BALLYDUFF BROADCAST

Some excitement was caused on Saturday last when dense volumes of smoke were seen issuing from the door of Mrs. A. Feeney's licensed premises. Willing helpers were soon on the spot and found an oil stove blazing in a room adjoining the shop. By the use of wet bags and buckets of water the fire was quickly extinguished. The only damage done, fortunately, was a slight scorching of the ceiling.

The Cappoquin Bacon Factory have conferred a great boon on the farm rs of this district by holding a weekly pig market every Monday for soc time past in the village of Ballyduff. Heretofore the farmers had to cart their pigs to the factory at Cappoquin or to the fairs at Lismore and Fermoy, but now they can effect their saies quickly and without any loss time each Monday morning.

In connection with the question of repairs to the sea wall.

The Clerk stated that the County Surveyor suggested that if the Urban Council allocated half of the grant from the Government for the relief of unemployment towards the work, the County Council would devote a similar sum, and the whole could be devoted to the necessary repairs. There would be a large number of men employed and they would get a good return for the money expended.

uccessful Art Exhibition in Waterford— A very interesting Art Exhibition was held in Newtown School, Waterford, on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sun-day last. The Exhibition which was the most elaborate yet seen in Waterford inwere painted by leading Irish artists, such as Paul Henry, R.H.A., Sean Keating, P.H.A., and Harry Kernoff, R.H.A. Waterford artists were well represented in the display. I liked very much two pictures shown by Mr. William Furniss, who is a clever amateur artist. His painting of Brownstown Head is a good seitscape study. Mr. Furniss is an efficient member of the Clerical Staff of the Borough Treasurer for many years. The other local artists whose pictures impressed me were Hildo Roberts (Mrs. A. Marsh) the organiser of the Exhibition, E. Joan Chambers, who ably assisted in the organising details, J. Cusack, Waterford Technical School, Mrs. Una Connolly, An Sociodin, Passage Road, Maud Squire, Arthur Power, T. Scully. This is the second exhibition of the kind held in Waterford and the promoters expressed themselves as very pleased with the results of their efforts. The attendative of the general public was satisfactory and the only drawback was the short duration of the exhibition which was worth several visits. A suggestion has been made that a permanent Art Gallery should be set up in the city either in the Teconical Institute or in The Municipal Buildings. The recent Exhibition has demonstrated that there is plenty of first class artistic talent in Waterford city and district, which is deserving of every support and encouragement. A permanent Art Exhibition would be of great educational value, especially, to the young poople. I was pleased to hear that many of the pictures that were offered for sale in the Newtown School display commanded good prices and several purchases were made.
