DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

SHANDON ROAD

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, V.C., J. Hayes, P. Byrne, P. O'Dwyer, J. Dahill, J. Foley, J. Crotty, M. Clancy, J. Butler, P. Quarm, J. Christopher, M. Connors.

Pay Sheets

The general account amounted to £28 7s. 2d. Grant Account £36 os. 2d. Payments were passed.

Children's Health Committee

Before proceeding with the business of the Council a meeting of the Children's Health Committee was held, and after payments were passed, Mr. J. Foley proposed and Mr. Crotty seconded, a vote of sympathy Miss Forde, Chairman of the committee on the death of her mother.

Mr. Butler said that Miss Forde had been connected with the Children's Health Committee for a long time and she was a splendid worker on that committee. He deeply regretted the death of her mother.

Other members associated themselves with the resolution which was passed in silence.

Plot Holders

The Secretary of the Plot Holders Association submitted 46 names for plots for the coming year.

The Council decided going on with the scheme.

Workers Grievance

A letter was read from John Kirby, Blackpool, complaining that he was told by the B.S. to go to work on Wednesday at stone-breaking but the foreman told him he could not work as he was not on the list.

The B.S. stated that the foreman had orders that no man should be allowed to work unless he had a docket. This man got a docket from him at 1 o'clock on Wednesday and had since only broken about one wheel-barrow of stones. There was a John O'Shea also not allowed to work until he got a docket.

Mr. Hayes said that he at first thought the men should have been allowed to work. Perhaps the men did not know about the docket.

B.S.—All the men knew they should have dockets and I issued 15 dockets to men late on Tuesday night. These men would have got dockets if they had come for them.

Mr. Byrne—I claim that the B.S. should have given the men dockets when he told them to go to work.

B.S.—I only gave the dockets out the night before.

Mr. Byrne—You were talking to Kirby and O'Shea on Tuesday and you should have given them dockets then.

B.S.—If the men came for dockets they would get them.

Mr. Byrne—These men did not know that they should have dockets and you should have let them know. I hold Kirby and O'Shea were led into a trap.

Mr. J. Foley—What kind of a trap?

Mr. Byrne—To embarrass them financially.

Chairman—The employing of the men was let in the hands of the B.S., there must be some kind of system, and not like last year when things were all messed up. The B.S. invented this system of dockets and no man was supposed to be working until he had this docket.

Mr. Dahill—Kirby could break more than 3 loads in half a day.

The B.S. said he did not want to keep the men out of a job. They got the dockets when they came for them. He did not object to the men being paid but objected on principle. There should be some discipline.

Mr. McCarthy said that the men may not have known about dockets and they should have the foreman before them to explain.

It was decided to have the foreman before the meeting on next Friday night and the matter was accordingly adjourned.

Arranmore Disaster

An acknowledgment was received from the P.P. of Burtonport for having received £81 ros. 2d., the result of the recent collection for the Arranmore Disaster Fund.

Dances

The usual applications for the use of the hall for dancing were granted.

Loughmore

A complaint from a resident of Loughmore regarding the fireplace in his house was referred to the B.S.

Shandon Road

The Department acknowledged the resolution re the Shandon Road and stated that a 50 per cent. grant would be given but the conditions mentioned in their previous letter should remain.

Chairman—They want us to hand the roads to Mr. Bowen. There must be something done to the road, but the majority of the Council are against handing the roads over to Mr. Bowen. We should however, consider the matter carefully.

it would be a pity to lose the 50 per cent. grant which would amount to about £2,000.

Mr. Byrne—There are plenty stones to be got in the Clearance Area, and why not use them out.

J. Foley—You have also to consider the ability of the ratepayer to pay.

Mr. McCarthy said that if the roads were handed over the men now employed would be holding up the street corners.

The letter was marked noted and the doing of the road deferred.

Minister's Promise

The Secretary to the Minister for L.G. and P.H. wrote stating that the Minister wished him to state in reply to a letter from the Council that the Council was under a misapprehension regarding a statement that the (Minister) was supposed to have made in Dungarvan last year. The Minister on that occasion said that a substantial grant would be given for water and sewerage and did not say that a 50 per cent. grant would be given. The Minister would act up to that promise and a substantial grant would be given. He wished that the water scheme be carried out with the least possible delay.

The Chairman said he was very definite that he heard the Minister state that a 50 per cent. grant would be given, and the other officers and members of the Council present were also very definite that he did make that statement. He was glad the statement was made at a public function for the people there heard and understood the statement. He would be for making the Minister act up to that promise. He had made inquiries for reports of that speech of the Minister's, but so far did not get it. He was in communication with the "Cork Examiner" and might be able to get a copy of the paper on which the speech was reported. He was sure the Minister said that a 50 per cent. and not a substantial grant. It is for the Council to hold out.

Mr. Butler—The Council should reply on the statement made by the Chairman.

Mr. Clancy suggested that a letter signed by the officers and members of the Council who heard the statement should be sent to the Minister. That ought to convince him that the statement was made. He admired the Chairman's attitude.

It was agreed that a letter signed by those who heard the Minister's statement be sent to the Minister, and if possible the Press report of the speech be also sent.

Reducing Rents

A letter from the L.G.D. stated that the rents of the Loughmore houses could not be lowered.

Minit Dirt Test

The V.S. submitted the result of minit dirt test carried out by him as follows:—
Martin Kelly, Kilgobinet—Satisfactory;
John Greene, Burgery—Fair.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

Death of Master Walter Barron
Much regret was felt in Cappoquin when the sad news reached here last week of the death of Master Walter Barron, second son of Mr. Hugh Barron, South Circular Road, Dublin.

Deceased, who was only in his 17th year, was a brilliant student and gave every promise of a most successful career, had he been spared.

His father, Mr. Hugh Barron, is son of Mrs. Barron and the late Mr. John Barron, Cappoquin, and is brother of Mr. J. J. Barron, Cappoquin, Mr. Joe Barron and Miss H. Barron, do., and is held in very high esteem by all who know him.

The Bacon Factory
There was a vastly increased supply of Porkers for the Cappoquin Bacon Factory last Monday which proves that this latest addition to the other activities of the Factory is already assured of success.

The price paid on Monday was 54/- per cwt., dead weight, for Porkers weighing 6 stone, with proportionate reductions in the case of heavier pigs.

From an advt. in this issue it will be seen that there will be no killing of either Porkers or Bacon Pigs next week, owing to the Xmas Holidays, but business will be resumed on Dec., 30th.

A Brilliant School Girl
In last week's issue of "The Standard," the name of Miss Maggie Gallagher, Convent School, Cappoquin, appears as a winner of a Children's Crossword Puzzle in that paper. This young girl of 13 years, won a competition for the best "Original Letter of Invitation" in the "Irish Catholic" several months ago and the Sisters of Mercy have reason to be proud of having such a clever pupil. She is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Gallagher, Barrack Street, Cappoquin, and she deserves to be warmly congratulated.

No Court Next Week
As the December Court day falls this year on Thursday, 26th (St. Stephen's Day), there will be no Court held on that day and all cases listed for hearing will stand adjourned to the next Court on January 23rd.

DEATH OF MR. M.L. O'BRIEN, GRALLAGH, GRANGE.

We deeply regret to announce the death of Mr. Michael O'Brien, Grallagh, which occurred at his residence on Sunday last, 19th inst., in his 58th year after a brief illness fortified by the rites of the Church.

The late Mr. O'Brien, was one of the largest and best-known and most practical farmers in the Co. Waterford. He had all the attributes of the splendid type of Irish farmer of the old school, now unfortunately becoming so rare, and he played his part during life with that wonderful courage and sound common sense which was so characteristic of him.

Of powerful build and commanding appearance, he cut an imposing figure wherever he went, but it was his great sense of justice and fair play which endeared him to all. Prominently associated with the public life of the county, and deeply versed in the Farmers' interests, as in all that went to make them prosperous and independent, he was ever ready to lend a helping hand to his neighbours on the hard road of life.

When it was found necessary to start a Farmers' Union in the County about 18 years ago, Mr. O'Brien, threw himself heart and soul into the movement, and late and early he worked for its success, addressing meetings of his fellow-farmers up and down the county, attending conferences about same and generally straining every nerve to infuse into the farmers in globo some of that intense enthusiasm with which he felt aglow so that they might by co-operation and cohesion better their general conditions.

He was a convincing speaker with a ready wit and copious diction, and his addresses at public meetings were always listened to with the closest attention. Even those who differed from him were convinced of his sincerity and his honesty of purpose. And he could fight. Knowing the justice of the cause he espoused, he fought with heroic daring to carry his point, clenching his arguments with sound solid reasons. The great success of the Co. Waterford Farmers Union was certainly due in large measure to Mr. O'Brien, and the example he set for his fellow-farmers.

In the development of the Dungarvan Co-Operative Creamery and its branches, Mr. O'Brien again proved his worth, and as a member of the Executive Committee gave the undertaking the benefit of the sound practical common sense and far-seeing commercial acumen which he possessed in a high degree.

In the realms of sport he was a prominent figure. As a horse man and a Judge of a good hunter he had few equals. All his life he was a keen follower of the various packs of hounds in the County. And from 1915 to 1919 he was Master of the West Waterford Hounds and he gave the best of sport. He was a daring and fearless rider, who sat his horse with dignity and style, and was a genuine persona grata at every meet. In social life he had the heart of a child and was one of the most loveable of men with a charming manner and gentle disposition. He will be badly missed in the public, sporting and social life of the county for his like we shall not see again for many a day. A patriot who loved his country and who fought its constitutional battles under Parnell and Redmond; a friend of the people whose interests he ever watched with eagerness, the enemy of sham and humbug, the name of M.L. O'Brien, Grallagh will long live in the public memory.

To-day his countless friends in this and the neighbouring counties mourn his passing and extend their sympathy to his bereaved widow and young family and relatives.—R.I.P.

On Monday evening the remains were removed to the Parish Church, Grange. The cortege was a most imposing one including not only the public of the surrounding parishes in full strength; but hundreds of motor cars from all parts of the counties Waterford, Cork, Tipperary and Kilkenny, conveying mourners anxious to pay a last tribute of respect to the memory of a great man.

On Tuesday morning after the celebration of Requiem Masses for the repose of his soul the interment took place in the adjoining churchyard in the presence of his family, relatives, friends and an extremely large and representative attendance of the general public, who came from near and far to pay their respects to the memory of as fine a type of Irishman as ever lived.

CY.M.S. FOR CARRICK

Spacious rooms have been secured at Mass St. for the newly established branch of the Carrick-on-Suir C.Y.M.S. The branch will be inaugurated early in the New Year.

The Annual Xmas Dance
The Annual Xmas Dance under the auspices of the Rowing Club will be held in the Boathouse Hall, on St. Stephen's Night and promises to be one of the most popular events of the season here.

Those annual dances have always proved wonderfully successful for many years past, and St. Stephen's Night in Cappoquin has come to be regarded as the best night of the year.

Waterford Man Charged With Attempted Smuggling... On landing from the Fishguard mail boat at Rosslare Harbour on Tuesday...

Death Of Mrs. M. Galvin... The death of Mrs. Margaret Galvin, wife of Mr. William Galvin, farmer, Lave East, Nire, occurred last week in her 74th year.

Again On The Roads... Was it not during the Great War that the "luck letter" superstition started? We thought it had vanished, but no; an esteemed Newtown resident received one this week.

Passing By... Out of Kilmacthomas she marched, proud as a peacock! Someone whistled to her. She paid no attention. No, indeed! Someone shouted at her. Well, you never! Chin up, she kept straight on. Someone caught her by the arm, and looking down for the first time, she saw what all the hullabaloo was about.

Tobacco... Sublime tobacco! which from east to west Cheers the tar's labour for the Turkman's rest. So wrote Byron. Tobacco to him was "divine in hookas, furious in a pipe."

On The Sick List... Owing to the bitterly cold weather prevailing, many Mid-Deise dwellers are now laid up with the flu. Happily, however, none of the stricken parties are seriously affected, as the epidemic is only in a mild form in our midst, which means much to be thankful for in the circumstances.

Waterford Hounds... From the meet at Feddons Cross last week-end, and again from the meet at Holy Cross on Tuesday, followers of the above gained a series of exhilarating gallops, conditions in all respects being counted excellent.

Kilmacthomas Beagles... Regular followers of this pack are experiencing tip-top sport. Hares are plentiful on all sides, and Mr. Michael Harris (whip) has the hounds in topping trim at every outing.

Gipsies... A check on Gipsies is to be enforced in Continental countries by a process of tattooing. Here in the heart of the Emerald Isle we are able to identify a Gipsy by the fortune she promises and which does not materialise.

Hide and Seek... In nearly every household there is some particular article that has the habit of disappearing. Most families, we believe, know what it is to hunt high and low for a hat, walking stick, pair of gloves, scissors, latch key, or pen that has the annoying habit of disappearing "into the blue."

Imports From Free State... In the House of Commons on Tuesday, Mr. Morrison (Financial Secretary to the Treasury) formally announced that the Free State (Special Duties) Act 1932...

Sequel To Local Bus Mishap... The bus accident which happened near Kilmacthomas on the 16th September last was recalled at the Waterford District Court last week. Mr. F. Power, solr., (Messrs. Dobbey and McCoy) mentioned summonses which had been adjourned from the Kilmacthomas Court against the G.S.R., and the driver and conductor of the motor bus P.I.7029 for alleged overcrowding.

His Worship (Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J.) stated that the cases had been adjourned for legal argument. He was now satisfied that the vehicle in question was not a public stage coach, and he would say D.O.M. in each case. Mr. Power said the Railway Company had asked him to refer to certain remarks which his Worship passed on the hearing of the dangerous driving charge at Kilmacthomas.

At no time since the beginning of the Irish language movement was the position of spoken Irish so secure and its use so widespread among young and old in King as at present. Visitors to Ring up to a few years ago were saddened and discouraged by hearing on every side among the young and middle-aged broken English used instead of the Gaedhlig blasta of Ring.

That the Kilmacthomas shops are well stocked with suitable seasonal goods, and the shop windows are as tastefully and as attractively decorated as any elsewhere in Erin. That turkeys touched 1s. per lb. at this week's local market. That the precious Xmas birds were not as numerous in our midst this year as in former years.

That fixed trusts are still a comparatively new development in the financial system of Bonmahon. That at a second to seven on last Sunday night a Touraneena "toff" made a good-natured grimace as he approached a Nire Valley virgin who grinned and showed that she had a most engaging grin.

That Annewstown Anne's old aunt upsed to say to the Metal Man's young uncle that the only friends more costly than political friends were sporting ones. That since the 1st inst Bohadon's drollest bachelor is suffering from distressing catarrh, which is making his pre-Christmas moments miserable.

That a hen-pecked husbandman of Kilmacthomas is in a sorry state about her daughter who has been engaged for so long that the young man seems to have forgotten why. And that even in Portlaid it is already assumed that "Chechez la femma" provides the explanation of Santa Claus's determination not to include Kilmacthomas in his Xmas-Eve round of calls in Mid-Deise.

your humble correspondent extends Hearty Greetings, and a wish for a happy and Joyous Christmas. The mass readers of this newspaper may not be favoured with an abundance of the things which the world dubs good and desirable, but they possess that which is of much greater worth—the light of Faith and the gradh for their native land. Once again beneath our homely Comeraghs and Knockmealdowns the twinkling light of many a Christmas candle in the humblest abodes will bear testimony to the Faith that is in Portlaid people, to the fact that they still pay homage to their Heavenly Father, though other lands may have turned from Him to the worship of things man-made.

LISMORE NOTES

DEATH OF MR. M. O'KEEFE, BALLYDEANE, GLENCARRIN.

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Michael O'Keefe, Ballydeane, Glencarrin, who died on Sunday evening after a protracted illness and fortified by the rites of the Holy Church.

Deceased had lived more than the allotted span of years laid out for man, and died as he lived in a peaceful and happy manner. The late Mr. O'Keefe was an upright, honourable man, and a practical farmer who by his amicable manner had made hosts of friends. He has gone to his eternal reward, and those who worked with him, as well as the many who loved him for his simplicity and homely manner will fervently pray for the eternal repose of his soul.

Deep sympathy is extended to his bereaved sons and daughter in the great loss they have sustained by his death.

On Monday evening the remains were removed from his late residence to St. Carthage's Cathedral, Lismore, and were followed by a large and representative cortege. DEATH OF MR. J. WILLOUGHBY, CHAPEL ST., LISMORE.

It is with feelings of regret we chronicle the death of Mr. John Willoughby, Chapel Street, Lismore, who passed away after a brief illness at his home on Thursday, December 12th, fortified by the rites of the Holy Church.

His demise removes from the town and the surrounding districts its best and most lovable character. He was universally popular, both for his charm of manner, and the help he rendered to others when the chance came his way, to assuage their sorrows and sufferings.

Rich and poor alike deplore the loss and he will be missed by everyone who valued a genuine, sincere, unselfish and kind-hearted friend.

To his bereaved brother and members of the family the deepest sympathy is extended in their bereavement.

On Friday evening, the remains were removed from his late residence to St. Carthage's Cathedral, Lismore, and were followed by a large and imposing cortege. On Saturday morning the funeral took place to the Old Cemetery, Lismore, where the interment took place. Improvements to Footpaths at Lismore.

The residents of Lismore should indeed feel grateful to Mr. Bowen, Co. Surveyor, for the new scheme he has inaugurated for the repairing of footpaths in the town. As well as giving employment to a considerable number of men, it has also filled the missing link to the beauty of the town. John O'Sullivan, Lismore, has ably supervised all the work done in the town and the surrounding districts within the last 14 or 15 years, and the residents of the town should highly appreciate the work done at present for their convenience under his expert supervision.

An old gentleman who got tripped up while trying to cross the ballroom, remarked, as he slowly crawled to a perpendicular, that it was always pleasing to be thrown in the company of young people.

The curiosity of a child of five had been aroused by seeing a magnifying glass. "How many times does it magnify," asked a gentleman, thinking to puzzle him. "As many times as you look through it was the quick reply."

A Joke for Everyone—

What is love somebody want to know. Love, my friend, is thinking that you and the girl can be an eternal picnic to each other.

A celebrated lawyer said that the three most troublesome clients he ever had were a young lady who wanted to be married; a married woman who wanted a divorce, and an old maid who didn't know what she wanted.

When a young man in Ohio went to a neighbour's dairy to see his sweetheart.

who had charge of the institution, and asked timidly of the old man, "How is the milkmaid?" "The old man said, "I don't know. Our milk isn't good—it is from cows."

CO. KILKENNY FARMERS STATEMENT IN EXAMINATION ORDER.

When at Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday, John Murphy, a native of Co. Kerry, who has a farm at Ounang, Co. Kilkenny, was examined by Mr. Power, solr., as to his means in respect of money due to Messrs. Sheeh and Howe, Auctioneers, defendant said his land would not support a snipe. He has not a penny in all the world.

Mr. Power—Is it better land than the land in Kerry?

Defendant—You can have it for 2s. 6d. an acre.

Mr. Power—You can afford to get drunk and kick up rows in Carrick.

Defendant—I drank when I had money, but I have not a penny now.

Justice—Could you pay 10s. a month?

Defendant—No, nor is a month.

The Justice made an order for payment of 10s. a month.

Mr. Power—If he goes to Ballybricken goal he will find the money to pay.

£10 FINE FOR FAILING TO SUPPLY COMPANY RETURN

At Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday Mr. McCabe, D.J., fined the Davin Park Sportsfield Committee £10, with 4s costs and 4s witness's expenses, for having failed to supply to the Registrar of Friendly Societies and Companies, the required annual returns showing the shareholders, capital, etc.

SHOPKEEPERS CONDEMNED FREE GIFTS

Carrick-on-Suir Traders Association has asked for the co-operation of other branches in Ireland in asking the Government to insert a clause in the Traders' Registration Bill prohibiting shopkeepers from giving free gifts to customers of articles outside the scope of the Trade, for which they are registered.

JUSTICE ON MILK PROSECUTION IN RESPECT OF CREAMERIES

In a case at Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday, in which Guard Nolan, Pillown, summoned Jas. Butler, a farmer for offering for sale at Pillown Creamery milk found on analysis to have been 17.8 per cent. of added water.

Defendant said he had never in any way interfered with the milk he supplied to Creamery. It would be no advantage to him to do so, as he was paid by Creamery on the result of their analysis of milk.

If water was found it must have got there by the cover having been removed during rainy weather.

The Justice said no one would be more severe than he would be in cases of adulteration of milk supplied to Hospitals, Co. Homes or other institutions or for Householders. He had stated on several occasions and he repeated that statement that these prosecutions in respect of milk supplied to creameries are vexatious and unnecessarily expensive and serve no good as the suppliers to creameries are paid on results in respect of fats etc. The Guards should go to creameries and have quite an easy time talking to neighbours there and looking at morning papers might extend their energies in testing milk supplied to homes and hospitals. He fined defendant 2/6.

Mr. Harle, Solr., for Kilkenny Co. Council, said the Council were pressed by Department to go on with these cases. It should be remembered that creameries sell the skimmed milk to their customers and if the milk is adulterated by adding water the skim milk suffers.

Justice—I would like to be convinced of that. It might change my view.

DEATH OF MISS K. M. FORDE, DUNGARVAN.

We regret to chronicle the death of Miss K. M. Forde, which took place at her residence, Emmet street, Dungarvan, on Friday morning. Her demise was followed by a wide circle of friends and acquaintances with feelings of profound regard and the consciousness of a touching bereavement. She had been ill for months past and in spite of every care and attention passed to her eternal reward fortified by the rites of Holy Church.

Deceased was a most devout Catholic and a lady of outstanding qualities, and she enjoyed the esteem, confidence and respect of all who knew her and appreciated her virtues and good qualities. Belonging herself to an old-established and well-known County Waterford family, she had a host of relatives and friends. This fact was made abundantly manifest on the occasion of her funeral on Sunday last. Deceased was relict of the late Mr. James Forde, who for many years ably performed the duties of Clerk to Fermoy Union. She was sister of Rev. Mother Gertrude, Presentation Convent, Dungarvan, and the late John Curran, Ballinacoma, Clashmore. She was mother of Mr. Jack Forde, Manager of the Clonmel Greyhound Racing Track, and of Miss May Forde, who is well-known as a social worker in Dungarvan.

Her remains were removed to the Parish Church on Friday evening and were accompanied by a large cortege of all creeds and classes which showed the esteem in which the late Mrs. Forde and her family are held.

The funeral took place on Sunday after 11 o'clock Mass to the family burial ground, Clashmore. Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., read the last prayers prior to the funeral starting. The funeral cortege assumed proportions that furnished a striking tribute to her memory. Mourners and sympathisers were present from all parts of the County and outside it and the long line of motor vehicles that made the journey to Clashmore was convincing testimony to the public sense of loss at the passing of one of the most respected residents of the town.

The officiating clergy at the graveside were—Rev. Fr. Murphy, P.P., Rev. P. Walsh, C.C., Rev. Father Hartly, C.C.

The chief mourners were—May G. Forde, (daughter); John Forde (son); Charles Curran, (brother); Mrs. M. Clancy, Mrs. T. Connerly, Miss Madeline Duggan, (nieces); J. H. Curran, P. Duggan, M.D., W. JUSTICE ON MILK PROSECUTION IN RESPECT OF CREAMERIES

LOCAL AFFAIRS

GREETINGS

To Our Readers at home and abroad we tender our warmest wishes for a Happy Xmas and a Bright and Prosperous New Year.

C. B. S. DUNGARVAN

On many occasions in the past we have referred to the great educational work of the Christian Brothers, Dungarvan for generations of the youth of the town and surrounding districts. These encomiums were richly deserved. But in this issue to-day will be found the results of the various examinations of 1935 in which the intellectual achievements of the students and the marked ability of the Professorial Staff stand forth as the peak-point in academic endeavour.

Dungarvan will never forget its debt to the self-sacrificing Brothers for all they have done for its youth adown the years, and as the days roll on and their Educational successes increase, that indebtedness will grow the more, judged on the results of the year 1935.

On behalf of the general public we tender to the good Brothers, their Teaching Staff and pupils our warmest appreciation, and hope that the wonderful educational achievements of this year are only the forerunner of more and more super excellent results yet to come, and that under the able direction of Rev. Brother MacMahon and his brilliant Staff, the name and fame of the C.B.S. Dungarvan, will go on from success to success.

The general arrangements were admirably carried out by the members of the sub-committee and Hon. MODERN EDUCATION
VIEWS OF LORD Wm. BERESFORD

Presenting prizes at the annual Speech Day at Bishop Foy School, Waterford, Lord William Beresford said, admiringly, that he was a most unsuitable person to perform this office, as during his school career he thought he only received two prizes, and as far as he remembered one of these was for the boy who appeared to work hardest in his form, but he failed to give any proof of his exertions when the end of term examination came off. As a result he never took much notice of what was said by a person who distributed prizes, and so they must forgive him if he did not say orthodox words on this occasion. He was delighted to hear the examination results were so good. It reflected very great credit not only on the competitors themselves but on the head master and staff of the school.

In addition to its other honours they had gained first place in Irish in all Ireland, and that was something of which the whole school should be proud. They all, he said, held different views of the methods which should be employed in reviving the Irish language, and the benefits to be derived from the revival, but for the present it appeared to be the wish of the majority of their countrymen, and it was, therefore, the apparent duty of the minority to co-operate wholeheartedly in the experiment. Their Bishop, speaking a few weeks ago in Dublin, said—"We stand very grave risk of becoming aliens in our own country if we do not do so." He (Lord William) was, therefore, glad to see this school was doing its full share.

There was, however, another aspect of the matter which he was sorry to see. The study of Irish language appeared to be killing the study of foreign languages. In the leaving certificate, out of 1,300 boys who entered, little more than a hundred took French, and in the Intermediate certificate, out of 3,500 boys who entered, only 633 took French, four German, and two Spanish. It was usual for boys and girls of school ages to feel there was not much point in learning foreign languages. In that attitude he would suggest they were wrong. They could not possibly tell what this life had in store for them, and a knowledge, say, of French, might be invaluable in their profession in years to come. His Lordship said he had the good fortune to travel a good deal in recent years, and he had been astounded how useful French was in countries outside France, like Greece, Egypt, Yugoslavia, and also in French Colonies and Protectorates such as Tunis and Algeria. There were many other parts of the world where French was widely spoken, for instance, Canada, and he often wished he spoke it more fluently. His imperfect knowledge of it had landed him in one or two very humorous situations. His Lordship then spoke in warm terms of the Old Foyonian Association and its value in connection with the traditions of the school.

In the course of his annual report, Mr. Lloyd Lewis, M.A., Headmaster, referred to a recent Press article referring to sending children out of the country to be educated, and said he had sometimes tried to find out why Irish parents like to send their children away. Generally, it is, they think there is some special distinction attached to being at an English school. No one deny that Winchester, Marlborough, and the great public schools give a boy something that we cannot give in Ireland. They have centuries of tradition behind them, historic buildings, and beautiful grounds, and these cannot fail to impress the minds of the pupils; but how many boys and girls go to the great schools? Usually you find that they go to more or less unknown schools, whose only merit is apparently that they are not Irish. I ask parents to look at the matter from a business point of view—sheer value for money.

I claim we in Ireland give better value and better education than these lesser known schools elsewhere. I have been in public schools both as a boy and a master, and feel I can speak with authority. In Ireland there are a number of old established Protestant schools with fine scholastic traditions, our own amongst them. The majority of these schools were founded with the object of providing education at reasonable cost for the children of members of the Church of Ireland. What do we find? Great numbers of Protestants, clergy among them ignore their own schools and send their children to schools which have little or no religious teachings, and are surprised if the children develop curious beliefs. I realise that parents must have perfect liberty to do exactly as they wish in the matter, and if they are benefitting them, then there is no more to be said, but that is a debatable point. Usually the children return home discontented with life here in Ireland and inclined to look down on their former friends and indeed on their parents. I urge the claims of Irish schools on Irish people. I ask for support, not on sentimental grounds, but on sheer merit alone.

CO. WATERFORD MINING RIGHTS
 APPLICATION TO BOARD IN DUBLIN
 SURVEY WORK OFFER TO OWNERS OF LAND.

there was to be no company, as the rights were to be worked by a private concern. When he (Mr. O'Byrne) mentioned royalties, Mr. Palmer said they were too many small holdings. Everybody agreed to the scheme going on.

Offer to Owners.

Mr. Broughton Edge, mining geologist and geophysicist, giving evidence, described the terms offered to the owners of the land. The final offer provided that the prospectors should be entitled to exercise exclusive rights for two years to explore the lands, and on the completion of that period the prospectors be entitled to continue the right to explore the land for a further twelve months for the purpose of exploratory workings, subject to the payment of one shilling per acre, and if the owners grant to the prospectors a lease for a term of 99 years, the prospectors would make the owner an immediate cash payment on execution of the lease of 10/- per acre, such payment to be made whether at that time minerals had been discovered or not. The terms also provided that the prospectors would pay the owner a yearly nominal rent at the rate of 1/- per acre, payable yearly, that the prospectors should make to the owner an additional cash payment at the rate of £1 per acre of the whole area of the lands to be made in the event of minerals being mined and taken away. That the prospectors would pay to the owners a bonus calculated at the rate of £1 per acre in the land payable when the price of copper should first reach £40 per ton, payable in the event of the prospectors taking away minerals, when copper stood at or above that price, that the prospectors pay to the owners further bonus payments, at the same rate an under-identical conditions, for each first increment of £40 in the price per ton of standard copper above the price of £40 per ton. They had operations in every part of the world, and could not afford to debate this matter very long, while the other operations required to be attended to. They had at present operations in the South of France and in Greece, with which they were anxious to go on, and if they could not make progress here, they would have to start again somewhere else. They were therefore trying to save time by friendly agreements with the owners of the land. These lands were situated a considerable distance from the old mines, and under all the circumstances he considered that the terms offered were very reasonable. They did not know whether there were any minerals there or not.

Mr. J. D. Palmer, auctioneer and valuer, Waterford, said that on behalf of the applicants he saw the owners of the land involved and they were all in favour of the mining going on, but considered that the terms were unfavourable.

Mr. Palk O'Byrne, Knockane, one of the owners of the land involved, explained that the owners had held on after a mass meeting at Kill about the proposed mining.

Mr. Palmer, representing the applicants, had said, in reply to suggestions put forward, that there was not enough money in the concern to buy out the rights and that was why they offered the present proposals. The owners said that if there was not enough money to buy out the land they were quite prepared to take shares in any undertaking. Mr. Palmer then said

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; E. D. Condon, M. Ahern, R. Power, W. O'Sullivan, T. Beausang, E. P. Lynch, D. McCarthy, R. C. Farrell, Vice-Chairman, M. D. Broderick, R. Savage, J. Forrest, Capt. C. Watson, J. Daly, B.E.

Harbour Board

At the Harbour Board the Clerk was about reading the minutes of the previous meeting when Messrs. Beausang and Power objected in the absence of the Harbour Master and Collector.

The Secretary said the Harbour Master was unable to attend.

The Chairman held that the minutes should be read and it was open to any member to raise any points they wished afterwards.

The minutes were then read and signed, Mr. Beausang dissenting.

The Vice-Chairman asked had anything been done regarding his objection to the charge for the lighting of the quays.

The Secretary said the matter had been adjourned.

The Vice-Chairman said at the previous meeting he had held that it was the duty of the Harbour Master to call to the Customs Officer, ascertain what vessels had arrived and immediately inform the collector, who would then be in a position to collect the dues.

Mr. Power said he had a number of questions to put to the collector.

The Vice-Chairman thought it only fair that the collector should get some notice of the information required.

The Chairman said there should be some limit to matters discussed in order to prevent a repetition of what had occurred at the previous meeting.

On the proposition of Mr. Power, seconded by Mr. Lynch, the collector was called on to attend the next meeting of the Board.

Dance Act

Supt. Kelly Middleton, wrote with reference to the Council's letter to Sergt. Beirne, in connection with the Public Dance Halls Act, stating that the Town Clerk, as the Licencee, and not the Garda, were responsible for ensuring compliance with the conditions imposed by the District Justice, who granted the licence. The duty of the Garda was confined to detecting any violation of the Act or non-compliance with the conditions imposed by the District Justice, and the prosecution of those responsible.

The Chairman said it was evident that the regulations imposed by the District Justice in regard to the age of those taking part in some of the local dances were not adhered to. It was up to the Council to see that parties getting the use of the hall should keep out persons under 18 years.

After a short discussion it was decided to instruct the Town Supt. to visit the hall and report any breach of the regulations to the Council, who would take strict action against offenders and refuse the hall to the organisers.

Four-Roomed Houses

The L.G. wrote stating that as a number of 3-roomed houses had already been erected in the Youghal Urban Area the Minister considered that the present scheme of 28 houses should be 4-roomed houses only. Alternative tenders for the erection of these in brick and in concrete should be invited. He suggested that the Council should consider the advisability of including in that scheme the block of houses shown opposite block "C" in the lay-out. That would have the effect of reducing the "per house" development cost and would enable the scheme to be carried out with a relatively smaller loan. He enquired whether the area reserved for the E.S.B. transmission wires complied with the requirements of the Electric (Supply) Amendment No. 2 Act, 1934, and if it was being fenced as shown.

The Chairman said that was a very important letter and he suggested that it put on the agenda for the next meeting.

New Cinema

Mr. Reuber Hurst, applied for permission to run a one inch water main to his new Cinema and Mineral Water Factory in Friar street.

The application was granted unanimously.

Meat Inspection

The Co. M.O.H. submitted that the Veterinary Inspector's report on his inspection of meat during the month.

The report was declared satisfactory.

Political Prisoners

Mr. Power said that now that Christmas is fast approaching, and as the festival was the source of enjoyment in every home, mothers and fathers all of whom were naturally devoted to their children, and who would sincerely wish every available member of their families at their Christmas festival. They had there in their town young men who had been carried away by the impulse of a cause which they possibly thought was a just one, and for which they were then in prison. They had also young men throughout their country who held different political views and who were also in prison because they believed their cause to be just. While they respected every individuals political views, they didn't overlook the fact that law and order must be maintained under any Government duly elected by a majority of the people. That being so, he therefore proposed that they respectfully appeal to the President of the Executive, the Minister for Justice and the Minister for Defence to liberate all political prisoners so that they might enjoy a happy Christmas believing that such an action on the part of the Government would tend to unite our people to a sense of respect, one for the other, and imbue them with

FINE GAEL POLICY

UNITY AND RESTORATION OF MARKETS

Commissioner Cronin, speaking at Blackwater, Co. Wickford, said the unity of their country and the restoration of its markets were the two cardinal points in the Fine Gael policy. The unemployment problem must be solved—peace and prosperity are both essential to the solving of it, he said. By settling the economic war and by restoring agricultural prosperity, we hope to absorb in that industry at least 40,000 of the present 750,000 unemployed. In addition, by increasing the purchasing power of the agricultural community we hope to give a new flip to industrial development and a corresponding relief to unemployment. It must be obvious to all that in an agricultural country like ours prosperity for the agricultural community means prosperity for all. A well-balanced system of mixed farming is the ideal we aim at. It is our desire that only crops which can profitably be disposed of will be grown. At the moment, although the acreage under tillage is considerably less than it was a few years ago, a large percentage of our tillage farmers have on hands crops which cannot be disposed of at any price. Fianna Fail's way cry "More of the plough and less of the ballock," has created the situation where neither ploughing nor stock raising is a profitable occupation.

It was very characteristic of the Fianna Fail Party, he said, that when it suits their purpose they never hesitate to say one thing and do the direct opposite. Since they became Government it is no exaggeration to say that not only have they continued their claim to be the ultra-national party in this country, but they have also frequently posed as our great champions and defenders of democracy. It was under such pretext they always endeavoured to justify their various coercive measures against the Blueshirts some 12 months ago or 2 years ago. When it served their purpose then they unscrupulously and unblushingly raised the dictatorship bogey and built up a special police force and special army to defend the democratic rights of the people. Time has burst that bubble and has proved conclusively that the charges then made by the leaders of the Government against our youth organisation were entirely unjustified and without foundation. But if the Government had not then been impeded, if the Courts and the Senate had not then intervened, if both those institutions had not been there to stand between the people and the unjustifiable and irresponsible way of tyrannical passion which then threatened their most sacred rights, who can say what might have happened.

The Government would be well advised to give unbiased consideration to the situation they have created, bearing in mind all the while they will not be always governing and that nobody knows what fate is in store for this country if party spite is to be given vent to in that very reckless and dangerous manner. Is it any wonder enemies of our country would avail of such discussion to sneer at our Irish people and our Irish customs?

THE ESSE MAJOR COOKER is a continuous-burning heat storage Cooker designed to supplement the most modern range at an infinitesimal cost and will cater for the needs of big kitchens, where sudden or irregular meals are experienced. Its operation though simple and trouble free necessarily differs from any other range manufactured.

For small families a special model is manufactured at a much reduced price and the cost of fuel would not be more than £5 per year. We are prepared to instal them and give a full guarantee with every cooker installed. Special instalment system arranged if required.

40 YEARS A PUBLIC OFFICIAL

The late Mr. Peter O'Donnell, Lisadobber, Carrick-on-Suir, was for 40 years cottage rent collector for the Carrick No. 1 Rural District Council. He belonged to an old and respected Co. Wexford family, and was very popular and much respected.

a greater spirit of loyalty for their country.

Mr. Savage, seconding, said that was a splendid gesture towards peace in the country.

The Chairman said he was sure it would have the unanimous support of the Council.

THINGS I WOULD LIKE TO SEE

PROTECTOR ARCHBISHOP IN IRISH LANGUAGE.

A valued correspondent sends the following suggestions for the public good: Four County Waterford men represent in the County in the Dail. For men whom we would see frequently. Men who would know local needs and possibilities; men who would never miss an opportunity to forward our interests. Men who made the interests of County Waterford a whole-time job. Men who could say at the end of the year—"Read the list of my ten big deeds for County Waterford during the year past."

I'd like to see Dungarvan Urban Council composed of two representatives of each class in the community. Two professional men; doctors, teachers, lawyers, etc.; two unemployed men who were willing to work, two working men, two shopkeepers, two tradesmen and two women; I would have them steady; sensible people, each of whom had shown that he was capable of making good in his own sphere.

I'd like to see every working man provided with a comfortable home and at least a quarter of an acre of ground attached. His home to be apart from other houses. Advice from a Gardener-Instructor from the Vocational School to be at his disposal. The same Gardener-Instructor to keep a model plot among the Workers' Free Plots.

I'd like to see an Inspector whose duty it would be to see that every worker has a reasonable wage and works under proper conditions. With special attention to maids in domestic service. Each employer to be compelled to supply the Inspector with a return showing wages and other conditions of work of his employees.

I'd like to see every healthy able-bodied man on the dole coming voluntarily and giving one or two days labour at some form of public work, such as tree-planting, cleaning cemeteries, drainage or the like.

I'd like to see every unemployed boy and girl between the period of leaving school and 21 years compelled to undergo some regular course of Instruction. Women in cookery, needlework, music, singing and general house management; men in woodwork, gardening, or the like.

I'd like to see strong, able-bodied men and women, who deliberately set themselves out to do nothing, compelled to go into labour camps under government supervision. Should they be living on inherited wealth, I would have it so heavily taxed that they would soon be compelled to go to work.

I would like to see begging abolished in Dungarvan, and the old self-respect of its people restored. With all the charitable societies and government doles there should be no need of it. Particular care should be taken that the children of those who have made begging a profession should grow up useful self-respecting citizens.

I would like to see an agricultural College established in every county. Every owner of a large farm should be compelled to have a graduate of the College on his farm.

I would like to see a number of model Farms in every county, under Government supervision, so that the Government would have a clear knowledge of what could be expected from farmers and farmers would have models from which to copy.

TO STAMP OUT WARBLE MENACE IRISH AND BRITISH FARMERS

Representatives of the Irish Free State Northern Ireland and British Ministries of Agriculture, at the Conference which concluded in London on the 4th inst., have agreed upon the desirability of making the treatment of cattle for warble fly compulsory throughout Ireland and Great Britain and orders to this effect, it is stated, will be made by the respective Governments within the next few weeks so that the concerted campaign of extermination of the pest will commence next spring.

This decision follows an exhaustive report from the English Council of Agriculture on the subject, and a warning from the Leathersellers' Company that the market for home-produced hides may suffer permanent harm unless action is taken without delay to stamp out the fly.

The Council report states: "The annual loss on damaged hides in England alone has been estimated at upwards of £500,000; and the butcher often finds the flesh beneath the warbled areas so altered by the inflammation set up that the beef is unfit for human use."

"It will never be possible to clear the country of warble flies unless complementary action is taken in Ireland and Canada from which country we export stores."

It is believed that the new Free State regulations will require all cattle to be dressed against the fly at least three times a year, subject to rigorous inspection during the four months, March to June, during which the grubs of the warble fly are to be found just under the skin on the backs of infested cattle.

An official of the British Ministry of Agriculture said to our representative: "Although the grubs are the chief culprits, the adult flies are by no means free from blame. When flying round on the look out for a suitable place to lay their eggs they frighten the cattle, and this gadding often causes the animals to lose condition and decreases the yield of milk in cows."

"We are pointing out that it is the producers' business to see that he obtains better prices for unwarbled hides and undamaged beef than if these were warbled and damaged. He will reap a definite advantage which should go a long way to recompense him for the trouble and expenditure he will incur for two or three seasons or more before the final eradication of the pest."

"I do not know what steps the Free State authorities will take, but we have found that there is no evidence that the various washes and smears commonly recommended for use in summer are of any great value in preventing the flies from laying their eggs on the cattle."

"Preparations of derris root are very effective in destroying warble larvae. It is claimed that when carefully applied will kill practically all the warbles at a cost for materials of about one penny per head for the four applications."

ECONOMIC BENEFITS

THE FEEDING OF THE LIGHT HORSES.

There is no subject more difficult to generalise upon than the proper ration to give light horses. A man's own experience and his own observation must be the best guide. There is one hard and fast rule that should be observed, and that is, that in feeding racehorses and hunters nothing but the best old hay should, as far as possible, be used. Experience teaches that meadow hay is the kind most suitable for staple use. Seeds hay from temporary grass leys also answers, provided it does not contain too much clover.

Meadow hay of prime quality, such as is best adapted for horse feeding, is characterised by possessing a medium degree of fitness, feeling firm when handled, having a nice colour, and being perfectly sound in condition. Soundness is the most indispensable requirement in hay. The chief mark of unsound hay is dustiness. It is quite impossible to keep a horse's wind clear if dusty hay be used, where the animal is worked at fast paces. A time-honoured device for treating such unsound hay with a view to minimising its harmful effects is to open out the truss, beat it with the fork, and sprinkle some water (preferably also a little salt) over it, but, although the dustiness may in this wise be partially remedied the beneficial effect is more apparent than real and the unwholesome nature of the hay certainly cannot be entirely got rid of by these means.

Nor is chaffing the hay a real remedy for dustiness, though many horse owners believe it to be so. The traditional theory that had hay can be rendered more suitable and wholesome by cutting it up into shaft is quite fallacious. Chaffing, so to speak, only obscures the undesirable properties, so that they are no longer readily detected, but for all that they do not disappear, and, therefore, the fodder is not actually improved in quality.

Taken in conjunction with other indications, its colour affords a useful clue in judging of the quality of hay. An attractive bright green colour is always a favourable sign, because it shows that the hay has been well saved, and has not suffered deterioration either through being washed by rain or excessively scorched by the sun. Consequently, its nutritive power is fully conserved, while its natural aroma, too, can have undergone no impairment. Hay which has been much weathered during the curing process is immediately betrayed by its bad, dirty colour, and as such will have suffered more or less loss of soluble nutritive constituents, besides being lacking in nose and palatability. Even if not actually dusty, it, of course, is of inferior quality, and so should not be used in the stable for choice though cart horses may do well enough on it.

The fact of hay being slightly brown in colour, due to its having heated in the stack, need not necessarily be taken exception to, for it is quite wholesome, although it is certainly less nutritious and digestible than hay of well-preserved green colour. Horses very often evince a special partiality for brown hay, actually preferring it to green. The case, however, assumes a different aspect where such browned hay has undergone an excessive degree of heating; this, undoubtedly, is not wholesome, and in particular tends to affect the kidneys injuriously.

Broadly speaking, one may usually observe that the more heavily a horse is corned the fonder is it of hardish hay; so much so, indeed, is this the case, that when horses which get very large allowances of oats are fed on hay of a soft character they will often take to eating some of the straw provided with it.

Production by chrome tannery of box calf uppers has begun at Carrick-on-Suir tannery. Twenty-four persons have been employed there already. It is hoped that by next summer 150 hands will find work at the tannery.

WINTER LITTERS OF PIGS.
Winter litters of pigs are often more difficult to rear than those farrowed during the spring and summer months. Suitable feeding, combined with good accommodation, aid in obtaining healthy litters during the winter months. Sows suckling litters should be liberally fed so that the flow of milk may be encouraged, while fresh green food should be provided daily. It is a wise precaution to give suckling sows during the winter an ounce (about half a wineglassful) of good quality cod liver oil in their food and to include about a teaspoonful of the oil per head in the food for the young pigs, when they start to eat. The use of cod liver oil should be discontinued after the young pigs are weaned.
