DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman; J. Crotty, J. Christopher, J. Dahilly, D. Foley, P. Dwyer, J. Foley, P. Quinn.

Dissent

In connection with a resolution on the minutes that no further applications be considered for compensation for disturbance in the Clearance Area, Mr. McCarthy, who dissented from that resolution had a note to that effect inserted in the minutes.

Mr. McCarthy said that he agreed to award compensation to Thomas Lee.

Pay Sheet

Payments passed amounted to £9 14s. 7d.

Street Cleaning

Mr. Dahilly said that on Saturday he saw men cleaning the streets on three different occasions, he suggested that in future the streets get one good cleaning. He blamed the officials not the men.

Mr. McCarthy said that something should be done to Fair Lane and in view of the Procession taking place on Sunday the work should be done immediately. It was agreed to refer the matter to the County Council.

Sunday Cinema

A letter was received from the solicitor in connection with the carrying on of Sunday night pictures, the Council having refused a 7-day licence.

The letter stated that the Council, a Civic Guard or any member of the public could prosecute Mr. Crotty.

Mr. Dwyer asked that the matter be put on the agenda for next meeting. This was agreed to.

The letter also stated that so far Mr. Crotty had not received any licence.

Mr. Dwyer asked if the licence was issued to Mr. Crotty.

The Clerk said it had not, as Mr. Crotty had not come to get it or paid the necessary amount for it.

Mr. Dwyer—Isn't it usual to notify Mr. Crotty that the licence was granted? Clerk—I cannot issue a licence until the fee is paid.

Defective Sewer

Mr. McCarthy said that a sewer in Fair Lane was in a bad state and as far as he could gather the sewer was blocked. The B.S. said if Mr. Walsh it would have been attended to. He would look after the matter immediately.

RATE ESTIMATE—1936-'37.

Reduction Of 3d. on Last Year

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at a special meeting of the Council, held on Tuesday last, for the purpose of striking a rate for the year ending March 1937. Other members present were—Messrs. J. Mansfield, J. Christopher, J. Dahilly, J. F. Foley, P. Quinn, T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman; S. Hayes, P. Byrne.

The Clerk submitted the following estimate prepared by him as follows:—Town's Improvement 2/2 in the £; Public Health 2/9; Roads 2/3; Public Water 1/3; Housing Working Classes 1/1; Provision of Meals 3d.; Domestic Water 1/1; Poor Rate 8/9. Total 19/4 in the £. The Council after going fully into all the figures reduced the Town Improvement rate by 3d. to 1/11; Public Health by 3d. to 2/6; Roads by 2d. to 2/1; Public Water by 2d. to 1/1, which reduced the estimate to 18/6 as against 18/9 for last year.

The poor rate which last year amounted to 7/1 is this year increased by 1/8 to the figure of 8/9 in the £, while the estimate for roads, which last year was 1/8 in the £ showed an increase of 5d. bringing the figure this year to 2/1 in the £.

HOLIDAYING—

Messrs. Paddy Kirwan (Kilmac) and Tommy Keavers (Gawn) are home from London on a holiday, and both are looking as fit as the proverbial fiddle. Mr. and Mrs. W. Cummins and their son and daughter are here on a visit from America. Mr. Cummins is a native of Ballyville and his wife is a daughter of Mr. Thomas Keavers of Gawn. Miss Kitty O'Donnell is also back from the States, and staying at her parental roof-tree at Brinke, Kilrossanty. Mr. Patrick Coffey and his aunt, Mrs. Porter (nee Flynn) are home from Uncle Sam's clime, too, and are now with their relatives at Fahafaelagh, Kilmacthomas.

We Put It To You (Serious And Not)—That by all the signs and tokens mining operations will be begun about Bonmahon before long.

That the spill of rain of this week served all growing crops—

That the hearts of the husbandmen of these parts were tickled joyously by the welcome downpour—

That at Clones Gaelic Ground on Sunday last Rathormack eclipsed Erin's Own (Waterford) in their Eastern Divisional Senior Football Championship tie—

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Ald. James O'Donovan, Chairman, presided at the monthly meeting of the above on Wednesday. Also present—Commissioner Moyinhan, J. Cosgrave, T. Synott, J. Halloran, P. Caulfield, T. D. Connolly.

Porter For Lismore Hospital Dr. Healy, Lismore, reported re extracts from the letter of Dr. McCormack, L.G.D. Inspector, pointing out that a porter was very necessary at the gate Lodge. The Board approved of the report.

Bonmahon Dispensary Residence Mr. Jephson, Engineer, reported damage amounting to £25 to the outhouses at the above residence during the period which it was unoccupied. The damage was done to roofs, doors, windows, etc. The Board directed the Engineer to have the repairs carried out. The Engineer was also directed to carry out internal repairs costing £7 to the residence.

Painting

Arising out of a report from Mr. Jephson, Engineer, re the necessity of painting certain wards in the Co. Hospital, at a cost of £45. It was decided to advertise for contractors.

Lismore Fever Hospital Miss O'Keefe, nurse in charge of the Lismore Hospital, reported that she had employed a carpenter to repair the floors, etc., of the nurses room at the Fever Hospital.

Chairman—That lady on several occasions has been brought to order about getting such work done. The Secretary—Except where the matter is urgent.

Commissioner Moyinhan said it would be a simple matter for that lady to ring up the Secretary who could instruct the Engineer.

The Board decided to adjourn the matter for a further report.

Home Assistance

The Secretary reported the amount of Home Assistance paid out during the month was £1,908; for the preceding month the amount was £1,991 16s. and for the corresponding period last year £1,951 10s.

Superintendent Phelan, said the reduction was due to the number of men gone back to the Labour Exchange in the City.

Seskinane Dispensary

Dr. Mullane, reported on repairs at the above; also the failure of the pump supplying water to the house. Both complaints were referred to the Engineer. Mr. Doyle, Engineer, reported on expenditure of a further £25 at Seskinane Dispensary was necessary.

Mr. Caulfield—Would that finish it. If so, I would be delighted to spend it. Mr. Connolly—If we could get a guarantee that that would make it habitable, we should approve of it. He thought that when Dr. McCormack, Local Government Inspector, sat on a chair which went through the floor it would be put right for all time. The expenditure was approved.

Storage Tank At Co. Home

The Department wrote re the proposal of the Board to erect a storage tank at the Co. Home, and asked in view of the suggested improvements to the Dungarvan Water Supply would the erection of a storage tank be necessary. The erection of the tank was adjourned pending the improvements of the water supply.

Site Sanctioned

The Department wrote sanctioning the purchase of Mr. Ryan's field as a site for the new District Hospital.

Lismore District and Fever Hospitals The Minister for Local Government and Public Health, wrote approving of the plans, etc., for the above.

The Secretary said that the site is being acquired compulsorily and until that is done, work cannot start.

Ballyduff Dispensary

Mr. Doyle, Engineer, reported the cost of repairing the roof of above would be about £2. He was directed to have the work carried out.

Cappoquin Dispensary

Mr. Doyle, Engineer, reporting on the complaints re the unsuitability of the above as a dispensary, suggested that a new dispensary should be built at a cost of about £400.

Mr. Halloran suggested building a Dispensary and letting the present building.

The matter was adjourned to allow the Secretary to look up the lease.

Mr. Connolly said the complaints about the Cappoquin Dispensary applied with even greater force to the Dungarvan dispensary, which is certainly 100 years behind time. It is unfair to the doctor and to his patients. If you went in there feeling fit you would not feel fit coming out. He thought it was at all possible to get any money from the Hos-

MOUNT MELLERAY'S NEW CHURCH

GRAND BAZAAR IN AID OPENS ON SUNDAY

(From Our Cappoquin Correspondent)

All preparations have now been completed for the opening of the Monster Bazaar and Fancy Fair to be held in the spacious Town Park, Cappoquin, from Sunday, June 21st to Monday, June 29th, in aid of the Mount Melleray Abbey New Church Building Fund.

The necessity for the building of this New Church had been fully recognised by the Cistercian Community of Mount Melleray and had been seriously debated amongst them, for almost half a century, as the original edifice built after the foundation of Mount Melleray in August, 1933, while being a wonderful feat for the then resourceless founders, had long since proved inadequate and unsuitable to the present requirements of the Community, but lack of funds constituted the chief and only obstacle towards having the old building replaced by a more suitable and commodious edifice.

On the death of the late Lord Abbot Stanislaus Hickey, on February 25th, 1933, the Right Rev. Dom Celsus O'Connell, who was then Abbot of Mount St. Bernard, Leicestershire, was elected Lord Abbot of Mount Melleray, and from the moment of his election to this exalted position a new era of progress and prosperity appears to have dawned for the Community. The manifold and multifarious improvements effected by him between the years 1933-'35 include a new and very beautiful enclosure for the Community to the North of the Guest-House garden; important extensions to the Monastic Dormitory and Refectory, rendered imperative by the rapidly increasing numbers; a new Ladies' Guest-house, built on the site of the old one outside the Monastery gates, and the complete transformation of the Eastern Avenue leading to the Abbey, to mention but a few of his many good works.

But the two events with which the name of the present Lord Abbot will be forever associated in the minds of posterity are the memorable Centenary Celebrations in August, 1933, and the starting of the building of the New Monastic Church.

It was on August, 17th, 1933 the third day of the Centenary Celebrations that the Foundation stone of the New Church was solemnly blessed and laid by His Eminence, Cardinal MacRory, at the request of the Lord Abbot, in the presence of about 4,000 visitors from all parts of Ireland, and amid a scene of pitfalls' Trust towards such a building the Board should try to get it.

Commissioner Moyinhan said as regards a proper dispensary for Dungarvan, the Urban Council should have as great an interest in the erection of a dispensary as the Board, but when the Board looked for a site the Council asked a prohibitive price.

Secretary—That was the price the plot cost the Urban Council themselves. Mr. Connolly—With all due respects to the members of the Dungarvan Urban Council, he would not thank them to make a present of a site for a Dispensary for the town.

Increase Of Salary

Nurse Guiry, District Hospital, Dungarvan, applied for an increase of salary. Her present salary is £72 per annum.

The Secretary replying to a member, said the salary scale in Dungarvan and Waterford was £60 to £72 and in Lismore £60 to £80.

Chairman—Can we go beyond the maximum?

Mr. Connolly—It is open to the Board to revise the scale of salary at any time. Certainly a nurse with 16 years service would have a grievance in only having the same salary as a beginner.

Mr. Caulfield said Nurse Guiry had given the Board 14 out of the 20 years' right service.

Mr. Halloran suggested an increase to £75.

Mr. Connolly proposed that they bring the salary to £85 and be finished with it.

Mr. Caulfield seconded.

Chairman—Nurse Guiry should be thankful to this Board for relieving her of half night duty.

Mr. Synott—I think now that what Mr. Connolly proposes is not overdoing it.

Chairman—We are all sympathetic towards Miss Guiry's application. He suggested to be unanimous at £80.

Mr. Halloran then proposed an amendment that the salary be £80.

This was seconded by the Chairman. A vote was then taken and resulted:—

For £80—Messrs. Halloran, Commissioner Moyinhan and the Chairman.—(3)

For £85—Messrs. Caulfield, Connolly, Cosgrave and Synott.—(4).

Application Refused

The application for an increase of salary read from the Caretaker of the Bonmahon Dispensary was refused on the grounds that it compared more favourably with similar salaries obtaining throughout the county.

lignous splendour and impressiveness which will long be remembered by all present.

Putting their trust in Divine Providence, and in the unflinching generosity of the faithful Irish people, the Lord Abbot and Community thus bravely embarked on the great adventure, which had been so dear to their hearts, and it is for the purpose of helping the Building Fund of the New Church that a representative Committee of the leading townsmen of Cappoquin has now organised the Monster Bazaar and Fancy Fair to be opened in Cappoquin on next Sunday, and never has a more deserving or worthy project been started in any part of Ireland.

The New Church, which is already in course of construction, will be a gem of architecture, in the traditional Cistercian style. Messrs. Jones and Kelly, the eminent Architects, have furnished the design, and the contract for construction has been entrusted to Messrs. Maguire and Short, Building Contractors, Dublin and Cork, and so Mount Melleray has entered on a new era under the prudent guidance of Lord Abbot Celsus O'Connell, quem nobis incolumem diu serveat Deus.

From photographs which we have seen of what the New Church will look like, when completed, it is safe to say that it will be a magnificent edifice, dedicated to the honour and glory of God, and one which will stand as a Beacon-light to Catholics from all parts amidst the barren slopes of the Knockmaldown Mountains, as well as a stately and enduring monument to the great piety, zeal and enterprise of the present Lord Abbot and Community of Mount Melleray Abbey.

The ceremony of opening the Bazaar will be performed at 3.30 p.m. on next Sunday by the Most Rev. Dr. McGrath, Lord Bishop of Minevia, Wales, assisted by the Right Rev. Dom Celsus O'Connell, Lord Abbot of Mount Melleray and several distinguished visiting Prelates.

At 5 p.m. that evening there will be a Grand Celebrity Concert given by well-known artists from Dublin, Cork, Waterford, Dungarvan and Tallow, assisted by a specially-trained Troupe of Students from Mount Melleray Seminary.

At 7.30 there will be a splendid Gymnastic Display on Parallel and Horizontal Bars, Mase Marches, with Lances and Banners, and special Tableau by 160 students from Mount Melleray under the direction of Prof. Jas. Fraser. Special Mase and Counter Marches will be played by the Thomas Kent Pipes' Band, Fermoy, in their picturesque uniforms, while all sorts of amusements, including Chairplanes, Hobby Horses, La Boula, Electric Spinners, Roulette, Shooting Galleries and in fact, forms of entertainment to close time each night.

A special attraction every night of the Bazaar will be the thrilling item, "The Great Wall of Death," in which the dare-devil riders, Bill Attridge and Maureen King, will race on high-powered motor cycles around a 20-feet perpendicular wall, as straight as the wall of a house. This is a wonderfully thrilling and spectacular performance, and must be seen to be believed, and will be its first appearance in Cappoquin.

The same round of amusements, with Celebrity Concerts, Gymnastic Displays, Band Performances, etc., will be in progress each night, while interesting competitions in Irish and English Singing, Irish Step-dancing, etc., will be conducted from Monday to Saturday night, while on Wednesday night, June 24th, there will be a Grand Children's Fancy Dress Parade for valuable Prizes, for which the Judges will be Lord Charles and Lady Cavendish, Lismore Castle, Mrs. Elspeth Villiers Stuart, Dromana, Miss Freda Keane, Belleville Park and Mrs. B. M. Redmond, T.D.

On Thursday night, June 25th, there will be a splendid Fireworks Display by a leading Dublin Pyrotechnic Firm, commencing at 11 o'clock, while during the week there will be several exciting Tug-of-War Competitions for the Championship of the County Waterford for teams of 9, aside, for which a valuable Cup and set of medals will be awarded to the winning team.

There will be special cheap excursion trains from Dublin, Cork, Waterford and other places to Mount Melleray and Cappoquin on Sunday, June 21st, and on other days during the Bazaar, while special Bus Services at cheap fares, have also been arranged from all parts of Munster not provided for by the train service.

Splendid catering arrangements will be carried out in the Town Park by Mrs. Lawlor, Naas, the well-known Caterer, who attended so carefully to the wants of the thousands who visited Mount Melleray during the three days' Centenary Celebrations in August, 1933, and with all the Cappoquin Hotels and Restaurants also catering in the most up-to-date style, the comfort and enjoyment of all visitors can be safely guaranteed during the full period of the Bazaar.

The organisation of this Monster Bazaar has entailed an enormous amount of clerical and physical labour on the part of the Organising Committee, but the lion's share of the work has fallen on the shoulders of Mr. M. J. Sargent, Hon. Sec., who has worked like a Trojan for several months past, and the completion of all the arrangements in their most de-

PROSPECTS ROSY FOR STUPENDOUS SUCCESS—

The forthcoming Dungarvan Agricultural Show, to be held on the second Thursday of next month (9th prox.), promises to be a huge success. Extensive improvements are being carried out to the spacious and picturesquely positioned Show Grounds, and the Old Borough business people are making elaborate preparations for this important Munster fixture.

The "five-wire-membered" Management Committee of this quarter-century established Show have listed a schedule which reveals the renewal of all the popular old features, together with many additional sections, the principal of these new numbers being the Sheep Dog Contests (confined to "Co. Waterford") that this most attractive "special extra" will gain entries galore from the Comeragh and Knockmealdown districts is absolutely certain; it is an item in which considerable interest is already centred, and it should provide an instructive feature of the Show.

The programme unfolds the very pleasing fact that horses, cattle, sheep, swine, poultry, etc., have got the fullest attention from the promoting body, who have every good reason to congratulate themselves on framing so extensive and varied a card of exhibits as a medium for the furtherance of the agricultural industry.

The handsome cups and monetary prizes on offer are bound to bring forward hundreds of entries.

And the ladies of the South (bless 'em!) will be sure to serve an Acot-like aspect to the Show—sporting their "sweetness" in the latest styles (Thighin tu?)!

QUARANT ORE—

The Forty Hours' Exposition of the Sacred Host, which began in St. Anne's Church, Ballyaneen, on Friday morning of last week, was attended by huge crowds and there was an extremely large general Communion at the early Mass on Sunday—offered up by Rev. W. J. Cullinan, O.M.I., Vancouver, who is on a visit to his birthplace at Ballinard, Bonmahon, after an absence of 13 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Galvin (Sacerdotal) cannot be too highly complimented on the wonderful lay-out of the altar—tastefully adorned with the choicest of mid-summer's blooms, and laden with numerous lighted candles, it presented an exceedingly pretty picture.

Very Rev. P. O'Neill, P.P., Stradbally and Ballyaneen, presided at Missa Cantata in the Church at noon on Sunday. Rev. T. O'Shea, C.C., do. sung the Mass, and there was a very large congregation present. There was a striking demonstration of faith at the Blessed Sacrament, sheltered in a massive monstrance, was borne in a procession over the usual route about the sacred edifice by Father O'Shea, Messrs. P. McKeon, J. McKeon, Jas. McKeon and John Hearne, acted as canopy bearers. Hymns appropriate to the occasion were prayerfully rendered by the church choir, in charge of Miss Mary Flynn (organist). Amongst those participating in the solemn proceedings were the teachers and pupils of the boys and girls' National Schools in the parish, the altar boys, and the men's and women's Guilds of the Sacred Heart Confraternity.

When the processionists returned to the Church, Solemn Benediction was imparted by Fr. O'Shea, and thus came to a truly impressive close the Quarant Ore devotions in the Church of St. Anne.

A PROLIFIC ANIMAL—

A sow, the property of Mr. Thompson, farmer, Ballyaneen, Portlaw, has just given birth to her 22nd litter, the number of bonhams now dropped being 21.

ANOTHER ACCIDENT—

Michael Downey, Millbrook Terrace, Kilmacthomas, sustained painful facial injuries when thrown violently off his bicycle coming down Rossmire Hill on Sunday evening, the brake failing to function when he tried to apply it to avoid hitting a loose stone on the road. He had his wounds dressed by Nurse Ormond.

tail now, is a wonderful tribute to the unflagging energy and great organising powers of this gentleman, who deserves to be warmly congratulated by all for his herculean work in the matter.

DUNGARVAN MISSION

CLOSING CEREMONIES

THE Three Weeks Mission in

Dungarvan Parish, conducted by Rev. Fathers Murphy, Fox, and Fitzgerald, of the Redemptorist Order, was brought to a conclusion on Sunday when at 3 p.m. the closing ceremonies for the women took place and at 8 p.m. for the men.

On each occasion the sacred edifice was thronged throughout and the fervour and devotion of the congregation was something to warm the hearts of the Good Preachers and to bring joy to our esteemed Pastor Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., and his worthy Curates. In fact, at no time in the past was there a greater manifestation of piety than was witnessed daily during the weeks of the duration of the Mission.

In the course of an eloquent discourse the women's Mission was closed by Fr. Murphy. Fr. Fox, who officiated at the closing ceremonies for the men, spoke in eloquent terms of the loyalty of the people to the Church and its teaching. He said they should also be loyal to their priests. It was no man's duty to set himself up against those who were sent in God's name and with His divine power to teach and preach to the people. They should stand behind their priests and nothing in this world should make them dilatory.

In the course of a learned discourse, in which he admonished his hearers to lead good and holy lives, he said the life of a follower of Christ should be a life of self-control, self-sacrifice and self-control, not letting oneself become a slave to one's passions and evil inclinations. To those who serve God faithfully he had promised them a reward. Heaven was the reward where His followers would reign with Him for ever in happiness and joy. As to the joys and happiness of Heaven the great St. Paul learned scholar and preacher that he was, could not find words to describe it. All he could say was—Eye hath not seen, nor ear heard, nor hath it entered into the hearts of men to conceive the joys that God hath prepared for those who serve Him. If on the other hand they came under the influence of Satan, what was their reward—Hell. When a follower of Satan dies he takes the soul before the Judgment seat of Christ and claims it as his own. Then with jeering and mocking laughter he bears it in triumph to his dungeon of fire.

In the world today they saw peoples and nations reversing their allegiance to God and going over to the service of the Devil. In Russia war was being waged on God; in Germany Christ was being rejected. Spain was turning away from God and seeking refuge in the camp of the enemy. Even in their own Catholic land they saw men who formerly had been followers of Christ now leaving Him. The Irish people pride themselves on their faith as their forefathers who fought and died for it did. They speak of the glorious past, but what of the glorious present? The Devil of Communism has raised its head amongst them. False leaders were coming amongst them—wolves in sheep's clothing preaching false doctrines and young men were following them blindly despite the advice of their Bishops and Priests, and pledging themselves in secret societies, some of which were closely allied with Communism.

They were leading our young men astray preaching to them under the guise of love of country.

In conclusion, he exhorted his hearers to pray every day, and especially in moments of temptation and keep away from the occasion of sin; go regularly to the Sacraments and pledge themselves to the service of Jesus Christ.

He paid a striking tribute to the kindness of our esteemed Pastor—Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., and his Curates, and thanked the Organist, the Choir and all who contributed to make the Mission a success.

The renewal of Baptismal Vows; the Papal Blessing having been imparted, Benediction was given and the ceremonies concluded with the singing of "Faith of Our Fathers."

SEA MUSIC

Dungarvan And Abbeyside WHAT THEY WERE AND ARE

I had a letter once from a friend who was spending a holiday in Dungarvan. He was in an ecstasy. "Sweet, dreamy Dungarvan," he wrote. "Garden of Prosperpine that trafficks chiefly in rest; nothing moves here but the moss over the walls and yet with grand irony they have put a guard on duty in the Square."

Too much, perhaps, but he caught something of the spirit that makes Dungarvan the very pleasantest old place in Ireland. A sauntering place, with a great square and the houses lying around in the sun; from it you can see the four ends of the town at once. You might think yourself in a medieval town with a wall around it and men collecting the Actioi at the gate, but for an occasional bus thundering through, and the troop of red-and-black-capped boys whistling across the bridge to Abbeyside. They would be the "Friary Boys." When they were boys when I was a boy, they marched in that troop, we wore plain black caps; but time at least moves in Dungarvan; our days, and caps and ourselves grew "old, old, Master Shallow," and passed away.

The only sign of the ancient town that remains—the Dungarvan of the fleets and fishermen, is in the old brown boats that creep up to the quay sometimes. They waver there a while, then the heavy sails flap and they veer off by the Cunnigar home to Ring or Ballinagall. But they have no part in the life of Dungarvan, a town of Lotus-Eaters, who long ago forsook the sea. Something they have in common with Abbeyside, where men still go down to the sea in ships. Abbeyside is a sea-town with sea-tang all over it—to give it its meaning of poetry.

Sun, wind and cloud shall fail not from the face of it, Stinging, ringing spendthrift nor the fulmar flying free.

In more, however, than that one still follows the sea and the other abides by the land do they differ. Abbeyside is all alive, while Dungarvan is—well, sleeping. One is made up altogether of houses in which families dwell; a great part of the other is of empty banks and buildings in which people congregate to do business.

The shops of one are motly windows, with sugar-stick and bulls-eyes, hangman's-rope and peggy-leg, all melting in the sun—poor things, sir, but our own and rich for children and simple people; the shops of the other are more pretentious things and colder.

But, you know, Dungarvan is more respectable! And yet, the Abbeyside people will laugh at that—their lineage stretches back to the cluster of beehive huts around their old Abbey. Dungarvan or chieftain—was the Little Street of the Strand the town's grandparent? If so, it has gone through many evolutions to reach its present respectability, from Garvan, the man, to Boreen-na-Tragha; swelling in importance with a castle, while Abbeyside lost its Abbey; looking down on its small neighbour and patronised by the gentry, who made the two join hands with a bridge and causeway; growing in banks and high hotels, and watching its fleets dwindle beyond Helvick; suffering a patriotic change when it woke to find itself owning a Lord Edward Fitzgerald Street, a Wolfe Tone and Tom Moore and John Mitchell Street, and now—just taking its ease.

Across the water, "Sleepy Valley," as its folk love to call it "doth suffer a sea-change," and is like never to come wholly to land. There is more inherent simplicity in it—every second boy is an Augustine, for remembrance of the old Friars of the Abbey; there is spontaneity and a young enthusiasm in it which Dungarvan lacks. Already it is beginning to stretch in second spring, already it grows haughty, soon it may manage to crow over its rival, "and thus the whirligig of time brings in his revenges."

But for all that one is just as lovable as the other. For pure friendliness you can't beat the Dungarvan people. They consider business to be business, yet they are never busy—except on Fridays. The rest of the time they are engaged in sinking Lethe-words, gently, and it is this which enthalls strangers. Indeed, the old philosophy, the only true necessary philosophy, laps them round—

What is this life, if full of care, We have no time to stand and stare?

Standing and staring, living, but not idle—they might well use the wise Chinese salutation in the street, "Take your time, brother." Sober and gay calm, supremely sweet, I would liken its atmosphere to a June orchard in the fullness of sun and rest. Altogether sane, it has found the philosophy of life; did the citizens wake to it they might chorus with Keat's final abandon:

That is all ye know on earth, and all ye need to know.

And this is not reading an unreal philosophy into the town, only an engerising of the reality. For Dungarvan is in spirit at least, something of a stronghold of old Medievalism. G. K. Chesterton, once said that "up to a certain period life was considered as a dance, and after that time life was considered as a race. The latter has produced what we call progress, the former has produced what the Medievals meant by Order, but it was the lively order of a dance." Well, progress rushed by, and Dungarvan went dancing on. In an ecstasy of rest, yet dancing; unhurried, yet doing pleasant business, such that dogs may lie in the sun and old aunts chat overdoors. Hustle and hubbub—factories? Dungarvan has one factory, and it makes—lemonade. Virtue is truly extant there, in people and lemonade—and yea, even in its sea-water.

And has it no faults? One, surely, but that one a pleasant fault. "We have had enough of action and of motion we," and now we rest and dream of many things, of evicting the dim sea from his bed, of the imminent emigrants from Little Street of the Strand, who may become eminent immigrants into the pioneer sea-forums,—or will we keep them for greyhounds? It does not matter. "Take the cash in hand and waive the rest," we have ourselves and our town and above all our Square, which is our Forum. Around it you will find butchers, bakers, tailors, shoemakers—all trades, their gear, tackle and trim." Sun and quiet hold it except on its appointed days of business. On Fairdays a sea of red cattle, creels and pigs surges up to the very doors, threatening to engulf the traffickers, big Ringmen, who can use violent Gaelic, lowlanders from Aglish and Stradbally, hillmen of Touraneena and the hardy Nire, men of Colligan and Clashmore—and women too, all gathered in to Dungarvan Square. Then there is bustle and hubbub—then is giner "hot the mouth,"—like London Eastcheap in the 13th century.

One cries ribs of beef and may a pig; Pewter pots they clattered on a heape There was harpe, piper and mynstrelise no whit different. Fairday is spree-day, —cakes and ale for all, for Dungarvan too has its Boar's Head and Mermaid Taverns, where rollicking Falstaffs "have their exits and their entrances," and call gloriously for sack sempiternal. But only on Fridays is the cup filled; after all, lemonade and sea-water are pale things, and if there be cakes and ale, well, who can be virtuous?

"Ye, by cock! kay by cock!" some began to cry—

The day after, clean sunny calm returns, for Dungarvan is never frowy. Much less Abbeyside, which is like a breezy youth beside its staid neighbour. But the staid neighbour has music in it, not so much the "heard melodies" of its children and its band, as those unheard which rise from the harmony of its mere existence. This is a silent urgent music which thrills in through its sea, air, earth and sun, through Churches, streets, houses, and through its people, ruling and harmonising their lives with steadfast rhythm, drawing them out all together like a long chord. And has not Abbeyside this silent music? A hundred-fold! In the energy of springtime there, it shows itself in a swelling Marseillaise that almost makes Matter march. Perdit dancing was more beautiful than perdit reclining. Dungarvan is reclining, but Abbeyside rises in perpetual dance. And what does it rise and dance and sway and surge to but the day-long and night-long music of its own harmonies?

There are people, lots of them, who won't see this dance, who won't hear this music, silent as it is real. Well, "whip me such honest knives!" they too will see only brown water and no sky in the puddle. But, leaving this far-fetched metaphysics alone, for simple joy's sake, only look out over Dungarvan from some high place like the College roof. Seaward you see the White Horses thundering over the bar, and a blue mirage along under Rinn Duban, where the shallow water mingles with land. Westward you see the Sweep speckled with heather and white farm houses and green or gold corn. Northwest, a line of hills dips down towards Cappoquin, at midsummer the embers of the sun burn out and whiten behind them. Nearer home lies a scented district centering around what is known as "Charlie Curran's Boreen." (Quis est hic et laudabimus eum?) a district of little white roads and hawthorn-branches and orchards, where crimson-breasted slate-backed black-capped bullfinches will be tearing at the apple-buds that should blossom in May. To the right lie the woods and water of Colligan, and still further right, down from the Waterfall, a nameless little river runs abable over beds, glimmering off through the rushes towards Clonca, Abbeyside, like Marathon, lies between the mountain and the sea; if it is full tide the sea will seem to have it almost in its areas, if "full strand" is in it, you will find the water a mile away, and off out at the edge, by "Gully's Lough" where the curlews whistle, a few black specks of children picking cockles.

Come down, and for purer joy's sake, walk through Abbeyside. Drink it all in, immerse yourself in it as it is—old in its Abbey, pleasant in its trees and fields, virile in its people sea-smacking in its whitewashed houses and loud tides. Go along the harbour wall as far as the cluster of boats and you will surely meet a child leading one of the old blind brothers, 'Gus' or Maurice,—ancient beloved mariners who will hail you in Gaelic, tell you sagas of the sea, and whistle like blackbirds. Go further, by houses with sea-shells all round the windows and models of ships inside, past Home Rule street, right by Humble Lane, under the trees near the grey stump of the Abbey, down between the spruces of the New Road, and you are at the strand. You see children everywhere, brown-limbed children splashing the sea into a gurgly ecstasy; children in captures in the fields, skipping over thistle-tops with shrillings and with whistles and the singing wind in their ears, swishing through the grasses with daisy-heads and buttercup gold between their toes, slipping into ditches full of honey meadow-sweet where the dew-drops break in silver to their knees. There is every kind of music here, the silent music of a Church standing in its Acre of tombs, the vocal music of sea-wind and washing pebbles, voices of children like a melody of musical chords, the tremble and change and the long sob of the waves. "Beauty is truth, truth beauty," here both abide, beauty in the things that are seen and the things that are heard, truth in the strong undertone of harmony and goodness that pervades all." And God saw everything that he had made and beheld it was good."

Pass on, to the crumbling sea-wall, past The Ministers, to the little cove,—you are at Land's End. There is nothing here but a fragment of field, the road winds under sycamore and whitethorn to end informally in the sea,—land's end, and journey's end. Ring and Ballinacourty lie on one side, bending their arms to make a harbour, and the Cunnigar long and slender like a flung spear between. On the other, a ring of brown hill, dappled with fields. Dungarvan resting on the sea's brink, mellow and quiet. Men say it is declining. Well,—

Apples drop when the are ripe, And when they drop they are most sweet.

CATTLE EXPORTS COMPARED

The number of fat cattle exported from Irish Free State ports during the first five months of this year was 38,954, as compared with 38,972 during the corresponding period last year. From Northern ports practically the same number—38,262 to be exact—was exported as compared with 32,706 last year. The Irish Free State, however, exported 37,614 more stores, and Northern Ireland 8,160 less during the period under notice.

WEST WATERFORD DIVISIONAL CHAMPIONSHIP

Great Football Game At Ballyduff

On Sunday evening at 7.30 p.m. Cappoquin Junior Football team lined out against Ballyduff Upper Junior team in the second round of this year's West Waterford Divisional Championship.

The match was originally fixed for four o'clock in the afternoon, but in order to avoid clashing with the Annual Corpus Christi Procession in Lismore, it was postponed until 7.30 p.m., a decision with which both teams readily agreed.

The game was played on the newly-acquired grounds of the Ballyduff Club, ideally situated on the banks of the Blackwater, almost in the heart of the village, and the general arrangements by the local Gaels were perfect in every respect.

It was an open secret that Ballyduff were quietly confident of a rather easy victory over Cappoquin, and a fairly large attendance of local supporters came prepared to cheer the local victors, but their hopes were soon shattered by the brilliant play of the visitors, who nearly overwhelmed the home favourites and came out rather easy winners by the substantial lead of 5 points.

Cappoquin had the best of the play from the start, and quickly drew "first blood" when Jim Ryan shot a beautiful goal, and a further goal and 2 points having been added by the visitors against 2 points for the homesters, Cappoquin led at half-time by 2 goals 2 points to 2 points.

Ballyduff were able to score only 2 points in the second half, while Cappoquin added a further point, and the end of a very fast and brilliant game found Cappoquin winners on the final score as follows:—

Cappoquin 2-3 Ballyduff 0-4 Ryan and Treacy in the forward line, and Walsh in the back division, were the "star" players for Cappoquin, ably assisted by P. English in mid-field, and were mainly responsible for the team's victory. Mr. Seamus Hayes, Dungarvan, proved a capable and impartial referee.

YOUGHAL MENTAL HOSPITAL

At the usual monthly Committee meeting of the above there attended Very Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P., presiding, Sean Ua Laoighaire, T.C., Rev. D. Duane, C.C., Dr. M. Twomey, P.C., Visiting Physician.

The Manager's Report was as follows:— Since last meeting one male patient has been transferred to Cork Mental Hospital, and three patients have died leaving in residence at present a total of 424 (247 men and 177 women). Contracts have been satisfactorily carried out during the month. With reference to the supplying of a kitchen range complete with boiler—for the sum of £97 10s. As directed, I forwarded the order to Messrs. Perrot and Sons, whose quotation for the supplying of a Quick Heating Kitchen Range was accepted at last meeting. On the 23rd ult., a representative of the firm called and informed me that they had not included a boiler, and would be unable to supply at this amount. They proposed to submit a further quotation (including a boiler) to the next meeting. Cheques value £57 17s. 10d., have been received for the sale of 14 pigs and £5 towards the maintenance of a patient. These amounts have been lodged to the credit of the Mental Hospital Account. Thanks are due to Miss Coleman, the Strand, Youghal, for gifts of magazines for the Institution. Thanks are also due to the proprietors of "Model Housekeeping," 13 Sackville Place, Dublin, for back numbers of their useful and interesting magazine for the use of the staff.

The Doctor's report was:—Since my last report three patients have died. Three patients are confined to bed in the male side of the house and 12 in the female side owing to debility and other causes.

There has been no case of seclusion, restraint, injury and violence.

There has been no complaint of the water supply. The food supplies have been regularly examined and found up to standard requirements. There has been no case of zymotic disease, and the general health of the Institution is excellent. One tender was received for the supply of 150 tons steam coal at 33/- per ton from Messrs. Fleming, Youghal.

It was decided to recommend its acceptance to the Cork Committee.

THE LADY OF LISMORE

THE following inter on Lady Charles Cavendish, Lismore taken from the "Daily Express" and known Journalist, Graves:—

Daughter-in-law of Devonshire, stage idol, New York, sister of Charles Cavendish, never ment although the near seventeen miles away, night-club is in Dublin. For the former Adle so full in County Water to time to be bored. Lismore Castle has so that they have never been oldest part dates back to century.

There it stands on the Blackwater, the most river in Ireland, in company with its turrets and towers.

OLDEST YEWS

Yes, it is a real castle Chateau at Amboise, on the French Kings lived, beance to it. Lismore Castle, some thousand acres of farmland, sand acres of woodland.

There are seventy out of the pay roll—rangers, but gardeners, woodmen, farm smiths, and saw-mill hands also nine indoor servants.

The walls and gardens, dematis, magnolia, laburn and lilac. The most good have ever seen, rhododendrons, Californian poppies, cinerarias (these last from America) create a background to the grey old castle.

In one part of the grounds arcade of yews in Ireland to the Norman Conquest, yard is a two-hundred-year tree. Here it is that the famous musical comedies spend so time.

And this is how she does Every morning she is up and then gives the orders to the cook. Next she looks rooms to see what flowers. Next she visits the garden has newly budded.

Having made her selection, and deals with her correspondence, to say the least of it.

LISMORE DISTRICT COURT At Lismore District Court. Charge Of Dangerous Driving

Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, summoned a commercial traveller named Herbert M. Levinge, Douglas Road, Cork, under Section 51 of the Road Traffic Act, 1933, for dangerously driving a motor car near Ballyduff on April 8th as a result of which a calf and sheep dog were killed. Mr. James Stanton, solr., Cork, appeared for defendant. Michael Begley, Mocollop, in reply to the Supt. said that on the evening of April 8th, he passed by Kenneally's farmyard, and saw no cattle on the road, but he later heard the noise of a motor car and saw a dog and a heifer killed near Kenneally's place. To Mr. Stanton—There was a slight hill leading down from the spot in the direction of Fermoy, and the motor car pulled up about 150 yards beyond the scene of the accident. Patrick Kenneally, Ballinlovane, stated that on the evening in question he heard the noise of a motor car striking against the ditch and saw a cow and dog, his property, killed on the road. The defendant was the driver of the motor car in question. To Mr. Stanton—He had been compensated in full for the cow. Sergt. Bain, Ballyduff, said the accident occurred about 6.40 p.m., and when he arrived on the scene he found that the car had stopped about 150 yards beyond the point of impact. Herbert M. Levinge, defendant, was then examined by Mr. Stanton, and said that having transacted some business in Ballyduff, he was motoring towards Fermoy at about 25 miles an hour when he saw a cow standing on the road near a farmyard. He had safely passed the cow on his proper side of the road when a calf was suddenly chased by a dog out of the farmyard and ran right in front of the car so that he could not possibly avoid striking her. Mr. Stanton—How long have you been driving a car, Mr. Levinge? Defendant—For 15 years. About how many miles have you travelled in that time? Nearly half a million miles. And have you ever been involved in any accident previous to this?—Never. Cross-examined by the Supt., defendant said he did not think 25 miles an hour was a excessive speed on this road. Patrick M. Malone, commercial traveller, stated that he was travelling with Mr. Levinge on the evening in question, the car being travelling about 25 miles an hour. They passed a cow on the road, and the next he saw was a calf galloping out of a yard pursued by a dog, both of which ran in front of the car, so there was no chance of avoiding an accident. In reply to the Supt., witness said he considered that from 25 to 30 miles an hour was a reasonable speed for a motor car to travel at. Mr. Stanton submitted that there was no evidence of dangerous driving, and as the accident was unavoidable, he asked for a dismissal. The Justice said the only question in this case was one of speed, and on the evidence of the defendant and his witness he was satisfied that no offence had been committed, and he accordingly dismissed the charge.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

CORPUS CHRISTI PROCESSION IN DUNGARVAN.

The Annual Corpus Christi Procession will be held on Sunday next, 21st inst., in Dungarvan. As in previous years, the thoroughfares of the town and the houses will be profusely decorated and granted the present fine weather the day should be ideal for processional purposes. It is noted that all taking part in the Procession must assemble in the place allotted to the particular body and at the time stated. Once the procession starts some will be permitted to join. No children under 8 years nor women in charge of children can take part in the Procession. All must obey the orders given by the Marshals.

PLACES OF ASSEMBLY.

School children will assemble in their schools and march to Fair Lane. Children of Mary will assemble in Emmett St., Women's Confraternity in Mary Street; Men's Confraternity in Church Yard. All must be in their places at 2.30 p.m. Procession starts at 3 sharp.

ORDER OF PROCESSION.

The route will be the same as in previous years. Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament will be given at the Square and at the Church.

DUNGARVAN FAIR.

There was a good supply of cattle at the June fair on Wednesday, but owing to the drought across Channel prices were affected. Yearlings made £5 to £8 10s, according to quality; 2-year-olds £7 10s to £10 10s, and 3-year-olds and upwards £9 to £12 10s. There was a poor trade for fat cows. Springers sold at £9 to £11 10s. Sheep were plenty and fetched 30s. to 40s. each. There was a large supply of store pigs which sold at 25s. to 45s. according to quality.

EXCURSION CLUB.

The Dungarvan Excursion Club will hold their second Practice Dance in the Town Hall, this (Friday) night, from 8.30 p.m. to 11.30 p.m. Tickets 1/-, Miss O'Keefe's Orchestra Band, will supply the music. An enjoyable night assured.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN LYNCH, WEST ST., TALLOW.

After a rather protracted illness, the death took place on the 26th inst., of Mr. John Lynch, West street, Tallow, to the great regret of all who knew him and valued his worth. He was a member of one of the oldest families in the town and for years was a highly successful victualler. The interment took place in the Parish cemetery in the presence of his family, relatives, friends, etc., and a large concourse of the general public. The last prayers were read by Very Rev. Canon Prengass, P.P., assisted by Rev. J. Corbett, C.C. The chief mourners were—Mrs. E. Lynch (wife); Jas. M. John and Dan (sons); Mary (daughter); J. Flynn, Cappoquin, Miss Flynn, do.; W. O'Shea, Blarney, B. O'Shea, Castlequhar; A. Lynch, Fermoy, Miss N. Lynch, do.; Mrs. J. Lynch, Tallow; J. O'Callaghan, do.; P. O'Callaghan, do.; Mrs. Dempsey, do., etc.

ANGLERS ASSOCIATION.

At a largely attended meeting held in the Dungarvan Town Hall, on Wednesday evening, it was decided to form a Trout Anglers Association for the town and district. Mr. M. Whelan was elected Chairman; D. Hurley, Hon. Treas., and J. Morrissey, Hon. Sec. The following Committee were appointed—Messrs. J. A. Ashe, A. R. Farrell, P. Butler and B. Buchanan. All who wish to become members should give their names to the Secretary.

ELECTRICITY SUPPLY BOARD.

Accounts are now overdue to the above and payments are requested to be made at once to Mr. James Patterson, at his office, Main Street, Dungarvan, during Office hours.

DEATH OF MR. THOMAS KIELY, BARRACK ST., DUNGARVAN.

During last week a respected resident in the person of Mr. Thomas Kiely, Barrack street, passed to his reward at a ripe age, fortified by the rites of the Church. A hard working upright man, the deceased was highly esteemed. He leaves a widow and large family to whom sincere sympathy is extended. There was a large gathering at his interment.—R.I.P.

TOURANEENA BAZAAR.

The Grand Bazaar in aid of the Parochial Funds, will be held at Touraneena, on Sunday, June 28th and Monday 29th, commencing each day at 1 o'clock till 10 p.m. The opening ceremony on Sunday 28th, will be performed by Rev. Dr. Percy Abtham, St. John's College, Waterford; Very Rev. J. Gleeson, P.P., Aglish will preside. Full details next week. This is a most deserving object and it is certain of being most heartily supported. It will be made worthy of the esteem in which the popular Pastor of Touraneena—Very Rev. John Cullinan—is held throughout the County.

DIPHTHERIA.

At a special meeting of the Board of Health on Wednesday, held by Mr. Commissioner Moylhan, the Co. M.O.H., recommended that in view of an outbreak of Diphtheria in Rathgormack Dispensary District, that the Immunisation Scheme which had been approved of be put in force in that area. This was done.

DUNGARVAN MARKETS.

Meal (special) 20/-; middicut 19/6; flour 20/- and 21/- per 10 st.; bran 9/-; pollard 8/- and 8/6; coal 40/- ton.

NOT YET.

We note that mention has been made in the Dail of a New Bill to regulate the hours and working conditions in the Factories of the Free State and regret that no move has been made to regulate the wages and working hours of the Farmers and their employees; grant them holidays, etc. It is time to give them some concessions. They are working a long time.

COMING SHOW.

Intending exhibitors should note that all entries for Dungarvan Show should reach the Secretary by June 27th. It is of the utmost importance that early entries be made and that every facility be given to have the Catalogue made up in time. The several new Competitions are being keenly debated all over the County.

PATTERN DAY IN ARDMORE.

On Pattern Sunday, July 26th., an important Senior Football match will be played in Ardmore. The contestants will be Clashmore Selection V. Dungarvan. The purpose of the fixture is to encourage Gaelic games in the Gaelteach areas. Following the match there will be a drill display by Catholic Boy Scouts, and recitals by Volunteer Pipers' Band. It is hoped that the fixture will get the support it deserves. It is also intended to run a district football League in the Gaeltacht area during the Autumn months.

AT KILL LAST SUNDAY.

There was a good gathering of people at Kill Gaelic Sportsfield on Sunday evening last, when a football match and a drawing of prizes formed the attraction. The local Parochial Committee, who organised the programme, were—Rev. M. Power, C.C. President; Mr. P. O'Byrne, Vice-President; Sergeant C. Hogan and Mr. M. Morrissey, Joint Hon. Secretaries; Mr. J. J. Walsh, Hon. Treasurer, and Messrs. E. Casey, J. Power, J. Kennedy, J. Ummins, J. J. Cooney, F. Moore, J. Cooney, junior, J. Hayes, and Guard Therpe. Nice weather favoured, and the big ball bout, splendidly refereed by Guard Therpe, was not as one-sided as the result might indicate. The teams composed were Fenor and Stradbally, who lined out as under—

Fenor—P. Gough, (capt.); J. Connelly, (goal); P. Bhatt, M. Coffey, B. Casey, E. Casey, M. Fitzgerald, J. Cummins, N. Casey, P. Casey, W. Mills, D. Hynes, J. McGrath, P. Buck, and P. Cowman. Stradbally—J. Power, (capt.); P. Wall, (goal); J. Keane, J. O'Meara, P. O'Meara, J. Whelan, M. Veale, R. Hickey, R. Fitzgerald, J. Cummins, J. Wall, J. Connors, D. Power, Sean Colbert and P. Kirwan. A well-played game ended with the Fenor reading—Fenor, 2-5; Stradbally, 0-3.

Gough, Hynes, Bluet, and the Casey brothers were best for the winners; while Power, Whelan, Fitzgerald, Kirwan, Keane and Cummins were outstanding for Stradbally. Very Rev. T. Galvin, P.P., Newtown and Kill, presided at the drawing of prizes, which took place immediately after the match. Father Power and the other members of the promoting Committee were present, and also Rev. J. Hally, C.C., Kilmachthomas.

At the outset, Father Power explained that his Committee had organised the bazaar in aid of the parochial debt and he considered the result of their efforts proved very good. The parishioners had worked heart and hand with their priests and he was grateful to them and to all from outside the parish who had helped towards the success achieved. He then introduced Fr. Galvin, who was given a fine ovation.

Fr. Galvin said it afforded him the greatest possible pleasure to preside at their Drawing. He heartily thanked the good people of the local and neighbouring parishes, and particularly those who were closely associated with Fr. Power in carrying out the event, for the magnificent success they had made of it. (applause). Having complimented the Fenor and Stradbally teams for the appreciable exhibition of the code they had just given, Father Galvin, amidst loud cheering presented a new Irish-manufactured matchless football to the Captain of the winning team, Mr. Patrick Gough, who suitably acknowledged the prize in a few well-chosen words.

The Draw was then proceeded with, resulting as follows—1st Prize (£5 Note)—Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald, Kill—an Old Age Pensioner, by the way. 2nd Prize (a suit length of Irish tweed)—Mr. Paul O'Connor, 41, Quay, Waterford. 3rd Prize (A Table Lamp)—Mrs. O'Carroll, Stonyford, Co. That Kilbrien's own champion "glad-eye" giving girl will be "doin' her stuff" in Dungarvan on Show Day.

Area Exemption Order

Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, applied for an order for Sunday June 21st and Sunday, June 28th., as there was a big Bazaar to be held in the Town on those days and a large attendance of visitors was expected. He suggested that the hours of opening for the Publicans should be from 12 o'clock and from 6 to 8 o'clock, and the Order was granted for the dates and hours stated.

Rate Defaulters

Mr. Thos. Barry, Rate Collector, Ballyduff, obtained decrees against some local farmers for arrears of rates, while a few other cases were marked "Settled."

G.A.A. NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG."

Owing to the great Annual Corpus Processions in Lismore and Waterford, there was a comparative lull in Gaelic playing fields last Sunday. The only Championship game in the West was played at Ballyduff at the rather unusual hour of 7.30 p.m. Evidently the public did not appreciate the innovation very highly as the attendance fell short of expectations. It's rather paradoxical but your average Gael, whilst very vocal as a critic and very insistent in his demands for reform, is ultra conservative at heart. This feature in his "make-up" is responsible for the suspicious pessimism with which he regards every new Gaelic development until it has been proved a success. Though always preaching initiative he is very slow to appreciate it.

Cappoquin created a mild surprise by beating the Mocollop boys on the score of 2 goals 3 points to 4 points. The football was bright and fast all through though at times ultra-vigorous methods threatened to spoil it. The referee, Seamus Hales, deserves every congratulation for his firm handling of the game. His job was made all the more difficult by having to instruct partisan umpires as well as control the teams. Both fifteen, to their credit be it said, kept their heads as well as their tempers, though many of the admomtions shouted from the sidelines were by no means conducive to peace and good will—and good Gaelic sportsmanship.

Cappoquin playing against a squally wind during the first half were the steadier in attack. Slow to settle down, they got going when Jim Ryan seized on a lovely cross from "Sonny" McGrath to beat the Ballyduff goalie all ends up with a ground "scorcher." A moment later the same player scored a high point from far out on the left. Returning to the attack per English and O'Donnell. Cappoquin swarmed round the Ballyduff posts; the homesters defended stubbornly but Mick Early grabbing a high ball, adroitly dodged the defence to fit into the corner of the net to set "Cornerstone" hearts pounding with joyful anticipation. Nothing daunted, the Ballyduff lads grit their teeth and with grim determination set about reducing their opponents' strong lead. Flynn of Mocollop, playing glorious mid-field football, gave his forwards plenty of the ball but openings were muffed through uncertainty and poor marksmanship. Paddy Feeney proved the most dangerous of the attack and shot true and straight whenever opportunity offered. The Cappoquin defence was none to steady under pressure and gave away several freezes from two of which Feeney raised the white flag; Joe Pearse, playing clever football, shared the honours of the third point with Flynn. Half time saw the "Cornerstone" string leading confidently by 2-2 to 0-3.

The second half saw Cappoquin fighting with their backs to the wall to hold their lead. Ballyduff, led by Dave Feeney, Flynn, O'Callaghan and Con Higgins, made heroic efforts to break down the Cappoquin defence but English, Glavin, Quessly and O'Sullivan were impassable. Again and again the wallagers sterned their way to the Cappoquin square but always they were repulsed by a desperately fighting back line which refused to yield. The Cornerstone net had more than one miraculous escape, but the crude finishing of the home forwards wasted several promising openings. At length, the Mocollop men broke through for a point but too late to affect the issue; the vigour of their attack was broken and when Paddy Feeney wided a close-in free, their last chance of pulling the game out of the fire disappeared. The pace ended up and Cappoquin in the persons of Tommy Donnell and Ryan, looked dangerous from a few mid-field breakaways. From one of these, English, who played inspired football the whole hour, placed his forwards in possession. A nice bout of passing ended in Treley pointing for Cappoquin from a left corner angle shot. This was the last score of an exciting game. Cappoquin now enter the Western Football Final and travel to Tallow to decide the issue with the homesters on the third Sunday in July.

Much pertinent comment is going the rounds in Gaelic circles in the county about the Fermoy match. The public want to know why the original selection did not field out. They are entitled to know it. I presume that the powers that be are investigating the matter and hence I refrain from comment. Whatever the upshot, let there be no concealment, and above all, no delay. Cut out the "Government Commission" procedure, and face facts fearlessly and honestly. The public wants the truth—let them have it, no matter whom it hurts. All other considerations must give way when the Gaelic honour of the county is at stake.

So Ballyin and Dungarvan are to meet again in the second round of the Junior Hurling. This was the decision of the Western Board on the objection lodged by the latter club. Withal, a wise and just verdict. The status of the Ballyin hurler, Michael Murray, was doubtful on the question of residence. His club played him in good faith being assured that he had declared his residence according to rule, but the player himself was rather precipitate in taking part in the Waterford Championship before receiving final sanction from the Munster Council. The replay should be a needle affair as Dungarvan were somewhat unlucky in losing the first match by the narrow margin of two points.

Next Sunday in Lismore, the most intriguing game in the Western Junior Hurling Championships is down for decision. Ballyduff meet Tallow for the third time; the first clash ended in a draw and the Bridesiders were accounted unlucky to lose the second by a two-point margin.

This rubber game has been occasioned by the County Board Chairman's recent important ruling re foreign dancing. Ballyduff's win was declared null and void as at the time they were a suspended club. This final encounter is arousing widespread interest and no wonder for each time they have met they have treated the spectators to full-blooded hurling of a high standard. Both teams have youthful stars of great promise and both are training as if an All-Ireland was at stake. I am reliably informed that the Tallow boys even put in a spot of stick-work and sprinting before their morning breakfast. But the Ballyduff lads have set their hearts on hurling honours this year and if earnestness, enthusiasm and determination count for anything then the boys of the village have the game half won already.

CORPUS CHRISTI PROCESSION IN LISMORE

Striking Display of Religious Fervour

The annual Corpus Christi Procession was held in public through the principal streets of Lismore on Sunday afternoon and provided a striking display of the great religious fervour of the Catholics in the ancient town and parish of St. Carthage.

All the streets of the town had been beautifully and artistically decorated for the occasion with evergreens, flags and bunting, while the number of private Grotes which were erected in various parts of the town; as well as the general display of religious statues and Sacred pictures, proved the deep and abiding faith and piety of all classes of the people of Lismore.

The weather in the forenoon had been wet and stormy, and at one time it was feared that a postponement of the Procession would be rendered necessary, but about 2 o'clock the clouds dispersed and the sun shone out with great warmth and splendour which greatly enhanced the success and brilliancy of the event.

Scarcely after 2.30 the Procession started from St. Carthage's Cathedral, and proceeded slowly along the South Mall, through the Main street and up to the Christian Brothers Monastery, on "Gallows Hill," where an imposing temporary altar had been erected in front of the Monastery gates.

The Procession was headed by the Boys of the Christian Brothers Schools, Superior, and several other Brothers, and after these came the girls and children of the Presentation Convent Schools, all chastely attired in white and blue, and in charge of several of the lay teachers in the schools.

Members of the Men's and Women's Confraternities of the Sacred Heart also took part, followed by the splendid Cathedral Choir in charge of Mrs. K. O'Connell, Organist, singing appropriate hymns, while a select programme of Sacred Music was impressively played by the splendid Brass and Reed Band of St. Joseph's Industrial School, Two-Mile-Burke, Clonmel, under the conductorship of the Rev. Father Woodcock, O.C., Clonmel. The Blessed Sacrament was borne under a rich canopy by the Right Rev. Monsignor Maher, Minneapolis, U.S.A., a distinguished Lismore Churchman, who was fortunately home on holidays, and he was attended by Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin, as Deacon, while the Rev. E. O'Gorman, Los Angeles, was sub-Deacon.

The other clergymen immediately in attendance were Very Rev. W. P. Canon Burke, P.P., Lismore, Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., do., Rev. T. Murphy, C.C., do., Rev. J. Lavin, C.C., do., while Very Rev. John O'Shea, P.P., Ballyporeen, later assisted in the ceremony.

The Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, in their picturesque uniforms, formed a Guard of Honour on each side of the Blessed Sacrament, being followed by the Children of Mary in their rich blue Cloaks and white veils, and all wearing their medals and ribbons, while the rere of the procession was made up of all the men and women parishioners from the town and parish.

As the procession, marching six deep, slowly wended its way through the gaily-decorated streets, with its numerous banners and bannerettes glistening in the golden sunlight, it presented a most imposing and impressive spectacle, the sweet singing of the various hymns and the soft music of the band greatly adding to the beauty and solemnity of the scene.

The splendid order and alignment maintained throughout the entire journey were a high tribute to the efficient work of the various Marshals, under whose experienced directions the entire proceedings were carried out without a single hitch.

Arrived at the Altar in front of the Christian Brothers Monastery, the vast multitude reverently knelt down on the road while Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given by Monsignor Maher, Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin, and Rev. E. O'Gorman, Los Angeles, again acting as Deacon and sub-Deacon, respectively. There was a solemn moment during the Elevation when the salute was sounded by Bugles of the Boy Scouts, and at the close of Benediction the entire Procession re-formed and marched back to the Cathedral with the same order and precision through Upper New Street, past the Railway Station and down through Upper Chapel Street when the Blessed Sacrament was replaced in the Tabernacle by Monsignor Maher which brought the beautiful and highly-edifying proceedings to a fitting close.

Both in its conception and execution, the Procession was a brilliant success, and proved a great triumph for the organising work of all those in charge of the necessary details, and the Very Rev. Canon Burke, the zealous and saintly Pastor,

ACCIDENTS—While practising with the Clonca minor hurling team, James Kirwan (17), Old Road, Kilmacthomas, accidentally received a blow of a hurley on the head. The stroke inflicted a deep gash, and the injured youth is being treated by Nurse O'Connell, Kilmacthomas, whose husband, Mr. Sean O'Connell, N.T., is playing with this year's Waterford Junior inter-county hurling team.

SEA MONSTER SIGHTED—Patrick Fitzgerald, fisherman, Stradbally, is reported to have seen what he believes was a sea serpent measuring from forty to fifty feet, while he was fishing near where the Spanish trading vessel, "Cirilo Amores," was wrecked about a decade of years back. The monster dived from view after remaining on the surface of the water for four or five minutes.

Green Park And Sea Wall

A letter was read from Mr. J. F. Cogan, Strand, stating that he had read in the Press that the Council were expending a couple of hundred pounds in taking down a wall at the Green Park. He suggested that there was another wall (the Sea Wall) which badly required looking after.

The Clerk was directed to reply that that was a matter for the Co. Council.

Nursing Association

The Hon. Sec. District Nursing Association wrote applying for the use of the Ball Room, to hold their Annual General Meeting, on 30th June, and for a Fancy Dress Ball on 10th August. The Chairman and members were invited to attend.

Acknowledgments

Letters acknowledging the Council's resolutions of sympathy were read from Mrs. Margaret Crowley, North Main St., and Mr. P. Cloyne, Cork Hill.

Dunne's Park

Mr. Power again called attention to the disgraceful condition of Dunne's Park. Mr. Condon corroborated. The Town Superintendent was called in and ordered to attend to the matter forthwith.

New Housing Scheme

Mr. Power asked what progress was being made regarding the proposed new scheme of 28 houses. The Clerk said the architect was busy with the plans. Mr. Power said the scheme should be put in hands without any further delay.

Sea Wall

The Clerk read a letter from the L.G. regarding the information asked for in connection with the proposed work at the Sea Wall. He had forwarded a copy to the Co. Surveyor and had received the following reply:—

With reference to your letter of 5th inst., the sea wall appears to be in as safe a condition as when it was first built, as long as the beach is at proper levels. I am arranging to test the sheet piling shortly.

The Strand Road—The improvement on the Strand Road was sanctioned on 29th April. Plant was not available to carry out the work during May. I note that your Council do not consider it advisable to carry out the surfacing work during the summer months, and I propose to start the work early in September. With regard to the proposed surface this will be made of bitumen concrete in the same manner as the Model Farm Road which was part of the course of the recent Cork Car Race. This will give a water proof surface and for several reasons will be preferable to cement concrete.

Mr. Whelan—Look at the toe of the wall from the station out along—the piling is rotten. Mr. Power—Mr. Hugo Flinn, visited the place a few months ago. I invited him down again.

Mr. Savage said the wall was in a bad state. They all recollect what a terrible time of it the unfortunate residents of the Strand had during the winter storms and the Council must press for something to be done. The residents were in a desperate plight. They complained that the Council was hopeless and that a Commissioner should be appointed.

Mr. Lynch—We are not to blame, seeing what the Co. Surveyor says. Is he serious in his opinion that the wall is parts is not in a dangerous state?

The Chairman—It requires no engineering facilities to see that the Sea Wall requires looking after. There is something wrong somewhere, and while I would not wish to set my opinion against the Co. Surveyor's, I have no hesitation in saying that if something is not done before next winter I would not like to be the owner of property out there.

Mr. Power—Several residents threatened to leave the place last winter. The Chairman—What are we to do to preserve the promenade and the residential houses there?

Mr. Keane said the public could see from the Co. Surveyor's letter that the Council was not to blame if the damage was not repaired.

The Chairman reminded the Council that the Deputy Co. Surveyor and the Town Surveyor had jointly reported that it would take £1,800 to repair the damage. The Co. Surveyor said that estimate was exaggerated. If there was a disagreement between the Engineers, how could the Council be blamed?

Mr. Lynch—Ask the Department to send down an Engineer. We will then know where we are.

Mr. Broderick—That letter is absolutely damning to the Council. In face of the Co. Surveyor's opinion there is no use in our looking for any help from the Government.

After further considerable discussion, it was proposed by Mr. Lynch, seconded by Messrs. Savage and Broderick, and passed unanimously that they ask the Department to send down an Engineer to examine the wall.

CORPUS CHRISTI YOUGHAL

It is now 38 years since the first Public Corpus Christi Procession was held at Youghal—it being one of, if not, the very first in Ireland. The late Very Rev. T. Canon Roche, P.P., Charleville, then Curate here and a great traveller told your correspondent that he got the idea from one of his holiday visits to the Continent. He submitted it to his P.P., the then Father Keller—subsequently Rt. Rev. Mons. Keller, P.P., V.G., Dean of Cloyne, who expressed himself rather dubious about the advisability of putting it into practical shape, but finally Fr. Roche backed by his fellow Curate—now the Very Rev. T. Canon Bowler, P.P., Carriewillihill—prevailed on him to try it.

The result was a marvellous success. The whole town in and out of the processional route was renovated and decorated in every possible way and practically the whole Catholic population from the tiny tots at school up to the oldest members of the various Confraternities and other religious bodies joined in the sacred march. Leaving the Parish Church at 10 o'clock, the procession covered the town from Green's Quay to the Green Park; Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given at Green's Quay, the Town Hall and the Green Park, arriving back for final Benediction in the Church at 5 o'clock. Year by year since, the Procession, with slight alterations in detail has been fully carried out, with two exceptions—one through bad weather and the other because Canon Keller in the time of the trouble would not ask permission of the British Authorities to hold it. On a third occasion the route had to be curtailed owing to rain. This time furnished a rather interesting incident. The forenoon was very dull and threatening and showers intervening as the hour for starting—2 p.m.—approached it was decided to abandon the event.

At this stage, all the children had assembled in the schools ready to march to the Church, while the other bodies were gathering outside the Church. As a consequence all returned to their homes. Shortly after 2 o'clock, following a shower, the wind veered round to N.N.W. and the weather cleared and held up beautifully. The Church bell rung and in a very short time all the intending processions fell into order outside the Church and the Solemn function was carried out as in former years, except that the Benediction at the Ferry Slip and Green Park were eliminated.

In accordance with the long-established custom, the town was beautifully decorated all over, having undergone a thorough cleaning and painting previously, the various public buildings—the Parish Church, the Presentation and Loretto Convents, the Christian Bros. Schools, the Town Hall, the League of the Cross, the Civic Guards Barrack, the Clock Gate, etc., receiving particular attention. Fishing and other boats displayed playing greens and bunting were anchored in the Market Dock.

The route of the Procession was— from the Church by Emmet Place, William street, across North Main street to Brown street Catherine street, the Quay, Market Square, Hanover street, Strand street, South Abbey, returning by Devonshire Square, Friar street, South and North Main streets, William street to the Church, where Benediction was given.

The order of the Procession was:— Cross-bearer with Acolytes, Convent School children, Loretto children, Children of Mary, Women's Confraternity, Sodality of St. Stanislaus and Boys of Christian Brothers' Schools, Gurtroe Contingent, Men's Confraternity, League of the Cross, Young Men's Society, Society of St. Vincent de Paul, Parish and Confraternity Choirs (under the conductorship of Mr. Manley, Organist), altar boys, torch bearers, flower children, thurifers and Sacred Ministers with Most Blessed Sacrament.

Three Bands took their places at various points in the Procession; League of the Cross Brass Band (re-organised under Mr. Cronin); North Abbey Fife and Drum Band and Pipers Band. During the route they performed a number of Sacred airs and hymns, the young band of the League eliciting special praise.

The Host was borne under a beautiful canopy by Rev. T. J. Murphy, C.C., assisted by Rev. M. Twomey, D.D., C.C., and Rev. J. Sheehan, C.C. The Very Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P., presided, assisted by Rev. D. Duane, C.C., and Rev. W. Carey, C.C., and Rev. E. J. Fox, C.C., as Masters of Ceremonies.

The Canopy was carried by Messrs. W. J. Broderick, T.D., J. Murray, M. D. Broderick, U.D.C., J. Webster, Jas. P. Murray, B.E., P. J. Broderick, T. K. Keane, solr., J. Whelan, U.D.C., J. R. Smyth, P.C., U.D.C., M. Foley, C. Crowley, and J. Egan.

With the admirable assistance of the Civic Guards under Sergeants O'Beirne and Lupton, perfect order was maintained at the various crossings where the general public assembled and knelt as the Sacred Host passed.

Co. Waterford Cyclist Thrown Through Windscreen

While cycling round one of the sharp bends leading into the Five-Cross-roads, midway between the towns of Kilmacsho and Portlaw, Co. Waterford, Mr. Edmond Cunningham, insurance agent and pig buyer, Kilmacsho, Kilmacsho, collided with a motor car. As a result of the impact, Mr. Cunningham was flung violently forward from his machine and pitched through the windscreen of the car, sustaining some cuts and bruises about his head, hands and body. He was immediately taken to the hospital at Portlaw by the driver of the motor car who was saved. At the hospital, Mr. Cunningham's wounds were dressed by Dr. Walker, and he was later conveyed to his home.

Agricultural Conditions In An Saorstát

WEATHER AND WORK

The weather during May was dry for the greater part of the month, but the temperature was variable; cold, harsh east winds prevailed during the first three weeks and there were frequent night frosts. There was comparatively little good growing weather and consequently crops were not as well forward as usual at the close of the month. The land, however, was in good condition for the cultural operations necessary prior to the sowing of the root crops and this work was well advanced. Good progress was made with the sowing of the root crops and with the after cultivation of the potato crops, as well as with the harrowing and rolling of cereal crops, and, in the areas where peat is cut for fuel, in the cutting and saving of the turf. The dipping and shearing of sheep also engaged the attention of farmers during the month. To sum up, all tillage operations were well forward at the close of the month, but crops were backward in growth.

State of Pastures and Conditions of Live-stock.—Growth of pastures was reasonably good in sheltered situations and on the deeper soils and in other places where liberal dressings of artificial manures had been applied earlier in the season, but in all other cases growth had been checked by the harsh weather, and grazing fields were comparatively bare. A period of mild, damp weather is badly needed for pastures, meadows, roots and cereals.

Live stock were in normal health and condition. Cereals.—The wheat crop did not make as satisfactory progress as in previous years owing to the harshness of the weather which retarded growth. Early sown winter wheat looked best; that sown in February is rather weak and patchy in places, while spring wheat is generally promising. Some failures occurred which necessitated ploughing-in and re-sowing with other cereals. Nevertheless it was generally anticipated that with improved weather conditions the final aggregate yield of the wheat crop (taking into account the increase in the area sown) would show a definite increase over that of last season. Oats and barley made satisfactory progress.

Catch Crops.—Catch crops came later than usual, but proved a useful stop-gap owing to the scarcity of grass. Vetches were fit for use in the second week of May, while Italian ryegrass was ready at the end of the month. The yields were below average.

Sugar Beet, Mangels and Turnips.—The bulk of the sugar beet and mangel crops and a considerable portion of the turnip crop were sown during May under very satisfactory soil and weather conditions. Germination was regular and in many cases the crops were thinned during the closing days of the month. In other cases growth was seriously retarded by the harsh conditions, and in some cases the land had to be re-ploughed.

Flax.—Demand and prices for flax fell at the close of the season to the lowest point recorded during the year, ranging from 5s. 6d. to 8s. per stone. The Great bulk of the crop, however, had been already cleared. Sowing of the new season's crop was carried out under generally good conditions. The seed germinated well and braided evenly, although in some cases the braids suffered from the weather and were so much affected that crops had to be sown. The area under flax this season is reported to be considerably larger than that sown last year.

Potatoes.—Adequate stocks of last season's crop remained on hands to meet all normal demands until the new season's crop is available. In the districts where potatoes are grown for export the bulk of the stocks had been cleared by the end of the month. Prices for the export trade fluctuated, moving up to 64 per ton during the first fortnight and then easing off towards the end of the month.

In early potato growing districts, first earlies suffered from the frost in April, but recovered during May, and were making satisfactory progress, but it was anticipated that digging would be later than usual.

Main crop potatoes are reported to be doing well.

Cattle.—Cattle stocks were reported generally to be in good health and normal condition.

The fairs held during the month were well supplied with cattle of the various descriptions and trade was good.

FIRE NEAR YOUGHAL

Country Residence Completely Gutted

Heathfield Towers, the fine country residence of Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., U.D.C., (recently Chairman U.D.C. and Managing Director of Youghal Brick Co. Ltd.) was almost completely destroyed by fire on Monday night, or early on Tuesday morning.

The house was a large two-storey stone building, situated at Muckridge, in its own grounds, about two miles from the town. It appears the fire was discovered in a back room after 7 p.m., and in the absence of water and appliances it spread quickly. A messenger to the town brought out all the available Civic Guards under Sergeants O'Beirne and Lupton with fire extinguishers, they were followed by the local fire brigade and the Mental Hospital fire brigade, which took some time to get working.

Meanwhile a good deal of the furniture was saved. Although everything possible in the case was done to save the place, the fire had got too firm a hold and at 3 a.m. little but the main walls was left standing.

WHEAT IN IRISH AGRICULTURE

"The Place of Wheat in Irish Agriculture" was the subject of a lecture given recently at Abay by Professor Joseph Johnston, M.A., F.T.C.D., and Barrington Lecturer in Economics.

In tracing the history of corn growing in Ireland, Professor Johnston, in the course of his remarks, pointed out that after 1700 Ireland was not only self-supporting in the matter of wheat production, but her exports began to exceed her imports. The simple explanation was that between 1700 and 1773 England became, on balance, a corn importing country, and Ireland was a natural and convenient source of supply.

This natural tendency to expand production, when the market is expanding and prices are favourable, was artificially stimulated by the Irish Corn Laws. It should be noted that the commercial restrictions which had fettered Irish Trade were abolished in 1780 and the legislative sovereignty of the Irish Parliament restored in 1782. The second half of the eighteenth century was an era of rapidly expanding commerce, increasing population, rising prices of foodstuffs and reviving national prosperity for Ireland.

The Irish Corn Laws of 1784 were an important and characteristic expression of national economic policy. They have generally been hailed as a triumph of legislative wisdom, but in fact they overstimulated a tendency which, if left to itself, might have found its own corrective.

The export of corn to England was, increasingly profitable to all classes connected with agriculture, its cultivation was expanded to the utmost degree, farms were sub-divided and rents were raised, but methods of cultivation were primitive, the rotation of crops was little understood and practised, and in fact we were during those years exporting the fertility of the soil itself. The high prices of the Napoleonic War period maintained this artificial stimulus even after the legislative Union had put an end to Foster's Corn Laws. Population rapidly expanded while, at the same time, the capacity of our agriculture to supply the needs of even a stationary population was steadily diminishing.

The high prices of this period led to high rents and extravagant ways of living on the part of the landlord class. Rents did not readily come down when prices fell after the end of the Napoleonic Wars, and thus the national economy was in a state of unstable equilibrium in the 30's and 40's of the nineteenth century, requiring only the unforeseen calamity of the failure of the potato crop in 1846-47 to precipitate national disaster on a tragic scale. In fact the wheat policy underlying Foster's Corn Laws was one of a series of causes that led indirectly but inevitably to the Great Famine.

From 1847, Professor Johnston said, we possess abundant agricultural statistics which enable us to trace, in detail, the history of wheat cultivation in Ireland. The repeal of the Corn Laws in England led to an expansion of the import of corn from foreign countries, and a consequent reduction in the acreage sown to wheat in Ireland. In 1847 we had 670,000 acres under wheat. From 1851-1855 the average acreage was about 350,000, but in 1857 it rose again to 475,000 acres, doubtless an effect of the Crimean War. After that date the fall was practically continuous to a minimum lying between 20,000 and 40,000 acres within the period 1884 to 1914. The fall, however, was accompanied by a steady improvement in the yield per acre, not only of wheat but of all cultivated crops.

During the period of the Great War our acreage under wheat expanded to 135,000 and also expanded the total acreage under corn crops. In 1918, the total area under corn crops was 1,456,000, and there were 985,000 acres under root crops. The normal ratio of about 9.2 to 7.7 (as in 1910) was thus seriously departed from and a ratio approximating to that of 1851 was temporarily restored.

The yield per acre of all crops was well maintained during the war, but, according to official statistics the yield per acre of all crops was from 15 per cent. to 26 per cent. less in 1920-1924 than in 1913-1917. The accumulated fertility of our soil enabled us rapidly to expand the cultivation of wheat in the national emergency occasioned by the war, but deficiency of manures and dislocation of the normal ratio of corn to root crops must be held accountable for the serious post-war reduction in the productivity of our soil that statistics reveal.

In both respects our agricultural history is similar to that of Great Britain. By 1928 our agriculture had reverted to the normal, both in acreage under the different crops and in productivity per acre of all crops. Only 21,000 acres were under wheat in 1929. And then came the change of agricultural policy and the so-called Economic War. Eighty per cent. of our cattle output was being exported, and this cattle were the most vulnerable object of the British taxes. On the other hand, practically our whole requirements for wheat were being imported. Sentiment and circumstances combined to suggest the wisdom of a policy of expanding the cultivation of wheat at all costs, and cutting down the volume of our cattle production. Hence the establishment of a fixed price for home grown wheat in August, 1935. That price was 8s. 3d. per cwt. The farmers, whose land was suitable, went into wheat growing as rapidly as possible—not without misgiving, for they knew that wheat is an exhausting crop, they have difficulties about keeping up the normal relation between tillage and stall-fed cattle. Anyhow, in 1935, we had 163,000 acres under wheat—a figure not exceeded during the war period.

Our total area under corn crops was in that year—919,000, under root crops 611,000. One more the ratio moves in the direction of the ratio that prevailed in the hungry fifties. In 1928 it was 8.3 to 7.1, now it is 8.2 to 6.6.

The best farmers grow wheat to make money, but they are worried about the growing deficiency of humus in their soil, and they regard the substantial portion of the money they make, not as income, but as a financial offset to the long-term depreciation in the fertility of their land. The smaller and more ignorant types of farmer matches a quick cash profit from the wheat that fresh land will grow for a year or two, and makes no provision of any kind for the maintenance of its fertility. Thus the disastrous agricultural policy that was accentuated by Foster's Corn Laws, the Napoleonic Wars, and the evil landlord system, is revived in our own day in a minor, but increasing degree. This is the real and lasting damage that our country is suffering in consequence of the Economic War, and the agricultural "re-adjustment" that it appeared to necessitate.

If freedom of export for our cattle, especially for our fat cattle, existed, a policy of artificial encouragement to tillage would have much to recommend it, and even a wheat policy like the present one might yield valuable indirect results in spite of its heavy cost to the consumer. The danger, Professor Johnston pointed out, lies in the present tendency to expand wheat cultivation while the fattening of cattle becomes quite unprofitable, and is almost a thing of the past.

The destruction of our fat cattle trade is not at all the result of the Economic War.

It is the result of a combination of policies, British and Irish. The British Quota on the import of fat cattle is one important element in it, and the British subsidy of 5s. per cwt. payable in respect of fat cattle which have been three months or more in Great Britain, before sale for slaughter, is another, and an even more important one. This enables the British stock farmer to bid up the price of our export store cattle to a figure at which our cattle fatteners, who might otherwise finish cattle for the British market, cannot possibly compete. Finished fat cattle imported from the Irish Free State are not eligible for the subsidy.

LISMORE DISTRICT COURT. (before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.) CIVIL BILLS

A number of undefended civil bills in which decrees with costs were granted, were first disposed of, the solicitors engaged being Messrs. E. A. Ryan, State solicitor, Dungarvan, A. R. Farrell, Esq., Wm. R. Hodnett, Youghal, E. Carroll, Fermoy, H. J. Jones, Waterford and J. W. O'Gorman, Lismore.

Order For Committal Mr. H. J. Jones, solicitor, Waterford, on behalf of the Raleigh Cycle Co., Dublin, applied for a Committal Order against Bartholomew Cronin, Senr., Cooladoody, Tallow, for non-payment of a debt of £4 10s. due by the defendant as guarantor for a bicycle purchased on the instalment system by his son, also named Bartholomew Cronin.

Defendant told the Court that he had no means of paying the amount now, as he was in poor circumstances, and he thought his son should pay the money as he was using the bicycle every day.

Mr. Jones—Don't you know that you acted as guarantor for your son, and that you are responsible for the amount due? Surely you don't say that your son now wants you to go to jail on his account?

Defendant—It looks like it, anyway, as he passes me on the road without speaking to me.

Having heard further evidence, defendant was ordered to be committed to prison for 14 days, unless the full amount be paid.

A Motor Agent's Claim Mr. A. J. Sargent, Motor Agent and Engineer, Lismore, brought a civil bill against Michael P. Nolan, Chapel Street, Lismore, for the sum of £24 10s. balance due for a motor car sold to defendant.

Mr. A. R. Farrell, solicitor, Dungarvan, appeared for plaintiff, but there was no appearance on behalf of defendant.

Mr. Sargent stated that he sold a motor car to defendant for £32 10s. but defendant had paid him only £8, leaving a balance of £24 10s. due.

A decree for the full amount, with costs, was granted.

Claim For Trespass Thos. McCarthy, Kilkonan, Ballynoe, Tallow, brought a civil bill against James Hurley, a neighbouring farmer, for damage to hay, turnips, and pasture land through the repeated trespass of defendant's cattle.

Mr. Hutch, solicitor, Middleton, for plaintiff, and Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solicitor, Lismore, for defendant.

While the plaintiff was giving evidence and detailing the amount of damage done to his hayfield, the defendant repeatedly interrupted him from the body of the Court, and was sternly called to order by the Justice.

Mr. O'Gorman, solicitor, apologised for his conduct and said as he was a very excitable man he found it very difficult to keep quiet.

The defendant, however, persisted in shouting at plaintiff, and the Justice then ordered a Guard to put him outside the Court, which was promptly done.

Defendant's son, Thomas Hurley, was then examined by Mr. O'Gorman and denied that any damage had been done to plaintiff's hayseed or turnips.

The Justice said in cases of this kind no light whatever was shed on the actual amount of damage done, as expert evidence of a valuer was rarely tendered and the Court, therefore, received very little assistance from the parties concerned.

He then gave a decree for £2 against defendant.

A Novel Case Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, summoned a young lad, named Gerald Farrell and also his father, Michael Farrell, under Section 50 of the Road Traffic Act for causing an obstruction with a bicycle on the public road on May 14th, as a result of which there was a collision between the boy's bicycle and a motor car driven by James Waters, Fermoy.

Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solicitor, Lismore, defended.

The evidence showed that the boy had been riding a bicycle from Lismore after school when he caught up with some of his companions who were getting a "lift" in a donkey cart. He caught hold of the cart and continued to cycle behind them for some time, and when he eventually started to cycle in front of the cart the bicycle was struck by a motor car driven by James Waters, Fermoy, who was on his own side of the road.

Guard Cullen, Ballyduff, having given evidence of measurements taken on the scene of the accident.

Supt. Quinlan said that cycling in this manner was a very dangerous practice, and was an offence under Sec. 50 of the Road Traffic Act and he was anxious that the public should realise this fact. As he did not press for a penalty, the defendant was let off with a caution.

Some prosecutions at the suit of the Guards for unlicensed dogs and unlighted vehicles, in which the usual fines were imposed completed the business of the Court.

Transfer Of Licence Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solicitor, Lismore, applied for an ad interim transfer of the licence held by Mrs. Annie Mansfield, Main street, Lismore, to James Scanlan, Lismore, and the Supt. not objecting, the transfer was granted.
