RING IRISH COLLEGE

Important Matters Discussed At Xmas Meeting

Mr. Padraig O'Kiely, presided at the Xmas quarterly meeting of the Committee of Management of Ring Irish College. An Fear Mor, (Secretary and Principal) presented a report and statement of accounts for 1936 on the work of the Summer College and the Children's Irish School, and also on the financial position of the College.

The reports were of a very satisfactory and encouraging nature, regarding the numbers in attendance, work done for the Irish language and financial position of the College.

An Fear Mor presented the reports on the progress that was being made by the boys and girls from Ring, who had been given Secondary School Scholarships from the Kirwan (Sydney) fund.

The holders of scholarships are making good progress with their studies.

Other schemes for the welfare of the people of Ring and district were discussed at the meeting.

The Children's Irish School at Ring College, is an outstanding success this year. The number of children in residence during the year was 95. The parents of a number of children have written to the Principal expressing their pleasure at the progress made in acquiring a sound knowledge of Irish and the manner in which the children's health and welfare are attended to.

Details of the Summer Course (1937) were discussed. It was decided to arrange for courses of lectures, etc., at the Easter quarterly meeting. Special arrangements will be made for children who attend the courses.

It was decided to provide central heating and a telephone service at the College.

The Secretary reported that since last meeting the College has been provided with refrigerators and a new kitchen with the most modern cooking arrangements.

A resolution was adopted and sent to the Minister for Education protesting against the injustice done to students from class A (all Irish) school who are taught all the school subjects through Irish and for whom little or no provision is made for lectures in Irish Colleges and the National University except at Galway and to some extent at Cork. The vital importance of teaching through Irish in the Colleges of National University was stressed in view of the rapid and very satisfactory progress that is being made in teaching school subjects through Irish in Primary schools and in Secondary schools up to Leaving Certificate and Matriculation standards.

A discussion took place on the recent controversy re the teaching of school subjects through Irish.

An Fear Mor referred to a pamphlet by Sean O'Cuiv, in which he made a virulent attack on what he pleased to call the "barbarous method" of teaching infants through the medium of a large map they do not understand and compared the present policy of the Education Authorities in the Free State with the infamous method adopted by the old National Board.

The late Rev. Dr. Michael Hickey, whose dearest wish was to restore Irish as the language of Ireland is actively quoted by Sean O'Cuiv to prove that, less Irish spoken in schools the sooner the language will be revived. Continuing, An Fear Mor said any one who has had any experience of teaching Irish to children knows that the child of four or five years old needs only to hear it spoken to acquire it quite easily and naturally. The older the child grows the more difficult it is for him to acquire a new language.

An Fear Mor then compared the conditions and methods of making Irish speakers today with the National Board's methods of 41 years ago and the results of the policy of the past 24 years in turning out thousands of fluent Irish speakers from primary and secondary schools compared with the few score who became good Irish speakers under nearly 50 years of the old policy of teaching Irish in schools. It is an admitted fact that with few exceptions those who taught in Irish speaking districts in the early years of the National Board had no interest in the language except to stave it out and the more successful they were in doing so the greater their reward under the old anti-Irish regime. In many schools in that district the teachers at that time knew no Irish, although their pupils knew no other language and yet teachers had to teach all school subjects through the language their pupils did not know. Today no teacher is required to teach a school subject through Irish unless he or she is qualified to do so and unless the pupils can follow the instruction given in Irish by teachers. The teacher is required to give the pupils a good knowledge of the language before instruction is given in the school subject through Irish.

The most scientific methods of language teaching are adopted in our schools today compared with the crude methods of fifty or more years ago. When one reflects upon the position of Irish in the schools sixteen years ago, and the comparatively few teachers who were well qualified to teach it and the position the language occupies today, one most marvels at the progress that has been made in so short a time. To be convinced of the success one has only to speak in Irish to any of the rising generation in any part of the country and he will find no difficulty in speaking in Irish only in any matter he wishes to discuss. Even the newshy in the streets, if our cities and towns will follow everything said to them in Irish and carry out an Irish conversation with any one who may speak to them in Irish.

The Committee placed on record deep regret at the death of Mr. Padraig Mac-Suibhne, retired Divisional Inspector of Schools. The late Mr. Mac-Suibhne was a native of Ring parish. He had been a member of the Committee of Management of the College for 25 years, and frequently travelled long distances to attend the Committee meetings. His Scholarship, wise counsel and experience as an educationist, were valuable assets to the work of the Committee and the College.

The Committee tendered deep sympathy to his widow and sons and daughter in their bereavement.

SUCCESSFUL "BREAK-UP" PLAY BY TECHNICAL SCHOOL STUDENTS

School Amateurs Splendid Display

On Tuesday evening, December 22nd, 1936, an Irish play entitled "Bunhairt agus Brod" was staged by the Dungarvan Technical School Amateur Players at the Technical School, Mary Street. The cast was entirely composed of Junior Commercial Students, who, under the capable tuition of Mr. P. O'Milleada, the producer, had for the past month thrown themselves heart and soul into the task of preparing costumes (which were all made by the nimble fingers of the young ladies themselves), settings, decorations, and in rehearsing.

The curtain was scheduled to rise at 8 p.m., but from 7.30 p.m. onwards a steady stream of people, young and old, poured in to the school, and a quarter of an hour before the play commenced the room was packed to capacity, so that further admission had to refuse, and the doors closed on many disappointed late-comers.

At 8 o'clock sharp, before the young actresses went on the stage for the first scene of what proved to be a most delightful and well-rendered play, Mr. O'Milleada gave a summary of the story in English for the benefit of those in the audience whose knowledge of the native tongue was limited.

Miss Angela Byrne as "Brigid" the widow's daughter, gave a very realistic display together with her "cruel step-mother" which part was admirably taken by Miss Noreen O'Sullivan. Miss Joan Johnson had the role of the charming young Prince who sought Brigid's hand and she acquitted herself with real courtly gallantry. Miss Winifred Bennett, who was "Queen" carried herself with all the grace and dignity that befitted a lady of "Royal" birth. The "Three Witches" who "changed sorrow into joy" were represented in splendid reality by Misses Nuala Cullinan, Noreen Daniel and Maura Daly.

The following players in their colourful period costumes lent a picturesque touch to the scenes. The "Court Ladies" were Miss Alice O'Connor, Nancy Foley, Josephine McGrath, Josie Harriman, Birdie Cullinan, Maura Kennedy. "Her Majesty's Soldiers" were Misses Eileen Sheridan, Eileen Daly, Angela Murphy, Kathleen McGrath, Biddy O'Sullivan, Olive Duggan. During pauses for scene-shifting, numerous Irish dances, which delighted the audience, were rendered by Mrs. McGrath's dancing troupe, to the strains of rousing traditional airs played on the violin by Miss Gertrude Anderson. Mrs. McGrath personally took the stage for a jig and reel, and was encored to the echo. An Irish dialogue between Miss Maura Daly and Miss Eileen Daly was suitably received. Miss Sheila Crowley gave a splendid selection of tunes on her accordion all during the evening.

At the conclusion, Mr. J. Xanigan, C. I. D., thanking the audience apologised for lack of space, and expressed the hope that this was the beginning of a long series of such delightful plays by the students.

A most pleasant evening's entertainment was brought to a close with the singing of the National Anthem in Gaelic by a chorus of the players.

WHEAT PRICES

Highest For 7 Years In Chicago

Wheat prices in Chicago reached the highest levels for seven years as the result of reports that foreign countries would shortly resume buying on an extensive scale.

December futures touched 1.43 dozs., May 1.37 1/2, and July 1.21 1/2. Towards the end of the session prices fell a little as the result of profit-taking.

A contributory factor in the rise in December futures was that Monday last was the last day for trading in them.

Click Or (Dental) Clinic?

At the last meeting of the Waterford County Board of Public Assistance, Dr. O'Farrell, County M.O.H., applied for permission to use the dispensaries throughout the County for the purpose of dental clinics.

Dr. Casey's Successful Agitation— I can state without exaggeration that were it not for the agitation carried on by Dr. Casey for the past five years there would be no move made to build proper dispensary premises in Dungarvan and the poor people would be kept in the same rut for the present generation.

Irish-Ireland Activities in East Waterford— The Irish language classes under the auspices of the County Waterford Vocational Education Committee held at Kilmeehan and Butlerstown during the past year have been very successful.

The Development of Drama— Appointment of Inspectors— It is interesting to note that the Department of Education has appointed an Inspector to supervise and develop drama in the Saorstát—Geroid O'Sullivan of Abbey Theatre fame.

Waterford City Timber Merchant Unlucky in Dungarvan Port— A Waterford City timber merchant has arranged to export a cargo of pit-wood from the Dungarvan Quay to a cross-Channel Port in the course of the next couple of weeks.

No Waterford Broadcasts—Because There is no Regional Committee— A very successful Ceilidhe was held in the Gaelic League Hall, Lady Lane, Waterford, on last Sunday night.

YOUGHAL STRAND CHURCH Opening an Xmas Week Fete in the Town Hall, Youghal, on Monday night, week in aid of the Strand Church Fund, the Very Rev. D. Canoa Dineen, D.D., P.P., congratulated the Committee on their praiseworthy zeal and untiring energy in the good cause.

CAPPOQUIN RACE FUND

Successful Whist Drive in Cappoquin

For the purpose of helping to raise the necessary funds for the holding of the Annual Point-to-Point Races in Cappoquin next February, a Monster Whist Drive was held in the Boathouse Hall, Cappoquin, on St. Stephen's Night, and was warmly supported by large numbers of the sporting ladies and gentlemen from Dungarvan, Clashmore, Tallow, Lismore, Youghal, Cappoquin and many of the surrounding districts in West Waterford.

Followers of the West Waterford Hunt were greatly in evidence, the most prominent members of the Hunt present being Mr. Ion Villiers Stuart, M.F.H., Dromana, Mrs. Villiers Stuart, do., Mr. R. L. Keane, Belleville Park, Cappoquin and Miss Freda Keane, do.

Splendid arrangements were made for the event by Messrs. M. J. Sargent, P.C. and P. Foley, Hon. Secs., of the Cappoquin Race Committee, ably assisted by Messrs. P. Cahill, Senr., M. F. Walsh, P.C., Jas. Lincoln, Treas., J. McCarthy, B.A., John Regan, Senr., and other members of the Committee, and under their courteous and efficient management everything passed off in the smoothest and most harmonious manner.

Mr. M. J. Sargent, P.C., proved a most courteous and capable M.C., and the large party of 152 players, representing 38 tables, spent a most enjoyable and interesting night.

After 24 keenly-contested games, the prize-winners were announced as follows: Ladies 1st Prize—A Xmas Hamper, containing 1/2 Side of Cappoquin Bacon, Turkey, Pheasant, Grand Cake, Tea and Sugar, Chocolates, Barm Brack, Bottle of Wine and Ox Tongue, won by Miss North Foley, Dungarvan, (83); 2nd Prize—Splendid Cushion and Silk Bed Spread, won by Mrs. Frawley, Lismore, (186); 3rd Prize—Silk Scarf and Lady's Hand Bag, won by Miss G. Deasey, Dungarvan, (179).

Gents' 1st Prize—Xmas Hamper, containing 1/2 Side of Cappoquin Bacon, Goose, Pheasant, Bottle of Champagne, Bottle of Port, Grand Cake, Tea, and Sugar, Cigarettes and Ox Tongue, won by Mr. P. Troy, Clashmore, (163); 2nd Prize—Cappoquin Ham and Bottle of Port, won by Mr. Michael Lynch, Main Street, Dungarvan, (161); 3rd Prize—Plaided Hunting Reins and a Bottle of Port, won by Mr. M. Olden, Cappoquin (158).

Ladies' Number Prizes were won by Miss E. Mangan, Corrigaunour and Miss K. Cullinane, Lismore, while Gents number Prizes were won by Messrs. David Barry, Lismore and G. P. Hely, Cappoquin, and a special prize was won by Miss Lane, Lismore.

At the conclusion of the games, the prizes were graciously distributed to the winners by Mrs. Villiers Stuart, Dromana, who warmly congratulated the various recipients, and on behalf of the Cappoquin Race Committee she cordially thanked all the ladies and gentlemen who had so generously supported the Whist Drive that night and who by their kindness and sportsmanship in attending the event had so materially helped the funds of the Cappoquin Point-to-Point Races (loud applause).

CAPPOQUIN ROWING CLUB

A Record-Breaking Xmas Dance

The Annual Xmas Dance under the auspices of the Cappoquin Rowing Club, which had been held on St. Stephen's Night for several years past, was not held until Sunday night December, 27th this year, owing to St. Stephen's Day falling on Saturday, but the change of date, instead of having any adverse effect on the function, only resulted in the dance breaking all previous records in Cappoquin, both as regards the attendance and the all-round success and enjoyment of the event.

The large Boathouse Hall, which had frequently held large numbers of dancers at previous functions, was never taxed to such an extent as on the present occasion as visitors attended from all parts of the Co. Waterford, as well as from various parts of Cork and Tipperary, and there must have been well over 500 persons present when the dance was in full swing about 11 p.m.

Although the presence of this abnormally large attendance naturally resulted in some congestion, still there was not the slightest confusion or disorder, and the best of order and good humour prevailed during the night, which was a high tribute to the courteous and tactful manner in which the onerous duties of M.C. were carried out by Mr. James Daly, who received invaluable assistance from the Officers and Committee of the Rowing Club.

Considering that the attendance at the Rowing Club Concert the previous Sunday night was the largest ever seen at a similar entertainment in Cappoquin, the record-breaking attendance at the dance on last Sunday night only confirmed the fact that the Cappoquin Rowing Club enjoys the most widespread popularity amongst all classes in the Co. Waterford, and there need be no doubt about the success of any similar function held by this old-established Club in future.

The festive decorations in the hall and the bright and tasteful toilettes of the ladies provided a rare and attractive picture of colour and brilliancy, and the scene was one of unwonted gaiety and enjoyment from start to finish.

The catering arrangements were in the capable hands of Mr. G. Watson, Cappoquin, and it is a great credit to him to be able to state that despite the unexpectedly huge attendance, he was fully equal to the heavy task of catering for all, and both he and his courteous and capable staff of assistants deserve to be congratulated on the excellent manner in

THE POPE'S MESSAGE

"Signs And Portents Of Terrifying Realities"

A SOLEMN WARNING

IN a broadcast address on Christmas Eve to the world from his bedside in the Vatican, where he is confined by illness, His Holiness the Pope solemnly warned of the grave evils of the times.

"Against the will of God, Who came to bring peace to men of goodwill," the Pope said, "there contends the malevolence of many misguided enemies of that Divine Child Who desired to become man and dwell among us full of grace and truth, so that of His fullness we might all receive the grace for grace."

"Hence, we, on the recurrence of these holy days, and almost constantly on every occasion given us to open our hearts not only to you but to all the great Catholic family, have desired to unite to our message of spiritual joy some expression of the bitter sorrow of our paternal hearts, passed by the many great evils which in these days have fallen like a scourge on humanity, on civil society, and on the Church, at the same time point out to all the gravity of the perils that threaten us, exhorting all to vigilance and action, and to the union of all men of goodwill against the propaganda of the enemy, and his constantly renewed attempts to bring about the ruin of the most fundamental principles of human society, of the family, and of the individual."

Referring to the carnage and destruction of the civil war in Spain, His Holiness said that there, it seemed, the evil forces wished to make supreme experiment of all the destructive forces at their command. "Here are signs and portents of terrifying realities of what is being prepared for Europe and the whole world if they do not hasten to adopt the necessary remedies of defence."

In a reference assumed to be directed to the Nazi policy, the Pope said, among those who pretended to be the defenders of order and civilisation against the spread of Atheist Communism, "we see with sorrow not a few allowing themselves to be dominated and guided by false and fatal ideas, both in their choice of remedies and in the appraisal of their adversaries."

SAORSTAT CHRISTMAS MESSAGE TO POPE

Holy Father's Reply

The following statement was issued by the Government Information Bureau— The following telegram was sent by the President to the Cardinal Secretary of State on the 24th inst.:

"His Eminence Cardinal Secretary of State, Vatican City.—I beg your Eminence to convey to the Holy Father the humble and devoted homage of the members of the Government and of the people of Saorstát Eireann with very sincere good wishes for Christmas and the New Year.

"They have learned with deep regret of the illness of His Holiness, and they earnestly pray that his recovery may be rapid and complete.

"Please accept, Eminence, my personal good wishes for Christmas and the New Year.

"EAMON DE VALERA"

The following reply was received on Christmas Day—

"His Excellency President de Valera, Dublin.—Holy Father profoundly touched by devoted homage and prayers and greetings sent to him by your Excellency on behalf of the members of the Government and of the people of Saorstát Eireann.

"In token of grateful appreciation and as a pledge of abiding grace His Holiness imparts to your Excellency and to the Government and faithful people his paternal Apostolic Benediction.

"I deeply appreciate personal greetings of your Excellency and reciprocate them with the best good wishes for all blessings during the New Year.

FALL INTO RIVER.

CHRISTMAS EVE TRAGEDY IN WATERFORD

A sad drowning occurred on Christmas Eve. Two workers employed at Mr. P. A. Wade's garage, the Quay, observed a middle-aged man walk on to the hulk beside the graving bank directly opposite and fall into the river Suir. They immediately dashed to the hulkside, but the man failed to reappear. Later a cap was picked up close to the spot.

Waterford Garda have been notified that a coal worker named John O'Brien, 45, has been missing from home at Mooncoin, Co. Kilkenny since Christmas Eve. O'Brien who was employed by Messrs. Morris, Piltown, Co. Kilkenny, is stated to have left home for Waterford County Hospital on Christmas Eve. He did not arrive at the latter institution, and no information is available as to his whereabouts.

which they performed their heavy and difficult task.

Splendid music was rendered by the popular Nightingale Orchestra, Lismore, under the baton of Mr. P. Gillan, conductor, with Miss A. O'Connell, Lismore, at the piano, and to its sweet and haunting strains dancing was kept up with vigour and enjoyment until the strains of the National Anthem in the morning concluded the biggest, the best and the most successful dance ever held in Cappoquin.

LISMORE NOTES.

Xmas—

The Christmas Festival was observed in Lismore in a most impressive manner.

The religious aspect of Christmas was as usual the most outstanding one. The decorations of St. Carthage's Cathedral, Lismore, were on an extensive scale, and in accordance with previous years, the general effect being most artistic: The High Altar was beautifully dressed.

Hundreds of people began Christmas day by assisting at the 7 o'clock Mass and the crowded Church bore eloquent testimony to their devotion to the Faith.

A splendid choir rendered appropriate carols before Mass commenced, and practically the entire congregation received Holy Communion.

St. Stephen's Day— St. Stephen's Day was signalled to the people of Lismore by the appearance of the "Wren Boys" early in the morning, who went their rounds in fantastic array, and it is fairly safe to estimate that no private residence in the town was visited over and over again.

The annual all-night dance held on St. Stephen's Night at the Cinema Hall, Tallow, may be recorded as being one of the most successful and enjoyable held in the Cinema hall, Tallow since its erection.

In spite of the unusually large attendance participating, the energetic Committee in charge managed to keep the best of regularity and order right throughout the night, and indeed the commissariat department had no easy task to cater for the large assembly, estimated at 300 couples present.

The Youghal Dance Band did justice to the occasion, rendering a programme of music truly applicable to the aftermath of the Christmas spirit, and the night was brought to a close with the playing of the National Anthem.

TALLOW NEWS

Motor Accident at Lismore—Two Tallow Cars Involved—

Early on Christmas night, adjacent to Lismore, on the Cappoquin road a serious motor accident occurred. Two cars belonging to two Tallow garage proprietors being involved, viz. Messrs. O'Brien, Bros., and Messrs. Fitzgerald Bros., the former being driven by Mr. D. O'Brien, who was accompanied by Mrs. O'Brien, his son Michael and his sister-in-law Miss Dorgan. The second car in which there were two passengers being driven by Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald. As a result of the impact the cars were locked in each other and with great difficulty were separated.

Radiators, lamps, window screens, bumper, and mudguards being rendered practically useless. The only person injured was Miss Dorgan, who received a rather nasty cut on the forehead and suffered severely from shock, necessitating medical attention.

She was removed to Dr. Healy's House, where the wound was dressed. The other passengers and drivers were very much unharmed, but all escaped injury.

Christmas in Tallow—

The Holy Season of Christmas was observed here with the usual religious fervour and solemnity. First Mass was celebrated by Rev. Fr. O'Gorman, C.C., at 7 o'clock, the Church being filled to capacity and practically all the congregation approached the altar rails to receive Holy Communion.

At the conclusion of the first Mass a second Mass was offered up, this being followed by a third Mass which were also celebrated by Fr. O'Gorman. The congregations at both Masses being very large. The choir's rendering of the Sacred music and adeste was most impressive and devotional.

The Holy Sacrifice was again celebrated at 11.30 a.m. by Rev. Fr. Corbett, C.C., at which there was present an exceedingly large congregation, all of whom remained to pay homage by assisting at Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament which followed.

THE LATE SISTER M. STANISLAUS SHEE

KILMACTHOMAS NEWS.

CHRISTMAS TRADE.
The general opinion amongst our local traders and business people is that the Old Year's Christmas trade was the best experienced for a decade. The amount of the figure of former years, and it is only fair to mention that numerous cheques were also received from exiled friends in England. The carrying out of some minor relief schemes in the district (repairing of roads at Brenan and Lyre) made it possible for many householders to procure some little luxury for the Great Festival.
Many Mid-Waterfordians positioned in London and other cross-Channel centres returned to their natal homes for the Yuletide.

POST OFFICE ACTIVITIES.
Mr. George Brown, Postmaster, Kilmac-thomas, and his indoor and outdoor staffs had an exceptionally busy time at the Christmas. The sorting of the heavy outgoing and still heavier incoming mails kept them working at high pressure. Our most estimable Postmaster and his able helpers cannot be too highly complimented on the expeditious manner in which thousands of letters and parcels were sorted, dispatched and delivered by them.
And things were carried out in a similarly praiseworthy way at the sub-offices at Kil-rossanty (Mrs. M. Power, postmistress); Stradbally (Miss K. Hannigan, do.); Bon-mahon (Mr. E. Fitzgerald, do.), and Kill
(Mr. J. J. Walsh, postmaster).

CHRISTMAS DAY.
The joyous Festival of the Nativity was one of the finest in memory (it resembled a day in spring more than one in midwinter), and was celebrated in our midst with all the religious fervour and devotion befitting this great anniversary. Large congregations assisted at the three Masses celebrated by Fr. Hally, in the Convent Church. Big numbers of the faithful received Holy Communion at the early Mass. The altar was beautifully decorated, being resplendent with flowers, ever-greens and brilliant lights. The Sacred Music, which was prayerfully rendered by the Convent Church Choir under the capable guidance of Sr. Anthony, added considerably to the impressiveness of the occasion.

ST STEPHEN'S DAY.
On St. Stephen's Day young and old enjoyed themselves as usual. Bands of "wren boys" were out and about from an early hour. The comical "get-up" and "doings" of these gangs were much enjoyed by the townsfolk, and subscriptions for "the burial of the king of all birds" were freely given at every door.

LOOKING BACK.
Although '36 was a Leap Year, the number of weddings registered in the Mid-Dese district hardly exceeded that of 1935. And within the ambit of the annum which has just joined its dead-compeers, a supplemental water supply was installed into Kilmacthomas, while down Bon-mahon way high hopes of a successful resumption of mining operations (for copper and other minerals) were raised and — dashed to ground! Several farmers throughout the area will always refer to 1936 as "The year of the rabbit pest."

AND FORWARD.
'37 promises well, and there is quite a lot to be done. Our long deferred housing scheme should materialise without further delay; also the long promised Technical School. Kilmacthomas is an ideal centre for a factory. Its inhabitants should wake up and organise in their own interest. With united action the starting of some suitable industry might be speeded up. A handball court and a good brass band might be provided for the town.
The good people of Stradbally are up and doing, and they will have an adequate water and sewerage scheme installed into the village ere long. Old roads have to be improved, and new ones made, and experiments in forestry might begin.

COMING EVENTS.
Of course, the uppermost topic of conversation on all sides is the grand all-night dance taking place at Baldwin's spacious, up-to-date hall at Kill, tonight (New Year's Night), under the auspices of the Co. Waterford Ploughing Competition Committee (assisted by the Newtown Ploughing Match Committee). With much masterly organisers as Laurence Veale and David Kiersey at the helm, intending patrons are assured that adequate arrangements will have been made to cater for their comfort and enjoyment. Tip-top music will be provided by the Bohemian Dance Band, Waterford, and the culinary department will leave nothing to be desired. So—attend with your friends!
There will be a grand Whist Drive at the Kilmacthomas Boys' N.S. on Sunday night next (3rd inst.), in aid of the local Parochial Debt, and there is no doubt that the people of the town and district will favour the function with their fullest support. The drive will be admirably regulated, and the top-scorers and runners-up will receive handsome money prizes.
The semi-final and final rounds of the Ballynaneen Parochial Committee's "45" Card Drive will be played off at the local schoolhouse at an early date. Prize money totals £16. It promises to be a great success, as also does the Newtown Fianna Fall Club's "45" Drive, which finishes up at Kilmacthomas Hall, on the 10th inst.
The County Waterford Ploughing Competition Committee have decided to hold their Annual Ploughing Match (usual classes) at Newtown on next Wednesday forenoon (20th inst.), and it is confidently anticipated that the future will pan out a tremendous success from every standpoint.

"SNAPPY" INDEED.
A sterling son of Stradbally had an a'e'a namusing experience in the sparkling sunshine of St. Stephen's Day. In his garden he was approached by a medical student (a Dubliner spending the Noëltide with friends there—or thereabouts).

who, having complimented him on the beauty of his flowers and the neat and original design of his rockery, asked him would he mind if he brought in a young lady just for a minute or so, in order to get a nice background for a few snaps!
The request having been acceded to, the girl was called in, and the garden for a minute or so was turned into a photographer's studio. As the owner commented—"snappy!"

We Put It To You (Serious and Not).
That on Tuesday of this week Kilmac-thomas had what was its smallest and worst monthly fair of the Old Year—
That the Metal Man was one of the Tromore toppers who woke up "crawsick" at cock-crow this morning—That the icy cold which blew under a goosefeather sky on Monday evening compelled a comely Nire Valley virgin to handle her "hankey" 999 times in the course of her cycle trip to and from Tour-neen—
That painless dentistry was first practised in the Dese by a dentist of the Dunhill district, dubbed "Gum Boyle, on New Year's Eve, 1846—
That whenever Windgap's weightiest woman drops into a chair all the windows in her and her husband's house and home immediately rattle—
AND—
That when Annewstown Anne thinks of the burning ardour which fills our hearts each New Year's Eve to become better individuals, it seems almost impossible that within the space of a mere week this fringe glow should habitually sink to so low a degree of frigidity that you could skate on it.

GREETINGS (PERSONAL).
Once more we have entered into a New Year, and to Mr. Editor and his staff and to all readers of the "Observer" at home and abroad, your simple scribbler sincerely sends greetings, and a wish for health, happiness and prosperity from toe to heel of 1937. If perchance any "uisca beata" is on hand, take a "shimbleful" for "msee bocht fein" and think that if it were in my power nothing in the world would keep me from dropping in to drink it myself, because drinking by proxy is for the absent one a most unsatisfactory state of affairs. Well—jolly good to everybody!

BY THE WAY.
You may not be a business person, but you probably know sufficient about shop-keeping to realise that one of the worries of trading is collecting small accounts (This is not to say that all the larger accounts are paid up on the nail). It is not the pleasantest of duties to keep dunning customers for more or less trifling sums.
Your humble news-writer has (on behalf of shopkeepers, of course!) hit on a neat and tactful way of reminding laggard clients that they do not stand square on the books. Just type on the over due account these few lines—
If a body trust a body,
And fail to get prompt pay,
May a body ask a body
Please remit today?
Please.

SYMPATHY.
Widespread sympathy is extended to Mrs. John Halpin, Durrow, in her sad bereavement occasioned by the death of her sister, Miss Alice Flynn (formerly of Robertstown, Kilrossanty), which sad event occurred at her residence at Exmouth, South Devon, England, last week, after a brief illness, and at a comparatively early age.—(R.L.P.)

AGAIN.
Much public sympathy is also tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Cowman, Mahonbridge, Kilmacthomas, in their great sorrow and loss caused by the death—early this week—of a four-years-old son of theirs.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

Mrs. Williams, Touraine, begs to thank most sincerely all the very kind friends who thought of, and sympathized with her, in her great sorrow, and wishes to say that every member of her family joins with her in this expression of gratitude. She hopes that all friends will accept this acknowledgment, as it would be almost impossible to write to each one individually.

IN MEMORIAM

JOYCE—In fond remembrance of Redmond Joyce, Colligan, who died Dec. 29th, 1935.—R.I.P.—Masses offered—A Friend.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

XMAS IN DUNGARVAN.

Xmas 1936 will long be remembered as being the most seasonal for a long number of years. Weather conditions were unusually good. Xmas week was the calmest of the season, which enabled our people to enjoy the festive season in the old time honoured way. During the days previous to Christmas a great boon was noticeable in the volume of trade transacted and money circulated freely. This Xmas was indeed a relic of the good old days when men drank deep and the price was low. The new year is now at hand, so let us hope that 1937 will be a happy and prosperous one for the old land.

Solemn High Masses at Midnight were celebrated at the Parish Church and St. Augustine's and High Mass was also celebrated at Abbesside Parish Church, in honour of the Feast of the Nativity. The altars in all three Churches were beautifully decorated and the sacred edifice were filled to overflowing with faithful worshippers. The Sacred music rendered by the choir before and during the Holy Sacrifice being of the very highest order and added to the solemnity of the services connected with the Feast of the Nativity.

AMUSEMENTS.

There were plenty of amusements provided for the people and the Cinema and dance halls were packed with crowds of happy people enjoying the spirit of Christmas.

CONDOLANCE.

A specially convened meeting of the Committee of the Literary Club, Dungarvan, it was proposed by Mr. Phelan, and seconded by Mr. Stokes. "That we tender to Mrs. K. Lynch, and family our deepest sympathy on their recent sad bereavement. It was also proposed by Mr. Phelan, and seconded by Mr. O'Neill. "That we tender to our Solicitor, Mr. T. C. Williams, and family our deepest sympathy on the death of his brother."

DEATH OF MASTER P. McGRATH, BALLINAMEELA.

We regret to announce the death of Master Patrick McGrath, son of Mr. Jas. McGrath, Ballinameela, which took place at the Cottage Hospital, Youghal, after a few days illness. The funeral from Youghal on Monday was very large. The interment took place at Clashmore. Very Rev. Fr. Murphy, P.P., Clashmore recited the last prayers at the grave-site.—R.I.P.

CONDOLANCE.

At the meeting of the Vocational Education Committee, the following resolution was passed in silence:—Proposed by Mr. Commissioner Moynihan, seconded by Rev. M. F. Hearn. "That we desire to express our sincere sorrow on the death of the late Mr. J. A. Lynch, Proprietor and Editor of 'Dungarvan Observer.' That we tender our sympathy to his wife and relatives."

GOLF NEWS.

The Xmas hamper was won by Mr. M. Fitzgerald and Miss A. Dempsey, who tied with J. Lynch and Miss M. M. Mullins, both scores being all flat with bogey. In the play-off it was won on the 19th hole after a great game by the former pair.

The Golf Club intend running a Winter Drive at Ocean View Hotel on Sunday night, January 10th, for valuable Cash Prizes, to which all are welcome.

BEAGLE CLUB.

The Waterford and Dungarvan Beagles will meet at the Square, Dungarvan, on Sunday next 3rd January, at 12 o'clock. Followers will note that it is only with the kind permission of farmers in the locality it is possible to hunt over their lands. Gates should not be allowed remain open or fences injured.

LITERARY CLUB DANCE.

The Fifth Annual Dance of the Literary Club, Dungarvan, promises to eclipse all former dances held by this popular Club. With the best of music by Miss Vic. Clarke-Barry and the culinary arrangements in the capable hands of Mrs. Greene, Square, everything points to a record night.

XMAS IN THE POST OFFICE.

Our postal staff both indoor and outdoor under the efficient Postmaster—Mr. O'Mahony—deserves the best thank of the public for the excellent and expeditious manner in which they handled the huge Xmas mails for despatch and distribution. The various deliveries were got through with complete satisfaction to all in good time.

DEATH OF V. REV. CANON QUINLAN, BOHERLAHAN.

The death of Very Rev. Canon Quinlan, P.P., Boherlahan after a brief illness came as a great shock to the people of Boherlahan and throughout the Archdiocese of Cashel.—R.I.P.

The deceased was a popular figure in hunting circles and was a regular follower of the Tipperary foxhounds. The late Canon was uncle of Mr. Pat. Quinlan, Nire Vale, Ballymacarbery.

DUNGARVAN COURSING CLUB

SUCCESSFUL MEETING

One of the most successful Coursing Fixtures of the season was that held under the auspices of the Dungarvan Coursing Club, on Thursday, over the splendid Course at Ballyegan. Despite the inclemency of the weather and the heavy showers that fell on Thursday morning the attendance beat all records. The weather cleared about 12 o'clock (noon) and the rest of the evening held dry thus enabling the meeting to be held. The ground did not suffer much and with good stout-hearted hares the large attendance were treated to a splendid evening's sport. The five stakes on the card represented all the well-known lovers of the long tails in the County.

The arrangements were perfect in every detail and the Committee and Officials with their expert Hon. Secs.—T. B. Boyle, and P. O'Shea—saw that perfect satisfaction would be given to all patrons. The meeting was carried through in record time without a hitch.

Mr. Martin Walsh, as Judge, and Mr. M. J. Redmond, as Slipper did their work with complete satisfaction to all. Mr. Jas. Fitzgerald, Shanbally, who is a trainer of high repute was very highly complimented on the fine performance of his good dog Future Ryland, whom some good judges described as a second Future Cutlet, when he won the Coolnagour Stake and Valuable Roche Cup.

Patrons—Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., Very Rev. J. Gleeson, P. Rev. T. Walsh, C.C., E. A. Ryan, Esq., State Solr., P. Egan, Esq., S. J. Moynihan, Commissioner.

Dungarvan Urban Council

A special meeting of the above was held on Wednesday 23rd December for the purpose of paying the men before Xmas Day.

Mr. M. Morrissey, Chairman, presided and others present being—Messrs. D. Hill, McCarthy and J. F. Foley.

Late Major Williams

Mr. J. F. Foley, proposed, and Mr. D. Hill, seconded, the following resolution, which was passed in silence:— "That the deepest sympathy be extended to the family of the late Major J. W. Williams, on his untimely death in the service of his country on the North West Frontier of India."

Housing Tenders

At a special meeting of the Council on Wednesday 30th, a letter regarding the recent housing tenders was read from the Department relative to the withdrawal of Mr. M. Whelan's tender for the erection of 139 houses. The letter stated that having regard to the high tenders received the Minister considers it will be necessary to revise the specifications and re-advertise the contract. New advertisements should not be published until the Minister has approved of the revised specification. The letter also asked the Council to instruct their Architects to examine the specification carefully with a view to the elimination of all non-essentials.

Acknowledgment

A letter acknowledging resolution of sympathy passed to them in their recent bereavement was read from Mr. James Power, Kilminton, on behalf of the family.

LATE MAJOR J. W. WILLIAMS

Expressions of profound regret were voiced on all sides on last Wednesday week when a cable announcing the death of Major J. W. Williams, was received from India.

The deceased was the second son of the late John F. and Mrs. Williams, Touraine, Dungarvan.

Educated at Clongowes Wood College, the late Major Williams received a Commission in the Royal Irish Regiment at the age of 16, and was shortly afterwards transferred to the Indian Army. He served through the whole term of the great war on several fronts.

The late Major Williams was a noted sportsman, and a yachtsman of the first water, and it was only last summer, accompanied by his charming young wife, he spent part of his leave on board a beautiful Yacht in the harbour.

To his bereaved wife, his mother, sisters and brothers, we tender our sincere sympathy in their sad bereavement.

NEW YEAR'S GREETINGS FROM KEANES MINERAL WATER FACTORY

APPRECIATION FOR SUPPORT OF LOCAL INDUSTRY

We take this opportunity of wishing each and all of our many friends and customers a very Happy New Year, and we desire to express our gratitude to them for their kind patronage during the past twelve months. It must be a pleasure for them as it is for us to realise that in purchasing our drinks they have helped to build up local industry in a very practical way.

For many years past Dungarvan traders have purchased a large percentage of their requirements in Mineral Waters from outside sources. Late in 1935 we opened an up-to-date factory and success has crowned our efforts. Having manufactured such a high-class article town traders have shown their appreciation of it by giving us their full support, with the result that during the year just ended we have sold approximately 6,500 dozens of our Mineral waters inside the town walls, thereby retaining in the town trade that would otherwise have gone to outside counties.

This is good news for Dungarvan, and it is a noteworthy fact that once the people were assured of a reliable quality the majority have acted up to the proper civic spirit and supported local industry. May we appeal to the general public to observe the slogan "Support Local Industry" in any and every branch. It is the proper civic spirit

Civil Bills

There was a large number of undefended civil bills, in which Messrs. W. R. Hodnett, T. K. Keane, W. J. Barry and W. St. Clair Rice, solrs., appeared for plaintiffs.

Provincial Bank v. Gleeson

This was an application for a Commitment Order. Mr. Hodnett for plaintiffs, said the defendant asked for an adjournment and he had no objection.

Dance License

Mr. Rice, applied on behalf of T. J. Barry, Killeagh, for a dance license for 27th February and 6th January, from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. He had already a license, but not for those nights.

The Justice—What is this exactly? Mr. Rice—You granted a general licence—no all nights. Now he is applying for those two nights.

The Justice—Why should I grant it? Mr. Rice said he understood there was no objection.

The Justice said he wished to make it quite clear that he did not like applications of that kind where there was no proper notice given to the public.

Supt. Kelly said there was no objection by the Guards. The hall had been well conducted since the license was granted.

The Justice said his objection still remained. He would grant that application in the circumstances, but he would not encourage applications of that sort.

Obstructing Sheriff's Officer

John Morrissey and his sister, Bridget of Gortnagappal, were charged with obstructing a Sheriff's Officer.

Supt. Kelly, prosecuted, and Mr. T. Hutch, solr., Middleton, defended.

The Justice—Under what section do you proceed? The Supt.—Under Section 24 of the Enforcement of Courts Order Act 1926.

John Morrissey, not appearing. The Justice said the case could not be proceeded with in his absence.

The Supt. said Mr. Hutch appeared for them. To get rid of the case, he would withdraw the charge against the absentees. The sister was the principal defendant.

The Justice—What are the facts? The Supt. said that on the 23rd Sept., John Boylan, Sheriff's messenger, went to execute a decree against the brother.

He saw cattle on the lands and the sister told him they belonged to John. He went to seize a cow and that lady set a dog and three stones at him, and the brother came along and assaulted him.

He procured the assistance of the Guards at Killeagh and seized the cow and again she set the dog at him. They drove the animal to Killeagh. She followed and made a declaration before a P.C. that the cow was her property and it was released.

Mr. Hutch said they would admit the offence. The Superintendent said it was a serious offence involving a penalty of £50, but he would not press the case if she gave an undertaking that it would not happen again, and paid 47/6 expenses.

John Boylan, gave evidence corroborating the Superintendent's statement. Cross-examined by Mr. Hutch—The owner of the farm is Miss Morrissey? I had no idea Mr. Hutch said she was the registered owner of the lands. If she was not guilty of obstructing the officer, she was guilty of assault.

Defendant—May I speak? The Justice—You have a solicitor and he has already spoken.

Defendant denied that she told Boylan that her brother had cattle on her land.

The Justice—Your solicitor has pointed out that you assaulted this man. Are you inclined to defend this prosecution? Defendant—He took my cow. He had no order from me.

The Justice said he would have to look into the matter. The Supt.—If they were taking the wrong cow she had her remedy, but she set the dog at the officer.

Mr. Hutch—If it was a wrongful seizure, it would not be a case of obstructing the Sheriff's officer in the execution of his duty.

The Justice said she wanted the question of the legality of the seizure settled, and she could have it. He would adjourn both cases and suggested that the State Solicitor be brought in.

The Supt.—It is a pity she did not take her solicitor's advice.

Motor Tyre Cases

In the cases against James Dromey, and Wm. Casey, Toames, Macroom, adjourned from last Ardmore Court (Supt. Walsh, Dungarvan, prosecuting, and Mr. T. K. Keane, solr., defending) for not having the wheels of their motor tractors properly shod.

The Justice said he had made a laborious investigation of the Roads Traffic Act and the Orders relating to it and had come to the conclusion that the defendants were guilty of a breach of the Act. They had been using those vehicles without hindrance for some 20 years for only 2 months each year. They came all the way from West Cork to West Waterford, and very quickly they learned something they did not know before. Apparently they did very little damage to the roads. In the circumstances he would deal with the nine summonses involved under the P.O.A.

Supt. Walsh—Would your Worship get an undertaking that they will not repeat the offence? The Minister for Local Government is desirous of the defendant's should give such.

Mr. Keane—I don't think you will require any undertaking as far as the Co. Waterford is concerned (laughter).

The Justice said if they were brought up again he could not deal with them in that manner.

Assault Case

Hannah Mahony, Nile street, charged Terence O'Brien, a neighbour, with assault, there being three charges.

Defendant did not appear. Complainant stated the defendant came across the street, caught her coat and cut it with a scissors, took off her hat and threw it in the gutter and hit her in the mouth cutting her.

Replying to the Court, witness said she gave him no cause. Did you ever complain to anybody? I spoke to the Court Clerk and the Guards.

Guard Carroll, stated that the complainant came to the barrack and made a complaint. Her mouth was cut and bleeding.

Replying to the Court, Sergt. Lupton said the defendant was irresponsible when he took drink.

The Justice—I will stop this black-guardism. Defendant was fined 5/- and bound to the peace.

On the application of Mr. P. Keating, Inspector N.S.P.C.C. Cork, two girls named Mulcahy, were committed to Cove Industrial School.

YOUGHAL TECHNICAL SCHOOL

Prize Distribution

The Xmas holidays at the Technical School, Youghal, were heralded in by a distribution of Prizes to the successful pupils of the Vocational Day Classes.

The Very Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P., presided at the function, assisted by Mr. E. Ryall, Headmaster, and the teachers present were Mrs. K. M. Higgins, Miss Lawton, M. Ua Lubhaing, D. O'Loinsigh and M. O'Badhchain.

Mr. Ryall said that thanks to the generosity of Canon Dinneen and the Trustees of whom he was Chairman, prizes were provided for the students at different periods in each session—to the best at the examinations and in special subjects.

Henceforth the students would be expected to speak Irish as far as possible amongst themselves in class, at work, in the vicinity of the school and at play. In the process of teaching, English might be used, where suitable Irish words were not available. That was the policy laid down by the Department, and teachers were compelled to see that it was carried out from now on.

The Canon then distributed the prizes as follows:— 2nd Year Girls—Caitín Gleasain, 1st in Exams. 1st; Eibhlís M'Call, (Irish, English and Arithmetic), 2nd.

1st year—Girls—Realtín Peadar, 1st; Máire ní Fochlúda, 2nd; 1st year—Boys—Frank Cooper, 1st; M. Finn, 2nd, and year—Boys—L. Lee, 1st; Sean Mac Carthaigh, 2nd.

Canon Dinneen said he was very pleased to be asked to distribute those prizes and the Trustees of whom he was Chairman were indeed glad to be in a position to provide them. He was confident they would give the students a bigger interest in their work and a greater incentive to study and avail of the advantages offered by that school. He was glad to hear the Headmaster's announcement regarding the speaking of Irish amongst themselves as much as possible, and he sincerely hoped they would all try and put it into practice. Concluding, he wished them all a "Very Happy Xmas" (applause).

Mr. Ryall said he would give a prize of 10/- at Easter to the pupil who would be adjudged to have made progress and practice in the speaking of Irish between the opening in the New Year and Easter. Following the Canon's good example, he wished them all a Very Happy Christmas.

Miss Lawton—Many Happy Returns (applause).

I. N. T. O.

Opening address of the Chairman at the Public Meeting of National Teachers in Waterford City, on 5th December, 1936.

Ladies and Gentlemen,—I, I think unhesitatingly recognised that the human soul is of first and transcendent importance, for here and hereafter.

Indeed, it is not so, then our notions and ideas, principles and practices, hitherto propounded and approved would have led us nowhere.

Again, in the material and natural sphere, it is also universally held that the continued progress or decadence of a nation, depends on the training and development of its youth.

Hence, it follows, simply and clearly, pertinently and logically, that we can afford to take no chances as regards the education—physical, mental and moral of our youthful citizens.

The Government devotes this all important and vital duty, on the efficiency, or otherwise, of its performance will depend, to a very large extent, whether this country becomes a resplendent light among the nations, or a down-and-out—a mere dud.

And here, on that grand charitable and Christian principle, namely that of returning good for evil, do I wish to be scrupulously fair to the Governments which have wronged us so unscrupulously.

Here in Ireland, there are peculiar and inherent difficulties, partly because of the British evacuation, but chiefly, because of the parlous and debilitated condition of the Irish Language, so that successive native Governments have been seriously hampered in their efforts to promote the welfare of this country.

However, had the native "powers that be" only listened to the voice of reason, wisely, sanely, pertinently and persistently, preached to and at them, this deliberate but ruinous policy, economy in education, would never have been launched, and this Capital Sin so brazenly and deliberately committed, might easily have been obliterated. Even those who preen themselves as possessing the superiority-complex in abundant measure, have utterly failed to grasp why those responsible failed, and still continue to fail, to appreciate the fact that this mistaken and retrograde policy should never have been inflicted on this country, having regard to her sad plight and undeveloped condition, when through the glorious valour and splendid self-sacrifice of her sons and daughters, and their almost unique military achievements in the mountains and glens, in the hills and valleys of this fair land, Ireland was restored to her delighted people.

The Government then and since in office, must surely have visioned the tremendous task of reconstruction and other up-hill work there to do, and must, likewise, have visioned the very circumscribed limitations to the resources of our people. Yet, notwithstanding these compelling facts, which only the obtuse could have failed to discern, and the further and equally compelling factor already adverted to, namely, that economy in education is fatal to progress, yet both these Administrations within the very short space of a decade of years, cut the salaries of the Teachers to the extent of 25 per cent., and these salaries, even at their peak point, which, by the way, only a mere fraction of the Teaching Body could ever hope to aspire to, owing to insuperable obstacles and, over most of which the Teachers had absolutely no control.

Yet these were not abnormal salaries for abnormal times; they were, indeed, meant to be permanent and normal salaries for normal times. They tell us quite naively—we admit our policy has made you poorer by 25 per cent. and that it has lowered your standard of living and professional status to that extent, and, therefore, you feel aggrieved. From this, one would be led to think that the Governments expected a vote of congratulation on their national economy stunt. But why resort to unfair discrimination, and why adopt tyrannically arbitrary methods? Are not these galling and irritating grievances, and are they not fruitful in resentment? They know quite well that the lot of the teacher is not an enviable one, seeing that he is obliged to teach in insanitary, badly-constructed, and badly ventilated schools and with the very minimum of equipment. Many of these so-called schools are merely germland hovels and quite unfit to house the children of this country and its teachers. They know equally well that the terribly-unwearing sword of declining averages continually hangs over us, and dulls and blunts our energies; in fear and trembling do we daily stand lest it falls, and when it does, dire and savage consequences follow, so dire and savage, indeed, that even the County Home is not beyond contemplation.

How then can a teacher give of his best, or inspire his pupils with love of Truth and Learning? In these distressing circumstances, justice to himself and to the children committed to his care, is simply impossible, knowing that eviction from his school, and the end of his livelihood and career, may be his portion at the termination of a quarter of insufficient average. What gross extravagance! What vile maladministration! What colossal and superb indifference to the most important need of the nation!

They nonchalantly tell us that they have set us a task unique in any other country, but, despite this, they flippantly declare that they pin their faith on us to revive and popularise in the mouths of our people a practically dead language.

From this litany, one would naturally be led to believe that in the make-up of the Irish National Teacher the humanities find no place: that neither praise nor blame, reproach nor censure, can reach or affect him; that the drastic cutting of his salary, the lowering of his professional status, and of his standard of living, convey nothing to his stoic mind; and that the impossibilities of overloaded programmes and of unempathetic and unresponsive administration, merely irritate his cheeks as they pass.

That is a family of deadly consequences. To be sure, we are inured to such, and ultimately, one will get accustomed to any and every such treatment, but therein is begotten slavery, and slavery is a cruel and savage condition which may recoil, with boomerang precision, on the heads of those who would imbue and stigmatise the masses of our people with the minority complex.

Why will those people not strive to measure and appreciate the teachers' worth? Why will they not accord to them their due? Why will they not try a little of the milk of human kindness and note its effect? I suggest it might be very well worth while.

I often wonder if our rulers of today ever passed to consider what body of Irishmen and women was more instrumental than that of the teachers in setting up and making them masters in their own land? I was strongly convinced that the 1916 Rising was the Teachers' Rebellion. Act, mo bron; ta an lan imigte agus gan air act an scail-meas, agus da ndearfainn e, an tarcuise glan.

What body has formed the backbone of Irish Athletics and of the G.A.A.? One has but to look retrospectively at that fine Irish Teacher and Patriot, Michael Cusack, laying, in collaboration with that illustrious Irish Prelate, Most Rev. Dr. Croke, the foundation of the G.A.A. Picture the progress of that great National Movement until today, it is a tremendous national asset, unpurchased and unpurchasable, and the Teachers feel proud of their invaluable help in its development.

Who have made it possible to carry on with the phenomenal success which has attended the Irish Thrift Movement? 7,000 National Teachers, without fee or reward and with but scanty gratitude, if not absolute ingratitude. Had the teachers stood aloof, how long would the movement have survived? Who have helped so materially and so essentially to make the Irish Public Libraries Movement the very definite success it is demonstrating itself to be? Mr. Murphy, is with us to testify to that.

Who, in season and out of season have striven to keep alive and to fan into flame the dying embers of Gaelic culture and civilisation? Who have kept the Language alive when it was neither fashionable nor profitable to stand by it and when it was being mercilessly kicked to death with the full venom and spleen of our alien tyrants, and I regret to say, by some of Ireland's own perfidious sons and daughters. Had the Irish Teachers then stood aside, the Language of our Saints and Scholars and Martyrs, of Bridgid, Patrick and Columcille, would have long ago passed into oblivion and there would be no revival today.

All this is done gratuitously and in the best interests of this Old Land of ours and its people, of whom we are one of their bone and flesh of their flesh.

That much at least is beyond controversy, and we have, therefore, reason to expect sympathy and practical support from our fellow-countrymen. We are engaged in a great and noble work which will redound to the honour and glory of our country and in this we look for and expect the help of Irishmen and women everywhere, in striving to place Mother Ireland on the Golden Throne which once was Hero among the Nations.

But, on the other hand, if it be the hope, and desire, and ambition, to regenerate this country on unfair, slavish and discriminating lines, then I say, God help Ireland, for she will need His help as urgently as when John Bull misruled her with a rod of iron.

But Ireland, unhappy, Ireland distressed, Ireland exhausted as she was, snapped that ruthless iron quite recently, and, if she continues to be treated by her own in this cavalier and fascist fashion, she may repeat this grim and deadly process, and with very unpleasant consequences for those who, too stubbornly and doggedly continue to follow such a regime of injustice.

I make no threat, I merely invite consideration of our Celtic psychology. If slavery and injustice are to be again Ireland's portion, and even that these hated crimes be of native offspring, there will be happenings of such dire and regrettable import as will immerse this fateful land of ours in the throes and orgies of another revolution.

Therefore, in the best and dearest interests of this country, I appeal to the Government for justice and fair-dealing, and I appeal to our fellow-countrymen to see that they are secured. The teachers of Ireland ask no more and they will accept no less.

We have perfect faith in the justice of our cause and we put unlimited trust in the sense of fair-dealing of our countrymen once they grasp the truth and ramifications of the position.

It is our proud and special privilege to labour for the proper upbringing of the children of this fair land, and, though in the serene and white, I yet am sanguine enough to hope to see the fruit of that grand work which, please God, may be a source of consolation, of joy, and of pride to Dark Rosaleen.

THE WATERFORD STRIKE

Terms Of Settlement

Clover Meats Ltd., wish to draw attention to an article in the Press from Mr. T. Dunne, Secretary, Waterford Branch, Irish Transport and General Workers' Union, giving what is purported to be the settlement arrived at in the late strike. This statement is both misleading and incorrect. The following is exactly what the settlement arrived at amounts to—

Forty of the permanent hands in addition to 3 of the Engine Room staff, a Carpenter, and a Cooper, 45 in all, are to be taken back out of 112 men and boys who went on strike. The case of the man whose dismissal caused the strike was not discussed, and he is not taken back. All the men who remained at work and all the new hands who were put on during the strike are to be retained.

No threats or compulsion are to be used to force men into a Trade Union. The employees of Clover Meats, Ltd., are to be free to join or not to join a Union as they see fit.

No question of wages or conditions was discussed at any of the conferences.
