DUNGARVAN CIRCUIT COURT.

Workmen's Compensation

Patrick Cowman, Abbeyside, applied under the Workman's Compensation Act for compensation for injuries received while in the employment of Mr. Michael Moloney, Bridge street, Dungarvan.

Mr. Carroll, solr., Fermoyle, for applicant.
Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr.,) for defendant's.

Patrick Cowman, said he was employed by Mr. Michael Moloney and earned 35/- per week. He was employed to shift super, cement, timber, furniture and ironmongery. On the 29th Dec., 1936, Mr. Moloney, Junior, told him to cut some ironmongery. The ironmongery was standing up. The ironmongery was standing up. The ironmongery was standing up.

Mr. Budd—Witness said he was carrying a sack of cement on his back and was walking towards the shed. The weight doubled witness back and the ironmongery crashed on to his shoulder and he fell. Witness got up and after cutting the ironmongery it was delivered. He worked for the remainder of the day, but the next day he reported to Mr. Moloney that his back was hurt.

Witness went to Dr. McCarthy and had to stay in bed for a fortnight. After that as there was no improvement witness went again to Dr. McCarthy who ordered him to the hospital. Witness stayed a fortnight and 2 days in the hospital. He still had a pain in the back, particularly after walking a distance. The weight of the ironmongery was 34 cwt. Witness said he thought he could do light work.

Mr. Budd—Witness said his back was stiff all the time. On the 30th March witness was examined by Dr. Casey. He tried to do light work such as shifting mud caused by flooding, but after ten minutes had to give it up.

Dr. McCarthy said he examined plaintiff and that he suffered from an injury to the muscles at the spine in the lung region. The muscles were slightly swollen and were painful. Witness told applicant to remain in bed. Afterwards witness deterred plaintiff to the hospital. Plaintiff was X-Rayed on two occasions. The injuries were purely muscular. In the middle of April, witness advised applicant to do some light work. At present applicant was about 50% incapacitated.

To Mr. Budd—Witness said it would be hard to fix a date when applicant would be able to work. Perhaps in a month or 6 weeks he might be able to work.

Dr. Casey said he would agree that there was a muscular rupture. On 20th March, witness examined applicant and made him do certain movements. Some of the movements appeared restricted. There was nothing very serious. Witness considered applicant was able to do normal work.

thickness of 6". On the 9th October witness found a man removing the hedge. The paling consisted of a few old sticks. In 1935 or 1936 witness put up the paling.

To Mr. Budd—Witness said he never suggested pulling down the hedge. Mr. P. Mulcahy said he knew the houses for about 20 years. Twenty years ago there was only one entrance with a path-way by the side of the wall leading to the houses. Witness remembered the hedge being always there. During Miss Barry's time a man named Connors used look after the hedge.

The Defence
Edward Cunningham, said he was an Engineer and had made a map of the premises. The black lines on the map were approximately 9' and the width of the wall 2' or 2' 3" which left the frontage at 16' 6".

Miss Mary Power, defendant, said she purchased the premises in 1910 and produced the deed of conveyance. There were small pieces of timber stuck in the ground on her side of the fence. Witness never agreed that it was the legal boundary. Sheets came from the hedge on to the path. Witness got the place measured and found that the hedge was on her property and had it removed. Witness had a concrete kerb put down.

To Mr. Molloy—Witness would admit that there was some class of paling on the south side of the hedge.
Mr. Ed. Fitzgerald, mason, said he was employed to cut down the hedge and put up the wire railing. The railing was hung from the hole that was there before.

Mr. Jeffrey Power, said that the hedge was overlapping the path and breaking up the concrete. There was no paling on the defendant's side. Witness trimmed the hedge and assisted in taking it down.

Judge Sealy said that usually in conveyances and leases of small plots of land one found that there was a definite frontage in feet and inches. For some reason that was not done in this case. Perhaps it was to save money. The result was that the present litigation came on. The maps endorsed on the deeds did not help very much because they were small scale ones of 1 in 5,000 and an error was easy to make either way. The defendant got some one to measure the front of the house and as a result she came to the conclusion that the boundary was not the paling but the hedge on McCormick's holding. She then acted on that assumption and had a man dig up the hedge. She now tries to justify that action by the measurements in the map which were no help. He thought that the correct boundary was the one shown on Mr. Ormond's map and for that reason Miss Power had encroached. He fixed the boundary as from the points A and B, as shown in this map and would give an injunction to take down the fence and to remove any concrete. He would allow 1/- damages.

Grassing and Turfing Rights
John Kett, Ballintea, Kiltrossy, sued Laurence Walsh, Ballinakill, Bohadon, for the alleged trespass by defendant's sheep on the Ballinakill (or Treeneria Commons).
Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solr., for plaintiff. Mr. McKenna, B.L., (instructed by Mr. O'Reilly, solr., Clonmel), defended.

This case was before the April Circuit Court and Mr. Ryan, solr., said he should apply for an adjournment as his client Mr. Kett is suffering from Pneumonia contracted during the blitzards at that time, when out the mountains trying to save his sheep. Mr. Ryan produced a certificate from Dr. Mulaney, who was attending his client at the time.
Mr. McKenna, B.L., said his instructions were to oppose strenuously any further adjournment. They had a number of witnesses present, some of them very old men and it was most unfair to be bringing those men to Court. It was also unfair to come looking for an adjournment two days before the January Court last and again two days before the April sessions.
Mr. Ryan said he thought for a moment that the doctor's certificate would not be accepted he would have the doctor in Court.
Mr. McKenna, B.L., said Mr. Ryan, withdrew portion of the original claim and is now admitting defendant's claim to cut turf on the mountain. He suggested to his Lordship to hear the evidence of the witnesses in court, one of whom is 80 years of age and two others about 80 years. One of their witnesses had died since the case was first started.
His Lordship said it would be only right to hear the evidence of these witnesses.
Mr. Ryan replying to a remark by Mr. McKenna, B.L., denied that his client was shirking the issue, stated that his client was wild for litigation and nearly at him up because he agreed to an adjournment at the January sessions.
Mr. O'Reilly, solr., said the same applied to his client.
His Lordship then heard the evidence of the defendant, Mr. Lce. Walsh, Mr. Thomas Corcoran, Bohadon, and Mr. Robin Keane, Colligan, and adjourned the further hearing to next Circuit Court.
Laurence Walsh, defendant, in reply to Mr. McKenna, B.L., said he lived at Ballinakill since 1924. The place was purchased from Sir John Kennedy for £2,000. Since he went there in 1924 he grazed his mountain and his sheep went as far as the Dalligan river. Sir John Kennedy was the former landlord of this mountain. The other Ballinakill tenants had grazing and turfing rights on the Ballinakill mountain also. Kett disputed witnesses right in 1932 or 1933. He is not disputing that Mr. Kett acquired the fee-simple of the place for £5.
To Mr. Ryan, solr.—Witness said there were 5 or 6 landlords in the Coumaraglin mountain. He paid £2,000 for his farm and certain other rights on 800 acres of the Ballinakill mountain. Witness never cut turf on Coumaraglin, but always cut turf on Treeneria Commons.
Mr. Ryan—I put it to you that since 1924 until Mr. Kett bought it, there was no landlord looking after it?

Witness—I could not say.
To his Lordship—Witness said he drove his sheep through the Coumaraglin mountain to Treeneria Commons, and his sheep are on that mountain since 1935.
To Mr. Ryan—He bought sheep from Kett and left them on that mountain. Kett drove off witness's sheep in 1933. He did not play a trick on Kett by buying his sheep and leaving them on Treeneria Commons.
Mr. Ryan—But when Mr. Kett found them there, he drove them off.
Answering his Lordship—Witness said he did not inspect his purchase (this mountain) when he bought it.
His Lordship who is the first farmer I ever heard of who did not inspect his purchase.

Witness—Everyone in Ballinakill had grazing rights over Ballinakill. There is mention of it in the transfer.
His Lordship said from the way this case is developing he thought it unfair in the absence of the plaintiff to carry on. He would hear the evidence of the old men and adjourn until next sitting for the attendance of the plaintiff.
Thomas Corcoran, Bohadon, who is 90 years of age said he lived near Mr. Walsh's. The place was occupied by the Kirwans before Mr. Walsh bought it. Coffey, Tobin, Crotty's (2) and Kirwan were the five original tenants of Sir John Kennedy. They were known as the Ballinakill tenants.
To his Lordship—Sir John Kennedy had property also at the other side of the Mauma Road.

Continuing, the witness said he was a tenant of Sir Nugent Humble. He often cut turf for the Kirwans on the Ballinakill mountain 68 or 70 years ago.
To his Lordship—There is nothing to show a boundary between the two mountains, but land marks pointed by his father and all the old people. There is a stone across at the opposite side of the Mauma Road which is the boundary mark.
His Lordship—I know that stone, but one stone will not make a boundary.

Witness—There is also a cut. Continuing, the witness said that he cut the turf on the Treeneria Commons and at that time saw Kirwan's sheep about 300 yards at that time. The Crotty's, Coffey's and Tobin's, also grazed the Ballinakill mountain. The sheep graze a certain part of the mountain and they won't go beyond that.
His Lordship—My experience is that wherever the sheep see a nice piece of grass they go there (laughter).
To Mr. Ryan—Witness said he never heard the name Treeneria Commons applied to Ballinakill mountain. He never heard of Kirwan paying the landlord for a bank of turf. Witness knew Kett since he was a child. Kett went into his present place as a son-in-law. He is a decent hardworking man. Witness had sheep grazing the Ballinakill mountain. Ed. Lalor never drove them off. He had no right there, but had a right on the Coumaraglin mountain as far as the Dalligan river.

Robert Keane said he was 78 years of age and lived at Colligan. He was head keeper for the Earl of Dartry on the Coumaraglin and Dalligan mountains, they were both on the same take for shooting. He knew the Ballinakill mountain and heard the name Treeneria Commons 20 years ago, the local people always called it the Ballinakill mountain. The boundary was marked by heaps of stone along the mountain. He always saw the Ballinakill people cutting turf on the Ballinakill mountain. There was a caretaker named Fraher on the Coumaraglin mountain. He saw Kirwan's sheep grazing all over the mountain.

To Mr. Ryan—Witness said he was not looking after sheep on the mountain, but after the birds.
His Lordship then adjourned the case to the June Circuit Court and the plaintiff John Kett, said he was 62 years of age and used to live in Scarat about 6 miles away. He married in 1914 and went to live in Ballintea. He went to a house on the Ballinakill mountain and there was no grazing. The Treeneria Commons mountain was about 1/2 mile from his house. Witness was grazing sheep there. Up to 1914, there was a game-keeper named J. Power there and afterwards the place was preserved for shooting; people named Wades and Wm. Dunford had sheep there. The shooting on the lands ceased in 1917. Kirwan had sheep on the Coumaraglin mountain and the Craun mountain. Kirwan lived at Ballinakill and had a farm at Bohadon. Casey turned the sheep of the mountain and Kirwan put them into the heart of Coumaraglin mountain. Kirwan got rid of the sheep in 1910. There were no sheep after that. The sheep used to settle on the mountain where they were reared and they could not be got out with a greyhound. Witness bought this land and paid the arrears of rates and costs on it. Witness sold sheep to a man named Connors of Faha. They were sold to Walsh and the sheep settled on the Treeneria Commons. Witness drove them away, but the next day they had come back and witness left them there. Witness was paid a 7/- per head of sheep. There was plenty of turf there and witness did not begrudge the turf.

To Mr. McKenna, B.L.—Witness said that he got a deed from Coffey when he bought the land. He paid £5 and the arrears due.
Mr. McKenna—Did you say to Mrs. Walsh that you had bought Coffey's claim?
Witness—I did.
You asked her if she had objection?—I did.
Didn't that show that they had a right to graze?—I don't know.

To further questions witness denied having 500 sheep. He had over 200 sheep and were not grazing everywhere.
To Judge Sealy—Witness said that there was no agreement as to how many sheep each person put there.
Mathew Walsh, said he lived at Bohadon and kept sheep on the Bohadon Mountains. Witness knew the Treeneria Commons. Kirwan's sheep were on the Coumaraglin Mountains. Witness agreed to pay for grazing on the Treeneria Commons.

Judge Sealy—How much did you pay?—Witness—I paid £1 for about 10 sheep. Treeneria Commons was called locally. Witness always thought it was Ballinakill mountain. Witness saw Walsh's sheep everywhere.
Patrick Burke, said he lived at Bohadon. He knew the Treeneria Commons. He did not know much about it in past years.
Edmund Ryan, said he had sheep grazing on the Treeneria Commons and herded sheep there for Wm. Dunford. He knew that the defendant paid Kett for the grazing.
Judge Sealy—I have heard enough of this. I am sorry for Kett. He thought when he bought this bit of Mountain that he had a clear field to graze his sheep. He got it from four illustrious names, men with titles. I can only warn men who buy bits of land like this to be careful in buying it because these titles are very doubtful. When Kett bought Treeneria Commons he didn't know that he was buying a liability for other farmers to graze sheep on it. My view from the evidence is that other people have the right to graze sheep on it and the defendant is one of them, and therefore, this suit fails. I can't go any further than that. Unless these questions are settled out of Court, it is no good bringing them here.
His Lordship allowed costs.

Faby v. Lyons
This was a motion to confirm the sale of the lands of James Lyons, Knocknafrair, Ballymacarbery, purchased by Thomas McGrath, Glenanore, Ballymacarbery, at a public auction.

By deed of transfer on the 7th February 1934, the plaintiff's transfer to the defendant the lands of Knocknafrair in consideration of the marriage of plaintiff's daughter with defendant. The lands were transferred subject to the right of residence and support of the plaintiff in the dwellinghouse on the said lands.

The defendant failed to carry out the terms of the covenant and the plaintiff, Thomas Faby, instituted proceedings seeking a declaration that he was entitled to support and maintenance in the said dwellinghouse and the enforcement of same under order of the Court.
By consent in writing dated July 1936, defendant consented to pay the sum of 10/- per week and that plaintiff should not exercise their rights of residence and support in the said dwellinghouse. Defendant did not pay and on the 4th of November, a court order was made finding the value of the covenant at 7/- per week as from 1st July, 1936 on a date finding that there was due to the plaintiff the sum of £9 10s. in default of the defendant not paying the said debt the lands were to be put up for public auction. At the public auction the lands were purchased by Thomas McGrath for £170, who now wanted a court confirmation of that rate.

Thomas McGrath said he purchased the land at a public auction for £170. Defendant was not on speaking terms with witness. Witness went to defendant's house on three occasions to have the deed of conveyance executed, but defendant would not execute the deed of conveyance.
His Lordship confirmed the sale and appointed Miss McGuire, executor of the conveyance in the name of the defendant.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. L. F. Langan, solr.,) for Thomas McGrath.
Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Ryan, solr.,) for Thomas Faby.

There was no appearance for the defendant.
Curley and Ryan v. G.S.R.
This was a claim by the co-plaintiffs, Bridget Curley and (Mrs.) Mary Ryan, of Tallow for compensation for alleged dismissal by the Great Southern Railways when the latter took over the license of plaintiff's father in 1935, and further claim by Mary Ryan for arrears of wages alleged to be due by the same defendants.
For the plaintiffs it was alleged that they worked for their father and received a weekly average wage of 30/- and that they were on whole time service for a period of 5 years from 1930 to 1935.
The claim was made under section 63, Road Transport Act, 1933.

Defence denied that plaintiffs received wages and were engaged on the time service and that the compensation money paid by the defendants to plaintiff's father when the former took over the business in 1935 was based on the fact that it was a family business.
Defence further denied that Mary Ryan had been engaged by the Company subsequent to the transfer of the licence.
Mr. McDonald, B.L., (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr.) for plaintiffs.
Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. F. Power, solr.,) for defendants.

Mr. Curley, father of the plaintiffs, said he resided at Tallow and had been a general carrier. He started the business in 1928 with one lorry and got a second in 1930. In the morning, the lorry collected milk and delivered it at the Castlelys and Conna creameries. The lorry used to start at 6 o'clock. About 10 to the lorry returned to Tallow and the orders for parcels and goods were collected by the girls and the lorry went to Cork. Bridget Curley used to go to the creamery in the morning and helped in collecting and delivering the milk. She also went to Cork regularly on the lorry to collect goods. Sometimes she stayed in Cork and returned in the evening. Sometimes the lorry made 3 or 4 runs to Cork in the day. She collected small parcels in Cork. Before that she applied to take up nursing in Cork. Witness paid them sometimes £1 and other times £2 a week or an average of 30/- per week. Some days plaintiff's daughter had her dinner and tea in Cork which witness gave her the necessary money for. She ceased to work on 17th October, 1930. When the G.S.R. took over the business, witness's daughter worked from the 6th May, 1930 up to 1935. She had no other employment.

To Mr. Budd, witness said he was paid £3,150 compensation in respect of his business.

Mr. Budd—Didn't you put forward the argument that this business was a family business?
Witness—No.
You got an auditor to examine the books?—Yes.
And the gross profits are given at £500?—Yes.
Those profits would be reduced very much if you paid £2 a week to your daughters?—I paid them 30/- a week.

But this compensation was based on fact that they were paid no wages?—No. The name Bridget Curley appears here as being paid no actual wages. Is that correct?—I paid her 30/- a week on the average.
Why did you make a false representation so?—I did not make a false statement.
You say your daughter commenced to work in 1928?—Yes, after she left school.
Do you mean to tell the court that a young girl of 14 years went around in the morning collecting and delivering milk and went to Cork to collect parcels?—Yes she did.

Judge Sealy—How did this girl help in collecting the milk?
Witness—The driver had to drive the lorry and when the lorry came to stands she helped in taking in the churns.
Judge—Why did not the man take them in? Surely that is not a girl's work?
Witness—She helped him.
Continuing to Mr. Budd, witness said he did not keep a wage book. He employed his son and two daughters and his son-in-law.

Mr. Budd—I put it to you that all you gave these girls was a little pocket money and that was all?
Witness—I gave them a regular wage.
Miss Bridget Curley said that in 1930 she first worked and went to the creamery in the morning about 6 or 7 o'clock. She helped the driver to put in the churns. The churns were slid into the lorry from the stands. She left for Cork about 11 o'clock with the orders her sister had got. She collected the orders and parcels in Cork. She went every day to Cork. She stopped working on the 17th October, 1935 when the G.S.R. took over. She was not offered any other employment by the Company. She got on an average 30/- a week. She would not have worked if she was not paid. She thought of getting employment in nursing in 1934. She took out insurance policies on herself and on her mother. She used to go to dances, cinemas and races. She estimated the amount paid on these and on clothing, etc., at £25 to £30 per year.

To Mr. Budd—Witness said she collected small parcels in Cork.
The book with the entries was here produced and Mr. Budd quoted some of the entries.
Mr. Budd—There is an entry here of 1/2 cwt. of butter. Did you collect this?
Witness—No.
Were there any men on the lorry?
Yes; there was a driver and a loader for the purpose of loading and unloading the lorry.
Do you mean to tell me that these men allowed you to carry a 1/2-cwt of goods around the town?—Yes they did because they had to load and unload the lorry.

Continuing to Mr. Budd, witness said that occasionally her sister went to Cork. The information given to the auditors was not given by witness or her sister.
Mr. Budd—Were you present at the interview between Mr. Ryan and Mr. Stewart?—Witness—Yes.
Did you hear Mr. Ryan say that it was a family business?—I don't remember.
Did you hear it said that you were paid no wages?—I heard no mention of that.
I put it to you that you heard all that was said at the interview and heard the statement that this was a family business and that you were paid no wages and did not interrupt?—I never heard any statement like that.

Mr. Wm. Ryan said he was engaged as a driver by Mr. Curley and was also engaged by G.S.R. for some time after the latter took over the business. Witness corroborated the former witness' evidence regarding the time the lorryes went to

ELECTION OF CHAIRMAN
YOUGHAL U. D. C.

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C. (outgoing Chairman), presiding; M. Ahern, E. D. Condon, D. McCarthy, M. Cashman, M. D. Broderick, J. R. Smyth, P.C.; T. K. Keane, solr.; J. N. R. Macnamara, solr.; R. C. Farrell (outgoing Vice-Chairman); Capt. C. Watson.

Mr. Keane said he had much pleasure in proposing the re-election of Mr. O'Gorman, who had great reluctance in allowing his name to go forward. Some people thought that his duty as Chairman began and ended with their usual weekly meeting, but he had personal experience of the fact that Mr. O'Gorman's shop very frequently looked like a branch of the Labour Exchange (laughter). Mr. O'Gorman had proved himself invariably a very efficient, courteous and impartial Chairman, and in the discharge of his duties outside he had been equally successful. For those reasons they might well congratulate themselves that Mr. O'Gorman had consented to be nominated again. He had been with him at several meetings elsewhere, where Mayors and Lord Mayors took part and he had acquitted himself second to none. He (Mr. Keane) as a Youghal man, and the old town, had reason to be proud of their outgoing and their coming Chairman (hear, hear).

Mr. McCarthy seconded.

There being no other proposition,
The Chairman declaring himself re-elected for the fourth time thanked his colleagues for that undeserved compliment. He assured them it was with very great reluctance he accepted the position of Chairman again. In the old times it was a pleasure to preside there on Thursday nights, but, as Mr. Keane said the position nowadays was a cause of much worry and trouble. He had always endeavoured to be strictly courteous and impartial to all parties and his unanimous re-election that day had proved that he had been successful. He would do his best to adhere to that policy (hear, hear).

Mr. Broderick proposed the re-election of Mr. Farrell to the Vice-Chairman. Whenever he presided in the absence of the Chairman he conducted the business in a most practical and expert manner. He would like to say that while some of the schemes they had to deal with looked feasible on paper they were a real infliction on the local authorities, such as the Housing Schemes. It was on the ratepayers the burden fell ultimately. The Council had little or no option in the selection of tenants. The Government had undoubtedly urged on the erection of houses, but the tenants were largely unable to meet the rents of 3/6 to which rates added 1/6. The result was that there was constant trouble as regards the rents, many of the tenants falling into arrears as they were dependent on the dole. The Council were called on to collect those rents, which was almost an impossibility. Therefore, meeting after

CHAMPIONSHIP MATCHES AT DUNGARVAN

On Sunday last under excellent weather conditions and before a sparse crowd two very important Championship ties were decided at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan.

In the first match Stradbally minor XV, lined out against Cathal Brugha's. Both teams being fairly evenly matched. A vigorous and exciting game followed. At times play reached a very high standard. The Stradbally combination showed more training and emerged victors on the score 2-2 to 0-1.

The second game was a reply—Clashmore-Kinsalebeg v. Cathal Brugha's Junior hurling.

This game was looked forward to for some time with much interest as the last occasion they met Cathal Brugha's only emerged victors by a very narrow margin and Clashmore surprised both themselves and their followers on the display they gave. But although they fielded a stronger team on Sunday last and showed more training, Fitzy's lot were in much better form and played with great skill and determination, and showed great accuracy in shooting. Now Fitzy has qualified to meet his old rivals Dungarvan.

meeting much time was taken up with this vexed question of arrears. Naturally the Council were reluctant to evict any of those poor people but they were left no option by the Government. As the Government had initiated those schemes they ought come to the rescue of the poor tenants who faced eviction owing to their inability to pay the rent. That was no politics but a plain statement of facts.

Mr. Macnamara, seconding, said that they could not have a better man for the Vice-Chairman than Mr. Farrell.

Mr. Farrell, having been declared duly elected returned thanks for the honour paid him, and the meeting adjourned.

Death of Mr. Patrick Fitzgerald, Shanbally, Killorossanty

We regret to announce the death of Mr. Patrick Fitzgerald, Shanbally, Killorossanty, which occurred at his residence on Tuesday morning after a very brief illness. Deceased was in his usual good health and attended to his business up to the very last. His demise has caused much grief in the surrounding districts, where he was held in the highest esteem by all, and more so because his death so closely followed that of his brother—the late Mrs. Thomas Fitzgerald, Moonrud.

The late Mr. Fitzgerald was one of the most enterprising and respected gentlemen in the County. He was a member of the Kilmacthomas District Council and Board of Guardians and a member of the Waterford County Council up to its dissolution a few years ago. He was a large farmer and a member of a fine old stock. He had been a resident in the spot where he drew his last breath for close on 50 years and during that long period he was a warm favourite with all who knew him. A kindly and generous-hearted type of man his many excellent traits of character won for him the greatest respect and esteem amongst all classes in the locality and surrounding districts. He was a most devout and exemplary Catholic all his life, and his death proved a peaceful and happy one, after he had received the last Sacraments of Mother Church to which he had always been so faithful.

Deceased was an all-round sportsman; every form of manly pastime appealed to him. He was an expert farmer, an authority on greyhounds, and kept several good dogs. Horse-racing found him in his element and he would discourse on the chances of the favourites with an ease and an accuracy of detail that was astonishing.

He reared a respectable family, one of his sons—Mr. William Fitzgerald, is a member of the Clerical Staff of the Waterford County Council and is a very popular man in town and country. The other members of the family follow the occupation of their late father, and are all shrewd business people and well-known throughout this and the adjoining Counties.

On Wednesday evening at 6 p.m. the remains were removed from his late residence to the Parish Church Killorossanty. For hours previous to the start of the funeral motor and cars were pouring into the district from all sides, with the result that when the cortege started it was seen to be the largest ever witnessed in the district, which was a fitting tribute to the memory of such a popular man.

On arriving at the Church, the remains were received by Rev. Fr. Mehan, C.C., Killorossanty; Very Rev. J. Walsh, P.P.; Rev. J. Hart, C.C., and Rev. Fr. Verker, C.C. On Thursday morning at 10 a.m. (old time), an enormous congregation of relatives, friends and sympathisers attended the Solemn Requiem Office and High Mass for the eternal repose of his soul.

Rev. James Walsh C.C., Ballyduff Upper (cousin), was celebrant; Rev. W. Mehan, C.C., Killorossanty, deacon; Rev. J. Hally, C.C., Kilmacthomas, (cousin); sub-deacon.

In the Choir were:—Very Rev. James Walsh, P.P., Ballyduff, (brother-in-law); Very Rev. J. Croddy, P.P., Killorossanty; Very Rev. W. Kehoe, P.P., Tallow; Very Rev. N. Dunphy, P.P., Abbotside; Rev. M. Power, C.C., do.; Rev. J. Hart, C.C., Grangemockler (cousin); Rev. P. O'Farrell, C.C., Stradbally; Rev. P. Power, C.C., Ballymore; Rev. L. Verker, C.C., Portlaw; Rev. T. Halpin, S.J., (cousin).

Interment was made in the family burial ground in the adjoining cemetery. Fr. Walsh, C.C., officiated at the graveside, assisted by the other priests named above.—R.I.P.

The chief mourners included—Mrs. Fitzgerald (wife); Thomas, William and James Fitzgerald, (sons); Marcella Fitzgerald (daughter).
Numerous Mass Cards and messages of sympathy were received.

Mrs. Fitzgerald and family, Moonarud, Dungarvan, wish to thank all who sent Mass Cards and messages of sympathy in their recent bereavement and beg them to accept this acknowledgment of same.

The family of the late Mrs. Bridget O'Dwyer, O'Connell Street, wish to return sincere thanks to all those who sent Mass Cards and messages of sympathy in their recent and bereavement.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

REV. FR. M. F. HEARNE, TRANSFERRED—The news of the departure of Rev. M. F. Hearne, C.C., from Dungarvan, to take over the important Pastoral charge of the United Parishes of Ballyduff and Portlaw, was received with mixed feelings by the parishioners of Dungarvan.

While one and all rejoice at the honour conferred upon him, all regret parting with one who, during his twenty years amongst us, proved himself a wise counsellor, a sincere friend and one to whom all sections of the community appealed for advice and guidance in any difficulty.

During his term in Dungarvan Fr. Hearne took a deep interest in all matters appertaining to his Sacred calling. He was Spiritual Director of the Women's Confraternity of the Sacred Heart; Legion of Mary, etc., and the formation of the recent virtue troop of the Catholic Boy Scouts is due entirely to his untiring efforts.

Socially, we can say he was the life of the town, a lover of music, he was responsible for the re-organisation of the Brass and Reed Band. Vocal, Instrumental and Dramatic talent lying dormant in our midst were unearthed by him with uncanny ability and the people of the town and surrounding districts are indebted to him for his many rare musical treats during his term as C.C. in Dungarvan.

Fr. Hearne, took a very deep interest in education, and was the idol of all school children of the parish. He was for years a prominent member of the Technical Education Committee and the Library Committee.

Although he is now removed from us, we feel that he will always remember the parishioners of the Old Borough who loved him so well and we know they will always remember him, and on their behalf we extend to him the unanimous wish of all—many happy years of health and strength to carry on his noble work in the Vineyard of the Lord.

THE ELECTION—POLLING DAY
Polling Day in Dungarvan and throughout the Constituency passed off in a most peaceful and orderly manner, and not one untoward incident was recorded. The news from the various polling stations as we go to Press tend to show that a substantial percentage of the electorate cast their votes.

was settled. She heard the wages being paid with the men who were to work. Mr. Curley stated that he said to Mr. Kelly that his daughter was now losing her job and that Mr. Kelly said that he was to carry on as before and to collect the orders.

Mr. Ryan said he was present on the occasion when his wife was told to continue at the same work. Witness's wife collected the orders.

Mr. John Daly, corroborated. Mr. John Kelly said he was at the interview at which the licence Mr. Curley held was transferred to the Railway Company.

His Lordship said he had heard enough of this case and would accept Kelly's evidence and dismiss the case. Regarding the other claim his Lordship said that Curley had got £3,000 compensation on the basis that he paid no wages.

van, that the plaintiff collided with the car and suffered injuries. The plaintiff also alleged that the management and usage of the car created a public nuisance. The car was left in Quay Lane unattended and unattended. This lane was a very narrow one. The plaintiff suffered injury to his right forearm and as a result spent 23 days in hospital.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., then described the circumstances of the case. At 9.30 p.m. on the evening of the 19th September, 1936, the plaintiff, went down this lane to the esplanade. The car was parked outside the G.A.A. Club. There was a light at the west end and at the north end of the lane.

Mr. J. Ormonde, proved a map of Quay Street. The width of the lane was 24 ft. 4 inches for the most part. The light at the west end was about 25 feet high and lighted about 20 yards of the lane.

in the esplanade for about an hour then proceeded to return home. He was accompanied by two companions, Thomas Walsh and Liam Moriarty. It was dark at that time. Witness and his two companions proceeded to run up the lane. Witness was in the centre of the road. Witness and his companions did not see anything there or did not expect to see anything there. Witness was practically on top of the car when he saw its outline.

He would be about 2 or 3 yards from it. The car was parked slanting across the road with the radiator towards the wall. Witness averted to the left to avoid the car but couldn't get away from it. The handle of the door of the car entered his right forearm. He was attended by Dr. Cusack that night and subsequently by Dr. McCarthy, who ordered him to the hospital on the next day.

The witness suffered from pain and shock. He was under Dr. McCarthy's care for two weeks. To Mr. Budd—Witness said that there was no light showing from the club that night and that the night was dark. Witness could see about 25 or 30 yards up the lane.

Mr. Budd—As you went up the lane I suggest you could see up to the club? Witness—No, I could not because it was dark. I suggest you had a clear view? No, I had not.

Mr. Budd—You say that the car was parked in a slanting direction?—Witness—Yes. I suggest that it was flush with the wall?—No, it was not flush. Would you be prepared to say it was out a couple of feet?—I would.

timed on his wrong side until about 12 yards from his car. He swerved to avoid the other car. The Cappoquin car struck his car at the left-hand front mudguard. He went for a guard. Witness described the damage done to his car and said it would be cheaper to buy another car than repair it. He then produced books showing profits from December to May at £51.

He took in all £74, which with expenses, etc., of £22 reduced the amount to £51. He had to refuse orders after the accident. Business was good around this time of the year. To Mr. Carroll—Witness said he paid £28 for the car originally on the 3rd Jan 1933. It was in good running order. He did not see the lights of the other car until he came round the bend. The lights of the other car did not affect his vision.

The brakes of his car were in good condition. A passenger in the car corroborated witness's evidence regarding the circumstances leading to the collision. John Coughlan, who was present with John Campion, at the cross on the night in question corroborated Campion's evidence.

Sergt. J. Valentine, gave evidence of taking measurements and the position of the cars. Mr. Carroll, solr., said his case was based on direct contradiction of evidence. Mr. Daniel O'Brien, said his car was a V8 Ford, and he had 16 years driving experience. Witness saw the lights of the other car before he saw the car itself.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Murray, solr.) for plaintiffs. Mr. O'Gorman, solr., for defendant. Mr. Kelleher produced a ledger showing the account. Mr. Thomas Burke, van driver, said that sometimes Mrs. Mountain took the goods and other times her son Mr. Mountain would take them.

Mr. O'Gorman said he was contesting the claim that Mrs. Mountain was responsible for the amount and said that her son Michael Mountain took the goods and was responsible for the amount. Michael Mountain in reply to Mr. O'Gorman said he took the goods for his own use.

His Lordship said that he would not accept Mountain's evidence and held that both Mountain and his mother were responsible for the goods taken. He gave a decree for half the amount.

Fitzgerald Bros. v. O'Brien Bros. This was a claim for damages at the suit of Fitzgerald Bros., Garage proprietors, Tallow, against O'Brien Bros., Garage proprietors, Tallow, for injuries received to plaintiff's car as a result of a collision between plaintiff's car and defendant's car near Lismore, due to the alleged negligence of defendant.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Hutch, solr., (Middleton) for plaintiffs. Mr. Carroll, solr., for defendant. Mr. Budd explained that the collision occurred on December 25th, 1935 at the Stores Buildings outside Lismore. Plaintiff was driving a Buick car from Lismore and defendant a Ford from Cappoquin.

Mr. Flynn, engineer, proved a map of the lane and gave measurements of the road. He also produced photographs. Mr. John Campion, said that on Christmas night he was standing at the Ballyrattin Cross about 2 yards from the footpath. He saw a car approaching on the Lismore road and travelling about a foot from the path on the left-hand side. Witness also saw a car approaching from Cappoquin travelling about a few feet from the right hand footpath.

Witness then described the collision and stated that both cars started to cross at the same time. Witness said to a companion that they were going to hit and—"bang they went." He heard no horn blown. To Mr. Carroll, witness said the Lismore car had fairly good lights. They were weaker than the lights of the other car, but were still good lights. Mr. Carroll—I suggest to you that the Cappoquin car was coming on the centre of the road? Witness—I would not agree with that. I could see both sides of the road and if the Cappoquin car continued on in the direction it was coming it would have struck me.

Wm. Fitzgerald, co-plaintiff, said he was driving the car on the night in question. Witness had a garage, repair and hiring business. Witness was driving from Tallow to Cappoquin. The car was a Buick 1927 model. He was travelling on the left-hand side at about 20 m.p.h. At the cross he saw a car approaching on the wrong side of the road about 50 or 60 yards away. It seemed to be going slow and witness got the impression that it was going to park on that side of the road. The Cappoquin car con-

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; E. D. Condon, M. Cashman, M. D. Broderick, J. Power, J. Forrester, R. Savage, J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., R. C. Farrell, Vice-Chairman, J. Daly, B.E., E. P. Lynch.

A cheque for £70 2s. 0d., wages, etc., for the week was passed on the proposition of Mr. Power, seconded by Mr. Savage.

More Cottages (?)

The following letter was read:—77, South Mall, Cork, 3rd June, 1937. Dear sir, Dr. Armstrong, who was in Youghal last week, has again approached us with regard to building a row of Cottages in Windmill Lane on the site where the old cottages have been demolished.

Would you kindly inform us what type of Cottage the Council would approve of, would Dr. Armstrong be entitled to any financial assistance from the Government? Would you have any plans of the Council Cottages or would you have a map of Windmill Lane?—Yours faithfully—W. P. Clarke and Son.

Cycling on Promenade

The Strand caretaker reported that he found two men cycling on the Promenade on Sunday morning.

Mr. Power—Surely there is plenty of room on the roads. The incident having occurred in the early morning, when nobody was using the promenade, no action was taken.

Acknowledgments

Mrs. J. Power, Clockgate, wrote thanking the Council and Clerk for their kind vote of sympathy on the death of her husband.

A similar letter was read from Mr. T. Harrington, Cork Hill, for a resolution on the death of his mother.

New Buildings

Mr. M. Barrett, North Main Street, submitted plans of an addition to his shop on the Strand.

Mr. M. Sheehan, Pearse's Square, submitted plans in connection with his building on North Main Street.

Both were approved subject to the Engineer's opinion.

Mr. T. O'Donovan and the Council The Town Surveyor, reported that the plans and specifications of Mr. O'Donovan's house at Seahfield were in order, but there was no block plan as required.

The Clerk was directed to write Mr. O'Donovan for the plan.

Mr. Broderick said it was strange to get the plans when the house was built.

The Chairman—He knew the bye-laws as well as anyone.

Mr. Power—Is that the first house he built?

The Clerk—No.

Mr. Power—Did he submit plans before building the others?

The Clerk—Yes.

Mr. Broderick said it was a humiliating position for the Council to be floated in that manner.

Mr. Power—It would be cowardly to allow such action pass.

After a protracted discussion, Mr. Power proposed and Mr. Broderick seconded that a deputation from the Council wait on their solicitors Messrs. Hodnett, for the purpose of ascertaining their exact position in the matter, as regards the institution of proceedings for a breach of the bye-law.

Mr. Lynch proposed and Mr. Daly seconded that they take no further action in the matter.

On a poll there voted for the amendment Messrs. Lynch and Daly—2. Against—Messrs. Macnamara, Savage, Farrell, Power, Cashman, Condon, Broderick and the Chairman—(8). Mr. Forrester did not vote.

The proposition was therefore carried.

Congestion At Strand Mr. Daly complained of the blocking of the passage to the Strand, near the station entrance.

The Clerk said he saw the place on Sunday. The local people were crowded out and had no chance at all.

The Chairman said they might ask the Civic Guards to keep the place clear as those strangers were undoubtedly causing obstruction.

It was decided to consult their solicitors on the matter.

Bathing Raft The Town Surveyor reported that the proposed bathing raft on the front strand would cost about £33.

Mr. Savage put the thing in hands at once.

The Town Surveyor was instructed to make further inquiries regards certain points for the structure.

Irish Brigade Mr. Macnamara said he had very great pleasure in proposing a vote of welcome and congratulation to the Youghal members of the Irish Brigade who had returned from Spain during the week. Last November they left the comforts and security of their native town to undergo the rigours of an arctic winter, and the horrors of trench warfare on the Madrid Front. They went in the nobles of causes, the cause of Christianity and civilisation versus Communism and Bolshevism. It should go forth from that Council as representing the people of Youghal, and especially the Catholics of Youghal that they appreciated the courage of these boys and that they were a credit to their town. They were all prepared to sell their lives for their ideals.

Mr. Broderick, seconding, said he would not add anything to what Mr. Macnamara had so well said.

Mr. Cashman and others having supported the proposition.

The Chairman said they all agreed with the proposition. It was a pleasure to see that they all came home in such good form. They well deserved any little

THE LIBRARY AND THE FARM

There is no action of the community whose interests are foreign to our County Library, and, as the great majority of our readers belong to the agricultural or subsidiary industries, I propose in this short article to deal with the relationship between the Library and the Farm.

In farming as in any other pursuit or profession it is the man who keeps in touch with all the latest developments, the most scientific methods of production, and who is not afraid to put such methods into operation, whose bank balance will stand highest at the end of the year. For knowledge, in farming as in any other walk of life, is power.

There is a natural conservatism inherent in us all which makes us rather inclined to look askance at anything strange or novel. Yet the really progressive farmer will neither disdain to learn from others nor hesitate to experiment.

To those interested in agriculture and anxious to increase their knowledge of the County Library can be of the greatest practical assistance. We stock a fairly comprehensive collection of books on the different branches of farming and will be delighted to cater for the farming community in so far as we possibly can.

I append a select list of works on farming. These are all books by specialists who have a practical knowledge of the subjects they treat.

So do not hesitate to ask for what you want and we shall endeavour to meet your requirements with the shortest possible delay.

The following is the list with Author and title:—Ainsworth-Davis—Fram's Elements of Agriculture. Davis, K.C.—Modern Productive Farming. Graham, E.—The Profitable Small Farm. Hanly, J.—Mixed Farming. Long, J.—The Small Farm. McConnell, P.—Agricultural Note Book. Newsham—Farming Made Easy. Watson and Moore—Agriculture—The Science and Practice of British Farming. Ruston and Dawe—Farm Calculations and Accounts.

Brown, E. T.—Farm Tractors. Hall—The Soil. Oudshaw and Porter—British Farm Crops. Paterson, G. A. R.—Farm Crops (Four Volumes). Fram, W.—The Complete Grazier. Moysen—Diseases of Cattle, Sheep, Goats and Swine. Prentice, E.P.—Breeding Profitable Dairy Cattle. Norris, T.C.—Practical Sheep Farming. Davies, J.—Pigs and Bacon Curing.

These and other books on Agriculture can be had from your local Library Centre or direct from County Library Headquarters, Lismore.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

At a special Court before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J., Sidney Boyd, of no fixed abode, was brought up in custody, charged with breaking into and entering into Castlemartyr and Ballinlols Catholic Churches on the night of the 29th or the morning of 30th May, and taking a small sum of money from the former.

Superintendent Kelly, prosecuting, said there was a further charge of an alleged offence in the Ardmore District. He suggested that the prisoner be remanded to Youghal on the 9th July, when evidence could be taken in the Ardmore case. The charges as regards Castlemartyr and Ballinlols could then be adjourned to Midleton.

Sergt. Moloney, Castlemartyr, deposed he was in charge of the investigations in those cases. He was not prepared to go on that day and he applied to have the accused remanded in custody for 14 days. The accused asked no questions, and he was remanded accordingly.

SUNDAY SCENES AT YOUGHAL

Speaking at the 8 o'clock Mass on last Sunday, Very Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P., said he had a duty to perform and a solemn word to say before he read the Epistle—it was with reference to the breaches of God's law that occur on Sunday evenings in connection with those Sea Breeze Trains. Recently shocking exhibitions had taken place and unfortunately they were growing worse.

Youghal, as a seaside resort, had a de-cent name, all along fairly earned, but if the conduct complained of was to continue that good name would suffer sorely.

As Parish Priest he had no hesitation in saying that those Sea Breeze trains were more of a curse than a blessing to the townpeople of Youghal, from the moral point of view. Large numbers arrive by those trains, among them young men and women who gave public exhibitions of drunkenness, gross and shameless indecency and immodesty and constituting a shocking profanation of the Lord's Day that was a cause of grave and widespread scandal throughout the locality. The perpetrators of those offences didn't belong to the parish, but since those offences were committed publicly in the parish it was his duty to issue a warning.

Thereof he as Parish Priest registered a solemn protest against those public scandals and denounced and censured them and he appealed to his people to do their part both individually and collectively to bring them to an end. He presumed that the local public houses were not altogether without blame in the matter. It was very hard sometimes to refuse people, but as far as possible, they should see that drink was not given to young men and young women, especially young women, who had the appearance of drink. It was a crime at any time, and worse on the Sabbath day. If his information was correct the Railway Co. were not free from responsibility in the matter. He had been informed that numbers of young persons coming down by those trains were already under the influence of drink when they arrived in Youghal. Those exhibitions were against the law of the land and it was up to the public authorities to do their best to check, if not stop them. Youghal boasted reasonably of being one of the safest strands in the world for children. Well, if that kind of thing went on, Youghal strand would not be safe for men, women or children as far as their souls were concerned and that was the first concern of all Christians. One of the reasons why he took upon his shoulders the responsibility of building a Church on the Strand was to help to make Youghal Strand safer for the immortal souls of the people during the summer season. "What shall it profit a man to gain the whole world and lose his soul."

To her bereaved husband, the deepest sympathy of the townspeople and a large circle of friends is extended. The funeral cortege to the Church of the Immaculate Conception was both large and representative and included many sympathisers from Lismore and surrounding districts.

Very Rev. Fr. Kehoe, P.P., and Rev. Fr. Corbett, C.C., attended and received the remains on their arrival at the Church. Requiem Masses were offered at St. Joseph's Convent, and the Parish Church at 7 and 8 o'clock Masses by the local Clergy.

At 10.30 Solemn Requiem Office and High Mass were offered for the repose of her soul. The celebration of which was Rev. Thomas O'Shea, C.C., Clogheen, (cousin); deacon Rev. Fr. Corbett, C.C., Tallow, sub-deacon Rev. Fr. Hickey.

In the choir were—Very Rev. Fr. Kehoe, P.P., Tallow; Rev. Fr. T. O'Gorman, C.C., Lismore, Rev. M. Morrissey, Adm., Knockanore.

At the conclusion of the ceremonies interment took place in the family burial plot in the adjoining cemetery. Rev. Fr. O'Shea, C.C., assisted by the other clergy present, recited the last prayers.

Chief mourners—Mr. R. Purcell, Tallow (husband); Rev. T. O'Shea, C.C., Clogheen (cousin); Mrs. L. O'Connor, Lismore, (cousin); Mrs. O'Donnell and children, Lismore, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Murphy, Mr. James Ahern, Mr. Hodnett, Solicitor, Youghal, Misses F. and C. Hodnett, Tallow (cousins).

By the death of deceased, Tallow has lost the last representative of one of its oldest families, who were connected with the business life of the town for well nigh a century and a half.

Deceased succeeded to the business established by her late father on the death of her eldest sister Miss Mary White, who died some years ago at an advanced age.

Sewerage Scheme

The long hoped for sewerage scheme for Tallow, has at last materialised. Operations in connection with the scheme were begun recently by the contractors Messrs. O'Mahony and Sons, Cork, and good progress is being made with the preliminary stages of the work.

Practically all the unemployed labourers in the town have been absorbed, and it is hoped that in the near future, when the major portion of the scheme will be undertaken all those on the unemployment register of that town and district will be employed for many months to come.

GAELIC NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTCH"

Despite the fervid oratory and the feverish atmosphere of the General Election campaign, now closed, the interest in the eagerly awaited Limerick and Waterford hurling duel in Clonmel has in no wise been dimmed.

In Portlaine itself there is a conflict of opinion. The faint-hearts, who never can see any good in their own county men and who take malicious pleasure in belittling them at every opportunity, are as numerous as the stars.

Discarding all sentiment and viewing the whole hurling situation from the impersonal angle of a critic who knows his facts, the problem boils down to this—Limerick has almost all the advantages physical, moral and traditional.

Coming down to the personal note, the Waterford selection has already been announced and its form duly analysed. No breath of dissatisfaction is felt and it is a significant omen.

While not pretending to have anything from the horse's mouth (your pardon, selectors), I believe the following diagram showing the line-out and placements of the opposing teams will be as informative as the official programme, so out, it out and take it with you.

The Waterford team appear in heavy type: (Goal) P. Scannlan (Lm.) F. Carroll T. McCarthy M. Kennedy J. Butler D. Goode E. Daly E. Coyne P. Cloughesy J. Power F. Sheehy J. Halpin W. Barrow or W. Lynch all the Israelites plumped for Goliath—and he bit the dust.

Waterford has but to model their tactics in the victorious David—Keep Cool, Hit First and Hit Hard. But hit or miss, they will play the game.

While the Seniors have been banking in the full glare of Press publicity, the minors have been quietly but unobtrusively getting themselves fit to show the big game.

His hosts of admirers among the Gaels are delighted to hear that Paddy Green has recovered from the serious head injury he sustained in the recent championship match at Portlaine.

'Pa' Sheehan was the inspiration of the Tallow team last Sunday in their match with Carrigrohilly won by the Corkmen on the score of 7-4 to 5-6.

Discarding all sentiment and viewing the whole hurling situation from the impersonal angle of a critic who knows his facts, the problem boils down to this—Limerick has almost all the advantages physical, moral and traditional.
