DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, V.C., P. Byrne, J. Mansfield, M. Connors, J. Dahill, J. F. Foley, J. J. Crotty, and J. Christopher.

Loughmore Houses

Mr. Lyons, Loughmore, wrote complaining that the repairs needed to his house and promised to be carried out, had not been carried out, and asked that they be carried out immediately.

The B.S. stated that he told Mr. Lyons he would have the work done when a man was available.

Mr. McCarthy—This man is complaining since he went into the house, but there has been nothing done.

B.S.—There was a man there but there was no improvement.

Mr. McCarthy—Yes, a man went there and went over it with liquid cement. He might just as well have used whitewash.

B.S.—It is not easy to find leaks sometimes the drops may be carried down along a gutter before showing.

Mr. Byrne—The workers at Loughmore are not looked after as in the other Council schemes. Others can apply for repairs and ranges and they are done in two or three days.

Mr. Foley—I do not agree; they all get fairly good attention.

Mr. McCarthy—Those people were compelled by the Council to leave the houses they were in, and the least they should have got is a decent house.

Mr. Foley—That is not a matter for us.

Mr. McCarthy—It is a matter for us to see that the houses are repaired.

Mr. Byrne—The houses built at Loughmore were a very bad job.

The B.S. was instructed to see that the necessary repairs were carried out.

Re-Surfacing Road

Mr. Bowen, Co. Surveyor, wrote asking for a reply to his letter relative to the re-surfacing of the road surface from Galway's Lane to the Leather Factory at Cully's Quay, and for which the E.S.B. had allowed the Council a certain sum of money towards re-surfacing.

The Clerk was directed to write and inform Mr. Bowen that the Council had nothing to add to their previous letter on the subject and are of opinion that when the Co. Council took over the roads, they took them over in the condition in which they were at that time.

Water at Strand Side North, Abbeyside

The question of the shortage of water at Strand Side North and Knockatimore was discussed. The matter arose on a letter from Mr. Bowen giving permission to open the road opposite Mr. Crotty's house. The letter further suggested that any improvements should be carried out before the road was steamrolled.

After discussing the cost of taking up, cleaning and replacing the existing 2-inch main, and the cost of laying a new 3-inch main.

The Council directed the B.S. to ask the Co. Surveyor to give them time to issue tenders for a 3-inch main and decided on laying a 3-inch main as far as the Old Hospital.

It was decided to do the work out of revenue. The probable estimate given by the B.S. was £90 to £100.

New Housing Scheme

A letter from the Department asked that the Architects be requested to furnish the amended plan in accordance with the observations of the Department's Engineer in connection with the proposed housing scheme on the McGrath site.

The Clerk stated that he had asked the Architects to attend to the matter.

New Technical School

A letter read from Mr. Lanigan, C.E.O. Co. Vocational Committee asked the permission of the Council to allow the contractors for the new Technical School to connect up with the Council's sewer at the end of Fair Lane, was refused on the grounds that it would create a nuisance at a place where a nuisance already exists.

A further application from Mr. Lanigan, asking the Council for a guaranteed water supply was also refused. The members held that they could only give as good a supply as was available.

Provision of a Pound

The question of providing a pound was again discussed and a deputation of all present visited the Council's yard at Cully's Quay to see if it would be suitable.

DUNGARVAN MARKETS—

Meal (special) 21/6; middlet 21/; flour 20/- and 21/- per 10 st.; bran 9/-; cwt.; pollard 8/- and 8/6 cwt.; coal 40/- ton.

CARMELITE CONVENT TALLOW

Centenary Celebrations

TALLOW that nice little township on Wednesday last on the occasion of the Centenary of the coming of the Carmelite Community to take up residence at St. Joseph's Convent, on July, 29th, 1836.

The streets of the town presented a festive appearance being gaily decorated with varicoloured streamers and religious flags, while in the beautiful grounds attached to the Convent a magnificent altar was erected.

Some time back a meeting of the townspeople was held at which it was decided to have a statue of the Sacred Heart erected in the Convent Grounds as a tribute of respect and esteem from the people of the town and parish, the past pupils of the Convent and the many friends of the Carmelite Community, in gratitude for the manifold favours received through the prayers and meditation of the nuns during the past century.

For the purpose of carrying out this laudable work a committee consisting of Very Rev. Canon F. Prendergast, P.P., as President, Rev. Fr. Corbett, C.C., Vice-President and Mr. Reynolds, Manager Munster and Leinster Bank, as Treasurer was formed and a subscription list opened. The amount required was subscribed in a very short space of time.

On Wednesday morning in the presence of a large number of priests and the entire populace of Tallow and surrounding districts, the celebrations opened with the unveiling of the beautiful statue of the Sacred Heart by Rev. Fr. Corbett, C.C., (in the unavoidable absence of the President, Very Rev. Canon Prendergast, who was ill and unable to attend). The Convent school choir (led by the Misses Delaney and Hodnett, teachers) rendering that appropriate hymn: "A Message To The Sacred Heart."

The Statue of beautiful marble, stands in the centre of the lawn opposite the Convent and bears the following inscription:—

"Erected by the Priests and people of Tallow and other friends of the Carmelite Nuns in gratitude to mark the Centenary of their advent to the Parish 1836-1936."

After the unveiling ceremony Solemn High Mass was celebrated by Very Rev. Laurence Murphy, O.D.C., Prior St. Theresa's Clarendon St., Dublin; the deacon was Rev. Fr. Luke Mulholland, O.D.C., Rector St. Theresa's Castle-martyr, and the sub-deacon, Rev. Fr. Hilary Mulholland, O.D.C., St. Mary's, Morehampton Road, Dublin. Carmelite students from St. Mary's, Morehampton Road, sang the music of the Mass, and the other priests present were—Rev. J. Corbett, C.C., Tallow. Rev. M. Dooley, P.P., Ballyduff. Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin. Rev. H. O'Brien, C.C., Rathormac. Rev. T. Walsh, C.C., B.A., Dungarvan. Rev. P. O'Mahony, C.C., Whitegate; Rev. J. Murphy, C.C., Lismore; Rev. J. Walsh, C.C., Ballyduff; Rev. J. Hickey, C.C., Knockanore; Rev. W. Divine, O.M.I.

Following the Mass Rev. Fr. Michael Moylan, O.D.C., Morehampton Road, preached an eloquent sermon.

Taking as his text: "Mary hath chosen the best part and it shall not be taken away from her," the Rev. Preacher said: "Strange as it may sound in your ears, you who dwell in the full light of Catholic tradition, whose hearts are instinctive to the deep things of the faith, yet it is true, that many—even Catholics—do not appreciate the ideal of the contemplative life—do not grasp the meaning of the life your nuns have lived here for a hundred years in the silence of their cloister. To tend the ignorant, to feed the hungry, to engage in any of the other countless works of mercy, is intelligible, is noble. But for a boy or girl in the bloom of youth, in the flowering of his or her faculties, to enter an enclosed Order, is to squander. "Why was this waste of ointment made?"

"My brethren, Our Lord Himself answered the question when the question was first raised. You recall the scene taken away from her," the Rev. Preacher said: "Strange as it may sound in your ears, you who dwell in the full light of Catholic tradition, whose hearts are instinctive to the deep things of the faith, yet it is true, that many—even Catholics—do not appreciate the ideal of the contemplative life—do not grasp the meaning of the life your nuns have lived here for a hundred years in the silence of their cloister. To tend the ignorant, to feed the hungry, to engage in any of the other countless works of mercy, is intelligible, is noble. But for a boy or girl in the bloom of youth, in the flowering of his or her faculties, to enter an enclosed Order, is to squander. "Why was this waste of ointment made?"

"Why was this waste of ointment made?" It might have been sold and the money given to the poor. But Our Lord said: "Let her alone; she hath wrought a good work upon Me... the poor you have always with you, and whenever you will you can do them good; but Me you have not always."

He emphasises more clearly on another occasion the primacy of the contemplative life. He is again in Bethany, in the house of His friend Lazarus. Both of the sisters of Lazarus honour the Divine Guest, but each in her own way. Mary sits listening in silent rapture to His words. Martha bustles about in loving haste to prepare the meal, and cannot refrain from drawing His attention to her sister's apparent laziness. But Our Lord smilingly defends Mary: "Martha, Martha, thou art careful and busy about many things... Mary hath chosen the best part."

Having traced the foundation of the Carmelite Order by St. Teresa, the preacher continued:—"Just a hundred years ago today... five intrepid daughters of St. Theresa came to establish themselves in this town of Tallow. A few years before the emancipated bells of the Church in Ireland had rung out the dawn after the dark night of persecution. New teaching Orders were springing up all round. Edmund Rice of Waterford and his Christian Brothers for the boys; Nano Nagle's Presentation Nuns for the girls. Mother MacAuley was already sending out from Dublin her sisters on their errand of mercy to the sick, the poor and ignorant. Yet, things were only beginning, and when Father Eugene Condon, Parish Priest of Tallow, went to Dublin in quest of teaching nuns for his schools he could find none. He appealed to the Carmelite nuns at Warrenmount, and they, true daughters of the Apostolic Teresa, consented to undertake the work for a time. The actual foundation reminds one of those, the great Saint made herself. There was the long wearying journey of three days by stage coach. There was even a night in an inn. And a night among the Ursulines at Waterford. One can fancy how the daughters of St. Theresa were in the Mother, the Carmelites could be saints and merry. Arriving at their new home, they knelt and reverently kissed the door step. Entering they chanted the Te Deum. A hundred years have passed. Often they were years of struggle and privation, even destitution. But that is the food of the Carmelites. They were always years of grace. In time they were enabled to hand the schools on to others and live in their rule again in all its primitive rigour. And please God, for evermore the Carmel of Tallow will be a home of prayer and hidden sacrifice."

"Now I have a delicate, though a very pleasing task to perform—to be the mouthpiece to you of voices that silenced themselves for ever in this outer world of ours. The nuns first had only thought of community celebrations. I expect we can attribute it to their humility. Probably they never thought for you. Anyhow, they were deeply touched when you demanded to be allowed to rejoice with them. They were overwhelmed when you insisted that there was something I could really express in some faint way the gratitude the Mother Superior and the nuns felt towards you all—the priests first and then the people for your beautiful gift to them. This magnificent Sacred Heart statue will remain here always at the convent door. It will be a symbol of the union that exists between you and the nuns. It will be a token of your love, your appreciation of them. It will be sign, too, of their gratitude to you, of their continued intercession for you to the feet of their Master. As daughters of St. Theresa they have to be victims for the Universal Church, they have to intercede for all men. But as daughters of the Church of Lismore they will also offer up the merits of their penitential life, they send unceasing prayers for the Church of Lismore for her bishop, her priests, and her people.

The ceremonies concluded with Solemn Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament and the imparting of the Papal Blessing to all present.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

PURCHASE OF OLD AND UNECONOMIC COWS

The Minister for Agriculture is prepared to buy old and uneconomic cows from owners in County Waterford. The price to be paid for each animal will be £2 10s. 0d.

Owners having such animals for sale should obtain an application form at the local Post Office or Garda Station and send the form when completed to the Department of Agriculture, 24 Upper O'Connell Street, Dublin, not later than the 22nd August, 1936. Under no circumstances will applications received after that date be considered.

The Minister reserves the right to refuse to purchase all or any number of the animals offered for sale by any person. On no account should cows be offered unless the applicant is prepared to deliver the animals.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

THE REGATTA—

The only subject at present discussed in Cappoquin is the great Regatta to be held over the beautiful Blackwater course on next Monday, which promises to provide a Red Letter Day for the town. Not even in the "palmist" days of the Rowing Club had such a number of entries been received from outside Clubs as have been received for Monday's fixture, which proves the widespread popularity enjoyed by the Cappoquin Rowing Club throughout Munster and Leinster.

The Cappoquin Club is certainly entitled to such support, because after being extinct as a rowing entity last year it was revived with such life and vigour this year that it was able to send crews to New Ross, Waterford and Cork and win a valuable cup at each of those Regattas.

Several crews have been entered from New Ross, Waterford and Cork, Carrick-on-Suir and Fermoy Rowing Clubs and with Cappoquin contesting practically every race on the programme, there should be some splendid racing and some thrilling and exciting finishes.

At the special request of the Waterford Boat Club an important addition has been made to the programme by the inclusion of a race for Maiden Eights, for which Waterford, Lee R.C., (Cork) and Cappoquin will compete, and this should provide the most interesting and spectacular race of the day. We are not giving any secret away when we state that while Cappoquin may not be able to win the race for Maiden Eights, the crew or crews that will beat them in the Junior Eights and Fours will have to be exceptionally good oarsmen, as those Cappoquin crews have already proved their mettle at New Ross, Waterford and Cork, and they have shown wonderful improvement during the brief interval intervening since the Cork Regatta, which was held little over a fortnight ago.

From a purely local point of view, the Four-oared Outrigger race confined to members of the Cappoquin Rowing Club should prove unusually interesting, as a number of new-bloods, all sons of former famous oarsmen in Cappoquin, will be making their first appearance on the occasion, and on present form should be able to put some of the more-seasoned oarsmen to a severe test of speed and stamina in this event.

In order to appeal to the tastes of all, races are also included for Cois and other craft, while an exciting Swimming Race will be a special feature of the programme.

As stated last week, owing to the lateness of the tide the first race will not commence until 4.15 (S.T.), but from this onward there will not be a dull moment, as Mr. T. F. Olden, Hon. Sec., Mr. L. D. Dunne, Vice-Captain, and the other members of the Committee will see to it that the various events will be run off with strict punctuality, so that the public will have no weary periods of waiting between the races.

A special musical treat will be provided by the Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band, augmented by several members of the resurrected Cappoquin Band, and a most delightful musical programme will be played in the enclosure during the evening which should greatly add to the pleasure and enjoyment of all.

On Regatta Night a grand dance will be held in the Boathouse Hall which will be attended by the visiting crews and supporters from the various Rowing Clubs which should infuse fresh life into the proceedings. Music will be provided by the Nightingale Orchestra, Lismore, specially augmented for the occasion, while the catering arrangements will be ably carried out by Mr. G. Watson, the popular Cappoquin Caterer.

DECREASE IN PRICE OF PIGS—

The price of fat pigs at Cappoquin Bacon Factory, which had remained at 65/- per cwt., for a considerable time has been reduced to 61/- per cwt., this week, as this is the figure fixed by the Pigs Marketing Board for the period from July 17th., to September 27th., so that farmers cannot expect a better price before the latter date. We are glad to learn that a full supply of suitable pigs, as governed by the Quota, is now being sent to the Factory each week, and that farmers are saving both themselves and the Factory a lot of trouble by having their pigs booked in advance, in accordance with the recent rule of the Factory.

HOLIDAYS—

Holiday season is with us, but the weather is against us. In the Central States of America they are suffering from drought, the crops are burned up and the cattle are dying. Here at home we are in a perpetual deluge. Our crops are destroyed by excessive rains and our holidays made miserable by the everlasting showers.

Seaside resorts where tourists were wont to sojourn are suffering from the changed climate and sleeveless dresses disappeared from the beach front in the frosty air.

In America a man cut off his wife's nose for poking into his affairs. He is now under lock and key and won't do it again for a bit.

CO. WATERFORD VOCATIONAL EDUCATION COMMITTEE.

Very Rev. Canon T. O'Brien, P.P., Chairman, presided at the monthly meeting of the above on Tuesday last. Also present—Rev. Bro. J. F. McMahon, Messrs. Jas. Mansfield, and S. Hayes.

Wall at New Technical School

With regard to the proposal of the committee at the previous meeting to erect a new boundary wall around the Technical School at a cost of £300, the Department went stating that the Minister was of the opinion that no extras to the contract should be undertaken at present.

The Committee were strongly of the opinion that the wall is necessary.

School Equipment

A letter from the Department approved of the purchase by the committee of a lathe and belt-driven grinder and other equipment for use in the new Technical School.

Appointment of Manual Instructor

Mr. Martin Cullain, Co. Mayo, was appointed provisionally to the position of Manual Instructor rendered vacant by the resignation of Mr. J. A. Norton.

Appointment of Headmasters to Schools

A letter on the above subject read from the Department pointed out that recent developments under the Vocational Act 1930 have rendered necessary an increasing number of appointments as Headmasters. Where it is clear that a whole-time school is permanently established in a suitable building, the Department is prepared to regard the position of Headmaster as being of a permanent nature. The person appointed should be a fully qualified teacher with not less than five years whole-time teaching experience. A knowledge of Irish of the standard of the Department's Ceard Teastas Gaedhilge, will be essential. In addition to the organising, supervision, and administrative work, the Headmaster must also devote a considerable amount of his time to actual teaching.

Residence—The Department's attention has recently been drawn to a few cases of Headmasters residing at a distance from their centres. This is undesirable and should be remedied at the earliest opportunity. In future before appointing a person to a Headmastership it would be well to obtain from him an undertaking that he will reside at, or in the vicinity of the centre.

Applications for D.E. Classes

Applications for Domestic Economy Classes to be held in their centres were received from Very Rev. Fr. O'Neill, P.P., Stradbally, The Sisters of Mercy, Portlaoise and from Mrs. Brazil, N.T., Faithlegg.

The C.E.O. said a class was arranged for Stradbally for September.

The other two centres are to get classes later in the year.

Import Duty

With regard to the application by the Committee for a license to import free of duty certain equipment for the new school, the Minister for Industry and Commerce wrote regretting that he is unable to grant a license.

Kilmacthomas Site

Mr. Williams, solr., to the committee, wrote informing them that Mr. Walsh, owner of the site had agreed to sign the agreement for sale as amended. A deposit of £25 is to be paid to his solicitor and asking for a paying order for that amount.

Sea Fisheries Association

A letter from the above Association referring to previous correspondence with the committee and again offered the com-

Death Of Mr. Ed. Sheehan, Knockgarron, Modeligo.

The death of Mr. Ed. Sheehan, Knockgarron, Modeligo, took place at his residence last week after a protracted illness borne with Christian resignation and fortified by the rites of the Church.

An extensive and practical farmer, the late Mr. Sheehan was well and popularly known amongst all classes of the community for his sterling worth, his uprightness and kind disposition. One of his sons—Mr. M. Sheehan—is partner in the well-known firm of Cork Coal Merchants—Sheehan and Sullivan. Other members of his family occupy prominent positions in the States.

Deceased was brother-in-law of Rev. Wm. Tobin and Rev. Patrick Tobin, of Buffalo, U.S.A.

A devout and exemplary Catholic, and an honourable upright man, the deceased was held in the highest esteem by all who knew him and sincere sympathy is felt for his family in their loss.

The remains were removed to Modeligo Catholic Church, when the funeral cortege was of immense proportions which afforded striking testimony to the great respect entertained for him by all classes of the public.

The coffin was received at the Church by the Very Rev. M. Carroll, P.P., Modeligo, assisted by Father Quinlan, C.C., and on the following morning Requiem High Mass was offered up for the repose of his soul before a crowded congregation.

The celebrant of the Mass was the Rev. Fr. Quinlan, C.C., Modeligo, deacon, Rev. M. O'Donovan, sub-deacon, Rev. M. Flynn, Rev. Father Power, C.C., Touraneena, was Master of Ceremonies.

The other clergymen present were—Very Rev. M. Carroll, P.P., Modeligo; Very Rev. J. Cullinan, P.P., Touraneena; Very Rev. J. Gleeson, P.P., Aglish; Rev. T. Cashman, Armidale, Australia; Rev. Father Lane, Diocesan Inspector, Rev. M. Flynn, Rev. J. Walsh and Rev. Father Supple, Cork.

After the obsequies the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery, the final prayers at the graveside being read by Rev. Father Quinlan, assisted by the priests who had officiated at the High Mass.

The Chief mourners were—Michael Sheehan, Cork, John Sheehan, Kilmallock, William and Monnie Sheehan, Knockgarron, (sons); Mrs. Christopher, Ballylemon, Dungarvan, (daughter); J. Christopher, do., (son-in-law); Mrs. M. Sheehan, Cork, (daughter-in-law); Pat. Sheehan, Scart, Modeligo; J. Hennessy, Colligan, and Masters Michael and John Tobin, (nephews); J. Tobin, Gawn, (brother-in-law); and Mrs. I. Quinn, Bawnanogue, Cappagh, (sister-in-law); the Misses Sheehan, Bawnanogue, Patrick and John Sheehan, do.; Patrick and Mrs. Tobin, Chapel Road, John Lynch, Dungarvan; T. Lynch, Ballylemon; Miss B. Christopher, N.T., Modeligo; Mrs. Croke, Dungarvan; Mrs. K. and Miss Halloran, Clashmore; Mr. and Mrs. Cotter, Dromore; M. Nugent, Woodhouse, Aglish; G. P. Healy, Cappoquin; Richard and Hugh O'Connor, Carrigeen, Cappoquin; William Mackessy, Cork; Noel Murphy, do.; J. H. Ryan, Sec., Cork Greyhound Racing Track; E. Supple, Cork; J. Ryan, do.; M. Carty, do.; Mrs. Shorten, Bandon; Miss Peg and Miss May O'Mahony, do.; etc., (cousins, relatives and immediate friends).

BAND PROMENADE—

The Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band will discuss a choice musical selection at the Park on Sunday evening at 8.15 o'clock.

KILMAGTHOMAS NEWS.

Synaphy— Kilrossanty Gaelic Football Club voted sympathy to Mr. James Torpey, Glendaligan (who captained a famous old Kilrossanty team) in his bereavement occasioned by the death of his daughter (Mrs. J. Flavin) which sad event was published in the previous issue of this paper.

A Recent Death— The announcement of the death of Mr. Edmund Limerick, which occurred recently at his home at Ross, Rathgormack, was received with regret by his numerous friends and the general public. The deceased had been in failing health for some short time prior to his demise, at a comparatively early age. He was possessed of a most lovable disposition, unassuming and gentle. Deep sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Limerick, Ross (parents); Messrs. Philip, Patk. and Michael Limerick, do. (brothers) and Mrs. J. McGrath, Kilbrack and Mrs. T. Shanahan, Moteh (sisters) in their bereavement—May he rest in peace.

Kilmeaden Co-Operative Creamery Ltd. At the annual general meeting of the above Society, held on the 23rd of April last, it was decided to distribute a bonus ex-profits to the milk suppliers at the rate of one penny per gallon calculated on the milk received for July, 1935.

The Society has just credited the account of each supplier with this sum, and in an accompanying circular states—"We hope to repeat this bonus again for current and future years, and to enable us to do so we shall need your full co-operation and all the business you can pass on to our stores."

Holidaying— Nurse Bridie Casey, of the staff of a leading London Hospital, is holidaying in our midst just now. This most estimable young lady is younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Casey, Main street, Kilmagthomas.

Miss Kathleen O'Brien, who occupies an important professional position in Paris, is also on a holiday at her old home. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William O'Brien, Knockrour, Strabally, whose equally amiable son, Mr. James O'Brien, of Ned Hills business staff in London, is here on holiday, too, and he and his sister are in excellent health and spirits.

By The Way— "Women make all the trouble in life," observes "The Irish Printer" but Mr. our friend, the Metal Man of Tramore, says it's women who make life worth all the trouble!

Rathgormack— 'Tis heavenly when sun-rays beam On Com'ragh's homely hearth, When bird and bee and breeze and stream Combine in chorus sweet; Where folks have always "the good word."

With kindness all o'er The Barony of Upper Third— Rathgormack to the fore!

For games and pastimes of the Gael, For frolic, fun and noise; For music, song and dance you'll find To best the girls and boys, Who breathe the bracing atmosphere And drink the dear delight Of this rich region of high cheer— Rathgormack ever bright!

One could not hope to happen on a nicer crowd of happy-humoured oldsters and youngsters than was present at the recent Aerideacht Mhor in the beautiful hamlet of Rathgormack. Of a verity, the musical and callous of the Barony of Upper Third are splendid specimens of young Irish manhood and young Irish womanhood. The lovely looking ladies were beautifully dressed in the best of taste, and all were bright and attractive. They're a credit to the Deise. They're not dumb-bells, either. Rathgormack girls and Clones colleens are wonderfully intelligent and interesting, as well as good-looking; they're wide awake and quite sophisticated. They've got brains as well as looks—bless 'em!

Pattern Of Ballynaneen— Sunday last was the festival of St. Anne, Patroness of the parish of Ballynaneen, whose good people honoured the day with becoming dignity and decorum. Very Rev. P. O'Neill, P.P., celebrated early Mass in St. Anne's Church, and the majority of the vast congregation assisting thereat received Holy Communion. Rev. T. O'Shea, C.C., celebrated the late Mass and preached a most interesting sermon on the Mother of Our Blessed Lady. Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was intimated after this Mass. During the day big numbers of the parishioners visited St. Anne's Well, adjacent to the Church and made the customary rounds there.

The Fair— The usual monthly fair of Kilmagthomas was held on Tuesday, and was pretty largely supplied in all departments. Stores fetched from £4 10s. to £7 for 12 to 15 months; two-year-olds, £5 10s. to £7 15s.; bulls, aged, £6 to £9; bonhams, 20/- to 25/-; and sheep from 30/- upwards.

Nice To Note— That the big gang of Co. Council workmen in charge of energetic overseer Dick Cashin, engaged on the Ballynabogueue-

Bowe's Hill, road, are making appreciable progress at their job.

Such Weather!— Only an immediate improvement in the weather will rescue the harvest from what appears to be a very serious position. Already considerable loss has been sustained by the farmers on all sides. The hay crop has been seriously injured, and will result in a shortage of winter feed, which will also be of poor quality. The rainfall for the month just ended has been much in excess of the July average for the past quarter of a century, and the recent torrential rains have made the threat to this year's harvest a very real one. Wheat and corn have lodged on several districts. They will suffer some damage, but generally are likely to recover if they get sunshine every other day. The damage, however, will be much more serious if there is a recurrence of unseasonable conditions. So far the root crops are doing well though it is proving difficult to keep weeds in check. The absence of blight is due to the manner in which the farmers took every advantage of the weather to do their spraying.

Pretty Kill Wedding— A pretty wedding was solemnised at the Parish Church, Kill, on Wednesday of last week, by the Rev. M. Power, C.C., Kill, the contracting parties being, Mr. Thomas Hallahan, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hallahan, Knockmahon, Bannahan, and Miss Josephine Hardy, only daughter of Mrs. Hannah Hardy and the late Mr. J. Hardy, Tankardstown, do. The bride, who looked charming, was attended by her cousin, Miss Bridget Coffey, Bannahan, as bridesmaid; while Mr. Henry Hallahan (brother of the bridegroom) acted as best man. The bride was given away by her step-brother Mr. John Veale, Tankardstown, who was attractively attired in navy blue and white swagget suit, and the bridesmaid wore a beautiful frock with picture hat to match. The wedding breakfast was subsequently held at O'Brien's Cafe, The Quay, Waterford, where the bridal party and friends were entertained. The happy couple later left for Dublin and London on their honeymoon. Mr. Hallahan is a popular playing member of the Kill J. F. team. Good luck to him and to his excellent life partner!

We Put It To You (Serious And Not)— That Waterford's inter-county carman and big ball junior string brought off the double in brilliant style on last Sunday afternoon— That a Dungarvan dweller has secured the contract for the carrying out of an extensive series of renovations to Saint Anne's Church, Ballynaneen, and will commence operations there next week— That Annestown Anne is awfully upset about the two small thread-like veins now visible on her face— That the refined females of Fews, Fenor and Fiddown firmly believe that simplicity is beauty— That even Nire Valley virgins know that kettles should sing before they boil— That a thoroughbred Carrick bulldog, with or without an inch of a tail, should be over four feet— That September in Sliabh cGua is warmer than March in Mahonbridge— That the hardest part of any egg to hand from any Bohadoun Bull Drington, is the shell— That is it darker in Kilrossanty at 12 midnight than at 12 noon in Kilbrien— That Ballydeob's doughty Dan O'Mahony, will likely be present at the Waterford and Kilkenny Garda Divisional Sports, coming off at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan on the 9th inst— AND— That there are comparatively few Portlaw ladies who think, but many who think they think (Thiggin thus.)

Believe It Or Not— But they do "do" queer things in more places than Mid-Deise. In Hungary a young unemployed peasant resorted to a very unusual form of swindle in a tragic effort to keep "the wolf from the door." This consisted of snaring sparrows, and after dyeing them a yellow colour, selling them as canaries. The irrepressible sparrows, however, could neither sing nor be salient, and the noise of their chirping betrayed the trick. It is not stated what the end of the comedy was. One feels disposed to regard the whole report as a "lark!"

Time Was— When a tramp had been admitted to the casual ward of the now disused Kilmagthomas workhouse. It was late in the evening, and the next morning he duly appeared before the Master. "Have you taken a bath this morning?" was the first question he was asked. "No, sir," answered the man in astonishment. "Is there one missing?"

Alleged Arson— A young man named Michael Mountain was charged on remand with alleged arson at Knockaron, at the suit of Supt. Quinlan, Lismore.

Inspector O'Shaughnessy, Waterford, appeared to prosecute, and Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, appeared for the accused.

On the application of the Inspector, accused was further remanded to the next District Court at Lismore, after a protest by Mr. O'Gorman that the Garda had plenty of time to have all the evidence completed before now.

The Justice rather warmly replied that neither Mr. O'Gorman nor his client could have any grievance over a further remand, as the accused would be admitted to bail in the meantime.

Accused was then allowed out on a bail of £50, with two sureties of £25 each, which were immediately forthcoming, after which accused was released from custody.

Drunk And Disorderly— Guard Wm. Moloney, Cappelquin, summoned Patrick Smith, Ballingown, Villierstown, for being drunk and disorderly in Cappelquin on Sunday night, June 21st.

Complainant said that defendant was very drunk on the occasion, and was also disorderly by taking off his coat and looking for fight, and actually assaulted his father when he tried to bring him home.

Defendant, who did not appear was fined 10/-.

Sergt. Dalton, Cappelquin, summoned an itinerant labourer named John McClune, Ballysaggartbeg, Lismore, for drunkenness in Cappelquin; and a fine of 5/- was imposed.

CAPPOQUIN DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.)

PUBLICANS' CASES ADJOURNED

Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan, mentioned the cases of two Cappelquin Publicans, who were charged with alleged breaches of the Licensing Act, and asked to have them adjourned to the November Court. He said that in both cases a number of persons who were outside the 3-miles limit had been found on the premises during closing time, and it was contended by the State that those persons had ceased to be bona-fide travellers, as they had attended dances in Cappelquin on the two nights in question.

Mr. Farrell then referred to the Sligo case in which a prosecution on similar lines had been dismissed by the District Justice, but this decision had been later reversed by the High Court, and the matter had been taken to the Supreme Court for final decision, but as it seemed unlikely that the case would be decided until after the long vacation, he asked that the present cases be adjourned to the November Court, as the decision of the Supreme Court would hardly be given before then.

The Justice said he would adjourn both cases to the October Court, and of course this adjournment also applied to all the defendants found on the premises on the two occasions in question.

Inspector O'Shaughnessy, Waterford, said he had no objection to the adjournment.

Heavy Fine On Motorist— Superintendent Quinlan, Lismore, summoned Joseph Conery, Villierstown for driving a motor car for which the Road Tax had expired, and on a second count the defendant was charged with having made a false declaration to the effect that the car had not been previously used since the licence had expired in December 1935.

Mr. Wm. K. Hodnett, solr., Youghal, appeared for the defendant, who was not present in Court.

Mr. Hodnett said that he was rather badly handicapped in his defence by not having Mr. Lonney present, and the only explanation which he could offer for his absence was that this case had been already adjourned several times, and his client may not have been aware that the case was coming on today.

The Justice said that he had no excuse at all, as the defendant should have appeared personally to answer the charges. Guard Daly, Villierstown, gave evidence of having found the defendant driving his car during January, the Road Tax on which had expired on December 31st, 1935.

Defendant explained to him at the time that the delay in renewing the tax was due to some trouble which he had about the insurance, but that he had since sent on the money for taxation to the Co. Council office, but had not yet received his licence.

Mr. Liam Hayes, Taxation Officer, Waterford County Council, having been examined in support of the prosecution, Mr. Hodnett pleaded extenuating circumstances, and said that owing to the nature of defendant's business he found it necessary to use the car, and he asked that only a light penalty be inflicted.

The Justice said it was a very serious thing for any person to use a motor car without being taxed or covered by insurance, and he could not treat such a case lightly.

He fined defendant £5 for not having the car taxed, and £4 for the second charge, and said that this total fine of £9 was only one-tenth of the amount which he could have imposed, as he could have fined defendant £50 for this offence. He asked if there were any expenses in connection with the case.

Inspector O'Shaughnessy, Waterford, who prosecuted in the absence, through illness of Supt. Quinlan, said that Mr. Liam Hayes, Taxation Officer, had to pay 1/- for a motor car from Dungarvan and the Justice ordered that defendant should pay this amount as costs, in addition to the fines imposed.

Handball— Two Championship games killed for Fougla on Sunday 26th. Fougla, the players not turning up.

Football And Hurling— Two matches were billed for Cappelquin, an Sunday, Sarsfield v. Youghal, Junior football and Sarsfield v. Clonyne, minor hurling. The former fell through as Youghal failed to field a full team, thereby giving Sarsfield a walkover. The latter was held at the very awkward hour of 7.35, finishing at 8.45. Mr. J. Whelan, Youghal, refereed. The teams appeared pretty evenly matched, with the result that a well contested game was enjoyed by a small number of spectators. Play started with Sarsfield's having it strong, and to their backs and after a capital exhibition of the cork ball game came with the score—

Sarsfield 4-1 Clonyne 1-2 Resuming, the sun retired and a ding-dong battle ensued, lasting from start to finish. At 5 minutes to go Sarsfield were leading with the minimum margin of one point which was converted at almost the last moment to a 2-2 for the sponsors. The final score being— Clonyne 6-2 Sarsfield 5-3

JUNIOR HURLING AND FOOTBALL

WATERFORD'S DOUBLE

At the Sportsfield, Waterford, on Sunday, before a good attendance and in good weather, the semi-finals of the Munster Junior Football and Hurling Championships were played and resulted in victories for the home county. The results were:—

J.F. Waterford, 3-9; Tipperary, 0-4 J.H., Waterford, 6-3; Clare, 5-1.

Their football victory was particularly impressive, the Suiriders dominating the exchanges in all departments and proving themselves altogether too clever for their opponents.

Their superiority was definitely established in the opening half, and they turned over with an interval lead of eleven points.

Paul Russell was the inspiration of the Waterford side, who had an early point, per Moylan. Sullivan followed with a similar score, and after Lynch had added the third point, Paul Russel put on a goal.

Waterford continued their scoring spurt, and another point by Lynch was quickly followed by two goals by Sullivan. Lynch and Sullivan sent over further minors, before Tipperary replied with the only score of this half—a point, per Kissane, leaving the half-time score—Waterford, 2-6; Tipperary, 0-1.

Tipperary showed considerable improvement in the second half, but the large score against them proved too great a handicap, and Waterford went on to win easily. Scorers for Waterford in this half were Moylan and Spillane, and Devereux and O'Toole for Tipperary.

Hurling— Hard exchanges and close marking were features of the hurling game. Waterford proving faster in some splendid overhead exchanges. In the opening minutes Mahoney found the net, but the score was disallowed.

Clare dashed away, and working forward smartly gouled from a pass from Phefan. Mahoney raised the green flag for the equaliser, and shortly afterwards added a point. A second goal for Waterford was sent in by Gineen, and the dividing margin was reduced when Burke raised the green flag for Clare.

Plunkett, in a Waterford raid, and the bombers went further ahead when Fitzgerald raised the third green flag. Before the interval the same player had another goal and two points.

On the resumption Clare impressed early, but the effort was not sustained. Receiving from Fitzgerald, Plunkett sent in Waterford's fifth goal, to which McGrath responded with a similar score for Clare, who shortly afterwards had further majors, per Hickey and Let. McGrath next pointed for Waterford, and Plunkett finished a spectacular effort with a goal.

2,500 Candidates Sit Examination— Fifteen hundred candidates sat an examination in various centres in the Saorstát for 60 posts as clerical officer (general service or departmental) and as tax clerk. The salaries the successful applicants will receive will be about £2 a week each. The age limits were from 17 to 49 years, and the standard of the examination was the Intermediate certificate.

CONTEST AT ARDMORE

WATERFORD'S WIN

Clashmore signalled their return to the Gaelic arena by defeating Fermoy selected in a great football contest, at Ardmore on Sunday last.

In the morning the weather looked threatening, but the afternoon cleared up wonderfully, and the pitch was in ideal condition for the game.

Although the fixture got very bad local support there was a large attendance from Clashmore and the surrounding districts. The organisers are to be complimented on making the event such an outstanding success. Notwithstanding local apathy, and the large crowd showed their appreciation. The Lismore C. B. Scouts, under Scoutmaster S. O'Neill, gave unselfish assistance, and special thanks are due to them for helping in both field arrangements and stewarding. The students of St. Declan's Irish College also did all in their power to make the fixture a success.

Prior to the game the Boy Scouts paraded, headed by Youghal Pipers' Band. The Pipers in their saffron kilts and the Scouts in uniform presented a pleasing sight, as they marched from the village to the pitch.

Having been played on to the field, the teams lined out under Mr. S. O'Neill, Lismore, (Vice-Chairman Co. Board) who refereed the game in a capable and impartial manner.

The Very Rev. President of Clashmore Club, Very Rev. Fr. Murphy, P.P., threw in the ball and was an interested spectator at the match.

During the first half the game was evenly contested and was a splendid exhibition of the Gaelic code. The half time scores were:—
Clashmore, 1—3; Fermoy 1—1.

In the second half Clashmore showed undoubted superiority and the final scores read:—
Clashmore, 1—7; Fermoy, 2—1.

The following scored for the winners—D. Barron, J. Roche, B. Roche, and T. Teehan and O'Rourke.

The Fermoy scorers were:—Magner, Daly and Collins.

Clashmore fielded at full strength and introduced some promising young players, while Fermoy fielded a strong selection.

At the interval and at the conclusion of the game the Youghal Pipers gave a splendid programme of Irish music.

Following the match a short Aerobic-circuit was held. The programme included exhibitions of Irish Step-dancing by the talented pupils of Mr. S. O'Sullivan's dancing class, Youghal.

Clashmore play a return match in the near future, and with more experience should emulate the feats of the Clashmore team of old, many of whom attended Sunday's game.

The game was played in a fine sporting spirit and was a credit to both teams. T. Cotter, the Munster Inter-Provincial, late of Bantry, and now playing for Clashmore, was the outstanding player.

Teams—Clashmore—J. Barron (Capt.); P. Healy (goal); P. O'Rourke, J. O'Rourke, D. Barron, M. Cunningham, J. Barry, T. Teehan, G. Martin, L. O'Connor, A. Considine, T. Cotter, J. Roche, B. Roche, D. Healy.

Fermoy—A. Scanlan (Capt.); J. Magner (goal); T. Magner, D. Magner, T. Hanley, J. Collins, M. Collins, J. Somasney, J. Sweeney, T. McAuliffe, P. Fortune, J. Daly, A. Walsh, S. O'Hanlon, T. O'Hanlon.

The organisers are under a deep debt of gratitude to the members of the Fermoy team who travelled to oblige them notwithstanding the fact that there was a big counter attraction in Fermoy, while some of the players had to take part in a match for the Cork Co. Championship later in the evening.

CONCERT AT BALLIN.

A very successful concert at the New Ballin Ballroom, Ballin, on Friday night, 27th July, was one of the entertainments which are being given by the Parish Fund.

There was a large attendance on Friday night, and the people enjoyed themselves. The programme, which included singing, dancing, was of a high beginning to end, and well-received. Some well-known Dungarvan, Abbeystown, attended, and they were by local talent. They were best, and everybody was well.

The following took part:—Messrs. P. O'Keefe, Villierstown, Abbeystown, gave selections and were very well received. Mr. J. Waters, and Mr. Liam, side, brought down the rendering of 'The Gipsy' also sang solos. Mr. M. side, sang two songs, and received. Mr. Joe O'town, in comic songs, singing, and delighted the Ronayne, Villierstown, and received applause. Dublin, won great appreciation of a recitation. She also sang two songs, talent was represented. Messrs. J. Kirwan and by Miss M. Flynn and good reception. Mrs. Grath, and her troupe gave a touch of life on occasion by their performance during the evening. The performance was perfect and

G.A.A. NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG."

Waterford Sportsfield rang last Sunday afternoon with the delighted cheers of a small but enthusiastic Decies following who roared themselves hoarse as they saw our youthful juniors outthrust and outplay a brassy Clare side. Having disposed of an ambitious Tipperary team the men of Thomond were the more strongly fancied by the "big-shots" critics and judges; even many of our own Waterford Gaels were sceptical of the County's ability to field out a winning team, maintaining that the promotion of so many of the star juniors to Senior status weakened our junior inter-county chances to such an extent as to promise little hope of recovery—but they did not realise, or overlook, the fact that never before has the Decies been so rich in hurling resources. Today, we have a large store, yet largely untapped, of first-class material and, more important still, it is imbued with the right spirit and buoyed with the irrepressible optimism of youth. The foresight of our Selectors in pinning their faith in youth has, to a large extent, been vindicated.

One disappointing feature was the sparseness of the attendance. It is indeed surprising that two splendid Waterford fifteen contesting Munster county with such sterling opponents as Clare and Tipperary should have so little public support at their home venue. It is a poor tribute to the victorious teams and no credit to the city of Waterford. The weather certainly was far from agreeable, but it is doubtful if this was even a factor in the case; the plain truth is that the Waterford public has such an inferiority complex in G.A.A. games that they prefer to patronise matches other than those in which their own home teams are engaged; and, even when present, their milk-and-water half-apologetic attitude damps instead of fires the spirit of the players. They never let themselves go with the same gusto as a Cork, Limerick or Tipperary crowd. Almost as many travelled out of the city to Kilkenny last Sunday as was present to hail the double victory in the Sportsfield. It would seem that a sense of loyalty is lacking.

After the first ten minutes in the football game, it became a question of the size of the Waterford total. When the forwards, under the inspiration of Russell, Moylan and Lynch got going, the scores mounted steadily until the final whistle saw Tipperary overwhelmed to the tune of 3 goals 9 points to 3 points. An emphatic victory which goes a long way to wipe out the Minors humiliation at Thurles. The Decies team was impressive all through, though more than a few mistakes were made by the defence. An early thrill came when Seumas Hayes was left unprotected to the tender mercies of a charging Tipperary forward, but the Dungarvan goalie coolly fisted clear before being braced with a violence which shook the goal-posts. A few moments later, Tipp shot, hitting the upright, rebounded into the square and, for a moment, danger threatened more from confused defenders crowding together than from the attack. Paul Russell provided the most spectacular incident of the game when, after a nice passing movement, he shot from 25 yards with such cannonball force that the Tip goalie, bending low to gather, was knocked backwards into the net, the ball rebounding into play to be cleared somewhat luckily by the anxious defence. When Christy Moylan and an opponent began disentangling themselves from each other (both having been knocked flat in a head-on collision) the referee came up and offered the two perspiring victims an arm each to the side-line, where he consigned them for the rest of the game. A harsh decision based possibly on the motto that prevention is better than cure or perhaps the referee may have been reading too much about "Danno" Mahony lately.

Seumas Hayes kept his net intact, a habit he has formed and a good one. Lovett was a sound back who exploited a prodigious kick to safety but at times was prone to adopt the role of a second goal-keeper. Bad tactics this. Marked forwards score rarely—the ball itself scarcely ever. Hence, keeping the attack off the ball is the best defence. John Power, the Stradbally newcomer, blundered badly on a couple of occasions and never seemed to be going smoothly; his chief fault was his hesitancy. De Goode is in his right place at half back and proved it by a great all-round display. Bowler of the College, was not by any means at home at half back, but when he changed positions with Batty Casey, the centre back, after the interval, things went much more satisfactorily. Cummins, the Stradbally winger, after a shaky beginning, got his bearings and thereafter navigated some lively attacking movements which brought their due quota of scores; for the rest of the game, he blended beautifully into the Russell-Lynch forward line. O'Sullivan Ruidh enhanced his reputation as the fiery "go-getter" of the Waterford attack; his two goals clinched the issue early. Myles, at full forward, was supreme in the air and shared out passes with great effect especially to the voracious O'Sullivan on whom he largely relies for the finishing touches. Mick Lynch has a darling left foot which polished off some lovely points and with Spollen in the corner created havoc in the Tip defence. All through the Waterford play bore the impress of the superb leadership of Paul Russell.

In the hurling game our youngsters fairly dazzled both Claremen and spectators during the first half. Their speed, striking and ball control was amazing in a raw team of such little experience. Despite the disappointment of an early disallowed goal, which would have unsettled many Senior sides, they went about their work with a determination and a thoroughness which was reflected in a strong lead of eight points at half time.

Phelan's artistry combined with Fitzgerald's unerring accuracy and O'Mahony's opportunism kept the score board soaring merrily in favour of the Decies. Plunkett, using his great weight tank-fashion, time and again broke down the Dalcaasian last line of defence and the score would have been much larger but for a tendency on the part of the home flank men to lie too far upfield to profit by the full forward's Samsonian tactics. Shortall, the compact little St. Stephen's mid-fielder, hurled a glorious game and sent in some telling shots. Sheehan, his partner though not so prominent, did well to hold McGrath, a Clare star, for most of the hour. Young Greene, on the wing, was one of the best links in the Decies forward chain and at times treated us to displays of the hurling genius which overthrew the long reign of Erin's Own. The half backs were sound, O'Gorman in particular being most effective. This tough Lismore hurler is a first time hard-hitter who gives no quarter. Skehan, the big Dunhill centre-back, though somewhat slow, is always there or thereabouts and has a happy knack of coming from nowhere to relieve the most menacing situations. Hogan and Mountain defended stoutly as always, though in the first half, their sense of position seemed to be at fault on more than one occasion. Hickie, the Portlaur right-back, who came on at short notice, showed himself to be made of stern stuff, hurling a desperate game in which his tigerish ruthlessness gave little scope for fancy work to the Clare forwards; John Whelan, full back succeeded in lying down the muscular Burke to two goals during the game; a fine performance indeed, for the Clare athlete combines brains and brawn.

Curley kept a charmed goal in the later stages, when the Dalcaasians taking advantage of a Decies slow-down, opened the throttle of their attacking machine to flash home two staggering goals which shocked the home defence into a sense of their danger. The dragging strides and heaving sides of the harassed backs showed all too plainly the physical exhaustion produced by the hot pace and many Waterford hearts palpitated at the dire prospect of a last minute sensation but the referee's anxious whistle relieved the tension—Clare stood beaten on the score of 6 goals 3 points to 5 goals 1 point and the Decies double was complete.

At Ardmore quite a large crowd of pilgrims and Gaelic fans saw Clashmore triumph over Fermoy in an inter-county football challenge by a margin of three points. No wonder there was much comment on the victors' withdrawal from the Waterford Championships this year. On this farm, it looks like as if they have thrown away the junior crown. Well, they have next year in which to redeem their error.

The County Selection Committee believe in sustained action. Already the teams have been selected and ordered into training to uphold the honour of Waterford in the Munster Final. All are warned that they must provide their own playing equipment in full. The days of "buckshee" hurleys and boots are gone. I have been told that a certain gentleman took the field last Sunday in court shoes and without a hurley. He got the shock of his life when he was told to stand down. Players who expect to be sponsored must provide their own spoons.

Stradbally and Dungarvan have been talking things over lately and, as a result, the villagers will represent West Waterford in the Senior Football Final. Dungarvan, while drawing attention to irregularities, did not wish to profit by them in any way and in the interests of all concerned agreed not to disturb the victory won by Stradbally in their recent sensational encounter. A very generous attitude which reflects the true Gaelic spirit. Mid-Waterford football should prosper accordingly now that it has every chance of bidding for Senior honours. The Dungarvan-Stradbally replay, as already arranged, will take place on Aug. 23rd, in the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, but the championship will not be at stake.

At Thurles next Sunday, Tipperary throws down the gauntlet to the world-famous Limerick hurlers. The Garryowen men are already as good as in Croke Park, say the wisecracks; Johnny Leahy says Tipp will win and that's no bad tip. Knowing that Conroy and Barry will dictate mid-field terms and believing that the Tipp defence will weather the shocks of the Limerick storming tactics, I think that the Premier County forwards will decide the issue. If they show the same speed, incisiveness and accuracy as against Clare then Tipperary's day of glory is at hand. It should be a wonderful game and the result—sensational.

At Cappoquin, two of the most intriguing games in the County Junior Hurling Championship will be decided. Dungarvan replay Ballyin and Cappoquin once more line out against their old foes from Ballyduff. Those who saw the first spectacular game between the two latter teams will have no need to be reminded of what hurling thrills are in store for them now. It is without question, the most attractive G.A.A. programme yet arranged in the West and a big crowd will no doubt show its appreciation by flocking to the picturesque pitch by the Old Cornestone.

CAN MILK AND BEEF FUNCTIONS BE COMBINED?

beef breeds—or a beef and dual-purpose breed—and not between a beef and dairy breed.

Discussing the possibility of dual-purpose cattle—whether milk and beef can be obtained from one breed—Mr. D. A. Buchanan Smith, the well-known Geneticist of the University of Edinburgh, says in the "Shorthorn Breeder's Review," that it is a common place in biology that while a plant or animal is busily engaged in growth, it has little or no energy left for reproduction.

It is this argument, says Mr. Buchanan Smith, which is used in many forms against the possibility of combining in one animal the functions both of beef and milk for beef represents energy used for growth, and milk energy used for reproduction. There is a certain justification for such an argument. Physiologically the simultaneous production of beef and milk is incompatible. But the fact that the two take place (or ought to take place under modern systems of agriculture) at different periods in the life of the animal, appears to have been ignored.

Modern standards of quality beef demand an animal killed before it is two years old. There is a distinct demand for meat from animals slaughtered at around 18 months of age. Allowing even 24 years as the best age for slaughtering, then the reproductive system is not called into full action until the growth period is almost at an end.

In most cases procreation does not attempt to take place simultaneously with growth, but it is not expected to achieve the full expression of sexual maturity (i.e., milk production) till it is 24 or 3 years of age. Therefore this argument which is used against dual-purpose cattle is really one of the strongest in its favour.

Undoubtedly, cattle can be obtained which attain beef and sexual maturity at the same time; but in the proper type of dual-purpose cattle, there is an appreciable difference between the two. It is this difference that breeders of dual-purpose cattle are taking advantage of, whether they realise it or not.

This confusion of thought has probably been caused by selection for one quality only, regardless of the other. After all, a deep milker requires some of the constitution of the beef animal to enable her to express her potentialities.

"This experiment," says Mr. Buchanan Smith, "is of considerable interest since it was designed to find out how little milk a cow could give. So far as I know, with one possible exception on a much smaller scale, it is the first experiment of this type, the results of which have been recorded.

"At the outset of the experiment we did not expect any to reach the qualified class; and as for the purpose of the main experiment we wanted cows giving less than 300 gallons these results are somewhat of a disappointment!"

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman, presiding, E. P. Lynch, D. Power, W. O'Sullivan, R. Savage, D. McCarthy, J. Whelan, R. C. Farrell, Vice-Chairman, M. Cashman, T. Beausang, J. Daly, B.E., Capt. C. Watson, M. Ahern.

Letter from the Collector At the meeting of the Harbour Board, a letter was read from Mr. J. E. Farrell, Collector, stating that he could trace no letter from the Secretary in connection with Capt. Hagan's account. When the latter paid £2, he promised to let him have the receipt for the other £2, but he hadn't done so.

Mr. Power said if the books were kept properly, there would be no necessity for the receipt. He understood that Capt. Hagan had paid £4. The trouble was there were two Capt. Hagan's. After some discussion the matter was left in the Collector's hands. The meeting then took up the ordinary business.

Water

The water curator reported that the meter to the Mental Hospital registered 78,000 gallons for the week. There was some complaint as to pressure occasionally, probably due to the increased demand on the Strand by the military.

The Chairman said there was no scarcity of water, but he received a few complaints regarding the pressure in the southern end of the town. Mr. Daly said there were a number of leaks discovered at the northern end.

Mr. Lynch said some people were in the habit of letting their taps run day and night. That was not right, and it should be put a stop to as it was bound to effect the supply to the neighbours. Mr. Whelan endorsed Mr. Lynch's remarks.

The water curator was directed to attend to the matters mentioned.

Southern Rowing Club

The following letter was read— St. Mary's Presbytery, Youghal, July 20, 1936

Dear Mr. Walsh,—I feel it my duty as Parish Priest to object to the granting of the use of the Town Hall for any late dance to the Southern Rowing Club as I have good reason to believe that such a dance would be liable to lead to serious abuse, owing to the lack of proper supervision and control.—Yours sincerely, D. DINNEEN, P.P.

It was unanimously decided to comply with the Canon's objection.

Municipal Authorities Conference

Arising out of a letter from the Secretary of the Municipal Authorities Conference, the Clerk suggested that the question of coast erosion should be put forward.

Mr. Whelan said that another question of importance was street hawking. The business of the towns was being ruined by hawkers. They came along, interfered with the business and went their way, without paying rates or anything else.

The Chairman agreed with Mr. Whelan's remarks on street hawkers. Something must be done to put a stop to their activities, as they were drawing away the life blood of their towns.

Mr. Power said the lorries were also doing great mischief. The Chairman—We'll all have to get lorries soon, if we want to keep going (laughter).

The Clerk said that coast erosion was seriously effecting a number of their sea-coast towns.

Mr. Whelan—It affects us very much.

Hotel Sign

A letter was read from Mr. J. J. Ronayne, solr., Middleton, stating that with regard to the proposal of Miss A. Meade, Pacific Hotel, erect a hotel sign, he had ascertained that Mr. Ahern assented a right to the angular plot of ground at the public steps at the hotel, but had not produced proof of his title. He would like to know what action the Council proposed to take in the matter.

After some discussion, it was decided to refer Mr. Ronayne to Mr. Hodnett's previous correspondence in the matter.

Sympathy

Mr. Cashman proposed votes of sympathy with the relatives of the late Mr. P. J. Hogan, and Sir O. Grattan Esmonde, I.D.'s. Mr. Ahern seconded. Mr. Savage proposed a similar vote to the family of the late Mr. J. Murphy, (formerly Clerk of Macroom Union).

Mr. Lynch seconded. Mr. Power said although differing with them in politics, Mr. Hogan and Sir O. Grattan Esmonde, were good Irishmen. The Chairman spoke in terms of high praise of the deceased gentlemen. Messrs. Daly, Whelan, the Clerk and others asked to be associated.

Thanks

Mr. James Daly, Lisnagree, wrote thanking the Council for acting on his suggestion regarding the bathing place. The Chairman—He deserves anything we can do. He has been always a good friend to Youghal.

Diving Rocks

Mr. Ahern, called attention to the danger of bathers getting their feet cut on the rocks when the tide fell at the Diving Rocks, and suggested that a notice of warning should be put up. This was agreed to.

Lack of Civic Spirit

The Chairman said the Council were ready and willing to do all in their power for the safety and comfort of bathers, but they were hampered by a lack of civic spirit among the rising generation.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)

A number of undefended civil bills in which Messrs. W. J. Barry, Middleton, W. R. Hodnett, Youghal, T. K. Keane, do., and J. N. R. Macnamara do., solrs., appeared for plaintiffs, were first disposed of.

Annuity Case

Mr. Keane appeared for Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solr., Dungarvan, in a case of the Irish Land Commission against Stata Mansfield, for arrears. A decree being granted.

Hennessy v. Lee

This was a civil bill by Wm. Hennessy, Castlemary, against Jeremiah and Ed. Lee, Glenawilling, for £12 for goods sold and delivered.

Mr. Barry for plaintiff and Mr. Hodnett for defendant. Mr. Barry said the dealing had been going on up to 1932, when £2 was paid on account and plaintiff ceased supplying. Defendants sold their farm. Ed. asked plaintiff would he accept part and be refused.

Plaintiff produced his books, the goods were sold by the vanman and subsequently written up by his accountant. Mr. Hodnett—Have you the vanman here?—No.

Mr. Hodnett—Our defence is that there were no goods sold within those years. The case was adjourned for the attendance of the vanman.

Twomey v. Ahern

This was an application for an Examination Order by Mr. Macnamara on behalf of Ellen Twomey. The application was granted.

A similar application by Mr. Macnamara in Bennet v. Toor was also granted.

Dance License

Michael O Foghluha, St. Declan's College, Ardmore, applied for a dance licence for the month. Sgt. Gallaher, Ardmore, having stated that there was no objection, the application was granted.

Occasional License

Mr. Keane, applied on behalf of Mr. Fleming, for an occasional license in connection with Youghal Tennis Tournament.

Supt. Kelly said there was no objection and the application was accordingly granted.

Ad Interim Transfer

Mr. Keane applied on behalf of M. J. Fleming, for an ad interim transfer of the license lately held by Patk. Murray, the Mall.

Formal evidence having been given the application was granted.

Motor Cases

Guard O'Connor, charged Thomas English, Clonmel, with having his car on the Strand, with the doors opened and the ignition key in the ignition. He said he didn't think it an offence. Supt. Kelly—That is the reason we are bringing those cases. Fined 2/6.

The same complainant charged J. S. Allen with having his car stationary at the Strand Palace at 1.10 a.m. on 6th July, and with having no lights. The defendant thought it was no offence when the car was stationary. He was fined 2/- in each case.

Supt. Kelly, charged Hugh Connors, and James Cashman with similar offences and they were each fined 2/- in each case.

In a like case by the same complainant against Anne Slattery, it was stated she was sitting on the sea wall 50 yards off. The Justice held she had control of the car and dismissed the case with a caution.

Licensing Case

Mr. S. Hurley, the Strand, was charged with a breach of the Licensing Act. Supt. Kelly, prosecuted and Mr. Macnamara, defended.

Supt. Lupton, stated that he visited the premises at 1 a.m. on the morning of 6th July, and found three travellers and one local man in the bar-room. One of the visitors was at the piano. Mr. Macnamara, admitted the facts stated.

Mrs. Hurley was fined 10/- not to be recorded and the man found on the premises 5/-.

EASY SLEEPING. Harpurs carry a full range of hygienic easy sleeping beds and bedding—charming Mahogany and Oak Bedsteads—Brass and Metallic bedsteads tastefully designed and strong—Hair, Fibre and wool mattresses sterilized and hygienically filled for your safety and comfort. Drop into Harpurs and see them yourself.—HARPURS BROS., Furniture Dept., WATERFORD

During the present season three lifebuoys with ropes had been cut away and sent adrift. (Cries of "shame.") If the guilty parties only realised that their blackguardism might have serious results, they might think twice before acting. That occurred year after year.

Mr. Power said there was a section of incorrigibles amongst them devoid of all decency and civic spirit. The Chairman said he believed that this mischief had been done not by youngsters.

Mr. Daly said the home training was largely responsible. Several members said that the development of a proper civic spirit was of far greater importance than some of the subjects taught nowadays in their schools. It was decided to invite the assistance of the Guards in the matter.

TALLOW DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)

Hull v. Noonan This was an application for an Examination Order by Mr. E. A. Rice, solr., Fermoy, on behalf of G. Hull, against D. Noonan, Ballycloagh. The application was granted.

Cunningham v. McGrath

This was a like application by Mr. W. R. Hodnett, solr., Youghal (for Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara, solr.) on behalf of Mrs. M. A. Cunningham, against Ml. McGrath, Tallow. The application was granted.

School Attendance Cases

Guard J. O'Leary, Killeenagh, charged Jas. Mulcahy, Newport, with the non-attendance of three of his children at school.

The Guard stated that James was absent 16 days out of 25, Lizzie 14 and Patrick 17. The father said they were sick with influenza.

The Justice—Have you a doctor's certificate? They weren't bad enough to take them to a doctor.

The Justice—This kind of statement won't do.

Defendant was fined 2/6 in each case. Guard Rice, Tallow, had a similar charge against Martin McNamara, the child being absent 25 days out of 29. Defendant was on the dole.

The Justice—There is not much room for fining people in such circumstances. Fined 7/-.

No Lights

The same complainant had a number of persons summoned for using unlighted cycles and the usual fines were imposed. Sgt. Grey and Guard Keogh, Tallow, brought up a number of like cases and they were dealt with similarly.

Motor Cases

John Milward, Tallow, was charged with reckless driving. Mr. W. R. Hodnett, solr., defended. Inspector O'Shaughnessy, prosecuting, said that three young children on their way to school having to cross the road, one was struck and knocked by defendant's car. The three witnesses were from 5 1/2 to 8 1/2 years of age, and it was therefore, very hard to ascertain what actually happened.

The Justice having said he could not have the children sworn, they gave accounts of the incident, showing that two got clear, Mary Tobin aged 6 being knocked down. Replying to the Inspector, Mary said she was in hospital for a while.

Mr. Hodnett—Are you all right now?—Yes, sir. During the hearing it was stated that the defendant had swerved to try to avoid hitting the child.

Guard Keogh, handed in a sketch map of the scene. Mr. Hodnett asked for a dismissal. The Justice dismissed the case.

Patrick Carroll, from the neighbourhood of Charleville, was charged with a similar offence. The Inspector said defendant was involved in a collision with a car at the corner on the way to the Railway Station. It appeared he was 14 or 15 feet off the corner on the right-hand side, where the roadway was 50 feet across.

Cornelius Curley, Tallow, stated that he was driving a car towards the Tallow Road Station. There were a number of people on the Bridge. He was going fairly slowly and blew his horn as he approached, when a motor bike, driven by defendant shot out from the Fermoy road and shot into him. He couldn't escape. He heard no horn sounding.

Defendant said he didn't see the car, nor heard the horn sounding. Thomas McCarthy, stated he was standing on the bridge at the time. He saw the motor cycle coming down the Fermoy Road. There was a van attached to it. It was doing about 15 or 20 m.p.h. He didn't see the motor car till it had passed him. He then saw them run in and crash.

John Daly said he heard the motor car horn sounding. Sgt. Grey stated he heard the crash 10 yards away. The tracks of the car were very visible on the bridge. It was about 3 feet from his side up to 50 feet from the scene of the accident. The tracks of the motor cycle weren't visible on the Fermoy road. Where the collision occurred he was 14 ft. from his right-hand side.

The Justice—He would be travelling on the wrong side of the road?—He had 50 feet of a roadway. Defendant stated he was coming along the Fermoy road. He looked and saw no car. He didn't remember whether he sounded his horn or not. He was driving for his employer, P. J. Ryan, Charleville.

To the Court—A box combination with wheels was attached to the cycle. He didn't see the car till it was close on him. He was on second gear. He was driving 18 months.

The Inspector—You won't deny that for 40 yards you had a clear view of a car coming from Tallow?—Yes, but I saw nothing only the crowd on both sides of the bridge. The corner is a very dangerous one.

The Justice—Was there much damage to car of the bicycle? Defendant said the motor bicycle was no more good.

Supt. Grey—The motor car was badly damaged. Curley recalled said he saw no cycle till it shot out and struck him. Defendant was fined 10/-.

Milk Case

Guard McDermott, charged T. Mahony, with selling milk deficient in fat.

Mr. E. A. Rice, solr., Fermoy, defended.

The Justice—These cases are all abortive for the time being.

Mr. Rice argued at length that as the Guard was relying on the analyst's certificate they were entitled to a dismissal.

The Justice said there was a mistake in the Act concerned and he would, therefore, have to dismiss the case. He understood it was to be amended. He mentioned the matter for the information of the public.

The case was, therefore, dismissed.

Possession Case

Marie Haskins, Modeligo House, Currahna, summoned Patk. Gayer, for possession of a house. Mr. Rice for plaintiff, and Mr. Baylor, solr., Fermoy, for defendant.

Capt. F. Haskins, husband of plaintiff, stated that defendant was an employee of theirs. The employment was terminated on 8th June. He had been previously given a month's notice. The lodge of which they sought possession was part of his wages.

Cross-examined by Mr. Baylor—Capt. what was your reason for terminating Gayer's employment?—The man treated me in an insulting manner.

Gayer was in the house long before his time, 3 1/2 years.

From the evidence and cross-examination, which took up a considerable time, it appeared the trouble between the parties arose when the Capt. asked Gayer for the use of his pony, which he refused except on certain conditions.

Mr. Rice maintained that once they terminated the employment, for which the lodge was part payment, they were entitled to possession.

Patk. Gayer, aged 70, said he had been with the Bradell family for 55 years (Mrs. Haskins was formerly Miss Bradell) and had been with old Mr. John Bradell in the Crimean War. He acted as coachman, etc. He had always dealt in ponies. The pony the Capt. wanted the use of was not fit for rough farm work, but he agreed to give her if he were paid 5/- per day and allowed to be in charge. The Capt. refused that.

After lengthened arguments the Justice said he felt constrained to grant a decree for possession with a stay for 6 weeks. Mr. Baylor pleaded for a longer stay in view of the fact that defendant had a lot of potatoes planted, but the Justice said they surely ought to be able to arrange that matter between them.

Cruelty To Children

At a Children's Court, the adjourned case of P. Keating, Cork, Inspector N.S.P.C.C., against Daniel Fleming, Garryduff, and his daughter Josephine for neglect of five younger children was taken up.

The Inspector stated he visited the place last Friday, and found some improvement, but not sufficient in his opinion to prevent cruelty to the children. They still slept on bare planks, which had been raised a little from the concrete floor. They were very badly dressed.

Replying to the Court, the father said he was satisfied to have the two youngest sent to Industrial Schools.

The Justice—I don't know what kind of a man you are at all—whether fit to be in charge of children. You are a talker—you do nothing.

The Inspector—He is a bluffer. Defendant—I couldn't do any more than I am doing.

The Inspector—I am told the daughter in charge of the other children smokes a terrible lot of cigarettes and that is how the money goes. The two youngest were committed to Industrial Schools.

ECONOMIC RETURNS IN PIG FEEDING

Regulating Muscular Activity

All the requirements of the pig must be met out of the food. Some of the food must necessarily go to maintain the varied activities within the body of the pig, such as the work of the heart, lungs, digestive organs, mastication, etc. Another portion must necessarily go to provide for the muscular activities of the pig. It is obvious, therefore, only the food that remains over after these requirements have been met that serve for the production of flesh, fat and bone, which is our primary object in feeding the pig, and from a given amount of food this fraction will be greater the lower we can reduce the diversion of food material into the previously indicated directions.

We can do practically nothing to reduce the demands of the vital organs for support, since the very life of the pig depends upon their activity, but we can do a great deal to regulate the muscular activities of the pig, and consequently the management must be designed to secure the utmost economy in this direction consistent with the maintenance of good health. The pig should receive every encouragement to lie down when he is inclined to, since even mere standing still requires more muscular effort, and consequently more food, than lying down.

It follows further that the pig must not be disturbed more frequently or kept on his feet longer than is absolutely necessary. In the case of the grazing pig he should not be compelled to travel too far to get his fill of food; in the case of the sty-fed pig he should have a good interval for rest between meals, or in other words he should not be fed too frequently since feeding involves disturbance.

All other conditions which conduce to quietness and rest, such as comfortable housing, adequate litter, regularity in feeding, etc., tend also to secure a more economical utilization of the food supply.

Woman Sits Up In Coffin After 24 Hours

Twenty-four hours after having been pronounced dead Mrs. Wang Hsu, the wife of a farmer, created a panic in a village near Shanghai by climbing out of her coffin.

Relatives and friends were mourning round the coffin when she suddenly sat up and they fled shrieking in all directions. It was some time before they could be convinced that Mrs. Wang was not a "ghost."

CHRONICLED AND CRITICISED

The New County Hospital Motor Ambulance—The new Dodge Motor Ambulance for the Waterford County Hospital (which was put "on the road" last week) is a splendidly-equipped vehicle. It is the last word in fact, in modern equipment for conveying the sick, the infirm and the injured to hospital. The van is designed and built in such a way that there is practically no vibration when it is driving along on its mission of charity. It is fitted with two couches that provide the maximum amount of comfort for the patients. An elaborate network of wire springs support the couches; these contrivances are known by the technical term of "shock absorbers." They obviate jerks or bumps when the ambulance is travelling over rough roadways. The old type of ambulance had only one couch. There is a neatly upholstered seat for the attendant. And also a thermos flask and other first-aid appliances on a shelf at the head of the couches. It is a vast improvement on the old method of conveyance. The vehicle looks very presentable, being painted in a bright cream colour—a pleasing contrast to the dark-red hue of the old motor ambulance. It might be mistaken, in fact, for a luxury motor vehicle were it not for the fact that the Red Cross and the words "Condae Ospidial" indicate the purpose for which it is intended. There is also a neat outfit for the efficient and capable driver, Mr. Richard Tierney.

"Did Not Drink Half Enough When It Was Cheap"—Labour And The Beer Question—In a recent issue of the "Observer" there appeared an amusing article with the caption: "When Beer Was cheap." It gave an account of the recourses made at home and abroad by beer-drinkers when the beverage was cheap. It reminded me of an incident that occurred at a meeting of a public body in the County of Waterford in post-war times when a resolution was submitted from the Licensed Traders Association requesting that the Government be called upon to reduce the high taxes in drink. Mr. X, an inveterate pussyfoot said, in a discussion on the resolution that if he had his way he would tax drink off the map as it was an unnecessary luxury. A labour representative in reply said: "It is all very fine for Mr. X, to talk as he does, but when he is finished his six-course dinner in his suburban residence he can descend into his cellar and imbibe the choice wines of France. But we of the working classes have only one comfort—our pint of beer or bottle of stout, which are a food for many of us. Our only regret is, he concluded, that when beer was cheap we did not drink half enough of it."

Revival of Bonmahon Horse Races—An old-time Sporting Fixture—Messrs. J. Kirwan, J. Maher and J. Quailly, members of the organising committee of the Bonmahon Horse and Pony Races (an old-time fixture that is being revived after a lapse of 30 years) visited Waterford recently and called on several of the principal traders who guaranteed generous financial support to the promoters of the race meeting. I understand that there will be entries for all the events in the card, and a splendid day's sport is assured. With the revival of the old sporting traditions and the prospect of the re-opening of the Copper Mine in the near future, there are brighter times in store for Bonmahon by the sea.

The District Nurse's Association—An Institution worthy of Support—At the last meeting of the Waterford County Board of Public Assistance an annual subscription of £5 was voted to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children—a very deserving institution. There is another association the raison d'être of which is the curing of the ailments of children and adults and which is deserving of financial support by our Boards of Assistance, viz., the District Nursing Association, which has a number of very active branches in the County of Waterford. The services of the District Nurses are invaluable in the matter of looking after the needs of the sick poor. I note that Mr. Commissioner Meghan of the Kilkenny Co. Board of Health, has been notified that the Local Government Department sanction the granting by the Board of a subsidy of £10 per annum to the Thomastown District Nursing Association.

Dungarvan's Generosity—Fully Reciprocated—The Dungarvan Branch of the District Nursing Association has received generous support from the townspeople since its inception in the Old Borough. I think it would be generally agreed that excellent value is received for the money subscribed. The energetic and efficient Dispensary Medical Officer, Dr. M. A. Casey, will bear willing testimony to the fact that the District Nurse who attends to the minor ailments of the patients at the Mary street Dispensary every morning is most helpful, kind and attentive, and her co-operation enables the doctor to devote ample time to the treatment of the serious cases. There is no doubt that the District Nursing Association is a great boon to the sick poor.

from Killarney. A big invasion from County Tipperary accompanied by a Brass Band and a Pipers Band helped to enliven what might have otherwise been a dull day at the seaside. The Brass Band was the C. J. Kickham's from Clonmel. They played some nice selections of music. I liked the neat (but not gaudy) uniforms of the bandsmen. The killed pipes paraded the streets of Tramore during the afternoon and dispelled all thoughts of depression—weather and economic. It was 9.30 p.m. when the bands paraded through the streets of Waterford on their way to the station; they were followed by a large concourse of citizens and about a thousand kiddies. Young and old appeared to enjoy the musical treat. Apropos band music: might I ask if something could not be done to provide band promenades at Tramore on Sundays for the remainder of the summer months? The Waterford Barrack street Brass Band could give a delightful treat to visitors to the popular seaside resort.

A Tipperary Trip to Tramore A Quarter of a Century Ago—An Open Air Gaelic Concert—The Tipperary visitors and their bands reminds me of a big excursion that was organised on a Sunday in July 1911 by the Confraternity of Nenagh (North Tipperary) in conjunction with the Gaelic League of that district. The venue was Tramore. An Acridheacht was held on the occasion in Pipers Field, the platform being erected in the vicinity of Bishop's restaurant. The organising details were arranged by some members of the Waterford Branch Gaelic League. About 2,000 excursionists travelled to Tramore and the free entertainment of Irish music, song and dance helped them to spend a very enjoyable day by the seaside. I recollect that the Tipperary trippers were accompanied by a Brass Band and were met at the north station, Waterford, by a local Pipers Band. Before starting the march to the Tramore station it was decided that the local band (heading the procession) would play a selection of Irish airs as far as the Clock Tower—the visitors' band to play from thence to the Tramore station. When the Tipperary bandmaster stated that he had only one Irish air—"Come Back To Erin." His band made up for a limited repertoire by a vigorous rendering of the popular Irish melody for the remainder of the route. It was one of the liveliest Sundays that I remember in Tramore.

The Best Junior Hurler in Ireland—Fitzgerald of Dungarvan—The two thousand spectators in the Waterford Gaelic Sportsfield witnessed two interesting and keenly contested hurling and football matches respectively for Junior Munster Championship honours last Sunday. The Junior Hurling encounter in which Waterford defeated Clare was a tough game, hard exchanges and close marking were features of the play. Waterford proved faster in some splendid overhead exchanges. Our Juniors should make a great bid for the
