HOUSING QUESTION

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at the meeting of the above on Friday last. Also present—Messrs. T. Mc-Carthy, Vice-Chairman; P. Byrne, S.
Hayes, J. Mansfield, J. Dahill, J. F.
Foley.

Paysheet

A cheque for £24 18s. 11d., for the week's wages, etc., was passed.

Housing Scheme.

The following correspondence was read relative to the proposed housing scheme—
Mr. Strathan, L.G. Engineer, wrote—
I hope to be at Dungarvan on Monday to meet the architects and would be glad to have a half-hour with the Chairman, if convenient to him.
The Department wrote referring to letters of the 3rd and 16th April asking to inform the Minister whether the architects to the Council have yet prepared the reports and drawings referred to therein; also to inform the Minister whether the Council have since considered the simultaneous acquisition of the McGrath and Dee sites for a housing scheme.

Mr. McCarthy said the one letter he is interested in is the one dealing with the acquisition of Dee's field. He was afraid that if Dee's field is not acquired by the Council it will hold up the scheme further, and if the Council state in reply to that letter that they don't require Dee's field it will hold up the scheme. He knew it was the wish of every member of the Council to see every unemployed man at work, but if the Council turn to now and say this field is not required for the scheme, it will only mean more correspondence and delay. His opinion is that in order to have a decent scheme in Mr.
McCarthy's field they would require portions of Mr. Dee's field.

The B.S. said in reply to Mr. McCarthy, that the Local Government suggested having a roadway to connect with Shandon and Fair Lane.
Mr. McCarthy said he knew it would be expensive on the Council, but it would

Water Shortage

Complaints re shortage of water were read from Mrs. E. Keane, O'Connell street, and Mrs. K. Walsh and J. Daniel, Main street.
Referred to the Water Inspector.

Loughmore Chimneys

Complaints were read from A. Walsh,
Mrs. O'Mahony and John Walsh,
Loughmore, regarding their chimneys.
Mr. Byrne said that owing to the open nature of the chimneys when a shower is on everything should be removed off the fire. All the chimneys would require chimney pots, and he suggested doing them in lots to see if it was a success.
The matter was referred to the B.S.

Meat Inspection

The following letter was read from Dr.
O'Farrell, Co. M.O.H.—I wish to draw the attention of the Council to my communication of the 8th November, 1935, 9th January, 1936 and 28th February, 1936. I understand that when my letter of the 23rd January was before the meeting the Chairman postponed consideration of the meat inspection by-laws until the estimates meeting. It appears now that the Estimates meeting has been held and there has been no reference to any proposed by-law for Meat Inspection and no provision made in the estimates for the financial outlay necessary in the event of the adoption of such by-laws.
At a meeting of 8th November, 1935, I verbally and by letter explained to the Council the desirability and advantages of Meat Inspection, and further, that the Council as sanitary Authority had a duty to discharge to the general public by making the necessary provisions to safeguard the meat supply of the district. I accordingly recommend that the Council again consider this very important matter, with a view to having the necessary by-law adopted.

Chairman—We overlooked that matter at the Estimates meeting. At the time we had it before us, we gave it due consideration and there was a certain announcement of opposition to the scheme principally on account of the cost.
The matter was adjourned to the next meeting.

Ladies Bathing Place

The Chairman referred to the piling stones in the strand from the ladies bathing place, which were being scattered around again. He suggested that they be embedded in concrete which would get rid of them for all time.
This suggestion was approved.

Government Grants.

The Clerk notified the Council of the receipt of £29 4s. and £10 from the Department in respect of Allotment Plots and School Meals respectively.

Dee v. The Council

Mr. Williams, solr., to the Council, wrote—I beg to report that the above case was dismissed on Thursday after two days hearing. The expenses have proved even heavier than anticipated having amounted already to over £160.
This means that despite the Paying Order for £100 which you very kindly sent me last week, I am still over £60 out of pocket. Perhaps under the circumstances the Council may see their way to make a further payment of £100 to me.
Mr. Dahill—Why not refer that to the man who was beaten.
The Council decided to make a further payment of £60 to the solicitor.
On the proposition of the Chairman, a vote of thanks was passed to the solicitor and all the witnesses for the successful manner in which they fought and won the case.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL

Sued For £1,000 Damages

ACTION FAILS

(From Our Special Reporter)

An interesting Action from Dungarvan came before Mr. Justice O'Byrne and a Jury in the High Court, Dublin, on Wednesday week, the hearing being continued on the following day.

The plaintiff was Mr. Richard J. Dee, business manager, residing at Monagh, Dungarvan, the defendants being the Dungarvan Urban District Council, Mr. Dee, claimed £1,000 damages from the Council for injuries alleged to have been sustained by reason of the negligence of the Council, their agents and servants, under unusual circumstances. The Statement of Claim set out that the defendants being the highway authority in the district of Dungarvan were responsible for the maintenance and repair of certain roads there. The highway known as the Old Hospital Road is partly within the Council's district. On or prior to June, 20th, 1935, the defendants, it was alleged, through their agents and servants left on parts of the old Hospital Road heaps of stones intended for the repair of that highway. The stones, it was alleged, were so placed that they projected into the highway so as to be dangerous to persons using the road. The plaintiff alleged that the defendants took no precautions to prevent injuries arising in consequence of this alleged nuisance. As a result, on the night of the 20th June, 1935, the plaintiff while riding his bicycle along the Old Hospital Road collided with one of the heaps of stones and was thrown from his bicycle and against the highway and sustained severe personal injuries. He alleged that he suffered pain and shock and was permanently disabled and prevented for four months from attending to his work. Moreover, he alleged that he incurred expenses for surgical and medical attendances.

The defendants in their defence denied that they left the heap of stones on the road as alleged or that they did not take proper and reasonable precautions to guard the safety of users of the road. They pleaded, further, that if they did place the stones in the manner alleged it was done in pursuance of their statutory duties to maintain and repair the highway. The stones, they stated, were placed in heaps of such sizes as to be clearly visible to all users of the road and were placed upon a grass margin and away from the metalled portion of travelling surface of the highway in question. They pleaded also that there was ample room for the plaintiff and other members of the public to pass along the highway in question and they raised a point of contributory negligence.

Mr. Martin J. Conolly, K.C., and Mr. Noel K. McDonald (instructed by Messrs. E. A. Ryan and Co.) appeared for the plaintiff. Mr. Berton Barry, K.C., Mr. Michael Biney, K.C., and Mr. F. G. Budd (instructed by Messrs. J. F. Williams and Son, solicitors,) appeared for the defendants. Evidence was given by Mr. Jeremiah Ormonde, B.E., on behalf of the plaintiff as to the position of the heap of stones. In cross-examination by Mr. Biney, K.C., the witness stated that he made no complaint to the Urban District Council about the condition of the road or as to the heap of stones being on the road. As a member of another Public Authority he would not wish to do so.

Mr. Biney—As a member of another Authority you are here giving evidence against the Dungarvan Urban Council. When a road has to be repaired there is no doubt that heaps of stones have to be placed along it—Yes, certainly. In further cross-examination the witness said that the stones in this instance should have been kept back as far as possible and if at all possible they should not have been left there at all when there was room on the other side to put them. Mr. James Keenan, Photographer, Dungarvan, proved the photograph which he had taken of the heap of stones in question.

The plaintiff, Mr. Richard Dee, gave evidence that he had a small farm of about 22 acres and resided with his family, his wife being alive. In addition to that farm he acted as Manager of a Hardware Business in Dungarvan, the owner being Mr. Casey. He had been associated with that business for the past three-and-a-half years and had been in business before that in Dungarvan. To get to Dungarvan from his residence he had to travel the Old Hospital Road. Coming along that road a day or two before the accident he saw there were several heaps. Describing what happened on the day in question, the witness said that his bicycle wobbled owing to a rut in the road about two feet from the end of the stones.

Mr. Conolly—When your bicycle wobbled what happened?—Well, I thought to right myself and in trying to do so I hit against the heap of stones. Mr. Conolly—You would have righted yourself only for these stones?—I would, yes.

The witness stated that after the accident he left there was something wrong with his shoulder. He went home and next morning he went to a bone-setter, a woman named Mrs. Murphy, who lived about 2 miles from Dungarvan. He was attending her on and on for about three or four weeks. He was still suffering from the injury to the shoulder. He was unable to lift his hand. He subsequently went to Dr. McCarthy and had to spend time in hospital. He was still suffering from the effects of the injury and was under medical care. As a result of his injuries he would suffer very serious disability in regard to his business. He would not be able to do counter work efficiently or to do manual things such as handling goods from a shelf, neither would he be able to do his usual work on his farm.

Mr. Conolly—Did you ever make any complaint about the condition of this road prior to the accident?—I did. Mr. Justice O'Byrne—To whom? Plaintiff—To the Urban Council, my lord. Mr. Conolly—Was that by letter or was it verbal?—By letter. Was the letter addressed to the Urban Council?—Yes. Could you tell me when you made that complaint?—No, I would not be sure, but it was before the accident. Did you ever get any reply to it?—No. Mr. Biney said that the Urban Council had not the original letter which the plaintiff had sent complaining of the condition of the road, but a Minute of the Urban Council would be produced showing that the letter was received some time in December 1934. In further evidence the plaintiff said that he was away from work for about 14 weeks as a result of the accident. Mr. Justice O'Byrne—Did you notify the Urban Council that this accident had taken place? Plaintiff—Not for some time my lord, because I thought the arm was going to come right so I had no intention of taking any action. Mr. Conolly—When did you go to Mr. Ryan, solicitor—in October, I think. Up to that time you didn't give any notification to the Urban Council?—No. You didn't want law?—I didn't want law. The plaintiff added that the heap of stones was subsequently spread on the road by the Urban Council. Giving particulars of his expenses as a result of the accident, the plaintiff mentioned that he would have to pay a medicine bill of £15 to a Dungarvan chemist. He was not furnished with the account. Mr. Justice O'Byrne—How did you know the amount then?—Because I asked the chemist the amount. Why didn't you bring the account to Court?—I thought that Dr. McCarthy would be verifying it. What medicines have you got for your shoulder?—Embrocation for the arm. Mr. Conolly—Nothing else?—That would be all. Mr. Justice O'Byrne—Are you suggesting that it has cost you £15 for embrocation?—That is what the chemist said my lord was. Mr. Justice O'Byrne—You must have used a lot of it?—I got different medicines. Cross-examined by Mr. Biney, K.C.—Do you remember the first heap of stones being placed on the road some days before your accident?—Yes. You saw them then?—Yes. And having seen them there do you remember meeting Mr. McGrath, the Borough Surveyor, on the road?—I may have. Did you complain to him on the fact that he was repairing the road at last?—I may have said that. And this was because you saw the heaps of stones on the road?—I have no recollection of complimenting Mr. McGrath or that. In further cross-examination by Mr. Biney the plaintiff said that he did not complain either to Mr. McGrath, the Borough Surveyor or to Mr. O'Meara, the Town Clerk, that he had fallen on a heap of stones. Evidence was next given by Michael Keating, a stonemason of the plaintiff as to the position of the heap of stones on the road in question. The witness said that the stones projected out from the wall in heaps. Patrick Keane, a lorry driver of Ballycoe, near Dungarvan, also gave evidence as to the stones being on the road in the position referred to by the plaintiff. Martin Kelly, a farmer living about 23 miles outside Dungarvan, was also examined on behalf of the plaintiff as to the position of the stones on the road and as to the condition of the road itself. He said the surface of the road was broken and it had potholes. Dr. Daniel T. McCarthy, Dungarvan, gave evidence as to the injuries from which the plaintiff suffered and said that the effects of the accident would be permanent. In his opinion the plaintiff would not be able to carry on his occupation as manager of a business establishment. He would be able to do office work at right, but not any manual labour and he would be severely restricted in his work as a farmer. Mr. William O'Meara, Town Clerk of Dungarvan, produced the Minutes of the Urban Council. One Minute contained a reference to a letter which had been received from the plaintiff complaining of the condition of the road in question. Mr. Justice O'Byrne—What has become of the letter which the plaintiff wrote to your Council? Mr. O'Meara—Well I daresay my lord, it was destroyed, we don't file letters of this kind. Mr. Justice O'Byrne—Is it your custom to destroy letters?—Yes, my lord, anything we do not consider important we destroy, such as minor complaints or little reports about repairs of houses. Questioned by Mr. Justice O'Byrne as to the subject matter of the complaint, the witness said that it referred to the condition of the road and the matter was referred to the Borough Surveyor. The case for the plaintiff. Mr. Biney, K.C., on behalf of the Urban Council asked his Lordship for a direction on two grounds—first that there was no evidence which would sustain a verdict of nuisance or negligence secondly, that assuming there was any evidence of negligence or nuisance, that in view of the evidence of the plaintiff himself, a finding of contributory negligence was unavoidable in this case. Mr. Justice O'Byrne refused the application.

KILMACKTHOMAS NEWS.

CONGRATULATIONS—

Pleading to publish that the first three events on the programme were won by horses trained in the Deise. Mr. W. M. Curran, of Clashmore, is owner-rainer of Salesman, winner of the 320 race (T. Ryan race) at odds of 3 to 1 against Mrs. A. Coxwell Rogers' Kilerone, trained by Mr. Matt Cunningham of Ardmore, won the next race, with J. Moylan in the saddle, being returned at odds of 5 to 2 on. Mr. Joe Walsh, Hotel, Kilmackthomas, is owner and trainer of the winner of the 430 race—Spartan, piloted by W. BONMAHON MINES—

Mr. and Mrs. Broughton Edge, of Lynton Lodge, Hertford, England, are now residing at Osborne Terrace, Bonmahon. Mr. Broughton Edge is the well-known mineralogist who is a member of the Syndicate created for the purpose of carrying out mining operations in the Bonmahon area. He will direct and supervise the extensive boring operations to be begun in the district any other day. Six English mining engineers have just arrived in Bonmahon, bearing with them the necessary instruments for their work. The borings will continue for some months and it is on the result of these investigations that suitable sites will be marked out for the sinking of deep shafts—work which is sure to give much employment later on. We understand a number of local hands have already been engaged in connection with the boring operations. Associated with Mr. Broughton Edge in control of the Syndicate are Mr. Nils Erik Leonarder, Orkla, of the Orkla Mining Company, Norway, and Mr. Lawrence Impey, of Chipping Norton, Oxford, England. By private negotiations and through applications to the Mining Board in Dublin, the Syndicate has acquired the mining rights over twelve square miles about Bonmahon. Local inhabitants are highly confident that the members of the Syndicate will find their undertaking well paid as well as it did in the old days, when Bonmahon basked in a full tide of prosperity.

NEXT WEEK'S ATTRACTION—

The Dungarvan Agricultural Show, to be held on Thursday of next week (8th inst.) promises to be the biggest and best ever brought off in the Old Borough. Nothing has been left undone to ensure a record fixture, and with higher entries than ever, many improvements at the family grounds and attractive innovations in the heavily-timed programme, there is every reason to anticipate that the untiring efforts of the Committee of Management will meet with their due reward. For next Thursday the Dungarvan Show Grounds will be the theatre for visitors all over the country. They will find then what both insurance and entertaining, and of the most enjoyable nature about Bonmahon. Local inhabitants are highly confident that the members of the Syndicate will find their undertaking well paid as well as it did in the old days, when Bonmahon basked in a full tide of prosperity.

THE DEFENCE

Evidence was given on behalf of the defendants that there was not a heap of stones at the place where the accident was alleged to have occurred. Mr. John McGrath, Borough Surveyor, said that in October, about four months before the accident was alleged to have happened, the Council received a complaint as to the condition of the Old Hospital Road, but in the letter no reference was made to the accident. Mr. Casey, said that if the plaintiff had been skilfully treated immediately after the accident the effects of his injuries would not be permanent. Mr. Justice O'Byrne in his charge to the jury, said that the Council was under a statutory duty to repair the highway, and for this purpose it was necessary to place material on the road, otherwise how could the Council perform its statutory duty. Consistently with its duty, the Council was bound to have regard to the welfare and safety of persons who might be using the highway. If they came to assess damages, the jury would remember that the plaintiff was not a doctor after the accident. It might have been a foolish thing to be, but a lot of people in the country went to bone-setters for dislocations and preferred their doctors. The jury found that there was not a heap of stones on the roadway at the place where the plaintiff was injured. On this finding, Mr. Justice O'Byrne, on the application of Mr. Biney, K.C., entered judgment for the defendants.

County, about 20 years ago, there have been some very beautiful herds of dairy stock built up through the medium of the cow-testing associations functioning in the East, Mid, and West Waterford Divisions, and evidence of the progress that has been made will not be lacking at next Thursday's Show.

HOLIDAYING—

Now sojourning at Bonmahon—in a beautiful Bungalow on the beach—are Mr. and Mrs. James F. Power, of Knockanore, Tallovy, and two of their children, Miss Daisy Power and Master Robert Noel Power. Mr. Power is a prominent figure in the topographical life of Cork City, and he owns an extensive estate at Knockanore, where he and his most estimable lady are exceedingly popular. Two of their sons are priests, viz. Rev. Ralph Power, C.C. St. John's, Waterford, and Rev. Gerard Power, C.S.S.R. Mount St. Alphonsus, Limerick.

Mr. P. A. Boyle, chief accountant of the Kilmackthomas Branch of the Ulster Bank is also staying at Bonmahon, and this genial gentleman is enjoying himself immensely there, being led in his praise of the lovely spot. Stradbally also has a full quota of holiday-makers daily.

IN BRIEF—

The hosts of friends and well-wishers of university esteemed Mr. David Flynn, farmer, Tallovy, Kilmackthomas, will be glad to learn that he is now completely recovered from his recent serious illness (pneumonia), and is out and about attending to his business in his usual good health.

The Annual Procession of the Blessed Sacrament will take place at Kilmackthomas on tomorrow (Sunday), when, for the first time in history the Sacrament will be borne from the Convent Church through Railway Road, the Square, and the Main Street. The townspeople are making elaborate preparations for the august function, which bids fair to be the largest procession ever seen in our midst.

Father Paul, O.Cist., do. Rev. Fr. Aldred, O.Cist., do.; and Rev. J. Crotty, C.C., Clogheen; (11) Girls with white and streaming flowers in front of the Blessed Sacrament; (12) The Blessed Sacrament, borne by Rev. Fr. M. Carroll, P.P., Modello, under a gold-embroidered crimson canopy, which was borne by Messrs. P. Cahill, Senr., W. J. McCarthy, John Curran and James Moloney; (13) Women's Sodality of the Sacred Heart, followed by the general public.

It was a remarkably solemn and impressive service as the long procession slowly marched through the main street, Castle street and Cook street to the Town Park, where the Band played "Faith Of Our Fathers." The streets were lined at various points in the town by the members of the faithful who reverently knelt down as the Blessed Sacrament was being borne along. In the Town Park the Rosary was recited in Irish by the Rev. Fr. Carroll, after which he gave Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The hymns were beautifully sung by the Mount Mollery Choir, under the direction of Dr. Staff Gebriehs, who presided at the organ.

At the Elevation of the Sacred Host the Grand Salute was sounded by Bugler Richard Power of the Lismore Troop of Boy Scouts, who had acted as a Guard of Honour at both sides of the Canopy in the Procession, under the charge of Chief Scoutmaster Harry Collins, Lismore. At the conclusion of Benediction, the Band played "Faith Of Our Fathers," all standing and joining in the singing of the hymn, and thus was concluded one of the grand religious ceremonies ever witnessed in Cappoquin.

Fr. Fitzgerald, P.P., in announcing the close of the Bazaar, said they had now come to the end of the first lap in the great appeal for funds for the building of the new church at Mount Mollery, and he felt that all concerned in this good work deserved the warmest congratulations on having made it such a great success. The period of the Bazaar had provided a great week of sport and amusement for all, as they had every form of entertainment during the week, but the feature which had most admired was the splendid gymnastic display given by the students of Mount Mollery Seminary, whose performance of physical drills were a treat to behold under the direction of their flexible-bodied instructor, Professor Fraser, (applause).

On Monday afternoon there was a grand Celebratory Concert at which a large and fashionable audience attended. The items included a selection from "The Gondoliers" by Mr. Mollery, Seminary Church Class and Choice Items by Mr. Frank Ryan, Tallow, Mrs. Murphy, Mitchelstown, Mrs. Fetherston, J. Keohan, Mrs. Sean Curran, Cappoquin, S. J. Nolan and Jas. O'Brien; Misses Blatchford and O'Mahony, Fermoy. As a grand finale "Songs our Fathers sang" were performed. Mrs. E. O'Leary and J. J. Nolan, acted as M.C.'s.

G.A.A. NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG."

Despite the disagreeable weather and the counter attractions offered by the opening of the great Mount Mellary fete...

Ballyduff, attacking from the start, had three wides in rapid succession; then O'Donnell cleverly passed to Scullian and the latter using his six foot odd of bone and brawn to good effect lashed to the Tallow net amid a storm of cheers...

In the second half, the boys of Mocollop monopolised the scoring, adding a further two goals and three points through glorious hurling on the part of their forwards...

On the resumption, it is seen that Greaney and Murphy who had to retire through injuries, are replaced by Moylan and Fitzgerald...

Ballyduff owe their victory to their superior mid-field. O'Mahony and O'Keefe, though trying hard all through were never in the hunt with the village pair...

It is not strange that most hurling goalies are small men? Young McCarthy's marvellous saving in the Tallow goal last Sunday emphasises the point...

Rumour has it that Ballyduff has lodged an objection to the victorious Cappoquin football team. The charge sheet is, I am told, a formidable one...

(The foregoing 'Notes' were unavoidably held over from last week. Ed. D.O.)

STRADBALLY'S SENSATIONAL VICTORY

Stradbally made history by its wonderful achievement in the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, last Sunday. All current football form was upset and the critics were left open-mouthed with astonishment at the decisive manner in which Stradbally wrecked the Senior Championship ambitions of the Old Boro' footballers...

ball was on the up grade this year and that splendid raw material was available in plenty yet few, if any, seriously considered them as holding a winning chance against Dungarvan's redoubtable fifteen...

The play provided a remarkable contrast of styles. The town team exhibited all its old craft, but their hand-passing, dribbling and short punts, while very pretty to watch, were of little effect against the vigorous, high-flying, long-kicking game which the villagers played...

The day was fine, but cool with little sunshine and a fresh easterly breeze. The attendance was much below expectations, due, in part perhaps, to strong counter-attractions in Clonmel and Cappoquin...

The Senior game opened tamely enough. Stradbally, with the breeze in their favour, invaded and had an early point from a 40 yards free. Keeping up the pressure, they repeated the performance...

On the resumption, it is seen that Greaney and Murphy who had to retire through injuries, are replaced by Moylan and Fitzgerald...

Two outstanding home attractions next Sunday are the meeting of Slabh Céim and Stradbally in the junior football semi-final at Dungarvan and a hurling challenge between a Limerick selection from Hospital and the home team in Tallow...

The Gaelic public who support these games next Sunday are assured of first-class fare as a reward of their patronage. Not all are lucky enough to make the long trek to Thurles and the provision of home attractions at Tallow and Dungarvan will be appreciated by all those who regard Sunday afternoon as very blank indeed unless they have an opportunity of giving vent to their Gaelic enthusiasm on a hurling or football side-line...

N.B.—Next Week will appear a full analysis of the teams selected to represent the County in the Munster Junior Semi-finals at Waterford on July 12th.

This game cannot but have wide repercussions. Dungarvan, of course, naturally disappointed at their surprise defeat, will have learned the lesson that fitness and training are more important than confidence and prestige. They will be all eager to show that the eclipse of Old Boro' football is only temporary...

spurred on to greater deeds. Nothing succeeds like success. I can see this victory lighting the fires of football enthusiasm all through Waterford from the Comeraghs to the sea...

As the result of Ballyduff's objection to replay has been agreed on. The Western Board, sitting on Spudee-lane in Dungarvan, approved of this arrangement. Certain irregularities in both teams and in the carrying out of the match gave the Committee no option but to adopt this course...

A communication from the Munster Council informing the Co. Board that Michael Murray (who assisted the Ballyduff Club against Dungarvan recently) had played in the Co. Cork Championships this year came as a bolt from the blue...

In the unavoidable absence of the Co. Chairman, no definite action was taken at the last Co. Board meeting on the question of the selected players who defaulted against Clare at Fermoy...

Our Minor footballers face Tipperary in the Munster Championships at Thurles next Sunday. Our youngsters, alas do not inspire very much confidence as, in quality and in quantity, we have fallen on very lean times in juvenile football...

Cork has been dubbed the "mystery team of the year" by the daily Press. There is no mystery except in the frothy imaginations of the "hot air" scribes. The plain fact is that the Cork selectors are not quite satisfied with their team...

WATERFORD CO. COMMITTEE

I. N. T. O.

Report of Proceedings

The June meeting of the Waterford Co. Committee I.N.T.O., was held at the Technical School, Dungarvan, on Saturday last. Mr. Sean Connerly, was unanimously elected Chairman for the coming year...

The Secretary read a communication from Mr. Coleman, C.E.C., regretting his inability to be present owing to a previous engagement with Tipperary Co. Committee. The letter outlined the particular matters engaging the C.E.C. at the moment, viz., Restoration of Salary Cuts, Averages, the Down-grading of Principal Teachers...

Mr. O'Leary made an appeal on behalf of the St. Joseph's Young Missionary Society (Teachers' Branch) and urged the delegates to take the matter up seriously in the Branches. Delegates were present from all branches in the Waterford area and all promised that the matter would receive attention...

That it is the opinion of this Committee representing the Teachers of Waterford that there is little hope for the true progress of education in the Saorstát when we find its Executive Council so devoid of the fundamental tenets of Justice and fair dealing as recently shown by its Minister for Finance in refusing to receive a deputation of the C.E.C., on the question of the Salary Cuts...

Miss Wade proposed and Miss Brannock seconded:—

That we believe the Averages question is becoming desperate and in the best interests of Education, demand the immediate and most careful attention of the Minister, as a teacher cannot give of his best to his pupils as long as the sword of Damocles in the shape of a declining Average with positive loss of employment or down grading in status hangs over them...

Both resolutions were passed unanimously.

Mr. Broderick formally proposed a vote of congratulation to Mr. and Mrs. Savage. No greater honour could be conferred on a father and mother than to have their son raised to the dignity of priesthood and in his own diocese. Mr. Power seconding said that Mr. Savage deserved anything good they could say of him. He was an honourable and decent man and a most efficient member of the Council.

Mr. Broderick said it was a real pleasure to work with Mr. Savage. Messrs. Beausang, Daly, the Town Clerk and others associated themselves with the proposition.

Games On Strand. The Chairman proposed that they make inquiries whether Messrs. Barker and Field could not be allowed to carry on some of the usual games on the Strand. During the season a large number of men were regularly employed and it would be a very serious matter if they were thrown idle. Those innocent games proved a great attraction for their visitors.

Mr. Broderick seconding, said it was to the interest of all concerned that they should do everything in their power to carry out the Chairman's suggestion. Mr. Daly said the Act concerned was severely puritanical. The proposition was passed unanimously.

False Rumours. The Chairman said he had been informed that rumours were prevalent to the effect that there was a lot of sickness in Youghal. "CHRIST, THE BROTHER OF THE POOR."

ADDRESS BY THE ARCHBISHOP OF TUAM

SPEAKING at the Catholic Truth Society's Congress at Tuam, last week, Most Rev. Dr. Gilmartin addressing the large assembly on "Christ, the Brother of the Poor."

His lordship said the idea of charity in the Old Law was substituted by a narrow nationalism. It was reserved for Christ to promulgate the ideal of charity which transcended all national ties of city, nationality or kindred.

The complete concept of Christian charity included several truths. First, that all men were by nature equal and, also, that all were persons with immortal souls made to the image of God.

Second, that all men were not socially equal, some having great possessions, while others, and those the greater number, found it difficult to procure the necessities of life.

Third, that though men can have a just title to private property, yet they are owners under God, to Whom by the title of creation all things belong.

Continuing, he said: "The Catholic Church as the representative of Christ has always accepted the obligation of taking her part in the care of the poor. The Apostles themselves had a fund for the relief of the poor when the circumstances demanded it. They appointed seven deacons to do for the poor what they had not leisure to do themselves. During his missionary journeys in Asia and Europe St. Paul organised a collection for the poor of Jerusalem.

Under the influence of the Christian idea of charity there arose, as might be expected, all kinds of charitable institutions through the length and breadth of the Catholic world. Besides religious bodies there are various lay organisations in the Church, some national some diocesan, some parochial, and the St. Vincent de Paul Society, with its thousands of Conferences throughout the world, is, I think, recognised as the most efficient.

"The Canon Law of the Church makes the Bishop the co-executor of all charitable bequests that concern his diocese, and ordains that surplus revenues of benefices must go to charitable purposes. To obviate fraud the Canon Law orders that collections for charitable purposes must have episcopal approbations and that accounts of receipts and expenditure be audited by the Bishop or his delegate. St. Thomas, the prince of theologians, insists on the obligation of the well-to-do to give proportionate charity out of their superfluous resources.

"And it was a Catholic theologian named Vives who published a work at Burgos in 1526 advocating principles that ever since have been accepted as the basis of every sound system for relieving the poor.

"The principles advocated by Vives are: (1) That some method of finding out those who are really indigent must be devised; (2) that those of them who are able to work should be compelled to work; (3) that the civil authorities should provide work for the unemployed, i.e., for those who could not otherwise get work; (4) that public begging should be discouraged.

"In the Middle Ages organised charity to the poor was nearly altogether left to the Church, but with the great increase of the poor after the confiscation of the monasteries in these countries the State felt itself compelled to make some provision for the victims of this injustice. It is now accepted by all parties that the State is bound to take its due share in the relief of distress. From the nature of the case, State charity cannot be as warm, sympathetic or economical as Church charity, because, while the normal State looks upon the poor as a burden to be supported by taxation, and most work through paid officials, the Church must look on all the poor as 'brothers and sisters of Jesus Christ.'

The problem of State charity has always lent itself to keen discussion between different points of view, but I think all economists are now agreed on certain principles—(1) Removal of the causes of poverty arising out of social injustice, profiteering, usury, insufficient wages and interference in the use of alcohol, which is a prolific source of poverty; (2) provision of work for the unemployed rather than the dole system; (3) the adjusting of taxation so as to cheapen the necessities of life at the expense of luxuries; (4) the checking of the trend towards too much centralisation; (5) co-operation where practicable with voluntary charitable organisations.

"Notwithstanding all that the Church can do through preaching and through her organisation, and notwithstanding all the State can do through legislation, there will still remain a wide field for private and discriminating charity.

"No matter how great may be the field for this kind of charity, it is not the

His brothers or sisters is allowed to suffer from hunger or cold. To every Christian and more particularly to every Catholic and more particularly to every Englishman the appeal will never cease to ring: 'As long as you do it to one of these: My least brethren, you did it unto Me.' The rich and poor are invited to kneel down together at the table of the Lord to receive the true Bread which, more than any other, makes them all one body in Christ, and charity to the poor in proportion to their means is the one virtue which, more than any other, will make them one body at the banquet of eternal life.

CARDINAL'S THANKS

His Eminence Cardinal McRory, presided, and, putting a vote of thanks, proposed by Right Rev. Monsignor T. J. Joyce, P.P., V.F., Portlanna, and seconded by Mr. Frank Duff, President of the Legion of Mary, said: 'I desire to congratulate the Archbishop on the success of this great day.

"It has been a day to live for, a day to dream of in day's to come, and a day for which you may in your hearts thank Almighty God."

The Cardinal mentioned that when he was in Australia some eighteen months ago he found that the Archbishop of Tuam was everywhere remembered with esteem and affection on account of the beautiful address which he had delivered as representative of the Bishops of Ireland, at the great International Congress of Sydney.

"I venture to say," said Cardinal McRory, "that he will be remembered with equal esteem and affection for his delightful address delivered this evening. It was a most beautiful paper—a paper worthy of the subject, of the occasion, and of the author."

The day's proceedings concluded with Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

"ARCHBISHOP OF THE POOR"

Monsignor Joyce, proposing the vote of thanks, said: "It was in the fitness of things that his Grace, in his Christ-like love for the poor, should select for his subject 'Christ the Brother of the Poor.'

"In the long and unbroken line of eminent successors to St. Jarlath, no prelate had enshrined himself more deeply in the affection of the people than the present illustrious Archbishop of the West.

"For his devotion to God's little ones, the Most Rev. Dr. Gilmartin will go down in history as the Archbishop of the Poor. One of his first acts after his consecration as Bishop of Clonfert erected him to the post of afflicted. A great reception was accorded to him in Ballinacorney on the occasion of his first visit as Successor of St. Brendan, but the humble Bishop turned aside from the cheering, enthusiastic crowds in the streets and wended his way to St. Michael's Church, to commune with the Hidden Christ, in the Tabernacle. After leaving the sacred edifice he asked the priests to bring him to the homes of Christ's poor. In his visits afterwards, the same routine, whenever possible, was followed. First to Christ in the 'Eben' haire, and then to the homes of the poor in the town."

"The Church, following His Divine Master, has always been on the side of the poor and afflicted," Monsignor Joyce continued. "She built hospitals, for the sick and dying, homes for the widow and orphan, institutions for the feeble-minded and aged poor.

"The care of God's poor is one of the greatest treasures and privileges of the Catholic Church.

"Today that privilege is being challenged in some quarters. A movement is growing that claims for the State the exclusive task of relieving the poor. Pape Leo XIII, of immortal memory, warned us against this tendency of the State.

"We all appreciate what the State is doing for the aged poor, for the widows and orphans, the destitute, and the unemployed.

"But in those praiseworthy schemes the State seldom seeks the co-operation of the Church.

"More than half a million of money is expended in each year by the State and county authorities. One real need could not be met, the comparatively large sum to be more sympathetically and judiciously distributed to the poor.

"What an inspiring example to other countries this great Catholic land of ours would furnish if the State co-operated more fully with the Church in the relief of the distressed. What greater treasure can a nation possess than Christian Charity that cherishes the poor and helps less as the special objects of God's love."

WEDDING BELLS—

The Parish Church, Newtown, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Sunday last, when Miss Margaret Stack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Stack, Roverside Terrace, Kilmacthomas, became the wife of Mr. Edward Walsh, Zantown, do. Very Rev. T. Gavin P.P., performed the ceremony. The bride, who looked charming, was attended by her sister, Miss Josephine Stack, as bridesmaid and Mr. David Walsh, Eshtown (relative of bridegroom), acted as best man.

After the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride, where a large party of guests were sumptuously entertained. The happy young couple were made the recipients of numerous serviceable wedding presents, and both troops of friends on all sides united in wishing them length of years in the enjoyment of conjugal bliss.

THE FAIR—

Kilmacthomas monthly fair, held on Tuesday last, was pretty well stocked in all sections, and there was a good attendance of buyers but business was markedly on the dull side. Late rates ruled all trade transactions. Since the Carrick-on-Suir monthly fair was changed to be held on Monday of each month, the Kilmacthomas fair, falling on the following day, is being considerably hampered.

SPEED OF PLOUGHING

An interesting article, by H. J. Hopfen, in the March issue of the "International Review of Agriculture," deals with the influence of the speed of ploughs on the quality of ploughing...

Professor Fantoni, of one of the Yugoslav universities, however, though the matter worth further investigation, and carried out a series of trials. He had noticed that changes in the speed of ploughing had some influence on the crops...

Tests in subsequent years gave even better results. The tests are being continued in order to ascertain the most suitable rate of speed.

Similar results have been obtained at Rothamsted in England. Russian experiments do not appear to have been so conclusive.

In all cases the view that increased speed means increased strain and wear and tear on the tractors is confirmed.

As matter stands it would appear that whatever advantages in the way of increased yield may accrue from fast ploughing, they are more than counterbalanced by extra costs of fuel and maintenance.

Professor Fantoni maintains, however, that these disadvantages can be overcome by the construction of lighter and stronger tractors and implements specially adapted to the purpose.
