DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL

PUBLIC LIGHTING

APPEAL FOR REDUCTION

Mr. Thomas McCarthy, Vice-Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday. Also present—Messrs. P. O'Dwyer, J. Dahill, J. J. Cotter, P. Byrne, J. F. Foley, M. Connors, J. Christopher.

Week's Paysheet
A paysheet for £22 15s. 10d. was presented and passed.

Sewerage
A complaint from John Woods, Davis street, re sewerage matter coming through the floor of his bedroom was read.

Messrs. Dwyer and Byrne, who were asked to inspect the place said the sewerage was coming through the floor into the room.

The B.S. said when he visited the place the S.S.O. had a man employed exposing the junction.

The S.S.O. said the cause of the trouble is that the sewer from the houses is not properly connected with the Council sewer. The inspection trap which at present is covered up should be brought up to the surface.

The B.S. undertook to have the defect remedied the next day.

Loughmore Houses
Several complaints from tenants of the above houses were read.

Mr. Walsh, S.S.O., said he was making an inspection there on that day and during a shower he could hear the water sizzling in the fire coming down the chimney. There was no doubt but caps for the chimneys were badly needed.

The B.S. said that they put caps on five of six houses during the week.

Mr. Byrne suggested that a 6 inch instead of a 12-inch pipe be put up.

The B.S. said that owing to the opening being so large it would be rather expensive to fit a 6 inch pipe.

The Chairman said ever since the houses were occupied there are complaints at every meeting. It was in one of the houses that day and the walls appeared as if a hose was turned on them.

The rain was coming through the roof.

The B.S. said he was in that house also that day and saw no signs of any rain coming through.

After some further discussion it was decided to try a 9 inch pipe on the chimneys.

Widening A Road
A letter signed by a number of the residents of Sheers street and Hermitage, Abbeyside, was read asking to have the North-west end of the road at Sheers street widened.

The Chairman said it was not now a matter for this Council, but for the Co. Council. He suggested recommending the widening of the road to the County Surveyor.

This course was approved.

Sewer At Sheers Street
Mr. Dwyer referred to the recent discussion on the extension of the sewer at Sheers street, and asked the B.S. if he had inspected it.

The B.S. said that owing to the hollow between Mr. Organ's house and the club it would not be feasible to connect with the sewer at the rear of the Council houses. His estimate of the cost of bringing the sewer down the roadway was 17 6 per yard and the distance is 132 yards.

Mr. Christopher—Round about £100.

Mr. Dwyer—What is the distance from Organ's house to the sewer at the rear of the Council houses?

B.S.—Seventy-three yards.

Mr. Connors—It is possible to connect with the sewer at the rear?

Mr. Dahill—Yes if Organ trunked up the hollow.

The Clerk said the question of providing a sewer would have to be dealt with by notice of motion.

The matter was deferred.

Use Of Hall
The Ballroom Entertainment Club were granted the use of the hall for a Cinderella Dance on August 6th.

Milk Tests
The report of the milk dirt test made by the V.S. was—P. Curran, Glenmore, satisfactory; John Green, Burgery, satisfactory; Kelly, Emmet Street, satisfactory.

Shandon Road
Mr. Bowen, Co. Surveyor, wrote asking for permission to put a temporary connection on the Kiladangan main at the outer end of the Shandon road for the use of rollers while the road is being resurfaced. As the work is being done for the Urban Council, he presumed there would be no charge.

Mr. Byrne—The local body will have to pay the greater part of the cost of doing that road and there is very little local labour employed there.

Permission was granted for the supply.

Sewer At Cody's Quay

The E.S. reported that the probable cost of extending the sewer at Cody's Quay to low water mark was £65.

Mr. McGrath, B.S., said that at £65 it was a tight estimate as the work was tidal.

The matter was deferred.

Compensation Sought
Mr. Farrell, solicitor, on behalf of Mrs. Mary McGrath, Loughmore, (late of Old Chapel Lane) wrote claiming £20 compensation for loss of business. His client used to sell about 20 pigs a year during the past 24 years while she held the house in Old Chapel Lane.

The Council have power under Section 35 of the Housing (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1932 to grant this sum.

The Chairman said he would be in favour of the application, but there is a resolution on the books that no further application be considered, and until that is removed anything can not be done. He thought he was the only one who dissented from that resolution.

No action was taken.

Public Lighting Contract
Avising on the tender of the E.S.B. for the public lighting of the town consideration of which was adjourned from the previous meeting to enable the Clerk to get the figures paid in other towns.

After some discussion the following resolution was proposed by Mr. J. F. Foley:—

"That this Council respectfully request the E.S.B. to reduce their charges for Public and Private consumption to the original rate per unit which would be compatible with their concession obtained in other areas.

Mr. J. J. Crotty seconded the resolution which was passed unanimously.

Mr. Crotty—Seeing that the lighting is reduced in the cities, I don't see why they can't reduce it in the towns.

Workers' Council And Holidays
The meeting also considered the letter from the Dungarvan Workers' Council re working on Church holidays and after a short discussion it was decided that as it was of such public importance to the whole country the Workers' Council should go in touch with Mr. Norton, T.D., and the Minister for Industry and Commerce.

Late P. J. Hogan, T.D.
Mr. J. F. Foley, proposed the following resolution:—"That this Council respectfully beg to tender deepest sympathy on the passing of the late Mr. P. J. Hogan, who by his services (which has been expressed by his fellow-Statenmen) when in office, was second to none. His services as a Minister were the fundamentals which we are propitiating today, and further that we adjourn this meeting in respect to his memory."

Mr. J. Christopher, seconded the resolution which was passed in silence.

DEATH OF MRS. ELLEN HEELAN, CHURCH STREET, LISMORE

It is with deep regret that we chronicle the death of Mrs. Ellen Heelan, Church street, Lismore, who died on July 12th, at Dungarvan Hospital, after a brief illness and fortified by the rites of the holy Church. The deceased lady possessed a rare charm of manner and was beloved by all who came in contact with her simplicity and homely ways. She never failed to extend the hand of help and assistance sorrow and suffering, when the chance came her way.

To her bereaved husband, and brother the greatest condolence has been extended, and the esteem in which she was held was manifested by the immense funeral cortege on Tuesday evening from St. Carthage's Cathedral, to the New Cemetery, at which all sections of the community were present.

Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., Lismore, officiated at the graveside.

The chief mourners were—Thomas Heelan (husband); William O'Keefe, Ballydeane, and Jack O'Keefe, Cobi, (brothers); Harry and Michael O'Keefe, Ballydeane, John O'Keefe, and William O'Keefe, Ballyduff (nephews); Mrs. E. Heelan, Pat Heelan, Mrs. Scannell, Mrs. W. O'Keefe, Mrs. Flanagan, Mrs. H. Collins and M. J. Spriggs, Cobi, (cousins).

LISMORE NOTES

DEPARTURE OF PROMINENT HURLER AND FOOTBALLER
One of the most outstanding hurlers in the County left Lismore for England on Saturday night to take up a good job there. It was Michael Regan, of Lismore. It was just presented with the Munster Championship and All-Ireland Medals, 1934, previous to his departure.

The station was packed to its utmost capacity by the members of the Lismore hurling and football clubs as well as his many friends who came to give a hearty send-off to their popular comrade.

All his friends join here in wishing him every success in his new employment.

DUNGARVAN BRANCH

VITAL MATTERS DISCUSSED

At the quarterly meeting of the Dungarvan Branch, held in Dungarvan on Saturday 18th inst., four points of vital importance educationally were discussed. These were (1) the restoration of "The Cuts" made in the salaries of National Teachers; (2) Security of Tenure; (3) The Down-Grading of Principal Teachers; (4) The Heating, Cleaning and Upkeep of the National Schools.

In 1920 the English Government laid down a permanent scale for salaries for Irish Teachers. These scales were accepted by the teachers though they were not all they desired and hoped for. Soon after the advent of the Irish Government, from which so much was expected by the teachers whose efforts, as a body, had helped so materially towards making possible an Irish Government to manage the affairs of this country, this Government calmly proceeded to dock the salaries of the National Teachers to the tune of 10 per cent. We still vehemently protest, but in vain.

In 1923 there was a change of Government. Since then Fianna Fail rules An Saorstát. Though this latter body, when in Opposition, protested against the Cumann na nGaedheal Government because of the "cut" against the teachers, yet when its turn came to control the money-bags, it repeated the dose that Cumann na nGaedheal had already administered. Is there more to be expected from the Executive Council, are made, only to be broken.

And we in Ireland prate about England's broken promises. Why do we not put our own house in order in this respect and keep those made at home. Why go off to the Continent at the public expense to deprecate and protest against such conduct there, while practising, unashamed and unabashed, similar tactics, unworthy as they are, on its own subjects at home. The political atmosphere of Merion Street is, in this respect, murky and badly in need of ventilation, clarification and consistency.

The National Teachers have been deprived of 20 per cent. of their meagre salaries and, in addition, have lost fees for Irish, Mathematics, Evening School, Rural Science, etc.

It seems in vain to continue to knock at the door of the Exchequer for redress. In fact, we have been warned off by its faithful guardian who must have feared a raid.

But the most aggravating feature of all is the definite discrimination against the Teaching Body in this regard, and yet the Minister of Education holds forth on the great and National and patriotic work the teachers are doing in spite of the aggravations to which they have been subjected. It is not strange that he has the courage to face facts and deal with them on their merits.

On the teachers is imposed the duty of enthroning the National Language in its place of honour in the mouths of the people. This is, indeed, a mighty, if patriotic work, requiring for its success all the nursing and sentiment and encouragement that can be given to it. Yet, instead of these, are given rebuffs and discouragements in plenty on the presumption, perhaps, that teachers are not affected by such abstractions, though they are not combined to such an extent as the 10 per cent. "cut" of 1922, the refusal to allow enrolment of children under four years of age, reduction of Capital Grant by 25 per cent., and in many cases of 100 per cent.

This indignity policy inclines one strongly to the belief that the teachers are rather more ethereal than human beings.

Well, seriously, it does appear to be the truth that the Government responsible for such policy is not really sincere as regards the Language Revival despite unending protests to the contrary, but by their deeds shall they be known, and the teachers at least have reason to fear that the Government protests far too much.

Apparently every other Government Service is of more vital importance to the State than that of the Teaching Service, that it is more essential to the welfare of this country, to be competent, for instance, to detect at our ports the surreptitious possession of a penny bead or a two-penny prayerbook, than the intelligent development of the brains of our Irish youth. Accordingly, the Government restores to all other public services the "cuts" in full while withholding them from those who are engaged on the hearts and souls and minds of the rising generation. In the circumstances, it is really difficult to speak dispassionately on these matters which are so extremely vital to the true progress of our country.

Security of Tenure
The Irish farmer fought, suffered and sacrificed, in order that he might retain possession of his homestead so that he could really call it his very own. It took the powers that were, many generations to appreciate his point of view, and that his viewpoint—security of tenure—was good for the community, and, therefore, good for the State. Yet, through the determination and persistence of the Irish farmer this position was won, but at what a cost in blood and tears.

Ireland is progressing today and it is because of the sacrifices of the masses of her people in teaching and impressing upon the temporal powers, the lessons of Statesmanship and of Nationhood. These lessons had to be impressed again and again and with iron severity on very un-receptive and obstinate minds. Stern measures had to be resorted to, in order to secure a responsive chord, and even then only the physical fear of the desecration of the privileged positions by the man-in-the-street brought results, not indeed commensurate with the sacrifices, but the principle of democracy was conceded and, to some extent, put into practice.

We recommend, with modifications, to the Teachers of Ireland, the principles on which the Irish farmer worked, survived, and ultimately came into his own. His demands were not to be restricted to, in a position to teaching and impressing, but he was to be allowed to continue to work his land without interference and to enjoy the fruits of his labour.

In like manner do the Teachers of the Nation's children demand, and with no uncertain voice, that they be allowed to continue to work in their schools regardless of circumstances over which they cannot possibly exercise control; that they be not so treated that they may with single purpose and undivided attention, be in a position to devote all their energies untrammelled towards the development of the mind and brains of our youth, and so build up a nation of men and women of whom any country may feel justly proud.

Our demand is just and reasonable, namely, that no circumstance outside our control shall be allowed to interfere with us in the course of our work while our conduct is irreproachable and our work efficient.

The Down-Grading of Principal Teachers

The Government of An Saorstát is truly expert in inventing petty devices on the penny wise pound foolish principle, and it has recently excelled itself in this respect. This petty and mistaken policy consists in down-grading, with consequent loss of salary of Principal Teachers whose schools have declined, not in efficiency, mark well, but in attendance, a circumstance in regard to which, a teacher is helpless, for it is certain that whether or not the number of homes in his school district, or the number of children who are born into the world within walking distance of his school, or the number affected by epidemics, or the frequency of these visitations, and yet it is on these uncontrollable influences that the remuneration of the teacher depends.

Consider the feelings of a teacher after, perhaps, forty years of Efficient or Highly Efficient service to the State degraded by way of smaller salary instead of, as holds in all other public services, being promoted towards the end of a long, faithful and successful teaching career.

Could ingratitude further go? Could one imagine any humane employer so treating an efficient servant at the end of such a lengthened period? If such there be, and he would, indeed, be a rare avis, what would be the verdict of public opinion? Unqualified condemnation.

And yet, such is the policy under the cloak of humanity and civilisation of the Government of today in regard to its teachers.

It is our considered opinion, and we are prepared to back it, that Ireland is far too poor, financially to face up to such drivelling economic stunts in regard to the education of its children, and we confidently appeal to the masses to see to it that in this most important aspect of nation-building that this policy of cheese-paring will no longer hold pride of place but be relegated to oblivion. Manliness, Decency and Truth are far too sacred to be purchased with the coin of the realm.

The Heating, Cleaning and Upkeep Of Schools

A good deal of time, attention and hard cash, have been expended on this subject and rightly so, for what can be of more importance to a country than the health of its citizens. And so, day by day, are there more progressive developments in striving after better health, and in particular does this apply to the securing for our children the most perfect health conditions possible. Every investment in this project will yield good fruit for the nation and one-hundred-fold.

Most praiseworthy efforts have been made to secure better, more comfortable and more sanitary homes for the workers everywhere, and in this respect all praise is due to Sean T. O'Ceallaigh, Vice-President of the Executive Council, as well as to all those who have so loyally cooperated with him in his laudable and successful effort in erecting decent homes for our people and so help to raise the

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

Before Mr. Troy, D.J., on Wednesday.

CIVIL BILLS

The Court disposing of a number of undefended civil bills in which decrees were granted in some and others adjourned to the next court.

The Commissioner of Public Works sued Anthony Whelan, Helvieck, for £10 8s. 7d., instalment on Gaeltacht Housing Loan.

The defendant (who was not professionally represented) gave his evidence in Irish and alleged that the money paid under the Gaeltacht Housing Grant was not received by him and the work that was to be done to his house was not done and that he was not paid for work done by him in connection with the contract. A decree for the full amount was given.

Donne v. O'Brien

In the case of Patrick Donne, late Shandon Dairy, v. Luke O'Brien, Ballintaylor.

Mr. Farrell, solicitor, for applicant, said a settlement was arrived at with Mr. Ryan, solicitor, for defendant on a payment of £3 per month.

Extension of Licence

The Committee of the Ring Dance Hall applied for an extension in respect of four dances in July and August, which was granted.

Garda Sports Dance

Mrs. Monahan, Ocean View Hotel was granted an occasional licence (hours 12 p.m. to 6 a.m.) on the 9th-10th August, on the occasion of the Garda Dance.

Sergeant O'Neill, applied for and was granted an extension for the licensed traders on Sunday August 9th, from 1 p.m. to 2 p.m. and from 6.30 p.m. to 8.30 p.m.

CARAVAN FIRE AT ARDMORE

Lismore Boy Scouts Comes to Rescue

A menacing fire, which did considerable damage to a motor caravan, the property of Louis Meagher, Clonmel, broke out at Dullacarrick, Ardmore.

The outbreak which was located in the caravan, was discovered by some of the members of the Lismore Boy Scouts, at 2.15 p.m., when the whole Troop were summoned by Scout Master J. O'Neill.

The fire was centred in the front portion of the caravan, where a two-burner cooking stove was placed. When the Boy Scouts arrived the caravan was well ablaze, and the front portion of the roof was practically burnt out.

The Boy Scouts heroically jumped through the back window and restored all the valuables among them being a Wireless Set, a large sum of money and wearing apparel.

Special mention is due to Jack O'Donnell, and Michael Walsh, two members of the Troop who endangered their lives by rushing through the flames.

After half an hour's work the fire was got under control with buckets of water and the back bedroom of the caravan was restored.

ABBEYSIDE PATTERN AND SPORTS

At a meeting of the members of the Abbeyside Social Club, held on Wednesday last, the question of the coming Pattern was discussed. It was decided to form a working Committee to make arrangements and draw up a programme of events which will include Boat Races, Sports, Step-dancing, etc. Full details next issue.—Joseph Organ, Hon. Treas., J. Power, Hon. Sec.

Death of Mrs. Mary Moloney, Dromore, Aglish, Cappoquin

Deep regret has been caused in the district of Aglish and other parts of West Waterford by the death of Mrs. Mary Moloney, Dromore, Aglish, which occurred at her residence after a brief illness on Friday 17th inst.

Deceased, who had reached a ripe age was relict of the late Mr. Michael Moloney, Blacksmith and Farmer, and was a lady of many estimable traits of character which had endeared her to all classes in the district, amongst whom she was highly popular and respected.

She was mother of Mr. Edmond Moloney, who was for many years employed in the Hardware business in Dungarvan, and who is now in America, while another son, John, and a daughter, Mrs. Kearney, have also been in the States for several years.

Her sons at home are all well-known and popular sportsmen, some of them having been prominently identified with the G.A.A. for a long period, and to these, as well as her exiled children across the seas, the deepest sympathy of all will now be tendered in their sad bereavement.

Deceased was a devout and most exemplary Catholic all her life and she was regularly attended by the Very Rev. J. Gleeson, P.P., Aglish, during the latter stages of her illness, so that her death was a holy and a happy one and a fitting end to her long and honourable life.

On Saturday evening the remains were removed from her late residence to Aglish Catholic Church when striking tributes of respect were paid to her memory by the immense attendance at the funeral, which was one of the largest and most representative seen in the district for many years.

Requiem Mass for the repose of her soul having been offered on Sunday, the interment afterwards took place in the New Cemetery adjoining Aglish Church in the presence of another large attendance of mourners from all parts, the final prayers at the graveside being recited by the Rev. D. Power, C.C., Aglish.

The chief mourners included—Jas. J. Pate, Bernard and Dr. Moloney (sons); Mrs. Kearns, Kereen, Mrs. Coleman, Dromore, and the Misses Nellie and Margaret Moloney (daughters); Mrs. Kathleen Moloney, Ballinacorney (daughter-in-law); Patrick Gee, Ballintaylor (brother); Michael and Patrick Gee, do. (nephews); Mrs. Walsh, Ballinacorney, Dungarvan, (niece); Wm. Kearns, Kereen and John Coleman, Dromore, (sons-in-law); John and Mrs. Moloney, The Pike, Dungarvan; James and Mrs. Moloney, Geesh; John Moloney, Ardmore; Edmond Moloney, Timock, Clashmore; Thos. Moloney, Geesh; Jas and Mrs. McGrath, Currahaha, Aglish, Park, McGrath, Two-Mile-Bridge, Dungarvan, James Moloney, Cappoquin, etc., (cousins and relatives).—R.I.P.

TWO GREAT HURLING MATCHES AT CAPPOQUIN

On Sunday week, August 2nd, two great Hurling Championship matches will be played in the Sportsfield here which should provide a grand "curtain-raiser" to the big Regatta to be held next day.

Cappoquin and Ballyduff will meet in a replay of their Junior Hurling tie, the match played between them in Talloy previously having been declared "null and void," while Dungarvan and Ballylin will also meet in a replay, and both matches should provide plenty of thrills for all the hurling "fans" in West Waterford, so that nobody should miss this great fixture. Further details next week.

The Bacon Factory

The killing of pigs in the Cappoquin Bacon Factory, which had to be suspended during the previous fortnight owing to a surplus of supplies, was resumed this week when large numbers of suitable fat pigs were offered for sale at the substantial price of 63/- per cwt., dead weight.

DUNGARVAN TRIAL

SECOND DAY'S HEARING

ON Thursday 16th inst., before the Military Tribunal, Dublin, the case of Michael Conway, Mary Street, Clonmel, who has been charged in connection with the murder of John Egan, Dungarvan, on April 20th, was again before the Court, and after a full hearing was adjourned to Tuesday last.

Det. Serg. T. Murphy, Waterford, said that on April 27, about 6.30 a.m., he went in a car along the Dungarvan-Clonmel road, accompanied by Supt. Walsh, Sergt. O'Neill and another Garda. He found a dry revolver cartridge case on the road 4 1/2 miles from Dungarvan. It smelt fresh, as if having been fired a short time previously. Witness served notice upon the prisoner of the intention to bring him before the Tribunal.

Mr. Matthew Hennessy, Loughlougher, Cahir, said that on April 26 he left a friend's house in Cahir about 11 p.m. At Knocka a motor car appeared from the main road. It had powerful lights and was travelling fast. He could not see who was in it. It pulled up about 200 yards further on. The lights were then turned off. He saw the car empty the following day at the same place.

Sergt. P. J. Lynch, Cahir, said he found the car, K.I. 1488, at Knocka and knew it to be the property of District Justice Troy. There were pieces of clothes line wire on the front and back number plates.

Det. Officer Andrew Mullins, Cahir, said he saw a number of finger-prints on the glass and panels of both doors of the car, and pointed them out to Sergt. McNamara, the finger-print expert.

Replying to the President, he said the finger-prints were easy to see. Det. Sergt. Michael Murphy, Clonmel, said he interrogated Michael Conway at Messrs. Maher's Garage, where the accused was employed. He told accused he was inquiring into the murder of John Egan and asked him to give an account of his movements on April 26. Accused refused and said his movements on that day could easily be accounted for.

On April 12 witness interrogated the accused at his residence. At that time witness suspected him of being a member of an unlawful association. He asked him if he had any arms or ammunition in his possession or under his control. The accused said "search." Witness searched the room occupied by the accused and also the accused himself on an authorized search warrant. Witness found 37 spent Alton cartridges in a drawer in the accused's room and took possession of them.

Witness arrested the accused and conveyed him to Ferrack Street, Waterford. Cross-examined by accused, witness said it was usual for him to refuse to give an account of his movements to the Garda.

Accused—You have never known me voluntarily to give an account of my movements to the Garda?—I have not. William Butler, Kilmacoma, Clonmel, an employee of Messrs. Louis and Maher, Clonmel, said that whilst cycling to Clonmel on the evening of April 26 he met accused near Kent's Cross.

Cross-examined by accused, witness admitted he met him very frequently on that road and that there was nothing extraordinary in meeting him there.

Accused—You have known me nine years or so?—Yes. You have never known me to wear a moustache?—No.

You would notice it if I suddenly decided to cultivate a moustache?—Yes. I did not have a moustache at 7.15 p.m. that night?—No.

You have worked with me for many years?—I have. Your works brings you in contact with batteries and sulphuric acid?—Yes.

William Murphy, Ardinnan, Clonmel, said that whilst motoring along the Clonmel-Ardinnan road on April 26 he passed a workman named Burke and two cyclists, one of whom he believed was accused.

Cross-examined by accused, witness said it would not have been the Sunday following April 26 that he met the two cyclists. He could not swear accused was one of them.

Accused—You met a workman named Burke?—Yes. He wasn't arrested by any chance?—No.

In reply to Mr. Maguire, witness said he did not know Mr. Conway, but recognised him as being in the garage where he got petrol.

A member of the Court—Had you any reason for thinking Conway was on that road?—No. Francis Malone, Church Street, Listowel, said he was the owner of a motor car—IN 1517—which had been out of commission for about six years. When examined some weeks ago the front number plate was missing.

Sergt. James McDonagh, Listowel, said he found the chassis of a motor car—IN 1517—at the garage of the last witness on April 27. It was old and rusty and covered with turf and rubbish. The front number plate was missing.

Mr. M. O'Donnell, motor taxation officer, Tralee, said the registration numbers IN 1517 were Kerry numbers and belonged to a car the property of Mr. Malone. It had not been licensed since July, 1930.

Sergt. Henahan, Waterford, said that on May 12 he took the fingerprints of four men, of whom the accused was one. Accused refused to allow his fingerprints to be taken, and said that if witness wanted them he would have to take them by force.

Witness explained that he would have to take the fingerprints, and proceeded to take them by force. Two of the others resisted and one agreed.

Cross-examined by the accused, witness was unable to say if it was the practice of every member of the I.R.A. to refuse to give fingerprints.

"On the present occasion," said the witness, "one member of the I.R.A. gave his fingerprints without resisting."

Sergt. P. McNamara, finger-print expert from Garda Headquarters, said he had eleven years' experience of fingerprinting and finger-print evidence. He examined the Chrysler Saloon car K.I. 1488 on April 27 on the road near Cahir. On the driver's door he found four marks one of which was distinct, and which he was satisfied was made by a right hand.

On the door opposite the driver's door he found finger-prints on the glass portion of the door, and also on the frame or wooden portion of the door.

In Clonmel he made a detailed examination of the car, but no further marks were found. Those marks were photographed in his presence and he received copies of them. The finger-marks on the left-hand side of the car had not yet been identified.

On May 12 he received certain fingerprints from Sergt. Henahan. He compared them with the prints found on the driver's door.

"I am satisfied beyond doubt," said witness, "that the distinct finger-mark reproduced in the exhibit was made by the right middle finger of the person whose impression is on the sheet headed 'Michael Conway.'"

Witness added that there were sixteen points of similarity. Replying to a member of the Court, he said that eight points of similarity were sufficient where there was a core or delta. In the absence of a core or delta, 12 points were necessary. He had found no similarities in this instance. Every thing found in one hand being found in the other.

Accused, cross-examined, said there seemed to him to be a lot of dissimilarities between the photographs. Certain marks found on the photograph of the finger-prints on the car did not seem to be reproduced in the photographs of his own fingerprints.

Witness said that, intentionally or unintentionally, the accused had interfered with the ridges of his fingers. Since the finger-prints had been left on the car, some injury had occurred to the fingers of the accused which destroyed temporarily a portion of the ridges.

Replying to a member of the court, witness said he had not examined the actual fingers of the accused. The ridges of the fingers had been interfered with after April 26. The finger marks on the car did not show the damage seen in the fingerprints taken in Waterford.

Some damage had occurred to the fingers after the prints were left on the car. That damage could have been unintentionally caused by handling, lime, cement or things like that, or intentionally by rubbing the fingers against a rough wall.

The injury to the fingers were not dissimilarities at all. Accused—I suggest you know damn well that the marks on the car don't correspond with the marks on my prints, and you have suggested that I have interfered with the ridges in order to account for obvious discrepancies.

Witness said he had stated that the damage could have been caused intentionally or unintentionally. Replying to the President, witness said he examined the finger prints of all who could have legitimate access to the car, and found no similarity whatever.

Finger-prints of Mr. Troy, D.J., Mrs. Troy, the maid, and the workman had been taken. In addition he had examined the finger-prints of sixteen suspects with the same result.

Supt. Patrick Kilroy, Waterford, gave evidence of arranging an identification parade on May 12. There were 12 men, including the accused, in that identification parade.

The first person taken in was Mrs. Egan, who pointed out one man, not the accused. Mr. Thomas Egan pointed out the accused as one of the men who called to the house that night. He would be, said Mr. Egan, the same size and dark, but he thought he had a small moustache.

Justice Troy, Patrick Walsh, Mrs. Kirby, Christina Bolger and Patrick O'Sullivan, were unable to identify anyone. Supt. John Fleming, Garda Headquarters, said he had expert knowledge of the driving and management of motor cars. He examined and tested the Chrysler saloon car, K.I. 1488. It contained one gallon and a pint of petrol. It had good steering, but was difficult to negotiate corners with.

Petrol consumption was fifteen miles per gallon. It was capable of a top speed of 60 miles per hour. The accelerator had a tendency to jam or foul. Witness produced it to District Justice Troy at Fermoy, who identified it as his property. Nothing was missing from it.

Witness drove the car along a number of routes to Dungarvan from Mr. Troy's house, and gave the distance and time taken in each case. Other tests were carried out along the various places concerned in the shooting.

On May 6 witness carried out an identification parade with the car in question. Three other cars were paraded along with Mr. Troy's car the number plates of all the cars were covered. The car was not positively identified by anybody.

One of the witnesses identified the car belonging to Mr. Troy as being similar to the one seen on the night of April 26. Thomas Egan said Mr. Troy's car was the same style as the raider's car, and resembled it most of the four.

Supt. Daniel Stapleton said he examined a number of exhibits in the case. A bullet (produced) was similar to the type used by revolver cartridge case (produced). A bullet taken from the body of John Egan was a .45 service bullet, and was fired from a Colt revolver. Three bullets (produced) were fired by a Webley revolver.

Supt. Walsh, Dungarvan, gave evidence of interrogating the accused under Article 2a of the Constitution.

The accused refused to give his name and address, stating that as a soldier of the Irish Republican Army he refused to do so.

Other questions put to him, including a question whether he met John Egan in Mountjoy prison, were not answered.

This closed the case for the prosecution, and the Court adjourned.

After an absence of 35 minutes, the President said— "In view of the attitude of the prisoner has adopted we think it right at this stage to inform him that a prima facie case has been established against him. Evidence has been given that he was on the road between Clonmel and Ardinnan about 8 o'clock on the 26th April, and that finger-prints corresponding to that of his were found on the car.

"In order to give the accused an opportunity of considering and answering these points, we have decided to adjourn the case until 11 o'clock on Tuesday next. "The accused will be given every facility regarding witnesses and such other assistance as he may require. In the interests of justice, we ask every person or persons who saw the accused or were in his company, or who can assist in any way in clearing up those points to report at once to the local Garda."

When the decision was announced, accused said: "I object to this adjournment. I don't intend to call any evidence and I don't recognise this Court."

ACCUSED CONVICTED SENTENCED TO DEATH

Conway denies he had any Part in the Murder of John Egan

MI. Conway, Mary street, Clonmel, was convicted by the Military Tribunal on Tuesday, and sentenced to death in connection with the murder of John Egan, at Dungarvan, on April, 26th.

At Tuesday's hearing the accused in reply to the President said he was not going to call any witness but was prepared to make a defence before a Jury of twelve of his countrymen. He said he had not got a fair trial and denied he had hand, act or part in the murder of John Egan.

When asked if he had anything to say why sentence of death should not be passed upon him, the accused said it was the verdict which he had expected from the Tribunal.

The trial is to be executed at Mountjoy Prison on August 24th next. When the Court sat on Tuesday morning, Mr. Maguire asked leave to refer to a decision of the Court of Criminal Appeal which, he said, had considerable importance as regards this case. It was the case of the Attorney-General v. Griffin, which came before the Court of Criminal Appeal on July 10, 1933. The only evidence against the appellant in that case were fingerprints found on a piece of broken glass, which an expert from the Civil Guards said were made by the appellant. The trial jury had accepted that evidence as the sole evidence of identification, and the Court of Criminal Appeal held that it was sufficient evidence to sustain a conviction and confirmed the conviction.

Addressing Conway the President of the Tribunal asked—Do you wish to give your evidence before this court or call any witnesses? Conway—I do not wish to call any witnesses.

Do you wish to give any evidence in your own defence?—I have something to say. You understand what the word evidence is? Yes; I am prepared to defend my case, and to bring all the witnesses possible before a jury of twelve of my countrymen, but I will not recognise this court. Since this trial started I have been denied any opportunity of stating my position.

A Member of the Court—Who denied it to you? Conway—When I refused to recognise the court. I wanted to give reasons, but I was prevented by the P.A.'s. I am clearly entitled to and I demand that I be allowed to give those reasons. You by your adjournment of my trial have made what I might describe as a hypocritical gesture which inferred that I was afforded every opportunity to clear myself of this charge. This is not so. I assert, and I am prepared to back up my assertion with facts that I have not had nor was I ever meant to get a fair trial.

A grave attempt of court and a deliberate attempt to prejudice my trial was made by a Cabinet Minister while I was in goal.

Conway continued: "Mr. MacEntee, speaking at Luan on June 21, is reported in the 'Irish Press,' on June 22, as saying: 'In reference to this murder of John Egan, you will get the proof in the next few days, and it will be a sorry day for those responsible for that crime. It will be their last shooting.' Why was not MacEntee charged with contempt of court? That statement proves conclusively that a month ago I was sentenced to death by the Fianna Fail Cabinet, and it only remains for you to carry out the instructions of your men. It is not to be wondered at that Mr. Albert Wood, K.C., and Mr. Art O'Connor, B.L., refused to take responsibility of defending me on the grounds that they would regard the result as a foregone conclusion."

"I repeat the fact that I had neither hand, act nor part in the murder of John Egan, and the evidence the prosecution has tendered before this so-called court would not be entertained for five minutes before a Court of Justice. I repeat, too, that I am prepared to defend my case, and to bring all the witnesses necessary to prove my innocence before a jury of 12 of my fellow countrymen."

President—Do you propose to give any evidence before this court or call any witnesses?—No.

President—In reference to the statement of Mr. MacEntee— Mr. Maguire alleged statement! President—I wish to say that the alleged statement of Mr. MacEntee had no influence or bearing on this case so far as this court is concerned.

The President then announced that the court would adjourn until 2 p.m. Mr. Martin Maguire, K.C., and Mr. Kevin Haugh (instructed by Mr. J. S. O'Connor, solicitor to the Attorney-General) appeared for the prosecution.

ACCUSED CONVICTED AND SENTENCED TO DEATH

When the Court resumed after the adjournment the President said:—"The accused, MI. Conway, was brought before us on the 15th day of this month, and charged with the murder of John Egan, at Dungarvan, on 26th April last. Although the charge is the gravest known to the law, the accused refused to plead to the charge and also refused to acknowledge the right of this Tribunal to try him on this, or any other charge. Every opportunity was given to the accused by this Tribunal to obtain any legal aid he required."

"This attitude placed on the Tribunal the responsibility of ensuring that the course adopted by the accused would not be allowed either to prejudice his trial or interfere with the interests of justice. From the evidence adduced it is clear that John Egan was murdered at Mitchel Street, Dungarvan, about 11.25 on the night of the 26th April, of this year, and that the car used in the commission of this crime was the Chrysler saloon K.I. 1488, the property of District Justice Troy, Fermoy. When this car was found abandoned at Knockagh, on the following day, a finger print corresponding to that of the right middle finger of the accused, MI. Conway, was found on the right front or driver's door of the car. At about eight o'clock on the evening of the 26th April the accused was observed outside Clonmel, cycling in the direction of Ardinnan. On Thursday last, when the case for the prosecution had closed the accused was informed that a prima facie case had been established against him, and his attention was drawn to the salient features of the case. The Tribunal adjourned for five days to give him an opportunity of considering and answering the case against him. Today, the accused has again refused to answer the charge. He has had reasonable time to consider his position and to obtain any assistance he required. His attitude would appear to be deliberate and definite."

"The fact that the accused has not answered the charge or defended himself is not evidence against him. It did not relieve the prosecution of the onus of proving the charge against the accused and establishing beyond reasonable doubt that he was one of the perpetrators of the crime. We have considered every aspect of this case, fully conscious of the grave responsibility which rests upon us to ensure that an innocent man should not suffer, and at the same time mindful of our duty to give verdict in accordance with the evidence.

"The Tribunal holds that the Chrysler saloon K.I. 1488 was the car used by the persons who murdered John Egan; that the finger print found in this car was that of the accused man, Michael Conway; that the accused could not have had access to the car until after it was seized by armed men on the night of the 26th April; that Michael Conway was on the road between Clonmel and Ardinnan on the evening of the 26th April last, which placed him in a position to join the car used in the commission of this crime. Although we have no evidence before us to show who fired the fatal shots, we are satisfied that the accused, Michael Conway, was one of the persons who took part in the murder of John Egan on the night of the 26th April last. The Tribunal finds the accused, Michael Conway, guilty of the murder of John Egan, at Dungarvan, in the county of Waterford, on the 26th day of April, 1936."

Addressing the accused, the President said:—"Michael Conway, have you anything to say why sentence of death should not be passed on you? Conway—Yes. It is the verdict I expected from this Tribunal, and no other but it is not a just verdict.

President—Is that all you have to say? Conway—That is all.

President—The sentence of this Tribunal upon you is that you, Michael Conway, be taken from this place to Mountjoy Prison, and on Wednesday, the 12th day of August, in the year of Our Lord, 1936, you be taken to the common place of execution in that prison, and that you be then and there hanged by the neck until you be dead, and that your body be buried within the walls of the prison in which the aforesaid judgment of death shall be executed upon you. The Tribunal directs that the Governor of the said Mountjoy Prison take all steps necessary to have this sentence carried out, and may the Lord have mercy on your soul.

CO. WATERFORD FARMERS FAMILY ROW Pikes And Sticks Used "LIKE ABYSSINIA"

At Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday, James Butler, Nicholas Butler, Mrs. Mary Butler and Thomas Wall (uncle of Mrs. Butler) were fined £3 each and bound to the peace for 12 months in cases in which Supt. Denny, Tramore, had them summoned for assault. Sticks and pikes used in the fight were produced in Court.

The Justice said the details showed the existence of savage warfare among the parties. It was like a battle in Abyssinia. One would expect more civilisation from people of the Butlers means.

Death of Mr. Declan Hourigan, Goulane, Old Parish. We regret to record the death of Mr. Declan Hourigan, Goulane, who passed peacefully away on the 20th ult., after an illness of a few weeks duration and fortified by the last rites of Holy Church. —R.I.P.

The late Mr. Hourigan was a devout and fervent Catholic, and an ardent supporter of every National Movement which he honestly believed was for the uplifting of his country, and for the welfare of his fellow-countrymen.

His spiritual wants were most zealously attended to during his illness by Very Rev. E. English, P.P. His remains were removed to Old Parish Church on June 30th, and were conveyed from thence on July 1st, after Requiem Office and Masses, to the family burial place at Ballymaart, accompanied by a large cortege of his numerous friends, relatives and sympathisers.

The pall bearers were Patrick and John Hourigan (sons); Patrick Hourigan, Goulane; Michael Hourigan, Barronastock; Michael Hourigan, Mountain Castle and James Hourigan, Goulane, (nephews); Patrick Allen, Moonamean, (son-in-law).

The prayers at the graveside were recited by Rev. Fr. Murphy, C.C., after which the interment immediately took place. Widespread sympathy has been extended to his sorrowing children and his brother, William Hourigan, in their sad bereavement.

IMPORTANT COTTAGE CASE A case of considerable interest to occupants of labourers' cottages came before District Justice Gleeson, at Ennis, when John Cusack, Shanakyle, Meelick, claimed £25 damages from Clare Board of Health for failing to keep in proper repair of cottage he occupied. Cusack was given a decree for 15 guineas, and was allowed £5 13s. expenses.

Mr. C. Slade, C.E., Limerick gave evidence of the state of the cottage, and said faulty construction originally was the cause of all the trouble. The cottage had been well kept by Cusack. It would now cost £50 to repair.

Plaintiff said he had been 30 years in the cottage, which was last repaired by the Board five years ago. He had spent over £10 in repairs.

Mr. J. Quin, Secretary to the Board, said that the Board had difficulty in getting good contractors, with the result that the cottages had been repaired piecemeal in the past. The cottages had been badly constructed the first day.

The District Justice said the case was important. It should direct the attention of everybody to the necessity of a close examination of the cottages when first erected. Plaintiff had been for years living in a damp, horrible house.

KILMACKTHOMAS NEWS.

HOLIDAYING—Mr. Richard Goode, Provincial Bank, Kilmackthomas, is now spending his annual holidays at the home of his boyhood at Ballymoney, Bandon. Mr. Goode is 100 per cent. efficient in the routine of his professional post; is a keen sportsman, being one of the leading local exponents of both tennis and golf games, and has the goodwill of the townspeople. And this popular gentleman is the possessor of a rich baritone voice, which has frequently delighted large audiences in the hall here, as well as in the halls at Leamybrien and Kill.

SYMPATHY—Widespread sympathy is extended to Miss N. O'Brien, N.T., Kilmassanty, in her recent sad bereavement occasioned by the death of her mother.

DEATH OF MRS. M. FITZGERALD—Fortified by rites of Holy Church, Mrs. Mary Fitzgerald (widow), Ballyclay, Kilmassanty, died after a protracted illness in her 77th year. Deceased, who was a most respected and esteemed lady, was mother of Mrs. O'Connor, Bellahy, Kilmassanty, and of Mr. Edmond Fitzgerald, Gortnaught, do. The other members of her family are domiciled in America. Her remains, accompanied by a big cortege, were removed to the Parish Church, Kilmassanty, on Wednesday week. After the celebration of Masses for her soul on the following morning, the burial took place in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. J. Hart, C.C., Kilmassanty, recited the last prayers at the graveside—May she rest in peace.

DEATH OF MRS. HOULIHAN—The death took place on the 19th inst. of Mrs. Houlihan, wife of Mr. James Houlihan, farmer, Knocknacullen, Kilmassanty, and mother of Miss Marcella Houlihan. Deceased who had reached a good age, had been in failing health for some time prior to the end, which came calmly and peacefully after her reception of the last Sacraments. A large and impressive cortege paid a fitting tribute to the esteem in which she was held. Office and High Mass were offered up in the Parish Church on Friday morning of last week for the eternal welfare of her soul, and interment was made subsequently in the Churchyard, in the presence of numerous relatives, friends and sympathisers, and amid many manifestations of profound sorrow. An obituary notice is hereinafter.

BRILLIANT YOUNG LADIES—News to note that a scholarship scheme initiated by a Dublin contemporary, resulted in two Co. Waterford free scholarships in the Gaeltacht going to the Misses Rosaleen Daly (Ballyduff Upper Girls' National School) and Mary Phelan (Mercy School, Stradbally). Miss Daly is a daughter of Mr. Patrick Daly merchant, Ballyduff Upper (a familiar figure in West Waterford G.A.A. circles), and Mrs. Daly, N.T., do., and Miss Phelan is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Phelan, Cove Cottage, Stradbally. By their brilliant achievements these talented young ladies have played a praiseworthy part in maintaining the long time prestige of their respective schools, and hearty congratulations are tendered to both.

AGAIN—Hearty congratulations are also tendered to Mr. Michael Murphy, postman of the Kilmackthomas-Stradbally delivery, on securing (at a recent exam. held at the Technical School, Dungarvan) one of the County Vocational Education Committee's twelve Free Scholarships in the Gaeltacht. This gifted, genial young neighbour is a son of universally esteemed Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy (ex-N.T., Postmaster, Ring).

APPRECIATION—Best thanks to Messrs. Commissioner Moylan and J. Bowen, B.E., there is every likely and likeable indication that the long-complained-of bad stretch of road from Ballymabogue to Bowe's Hill (Kilmackthomas-Bonmahon direct route) will be resurfaced, steamrolled, and tar-sprayed before the opening of the Mission in St. Anne's Church, Ballyvane, about the middle of September next. Numbers of County Council workmen are at present quarrying stones at Mr. Thomas Cunningham's quarry at Ballymabogue North, and the machine stone-breaker (better known as the "crusher," we believe) will be on the job any other day. Indeed all users of the road referred to will be pleased to learn of its being attended to as stated.

EXPECTATION—Now that an agreement has been reached between the County Vocational Education Committee and Mr. J. Walsh, Hotel, Kilmackthomas, respecting the site for the erection of a Technical School here, it is to be hoped that building operations will be begun without delay.

AT KILMACKTHOMAS—The monthly District Court (before Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J.) was the shortest sitting his Worship has had in our midst to date. At the outset the Justice announced that as many of the Guards and solicitors would be taking their annual holiday next month, he would not sit here again until the third Wednesday of September. However, if any important criminal case transpired in the meantime it would be dealt with. A number of undetended civil bills were dealt with in the usual way. Dr. Conahan, Waterford, and Messrs. M. Haly, do., and T. Kiersey, Kilmackthomas, were the professional gentlemen engaged in the cases. The case of the Attorney-General versus Roger Shanahan, Ashlevin, Kilmackthomas, was, on the application of Mr. Haly, adjourned for the respondent, adjourned to the September sitting, as also was a school attendance charge against Stacia Cunningham, Grawn, Kilmackthomas, in which Guard M. Naughton, Leamybrien, was complainant. In a similar charge against Patrick Brown, Bris-key, Kilmassanty, which had stood adjourned from the previous court, Guard Naughton now reported a marked improvement in the attendance of the child concerned and his Worship struck out the case. For failing to produce a carrier's licence on a recent date a Waterford lorry owner was fined £2, and warned not to again use the vehicle for the delivery of goods without the necessary licence. Guard H. Hamilton, Kilmackthomas, prosecuted, Edmond Ryan and William Hurton, of the Clonea district for breaches of the Lights Act, and a fine of 2/- was inflicted in each case.

SNIFF AS WE GO—In and out of Kilmackthomas the use of snuff is steadily increasing, for various reasons. One is that many physicians recommend it as a preventative of colds. In the valley of Comeragh, Mahon and Nire, it has never died away, as it looked like doing in the districts of Durrrow, Dunhill and Dunmore years ago. We still use some of the old recipes of over a century ago, but the tendency is towards the weaker makes. Portlaw ladies are taking it more than they used, as also are the daughters of Kill, Bonmahon and Stradbally and their sisters of Sliabh Cúga, Kiltbrien and Boha-on and of umpteen other localities, including Fews, Fenor, and Fiddown, and not excluding Clonea, Ballinroad and Garranbane!

LEFT—After spending a very pleasant vacation at her parental roof-tree at Knock, Stradbally, charmingly-mannered Nurse Mary Power, has just returned to London, to resume her professional duties on the staff of one of the leading hospitals there.

A CONVALESCENT'S PLIGHT—If the grim and tragic side of life is revealed in our hospitals, there is also occasionally the lighter touch of comedy. One such took place the other day in one of the great homes of sorrow and healing in the home county. A man from "behind" (Any Kilmassanty resident can tell you where "behind" is if you don't know "before"), who had entered the building with all the dread and suspense of the unknown that precedes an operation had come through splendidly and was looking forward to the day of his home-coming with feelings of delight that can well be imagined. No less loved was his devoted wife, who, at the appointed hour turned up cheerful and beaming with the good man's clothes in a suitcase. Alas! an unhappy scene when, to the deep dismay of both, it was discovered that in the packing she had overlooked that essential, nay indispensable, portion of his wardrobe—his trousers. She had left them out after most careful folding and pressing, but had inadvertently failed to put them in the suitcase. Was there ever a more awkward hold-up? Her home was eighteen miles away! In her extremity she sought her of a lady friend living but a couple of hundred yards from the hospital, and "the friend in need proved a friend in deed." When the situation was explained a reserve pair of trousers was at once forthcoming. He was a six-footer and the convalescent was a small man. "What matter, a few extra rolls in the legs of the trousers helped the situation out, and he travelled home in real "roomy" comfort.

BY THE WAY—On the last day but one a trams called at the kitchen door of a Stradbally lady's residence. After looking was well over she asked him some questions. Turning out her nurse she remarked: "So you say you have been in the Army. Have you seen the Front?" "Yes my lady," he answered. "I knocked but as I got no answer I came round to the back."

We Put 'n To You (Serious And Not)—That the heel of last week was the wettest spell of the present Leax Year of grace as far experienced by Mid-Deise dwellers—That the abnormal rainfall has caused considerable damage to hay that was not secured, and to heavy grain crops, which were "flattened" by its incessant rain—That the blight has just made its welcome appearance in a number of potato gardens south-side of the Comeraghs—That all sprayed "spud-stalks" are as safe as the proverbial house from the withering disease—That the Metal Man of "Tramore" is "mad" about the macaroni balls his Mrs. makes—That the ninth annual extraordinary general meeting of the Mid-Waterford Match-Makers' Association will be held at the Five-Cross-Roads on next Tuesday, and the principal item on the agenda will be "consideration of Maud Moryan's Motion for the Abolishment of Leax Year Proposals"—That the Kiltbrien belle who is busy as a bee in a bottle from "sparrow-start" to sun-set latterly in "sweet seventeen" since Sunday—That the Bohadon daughter who is champion of her parish for shelling peas will cut the whale of a dash in Dungarvan at the Gards Divisional Sports on August 9th next.

DOMICILED IN DUBLIN—Is the Kill-born biped who informs us that a new and valiant effort is being made in the Metropolis to tempt men to go in for brighter hats! But we have not learned of any of An Deise drapers overstocking their shops, shelves, and windows in optimistic anticipation of a boom in coloured-chapeaux. Men are the despair of hatters for their lack of courage and initiative, and many of the youth who might be expected to give a lead prefer to go about bareheaded. This vague represents a loss to hat and cap merchants, but from the copious amounts of dressing with which the bare-headed brigade anoint themselves the oil and perfume merchants must benefit accordingly. This suggests the idea that hatters, to compensate themselves, should be permitted to stock stimulating hair lotions to retain the custom of former clients now discarding headgear altogether.

HAD ONE CHANCE—A crab, caught and marked four years ago and returned to the sea at Bonmahon, was recaptured by the same person, a Clonmel gentleman, within a few hundred yards of the place where he first caught it. But the crab, with the marking K9 7/32 still on it, was sent this time to the pot.

The Chairman of the Co. Board, (Mr. M. O'Donoghue, B.E.) was also present.

There's Many A Slip Twist Your Clothes And A Dip—Three young Kiltbrien ladies had a decidedly unlucky dip at Ballywooney Cove (near Stradbally) on Sunday evening. Evidently they forgot that the tide which was far out, was coming in. Anyhow they slipped off their bathing wraps—new ones, were almost sure—and, running far out to get into water of some depth, bet them on the sands. The tide crept up slowly, but surely, as in the day of Canute. Next thing the wraps were afloat! Not until their apparel had been thoroughly soaked and, were afraid, half ruined, did the girls notice what had happened. And then what shrieks! Their misfortune, surely, should be a warning to others.

IN MEMORIAM—At St. Anne's Church, Ballyvane, on Monday morning Anniversary Office and High Mass of Requiem were offered up for the repose of the soul of the late Very Rev. John Foley, P.P., Kilmassanty, in the presence of a large congregation of relatives and friends of the deceased Pastor, including his brother Mr. Jeremiah Foley, Ballymabogue, Kilmackthomas. Also at St. Anne's church on Monday an Anniversary High Mass of Requiem was celebrated for the eternal welfare of the late Mr. Morgan Whelan, Ballymabogue, and of his deceased family (ex-R.I.P.).

WEST WATERFORD DIVISIONAL BOARD

An Appeal Ballyduff H.C., appealed against the decision of the fixtures Committee in fixing their junior hurling match with Cappouin for that Club's grounds. Mr. Harris said Ballyduff objected as they thought it most unfair to have to travel to Cappouin considering that they had to travel 4 or 5 times already this year. It was expensive for a county club. Mr. Mason said Cappouin had to do a lot of travelling also. He suggested Ballyduff that they would be treated fairly in Cappouin. It would also be in the interests of the Board as a big "game" would be taken. Mr. Feeney said a good "game" would be made at Lismore too. Mr. O'Donoghue (Co. Board Chairman) appealed to the clubs concerned to come to an understanding. The Chairman (Mr. C. Curran) said that while he understood that Ballyduff had a grievance he was very reluctant to alter the decision of the Fixtures Committee, who had done their work very well. They had no precedent in the matter and he asked Ballyduff to withdraw the appeal in the interests of the Association. Ballyduff agreed to this course on being allowed £1 expense. At this stage the Chair was taken by Mr. O'Neill, who apologised for being late.

Whether Appeal Dungarvan objected to Stradbally being awarded that match in the Senior Football championship, won by Stradbally on the score 7-6 to 5-4. The principal point in the objection was that one of the Stradbally players—J. Flynn, N.T., was not resident in Waterford and was not a registered member of the Stradbally club. Stradbally had no representative at the meeting. Mr. T. Kyne, stated the Dungarvan case. The Chairman (Mr. S. O'Neill) said that while he had no alternative but to award the match to Dungarvan, he thought it a pity to put such a feeble team as Stradbally out of the championship. Mr. Kyne said Stradbally played Flynn because some of their regular men did not turn up. If they did not object Stradbally would probably be suspended by the Co. Board. Dungarvan did not want the match and would agree to a replay. It was finally agreed to replay the match. Several delegates referred to Dungarvan's sporting attitude. It was also decided to notify the Secy. of the Dublin Co. Board of Flynn's position, in order to have his position defined.

Reinstatement Mr. O'Connell, secy., Lismore, applied for reinstatement to the G.A.A. He has now severed his connection with foreign games. The reinstatement was granted.

Conduct At Match Mr. J. Lyons, who refereed the Stradbally-Clonmel game, stated that during the course of the game he had occasion to order one of the Stradbally team (Wedg) after the match the player in question endeavoured to assault him. Several delegates commented strongly on the conduct towards the referee, who had refereed the match at great personal inconvenience. A vote was suspended for 12 months.

WEXFORD T.D.'S DEATH

Sir O. Grattan Esmonde The death occurred suddenly at his flat in Upper Pembroke St., Dublin, on Wednesday morning of Sir Osmond Grattan Esmonde, T.D.

Sir Osmond was present in Leinster House on Tuesday evening. He arrived shortly after 7, and left again between 8.30 and 9, accompanied by a friend. Sir Osmond was then leaving rather heavily on his stick.

Sir Osmond was a member of one of the leading Irish Catholic families. The twelfth baronet, he succeeded his father, Sir Thomas Grattan Esmond in September, 1925. He represented County Wexford-with which the family has been associated for over a thousand years, and where, at Ballinastagh, is the family seat-in the Dail since August, 1923, and was the only titled member of that House.

A member of the Fine Gael Party, the late Baronet was popular on both sides of the House.

On several occasions he took an independent line politically, and at one time broke with the Cumann-na-Gaelleach Party and acted as an independent until the following General Election, when he was reconcoiled to the party.

One of his lighter political advocacies was his campaign for the removal, on artistic grounds, of the Queen Victoria Memorial from Leinster Lawn.

A pioneer of aviation in the Free State, he was flying his own plane when there were comparatively few qualified civilian pilots even in Great Britain. He was vice-chairman of the Irish Aero Club, and was the only member of the Dail to own and fly an aeroplane.

Keenly interested in all forms of sport, Sir Osmond was particularly attracted by Association football. He was vice-President of the Free State Football Association. He was also a keen motorist. About two years ago he was involved in a motor accident, from which he sustained leg injuries which caused a permanent halt in his walk. He was also interested in archery.

Having taken his M.A. degree at Oxford, Sir Osmond was later at University College, Dublin. That was about 1920, when some of the present members of the Dail, including Dr. Davitt, were his fellow-students.

His only brother was killed aboard a British vessel at the Battle of Jutland. He has three sisters-one married to Dr. A. C. Esmonde, Nenagh; another married an American, and a third, unmarried, lives at Waterloo Rd., Dublin.

"ON THE RUN" During the Black-and-Tan regime, Sir Osmond proposed a riotous at Oxford University Union in favour of the Irish cause, and, due to his eloquence, the motion was carried by a large majority. He was "on the run" in 1919.

He was sent by President Griffith as assistant to Mr. de Valera in America. He travelled extensively in the United States in connection with the first Dail Eireann Loan and the movement for the recognition of the Irish Republic. In 1920, he went as Dail Envoy to Australia. He was expelled from that country after being imprisoned for some months at Sydney Harbour.

He was also expelled from New Zealand and the Fiji Islands, and was imprisoned in Vancouver, British Columbia, where an attempt was made on his life. While in Vancouver he had to undergo two trials for alleged sedition.

After the Treaty, he was sent by General Collins to Spain as the representative of the Free State.

MAN WHO DISAPPEARED-In the High Court, Dublin, before Mr. Justice Johnston, an order was made presuming the death intestate of Denis Tobin, a native of Dungarvan.

The application arose out of a suit brought to administer the estate of Denis Tobin, late of Carranmore, Co. Wick, police pensioner, who died on January 30, 1933, intestate. The assets in England and Ireland amounted to £2,600.

Letters of administration was issued to Lorcan G. Sheridan, Under-Sheriff, Dublin, as attorney of Margaret Mary Tobin, Ballarat, Australia, who is the niece and one of the next-of-kin of deceased.

The next-of-kin were found to consist of Margaret Mary Tobin, a niece, and Denis Tobin, a brother. He disappeared in 1880, and has not since been heard of. Advertisements were issued by order of the Court, but none of the replies received were from next-of-kin.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

THE AUGUSTINIAN CHAPTER—APPOINTMENT OF PRIORS

At the Provincial Chapter of the Augustinian Order in Dublin, last week, Very Rev. J. Hickey, O.S.A., (Rome) presided, the following Priors were appointed:—

Dublin—Very Rev. T. White, C.O.S.A.; Very Rev. P. J. Redmond, C.O.S.A.; Very Rev. J. Hennessy, C.O.S.A.; Very Rev. P. Donegan, C.O.S.A.; Very Rev. M. Connolly, C.O.S.A.; Very Rev. S. Roche, C.O.S.A.; Very Rev. F. O'Donoghue, C.O.S.A.; Very Rev. P. Crotty, C.O.S.A.; Very Rev. S. Frost, C.O.S.A.; Very Rev. E. Mansfield, C.O.S.A.; Very Rev. F. G. Farragher, C.O.S.A.

Very Rev. F. G. Farragher, who has been Prior of the Augustinian Community, Dungarvan, for the past 3 years has been appointed Prior at Galway. During his long life Fr. Farragher won the admiration and esteem of all classes by his many noble and endearing traits of character. He effected considerable improvements to the Augustinian Church having it thoroughly overhauled, enlarged and decorated. In his good work he had the whole-hearted support of the public, speaking at 10 o'clock Mass on Sunday morning, Fr. Farragher in fitting terms returned thanks to the people of Dungarvan for all their kindness during the past 3 years. He carries with him to Galway the best wishes of his numerous friends in Dungarvan.

OUR NEW PRIOR—

The appointment of Very Rev. J. P. Donegan, O.S.A., Prior of the Augustinians, Dungarvan, has been hailed with delight. Father Donegan, has been associated with the Augustinian Community at Dungarvan for many years, and is one of the most deservedly popular and esteemed priests in the Order. His charm of manner and gentle disposition has endeared him to all, and won him the enduring affection of the public.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL SOCIETY—

The Annual Group Meeting of the various Conferences of St. Vincent de Paul Society throughout the Diocese of Waterford and Lismore, was held at the Scouts Den, Abbeystead, on Sunday last. His Lordship Most Rev. Dr. Keane, presided.

ARDMORE PATTERN—

Sunday next will be a great day in Ardmore, when Cork and Waterford meet there in a great Senior Football contest. Fermoy will represent Cork and Clashmore will uphold Waterford's honor. Both teams will include some of the best players in present-day football.

GARDA SPORTS—

The Waterford-Kilkenny Divisional Gaelic Sports at the Gaelic Field, Dunscarvan, on Aug. 10th, promise to be the best ever held. Entries are pouring in from all parts and include the cream of Ireland's Athletic talent. Such well-known champions "Nick" Donnelly, Guest, Baird (cyclists); E. Tobin, Birmingham; O'Callaghan (Weights); P. Auglin, Raftery, Sheehan, C. O'Connor (Jumps); F. Moran, Irish 100 and 220 Champion, will add interest to the sprint events. There will be a Ladies 2 mile cycle race; also confined 880 yards relay race for G.A.A. Clubs; 8-side Tug-of-War; 800 Yards Boys race (under 14), etc. After the sports there will be an All-Night Dance in the Town Hall.

ELECTRIC LIGHT CHARGES—

The demand made by the Dungarvan Urban Council for a reduction in the charges of the Electricity Supply Board to public Bodies and private consumers will have the full support of all who are users of electricity. It is high time that the increased charges put on a few years ago were taken off and that the general public get the benefit of the cheaper light and power. We were told when the Shannon was properly harnessed we would have light and power for a mere trifle per unit, but now after years of working, the prices are as high as ever. A general demand for an all round reduction of electricity charges is due unless we are to be denied the advantages which a National Scheme of hydro-electricification was to confer on the country.

DEATH OF MRS. M. FLAVIN, KILLINEEN, DUNGARVAN—

The death of Mrs. Mary Flavin, wife of Mr. James Flavin, Killineen, which took place at the District Hospital, Dungarvan, on Monday last, after a brief illness and fortified by the rites of the Church is deeply regretted. The deceased, who was yet in her twenties, was daughter of Mr. James Torpey, Glendalighan, one of the most efficient and popular road-oversers in the County. She was a general favourite with all who knew her, her agreeable manner and goodness of heart being outstanding traits of her character. She has gone to her reward in the heyday of her youth and sincere in the sympathy extended to her husband and young family and also to her parents and sister, R.I.P.

HANDBALL—

The final of the Kiboginiet Handball Tournament between Fahy Bros., Kilmallock and M. Power and I. Power, Kiboginiet, will be played off next Sunday 26th inst. First game at 3.30 (new time).

SHOOTING COMPETITION AT BALLYMACARBERRY—

A most successful 22 rifle Shitting Competition was held at Ballymacarberry, last Sunday, which was ably supervised by Guard Mackey, who organised the event. Over 30 competed in the Open Competition. Competition 1—shooting at 50 yards—Target maximum score 100. Monnie Casey, Dungarvan 71—1; J. Delaney, Fethard, 59—2; Guard Mackey, Ballymacarberry, 38—3. A Gold-trochard, Fethard, 58—4; P. J. Morrissey, Dungarvan, 50—5; T. Morrissey, Fethard, 47—6; A. Fanning, Clonmel, 39—7; M. Casey, Dungarvan was disqualified for using a Remington Target master rifle fitted with a telescopic sight. Competition 2—Team shoot. This event was won by Dungarvan with a margin of 10 points. The Dungarvan scores were—P. J. Morrissey, 38; Guard Mackey, 29; P. O'Shea, Dungarvan 29; P. Hogan, 20, 28.

DEATH OF MR. M. VEALE, BALLINACOURTY—

An old and respected resident in the parish of Mr. Martin Veale, Ballinacourty passed in his 82nd year on Wednesday last at an advanced age. He was a popular and respected man who always did his part well. He remains were removed to the Ballinacourty Church on Thursday evening and the interment takes place today (Friday).

TWO VACANCIES IN THE DAIL—

Following the deaths of Mr. P. Hogan, T.D., Lally and Sir O. Grattan Esmond, T.D., Westford, there are two vacancies in the Dail. Both seats have been offered to Fine Gael. It is expected that the elections will be held without delay in this constituency.

GRAND CONCERT AT BALLINAMULT—

The Grand Concert to be staged at the new Hall, Ballinamult, on next Sunday night July 26th, promises to eclipse any similar event staged in the County in recent years. Prominent artists from all over the county as well as local talent will contribute. The programme includes songs, instrumental music, Irish dancing, etc. Doors open 7 p.m., commencing 7.30 p.m. Admission 2/- and 1/-. Don't miss this gala night.

DUNGARVAN GIRLS DEATH IN LONDON—

The death took place in the Paddington Hospital, London, on the 14th inst., of Miss Margaret Kieley, second youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Kieley, Mitchell street, Dungarvan. The deceased was a highly-popular young lady who was a great favourite with all who knew her and her early death is deeply regretted. She passed away after a brief illness and fortified by the rites of Holy Church. The interment took place at St. Mary's cemetery.—R.I.P.

DUNGARVAN CARNIVAL—

The Carnival in aid of the Children's Health Committee, was continued during the week in the Christian Bros. Grounds, but the weather on many days was most unfavourable. Nevertheless, the Carnival went on with a swing worthy of the energetic committee in charge, who are experts in such matters. On Sunday afternoon there was a Fancy Dress Parade, starting from the Cinema and thence via Main street, Church street, Mitchell street, O'Connell street and Mary street, to the Carnival Grounds. The costumes were most original and were highly admired by the spectators. First prize was won by a group of Kildare representing "Fairies Personified" representing "Fairies Personified" and were entered by Mrs. James Crowe, O'Connell street, and Mrs. M. Whelan, Garvan's Terrace. "King of the Mat," a tiny tot excellently got up and entered by Mr. McGovern, Abbeystead, was second, while "Early Victorians," the entry of Mrs. P. McGrath, St. Garvan's Terrace, was third. Competition was so keen that the Judges had to award eight consolation prizes. On Friday night the Churn race was won by P. Healy, (Co-Op. Creamery) and on Saturday night the 3-legged race was won by T. Parsons and P. Healy. On Monday night the wheelbarrow race was won by Jerome Hackett, Loughmore.

G.A.A. NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG."

At Cork Athletic Grounds last Sunday, the sun set on the hopes of Clare in the Munster Senior Hurling Championship. For a brief period, they flashed like a meteor across the hurling horizon of 1936, dazzling only to deceive; their reign was as brief as a sun-shower and their passing just as sudden. Before Tipperary's hurling broadsides, they staggered, rallied, recoiled, witted and finally broke down. Gone was that unshakable confidence and that triumphant surging attack which stemmed momentarily in Thurles, swept all before it at Limerick. Clare fielded out a very subdued side and, from the moment the ball was thrown in, it was Tipperary who dictated the tune; and, strangest thing of all, the Dalcaissians were apparently content to let them, overcome evidently by a sense of fatalism.

In the actual game, the Claremen were limb-weary all the way; the Ennis Road mud had clogged their efficiency far more than they realised. They were slower on their feet and sluggish in their ground-pulling; their striking too, was below par. For one brief period, the opening five minutes of the second half, we saw the real Clare as they assailed the Tipperary lines with a fury which would have overwhelmed a less steady defence. But John Maher and McLoughlin, O'Gorman, Lannigan and Willie Wall hurled back the desperate onslaught. For a moment, Tipperary's grip on the game is threatened, but only for a moment as the Clare revival is but a momentary spasm and when Bill Loughname, Clare's forward ace, falls down injured, the Dalcaissians resign themselves to their fate. The rest of that last half hour dragged on to as tame a finish as Munster hurling rarely provides. Tipp secure in their lead, were not over inclined to stress themselves. Reynolds, who substituted the injured Loughname, got Clare's solitary second half score a goal in the last minute.

The chopping and changing indulged in by the Clare selectors from the first moment of the game, contributed largely to the ragged display of the team as a whole. Only four or five of the Dalcaissians lived up to their reputations—O'Callaghan, the cultuire, was superb, O'Halloran, their best defender was well supported by Parnell and McGrath, but of the forwards, Quirk was the only one to shine. Houlihan was well and truly held by the youthful Carrick player, Wall; while Mullane, the main hope of the Clare attack, could make not the slightest impression on John Maher, the Thurles "star."

On the Tipp side, Cooney and Barry, loomed it over all at mid-field, the former proving that he is almost unbeatable under a falling ball. Tommy Treacy paid a tribute to Dublin Club form by trumping all the tricks of the wily Larry Blake and serving up a display which solved the Tipperary forward problem. There is going to be atmospherics when Tommy crosses camas with Paddy Cloghessy in Thurles. In Bourke and Coffey, the Premier County has a classy pair of wingers. The former hails from Cashel, and judged on Sunday's form, bids fair to emulate the achievements of the peerless Phil Cahill whose elusiveness and uncanny accuracy he reproduces to a nicety. Coffey, who assists Dublin Young Irelanders was the best forward on view, his speed and fast ground striking were weapons against which his vis-avis, Harrington, had no defence. There is no weakness apparent anywhere in this Tipp, fifteen in which youth predominates. Eight of the team were now-comers to Munster Championship Hurling, but so well and so smoothly did the whole side function that there can be little doubt that they present a serious challenge to Limerick hurling supremacy in the South.

Kerry's minors overwhelmed Cork in football to the tune of 4 goals 11 points to a solitary point. It was a procession all the way. To Waterford, it gave the dubious consolation of proving that they were not the worst minor football fifteen in Munster. Cork, on Sunday's showing, deprive them of that unenviable distinction. The winners will have a great game with Tipperary, but I fancy that the skill, coolness and astuteness of the Premier County youngsters will triumph over Kerry's vigour.

At Lismore, Ballyduff footballers turned the tables on Cappoquin winning by two points. A big crowd witnessed a hotly-contested game in which fierce tackling resulted in occasional displays of temper. One explosion called for the referee's attention and he promptly gave a pugnaction pair of footballers their marching orders. Excitement was at fever pitch in a hectic finish in which Cappoquin strove every nerve to secure the elusive goal which would give them victory. But the Ballyduff defence held out until the final whistle brought them relief and a somewhat lucky victory on the score of 1 goal 4 points to 1 goal 2 points. The referee, James Lyons, of Dungarvan, deserves every congratulation for the firm way in which he handled a superheated game.

In a hurling challenge, a Tallow selection best a none too representative Lismore side by a big score. The game lacked earnestness and, in contrast with the football fireworks which followed, was a decidedly dull affair. The public too were openly critical and with every apparent reason. They cannot be expected to wax enthusiastic over listless displays of this description which belie the superlatives with which they are heralded on the posters.

The outcome of the Dungarvan objection to Stradbally is another replay. It was alleged that a Dublin player aided the villagers in their sensational victory over the Old Boro. Stradbally did not defend the case and the acting Chairman, Seamus O'Neill awarded the match to Dungarvan. The latter, however, refused to accept it and asked the Board to arrange a replay which has been fixed for Dungarvan on August 2nd.

At Waterford on Sunday last, Mount Sion scored a sensational victory over Erin's Own in the County Senior Hurling Championship, winning on the score of 4 goals 3 points to 2 goals and 5 points. The monopoly of County honours, enjoyed by Charlie Ware's team for the record period of nine years, is broken at last. The result will have repercussions far and wide throughout the county and the championships are being met with a new interest for players and public alike. Four aspirants for the crown of the dethroned champions are now in the running—Dunhill and Mount Sion in the East and Tallow and Dungarvan in the West. The Western rivals will settle the question of supremacy on August 16th at Tallow. The latest developments will conduce to a great game and a "bumper gate."

At Waterford next Sunday, our Juniors meet Clare and Tipperary in hurling and football respectively for the honour of entering the Munster Finals. As these games have been exhaustively analysed in a recent issue, there is no need for repetition. Our teams are confident of acquitting themselves with credit and I forecast a dual Decies victory.

Many pilgrims old and young will make a day of it at the Pattern of Ardmore next Sunday. A splendid Gaelic programme has been arranged. Youghal Pipers Band will be there and so will troupes of Irish dancers and singers from the Decies and from East Cork. The Fermoy football team to the music of the pipes will field out to challenge the pride and football renown of old Clashmore. Withal, a splendid array of attractions which should make this Pattern Day a memorable one in the annals of Ardmore. Charlie Curran, the energetic Clashmore Gael, has been mainly responsible for organising this Big Day.

WEST WATERFORD FOOTBALL CHAMPIONSHIP

Ballyduff Defeats Cappoquin on Replay

On last Sunday Cappoquin met Ballyduff at Lismore in the semi-final of the West Waterford Junior Football Championship, when a great game was the result.

Those high-class teams met over a month ago in Ballyduff when Cappoquin defeated the homesters on their own ground by the rather substantial score of 2 goals 3 points to 4 points, but an objection being subsequently lodged by Ballyduff as to the constitution of the Cappoquin team, a replay was ordered at Lismore and Sunday's meeting was the result. After a very showery morning, the afternoon turned out remarkably fine, but the sod was on the slippery side which made fast play rather difficult for both sides. The first half of the game was very keenly contested, with Ballyduff having slightly the best of matters, and the half-time whistle found them leading by 1-2 against 1-0 for Cappoquin.

The second half provided even a better display of the game, but Cappoquin had hard luck on a couple of occasions, and so even was the game that the scoring was level at 2 points each, but Cappoquin were never able to wipe out the 2 points lead in the first half, and the final whistle found Ballyduff winners of a grand and hard-fought game on the score—

Ballyduff ..... 1-4
Cappoquin ..... 1-2
Mr. J. Lyons, Dungarvan, proved an efficient and impartial referee.

WEATHER FORECASTING

How to Read a Barometer

It should never be forgotten that the barometer is merely an instrument for telling the pressure of the atmosphere. An common language when there is much moisture in the air the pressure is reduced and the barometer falls and, on the other hand, a relative amount of dryness increases the pressure and the glass rises. Roughly the former state of affairs will mean unsettled conditions and the later fine weather.

Quite often, however, the actual weather conditions prevailing appear to be at variance with the indications of the barometer. The trouble largely arises from the fact that ordinary folk pay far too much attention to the words which are usually to be found on the face of the barometer. Quite likely it may be pouring with rain when the glass points fair, and, on the other hand, fine quiet weather may be experienced with the mercury standing as unsettled. These happenings do not necessarily show that the instrument is unreliable but they do indicate that the reading at any time may be taken in a relative sense. Thus, when the barometer is low, and yet the weather is fine, it may be taken that one is some distance away from the centre of the disturbance where the readings would be much lower still. In spite of the fact that the barometer is not to be regarded as an exact guide to the weather the instrument may be of great service even to the unscientific observer. Naturally the glass should be set once in twenty-four hours, preferably in the evening. It is well to adhere to a definite time such as nine o'clock. As opportunity offers during the day it pays to watch the barometer in order to gain an idea as to coming weather. After a long spell of settled weather the barometer will often give useful indications of the approach of a change. The mercury, which has been very steady for a long while, starts to fall. The downward tendency may only be slight and in the course of an hour or so is arrested. In this case no break in the weather is to be expected. If the fall persists it is a sure sign that a break in the weather is coming. Quite good indications of what the glass is going to do may be gained by a close examination.

Such a saying as "Long foretold long last; short notice, soon past" will be found to be wonderfully true. Again, "Fast rise, after low, foretells stronger blow" is also commonly proved by actual experience. A small amount of observation will prove that a long spell of any particular kind of weather rarely breaks up suddenly there, being, as a rule, several intervening days during which the conditions change over.

Thunderstorms are of special interest to the farmer on account of the fact that they commonly bring with them heavy rain which may seriously interfere with haymaking and harvesting operations. Electrical disturbances are amongst the most uncertain phenomena in our variable climate. It is quite a common experience for a violent thunderstorm to visit a certain district and, only a few miles distant, nothing happens at all. In no type of weather is a knowledge of local conditions more useful than in the case of thunderstorm. Ranges of hills certainly seem to play a part in diverting the course of a storm as is expressed in the common saying that the "high lands draw the clouds." On the other hand

Present Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman, E. D. Condon, R. Power, W. O'Sullivan, T. Beausang, E. P. Lynch, D. McCarthy, R. Savage, T. K. Keane, Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara, Mr. J. Daly, R.E., R. C. Farrell, Vice-Chairman; M. Abern, M. D. Broderick, M. Cashman, Capt. C. Watson.

The minutes having been read and signed the Fianna Fail members again entered a vigorous protest against the remarks reported to have been used by the Chairman on the occasion of his re-election. Mr. Power saying there would be no business done until the Chairman withdrew and apologised for them.

Mr. Lynch supported Mr. Power's remarks. Mr. Daly said the words must have been used when he had left the room otherwise he would have defended his absent colleagues.

A series of long and lively discussions followed during which Mr. Power stated that the Press was giving biased reports. Mr. Macnamara and others contradicted.

Mr. Keane said he had enough of it if they didn't go on with the business he was leaving. Mr. Macnamara said he was going too. Mr. Power asked Mr. Keane would he take such a remark quietly.

Mr. Keane—I would not put the meaning you are doing to it. Mr. Savage said they had an important lot of things in connection with the Strand, etc., to consider and he appealed to the Chairman to have the question settled.

Finally, the Chairman said if any of the remarks he was reported to have made were the cause of annoyance to any members he was sorry for it. The words might have been ill-chosen, but they were not meant in the sense complained of, and therefore, he didn't see any reason for an apology.

The impasse then ended. The Diving Rocks Mr. Savage said that Mr. James Daly, Cork, had suggested to their engineer, certain slight improvements at the Diving Rocks bathing place.

It was unanimously decided to have the suggestions carried out.

Sea Wall Letters were read from Mrs. Redmond, T.D., and Messrs. Sean Goulding and P. J. Little, T.D.'s promising their support in connection with the question of the Sea Wall repairs.

Mr. P. S. Murphy, T.D., forwarded copy of the letter received by him from the Department on the subject, stating that the matter was receiving consideration.

Main Sewerage A letter was read from the L.G.D., in connection with the proposed main sewerage scheme stating that a grant for the full cost couldn't be considered. It would be necessary for the local authority to defray the greater part of the cost.

The Chairman—that doesn't seem very hopeful. A letter was read from the County M.O.H., regarding that portion from South Abbey to the Junction of Brown and Catherine Streets at an estimated cost of £1,768. The present rubble sewer was satisfactory although it might be desirable to replace it by a proper pipe sewer.

The undertaking seemed justified to a certain extent, but not commensurate with the cost involved. The Clerk was directed to ask what proportion of the cost would the grant form.

Municipal Authorities Conference A letter was read from the Conference of Municipal Authorities asking for the names of the intended delegates, and also for a list of the matters the Council would like to have brought before the Conference.

It was decided to appoint the same delegates, with the power of substitution if necessary. Mr. Daly said they ought press the claim of the urban farmers to the Agricultural Relief Grant.

The Chairman said he feared there was little use in doing so. He had raised the point at the last conference. Members were asked to submit to next meeting any matters they wished to have raised at the conference.

Treatment of Political Prisoners The resolution on the question of the treatment of political prisoners was read by the Chairman. Mr. Keane said that was a matter for the Dail rather than for local authorities.

YOUGHAL STRAND CHURCH

Under very favourable auspices—even the cranky Clerk of the Weather unexpectedly put in his best behaviour for the interesting occasion—the second Bazaar in aid of the Youghal Strand Church Fund was opened in the fine Ball Room of the Strand Palace, appropriately overlooking the sea, on Sunday afternoon. In addition to the local, there were a number of prominent visitors from Cork, Cobh, etc., present.

The Palace Band (Joe Rogers and his Boys) having played "Faith of our Fathers," Canon Dinneen, who was warmly received, said he should begin with a word of sincere thanks to the Ladies Committee, helped by a band of magnificent workers for the indomitable courage, and wonderful energy that afforded him the privilege of opening another Bazaar in aid of the Strand Church. He wished to thank them and all those, inside and outside the parish, who helped in organising that laudable function. He prayed God's blessing on one and all for their efforts, and sincerely wished them the success they deserved.

A word or two in connection with their plan of campaign during the past year. Financially they had made good progress, thank God; due to the generosity of friends and the tireless efforts of their admirable Committee and their helpers. He should make special mention of the wonderful energy, organising ability and unceasing efforts of the Rev. Dr. Twomey and Mr. Grey (applause). If they made like progress in the future, they could confidently look forward to have the Church built, and free of debt before many years (applause). God was good to them and Our Lady of Lourdes, after whom the Church was to be named, was a wonderfully powerful advocate and he was inclined to think that she was making her influence felt already; only yesterday he had received a cheque for £50 from a kind friend of the cause in Youghal; £5 from a visitor that morning and Dr. Twomey also got a substantial subscription from another visitor. As regards the building they had been held up by what was called official red tape. They had expected to have it started at the beginning of that season, but were handicapped by the obstacle. However, they have succeeded in busting their bonds and were now in a position to go full speed ahead (applause). He would like to say a word or two on the two-fold reason for entering on that project of building a Church for the Strand. The Strand as they could see was growing steadily and rapidly. As a result there were more old and infirm people in the locality than there used be. The majority of these, having no means of conveyance, found it difficult, if not impossible to get Mass, especially in the winter. Secondly, for their visitors. Owing to the great numbers arriving during the summer, especially at the week-ends, it was almost impossible for many to get Mass and hear it satisfactorily with the accommodation available at present in the Church and chapel, it developed into a regular scramble, which was most undesirable. For those very good reasons his Lordship the Bishop and he agreed that a Church should be built on the Strand. When visitors know that their spiritual as well as their temporal necessities would be properly provided for they would come along in increased numbers. In that Church they would always have the Blessed Sacrament. It was therefore, unnecessary for him to labour the point that they had a claim on everybody concerned, parishioners and visitors, to give a helping hand in the good work and he sincerely hoped that claim would be recognised practically by all, so that they might have the Church built as quickly as possible. In any case to help in building God's house itself was bound to bring down His blessing spiritual and temporal on all who helped. In the present instance there was an additional incentive—doing honour to that great wonder-worker, Our Lady of Lourdes. He therefore had the greatest pleasure in declaring that Bazaar open, and he only hoped that the success achieved would be commensurate with the zeal and efforts of the ladies who had erected those fine stalls and all who helped to fill them so generously and well, townspeople and outsiders. Therefore, let the ball roll on (applause).

The Stallholders were as follows:—Children of Mary Fancy Stall—Miss N. Guinan, Stallholder. Assistants—Misses McGrath, Graddy and Kennedy; Fancy Stall No. 2—Mrs. Grey, Stallholder; assistant—Miss Booker. Kaitower Stall—Miss O'Loughlin, Stallholder; assistants—Miss O'Flaherty, Miss R. Cahill, Cigarettes and Sweets—Miss Dennehy, Stallholder; assistants—Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Whelan, Stationery and Toys—Mrs. O'Byrne, and Miss Barry. Tea Stall—Mrs. Edinborough, Stallholder; assistants—Misses Forde, Edinborough and Wall. Ice Cream Stall—Miss O'Halloran, Stallholder. Produce Stall—Miss Downing, Stallholder.

The following is the Committee—Trustees—Very Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P.; Messrs. Thos. Murray and R. Savage, U.D.C.; Rev. M. Twomey, D.D., C.C., and T. E. Grey, Joint Secs. M. YOUGHAL MENTAL HOSPITAL

BEEF SUPPLY

At the usual monthly meeting of the Committee of the above there attended—Ald. F. J. Daly, Vice-Chairman and subsequently Mr. W. J. Broderick, T.D., Chairman, presiding, Sean O'Loaghair, T.C.; W. Furlong, T.C.

Rev. D. Down, C.C., and Dr. M. Twomey, P.C., Visiting Physician, also attended.

Manager's Report The Manager's report read:— Since last meeting 4 patients (1 female and 3 male) have been admitted from the Cork Mental Hospital and 2 male patients have died, leaving in residence at present a total of 427 patients—249 men and 178 women. Contracts have been satisfactorily carried out during the month with the exception of the beef contract, which has been most unsatisfactory, and has caused much inconvenience. On the 14th ult., Mr. Murray, Town Surveyor, called for the use of the motor Fire Engine, to help to combat a fire at Heathfield Towers, Youghal. On the 15th the machine was returned in a damaged condition. The report of the Engineer and estimate for repairs to the engine were submitted; also letter from the Town Clerk in reference to the use of the Fire Engine. The Auditor's report for the half-years ended 31st March and 30th September were submitted. Thanks were due to Miss Bowen, for gifts of books for the Institution and to Major Arbutnot, Myrtle Grove, for a supply of magazines and pictorials.

An estimate for the repairs to the Fire Engine amounting to £59 5s. 6d., was received. It was decided to make a claim on the Insurance Company concerned.

Doctor's Report The Dr. reported that there were two deaths during the month. Three patients were confined to bed on the male side and 8 on the female side of the house, from debility and other causes. There had been no case of seclusion, restraint, injury or violence. There had been no complaint of the water supply. The food supplies had been regularly examined and found up to standard requirements except beef reported on the 11th. There had been no case of zymotic disease and the general health of the institution was excellent.

The Beef Supply The Dr. submitted a long detailed report in connection with the beef he had reported as mentioned, and also with reference to another side, which he had passed, and the remaining portion of which he understood had been condemned by Dr. Hyde, V.S., Cork, and Storekeeper Murphy, Cork. He had submitted a portion for examination to an independent Veterinary Surgeon, whose name he wasn't at liberty to divulge and who supported his opinion.

The Chairman said that the contractor in question had taken a place locally for the killing of beasts for the use of the Institution only. A complaint having been received regarding the beef supplied he suggested the local Meat Inspector should examine it, and he pronounced it cow beef.

Dr. Twomey said he was watching that man. Later on when he saw the beef supplied he phoned Dr. Homan, who sent down Dr. Hyde and Mr. Murphy, Storekeeper. Their reports showed that the meat wouldn't be accepted in the Cork Home. Furthermore, Dr. Condy's return showed that the Contractor in question had killed one bullock and 4 cows in May, and all cows in June. Dr. Twomey was placed in a difficult position. He was a medical practitioner not a Veterinary Surgeon and the simplest way out for him was to ask to be relieved of that responsibility.

Ald. Daly said in those circumstances they should have to take action. What were the terms of contract? The Chairman—"Prime heifer or bullock beef."

Ald. Daly said that when a contractor failed to comply with the terms of his contract, the staff should be procured in the open market.

Mr. O'Leary said the case put forward seemed rather black, but he would like to know if the contractor had been asked for an explanation. They should have some regard for his side of the story. The Chairman said the man should have a licence to sell in the town which he hadn't. Therefore, he was concerned only with his contract with the Institution.

Mr. O'Leary said they had a Veterinary Surgeon's certificate that the meat in question was either bull or bullock beef. Ald. Daly pointed out that he was bound to supply either "heifer or bullock beef."

Mr. O'Leary, said the complaint appeared to have emanated from a rival contractor. The Chairman said if the issue were forced a sworn inquiry might be necessary.

Mr. O'Leary said the evidence was black, but not conclusive. The contractor should be asked for his version on the matter.

The Chairman said their principal concern was to see that the patients were supplied according to the terms of the contract. Mr. O'Leary said there appeared to be more behind the business than came before them.

The Chairman said it was a question of fact. Dr. Twomey was a medical practitioner not a Veterinary Surgeon. Mr. O'Leary pointed out that Dr. Twomey had been acting in that capacity for 30 years and that was the first time exception was taken to him.

The Chairman said that was not so. That system prevailed in Cork formerly, but they now had a Veterinary Surgeon looking after the business. Mr. Furlong said that Dr. Twomey

AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS

1st JULY, 1936

Weather and Work.—The early days of June were dry but harsh and cold. Heavy night frosts during the first week did some damage to potatoes on bog lands and to the early brards of the root crop. About the middle of the month the weather became warm and sultry and thunderstorms were experienced in every part of the country accompanied by very heavy rains which were generally welcomed as most crops were suffering from lack of moisture. From the middle to the end of the month the weather was mainly dry and warm with occasional heavy rains. Farmers made considerable progress with the sowing of the turnip crop, the after-cultivation of mangels and beet, the spraying of potatoes, and the cutting of hay in early districts. A fair proportion of the turf crop was saved under satisfactory conditions, but where cutting was deferred until late May or early June progress was extremely slow.

Pastures and Live Stock.—Pastures were comparatively bare until the rains came in the middle of the month. After that they grew out well, and at the close of the month were carrying a fair covering of grass, although hardly up to the normal for the time of year.

Live stock were rather thin but healthy. It was generally reported that the number of store cattle being carried was lower than heretofore, but there appeared to be a definite increase in the number of calves.

No outbreaks of disease were reported from any district. Progress of Hay-making.—Weather conditions delayed the harvesting of the hay crop and cutting did not begin until late in the month, with the result that only a comparatively small portion of the work had been done by the end of the month. From the general appearance of the fields it was anticipated that except on rich heavy soils first and second crop hay would be lighter than last year as would also old meadows except in cases where there was no spring grazing or where the lands were treated with manure.

Cereals.—The wheat crop was reported to be variable; many excellent crops were to be seen; others were only medium. Generally speaking spring varieties and winter varieties sown in the early winter looked well and promising, but winter varieties sown late in the year were thin and patchy. On the whole it thought reasonable to assume that taking into account the increased area under wheat this year, and making allowance for the failures or partial failures reported, the total produce from the crop will be rather larger than that from the smaller acreage sown last year.

Oats and barley made satisfactory progress. Sugar Beet, Mangels and Turnips.—Sugar beet and mangels made good progress and both crops as well as early sowings of turnips had been thinned at the close of the month. Late sowings of turnips are now making satisfactory progress, although they gave trouble at first and in some cases more than one sowing had to be made.

Flax.—After the rains set in, the flax crop recovered very quickly from the effects of the drought, and was making good progress, promising an average return, at the close of the month. The area under flax is appreciably larger than that sown last year.

Potatoes.—Digging of earlies began in the middle of the month. A record crop was dug at Dungarvan yielding 7 tons per statute acre; but in most of the other districts the crop was lighter than usual. The main crop made satisfactory progress after the rains. Spraying was fairly general during June, and adequate supplies of spraying materials were obtainable in all districts. Fortunately, unlike other years, no serious attacks of blight were reported from any district during the month. The weather prevailing at the moment is favourable to the spread of blight and consequently all growers who have not yet thoroughly sprayed their crops should do so without delay.

Cattle.—Cattle stocks were maintained in good health and condition. The fairs held during the month were of average size. Demand for good quality animals was active during the month. The following quotations may be regarded as representing the average range of prices realised at provincial fairs during the month for the various kinds of stock mentioned:—

Calves under one month £1 5s. to £2 15s. Calves 1 to 9 months £2 to £3 15s. First-Class Stores 9 to 12 months £3 15s. to £5 10s. First-Class Stores 12 to 15 months £5 5s. to £8. First-class Stores 15 months to years £7 to £9 5s. First-Class Stores 2 to 3 years £8 5s. to £11 15s. First-Class Stores 3 years and over £9 to £13 10s. First-Class Fat Bullocks and Heifers £70 5s. to £16. Best Fat Cows and Bulls £60 10s. to £70 10s. Choice Springing Cows and Heifers £10 10s. to £14. Choice Down-calved Cows £9 to £13 5s.

Sheep.—Flocks were maintained in good health and condition. Shearing was completed during the month and the wool was the official responsible for the examination of the meat, and on the only occasion that he found it wrong he condemned it.

The Chairman said they had an official condemnation before them. Ald. Daly said in the circumstances he was inclined to call for a sworn inquiry. Mr. O'Leary—Dr. who is the Veterinary Surgeon you sent the sample to for examination? Dr. Twomey—I haven't permission to give his name.

After a further very protracted discussion, Dr. Twomey said he left the matter in the hands of the Committee. He was prepared either to ask to be relieved of the responsibility of examining the meat, or to submit to a sworn inquiry.

Wool prices were up to average. Wool prices during June showed a slight increase over those for the previous month. The average prices realised for pigs suitable for the bacon curing industry ranged from 50s. 3d. to 60s. per cwt. dead weight, according to quality, or approximately, 37s. 9d. to 45s. per cwt. live weight. Bonhamas were in good supply at prices ranging from 14s. to 26s. each according to district, age, and quality. Breeding stocks were well maintained, with a tendency to increase in some districts.

Horses.—The demand for horses continued active during the month. First class Hunters realised as high as £200; while troopers were in brisk demand at prices ranging as high as £40 and £50 each. Good working horses realised up to £35 each.

Milk.—The supplies of milk to creameries during June were around the average which considering the adverse character of the season was considered satisfactory. Milk delivered to creameries during May realised 4.00d. per gallon, with separated milk returned to producers. Milk collected in the counties adjacent to Dublin for retail sale in the city returned around 5d. per gallon to the producers.

Good Demand for Horses— The demand for horses in the Irish Free State continues active. First-class hunters realised last month up to £200, while troopers were in brisk demand at prices ranging as high as £40 and £50 each. Good working horses made up to £35 each.

THE SHANNON SCHEME. The Germans are clever. They made their mark on Ireland with the Shannon Scheme; they made their mark on the world with their marvellous dyes and enamels. standard of living and of decency in our midst. It is a genuine pleasure to travel through this country and to observe all that has been done in this department of public life. It is a most edifying feature and one that will repay many times over, and will redound to the credit of our national life.

Again, do we observe the same high standard in the Vocational Schools being erected throughout the Irish Free State. Adequate water-supply, proper sewerage, ventilation of the most modern type, sanitation, lighting, heating, cleaning, etc., all on the most up-to-date principles. These are all to the good and are certain to be of the nation's most valuable assets in the future.

But pause a moment! These palatial schools are erected for five, or at most for ten per cent. of our young people. Inquire what are the school conditions for the other 95 per cent. of the country's children. What is there elevating or inspiring in their lives? There is indeed plenty to depress and oppress, but nothing to elevate or inspire our young people.

The most dilapidated building which one sees in any locality, in nine cases out of ten, the National School—the house wherein 95 per cent. of our youth spend from eight to ten years of their most impressionable lives.

What are the usual conditions surrounding their school life? A tumble-down shack, leaky roofs, broken floors, and windows and with nothing whatever of a cultural bias to stimulate the child-mind. No flowers, no pictures, weeping walls and often no fires in winter except what the teachers supply from their own slender resources. Sanitary arrangements where they do exist are of the most primitive nature, while sometimes there are no conveniences whatever. And such are the conditions after twenty centuries of our boasted civilisation. No wonder epidemics are prevalent in these disease-trans designated as national schools. It is the exception rather than the rule to find schools equipped with a proper water supply. Indeed it is a common occurrence to find schools without water of any kind. It is tantamount to barbarism and yet those whose responsibility it is go on unheeding while a few thinking and progressive souls cry out for redress and reform. That cry will fall on deaf ears and stony hearts until the full consciousness of our people is awakened to the barbarous treatment meted out to the most youthful and helpless members of the community.

We have been obliged to witness frequently, without being able to relieve the unsavoury situation, children entering these buildings or rather death-traps in the cold and harsh and wet days of our winters, wet to the skin and with no means of drying the dripping coverings of these atoms of humanity, and each of them the possessor of a human soul full of potential greatness. Instead of nursing, caring and developing such they, apparently, are regarded as of little importance to the State of which, if properly nurtured, they would become genuine treasures of intellect and of Statesmanship.

Think for a moment of our little children after a tramp of three or four miles in wet and slush, through glens and sometimes, through almost impassable paths, enter our cold and cheerless schools. There is no fire and often no materials thereof. Either the teacher or a pupil has to resort to a neighbour's fence to find kindling material and, having succeeded, proceeds to light a fire, always provided that there is coal, wood or turf there, while the shivering little ones look longingly for a little warmth.

Consider the evening performance. When the children's vitality is at its lowest, they are set to sweep out the dirty floors. They raise a cloud of germiniferous dust which they are obliged to inhale into their systems. So bad are the conditions while this process is under way, that an object at the end of the room is scarcely discernible. And while this deadly work is the daily routine we appoint at £1,000 per annum a County Medical Officer of Health. It savours much indeed of hypocrisy.

Why cannot our Government begin at bed-rock foundation with their schemes of reform? The National School is Ireland's University. Why treat it with contempt and as if it was of no consequence? Why is it the Cinderella of Education? Is it not the training ground for the future citizens of our country, and on the work of the National School will depend whether this country takes its proud place among the nations or be relegated to oblivion.

We, Irish National Teachers, Irish of the Irish, we who have given proofs in plenty that we hold a jealous regard for the real interests of our country, earnestly appeal to our fellow countrymen to extend to us their practical co-operation in the big handicaps under which the youth of this country suffer. Help us, as you can, to remove at least those that militate most severely against them. You will be doing a grand work in the best interests of your own children, of Education and of Ireland.

If only you give your hearty co-operation a new era is at hand for Ireland which will redound to the credit of this country and its people.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

Brilliant Victories For The Rowing Club—

Heartiest congratulations are due to the Cappoquin Rowing Club owing to the brilliant victories won by its Eight-oared and Four-oared crews at New Ross, Waterford and Cork Regattas, within the past fortnight. At New Ross on Wednesday, 20th inst., Cappoquin won the "Subscribers' Challenge Cup" for Junior eights, defeating well-trained crews from Waterford and New Ross, while they repeated this exploit at the Waterford Regatta the following day by defeating the same crews in the same order for the "Harbour Commissioners' Challenge Cup."

But it was at the Cork City Regatta on Wednesday, 15th inst., that the Cappoquin Club covered itself with glory when the Junior Four won the massive and valuable "Marina Challenge Cup" in the easiest possible fashion after a race in which they were never expected. Cappoquin had more than Waterford and New Ross to beat in this important event, as they were up against some of the leading Junior crews in Ireland, including Limerick B.C., Emets (Galway), Shannon B.C., (Limerick); Athlunkard (Limerick); Waterford B.C., and the famous Corrib Club (Galway).

The Press describing the finish of this race, says "Cappoquin, however, led a procession when entering the enclosure, with Limerick a good second, and won by a length and a half. The others stopped rowing before the finish."

This shows what a hot pace the Cappoquin "boys" cut, when all the other crews, with the exception of Limerick, proved that they were not able to "stick it" to the end, and the Cappoquin crew received a tremendous ovation from the thousands in the enclosure on their marvellous performance.

As this triple victory at three successive Regattas has made history for Cappoquin, it is only right that the names of the crews should be published in full, so that future generations of oarsmen can look back to their wonderful display of prowess and let it act as an incentive to them to do equally well in the years to come.

The eight-oared crew which won at New Ross and Waterford was as follows: James O'Donnell (cox), M. O'Donnell (2), Maurice Landers (3), John Fives (4), Michael Landers (5), James Brady (6), Patk. Landers (7), and Martin Daly (stroke), with James Crotty (cox). The Four-oared crew, which won at Cork, was as follows:—

James O'Donnell (cox), Michael Landers (2), Patk. Landers (3), Martin Daly (stroke) and James Crotty (cox).

With reference to the Cork victory, it is interesting to mention that this is the first race won by a Cappoquin crew at Cork Regatta for the past 25 years, and only the third race altogether won at Cork while it is the first time in the history of the Cappoquin Rowing Club that "The Marina Challenge Cup" has been brought to Cappoquin, where we trust it will remain for many years, as we have the material here to retain it, if only the Juniors in future years put their hearts into their work, as this year's Juniors have done.

The three splendid challenge Cups together with the valuable Presentation prizes won by the individual members of the crews and cox, are now on exhibition in the window of Treacy and Dunne's establishment in the Main Street and are attracting great attention.

The brilliant successes of the Cappoquin crews this year are all the more remarkable when it is remembered that the Club had been practically extinct last year, as not a solitary crew could get to go into training during the season, so that rowing was a complete "dead-letter" since 1934 and great credit is due to Mr. T. F. Olden, Hon. Sec., and Mr. L. D. Dunne, Vice-Captain for the untiring energy and enthusiasm which they displayed in reviving the Club in the early part of this year, as well as to the sporting and hefty young men from town and country who so readily responded to the call, and whose sportsmanship and enthusiasm have been amply rewarded in their first three outings this season.

Although naturally flushed with victory, these splendid oarsmen have no intention of "Resting on their oars" now, as the Cappoquin Regatta will be held on next Monday week (August Bank Holiday), and they have no desire to relinquish the honours, already won outside, by courting defeat on their own waters. With this end in view, rowing practice is being continued, even in an intensified manner, every evening now, and from present appearances we feel safe in saying that our two Junior crews should be able to hold their own against all comers over the beautiful Blackwater course on Monday, August 3rd.

The full programme for the Cappoquin Regatta will be found in our advert, columns this week, from which it will be seen that races are provided for Senior, Junior and Maiden crews, which should ensure a most attractive and interesting evening's aquatic sport.

In addition to the Outrigger events, there will be also races for Fishing boats, fishing coys and other craft, and also a swimming race, so that nobody should miss such a rare evening's sport. Owing to the lateness of the tide on that date, the first race will not start until 4.15 (S.T.) but with Messrs. Olden and Dunne, and the other energetic members of the Committee in charge of all the arrangements, the entire programme will be run through with the greatest regularity and despatch, so that everything should be finished in good time that evening.

Crews are coming from the three Cork Clubs, viz., Cork B.C., Lee and Shandon, and as crews have also been guaranteed from Waterford, New Ross, Carrick-on-Suir and Fermoy, this year's Regatta should prove one of the best ever held in Cappoquin.

On Regatta Night a grand dance will be held in the Boathouse Hall, which will be attended by all the visiting crews, and as this fact will afford the young ladies a rare opportunity of fully availing of the privileges enjoyed by them during Leap year, we hope they will "Leap" to it and attend in full strength in all the glory and irresistible charm which only the pretty girls of the County Waterford can display on such an auspicious occasion! See full particulars in adt. elsewhere.
