WATERFORD CO. COUNCIL

Mr. Commissioner Moynihan, held the Quarterly Meeting of the County Council on Tuesday last.

Mr. Bowen, Co. Surveyor, Messrs. Jephson, Ormonde and Doyle, Assistant County Surveyors, were also present.

Protest From Passage

The following protest was read:—
We, the undersigned ratepayers of Passage, protest against what we consider to be a waste of Public money in this present expenditure on the few streets of the village. The fishermen and others have been insistent in their demands for a public lavatory in the interests of health and common decency, yet their desires are ignored and the sum of £250 is wantonly lavished before their eyes to no one's benefit. If this money was devoted to the erection of a lavatory some good might result, but the present outlay we consider waste.—Signed: Jeffrey Donnelly, Michael Kavanagh, Thomas Kennedy, Thomas Baldwin, Margaret Carey, Martin Hanlon, William Murray, John Rogers, Arthur Miller, Ben Kavanagh.

Commissioner—What work is being done there.

Mr. Jephson—Assistant Co. Surveyor—The construction of concrete footpaths. Commissioner—Seventy-five per cent. of this money is grant money?

Co. Surveyor—Yes, and the Department laid down what work was to be done.

Commissioner—Is this money wantonly lavished? Mr. Jephson—The money is being spent most economically, and the work is useful work.

Commissioner—The only upshot of a letter of this kind, is that certain people in Passage object to money being spent there.

The provision of a public lavatory at Passage is listed in the list of new works to be carried out by the County Council, but that will have to come in its order. Other works must get precedence. Remarks like those are uncalled for. These people should know that the money was got for the relief of unemployment.

Co. Surveyor's Report

In the past quarter the weather has been exceptionally wet, and injurious to roads, particularly to roads that have not been tarred. Contractors have done some work generally, and are recommended for payment. It would be well to make arrangements to let new contracts on a number of county roads which are suitable for this system of working. Work on direct labour roads has been carried out as far as funds permit. Increased costs and traffic, without adequate provision of funds, have left many roads in decidedly poor condition.

Relief works are in progress in many areas.

Restrictions on the selection of employees, bad weather, and other causes, have made it difficult to obtain reasonable value for money. Some useful works have been carried out. The total of grants, with local contributions added, amount to £9,960.

Progress has been made in cutting of hedges on roadsides.

A number of Court Orders, with costs, have been secured. Other cases are pending.

Plant and machinery is being overhauled, to make ready for new season's work.

I recommend the purchase of two stand-by boilers, and two petrol lorries, 4-6 tons, for haulage work, and a gravel washer.

In view of the increased work now coming to the Assistants, I recommend that a more spacious office be secured at Clonmel, with suitable accommodation for the work.

The list of special works, other than roads, comes up for consideration. This includes provision for offices, courthouses and the old Promenade at Tramore, all of which are very pressing works.

Tramore Promenade

Arising out of the Co. Surveyor's report, Commissioner Moynihan, asked was there not a question of extending the promenade.

Mr. Bowen—Yes—It is very necessary. The Secretary was directed to make application for a loan, for the purpose of extending and strengthening the existing promenade at Tramore. The Co. Surveyor to prepare an estimate of the cost, which would show the amount likely to be spent on labour.

Travelling Expenses

The travelling expenses of County and Assistant County Surveyors, was fixed as in previous years at 6d. per mile.

Members on Infirmary Board

The outgoing members viz., Canon Walsh, Fr. Power, Murphy, and Commissioner Moynihan, were re-elected members of the Infirmary Board.

Rate Collector and Irish

A letter read from the Minister re the Offices and Employment (Gaeltacht) Orders, stated that as Mr. William Connors, has failed to satisfy the Minister as to knowledge of Irish within the time allowed by the Order, the position should now be declared vacant, and the necessary steps taken to have it filled. Pending the appointment of a person to the position, the Officer concerned may continue to act in a temporary capacity.

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

TRIMMING HEDGES ON ROADSIDE

MANY PROSECUTIONS

The Dungarvan District Court was held on Wednesday before Mr. McCarthy, (acting District Justice).

Undertaken Civil Bills
A large number of undertaken civil bills were first dealt with and decrees granted in some cases, while others were adjourned to the next Court. Messrs. T. C. Williams, A. R. Farrell, L. F. Langan, and E. A. Ryan, were the professional gentlemen engaged.

Possession of House Sought
Mrs. Alice G. Meehan, Marymoragh, sought an ejection order against Mrs. Mary Palmer, in respect of a house at Strand street, Dungarvan, let at a weekly rent of 2/3.

Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., (for Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr.), for plaintiff.

Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., defended.

Laurence Regan, in reply to Mr. Williams, said he was rent collector for Mrs. Meehan. The defendant went into possession on March 7th, 1936. The agreement (not written) was for a rent of 2/3 per week. Defendant paid the 2/3 for 29 weeks, and then stopped and said she would only pay 2/- a week. She gave no reason at that time, but she wanted a window put in. He agreed to put in the window, but after that the place was declared a Clearance Area. The agreement was for a rent of 2/3 irrespective of anything. He would have put in the window, but for the place being declared a Clearance Area. The amount of rent due is £2 ss. 0d.

To Mr. Farrell, solr., witness said the discussion about the window took place sometime after the rent was settled. He may have given defendant three weeks in the house to clean it up before any rent was charged. The agreement was made with the defendant's mother. He denied that the agreement was for 2/- and if he did certain things it was to be 2/3. Defendant complained that there was not enough air in one room, and she wanted another window put in. Defendant paid the rent regularly at first, but then dropped down to 2/-. He would have put in the window but for the fact it being included in the Clearance Area, and it would cost six months' rent. He could not say what the rent of the house was in 1914, but in 1921 it was 1/9 a week.

Mr. Farrell, for the defence, said that in February 1936, the defendant's mother went to Mr. Regan and agreed on behalf of her daughter to 2/-, and 2/3 if certain improvements were made. When he refused to put in the window his client dropped the rent to 2/-.

Margaret Cronin, said that in February 1936, she agreed with Mr. Regan on behalf of her daughter. He said he would give the house at 2/- and would put in a window if they agreed to pay 3d. extra. Her daughter took the house and witness had no more to do with it.

To Mr. Williams—Her daughter came to the house in March 1936.

To the Justice—She was satisfied to take the house without the window, but she relied on his promise to put in the window and paid the 3d. extra. He told her the rent was 2/-.

Mr. Palmer, replying to Mr. Farrell, said she was living in Waterford when the house was taken. She asked several times to have the window put in and he promised to do so. When she had about 7/- paid, he said there was no good in putting a window in a condemned house. She then stopped the threepence a window that is not there. She is willing to pay the 2/- a week and to pay off the arrears weekly.

To Mr. Williams—Witness said that when the smell from the sewerage got bad in the room she spoke to Mr. Regan about the window.

To the Justice—Witness said that the sewer is going under the room in which there are five sleeping.

Justice—And are all five living (laughter).

The Justice said he thought the understanding was that defendant was to pay 2/- a week and threepence extra if the window was put in. He made an order for possession with a stay of execution, if the current rent of 2/- with an extra sixpence off the arrears is paid. He allowed defendant 10/- costs.

Uncut Hedges

Mr. M. M. Halley, solr., to the County Council, prosecuted.

Messrs. J. Bowen, Co. Surveyor and J. Ormonde, Assistant Surveyor, were in attendance.

Mr. Ormonde, B.E., said in reply to Mr. Halley, that Mr. Ryan's land adjoined the road at the Spring and also at Mapstown. He caused notices to be served on Mr. Ryan to have the hedges trimmed as they were prejudicial to the roads. The work was carried out since the issue of the notices.

LISMORE NOTES.

Irish Christian Front Concert—
Active rehearsals are now in full swing for the vocal and instrumental Concert to be held by the Irish Christian Front, at the Town Hall, Lismore, on Easter Sunday Night. No effort will be spared to make this event a rare vocal and musical treat, as well as a dramatic entertainment and with this end in view, all the available talent in Lismore, and many other centres in County Waterford, is being recruited for the programme.

Death of Miss Catherine Callinane,
Main Street, Lismore—
It is with deep regret we chronicle the death of Miss Catherine Callinane, who died at her residence, Main Street, Lismore, on Saturday, and fortified by the rites of the Holy Church.

Her death came untimeously as she enjoyed perfect health up to a few weeks before her death, which was received with feelings of the deepest sorrow and regret throughout the town and parish of Lismore.

Sprung from one of the oldest and most respected families in the town of Lismore, she was beloved by all, for her deeply religious and kindly nature, and her passing has created a void which will not be easily replaced in the locality.

Solemn Mass was celebrated for the repose of her soul on Monday morning, and the funeral which took place later to the Parish cemetery manifested plain but to the high esteem deceased was held both in the town and parish.

Rev. T. O'Gorman, officiated at the graveside.

Meeting of Lismore Race Point-to-Point Committee—
At a special meeting of the above held in the Devonshire Arms, Hotel, on Monday night, February 22nd, Mr. D. Noonan, M.L.A. Chairman, presided. Others present were—Lord Charles Cavendish, Messrs. I. Villiers Stuart, M.F.H., Dromana, Mr. E. Eley, Lismore Castle, A. Hickey, P.C.; J. F. O'Donnell, M. Healy, J. Browne, J. O'Donnell (Junior); T. Donoghue, M. Corbett, J. Barry, M. McCarthy.

The meeting opened with the election of Hon. Secretary, vacated by Mr. Farmer, who tendered his resignation, as he was not able to continue owing to pressure of business.

Mr. J. O'Donnell, Junr., acting Sec., was unanimously elected.

It was stated at the meeting that a new course is being secured this year which will give the spectators a perfect view from start to finish. The races will be run over the picturesque Castlefarm Course, by kind permission of Lord Charles Cavendish, but the lay out of the course will be slightly changed from that of previous years.

The fences are undergoing a special overhauling at present to ensure safety for the jockeys and horses.

Tenders are now being received for a bar on the course.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a vote of thanks was passed to Lord Charles Cavendish, Mr. Stuart and Mr. Eley, for their kind attendance and the help they gave to ensure success.

The Justice dismissed the case, but allowed 15/- costs against the defendant.

A similar ruling was given in the cases against John Tobin, Kilbrien, Ellen Gleeson, Lackendara, Thomas Hickey, Lackendara, James Dahill, Colligan, Mrs. O'Meara, Garryduff.

In cases against Timothy Brown, Colligan, and J. Quinlan, Ballinacourty, who had still 300 and 400 yards respectively of hedges to cut.

The Justice made an order to have the work carried out within 14 days and allowed 15/- costs in each case.

Hire of Bus
In the adjourned case of the G.S.R. v. Ml. Power, which arose from the alleged hiring of a 'bus by the defendant, Mr. Farrell, solr., acting for Messrs. Dobbins and McCoy, solrs., Waterford, asked for an instalment order.

Mr. Williams, solr., acting for Mr. Ryan, solr., said he had been instructed to ask for a further adjournment.

The District Justice said as Mr. Troy, D.J., had heard all the evidence in the case, he would adjourn it.

Application for Licence
Mr. Pat. Keyes, Hon. Sec., Garranbane Hall, applied for a licence in respect of three Cinderella dances.

Mr. Williams, solr., (for Mr. Ryan, solr.) said the application was for three Cinderella Dances on 17th March, 17th April and 15th August, respectively. The hall was already licensed for dances from 8 to 11 p.m.

Answering the Justice, Superintendent Walsh said he did not raise any objection. This ball is already licensed, and it was a pity they did not include these Cinderella dances at that time.

The Justice said as it was Mr. Justice Troy dealt with the case before, he would adjourn it to his Court on March 15th.

Lights
Some few cases under the Lights on Vehicles Act were heard and the usual fines imposed. Sect. Russell, Gaards Strane, Dungarvan, and Mahony, King, were the complainants.

CO. WATERFORD VOCATIONAL EDUCATION COMMITTEE.

NEW SCHOOL

OFFICIAL OPENING

Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., Chairman, presided at the monthly meeting of the above at the Technical School on Tuesday. Other members in attendance were—Rev. Brother McMahon, Messrs. Sean Curran, An Fear Mor, L. O'Meehan, S. Hayes, J. Mansfield and Commissioner Moynihan.

Finance
After signing the pay-sheet for the usual monthly salaries, etc., a sum of £500 was on the certificate of Mr. Bowen, Architect, paid on account to Messrs. Kavanagh Bros., Contractors, for the new Technical School.

An Fear Mor asked how the matter of the sewerage now stood.

Secretary—We have connected up with the old sewer. He understood that a new sewer for the area was in contemplation.

An Fear Mor—Is the old one satisfactory?
Secretary—It is not much in use yet.
An Fear Mor—Any law proceedings? Secretary—No.

Permanent Appointment
A letter from the Department of Education, stated that being satisfied with the probationary service, subject to a resolution of the Committee, the Department agrees to confirm the appointment of Mr. Donald O'Loingsigh, as a permanent whole-time Manual Instructor. Salary from 1st October 1936 to be at the rate of £140 per annum, with cost of living bonus.

The requisite resolution was passed, on the proposition of an Fear Mor, seconded by Mr. Sean Curran.

Scholarship Holders
The Superintendents of the Coolardan, Co. Galway, Domestic College, wrote in regard to the two Scholarship holders under the Co. Waterford Committee, viz., Miss B. O'Connor and Miss Margaret Drummy, stating that both girls were making excellent progress.

Irish Examination
A circular letter from the Department informed the committee that examinations for teachers who required to qualify in Irish will be held on April 20th and 23rd.

The Secretary said he informed the Teachers who had yet to secure the Ceard Teastas.

Part-time Teachers
Arising from a suggestion by F. Mac Culum, Department's Irish Inspector, the Committee appointed the following Part-time teachers: Grange Class—Ml. O'Connor.

Toor—Sean O'Halloran.
Old Parish—Mical Kenneally.
Villierstown—Joseph Connerly.
The Inspector also recommended that as the attendances in rural areas would not be very large, a fee of 4/- an hour instead of 5/- should be given in future appointments.

It was decided to grant 4/6 per hour, subject to sanction.

Kilmacothomas Site
A letter from Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., informed the Committee that the redemption price of the revised annuity on the school site at Kilmacothomas, is £7 ss. 6d.

Teaching Through Irish
An Fear Mor, referring to reports said he had heard over and over again that not one word of Irish is spoken in some of the classes. He did not think there is a class in this district which could not be conducted as efficiently through Irish as English. It is a question of habit. He suggested that some arrangement should be made to have members visit the classes.

A resolution was then proposed which the Secretary was directed to forward to each teacher.

Leamybrien Irish Class
A request for a teacher for the newly-formed Irish class at Leamybrien, and a suggestion that Mr. Ml. Murphy, Kilmacothomas, be appointed was read.

Consideration was adjourned to next meeting.

Class Discontinued
A letter from the Dickens Leather Company, stated that the Technical Class is discontinued for the time being, and a suggestion made that classes, later might be established for employees of the factory, which might include a Chemistry Class.

The Secretary said that the reason for discontinuing the class was that the employees were constantly working overtime and naturally they preferred that to the class.

handable one, but regretted that the Board had no power to provide funds for such a purpose.

An Fear Mor said this matter arose out of a visit by members of the Committee to the factory. What struck us on that occasion was that all the key jobs were held by non-natives. We inquired if there were any understandings and ascertained there were not. We put this matter before Mr. O'Brien, who said he would bring the matter before the Board.

Mr. Mansfield—The same thing applies in the Dickens Leather Co. Chairman—Look at the Sugar Factories.

An Fear Mor said the position now is that if the Tanner got sick another would have to be imported to carry on the work.

Tenders
The Committee accepted a tender for a circular Saw Bench at 49/- per ton. A Hand Moulding machine, 17 ss. 0d. and a Wood Turning Lathe, 49/-.

Coal and Coke
K. Williams and Co., coal 36/- per ton; coke 42/- per ton.
A Moloney and Son, coal 40/- coke 45/-.
Messrs. Williams' tender was accepted.

Linoleum
Mr. John Cummins, O'Connell street, 419, Messrs. Hearne's, Waterford £30 9s. 6d.
Mr. Cummins' tender was accepted.

Fire Extinguishers
The tender of the Japan Works, Dublin, to supply 3 Fire Extinguishers at 32/- each was accepted.

Varnishing Benches
The tender of J. Sandford and Son, for the staining and varnishing of benches at £2 was accepted.

Blackboards and Frames
For the making of seven blackboards and frames Mr. T. O'Mahoney and Sons, Bridge Street, tendered at £25.
Messrs. Hearne, Waterford, £32.
Messrs. O'Mahony's tender was accepted.

Answering a member, the Secretary said the benches made by Messrs. O'Mahony, were well and neatly turned out.

An Fear Mor agreeing, said he saw some of the benches.

Opening of New School
The Secretary asked what were the intentions of the Committee with regard to the opening of the new school.

An Fear Mor—It is very seldom a new school is opened in the area and he thought they should make this a very special occasion. He thought they should issue invitations to his Lordship, the Bishop and others to attend the opening by the Minister for Education.

The Committee approved and a resolution was proposed asking the Minister to open the school on a date about the middle of April.

Mr. Mansfield asked would the Committee's funds be available to entertain the visitors.

Commissioner Moynihan—No. You would be overcharged.

Secretary—Let all the members bring their cheque books to the next meeting (laughter).

Commissioner Moynihan—The Secretary will find it hard to get a quorum for next meeting, so (laughter).

League of Prayer
A letter from the League of Prayer asking the Committee to pass a formal resolution, under seal, to be submitted to the Holy Father, urging the Canonisation of Blessed Oliver Plunkett, was approved and the matter was left in the Chairman's hands to deal with.

WATERFORD FATALITY

Woman Cyclist Killed

Miss Irene Emilie McCoy, Solicitor, Louville, Waterford, was killed on Waterford Quay, on Friday night when she was in collision with a motor car owned by Captain Melville, Kilkenny Stables, Co. Kilkenny, and driven by Mr. Jerry Kerwick.

Countess Ledebur, of Austrian origin, born in London, and at present living at Gaultier Lodge, former residence of Miss Paul, and which the Countess recently purchased, was a passenger in the car when the accident occurred.

Miss McCoy was proceeding down the quay when she was in collision with the car, which was proceeding from Gaultier Lodge to Captain Melville's residence.

She was removed to a café nearby, and later taken to Waterford County Hospital, where on arrival she was found to be dead.

Miss McCoy's injuries were so extensive that she was not identified until several hours after her death.

Miss McCoy, who was a daughter of the late Mr. Archibald McCoy, of Louville, Waterford, was admitted a solicitor in 1934. Her family have been prominent in legal, hunting, and social life for many years.

RE-MARKABLE SPEECH BY MR. MacENTEE

VOLUNTEERS ATTACKED

"GEN. O'DUFFY HOPED TO COME BACK WITH NEW FASCIST ARMY"

An attack on those responsible for sending volunteers to Spain was made by Mr. MacEntee, Minister for Finance, at the Fianna Fail County Convention, which was attended by 170 delegates at Cavan, on Sunday last.

"I say that when this Blue-shirt levy was organised by General O'Duffy he had in mind not so much the conditions in Spain as this fact—that, one day, if on the winning side in Spain, he hoped to come back with a new Fascist army and set up in the Twenty-Six Counties a new Fascist State," declared Mr. MacEntee.

Having referred to the "Irish civil war" being fought in Spain, he asked: "Was it not clear that when those who thought more of another country and of another cause than of their own returned to Ireland there was going to be between them a veridicalness of the old bitterness which divided them in 1922-23?"

Mr. MacEntee said that the mass of the Irish people were devoted to their religion, as was manifest through the centuries. They did not always have to be reminded of the name of Catholic or Christian; they were Catholics and Christians in their hearts and, please God, would remain so for the generations yet to come.

Those of them who wanted to see every sod of the Six Counties reunited with the Twenty-Six were not going to try to make the divisions in other lands the excuse for a bitter division here.

This land required the service and sacrifice of every son of Ireland, and they had no blood, no zeal and no enthusiasm to spend in any other cause or in any other country. Just as they would deny the right of any other people to come in and interfere in their quarrels or concerns, they had no right to interfere in the quarrels or concerns of others.

There was a civil war being waged in Spain, and why should Irishmen fight on one side or the other? If they permitted that sort of thing to continue, did they think that the Irish civil war which was being fought in Spain was going to end with the cessation of hostilities in that country?

"When those," said Mr. MacEntee, "who fought on one side or the other come back to Ireland, remembering brothers' blood spilled, do you think the issue is going to be ended?"

Was it not clear that when those who thought more of another country than they did of their own and more of another cause than of their own returned to Ireland there was going to be between them a veridicalness of the old bitterness which divided them in 1922-23—that bitterness which it had been the policy and the endeavour of Fianna Fail to obliterate from the minds of people for ever?

"What," he asked, "was the real purpose of those who are enrolling volunteers for one side or the other in the Spanish quarrel? Look at the record of some of them. Since they were given the freedom of action of the ordinary private citizen by removing them from the service of the State, what has been their aim and policy in this country except to create civil disturbance and commotion. Those who are the self-appointed champions of Christianity in Spain were the men who tried to sabotage the whole local services in 1934 or 1935, because they thought to paralyse the arm of Fianna Fail and bring to an end the great programme which, despite their opposition, was being brought to consummation.

"I say that when this Blue-shirt levy was organised by General O'Duffy he had in mind not so much conditions in Spain as this fact that one day, if on the winning side in Spain, he hoped to come back with a new Fascist army and set up in the Twenty-Six Counties a new Fascist State. We are done with Blue-shirts, Black-shirts and Brown-shirts.

NO MORE VOLUNTEERS

A full meeting of the International Committee in London ratified plans for a ban on volunteers to Spain.

Portugal alone maintained certain reservations. She objected to the placing of foreign observers on the Spanish-Portuguese frontier. This objection will be considered later.

The agreement provides for a ban on volunteers, to come into operation from midnight on Saturday, and a control scheme for a naval cordon to be drawn round Spain, to become effective at midnight on March 6.

Reports of a decision to send French divisions into Spain if the control is not established by a given date are denied categorically by M. Debois, the French Foreign Minister.

Thirty-five Britons fighting in the International Brigade were captured by the insurgents on the Madrid front, says a communique from Franco's headquarters.

The position on this front is critical for the future of the war. General Miaja has been given supreme command of the Government forces, and has sent out a "blacks to the wall" appeal.

The British destroyer Express is to carry food to the thousands of refugees who fled to Algeria when Malaga was captured by the insurgents.

The food will be provided by the Spanish Government. The number of refugees now in Algeria is not known, but the number reported to have been in Malaga when the city fell was 110,000.

LENENT LECTURES

THE CHURCH'S BATTLE

Meekness Is Not Weakness

CATHOLICISM in these last days is confronted with evils which also confronted it in its first days, said the Rev. H. V. Casey, O.P., at St. Saviour's, Dublin, on Sunday last, at the Lenten Conference on the Second Beatitude.

"These evils are loosely called Paganism," he said, "but when reduced to the concrete they will be almost always found to be, radically, the evils of Profrigatey and Pride." He said that pride, which meant conceit, snobbery, vainglory, arrogance, disobedience, and rebellion; and profrigatey, which meant iniquity, immorality, intemperance, sinful indulgence, are the two main marks or characteristics of that worldly spirit, or spirit of worldliness, which our Lord had declared to be the enemy of God.

And pride or profrigatey, separately or combined, were the root of enmity to the Spirit and Church of God, and the root of moral downfall, whether of individuals, or societies, or nations. Thus, it was the pride and profrigatey of Henry the Eighth that were the root of his enmity to the Church and of his moral downfall, and of the subsequent apostasy of his nation from Faith and Morals.

"Catholicism is confronted today as in its first days, with that primal evil Spirit and Prince of the Powers of this world which Catholicism was established to defy and destroy," he continued. "Catholicism today is battling with that lust that is called liberty, and with that scornful hysteria and mortal weakness of the pride of life, in which men assert they find beatitude. These things have power to create a certain sense of beatitude—for a time. Men are sometimes satisfied and contented, and even sometimes joyful, with the self-indulgence of profrigatey and pride."

"But it is certain that this is only a temporary and disastrous delusion of beatitude.

"And our Lord teaches us in His Eighth Beatitude that real and lasting blessedness and beatitude results only from that happiness that is the fruit of the knowledge and love of God and from the subjection of the soul to God, the subjection of mind by the Obedience of Faith, of the heart by the love and devotion of charity, and of the deeds by the restraints of the moral virtues."

The preacher finally explained that "Blessed are the Meek" expresses our Lord's injunction regarding the restraint of the moral virtue of Temperance, in such wise as to moderate the passion of anger and to temper it to conformity with the dictates of reason.

"Meekness does not imply weakness," he said. "Rather it implies strength and power—the calm, steady strength which restrains unjust anger, and the power of will that withstands the moral weakness of that form of intemperance that issues in losing one's temper."

"We speak of Christian meekness as a beatitude for the reason also, that not only will it enrich men with blessedness in heaven, but also because it makes them blessed even here on earth by that effect of peace and joy in the human heart which are a foretaste of eternal blessedness. Meekness, the moral virtue which moderates the passion of anger in accordance with reason, is, too, an essential requisite for peace, joy, and beatitude in family life, in social life, as well as for the good order and well-being of public life."

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL MATCH SCENES

'SEQUEL IN COURT

WATERFORD CHAIRMAN ATTACKED

The scenes at Killohan Park, Waterford, which marked the abandonment after 31 minutes of the Waterford v Dundalk Association football match, had a sequel at Waterford when District Justice McCabe adjourned for a week an assault charge brought by Gerald P. Whelan, Chairman, Waterford A.F.C., against Harry Moran, Pump Lane, Waterford.

The Justice first sentenced Moran to 14 days' imprisonment, but following strong pleas for leniency put forward by Mr. G. A. Nolan, solicitor, who appeared for Mr. Whelan, he said he would give further consideration to the case.

He had previously remarked that he was trying to find some ground for not sending Moran to jail, but could find none.

Mr. Whelan said some of the players came to the side of the pitch, and called out that the referee wanted witness.

"When I went out," he continued, "the referee told me he was afraid he would have to abandon the game. I said it was a matter for him that the game was in his hands, and that if he wanted to put it off I could not prevent him."

Witness said he then left the pitch, and as he got outside it he saw Moran get around him. Moran approached him in a menacing manner, and witness pushed him back. Witness was struck and knocked unconscious.

Guard Scannel, described the scenes, and said he thought Moran started the trouble. Mr. Whelan was unconscious for half an hour.

Moran said he went to Mr. Whelan to ask for his money back or a free pass. He had a wife and two children.

DEATH OF MRS. O'LEARY, TALLOW, CARRICK DISTRICT COURT

UNCUT ROADSIDE HEDGES

The death of Mrs. T. O'Leary, which took place at her residence Main Street, Tallow, is deeply regretted. Though the deceased had been in indifferent health for some time her death was unexpected, and it came as a great shock to the members of her family, and her friends generally. It is feared that the fire which took place at her home recently gravely affected her not too robust constitution, and hastened her demise.

Deceased was the widow of the late Mr. T. O'Leary, N.T., and was prominently identified with the commercial life of the town for a long number of years, during which she made a host of friends. Widespread sympathy is extended to the members of her bereaved family and relatives.

The large attendance, at the removal of the remains to the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Tallow, clearly indicated the esteem in which deceased and her family are held—R.I.P.

So soon High Mass and Office was offered for the repose of her soul on Saturday morning week at which Very Rev. M. Dowley, P.P., Ballyduff, presided. Rev. N. O'Leary, C.C., Dublin (son) was celebrant, Rev. T. B. Walsh, C.C., Dungarvan, deacon, Rev. T. Hickey, C.C., Glendine, sub-deacon, Rev. J. J. Farrell, C.C., Tallow, Master of Ceremonies.

In the Choir were: Rev. M. Morrissey, Adm., Knockanore; Rev. T. O'Gorman, C.C., Lismore; Rev. T. Murphy, C.C., do.; Rev. T. Lavin, C.C., do.; Rev. T. Murphy, C.C., Tallow; Rev. Fr. Pigott, C.C., Fairview, Dublin; Rev. J. Walsh, C.C., Ballyduff; Rev. H. O'Brien, C.C., Rathgormac.

In the conclusion of the obsequies, the interment took place in the family burial plot in the adjoining cemetery, very large numbers of friends and sympathisers being present.

The last prayers at the graveside were recited by Rev. N. O'Leary, C.C., Dublin, (son); the responses being given by the Priests who officiated at the obsequies.

The chief mourners were—Rev. N. O'Leary, C.C., Francis T. O'Leary, N.T., Thomas O'Leary, (sons); Mrs. L. Hanrahan (daughter); Mrs. Michael Hickey, (sister); Mr. W. Leahy, (brother); Bernard, Céline, and Joseph Hanrahan (grandchildren); Mrs. F. T. O'Leary, N.T., (daughter-in-law); A. L. Hanrahan, M.P.S.I., (son-in-law); Miss N. O'Leary (sister-in-law); Mrs. A. Heskin, Aglish, Dr. and Mrs. Heskin, Ballyduff; Messrs. Denis Patrick and George Heskin, Aglish; J. Daly, Fermoy; Misses Josephine and Arnes Heskin, Lismore; Miss Teresa Heskin, Aglish; John and T. O'Keefe, Monagown; Misses O'Keefe, do.; Michael Hickey, (Sext.); and Mr. Hickey, Carragee; Miss Hickey, Carragee; Wm. McDonnell, Carragee; Michael and Mrs. Geary, Knockroon; Mr. and Mrs. Fitzgibbon, Yougal; F. Leahy, Yougal; Mrs. Denis O'Leary, Tallow; T. Leahy, Bishopstow; Master J. Collins, Tallow, etc., etc., (relatives).

MARRIAGE LAWS

'Violation One Of Greatest Evils

"THE violation of the laws of marriage is one of the greatest evils of modern society, and only the full restoration of the Christian family and of marriage can cure this evil," said Rev. S. J. Browne, S.J., in the second of his series of Lenten conferences at the Church of St. Francis Xavier, Gardiner St., Dublin, on Sunday.

Having described the family as the fundamental unit of society, taking precedence of the State, which had no power to alter its basic laws, he outlined the Catholic doctrine on marriage and on the education of children. After painting a picture of the ideal family and pointing to the models which the Church presents to the faithful, he explained the Church's doctrine on Christian marriage under three heads—the Sacramental character of Christian marriage, the conjugal fidelity and mutual love required by the unity and indissolubility of marriage, the fruitfulness of marriage involving the grave responsibility of parents for the education of their children. The lecturer then dealt briefly with education, pointing out the role of the family, the Church and the State, respectively.

Turning next to the modern attitude towards marriage and education, Father Browne pointed out how far the modern is in violent conflict with that of the Church, as regards, for instance, the indissolubility of marriage also in the theory that the child belongs to the State.

"The full programme of Communism is to take the child from its mother and bring it up from the dawn of reason in Marxist ideology," he said. "This is the Sacramental character of Christian marriage, and is attained principally by imbruing the child with hatred and contempt for religion. This goes so far as to destroy filial relationships and make the child a spy in his own home."

But in any case, the conditions of life in Soviet Russia are such that the family can hardly hold together.

He lectured convincingly by calling on his audience to look into their own family life, and to do everything in their power to make their family life possible for the poor.

BULL SHOW ENTRY

NEAR 1,000 ENTRY

With a recent entry of nearly 1,000 animals the Royal Dublin Society's annual bull show and sale will bring buyers from all parts of the British Isles to Dublin next week. It is estimated 3,000 guineas will be paid out for the sale.

Since 1925 the value of the sales has been increasing steadily, and last year it reached the £28,000 mark.

"TOBACCO GROWING"

Broadcast Talk by Dr. Ryan.

Dr. Ryan, Minister for Agriculture, in a talk on "Tobacco Growing," broadcast from Radio Athlone on last Monday night, said that the tobacco crop provided more labour an acre than any other field crop grown in the Saorstát.

The Tobacco Act 1934, provided a guaranteed market and an assured price for all merchantable tobacco produced on an acreage prescribed, with due regard to the quality of the tobacco produced by licensed growers and to the charge on the Exchequer.

Many growers in 1934 who had made enormous profits in 1933, thanks to the exceptionally favourable season and the brisk demand for their duty free tobacco, were disappointed with the returns for their 1934 crop. The less successful of those growers did not grow tobacco in 1935, and as a result the 1,110 growers who produced 457,735 lbs. of dry tobacco in that year received an average price of 10½d. a lb. for their tobacco. In 1936 the acre under tobacco fell to 100 statute acres, but again the average quality of the tobacco had shown an improvement. In the first three years of tobacco-growing under the new Act quite a number of growers had consistently obtained gross cash returns, ranging from £50 to £100 a statute acre, and seeing that their costs of growing need not exceed £25 an acre, such returns represented excellent profits.

For 1937, the Minister stated, quite a number of growers had applied for increased acreage. Thereafter he expected to see more and better tobacco produced each year. Many growers who had received much less than £50 a statute acre for their tobacco crops in the past three years had applied for licences to grow tobacco in 1937.

The Department of Agriculture specially desired that every grower should produce a crop of tobacco of good merchantable quality, so that he might suffer no loss by having an appreciable portion of his crop rejected, and the manufacturers might not have imposed upon them tobacco of a quality which was unsuitable to the trade. They also desired that the most capable growers should produce tobacco of a quality that was quite suitable for cigarettes and the more expensive brands of pipe tobacco.

Tobacco could be grown successfully in this country for the reason that the crop required less than 100 days of favourable weather in which to grow and ripen in the field.

HORSE RACING IN THE SAORSTAT

Deputation Received by the Minister for Agriculture

A deputation, representing the racing interests of the National Agricultural and Industrial Development Association, waited recently on Dr. J. Ryan, Minister for Agriculture, to put forward suggestions with a view to improving the condition of racing in the Saorstát.

It was pointed out to the Minister that although there had been a small increase in the value of stakes in Ireland last year, still the total to be won in Ireland and divided between the 1,500 horses running under rules was but a fraction of the amount to be won in any other Dominion.

The position of racing was reviewed not only in the Dominions, but also in Germany and France, and the cause and the remedy of our failure in Ireland was pointed out, and agreed upon. It was also noted that while the British Government were still subsidising over £3,000 per annum to Irish racing the Free State Government were up to now only contributing one hundred guineas.

The necessity for cheaper racing with up-to-date accommodation was stressed, and it was pointed out that in the countries where the public were admitted to enclosures cheaply, where they could see the horses, the attendance ran to tens of thousands, whereas in Ireland, we think we are doing well if we sell but a few thousand race cards.

Germany was particularly mentioned and the fact was stressed that in a country where all attention is supposed to be given to rearing hundreds of thousands had recently been spent on grand stands, and, in one case as a result, at Munich—63,000 people paid 3 marks each for standing room and £1,000 20 marks for seats on the stands and yet the arrangements were so good that there was no crushing and all could see the horses paraded.

The Minister was most sympathetic and promised that the racing industry would not be forgotten, although he regretted that he had not been asked for this help before the estimates for this year for his Department had gone in.

TALLOW NEWS

Rare Bird Visitor at Tallow—Ornithologists, and other bird lovers will be interested to learn that a rare bird visitor has made its appearance on a farm adjacent to the town of Tallow, County Waterford.

It is, what might be correctly called a white blackbird. Residents who have seen it have observed carefully its characteristics and declare that its general outline, together with its yellow beak, legs and claws, plus its warbling notes, and occasional song, clearly indicate its relationship to the well-known blackbird.

Testimonial to Retired Postman—During the past week, a very pleasant and enjoyable function took place at the Devonshire Arms Hotel, Tallow.

The Chairman said that something should be done to stop the breaking up of the bathing boxes. The Guards should be notified.

KILMACTHOMAS NEWS.

WE SEE—

That if pigs are to look their best and feed in the pink they must walk more. Their bacon, too, will be all the sweeter for the exercise. We would never have known of this but for the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, and yet there are people who make bold to say that expert bodies are superfluous. No doubt our pig-keepers here in the strain of swine they shelter and support, so eminent in many respects, is still further improved by a daily quarter of a mile's canter. This will tighten up its tissues. As a rule the pig is not a creature easily susceptible to the stimulus of rapid movement, but then it has never been tried in this way. No doubt, it will do a little bit of grunting in the early stages of its road trials, but even an athletic embarking on a strenuous course of training has to get his wind in order before he is in proper trim. So give the hog a walk.

A DUNHILL DAUGHTER—

Who is a dressmaker and a Spring fashion expert in her district, says that sleeves will be worn as far above the elbows as possible. Doesn't this sound more like Spring cleaning than Spring?

THE BUDGET—

As the days continue to lengthen, the problem of Mr. MacEntee's next Budget is slowly but surely forcing itself upon us, and we feel that a few helpful suggestions would be appreciated by the Minister for Finance.

It is evident, of course, that fresh sources of revenue must be found. Things like beer and tax are already weak enough through taxation, and, after all, we can hardly be expected to drink as much as will furnish "dough" enough to "beat a man's" "squire's" fleet of fighting planes on the eve of some above-the-clouds contest. But, honestly there are scores of things which everyone (not excluding the Metal Man himself) wants to be taxed.

How about a few shillings on spats? Those who wear them would not object and one it became noted abroad that some people would take to wearing them. Again, walking sticks should be taxed, unless in those rare cases where they support a genuine weakness. Fancy the thrill of knowing that beloved bobbed-banba leaned upon your favourite black-thorn. A boom in sticks would follow. Who would resist the chance of sticking such clear proof of their indispensability in their neighbours' faces?

Spinster Susannah Stella Snips suggests taxing moroccos. But the sweet spinster's lady should know as well as we do that these have become so scarce that a heavy tax could hardly revive them. Bitter suggestions come from Toby Tombeose, viz., old school ties and untraceable house names like "Three Trees." Heaven help the postman if every household had to pay a tax for the name on his gate!

The moral is perfectly clear. Don't flatten people with your taxes; aim at fattening, or at least show them a way by which they may flatten themselves, and then watch the revenue mount up. Put a tax on waistcoat buttons and you will see less empty button-holes on old men's waistcoats. Put a tax on every inch of material in the modern dance frock and you will see—Oh, well, perhaps, in that case, you would. At any rate, now you have started to think nationally you will readily observe that there is no limit to the host of ideas crowding in upon you.

That, frankly, is what we intend. We have no intention of thinking for the powers that be or for anyone else. We simply want to suggest lines of thought and to point out avenues to be explored and, incidentally, in exploring some of the smaller avenues, the right admirable Minister could see his way of taxing the cash abounding there, the anti-noise campaign would surely benefit. It is to be fervently hoped that he will levy only taxes which people want, and the fact that "spats" rhymes with "cats" may help him to remember these hints.

NO COURT—

The usual monthly District Court was not held at Kilmacthomas owing to the unavoidable absence of Mr. McCabe, D.J., by whom the business listed there will be the first disposed of at the March sitting here.

A PROBLEM—AND A SOLUTION—

One of the greatest problems of a news-agent is to decide exactly how many copies of a paper he (or she) may require to meet the varying demands of the reading public. Over-ordering is responsible for much wastage. Readers are, therefore, solicited to place, as far as possible, regular orders for the "Observer" to make the work of newsagents easier and more economic.

ON FRIDAY OF EACH WEEK—

The "Observer" will be on sale by the following agents at the northern side of the County—Mr. Edmund Kennedy, licensed victualler and family grocer, Rathgorman; Mrs. Flynn, do., Clonsilla; Mr. John Mansfield, Shopkeeper, Mithel.

SYMPATHY—

Wide-spread sympathy is extended to Mr. Michael Scanlon, Garrinsturton, Kilmacthomas, on the death of his sister, the late Mrs. Mary Broderick (nephew's name), Mayoy's Walk, Waterford.

CLUB'S CONDOLENCE—

Kilrossanty and Faha Gaelic Football Clubs, respectively, voted sympathy to Mr. Patrick Lalor, Main Street, Carrick-on-Suir (a former Kilrossanty player), on the death of his father, the late Mr. John Lalor, Currabaha, Kilmacthomas.

Both the Rathgorman and the Faha Gaelic Clubs have passed votes of condolence with the family of the late Mr. Matthew Whelan, Boola, Rathgorman.

BONMAHON LADIES DEMISE

Fortified by the rites of Holy Church, Miss Ellen Ryan, shopkeeper, Knockmahon, Bonmahon, answered the Great Call last week. The possessor of many admirable traits of character, her loss will be keenly felt by all who knew her. A huge concourse of neighbours conveyed the remains to the Catholic Church, Kill, where they were rested overnight. After the celebration of Requiem Masses for her soul, on the 19th inst., the burial took place in the Churchyard. Rev. M. Foxe, C.C., Kill, read the last prayer at the graveside.—R.I.P.

DEPARTURE OF POPULAR CLERIC—

Mr. Thomas Phelan, who has been in charge of the office of Mr. Richie Ryan, Turf Commission Agent, at Main Street, Kilmacthomas, over the past eighteen months, left our midst last week to take up a similar clerkship in Cork City. Mr. Phelan is a Fermoy man by birth and was employed by Mr. Phelan as a highly-enthusiastic lover of the National game, and was a prominent playing member of the Raynes Ramblers Club last year. Personally, Mr. Phelan is magnetic; he is animated and full of an infectious humour. Intensely sympathetic, he makes friends rapidly and he is unafraid to speak his mind. Mr. Phelan is a Fermoy man by birth. His troops and legions of friends on all sides unite in heartily wishing him every good luck and success in the Leevine city. Mr. Phelan's successor here is Miss Agnes Healy, a charmingly-mannered young Lismore (West Waterford) lady, who was previously in charge of Mr. Ryan's Office at Hospital (Co. Limerick).

THE WATERFORD HUNT POINT-TO-POINT

It is to be held over the lovely-aided Liscarrill Course again this year, and the meeting is fixed for April 8th. The course is now so well known that it is not necessary to extol its merits; but, nevertheless, minor improvements have been made since last year. The conditions of the race will be practically the same, save in the Cobs' Race, for which the weight has had to be raised to 11st. 7 lbs. to conform with the new I.N.H.S. regulations, and in the Hunt Race and Open Heavy Weight Race the restrictions as to riders being owners of subscribers have been removed. Full particulars will appear in our advertising columns in due course.

DEATH IN EXILE—

We regret to record the death of Mr. Daniel D. Murphy, brother of Messrs. Denis Murphy, Manager of the Kilmadon Co-Operative Creamery and John Murphy, Co. The deceased took a prominent part in the commercial and civic life of Winchester and Boston, Mass., U.S.A. A native of County Cork, he visited his native spot as recently as May of last year, and included in his itinerary Kilmadon and Tramore, and was then in vigorous health. He breathed his last in Jamaica on the 24th ult., rather suddenly while on a vacation cruise. We respectfully add ours to the many messages of sympathy tendered to his respected brother. Peace to his soul.

KILMACTHOMAS FAIR—

The usual monthly fair, held on Tuesday, was well supplied in all sections. Attendance of buyers was up to average. Young store cattle with condition sold readily at good prices, but demand was slow for old stock. Fat cattle traded well. Quotations:—Fat cattle (2nd class) averaged 20/- per cwt. live weight; springers (1st), 17/6; do. (2d), 17/0; 2-year-olds (1st), 18/0; do. (2d), 17/0; yearlings (1st), 16/0; do. (2d), 15/0; calves, under one month, 25/- to 45/-; store lambs (long wools), 28/- to 34/-; fat sheep (ditto), 2-year-olds, 42/- to 45/-; bonhams, 17/6 to 24/-; store pigs, 3 to 4 months, 27/- to 28/-; do., older, 40/- to 49/-.

KILL NEWS—

Mr. Michael Power, Boatstrand, passed hence this week, after a prolonged illness and at an advanced age. Of a bright and cheerful disposition, he was liked immensely by all who knew him. Deep sympathy with the family is expressed. May he rest in peace.

Some few days since, a large flock of wheat straw, the property of Mr. Jack Power, Kilbeg, was reduced to ashes by fire, the origin of which is unknown.

Mr. Martin Cullen, Woodwork Instructor under the County Vocational Education Committee, is at present conducting Classes in the village. An appreciably large number of young men have enrolled for the full Session. Sergeant John Fulham, Garda Siochana, Bunclody, Co. Wexford, and his most estimable life-partner have been on a short holiday amongst us and all locally were delighted to renew happy acquaintances with them. Mrs. Fulham is a daughter of Mr. Edmund Power, Kilmurran, and the late Mrs. Power, do., and she is a niece of Mrs. M. Fadden, shopkeeper here. Sergeant Fulham was stationed with us for a few years before his marriage, and was a warm favourite all over the district.

It is hoped that the local Gaelic team for the current year's Divisional County Championships. Keep the game going, Kill!

RATHGORMACK GLEANINGS—

The recent death of Mr. Sean Quinlan, of Ross, removes from this region one of the last of a fine old stock that is fast passing away. His demise, even though at a venerably ripe old age, caused great and deep regret, not only by his immediate relatives, but also on the part of all his neighbours and many friends.

He was a fluent speaker of Irish, a great musician and seanchaí, and his music and songs and stories were a treat to hear. He was a regular contributor to the "clár" at Feis Portlaoige in the old days. His neighbours and friends testify to his sterling worth as an Irish-Irelander. Indeed it can be truly said of him that "his soul was mated to song." His name will long remain treasured amongst the people of the Ekeony of Upper Third, and it certainly will retain an honoured place amongst the Irish-Irelanders of the Deise. His funeral to Clonsilla Churchyard was a very large and representative one. Ardhis De go raibh a nama.

The well-kept churches, schools, and cemeteries of the parish of Clonsilla and Rathgorman are a credit to the farmers, Sogarrath thereof, Very Rev. J. Nugent, P.P., and his good Caritas (Fr. O'Brien and Fr. Davison) can feel particularly proud of the loyalty of their flock to the Faith, and of the admirable manner in which they are upholding the grand old Catholic traditions handed down to them by their noble forefathers.

Micala Cragh, Mrs. Daly, Miss Scally, and Miss English, N.T.'s, are imparting the Golden Rule to upwards of 100 boys and girls at Rathgorman; while their equally popular professional colleagues of the Clonsilla and Coolinhorna National Schools are also daily instructing good attendances of infants and juveniles. Here's honest hope that the "average" may never decrease.

That Gaelic football is still going strong in Rathgorman is a fact obvious as it is pleasing to publish. Teams have been affiliated in senior, junior (Mountain Rovers), and minor grades, respectively. Trust the capable veteran coach, tireless Tommy Halsey, to turn out the trio truly tuned up to concert-pitch for their every tussle throughout the season. Up the "Reds!"

A BOOKLET OF PERMANENT WORTH—

Our genial and gifted friend, Liam O'Moideain, Manager, Ring Co-Operative Stores, is to be cordially congratulated on the clearness and exquisiteness of his Irish translation of Francis Thompson's deeply devotional poem, "Ex Ore Infantium." Every one at all seriously interested in the Mother Tongue of the Gael should buy, read, mark and digest this monumental and truly masterly work. The booklet is beautifully turned out by a well-known Dublin printing firm; it contains 12 pages, and its price is only 4d. Mr. William Meynell, literary executor of Francis Thompson, allowed the Translator to insert "Ex Ore Infantium" with the Irish translation, and the favour is gratefully acknowledged in the booklet—an autographed copy of which we proudly hold.

We Put It To You (Serious and Not)— That the Croughan Rangers Hurling Team is amongst the competing combinations for this year's junior championship of the East Waterford Division— That the Rangers are drawn from Mahonbridge, Fewis, Kilmacthomas and Clonsilla—

That Faha will also be fielding a J.H. Fifteen along with a J.F. representation— That a weekly fowl market (held on Tuesdays) has been successfully established at Leamybrien—

That the fish is on the wane south-side of the Comeragh— That Methel has not been left unvisited by the "darred" germ—

That Annetstown Anne abhors being abroad a bus with any biped who squints— That no genuine Siabhadh Gna gentleman will permit a parrot to be opened in her presence in her boudoir—

That a Kilbrien belle is bent on bowing thrice to the next new moon and on turning her money over— That Fenor's tunniest female is now putting hay in her boots, to strengthen her calves for the walk to the forth-coring Waterford Hunt Point-to-Point—

That Kilmadon's meekest maidens hated of geese amounts to a phobia— That she can tell the moment there's a goose in the room—

That, when suffering from insomnia, the Metal Man refuses to try the remedy of counting sheep because he dislikes them—

That since the 10th inst., a lassie of the "Leather City" has kissed her hand no less than eleven times to a local factory-hand in Brown Street, Portlaoige—

That nothing short of an earthquake can hardly deter nine Nire Valley virgins from attending at the Pike Hall on Easter Sunday Night—

AND— That grateful Carranbane girls and bashful Bohadon daughters think nothing of being seen in the same gown a number of times by the same people.

PORTLAW "PICKINGS"

At the initial meeting of the newly-elected East Waterford Divisional Board, G.A.A., Mr. A. J. Madders, N.T. (Ballyduff), informed the meeting of a generous gesture by Irish Farmers, Ltd., Portlaw, who had, he said, provided a few acres of the farm-house of Gaelic games at Portlaw. They had given every support, financial and otherwise, to them. Mr. Kennedy O'Brien, himself, had offered a handsome subscription to the Club, and Mr. F. Roche, had also played a prominent part in making the project feasible.

The Chairman (Mr. Phil O'Donnell) said that as far as the new industries were concerned the Association had got every help and co-operation from them at Portlaw and at Dungarvan. The gratitude of all Gaels was due to the directors of these firms. "They deserve well of us," he concluded, "and our sincere thanks are due to them."

Mr. Madders then proposed that the Board extend their heartfelt thanks and congratulations to the directors of Irish Farmers, Ltd., Portlaw, and to Mr. Kennedy O'Brien and Mr. F. Roche, for their kind co-operation and assistance. The resolution was passed una voce and with acclamation.

The following transfers were recommended by the Board:—Dunhill H.C. to Portlaw Tanners H.C.; Mr. Harney, T. Power, J. Healy, J. Maher; Fenor F.C. to Portlaw F.C.—J. Healy and D. Feeaney.

After affiliations had been handed in by the representatives of the Clubs in attendance, the meeting proceeded with the Draws, which resulted as under:—S.H.—P. H. Pearse v. Erin's Own; Mount Sion v. Dunhill.

J.H.—Portlaw Tanners v. Ballyduff; Clonsilla v. St. Stephen's; Tramore v. Dunhill; Passage v. Mount Sion; De La Salle v. P. H. Pearse; Portlaw "B" v. Fenor. (If Clonsilla do not affiliate, Portlaw "B" oppose St. Stephen's in the opening round.)

M.H.—Dunhill v. Portlaw; Mount Sion v. Tramore; P. H. Pearse v. Clonsilla. S.F.—St. Stephen's v. Erin's Own; Rathgorman v. Fenor; De La Salle, a bye.

J.F.—Kill and Newtown v. Passage; Portlaw v. Tramore; Mountain Rovers v. P. H. Pearse; St. Stephen's v. Mount Sion; Fenor, a bye. (If Kill and Newtown do not affiliate, Fenor face Passage in the first round.)

M.F.—Kill and Newtown v. Tramore; Portlaw v. P. H. Pearse; Mountain Rovers, a bye. (If Kill and Newtown fail to affiliate, the Mountain Rovers are to take on Tramore.)

The "Leather City's" newly-acquired picturesquely positioned, pit-pat playing pitch, will be the scene of the eagerly looked forward to battle between Erin's Own and Dunhill, in the final match of the Medal Hurling Tournament (under the aegis of the Eastern Divisional Board), down for decision on tomorrow (Sunday) fortnight. This bout bids fair to put out a sparkling struggle for supremacy, as the capital ambitions concerned are equally confident of success, and their respective camp-followings will not hear of defeat. The local junior football XV will field out against Fenor in friendly rivalry, by way of a curtain-raiser to the main clash. Granted propitious conditions climatical, the enactment of this attractive two-part programme will be witnessed by a record gathering.

We accept absolutely no responsibility whatever for the subjoined stanza, which has been submitted for insertion by "Sportlaw Spooner."

2 lovers stood in Brown Street here; I said unto the other, "Dear, How 14 8 that we 8 be Love-making now for all to see; 1 of 20 I doted if I might, Would ever come 8 4 my sight, 'sa heart that leaps 4 you— 8's 7 2 be loved, that's true!"

We leave readers to "figure" it all out for themselves.

We are reliably informed that a new set of jerseys will be procured for the Tanners team. How about blue and white, lads? The old set (green and white) will probably be done by the "B" boys. By the way, here's a problem for "Sportlaw Spooner": How many "tanners" would go to make up the amount required to properly tout the Tanners?

All loyal Gaels will unite in offering sincere sympathy to Mr. William Faulkner (a valued active member of our club here) in his bereavement occasioned by the untimely death of his first-cousin and namesake, Mr. Wm. Faulkner, Manchester, England, which sad event happened at the beginning of this week.

We contemplate "coughing up" a song about the Tanners' Hurling Team in a later issue.

The "Observer" will be on sale at the Mayfield Shop (deservedly-esteemed Mrs. Harvey's excellent establishment) here on Friday morning of each week, and readers are respectfully asked to place, as far as possible, regular orders for the paper to make sure of securing a copy. Also please note that "Portlaw Pickings" will be a weekly-featured "broadscript."

RESTRICTED RATIONING OF PIGS In the current issue of the journal of the English Ministry of Agriculture, Dr. Charles Croxall, Harper Adams Agricultural College, says that before the last year or two experimental work on pig feeding was largely devoted to comparisons of the effects of different rations upon growth-rates, with little reference to the quality of the produce beyond a rough grading by inspection into good, medium and poor-quality carcasses. Since all carcasses were commonly paid for at the same rate, there was clearly little practical incentive to pursue the problem of quality any further. Feeding "standards" applicable to such conditions have been arrived at from this past experimental work, these indicating in terms of starch equivalent, protein, and minerals the needs of the average pig at various stages of growth and fattening if it is to do its best in terms of rate of live-weight increase. The amounts of food specified in these "standards" approximate to the amounts that the slop-fed pig will clean up when fed two or three times daily. Grading experience under the Pig Marketing Scheme has created a growing opinion that this level of supply, whilst giving the desired rapid increase of live-weight, tends in too many instances to produce excessive fat on the back of the pig, and consequent inferior grading quality. It does not necessarily follow that the financial return to the feeder will be any worse, but clearly the point as to whether, by some reduction in the feeding scale, the desirable higher quality may be obtained without financial sacrifice, or possibly even with financial advance, needs to be investigated. The problem is by no means simple, since many other variable factors enter into it, such as the breed and strain of the pig used, housing conditions, the general efficiency of management. The result of an individual test can thus only be accepted as valid for the particular combination of circumstances in which it was carried out. General guidance for the industry as a whole can only be arrived at when data are available from a sufficiently large number of such individual records to give a fair sample of the varying conditions in the industry. This limitation must always be kept in mind, in applying the conclusions arrived at under the controlled conditions of experimental work to the variable conditions of practice. That the rate at which food is supplied may have a marked effect upon the economy of production and on the quality, when the conditions are carefully controlled by feeding each pig individually, has been clearly demonstrated in American experiments, and also in the more recent experiments of Mansfield at Cambridge. In the latter, reference to food-supply commenced as each pig reached 65lb. live-weight, the degree of restriction amounting at first (65-100 lb. live weight) to one-quarter and later to one-third of the amount consumed by similar pigs that were given as much of the same food as they would clean up at two daily feedings of half-an-hour each. Despite this considerable restriction of food-supply, and the consequent prolongation of their fattening period of an average of 271 days, the "restricted pigs" showed a substantial advantage in economic returns, which was associated with a marked improvement in carcass grading quality. Further work along these lines is now desirable in order to ascertain the optimum point in the development of the pig at which restriction should commence, and the degree of restriction from that point onwards that will produce the best results. Further, before the results of work carried out by methods of individual feeding can be applied to practice it is necessary that their applicability to such varying methods should be tested. In practice, pigs are always fed in groups, and any restrictions of the amount of food needed in the common trough, when the results enables each pig to get his fill at feeding time, must mean almost inevitably that the stronger and more voracious pigs will be "fall-fed" all the time, whilst the weaker stay-mates will go short in varying degrees. The practical problem is thus to ascertain how best to regulate the quantity of food so as to ensure optimum results in quality and financial return from the pen as a whole. Practical experience under the grading schemes, Dr. Croxall says, is steadily leading to the general acceptance of the view that, for good back-fat grading, some restriction of food supply is desirable, at any rate in the last few weeks of the feeding period, and there is a tendency to fix a maximum for the daily supply of meal at 5-6lb.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. J. S. Troy, D.J.)

CIVIL BILLS

A number of civil bills in which Messrs W. R. Hodnett, T. K. Keane and J. N. K. Macnamara, solrs., appeared for plaintiffs, were first disposed of or adjourned.

Larceny

Michael John Collins, Cock Hill, was charged with the larceny of a vice, value £3 10s., the property of Messrs. Fleming and Wm. Broderick, Foxhole, was charged with receiving same.

Mr. Hodnett, solr., defended.
Mr. Keane, solr., held a watching brief for the defendants.

Paul Twomey, Manager of Messrs. Fleming, claimed the article produced as being property.

Mr. Hodnett—I am pleading guilty. Witness said there was also some whiskey missing, but he could not prove it as the man in charge had gone away.

Sergt. Lupton stated he interviewed Broderick to whom the defendant sold the vice, an he also interviewed the defendant who made a statement.

Mr. Hodnett—Is there any necessity or reading it, seeing that I am pleading guilty.

The Justice agreed.
Mr. Hodnett appealed to his Worship to deal leniently with the defendant. He had been 5 years in the employment and there was nothing against him previously. As a result of his lapse he had lost his good job, and he was the sole bread-winner of the family.

Mr. Keane said his former employers did not wish to press the case.
He was let out under the P.O.A. and the case against Broderick was dismissed.

Insurance Case

The Minister for Local Government charged Thomas Carey, for failing to stamp the Insurance Card of his employees, Norah Cronin, and there was also a Civil Bill.

Mr. J. Casey, State Solicitor, for plaintiff, said the civil bill had been settled.

Mr. J. McNamara, Inspector, having given evidence, defendant was fined 20s. with 24s. costs.

Unlicensed Bulls

Matthew Murphy, Clonpriest, was charged with having an unlicensed bull, 2 years old.

Mr. Casey, State Solr., prosecuted.
Guard Carroll, having given evidence, defendant was fined 20s. and 20s. costs.

Michael Cronin, Ballynadog, was charged with a similar offence, the animal being 3 years old.

Mr. Casey, prosecuted and Mr. Keane, defended.
Guard Carroll, having given evidence, Mr. Keane said that the defendant had no intention of using the animal, which had been since sold and slaughtered.

Defendant was fined 20s. and 20s. costs.

Obstructing Bailiff

In the adjourned case against Bridget Morrissey, and her brother John, of Gortnacappul, for obstructing a Sheriff's officer.

Mr. Casey, prosecuted, and Mr. Hutch, solr., Milton, defended.
Mr. Casey stated the case as already reported at previous hearing.

Mr. Hutch said his client John, was not present. They were raising the point that the seizure was not lawful and therefore, there was no obstruction.

The Justice—This is a misdemeanour and indictable. Why is he not here?
Miss Morrissey—He has a cold.

Mr. Casey said they were principally concerned with John Morrissey. He was never called in Court, but he had a cold. He asked for a warrant.

Ultimately, on the suggestion of Supt. Kelly, it was decided to go on with the case against the female defendant.

The Sheriff's officer repeated the evidence given last day, and was cross-examined at length by Mr. Hutch.

Mr. Casey said if the property in seizure goods could be shifted from one to another as in that case there could be little chance of recovering lost debts.

After a protracted hearing and lengthy arguments, the Justice said he could not deal with the case against John Morrissey in the circumstances.

The case against Bridget Morrissey, was marked "D.W.P."

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

THE LATE MRS. M. WHELAN

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; T. Beausang, R. Savage, J. Daly, B.E., T. K. Keane, solr.; R. Power, M. Ahern, M. D. Broderick.

The Minutes having been read and signed, Mr. Broderick proposed a vote of sympathy with their esteemed colleague, Mrs. J. Whelan and the other members of the family on the death of his mother, and the adjournment of the meeting. Her lamented husband had been member and Chairman of that Board for many years—a straightforward and upright gentleman, who gave his time and service ungrudgingly to the town. Since his boyhood he had known the deceased lady intimately and she was possessed of every quality that went to constitute one of the best of our Irish gentlewomen. May she rest in peace.

Mr. Power seconding, said he knew the deceased lady for the past 35 years, as a most kindly and amiable member of the community. Her two sons were a credit to the town and themselves, as was their father—the last Chairman of that Board before them. The Hillgrove family, of whom she was a member, was one of the oldest and most respected in the town.

Mr. Keane, associating himself with the vote of sympathy to their colleague and his brother, sons of their old Chairman, said the deceased lady was a woman of the most kindly and charitable disposition.

Messrs. Ahern, Beausang, Daly, Savage and the Clerk, joined in the proposition.

The Chairman said they all regretted that the occasion had arisen for that proposition.

The late Mrs. Whelan was a real gentlewoman and good mother in every respect, and her death was a sad loss to her good sons. The late Mr. Whelan was thought highly of by all who knew him. As a mark of respect to her memory he declared the meeting adjourned.

LESS PIGS MARKETED

The number of pigs marketed in the Gaosiat during January was slightly below that for the corresponding period last year. The average prices realised for pigs suitable for the bacon curing industry ranged from 58s. to 61s. per cwt. dead weight, or approximately 43s. 6d. to 45s. 9d., on the live weight basis.

Competitions For Irish Blacksmiths

An exhibition of the work of Irish blacksmiths will be held at the coming R.D.S. Spring Show. Intending competitors are advised to write as soon as possible for entry forms and full particulars to the Secretary, County Workers, Ltd., 23 St. Stephen's Green, Dublin. All exhibits must be received by the end of April, as the exhibition opens on May 4.

LEPRECHAUNS AND A COTTAGE

The house was on a "pass," the leprechauns were displeased, and the life was frightened out of himself and his wife, were the reasons given by a cottager at Tumin, Killcolum, in a letter to the Westmeath Board of Health why his cottage should be removed to another side of the land. The cottager stated in the letter that he had to leave a drop of whiskey on the window to keep the leprechauns in good form. Commissioner Bartley said they had no apparatus to lift the house from one place to another, but the Engineer could report on the matter.

Housing—

The local Urban Council have quite a number of puzzling questions to solve, but, perhaps, one of, if not the most difficult, is that in connection with the New Housing Schemes, past, present and future. The going away with the wretched slums, existing in such numbers so widely all over the town, as a legacy from the past held out the prospect of a minor millennium, but, alas and alack! the realisation is anything but satisfactory, using a very mild term. In the "good old times" that were anything but "good" from many points of view, the poor people housed in those unspeakable tenement blocks—paid—or at least were under rents ranging from one shilling weekly up to two or thereabouts. Cases have been before the local Court from time to time in which ejectments were sought for non-payment of weekly rents from one to two shillings, the arrears sometimes reaching the comparatively enormous total of £5 or £7. Along came the Government schemes for the erection of Workingmen's dwellings, and rows of fine houses were built, into which the tenants of slums in the Clearance Areas were put in possession. But then came the crisis! The lowest rent of the new houses was fixed at 3/6, the ratepayers having to make up the difference between that and an economic rent. What is the unfortunate result? The poor people, or a large proportion of them, who found it hard enough to pay 1/7 or 2/- weekly have gone into arrears, despite the existing rate of 2/6 or 2/7 weekly, in one case at in the course of a single year. And now the Council have to take proceedings to evict them. The remedy seems to be as difficult to find as the square of the circle. Some members of the Council half-jocely, half-seriously, suggested that they should hand over the houses to the tenants altogether. Another suggested that in connection with each scheme there should be one building consisting of flats to house those who were used to and required only a room or 2, and who found it impossible to pay the new rent. It may seem a far-fetched idea, but there is something in it in the circumstances.

The Fishing Season—

Has turned out of late as bad as could be feared. For weeks there has been a great scarcity of salmon, despite the very promising opening. And to make matters much worse, the price "flopped" some 50 per cent. from the neighbourhood of 3/- per lb. to less than half. Various reasons are given for this serious depreciation in the price of this marine luxury, sometimes termed "the beef of the sea." Among others it is said that there has been a big glut of Scotch and other foreign fish in the markets; another report states that "chilled salmon" is being sold as low as 1/- per lb. Whatever the reason, the plight of the poor fisherman's families is serious. There was some improvement in the takes of fish early this week, but the men say that it is hardly likely to continue as the present weather conditions are hardly conducive to a good run of fish. However, it is time enough to bid his Satanic Majesty "La Vie En Rose" meets him. A month of the season has not yet gone and there is, therefore, a good margin to make up for the poor time that has elapsed. Let us hope and pray that the immediate future will more than make up for the deficiencies of the immediate present.

Mr. M. J. Lally—

The people of Youghal one and all have learnt with regret—compulsively with pleasure at his well-deserved promotion—that they are to lose the services of Mr. M. J. Lally, Stationmaster, Youghal, who is being transferred to the important station of Killarney. During his stay here, Mr. Lally, while discharging his official duties, faithfully and well, has shown himself on all occasions ready and willing to do all in his power to oblige even the least members of the community who applied to him for advice. In connection with the tremendous summer traffic at the local Terminus, Mr. Lally, proved himself a past master in the art of handling the big and not infrequently unruly crowds that rush down on Sunday and other excursion days for a "breath of the briny" and sundry seaside tonics. Many of those days saw 6,000 or 7,000 trippers, if not more, arriving by train.

Having been rejuvenated, energized and what not by that mysterious "something in the seaside air," those thousands besieged the returning trains with an unconquerable rush to get back home. It is a remarkable compliment to the skill and tact of Mr. Lally and his staff that during his time at Youghal, there has not been a single untoward incident or accident worthy of note or report. In leaving for Killarney he and his family have the sincerest good wishes of the whole community for a happy future and further promotion.

Mourn and Tum—

From time to time of late we have had cases in the local Courts arising out of the fact that the parties principally concerned mixed up the idea underlying the interesting work at the head of our paragraphs. Rumour has it now that another couple of similar cases will come before the Court, if not Courts, in the very near future. The private "slogan" adopted by quite a number of young persons in recent years seems to be "Get it, honestly if you can, but get it!" In one of the prospective cases referred to materialises it will be an eye-opener in more ways than one. In another the wisdom of the P.O.A. will be very seriously questioned.

MORE SHEEP EXPORTED

The number of fat sheep exported from Irish Free State ports from 1st January to 6th February this year was 21,015, as compared with 18,818 during the same period last year. From Northern Ireland ports 7,777 were exported this year as compared with 7,705 last year.

THE STATE AND AGRICULTURE

The past few years have seen a large number of attempts by the Governments both in Ireland and across channel to relieve the depression in agriculture by assisting, in one way or another, certain of its numerous branches. Speaking broadly no two methods of help have been alike. The framers of agricultural policy have been experimenting; of that there can be no doubt. Their attempts to introduce new devices, calculated (or hoped) to help the farmer while at the same time safeguarding the consumer, have been laudable. Unfortunately it has not always been possible to force the repercussions of individual "relief schemes" on the other branches of farming enterprise.

Discussing this question, a correspondent of the "Times" points out that farmers are now rather bewildered. The intrusion of State influence (direct or indirect, into their business has rapidly increased. Uncertainty as to the effect of this or that policy in relation to other policies or other departments of the farm has grown. The feeling is developing that those at the head of Government affairs should call a halt to new experiments of assistance, and consider carefully in the light of farming experience, the reactions of one policy upon another, with a view to rectifying omissions, and if possible harmonising the more obvious discrepancies.

The grazer, for example, he points out, has to pay higher prices for his stores, because the introduction of a guaranteed market for milk has led to the falling-off of store-raising in England and Wales. A subsidy was introduced to help the cattle farmer, but certainly an appreciable proportion of this has gone indirectly to the Irish shoe trade. It is obvious, in fact, that the singling out of any particular commodity for special treatment must introduce complications in the farming economy as a whole which only experience can properly discover.

Moreover, the diversity of the methods of dealing with the various commodities has led to difficulties, cuts apart from the bewildering effect on the farmer. To start with, the marketing board organisation, incorporating the principle of compulsion by voluntary action, was the vogue. This was applied to milk, potatoes and pigs. Even here the various schemes differ widely in many fundamental aspects and the influence of marketing schemes on the economy of farming as a whole can be studied properly only by taking the schemes individually.

Outside the marketing schemes we have three cases of commodities which have been dealt with in entirely different lines and by methods which in turn differ from one another. These are wheat, sugar beet, and livestock. In each case what virtually amounts to a Government Department with statutory powers has been, or is being, set up to administer assistance to the industry, but the methods of help, and the responsibilities and powers of the statutory bodies concerned are widely divergent.

Thus recent years have seen the emergence of a system under which State assistance to certain integral units of the farming enterprise is being administered on several widely differing lines. Farmers who are interested in the various commodities of the farm may come within the influence of a statutory body, virtually a Government Department, or may be watched over by marketing boards, each of which has its own responsibilities and methods of procedure; or may be left with such encouragement as is forthcoming from the general Government policy of assistance to agriculture. Yet the farmer himself has to think of his farm as a unit, and it is not so simple as it may seem to be, to think of the past few years have left him disturbed in mind, and with his traditional unity of farming control upset and unbalanced.

It is a small help to the farmer to receive assistance in one form or another for one enterprise of his farm when the indirect effect of that assistance is to make another necessary enterprise unprofitable. It is equally undesirable to stimulate one farming group if such stimulus results indirectly in injuring the interests of another group.

To speak of a "balanced agriculture" may be misleading, for there are many different views on what "balanced agriculture" means. What is certainly wanted however is a greater measure of consolidation than exists today. There is urgent need for examining the repercussions of a variety of policies, some of which are conflicting.

G.A.A. NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG."

Hurling and football activities in West Waterford are, for the moment, at a standstill. All players are like fighters eagerly awaiting zero-hour. It is the calm before the storm of the Gaelic struggles which the 1937 Championships will soon launch upon us. At least, the specially convoked Western Convention is definitely fixed. Nomination Papers have already been despatched to all clubs who competed in the 1936 Championships and the election of officers will be the main business of the special Condamh which meets in Dungarvan on Sunday week, March 7th, 1937. Usually the number of Clubs which take the trouble of filling and sending in Nominations is surprisingly few; apathy of this nature is not likely in the present instance owing to the widespread publicity given to the question of nomination in this extraordinary case.

There is to be no appeal to the Munster Council after all. It is a pity that this decision was so belated. If the ruling of the Co. Board Chairman had been accepted as final, there would have been no delay. As it is, valuable time has been lost. The Draws and Fixtures have had to be deferred and the inevitable result is endless trouble in ripping off the Championship programme to schedule.

The Draws for the Eastern Division took place on Sunday last in Waterford. Portlaoise was the only new addition; they are entering two minor teams, a junior football team and two junior hurling teams. Though strongly pressed to enter for Senior Hurling they refused. Seems strange from a team that were junior hurling champions in 1936. Stranger still, they have applied for the transfer and regarding of a number of Senior players. This is hardly fair to the other junior teams struggling along with the minimum of material. It reminds one of the Big Company combine squeezing out its small individual competitors. I doubt if it conforms to the Gaelic outlook on sport.

The Senior Hurling Draw promises some rare battles. P.H. Pearce's of Ferrybank elected to go Senior and are to meet their old rivals from over the Suir, Erin's Own. It will be a needle sharp—youthful dash and vigor versus experience and craft. Mount Eban Droghda. When they met last year, they set all Waterford on fire with enthusiasm. Their meeting this year should surpass even last Autumn's heroic encounter.

The G.A.A. Clubs of the County are again giving their service this year to carry out the National League Competition on St. Patrick's Day. This is a noble task which every Gael should feel proud to undertake as a duty. The reasons in 1937 was most encouraging. With better organization, more experience and more enthusiasm it is expected that the returns for next year will be more substantial still. This form of Gaelic activities helps to foster unity and promote co-operation with the start of the game a player caught an Gaelic League and other Irish Ireland bodies and reflects much credit on the G.A.A. clubs of the Decies.

Many clubs too have already drawn up programmes of Gaelic cultural activity for the National Festival. In Waterford City a Cuirm-cool and Ceilidhe-Mor is being arranged under the joint auspices of the City G.A.A. and Conradh na Gaedilge. In Dungarvan, the G.A.A. Club are planning a most ambitious programme for the Town Hall. It includes Concert and the stirring National Drama "The Rising of the Moon" followed by a prolonged Ceilidhe. The Villierstown G.A.A., too are earnestly preparing a thorough National entertainment for the same night. The gaels of Cappoquin have decided to run their Annual Concert on Sunday, March 7th, this year, so as not to put too great a strain on the resources of vocal and musical talent for St. Patrick's Night. The Gaelic League of Lismore finds itself in the anomalous position of being unable to rent a hall for their Annual Irish-Ireland National Festival Concert—no premises being available. The two Cinema palaces now running there have reduced the number of public halls to one and when the Gaels sought to book that, they were disagreeably surprised to find themselves forestalled by another society. All G.A.A. Clubs should make it a point of honour to invest the Feast of our National Apostle with as Irish an atmosphere as possible and each could do its own share by promoting activities worthy of the Gaelic tradition.

All the sports scribes are unanimous that "we" won a great moral victory at Twickenham. You know the fraternity I mean—not the uncouth Gaelic critics, but the "gossipy" writers. The pseudo-National dailies with their "Olives" and their "Scrum-Halves" work themselves up into convulsions over the wonderful "triumph" of our Rugby heroes. A most devastating triumph!

Those sporting critics know better than Caesar or Napoleon how to turn defeat into victory—with the all-powerful pen. It is pathetic, really, to see how concerned they are to persuade us that we have a wonderful talent for Rugby. Pathetic indeed, if it was not so tiresome. The ordinary Pal Murphy, like you and me, is getting downright irritated at having the "Redoodle" starting at him every morning from the "National" journals on the breakfast table. It is positively "trying."

Contrast this chorus of Rugby trumpet-blowing and noisy Soccer hysteria with the strange silence that obtains when one of those "superior" alien games reports to the savagery of the wrestling mat. Here is a description of a "snoring entertainment" staged at a Dublin venue recently. An evening sporting sheet, with a cadour which is positively thoughtless, wrote it up thus for its very limited circulation:—

"I want to make a protest and I hope I am voicing the opinion of all followers of the Soccer code when I denounce the disgraceful scenes witnessed at Milltown on Sunday last. At the start of the game a player caught an opponent by the jersey while another struck him. As the game progressed the home side were allowed to do as they liked and brutal tactics crept into the game. I do not blame the home team for this as they naturally took advantage of a weak official. The supporters of this team used some vile language against the visiting team. I myself was subjected to serious threats from a section of their supporters some of whom threw missiles at the visitors; one struck a small boy and badly cut his head. When the visiting team were leaving the pitch one of them was struck by a gang of hooligans. A force of Guards arrived immediately the game was over, much to the relief of the visiting team. I was the mercy of Providence that a serious riot was not caused at this game. When players who are paid to play football give a vulgar display of backstreet hooliganism, it is time for those of us who pay our shillings and shillings to keep away from their grounds as a protest." An elegant little dog-fight, eh!

Do you believe that if a fraction of that brutality had occurred at a G.A.A. match, the dailies would be so busy with a splash of big headlines and more than a few sub-leaders and special articles. Remember the Roscrea fiasco last year—the scribes unciously lectured the G.A.A. on the conduct of its big games. But it would never be to queer the pitch of the "sporting brotherhood" who are striving might and main to foist their alien games on the people of this country. When our Rugby "gentlemen" and our highly-paid Soccer imported "stars" revert to gutter brawling, tell it not in Gath. "Gentlemen of the Press—a discreet silence."
