DUNGARVAN CIRCUIT COURT

INTERESTING CASES

SUNDAY OPENING OF CINEMA

The Dungarvan Circuit Court opened on Wednesday before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C.

Supt. Walsh v. Daniel Crotty
This was an appeal from the decision given by the District Justice on Wednesday January 13, when he imposed a fine of 20/- on Mr. Crotty, for exhibiting a programme of pictures on Sunday Jan. 3rd.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, for Supt. Walsh, (instructed by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., for defendant.

Mr. Ryan said that in 1929, Mr. Crotty applied to the Dungarvan Urban Council for a Sunday license for the first time and was refused. In 1935, Mr. Crotty's application for a 7-day license was granted and by 8 votes to 4 the full license granted. In 1936, the Council refused, on the casting vote of the Chairman, to grant a license. Mr. Crotty then took up an attitude of disregard and continued to show Sunday pictures. Supt. Walsh reported to the Urban Council of the Sunday opening, but the Council by a majority of votes decided not to prosecute. A motion was then put forward in the Council to allow Sunday pictures, and it was defeated by the Chairman's casting vote. Mr. Crotty continued to show pictures on Sunday, but the Council refused to prosecute. It was like running with the hare and following with the hounds. Referring to the prosecution, Mr. Ryan said that Mr. Crotty was being prosecuted under the Cinematograph Act. He referred to some English judicial decisions on the question.

Mr. McGuire, B.L., said that in this country there were not any decisions on this question. In England there were several cases which he proposed to read later on. The proposition he was putting forward was that this condition made by the Urban Council prohibiting Sunday performances was an unreasonable one and could not stand.

Mr. Wm. O'Meara, Town Clerk, produced the minutes of the Council meeting referred to in the application. Mr. Crotty applied in June 1929 for a full license. Witness produced the licence under which Mr. Crotty presently operates. The licence was from 31st March, 1929, to 31st March 1937, with Sunday excepted. This matter of the breach of the Act was reported to the Council and came up before them at a meeting but they decided not to prosecute.

His Lordship—What was the voting?
Witness—7 votes to 6.

To Mr. McGuire, witness replied that he had no books to show the letting by the Council of the hall for dances, but dances were held frequently.

Mr. McGuire—Is it a fact that the Council let the hall for Sunday dances?
Witness—Yes.

In reply to Mr. McGuire, witness said that a charge was made for Practice dances from 8 to 11. There was a different rate for Ciderella dances and All-Night dances cost 15/-.

Mr. McGuire said that in the Cinematograph Act of 1929 there was a preamble which stated that this Act was to be an Act assuring safety at Cinema performances. In England there was a Sunday Observance Act, but that did not apply here. There was no Sunday Observance Act in operation in this country at all.

Mr. McGuire, then referred to cases heard in the English Courts.

There were two counties in the Irish Free State in which no Sunday Cinema performances were held—Limerick and Waterford. There were about 156 Cinemas in the Irish Free State of which about 9 or 10 were closed on Sunday. The others were opened on Sunday. He had the Manager of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Film Co., to give evidence and he will tell that the reason the other Cinemas did not open on Sunday was because they did not apply for a license. Although this English Sunday Observance Act operated in England yet one could get a Cinema open on Sunday. This Sunday Observance Act, however, loomed very large in these cases heard before the King's Bench. Mr. McGuire here quoted extracts from English cases.

Continuing, Mr. McGuire, said that his argument was that this condition imposed by the Urban Council was unreasonable. The Urban Council imposed this condition, yet they, themselves, held Sunday night dances on their own premises. They had called no evidence to justify that condition.

They had in this country a public censorship of films. In the year 1911 this was entirely different. There was a certain depravity in films because no censorship existed. Now in 1937 no film was presented which was not fit to be shown. In addition to this Public Censorship there was an appeal Board on which there was a representative from the Roman Catholic Church and the Church of England. Films shown now were a different proposition from those shown in 1911. There was an atmosphere over these Sunday performances as if something queer, something to be prohibited. But there was a censor over films while there was no such guarantee about dances, whist drives or 45 drives.

This was the first case of this kind to come before a Court in the Irish Free State. The onus was on the Urban District Council to show that Sunday performances were against Public Interest. Mr. Ryan—I am not representing the Urban Council.

The Defence
Mr. Nevill, said he was the Manager of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Co., in this country and his Company dealt with every cinema in the Irish Free State. There were 174 Cinemas in the Irish Free State. Of the 174 Cinemas, 200 booked films for Sunday. The other Cinemas were not allowed to open. There was, he understood, some restrictions to the opening.

X His Lordship—Where are these other Cinemas?
Witness—In Limerick and Waterford. There is one in Drogheda, but I believe it is due to some clause in the lease.

In Waterford there were 5 Cinemas. Two were opened on Sunday and 2 were closed. The 2 were opened in Lismore. He did not think that there was ever an application made for the other two Cinemas. Regarding the type of pictures, witness said that in 1911 there were possibly 2 or 3 pictures a year not suitable, but now since this Purity League had started in America, pictures were better and they had no trouble now with the censorship.

His Lordship—How many Cinemas are in the City of Limerick?
Witness—Seven Cinemas and one outside in Newcastlewest.

His Lordship—None are allowed to open?
Witness—No.

His Lordship said should the same conditions apply in Dublin as in rural areas like Dungarvan. Agricultural labourers get their only chance to see a film on Sunday. Sunday night is the only night that a large portion of the people can have amusement. Was he allowed to consider this?

Miss Annie Crotty, said she was the daughter of the proprietor. She looked after the booking and management of the Cinema. Country people patronised it on Sunday night. County people attended on Sunday only or on Church Holidays when there was a performance on.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., for plaintiff.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Ryan, solr., for defendant.

Mr. Budd, applied for an adjournment and offered a certificate from Dr. Cusack, in connection with a portion of a plot adjoining both plaintiff's and defendant's residences.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., for plaintiff.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Ryan, solr., for defendant.

Mr. Budd, applied for an adjournment and offered a certificate from Dr. Cusack, in connection with a portion of a plot adjoining both plaintiff's and defendant's residences.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., opposed the adjournment, and stated that he would submit evidence that defendant was seen out on the previous night.

This portion of the plot where the hedge was taken away was very serious to the plaintiff. It was causing bad feeling between neighbours.

Mr. Budd, B.L., submitted that the hedge was his client's property.

His Lordship said as Dr. Cusack, had given a certificate, he would adjourn the case.

LAST BIG DANCE OF SEASON
The dance at Clonea next Sunday night promises to eclipse all previous dances held there. The promoters of the dance have left nothing undone to make it a great success. With the famous Silver Stars Band, Clonmel (six instrumentalists), the music should be the last word. For full particulars see advt. in another column.

Death of Mrs. Hanora Murphy, Chapel Street, Lismore—
The death of Mrs. Hanora Murphy, which took place at her residence, Chapel Street, Lismore, was learned with feelings of deep regret over a wide area. Deceased was a model mother and a most devoted Catholic and the esteem in which she was held was amply manifested on the occasion of the removal of the remains to St. Carthage's Cathedral on Tuesday evening.

At Requiem High Mass for the repose of her soul, Rev. T. Lavin, C.C., Lismore, was celebrant. In the choir were: Rev. T. O'Gorman, Adm., Lismore; Rev. T. Murphy, C.C., Lismore; Rev. F. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin; Rev. Fr. Corbett, C.C., Tallow.

The funeral took place immediately afterwards to the New Council Cemetery, where the interment took place before a large assembly of relatives and friends.

Rev. T. O'Gorman, Adm., Lismore, and Rev. T. Murphy, C.C., do, read the final prayers at the graveside.

The chief mourners were—Mr. Thos. Murphy, N.T., (son); Miss Sally Murphy, (daughter); Thomas Murphy, Tallow; Mary Murphy, Bridane, Henry McGrath, Camphire, Edward Bartlett, Bishopstown, Mrs. L. Prendergast, Bridane, Patrick Prendergast, and Miss Nellie Prendergast (relatives).

Coffey v. Walsh
This was a revision of a compensation claim by James Coffey, Carrigcastle, against Michael Walsh, Carrigcastle, who sustained injuries to his leg while in plaintiff's employment.

On 30th July, 1935, defendant who was a workman, was driving a cart, and fell out of it and sustained a fractured leg above the ankle. Defendant got compensation of £1 15. 8d. per week during incapacity and this amount was afterwards reduced to 10/10. In July, at Waterford, Judge Sealy found that defendant was partly incapacitated and fixed compensation at £1 10. 0d. Since that time plaintiff's submitted that defendant was considerably improved.

Mr. McDonald, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Ryan, solr., for respondent.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., for appellant.

Dr. McCarthy said he saw the workman yesterday. There was a fracture of the main bone of the leg. The fracture was 2 1/2 inches above the ankle joint. There was a very slight shortening of the limb of about half an inch. In his opinion light work would do him very good and would improve him. Such light work witness would suggest as looking after the feeding of cattle, milking cows and going to the creamery. Since the last court, witness thought that the general condition of the workman had improved.

To Mr. Molloy, B.L., witness said his examination of appellant he did not see any basis in the region of the fracture to show any breaking out at that point. There was a concavity at the point of the fracture.

Mr. Molloy—Would you agree with Dr. Duggan when he says that appellant should use a stick?
Witness—I could not give any definite reply. The man may be nervous.

His Lordship—Did the respondents offer him any other work?
Mr. Molloy—They are not in a position to offer him any work—they are builders.

His Lordship said that as respondents were not in a position to offer him work he would dismiss the application.

He allowed £3 3s. costs to Dr. Duggan.

McComisky v. Power
This was a title action at the suit of Mr. A. McComisky, Harbour View, Dungarvan, against Martha Power, same address, in connection with a portion of a plot adjoining both plaintiff's and defendant's residences.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., for plaintiff.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Ryan, solr., for defendant.

Mr. Budd, applied for an adjournment and offered a certificate from Dr. Cusack, in connection with a portion of a plot adjoining both plaintiff's and defendant's residences.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., opposed the adjournment, and stated that he would submit evidence that defendant was seen out on the previous night.

This portion of the plot where the hedge was taken away was very serious to the plaintiff. It was causing bad feeling between neighbours.

Mr. Budd, B.L., submitted that the hedge was his client's property.

His Lordship said as Dr. Cusack, had given a certificate, he would adjourn the case.

Youghal Notes

The Strand—
A visit to the Strand shows that, taking into consideration the ferocity and persistence of the recent storms with violent easterly gales prevailing for almost a week, the Sea Wall, now well over a half-century built, has stood the test in admirable fashion. It goes without saying that a certain amount of damage has been done; large blocks of concrete have been dislodged from the toe, fissures in the front have been widened here and there, thousands of tons of sand, gravel and shingle, have been thrown over by the high seas, backed up by the high wind blowing straight on. The sluice draining the lowlying lands inside has been badly damaged, causing the formation of a large lake inside, at times flooding the permanent way. However, up to the present there has been no damage that cannot be made good if attended to in reasonable time. From the front railway entrance for a considerable distance along the sea front, the material thrown up is piled up against the railway galling and villas to a depth of several feet. There is a fine protective covering of gravel and sand up against the toe of the wall, where a short time ago the piling in front was exposed 4 to 6 feet. In many parts of the beach the 'beautiful golden sands' have disappeared, for the time being at any rate, and have been replaced by stretches of turf, with here and there decayed branches of trees protruding. It would appear that in the dim and distant ages of history, long before the time of the 'Barmecides' the whole of Youghal Bay must have been an immense forest. In all probability, with the coming of spring and summer, the remnants of antiquity, now exposed, will be again covered up by the lovely sands, so appreciated by 'gaybricks' and 'dishes.'

The "Smoker"—
Held by the Y.M.S. in the Green Room, Town Hall, was an unqualified success and the member who first started the idea as a kind of joke, it is said—deserves the cordial thanks of all those who had the privilege and pleasure of participating. It certainly will be long remembered by "those who were there and those who were not." The Chairman, Mr. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., C.U.D.C., and he was assisted by Rev. W. Carey, C.C., Spiritual Director, Mr. P. S. Rohan, Hon. Sec., with Mr. P. J. Walsh, acting as Master of Ceremonies. Among the guests were the Rev. M. Twomey, D.D., C.C., Rev. Fr. Twomey, C.C., and Rev. P. J. Geran, C.C. Among the toasts honoured were—"The Society," proposed by Mr. Justin Condon, replied to by Fr. Carey, and "Our Guests," proposed by Mr. T. K. Keane, solr., and replied to by Rev. Dr. Twomey. An elaborate programme of song, music, story and recitation filled in the intervals, till after midnight when the party broke up with many expressions of a desire for "the same again" in the future, and the nearer the future the better.

Lecture—
A scholarly, striking and entertaining lecture was given in the League of the Cross Hall, on Monday night, by Prof. T. O'Donoghue, M.A., Cork, the subject being certain Irish characteristics of the past and present. Mr. E. Keane, M.Sc., Chairman of the Debating Class presided and the hall was filled by a representative audience, which followed the lecturer's remarks with the keenest interest. It was the first occasion on which a Youghal audience had the pleasure of hearing Prof. O'Donoghue and he made a lasting impression by his capable and enjoyable presentation of his subject.

At the conclusion a cordial vote of thanks was proposed in eloquent terms by Mr. W. J. Broderick, T.D., Chairman of Council, seconded by Mr. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., C.U.D.C., and supported by Rev. E. J. Fox, C.C. The Chairman having put the vote, which was carried with acclamation, Prof. O'Donoghue made due acknowledgment and the proceedings terminated.

The Fishing Season—
Opened on Monday morning, a special Mass having been offered for its success. The picturesque ceremony of the blessing of the boats was postponed owing to the uncertainty of weather conditions. This factor also prevented a number of crews from getting their nets and gear in order in time for the opening day. As a result only a small number of craft tried their luck, with the result that there were a few captures on the first tide, ranging from one to 4. Taking into account, the lengthened prevalence of easterly wind, and the heavy floods and freshets in the river, this was considered satisfactory, as compared with previous years, and indicating the presence of the fish in the neighbourhood.

School Children—
It is pitiful to say the least of it, to see little children, boys and girls trudging down to school in the mornings and home again in the evening, sometimes in pouring rain. A certain number of the kiddies are pretty well protected, but there are many not so fortunate. It seems nothing less than cruelty for parents to send

Annual G. A. A. Convention At Tallow
The Annual General Convention of the Tallow Hurling and Football Club, was held at the Cinema, Hall, Tallow, on Sunday January, 31st. Thomas Burke, Vice-Chairman, Presided. There was a very large attendance of members present as well as enthusiastic supporters of the Club.

Mr. Burke welcomed all present with the heartiest cordial welcome and expressed great admiration and gratitude to both young and old for their unselfish endeavours and earnest co-operation during the past year to advance the traditions of the Gael and more especially to preserve the distinctive pastimes bequeathed by past generations. He urged the young members to practice and stick to their National games, otherwise they will never develop the dash, freedom of movement and well-balanced development of limbs and muscles brought about by the high fielding and other characteristic features of Gaelic Hurling and Football.

Mr. C. Cunningham, Treasurer, then submitted the balance sheet for 1936, which was unanimously adopted as most satisfactory.

Mr. T. Colbert, N.T., Hon. Sec., in his report on the past season's activities of the Club referred to the financial position as sound owing to the annual collection which met with a generous response from their supporters in town and country alike. He most heartily thanked the various subscribers to whom no club was so deeply indebted. He also referred to the serious injury one of their Senior Hurlers received in the county hurling final, and hoped that the player in question would be generously treated by the Central Council of the G.A.A., who up to the present were rather slow in dealing with the case, seeing that this young man has now lost the sight of an eye and has incurred considerable expense in attending to specialists and receiving hospital treatment.

The report gave a brief summary of the Clubs championship activities, and the Secretary wished to congratulate the players who took part in the County Championship, inter-county hurling and who won Munster Junior Hurling Medals. He tendered a special vote of praise to the brilliant senior hurler custodian, Michael Curley, who represented their club and town and incidentally was Waterford's sole representative on the Irish International Hurling team that played England at London on Sept. 20th. But while he appraised their successes he also exhorted them to rectify their faults, so that as individuals and as a club they may promote the objects of the G.A.A. free from petty passionate excitement which was likely to develop into narrow-minded prejudice. He earnestly hoped that their attachments during the coming year would be imbued with those wider enthusiasms which strive to be dignified and just whether in defeat or victory.

In conclusion, he thanked his fellow-officers and players who helped to make his duties a pleasure rather than a burden during 1936.

The election of Officers for 1937 was as follows—
Chairman—Mr. Thomas Burke.
Vice-Chairman—Mr. Frank Ryan.
Secretary—Mr. Thomas Colbert, N.T.
Treasurer—Mr. J. Cunningham, Committee—Michael Curley, William Sheehan, Con Curley, Thomas McCarthy, W. Henley, Michael Davitt, Michael Ronan.
Mr. J. O'Brien (outgoing Chairman) was elected Honorary President of the Club.

At the conclusion of the meeting a vote of sympathy was passed with Mr. J. O'Keefe, one of the Club's esteemed players on the death of his mother.

Successful Victory Dance—
At the Town Hall, on Sunday night, one of the most enjoyable Ceilidhe ever promoted, was held under the auspices of the Lismore Hurling Club to celebrate their victory in winning the Junior Hurling Championship of the County. Contingents attended from far and near and right throughout the night the fullest measure of enjoyment was maintained. The three Munster Championship Medals won by three members of the Club were presented by the Hon. Sec., during the night and the recipients received a loud ovation. The Lismore Nightingale Orchestra under the conductorship of Mr. P. Gillen was never heard to better advantage, and the whole proceedings were brought to a close at 2 a.m. with the playing of the National Anthem.

the poor little ones out in the rain, some of them having to travel quite a distance. And then they have to remain 4 or 5 hours in their wet clothes, risking the catching of a serious cold. There may be rules and regulations requiring their attendance, but surely all rules and regulations go by the board when they clash with an act of God such as an epidemic, a bad storm, etc., as was well put by a prominent member of the teaching profession recently. This is a matter that should be taken up by some authoritative body. What about the N.S.P.C.C.?

Cappoquin Notes

Monster Whist Drive—
The date of the Point-to-Point Races, next Thursday week, Feb. 18th is rapidly approaching, and owing to the unavoidable postponement of the Race Dance from Wednesday night, January 20th the Committee has been deprived of the means of raising some of the funds necessary for the successful running of this important fixture.

In order to make up for this loss, a Monster Whist Drive will be held in the Boathouse Hall on next Sunday night week, 14th inst., in aid of the Race Fund, as owing to Lent starting on next Wednesday, it will be now impossible for the postponed Race Dance to be held before the races.

Splendid prizes will be offered for this Drive a full list of which will be published next week so this will afford the sporting public of West Waterford a splendid opportunity of supporting the Race Fund, as well as enjoying a grand social night's sport in the meantime.

The Whist Drive in aid of last year's races was held on Sunday night, March 8th, the races being held on April 1st, and on that occasion 212 players attended, representing 53 tables, and as all present enjoyed themselves thoroughly on that occasion, we hope to see the same smiling faces and sporting crowd present this time, augmented by many additional friends and supporters, so as to give practical proof of their generous support for the ever-popular races to be held here this year. Further details will appear next week.

Omitted—
In the report of the funeral of Mr. John O'Rourke, Salterbridge, which appears in another column, the following names were inadvertently omitted from the list of chief mourners present—Mrs. M. Ormonde and family, Lyre East; Cappoquin; Mrs. Kenneally, Abbeyside; Mrs. D. O'Rourke, Salterbridge Lodge.

The Great Hurling Match Postponed—
The great Inter-County Senior Hurling League Match between Waterford and Clare, which had been fixed for Cappoquin Sportsfield on Sunday, April 4th, has now been postponed by the Central Council until Sunday, April 18th.

Death of Mrs. B. Hickey—
An old and highly-respected inhabitant of the town peacefully passed to her eternal reward on Monday evening when the death took place of Mrs. Bridget Hickey, Castle Street, after a short illness. Deceased had been resident in Cappoquin for close on 30 years, and was always a quiet, honest and industrious woman who was extremely popular with all, and the deepest sympathy is felt with her family and relatives in their bereavement.

Her remains were removed to the Catholic Church on Tuesday night, and after Requiem Mass on Wednesday, the funeral took place to the Old Churchyard Cemetery, Lismore, when there was a very large attendance of the general public to pay a fitting mark of respect to her memory.

The funeral was headed by the Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin, who officiated at the graveside.

The chief mourners were—Thomas Hickey, Fermoy; Wm. Hickey, Kilmorth; Patrick Hickey, Lismore; Maurice Hickey, Cappoquin (sons); the Misses Sarah Hickey, Lismore; Josephine Hickey, Traamore; Julia Hickey, Cappoquin, (daughters); Matt and John Hickey, Cappoquin; James Colbert, Whitechurch, (brother), etc.—R.I.P.

End of The Dancing Season—
Next Sunday night, 7th inst., being the last Sunday night in Shrove-tide, will mark the end of the dancing season, when a grand Ciderella will be held by the Rowing Club in the Boathouse Hall, which should prove an appropriate finale to the enjoyable series of Practice dances held each Sunday night since the beginning of winter.

Tickets are only 1/3 each for next Sunday night's Grand Male, so we hope to see a record attendance present.

Tenders For Bar At Races—
As will be seen from advt. in another Column, tenders for the Bar on the Race-course will be received by Messrs. M. J. Sargent and P. Walsh, Hon. Secs. Race Committee, up to next Monday evening, so that the successful applicant will have ample time to apply for the necessary occasional license at the Lismore District Court on the following Thursday, 11th inst.

The Bacon Factory—
The price of fat pigs which had been 64/- per cwt. during January, has been increased by the Pigs Marketing Board to 66/- per cwt., dead weight, for Grade A pigs; 65/- for Grade B, and 61/- for Grade C from February 1st, to March 14th, this being the best price offered for fat pigs at this season of the year for a long time.

BLACKWATER FISHERIES.

At the usual monthly meeting of the No. 4 or Lismore Board of Fishery Conservators, held at the Corner House, Tal- low, there attended—Messrs J. Kennedy, Chairman; Lord Charles Cavendish, Vice Chairman; E. E. Hey, J. Kent, W. Baldwin, Carey Joyce, W. Dunne.

Messrs. T. Drohan, Clerk and W. Buckley, Assistant Inspector, were also present.

Fermy Anglers Mr. Joyce, said that the Fermy Trout Anglers Association were very grateful to the Board and the Clerk for the help they had given them.

The Clerk said they were doing nearly as much as last year for the anglers and they would continue to do their best.

Estimates Sanction A letter was read from the Department approving of the estimate of the receipts and expenditure forwarded by the Board for the year ending 30th September 1937.

The Clerk said that was sanctioned for a rate of 0/6 in the £, being 6d. less than last year which was satisfactory.

Defaulters The Department wrote with reference to the resumption of the Board not to take legal proceedings against rate defaulters until February next. While still opposed in principle to any procrastination in the collection of the fishery rate, and particularly so when application was made for State assistance, they would not object to the proceedings being withheld till February as proposed.

Letters From Major Longfield The Clerk read three letters received by him from Major Longfield, dated 28th, December, 8th January and 20th Jan., regarding the legality of Mr. Hey's position as member of the Board.

He said that he forwarded copies of the letters to Mr. Hey, who replied that he was advised that his position was in order.

The Clerk said he had submitted the matter to the Board's solicitor, Mr. Riordan.

The Chairman—Why did you do that? The Clerk said it was put up to him by the Major.

The Chairman—By an individual member of the Board, you should have put the matter before the Board first. Major Longfield is only an individual member.

The Clerk said the solicitor's reply that they had perused the correspondence received from Major Longfield and Mr. Hey. As solicitors for the Board they could not interfere in what appeared to them to be a dispute between two members of the Board. They did not feel justified to express an opinion on the validity in question without the express instructions of the Board.

The Chairman said he also had a letter from the Major on the subject.

Lord Cavendish—Doesn't it end the matter so far as the Board are concerned? The Chairman—I suppose it does. Mr. Hey's power of attorney was produced to me and appeared to be in order. We can not go further. Why should he try to make use of this Board to air his grievances?

Mr. Hey—He is afraid to come forward. Lord Cavendish—Why is he not here today? The Chairman—I don't like to say much behind his back, but he should be here to prove his case if he thinks he has one.

Lord Cavendish—Does he in anyway represent the interests of the most important part of the river. Mr. Hey—They are all out for themselves and I challenge anybody to deny it.

Mr. Baldwin said he had been summoned to attend a meeting at Fermoy, but he did not go.

Lord Cavendish—Why did they ask you? (laughter).

The Chairman said as Major Longfield had not appeared before the Board in support of his case against Mr. Hey, he would rule the matter out of order altogether.

The Late Mrs. Mary O'Donovan, Cappoquin

STRIKING FUNERAL TRIBUTE

The funeral of the late Mrs. Mary O'Donovan, Cappoquin, whose sad and unexpected death we briefly reported last week, took place after Requiem Masses from St. Mary's Catholic Church, Cappoquin, on Wednesday January 27th and proved one of the most striking demonstrations of public regret and sympathy seen in Cappoquin for a long time.

The deceased lady was respected and beloved by all classes of the public during her long residence in Cappoquin, and being always a most devout and exemplary Catholic, as well as being a loving wife and mother, she had held a high place in the esteem and affection of all, whose deepest sympathy is now extended to her respected husband and children, and her father and other relatives in their sad bereavement.

Long before the hour of the funeral on Wednesday, motor cars from many distant places in the Co. Co., as well as from practically all parts of West Waterford, began to arrive in the town bringing large numbers of relatives and mourners from all parts, so that when the funeral got under weigh for St. Declan's cemetery, Dromore, a mile and a half from the town, the long line of motor cars made a most imposing sight, and proved at the same time the widespread grief felt over the premature death of such a popular lady, and the sympathy of all for her afflicted relatives on the sad occasion.

In spite of the prevalence of Influenza and the most inclement weather, the attendance from Cappoquin constituted a record, while Dungarvan, Ballyduff, Tal- low and Lismore, were also strongly represented, and from every point of view the great mark of respect shown to the memory of the deceased should prove a great consolation to her mourning relatives in their deepest moments of sorrow.

Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin, headed the funeral cortege, and later recited the final prayers at the graveside.

The chief mourners included:—James O'Donovan (husband); Miss Eileen and Master Fachtna O'Donovan (children); Jeremiah O'Dempsey, Building Contractor, Cappoquin (father); Mrs. Leo Dunne Waterford, and Miss Winnie Dempsey, Cappoquin (sisters); Daniel Dempsey, Shandon, Dungarvan (uncle); Mrs. M. McGrath, Square, Dungarvan (aunt); Miss Kitty McGrath, do.; the Messrs. Anne Dempsey, N.T., Shandon, and Nellie Dempsey, do.; Jack and Madge Quirk, Mocollop, Ballyduff, Jas. Quirk do., and Mrs. F. X. O'Leary, Tallow (cousins); Mrs. J. Dempsey, Cappoquin, Sgt. P. J. Gardiner, Crosshaven; Barry Murphy, Cork; M. Daly, Clashmore; F. X. O'Leary, N.T., Tallow; Mrs. O'Brien, Cork, (sister-in-law) and Con O'Brien, do.; Mrs. J. O'Donovan, Skibbereen, (sister-in-law); John O'Donovan, Roscarbery, (brother-in-law); Jas. O'Donovan, Skibbereen, Sgt. P. O'Keefe, Brossa, Co. Kerry; John and Charlie Hodnett, Roscarbery; James and Mrs. Norris, Dungarvan; Miss B. Norris, do.; Timothy Connolly, Callan, Co. Kilkenny; Sean Treacy, Bandon; B O'Donovan, Dungarvan, etc., (relatives and immediate friends).—R.I.P.

THROWING STONES AT E.S.B. LAMPS IN CARRICK Following a report from the local Civic Guards that Guard Hickey found three boys throwing stones at E.S.B. lamps in the town, the Council decided to prosecute the boys and their parents under the Towns' Improvements Act. The Council expressed appreciation of the vigilance and civic sense of Guard Hickey in the matter.

Inspector Buckley said he had heard of only one.

Lord Cavendish—If there were serious effects would they not be apparent? The Clerk—No. The river is too high. Mr. Kent said the only time he saw dead fish was in the Bride when the water was low.

The Clerk said that about 80 per cent. of the male fish died after the spawning season, particularly the old fish.

Mr. Baldwin referred to the drastic resolutions adopted by the Fermy Anglers' Association regarding various aspects of fishing in the Blackwater.

Mr. Kent—You should have been there. The Clerk said he had the report of the meeting as it appeared in the "Kerryman."

Mr. Hey—The "Longueville Man" not the "Kerryman." The statements are, many of them, quite inaccurate.

Lord Cavendish asked what rates did Major Longfield pay towards preservation of the river.

The Clerk—£3 or £4 (laughter). Lord Cavendish—And are all the big ratepayers to be dictated to by him? The Chairman—He has only attempted to dictate—he has not dictated.

Mr. Baldwin—How many men does he employ? The Clerk—He has a gamekeeper.

Mr. Hey—For himself. Mr. Dunne said that a lot of ignorance prevailed regarding the netting at Youghal. The lower men were allowed a length of 200 yards in a wide river, but owing to the swinging of the tide that meant 100 yards and often less, and in some weather, like the present for example, it was impossible for the boats to go out at all. He would like to see some of those feathered fishermen (laughter), who were constantly complaining of the netting at Youghal try their hands in bad weather.

Mr. Hey said that last year the fishing up river was the best for a long time. The subject then dropped.

DISEASES OF ANIMALS' COMMITTEE.

APPOINTMENT OF WARBLE FLY INSPECTORS

Mr. Commissioner Moynihan, Chairman presided at the monthly meeting of the Diseases of Animals Committee at the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Saturday last. Also present—Messrs. Thomas Flynn and Patrick J. Power.

Acknowledgment Mrs. Lynch, Killineen, wrote on behalf of herself and family thanking the committee for the kind expression of sympathy tendered to them in their recent sad bereavement.

Warble Fly Inspectors The Department, in reply to the Committee's resolution of a previous meeting viz., "That in view of the satisfactory services of the ten temporary Inspectors employed last season in the County of Waterford, for the purposes of the Warble Fly Order, and as these Inspectors have each given the undertakings required in the Department's letter of December 8th 1936 for the Minister for Agriculture, we hereby re-appoint these ten temporary Inspectors for the purposes of the Order during the treatment period prescribed for the year 1937 with remuneration in each case at the inclusive rate of £3 3s. od. per week, the appointments to be subject to termination at a week's notice.

The Department wrote as follows:— In the circumstances indicated in your letter under reply, the Minister will raise no objection, subject to the temporary Inspectors previously employed by your Local Authority giving the undertaking referred to in paragraph 7 of this Department's communication of the 8th January, to their re-employment for the coming season, with remuneration in each case at the inclusive rate of £3 3s. per week. The Minister is also prepared to sanction the appointment of the local Veterinary Inspectors to act in a supervisory capacity on the same terms and conditions as were approved in their case last season.

The Clerk stated that each of the ten temporary Inspectors employed last season had given the undertaking referred to by the Minister, and submitted same.

The following is a list of the Inspectors:—John Hassel, Killoonagh House, Kilmachomas, for Carrick-on-Suir No. 2; Edmond Power, Clondonnell, Rathgormack, Carrick-on-Suir, for Clonmel No. 2; James Power, Ring View, Killminion, Dungarvan, for Dungarvan (Area of Collector Qually) and Dungarvan Urban; Edward J. Whelan, Ballyduff, Dungarvan, for Dungarvan (Area of Collector Hartly); Thomas G. Hassel, Killoonagh, Kilmachomas, for Kilmachomas; Laurence O'Donnell, Glountane, Lismore, for Lismore (Area of Collector Connors); John M. O'Neill, Scart, Knocknacore, Tallow, for Lismore (Area of Collector Barry); James Phelan, Ballygunner, Waterford, for Waterford No. 1 (Area of Collector McCarthy); James Power, Ballycaddock, Waterford, for Waterford No. 1 (Area of Collector Durand); James A. Murphy, Glenmore, Dungarvan, for Youghal No. 2.

The following Veterinary Surgeons were appointed to supervise the work of the temporary Inspectors employed for the purpose of the Warble Fly Order during the treatment period 1937 on the same terms and conditions as were laid down in their case last season, the total remuneration of £100 allowed for this work to be allocated on the same basis as last year viz.—W. J. O'Donoghue, V.S., £27 10s. 10d.; T. R. Mulcahy, V.S., £10 10s. 10d.; R. P. Byrne, V.S., £20 2s. 2d.; G. P. Hynes, V.S., £20 5s. 10d.; J. J. Walsh, V.S., £12 9s. 10d.

The Veterinary Inspectors were directed to exercise a close supervision on the work of the temporary Inspectors, to examine and check carefully the weekly returns of farms visited, etc., submitted by these Inspectors, to pay frequent surprise visits to see whether the Inspectors are doing their work with diligence and efficiency, and be also required to furnish the Local Authority with a special weekly report, setting out the nature of the supervisory duties performed and embodying details of the work carried out by the temporary Inspectors and of the general operation and enforcement of the Order in their respective Districts.

Mr. Commissioner Moynihan was requested to make any arrangements considered necessary for the employment of clerical assistance in connection with the administration of the Order.

The Minister for Agriculture, forwarded copies of the Warble Fly (Treatment of Cattle) (Amendment) Order, 1936, and the several amendments to the original Order and stated that the alterations made by the Amending Order should be advertised as widely as possible and that the Local Authority should arrange for the display of posters drawing attention to these matters throughout their district.

An order was made that publicity of the alterations made by the Amending Order be effected by a display of poster notices only throughout the County in reference to the matter.

Diseases of Animals Reports The following were submitted:— Reports from An Garda Síochana and Veterinary Inspectors on the following cases of Sheep Scab:— (a) Outbreak dated 10th December, on premises of John Cullinan, at Tour, Lismore, 4 sheep affected; (b) Outbreak dated 21 December, 4 sheep, the property of Patrick Mulcahy, Crusheen, Ardmore, affected on farm of Edward Ducey, Crossford, Ardmore; (c) Outbreak dated 18th January, on the farm of John Downey at Upper Piltown, Kinsalebeg, Youghal, 2 sheep affected.

Reports from the Guards, Dunmore East, relative to suspected outbreak of Swine Fever on premises of John Power, Portally, Dunmore East, Co. Waterford. Report from Mr. R. P. Byrne, V.S., to the effect that he made the usual inspection at the monthly fairs held in Dungarvan during the year 1936 and that there were no animals shown presenting symptoms suspicious of contagious disease.

Record of Cases under the Bovine Tuberculosis Order, 1926, during the quarter ended the 31st December, 1936.

Period of Treatment The Department also wrote pointing out that the treatment period as amended by the 1936 Order has been altered (1) from 15th March-30th June, to 1st March 7th July.

(2) During that period all cattle visibly infested with the larvae of the warble fly must be dressed with cattle wash made from a preparation approved by the Minister for the purpose of destroying the larvae between the 1st and 7th days of each of the months, March, April, May, June and July.

(3) The adoption of any method of treatment for warble infestation other than that of dressing the infested animals with cattle wash, as indicated, will not be recognised as complying with the Order.

(4) It is not lawful to sell or offer for sale any article purporting to be a cure for warble fly infestation unless it is a powder preparation approved by the Minister.

With a view to meeting the requirements of small farmers who formerly employed the "squeezing out" method of treatment, and many of whom may require to dress only one or two cattle, representations have been made to manufacturers of approved wash to place on the market packages containing approximately 2 ozs. of their preparation.

I. N. T. O. At the January meeting of the Dungarvan Branch I. N. T. O. the following members were present:— Mrs. Cullen, Condon, Coffey, Woulfe, Misses Sweeney, Tuohy, Brick, Gough, Tobin, Christopher, Neillan and Brennock; Messrs. Cullen, Whelan, Quinlan, Connelly, Cashin, Wall, Brennock and O'Neill.

The following officers were re-elected for the coming year:— Chairman—Mr. Connelly. Vice-Chairman—Mr. T. Walshe. Organiser—Mr. Wall. Secretary—Miss P. Brennock. Auditors—Messrs. L. Whelan and T. Phelan.

Co. Committee representatives—Chairman, Vice-Chairman and Secretary. Delegates to Congress—Chairman and Secretary. Delegates to Special Congress—Mr. Connelly.

Nominations to the C. E. C. were:— President—Mr. O'Grady. Vice-President—Mr. Nunan. Principals' Representative—Mr. Desmond.

Assistants' Representative—Mr. Coleman. F. C. Representative—Mr. Scannell.

It was decided to invite all the unemployed teachers in the area to attend the next meeting with a view to discussing ways and means of finding them employment. Other branches in Co. Waterford and in South Tipperary are to be asked to co-operate.

The Secretary to the Co. Committee, Mr. B. Thompson, and the Chairman Mr. Connelly were congratulated on the success of their efforts in regard to the Waterford Meeting held on December 4th last. The Branch was unanimous in voting them thanks.

The Organiser, Mr. Wall, was asked to make a last effort to have the names of all teachers in the Branch area on the 1937 Directory. Special facilities were granted those wishing to join before February 12th.

One new member was admitted. (—Secretary)

107 HOUSES TO BE BUILT IN CARRICK At the February monthly meeting of Carrick-on-Suir Urban Council, it was decided to advertise for tenders for building of 107 houses and to consider the tenders that day fortnight was not seconded.

Mr. Woods said he was anxious to put men who are idle at work as soon as possible. There was no seconder for a proposal by Mr. Barry, that only Irish Trades Union labour should be employed at the houses.

Mr. Barry spoke at length explaining that the policy of Mr. Sean T. O'Kelly and his Government was that only Irish Trades Union labour should be employed in housing schemes.

Agricultural Conditions 1st JANUARY, 1937

Weather and Work.—The weather during December was generally unsettled, some periods being harsh, cold, wet and stormy; others fairly mild and dry. In most places the dry periods were availed of to get extensive areas of lea land ploughed. The farmers were also engaged in removing the beet crop from the fields, and this work was rendered slow and laborious by the prevailing unfavourable conditions. Turnips were also lifted and stored. Outlying cattle on the whole suffered less than usual at this season of the year from inclement weather. In the drier districts a considerable area of wheat was sown.

Food Supplies for Wintering Stock.—Good supplies of hay of fair quality remained on farmers' hands at the close of the month, as did reserves of roots. Owing to the satisfactory prices which prevailed for all classes of cereals since the harvest, the supplies of grain were less than at the corresponding period last year. On the whole, however, reports indicated that reserves would prove adequate for normal requirements up to the end of the winter. Livestock were reported to be in good health and condition.

Grain.—The great bulk of the grain crop, except oats, was disposed of before the close of the month. Oats were being offered fairly freely in some districts, but not in others. The general impression derived from the reports is that the bulk of the oats was being held for seed and feeding or in the hope that prices may advance still further.

Flax.—Scutching continued during the month. Yields were variable, some proving as good as last season's, and others being considerably less. Prices ranged from 8s. to 10s. per stone.

Potatoes.—Reports indicate that potatoes are keeping well in the pits. Supplies are plentiful on all farms. Demand during the month was good for both ware and seed. Prices for potatoes in the districts where they are grown in quantity for sale ranged from £3 5s. to £3 15s. per ton for ware, and from £4 to £9 per ton for seed according to variety.

Mangels, Turnips and Sugar Beet.—The mangel crop bulked well and was about average in quality and quantity. Turnips were variable, but the supply was little below average, the quality being about the usual. Sugar beet yields were about average.

Winter Cereals.—The only cereal sown in quantity during December was winter wheat. The area sown with wheat up to the end of the month was reported to be much greater than at the corresponding date last year, but as November and December of 1935 were so abnormally wet that field work was almost out of the question this was only to be expected and has no special significance. It must be remembered that notwithstanding the very unfavourable position up to the end of December, 1935, much sowing took place during the dry spells in the following January and February, and ultimately the total area under crop showed an increase of 81,000 acres or of 3.5 per cent. over that of the preceding more favourable season. It seems not at all improbable from the preparations that have been made in many districts, that a further substantial increase in the acreage of wheat will take place this season.

Cattle.—The general tenor of the reports is that cattle were carried over the first part of the winter in good health, and, for the season, in good condition. The markets held during the month were well supplied. Trade was good, and there was a POPULAR CARRICK-ONSUIR MAN'S DEATH The death is much regretted after a short illness of Mr. Joseph Connelly, Boot merchant, Carrick-on-Suir. Deceased was well-known and much respected throughout the Counties Tipperary, Waterford and Kilkenny. He was a much travelled man and was extremely popular. He kept up the old custom of selling Carrick made boots at monthly fairs. He was an active member of Carrick Fianna Fail Cumann.

CARRICK FIANNA FAIL CUMANN The following have been elected officers of Carrick-on-Suir (Michael, O'Hanlon) Fianna Fail Cumann for 1937:— President—Mr. Seamus Babington; Vice-President Mr. H. Ryan; Hon. Treas.—Mr. B. Thompson; Hon. Sec.—Mr. S. O'Doherty.

Delegates to Comhairle Ceannaithe—Messrs. S. Babington, U.D.C.; B. Thompson, S. Doherty. Committee—Messrs. P. Kenny, C.U.D.C.; R. Sheehan, U.D.C.; P. Bourke, U.D.C.; T. Murphy, U.D.C.; M. Doherty, P. Walsh.

KILMAGTHOMAS NEWS.

Tea-Time— In a book we read this week there was a character who was forever drinking tea. As the climax of every situation she had tea. At least once in every chapter she suggested—tea. It struck us that the lady—despite her Cockney accent—must have had a drop of Mid-Deise blood in her veins, for her little weakness is one to which men and women in this part of Portlaine are partial. How many people do you know who have tea at all hours of the day and night? Hundreds, we are sure. Maybe you yourself are inclined that way. We would not be at all surprised to hear that after reading this paragraph scores of people put on the kettle. Tea-time is anytime on our side of the Comeraghs, you ken!

A Cute "Quacker"— There is no longer much news in the "flu" as far as human beings are concerned. But there is news in the fact that a Duckspond drake is one of its victims. The bird coughs and sneezes and behaves as the people of the household behaved when they were suffering from the epidemic. It grieves us to add, however, that the "quacker" in question is strongly suspected of malingering, for instead of showing symptoms of weakness it has developed an almost restless excitement. For this kind of occupant of the home are partly to blame. Since the drake became a patient it has been given honey and other delicacies, and each cough from the coup is equivalent to the command "More honey for 'Drakey.'" As a result of this palatable lotion the "flu" infected Duckspond drake looks like becoming a chronic invalid. Though the Metal Man is an outsider, and without the qualifications of a veterinary expert, he would hazard the hint that the bird should be placed on a more Spartan diet. As long as he is nourished on oatmeal and honey he will never get back to normal. And the Monarch of Tramore is supported in this view by a perusal of the unwritten history sheet of the same Duckspond drake. During last Christmas-tide it so enjoyed the feast of sweetbread crumbs with which it was regaled that it loudly quack-quacked for sweetbread crumbs for a full fortnight afterwards. Any Duckspond or non-Duckspond drake with such definite propensities must be taught a lesson.

Arising (in a left-handed sort of a way) out of the foregoing, Ancestress Anne asks—"Why did Duckspond?" Miss Maud Maryah might remark: "The answer is in the 'quackative.'" We may be favoured with a more apt reply to the query from either a blythe and bonnie Ballinacourty belle, or a gay and graceful Garranbane girl, in good time for our next number.

St. Brigid's Day— "Three Saints one grave do fill, Padraig, Brigid and Columcille."—Old Rhyme. Year in, year out, at the very dawn of Spring, the sweet young virgin Saint of our Isle comes down to us anew with her message of piety and grace—down from an era whose glory can only be imagined in these sordid days. A very Guardian Angel to our scattered race, Brigid is the prototype of all those pure, gentle souls of our land and the Convents of the globe, and during the darkest days of our history, the special devotion of the Gael to her has never waned. When all those cosy, clean little thatched cabins studded the roadsides, at nightfall of St. Brigid's Eve, the man o' the house never forgot to fashion anew the simple little wooden cross, white and frail, and place it on the ceiling in honour of the Saint. And nice to note that attention to that little cross is now as it used to be in the parish of Killorossanty, of which St. Brigid is Patroness.

"White, heavy cross that marks the track of all the fateful years; Three centuries of ruin and wreck And misery and tears: Bright guardian of our island shore, Whose lamp may never fall, You'll wish for us for ever more Oh, 'Mary of the Gael!'"

From the time of St. Patrick the name of Brigid has been cherished with a devotion hardly less deep and enduring than that which clings to the memory of the National Apostle himself. These two great Saints were contemporaries and laboured jointly to lay that firm foundation of Catholic Faith on which the Church has withstood the storms of fourteen hundred years. Their qualities were different. Patrick, majestic and forceful, wrought with mighty energy; Brigid, gentle and retiring, won by ways more simple and direct. She was privileged to work miracles and was endowed with the gift of prophecy, but her chief characteristics were meekness, purity, and charity. It is recorded of her in the Annals of Ireland that "she never spoke ill of anyone." When eighteen years of age she received the religious veil and became the head of a community of nuns. Cill-Dara was chosen as their place of residence, and thenceforth it became a point of pilgrimage for all the Irish. Brigid travelled widely over the country, and though the clans were constantly at war, her presence brought peace, for no blood was shed where she dwelt. Even in her lifetime she was celebrated for her sanctity, and afterwards her exalted virtues were so universally acclaimed that from the Hebrides to the shores of the Mediterranean churches were dedicated under her name. Hundreds of years after her death, when the country was ravaged by the Danes, the relic of St. Brigid, which was so generously returned to Ireland eight years ago, was taken away. It had remained an object of veneration in the Church of St. John the Baptist at Lumiar near Lisbon. Its restoration was a splendid act of generosity on the part of the Portuguese ecclesiastical authorities. The most venerated relic was enshrined on Sunday, January, 27, 1929, in St. Brigid's Church, Killester. It is not always realised how deeply an existing generation is indebted to those illustrious saints who in the dim past shaped out of our semi-barbarous ancestors the glorious people who sent Christian missionaries into other lands and established halls of learning which attracted students from every country in Europe. Perhaps the Saints taught very little of the science and none at all of those airy accomplishments which are so much prized in the present age. But certainly they inculcated the lesson that charity, purity and honour were essential to right living. They endeavoured to form character, that deep-dwelling thing which suffuses the personality, which invigorates the mind, which induces steadfastness under stress of temptation and develops loyalty which is faithful unto death. For such remains of noble qualities as still adhere to us, for such purity as still rejects the grossness of a degenerate world, for such sanctity as keeps us close to a faith which sanctifies marriage, guards the home, which esteems every virtue and condones no vice, no tolerates any laxity, we have to reach back to a distant past when Patrick and Brigid and Declan of the Deise formed a Christian Ireland out of a pagan people.

St. Brigid's Day—Monday of this week—was observed as a holiday by the good people of Killorossanty parish. Holy Mass was celebrated in St. Brigid's Parish Church by Fr. Kehoe, P.P., and young and old of the vast congregation assisting thereat approached the altar rails. Throughout the day a constant stream of pious pilgrims reverently trod the path down through the old Churchyard (mid-way between the village and the local schoolhouse), leading to the three blessed wells of St. Brigid nearby, where they made the usual rounds, and knelt and prayed, and drank of the crystal-clear water. Over the past seven centuries their forbears had, on February 1st, regularly trodden the same path and performed the same devotional exercise at the blessed wells. Of a verity, the faithful of Killorossanty are admirably adhering to the grand old traditions handed down to them by their ancestors, and their reverend Pastor and his excellent Curate (Fr. Hart) can well feel pardonably proud of their loyal and zealous flock.

Death of Mr. J. Lalor— Fortified by the rites of Holy Church, Mr. John Lalor, Currahaha, Kilmacomas, died on Thursday evening of last week after a protracted illness in his 85th year, and his passing is deeply regretted by a large circle of friends and the general public. The deceased, who was for a long number of years a valued member of the Waterford County Council, was respected and esteemed as a man of consistent principles, and a Nationalist who made sacrifices in the Land League and later movements in the cause of the country. His opinions were respected, even by those who differed from him, because of his sincerity of purpose and straightforward actions at all times. He belonged to an old native family with numerous connections through the Deise. He was father of Sister Benedict, Convent of the Holy Family, Enfield, England; Sister Josephia, Convent of Mercy, Bermundsey, do.; Miss Margaret Lalor, Main St., Kilmacomas; Miss Hannah Lalor, Currahaha, do.; Mr. Patrick Lalor, licensed vintner, Main street, Carrick-on-Suir; Mrs. H. Powell, Chatham, Kent; Mrs. J. Hill, Church Street, Dungarvan, and Mrs. F. McDonnell, California, U.S.A. The sense of regret occasioned by his demise was shown at the funeral on Friday evening, to the Catholic Church, Faha, all classes and sections being conspicuous by their presence. Masses of Requiem were offered for the happy repose of his soul on Saturday morning, and interment was made afterwards in the adjoining cemetery. The Rev. P. O'Farrell, C.C., Stradbally, officiated at the graveside. Besides the family of the deceased already named, the chief relatives in attendance included:—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Casey and family, Main street, Kilmacomas; Mrs. W. Carroll, Ballyvallona, Killorossanty; Mr. Patrick Coffey, Carrigrohane, Kilmacomas and Mr. and Mrs. Con Whelan, Rathgormack.—R.I.P.

Veale—Kennedy— A very pretty wedding took place at the Cathedral, Waterford, on Wednesday of this week, the contracting parties being Mr. Patrick Veale, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Veale, Leamybrien, Killorossanty, and Miss Josephine (Josie) Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pierce Kennedy, Carriglea (Half-Way-House) Waterford. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass, was performed by Fr. Sheehan, C.C., Waterford. The bride, who looked charming, was attended by her sister, Miss M. Kennedy, as bridesmaid; while Mr. Thomas Veale, Leamybrien (brother of the bridegroom), acted as best man. The happy couple were made the recipients of numerous costly and serviceable wedding presents. Mr. Veale is a well and popularly known figure in Co. Waterford Gaelic circles; he is a hurler and footballer of considerable merit, and has played with Killorossanty in innumerable exhilarating encounters, always proving himself a worthy nephew of Leamybrien's familiar veteran player—Paddy McGrath who was Killorossanty's star forward of more than two decades ago. Their troops of friends will warmly unite in wishing health, happiness and prosperity to Mr. Veale and his most estimable life-partner.

Postponed— Owing to the regrettable fact that a number of the Killorossanty Players had become affected with influenza, their repeat performance (by special request) of "George Shiels' capital 3-act comedy," "The Jailbird," billed for Leamybrien Hall on last Sunday night, was postponed to a later date, which will be announced in due course. The Newtown Cow-Testing Association's grand all-night dance arranged for Baldwin's Hall, Kill, on the 31st ult., was also postponed—due to circumstances over which the promoting committee had no control.

A Portlaw Par— We notice that the ladies of the "Leather City" of Portlaw are going back to old-time fashions. "Robin Hood" hats and "leg of mutton" sleeves, in vogue before the Great War, are again modern. Of course, it is unlikely that the old time styles will capture more than the usual short spell of feminine favour—even in this picturesque Clodagh-veined pile. Women, the world over, must always have something new. How different is the attitude of men to clothes. It takes about a decade of years to bring about any fundamental change in men's wear!

"Read The Ads"— Here's an old story told in a brand new way—"From a bowl of fishes—To a set of china dishes—From a nest of new utensils—To a brush—Almost anything you're reading—is displayed in ads. you're reading—So when shopping for essentials—Do not rush—For the one who heeds these pages—Is the one who truly gauges—Honest bargains, truly sees 'the goods' from 'bads'—You'll avoid the crowds and worry—Just be sitting down at ease—to read the ads!"

We Put It To You (Serious And Not)— That Mid-Deise dwellers are a Society of sneezers at the present time (Achoo!) That Dunhill's hero of the hour is the local lad who fought the 'flu successfully with the aid of goat's milk and onions— That Ancestress Anne knows of nothing more unpleasant than being the target of two eyes that stare— That the Metal Man removed Maud Maryah in his motor car to and from the Newtown Cow-Testing Association's grand all-night dance at Baldwin's Hall, Kill— That the beatific smile which came on a Ballymacarbery colleen's countenance in the presence of a Siabhi Gúna gorsion in Tourneena on Tuesday, appeared to express the pity that is akin to love—

That all the nice girls from the Pike to Pouldrew are wont to express their pleasant feelings with the inaudible kind of laughter (the flickering smile of spontaneous good humour), rather than the guffaw, or the booming explosion, or the cotton wool whooping.

Sympathy— Widespread sympathy is extended to Mr. C. Langley, P.C., Tay Lodge, Killorossanty, on the death of his sister (Mrs. Chapman, Rock House, Ancestown, whose remains were interred in Comeragh Churchyard on Monday last); and to Mr. J. H. Jephson, Assistant Co. Surveyor, on the death of his wife.

Irish Classes— Mr. Michael Murphy, Millbrook Terrace, Kilmacomas, has been appointed teacher under the County Vocational Education Committee, and Irish Classes will be conducted by him at the local Courthouse, on Wednesday and Fridays, from 7.30 to 9 o'clock, p.m. Mr. Murphy held his first class on Wednesday evening, when an appreciable number of people from the town and neighbourhood became enrolled for the full session, at the close of which a number of Scholarships will be given on the results of a competitive examination. By the way, Mr. Murphy, who is an exceedingly popular Gael, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy (Postmaster and retired N.T.) Ring, Dungarvan.

Waterford Hounds— The meet of the above was at Kilmacomas on Tuesday. Despite wet and foggy conditions obtaining throughout the day, a nice-sized field turned out and enjoyed a few smart gallops from the local covets.

A Son of Stradbally— Was stopped at the Pearly Gates and asked by St. Peter how did he come to be there? "Just 'Flu,'" was the reply of the man from the mouth of the Tay.

James Dunne, TOBACCONIST, DUNGARVAN

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

Mr. T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman, presided at the meeting of the above on Friday. Also present—Messrs. P. O'Dwyer, J. F. Foley, J. Dahill, J. J. Crotty, J. Mansfield, M. Connors, and J. Christopher.

Co. Home Sewerage A letter was read from Mr. M. O'Flynn, Secretary Board of Public Assistance, stating that his Board have now paid a sum of £99 10s. 5d., as interest on the loan obtained for the purpose of the Sewerage Scheme in connection with the Co. Home and the Urban Council houses at Loughmore, and asking for the proportion payable by the Council two-sevenths of the amount (£28 10s. 5d.). Payment was ordered.

Sympathy Sympathy was voted to the relatives of the late Mrs. Curran, Killossera, the late Mr. Lawlor, Kilmacomas, the late Mrs. H. Curran, Ballinacmack.

Repairs Applications for repairs to houses were read from a number of tenants and the letters referred to the Borough Surveyor for reports thereon. Mr. M. J. Keane, Friary Street, wrote the obstruction caused to traffic from his premises by a tree growing in front of the entrance which impeded the movement of lorries. The tree can be preserved by taking up and removing at this period of the year. It was decided to remove the tree.

Waterworks Messrs. Delap and Waller, wrote re the plans of the dam and reservoir for the above which they are pressing on with and with the necessary alterations to the filter plants. The letter stated that they have ascertained from the Department that, if these plans are approved by the Council and forwarded within the first week in Feb., it will not be too late for the work to be included in the current financial year. It was decided to call a special meeting on Wednesday.

New Housing Scheme Messrs. Doyle and Ormonde, Architects to the above, wrote stating they are pushing ahead with the preparation of the new specification. As the work now involves the preparation for two separate schemes it will entail a great deal more work. However, they hoped to have all documents ready for the meeting of the 5th February. The letter was noted.

WATERFORD CO. COMMITTEE OF AGRICULTURE.

Mr. Thomas Flynn, Chairman, presided at the monthly meeting of the above on Saturday last. Also present—Mr. Commissioner Moynihan and P. J. Power. A letter read from the Department of Agriculture approved of the appointment of the Committee of a subsidy of £35 towards the Waterford Bull Show and Sale.

National Ploughing Championships A letter from the Department relative to the attendance of Agricultural Instructors at the National Ploughing Championships to be held at Greystones, on the 9th prox., and pointed out that in the case of a competing county the committee of Agriculture might arrange for the attendance of one Instructor and defray the cost of the actual travelling and subsistence expenses incurred. The Minister will be prepared as in 1935 to allow the Co. Committee of each competing county to make to the Association a grant of £3 15s. to cover the entry fees for the National Contest for the 1st and 3rd prize winners in the Championship of County of the County contests and to defray the actual travelling and subsistence expenses of the team (3 members) from the County who are selected to compete in the National Contest. The letter was approved.

Spraying of Orchard Plots The following letter was received from the Department:— I have to state, for the information of your committee, that the Minister has had under consideration the desirability of having the attention of owners of orchards throughout the country directed to the necessity for making timely provision for the effective spraying of their fruit trees. It was observed that a number of consignments of Somerset grown apples sent to the Dublin Fruit Market during the past season were affected with disease, more especially apple scab, and it is apparent that there are still many fruit-growers who do not yet realise that it is essential that fruit trees and bushes must be sprayed at the right time, and with the proper spray if good clean fruit is to be produced. The Minister, accordingly, suggests that a special campaign of propaganda should be undertaken by the Committees of Agriculture with a view to bringing to the notice of fruit growers the damage done to the fruit industry in the Saorstát through failure to take the necessary steps to prevent disease, particularly in the apple crop. Towards this end arrangements might be made by each Committee for the insertion in the local Press of special notices and articles on the subject for display at various centres throughout the country and for the giving of lectures and demonstrations by the County Horticultural Instructor. For the purposes of these demonstrations, which should deal with the mixing and application of suitable spraying materials, the Instructor should, it is suggested, be provided with an effective spraying machine if such a machine is not already available. The letter was marked noted.

No. 318.— THE WALKER'S FRIEND MAN'S BEST PAL By PHILOKOUN.

THIS is an age in which physical fitness is becoming more and more appreciated. Perhaps in no period in the comparatively modern history of this country was the old classical saying about a sound mind in a sound body put so much into daily practice. We realise now that men and women who are to make the most of their lives, and have to display the utmost efficiency must get exercise in some form or other, preferably in the fresh air. Many thousands of town dwellers who have reached an age in which active games are no longer possible are driven to walking in the country. There is no incentive to such an occupation equal to the ownership of a dog. What this means has been brought home to me recently in an emphatic manner.

One of these chats a few weeks ago was about our Alastair, Ben, who had lived with us for the best part of his eleven years. My wife and I must have walked many hundreds of miles with him and enjoyed every minute of his companionship. He was always thinking of us—we were the poles on which his life revolved and no one could have had a more devoted friend. Ben is no longer with us. Shortly before Christmas he had a bite in the face which set up an abscess, and as it was difficult for this to heal unless he wore a cardboard hat that would prevent him from worrying the place, he was sent to a veterinary surgeon for a few days. Although he was well housed and attended, in some way that it is impossible to explain, he contracted pneumonia, and died almost in my wife's arms. Since then our walks have been performed as a matter of duty only—all the interest has gone out of them, and they are dull affairs.

Those who had the pleasure of knowing him declared that Ben was a great gentleman, and that he could do everything but talk. It is impossible to replace him, at any rate for a time. As I think of him, my mind goes out to those unhappy people who have lost their sight. As you all know the Tail-Waggers Club is actively connected with the Guide Dogs for the Blind Association which is doing its best to supply the sightless with a guide and friend that will enable them to go about out of doors. I heard of a very touching case the other day. A blind woman has been in very different health owing to her inability to get exercise and fresh air. After receiving one of these dogs, within a few weeks the transformation was so great that her friends scarcely recognised her. Do you wonder that I am so often begging for your assistance in carrying on this good work? We actually received a cheque for £5 the other day which had come from China in response to Mr. Leslie Henson's broadcast appeal.

We are not in the happy position of having a fixed income derived from investments or regular subscribers, and you will understand how developments are hampered when we have to live from hand to mouth as it were. If we could get two or three thousand people to pledge themselves to raise a small sum annually we should be able to extend our operations very considerably. If any of you are disposed to help, please write to headquarters at 58, Mark Lane, London, E.C.3.

NOTE—This chat is issued by THE TAIL-WAGGERS CLUB OF IRELAND, 23, Old Abbey Street (off Marlborough Street), Dublin, C.B. The Club will be pleased to answer any enquiries submitted by Tail-Waggers owners in connection with canine, hygiene and welfare.

FLU EPIDEMIC—For the past fortnight Lismore has become the victim of the prevalent flu epidemic which is still further being aggravated by the warm damp weather. Hundreds of people have had to leave their employment and remain indoors. In some cases the disease has proved fatal. Consequently victims are warned to remain indoors at least four or five days after leaving bed in order to prevent influenza pneumonia. Owing to the rapid increasing numbers on the sick list all dances in the neighbourhood have had to be postponed while schools attendances are rapidly decreasing. The frost on Monday night was hailed by all as a welcome salve. It is to be regretted, however, that the weather broke so suddenly. It is believed that two cold days with a little sunshine would kill the germ and the epidemic.

GAELIC NOTES & NOTIONS
By "CROTOG"

Now that the spat of oratory, criticism and resolutions associated with the Annual Conventions has subsided, it behoves every club to get busy without further delay and clear decks for action. This is where the energetic Club secretary comes into his own. I have already given an outline of the ideal type to select for this work. His qualifications today are more exacting than formerly. A good knowledge of the Irish language is now a sine-qua-non of an efficient Gaelic runaidhe. The average layman would be surprised to know that Irish has made wonderful strides of late years in G.A.A. administration and that a large volume of correspondence is now carried on in the National language.

Attention to detail should be a strong point in secretarial work. Regular meetings of the Club Committee are essential and minutes of the proceedings should be kept. This greatly aids progressive administration. Casual meetings should be avoided at all costs; they tend to produce cliques and foster misunderstandings and distrust. Moreover, in many cases, they result in casual decisions and happy-go-lucky methods of doing business. Fortnightly meetings, on fixed days and at a fixed time, even though the agenda may be small and unimportant, should be held by every G.A.A. Club which is alive to its duty and to its interests. This will maintain enthusiasm and conduce to the growth of that apathy and loss of interest which is the deadly foe of all Club progress.

Membership of a club, too, should be something more than nominal. An Annual subscription, however small, should be insisted on and collected promptly by the Treasurer. A complete register of members should be kept by the Secretary and should be consulted and revised at every General meeting of the members. A separate Register in duplicate, for the playing members only, is also recommended. Important matters of club and Gaelic policy should be decided, not by the Committee, but by the general body of members. Every registered member of a club has the right to a voice in its running and should be kept informed of club affairs. Neglect of this has ruined more G.A.A. Clubs than any other cause. Hence the fundamental importance of general meetings at regular intervals. By this means, grievances, real or imaginary, can be ventilated, defects remedied and a spirit of co-operation fostered. Team work is every bit as important in Club management as it is on the playing field.

Sunday week, February 14th, is the latest date for receiving affiliations and entries for the 1937 Championships. The position of the recently elected Western Board officers and officials is still uncertain. The validity of the elections has been called into question and the matter will be decided finally at the next County Board meeting. At all events, Western Clubs will have little respite from now on. New Clubs entering this year's County Championships would do well to note that a provisional playing register must accompany the affiliation fees. This must contain the signatures of fifteen bona-fide players at least. This by-law was adopted a few years ago to deal with the abuse of individuals entering teams on chance without any guarantee of such "will-o'-the-wisp" teams participating in the championships. This abuse was largely at the root of the "walk-over"

Well, our Senior hurlers are not sorry that their long period of inactivity is now ended. They have shaken off their winter lethargy and are longing for the call of the flying ball. Next Sunday, in Clonmel, they face Tipperary in, what is for both, the most critical game of the whole National Hurling League. A victory for either means renewed hope of forcing Limerick to a play-off in the final. The losers will cease to be a fighting force for League honours. The Decies team has been chosen for two months past so as to give them every opportunity of being ready and fit. Here is the line-out:—
Michael Curley (goal)
Wm. Walsh J. Keane Jas. Mountain T. Greaney & Christy Moylan Wm. Lynch D. Goode P. Sheehan M. Harney "Sonny" Wyse P. Greene

Harney, Lynch and Hickey are new comers to the team. Mick Hickey is the robust Dunhill ex-Portlaur hurler who figured so prominently last year in the defence lines of the victorious junior inter-county team. Lynch is the Ferrybank, ex-Mooncoin player who now assists Mount Sion. Had few outings in 1936, but in those few established a reputation as a cool resourceful winger with a neat and accurate stroke. Harney is a "dark horse" with whom the selectors are taking a chance. A wiry red-headed Portlaur youth who plays county hurling with Dunhill, he should be the "goods" in the right corner. He has speed, grit and ball control. He is inclined to over-handle the ball, and delay his centres. If he curbs this tendency on Sunday next, he should star in the scoring news.

past. Last year the Western Board dealt drastically but fittingly with the offenders this year a recurrence is unlikely. It is confidently expected that the championships will arouse much greater competition and enthusiasm in the coming year. All the large area of the Barony of Decies within Drum, otherwise the Waterford Gaolacht, has become G.A.A. conscious and new and active clubs in Ring, Old Parish, Ardmore, Kinsalebeg, and Clashmore will make their presence felt this year in the race for honours. Villiers-town too, always a strong football force, are attempting a come-back. Faha, down Kilmac way, has already affiliated. Rumour is busy with new club formations in Dungarvan and Mid-Waterford district. Many veteran Gaels, both players and supporters, are hoping for the revival of the Brickey Rangers and Aghish. Slabh gCua's victory has set the Comeraghs afire and several new teams from North Waterford are eagerly awaiting the result of the first round draw. Withal, there is every prospect of a vintage year.

CURRAN—On January 27th at her residence, Mrs. Curran, wife of the late Mr. Laurence Curran, Killoosera, Dunganvan. Deeply regretted by her sorrowing family.

IN MEMORIAM

CONDON—(4th Anniversary)—In loving memory of Patrick J. Condon, Ballinacorney, who died on February 6th, 1933. Sacred Heart of Jesus have mercy on his soul. Our Lady of Lourdes intercede for him.

DAVONPORT—(First Anniversary)—In loving memory of the late Mrs. Davonport, Mary Street, Dunganvan, who died 8th February, 1936. Sacred Heart of Jesus grant her rest. Masses Offered.

Gone from amongst us sadly we miss her. Loving her dearly her memory we keep. As long as life lasts we will never forget her. And dear to our hearts is the grave where she sleeps. —Inserted by her loving sister B.

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

DROHAN—The family of the late Mrs. Mary Drohan, Knockyellan, Killoosera, wish to thank sincerely the many friends who, through letters, telegrams, and Mass Cards, expressed their kind sympathy with them in their recent sad bereavement; trusting that this will be accepted by all in grateful acknowledgment.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

DEATH OF MOTHER M. LIGUORI—The announcement of the death of Mother M. Liguori, Mercy Convent, Dunganvan, which occurred on Wednesday last, came as a great shock to the people of the town and surroundings as well as to the members of the Mercy Community, who have lost one of their best loved Sisters.

The late Mother Liguori was for a long number of years Matron of the County Home, Dunganvan and the kindness and consideration shown by her to those under her charge, was only in keeping with her gentle and charitable disposition. She was sister of the late Dr. Walsh, Aglish, the late James Walsh, Ballyduff, the late Thomas Walsh, Master of the Union and the late Mrs. Philip Beresford, Coolagour.

On Thursday evening last, the remains were removed from the Hospital to the Mercy Convent Chapel, and were followed by a large crowd of the people from the town and surrounding districts. The coffin was preceded by Very Rev. Canon T. O'Brien, P.P., Rev. M. F. Heame, C.C., Rev. P. F. McGrath, C.C., Rev. T. B. Walsh, C.C., Rev. M. Power, C.C., Abbeyside, Rev. J. J. Power, C.C., Killoosera.

The interment takes place after Office and High Mass in the Convent Chapel, at 11 o'clock today (Friday).

GARRANBANE NEW SCHOOL—The Parish Committee meeting held at Ballinroad on Sunday last was not considered a representative one, and on the proposition of Mr. P. Dwan, seconded by Mr. T. Whelan, it was decided that the meeting be adjourned and held in Garrahan on Sunday, after the 11 o'clock Mass on Sunday next, February 7th.

GAELIC NIGHT—Full particulars of the Gaelic Night, to be held on March 17th (Feast of the National Apostle) under the auspices of the Dunganvan Hurling and Football Club, will appear in our next issue.

DUNGARVAN EXCURSION CLUB—The Committee in charge of this Year's Excursion, which will take the form of a cruise of the south coast on the ss. Innisfallen, at their meeting held last Tuesday evening accepted numerous applications for tickets and arrangements were made with the Club Collectors to facilitate members in making their reservations. It was also decided to extend by a further week the period for applying for membership so as to accommodate those applications received late for the meeting and members are requested to note same in order to avoid disappointment.

The ss. Innisfallen is to undergo complete renovation for the summer so that the accommodation available will leave nothing to be desired for the comfort and enjoyment of travellers.

LATE MR. EDMOND FLYNN—We regret to announce the death of Mr. Edmond Flynn, Knockacullen, Cappagh, which took place at the District Hospital, Dunganvan, on Monday last after a protracted illness.—R.I.P.

Deceased, who was a brother of Mr. Patrick Flynn, Ballymacmague, was a well-known sportsman in his young days. To his bereaved wife and relatives the deepest sympathy of the public is extended.

On Tuesday evening the remains were removed to the Parish Church, Dunganvan, followed by a big concourse of mourners. On Wednesday after the celebration of Requiem Office and High Mass for the repose of his soul the interment took place in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. Fr. J. Murphy, C.C., Ballinacorney, was celebrant at the High Mass, assisted by Rev. T. B. Walsh, B.A., C.C., Dunganvan, deacon; Rev. David Power, C.C., Aglish, sub-deacon.

In the choir were—Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., Dunganvan; Very Rev. J. Gleeson, P.P., Aglish; Very Rev. Fr. Murphy, P.P., Clashmore; Rev. M. F. Heame, C.C., Dunganvan; Rev. P. F. McGrath, do.; Rev. P. Walsh, C.C., Clashmore.

HELD OVER—Owing to pressure on our space several interesting Circuit Court cases are held over full details of which will appear in our next issue.

DUNGARVAN GREYHOUND OWNERS' ASSOCIATION—

A large and representative meeting of Greyhound owners from Dunganvan and surrounding districts was held in the Town Hall, on Saturday evening 30th, ultimo. It was unanimously decided to form a branch of the Greyhound Owners' Association, the membership fee of which was fixed at 1/-.

The Secretary was directed to write to the Hon. Secs. of the various Clubs in the county requesting them to convene meetings of their respective clubs at an early date for the purpose of organising the county into one unit.

The question of a constitution was discussed in detail and it was eventually decided to postpone the drafting of rules until the views of outside clubs had been ascertained. The organisation has for its sole object the protection of its members individually and collectively. It believes all sportsmen therefore, to become members and stand loyally together, as good sports men should, in the best interests of the sport.

45 DRIVE—The semi-finals and final rounds of the Tournaena 45 Drive will be played in Tournaena School on next Sunday evening February 7th commencing at 6.30 p.m. Names of winners of 1st rounds with remittance 6/- should be sent in before Saturday 6th. A valuable hamper will also be played for.

WHIST DRIVE—The last before the Lenten Season of the popular Drives held under the auspices of the Dunganvan Boy Scouts' will be held at the Scouts' Hall, Mitchell St., on Tuesday next, February 9th. Valuable cash prizes will be given.

SOME HEN—Mr. T. L. Clark, St. Albans, Vermont, U.S.A., is exhibiting an egg measuring 9 inches by 7 inches, and weighing 8 ozs. as the latest accomplishment by his prize hen Peggy, which averages four double yolk eggs a week. This is a headline which could be followed with profit by some of Peggy's feathered relatives on this side of the 'Pond.'

UNEMPLOYMENT IN SAORSTAT—The Department of Industry and Commerce issued the following unemployment figures for 3 weeks in January:— January 17th 1937—men 97,319; boys and girls, 106,021. January 18th 1937—men 95,213; boys and girls 104,797. Jan. 25th 1937—men 90,823; boys and girls 100,177.

A TRIBUTE TO OUR COUNTY SURVEYOR—'I don't think it is necessary for me to say it,' observed his Worship, 'but any steps that I can take to have these regulations carried out, will be taken and penalties will be imposed. I think we are extremely lucky to have the County Surveyor we have. It is a pity that he is not more money, but his work is extremely well done. His roads compare very favourably with any throughout the country.'

The District Justice made the above remarks at the Waterford District Court when three farmers from the Portlaurd District were summoned by the Co. Surveyor for alleged failure to cut and drain hedges on their lands which adjoin the public road. The cases were adjourned.

PRIZE WINNERS—At the recent Ploughing Competition, held at Ballybrack, Kilmacthomas, Messrs. Cummins and Kelly who won Class A. and B. respectively, operated ploughs purchased from the well-known firm of Agricultural Engineers, Messrs. M. Moloney and Co., Bridge Street, Dunganvan.

THE WARBLE FLY—The Diseases of Animals' Act Committee, at their meeting on Saturday last re-appointed the same ten temporary Inspectors, who operated so successfully last year. The order comes into force on March 1st. With the experience gained from last season's hunt, and granted fine sunny weather, which help to re-double the energies of the Fly, it looks as if the pest will be exterminated for good at the close of the season, July 7th.

DUNGARVAN BEAGLES—Meet on Sunday next at Killoosera Bridge at 1 p.m.

WEST WATERFORD OLD I.R.A. MEN'S ASSOCIATION—A meeting of the West Waterford Old I.R.A. Men's Association was held in Town Hall, Dunganvan, on Sunday 31st January, 1937. Mr. P. Whelan, Chairman of the Association, presided. Three representatives from each of the Battalions within the Brigade were present.

A long discussion took place on the advisability of this Association amalgamating with the National Association of Old I.R.A. which is at present being organised throughout the County. As agreement on this matter could not be reached without further consideration, it was eventually decided to defer it to a meeting to be convened at a later date.

The meeting expressed dissatisfaction at the delay by the Irish Land Commission in dividing the ranches and other lands amongst the Old I.R.A. in the County, and it was suggested that unless greater activity in this direction was shown, that the organisation seriously consider withdrawing its support from the present Government. Grave dissatisfaction was also expressed at the apathy of the local Fianna Fail T.D.'s in this important matter.

The meeting approved of the organisation demanding preference in employment for its members. The Secretary (M. Morrissey) was directed to write the Military Service Board, requesting that awards be made without further delay to applicants for Pensions whose cases have been dealt with by the Referee for some time.

HUNTING—Dunganvan Beagles on Sunday last had the best day's sport since the season opened when they had a meet at Killoosera Cross. After trying Killoosera and district blank hounds went on to Captain Jack Wall's Bogs, and immediately they found a good running hare who at once made for the high ground by Mr. Terry Donnell's and Mr. Murphy's and again returned to the Canal Road where hounds were hunting in sight and nearly killing. The hare circled back and round the Hill again and down again through the old Court and away up the hill towards Remanagh. The music was magnificent as it echoed through the trees and there were only a few slight checks. There was a large following of ladies and gents on Sunday last which was considerably increased after the meet when the locals of that side of the country who are very keen on this sport turned out.

CATHAL BRUGHA FIANNA FAIL CUMAINN—A general meeting of this Cumainn will be held in the Town Hall, Dunganvan, on Wednesday night next 10th February, at 8 o'clock. As very important matters relating to organisation and the forthcoming General Election will be discussed, all members and intending members are requested to attend.

CAPPOQUIN DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.)

AN UNLICENSED BULL

The Minister for Lands and Agriculture, prosecuted a farmer named Edmond Duggan, Villierstown, for having an unlicensed bull in his possession.

Mr. Ryan, State solicitor, appeared for the complainant, but the defendant was not professionally represented.

Guard Twomey, Villierstown, having given evidence of the offence.

Defendant told the Court that as he could not get any of his cows to calf after service by other bulls, he got the present animal for the use of his own cows, but the bull had since been operated on.

In reply to Mr. Ryan, Guard Twomey said he was aware that this statement was correct, and Mr. Ryan not pressing for a heavy fine in the circumstances, the Justice said he would let the defendant off with a fine of 10/-.

Echo of Motor Ambulance Accident—Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, summoned Thomas Power, driver of the Dungarvan Hospital Motor Ambulance, for alleged dangerous driving, this being a sequel to the accident which occurred near Cappoquin last November, when a man named Thomas O'Gorman, residing near Lismore, was knocked down by the ambulance and seriously injured as he was returning with some cattle from Dungarvan fair, one of the cows being killed on the occasion.

Inspector Ryan, Waterford, appeared on behalf of Supt. Quinlan.

When the case was called, Mr. A. R. Farrell, solicitor, Dungarvan, said he held a watching brief in this case on behalf of the injured man, O'Gorman, and he should apply to have the case adjourned for a month, as the injured man was not yet sufficiently recovered to be able to give any evidence that day.

The unfortunate man had sustained a compound fracture of the skull on the occasion, and although he had since been discharged from Dungarvan Hospital, he was not yet completely recovered from the effects of his injuries, but if the case were adjourned for a month he may be able to give evidence on next Court Day.

Inspector Ryan, raised no objection, and the case was accordingly adjourned for a month.

Charge Of False Pretences—Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, prosecuted a labourer named Michael McCarthy, Ballyhane, for obtaining money by false pretences on various dates in November 1936.

Supt. Walsh, Dungarvan, conducted the prosecution on behalf of Supt. Quinlan and Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solicitor, Lismore, appeared for the defendant.

Supt. Walsh, in explaining the case, said the defendant had gone about the country with a book and stated that he was collecting money for a poor widow with several young children, which there was no foundation for, and in this way he had received various sums of money from charitably-disposed persons.

Mr. Thomas Wall, N.T., Kilbrien, in reply to the Supt. stated that the defendant called on him some time last November and told him he was collecting money to help a poor widow and her young children, who were very badly off, and witness said this was a very despicable case and gave him 5/- towards the fund.

Supt. Walsh said there were seven different counts altogether against the defendant, but as he had made a statement to the Supt. at Cappagh, who had investigated the case, and admitted the various offences, he did not propose to examine any further witnesses now.

The Supt. added that the Cappagh Supt. was at present ill with influenza, but he (Supt.) had got the statement which the defendant had signed, and which he now read for the Court.

In this the defendant gave the names of all the persons from whom he had obtained money, including National Teachers in Touraneau and other parties.

The defendant was then examined by Mr. O'Gorman, and stated that he had a delicate wife and six children, and as he was in arrears with the rent of his cottage he had no other way to get the money to pay the arrears and support his wife and family, as he was out of employment at the time and in very poor circumstances.

Cross-examined by the Supt.—Hadn't you previously obtained money from Mount Mellery Community on the pretence that your wife was dead and that you wanted some help for her funeral expenses?—Defendant denied this.

Some further evidence having been heard, Mr. O'Gorman said he was pleading guilty on behalf of the defendant, who now threw himself entirely on the mercy of the Court. He asked the Justice to take a lenient view of the matter, as the defendant was a poor man whose wife was suffering from a bad heart, and as he had six little children also to support, and they were almost starving at the time, owing to defendant being out of employment, he was driven to take this course to try and get some money for their support.

The Justice said there was no necessity for anybody to resort to dishonest methods like this, if they were in want, as there were various charitable organisations and institutions all over the country to relieve cases of this kind, and he was very strongly tempted to send the defendant to jail for his dishonest conduct.

In view, however, of the strong plea made by Mr. O'Gorman, and also due to the fact that defendant had a delicate wife and a young family, he would not send him to jail this time, but he strongly cautioned him as to what would happen if he repeated this class of offence in future.

The Justice then discharged defendant under the Probation of Offenders' Act, but bound him in the sum of £25 to be of good behaviour for 3 years, and warned him that if he committed any offence within this period he could be punished for the present offences as well as for any further offence he may commit in the meantime.

An Alleged Nuisance

In the case of the Waterford Co. Board of Health against the Blackwater Valley Co-operative Society, Cappoquin, Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solicitor, Lismore, who appeared for the Board of Health, asked the defendants had since abated the nuisance complained of, and had also agreed to pay the costs of Court.

The case was accordingly struck out. There was no appearance on behalf of the defendant Company in Court.

Unlighted Vehicles

Sergt. C. Dalton, Cappoquin, v. Wm. Henley, Tallow, for using a motor lorry without light. Fined 5/-.

Guard J. O'Mahony, Cappoquin, v. Lily Flynn, Monalour. No light on bicycle. Fined 2/-.

Do. v. Francis Sullivan, Dromana, same offence. Fined 2/6.

Do. v. Francis McGrath, Tinter, for having no light and no reflector on a milk cart. Fined 2/- and 1/-.

Defendant—"O.K." Sir.

Guard Wm. Moloney, Cappoquin, v. Daniel O'Sullivan, Mountjoy Square, Dublin. No light on motor car. Fined 3/-.

Do. v. Wm. Cotter, Dromore. No light on bike. Fined 3/-.

Do. v. Patk. Power, Mellery, no lamp and no reflector on bike. Fined 2/- and 1/-.

Do. v. Patrick Ormonde, Lyre East, no light on bike. Fined 2/6.

Do. v. Wm. Ormonde, do., same offence. Fined 2/6.

Do. v. Patrick Baldwin, and Edmond O'Shea, Ballyhane, for having no light and no reflector on their bikes.

Mr. John Prendergast, Farmer, appeared on behalf of both defendants, who are workmen of his, and explained that they had been drawing beet for him on the night in question and were delayed longer than they expected to be.

Fined 2/6 and 1/- in each case.

Guard Harte, Villierstown, v. John Lewis, do., no light on bike. Fined 2/-.

Cruelty To Animals

Guard Moloney, Cappoquin, summoned Patk. Fitzgerald, Dunmoon, Tallow, for cruelty to a horse by working it while suffering from a sore back, and John Fitzgerald, same address, the owner of the animal, was also summoned for having permitted the animal to be worked while in that condition.

Complainant stated that the horse was drawing a cart containing 8 milk churns to the Cappoquin Creamery, and his attention was attracted by noticing the animal yielding, as if in pain, and on examination he found a raw sore on the animal's back underneath the straddle.

Patrick Fitzgerald, the driver, stated that there was nothing wrong with the animal's back when he was leaving home and the wound the Guard saw must have been caused by the friction of the straddle caused by the wet weather.

The driver was fined 5/-, but the case against the owner was dismissed.

Guard Devanny, Cappoquin, summoned Wm. O'Donnell, Lyre East, for cruelty by working a donkey while lame.

The Guard said the donkey was unshod, and as he noticed the animal going lame he examined his legs and found a sore near the hoof on one of its legs which seemed to give the donkey great pain.

Defendant denied that there was such a sore, or that the donkey was going lame.

The Justice—What is the defendant? Complainant—He is a large farmer, sir.

The Justice said he held very strong views about cruelty to animals, and fined the defendant 7/6.

Drunkness

Sergt. C. Dalton, Cappoquin, summoned Rd. Ormonde, Ballinacash, Clashmore, for being drunk at Cappoquin, and he was fined 5/-.

Licensing Cases

Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, summoned two local publicans for having persons on their premises on Sunday night, 29th and on a Sunday night in December, respectively.

Sergt. C. Dalton, Cappoquin, gave evidence of the offences in both cases, and said in the first case he found two men on the premises at 9.5 p.m. and in the other case he found six men on the premises at 10.30 p.m.

Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solicitor, Lismore, appeared for the publican in the first case and Mr. A. R. Farrell, solicitor, Dungarvan, appeared for the second defendant.

Having heard the evidence very fully, the Justice convicted, and fined both publicans £2 each, not to be endorsed, while all the men found on the premises were fined 5/- each.

100 YEARS OLD CARTER TO WATERFORD OVER 80 YEARS AGO

The death occurred on Saturday in his 100th year of Mr. James Kearney, retired carter. Over 80 years ago he was in charge of the team of carter's who carried butter and pigs from Carrick-on-Suir to Waterford, Kilkenny, Clonmel, Tipperary. He retained all his faculties up to last week. He was an extremely interesting and popular man.

An Old-Established City Boot Factory—There are now thirty odd boot factories in the Saorstát, more than one for each County. When the present regime was ushered in in 1922 there were half a dozen boot factories in the whole of Ireland, which included one in Waterford city, the old-established firm of Hearne and Cahill that has been engaged in boot production for more than half a century.

The Waterford factory is well equipped with modern machinery and is holding its own in competition with the many cross-Channel firms that have been introduced in recent years. It is interesting to note that Hearne and Cahill get the major portion of their materials in the Deise—sole leather from the Irish Tanneries Ltd., Portlaoise, the chrome from the Carrick-on-Suir leather factory and linings from the Dicken's Factory, Dungarvan. The kips and chips are supplied from Gorty, Co. Wexford, and the heel and toe stiffeners from Belurbet, County Cavan. Hearne and Cahill employ 150 hands and turn out 2,500 pairs of boots weekly. They specialise in two brands—"the Dri-Phit" a boot suitable for the requirements of the agricultural workers and "Sure-Phit" footwear noted for comfort and durability and specially adapted for city dwellers.

If At first you Don't Succeed—Try, Try, Try Again—An examination in Irish under the Civil Service Commission was held in the Central Technical Institute, Waterford, on Saturday January 30th. The examiners were: An Fear Mor, Principal, Ring College, and Seamus O'Duinnín of Dublin. The number of persons examined was three—a Dispensary Doctor, a young ladie. It transpires that the Dispensary doctor has one twonland in his area which is scheduled as part of the County Waterford Gaeltacht and hence the medicó gets three years to qualify in Irish under an Act of the Dail. I am informed that the answering of the candidates in the written and oral examination was very satisfactory. I understand that under the regulations of the Civil Service Commission, six examinations in Irish are held—two every year—so that candidates have the option of six tries during the probationary period. If at first you don't succeed, try, try, try again. That good motto was followed in the case, it is said, of a lady candidate who failed to qualify at five successive examinations, but satisfied the examiners in the sixth attempt that she had a good oral and written knowledge of Irish.

The Feast Day of Naomh Brigid—"Mary of the Gael"—Monday last 2nd February, was the Feast day of Saint Brigid, Patroness of Ireland or "Mary of the Gael" as she is appropriately called by the Gaedilgeoiri. There are many beautiful old customs associated with the Festival which are still in vogue in the Deise territory. An impressive sermon on the life work of Saint Brigid was preached in the Waterford Cathedral on Sunday night, January 31st when it was pointed out that other great Irish saints such as Saint Brendan, the Voyager; Saint Mel, etc. (contemporaries of Saint Brigid) attributed much of the success of their labours to the advice received by them from "Mary of the Gael". I remember the late Dr. Henebery, often stressed the point that girls who called themselves "Bridget" were mis-named; there was no such name. The proper spelling of the word is Brigid—pronounced Bred or Bride. The practice of calling children after our Irish Saints might be more general. There is a difficulty I know inasmuch as the boy or girl is named after their parents or grand-parents who may not have Irish names. But the Irish Saint. There is a calendar of magnificent names to select from I would remind readers that there is now a beautiful book published on Saint Brigid by the distinguished writer Miss Alice Curatayne.

The Influenza Epidemic—Doctors and nurses are having a strenuous time at present in Waterford city in coping with the influenza epidemic which appears to be very widespread this year though not of a very virulent type. In some cases whole families have been stricken with the illness. I heard of a pathetic case in the Lower Newtown district where all the members of the household are laid up with the flu and were constrained to send to Dublin, for the services of a nurse as there was no local nurse available to attend to their requirements. A notice has been published that the usual arrangements for admitting visitors to the County and City Infirmary are cancelled for the time being due to the influenza epidemic in certain emergencies. The Home Assistance Officers report that the influenza is also prevalent in rural areas which necessitates the giving of some extra nourishment. I asked a leading medical practitioner if there was any preventive for the flu. He replied No; but advised that the possibility of catching the infection would be lessened by avoiding places such as picture houses and dance halls.

Waterford Municipal Library—Boom In Book-Borrowing—There is a great boom in the book borrowing Department of the Municipal Library in Waterford City. The number of readers is now 2,000 the highest since the Library was established in 1896. The Library shelves are well stocked with various classes of literature and the Committee are making a genuine effort to adequately cater for the tastes of the reading public. On Saturday night's the book Department resembles a busy shop, since centres with the crowds of adults and juveniles making their selections for week-end reading. There is also a big demand for the books circulated by the Students Central Library, Dublin. The scheme is operated through the Municipal Library, and is a great boon to students and others who require costly volumes. Books costing not less than 6/- or more than £2 can be procured from the Students Central Library, Dublin, for a period of six weeks for a sum of nine pence the cost of postage. A reader can secure a book for a further period of six weeks by sending a postcard to the Students Central Library, Dublin, that is provided there is no application for the particular volume, in the meantime, by any other person.

ings occupied some hours. Some new applications for assistance were carefully scrutinised, while the existing cases on the books were also thoroughly investigated. A number of city recipients were declared off. While applications from some fishermen in Passage East area were rejected. It was a curious coincidence that their applications for relief were made just at the time that the Salmon fishing season had opened. Speaking to an old Local Government Official recently, the latter stated that it was his opinion that the Poor Law Services were being more efficiently and economically in the County Waterford area than in any other part of the Saorstát. The members of the Board of Public Assistance certainly take a personal interest in the work and do not carry out their duties in a perfunctory manner.

Waterford Municipal Library—Boom In Book-Borrowing—There is a great boom in the book borrowing Department of the Municipal Library in Waterford City. The number of readers is now 2,000 the highest since the Library was established in 1896. The Library shelves are well stocked with various classes of literature and the Committee are making a genuine effort to adequately cater for the tastes of the reading public. On Saturday night's the book Department resembles a busy shop, since centres with the crowds of adults and juveniles making their selections for week-end reading. There is also a big demand for the books circulated by the Students Central Library, Dublin. The scheme is operated through the Municipal Library, and is a great boon to students and others who require costly volumes. Books costing not less than 6/- or more than £2 can be procured from the Students Central Library, Dublin, for a period of six weeks for a sum of nine pence the cost of postage. A reader can secure a book for a further period of six weeks by sending a postcard to the Students Central Library, Dublin, that is provided there is no application for the particular volume, in the meantime, by any other person.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; M. Ahern, J. Daly, B.E., R. Savage, T. K. Keane, solr., M. D. Broderick.

The Library The Clerk said it had been found necessary to go through the same procedure in connection with the adoption of the Public Libraries Act (1855), owing to the fact that on the last occasion a period of one month had not elapsed from the date of the Council's proposal to pass the resolution and the passing thereof.

Housing Defaulter Messrs. Hednett and son, wrote submitting an offer made by a tenant at the Court to pay 4/6 per week, in a case in which there were 41 weeks at 3/6 due.

The Council being of the opinion that it was impossible for the tenant in question to make the offer good, it was unanimously decided to proceed with the summons for possession.

Water Wastage The Water Curator reported that by means of a new water waste detector, he had discovered several leaks, which would account for the reduction in the reservoir level. The supply for the week to the Mental Hospital registered 69,000 gallons.

Strand Church Fund An application from the Strand Church Fund Committee for the use of the Town Hall on the 3rd Feb., to hold a Whist Drive was granted.

Sampling Officer The Local Government wrote sanctioning the appointment of Mr. J. J. Walsh, M.R.C.V.S., as Sampling Officer, for the purposes of the Milk and Dairies Act.

Storm Damage The Clerk stated that the Chairman and he had examined the Sea Wall, and he had written to the Co. Surveyor, calling his attention to the damage done by the recent storms. Blocks of concrete had been dislodged from the toe of the wall, and at intervals the cracks in front had widened. The sluice had been damaged, causing increased flooding.

Mr. Daly suggested that the Board of Works be asked to send down their Engineer. Unquestionably, the place was in a very bad state, and now was the time to see to it. Mr. Keane said he had seen the place and it was as bad as ever.

The Chairman said that the residents on the Strand deserved the sympathy of the public. An amount of money had been spent on the road, and it was practically useless. Some people thought the Council were negligent in the matter, but they had done everything they possibly could all they could do was to bring the state of things before the Co. Council, who were responsible for the upkeep of the Sea Wall, and they had done that.

Mr. Savage expressed agreement with the Chairman's remarks. It did not require an engineering qualification to appreciate the danger to the Sea Wall. The money spent on the road was largely wasted.

The Strand Sluice Mr. Daly said the sluice was in a bad way with the result that there was a lot of flooding.

The Chairman said that the Co. Surveyor had applied for £30 for three groyne extending to low water mark and £30 for repairs to the wall.

Mr. Ahern—it would not white-wash it. The Chairman said it was evident that that small amount would admit of very little being done to the wall. If something proper were not done it might cost thousands to repair the damage.

The Clerk said the cavities in the wall were widened by the recent storms and the foundation was being gradually undermined.

After further discussion, it was decided to ask Mr. W. J. Broderick, T.D., to call the attention of the Department to the further damage done of late.

Votes of Sympathy On the proposition of Mr. Daly, seconded by Mr. Broderick, a vote of sympathy was passed to the relatives of the late Mr. M. O'Sullivan, Greencloynne.

Mr. Keane proposed a similar vote to Miss M. Neville, on the death of her sister, a nun in the Passage Convent, and a member of an old and respected Youghal family.

Mr. Ahern, seconded. Messrs. Daly, Broderick, the Chairman and other members and the Clerk associated.

The Chairman proposed a like vote to Mrs. O'Connell, Strand Street, on the

TALLOW NEWS

Co. Waterford National Teacher Bereaved—

The death has taken place at his residence, Elgin Cottage, Ballyduff, County Waterford, of Mr. John Prior, husband of Mrs. Prior, Principal Teacher of Ballyduff Girls' School.

Office and High Mass was offered for the repose of his soul at Ballyduff Church the following priests attending the obsequies—Very Rev. M. Dooley, P.P., Ballyduff; Rev. J. Walsh, C.C., do.; Rev. T. Murphy, C.C.; Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C.; Rev. J. Lavin, C.C.; Lisimore; Rev. J. Corbett, C.C.; Rev. T. Murphy, C.C.; Tallow; Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin.

The funeral which was both large and representative, saw place at the conclusion of the Mass to Carrick-on-Suir, where the interment followed in the family burial plot, in the Friary Cemetery. The deepest sympathy of a large circle of friends in Co. Cork, Co. Waterford and Co. Tipperary is extended to the bereaved widow, who is a cousin of Mr. R. Mulcahy, T.D.—R.I.P.

Gale Damage at Tallow— A south-easterly gale, which blew at terrific force, lifted completely the roof of a shed situated at Townparks West, Tallow, the property of Mr. Patrick Condon, Kilmacow, and brought it a distance of about twenty-five yards, before it fell to the ground.

While en route it damaged the slate roof of a cottage, which adjoined the occupants of which had a most anxious time until they saw it deposited on the roadway at a distance from their home. A workman going to his work had a providential escape as he had only passed the place a few moments before.

Lord Charles and Lady Cavendish— Entertain Estate Employees at Lisimore Castle—

On Saturday night Lord Charles and Lady Cavendish, entertained all the Estate Employees together with some members of the latter's families, to a sumptuous repast at Lisimore Castle, to which the Tallow Pipers Band were specially invited by Lord Charles to provide musical entertainment for his guests. Irish and Scottish airs were a particular feature of the programme.

The occasion was availed of to pay a tribute and bid adieu to Mr. Hey, who has been agent for Lord Charles for a number of years, and his departure to take up more responsible duties on the Devonshire Estate in England. Good wishes and bon voyage having been extended, Mr. Hey suitably replied, and said he would always cherish his happy associations with Lord Charles and Lady Cavendish, the Lisimore property and its employees.

A further treat was then provided for the guests, this being an entertainment specially arranged for at the Paladium Cinema Hall, Parks Road, Lisimore, where the whole party proceeded, accompanied by the Pipers Band, playing suitable airs. The programme provided was fully enjoyed and at the conclusion a hearty vote of thanks was passed with acclamation to their host and hostess, accompanied by expression of good wishes for their future happiness and prosperity on the Lisimore Estate.

Bride Hunt Club Dance—

The attendance at the above dance, which was held at the Cinema Hall, Tallow, during the week, fell short of the average, which usually attend this particular social function, due to the abnormal weather conditions prevailing on the occasion. Torrential rain, accompanied by high winds were sufficient to deter the most ardent devotee of dancing from travelling.

The company who braved the elements were compensated in great measure by having a most enjoyable night's amusement. The floor was in perfect condition and the musical programme which was specially prepared and rendered in faultless manner by Jerry Anglin and his band, was enjoyed to the full by all those who attended.

The Band platform was specially arranged for this occasion. In the foreground was displayed a beautiful hunting scene which is the work of a local artist, and was very much admired.

The M.C.'s and Committee did everything possible to make the occasion a memorable one for their guests.

The Committee hope to hold a similar function before the present dancing season closes.

Hunting With Bride Hunt Club—

Meet at Lyre Bridge on the 31st January, lovely spring-like morning; good-sized field out. Ballyanthony was the first cover drawn and proved blank. Kilk mountain was then tried, and hounds here quickly found, Reynard taking a line through J. Beecher's lands at Shanbally, thence through J. Holmes farm at Kilk, crossing the road into M. Beecher's at Loughmatouse, and on through Geary's Glen to Ballynerne, and wheeling left, Reynard tried to get to ground in the Liss at Ballycough, this falling him, he faced for Templevalley and keeping to the left went through P. Hutley's at Gurnatrafra, and without a check went on to Ballyanthony, to Sandy Hill and from here to Moonaloo, where hounds got a short check, which enabled this good fox to wheel sharply to the right for Lacken, where he got to ground, after a very fast hunt lasting an hour and ten minutes. Hounds and horses being dead beat owing to the heavy going. The Master decided on the trek home wards.

Death of Co. Cork National Teacher—

The death has taken place after a rather prolonged illness, at his home in Ballymacarbery, Co. Tipperary, of Mr. P. Power, Principal Teacher of Glengroua National School, Co. Cork.

Deceased, who was in early manhood, was an ardent supporter of the Gaelic League and G.A.A. His recent pupils

FAVOURABLE FOR PLANT GROWER

CONDITIONS MADE MORE

Most farmers are aware that soils on which certain crops fail to grow well have what is termed an acid reaction; and these are generally called "sour" soils. The terms "soil sourness" and "soil acidity" are often used as though they meant the same thing; but it should be clearly understood that a soil is not necessarily sour or infertile although it may have an acid reaction. Many types of soil are naturally acid.

Some plants cannot tolerate more than a certain degree of acidity, but there is a great deal of variation in the resistance of plants to acid conditions. Indeed, there is distinct evidence that many crops grow best in slightly acid soils. Oats have been known to withstand a greater degree of acidity than wheat, and wheat than barley. The latter crop will often fail completely on a soil which produces good crops of oats. Potatoes and turnips will grow well in acid soils, whereas beets will not. In the case of turnips, however, an acid reaction is favourable to the spread of the organism causing "finger-and-toe" disease, and where that is prevalent the turnip crop will be very much reduced. Some of the clovers can flourish under acid conditions, while others do not grow well unless the soil is almost neutral or alkaline.

It is, perhaps, comforting to know that, whatever the causes of the condition known as "sourness," it can generally be ameliorated, if not cured, by the application of lime. A certain amount of calcium is essential to plant growth, but it is rarely if ever, that the supply of this element in the soil falls below the quantity necessary for the individual requirements of the plant so that the effects of lime upon the crop itself are chiefly secondary. Lime acts mainly upon the soil, bringing it into a condition more favourable to plant growth, and regulating the absorption or effects of other substances as regards the plant. The chief functions of lime in the soil are as follows:—

- 1. It reduces acidity or entirely neutralises it.
2. It prevents substances like aluminium having a harmful effect on plant growth, either by rendering them insoluble or by giving greater vigour to the plant.
3. In some soils it causes the plant to absorb a greater amount of nutrient elements such as potassium.
4. It aids in hastening the decomposition of plant residues or other organic material.
5. In soils in which soluble phosphates would tend to combine with iron or other compounds to form very insoluble substances it prevents this happening, and helps to keep the phosphate in a form readily available to the plant.
6. It improves the physical condition of heavy soils by giving the clay a more granular structure and rendering it less impervious to water, thus causing the soil to be more easily worked.

The maintenance of the supply of calcium in a soil is, therefore, of great importance, and almost as much attention should be paid to it as to the maintenance of the nitrogen, potash and phosphate supplies. There is no doubt that when the practice of liming fell into abeyance, and the use of artificial fertilisers increased, many soils in this country became a great deal more acid than they need be, and, in some cases, actually become sour.

Lime may be lost from a soil in several ways—a certain amount is removed annually by crops and grazing stock; a large amount disappears in the drainage waters, and this loss is increased by the use of artificial fertilisers except such as contain calcium. In order to maintain the fertility of the soil these losses must be made good, and where the wastage has remained unchecked for many years, the soil will have lost in fertility and may even exhibit signs of sourness.

Various forms of lime are available for agricultural purposes, the chief of these being:—(1) quicklime or calcium oxide, either as "lime shells" or "ground lime"; (2) Slaked lime or calcium hydroxide; (3) ground limestone, carbonate of lime or calcium carbonate. The first two forms are best applied in the autumn, but the latter may be applied in the spring. As there is a great deal of variation in quality lime should always be bought on an analysis. Eleven cwt. of quicklime are equivalent in effect to 15 cwt. of slaked lime or 1 ton of ground limestone of the same quality.

The exact amount of lime which should be added to a soil in order to remove sourness or to maintain fertility depends upon several factors, and is a subject upon which it is impossible to give accurate advice. A great deal can be done by applying dressings of lime of small portions of the soil showing signs of sourness in order to test whether the return obtained is worth the expense involved. Care must be taken with certain crops to avoid applying excess of lime. For instance, the application of too much lime may aggravate the disease known as "grey leaf" in oats, and if the soil does not contain sufficient organic matter may result in the potato crop becoming affected with "scab". In consequence lime should not be applied to a soil immediately before an oat or potato crop. Probably the best time to make the application is before the root crop.—R. P. in "Farmers' Gazette."

DAIRYING DISCOURSES

By "An Reachtair."

THE MILK AND DAIRIES ACT (1935)

The principal regulations under the Milk and Dairies Act (1935) issued a few weeks ago appear at first glance somewhat formidable, but there is nothing in them which need cause any alarm to the ordinary moderately-equipped dairyman who has a reasonable knowledge of his business. They consist of twenty-one demy octavo pages, and those who are dairymen "within the meaning of the Act," that is, sellers of liquid milk, would do well to obtain a copy—price 1d.—from the Government Publications Office.

With great detail and precision, but in simple enough language for a legal document, they cover all the ground necessary—embracing such matters as the construction of dairies, various provisions necessary for cleanliness of premises, animals, vessels, persons handling milk, etc., inspection of premises by sanitary inspectors and medical officers, and of animals by veterinary surgeons, the conveyance and cooling of milk, and several other matters. One ventures to say that to the majority of liquid milk sellers these regulations will not give too much trouble, inasmuch as they contain nothing that the average dairymen is not doing already, and it cannot be said that they impose any great hardship in the way of improvements in premises or utensils.

Nevertheless, these regulations will necessitate increased exertion and vigilance on the part of many dairymen, particularly those supplying the smaller towns where any similar regulations have not been hitherto enforced. Probably they will also render necessary some improvements in premises, but these need not involve prohibitive expense. It will all eventually make for the raising of the liquid milk industry to a higher standard, greater public confidence in the hygienic purity of the product, improved health of the cows and removing whatever risk to the health of the community there may be under the present conditions though in regard to the last-mentioned matter of opinion that the danger in this respect has been always exaggerated.

To most of the producer-retailers (those delivering from house to house) in our cities it may seem unnecessary to prescribe—as do the regulations—the keeping of hand of clean towels, brushes, soap and other washing apparatus, for the use of milkers, for in all probability they are doing this already. Nevertheless it is pretty certain that in many cases such elementary requisites are not at present provided and that milkers do not take the trouble to wash their hands before going to the cow. Much of the work on a farm-yard is necessarily dirty, and to start milking immediately after such work without cleaning either hands or clothes or putting on an apron or overalls is not a thing that can be defended. The regulations insist that this must be done, and also that any dirt on the cow's flanks and udders be cleaned away. They further prescribe that dogs, pigs, or poultry shall not be kept in any place which directly communicates with a cowshed, that milking must not take place during removal of bedding or any other matter in such a manner as to raise dust, that the cow in form of pail must be used, that the milk must be strained through a sterile cloth so as to remove visible impurities, and that it must be kept in a covered vessel conveyed in a clean vehicle "clean and purified" if it has been used for the conveyance of any offensive matter. These are but a few of the numerous rules which liquid sellers must henceforth observe if they wish to become registered under the Act and remain registered.

YOUGHAL C. Y. M. S.

The Youghal C.Y.M.S. held their usual social in the Green Room, Town Hall, Mr. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., C.U.D.C., Vice-President of the Society, occupied the chair, and with him were Rev. W. Carey, C.C., Spiritual Director; Mr. P. S. Rohan, Hon. Sec.; and Mr. P. J. Walsh, who acted as master of ceremonies. Among the guests of the society were Rev. W. Twomey, D.D., C.C., Rev. Fr. Twobig, C.C., and Rev. P. J. Geran, C.C. Over 70 members took part a number of apologies for absence being received from others.

Among the toasts duly honoured were: "Our Society," proposed by Mr. Justin Condon and replied to by Fr. Carey, and "Our Guests" replied by Mr. T. K. Keane, U.D.C., solr., and responded to by Rev. Dr. Twomey. An elaborate programme of music was then gone through and the party broke up after midnight, having spent a most enjoyable night of it.

COUNCIL VACANCIES NOT TO BE FILLED

Carrick Urban Council at the February monthly meeting decided that there will be no co-options for the three vacancies caused by the disqualification for non-attendance of Messrs. J. Galvan, J. Carroll and T. Carroll. The members expressed the view that as the triennial elections will be held in June, there is no need to co-opt members.

CARRICK-ON-SUIR RATE COLLECTION

At a special meeting of Carrick-on-Suir Urban Council on Saturday, held to consider the state of the 1936-37 rate collection, it was reported that the total amount of the warrant for the year was £7,600. The Collector had collected and lodged up to end of December 30th., £4,243, leaving £3,357 to be collected.

The Collector (Mr. Dalton) said since the Clerk had made out a list of arrears of rates due a large amount of the outstanding £3,357 had been paid and money is coming in satisfactorily.

The Chairman said every effort should be made by the Collector to close the collection by end of the financial year March 31st, 1937.

Mr. Dalton (collector)—That will be done. The Council decided to appoint a collector for rents of the cottages built during the past four years. The total of rents is £1,600 per annum. The collector will be paid 1s. in the £ on the rents collected and lodged, during the present year the Council will build a further 120 houses which will add £24 to rents to be collected.

The Council decided to cut off water supply from persons who use water for other than domestic purposes (washing cars, on farms, etc.) and who will not pay the special rate struck for the use of water outside that used for domestic purposes.

COUNCIL VACANCIES NOT TO BE FILLED

Carrick Urban Council at the February monthly meeting decided that there will be no co-options for the three vacancies caused by the disqualification for non-attendance of Messrs. J. Galvan, J. Carroll and T. Carroll. The members expressed the view that as the triennial elections will be held in June, there is no need to co-opt members.

CARRICK-ON-SUIR RATE COLLECTION

At a special meeting of Carrick-on-Suir Urban Council on Saturday, held to consider the state of the 1936-37 rate collection, it was reported that the total amount of the warrant for the year was £7,600. The Collector had collected and lodged up to end of December 30th., £4,243, leaving £3,357 to be collected.

The Collector (Mr. Dalton) said since the Clerk had made out a list of arrears of rates due a large amount of the outstanding £3,357 had been paid and money is coming in satisfactorily.

The Chairman said every effort should be made by the Collector to close the collection by end of the financial year March 31st, 1937.

Mr. Dalton (collector)—That will be done. The Council decided to appoint a collector for rents of the cottages built during the past four years. The total of rents is £1,600 per annum. The collector will be paid 1s. in the £ on the rents collected and lodged, during the present year the Council will build a further 120 houses which will add £24 to rents to be collected.

The Council decided to cut off water supply from persons who use water for other than domestic purposes (washing cars, on farms, etc.) and who will not pay the special rate struck for the use of water outside that used for domestic purposes.

DAIRYING DISCOURSES

By "An Reachtair."

THE MILK AND DAIRIES ACT (1935)

The principal regulations under the Milk and Dairies Act (1935) issued a few weeks ago appear at first glance somewhat formidable, but there is nothing in them which need cause any alarm to the ordinary moderately-equipped dairyman who has a reasonable knowledge of his business. They consist of twenty-one demy octavo pages, and those who are dairymen "within the meaning of the Act," that is, sellers of liquid milk, would do well to obtain a copy—price 1d.—from the Government Publications Office.

With great detail and precision, but in simple enough language for a legal document, they cover all the ground necessary—embracing such matters as the construction of dairies, various provisions necessary for cleanliness of premises, animals, vessels, persons handling milk, etc., inspection of premises by sanitary inspectors and medical officers, and of animals by veterinary surgeons, the conveyance and cooling of milk, and several other matters. One ventures to say that to the majority of liquid milk sellers these regulations will not give too much trouble, inasmuch as they contain nothing that the average dairymen is not doing already, and it cannot be said that they impose any great hardship in the way of improvements in premises or utensils.

Nevertheless, these regulations will necessitate increased exertion and vigilance on the part of many dairymen, particularly those supplying the smaller towns where any similar regulations have not been hitherto enforced. Probably they will also render necessary some improvements in premises, but these need not involve prohibitive expense. It will all eventually make for the raising of the liquid milk industry to a higher standard, greater public confidence in the hygienic purity of the product, improved health of the cows and removing whatever risk to the health of the community there may be under the present conditions though in regard to the last-mentioned matter of opinion that the danger in this respect has been always exaggerated.

To most of the producer-retailers (those delivering from house to house) in our cities it may seem unnecessary to prescribe—as do the regulations—the keeping of hand of clean towels, brushes, soap and other washing apparatus, for the use of milkers, for in all probability they are doing this already. Nevertheless it is pretty certain that in many cases such elementary requisites are not at present provided and that milkers do not take the trouble to wash their hands before going to the cow. Much of the work on a farm-yard is necessarily dirty, and to start milking immediately after such work without cleaning either hands or clothes or putting on an apron or overalls is not a thing that can be defended. The regulations insist that this must be done, and also that any dirt on the cow's flanks and udders be cleaned away. They further prescribe that dogs, pigs, or poultry shall not be kept in any place which directly communicates with a cowshed, that milking must not take place during removal of bedding or any other matter in such a manner as to raise dust, that the cow in form of pail must be used, that the milk must be strained through a sterile cloth so as to remove visible impurities, and that it must be kept in a covered vessel conveyed in a clean vehicle "clean and purified" if it has been used for the conveyance of any offensive matter. These are but a few of the numerous rules which liquid sellers must henceforth observe if they wish to become registered under the Act and remain registered.

YOUGHAL C. Y. M. S.

The Youghal C.Y.M.S. held their usual social in the Green Room, Town Hall, Mr. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., C.U.D.C., Vice-President of the Society, occupied the chair, and with him were Rev. W. Carey, C.C., Spiritual Director; Mr. P. S. Rohan, Hon. Sec.; and Mr. P. J. Walsh, who acted as master of ceremonies. Among the guests of the society were Rev. W. Twomey, D.D., C.C., Rev. Fr. Twobig, C.C., and Rev. P. J. Geran, C.C. Over 70 members took part a number of apologies for absence being received from others.

Among the toasts duly honoured were: "Our Society," proposed by Mr. Justin Condon and replied to by Fr. Carey, and "Our Guests" replied by Mr. T. K. Keane, U.D.C., solr., and responded to by Rev. Dr. Twomey. An elaborate programme of music was then gone through and the party broke up after midnight, having spent a most enjoyable night of it.
