DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

CHAIRMAN COMPLEMENTED ON HIS ELECTION TO AN DAIL

Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday. Also present Messrs. T. McCarthy, V.C., S. Hayes, P. Byrne, P. O'Dwyer, J. Mansfield, J. J. Croft, J. F. Foley, J. Dahill, and J. Christopher.

Seeking a House

A woman named Mrs. Young, Loughmore, Dungarvan, appeared before the meeting and asked that the Council transfer to her the house at Loughmore from which her grandmother (Mrs. O'Connell) is at present under notice to quit for non-payment of rent.

The Clerk in reply to a member said the arrears on the house at the end of June were £13 2d.

Mr. Dwyer said the old lady will not pay. If it is possible to hand over the house to Mrs. Young she will pay the rent.

Chairman—You are living in the house with your grandmother?
Mrs. Young—Yes, sir.

Chairman—And if you got the house you are prepared to pay the rent?
Mrs. Young—Yes.

Mr. Byrne said he understood that Mrs. Young contributed some money towards the rent each week. The old lady got this money from Mrs. Young for the rent, but will not then pay it.

Chairman—The position is the case is now going to the court and that will mean further additional expense.

Mrs. Young then withdrew.

Chairman—You all know the position. The matter is one for the Rent Collector, and it is for the Council if they wish to do so to recommend Mrs. Young as tenant to the Rent Collector.

Mr. Dwyer said when the house is declared vacant by the Council, the Council should make a representation to the Rent Collector to appoint Mrs. Young as the tenant.

A member said that there may be others promised the first vacant house by the Rent Collector.

Mr. Foley said some member of the Council helped that old lady a lot recently.

Mr. McCarthy said the whole trouble arose over a complaint made by Mrs. O'Connell, that the roof was leaking. He (Mr. McCarthy) satisfied himself that the roof was leaking, and while he did not agree that a person should hold the rent because of that complaint, that was the case.

After some more discussion it was decided to leave the matter in the hands of the collector.

Chairman Complimented

Mr. Dahill said as this is the first Council meeting at which their chairman presided since taking his seat in An Daill he wished to offer him his warmest congratulations on his success, and said that although the Chairman had a very late start, in comparison to others, he came in strong at the finish. He (speaker) expressed the hope that while Mr. Morrissey is in the Daill he will do his best for the whole constituency, and for the Free State and that he would, if the opportunity arose by his vote help to remove the Border question.

Continuing, the speaker also complimented Mr. P. J. Little on his success at the election and on his further appointment as Parliamentary Secretary to one of the greatest men in the world today, President Eamon de Valera.

Mr. Dahill further referred to all the voluntary workers during the election campaign and in particular Mr. Nicholas Barton who rendered very valuable assistance.

The Chairman in a brief reply thanked Mr. Dahill for his congratulatory remarks concerning himself, and said he knew he had the good wishes of every member of the Council on his election. Needless to say, he will try to do his best for all his constituents and if the opportunity arise he will be only too happy to do all in his power to remove the Border question.

Housing Scheme

The Contracts for the Water and Sewerage Schemes having been sealed by the Council.

A letter was read from Mr. Williams, solr., stating that he had got in touch with Mr. Flynn, the Contractor for the Housing Scheme. Mr. Flynn informed him that he was making arrangements with an Insurance Company (as regards surety).

Mr. O'Dwyer—That is a week ago now. I suggest he be rang up again in the morning.

Singing a Bond

Mr. Jerome Hackett, Weigh Bridge, Contractor, wrote in reply to the Council enclosing £3 as first instalment and stating that the balance will be forthcoming at the earliest opportunity. Owing to depression due to lack of an efficient council he is not in a position to sign the bond at present, but will do so as soon as possible.

Chairman—The Council's position is that when a man takes on a job he should sign the bonds immediately. The present position is most unfair to the Council.

Mr. O'Dwyer, proposed that the matter be deferred for five weeks. This change means to sign the bonds when in a position to do so. He is making very little on the council. On last Saturday when the market was over he had earned £2 that would not keep him in cigarettes. There is also a very high rate for the council this year £8.

Mr. McCarthy—The Council have already waited four months without the bond and another month won't make much difference.

Chairman—Give him until the end of August and notify him. The bond must be signed by him.

Mr. Dahill said he would not agree, he held the bond should be signed forthwith.

Chairman—Any other dissent?
Mr. Foley—I also dissent.

Mr. Croft—Would it not be the proper procedure to have the bond signed before the Contractor got the key?

Clerk—He was in possession since last year.

Water Supply Asked

Six residents of Upper Mithel street, wrote asking that a water supply be given to their premises, the absence of which is a great inconvenience to them and necessitates travelling a considerable distance for such an important domestic item.

Chairman—I suggest that the landlords be notified that a new main will be laid down by the front of the houses in the near future.

Raising a Wall

A request for permission to raise the wall at the rear of his house as in its present state it is very exposed, was read from Mr. E. Fitzgerald, and referred to the B.S. for report.

Broken Flagging

Mr. Foley, called attention to some broken flagging in certain parts of the town. It was decided to call the attention of the County Surveyor to the matter of the flagging of the town in general.

Garda Dance

Sergt. P. Russell, was on behalf of the Garda Divisional Sports Committee, granted the use of the Hall for an all-night dance on Sunday August 29th.

Openings of Main Roads

Mr. J. Bowen, County Surveyor, wrote, granting permission to open the road in Mary street and suggesting that the Council should renew all the connections in this street, and have done with it, as those isolated jobs are turning up with alarming frequency. It is useless trying to keep a good surface on the road under those conditions.

Mr. Dahill—There were two openings in Mary street this week.

Mr. Christopher—Mr. Bowen has never anything pleasant to say to us.

Mr. McCarthy—A Mussolini!

Chairman—Let us hope when we have the new scheme that all complaints will stop.

Shelter at Esplanade

The question of erecting some kind of shelter at the Esplanade raised by the Chairman was referred to the B.S. for a report.

PORTLAW "PICKINGS"

Our Leather City is steadily paving its way prosperitywards. At the moment negotiations are in progress for the public lighting of the place by the Shannon Electrical Supply Board. It is confidently anticipated that the happy result of these negotiations will be the installation of the electric current in good time to "light the way" for us through each night of the approaching winter.

And Sportswomen will be pleased to hear that the prospects of our having a cinema permanently established in our midst are long look particularly rosy as we write. The right people are sponsoring the project, and—well, there you are!

Highly talented young Miss Mary Terry, Kilmacdonagh, passed Grade 1 Theory and Grammar of Music, at the recent Examination of the Royal Academy of Music, London. She received 85 marks out of 99, which was certainly a fine achievement for a child of her years. Miss Maud Redmond, L.R.A.M., Waterford, prepared her for the Examination.

We hope to be seeing you at the big dance here on the 11th inst. Keep it dark!

SUCCESS AT MEDICAL EXAMINATION

Among those who were successful at the recent Pre-Registration Examination of Royal College of Surgeons (Ireland) was Mr. P. N. Davin, younger son of Mr. Maurice Davin, Carrickbeg, Carrick-on-Suir, the well-known Coursing Judge. We congratulate Mr. Davin on his success.

The above popular Regatta, which was held on last Monday (Bank Holiday), proved a wonderful success. The weather was gloriously fine and Summer-like, the warm rays of the sun being nicely tempered by a delightful breeze which blew from the river and which made the climatic conditions ideal for all.

There was a record attendance of spectators from all parts of Co. Waterford, as well as from Cork city, and other places, and the "Rock Road" which was gloriously fine and Summer-like, the warm rays of the sun being nicely tempered by a delightful breeze which blew from the river and which made the climatic conditions ideal for all.

The Regatta had received great support from outside Rowing Clubs, as seen by the large number of crews, and the splendid view of the racing, was crowded with a large and fashionable throng in gay summer attire who thoroughly enjoyed the interesting programme, and were charmed with the rich scenic beauty of the picturesque woodland scenery which surrounds the "Irish Rhine" from Dromana up to Cappoquin.

BRILLIANT REGATTA DACE

The annual Regatta Dance, was held in the Boathouse Hall on Monday night and proved a brilliant success. Large numbers attended from every part of the Co. Waterford and many parts of Cork, and the attendance proved the largest and most fashionable seen at any similar social function in Cappoquin for many years.

Delightful music was provided by Mick Delahanty's famous Harmony Dance Band, Clonmel, it being admitted by all that this was the finest orchestra heard in Cappoquin for a long time, and everybody will be delighted to hear it in the same hall soon again.

The catering arrangements were splendidly carried out by Mrs. J. Collins and Mrs. J. Keane, Cappoquin, and although the attendance was of enormous dimensions, there was on ample supply for all, and substantial suppers were promptly and neatly served to everybody at most reasonable prices during the night.

Mr. James Daly proved an admirable M.C., and by his great tact, courtesy and general efficiency preserved the best of order and ensured the fullest enjoyment for all from start to finish.

HORRIBLE HAPPENING AT STRADBALLY

MAN SHOT ON RIVER BANK

The Victim Michael Fitzgerald, Of H.M.S. Rodney, Was Home On Leave In His Native Village

The sad news of the shooting of Michael Fitzgerald, 29 years, brother of Mr. Thomas Fitzgerald and Mrs. H. Nesbitt, Church Street, Stradbally, evoked feelings of horror and intense regret throughout the village and district. Deceased was a gunner in the British Navy, being attached to H.M.S. Rodney. He had just completed twelve years service and was signed on for the additional term of nine years that would entitle him to a full pension when he retired. He tried to join the regular army of the Irish Free State in his sixteenth year, but was not accepted, being under age. Some few months later he crossed to England and joined the navy. He advanced himself steadily in the service, gaining a number of medals and stripes. Quite recently he passed his final gunner test, and was awarded an extra stripe. He belonged to an old-established, well-connected and highly respected Stradbally stock; was the happy possessor of a genial, upright disposition, and was extremely popular with all who knew him. A truly fine type of Irish manhood, his loss to his relatives and friends is accentuated by the tragic manner of his death.

In the small hours of Sunday morning last Michael and his brother Thomas were fishing on the river Tay that flows through Woodhouse demense, adjoining Stradbally village, when a shot rang out and Michael fell on the river bank mortally wounded.

Here's how Thomas told of the terrible affair in an interview on Sunday forenoon:—"I and my brother were on the river bank within a short distance of each other. I heard some footsteps and saw a light flash, and then heard a cry, 'Put up your hands,' followed immediately by a shot. I moved behind a bush. I heard my brother crying and moaning and when the man with the gun had moved away I went to my brother and spoke to him, but received no answer. I then saw the stream flowing down the front of his jersey and was inclined to attempt carrying him home when I thought if I did so I might crush the blood out of him all the more. I covered him with my coat and ran for help. Nick Phelan rushed for the Priest and Fr. O'Farrell came to the river to my brother. When Dr. Dooley came about an hour after my brother was shot, he said he was dead the minute he felt him. He was shot right under the collarbone, near the heart, and I'd say he lived about a quarter of an hour."

Woodhouse demense is the property of Lord Hugh Beresford, who, by the way, is an active officer of high rank in the British Navy. The scene of the shooting is situated about 400 yards up the two miles long demense avenue from the Co. side entrance to the "Big House."

There was a further sensation for picturesque Stradbally's peaceful people on Sunday, when they learned that Guard J. Daly, of the local Garda Síochána unit, had been placed under arrest and conveyed to Ramore Garda Barracks, where, at a special court, before Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J., he was charged in connection with the affair, and remanded in custody.

Dr. John McGrath, State Pathologist, reached Stradbally on Sunday evening, and carried out a post-mortem examination of the body.

Chief Supt. O'Duffy, Waterford, and Supt. P. Dennehy, Tramore, were also on the scene on Sunday, and were engaged in conference for some hours with other Gardaí officers at the local Station, where Sergeant Bernard Lynch is the regular officer in charge.

There was an enormous influx of visitors to the village on Sunday, and the shocking event of the early morning formed the uppermost topic of conversation.

Garda experts took a number of photographs and measurements of the scene of the tragedy.

THE INQUEST

Dr. J. C. Walsh, Coroner for East Waterford held an inquest into the circumstances surrounding the death on Monday morning at 10.30 a.m.

The inquest was held in the open large table being set under the overhanging branches of a huge tree in the stable yard of Lord Hugh Beresford to which the body was removed after the tragic occurrence.

The following jury were sworn:—Messrs. John Norris (foreman); Thos. Halley, Thomas Norris, Walter Drohan, John Mullaney, John J. Cummins, M. Sweeney; R. Clancy and Nicholas Power.

Mr. R. J. Farrell, solr., Waterford (acting for Mr. E. A. Ryan State Solr.) appeared for the State.

Mr. M. M. Halley, solr., Waterford, appeared for Guard John J. Daly.

Superintendent Dennehy and a number of other Garda Officers were also present.

The first witness called was Thomas Fitzgerald, brother of the deceased. He gave his address as Church street, Stradbally. He said his brother was 29 years of age and was a chief gunner in the British Navy. He came home to Stradbally on holiday on last Monday, July 26, and was in good health. "I last saw my brother alive—I would say it was about four minutes past twelve on Saturday night—that was 'old time.'"

Coroner—That would be 1.4 a.m. on Sunday morning, new time?
Mr. Farrell—Where was that?
Witness—It was on the bank of the river Tay, lying on his back. I spoke to him, and got no answer.

Sergt. B. Lynch, Stradbally, who was the next witness, said he went to the river bank at 1.25 a.m. on Sunday, as the result of a report. He found the deceased Michael Fitzgerald lying on the river bank. He was fully dressed, and in addition there was a coat thrown over his chest. "As far as I could ascertain, he was dead at the time." Witness assisted in removing the body of deceased to Woodhouse.

Dr. P. G. Dooley, Kilmacthomas, said he was called to the scene of the tragedy at 1.30 a.m. on Sunday morning and he found the deceased lying on his back on the river bank. A superficial examination showed the man was dead. There was blood on his shirt and a perforated wound just above his left collar bone.

Coroner—Are you sure it was the collar bone?
Witness—It appeared to be. Witness added that he assisted Dr. J. J. McGrath, State Pathologist, in the post-mortem examination on Sunday.

Pathologist's Evidence

Dr. McGrath, then gave evidence. He said as a result of the post-mortem he found the shoes, socks and lower parts of the trousers the deceased was wearing sodden with water. The shoes contained much sand. Rigor mortis was present and there were blood stains on the clothes near the neck and a punctured tear in the deceased's pull-over, situated 1 1/2 inches below the top of the head. There was a punctured wound on the upper part of the chest, 2 1/2 inches below the level of the Adam's apple and two inches to the left of it. This wound was oval, and was quarter of an inch long with ragged edges. Under this wound there was bleeding in the tissue, the collar bone beneath the wound was broken in fragments and there were small shreds of metal near the collar bone.

The wound then continued through the enlarged blood vessels underneath the collar bone. The left side of the chest was filled with blood, the tops of both lung lobes were punctured. The wound continued through the back of the chest 2 1/2 inches to the left of the middle line; the fourth rib was broken and in this break were shreds of metal.

Witness continued to say that the blood barely extended to the voice box in the lower part of the windpipe, showing that the deceased did not live long enough to cough up blood. The Interesting Visitors—Cappoquin has been favoured with a visit from Mr. P. J. O'Donnell and Mrs. K. O'Donnell, both natives of this town...

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

They both left for Boston on the day of their marriage, February 13th, 1890, and as they had not returned to their native town for almost 50 years, this must be one of the longest honeymoons on record.

Mr. O'Donnell, who is son of the late Mr. Patk. and Mrs. O'Donnell, Twig Lane, secured an important position in 'The American Sugar Co., of Boston' soon after his arrival there...

Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell are accompanied by Mrs. McGuinness, (Mrs. O'Donnell's niece), and the latter's daughter, Miss Mary M. McGuinness, a charming and accomplished young lady of sixteen summers...

Charge of Housebreaking at Knockmore—A young man named B. Hickey, has been arrested on a charge of house-breaking at the lock-up shop owned by Mrs. Daisy Simms, Knockmore.

Garden Fete at Belleville Park—The Grand Garden Fete which was to have been held in Belleville Park, Cappoquin, on Thursday afternoon, August 26th in aid of the Cappoquin Point-to-Point Race Fund, has been postponed to the following Sunday, August 29th as the Limerick Junction Races will be held on the 26th and 27th.

Condolence—At a specially convened meeting of the Inch hurling Club, a vote of condolence was passed to the Secretary Mr. Dan O'Callaghan, on his recent bereavement.

Excursion to Glengarriff—On Sunday 25th of July, the Dungarvan Excursion Club held their annual outing to Glengarriff. After attending Holy Mass, which was celebrated by Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., at 7 a.m., the travellers started off in glorious sunshine and amidst encouraging 'salvos' from their many friends who watched their departure in the buses.

At a meeting of the H. & F. Club held recently, it was decided to hold two matches, hurling and football and sports on August 15th. It was also decided to have an all-night dance in the hall on the same date.

At the O'Connell Hotel, Ballylickey, many old friends met and were cordially welcomed by big-hearted Mr. John O'Sullivan, Proprietor, and at the Golf Links Hotel, Glengarriff, sumptuous meals were appropriately served.

BALLYMACARBERY NOTES

On Holiday—Rev. W. Power, C.C., brother of Rev. J. Power, Kilgobnet, is spending a holiday at his home Knockan.

An Enjoyable Night—The dance held under the auspices of the Handball Club in the Co-Operative Stores on Sunday night week, was a great success. The floor being new, was rather rough at first, but after a few liberal applications of crystals, it became smooth and dancing continued without a break until 5 a.m.

At a meeting of the H. & F. Club held recently, it was decided to hold two matches, hurling and football and sports on August 15th. It was also decided to have an all-night dance in the hall on the same date.

Shooting Competition—A large number of competitors participated in the above on Sunday week, and some very high scores were recorded. I expect that some of them will be trying their luck at Bally in the near future.

The LATE MR. JOHN HENEERY, PORTLAW—Following Office and High Mass at Portlaw Catholic Church, on Thursday the funeral of the late Mr. John Heneery, Brown Street, Portlaw, took place to the family burial place at Carrickbeg, Carrick-on-Suir, where the remains were interred beside those of the distinguished brother of deceased, Very Rev. Dr. Heneery, Professor of Irish at University College, Cork, who died on St. Patrick's Day, 1916.

Rev. J. Vereker, C.C., Portlaw, was celebrant of the High Mass. Rev. J. Walsh, Ballyduff (cousin) was deacon and Rev. D. McGrath, C.C., Kilsheelan, (cousin) sub-deacon. A large number of priests of the diocese, and members of the Jesuit and Holy Ghost Order were in the choir.

The late Mr. Heneery had been all his life prominently identified with the Gaelic League, and other Irish-Ireland movements. He belonged to a family of native Irish speakers. One of his sons Rev. Pierce Heneery is a distinguished Jesuit Scholastic in Dublin, a daughter is a nun at the Holy Faith Convent, Glasnevin, Dublin and another daughter (Miss K. Heneery) is Matron at Ring Irish College, Co. Waterford.

Deceased was an outstanding authority on Irish music and an able Irish scholar. Not the least of his accomplishments was his mechanical skill demonstrated in sets of bagpipes and fiddles and articles of furniture made by him for use in his home. His modesty and reserve concealed a keen intellect and a man of courage, consistency, generosity and self-sacrifice.

At the time of his death in his 69th year he was President of Portlaw Sluagh of the Irish Volunteers. He held fast to the end in the faith of that vigorous Irish Nationalism and Gaelicism that had characterised every member of his family.

The chief mourners at the funeral were: Mrs. Heneery (widow), Miss K. Heneery and Miss B. Heneery (daughters); Rev. Pierce Heneery, S.J., Robert Heneery, (sons); Miss Nora Heneery (sister); Miss Murphy, Matron Co. Waterford Mental Hospital (sister-in-law); Mr. Thos. Whelan, N.T., Old Parish and Mrs. Whelan, Mr. William Heneery and family, Kilsheelan, Miss Nugent and family, Kilsheelan, Mrs. Power, Grangequinn, Rev. J. Walsh, Rev. D. McGrath, C.C., Ballyduff, Rev. D. McGrath, C.C., Kilsheelan (cousins); An Fear Mor Ring College, and the members of the College teaching staff, Mr. Sean O'Kiersey, Dublin, Dr. Philip Murphy, and Mrs. Murphy, Carrick-on-Suir, Mr. Jas. Heneery, do. Members of the Portlaw Volunteer Sluagh and Fianna Fail Cumann and employees of the Portlaw Tannery were present in the funeral cortege.

The late Mr. Heneery's unceasing efforts in bringing to the notice of the Government the suitability of the old cotton mill building at Portlaw as a site for a factory was largely responsible for the selection of Portlaw for the Tannery. That is now so prosperous there.

INTERESTING WEDDING AT MULLINAVAT (SOUTH KILKENNY)

The Parish Church, Mullinavat, was the scene of a very pretty and interesting wedding on Wednesday morning, when Miss Alice Malone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Malone, Rochestown, Mullinavat, became the wife of Mr. William Lennon, son of Mrs. Mary Lennon and the late Mr. Michael Lennon, Glen House, Bonmahon (Mid-Waterford). The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass, was performed by the Very Rev. Fr. Comerford, P.P., Mullinavat, assisted by the Rev. James Hally, C.C., Kilmachomas (cousin of the bridegroom). The bride, who looked charming, was attended by her sisters, the Misses Brice and Rita Malone, as bridesmaids; while the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Denis Lennon, acted as best man.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, where upwards of fifty guests were hospitably entertained. During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Lennon left by motor, to spend their honeymoon on a tour of the south of Ireland.

The happy couple received numerous costly and serviceable wedding presents, and there were many telegrams conveying cordial felicitations from their friends. Mr. Lennon, who is exceedingly popular in his district, is a nephew of the late Very Rev. John Lennon, P.P., Stradbally, and his amiable wife is the worthy member of an equally well-esteemed South Kilkenny family. We join with the rest in warmly wishing health, happiness and prosperity to both.

EXCURSION TO GLENGARRIFF

On Sunday 25th of July, the Dungarvan Excursion Club held their annual outing to Glengarriff. After attending Holy Mass, which was celebrated by Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., at 7 a.m., the travellers started off in glorious sunshine and amidst encouraging 'salvos' from their many friends who watched their departure in the buses.

At a meeting of the H. & F. Club held recently, it was decided to hold two matches, hurling and football and sports on August 15th. It was also decided to have an all-night dance in the hall on the same date.

INCH NOTES

Death of Old Inch Cork Athlete in U.S.A.—The news has just come to hand of the death in Chicago, U.S.A., of Mr. Laurence O'Callaghan, a native of the Inch district. In his early days deceased was a good athlete and won many prizes in good company at the leading sports meetings of that period.

Those were the early days of the G.A.A. when records were being set up and some of which are yet unbroken. Mr. O'Callaghan was a leading member of the old Killageagh football team, a powerful and famous combination which made history in East Cork and whose feats and victories are remembered in the locality, and have still the power to thrill after the lapse of nearly half a century.

There are not many survivors now—scarcely at any rate—of that once famous team, but those who are still to the fore are hale and hearty. Mr. John Treacy, one of the greatest football forwards of his time or since is as enthusiastic about the game as ever he was and is Chairman of the Inch hurling club today. Mr. Treacy was much concerned at the news of the death of his old club mate, and was one of the first to tender his sympathy to the afflicted relatives.

Mr. O'Callaghan, paid a visit to the home of his childhood some years ago and was glad to see the old friends, he planned to pay another visit soon, but it was not to be. The remains were interred in Mount Olivet Cemetery, Chicago, on July 9th after solemn Requiem Mass had been celebrated for the happy repose of his soul. The panegyric was preached by Father Timothy Hurley, P.P., Chicago (who was a life-long friend of deceased). The funeral service was also conducted by Father Hurley.

Newtown (Lombards) Sports—In gloriously fine weather on Sunday week, the Newtown (Lombards) Sports Committee held their annual meeting. The Sports were to have been held the previous Sunday, but owing to the inclemency of the weather they were postponed. The weather conditions on Sunday week were all that could be desired and a large crowd was present to see the various events contested. All the local and many other athletes were in action and an enjoyable evening was spent by all on Lombards hill.

Bowling—In the Youghal district a Bowling Tournament is being very successfully carried through and is attracting a good deal of attention. Those who are in charge are very experienced in this and other forms of sport and can be relied on that everyone has a "square" deal. Some of the young men from the Inch-Ballydonnell and Park districts are taking part in this tournament. Tom Brown, who threw so well a few Sundays ago against a very experienced bowler from Cork City is a native of this parish, who has distinguished himself in various forms of sport. Others who are rapidly winning cognation are the Cronin brothers of Ballymague, John Cronin of Rath, Jack Murphy of Park and several others. On all of whom we shall keep a watchful eye and of whom we shall have something to say later on in this column.

EAST CORK JOTTINGS—Killegagh—Death of Mrs. Michael Daly, Dangan—The demise of Mrs. Michael Daly, which occurred during the week was altogether unexpected for deceased was up and about her duties as usual and apparently in her normal health up to the eve of her death. The interment took place in Ballynoe cemetery, and the funeral was largely attended. May she rest in peace.

Killegagh Fair—Killegagh monthly fair which was held recently, was well up to the average in all departments for the season of the year. There was a good attendance of buyers and prices were fairly good. Sheep were scarce and were all sold at increased rates. Young cattle were also in good demand and sold well.

Sports Fixture For Kill—A representative meeting held at Kill recently, having for its object the promoting of a cycling and athletic sports fixture the matter was fully discussed and it was unanimously agreed to hold a Mid-Waterford Novice Cycling and Athletic Sports Meeting at Kill, under the auspices of the N.A. and C.A. The following officers and committee were appointed: President—Mr. A. Kirwan; Secretary—Mr. T. Hayes; Hon. Treasurer—Mr. J. Maguire; Hon. Secretary—Mr. T. Thorpe, G.S.; Messrs. E. Casey, J. Cummins, J. J. Walsh, F. Moore, N. Casey, N. Hayes, M. Morrissey, P. Moore, D. F. O'Sullivan, P. Horgan (Garda Sergeant), D. Fitzgerald, P. Burns, J. Kennedy, R. O'Connor (Garda), M. Nolan (do.), P. Baldwin, M. Fitzgerald, P. Kelly, M. Kelly, M. Coffey, T. Maguire, P. Kirwan, D. Kirwan, B. Lynch (Garda Sergeant), and G. C. Kieley.

The Secretary was directed to communicate with Mr. W. J. Nolan (Secretary to the County Executive of the N.A. and C.A.), Dungarvan, making application for a permit and date. The meeting drew up a programme of events which will be duly advertised.

Collectors were appointed to make a house-to-house canvass of the Kill, Kilmachomas, and Stradbally districts soliciting subscriptions in aid of the sports fund.

The members of the Kill A.C. were appointed to act as a working committee—to have charge of the field arrangements, purchasing of medals and trophies for prizes, etc.

The passing of votes of thanks to the Stradbally and Kilmachomas representatives for attending and Mr. J. Hayes for presiding at the meeting, brought the proceedings to a close.

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN VISITORS—A number of persons from Great Britain and America are in Carrick-on-Suir and district on visits to relatives and friends. They have enjoyed trips to Stradbally, the Comeragh, and on the Suir between Carrick and Clonmel.

MID-DEISE MEMS.—The death of Mr. James Power, Carrickmacross, Stradbally, at a comparatively young age, is sincerely regretted. Deceased, who was an exemplary Catholic, was a very popular figure in the district. He breathed his last at the Cottage Hospital, Dungarvan, and the funeral to Touraneena Churchyard on the 24th inst., was largely attended. We add ours to the many messages of sympathy tendered to his bereaved wife and other immediate relatives. Peace to his soul.

PORTLAW "PICKINGS"

The beautiful gardens at Curraghmore were open to the public on Thursday 29th July, when a fancy fair was held in aid of the Portlaw and District Nursing Association. Many people, from parts near and far, availed of the opportunity of visiting the gardens—sight of which is always a treat for nature lovers. The fancy fair proved a pronounced success, and our District Nursing Association are truly thankful to the Marchioness of Waterford for her Ladyship's unfailing kindness to them.

Lady Waterford was represented in three of the competitions in the Irish Red Setter Club field trials, held at Edenderry this week, viz., The Irish Red Setter Stakes; The International Stakes, and the Brace Stakes.

Mrs. Bowers, Fiddown (wife of Supt. Bowers of the G.P.O., Dublin) and family are at present spending a holiday at Stradbally village—staying at Whelan's Hotel there.

By the way, have you noticed how our cross-Channel visitors always hand up their fares to the 'bus conductors before they have been given their tickets? "Money first" is the custom they know. Here the 'bus companies have always been more trusting, handing passengers their tickets first.

As you are well aware, we're sure, very small children travelling on 'buses with their parents always grao for the tickets when they are purchased. If they are "returns" this often leads to trouble. Baby just can't have the nice coloured tickets and so howls his head off. One kindly neighbour, we see, has got over this difficulty neatly. He always carries in his pocket a handful of old tickets, and where he sees they would be appreciated hands them over to the baby. Thus everyone is satisfied.

LISMORE NOTES.

Death of Mrs. Anne Jane Darragh—It is with profound regret we chronicle the death of Mrs. Anne Jane Darragh, relict of the late Alexander Darragh, Chapel Street, Lismore, which happened at her home on Wednesday July 21st, following a protracted illness and in the fullness of her years. A member of a well-known county Waterford family, she by her charm of manner and genial personality had gained a very wide circle of friendships. Of a deeply religious and kindly nature, she was beloved by all, and her passing will create a void not easily replaced in the locality.

The remains were removed from her late residence to St. Carthage's Cathedral, Lismore on Thursday evening week and were followed by a large and representative cortege.

Requiem Masses were offered up for the repose of her soul on Friday morning and the funeral which took place later to the Council cemetery was extremely large and testified to the general esteem in which the deceased lady was held. Rev. Fr. T. Murphy, C.C., Lismore, Rev. Fr. W. O'Riordan, officiated at the graveside.

The chief mourners were:—Mr. A. C. Darragh, Director University Tutorial Institute, Dublin; Mr. Neil Darragh, Steel Works, Lismore Castle; Mr. Patrick Darragh, Superintendent L.S.M.R.; Hamilton, Mr. M. A. Darragh, C. B. College, Synges Street, Dublin; Mr. James Darragh, Engineer T. X. L. Jam Works, Hobart, Tasmania; Mrs. K. V. O'Connell, R.C. Organist, Lismore and Mrs. L. Quinlan, Merchant, Chapel Street, (sons and daughters); Mr. Timothy O'Connell, Contractor, Mr. L. Quinlan (sons-in-law); Mrs. Pat Darragh (daughter-in-law); Alex. and Thomas Darragh, Neil, Paddy, Ann and Mona O'Connell, Mr. P. and Mrs. O'Connell, Master Joe O'Connell and Mr. John Quinlan (relatives).

Lismore Boy Scouts—The Lismore Boy Scouts left for Youghal on Sunday week for their annual camping holiday to Youghal. The weather so far has been very favourable and the boys are enjoying a perfect holiday by the seaside. They take this opportunity of thanking everyone who so kindly lent a hand to make their holiday such a success.

New Post Office—The new Post Office for Lismore is now nearing completion and it is expected that business will be started about mid-August.

BIG ATTENDANCES AT RING IRISH COLLEGE—The August session at Ring Irish College which began on Tuesday is being attended by a large number of students of Irish who are accommodated at the residential College; and in houses in Ring district.

MID-DEISE MEMS.

A company of some twenty or so of the boys and girls of the Pike (Garranbane) neighbourhood battered the trial to Lake Coumshingaun, on Sunday last.

'Neath sunny skies they picniced and held an impromptu concert by the high-lunged expanse of placid water. The merry party enjoyed themselves to their hearts' content. At the evening's gentle close they were back again at starting-point, where they rounded off a perfect day joining the crowd assembled at the dance in the commodious, comfortable and airy local hall.

We have it that Guard John Daly, who has been arrested in connection with the Stradally Sunday morning tragedy—fully described elsewhere on this copy—is a native of Co. Clare, and has a wife and six young children.

The choral singing of "a bunch of the boys" ambling along the Newline Road, near Kilmacthomas, after sunset on Monday, was a treat to listen to. Please repeat the performance, lads!

Rev. M. Power, C.C., Ballylennane, being away on a holiday, the 8.30 and 11 o'clock Masses at St. Anne's Church, Ballylennane, on Sunday, were celebrated by Rev. P. Cummins, O.S.A., Cork (native of Island, Stradally), and Rev. G. Power, C.C., (recently ordained for the Waterford and Lismore diocese, and nephew of Rev. M. Power, C.C., Kill), respectively. There were very large congregations at both Masses, and big numbers received Holy Communion at the early Mass.

After an absence of ten years at Waterford, England, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirwan, and their family of three pretty little children are now enjoying a holiday in our midst. They are staying with Mr. Kirwan's mother—Mrs. 1904 Kirwan, Railway Road, Kilmacthomas. Prior to his departure to the sister island a decade ago, Mr. Kirwan was a prominent playing member of the Kilmacthomas Hurling Club, and our jovial friend still takes a keen interest in the games of the Gael. His most estimable life-partner was formerly Miss Minnie Barron, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Barron, Curraheen, Kilmacthomas. Before going to England she was for a number of years the courteous and efficient book-keeper at Messrs. D. O'Reilly and Sons' extensive business establishment at Main street, Kilmacthomas.

In Kill village the other afternoon we came across an original and unusual "hot press"—the radiator of a car! The vehicle approached from the Bonmahon side and was moving along towards Carroll's Cross and tied on to the bonnet were two bathing costumes, one red, the other green.

There seems to be no end of weddings these days. We notice as a sequel to one of the happy events of the present week the bride will have a very slight change of name, the addition of one letter making the difference between the Miss Moffet that was and the Mrs. Moffet that now is. Evidently this lucky pair suit each other to a "T." What a pity the same could not be said of all marriages. Who threw that brick?

Now holidaying in his native Kilmac is Mr. "Bertie" Battye, who fills an important position on the staff of a well-known cycle-manufacturing concern at Coventry, England. He is staying with his brother, Mr. R. D. Battye, newsagent, Main street, Friar-church, in tip-top health and spirits, good luck to him.

Sister Thomas Halpin of the Convent of Our Lady of Lourdes, Paris, concludes a pleasant fortnight's holidays this week-end at her parental roof-tree at Durrow. She is a daughter of universally esteemed Mr. and Mrs. John Halpin, Durrow. Two of her sisters are also nuns and she has a brother who is studying for the priesthood at Mount Mellary.

Particulars of above can be obtained from Mr. C. F. Tyndall, District Locomotive Superintendent, Waterford, and quotations to be forwarded to Mr. J. P. Meadows, Stores Superintendent, Inchicore, Dublin, to be received not later than Friday, 13th August 1937. Purchasers will be required to remove the Carriage Bodies at their own expense.

WANTED—Maid for general house work Small adult family. Apply X. Y. "Observer" Office.

WANTED—A light mowing machine. Apply stating price, make, etc. to T.P. CABBAGE PLANTS FOR SALE—Main's No. 1 grown from best seed. Apply Trinity, Coolagh Road, Abbeyside.

TO LET—Dwelling House at Square, Dungarvan, for all particulars apply to Thomas Foley, Newlin, Abbeyside.

LOST—In Clonsa Strand, Parker Fountain Pen. Finder rewarded on returning same to "Observer" Office.

FORD—1934—13.9 h.p. in new condition, well kept; any trial, M. J. Keane, Dungarvan.

FOR SALE—Good range, will be sold cheap, M. J. Keane, Dungarvan.

FOR SALE—Two highly-bred Cobs (coll and filly), aged 3 and 2 years old, respectively, and standing at the moment 13.3 and 13.1 hands. Apply "Barron's Hotel", Cappoquin.

BALLYDUFF NOTES

Rev. David J. O'Connor, Fourth P.P. (1896-1903)

On the transfer of Fr. Michael Power, as P.P., to Ballynahale, Co. Tipperary, Fr. David J. O'Connor, was appointed P.P., of Ballyduff in 1896. He was born in the Parish of Kilrossanty and his family for generations had given priests and nuns to the service of God.

The Ballyduff National Schools—The present schools in Ballyduff for boys and girls were built during Father O'Connor's Pastorate. In connection with this work he was very materially assisted by his curate at the time Rev. John H. Dowley, who died later C.C. at Thuranesma.

Fr. O'Connor's health began to fail after the erection of the schools in Ballyduff, and he was transferred as P.P., to Ballyporeen, but the following year, at his own request he was re-appointed P.P., of Ballyduff. Ill-health followed him home to us, and an Administrator was appointed to do his Parish duties.

The Silver-Gilt Chalice—Shortly before the death of Fr. O'Connor, the very beautiful chalice, modelled on the De Burgo O'Malley chalice made in 1494 and now in the Dublin National Museum, was presented to our Church by Mr. and Mrs. Higgins, of Ballyduff. It is in daily use on the altar and is certainly one of the most artistic chalices without unnecessary ornament, in the whole Diocese.

be the most beautiful proportioned Chalice in existence. What treasures must have been lost and destroyed in the dark and evil days, through which Ireland has happily passed, we hope, for ever.

Death of Fr. David O'Connor—Father David, died in October 1903, and his body was interred in our Church cemetery. A very beautiful monument marks his grave. It was made by Keane of Waterford, who was acknowledged a master monumental mason in his time.

So far we have noted the history of Ballyduff Parish since its formation as separate from Lismore, and in following "Notes" we shall chronicle some further improvements in the Church and Schools, with a short biography of the succeeding Pastors.

DEVELOPMENTS IN CARRICK-ON-SUIR TANNERY

It is understood that recent developments in connection with the fine leather tannery at Carrick-on-Suir may result in a large increase in factory output and in the number of persons employed there.

BOOK BORROWING

Book-lovers are all too familiar with the man who borrows their volumes and forgets to give them back. Special law was reminded of this vexed subject on Tuesday when, borrowing a book, he found stamped on the flyleaf the owner's name and these lines:—

"Black is the eye of the raven, Black is the eye of the rook, But blacker still will be the eye Of the person who keeps this book!"

Somewhat drastic, eh?

DANCE TOPICS

Dance floor topics are a touchy business. It is so easy to slip into stereotyped comments about the crowded hall, the clever band, and the terrific heat. A Fiddown friend tells us he has a stack of his own, as he calls them, "dancemats" which he "puts across" when there is nothing else to talk about.

"May I have the pleasure of the next dance, please?" The formal ballroom language of not so very long ago is, we hear, now extinct. According to a Kilmeehan maiden who dances, if she will pardon our saying so, more than 10 good days do so in a "dummy language." They simply present themselves in front of their quarry, and perhaps bow slightly. Some do accompany this with a curt "May I?" "Will you?" or "May I have this one?" The new generation saves its breath—at this stage anyway.

YOUGHAL CEREMONY

With all that solemn and beautiful ritual so characteristic of the Catholic Church's great ceremonies, His Lordship Most Rev. Dr. Roche, Bishop of Cloyne, blessed and laid the corner-stone of the new Church, dedicated to Our Lady of Lourdes at the Strand, Youghal.

The edifice, which occupies a commanding position, will face the south-east when completed. Its internal length is 114 feet and it is 57 feet wide over the aisle. The nave will be 10 feet high. It has been designed by the well-known architects, Messrs. Ashlin and Coleman, and its construction is in the capable hands of a local firm of contractors, Mr. John Murray. Its style will be Romano-Gothic and it is being built of brick with limestone dressings. Two kinds of brick are being used. Locally made bricks are being used internally and Ballinphellig bricks on the outside. The custom is being brought from Malloy. Mr. Joseph Nolan is clerk of works.

The church will contain two side-altars. There will be two sacristies—one for the priests and one for the altar boys. The building will be equipped with a heating chamber. Every inch of space will be utilised to the greatest advantage and, with this end in view, the confessionals are being arranged in recesses in the aisle walls. The seatings will be fibrous plaster.

Although the work of erection was held up by the building dispute, nevertheless good progress has been made. When completed the church will not only be an ornament to the progressive town of Youghal, but it will also mark an advance in church architecture in the Diocese of Cloyne, magnificent in its grandeur and a monument of the faith of a grateful and religious people.

Brilliant sunshine favoured the dedication ceremony. The attendance was not confined to the parishioners, but included a very large number of those at present visiting Youghal on holidays. His Lordship was received by the Very Rev. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P., Youghal, and prior to the ceremony his Lordship inspected a guard of honour of Catholic Boy Scouts drawn from the local troops and also from those of Lismore and Fermoy at present camping in the vicinity on holidays. The ceremony was preceded by a procession to the building, the outer walls of which are already several feet high. The local school girls' choir headed the procession, and as they entered the now hallowed ground they sang very sweetly and very beautifully the Lourdes Hymn in honour of "Our Lady of Lourdes," to who the building was about to be dedicated.

His Lordship, who was assisted by Rev. Father Twobig, C.C., and Very Rev. M. Twomey, D.D., C.C., both of Youghal, having performed the ceremony. His Lordship, addressing those present, explained the dedication ceremony and exhorted them to help their pastor, Very Rev. Canon Dinneen, in the building of the church. The clergy present and who took part in the ceremony were—Very Rev. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P., Youghal; Very Rev.

Canon Kent, P.P., Doneraile; Very Rev. Canon O'Connell, P.P., Carrigrohilly; Very Rev. Canon St. John Thornhill, President St. Colman's College, Fermoy; Very Rev. Father Browne, P.P., Lady'sbridge; Very Rev. Father Keefe, P.P., Inniscarra; Rev. W. Carey, C.C., Youghal; Rev. E. J. Fox, C.C., do.; Rev. P. J. Geran, C.C., do.; Rev. D. Dawne, C.C., do.; Rev. P. Mortell, C.C., Dungourney; Rev. T. Browne, C.C., Castlemary; Rev. C. Brew, C.C., Killeagh; Rev. R. Thornhill, C.C., Ballycotton; Rev. W. Egan, C.C., Cove; Rev. T. Murphy, C.C., do.; Rev. D. Sheehan, C.C., Lady'sbridge; Rev. F. Murphy, Youghal; Rev. J. Ahern, Rome.

At the conclusion of the ceremony, Mr. T. A. Coleman, of Messrs. Ashlin and Coleman, Architects, Dublin, presented His Lordship with the solid silver trowel used in the ceremony, and which was suitably engraved. Likewise Mr. John Murray, contractor, presented His Lordship with the ebony mallet, silver-mounted and inscribed, which was also used in the laying of the foundation stone.

RAISING BONHAMS ON THE FARM

Suitable Feeding For The Sow And Her Litter

In the production and successful rearing of bonhams the sow is, naturally, of primary importance. An animal should be docile and easily handled; the breast should be well developed, having at least 12, or preferably 14, evenly placed equidistant teats, placed as far as possible forward towards the front legs. A sow having flat teats is seldom a good milker, and generally a poor mother. She should be light in the fore quarters, have a good long barrel, light jaw, light head, broad between the eyes, ribs well sprung and deep, with chest well let down. The legs should be set apart, straight, and fine boned.

At one time it was thought essential practically to starve the sow for a few days before she is due to farrow, and also to give her nothing to eat for a day or two after bringing forth her family. These were very foolish ideas, and resulted in the loss of many bonhams. It is, however, a feasible to somewhat limit the quantity of food given at this period, as when the bowels are comparatively empty there will be less likelihood of accident during farrowing than if they were distended with food. The food most suitable at this stage is middlings, together with a little bran, steeped in boiling water and fed warm. Separated milk is also very suitable, and should be given in liberal quantities. When the bonhams are a day or two old the sow should receive a mixture consisting of about equal parts of bran and middlings steeped in boiling water and fed warm, the quantity varying according to the number of bonhams being reared. If she has 10 the quantity will be 10 lbs.—that is, 1 lb. of meals for each. Gradually a maize meal mixture is introduced making in the course of a week or ten days a ration made up of 30 per cent. maize meal mixture, 30 per cent. pollard, 20 per cent. bran, together with a liberal quantity of separated milk daily, or, failing the latter, 10 per cent. of fish meal or meat meal must be introduced to the mixture in order to supply the necessary protein and mineral ingredients.

The sow should be exercised each day. This can be done by allowing her out while the sty is being cleaned, about a quarter of an hour will be long enough for the first few days, and the time being lengthened as the bonhams get strong. It is important to get bonhams to eat easily digested food at as early a date as possible, especially in the case of a young sow rearing a large family, as it will help to prevent a too serious drain on the mother if the youngsters can pick a little for themselves, and they will thrive better and will not feel the effects of weaning so much, as a result of being taught early to fend for themselves. This can best be achieved by placing some pollard and separated milk in a trough, when the sow is out, to which the bonhams can have easy access. They will very quickly come to know what is in the vessel and will taste it, and in a little while begin to eat in this way. They take an increasing quantity each day. The bonham can be weaned when they are eight weeks of age. This can be done by taking the sow away from them for a longer period each day than the preceding one, until about eight weeks, or perhaps a little longer in winter, she is separated altogether from them. The housing plays a very important part in the rearing of bonhams, and is often sadly overlooked, with the result that they do not appear healthy or prove thrifty, even though fed on costly nutritious food. The essentials of a suitable house are a good floor, preferably of cement, raised above the level of the surrounding ground, plenty of light and, if possible, sunlight, admitted through the windows in the roof; sufficient ventilation, and, at the same time, no danger of draughts. The floor should be cleaned out regularly each day and some fresh, clean straw put on it. For this purpose farmers should keep some of their straw in reserve, and by doing so will be repaid by having bonhams that will be healthier; this will put a much greater increase per 1/3 of food consumed.—R. in "Farmers' Gazette."

Be sure that the Melman is gratefully the Old Sol ten the glorious weather obtaining since the heel of last month's close of 3,000 people travelled by rail alone to Tramore on Sunday, and we have it that "the trains from Waterford out" took as many more sea-trippers to the "glorious and unrivalled" centre on the Bank Holiday.

CARRICKLYCHNY ACCIDENT—Late on Sunday night a young man named James Moore, who resides near Carrick-on-Suir was thrown from his bicycle at the end of New Street. He was taken to the Guards barracks near where he fell and was attended by a doctor who had him removed to the local hospital. He suffered from concussion and minor injuries.

COMMISSIONER UM SLAINTE PODUL PORTLAIRGE—PUBLIC HEALTH ACTS AMENDMENT ACT, 1927

The Commissioner administering the affairs of the Waterford Board of Public Health hereby gives Notice that the Minister for Local Government and Public Health has made an Order dated the 3rd July, 1937, declaring Sections 92, 93 and 94 of the Public Health Acts Amendment Act, 1927, to be in force in the Waterford County Health District.

The Sections referred to confer the following powers on the Board viz:— (a) To make bye-laws with regard to public bathing and to provide bathing-sheds or other conveniences as well as life-saving appliances where necessary. (b) To regulate the hours of bathing and to enforce the provision of life-saving apparatus by persons providing accommodation for public bathing. (c) To grant upon such terms and conditions as they may think fit licences for pleasure boats and pleasure vessels to be let for hire or to be used for carrying passengers for hire, and to boatmen or persons assisting in the charge or navigation of such boats or vessels and to charge such fees therefor as are provided in the Act.

Black Licenses—In connection Lismore Estates, of the 15 licenses, Mr. Power said Blackwater below given them by 6 seat and proving having seen to river. Mr. Daly said Commission was blem, and they Not half the caught last year gested they should Duke to remit it. Mr. Power said administration was out regularly each day and some fresh, clean straw put on it. For this purpose farmers should keep some of their straw in reserve, and by doing so will be repaid by having bonhams that will be healthier; this will put a much greater increase per 1/3 of food consumed.—R. in "Farmers' Gazette."

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman, R. Power, E. P. Lynch, J. Forrest, R. Savage, J. Whelan, W. J. Broderick, M. Cashman, T. Beausang, J. Daly, B.E., M. D. Broderick.

Mental Hospital Water Supply
A letter was read from the Manager Youghal Mental Hospital, asking the Council to expedite the laying of the new water main to the Hospital.

The Town Surveyor reported that he had been in communication with Mr. Hill, Engineer to the Hospital Committee, who suggested that a 5-inch pipe should be put down instead of the 4-inch pipe already decided on. The extra cost would be about £120.

After a short discussion it was unanimously decided, on the proposition of Mr. Beausang, seconded by Mr. Lynch to install a 5-inch pipe, the work to be carried out as quickly as possible.

Dance License For Town Hall
A letter was read from Messrs. Hodnett, sons, asking if the Council intended to apply for a renewal of the Dance License for the Town Hall.

It was unanimously decided to apply for a renewal.
National Anthem
Mr. Daly suggested that the National Anthem be played at the conclusion of the dances and also at the local cinemas.

It was said that when the National Anthem was played the audience starting walking out.
Mr. Daly—I am surprised at such a poor display of national spirit.
The suggestion was adopted.

The Irish Brigade
A letter was read from Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., applying for the use of the Town Hall on Tuesday evening 3rd inst., for the purpose of making a presentation to the Youghal members of the Irish Brigade, who had recently returned from Spain. The presence of the members of the Council would be gratefully appreciated.

The application was granted unanimously.
The Rate Collector
Mr. Power said in the interest of fair play, he had a notice of motion to hand in. For some years past their Rate Collector was not playing a proper game, victimising some people. His notice was to the effect that no Court proceedings be taken for rent or rates without the authority of the Council.

The Chairman said they had already consulted their solicitor on the point, and his opinion was that the collector had power under the Statute to institute proceedings under his own name as Rate Collector without first obtaining the consent of the Council.

Mr. Power said he was not taking it from Mr. Hodnett or Mr. Farrell. What statute was it? They were not under Queen Victoria or Queen Elizabeth now. They had their own country and their own Government and he said that Mr. Farrell was victimising certain people.

Mr. W. Broderick said that once they handed over the warrant to Mr. Farrell, they had no further control over his collection except, as a matter of courtesy, he might submit the names to them. He was not bound to obey them.

Mr. Forrest said that the publication of the list of defaulters might have a good effect.
After a long and lively discussion, the Chairman said he didn't see the use of accepting such a notice in face of the opinion given by their legal advisers.

Mr. Savage asked what there was not an order made by the Government calling for the retirement of officials over a certain age.
The Clerk said it was not an order.

Mr. Savage said there were lots of young men looking for positions and it was time certain old men chucked in the sponge.
The Chairman said he was surprised at Mr. Savage. The official in question had given 50 years of his life to the faithful service of the Council. He did not like the personal element which had been introduced during the discussion.

Mr. Power said he would hand his notice in.
The Chairman said he might submit the facts to the Minister.
Mr. Power—Then I will do that.

Blackwater Fisheries
In connection with the letter from the Lismore Estates Co., offering to remit £2 of the £5 balance due on Fishery licenses.

Mr. Power said he maintained that the Blackwater belonged to the Irish people, given them by God. He accused the present and previous Governments of not having seen to the nationalisation of the river.

Mr. Daly said he understood that a Commission was dealing with the problem, and they should await the result. Not half the usual quantity of fish was caught last year and he therefore suggested they should again appeal to the Duke to remit the £5 due.

Mr. Power said the whole Fishery administration was corrupt, the election of Conservators was most unfair being open voting and done in presence of the owners. Furthermore some of the Conservators encouraged poaching. If an inquiry was held, he would prove those charges.

Mr. Cashman said the question of the price of fish should also be inquired into. The Chairman said he thought they were going outside their province altogether.
After a protracted and somewhat acrimonious discussion it was decided that the Clerk should again write appealing for a further remission.

Volunteer Camp
A letter was read from Collins Barracks, Cork, stating that the Volunteer Camp at Youghal would open this month.

YOUGHAL COW TESTING ASSOCIATION

The annual meeting of the Youghal Cow-testing Association was held in the Carnegie Free Library, Youghal. Present—Messrs. P. Kirk (president), M. Smiddy, Callaghan, Flavin, R. Motherway, F. McCarthy (cow-testing instructor) and J. Motherway (supervisor).

The Supervisor's report stated—There were 16 members, who owned 106 cows, of which 175 completed records were available, and the average yield was 6,204 lbs milk and 222.34 lbs. butter-fat, with an average test of 3.58 p.c. butter-fat. Calculating butter-fat at 78 per lb. and separated milk at 1d. per gallon, the total earning would be £13 2s. 3d. per cow.

The five best cows in the Association gave an average return of 11,141 lbs. milk and 421 lbs. butter-fat, with an average test of 3.78 p.c. butter-fat. The average return for these five cows would be £24 12s. 11d. per cow.

The five worst cows gave an average return of 2,581 lbs. milk and 93.61 lbs. butter-fat, with an average test of 3.58 p.c. butter-fat. Her total earnings would be £6 2s. 10d. The second best cow, owned by W. McCarthy, Seafield, yielded 10,766 lbs. milk and 444.63 lbs. butter-fat with an average test of 4.13 p.c. butter-fat. The total earnings for her would be £25 14s. 1d.

One hundred and thirty-three double visits were given to members' herds and 1,033 samples were tested for butter-fat. At the annual inspection of cows, held by the Department of Agriculture recently 18 cows were presented and 16 were passed for entry in the Department's Register of Dairy Cattle. At this inspection Mr. Mcc. Smiddy, Ballymadog, was awarded first prize with his cow Esther, and Mr. J. Motherway, Ballycrenane, was reserved, with his cow Buttercup. In the heifer prize scheme, Mr. P. Kirk was awarded first prize with his yearling heifer Maara.

We have at present six cows in the Association yielding over 900 gallons. We have 37 cows in the Department's Register of Dairy Cattle; we have also three useful dairy bulls, which should be available by members, especially those having registered cows, as the progeny from those are eligible for entry in the Department's Register of Dairy Cattle. The returns also show that there has been an increase in the average yield of milk and butter fat as compared with last year.

In conclusion, I wish to thank you for your hospitality to me on the occasion of my visits to you, and also for the manner in which you have kept your records during the year. I also wish to thank Mr. Kirk, the President, and Mr. McCarthy, C.T.I., for their assistance to me during the year.

Mr. McCarthy, referring to the work of the Association, said that during the past two years the work of the Association had been gradually built up, and this could be seen by the large number of cows that were put on the Department's Register this year. It was also pleasing to know that there was an increase in the average milk yield of the Association compared with that of last year. There were six cows in the Association yielding over 1,000 gallons and ten cows yielding over 900 gallons; this shows that the members were grading their stock up to a very high standard. He said the Association had definitely made a good deal of progress during the past two years.

LOVELY CARRIGMORNA
AN EXILES SONG
Ah lovely Carrigmorna, what memories of the past
Like a brave army in array, come trooping thick and fast
In dreams once more a happy youth, I roam thy woods alone,
And listen to the cuckoo's call, or the grey linnet's song.

I see once more the Comeragh Hills, tower up majestically,
Where sleep the boys beneath their shade, who died to make us free,
Then maybe on to Downey's Cross, and linger for a while,
Where John Fitzgerald's wonder tales, an evening would beguile.

And then by charming Leamybrien, my footsteps next would stray,
Kilrossary and Barakill, around by Ballinlea,
From Dalton's Cross on to the Pike, and maybe home again,
With youth's companions bold and true; brave comrades, now old men.

Ah lovely Carrigmorna, although I'm far away,
An exile on a foreign land, beyond the ocean's spray,
Some day I'll cross the stormy sea and back I'll go,
To that loved spot in Ireland when the June roses grow.

M. WALSH,
Ballingown, Kiltrossary.

and asking for the usual facilities. The application was granted unanimously.
Mental Hospital Extension
The meeting unanimously congratulated Mr. W. Broderick, on the success of his efforts in connection with the extension of the Mental Hospital.

TIP TO TRIPPERS

At Youghal Court, District Justice Farrell, fined a visitor 10/- on a charge brought by Guard P. J. O'Connor, under the Towns Improvement Act.

The complainant stated the defendant was squabbling with another visitor to the obstruction of passers by.

The Justice said that was the first case of the kind that came before him there. He didn't like to take people by surprise, but if there was any further case of interference with the convenience of visitors or townspeople, he would inflict the maximum penalty. People coming there must conduct themselves or suffer the consequences. He hoped that would be a warning to all.

EARLY MORNING CAPTURE

At Youghal Court before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J., Andrew Griffin, Green-cloyne, was brought up in custody on remand, charged "with having in his possession, without lawful excuse, an instrument of housebreaking, to wit, a key, with intent to commit a felony."

Supt. Kelly, Middleton, prosecuted. Detective-Officer J. Downes, Youghal, deposed that he had already made a deposition in that case on 23rd July. On the morning of 22nd July, he was on duty in North Main street, Youghal. At 3.30 a.m. he noticed a man crossing the street, and approaching from Garde's grocery shop, the person went towards Green's Quay. There was a motor car parked near O'Donovan's Garage. Soon after witness went towards the car and he found a man in the car. Witness asked who was there but got no reply. He asked a second time and got a reply "Andrew Griffin." Accused came out of the car witness searched him. He found the key produced in his possession. Witness asked Griffin to account for himself and he said he was down and out and he came in for cigarettes. He had no boots on. Witness then took him to the barrack. Witness left the barrack and found the boots produced in the lavatory at Green's Quay. Returning he gave the prisoner the usual legal caution and he made a statement to the effect that he intended to break into Garde's shop Main street. He had a key for the purpose but did not know if it would fit. On July 23rd he was arrested and charged accordingly. He made no further statement.

The Justice—I am going to send the case for trial to the Circuit Court. Have you anything to say?
Accused—I have nothing to say but try my case yourself.

The Justice—What about bail?
Accused—I don't think I'll be able to get bail.

The Superintendent—Owing to his previous history, I would oppose bail.
The Justice—I think I will fix bail all the same.

Accused was then returned for trial, bail being fixed at £25 and two sureties of £12 each.

YOUGHAL COURSING CLUB

At the Annual General meeting of the Youghal Coursing Club, Mr. P. O'Sullivan, president and there was a large attendance of members.

The Secretary reported that he had made application for a date for their next meeting.

The Hon. Treasurer submitted a statement of accounts, which was deemed satisfactory, considering the big expense incurred in running their initial fixture.

The meeting then took up the election of officers for the coming year.

The Chairman stressed the necessity of filling the various positions by men who were prepared to do everything possible, and even to make sacrifices to uphold the good name of the Club had won by the success of their last Coursing meeting. No effort should be spared to go one better at their next meeting.

Mr. T. Kelleher was appointed Chairman and Mr. J. McGrath, Vice-Chairman.

Mr. P. Sullivan was appointed Hon. Secretary in the room of Mr. W. Shanahan, who expressed regret that he was unable to give the time and attention necessary to the position.

A good working committee was then appointed and the meeting closed.

THE HUMAN ELEMENT IN LIVE STOCK FEEDING

The ways of some people are such that they may attract or repel farm animals. The quiet, kindly, sympathetic individual will, as a rule, take care of and feed successfully whatever animals are given to his or her charge. The rough, cranky, ill-tempered or unsympathetic individual, as a rule a poor hand to feed domestic animals. If you listen to a discussion by farmers bearing on farm labour, you will hear these expressions: "That man is poison to horses"; "your animals will always be ailing if you employ him"; or you may hear: "He is a splendid feeder"; "He loves live stock"; "your live stock will improve if you employ him." Why the difference in people employed to feed live stock? Human beings differ in temperament considerably, and we can see just as great a difference in the product of their work or management of live stock. The successful feeder likes the work of feeding, and the association of the animals he feeds.

The feeder deals with a highly organised, sensitive animal system, an animal system that is capable of being influenced by external factors. For instance, noise, rough treatment, cold, exposure to storms, worrying by dogs, and such like, are all known to have an influence on the nerves and digestive systems of domestic animals. Study successful feeders, and note, among other traits they show, indications of being kindly, good-natured and quiet men or boys, capable of bearing good-will towards domestic live stock.

IRISH SPORT

THE START OF THE SHOOTING SEASON

We dealt in our last article with the necessity for seeing that guns were in good order and that cartridges should be obtained in readiness for the opening of the season. These are the two principal items but there are many other important preparations, the neglect of which may spoil your enjoyment of the opening day.

Dogs will require preparation. After lazing about all summer they will not be in fit condition for a hard day's tramping over moor or bog unless they have had a course of preparatory training. Let them be taken out therefore on two or if possible three days a week for a run in open country, starting with an hour and working up if you can to say three hours. Their feeding, too, might undergo a little change with a view to hardening them for the work ahead, less slops and more biscuit or dry bread with a little raw meat should now be the rule. During their walks, too, their obedience can be tested and tuned up.

And now for our personal preparations. Clothes are sometimes important. We personally favour a Khaki colour but it is not easy to get. It would be for the bog rather than the moor. For the latter a heather colour is of course to be preferred though indeed the Khaki will do quite well. The jacket is most important and should fit very loosely. The best are made with what the ladies used to call "gussets" set one behind each shoulder blade. This allows for body swing which is most important. We recently watched a beginner having some practice shots and with his coat buttoned when he swung round the strain on the back of the coat was clearly visible. It actually prevented him swinging as far round as he should have been able to do. Now we don't mean that everyone who intends going out on the 12th should run to his tailor and order a new outfit. If you have an old jacket that fits loosely you are all right. But people who have got to middle age or past it will maybe find themselves "thickening out" and if they try on a coat which fitted them well say five or six years ago—well they may get hoarse at any rate don't wait till the morning of the first shoot to decide what you will wear. Have a try-on a week or so before it and make sure that everything will be comfortable, but especially coat, boots, and cap.

A game bag and a cartridge bag will practically complete your equipment. Personally we don't like either, though handy if much shooting is to be done. We can carry fifty cartridges comfortably enough in our ordinary pockets—a man you know has about fourteen pockets in his clothes and a woman none at all. Then as a substitute for the game bag we favour a game pocket in our jacket. Indeed, in the old days we remember making the very best of a game receptacle in a jiffy by simply making a good slit with a knife down the coat lining. It is wonderful what can be carried that way. In these days of cars we favour the game pocket in the coat—or in both sides if you like,—and this is usually quite sufficient capacity until you return to your car. Your tailor may call this a "brief" pocket or some fancy name, but it is simply a very large pocket made inside your coat, either with a flap to button over, or a strap fastened to the shoulder to keep it from sagging too much when it is full, holding as it does about three ducks or half a dozen grouse or partridges.

Impediments about one's clothes there should be none. The minimum of buttons and buttonholes will do. In our younger days we went out one morning to the bog to look for duck. At one place we expected to flush a bird or two and were not disappointed. A very fine mallard in his full winter uniform sprang up at the ideal distance away. In bringing up the gun one of the hammers got thoroughly well caught in a watch chain (a double Albert we think they call it) which we were wearing at the time. Try as we would we couldn't get the beastly thing disentangled until that mallard was a good hundred yards away, and thus we learned one more lesson. If you go to the seaside you will observe that the fishermen always wear jerseys—no buttons anywhere. They can't afford time to be always disentangling buttons out of their nets and lines. Every man then to his job and let him dress in the most appropriate way for the job.—"GUNMAN" in the "Farmers' Gazette."

Poor feeding by people not having the required love or interest in the work, or the unfortunate condition of animals getting into the hands of men who keep them in the spirit of a necessary evil for imagined profit, is in a large measure, responsible for so much scrub stock through the country. To be a successful feeder, the one must have a love for animals, sufficient strongly developed to make any sacrifices required for their comfort and well-being.—W.D. in "Farmers' Gazette"

G.A.A. NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROGOG."

There is no more maligned personage than the Clerk of the Weather, and that was proved to the hilt last Sunday. In our easy-going fashion, we have blamed him all along for the scantiness of the support given to Gaelic games in West Waterford. We have been only fooling ourselves. The weather can no longer be held responsible and it comes as a bit of a jolt to realise that this handy excuse must now be decently buried. All last Sunday was gloriously fine and it would be difficult to conceive a more beautiful evening for hurling. Yet, the "crowds" at the championship matches in both Lismore and Dungarvan would have looked small at a threshold. And these were Senior Hurling ties too, which should have had strong local appeal—but didn't. Evidently it is the old o' story of "the prophets being little appreciated in their own country." No wonder the fight for Gaelic games is such an uphill one in the Deise. Our hurlers have won the admiration of all Ireland for knocking the gloss off the Limerick hola and yet the only place where their feats fail to arouse practical enthusiasm is—at home. Instead of taking those young heroes to their heart, our local Gaelic public treats them with an indifference which it is difficult to understand. It speaks volumes for the spirit of the players that they do not seem to be discouraged or disheartened by such rank ungrateful apathy in quarters from which support might reasonably be expected. It's an old Gaelic proverb—"Mol an oige agus troidhfidh se." After all, the lads who have brought honour to the Deise are young and very very human and they would certainly feel the better and strive the more if the Gaels who boast of them so loudly would show their appreciation in a more practical form by coming to see them and cheer them in action.

The meeting of Avonmore and Lismore in the latter's home ground was a dull go-as-you-please affair which did little to hold the attention of the couple of dozen perspiring spectators who sprawled along the side-line enjoying the glorious sunshine. Both teams were below strength and the Avonmore selection barely managed to scrape fifteen together. The Cappoquin contingent because of the heat or the distance or for some obscure reason or another, failed to appear. The locals were not unduly pressed to win by 6 goals 6 points to 2 goals 3 points. The group team, thanks mainly to the efforts of Mick Feehey and Joe Pearce in attack and the excellent defence of Higgins, Moloney and the postie Cashman (a last minute selection) led by a goal at half-time.

Immediately on the resumption, Lismore, led by Moore, Fahy, O'Germain and Ormrod, took charge of the game and never loosed their grip. The sorely tried Avonmore defence, in which Allen, Murray, Pearce and McCarthy worked with a will, broke at length under the persistent barrage and Coleman, the Lismore full forward helped his side to a glut of goals which put the issue beyond all doubt. The group team's solitary second half point came from a seventy taken by the Nire youngster, Nick McCarthy who showed promising form throughout.

The minor tussle which followed was a far more exciting bout and the 'fans' got full value for their money in a hectic encounter in which thrill followed thrill to the final whistle. Tallow won a sensational but well-merited victory on the score of 6 goals to 3 goals. St. Carthage's met their masters at every phase of the game and indeed but for the artistry of Healy in goal and the tenacity of Paddy Moore at centre field, both of whom had already figured prominently on the victorious Lismore Senior side, their defeat would have been a crushing one. In speed, striking and combined play, this newly-organised Tallow minor side, gave a masterly display. Their tactics and ball-control were amazingly adept for a juvenile team and, unless their form was a flash in the pan, they have the minor county title at their mercy. Bigger and stronger and sturdier than their opponents, they carried no passengers. In Hickey, Ahearn, O'Keefe, and Paddy McCarthy they have minors far above the ordinary who will, if I mistake not do big things yet on the hurling field. The McGrath and McCarthy clans knit the team together strongly and all-in-all it is the hottest minor bunch which has appeared in West Waterford for years.

No doubt, St. Carthage's were weakened through the absence of some of their highly-fancied players, but then apathy is no excuse for defeat. The team they fielded gave their last ounce but it was not enough. Had they been at full strength, the result, I dare say, would have been the same. The defection of five of their regulars was certainly a handicap which they could ill afford. Nevertheless, the substitutes fought doggedly and though beaten, never ceased to try all they knew. It was only in the last ten minutes that Tallow broke through to net the goals to which their superior play all through so richly entitled them. Moore and McGrath, Fives and the Vaughan brothers bore the brunt of the fray and covered themselves with glory. Up forward young Duggan was like a fox-terrier among Alsatians, and though suffering some real rough handling, slipped through the Tallow backs more than once but got no support. His first goal was a dandy—it won hearty applause as well as the stern attentions of the whole Brideside defence. 'Catchy' Healy exchanged the role of goaler for centre-forward and proved his versatility by netting St. Carthage's second goal. Moore got their third and last from a twenty-one yards free. Tallow hurling is carrying all before it in the West. Their juniors have won through in smashing style knocking over en route such fancied teams as Glenn na b-Uidhre and Ballyduff. Their minors have administered a severe drubbing to St. Carthage's, who were disposed to preen themselves on their invincibility in inter-competition. Their seniors have yet to do their stuff this year. Their successes so far are a triumph for club organisation and playing enthusiasm. In no place in Waterford, and in very few outside it, does hurling find such loyal devotion and such solid unwavering support. Every male, able-bodied or otherwise, between the ages of twelve and forty in Tallow is a hurler. And here is their secret! They are never satisfied that they are good enough. They are teaching the lesson that no matter how expert a hurler, practice will always make him a little better. Their zeal and their thoroughness have placed them far above all their rivals for they have grasped the great principle of being in earnest. If they could communicate some of their earnestness to other Gaelic Clubs in the Decies, what an advance there would be!

At Dungarvan, the local seniors had little difficulty in brushing aside the challenge of the Shandon Rovers group. It was little more than a practice match for Moylan, Barron, Goode and Company, who romped home easy winners by a huge score. The few spectators present early lost interest in the match—all perhaps except the Tallow scouts who were present spotting form and quietly making notes for possible future use in the Senior Hurling Championships.

If there is one thing more than any other which was proved beyond yea or nay last Sunday it is the utter futility of persevering further with those Senior group teams. They command little interest and less enthusiasm from the junior players whom they were intended to serve and no support at all from the public. They have been killed by the apathy of the consistent clubs. In theory, they were an excellent scheme—opening up competition and giving promising juniors the chance of catching the public eye. In practice, they have been a complete failure, a veritable wash-out. They could not live because they lacked the spirit of life. There was nothing to form a link between the players, no team spirit no collective ideal, no bond of loyalty to which to appeal. They were artificial in their make-up, just things of shreds and patches. They have failed in their purpose and few will regret their passing.

Next Sunday will be a quiet day on Deise playing fields. The only game of note is the Hurling Derby in Dungarvan between the local juniors and Cathal Bruah's. Fitzy's team make no secret of their confidence in winning their way to the County final and their performance so far would seem to justify their optimism. Yet, they are faced with opponents who showed rare merit in overthrowing the formidable St. Anne's. Local rivalries should give the encounter plenty of 'needle' and thrill-hunters will probably get all the excitement they want. While expecting a close struggle, I rather fancy the wily Fitz has a card or two up his sleeve; knowing that he can play them with astute judgment, I would venture a small bet on a Cathal Bruha victory.
