suitable in this country are: "Queen Wilhelmina," "Squarehead's Master," and "Yeoman II." The first-named is often sold under a variety of names, including "Double White Stand-up," and is probably one of the most useful general-purpose wheats available; it produces a white grain of good milling quality, and a fairly strong straw. Others which resemble "Queen Wilhelmina" in one or other respect are "Million III" and "Victor." "Squarehead's Master" is a reliable variety which has been cultivated in this country for many years; it is more suitable than "Queen Wilhelmina" for the poorer soils, and can better withstand unfavourable conditions at harvest. It produces a red grain much in favour for the manufacture of wholemeal. This variety can be safely sown later than most of the other winter wheats. Varieties which are hardly distinguishable from "Squarehead's Master" are "Red Standard," "Red Stand-up," and "Red Chief."

"Yeoman II" has had extensive trials in this country, and on the better soils in good condition it has usually produced a high yield of grain of excellent milling quality, has proved one of the easiest wheats to harvest in unfavourable weather, and farmers who propose to grow wheat on rich land should give preference to "Yeoman II." On the other hand, this variety is unsuitable for the poorer quality soils on which it usually produces a small shrivelled grain.

Farmers purchasing seed supplies from merchants should specify the variety they require, and should not be content with the terms "wheat" or "winter wheat." Merchants who have obtained licences to import seed wheat have undertaken to buy wheat varieties by name, and farmers should insist upon being supplied with "named" varieties.

TO PRODUCE CUBE SUGAR.

The Carlow Sugar Factory has installed up-to-date machinery for the production for the first time in this country of cube caster, brown and yellow sugar. In the coming manufacturing season it is expected that the four factories will provide for practically the whole demand of the Free State for all grades of sugar.

IN THE LAW COURTS.

WATERFORD FARMERS' APPLICATIONS.

In the High Court, Dublin, on Friday, before Mr. Justice O'Byrne, Mr. J. J. Mooney, (instructed by Mr. C. S. Quinlan, applied on behalf of Mr. Behan, a farmer, of Killown, Dunhill, Co. Waterford, who had brought an action against Sir John Keane, Bart., the Daily Telegraph, Ltd., and Allied Newspapers, Ltd., for interlocutory judgment in default of appearance against the Daily Telegraph Ltd., and Allied Newspapers, Ltd.

Counsel said the action was for libel published in the "Sunday Times" of 24th February last, in an article headed: "Irish Free State. The Judicial System." The application was against the newspapers only, notice of discontinuing the action against the first defendant having been served. Mr. Justice Byrne—Where does it appear that this alleged libel was published in the Irish Free State? Mr. Mooney said he did not think it was necessary to aver that. He submitted that it was implied because the statement of claim set out that Sir John Keane was Irish correspondent of the "Sunday Times" and that that newspaper had one of the largest circulations among the Sunday newspapers circulating in the Irish Free State. He could understand that there might be a possibility of a special edition of the newspaper being printed on that date for England and another edition printed and published in the Irish Free State.

Mr. Justice O'Byrne—Is it not essential for your case that you should show that those defamatory words were published in this country? Mr. Mooney submitted that if the plaintiff had a residence in London as well as Co. Waterford, and if a resident in the neighbourhood of his London residence read the words and understood them to mean that the plaintiff had been guilty of embezzlement, the plaintiff's action would be good.

Mr. Justice O'Byrne said that what he wanted to be satisfied about was whether it was necessary to allege in the statement of claim that these words were published in the Irish Free State. He would allow the matter to stand over until the following Friday to enable Mr. Mooney to look into it.

A similar application on behalf of Wm. Ivory, farmer, of Ballyglan, Dunmore East, against the same defendants was also adjourned until next Friday. The action was for damages for alleged libel contained in the same article.

Mr. Mooney (instructed by Mr. C. S. Quinlan) appeared for the plaintiff.

GUIRY—October 15th., 1935, at her residence, Killossera, Catherine Guiry. Deeply regretted.—R.I.P.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

PERSONAL—Dr. McCarthy will be away from home until 24th October, 1935.

LATE VERY REV. CANON FURLONG, P.P. A magnificent Celtic Cross has been erected in the Parish Churchyard, Dungarvan, to the memory of the late Very Rev. T. F. Canon Furlong, who for many years was the zealous, pious and esteemed Pastor of this Parish.

It bears the following inscription: Pray for the repose of the soul of Thomas F. Canon Furlong, P.P., V.F., Parish Priest of Ballybricken, 1914-1919 Parish Priest of Lismore 1919-1925 Parish Priest of Dungarvan 1925-1934. The Feast of Corpus Christi. If we be dead with Him, We shall live also with Him; If we suffer we shall also reign with Him. 2 Timothy, 2:11-12.

The work was carried out by Messrs. O'Keefe, and Son, Sculptors, Waterford and Abbeyside, Dungarvan.

DUNGARVAN FAIR—The October Fair at Dungarvan on Wednesday was well supplied in all departments, but prices ruled low. Big numbers changed hands at the prevailing rates, 12-year-olds made £3 to £5 10s. according to quality; 23-year-olds £5 to £7 and 3 year olds £7 to £9. A few good springers made up to £12. Fat cows were in poor demand. Sheep made 30s. to 40s. Lambs 20s. to 25s. There was a big number of black-faced sheep from the neighbouring hills on offer, but trade was bad and prices ranged from 6s. upwards according to size, age and quality. The pig department was largely supplied. Prices ranged for nice stores from 20s. to 35s. each.

DUNGARVAN MARKETS—Meal (special) 18/6; middiecut, 18/-; flour 20/- and 21/-; bran 8/6 cwt.; pollard 7/6 and 8/6 cwt.; white oats 9/- barrel; black do., 6/- barrel; wheat and barley as per standard prices; coal 42/6 ton; eggs 1/- per dozen.

RECENT FATALITY NEAR BALLYMACARBERRY—At the Clonmel District Court, information was refused in the case in which Richard Clingan, Mitchell St., Clonmel, was charged with the manslaughter of a young woman named Mrs. Alice Condon, of Graingauger, Ballymacarberrry. Mrs. Condon was fatally injured when, while cycling near Ballymacarberrry, she was in collision with a motor car driven by the accused.

DEATH OF MISS GUIRY, KILLOSSERA. A member of an old and highly-respected family passed away on Tuesday last in the person of Miss Guiry, Killossera, Dungarvan. She was sister of the late Mr. Patrick Guiry, and was a lady most highly esteemed by all who knew her. Her death in the fullness of years is deeply regretted and sincere sympathy is extended to her relatives.—R.I.P.

On Wednesday evening the remains were removed to the Parish Church, and were followed by a vast concourse. On Thursday after Requiem High Mass for the repose of her soul, the interment took place in the adjoining graveyard.

DEATH OF MRS. DONNELLY, LOUGHMORE. The death of Mrs. Donnelly, Loughmore, Dungarvan, on Saturday last, is deeply regretted. She was a most respected lady, and was daughter of Mr. James Curran, Mitchell street. Her passing away after a brief illness is deeply regretted by all who knew her and to her bereaved husband and young family deep sympathy is extended. The interment took place in the Parish Churchyard.—R.I.P.

WHAT ABOUT THAT HOSPITAL? For some time past nothing has been heard of the proposed erection of a Hospital at Dungarvan, which has long since been proved an absolute necessity. Some time ago it was understood all the preliminaries had been investigated, and as the money is available for years past from the Irish Hospitals Sweep Funds, what the delay is about is hard to understand.

For years past the people of West Waterford have been badly in want of increased hospital accommodation in Dungarvan. The present District Hospital was never intended to deal with the huge number of patients who today seek admission there, while in addition to the ordinary patients there have been a big increase in what might be called cases of 'sudden damage' caused by road accidents, etc. We hope our highly-capable Commissioner, Mr. Moynihan, will make a strong appeal to the Department of Public Health to get going in the matter of giving us an up-to-date Hospital, equipped with all modern accessories and in everyway equal to the needs of the district. We have brilliant Surgical and Nursing staffs, but the accommodation at present is so limited as to make their work extremely difficult.

£12 DRIVE—The final rounds of the £12 Drive will be played at the Scout's Den, Abbeyside, on Sunday October 27th., 1935, at 8 p.m.

TOURIST ATTRACTION

The Irish Tourist Association at its meeting this week dealt with the great increase of tourists during the summer and stressed the necessity for better roads and better everything to offer them still more attractions to come and stay and rest with us. Now if we want strangers with money to come amongst us—and we have plenty folk already with no money—we must provide them with every modern facility including sport. And the only way to do that is on the lines we have already stated, viz., the erection of a vast hotel on the top of the level plain of the Comeraghs with swimming pools, golf links, Tennis Courts, etc., together with the provision of a large aerodrome for the accommodation of flyers and a beacon light on Croughan to guide airmen in the night. If the Government could be got to give a grant for the general cleaning up and levelling of the plain making roads, etc., it would employ all the idle men in the county with splendid healthy work and would entail no burden on the rates or taxes. This work could all be done under the supervision of our able County staff of Engineers and overseers and would keep the stone-breaking and rolling machinery at present idle very busy. Further—and now is the season—shelter belts of spruce, pines, etc., could be planted under the Forestry Department, and what is at present a hump of desolation could in a short time be metamorphosed into one of the most charming places in this or any other country. In addition, with very little preserving, thousands of acres of moorland would soon become the Mecca of sportsmen, while with the Waterford, Tipperary, West Waterford, Kilkenny and U.C.C. Hunts within a short distance every class of sport would be available, and visitors would in this mild climate have such a happy time all round that they would stay with us for long.

The Scheme is admitted by all who have studied it to be ideal and if men of vision could be found to take charge of it, it would mature quickly, and would become a progressive investment. And why? At present business people in towns are building residences in the suburbs. Visit Abbeyside and see for yourself. The next generation or sooner, will build up the mountain as at all Continental centres. The rock as a foundation is taking the place of sand. Once the Comeragh plain is laid out, planted and built upon, and the day of the private aeroplane having come everybody will move up the heights and gain the elbow room so symbolic of freedom. Now is the time to get on the move and keep ahead of the times, for no matter what happens in Abyssinia or in Valdivostak, this is not the last generation, nor will Ireland get submerged for many a long day.

MODELLING HAND BALL CLUB—The final rounds of the 45 Drive in aid of above will be played on Sunday 27th October, at 7 p.m. Winner's names and remittances should be sent in prior to that date.—E. O'Connor, secretary.

NO INTERFERENCE WITH BUSINESS—The Canadian General Election, the polling for which took place this week, resulted in a sweeping victory for the Liberal Party led by Mr. McKenzie King. The principal plank in the Liberal Party's programme was that the Government should not interfere with business.

THE CESARWITCH—The Cesarewitch Stakes on Wednesday were won by Near Relation (23-1; Nightcap III (25-1) 2nd and Hoplite (100-7) 3rd.

G. A. A.—NEXT SUNDAY IN DUNGARVAN—At Dungarvan Gaelic Field on Sunday next October 20th., the Hurling Final of the West Division of the County will be played between Dungarvan and Tallow and should prove the most exciting and interesting played for a long time. The teams are old rivals and keen wielders of the caman and from start to finish the game will be closely contested and every inch of ground will have to be fought for. A Minor Football Championship between Stradbally and Cappoquin will also be played. The grounds are in excellent condition and all is ready for a splendid evenings amusement.

A LISMORE CHAMPION—By winning the 25 miles cycle race from Waterford to Newtown-Kilmacthomas and back on Sunday last in the time of 1 hr. 8 mins. 25secs. Mr. C. Guest proved himself Munster Champion Cyclist. The race was run in heavy rain with a strong wind and sticky road surface, and the result was in the circumstances, all the greater tribute to the staying powers of the winner. There were 17 other competitors.

Recent Bus Crash at Kilmacthomas

DRIVER SAID HE MUST HAVE FALLEN ASLEEP—Remarking that from his own experience he would say the accident was the direct result of the overstrain of long hours, District Justice McCabe, at Kilmacthomas, imposed a fine of £2, with endorsement of licence, on Nicholas Caulfield, I.O.C. bus driver, of Yellow Road, Waterford, who was charged with dangerous driving.

The case arose out of a midnight crash which occurred on the Waterford-Kilmacthomas road, and as a result of which 26 Waterford passengers were injured. The Justice added that, while he did not like to criticise the railway company, because he did not know anything about special circumstances which might have existed, it did seem peculiar that a driver should be expected after driving all these hours throughout the day to continue driving at night without relief.

The Justice stated that he would have no hesitation in driving with Caulfield to-morrow or any other day. Sergt. Dunne, Kilmacthomas, said he found the bus embedded in the fence, and in it were a number of women, cut and bleeding. There were other people on the road and lying in ditches.

Asked how the accident occurred, the driver told him that he must have fallen asleep, adding that he was driving since 9 a.m.

Defendant, in evidence, stated that, coming towards the fork in the road, the lights of the bus and the moon cast a shadow, and he mistook the ditch for the road. Defendant told the Justice that he began to drive the bus at 9 a.m., and the accident occurred at one o'clock the following morning. Except for an occasional stop he was driving all the time.

The Justice said that if it was known that defendant was being sent out driving for such a time he only wished the official responsible was before the Court, and there would be very little sympathy for him. There might be some explanation in regard to unusual circumstances, but he was sure that no man was asked to drive a train or steer a ship throughout such hours. And driving a bus was, if anything, more of a responsibility. In an overcrowding charge, brought in connection with the same incident, against the G.S.R. Co., and David Coleman, the conductor, Mr. F. Power, solicitor, raised the point that the bus was not a public stage carriage within the meaning of the Act on the occasion. The Justice adjourned the hearing for the purpose of looking into the matter.

Cumann Na Ceilidhe

At a general meeting of members in the Town Hall, on Thursday night, October 3rd., at 8 p.m. the following...

At a committee meeting held after the whole matter was gone into in detail, their being some warm exchanges...

The matter of forming a Ceilidhe Band was left in the hands of those instrumentalists the committee had usually engaged for their Ceilidhe...

Thanks are due to those young people under the age of eighteen, who helped forward to success the Ceilidhe last season...

At a further meeting of the Committee held in the Town Hall, on Tuesday evening October 8th., at 8 p.m. Ceilidhe dancing on Sunday nights was ruled out for the present...

The matter of advertising Ceilidhe and of arranging a night for the next Ceilidhe was discussed.

The Secretary was requested to apply to the U.D.C., for their assistance in facilitating an Cumann in the matter by agreeing to give them the use of the hall on one definite night a week...

Leaflets drawn up by the Secretary were approved of, and ordered to be distributed.

It was decided to appeal to the non-dancing Gaelic public, and others to become associate members.

The matter of purchasing instruments to facilitate the formation of a Ceilidhe Band, came up for discussion.

It was stated that if the U.D.C. had a Piano for hire, it would be a profitable source of income to them, and a blessing to all who use the hall.

Step-dancing also came up for discussion. The matter was left entirely in the hands of Mrs. McGrath, who will hold her usual classes this season in the Town Hall, please note.

A Cairde go leir! Be on the look-out for an announcement of the date of the next Ceilidhe. Beidh faillte Roimh Cach.

HIGHEST PAID STARS

The highest-paid performers in Hollywood are not Greta Garbo, Eddie Cantor, or the Marx Bros.—but babies—any babies, provided they are really young ones...

At this rate their salaries would total in a week at eight hours a day £86,400. The catch is, however, that no baby is allowed to work a week. Standard contracts, involving the parents, the studio, and the State of California, stipulate that the baby may work no more than thirty seconds a day...

Doctors and nurses are at hand to see that the schedule is rigidly adhered to and a member of the production staff stands by with a stop watch. The strength of the Kleig lights is so great that there is danger in exposing infant eyes and skins to them.

Sometimes a baby actor will have a double. In one recent picture they wanted a beautiful child who was capable of crying boisterously. Most of the handsome babies seemed to have weak lungs, so a plain but vociferous child had to be hired to make "noises off," while the "star" merely mouthed before the camera.

50 NATIONS

ITALIAN TRADE WITH ITALY

At Geneva this week the representatives of 50 Nations agreed to ban all financial aid of Italy during the war. President de Valera attended the Sanctions Co-ordination Committee of 62 and voted without reservations...

It is learned that he was very satisfied with the financial measures. They prohibit any trade credit and provide that there shall be no payments for goods except by cash. One of the first tasks of the President on his return to Dublin will be to consult the experts with regard to sanctions measures.

It is not considered likely to-night that legislative action will be required for sanctions measures so far voted although it is admitted that the Dail, on October 29, may possibly have to take legislative action. Nevertheless, the tendency at present is in favour of these measures through the competent department.

A member of the Irish delegation stated that it was extremely unlikely that President de Valera would return to Geneva if the Assembly again met, but that a final decision would depend upon the circumstances existing at the time.

President de Valera also voted for a resolution binding members of the League mutually to support one another regarding economic and financial sanctions in order to minimise any loss and inconvenience.

Concerning the question of the possibility of new trade arrangements with other countries, including England, as a result of economic sanctions against Italy, a member of the Irish Delegation said that the amount of trade at stake was not very great, and that Ireland herself might provide the greater part of the goods imported from Italy, which in 1934, amounted to approximately 3,000,000 lire.

In August, 1935, Italy exported to the Irish Free State £14,837 sterling worth of goods, while in the same period Ireland exported to Italy only £681 worth of goods. Imports from Italy to the Irish Free State in the eight months January to Aug., 1935, amounted to £64,450, while for the same period last year they were only £18,702.

Surprise was expressed in Irish circles here as to the rapid rise in Italian imports into Ireland, but no explanation was available. It was seen that the economic sanctions to be taken here probably by the end of this week may affect Ireland's imports of fruit, olives, olive oil, cheese, lemons, works of art, motor cars, spa waters, artificial silk, religious literature, and religious articles.

The League resolution severs every possible form of credit financial operations between Italian institutes or business firms and Italian individuals but will not interfere with private banks or their deposits abroad. It will not interfere with payments of instalments on loans already issued, but it will prevent the issue of the second section of any loan, even if the first had been handed over.

The Austrian and Hungarian delegates made reservations, and the Argentine delegate said that his country would ask for special consideration on account of her large Italian population.

The Governments are invited to put into operation at once such of the measures recommended as can be enforced without fresh legislation, and to take all practicable steps to secure that the measures recommended are completely put into operation by October 31st.

The "Tribuna" (Rome), says that Italy for thirteen years had not asked for loans, and would continue not to ask for loans.

For ten months Italy had been fully mobilised, economically independent of the Abyssinian conflict and the aberrations of the League.

Since Italy was a country which paid her debts, the gold reserve had to be reduced in order to pay them, by one and a half milliards. In view of this and the policy of quotas, which was similar to sanctions, Italy decided to act, to supervise and reduce imports, to regulate imports with exports country by country, by well-defined agreements, and to promote a national technique of production, so as to guarantee to the nation independent of fundamental raw materials.

CHANCELLOR AND SAORSTAT

Mr. Neville Chamberlain, British Chancellor of the Exchequer, referring in a speech at Glasgow to the League and Italy, said that he could not recollect any action since the war when there had been such complete unanimity in all parties of the British Empire with a policy with which many of them might seem to have little direct concern.

Three Fighting

ITALIANS BIG DRIVE

There is dirty work in Abyssinia where Italian armies are advancing with the help of all the deadliest appliances of modern warfare—tanks, bombs, aeroplanes, gas, etc.

General Graziani has 5 divisions of troops all highly mechanised in Ogaden.

This mobile army, reinforced by aeroplanes and 350 tanks of all grades, had its base line for months between Damot and Ual-Ual along a line of water holes.

Whippet tanks and light troops had been skirmishing with Abyssinian irregulars forming screen troops in the desert for two days before Saturday's dash began.

When the force moved onward the massed Italian warplanes spread death and terror throughout the trackless desert, and survivors of the Abyssinian irregular troops are now pouring back chocking to death from a new poison gas.

No concentration of troops or hutment town appeared to have escaped. Gas and high-explosive bombs ranging from 2,500lb. in weight were rained from the sky.

At Daror, 25 miles west of Sasa Baneh, seven mosques were demolished, while the dead, including civilians are believed to total 4,000.

Behind the aeroplanes came tanks belching liquid flame shells from quick firers and hail of machine-gun bullets.

The tanks are now skirmishing beyond the line Deenleh, Kabrin, Beridaleh, and Masara, and are gradually feeling their way north-east, clearing a path for the troops, who have reached the line mentioned.

This represents an average penetration of 31 miles from the Damot-Ual-Ual line.

The Abyssinian dead as the result of fighting in this area are stated now to exceed 18,000, but vast reserves of man power concentrated in Ogaden, around Harar, Jigjiga, and Tomsa, have yet been untouched.

Here an army of more than 200,000 is concentrated, the Abyssinian commanders having foreign military advisers like the Turkish war-general, Wehib Pasha, the German von Loeben, and the Germano-Turkish officer Radir Pasha.

All are under the strict orders of the Emperor to defend only the edge of the plateau and the mountainous country.

The Abyssinians are stated to be well supplied with small arms, ammunition, and the regular troops fairly completely equipped with gas masks.

But this army travels extremely light, without guns or food convoys and but the scantiest of baggage trains.

The effect of gas, liquid flame, tanks and aeroplanes on such an army remains to be seen.

RT. REV. MGR. BYRNE AND DANCING HALLS.

In the course of his sermon to a large gathering of the Men's Confraternity of the Sacred Heart, at Ballybricken, Right Rev. Monsignor Byrne, P.P., referred to the question of public dancing on Sundays.

"There is a movement on at present in our midst," said Monsignor Byrne, "which aims at devoting a big portion of the Sunday to public dancing. I would remind you that the law of sanctification, lasts from midnight on Saturday night to midnight on Sunday. We have in the city, generally speaking, a tradition which I regard as of the most valuable character, and which I fear will be destroyed if public dancing—and that of the modern kind—be established on Sundays. The tradition I refer to is opposed to entertainments, such as public dances, public cinemas, public theatres, etc., and I do most positively maintain that this tradition, if done away with, will dispense with a most valuable help to the maintenance and fostering of the Christian spirit in our private and public life. It is said," continued Monsignor Byrne, "that young people are clamouring for public dancing and the rest. If so, it is deplorable that our valuable tradition has to go down before them."

SURCHARGE REMITTED.

A letter was read from the Department of Local Government and Public Health at a meeting of the Waterford Mental Hospital Committee of Management, which said: "The Minister has had under consideration the appeal against a surcharge of £23 14s. 4d., made by the auditor at the last audit of the accounts of the Joint Committee of Management of the Waterford District Mental Hospital in respect of a payment of an account after the statutory period in which it should have been decided that the surcharge was lawfully made, but in view of the circumstances under which the expenditure was incurred, he has directed that the surcharge be remitted."

MIXED MARRIAGES IN SCOTLAND

A petition is to be presented to the 1933 General Assembly of the Church of Scotland calling on it "to take such action as might be thought fit for the benefit of the people of Scotland" in connection with marriages between Protestants and Catholics. A recommendation by Hamilton Presbytery is that ministers warn members "that it is most inadvisable to consider marriage with any person of Roman Faith because of the strictness of the N. Temere Decree."

Farming Operations

DEPARTMENT'S REVIEW

The Department of Agriculture states that the weather during the month of September was for the most part broken, wet and stormy, and was on the whole the most unfavourable experienced in any September for many years.

In some parts of the country the heavy rains and high tides caused considerable flooding. Fortunately, harvesting operations had been brought to a more advanced stage than usual by the end of August, and although there was a good deal still to be done in September, the carrying out of which was retarded by the rain, yet the work was eventually completed in a reasonably satisfactory manner.

Pastures, which had become very bare during August, benefitted very considerably by the heavy rains in September, and afforded good keep for livestock, all classes of which were reported to have been maintained in good health and condition. Milk yields of dairy cattle were up to normal for the season.

Reports from all parts of the country indicate that the year was exceptionally favourable for hay, and the crop proved the most satisfactory obtained for some years. The yield was up to the average and the quality exceptionally good. Prices for first crop hay during September ranged from 47s. to 65s. per ton. All cereal crops were well saved.

A large proportion of the wheat crop was threshed during the month but the work was retarded to a considerable degree by the unfavourable character of the weather. Threshings so far, indicate that the final yield will probably be about up to average. The quality of the grain continued to be generally excellent, and the bushel weight well above average. The exceptionally keen demand for this year's wheat continued throughout the month and in many cases prices above the fixed minimum were paid for supplies.

The indications from the threshings of the oat crop point to a higher general yield than last year and the grain is generally of good quality. Comparatively little oats had been marketed up to the end of the month, and the market had not developed sufficiently to reveal steady prices. Values for the lots marketed varied at different centres from 8s. to 10s. per barrel for white, according to quality and district, with about 1s. less for black.

The barley crop appears to have done unusually well. The yield was heavy and the quality of the grain generally good although some reports of unfavourable colour were received. Prices paid for malting barley generally corresponded with the minimum prices fixed according to the bushel weight.

Potatoes—Main crop potatoes made satisfactory progress during the month. Blight was to be seen on practically all potato fields, and in some cases was reported to have done appreciable damage to the crop. The tubers generally, however, are reported to be of good table quality and the yield promises to be about average. The demand for seed for export has been exceptionally keen this year, and home producers would be well advised to book their orders before the supply has become exhausted.

All root crops benefitted by September rains and made good progress during the month. Mangels, although in many cases a rather uneven crop, will probably bulk up to the average. Turnips are not so satisfactory and it is feared that yields will be below average. Sugar beet did exceptionally well in most cases and promises to come well up to the standard of the 1934 crop.

The various provincial fairs held during the month were of average dimensions, and were well supplied with cattle. The following quotations may be regarded as representing the average range of prices realised during the month for the various kinds of stock mentioned:—Calves, under one month, from 10s. to 21 12s. 6d. per head; calves 1 to 9 months, 21 1s. to 22 10s.; first-class stores, 9 to 12 months, 22 15s. to 24; first-class stores 12 to 15 months, 23 10s. to 25 15s.; first-class stores 15 months to 2 years, 25 5s. to 27 15s.; first-class stores 2 to 3 years, 26 10s. to 210 10s.; first-class stores, 3 years and over 27 7s. 6d., to 210; first-class fat bullocks and heifers, 28 7s. 6d., to 212 5s.; best fat cows and bulls 24 10s. to 28; choice springing cows and heifers, 210 to 214; choice Down calved cows, 28 to 244. 6s.

Sheep flocks were maintained in good health and condition generally. No reports of disease were received from any quarter. Markets were well supplied during the month. Fat sheep realised 20s. to 43s. each, fat lambs, 19s. to 30s. each, with higher prices for lots of exceptional quality.

The number of pigs marketed at the various centres in Saorstad Eireann during the month of September was about the same as that in August. Average prices for pigs suitable for the bacon curing industry varied around 45s. per cwt., d.w., during the month, equivalent to 33s. 6d. per cwt. on the live weight basis. Bonhams were in steady supply at values ranging from 42s. to 23s. each, according to age, quality and district. Breeding stocks were well maintained.

Trade in horses continued active during the month. Good farm horses were in demand at prices according to quality, ranging up to £25 each. There was no change in the prices realised for hunters and troopers.

The supplies of milk reaching the creameries during September, although showing the normal seasonal decline, were well above the average. Milk delivered to creameries during August realised 4.08 per gallon with separated milk returned to producers. Milk collected in the counties adjacent to Dublin for re-sale in the city returned 5 1/2d. to 8 1/2d. per gallon to the producers.

UNUSUAL PROTEST

Seventy-one miners of Nine Mile Point Colliery, (Mon.), who remained in the pit on Saturday as a protest against the employment of eighty-eight non-unionists, resolutely refused to come to the surface. They had spent the early part of their voluntary imprisonment playing cards and catching hundreds of rats, but last night, after more than thirty-six hours underground, their lamps had burned out and they were in darkness.

The men at first declared their intention of hunger-strike until their demands were met, but eventually they accepted food which was brought by their wives and friends. Police guarded the pithead, but a crowd of 2,000 gathered in the roadway and a local band played lively music. Even after darkness fell, women and children were among those who waited on in the cold wind.

The colliery management refuse to negotiate while the men remain underground. The men are determined to continue their protest until they are taken down by their comrades, while a mass meeting of

MINERS IN PIT.

Seventy-one miners of Nine Mile Point Colliery, (Mon.), who remained in the pit on Saturday as a protest against the employment of eighty-eight non-unionists, resolutely refused to come to the surface.

When a local firm advertised in the newspapers for an office clerk at a salary of ten Chinese dollars (16s.) a month they all applied. Fifteen of the men applicants were University graduates, eighteen had a high-school education, and sixteen were unemployed teachers.

PENSION SPEED-UP URGED

The Free State Military Service Pensions Board is earning a reputation for procrastination. Tens of thousands of claims have been filed for hearing. But according to the claimants—mostly former members of the Irish Republican Army—the Board will take years to dispose of them at its present rate.

On an average twenty claims a day are investigated. It is pointed out that on this basis it will take the tribunal at least a year to deal with claims from the old Dublin City Brigade alone. Dissatisfaction with the Board's methods of investigation has become intense during the past few months. Strong representations are now to be made to Mr. de Valera.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; M. D. Broderick, M. Aherne, D. McCarthy, R. Power, J. R. Smyth, P.C.; W. O'Sullivan, T. Beausang, E. P. Lynch, R. Savage, J. Daly, B.E.; J. Forrest, J. N. R. Macnamara, solr.; Capt. C. Watson.

Fire at MacCurtainstown

The Town Superintendent reported that there had been a fire at MacCurtainstown on Sunday. The brigade with the Water Curator and he proceeded to the scene, but the fire had been extinguished and he sent the men back to town.

The Chairman said it was usual to pay the members of the Brigade £1 for attending a fire.

Mr. O'Sullivan—They all want it. The Chairman—But what work did they do? We might consider the case on its merits. I would oppose £1.

Mr. Broderick—If the fire was really serious the damage might have been heavy.

Replying to Mr. Lynch, the Town Superintendent said the fire was got under by fire extinguishers supplied by Mr. Edwards, Summout.

Mr. Daly suggested that the men be paid 10s. each.

The Chairman agreed. Mr. Troy said from the time the men left town till they got back, about an hour elapsed.

Mr. Beausang, proposed that they get £1 each. They went out in their Sunday clothes.

The Chairman said if their clothes had been damaged the Council would take it into consideration. It was not the Insurance Company that would have to pay, but the rates. He thought Mr. Daly's suggestion reasonable.

Mr. Power, seconded. Mr. Broderick said there was a regulation that the men get a £1 for going to a fire. Even if they were not at the fire they obeyed the call.

Mr. Daly proposed, and Mr. Savage seconded, that 10s. be paid.

On a show of hands, 8 were for the £1 and 5 for the 10s.

Mr. Lynch asked what about the Strand members of the Brigade.

The Town Superintendent said they were in town. He told them to go out, but the fire had been extinguished before they reached the scene.

By a like show of hands they also got £1 each.

The Chairman said some members seemed inclined to be very generous with the public money. Would they do the same in their private capacity?

Mr. Broderick objected to the Chairman's remarks. There was a principle involved, and those who voted for £1 were justified by the circumstances.

Michael Delacour, McCurtainstown, applied for two guineas for the use of his ladder on the occasion.

Ten shillings was granted.

Dance Applications The British Legion, applied for the use of the Town Hall for a Ciderella Dance on 16th October. Granted.

The Southern Rowing Club applied for a practice dance on the 18th. Granted.

An application by the Republican Memorial Committee was granted.

The Myrtleville Football Association Club, applied for the 13th inst. Granted.

An application by the Fianna Eireann for the same date was granted for some subsequent date.

Meat Inspection The Co. M.O.H. submitted the report of the Veterinary Inspector on his meat inspection for September. It was declared "very good."

Street Hawking A letter was read from the Wexford Corporation regarding their Regulations governing street hawking, and it was decided to apply to the Minister for Justice for permission to adopt similar regulations for Youghal.

Burial Grounds A circular was read from the L.G., regarding the maintenance of burial grounds, and it was referred to the local Joint Burial Board.

Dance License Conditions A letter was read from Messrs. Hodnett, solr., regarding the Dance License granted recently and suggested that they should draft an agreement embodying the conditions laid down by the District Justice.

This was agreed to. The Clerk said there had been a complaint regarding a recent dance, which was very boisterous and noisy, and at which, it was said, youngsters not 15 years old attended.

Mr. Power—I suggest that we put a stop to that. It was unanimously decided not to grant the hall to any body about which such a complaint would be made.

Winter Advertising A letter was read from Mr. C. O'Flynn, The Baths, suggesting the advisability of advertising the attractions of the town in winter. There was a tendency in other places to expect business in winter. Two hotel keepers—one in West Cork and one in Co. Galway—had been so successful that they were maintaining their hotels with staffs that winter. In each case they had to extend their premises—one having to arrange for 64 bedrooms as compared with 28 a year ago. Baths which used close down were now keeping open for the winter in response to numerous requests. Youghal was probably one of the

CIVIL BILLS

A number of civil bills, in which Messrs. J. L. Keane, W. R. Hodnett, and J. N. R. Macnamara, solrs., appeared, were first disposed of.

Labourers Cottage Cases Mr. J. Condon, Collector, had a number of persons summoned for possession of labourer's cottages. The arrears ranged from £3 12s. 0d. up to £5 9s. 0d., the weekly rents being 11d. and 1/.

Decrees were granted, Mr. Condon stating that extreme measures would not be taken in case any reasonable attempt at payment were made.

No Lights. Guard Carroll, charged Declan Seward, Pittown, with using an unlighted bicycle at 12.15 a.m. He was fined 2/6.

Parking Unlighted Cars The same complainant charged Messrs. R. A. Twomey and A. M. O'Brien, Cork, with parking their cars with no lights at Knockaverry.

Complainant stated that both defendants said they were not aware that they were committing an offence. The practice had been going on a long time.

They were each fined 1/- in each case. The same complainant charged John Fitzpatrick, Kilkenny, for driving a car with only one head light. He said that the wire had fused. He was fined 2/6 in each case.

Insurance Cases The Ministry of Industry and Commerce, charged John Bride, with the non-stamping of the Insurance cards of an employee, G. Nunn.

Mr. D. Casey, State Solicitor, prosecuted, and Mr. W. R. Hodnett, solr., defended.

From the statement of Mr. Casey, it appeared there was some dispute as to the period of employment.

Mr. Hodnett said his client had paid up the full amount claimed. He submitted it was a case for a nominal penalty.

Mr. McNamara, Inspector, having given evidence, defendant was fined £1.

Thos. Prendergast, farmer, was charged similarly and there was also a civil bill for £3 4s. 8d.

Defendant stated that he believed the employee in question was only 14 when he took him on and the boy's father told him that was the fact.

Mr. Macnamara having given evidence, defendant was fined £1 and costs, and a decree for £3 4s. 8d., with costs was also granted.

brightest and healthiest resorts in Ireland. It had a perfect water supply, perfect roads and general cleanliness, and was one of the most brilliantly-lighted towns in the country. All things considered it was now nearly as pleasant to stay at Youghal in winter as in summer. They had the added advantages of churches, schools, amusement halls, billiard rooms, etc., hardly to be found in a town of the same size elsewhere. He suggested that they might spend a small amount weekly in the small announcements of a national paper. With the support of such a campaign, hotels, boarding-houses, and shops, would do some business with visitors from a distance, and all the time the name of Youghal would be penetrating the minds of the public everywhere and lead to increased business in the real season. The Baths would be ready to co-operate. Youghal had something to boast about; other places made a lot of noise with far less claim. After a short discussion, the matter was adjourned.

Youghal Mental Hospital

At the usual monthly meeting of the above Board, presided by Mr. W. J. Broderick, T. M. Chairman, Very Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P., Rev. D. Dwane, C.C., and Dr. H. Twomey, P.C., Visiting Physician.

The Manager's Report read as follows:—Since last meeting three patients (1 female and 2 male) have been admitted from the Cork Mental Hospital, and one male patient has died—leaving in residence at present a total of 457 patients, (249 men and 178 women) being fully occupied in the Hospital. The Inspector of Mental Hospitals, made his annual inspection of the Institution on 29th inst. Stocktakers Inventory and Report were submitted. Contracts had been satisfactorily carried out during the month. £41 5s. 4d., had been received towards the maintenance of patients and lodged to the credit of the Mental Hospital Account.

The doctor's report was as follows:—Since my last report there has been one death. Six patients are confined to bed on the male side of the house and eight on the female side owing to debility and other causes. There has been no case of seclusion, restraint or violence. There has been no complaint of the water supply. The food supplies have been regularly examined and found up to standard requirements. There has been no case of zymotic disease and the general health of the Institution is excellent.

In his report, the Farm Steward said that the usual work for the season had been carried out. They had lifted the potatoes and found the crops very satisfactory—none black so far.

Canon Dinneen said that that was certainly wonderful considering the complaints all round.

The Chairman said from his inquiries he believed that 50 per cent. if not more of the crop was lost.

Fr. Duane said their crop was the best he had ever seen, yielding about 30 tons to the acre.

The Chairman said that one farmer told him he had been 3 days digging and got only 3 or 4 meals of good ones. They were worse than black in some parts, they were actually rotting.

The stocktakers report stated that he had found the various items in perfect order.

STRANGE OATHS

The quaint Chinese oath which necessitates the smashing of a saucer has just been employed at Lewes Police Court with a rather unfortunate result. As he broke the saucer the Chinese witness repeated: "If I do not tell the truth, may my soul be shattered as this saucer is shattered." Unhappily, in shattering the saucer, he cut his hand slightly. It is to be hoped that the picturesque oath was not followed by any more spontaneous ones unconnected with the business of the court.

A different difficulty confronted another Chinese at Liverpool when trying to take a similar oath. He flung the saucer to the floor, but instead of splintering into a hundred pieces it rebounded intact. Second and third attempts proved equally unsuccessful, and at last in desperation the witness knelt on the ground and hammered the saucer until it broke.

Much amusement was caused at Thames Court when no saucer could be found for a Chinese witness. So the usher went upstairs to "borrow" one from the office-keeper's wife. Not knowing for what purpose it was wanted she gave him one of her best from a much-valued tea service. Later when she learned its fate, the usher is said to have had "a very warm ten minutes." Sometimes a Chinese blows out a light when taking the oath and repeats that as the light is blown out, so may his soul be if he fails to speak the truth.

But strange oaths are to be found much nearer home than China. Judges—or Deemsters as they are called—on the Isle of Man take a curious oath when appointed. They swear: "by the wonderful works that God hath miraculously wrought in Heaven above and on earth beneath, I will execute the laws of the Island justly and as indifferently as the herring back-bone doth lie in the midst of the fish."

Perhaps the record number of oaths taken on one day is held by a Wealdstone police officer who was giving evidence against a man summoned for allowing fourteen cows to stray on the highway. As a separate summons had been issued for each cow the policeman had to take the oath fourteen times—practically between every sentence of his evidence.

Hindus take the oath by facing the Ganges, putting their right hand on their head and swearing by Buddha to tell nothing but the truth. Parsees hold a "holy cord" to indicate that the oath is binding. Yiddish witnesses put a hat on when taking the oath, and all women—whether Jew or Gentile—should have their heads covered when doing so. A Coventry woman who said that she never wore a hat was told in a police court that unless she did wear one she could not be sworn as a witness.

POTATOES: 30 TONS TO THE ACRE

At the fruit farm, Dysart, Mullingar, Mr. Patrick L'Estrange has, in conjunction with Mr. W. J. Young, Horticultural Instructor for Westmeath, produced a potato with a yield of 30 tons per statute acre. Some potatoes weighed up to 3lbs. 8ozs. As the potato has been raised on the shores of Lough Ennell, it is to be named after the lake.

FINE GAEL

A number of important decisions respecting national policy were taken at the quarterly meeting of the Fine Gael Executive last week.

"It is the object of Fine Gael," says a report of the proceedings "to place before the people of the country a Programme inspired by the true feelings of the people, directed by their true instincts and intelligence, and which consciously faces the clear facts of Irish life and conditions.

"Only a policy which springs from these sources, and which is so directed, will guide our country safely and securely."

"Since the time when the seriousness of the National position brought the Fine Gael organisation into being, such a policy has been shaping itself under the direction of the National Executive and Standing Committee, and has been discussed by two annual conventions.

"Every responsible portion of the Organisation has contributed something to its spirit and details.

"The condition of the country cries more imperatively day by day to every one in the organisation to give unstinted service in this work.

"It was pointed out by a number of Deputies and others that with the present world price of butter, if the economic war were settled, and there were no Government imposts to be paid, the price of milk to the farmer would be 5d. a gallon and the price of butter to the home consumer would be 11 per lb. It was urged however, that fluctuations might occur from time to time in the price of butter which would result in the farmer being unable to obtain an economic price for his milk.

"It was accordingly decided that it should be the policy of the Party to establish machinery to ensure the farmer a stable minimum price of 5d. a gallon without deduction by way of Government charges."

On the question of tillage it was declared that it was the policy of the Party to encourage tillage, but in the realisation that tillage is dependent on the maintenance of the livestock trade.

As part of this the guaranteed price for wheat should be continued, but instead of raising the difference between the guaranteed price and the market price from bread consumers the difference should be made good from the Exchequer, thereby reducing the price of bread.

The beet scheme should be continued. With regard to protective tariffs, the following outline of policy was adopted:—

"It shall be our policy to encourage the development of new and existing industries suitable to our needs, giving existing tariffs every chance of justifying their continued imposition."

The Party attitude in regard to Wheat and Beet Schemes was explained as follows:—

"While feeling that indiscriminate tariffs on any and every commodity have often resulted in penalising the community rather than benefitting it, it is obvious that neither in agriculture nor in industry can the country afford successive sudden revolutionary changes in policy. Established industries still require statutory security. Changing tariff policies prejudice stable employment, investments in industry, and efforts to mobilise necessary technique and equipment for sound industrial expansion.

"It is proposed to continue tariffs to aid protected industries and to give careful consideration to such proposals as would ensure suitable and gainful occupation to operatives in industry."

It was decided to grant complete relief to agricultural land with no increase in existing land annuity payments.

It was also agreed to maintain the Unemployment Assistance Scheme.

Other matters upon which decisions were recorded were:—

The settlement by direct negotiation with Great Britain of the financial dispute and all other matters outstanding between the two countries;

National Reconstruction Loan to be issued;

Improvement in agricultural organisation and marketing;

The provision of a scheme to ensure a living wage for agricultural labourers;

The establishment of a Ministry of Housing;

The support of the principle that the Oireachtas should include two Houses;

The retention of university representation;

The creation, subject to the Oireachtas, of Vocational Corporations for the purpose of organising more intelligently and harmoniously the economic life of the country;

The reform of Local Government; The encouragement of the Youth Movement.

TALLOW DISTRICT COURT.

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.

ASSAULT

In the case of James Moroney, Conna, against Mathew Twomey, Junr., do., for assault, one aspect of which came before the last Cork Circuit Court.

Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, for the defendant, said that he had received a letter from Mr. E. Carroll, solr., Fermoy, for plaintiff, stating that he intended withdrawing the case provided he (Mr. Hodnett) didn't ask for costs. He had replied, agreeing to the withdrawal on those terms. The case was then marked "with-drawn."

Roads Transport Case

Suprintendent Quinlan, Lismore, charged Anne Henley, West St., Tallow, with a breach of the 9th Section of the Roads Transport Act.

Mr. Hodnett, for defence said he had been instructed since he came into Court to apply for an adjournment on the ground that the principal witness was unable to attend.

The Justice—What about me?—I don't like those adjournments. How is this witness necessary? There is a perfect epidemic of adjournments in the District Courts.

Mr. Hodnett—If the case goes on, I must retire.

The Justice—What do you say, Suprintendent?

Supt. Quinlan—Our trouble is that the defendant used the lorry in the meantime.

The Justice—I am going to cure some of those adjournments by holding those Courts bi-monthly.

Finally the case was adjourned to next Court.

Licensing Case.

Supt. Quinlan, charged Margaret Colter, Barrack St., Tallow, with a breach of the Licensing Act, and Andrew Hickey, Knocknamuck, was charged with being on the premises.

Mr. Hodnett, defended.

Guard Keogh stated that at 9.44 p.m. on Sunday 25th August, he was on duty with Guard Rice and their attention was called to the premises. They knocked and were immediately admitted by defendant's husband. As they entered they heard the backdoor slam and footsteps. Witness followed and saw a person going into a neighbouring house. He returned to the premises and on a table in the kitchen he found two half-pint stout glasses and a small whiskey glass, all with fresh signs of liquor. They then searched the house and found Hickey.

The Justice—Where was he excavated from? (laughter).

Witness said they found him in a small room off the kitchen. The defendant wasn't on the premises, but her husband was in charge.

Mr. Hodnett said he wouldn't ask any questions. He was admitting the charge. He didn't appear for Hickey.

The Justice—Where is he now? Is he still concealed? (laughter).

The Guard said he lived two miles from the premises.

Mr. Hodnett said the defendant had bought those premises a short time ago and neither she nor her husband had any previous experience of the business. On the night in question she left her husband in charge and he admitted that man, who was an old friend of his. He asked the Court to deal leniently with her.

Referring to the Court, the Supt. said that the premises were well-conducted and having regard to the way the case was met, he would not press it.

The Justice, in imposing a fine of 20/-, to be recorded, said that would remind the publican of her duties.

Hickey was fined 5/-.

TALLOW V. BALLYDUFF.

Tallow met Ballyduff in the replay of the Junior Football Championship of the county at the Gaelic Field, Ballyduff, on last Sunday, which ended in an easy win for Tallow.

The game was very much hampered by the inclemency of the weather, and a good exhibition was almost impossible owing to the wet condition of the sod. A strong easterly breeze blew along from the town end and playing with this in their favour in the first half, Tallow missed some golden opportunities of scoring. The opening play was mostly in Ballyduff quarters and for ten minutes the Ballyduff defence was admirable. Ballyduff then got away playing with rare dash and combination, but O'Donoghue, Sheehan and Condon, upset the movement. Tallow next became aggressive, and brought play down field which resulted in a point. Ballyduff again attacked, Hennessey and Toomey being prominent, and the latter shot a nice point which left the scoring at half time:—

BALLYDUFF 0-1

On the turn over the Ballyduff supporters looked forward to a more productive display from their side, the wind being an asset, but for the first ten minutes thrills were reversed as Tallow seemed to play a better game against the breeze. T. Donoghue and Sheehan provided fine spectacular play at centre field, and T. O'Donnell was conceded ground to raise a major flag which was quickly followed by a point for Ballyduff per Toomey. Hennessey figured prominently in the back-line for Ballyduff and upset several well-devised movements. Tallow were now commanding the play and J. Ryan rushed a goal from a pass by P. Sheehan. Just before the full time whistle Casey added another point to Tallow's register which left the scoring:—

TALLOW 2-1
BALLYDUFF 0-2

LISMORE BOY SCOUTS—

WHIST DRIVE.

The Whist Drive in aid of the funds of the Lismore Boy Scouts, held in the Town Hall, on Sunday night, was well supported by the people of Lismore, Cappoquin and Tallow, and provided an ideal night's entertainment for all who took part.

The Lismore Boy Scouts are but two years in existence, and their founder Rev. Fr. Murphy, C.C., Lismore, deserves the greatest credit for the wonderful discipline he has infused into both the younger and older members of the organisation. The Lismore Boy Scouts and Girl Guides wish to extend their sincerest thanks for the generous measure of support they received on the occasion of Sunday night's Whist Drive. There were 72 players present (representing 18 tables) and the whole night's entertainment was run off without a hitch in the hands of Mr. J. Ross, who acted as M.C.

The prizes supplied by local townspeople were unusually attractive and valuable. The winners in the Ladies class were—First prize (Embroidered Hand-bag)—Miss M. Condon, Lismore; Second prize (Jumper)—Miss B. Ormonde, Lismore; third prize (Plated Sugar Bowl)—Mrs. M. Byrne, Lismore. Ladies Number Prize (Box of Chocolates)—Miss C. O'Donnell, Lismore. Lowest score (Vanity Case)—Miss Scully, Lismore.

Gent's Class—First prize (Cutlery and Case)—Mr. M. Byrne, Lismore; second prize, M. McCarthy, Bishops-town, Lismore (Rug); third prize—Mr. J. Brown, Lismore (Box Cigarettes); Number prize (Watch)—Mr. J. Burke, Tallow; Lowest Score (Box Toffees)—Mr. J. Noonan, Lismore.

A running buffet took place after the Whist Drive and the Lismore Girl Guides, deserve the greatest credit for the efficiency they displayed in this department.

Rev. Fr. Murphy, thanked the players who participated in the Whist Drive, and the prizes were then distributed to the respective winners.

FREE STATE ALARM AT INCREASE OF BLIND

Blind welfare workers in the Irish Free State are alarmed at the increasing number of blind people, especially the very poor blind, that are being "discovered" in the country, and are appealing to the Ministry for Industry and Commerce to take an official census of their numbers.

In the Dublin area 422 persons were registered as blind in 1928, and now this number has more than doubled, being 952. In Cork, the only other area where a semi-official register is kept, the number of blind persons in 1930 was 25, and is now 130.

This is alarming both the welfare workers and the authorities. The distribution of wireless sets to the blind and the courtesy of the Civic Guards has brought to light the existence of many hundreds of blind people in remote parts of the country.

HOW FIREMAN SAVED BURNING TREE

Singapore firemen were presented with the problem when called to a blaze among the leaves of a very high coconut tree caused by the heat of the tropical sun.

The water from the hose would not reach to the top branches, so one of the firemen, a Malay, filled his rubber top-boots with water, suspended them round his neck, climbed up the trunk and put the fire out by pouring the water into the centre of the blaze.
