Waterford secured Munster Honours in the Limerick net by M. Feeney.

Waterford secured Munster Honours in this division last year and only went under by a point to Westmeath in the All-Ireland Final were minus the services of all the juniors who played last year and consequently had to field a completely new set, while Limerick had all-Ireland Honours in this division in 1935, had the advantage of fielding almost all those players, with the exception of those who had played in the Limerick senior ranks since. Thus, with Waterford's third string facing such opposition, there was no great hopes of victory for the Deise men, but on the brilliant the puck-out and Limerick cleared.

Mr. James Lincoln, the respected and efficient Manager of the Cappoquin Bacon Factory, left here for his annual holidays last week, and has selected a most interesting and delightful cruise on this occasion. While not a regular "Globe-trotter," Mr. Lincoln makes it a point to vary the scene of his holidays each year, and having already visited Holland, Germany and other Continental countries in recent years, he had selected on this occasion an extensive cruise which will embrace Norway, Sweden, Denmark and other places, which should prove Mr. James Lincoln at Waterford City Gaelic Sportsfield on tomorrow. In this Mount Sion will be up against the Leather City of Portlaw. The Urbs Intacta unit are said to be cocksure of reaching the County Ultimate. Perhaps Portlaw may have something to mention in the matter. They, too, have pretensions in the County Crown. Anyway, a first-class exhibition of our Island's matchless, purely Celtic code in sure to be provided by these worthy antagonists. Here's hoping Healy, Harney, Maher and Co. will succeed in landing the laurels to-morrow.

What are the points to be looked for in a really good hunter? "No feet, no horse," is a very true saying, and it is an absolute fact that without good feet and legs no perfection of body, no well-laid shoulders, or blood-like appearance will be of any real use. Therefore, always begin first with the feet, and thus work up to the top. Good feet, short hard legs, with good bone, well let-down hocks, a great depth of girth, strong back and loins, tail well set on, shoulders nicely laid back, a blood head, and well-set-on neck—here, indeed, is the ideal hunter. Yet he must have good action, for without this good straight action, breeding quality, good looks and shape are useless, or nearly so, and most important of all, action is the hind quarter. We have never seen a really good hunter? We have never seen a really good hunter? We have never seen a really good hunter? We have never seen a really good hunter with bad or indifferent hind action.

Harpur Bros., Waterford. "We believe in giving value for money because we are very largely dependent upon what people say about our goods to increase our business, and people must appreciate our 'square deal' methods because our hardwear and seed business has grown to be one of the largest in the South of Ireland. We buy a sound article that will give good service, sell it to the public at a reasonable legitimate profit, and everybody is satisfied."

Inducing Bees to Fertilise New Plants-The Soviet Apicultural Institute claims that bees can be induced to fertilise species of plants they have hitherto not visited for the purposes of obtaining honey. Mr. Power—Hav e we any authority in the matter of prosecutions?

The Chairman—Yes you have.

Mr. Daly referred to the extraordinary demands made on small milk vendors. If these were enforced the majority of them would have to give up the business and the poor who could only buy very small quantities would suffer seriously.

The Clerk said he visited a certain shop where the owner was called on to comply with the terms of the Act. The place was clean and well ventilated and it seemed silly to object.

Mr. Lynch said that some of those milk vendors had been carrying on business for the past 30 years and there was no complaint of any kind against them.

The Chairman—The regulations are laid down by the Minister.

Mr. Lynch—I don't care who laid them down. They might suit big cities, but not towns like Youghal.
