The Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band will parade on St. Patrick's Day and play a selection of choice music.

The name of Miss B. Waters, Abbeyside, the popular Soprano, was inadvertently omitted from the list of artistes to contribute at the Irish Night Concert to be held on St. Patrick's Night. The Concert will start sharp at 8 p.m. as the programme is unusually full and must be finished at 11

It is hoped that all ticket holders will come early, and have taken their seats by 7.55. Every item is timed and the committee intend to try and fit in other items which were late for inclusion in poster.

Everything is being done to cater for a huge attendance at both Concert and Ceilidhe. This should prove a very interesting race and it is to be hoped that now when a start bas been made locally in cross-country running, we will have many such events in future.

On Sunday last Dungarvan Beagles hunted at Two-Mile-Bridge. The day was bitterly cold and wet underfoot. Hounds hunted two hares in the afternoon at a very fast pace and provided good sport.
As scent was patchy hounds were called

For Parochial Funds—
On St. Patrick's Night a Grand Concert and Irish-Ireland Entertainment will be held in the spacious premises known as "The Mill," Ballymacarbery, in aid of the Parochial Funds of the combined Parishes of Newcastle and Four-Mile-Water, of which the Very Rev. Peter Meskel is the zealous and energtic Pastor.

A very appropriate programme for the National Festival has been arranged for the occasion, comprising Irish Step-dancing by several of the best dancers in Clonmel, Melleray and other parts of the country, together with Irish Songs and Receivations. MURPHY—The family of the late Patrick

Amongst the many local events of importance looming on the social and sportportance lobming on the social and sporting horizon of Cappoquin at present are the Grand Easter Dance to be held by the Rowing Club on Easter Sunday night, March 28th., the Official Race Dance in aid of the funds of the Race Committee on Wednesday night, April 7th., and the great Senior Hurling League match between Waterford and Clare to be played in the Cappoquin Sportsfield on Sunday, April 19th.
