CINEMA LICENSE

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday last. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, V.C., S. Hayes, P. Byrne, J. Dahill, M. Clancy, J. Christopher, P. Quinn and J. E. Foley.

Payment.
A paysheet for £19 13s. 0d., was presented and passed.

Cleaning After Fairs.
Mr. Dahill asked who was looking after the men employed in cleaning the streets after a Fair Day.

B.S.—That is sanitary work.
Mr. Dahill—Whose duty is it to look after the men and see the work is done. B.S.—I would be inclined to think it is the Sub-Sanitary Officer.

Mr. Dahill—The reason I ask is that the flags east of the chapel gate were not washed.

S.S.O.—I have told the Council over and over that it is not my duty. There is a standing order made that half the Square be washed every Fair evening. I supply them with hoses, but it won't be carried out.

Mr. Christopher—Is there nobody to tell the men what to do?

Mr. Byrne—Those men are a long time on that job and I am sure they would not leave any plate dirty deliberately.

Mr. Christopher—It is not fair to the men to have no one in charge of them.

B.S.—You might as well ask me to take charge of the scavenger.

Chairman—It would be well to have the responsibility on some official.

Mr. Hayes—Mr. Walsh says it is not his duty, and the Borough Surveyor is not a whole-time officer. There should be someone responsible.

Mr. Walsh handed to the Chairman his list of duties as S.S.O.

Chairman—The Foreman should be responsible. Who hires the men?

Mr. Christopher—The B.S.

Mr. McCarthy—The man who hires the men is responsible.

B.S.—The foreman knows what places are to be washed.

Chairman—When the work comes on again, you should instruct the foreman.

B.S.—He knows it well.

Chairman—Give him his instructions again.

Mr. Dahill—I hope the members understand that I am not finding fault with the men.

Water Shortage
Mrs. Kyne, Park Terrace, wrote complaining of the water supply to her house.

Mr. Christopher—Mrs. Kyne met me today and said 'that from their house there is no water in the Terrace.'

The Water Inspector said the pipe should be exposed and tested.

Mr. Christopher—Will you do something about it?

Water Inspector—I will get the pipe opened on Monday.

Use Of Hall
The use of the hall was granted to the following—Cathal Brugha's H. and F. Club April 10th; Ballinroad Club, April 20th., Co. Libraries Committee, May 15th.

Minit Dist Test
Mr. R. P. Byrne, V.S., reported on the result of a minit dist test taken from samples of milk.

Thomas Kelly, Mitchell street, good; Martin Kelly, Kilgobinet, fair.

Appointment Not Approved
The Department wrote with reference to the proposal of the Council to employ a nurse in connection with the immunisation of children against Diphtheria, pointing out that the Minister is not disposed to approve of the appointment of Mrs. Barron and stating that the services of the nurse employed by the local District Nursing Association should be utilised.

Chairman—They won't sanction Mrs. Barron?

Mr. Dahill—No, although the Council appointed her. The Government are not acting fair to our Jubilee Nurse who is already overworked.

Water Shortage
Rev. Mr. Going, The Rectory, wrote asking for a direct connection with the water main to his premises and stating that even with the improvements to be carried out it would be impossible for him to have a good supply as it was at present dependent on the condition of his neighbours tank which he believes is leaking. If there was a direct connection with the main this fault would be obviated.

The Water Inspector said he had an interview with Mr. Going. The connection is already off the main. He was of the opinion that what Mr. Going wanted was to have the connection from the main from a point below the connection to Beresford's tank.

Mr. Clancy said domestic supplies should come first.

The matter was again referred to the Water Inspector.

Urban Roads

A letter was read from Mr. Bowen, County Surveyor, consequent on the taking over of the Urban Roads stating that it will not be lawful for the Council or any other person to make any excavations or interfere with the surface without permission from the Co. Surveyor. All applications to be made in writing and in proper time for the necessary permission to be considered. The cost of reinstatement of any surface broken must be refunded.

The letter was marked noted.

Repairing Surfaces

Mr. Bowen, Co. Surveyor, also wrote enclosing a bill for £41 5s. costs incurred by the Co. Council in repairs of openings made in main roads by the Urban Council from 1st July, 1935 to 31st March, 1936.

The various openings were set out in detail.

Mr. Dahill—Were all the openings made in respect of water?

B.S.—Yes.

Chairman—Is there any check on these openings?

The B.S. said the Council asked him to meet the Co. Surveyor in respect of a previous account. He did so, but got no satisfaction.

Chairman—Is there a check kept on the number of yards? Take any one of the items, O'Connell street, opposite Whelan's, 11 square yards. Is there 11 square yards there. There may be 11 and there may be only 8. Have we any way of knowing?

Mr. Clancy asked would that be charged to the Roads Account?

Clerk—No; the water account.

Mr. Clancy—That should not be. It is repairs to roadway.

Mr. Christopher—It was incurred through repairs to the water supply.

Mr. Clancy held that it should be charged to the roads account.

Mr. Dahill said the only way to get over it is to put the road back in the same condition as they got it.

Mr. Quinn—As the Chairman suggested, a note of the exact measurement of each opening should be taken.

The matter was referred to the B.S.

Electricity Charges

A resolution was read from the Ennis U.D.C., protesting against the present excessive charges of the Electricity Supply Board.

Chairman—We had a resolution somewhat similar before us twelve months ago and it was adopted. There is no doubt but the charges are excessive, and I am sure all the members are in agreement.

The resolution was adopted.

Borough Boundary

A second resolution from the same body asking the Government to bring in an Act to make easy and expeditious, the procedure for the extension of Borough Boundaries.

The resolution was marked read.

Cinema Licence

The following letter was read from V. Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P.—Dear Mr. Morrissey, now that the application for a seven-days licence for the local Cinema may come before the Urban Council, I deem it my duty to renew my protest. I protest most strongly against the opening of the Cinema on Sunday nights, first because it is against the express wish of our Bishop and secondly because it violates the firm tradition that has existed hitherto in this matter. In Waterford, Clonmel and Carrick there is no question of opening the Cinemas on Sunday nights, these towns adhere faithfully to our Diocesan tradition. I appeal to the members of the Urban Council not to grant the licence for the opening of the Cinema on Sunday nights, and I ask them to fall into line with the other Catholic towns of our diocese in maintaining our strong Catholic spirit in this question.

I enclose a copy of the Bishop's letter which I will ask you to be good enough to read tonight, and which puts the matter in a clear light.

The following is a copy of the Bishop's letter:—

My dear Canon O'Brien—With much regret I have heard of the attempt which is about to be made, to have the Cinema Theatres opened in Dungarvan on Sundays. I have no objection to reasonable, becoming amusements on Sundays. Quite the contrary. I do, however, object to amusements which are not in keeping with the law requiring us to sanctify the Sunday, and Cinema displays, generally speaking, are of this nature. All moralists admit the debasing influence of the films usually exhibited, even in Ireland, where our censorship is rather strict. When the people of Dungarvan and their representatives on consideration realise this, they will not, I am sure, be the first to break with a tradition in which the diocese of Waterford and Lismore has hitherto been so firm.—Yours very sincerely,

J. KINANE,
Bishop of Waterford and Lismore.

Chairman—The application is not yet before us.

Mr. Clancy—It will arise when the application comes in.

MELLERAY ABBEY, CAPPOQUIN

Grand Bazaar In Aid Of Building Fund

THE Cistercian Community of Mount Melleray Abbey, Cappoquin, is at present engaged in the heavy task of building a magnificent Church, which will greatly enhance the architectural beauty of the Abbey, and at the same time provide adequate accommodation for the needs of the Community, and the thousands of others who visit this famous place every year.

As the cost of the new Edifice will be far beyond the private resources of the Community, an influential and representative Committee of all the leading Professional and Business men in Cappoquin has been formed to hold a Monster Bazaar and Drawing of Prizes in the Town Park, Cappoquin, from Sunday, June 21st to Monday, June 29th, and they have obtained the consent of the following to act as Patrons:

Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore; Right Rev. Dom. Celsus O'Connell, Lord Abbot, Mount Melleray; Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin, and Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin.

The people of Cappoquin in particular, and indeed, those of all Ireland, fully realise the deep debt which is due to this Community owing to its great, but unostentatious, work in the cause of Religion, Charity, Education and Culture since the Monastery was founded on the bleak and barren slopes of the Knockmadow Mountains after the Trappists had been expelled from France over 100 years ago, and striking and eloquent testimony to this great and noble work was given during the three days' Centenary Celebrations which were held in Mount Melleray on August 15th., 16th., and 17th., 1933, to mark the completion of the Community's first 100 years in Melleray.

It should be needless to point out that the members of this Community seek no worldly or personal gain; their lives being entirely devoted to the service of God, while the austere rules of their Order compel them to live lives of self-sacrifice and self-abnegation for the greater honour and glory of God.

There are not lives of self-aggrandisement or personal honour or gain, and the building of the New Church is now but another proof of the great sacrifices which they are prepared to make in the cause of the Catholic Faith.

The Bazaar in aid of the Church Building Fund will be run on a most elaborate scale, replete with all forms of the usual amusements and side-shows, while the grand drawing of prizes will also be fully in keeping with such a deserving and praiseworthy object.

The generous help of the faithful Catholics of all Ireland will, of course, be necessary in order to make this worthy undertaking a success, and an earnest appeal is now made to all to kindly send subscriptions or Prizes towards the Fund. Mr. M. J. Sargent, P.C., Cappoquin, is the Hon. Sec., of the organising Committee, and all subscriptions or Prizes sent to him will be gratefully acknowledged. The names of all Benefactors will be kept in a Special Book which will be kept in the Abbey Church, and all contributors will participate ever in the Masses, prayers, and other good works of the entire Community.

Subscriptions of one pound or over, will be personally acknowledged by the Lord Abbot, and the names of such donors will be inscribed in the Golden Book of Mount Melleray.

An early response to this appeal will be greatly appreciated in order to enable the organising Committee to proceed without delay with the important work of preparation and advertising necessary in connection with the Bazaar, and each individual who kindly helps the Church Building Fund in this manner will be doing a service both to himself and his God, and can truthfully say to himself—"O Lord, I have loved the beauty of Thy House."

Mr. Quinn—When does the license expire?

Clerk—At the end of March.

Mr. Quinn—Are they carrying on without a license so?

Clerk—I could not say exactly. There is a record in the office here.

The matter then ended.

Tenders

Extension of sewers in Sarsheld street, James Mullins, Abbeyside, tendered for the above work at 2/9 per yard.

Patrick Whelan, Abbeyside, 2/8 per yard, plus 5/- for every existing sewer to be connected and 15/- for T piece at Shear's street.

The tender of Mr. Mullins, was accepted.

Ballinacourty Harbour Lamps

For the lighting of the above for 12 months two tenders were received, viz. Thomas Hogan, Ballinacourty, £7 10s.; John Barry, Ballinacourty £7 16s.

Mr. Hogan's tender was accepted.

CAPPOQUIN DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION

Annual General Meeting

PRESENTATION TO NURSE LYNE

The annual general meeting of the Cappoquin District Nursing Association was held in the C.Y.M.S. Hall, on Friday, 17th inst.

Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin, presided. The others present including, Lady Eleanor Keane, President; Mrs. Villiers Stuart, Dromona and Mrs. R. H. Keane, Belleville Park, Vice-Presidents; Mrs. L. Ryan, Mrs. J. McGrath, Mrs. E. Colender, Mrs. B. Regan, Miss M. Lincoln, Miss A. Kellner, Miss M. Boyd, Miss B. Greene, the Misses Maureen and Eileen Regan and other lady collectors. Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., was also present.

In the unavoidable absence of Miss Foley, Knockalara, Hon. Sec., the minutes of the previous annual meeting were read by Lady Keane, and signed by the Chairman.

The Annual Report

The annual report was read as follows:—In presenting the annual report, the Committee thank all those who have subscribed to the funds during the past year and maintained the Association in a sound financial state.

The ladies who have so untriflingly gone round collecting the weekly or monthly subscriptions are greatly to be congratulated, for the collections for the past year exceed those of any previous year, and amount to nearly £9 more than in 1934.

A most welcome gift of bandages and other appliances was received from the District Nurses' Supply Depot, Dublin. The Children of Mary, Cappoquin, made and kindly gave baby clothing, for which grateful thanks are tendered on behalf of the large number of infants who started life in 1935.

Nurse Lyne's services as District Nurse are greatly appreciated in the district.

The report also paid a high tribute to the hearty co-operation and valued services of Mr. James Lincoln, Cappoquin, Treasurer and Mr. B. Arthur, Lismore, Auditor, for the able manner in which they had prepared and presented the financial statement and balance sheet for the past year.

The Balance Sheet

The Balance Sheet submitted by Mr. James Lincoln, Treasurer, and audited by Mr. B. Arthur, Lismore, was then read and showed a substantial balance to credit of the Association, which was considered very satisfactory, and this was also unanimously adopted.

Election Of Officers

The election of officers for the coming year was then proceeded with, and resulted in the unanimous re-election of the following:—

President—Lady Eleanor Keane; Vice-Presidents—Mrs. R. H. Keane, Belleville Park, and Mrs. Villiers Stuart, Dromona. Hon. Treasurer—Mr. James Lincoln, Manager, Cappoquin Bacon Factory. Hon. Sec.—Miss Foley, Knockalara.

Executive Committee—Mrs. R. B. Burkhitt, The Rectory, Cappoquin; Misses Jameson, Tourin, Mrs. E. Colender, Cappoquin; Mrs. Lena Ryan, do., and Miss M. Lincoln, do., with all the above honorary officers.

All last year's honorary Collectors were unanimously re-elected for the coming year.

Departure Of District Nurse

Several matters of detail having been disposed of, the Very Rev. Chairman said he had learned with much regret of the impending departure of Miss M. C. Lyne, who had been the Jubilee Nurse for the Cappoquin District for over the past 5 years, and who was now about to be transferred to Blackrock, Co. Dublin.

He paid an eloquent tribute to the faithful, untiring and skilful manner in which Miss Lyne had always carried out her important duties in this extensive district, and said her departure would be sadly missed by the poor people of Cappoquin and district, as well as by the members of this Association (hear, hear).

Lady Eleanor Keane, Mrs. R. H. Keane, Mrs. Villiers Stuart, Mrs. Colender, and other members fully endorsed all that Father Fitzgerald had said about Miss Lyne's great services to the people of the district during her stay in Cappoquin, and after a short discussion, it was unanimously decided that a valuable presentation be made to her on behalf of the Association to mark their feelings of gratitude and appreciation for her brilliant services during the past 5 years in this district.

On the motion of Lady Eleanor Keane, seconded by Mrs. Keane, a cordial vote of thanks was passed to Father Fitzgerald for the able manner in which he had presided over the meetings, and the Very Rev. Chairman having suitably replied the proceedings terminated.

Subsequent to the above meeting, a deputation from the Nursing Association, including Lady Eleanor Keane, President; Mrs. L. Ryan, Mrs. E. Colender, Mrs. B. Regan, Miss M. Lincoln, etc., waited on Nurse Lyne at her residence when a valuable clock and other useful

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

Held on Wednesday before Mr. Troy, D.J.

Undeclared Civil Bills

A number of undeclared civil bills in which decrees were given were first dealt with.

Messrs. E. A. Ryan, T.C. Williams, and A. R. Farrell, were the solicitors, engaged.

Milk Deficient In Fats

Guard O'Leary, Food and Drugs Inspector, prosecuted James Murray, for selling milk deficient in fats.

Mr. Farrell, solr., appeared for the defendant.

Complainant gave evidence of taking a sample of milk from the defendant on March 6th, which showed on analysts certificate to be deficient in fat.

To Mr. Farrell—Witness said some of the milk had been sold before he got the sample. Defendant is supplying milk under the Free Milk Scheme of the Board of Health and witness thought he sold about 2 gallons a day.

Mr. Farrell said he would plead guilty as he was unable to have important witnesses in. The defendant was absent at the time. His mother being ill at present, his sister, who milked the cows could not attend to-day as she is attending her mother. The defendant supplies only 5 pints a day under the Milk Scheme of the Board of Health. The winter was bad and cold and must have had an adverse effect on the cattle who were fed on hay, turnips, etc. The defendant is prepared to swear that the milk was not in any way tampered with, he is also prepared to give up the contract. He (Mr. Farrell) would ask the Justice to apply the probation of Officers' Act in the case.

Defendant, who gave his evidence in Irish, bore out his solicitors statement.

Replying to the Justice, Guard O'Leary (who also spoke in Irish) said the expenses—£1 8s. were as follows:—Analyst's fee £1 1s.; stamp 2/- and Process Server 5/-.

The Justice dealt with the case under the P.O. Act, defendant to pay the costs of the prosecution.

Nothing Paid

In the cases against James Glavin, Briskey and Patrick Hayes, Davis street, which were adjourned to enable the defendants to pay compensation for (in both cases) larceny, Superintendent Walsh said that no payment was made.

The Justice adjourned the cases to the next court and said if the money was not paid he would have a different order made.

A like order was made in a case against John Kiely, Buttery street.

The Late Guard Murray

Kilrossanty Gaelic Football Club voted sympathy to the relatives of the late Mr. John Murray, Garda Siochana, Waterford, and adjourned their meeting as a mark of respect to his memory. The resolution was proposed by Mr. Paddy McGrath, and seconded by Mr. Joe Twomey.

Mr. John Kent, Kilmacthomas, and Guards M. Boyle, Henry Hamilton and John N. Parke, do., were amongst the many in attendance at the funeral. And we would like to mention that Garda Parke and the late Guard Murray were stationed together at Leambyrney for 7 years.

A Brilliant Soprano

Miss Pearl Halpin, winner of the Gold Medal in the Soprano competition at the recent Dublin Feis, is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Halpin, Ballyhest House, Clonea, Carrick-on-Suir.

Referring to Miss Halpin's singing at the competition, Lady Earty (wife of Sir Hamilton Earty), who adjudicated, said: "Miss Pearl Halpin showed the most skill in the use of her voice. Her timbre is charming, her diction clear and her style altogether very pleasant. I liked her particularly in her first song, 'They call me Mimi' (from 'La Boheme')."

By the way, Miss Halpin will be broadcasting from the Athlone Station in a few days, and County Waterford listeners will have the pleasure of hearing her exquisite voice.

Unburied Carcasses

Guard Barry, charged Patrick Roche, Marchtown, with having the carcasses of two sheep unburied in his lands.

Complainant stated that he had found the carcasses in a corner of a field near the house. They had been partly eaten by dogs.

The Justice—This Act applies to sheep as well as cattle?

Complainant—Yes, sir.

Defendant was fined 10/-.

Denis O'Connell, Shean, was charged by the same complainant with a like offence.

Complainant said there were four sheep in that case, three of them had been partly eaten.

A similar fine was imposed.

The Justice—I don't know why the Act is so particular, but I will have to enforce it.

Rate Cases

Thos. Barry, Ballyduff, Collector, had civil bills against a number of rate defaulters. Decrees were granted with a stay in some cases.

P. O'Neill, summons served, asked for some extra allowance for service where long journeys were involved.

The Justice said he should apply to the plaintiff.

O'Neill—But he refuses, sir.

Justice—The matter is out of my hands altogether. Apply to the Co. Registrar.

O'Neill—Thank you, sir.

A number of cases involving assault, trespass, and malicious damage, between members of a family, were adjourned on the application of Mr. Hodnett.

TALLOW DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)

Repairs Ordered

The Waterford Co. Board of Health summoned Michael Keane, Kilbeg, for not complying with an order of the court for the repair of his house.

On the application of Mr. J. W. O'Garman, solr., Lismore, the case was further adjourned.

Factory Regulations

In the adjourned case of the Minister of Industry and Commerce, against Col. Rivers, Headborough, for non-compliance with certain factory regulations, a further adjournment was granted on the application of Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, Dungarvan.

No Lights

There was an unusually large number of cases of unlighted bicycles and no reflectors, etc., at the suit of Sergt. Grey, Guards O'Shea, Sheehan, Keogh, and others—the usual fines being imposed.

Milk Case

Guard Sheehan, charged Thomas O'Connell, West street, Tallow, with selling milk deficient in milk fat.

Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, defended.

Complainant stated that he called on defendant with the object of taking a sample of milk. He was told they were about milking and he was directed to go to the cowhouse, where he took a sample. The certificate of analysis stated that "15 per cent. of fat had been abstracted."

The Justice said he understood that there were new regulations governing the matter.

Complainant handed in some documents.

The Justice—This only gives power to make regulations, so that the old regulations still stand.

Cross-examined by Mr. Hodnett—Witness said that the milking was done quite close to him.

Would it be correct to say that the milk was fresh and frothy?—Yes.

The Justice—Did you have long to wait for the sample?—No, only 3 or 4 minutes.

Mr. Hodnett said that milk was sold to the Inspector exactly as it had come from the cow. The only way to account for the deficiency was that the milk had not time to set. He did not say that the Guard did anything improper, but it had waited a while, it would have been fairer to defendant. It was a rather peculiar certificate—"from which 15 per cent. of milk fat had been abstracted." No human agency had abstracted anything from the milk. His worship would notice that the other solids were in excess of the standards laid down.

Maurice Mulcahy, stated that Laurence Galvin and he milked the cows. They had finished 4 out of 11 when the Inspector arrived. The vessels used were "bona-fide dry."

The Justice—"Bona-fide dry" is a very

POSITION OF AGRICULTURE

GOVERNMENT POLICY

Speech of Mr. Wall, T.D.

SPEAKING in the debate on the Agriculture Vote in the Dail Mr. N. Wall, T.D., (Waterford) said:

The consideration of this Estimate usually gives rise to a good deal of heated discussion. Because of that I am afraid the real seriousness of the agricultural position is inclined to be overlooked. I am glad to say that this year the Estimate has been discussed in a much more sober atmosphere. I hope that, as a consequence the appeals that have been made to the Minister will evoke more favourable results.

The Minister, when speaking last night, appeared to resent the repeated references that were made in the course of the debate to the economic war. I think it is only natural that, as the economic war is the root of most of the agricultural difficulties at the moment, it should be referred to, and referred to frequently, in the course of a discussion of this kind. The Minister, like some of his colleagues, may believe that the war is over and won. It is two years ago since I heard it stated that the war was won. After a conflict of that kind, it is customary to distribute decorations, but I have not heard of the distribution of any decorations in connection with this conflict. Possibly they will come. If I may make a suggestion, it is that Deputy Donnelly should get an iron cross for his services. In the case of Deputy Finlay, perhaps a wooden cross would be more suitable and cheaper. More wooden crosses will probably be required because the victims amongst Deputy Finlay's class will be numerous and the wooden cross, if not appreciated by the recipients, can be used to mark their last resting place.

Once this trouble started, one thing has always puzzled me. I cannot understand the position between the two countries. They are at war to the knife. At the same time, they are prepared to collaborate with one another at all times and in all matters except this unfortunate dispute. The war is supposed to have been started because the annuities were retained in this country. At the same time, we find representatives being sent across from this country to Great Britain in order to facilitate the collection of these disputed moneys by the British Government. That appears to have been done for the purpose of getting rid of some of our cattle. We have been frequently told during the past two or three years that the British market has gone—oh, at least, that it was dwindling and that, in the future, it would be of very little use to us. The two things do not seem to hang very well. If the British market is going to be useless to us in the future, why worry about it?

Why send people across to England to haggle their time? Why give away something which is really substantial for something which is worthless? Why give away our coal trade, which is a substantial trade, together with a slice of our ocean trade and a few other little concessions, for something which, we have been told again and again, is worthless? I do not know how this thing strikes people generally, but I have often thought that if Gilbert and Sullivan were alive today they would have a new theme for their genius in this economic war.

Mr. Norton: They have a good substitute.

Mr. Wall—Who? Mr. Norton—The Deputy himself. Mr. Wall: It would be much better if we could be logical about things like this. If we are at war with England, and if the war is to be pursued to the bitter end, if we believe that the British are not entitled to the annuities and if we cannot prevent them from collecting them so long as we are sending on produce across the water, would not the logical thing be to cut off all trade with England, get finished with the business and face the consequences?

An Ceann Comhairle: The Minister for Agriculture is not responsible for all trade relations with England. Mr. Wall: Listening to the Minister's introductory speech, one would think that the farmers were having a wonderfully prosperous time. From my experience at any rate, the reverse is actually the case. I do not know where the Minister got the information on which he based his statement, but the statement was based on the information supplied to him, he ought to check up his sources of information; because, in my opinion, they are faulty. I have been in contact with farmers week after week, for the past three years and their account of their position does not tally with the statement made by the Minister. Their financial position is, undoubtedly, very serious and it is up to the Minister to devise some means of giving them direct relief. Anything else than direct relief is of very little use to them. The remedies which the Minister has endeavoured to apply have not attained their object because, unless the assistance is given directly, the cost of administration is too high and nullifies the effort.

I was recently speaking to a farmer who is over 60 years of age and who has always been connected with the farming industry. He occupies a small farm of middling quality land. That man told me that he was never very wealthy, that he always worked fairly hard and was able to meet his liabilities. He said that within the last two years he had come up against difficulties and was in debt now. At his age he pointed out that there was very little prospect of getting out of debt. He told me that heretofore his year-old calves realised about £8, while last year he sold some of them at 25/- and a few of the best at £2. To a small farmer that is a very serious difference, and it is a thing which should not be lost sight of by anyone. It is not necessary to have a knowledge of farming to appreciate the position of that man at the moment. Another farmer, in a substantial way—he owns 100 acres of very good land—told me that he set out with the ambition of establishing a comfortable home for himself and his family and of placing himself in a position to give his family a start in life when the time arrived. He got on reasonably well and was satisfied with his efforts until two years ago. He told me—and I believe he is perfectly right—that he worked as hard as any man in Munster but that he was getting more deeply into debt by degrees. If there is any doubt about the genuineness of these cases, I can give the names. Getting into debt is an unusual experience for the man to whom I refer, and as a consequence he does not care to go into town lest he meet his creditors.

Mr. Corry: He has a blue look-out. Mr. Wall: Not being a dodger, he does not feel happy when meeting these men because of his inability to discharge his liabilities. I was speaking to a merchant a week ago. His business is almost entirely with farmers and, although he does not do as big a business as some of his local competitors, he does a fair trade. He told me that the position was getting very serious from his point of view, as he found the utmost difficulty in collecting his debts. He said that his local competitors did a much bigger trade than he did and he felt that if their outstanding debts bore the same ratio to their turnover as his outstanding debts bore to his turnover, he thought they would have to get out of business very soon. He quoted the case of a farmer who came to him recently. This farmer had never dealt with him before, but had always had the reputation of being very well-to-do, and he thought that he was getting a very good customer. This man asked for certain manures and seeds, and he said "Certainly" and told him his terms of credit. The farmer then said: "I have never dealt with you before, but so-and-so with whom I was dealing has now refused to give me credit, and I do not want to tie you down to the offer you have made." The merchant said that he was terribly amazed, but said that in any case he would stand by the offer he made and give him the credit.

Now, some reference was made here yesterday evening to experiments. I think it will be admitted generally that experiments are not alone useful but absolutely necessary. If, however, an experiment is going to deprive an individual of his means of livelihood, that individual cannot be expected to look kindly on that experiment, so say the least of it. After all, the experimenter, like the doctor, does not feel the pain. It is the patient who suffers. Take the case of wheat and beef. I think we can grow perhaps as good beef and wheat in this country as in any other country in the world, but I cannot see the wisdom of trying to convince people that wheat and beef can be substituted for our live-stock trade. You can work them side by side with the live-stock trade and perhaps make them a success in that way.

I think it is very futile, however, to imagine that they will stand alone as a substitute for the live-stock trade. In that connection, there is one thing I should like to call attention to. I think that 23/- or 23/-6 is paid for wheat in the earlier part of the year, and the farmer who is not in a position to store his wheat, or has to sell to meet urgent demands, has to accept that price. Now, I doubt if that is just, because the man who has facilities for storing his wheat, and who is perhaps in a better financial position, gains very considerably by reason of the fact that he is able to hold the wheat over until the higher price is available. Accordingly, I think that the minimum should be wiped out and that the maximum should be made the general price for wheat. I think that that would be fair to everybody.

Now, take the case of pigs and bacon. I should like to direct the Minister's attention to the system of grading. I think that system is too severe altogether and in connection with that grading, I should like to quote from a bill of sale which I have before me now. This bill of sale refers to eight pigs. Six of these pigs fell into class 2, but they were subdivided into four sections within these classes. One thing which strikes me as very extraordinary is that one pig, under grade A, class 1, weighing 1 cwt., 1 qr., 22 lbs., was paid for at the rate of 64/- a cwt., while in grade B, class 1, there was a pig of the same weight, and that pig was paid for at the rate of 60/- a cwt. Then a pig in grade C, class 1, weighing 1 cwt., 25 lbs., was paid for at the rate of 56/- a cwt. That is a difference of 8/- per cwt., which is a serious matter for the producer, between two pigs when the weight only differs by 3 lbs. I think that if the consumers realised that position they would resent it just as much as the farmer resents it, because evidently the cutter derives all the benefit in that case, whereas the farmer and the consumer lose very heavily by it. I believe that if one went into a shop and asked for portion of the pig that weighed 1 cwt., 1 qr., 25 lbs., at 56/- a cwt., he would not get it, it is all classed as grade A, class 1, in the store. Then in the case of the two pigs under class 2, one weighing 1 cwt., 2 qrs. and 22 lbs., they were paid for at the rate of 54/- an extraordinary discrepancy in the price of two pigs. I think there is something radically wrong there.

Deputy O'Reilly, speaking here last night, said that there was considerable difficulty in getting agricultural labourers in County Meath. I think that that is becoming fairly general. There are, perhaps, different reasons in different countries for that. For instance, I find, in Co. Waterford, that a good many of the best workers—the young men are going to England. It is very hard to blame them because, unquestionably, agricultural wages are too low. Deputy Corish has referred to that and I am in agreement with him, but after all there must be a cause for this, and in order to remedy the difficulty, you must get at the cause, and the cause is that agriculture has become so depressed, as he says, both through world conditions as well as through the economic war, that the far-

SHANDON DAIRY, DUNGARVAN

NEW RENT FIXED

Valuers Disagree

LAST week at the Dungarvan Circuit Court, before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C.

The application of the Dungarvan Co-Operative Creamery Ltd. to fix a rent on the Shandon Dairy Premises and to determine the length of the lease to be granted in respect of same was heard.

Mr. Paul McCarthy, K.C., and Mr. Budd, B.L. (instructed by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr.) appeared for the applicants.

Mr. Kingsmill Moore, K.C., and Mr. P. J. McEnery, B.L. (instructed by Messrs. J. F. Williams and Sons, solrs.) appeared for the respondents—landlords Messrs. W. and P. Ryan, Main Street, Dungarvan.

After a lengthy hearing as reported in our last issue, His Lordship fixed the new rent at £235 a year (the old rent was £140) and determined the length of the lease at 50 years.

Mr. C. P. Curran, B.E., formerly of the General Valuation Office and Valuer, said he made a thorough inspection of the premises as they were in 1906 when the previous lease was made and as they are at present. He estimated a fair sum for repairs at £125 a year. The lay out from the Creamery point of view was definitely bad. There were 3 platforms for taking in the milk when there should be only one, and the corn store was in the centre of the premises. The rent of the site was about £40 a year. He surveyed the buildings and estimated they would be worth £5,000, which at 6 per cent. would be £300. Add to that the site rent of £40 and you have £340. From that you must deduct £125 for annual repairs leaving a balance of £215. That would be also subject to a reduction of 15 per cent. leaving the net rent £183 a year.

Cross-examined by Mr. Kingsmill Moore—What are you now?—Surveyor and Valuer.

For how long?—I was about 10 years in the Valuation Office and I am in private practice for 5 years. To further questions he said the last valuation of the premises was in 1926. At the time the rent was £140 and the valuation £66. The rent had not varied since even though the valuation went to £150. He considered £183 a fair rent at the moment. He was aware that the mer is not in a position to pay a decent wage. I do not stand for the present wage, and I doubt if any man with an interest in the country could stand for it. I think it abominably low, but after all, at least the agricultural labourer is assured of that wage at the end of the week, whereas the farmer, who works just as hard and works alongside the labourer in many cases, has no guarantee that he will get anything at the end of the year, and, as a matter of fact, is very often worse off than the labourer. I know of plenty of farmers' sons who have had to go away. Also, Deputy Flynn said that the smaller farmers in Kerry had suffered but that they were prepared to do so from patriotic motives. I have the utmost sympathy with these men, but I do not think their patriotism should be played on to the extent that it has been played on. If it is a question of patriotism, and duty I believe that every class should step in and bear a fair share of whatever burden may be imposed, and that it should not be thrown on the small farmers of Kerry and elsewhere.

Mr. Jordan: But they will not stop it. That is the worst of it. Mr. Wall: Unquestionably, cattle prices have been affected by world conditions. Nevertheless, we should be getting better prices than we are. I do not say that they would be absolutely happy any more than we were before this Government came into power. There were grievances at that time also, because agricultural prices were tending on the low side. I think that every fair-minded person would admit that, but the difficulties have become much more acute now, in consequence of the economic war. I have a bill of sale here referring to some cattle, which it shows that five cattle realised £87 5s. od., at Glasgow. There were quite a number of items that I do not intend to go through in detail. I will just give the tot. The duty worked out at £4 5s. per head making a total of £21 5s. The expenses lumped together, are slightly under £10. Now if that man got that £21 5s. additional, would it not make a great difference to him? There are a good many other matters to which I would have liked to refer. There is one matter in connection with that world-wide depression that I must refer to. Assuming its effect here is the same as its effect in other countries, we still have an extraordinary disadvantage. First we had the disadvantage to the extent of the penal duties applied by Britain. We also have the disadvantage in the prices we are paying for our feeding stuffs. There is a difference of £2.0s. od. between what we pay for our mixture here, and what the people in Northern Ireland can buy pure maize at. Our mixture will produce a better type of pig, but it will not fatten a pig as well as maize, and the farmer here must suffer. There is another question on which we are at a disadvantage, and that is derating. The farmer in Northern Ireland has complete derating. We are promised it; and Deputy Corry says we got as good. But the farmer should have the choice. Derating was promised and should have been given. Perhaps I am now straying somewhat from the subject before us.

Mr. Corry: What you got was better. Mr. Wall: That is the Deputy's opinion. I am entitled to mine. The farmer was promised derating and did not get it.

buildings were insured for £8,000.

What would it cost at present to put up the buildings as they stand? Witness—Between £8,000 and £9,000. £5,000 was his valuation of the buildings on the site. He considered the purchase price of the site of the Shandon Dairy Premises would be about £1,000.

Mr. Moore asked witness why ten times as much was paid to Mr. Dower for the site of the present creamery? To further questions witness denied that any person investing his money in bricks and mortar expected to get 8 per cent. for his money.

Do you suggest to this Court that any person would invest in buildings paying 24 per cent., while he could get 4 per cent. in trustee investments? Witness—This is a type of building you will get from few people.

To Mr. McCarthy—it is not a reasonable way to arrive at the rent of a house to take the cost of the building and then take 8 per cent of it.

By Mr. Moore—There is a percentage of rise from 1906 to 1921 and then there is a drop since 1921 to 1936.

Witness—I could not answer that. Mr. P. J. Moloney, Managing Director of A. Moloney and Sons, Ltd. in reply to Counsel, said his firm had stores facing the Quays for a length of 120 feet and a depth of 131 feet. They were held under a long lease from 1911 at the yearly rent of £61 13s. P.L.V. £18.

By Mr. Kingsmill Moore—Under the terms of the lease £600 was spent on the premises. My firm had the premises prior to that time. He did not know what rent was being paid.

Mr. J. T. Feenan, Secretary, Dickens Leather Co., Ltd., produced the lease of the Dickens premises made between Mary A. Gibbons on the one part and Ellen Dunlea of the other part under the lease the rent of the premises was £50 for 38 years from 1907. The purchase price to the Dickens Leather Co., was £250. The Company also purchased Barry's corn stores for £200 and John McGrath's Yard adjoining with a rent of £10 a year for £75. The P.L.V. of Barry's stores was £20; McGrath's Yard £2 and the main leather company's premises £24. Total £46.

Mr. Kingsmill Moore—The Leather Company's premises was a derelict and disused corn store and was sold to them by A. Moloney and Sons, Ltd. Mr. Moore—Was not Mr. Moloney a Director of the Leather Co., and had he not a big interest in it? Do you know the Shandon Dairy premises? Witness said no. He was only a few weeks in Dungarvan.

Mr. Kingsmill Moore—Is that why you come here to give evidence—you know so little about it.

His Lordship—He is the Secretary of the Leather Company. Mr. John Butler, Auctioneer, Dungarvan, in reply to Mr. Budd, B.L., said he knew the Shandon Dairy premises well. If put on the market at present there would be no demand for them.

Mr. Budd—What reason have you for saying that? Witness—There are several sites in town which have been vacant for several years and there was no demand for them. But for the new industry being started at Cody's Quay, the premises there would be vacant still. So far as I know none of the big concerns in Dungarvan wanted extra premises for extending their premises. The premises of Stokes' Creamery and the Electric Light Company's premises are all vacant for years. Barry's Stores were on the market for sale for very many years. He knew of no one in Dungarvan paying a rent of £140 a year. Having considered everything he thought that £140 a year was a fair rent for the Shandon Dairy Premises. He instanced several premises vacant around the town for years and said there was no demand for them.

Mr. Kingsmill Moore said none of the premises that the witness had mentioned were comparable in any way with those of the Shandon Dairy. Mr. Moore—The Co. Council paid £500 for a yard at Cody's Quay in 1900. Witness—I wonder what they would sell it for today? Would these premises be unsuitable for a creamery?—No. I see no demand for big creameries except by Co-Operative Societies and they are very few and far between.

Mr. Kingsmill Moore said a small yard adjoining the Creamery premises on the Square was sold in 1925 for £600.

Mr. J. D. Palmer, M.I.A.A., Auctioneer and Valuer, Waterford, said he inspected the Shandon Dairy premises and found that one acre was covered with buildings. He examined the Co-Operative Company's premises on the Square (P.L.V. £95). The Co. Council Yard at Cody's Quay; Moloney's Stores, etc., also the old Dungarvan Railway station site at Waterford with an area of 11 acres with road and river frontage. Now let on lease to the Hollow Ware Factory at £75 a year; also premises at Ferrybank containing 24 acres let at £100 a year and a site of one acre at Parnell street, Waterford. Having carefully considered everything he concluded that £150 would be a fair rent for this place.

By Mr. Kingsmill Moore—The landlords interest would be 14 to 16 years purchase.

Mr. Moore—From 1906 to 1921/23 rents went up and then they dropped. Today they would be at least double what they were in 1906?

Witness—I disagree with that. Mr. Kingsmill Moore said the buildings alone on the Shandon Dairy premises were valued at £5,000 as a minimum, and at 54 per cent. that gave a rent of £325 a year. The Co-Operative Society paid £1,200 for the tenant's interests and £750 for the landlord's interest for their premises on the Square and their total area was only 1-1/12th of the size of the Shandon Dairy premises. He also stated that £31,500 was paid to Mr. Dunne for his interest and goodwill in his business there but the book debts, stocks, etc., were re-

AN EARLY INSPECTION INVITED

C. J. MURPHY, & CO.

55, MAIN STREET, DUNGARVAN

Deputy Corry said that the witness had mentioned premises that were comparable in any way with those of the Shandon Dairy.

Mr. Moore—The Co. Council paid £500 for a yard at Cody's Quay in 1900. Witness—I wonder what they would sell it for today?

Would these premises be unsuitable for a creamery?—No. I see no demand for big creameries except by Co-Operative Societies and they are very few and far between.

Mr. Kingsmill Moore said a small yard adjoining the Creamery premises on the Square was sold in 1925 for £600.

Mr. J. D. Palmer, M.I.A.A., Auctioneer and Valuer, Waterford, said he inspected the Shandon Dairy premises and found that one acre was covered with buildings.

He examined the Co-Operative Company's premises on the Square (P.L.V. £95). The Co. Council Yard at Cody's Quay; Moloney's Stores, etc., also the old Dungarvan Railway station site at Waterford with an area of 11 acres with road and river frontage.

Now let on lease to the Hollow Ware Factory at £75 a year; also premises at Ferrybank containing 24 acres let at £100 a year and a site of one acre at Parnell street, Waterford. Having carefully considered everything he concluded that £150 would be a fair rent for this place.

By Mr. Kingsmill Moore—The landlords interest would be 14 to 16 years purchase.

Mr. Moore—From 1906 to 1921/23 rents went up and then they dropped. Today they would be at least double what they were in 1906?

Witness—I disagree with that. Mr. Kingsmill Moore said the buildings alone on the Shandon Dairy premises were valued at £5,000 as a minimum, and at 54 per cent. that gave a rent of £325 a year.

The Co-Operative Society paid £1,200 for the tenant's interests and £750 for the landlord's interest for their premises on the Square and their total area was only 1-1/12th of the size of the Shandon Dairy premises.

He also stated that £31,500 was paid to Mr. Dunne for his interest and goodwill in his business there but the book debts, stocks, etc., were referred to him (Mr. Dunne). Counsel then quoted the law on the market value of the premises.

Mr. Justin Condon, Auctioneer and Valuer, Youghal, in reply to Mr. McEnery, B.L., said he had 37 years experience. He examined the Shandon Dairy Premises on April 6th. They had a total area of 21 acres. It was a very good site and admirably situated for the work, convenient to the Quay and the Railway Station. He put the site value at £150 to £200 a year. He considered the water supply on the premises as value for £50 a year. The property was 10,000 square yards, and his price was 34d. per square yard per annum.

His Lordship—How much it is by the Square mile? (laughter). Witness—considered a fair rent would be £382 with £50 a year for the water supply making in all a yearly rent of £432.

Questioned by Mr. McCarthy, K.C., as to what would be done in the event of the present tenants leaving the premises, the witness said the same rent or more could be had by dividing the premises into small tenancies and plenty tenants would be found ready and willing to pay good rent for it.

On the question of purchasing the lease the witness said no person would buy a lease such as in this case which had only a few years to run except at a very bad price.

Mr. Dalton, Auctioneer, Carrick-on-Suir, said to put up the new buildings today as exist on the Shandon Dairy premises would cost about £15,000. Having carefully valued the buildings, etc., his annual rent of the premises would be £564.

Mr. Budd—Who would pay such a rent as £564 which you put on the premises? Witness—I do not know any individual who would pay it, but a new industry would be glad to do so. They would rather rent a premises than purchase it. He then gave details of what the Leather Company did at Carrick-on-Suir. In reply to his Lordship he said the Leather Company paid £1,500 for a site, and they were also paying £20 a year rent.

Alleged Cattle Poisoning

Mrs. Mary Halpin, Gilmacarbery, brought a claim against Mr. M. J. Guiry, same address, for four cattle, valued at £40, which had died on the defendant's land at the boundary fence.

Mr. Budd, B.L. (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr.) for the plaintiff, and Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., for the defendant, appeared.

Applicant's son gave evidence of the cattle which died the first week in February. The result of a conversation with the defendant was that the defendant found the branches of which were two feet over the fence, showed signs of having been cut.

By Mr. Ryan—That was the big storm. The snow den might be 14 feet deep. The snow den might be 14 feet deep. The snow den might be 14 feet deep.

Mr. Ryan—That was the big storm. The snow den might be 14 feet deep. The snow den might be 14 feet deep.

Mr. J. Walsh, Engineer, examined the place on the ground. The base of the tree grown in the garden is two feet from the fence. One branch had been lying on the ground, position being about two feet from the fence. It looked to be cut by a cut.

By Mr. Ryan—There were storms about that time. I saw he would judge the branch hanging the fence by the cattle would be fished as the ground was covered. A lot of trees were blown down.

Mrs. Halpin said that the cattle were poisoned. She said that the cattle were poisoned. She said that the cattle were poisoned.

Alleged Cattle Poisoning

Mrs. Mary Halpin, Glenanore, Ballymacarbery, brought a civil bill against Ml. Guiry, same address, for the loss of four cattle, valued at £17 which were poisoned by eating a Yew tree growing on the defendant's land and overhanging the boundary fence.

Mr. Hudd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. T. C. Williams, solr.,) for applicant.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., defended. Applicant's son gave evidence of the value of the cattle which all died during the first week in February last. Witness went for a Veterinary Surgeon, and as a result of a conversation with him he went to this field and found the Yew tree, the branches of which were extending about two feet over the fence. The branches showed signs of having been eaten by the cattle.

By Mr. Ryan—That was the week of the big storm. The snow in Guiry's garden might be 14 feet deep. There were lories and buses snowed up in that district that week. The Yew tree is growing in Quiry's as long as witness can remember. The Blessed Palms got at the Nire Chapel every Palm Sunday is cut from this tree. Mr. Guiry keeps cattle himself. Witness never knew that the tree was poisonous. He told the Guiry's that the cattle were poisoned on the following day. They then cut off the branch that was resting on the fence.

Mr. J. Walsh, Engineer, deposed he examined the place on February 20th. The base of the tree growing in Guiry's garden is two feet from the boundary fence. One branch had been cut and was lying on the ground, it would if in position be about two feet over the boundary fence. It looked to have been freshly cut.

By Mr. Ryan—There was snow and storms about that time. From what he saw he would judge the branch was overhanging the fence by about two feet. Cattle would be furnished about this time as the ground was covered with snow. A lot of trees were blown down about that time.

Mrs. Halpin said that on the day the cattle were poisoned she went to Guiry's after looking at the tree which was overlapping the fence and asked him to cut the tree as she had four cattle lost already.

By Mr. Ryan—The branch was drooping down to within 18 inches of the ground. The tree is there about 18 years. It is a thick tree. Witness did not see any sign of a break in the branch.

Mr. Ryan said his defence was that the poisoning was an act of God due to the abnormal storm and snowfall at the time. Thomas Guiry said the tree was planted by his father 32 years ago, and is being used at the Nire chapel for the past 12 years on Palm Sunday. They always had calves and goats in the garden and never knew the tree was poisonous. The snow at that time was piled against the tree to a depth of from 12 to 14 feet as the tree was nearly completely covered. When his attention was called to it he went to cut it and found that the branch was broken off and only held by the skin. He hacked it off with a hatchet. Any of the cattle would not be worth £4. Fifty shillings might be the value of them. During that storm there were over 800 sheep lost in the district, and trees were blown down all over the place.

By Mr. Budd, B.L.—The branch was about six inches in diameter. He could not say whether it was the weight of snow or the wind which broke the bough. The price of a dry cow at present is about £1. Ml. Guiry, father of the last witness, corroborated, and said he planted the Yew tree 33 years ago. He was clerk of the Nire chapel and used the tree on Palm Sundays.

To Mr. Budd—He kept cows, calves, pigs and goats at times in this garden.

His Lordship said the evidence given by both sides surprised him. To think that any of the parties had no knowledge that a Yew tree is dangerous to cattle. The O'Gorman's brought this dangerous thing on their land and if they don't keep it from doing injury they are responsible. In the ordinary course of events, snow will fall in this country and we will have storms and in his opinion the act of God is not a defence to this action. The Halpins are entitled to a decree for £14 and costs.

Trespass Of Cattle, Etc.

Patrick O'Keefe, Knockgarron, Cappagh brought a civil bill for £50 against Thomas McGrath, Churchquarter, Modelligo, for the trespass of cattle, pony, hens, goats and geese during the past 3 years.

The defendant had a counter claim for damage for trespass by plaintiff's cattle and money due.

Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., for plaintiff. Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., defended. Plaintiff deposed that he had land at Knockgarron and also at Churchquarter. Defendant had about a quarter of an acre adjoining the Churchquarter land. He then gave details of trespass during the past three years. The defendant is a cattle dealer and had land taken on the eleven months system. All through last winter his cattle were continuously trespassing. They might be in on trespassing land twice in one day and they ran over the whole place. It is nearly 18 months ago since he asked Mr. Williams' clerk to write a letter to defendant, as he could not stop the trespass. The trespass is going on even since the civil bill was issued.

Mr. Williams—in the counter-claim McGrath alleges that your cattle trespass on his land. That you made a passage for your cattle to his land, and that you owe him for the use of a seed sowing machine.

Witness denied that trespass and said as regards the seed sowing they were paid for that. They asked witness for the grass of one cow so that they would have near the house and witness gave it at 6/- per month. It went from one cow to two and then the pony and after that all the cattle, hens, goats, ducks, and geese.

By Mr. Ryan—The Finisk river is the boundary between witness and the land McGrath have on the 11 months system. Witness was decreed at the Lismore District Court for trespass by a neighbour named Keniry, the reason was that Keniry cut down the wire when witness would not take the land. He owned some of the cattle and his brother the remainder. It would not be true for McGrath to swear that all the cattle were running together for the past two years. They may have mixed 4 or 5 times in a year. He denied trespass on McGrath's lands or that he cut down bushes. There is a right of way through McGrath's eleven months take. Witness bought this farm at Churchquarter from Fitzgerald for £30. It is not true that Fitzgerald gave it practically for nothing owing to trespass by witness's cattle. The seed sowing was more than paid for out of the 6/- a month for the cow.

To his Lordship—The cow was grazing there about 4 years. She was removed when the process was served.

Hugh McGrath, brother of the previous witness corroborated. He got abuse from McGrath when he asked him to keep the cattle out.

By Mr. Ryan—Witness is aware that there is a District Court in Cappoquin every month. It was the Attorney's business whether to bring the case to the District Court or to the Circuit Court. John O'Shea, employed at one time by O'Keefe deposed to seeing McGrath's cattle trespassing on O'Keefe's land several times, and seeing them eating ricks of corn. He took the cattle back to McGrath.

By Mr. Ryan—He saw the cattle nearly every day in O'Keefe's land. They were mixed with O'Keefe's cattle.

Thomas McGrath, defendant, said he lived with his mother and sister and was on good terms with the O'Keefe's up to 1934 helping each other with the harvest, etc. There is continual trespass by O'Keefe's cattle on witness's land. Witness did not know what to make of O'Keefe when he spoke to him and showed him his cattle trespassing on witness's land. He only went off whistling. He is either a very wise man or a fool. I don't know what to make of him (laughter). There is 6/- due to witness from O'Keefe for seed sowing. Were is not for witness's mother who would not leave him go to court, O'Keefe would not be the first to issue a civil bill.

To Mr. Williams—He had 12 cattle and had 30 acres of land on the eleven months system. He also had about 10 acres from Mr. Fitzgerald. Despite the trespass he had to take the land the second year as it was convenient.

Thomas Keniry, Wm. O'Shea and Miss B. McGrath, having given further evidence for the defence.

His Lordship gave O'Keefe a decree for £5 and in the counter claim McGrath was given a decree for £2.

Workmen's Compensation

Injury To Finger

Thomas Fraher, Ballyduff, Dungarvan, claimed compensation for an injury to his finger while in the employment of Mr. Thomas McGrath, contractor, 108 the erection of cottages under the Waterford Co. Board of Health.

Mr. McGuire, B.L., instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., for applicant. Mr. McDonald, B.L., (instructed by Mr. T. C. Williams, solr.,) for respondent.

Mr. McGuire, B.L., (instructed by Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore) represented the Board of Health.

Thomas Fraher, applicant, deposed he was employed by Mr. McGrath, as a builder's labourer on May 6th last, at 27/- a week. He worked up to July 12th. On that day he was making concrete blocks. The machine was in bad repair and one man had to keep his leg on the handle when pressing the block. This man's leg slipped off the handle on that day and the handle flew up and struck witness on the index finger of the left hand. He was paid full compensation for 8 weeks. He went back to work in Sept., and worked until October when he had to give up, as the finger came against him again. He then got light work from Mr. Paul Power.

By Mr. McDonald, B.L., witness worked for Mr. McGrath from May 6th to July. His finger was not sore before that date, but he had a whittle on his other hand before that. He went to Dr. McCarthy, who lanced the finger. He did not go to Dr. Casey. He might have told McGrath that he went to Dr. Casey. On returning to work for McGrath, on Sept. 4th, he worked for five weeks but his finger was paining him all the time.

To Mr. McGuire, B.L.—There were two of us working the machine making blocks. The other man took his foot off the machine too soon.

Dr. McCarthy gave evidence of treating Fraher for a bruised septic. He attended him about two months. We also saw him a week ago. With regard to the injury there is no movement of the first joint of the finger and there is partial immobility of the other joint. The injury is permanent. He is fit for work which would not necessitate the use of that finger.

By Mr. McDonald, B.L.—The applicant would have a much better finger if he had it amputated from the first joint. Dr. Casey said in his opinion the applicant should have full movement in the second joint, but he holds his hand rigid. He thought the injury was the result of an ordinary whittle which takes the form of poison. He considered applicant fit for most types of farm work. Milking cows might be the only work in which he would have limitations.

By Mr. McGuire, B.L.—Dr. McCarthy operated because there was "pus" in the finger. Dr. McCarthy would be in a much better position to judge what was wrong as he saw applicant a week after the accident. The finger is wasted but he would not agree it is useless.

Thomas McGrath, respondent, said that a few days before applicant left his employment he told witness he was expecting a permanent job from Mr. Paul Power. When he returned to work in July he told witness he was with Dr. Casey. Witness told him he should go to Dr. Casey again, but he said he would not. Witness told him that was not fair to him (witness). He then went to Dr. McCarthy. When he came back he worked away as usual and would be still in my employment only for going to Mr. Power's.

To Mr. McGuire, B.L., applicant told me he was leaving as he was getting a permanent job from Mr. Power. He was a good worker.

To Mr. McGuire, B.L.—Witness signed an agreement (produced) with the Board of Health.

To his Lordship—The witness said he is now minding his contract with the Board of Health and would not have work to give. When the applicant returned to work in July witness paid him full wages, and he was doing the work aright.

Joseph Roche, deposed he was employed by Mr. McGrath and worked the machine with applicant making blocks. The machine flew up, but witness saw no mark on applicant's finger. He had told witness he was getting a constant job from Mr. Power. Witness was there when the applicant came back to work and said he was attending Dr. Casey.

By Mr. McGuire, B.L.—Witness is still working for Mr. McGrath. When the handle flew up, applicant put out his hand to stop it. Witness did not notice the finger as applicant was working away.

To Mr. McGuire—It witness kept his foot on the machine that handle would not fly up.

Applicant recalled said it was not true that it was because of the permanent job he left, but he was promised a permanent job. He often complained to Roche. He might have told Mr. McGrath that he attended Dr. Casey, but he did not go to him.

To Mr. McGuire—He got £1 a week from Mr. Power, the job was up against his house. He had to walk 14 miles to McGrath's job.

To his Lordship—He gave 34 days at quarry work in January, but had to give it up. He did not try for work since. He went to his solicitor in January.

His Lordship—I think the matter is clear and from the evidence I consider that plaintiff is lazy and undeserving. He found there was very slight incapacity. He accepted Mr. McGrath's evidence. Plaintiff is not the honest witness that his solicitor put him up to be. However, I think he is entitled to some damages, which he would limit to 1d. a week.

On the question of liability of Mr. McGrath, he held the indemnity to the Board of Health was good and that Mr. McGrath is liable for costs.

WEST WATERFORD DIVISIONAL HURLING CHAMPIONSHIPS

On Sunday two important matches in the first round of the West Waterford Divisional Hurling Championships were played at Lismore before a fairly large crowd of spectators. The weather was cold and snowy, which accounted for the attendance not being considerably larger, but those present were treated to two very fast and well-contested games, notwithstanding the big lead which the winning teams had in both cases.

The first match was between the minor hurling teams of St. Carthage's, Lismore, and Cappoquin, but the home team proved too fast and experienced for their opponents, and despite a splendid defence, St. Carthage's led at half-time by 7 goals to 1 for Cappoquin.

Play was of a far more even nature in the second half, St. Carthage's being unable to score as frequently as in the earlier stages owing to Cappoquin's fine defensive work, and the home team were content with 1 goal 1 point, while Cappoquin added 2 points, but they were never able to wipe out the big lead established in the first moiety, and the final whistle left the home team deserving winners of a good game on the score—

St. Carthage's 9-1
Cappoquin 1-2
Mr. Wm. Hogan, Lismore, refereed.

The second match was between the Senior Hurling teams of Dungarvan and Avonmore, the latter a strong team, and it was replete with a very stylish exhibition of the code.

Both sides played with great speed and judgment, and so even was the game that only a point divided them at half-time, when Dungarvan led by 4 goals against 3 goals 2 points for Avonmore.

For the first half of the second moiety very even play was maintained, but from this onward the superior speed and staying powers of the Dungarvan team were everywhere in evidence, and Dungarvan emerged rather easy winners on the final score—

Dungarvan 11-1
Avonmore 4-5
Mr. W. Sheehan, Talow, refereed.

KILLING SHEEP AND CATTLE WITHOUT LICENSE

At Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday, Wm. Moran, Mill street, Carrick-on-Suir, was prosecuted for having killed sheep and cattle and exposed meat for sale and for human consumption without having a licensed slaughterhouse.

Defendant said he found himself unable to pay the levy.

Mr. O'Connor, State Solicitor, said the licence was withdrawn from the defendant last November, but he continued to kill cattle and sheep and sell meat.

Defendant—That is my way of living. Justice McCabe—And my way of living is to see that men like you will not defy the law.

Mr. O'Connor said the fine prescribed in the Act was £10 for each beast killed and exposed for sale.

On defendant giving an undertaking to give up the killing of the sheep and cattle without a license and the case was adjourned to next court.

Monster Whist Drive—
Unusually attractive and valuable prizes will be offered for the Monster Whist Drive to be held in the Town Hall, Lismore, in aid of the Lismore Boy Scouts, on Sunday night next, April, 26th. This event should meet a ready response from all the sporting ladies and gentlemen in West Waterford.
Apart altogether from the worthy object of the Drive the value, number and variety of the prizes offered should make a strong appeal to all, and we hope to see a record attendance present on Sunday night.

Vote of Condolence—
At a special meeting of the Lismore Hurling Club a vote of sympathy was passed to Mr. Joseph Geary, on the recent death of his wife.
Proposed by J. Ross, and seconded by J. O'Neill.

Waterford Woman Missing—
Miss Alice Flynn (33) has been missing from her home, 11, The Mall, Waterford, since Sunday night, when she left the house after chatting with other members of the family. When last seen she was wearing a red hat, black shoes, an all-black dress, and check coat. She has a scar on the left wrist.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

SUMMER WEATHER—Since Summer time was officially proclaimed, the authorities in charge of the weather Department must have gone on strike or on the spree. How otherwise could they have foisted upon an innocent people such misery as has been encountered in the atmospheric conditions of the past week? With alternatives of snow, frost, sleet and a biting east wind, man and beast have been perished and the experts say the worst is not yet. On Tuesday heavy falls of snow fell all over the country and race meetings and such outdoor gatherings had to be abandoned. In the good old days the seasons followed each other regularly, but since an attempt has been made by man to regulate when winter should end and summer begin and vice versa, things have gone awry and there is ample evidence that no toleration is to be given to those who would interfere in the affairs of the weather Clerk in the discharge of his duties. Perhaps that official is on the 95 years mark and he objects to the proposal of our Local Government to superannuate all such officials as being inefficient and out-of-date. Something has happened and the public at large are paying for it in the weather business.

SOME MILK—Dungarvan Creameries Ltd., received 3 1/2 million gallons of milk in the year 1935. At 10 lbs. to the gallon any schoolboy can compute the number of tons of milk the herds of this area supplied despite all opposition of weather, flies and uncharted complaints, such as sterility, abortion, etc. And it took some milking too. As milking machines are few and far between all the work had to be done by hand. With winter overrunning summer and grass at this late season almost an unknown quantity, farmers have tremendous difficulty in dealing with their flocks and herds.

CARNIVAL DANCE—On Wednesday night, the Dungarvan Town Hall looked its best. It was the occasion of the grand dance under the auspices of the Carnival Committee and was a great success. The attendance, drawn from near and far was very large and worthy of the occasion. The Hall was artistically decorated in honour of the event and the general arrangements in the hands of the capable Committee left nothing to be desired. Excellent music was supplied by Miss Billie Foley, Cork, and her band, while the catering in the hands of the Committee was the very best. There were carnival novelties and prizes and everything to conduce to a most enjoyable time for all patrons and to make the event a perfect success.

SWEET WINNER WEDS—The marriage took place at Ballyduff-Portlaoigh, of Mr. James Miller, Curraghmore, and Miss Susan Curran, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Curran, Portlaoigh. It will be remembered that the bridegroom shared in an Easton ticket which ran second in the 1934 Derby. It was also shared by his father and mother—Mr. and Mrs. Miller, Portlaoigh.

VERDICT—NOT GUILTY—At the Waterford Circuit Court on Monday, before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C., a young man named Maurice Morrissey, Moneygurn, Cappoquin, was charged on three counts with a serious offence. The proceedings which lasted 9 hours were held in Camera. The Jury returned a verdict of not guilty. Mr. Lennon, B.L., (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor), prosecuted; and Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan), defended.

LOOK OUT—For the opening event of the season—Kinsalebeg Novice Sports—to be held at the Gaelic Field, on Thursday, May, 21st. Full particulars later.

SYMPATHY—At a meeting of the Touraneena Fife and Drum Band, a vote of sympathy was passed to the family and relatives of the late John Fitzgerald, Bleantis, in their recent bereavement.

A PRACTICE DANCE—Will be held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan on Sunday night, April 26th from 8 to 11 p.m. Admission 4d. Music by Ballinroad Dance Band. All are welcome.

BOXING—A meeting of the Committee of the Dungarvan Boxing Club will be held in the Town Hall, on Monday, April, 27th, at 8 p.m.

AT THE CINEMA—The celebrated artiste Fred Astaire and his partner Ginger Rogers, appear in the Musical Dancing Film Roberta, shown those nights at the Dungarvan Cinema. On Saturday night at 8.30 there will be a final show and a special train is coming from Lismore with a large party sponsored by Lord Charles Cavendish and Lady Cavendish, Lismore Castle.

PRETTY WEDDING AT MOUNT MELLERAY, CAPPOQUIN

A very pretty wedding took place at Mount Mellery Abbey, on Wednesday, 22nd inst., when Mr. John J. Barron, Proprietor of "Barron's Hotel," Cappoquin, and Barron's Machine Bakery, do., was married to Miss Mary Aloysius (May) Daly, elder daughter of Mr. John P. Daly, General Merchant, Lismore, and the late Mrs. Daly, do.

The bridegroom, who is the third son of Mrs. Barron, Cappoquin, and the late Mr. John Barron, is one of the best-known sportsmen in West Waterford and was a prominent oarsman in the Cappoquin Rowing Club for many years. He is Treasurer of the Rowing Club, and is extremely popular with all the members, while as Proprietor of the well-known "Barron's Hotel" and the Machine Bakery, in Castle street, he is one of the leading traders in the town.

The bride is a young lady of great personal charm and belongs to a highly-esteemed Lismore family.

The marriage was solemnised by Rev. Father Dominic, O.Cist., Mount Mellery, assisted by Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin, and the Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C. do., the bride being attended by two bridesmaids, Miss Sheila Daly, Lismore, (sister of the bride), and Miss HESSIE BARRON, Cappoquin, (sister of the bridegroom).

The best man was Mr. James Lincoln, while Mr. Joe Barron (brother of the bridegroom), acted as groomsmen.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked radiant in a pretty frock of Pale Blue georgette and Old Limerick Lace, and carried a beautiful bouquet of lilies, while the two bridesmaids were similarly attired and carried bouquets of lilies.

The ceremony was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the parties, all of whom were afterwards entertained at the Wedding breakfast, which was served in sumptuous style at Mount Mellery. Later in the day the happy pair left for their honeymoon.

LISMORE NOTES.

A Great Dance—The last dance of the season under the auspices of the Ballyduff Sports Committee was held in the spacious ballroom at Ballysaggartmore house on Sunday night, and it proved a most enjoyable wind-up to the popular dances held by the same Committee during the winter months.

There was an unusually large attendance present drawn from all parts of West Waterford and East Cork, and a more lively and spirited dance had not been seen in the same hall for a long time. The floor was in perfect order, while the room was artistically decorated for the occasion. The Nightingale Orchestra, under the conductorship of Mr. P. Gilgan, had been specially engaged for the occasion, and a delightful programme of all the latest dance music, introducing the popular old-time waltzes, barn dances, etc., was rendered.

The catering arrangements were efficiently carried out in the hands of the Ballyduff Sports Committee. Dancing continued until 5 o'clock in the morning, when all present stood erect for the playing of the National Anthem.

GAEIC NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG"

The Pike, a new football team from the wooded highlands to the North East of Dungarvan, beat the more strongly fancied Cathal Brugha's decisively last Sunday in their Junior Football replay at Dungarvan. Despite the powerful assistance of the Noonan brothers, "Fitz's" team had to bow the knee to the country lads, who surprised everybody, including themselves, by their facile victory. Thus encouraged, this new team, with due attention to training and practice, will "warm" more experienced strings in the later rounds of the championship.

At Lismore, in cold but dry weather, a moderate crowd patronised two interesting, though by no means thrilling, hurling encounters. In the minor fray St. Carthage's won, on a tight rein, from their Cappoquin neighbours, who though well beaten, played a plucky game to the end. Cappoquin had no defence against the fast bewildering attacks and deft striking of such scientific hurlers as Feeney, Moore, Healy, Fives and "Mackey" Lynch of the Lismore side. Brackett, Brennan, Sargent and O'Donnell fought with rare doggedness all through to hold the brilliant St. Carthage's boys who should on form go far into the 1936 Minor Championship.

The Senior game between Dungarvan and Avonmore provided some freak features. At times the hurling was superb, at others painfully poor. The visitors had the green flag waving inside a few minutes and it looked odds-on another runaway game. But the Avonmore backs, heartened by the great goal-keeping of Joe Pearce behind them, at length settled down. Pat Feeney, O'Higgins, Murray and Lane offered the stoutest resistance to a succession of fierce Dungarvan attacks, play was transferred to mid-field where hectic duels between Feeney and Goode, provided thrills galore for the cheering partisans. Flynn and Moylan on the other side of the pitch clashed and tackled with rare guts and the Dungarvan had had to hurl all he knew to hold the honours against his tough Ballyduff opponent. The Avonmore forwards saw little enough of the ball but used that little to the best advantage. Johnny Ryan was in sparkling form and playing in the manner of "Johnny" Dunne, whom by the way, he closely resembles in tactics and person, sent in many beautiful centres from the left. His Cappoquin namesake notched some spectacular points whilst Daly, at full, hurried brilliantly to set the lion's share of the Avonmore score. At full time the scores read: Dungarvan 4-6, Avonmore 3-2.

Avonmore were away on the resumption and raised the white flag twice in rapid succession to give them a slender lead. Dungarvan were non-plussed. Anxiously they rallied but found their fiercest attacks broken. At length, after 15 minutes play, Moylan, getting possession, crashing and dodging in true Mick Mackey fashion, burst his way through all opposition to drive home an unstopable goal to give his team the narrow lead of one point. Excitement waxed high and the spectators settled themselves to enjoy a dramatic finish. And the dramatic happened. Avonmore collapsed; suddenly, unexpectedly and completely. The Dungarvan forwards, Foley, Barron, Houllihan and Co. hurling faultlessly, shot their way through a bewildered defence to score four goals in less than six minutes. A gale of wind which suddenly rose and blew full in the teeth of the Avonmore backs contributed in no small measure to the rout. Avonmore rallied and scored a belated goal, but Dungarvan had the game well in hand, and added two further goals without reply. Final scores were—Dungarvan—11-1; Avonmore—4-5.

Next Sunday, at Lismore, Ballyduff juniors meet Tallow in a first round hurling replay. Since their indecisive meeting, Ballyduff have come on a lot and moreover have enlisted two new stalwarts in Mick Pearce and Con Higgins. On Sunday, they were the back bone of the Avonmore team. On that form Tallow, though quietly confident, will need to excel themselves to hold the villagers. I plump for an emphatic win for the Ballyduff.

At Ballymacartry, next Sunday, the local rivals, Slieve Cuia and Glenn na h-Uidhre, will settle the question of football supremacy in North Waterford. The Touraneans men have the more imposing record, and with the services of such hardy footballers as the Daltons, Powers, Cliffe and Loneragan, will make a bold bid for the laurels.

The Nine boys, holding such powerful playing as Jim Moloney, Paddy Grant, Mat Ryan and Garda Melody, will take the world of beating. It will be a needle game and, as I can't separate the contestants, a drawn result is probable. It is to be hoped that this fixture in the pretty little village of Ballymacartry will be generously supported. The policy of fixing games for rural venues like this is a wise one—but the local club-in-charge should respond by having the arrangements thoroughly efficient. A well prepared pitch and proper stewarding are essentials in a game like this between local rivals. Quarrelling and indiscipline are the ruin of all too many rural fixtures of this nature and—well—prevention is better than cure.

Next Sunday in Waterford a big Gaelic programme will be staged. Ballytruckle will meet Ferrybank in Junior hurling. This should be an intriguing game in view of the eagerly awaited debut of Ferrybank in Co. Waterford hurling. But the match of the day is the meeting of the Senior Football inter-county teams of Waterford and Wexford. No need to boast Wexford football—it's record speaks for itself. Four All-Irelands in a row is a proud achievement ment equalled only by Kerry. Waterford has come to the front in no uncertain manner recently by vanquishing a strong Kerry team at Dungarvan. It is only the first of many obstacles in its path to football glory. Here are the men who are chosen to clear those obstacles for Waterford:—

Waterford Senior Football Team:—
Goalkeeper—Seamus Hayes (Dungarvan); Full back—M. Lyne (De La Salle College); Right Back—M. Lovett (De La Salle); Left Back—F. O'Mara (Fenore); Centre Half—O'Sullivan (De La Salle); Right Half—B. O'Casey (Fenore); Left Half—D. Walsh (Kilrossanty); Midfield C. Moylan and T. Greaney (Dungarvan); Centre Forward—Paul Russell (Capt.) (Dungarvan); Right Wing—P. Gough (Fenore); Left Wing—E. Lynch (De La Salle); Full Forward—D. Goode (Dungarvan); Left Full—B. Spollen (Fenore); Right Full—Wm. Barron (Dungarvan); Subs—O'Sullivan (De La Salle); T. Conolly and E. Casey, (Fenore); J. Power (Strathbally); and J. Mountain (St. Stephens).

What has happened the Bishop Hackett Hurling Cup Competition? A few years ago, this trophy caused the greatest rivalry and many hotly contested games between the Secondary Schools and Colleges in Co. Waterford. Today and for some years back, this competition has been in a state of stalemate. I wonder why. Certainly it is not for lack of enthusiasm amongst the scholars. Never before has hurling been so strong in our schools. To-day, Mount Sion, Waterford, St. Augustine's Dungarvan and the C.B.S. Dungarvan, and Lismore all boast of first class hurling sides. Let them settle on the playing pitch the question of hurling supremacy and let the reward of victory be the elusive Bishop Hackett Cup. Nothing finer as a spectacle has been served up on the Gaelic Field than the fast and furious finals to which Mount Sion and Lismore treated us five or six years ago. Why not again?

"Comic Strip" features are all the rage lately in the pages of our big daily newspapers. Here are some types which have so far escaped the cartoonist:—(1) The hurler who thinks that he only can take a free—his best effort out of the hand is usually 30 yards, when taking a free usually an amusing 30 feet.
(2) The side-line "infallible" who starts the chorus, "Did you see that one, ref?"
(3) The "warrior" who never displays a pugilistic complex except on the field of play.
(4) The "simple" critic who, like myself, fondly imagines he is hidden behind his name-de-plume.

Next Sunday's G.A.A. Programme is as follows:—
At Lismore—Ballyduff v. Tallow (Junior Hurling Replay), at 4 p.m. Referee—Wm. Hogan.
At Dungarvan—Strathbally v. The Pike Junior Football, at 3 p.m. Referee—S. Hayes. Kilrossanty A. v. Dungarvan, Junior Football, at 4.15 p.m. Referee James Lyons.
At Ballymacartry—Slieve Cuia v. Glenn na h-Uidhre, Junior Football, at 4 p.m.
At Waterford—Ferrybank v. Ballytruckle, Junior Hurling. Waterford v. Wexford, Senior Football. Big match starts at 3.45 p.m.

CAPPOQUIN PAROCHIAL FUND

Successful Whist Drive In Aid
A most enjoyable and successful Whist Drive was held in the C.M.Y.S. Hall in Cappoquin on Sunday night in aid of the Cappoquin Parochial Fund and was participated in by 68 players (47 tables), the ladies and gentlemen taking part being drawn from Tallow, Lismore and Cappoquin, as well as the surrounding districts, and the support accorded the function by those from outside sources was greatly appreciated by Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin, and the other promoters of the Drive.
All the arrangements were admirably carried out by the officers and committee of the C.M.Y.S. Mr. R. J. Collender, President, proving a most efficient M.C., while Messrs. J. Lincoln, J. E. Crowe, and J. P. Olden, Hon. Sec., proved accurate and most expeditious "checkers".
The valuable prize of £2 was offered for the highest score, (ladies or gentlemen), all the other prizes being proportionately valuable, and after a very interesting contest of 20 games, the £2 prize was won by Mrs. Ivy Crowe, Cappoquin, with a score of 162, and she was warmly congratulated by all on her popular victory.
The full list of prize-winners and prizes is as follows—
Ladies—First prize (£2), Mrs. Ivy Crowe, Cappoquin, (162). Second—Leg of Mutton—Miss Chris. O'Donnell, Lismore, (148). Third—Toilet Set—Miss Ryan, Tallow, (144).
Gentlemen—First prize—A Cappoquin Ham—Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin, (152). Second—Valuable Clock—Sergt. C. Dalton, G.S., Cappoquin, (151). Third prize—Toilet Set—Rev. Father Power, C.C., Lismore, (142).
The prizes were distributed by the Very Rev. Father Fitzgerald, P.P., after which Mr. R. J. Collender, M.C., briefly thanked all the ladies and gentlemen who had so kindly attended the Whist Drive and helped to make it such a success for the Cappoquin Parochial Fund.

PARCEL POST
Mr. Boland (Minister for Posts and Telegraphs) informed Mr. Norton that the number of parcels posted in this country for delivery in the country for 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, and 1935, were 3,725,000; 3,591,000; 3,726,000; 3,875,000; and 3,984,000, respectively.

MULCAHY'S—DUNGARVAN

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

Successful Easter Dance.
The annual Easter Sunday night dance held in the Boathouse hall, under the auspices of the Cappoquin Rowing Club proved a pronounced success and a thoroughly enjoyable function. In fact, all the dances held by this old-established Club within recent years have been steadily growing in popularity, and it was not surprising to find a splendid attendance of over 100 couples on this occasion. The young ladies and gentlemen from Dungarvan deserve a special word of praise for the generous and consistent manner in which they have supported all social events in Cappoquin for many years, and they fully lived up to their reputation on Sunday week, as they came in large numbers by special bus and in motor cars, and proved the life and soul of the night's proceedings. Other centres which also sent contingents included Lismore, Clonmel, Tallow, Ballyduff, Cappagh, Villierstown, Aghish and Clashmore, and with a good attendance from Cappoquin, the gathering proved a most gay and representative one, and with the proper Easter Holiday spirit pervading all, a most lively and enjoyable night was spent from start to finish. Delightful music was rendered by the Nightingale Orchestra, Lismore, under the conductorship of Mr. P. Gillan, and with the accomplished Miss Eily Mullins, Cappoquin, at the piano, the music was a rare treat to listen to during the night, and was warmly praised by all the dancers.

The floor was in capital order for dancing, and the best of order and good humour were maintained by Mr. J. Daly, who proved a most courteous and efficient M.C. Mr. G. Watson, the experienced Caterer, was in charge of the catering arrangements, and the attentive and highly-satisfactory manner in which he provided supper for all was greatly appreciated by his hosts of patrons, and contributed very largely to the success and enjoyment of the event.
The soft, silvery streak of dawn had already begun to illumine the Eastern sky when the playing of the National Anthem brought to a close a most entertaining night of unalloyed pleasure and enjoyment for all.

Departure of A Popular Nurse.
Miss M. C. Lyne, who has so ably filled the important position of Jubilee Nurse in Cappoquin for over the past five years, is transferred to Blackrock, Co. Dublin.
The extensive area which forms the Cappoquin Dispensary District includes a large portion of rough mountain land in which many farms, and the houses, in some cases being almost inaccessible, but whether in the mountain fastness, or the more convenient centres of the town and surrounding districts, Miss Lyne was always ready to respond to the call of duty, and by her kind, skilful and humane treatment do everything possible to alleviate the sufferings of the sick and all others requiring her attention.
At every Annual Meeting of the Cappoquin District Nursing Association held since her appointment to Cappoquin, high tributes have been paid to her by the members owing to her great devotion to duty, while her unflinching kindness and courtesy, especially towards the poor, have won for her a high place in the affection and esteem of all classes of the people of Cappoquin and district. She was a great social favourite here, as her charming and unassuming disposition made her extremely popular with everybody, and while her departure will now be a source of deep regret to all she can rest assured that she carries with her the best wishes of all sections of the townspeople for her future success and prosperity in her new sphere of duties in the Co. Dublin.

Drastic Licensing Laws.
The recent decision of Mr. Justice Hanna in the High Court, Dublin, on the right of bona-fide travellers to obtain drink after attending a dance at night, had its first repercussion here on the occasion of the all-night dance on Easter Sunday night, when travellers from over the three-miles' area, who had previously been supplied with refreshments after midnight on Sunday night, found all the local licensed premises barred against them, and their favourite houses plunged in darkness and gloom during the night.

No Cuckoo, But Plenty Swallows.
The Cuckoo, whose soft cooing notes are always pleasant to hear as the welcome harbinger of summer, has not yet been heard in this district, and probably 'tis lucky for him (or her) that this is so, because in face of the bitter and wintry weather we are experiencing, everybody would say that the cuckoo was a darned liar if he had told us that summer was near.
Swallows, however, have been here in plenty, because on the Race Night, over a fortnight ago, we saw some of the best "Swallows" seen for a long time.

A Quiet Easter-tide.
The religious services associated with Holy Week were very largely attended by the faithful of the town, and parish, and the congregations present at the Stations of the Cross on Good Friday night was one of the largest seen for years.
The number of communicants at first Mass on Easter Sunday morning, was also extremely large, and both Father Fitzgerald, P.P., and Father Dunphy, C.C., have good reason to be proud of the devotion and exemplary manner in which the members of their faithful flock attended to their spiritual duties on the occasion.
Easter Sunday proved an unusually quiet day in the town, and the same may be said of Easter Monday, and taken on the whole, this proved one of the tinnest and most uneventful Easter-tides for a long time.

ASSAULT ON GARDA SERGEANT
At Carrick-on-Suir District Court, Sgt. Dennehy, Traamore, summoned James Houllihan, a labourer from Knockaville, Co. Waterford, for having assaulted Sgt. Philip Rathmore.
The Sgt. stated he was called to a farm house where the defendant worked. Defendant was drunk and threatening the people of the house. When witness spoke to him he kicked witness in the shin and attempted to strike him. Later he came to the barrack and apologised. His character had been good.
The Justice said but for the plea of mercy the Sergeant had made, he would send defendant to jail. He warned others like him that if they think they can assault police officers they are much mistaken. Should another case like this come before him he will send the defendant to jail.

WORK IN BAKERIES
Mr. Lemass, Minister for Industry and Commerce, informed Mr. Pattison, that he hoped to introduce a Bill dealing with the prohibition of night work in bakeries early in the present session.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL.

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; J. R. Smyth, P.C.; T. Beausang, W. O'Sullivan, R. Power, M. D. Broderick, J. Whelan, E. D. Condon, D. McCarthy, J. Daly, B.E., M. Ahern, J. N. R. Macnamara, solr.; E. P. Lynch, R. C. Farrell, Vice-Chairman; Capt. C. Watson.

Acknowledgment. Mrs. Somerville, widow of the late Admiral Somerville, wrote thanking the Council for the resolution adopted by them expressing their horror of the shooting of her husband, and for the sympathy extended to her and her family.

Clearance Areas Demolition. Messrs. Hodnett, solrs., wrote stating that the time for the demolition of certain Clearance Areas, Kermy's Power's, Hurley's Lanes, etc., had expired, and it was now the Council's duty to take action.

Mr. Daly—As far as Kermy's Lane is concerned, you can take it, it will be defended by force. I am prepared to lose my life, if necessary. It is my father's property; he needs it for his own use in connection with his farm and we won't allow it to be demolished.

The Chairman—All we can do is serve the notice mentioned by our solicitor. Mr. Daly—There is a big difference between Kermy's Lane and the other areas. You will realise it when the crisis arrives.

Mr. Power—You got an order from the Government to carry out. What can we do? Mr. Daly—I lost the best days of my life in defence of justice for Ireland, while those responsible for this injustice had not the guts to come out. I am going to do the same again.

Strand Road. Mrs. Redmond, T.D., wrote enclosing a letter received by her from the L.G. to the effect that a grant of 50 per cent. up to £375 would be made towards the repair of the Strand road.

A similar letter was read from Mr. Cosgrave, T.D. Mr. Daly—I lost the best days of my life in defence of justice for Ireland, while those responsible for this injustice had not the guts to come out. I am going to do the same again.

Damage to Strand. A letter was read from the County Surveyor, stating that he thought the estimate of £1,810 for repairs to the sea wall etc., was exaggerated.

The Chairman said since that estimate was made, a lot of extra damage had been done and he had it from competent persons that £2,000 would hardly cover it.

Mr. Whelan said there was no use minimising the damage. It did not require an engineering experience to see that the estimate was not exaggerated.

Mr. Daly said his considered opinion was that the estimate was not exaggerated.

Pig Markets. A letter was read from the Irish Pig Dealers' Association regarding the proposal of the Pig Marketing Board to eliminate live pig fairs and markets.

Mr. Broderick proposed that they give every possible support to the Pig Dealers' Association. The pig merchants had kept that trade alive for the farmers, and it would be a great loss if the Board's proposal were carried into effect.

Mr. Lynch, seconding, agreed fully with Mr. Broderick's remarks. The pig buyers had kept the markets going. If they were knocked out there would be no competition.

Mr. Power said the doing away of the pig markets would mean a big loss to town and country. Mr. Macnamara—There seems to be a mania for State control in the country. This is another example of the trend towards socialism.

The Chairman and others having supported the proposition, it was passed unanimously.

The Dail. Mr. Power—Up there in the Dail they are bickering and fighting. I suggest a resolution calling on them all to drop their politics and get on with the business of the country.

Strand Sluice. A letter was read from the Co. Council stating that the estimate for the repair of the sluice on the front strand was £60, the Council's proportion being £20. This was agreed to.

Rate Books. A letter was read from the L.G. stating that they were prepared to sanction a payment of £6-4 weeks at 30/- for the making out of the ratebooks and demand notes.

The Clerk said it was a physical impossibility to do the work in 4 weeks, even if the whole day were devoted to it, and 30/- weekly was a miserable remuneration for such responsible work.

Mr. Whelan said he had made them out one year, and it was utterly ridiculous to say that they could be done in four weeks. It would take much longer.

The Clerk was directed to bring the Council's opinion before the L.G. Casement's Body. A letter was read from the National Graves' Association in connection with the refusal of the British Government to hand over the remains of Roger Casement for re-burial in Ireland.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)

Civil Bills. A number of civil bills, in which Messrs. Wm. R. Hodnett, T. K. Keane, and J. N. R. Macnamara, solrs., appeared, were first disposed of.

Annuity Cases. Mr. D. Casey, State Solr., Mitchelstown, appeared for the Irish Land Commission in a number of civil bills for annuity arrears. Decrees were granted, a stay being given in some cases on the application of Mr. Keane.

Land Commission v. Morrissey. This was a civil bill for £3 for trespass by the Irish Land Commission against John Morrissey, Gurtinagappel.

Mr. D. Casey, for plaintiffs, said they became owners of the lands in question last July. On 13th January, an Inspector visited the lands and found cattle grazing. He went to defendant, who said the cattle weren't his and he did not know the owners.

The Inspector came again, accompanied by the local Guards on the 20th. They drove off the cattle and Morrissey came along and claimed them. It was arable land. They were not able to fix the damage definitely.

Defendant's sister appeared and asked to have the case adjourned as her brother wanted to consult his solicitor, Mr. Rice, who was from home.

The Justice said the civil bill was served on 6th April. Evidence having been given by Mr. Delahunt, Inspector, and Guard Rooney, a decree for 6/- with 10/- expenses was granted.

Unlicensed Stallion. In the adjourned case against Ed. Joyce, Ballyknock, for having an unlicensed stallion.

Mr. Casey, for the prosecution, said his worship had adjourned the case last day for the production of the regulations dealing with it.

Guard Smyth, Killeagh, stated that on the 11th November, he found a dark grey stallion, aged 2 years 4 months at defendant's place. He looked for another but failed to find him. Defendant said he intended applying for a license.

Defendant made a long statement to the effect that he had applied for a licence and sent money to Dublin. He had two horses, one for working. The Inspector told him he would not get a permit for the second. He would comply with the law.

After a protracted hearing the case was further adjourned for two months.

Fishery Case. The Duke of Devonshire and the Lismore Estates Co., Ltd., summoned Jas. and Wm. O'Donoghue and Geo. and Robert Webster, with trespassing on their several fishery at Youghal.

Mr. E. Carroll, solr., Fermoy, for complainants. Bailiff Sweeney, stated that on 7th February, he found the defendants fishing in the Harbour. Their excuse was that the day was bad. It was bad. He did not see any fish with them.

James O'Donoghue, said it was a terrible day, the first of the bad weather in February. They were dragged into the Harbour. If they tried to haul their nets, they would be drowned.

The Justice—The defence is "an act of God." Mr. Carroll said they were bound to protect the rights of those who paid for Harbour licenses. As regards the defence "an act of God," there were boats fishing outside. The men were liable to a minimum fine of 10/- each, but as they had the case fairly he would accept a penalty against one only, without costs.

The Justice—That is reasonable. You have been treated very well. Keep out of those prohibited waters. James O'Donoghue, the skipper, was then fined 10/-.

School Cases. Guard Ceasar, charged a number of persons with the non-attendance of children at school. Fines of 1/- "to start with" were imposed.

Defendant Drunk. Denis O'Brien, Chapel Lane, was charged with five offences of drunk and disorderly, etc. Guard Carroll said O'Brien came to the barrack on the night of 9th April. He was drunk. He asked to be taken in and adopted a fighting attitude.

Defendant—I got a bit of money and over rejoiced. I took a few drinks. The Justice—Is he sober now? Sergt. Lupton—No, sir. He is drunk. The Justice—How can I try a man when he is drunk?

O'Brien—I promise you I will never again trouble these men. Money and beer and all stopped now (laughter). The Justice—You are not sober now. Guard Madden stated that the defendant attacked him on two occasions.

Guard Ceasar, stated defendant came drunk to the barrack and broke a pane of glass. He put it in next day. Detective-Officer Power, stated that on the 28th March, O'Brien, attacked him in the Main street. He said he would beat all the Guards in Youghal and him, too (laughter).

The Justice—This is too much of a joke. One month in each case, to run together. MISSING GERMAN MINISTER. Despite relentless searching by aeroplanes, cars, camel corps, and volunteer searchers, there is still no sign of Baron Von Stohrer, German Minister in Cairo, who disappeared during a sandstorm in the desert last Saturday.

YOUGHAL MENTAL HOSPITAL

At the usual monthly meeting of the Committee of the above, there attended—Messrs. W. J. Broderick, T.D., Chairman, Sean O'Loaighaire, T.C., Rev. D. Duane, and Dr. M. Twomey, Visiting Physician.

Patients. Mr. O'Loaighaire—Any more patients? Fr. Duane—No. Mr. O'Loaighaire—The place above is overflowing.

Manager's Report. The Manager's report stated that since last meeting two male patients had been admitted from the Cork Mental Hospital, and two (one female and one male) died, leaving in residence at present a total of 425 (249 men and 176 women). The patients enjoyed the extra Easter Fare kindly sanctioned by the Committee of Management. On the 15th, a most enjoyable entertainment was given by the Children's Branch of the Gaelic Dancers under the charge of Miss Hallissey. It was much appreciated and enjoyed by the patients and staff. The report of Dr. Kelly, Inspector of Mental Hospitals also reported and inventory of stock were submitted. Contracts had been satisfactorily carried out during the month. Sums amounting to £50 had been received towards the maintenance of patients and lodged to the credit of the Mental Hospital account. Grateful thanks were due to Miss Hallissey, Youghal, and Miss A. O'Neill, Farranferris, Cork, for gifts of magazines and pictorials for the Institution.

Inspector's Report. Portions of Dr. Kelly's report were read and discussed and Mr. O'Loaighaire suggested that copies be distributed among members.

The report stated that the wards were heated by three open fires. It would be well if central heating were in operation throughout the building. It was cold and the corridors drafty.

The Chairman—We can hardly consider central heating at the moment. Having dealt with the dress materials which were spottedly clean, the report stated that the boots and shoes in use were much too heavy, and also very uncomfortable.

The Chairman—Have their been any complaints? The Manager—Yes. The Chairman—We could agree with that part of the report. The report proceeded stating that a cold storage plant was urgently needed and he (the Inspector) hoped that the Committee would consider the matter at the earliest possible opportunity. More books and pictorials were needed.

The Chairman—The report is too voluminous to consider. Let it be circulated. The Manager said a new range was required. Mr. O'Loaighaire—We could recommend that. Fr. Duane said the report stated that only one of the nurses possessed a training certificate. Members of the staff should be trained with that view. All new candidates should be submitted to a rigorous educational test to guarantee that they would be afterwards fit for nursing examination.

The remainder of the report was referred to the Cork meeting. Doctor's Report. Dr. Twomey, vacated for his usual vacation, which was granted.

Meat Supply. Replying to the chairman, the doctor said the meat supplied was satisfactory.

KILMACTHOMAS NEWS.

Excursions Afloat Sunday Last—

The benefits of the additional 3,600 seconds of daylight having brought about by the commencement of "Official Summer Time" which came into operation at 2.15 on the 19th inst., were "enjoyed" in a most enjoyable way by a party of about 100 persons who were out on the water in the afternoon. The weather was fine, but a cold and strong wind from the south-west being experienced. In the early afternoon a heavy shower fell in Kilmacthomas and the next few hours conditions were unpropitious. Towards evening the weather began to improve and there was a considerable sprinkling all night. The night was very dark and this combined with the rain prevented the utmost measure of enjoyment being derived from the excursion. The Stradally S.F. XV. were at home in the Ballyduff Lower ground, Gaultier conquered Clones-Power in their Junior football first-round tie of this year's East Waterford Divisional Championship. A good gathering of on-lookers were treated to a pretty nippy display by both bunches.

The convincing triumph of the recently-formed Pike Junior Football team over the Cahal Brugha's at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, certainly stamps them a superior set. May they keep on keeping on smiling and victoriously sincerely say we are with you and beauty of Comeragh Valley was appreciably well represented at the Ballyduff held in Leamybrien Hall on Sunday night, under the auspices and in aid of the Kilmacthomas Football Club. All the best-known Irish dances figured in the programme, and the eclectic function was well and heartily enjoyed by all participating.

The shooting who were hastening unknown men had. These men at Egan was at home Dance in the Town they left. His mother both she and her to inform their son. Later Mrs. Egan where he was having who called and "GO HOME AND Mrs. Egan then car again near the. When her occupants of the number of shots outside the Priests. THE SHO in this part of the world as anywhere else. Here we have quite our share of fierce dogs, high hedges, noise some cats, loud radios and troublesome children. A rightly respected reader of the region recently received an epistle that was, we should say, "out on its own." It was from a neighbour who complained that she could not sleep at night owing to the distracting "cracking" of the fir tree in his garden! Could he not do something about it? We suggested he should oil the tree.

A Portlaw Man's Plight— To write this paragraph almost makes us squirm with embarrassment! It is about a young Portlaw man who, on a recent evening, took a young lady to the pictures in a Waterford cinema. Naturally enough he did the paying part of the "entertainment." It was after his visit to the box-office that the "tragedy" happened. He found his girl companion was standing ready to enter the balcony door, whereas he had only bought tickets for the stalls! Oh! the misery of that youth of the "Leather City" as he retrieved his friend and led her to the downstairs queue! Some people who, like your simple scribbler, noticed the incident were amused, but the sincere sympathy of "mise bicht feim" oozed out to that unfortunate male!

A Query— Do people think best when working? The obvious answer is "yes," but we wouldn't be sure. Not long ago we heard of a Tramore golfer who left the links in the middle of a match in order to write down an idea that had just run into his head. A Kill friend, too, recently confessed that his best thinking is done when he is comfortably seated in front of a roaring fire. "It got all sorts of useful thoughts then," he said. We have also heard of people doing a lot of intelligent thinking immediately before going to sleep, and of others who lined long, lone walks a brain tonic. The best land schemes, it seems, are planned in the strangest places.

Stingless Bees— Just back from a holiday in Dublin is the "unbobbed" belle of the Barony of Middle Third who tells us that a consignment of stingless bees will soon be a feature of the Metropolitan Zoo. This is most interesting. Though poets have raved about the "Bee and the Honey-suckle" and exalted its association with all that is beautiful in garden life, we learned to avoid the little buzzer because of its bally sting. Those of us who experienced the pain of such a sting vince again at the very recollection of it, and if a bee comes buzzing in the neighbourhood of where we happen to be we get ready immediately to combat the attacker. If the stingless bees fulfil the same purpose in nature as the variety with which we are already familiar, there is no reason we know why an insect should not have its share of them. We might all become our own honey-makers and every home would have its hive. At the present time the industry of beekeeping is more or less a reserved service. Those engaged in it enjoy a kind of hereditary immunity from the stings to which ordinary mortals are susceptible. But though we have suggested that the stingless bee could benefit the majority in an economic sense, the honey might lose some of its present precious appeal if it should become common. So it is a case of— to be or not to be—Beekeepers.

A Judgment Akin To Solomon's— By all accounts there is no little rivalry between the folk of the two sides of Dungarvan Bay; it is said to be almost as keen as that between Aglish and Villiersstown. Anyway, a hot argument had sprung up as to which was the more beautiful territory—the Helvic side or Clones side, and the two disputants referred the point at issue to a neutral friend. The latter's ruling was—"I like Helvic best, because from it I can see so much of Clones." And both the controversialists were satisfied.

County Council Property Missing— Last week-end it was learned at Kilmacthomas on reliable authority that a lock-up wooden hut at the County Council's quarry at Darrow was forcibly entered, and some sticks of peligrine and quarrymen's tools removed therefrom. The Civic Guards at Leamybrien were apprised of the affair and they interviewed a number of young men of the neighbourhood. The occurrence occasioned a bit of a sensation in the district. The Guards are still actively pursuing inquiries into the matter.

We Put It To You (Serious and Not)— That Kilmac's own "Mrs. Houses" are fairly "clean mad" with the Spring Fever— That even as every Dungarvan dog has its day, every Nire Valley virgin hopes to have a knight— That at this blessed moment there is but one Bonmahon bean-a-tighe a victim of the nag, nag, nag of indigestion— AND— That one of the most progressive of the younger generation of farmers in the Dunhill district is about to cultivate a Moustache.

G. A. A. JUNIOR FOOTBALL REPLAY AT DUNGARVAN

On Sunday last at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, the Pike and Cahal Brugha's Junior Football teams met in their replay for the initial round of the West Waterford Championship. The teams met previously in March and the result was a draw—6 points each.

Much interest was taken in Sunday's encounter by the supporters of both teams. It proved a rather one-sided affair however, and except for a goal scored early on as a result of a free and two points later in the first half when aided by a good breeze, Cahal Brugha's were for the best part of the hour on the defensive. The Pike on the other hand, although storming the Cahal Brugha citadel were only able to raise two point flags during this moiety due to a stubborn defence in which P. Dwyer, the full back was outstanding.

The half-time score read—Cathal Brugha's—1-1; The Pike—0-2. The second half saw the Pike assert their superiority and although Cathal Brugha's fought gamely to the final whistle, they were unable to add to their score sheet while their opponents registered 2 goals and 6 points.

The final score was— Cathal Brugha's.....1-1 The Pike.....2-8 Mr. S. Hayes, made a strict and impartial referee.

The following were the teams:— Cathal Brugha's—N. Noonan, E. Fitzgerald, T. Noonan, J. Curran, C. Coleman, J. Fraher, W. Lee, J. Hickey, W. Fennell, P. Condon, J. Lucas, W. Duggan, M. Coleman, P. Dwyer, W. Riordan. The Pike—W. Barry (goal); P. Dunford, J. Fennell, J. Carlton, M. Casey, P. Daly, M. Flynn, J. Fennell, J. Fahey, T. Lynch, P. Cowling, J. Bowe, J. Tobin, P. Dunford, G. Tobin.

BALLYDUFF NOTES

It was with great regret that the news was received here of the death of Very Rev. Martin Dowley, P.P., Kilsheelan, brother of Very Rev. Michael Dowley, P.P., Ballyduff. All the parishioners of Ballyduff join in offering their sincere sympathy to their esteemed pastor in his bereavement.

SALMON FISHING AT BALLYDUFF

The salmon fishing season is now in full swing. Despite the recent floods numerous good catches are recorded and the various visitors to the district are enjoying their days on the banks of the Blackwater. The "evergreen" Johnnie O'Brien, is still going strong, and his presence is indispensable to any fisherman on the Blackwater at Ballyduff. As well as being an expert fisherman himself "Johnnie" will regale the impatient novice with a fund of racy anecdotes, whenever the fish fail to "rise to the occasion."
