Vol. 26. No. 1255 REGISTERED AT THE GENERAL POST OFFICE AS A NEWSPAPER SATURDAY, AUGUST 21, 1937. Price 2d.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman; S. Hayes, J. F. Foley, J. Dahill, J. Mansfield, P. Byrne, J. J. Crofty and P. O'Dwyer.

Paysheet
Paysheets on the general account for 150s. 10d., and on the Harbour account for 12/- were presented and passed.

Resurfacing of Road
Arising out of the minutes, The B.S., stated that he had seen Mr. Bowen in reference to his letter read at the previous meeting re the resurfacing of the roads after the Water and Sewerage contracts. He explained to Mr. Bowen that the contractors were responsible for the re-surfacing, as shown in the specification.

The Council made an order directing the B.S. to give Mr. Bowen a copy of the portion of the specification dealing with this matter.

Painting Work
Arising out of the minutes, Mr. Dahill asked why the order made re giving tradesmen turn about with the work was not being carried out. He was referring to the painters.

The B.S. said Mr. McGrath was the first painter he happened to meet and the job was a small one.

Mr. McCarthy—What was the job?
B.S.—Painting seats, etc., about three days work.

Mr. McCarthy—Three days work is, after all, nothing to grumble about.

Mr. Dahill—If you go back in the paysheets here, you will see how long ago it is since any of the others got a job. All should get their turn, they are all paying rates.

Rate of 18/6.
The Council signed and sealed the rate of 18/6 in the £ for the year April 1st 1937 to 31st March 1938.

The Cunnigar Bridge
Mr. McCarthy said there was one question he would like to raise, it was the question of the Cunnigar Bridge. Now that Dungarvan has a man of their own in the B.S. he felt sure that if Mr. Morrissey took the matter up something would be done.

Chairman—It is certainly a project on which I am very keen, and I see only one difficulty; a big one, the money. This matter was raised by the Council some years ago. At the time the Government asked for schemes that would be a benefit to the country (and set up a Departmental Committee to consider them).

We submitted the Cunnigar Bridge Scheme, but did not hear anything from the committee since. He (Chairman) understood that when the project was first mooted the report of the Engineer on the probable cost was between £11,000 and £12,000. We have in Dungarvan an Industrial Development Association. I know that at one meeting of the Association when this question was raised the Chairman (Rev. Fr. Walsh) and the whole committee were keenly interested.

Mr. Crofty asked if it was intended to again look for the £15,000 from the British Government?

Chairman—No.
Mr. Crofty—That would be useless.

Chairman—The best thing to do would be to take the matter up again with the Development Association. Undoubtedly it would be the making of the town. This Council is too small and too poor to strike a rate for such a purpose. He wondered if they could get a County rate for such a project.

B.S.—The County Council of that time guaranteed £2,000. They should double that now.

The Clerk stated that a number of documents dealing with all the correspondence in connection with the Cunnigar Bridge were given to him for safe keeping. Some time ago Dr. Casey called for them and gave an undertaking that they would all be returned. He (Clerk) did not see them since. He spoke to Dr. Casey about them and the doctor said the papers were in the Department's office.

The Chairman said he would bring the matter up at a Development Association meeting, and also put it before the Department to find out what proposal, if any, they would put to us. He imagined that the Council would be required to put up some thousands of pounds, and at present we could not do that.

Mr. Crofty asked would it be feasible to put such a thing as a lock gate, say at the Railway Bridge so as to hold the water.

The B.S. said it was feasible, but the Railway Company would have something to say to that.

Mr. McCarthy—It would be a lovely place for a Regatta.

Mr. Crofty said that the people are complaining that no visitors are coming here, while Tramore and Youghal are booming.

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE.

Commissioner Moylhan sat in the Secretary's Office, County Home, Dungarvan, on Wednesday last and dealt with matters arising under the Board of Public Assistance.

Resignation
The Secretary reported that since last meeting he had received a sum of £5 anonymously as restitution money. Noted.

Increase of Salary Asked
Mr. M. O'Meara, Assistant Office, Waterford, wrote asking for an increase of salary on his present £2 10s. 0d. per week after 12 years in the Board's employment.

The matter is to be considered at the next meeting.

Financial Statement
The Secretary reported the balance at Bank at end of month was £4,239 7s. 6d.

Mrs. Bridget Murray (Midwife), O'Connell street, Dungarvan, wrote asking the Board to ask the Local Government Department to re-consider her application for an increase from 15/- to 21/- per case, as this is the lowest fee laid down by the I. N. U.

An order was made that in view of the repeated refusals by the Department (if being already turned down twice) no further action be taken.

Rathgormack Dispensary Residence
Dr. C. J. Halpin, wrote complaining of drain in yard being blocked and tap broken, and asking to have a plumber sent out.

The matter was on receipt referred to Mr. Bowen by the Secretary.

Mr. Bowen wrote stating that the matter is being attended to.

Application For Increase
Mr. Kennedy, Compounder Peter St. Dispensary, wrote, at the request of Irish Compounders Union, asking for an increase of salary.

The matter was ordered to be put on the agenda for next meeting.

Kilmeaden Dispensary
Mr. Bowen, Co. Surveyor, wrote stating that the above is an old building but is in danger of collapse, damp in places and of poor construction, it is rented by the Board, and therefore, he presumed the repairs are to be done by the landlord. A better building would be desirable, and if the Board to decide efforts might be made to rent another place for the purpose of a dispensary.

The matter was referred to the medical Officer as to whether alternative accommodation is available.

The matter arose on the report of Dr. McCormack, Local Government Department Medical Inspector.

Approved
A letter from the Department approved of the improvements proposed to be carried out to the Secretary's Office, Co. Home, and stated that the Minister sees no objection thereto.

It was decided to issue advertisements for Contractors.

Stocktaking
Mr. T. D. Smyth, was appointed Stocktaker at the Co. Home and Mr. J. F. O'Donnell, at the Lismore District Hospital.

Appointment of Consulting Engineer
The following applications were received for the position of Consulting Engineer, in connection with Electrical and Mechanical services at Dungarvan, Lismore and Waterford.

Nicholas Mathews, St. Frederick Street, Dublin; F. O'Regan, Bridge street, Callan; L. J. Lawless, Castleward Ave., Rathmines; McAteer and MacEntee, Dawson street, Dublin.

All applications were directed to be forwarded to the Department for their views on the applicants' qualifications.

YOUGHAL NOTES.

Urban Council
The big majority of the U.D.C. members have taken a holiday on Thursday evening—and why should they not take a day off now and again, especially in these holiday times, and considering the large salary they are in receipt of?—the usual weekly meeting fell through for want of a quorum, 6 out of the 21 being required to form it. As has been said before it is simply ridiculous to require a small town like Youghal with something in the neighbourhood of only 5,000 of a population to return 21 members, while other towns in the county and elsewhere with a much larger population have a Council of about half the number. But there you are, and there you'll stay, unless the Council goes through a costly legal circumlocution to alter this undesirable state of affairs. It is another and a very striking instance of the saying that "the law is a ass." However, it must be said to the credit of the present Council that since their election over 3 years ago, the meeting has fallen through for want of a quorum only on a very few occasions, two or three it is said. We are therefore minus our usual column or more of local municipal affairs.

The Courts
There was no sitting of the District Court last week and here again we are deprived of a fruitful source of interesting and sometimes spicy paragraphs. The usual monthly Court at Ardmore was also not held as District Justice Farrell is at present doing duty in the midlands for his colleague, District Justice Troy, who is on vacation. However, as stuff is piling up, owing to the litigious nature of the Irish character, the present absence of news will be made up for in the near future. It is said that 'no news is good news,' but there is an exception to every rule and the Press is the exception in this case.

The Late Mr. P. J. McMahon, P.C.
A prominent figure in the business and public life of Youghal has just passed away in the person of Mr. P. J. McMahon, P.C., better known among his friends and colleagues by the familiar name of "Paddy Mac." For some years past his health has been failing and he died on Monday at the comparatively early age of 57. He and his father before him carried on for many years an extensive grocery and other business in the South Main street. While yet a young man he was elected on the Urban Council and for years he was looked up to by his colleagues as one of the ablest and most efficient members. Often and often he embodied the frequently dull and monotonous proceedings by his keen wit and apt tongue, and he was ever ready to sport words with any one of the remaining twenty in support of the cause he advocated. Even after his retirement from the Council he continued to display a deep interest in everything concerning the welfare of his native place. He was also first to welcome the Free State troops when they landed at the Pier Head from the s.s. Helgo in August 1922. At public festive gatherings he was facile princeps, keeping the whole crowd in roars of laughter by his witty eloquence. He certainly will be missed from the public life of the town. His bereaved widow has the sincere sympathy of the whole community. Go ndeunaidh Dia trocraire air a nam.

Last Sunday
Was another big day at Youghal, in spite of the fact that there was a large exodus to Cork for the great match, to Ardmore for the Regatta, to Inch for the local Hurling Tournament, etc. Excursionists crowded in from all parts, including one from far off. The weather was the forenoon was all that could be desired, even at the seaside, but there were several heavy showers in the afternoon. As usual visitors scattered all over—along the Strand, across the Ferry to Monaree, etc., so that some of them must have been caught by the rain well out of reach of shelter. It is really surprising to find people coming from long distances without the slightest preparation for the very common commodity of our fickle climate—the rain. It is bad enough for oldsters, but it is really painful to see little kiddies decked in summer raiment trudging through the rain.

LISSMORE NOTES

Concert At Youghal
The members of the Mount Mellerau Sacred Heart Band visited St. Raphael's Convent, Youghal on Sunday last and staged a very successful concert before the nuns of the Convent and patients. It provided every enjoyable treat for the community and the large audience present, and the applause after each item demonstrated that they are gifted instrumentalists—with advanced technique.

The Rev. Chaplain and Rev. Mother gave the greatest praise to the Band for their fine display. They were rather surprised with the concert as they had calculated that the limitations which a centre of so small a population was likely to impose on the selection of voices and musicians. They were very pleased to find that such fine musicians existed in Mellerau.

The Rev. President of the Band wish to thank the Rev. Mother and members of the Community for the fine reception they gave the band and the loving kindness they showed throughout the whole day.

Lismore Boy Scouts
After spending a most enjoyable holiday at Dysart, Youghal, the Lismore Boy Scouts returned to Lismore in buoyant spirits and the residents of the town lined the streets to greet their arrival. The troop take this opportunity of thanking

CAPOQUIN NOTES.

Serious Motor Accident
A young man named William Connors, residing at Cluthahina, a couple of miles from Cappoquin, sustained rather serious head injuries while riding a bicycle on Sunday morning which got into collision with a motor car driven by David Rea, Hackey Car owner, Cappoquin.

Back From Holidays
Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., who had been absent for some weeks on his annual holidays, returned to Cappoquin on last Saturday, and all classes of the parishioners in town and country are delighted to see the Rev. gentleman looking such a picture of perfect health after his well-earned respite from his arduous spiritual duties.

A Charming Young Lady Exile
Miss Anna Keniry, daughter of the late Mr. Wm. D. Keniry and Mrs. Keniry, Lismore, is at present home on holidays from the United States, this being her first visit since she went to New York over 8 years ago. This charming and highly-accomplished young lady is niece of Mrs. M. J. Sargent, Cappoquin, and Miss Chris O'Donnell, Lismore, and sister of Miss "Babe" Keniry, do., and is connected with several of the oldest and most respected families in West Waterford. Her hosts of friends in Lismore, Cappoquin and Tallow now bid her a hearty welcome back to her native land, and wish her a very pleasant holiday while amongst them.

Temporary Stationmaster
Mr. J. P. Kelleher, P.C., the esteemed and efficient Stationmaster of Cappoquin is at present away on his annual holidays, the duties of Temporary Stationmaster being meanwhile carried out by Mr. F. X. O'Brien, of the Clerical Relief Staff, Waterford.

A Successful Cappoquin Man
Mr. Thomas Barry, a native of Carrigen, Cappoquin, who has just completed a most enjoyable holiday at home, has proved to be one of the most successful young business men which this district has produced for years.

Having qualified as a high-class Motor Mechanic in Mr. M. J. Sargent's extensive Motor Garage in Cappoquin, Mr. Barry went to London about 10 years ago and quickly obtained remunerative employment in the important Firm of Messrs Rawlings and Co., General Engineers, Cromwell Road, London. Mr. Barry now fills the position of Salesman for Motor Cars, Wireless Sets and all kinds of Electrical fittings, which is a record of progress and success of which any man should be proud.

The Main Drainage Scheme
Great progress is being made with the work in connection with the above Scheme, and the laying of the pipes has been already completed in Mill Street, Mass Lane, Green Street, Castle Street, Twig Lane, etc., and excavations are in progress through Lower Castle Street, and will soon be extended to the Main Street and Barrack street, as far as Shanbally. Practically every available labourer in Cappoquin is now employed on the work.

Mr. B. Cullen, as Foreman, and Mr. O'Carra, as Clerk of Works, are both highly-efficient and experienced officials, and deserve great credit for the satisfactory progress of the work.

In Aid of the Race Fund
See important advt. in another column about the Grand Garden Fete and Fancy Fair to be held in Belleville Park, in aid of the Cappoquin Point-to-Point Race Fund on Sunday, September 5th., and look out for further interesting details in future issues.

EAST CORK JOTTINGS

Harvesting Operations
In many districts in East Cork harvesting operations are now in full swing and the grain crops in general appear to be well up to the standard of former years. Wheat, owing to the wet spring was not very extensively sown, but I have seen some very good fields of it in the Middleton district, as well as around Mogley and Castlemartyr. Barley and oats appear to be good average crops. If the weather be favourable during the next few weeks good progress will be made in the cutting and saving of those cereals. A matter which is of primary importance to the producers who have devoted time and money to their cultivation.

Kilkeagh Sports
Kilkeagh Sports, Draghunt and Tug-o-War, will take place next Sunday, and if the day is fine they should be recorded a good measure of public patronage. Draghunts have become very popular in East Cork where there are many clubs interested in this form of sport. Representatives and nominations of those clubs will be in evidence on Sunday and there should be exciting contests for the premier positions.

Kilkeagh Coursing Club
Many coursing clubs have already held their annual meetings and on taking the necessary steps to put their affairs in order for the coming season. We have heard nothing from Kilkeagh up to the present, and we would respectfully remind them that time is slipping by and that there is much for them to do even before the season opens. They should take special steps this year if possible to safeguard their preserves. Poaching was carried on rather extensively in the district last year, and the preserves suffered in consequence. If this is not checked this season there will be very little Sunday Coursing, which would really be a pity as it is one of the very best forms of winter sport we know of.

Death of Mr. Richard Purcell, B.A.
N.T., Kilkeagh—
The death took place on Monday last in a Cork Nursing Home, of Mr. Richard Purcell, ex-N.T., Kilkeagh. The said event was altogether unexpected for though not of very robust constitution the deceased gentleman appeared to be in normal health, and was enjoying a holiday by the sea in Ballycotton last week. Not feeling quite well he entered a private nursing home in Cork, where he died on Monday morning last.

A native of Mallow, Mr. Purcell had spent the greater part of his life in Kilkeagh, where up to his retirement on pension, he had been the principal male teacher. He was a devout and exemplary Catholic, who not only attended Mass every morning, but spent a considerable portion of each day in prayer before the Blessed Sacrament in the Parish Church. His death has occasioned feelings of sincere sorrow and regret amongst all sections of the community, for he was liked and respected by everybody.

To his bereaved widow, family, relatives and friends we respectfully offer our sympathy in their sad affliction. May he rest in peace.

East Cork Divisional Championship—Cloyne v. Ballymacoda—Objection Upheld
Ballymacoda and Cloyne met a few weeks ago in the Junior Divisional Hurling semi-final of East Cork. After a great game Ballymacoda were declared the winners. An objection was subsequently lodged by Cloyne who alleged that Ballymacoda had played an illegal man. At a meeting of the objections committee in Middleton on Sunday night, the objection was upheld and the match awarded to Cloyne, who now meet Sarsfields in the final.

all those who were so kind in assisting them to make their holiday such a success.

Fair Day
The August Fair held at Lismore on Wednesday last showed a decided slackness in buyers and sellers, possibly due to the inclemency of the weather.

However, some of the transactions made were good. Cattle averaged from £6 to £10. Springing cows £9 0s. to £13; bullocks and heifers (fat) £9 10s. to £12 10s.; bullocks and heifers in forward condition £7 10s. to £11; 3-year-old heifers and over £8 to £10; six-quarter olds £7 to £9 10s.; 15 months old £6 10s. to £8 10s.; yearlings £6 to £9 5s.; weanling calves £5 to £6 6s.; store and fat pigs £3 5s. to £4 5s.; young pigs and slips 2s. to 3s.; white-faced wether lambs 10s. to 15s.; best class breeding ewes white-tailed (dry) 26s. to 35s.; bonhams (under 72 weeks) 17/6 to 20s.

New Post Office
The New Post Office is now nearing completion and business will be carried on there about the end of the month. It is ideally situated in South Mall, Lismore, being a convenient centre for all the residents of the town. The new postmistress is Miss Celia Pender, Ferry street, Lismore, who deserves the warmest congratulations on her appointment.

PORTLAW "PICKINGS"

Our leather factory operatives are enjoying a well-earned holiday this week. All will surely return like giants refreshed to resume work on Monday next.

The darchness of Waterford and her family have been sojourning at Wood Hoe—stragglingly—the Irish seat of her Ladyship's brother-in-law, Lord Hugh Bessborough, who is an active officer of high rank in the British navy.

A street entertainer with a pronounced "Bray" accent and an extensive repertoire, who is wont to "do his stuff" in our mid. occasionally, we notice, always finishes up with "Pennies from Heaven." At this stage (appropriately, don't you think?) he hands round the hat!

In and out of Portlaw and portius many illustrious people have been born in August. To disciples of red nose can compare with Isaac Walton. Whether in the quiet surroundings of the Clodiagh or further afield in the trout streams of the con. tryside we find those who perpetuate his noblest traditions. Uncanonised Isaac Walton is the patron saint of anglers. About scarce another author centre memories of such unmix'd gentleness and peace. To speak of Walton is to fall to praising him. As Charles Lamb says:—

"It might sweeten a man's temper at any time to read the 'Compleat Angler.' He wrote five biographies, but 'The Compleat Angler or the Contemplative Man's Recreation' is Walton's true title to fame. It has an undisputed place among English classics. In the great frost of 1683, which covered the Thames with ice eleven inches thick, split oaks and forest trees, Isaac died in his ninety-first year. He will never be forgotten.

Another August retrospect:—At the hour of eight on the morning of Friday 3rd of August, 1492, Columbus, with his little squadron of three ships, sailed from the port of Palos in Spain with the object of reaching India by a westerly course. The result of this voyage was, as it well known, the discovery of the Continent of America.

We know that summer sports are in full swing and that the grouse season is with us, but it was news to Sportlaw Spark when a cross-Channel merchant a-holiday here whispersed in his ear yesterday: "The stamp season closed down at the end of last week." And thereupon the holiday-maker proceeded to dilate on the season that was over and what it yielded in results. A conservative estimate of the turnover during the period in London alone, he assured Sportlaw Spark, was more than half a million pounds, and this took no account of the sales by private treaty. And Sportlaw Spark learned two other things:—That the collection of an American, disposed of in the Strand auction rooms realised £18,000, and that the world's most expensive stamp still awaits in the vault of a bank a bid above £7,500.

Here's a tip by an astute shop girl (a Kilmessid maid, by the way)—"If you want to know a spurious half-crown put a knife in it." She was at the cash desk of one of the Urban District's busiest grocery stores in the rush hour at the head of yesterday. A half-crown was tendered by a client whose honesty could not and would not be impeached. It looked good and had the genuine ring, but it was b. d. How the girl's suspicions were aroused we cannot say, but when she tested the coin with a penknife she refused to accept it. The owner was obviously flabbergasted, and realised that she must have been the victim of an imposition. We are told that the holiday season is harvest time for the counterfeit worker, and that he has been busy in Banba of late. Were Fiddown's wealthiest resident the proprietor of the shop where the girl attended made the detection referred to he would not hesitate to increase her salary. It is only by such alertness the agile criminal will be combated. Meanwhile if you doubt the authenticity of your half-crown penetrate it with a sharp blade.

Talking about absent-mindedness, a medical man (not good friend "Mac" here, mind; for the medico-in-waiting to His Metallic Majesty the Monarch of Tramore!) explained to us the other day how two actions mixed together often cause a form of mental aberration. The two courses of action follow the same line for a while, then diverge. Some times it is difficult to distinguish between them. It is this that explains the story of the professor who tipped his wife after she had served him with a meal and later in the day kissed the waitress good-bye. It also tells why a great concert-goer applauded a choir in a church and why a flustered clergyman kissed the bridegroom instead of the bride.

Our friend a bit of a psychologist—spoke to me text about people who forget appointments. "Why do we do that?" we asked him. He assured us that the real reason was that we wanted to get out of them. "You may think this nonsense," he said, "but next time you fail to turn up for a date let your mind range back over your dealings with the person, and quite likely you'll find there really was some reason why you don't turn up." Seems to us there's something in that.

To a respected Curraghmore reader of the "Observer" came a message this morning all the way from Belgrade, stating that at a gipsy wedding near Varazdin last week one ox, two calves, four pigs, twelve sucking pigs, thirty fowls, and fifty chickens were consumed by the three hundred wedding guests, all of whom were gipsies. The bride, Ivanka Koman, is 14 years old, and the bride-

WHEAT CROPS

The judging in the Wheat Competition promoted by Imperial Chemical Industries Ltd., for the best field of wheat of not less than 2 acres in the Counties of Cork or Waterford has now been completed and the following report has been received from the judges, Mr. J. O'Connell, B.Sc., A.R.C.S.I., Killarney, Co. Kerry:—

"I beg to state that I have completed the work of judging under your scheme of prizes for the growing of wheat in the Counties of Cork and Waterford, and I have pleasure in submitting the awards with a short general report.

The number of entries was twenty-nine. Of these twenty were in Cork and nine in Waterford. In one case, owing to insufficient address, it was not possible to locate the noiding.

The varieties entered in the Competition were:—

Queen Wilhelmina—22; Square Head Marquis—4; Wilton III—1; Red Marvel—1; April Red—1.

Queen Wilhelmina appears to be the popular and most suitable variety in the districts visited, but little fault could be found with the other varieties in the Competition.

The crops entered were grown in almost all places in the county—after hay and grass, roots (principally Beet), and in some cases after Lea Wheat or Oats.

Generally the crops were of a high standard, and, considering the unfavourable weather and soil conditions during the Winter and Spring, might be classed as very good indeed. In this connection it is worthy of note that some of the crops in Lea were outstanding, while the crops after Lea Wheat or Oats were also good. Some very good crops were also to be found in what might be considered the poorer districts where the growing of wheat might not be considered an economical proposition. In this connection it may be mentioned that with suitable dressings of artificial manures it is possible to get a satisfactory crop of wheat in almost all soils.

The crops generally were clean, and as a rule almost entirely free from weeds of an injurious nature. They were almost entirely free from disease, and in this connection it is worthy of note that in practically all cases the seed was dressed with one of the recognised powder dressings, principally Agrosan G.

In practically all cases the crops stood well and there was little or no damage from lodging.

The following scale of marks was adopted:—

(1) General appearance of crop—50.

(2) Trueness to type—25.

(3) Freedom from weeds—10.

(4) Freedom from disease—15. Total 100.

Prize-winners with the total marks awarded are as follows:—

1st, Michael Walsh, Rathpeacon, Co. Cork—95.

2nd, Timothy Sheehy, Lackenduff, Clonsilla, Co. Cork—93.

3rd, J. J. Drohan, Scrahan, Kilmacomas, Co. Waterford—92.

4th, Stephen Dunne, Downing, Kilmacomas, Co. Cork—91.

I wish to return my best thanks to your Representative, Mr. O'Reilly, for the willing assistance he gave in every way, which made the work of judging from my point of view both a pleasure and a profit.

AGRICULTURAL CONDITIONS

1st AUGUST 1937.

Weather conditions were fair during the first week of July; but unsettled for the two subsequent weeks, with temperatures rather below normal, and rain at such short intervals as to render the sowing of hay tedious and difficult. The last week ushered in a fine warm spell, which afforded welcome relief to hay makers. The month otherwise was favourable to the growth of tillage crops and pasture, and incidentally to the development of weeds, so that farmers were frequently occupied in keeping them under control. Thinning of the beet, mangel and turnip crops, the continued sowing of potatoes, the storing of early sowed hay, the cutting and carting of turf and some pulling of flax comprised the main work on the land; while attention to sheep dipping and warble fly control accounted for a spare time in a busy month.

Pasture and Live Stock.—The interim aims of July benefited by the growth of grass, but the lack of sunshine was frequently evident in the quality of the herbage. Pastures however, improved generally in the warm days at the end of the month when they carried a good covering of sound feeding.

Live Stock.—The number of pigs marketed in July was on the same level as in the previous month. A steady demand for the available supplies was experienced. The average prices realised for pigs suitable for the bacon curing industry at the four principal South-East marketing centres ranged from 68s. to 73s. 6d. per cwt. dead weight, or approximately from 51s. to 55s. on the live weight basis. The supply of bonhams was equal to requirements at figures usually ranging from 2s. to 3s. each according to age, quality and district. Few changes were reported in the numbers of breeding stocks.

Horses.—Business in the horse trade continued brisk for all classes, particularly for troopers and farm workers while excellent prices were obtained for horses suitable for city and lorry work. Young animals also returned satisfactorily.

Un to £40 and £45 was readily offered for the best class horses for farm work, and untrained animals of this type made £20 to £30. Draught horses for lorry work realised £45 and up to £55. Troopers sold at £25 to £40, and up to £60 was paid. Values of made hunters usually ranged from £80 to £100, although figures up to £400 were realised.

Milk.—While yields were maintained in a number of districts, supplies to creameries generally were not up to the June level, and were also below average for the corresponding period of 1936. The reduction was attributed to weather conditions and to a less extent to the increased quantities diverted to the feeding of calves which now bear an enhanced value. Milk delivered to creameries during the month of June realised 4.47d. per gallon, with separated milk returned to producers. Milk collected in the counties adjacent to Dublin for retail sale in the City returned 8 1/2d. per gallon to the producers.

Statistics.—A provisional estimate of the number of pigs in the Saorstat on the 1st June this year is 84,499 sows, and 851,547 other pigs, thus showing a decline of nearly 10,000 sows and 50,000 other pigs from the corresponding period last year. In Northern Ireland the pig population has increased the total on the 1st June being 569,475 as compared with 521,654 at the corresponding period last year.

Soviet Harvest

According to the official figures, by July 20 an area of 48,672,500 square grain crops had been harvested throughout the USSR. This represents 22 per cent. of plans. Reports indicate an abundant harvest in all parts of the country.

steady demand was experienced, and prices for all classes of good quality and condition showed no more than a seasonal reduction on the previous month. The younger stock continued to sell freely, and dropped calves met ready sale. For the older stores and backward animals values, however, were unstable, and prices generally fell easier.

Springers and milch cows were in steady request, and values showed no depreciation.

The following quotations may be regarded as representing the average range of prices realised at provincial fairs during the month for the various kinds of stock mentioned:—

Calves under one month, from £1 18s. to £4. Calves 1 to 6 months £3 to £5 5s. First class stores 9 to 12 months £5 10s. to £8 10s. First class stores 12 to 15 months, £6 10s. to £9 10s. First Class Stores 15 months to 2 years £7 10s. to £10 10s. First Class Stores 2 to 3 years £9 10s. to £14 10s. First Class Stores 3 years and over, £12 to £15 10s. First Class Fat Bullocks and Heifers, £12 10s. to £19 10s. Best Fat Cows and Bulls, £8 to £12. Choice Springing Cows and Heifers £13 to £17. Choice Down-calving Cows, £11 to £17.

Sheep.—Flocks remained in good health and the condition of most classes was satisfactory. Demand continued active though values were occasionally lower. Prices ranged up to 65s. for lambs and up to 40s. each for fawns.

The price of washed wool was fairly regular at 3d. per lb. Up to 1s. 5d. was paid for wool from Down crosses, while Galway wool returned up to 1s. 4d. per lb. Mountain wool made around 11d. per lb. The unwashed classes usually sold at 1d. to 2d. per lb. less.

The number of pigs marketed in July was on the same level as in the previous month. A steady demand for the available supplies was experienced. The average prices realised for pigs suitable for the bacon curing industry at the four principal South-East marketing centres ranged from 68s. to 73s. 6d. per cwt. dead weight, or approximately from 51s. to 55s. on the live weight basis. ### Death of Mrs. Fitzgerald, Shanbally, Kilrossanty

The death of Mrs. Bridget Fitzgerald, Shanbally, which occurred at her residence in the early hours of Sunday morning after a protracted illness has removed one of the best-known and most respected residents in the Kilrossanty district, and to add more to the grief-stricken family she only survived 6 weeks after the death of her husband, the late Mr. Patrick Fitzgerald, Shanbally.

Deceased had attained a fine age, and throughout her long life had always been remarkable for her generosity and gentleness of all who knew her. The late Mrs. Fitzgerald was a lady of affable temperament and disposition, whose chief aim in life was to bring joy to the hearts of all whom she came in contact with and to make smooth the paths of those to whom the good things of the world were denied. She was ever doing good, and no wayfarer in his peregrinations ever forgot to pay a visit as he passed the way knowing that he would find the open door, the hearty meal and comfortable bed waiting for him.

She was sprung from a most respected and highly-esteemed family, many of whom have taken prominent positions in the public life of the country. She was sister of the Very Rev. J. Walsh, P.P., Portlaw and Aunt of Rev. J. Walsh, C.C., Ballyduff Upper.

The late Mrs. Fitzgerald possessed rare traits of character, which were only known by those with whom she directly came in contact with, and was ever on the alert to relieve a case of hardship in her district. A clear proof of this unmeasurable kindness was displayed by the large number of neighbours who continually watched her every night for the past month during the latter stages of her illness. Now that she is gone to her eternal reward, she has the prayers of the multitude for her happy repose and we know that she will reap the reward of a good life spent on this earth. A true and fervent Catholic with a perfect realisation of Christian charity and ideals, she was attended in her illness by Very Rev. J. Crotty, P.P., and fortified by the rites of Holy Church, her death was calm and peaceful and a fitting end to a life well spent in doing good for all.—R.I.P.

On Monday evening the remains were removed from her residence in Shanbally to the Parish Church, Kilrossanty, and were accompanied by a huge cortege representative of all classes in a wide area in town and country.

At the Church the remains were received by Rev. J. Walsh C.C., Ballyduff Upper who recited the last prayers.

On Tuesday morning Office and High Mass was celebrated in Kilrossanty Church.

Very Rev. Canon Wm. O'Connell, P.P., Dunmore (cousin), presided. The celebrant being Rev. James Walsh, C.C., Ballyduff (nephew); deacon, Rev. J. O'Donnell, C.C. Carrickbeg, (cousin); sub-deacon, Rev. J. Draper, Dungarvan.

In the choir were—Very Rev. James Walsh, P.P., Portlaw, (brother); Very Rev. John Crotty, Kilrossanty; Very Rev. John Gleeson, P.P., Aghlish; Very Rev. James Nugent, P.P., Clonea; Very Rev. William Kehoe, P.P., Tallow; Rev. M. Farrell, C.C., Stradbally; Rev. M. Power, C.C., Portlaw; Rev. L. Vereker, C.C., Portlaw; Rev. J. J. Kiely, St. John's College, Rev. J. Lynch, C.C., Ballybricken; Rev. J. Dower, Chaplain Little Sisters of Poor; Rev. J. Hally, C.C. Kilmacthomas (cousin); Rev. J. Hartly, C.C. Grangequerry (cousin); Rev. H. O'Brien, C.C., Clonea; Rev. D. O'Byrne, Chaplain Carrigra; Rev. M. Power, C.C. Abbeystead.

The chief mourners were—Thomas, William and James (sons); Marcella (daughter); Mrs. Power, Graiguevush, (sister); Very Rev. James Walsh, P.P., Portlaw, and John Walsh, Comeragh, (brothers).

DEATH OF MR. JAMES GREENE, CAPPOQUIN

Very deep and widespread regret has been caused in Cappoquin by the death of Mr. James Greene, one of its most popular and respected inhabitants, which occurred on last Friday evening, fully fortified by the rites of the Catholic Church by the Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., who had been most unflinching in his spiritual attention towards him during the latter stages of his illness.

The late Mr. Greene had filled the responsible position of Signalman at the G.S. Railway Station at Cappoquin for over 40 years, and was a most efficient and attentive official in every respect, while his civility and courtesy towards all passengers either arriving at or departing from Cappoquin by train marked him as one of the finest and most popular officials in the local Railway service.

Outside his official duties, he was a grand type of Irishman, bright and intelligent on every respect, and a splendid social character, which made him a warm favourite with all classes of the townspeople and the general public. A staunch Catholic, he was a kind and devoted husband and father, and has now left behind him a most respected widow and family of sons and daughters for whom the greatest sympathy is felt in their sad bereavement.

About 3 years ago he retired from the Railway Service on superannuation, since when he had lived a quiet life at home, enjoying to the full his well-earned rest from his responsible duties for over 40 years.

His health, however, broke down about three weeks ago, and soon his illness became more serious, and despite the best of medical attention, and the kind and careful nursing of his loving wife and children the end came calmly and peacefully on Friday evening to the great grief of his devoted family and a wide circle of sincere friends in the town and all the surrounding districts.

On Saturday evening the remains were removed from his late residence in Castle Street to St. Mary's Catholic Church, and after Requiem Mass for the repose of his soul on Sunday morning the funeral took place at 2 o'clock to the family burial place in Afane Cemetery when the cortege proved to be of a large and most representative character which was but a fitting mark of respect to the memory of a gentleman who was so highly esteemed by all classes.

The Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin, headed the funeral procession, and read the last prayers at the graveside.

The chief mourners included—Mrs. B. Greene, (widow); the Misses Nina Mary, Maggie, "Bridie" and Kitty Greene (daughters); Wm. and John Greene (sons); Mrs. Arrigan, Cappoquin, Miss Nora Arrigan, do.; Thomas and Patrick Arrigan, do. (cousins); while the Railway Employees from Dungarvan, Lismore, Cappagh and Cappoquin were represented by special contingents at the funeral.

Several beautiful wreaths, and also Mass Cards, were laid on the grave from the following:—"From the G.S. Railway Staff at Cappoquin Station, with very deepest sympathy"; "With sincere sympathy, from James Rea and family, Cappoquin"; "From M. Nugent, Postmistress, Cappoquin"; "From Miss Bridie O'Donnell, Mellary"; "The O'Keefe Family, Barrock Street" etc.—R.I.P.

The funeral arrangements were most satisfactorily carried out by Mr. M. Mason, Undertaker, Cappoquin.

Farmers to be affected by Steel Famine.

Iron for the Farm going into Guns.

Today, steel is harder to get than gold. Steel firms are unable to fill orders placed last December. The production of some is booked ahead for five years. Some firms are actually paying to be released from contracts that they snapped up a year ago, because of this year's immensely larger and more profitable armament contracts. The farmer is going to be affected seriously by the shortage of steel. Production of farming implements has dropped. There is a definite shortage of these implements on the way. Prices will soar. The farmer will soon be faced with paying 1917 prices for his implements and receiving only 1937 prices for his crops. These are hard facts that you can check in the financial pages of your newspaper. Straight from the shoulder talk to the farmer from Harpur Bros. Harpur's say buy now to the farmer or pay more in the near future. Harpur's have only twelve binders left to be sold at old prices. The stock of sections, connecting rods, fingers, knife eyes and so on, absolutely complete at the moment, will be replaced as they are bought by farmers by accessories at higher prices. No sensible farmer can put off his iron purchases. Come in to Harpur's without delay.

In Binder Twine also we can offer a real bargain. We are selling a special lot at the moment at an exceptionally low price.

Enjoyable Day—

A large crowd witnessed the matches played at the Millfield on Sunday. The hurling match between the local team and a South Tipperary selection was won by the former, who had an advantage in having the services of J. Halpin, an inter-county player. Ardinnan were deserving winners of the football match against the local football team.

The dance held in the hall under the auspices of the Social Club, provided a grand finale to a perfect day. It was well patronised and thoroughly enjoyed by all.

Cycling Accident—

On Monday evening between 8 and 9 o'clock p.m. a young lady, Miss Mary Anne Crotty, Castlereagh, met with a rather nasty accident. Miss Crotty was cycling down the hill at the Clonmel side of the Halfway going in the Dungarvan direction, when her coat, which was tied on the handlebars became loose and got entangled in the front wheel, causing her to be thrown violently on to the road which is freshly tarred at this point. She received a number of nasty cuts and a severe shaking. Mrs. Power, Halfway House, had her conveyed inside and ordered first aid. Dr. Mullaney, accompanied by Miss Dalton, Killooney, who is an experienced nurse arrived promptly and attended to her injuries. Miss Crotty is progressing favourably.

Grouse Shooting—

Messrs. J. and T. Halpin (sons of Mr. T. Halpin, Technical Instructor, Clogheen) and a visitor, Mr. Eamonn Lynch, attached to the Department of Posts and Telegraphs, shot 6 brace of grouse on the opening day of the season in a short time, which is a record in this shooting area. The Halpin brothers, who are also expert anglers have got some great catches on the rivers Nire and Suir, this season.

Sale of Timber—

Mr. Dalton, Timber Merchant, Carrick-on-Suir, has purchased a large quantity of timber on Lord Ashton's estate, at Ballybrien. A number of local men, are employed at cutting it and a G.S.R. lorry conveys it to Dungarvan Quay for exportation.

Postponed—

The raffle to be held on last Sunday had to be postponed owing to the number of unreturned blocks. Sellers of tickets are requested to forward same as soon as possible to the Secretary—Mr. P. Melody.

LIME IMPROVES DRAINAGE

IN HEAVY SOILS

EXPERIMENTS IN SCOTLAND

Effect of Lime on the Permeability of the Soil—Lime improves the physical condition of certain soils. A heavy soil is not easily penetrated by water because of the sticky nature of the clay. If this stickiness could be lessened, there would be less danger of waterlogging, and the soil would be easier to work. The undesirable character of heavy soils is due to the clay being present in the form of small individual particles. The application of lime causes these small particles to form aggregates or crumbs, and this results in a more open soil.

To get an idea of the improvement in drainage due to liming, Dr. L. A. Whelan, of the Macaulay Institute of Soil Research, describes in the current issue of the Scottish Journal of Agriculture how samples of soil to a depth of 9 inches were taken from limed and unlimed plots. Stones were removed from the samples and the soils were gently packed into narrow glass lamp chimneys, fitted at the base with a gauze and a circle of blotting paper. The same depth of soil was used in each experiment. The soils were thoroughly moistened, a given volume of water was added to each and the time noted for the complete drainage of the added water. The figures below refer to the number of minutes taken for a given volume of water to drain through a given depth of wet soil.

Unlimed 1 ton per acre 2 tons per acre

Minutes Minutes Minutes

Soil A. ... 60 50 37

Soil B. ... 70 60 45

These results were obtained 12 months after liming. At the end of three years further samples were taken and the experiment repeated. The limed soils again showed better drainage than the unlimed.

Owing to the very artificial nature of the test, which was due chiefly to the difficulty of getting the different samples of soil to settle in the cylinders to a comparable extent, no great significance should be attached to the actual figures. These do show, however, that liming improves drainage in a heavy soil, that the extent of the improvement increases with the amount of lime, and that the effect persists for a number of years.

In order to find whether liming had any influence on the drainage of soil in its natural state, use was made by Dr. Whelan of a metal cylinder 3 inches in diameter and 8 inches long. This was driven into the soil to a depth of 4 inches. Water was poured into the cylinder and allowed to drain away. More water was then added to a level 1 inch above the soil surface and the time noted for the drainage of this second addition of water. Some difficulty was encountered owing to stones forming drainage channels between the soil and the cylinder. The test was carried out a number of times on unlimed and heavily limed plots and the following drainage times were obtained—

Minutes Minutes Minutes Minutes

Unlimed 65 127 48 37

Limed 32 214 26 24

The figures point fairly conclusively to improved drainage in the top few inches of soil resulting from the application of lime.

The improved soil conditions following on liming will result in benefit to crops over a number of years. It is well known, for instance, that on a limed pasture, where the soil conditions are suitable for useful grasses, bent does not have the same opportunity to take hold as on pasture where lime is needed. Although the rate of uptake of the lime may vary, some improvements in the crop may be noticed even in the first year. Thus in a locality where turnips were grown after liming, the lime resulted in a greater growth of tops and a deeper green colour; the effect of the two-ton application was greater than that of the one-ton. The yield of roots from the unlimed areas was 485 cwt. per acre and from the heavily limed areas 496 cwt., an increase due to gain of 31 cwt. per acre.

Lime is a necessary plant food and as such plays a definite part in the life of the plant. In addition to neutralising harmful soil acids and to improving drainage, effects which are specifically referred to above, lime has several other uses as a soil improver. Its application to a sour or acid soil is usually accompanied by marked improvements both in the growth and in the feeding value of the crop.

Lime plays a very important part in breaking down organic material in the soil into useful plant food, and it helps the plants to make full use of added manures. Where acid fertilisers such as sulphate of ammonia, which uses up the lime in the soil, are being used regularly the need for regular dressings is, of course, of particular importance. The value of lime in counteracting finger-and-toe disease in turnips and related crops is also well known.

GARDA DIVISIONAL SPORTS—The cream of Ireland's Athletic talent will be in competition at the Annual Garda Divisional Sports to be held at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on Sunday week, August 29th. Already there is a huge entry, and the competition in each event promises to be the keenest ever witnessed. The Garda (Depot) Band (40 members) under the conductorship of Superintendent D. J. Delaney, A.R.C.M., has been secured and will render an excellent programme of music. All arrangements are in the hands of Sergt. P. Russell, Dungarvan and Garda P. Collopy, Waterford (joint Hon. Secretaries) assisted by an energetic committee, and with two such capable and painstaking Hon. Secretaries, the success of the fixture is already assured.

SEWERAGE SCHEME—The contractors for the above—Messrs McCaffrey and O'Carroll, Limerick, began the preliminary work on the scheme during the week. The Water Improvement Scheme (Mr. Fitzpatrick, Cork, contractor) is proceeding apace. Excavations for the necessary storage tanks at Glendine are under way. It is anticipated that both schemes when in full swing will absorb most of the unemployed in the Urban Area.

NATIONAL HEALTH INSURANCE—Members of the above Society in the Dungarvan and Ringville districts are requested to note that cards for the January-June 1937 period are now overdue. Cards outstanding should be delivered at once to T. A. Kyne, Local Agent, King street, Abbeyside, Dungarvan.

There will be a series of eight Ceilidhe from 10 p.m. to 12 o'clock on week days and from 10 p.m. to 2 a.m. on Sundays. The evening programme for the week is a varied one, and the discussions are bound to be most interesting. Rev. A. M. Crofts, O.P., S.T.L., Waterford, will speak on Sunday evening, and the address will be broadcast.

GOLF NEWS—The Silver Medal for the best nett score in the qualifying round for the Clonca Cup which was played on Thursday 12th was won by Mr. S. McDonnell, National Bank, with a score of 60 playing on a 24 handicap. The course record of 36 held by J. Lynch, since 1934 was equalled by Mr. M. J. McAdoo, and a new record was made by both Mr. M. J. Egan and M. J. Moloney, National Bank, who went round in 35.

DUNGARVAN RAILWAY STATION—The work of installing Electric light at the Dungarvan Railway Station, is now nearing completion and supplies a long-felt-want. The antiquated oil lamps formerly in use, on the long stretch from the town to the station were of little use in lighting up the roadway for pedestrians, while in the station the lighting system on the platforms was anything but satisfactory. Now all this is to be changed and the Company's Electricians are busy installing Electric Light Lamps in the station proper, as well as on the approaches thereto. This neat and trimly-kept station, with a mass of choice flowers planted in and around its platforms, is a credit to Mr. Hartnett our efficient Station-master and his courteous staff, and now when this elaborate net work of 100-watt lamps with their beautiful shades is installed it will be a pleasure to those in Munster.

REMOVED INQUEST—The adjourned inquest into the circumstances of the death of Edmond Morrissey, Burgery, Dungarvan, who died on April 13th last, as a result of injuries received on the Causeway, Abbeyside, on Sunday morning February 28th., was resumed at the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Tuesday last. A verdict in accordance with the Medical evidence: "That the deceased died of Pneumonia due to the injuries received as a result of an accident," was returned.

LEAMYBRIEN CONCERT—Leading artists from Dungarvan, Waterford, Kilmacthomas and Cappoquin, will augment the local Troupe at the spacious Leamybrien Hall on tomorrow (Sunday) night, in aid of the Parish debt. A feast of music, song and dancing is in store for all patrons of a very deserving cause.

LATE MR. JAMES BARRON—The death which took place, at his residence, Dromore, Aghish, of Mr. James Barron, at an advanced age removed one of the oldest inhabitants of that district. Father Brendan (McGrath) O'Ciisy, Mount Mellery, which took place at the Bon Secour Home, Cork, on Tuesday morning, has caused sorrow throughout the whole country. ### MID-DEISE MEMS.

The dance held in the commodious and comfortable Pike Hall on Sunday night last will live in the memories of local lovers of the "light fantastic" art as being one of THE nights of the holiday-making season in the fair and fertile Deise country. Close on two-hundred couples neatly tripped out in the programme of Irish dances on the glass-smooth floor to the beautiful music provided by the now popularly established Villiersstown Cellidhe Band. One had only to look at the happy faces in the brilliantly lighted hall to judge the success of the eclat function. Yes, from the point of view of all round enjoyment and general efficiency in management it was certainly unsurpassable. The musicians gave unsparringly of their very best from commencement to close (The entire company dispersed for their respective residences at 3 o'clock, a.m.). A richly-merited word of praise is due to the estimable local ladies who had charge of the catering department—in faultless fashion they furnished full and plenty of delicious refreshments for all, thereby adding appreciably to the pleasantness of the night. The genial and energetic members of the committee responsible for the sparkling "social" are to be cordially congratulated on the wonderfully generous measure of support they received from the youth and beauty of the Barones—

Who right well like
The good old Pike
For its freedom from dull care,
And who, we ken,
Will heed again,
Next call to the Dance Hall there!

The brace of Gaelic matches which had been fixed for Kill Sportsfield on Sunday last were unavoidably postponed.

Rev. P. O'Farrell, C.C., Stradbally, was celebrant of the Anniversary High Mass offered up in St. Anne's Church, Ballynaneen, on Friday morning of last week for the happy repose of the soul of the late Very Rev. John Foley, P.P., Kilmachomas, and was assisted by nine other priests. The attendance of relatives and friends of the deceased Pastor included his brother, Mr. Jeremiah Foley, Ballynaneen, Kilmachomas.

The deepest and most heartfelt sympathy will be extended to the family of the late Mrs. Bridget Fitzgerald, of Stradbally, in their sad bereavement, which is made all the more melancholy by reason of the fact that she only survived her lamented husband by some six or seven weeks. Of a charming and charitable disposition, the late Mrs. Fitzgerald was a woman who had won many friends from every walk of life, and by her demise the people of her district have lost an amiable and sincere friend. The Light of Heaven to her soul.

Our notably progressive and practical neighbour, Mr. John Drohan, of Scrahan, has the honour of being the first farmer of these parts to carry out the cutting of oats this year. Mr. Drohan had his crop stacked last week-end.

A comedian will have his joke, even when it's against himself. Groucho Marx says audiences laugh quicker today than they used to. The reason, he avers, is that they've heard the jokes so many times they know now when to laugh.

According to our special scout in Kentucky, a coloured couple sent out the following invitation to their friends and acquaintances:—"You are invited to the wedding of Mr. _____ and Miss _____ at the house of the bride's mother. All who cannot come may send."

An important alternative, surely.

Two Mooncoin men, both somewhat "lit," were in the train last Sunday evening returning from the All-Ireland Semi-Final Football trays at Cork. The train was slow, painfully slow, and stopped at every station on the way. They groused and groused and groused. Then said one: "Man, but if I was only down beyond Darrow tunnel instead of here, I could soap my socks and slide home quicker than this train!"

Despite a drenching downpour and a sodden sward, doughty Garda Ned Tobin just missed establishing a new record for the 56 lbs. over the bar at Tramore Athletic Club Sports meeting on Sunday last. Eight competitors turned out for the 100 yards (open). In an exciting finish, P. Byrne (Dublin), breasted the tape before P. P. Butler (Tramore). Ten competed in the one mile cycle (open). A great race was won by P. Flanagan (Tramore A.C.), with M. Lyons (Dublin) a close second. T. Hackett (Coolcross) won the 880 yards (open) event. T. Carberry (Dungarvan) and R. Lamb (Tramore) tied for second prize. Eight competed. The pole vault (open) was won by C. O'Connor (Dungarvan). C. Harding (Clonmel) was 2nd. W. J. Phelan (Shamrock) and J. Murphy (Tramore) finished first and second, respectively, in the 220 yards (open). One mile (open)—1. P. Hackett (Coolcross); 2. J. Dower (Shamrock); 3. D. Drohan (Carrick-on-Suir).

The first race on the Tramore card on Monday was won by Spartan Lad, the property of Mr. "Joe" Walsh, Hotel, Kilmachomas. Most local punters were "on" the animal, which was returned at the nice price of 7 to 2 against. Congratulations to Mr. Walsh on his "score". More than a dozen County Council workmen are at present employed at Ballynabanogue North, where a steam-driven stone-breaking machine is being operated by them, under the supervision of energetic and efficient ganger Richard Caslin, senior, Ballynabanogue. We understand that a bad stretch of the Ballynabanogue-Seafield Cross road is to be resurfaced, steamrolled and tar-sprayed in due course.

There are cranks who do not hesitate to disparage the barber for his loquacity, but a Delhi judge held in the Supreme Court over which he presides, that it is part of a tonsorial artist's profession to tell stories. Most of us who enjoy a brief respite from office cares before the mirror of a favourite hairdresser will endorse this judicial pronouncement. If there is a good story going the knight of the razor can be depended upon to let his clients know of it. He is also a judge of "form" whilst history credits him with knowing more than most people. When Pharaoh hanged his chief baker he let his chief barber go free. "Only the Almighty," says the Eastern proverb, "can make the corn grow, but only Selim the barber can tell you how it is done."

ADVICE FROM WELL-KNOWN BUSINESS MEN

"Cheap goods are always the dearest in the end," has always been the motto of Harpur Bros., Waterford. "We believe in giving value for money because we are very largely dependent upon what people say about our goods to increase our business, and people must appreciate our 'square deal' methods because our hardware and seed business has grown to be one of the largest in the South of Ireland. We buy a sound article that will give good service, sell it to the public at a reasonable legitimate profit, and everybody is satisfied."

BALLYDUFF NOTES

Rev. Thomas Condon (7th P.P., 1912-1916)—
On the death of Fr. Moran in July 1912 the Rev. Thomas Condon, for some years a very zealous Curate in Kilmachomas, was appointed Parish Priest of Ballyduff. He was a native of Newcastle-Four-Mile-Water Parish and was a strong advocate of the Temperance Movement then so necessary in the country. He was mainly responsible for the Temperance Hall in Kilmachomas, and is still fondly remembered there by the older generation. Although his health was greatly impaired by asthma during his Pastorship here, which lasted only four years, he was a priest of kindly zeal and activity. He secured a site plot for a new school at Toor, and had the Parochial House renovated and much improved at a cost of £100. He died soon after the appointment of the late Most Rev. Dr. Hackett as Bishop of Waterford in 1916, and his body was interred in the Church cemetery.

Rev. Maurice Foley (8th P.P., 1916-1918)—
Rev. Maurice Foley succeeded Fr. Condon in May 1916. He was a native of Fews Parish and had been here previously as Curate for some years. He was an earnest advocate of the Irish language from the beginning of the revival in 1884, but his health prevented any active work in our Parish. He died rather suddenly just as he was completing two years as P.P. of Ballyduff and was interred beside three of his immediate predecessors in our cemetery.

Rev. Patrick F. Fitzgerald (9th P.P., 1918-1924)—
There was an interregnum of over six months between the death of Fr. Foley and the appointment of Fr. Fitzgerald as Parish Priest. During this time the Parish work was capably administered by the Curate, Rev. John McCarthy, now P.P. of Ardinnan, who did excellent work during his six and a half years in Ballyduff, where he is still very kindly remembered.

Fr. Fitzgerald was appointed P.P. in November 1918. He was born in Carrick-on-Suir Parish, and had previously been Administrator St. John's, Waterford for nearly 18 years. During his Pastorship he donated the beautiful side altar of the Sacred Heart, and secured also the erection of the marble side altar to Our Lady in the Church. This was the gift of Mr. Thomas Stafford of Ballynaneen, and both altars were a great addition to the Sacred Edifice.

The New Cemetery—
An effort was made during Fr. Fitzgerald's time to secure a new cemetery for the Parish. Although much voluntary labour and money was expended on the plot it proved a failure. It was consecrated by the late Bishop Hackett, but no interment has taken place there for years past. The County Council has now a project on hands to secure an addition to the old cemetery at Mocollop from the owners of the Drew Estate, but the surrounding land is either a rock, or a quagmire in winter weather. Fr. Fitzgerald was transferred after five years in Ballyduff to the Pastorship of Clogheen where he died in 1932.

LAOIGHIS V. KERRY

Last Sunday's Game

Two keen followers of the game of Billiards had been watching an exhibition of the game by the world's champion, Walter Lindrum, when one whispered to the other "what game are they playing, Jack?" "Billiard, my boy, Billiard," replied Jack. "And what game do we play at the Club?" was Jim's comment. Well, we were treated to an exhibition of Gaelic Football by Laoighis and Kerry on Sunday last which, like our friends Jack and Jim, prompted many of us to remark "So this is Gaelic Football!"

Honest to goodness football that tested the mettle of every man; dribbling that put Soccer fans rubbing their eyes; tackling that watered the teeth of Rugbyites; and that dare-devil dash and spring for the leather in mid-air—a feature peculiar to the native game—that thrilled the heart of the Gaelic enthusiast. Add to this that never say die spirit of the rival teams, measuring their skill in a determined but friendly rivalry, and there we had Gaelic Football at its best. Give me the man who can play Gaelic as served up to us on Sunday last and there, I say, are the ingredients of our Danno Mahons, Steve Casese or Ned Tobins. Aye, there is the football code that applies the acid test to all that is noble and manly in our race.

Sunny brought back memories! Old Erin's Hopes and Shandon Rovers rubbed shoulders on the side line. In their milder moments they exchanged reminiscences, or in the heat of the fray they showed an exuberance of spirits in a glorious shower of top-coats and felt hats on the heads of their more dignified neighbours. Thinking of bygone days is it any wonder that in the joy of the moment they should have recalled the words of the poet?

"Give me back the sweet freshness of morning,
Her joys and her tears are worth evening's best light."
We commend that spirit to our youth. The future is in their hands, and with courage and determination the County can forge the steel to emulate the feats of the Hopes and the Rovers.

EFFORT TO ERADICATE CATTLE DISEASES

Official Plans Stated to be well Advanced

The Dublin correspondent of the London "Sunday Times" writes:—
During the next few months the Irish Free State Government will make its most spectacular effort in the economic field. The plans, which are well advanced, are somewhat on the lines of those of the British Ministry for Agriculture.

More than a quarter of a million pounds will be spent in the first year on clinical research and experimental work in the State laboratories, the free distribution of vaccines against sheep, cattle and poultry diseases, and on a system of bounties by which farmers will be encouraged to sell useless or diseased cows to factories which produce meat meal.
Creameries will be asked to sterilise all separated milk before returning it to the farmers, and depots will be established where cattle will be treated for warble-fly and minor ailments.

Aid for Farmers
The ambitious land reclamation scheme outlined by Mr. de Valera will be undertaken, and at the same time farmers will be given long-term loans for farm drainage, the erection of out-offices and the provision of fertilisers and lime.

Production of seeds of all varieties of farm crops will be encouraged by the establishment of a protected market and a guaranteed price, and the provision of breeding stock to develop the horse and cattle industry will be extended considerably.

Milk Inspection
In addition the Government will provide a new scheme for the inspection of milk for human consumption. The present laws though they have improved the quality of milk offered for sale, have loopholes, and the complaint is made that milk is brought into city areas and sold without inspection. Milk producers within the city areas have to submit to rigid examinations and tests, and they allege that they are being treated unfairly.

Medical officers complain if the inspection scheme is not tightened up

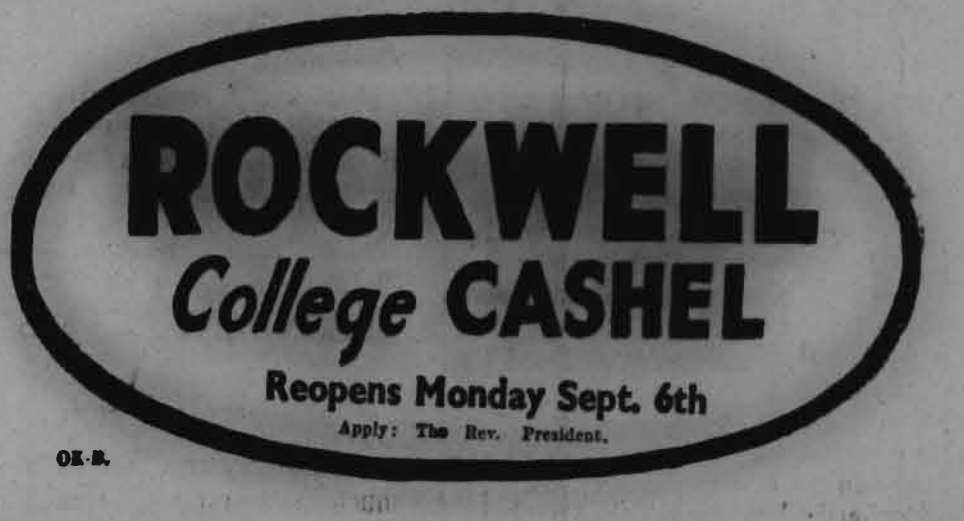

The auxiliary schemes now operating under the school inspection system will be nullified.
Very probably it will be stipulated that only milk which has passed the most rigid tests will be accepted on contract by public bodies in city areas.

Pigs to Japan and the Irish Free State

The Watford Corporation has sold the Middle White boar, Watford Caracacus 3rd for export to Japan. The Whittingham Mental Hospital, Preston, have sold two sows for shipment to the Irish Free State.

Irish Bull for the Argentine

It is stated that the well-known Aberdeen-Angus breeder, Mr. H. A. T. Kyle, The Diamond Fintona, has disposed of his stock bull, Enchanter 2nd of Bleaton, yearling champion, Royal Ulster Show, 1934; male champion, Royal Dublin Show, 1937; supreme champion, Royal Ulster Show, 1937, to go to the Argentine, subject to his passing the tuberculin test, we understand the price to be £475. Four bulls by this sire averaged £117 at Dublin sales, the highest price being £200.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

Belleville Park Fete—

The Grand Garden Fete, Fancy Fair and other attractions, which it was intended to hold in Belleville Park, Cappoquin, on Sunday afternoon, August 20th...

Full and final details of this most attractive event will appear in next week's issue.

Another Postponement—

The Bona (Cappoquin) Cycling and Athletic Sports, which had been announced to be held on next Sunday at the popular venue between Cappoquin and Mount Mellary...

All entries received for next Sunday's event will still hold good for the postponed date, while fresh entries can be sent in the meantime to Messrs. D. Cullinan or Thomas Rawlins.

A Kindly Act—

On last Sunday night week, just as it was approaching midnight, and a short time before the Electric Light in the town had been extinguished for the night...

The streets were practically deserted at the time, as the weather was cold and wet and there seemed little probability of the rain falling...

Fortunately, however, Mr. J. J. Barron, Proprietor of "Barron's Hotel," saw the recumbent figures as he was closing up his premises for the night...

It was then ascertained that the two young lads, who were aged about 14 and 9 years, respectively, were the sons of Mr. Condon, Merchant Tailor, Clonmel...

The two brothers missed meeting the "bus" and their sister, and having no money on them, found themselves "stranded" in a strange town...

Mr. Barron had the two lads immediately brought across to his Hotel, where he treated them to a hot supper comfortable beds for them for the night...

The two youthful adventurers left in the best of health and spirits, after expressing their most grateful thanks to Mr. Barron for the kindly and humane manner in which he had treated them during the previous night.

A Tinker's Row—

In the good old days no Fair Day in Cappoquin was ever considered complete without a row between Tinkers, Fish-bowlers, or some other of those Nomadic Bands who loved to indulge in a bit of "scrap" in order to fitly celebrate "The End of a Perfect Day."

Owing to the activities of the Civic Guards in recent years, and also, possibly, because of the high price of drink, those roving tribes have been remarkably quiescent in Cappoquin for a long time; so long, in fact, that we had almost forgotten all about them.

But we got a rude reminder on Thursday evening (Fair Day) that the fighting spirit of the Irish (especially the tinkers), is not yet a spent force, when a real live "scrap" occurred between a number of this select fraternity at the upper end of the Main street, near Mr. M. J. Sargent's Motor Garage...

Three hefty male members of the Tinker Class provided a thrilling display of All-In Wrestling at the start, which should have made a bout between Dan O'Mahony and Steve Casey look only a very tame affair, indeed. The wrestling quickly developed into a full-blooded affair of boxing with the bare knuckles...

While his bare skin was still glistening in the golden beams of the Western sun, and huge drops of perspiration were sparkling like pearls between his brawny shoulders, he continued to wallop unmercifully two smaller members of the "Brethren," while a number of bewhiskered and dishevelled women belonging to the tribe continued to shout encouragement to the various fighters...

How the fight would have ended, or how many ambulances would have been required to remove the casualties, must remain a matter of conjecture because before any final decision was reached, Sergeant C. Dalton and Guard Wm. Moloney appeared on the scene and first arrested the shiftless man, amidst the enthusiastic plaudits of his women supporters and shouts of "good man, Jim Costigan."

Two other male members of the Gang (both named Patrick Connor, and also a woman named Margaret Connors were also arrested later, but all were discharged from custody shortly after wards, to be summoned before the next District Court in Cappoquin.

The Tourist Traffic—

Large numbers of English Tourists both Hikers and Motorists, have been visiting Cappoquin within the past few weeks, and no matter what we may think about the Economic War between the Free State and England, we regard it as a good sign of the friendly relations between the common peoples of the two countries to see so many of our cross-Channel friends visiting the hospitable and fertile shores of this country...

Several parties of these visitors have remained in Cappoquin to enjoy salmon and trout fishing on the Blackwater, for which this beautiful river has been famous for many years—although the present season has not been a very prolific one for anglers, in general.

One of these parties (numbering five) is at present staying at Barron's well-appointed Hotel in Cook street, the party including Mr. Hugh Alexander, Curran and Mrs. Curran, "Dromana," Caterham, Surrey, England; Miss Molly Curran (sister); Miss Judith (Judy) Curran, (daughter), and the Hon. Master Robin Pringle, son of Sir Norman Pringle, Bart., New Hall Galashiels, Scotland, who is the nephew of Miss M. Curran.

Mr. H. A. Curran, who was born in County Down, lived in Cappoquin for four years, from the age of 7 to 11 and later lived in Waterford for some years, from where he left for England in 1922, after the signing of the Anglo-Irish Treaty.

A gentleman of high intelligence and great administrative ability, he soon obtained a most important and lucrative position in England, and now ably fills the responsible post of Chief Technical Liaison Officer in the Rubber-Research Association in Lansdowne Road, Croydon, near the famous English Aerodrome. Owing to his early associations with Cappoquin and the surrounding districts, he has named his new home in England, "Dromana," and all his old friends here now wish him and all his party a very pleasant holiday amidst the fertile scenes of his early boyhood days.

Another Interesting Visitor—

Another interesting visitor to Cappoquin at present is Mr. Hugh Barron, son of Mr. James Barron, "Mellary," Raglan Road, Sketty, Swansea, South Wales, who is nephew to Mr. J. J. Barron, "Barron's Hotel," where he is now staying. This young gentleman is a prominent member of the British Air Force, and at present holds the important rank of Sergeant-Pilot in the Cadet Corps of the R.A.F. at Harewell, Reading, England, and as he is a most zealous and enthusiastic student of aeronautics in all its phases, he gives every promise of attaining a much higher rank in his noble profession in the near future.

APPLICATION FOR COTTAGE

An Ideal Woman

Portrait of an ideal woman drawn by labourer Denis O'Grady, of Mohill, Co. Leitrim, was included in his application for a cottage considered by the County Board of Health on Monday last. He wrote:—

"Unlike the present generation I am not afraid of work, as I can plough, sow, reap, and mow.

"I am still a bachelor, but it is no fault of mine, for if I get the cage it will not be long until I get the bird. I have a widow in my eye whom I am courting in my own mind for some time past.

"She would be a suitable mate for a man in my position, as she is none of those jaspers or piano-tuners and possesses all the qualifications which would make a good wife.

"She can make a cake, milk a cow, and knit a pair of socks, which is more than the man-hunting colleens of the present day can do. She neither paints nor powders, and her figure is all her own.

"I think I am making some advance in my courtship as the other day when I was passing she asked me to mend a tongs for her.

"Whether that is a good sign or not I don't know, as later on, perhaps it might be my misfortune to get the weight of it.

"However, I am willing to take my chance and I am putting this application before you in the hope you will bear it in mind, as I am a homeless and lonely man until you grant my application."

He got the cottage.

DALY CUP FOOTBALL LEAGUE

HOPES V. RING

At Ring on Sunday week the Hopes and Ring played their tie in the Daly Cup League. The attendance was very large which included a big number of visitors now residing in Ring College for the purpose of studying Irish. It was late in the afternoon when the game started. The Ring team showed a big improvement since first they appeared in the Championship games. Ring playing with the breeze to the backs pressed for the greater part of the first moiety and succeeded in gaining 1 goal and 3 points and had their forwards put more judgment into their showing. Their score sheet would have registered a much higher total in their favour. The Ring defence was very good, but their attack at times was wild and erratic.

The half-time score read:— Ring ..... 1-3 The Hopes ..... Nil On resuming the Hopes pressed and P. Russell had a nice point, this was followed by a goal. Play was transferred to the other end where the Ring forwards missed several possible scores. The Hopes again attacked and kept the Ring backs under heavy pressure for the remainder of the game and ran out good winners on the final score:—

Hopes ..... 3-2 Ring ..... 1-3 For the winners E. Power was outstanding and was well assisted by J. Dwyer and Noonan.

The losers were best served by Begley, Flynn and Slattery, who fought out the issue to the last whistle.

The League Table

The following is the position of the League Tables at present:—

Table with 5 columns: Pts., P., L., W., D. The Hopes 6 3 0 3 0, The Pike 4 2 0 2 0, Shandon Rovers 2 1 0 1 0, D. L. C. 2 1 0 1 0, The Shamrocks 0 4 4 0 0, Ring 0 3 3 0 0

In the match Ring v. Shamrocks played recently both teams lost points as neither team fielded 15 men.

Germany's Grain Harvest Suffers

In most of the European countries there are prospects of a fair average in the grain crops. Germany is the exception, where drought has played havoc with both wheat and rye, the yield of both of which will be considerably below normal. The failure is worse in East Prussia, Silesia and Pomerania.

HIGHER PRICE FOR COAL

With coal prices rising householders must seek ways of reducing the amount of coal that they burn. Some people let their fires go out and thereby achieve economy. But this plan is inconvenient and very often it is not only inconvenient but uncomfortable. A much wiser plan is to use a coal saving appliance that will give you the heat to which you are accustomed and yet burn much less coal. See the new Coal-saving Ranges or modern Register Grates at Harpur Bros., when you are next in Waterford. It is amazing how quickly they make up their cost by the saving in fuel bills.

SAORSTAT POTATOES FOR SOUTH AMERICA

Possibilities of Developing an Export Trade Considered

The possibilities of the export trade to South America, particularly in regard to seed and table potatoes, were discussed at a conference attended by potato exporters from various parts of the Free State and Northern Ireland, and by representatives of shipping companies, in Wynn's Hotel, Dublin, under the auspices of the Irish Chamber for International Trade. Resolutions in regard to the opening of Consulates, guaranteed credits to exporters, and direct shipments were passed for submission to the Council of the Chamber with a request that they be laid before the Government.

Mr. M. P. McEvoy, President of the Irish Chamber for International Trade, who presided, said that this country bought one and a quarter million pounds worth of goods from the Argentine, Brazil, Chili and Venezuela last year, and sold them less than £15,000 worth.

Mr. J. J. Parkin, a Vice-President of the Chamber, had conducted a Brazilian delegation to many parts of the country, and it had reported very favourably to its Government. Certain technical difficulties had to be overcome before trade with Brazil could be properly developed.

Mr. J. J. Walsh said that this year he had made an extensive tour of South America. It was the opinion in South America that the annual importation of seed from countries such as Ireland was indispensable for the potato crops of these countries. That requirement opened up a huge field for this country, which exported the finest seed potatoes.

In regard to eating potatoes, while the market depended a great deal on the state of crops in South America, he believed that a steady trade could be done in them. South America suffered from a shortage in eating potatoes last year, and he was advised that a similar shortage was almost a certainty in the coming year.

The wholesale price of eating potatoes in the Argentine when he was there varied from £9 to £12 per ton. Merchants stressed the fact that potatoes should be packed in crates.

Col. Knox, of Messrs. H. T. Barry, Ltd., Belfast, said that his firm had about 40 years' experience of the export trade. Their chief difficulties were: the keeping in touch with markets and the getting day-to-day or week-to-week quotations; the fact that the price of potatoes was late, and the stringent regulations in most of the South American countries in regard to diseases in potatoes.

Mr. C. Gold, of Messrs. W. H. Lamb and Co., Ltd., Dublin, mentioned the varieties of potatoes which his firm found suitable for the export trade, and paid tribute to the Department of Agriculture for its work in upholding the quality of seed potatoes exported.

Mr. T. Traynor, of the Loc Garraim Co. Operative Society, Ltd., said that the grower ought to be financed to speed up production.

Mr. W. B. Clayton, of Messrs. Houliher Bros., Liverpool, said that the cost of freight to the Argentine from Liverpool was 35s. per ton, and when the refrigeration scheme functioned he thought that the extra charge would be 10s. per ton. The minimum cargo for which a steamer would come into an Irish port would be 3,000 tons.

Mr. McCoubry, of the B. and I. Steam Packet Co., and Mr. Humphreys of the L.M.S. Railway Co., gave details in regard to the facilities and charges for cross-Channel shipments of cargoes. The rate was about 16s. per ton, plus an aggregate charge of 6s. per ton for transference at Liverpool. Negotiations were in progress with the companies controlling ocean-going steamers for a through rate.

Mr. J. O'Keefe, Limerick Steamship Co. Ltd., said it would be difficult to organise quantities like 2,000 or 3,000 tons for export from the three principal ports—Dublin, Cork and Limerick—as potatoes would have to be carried a considerable distance.

Mr. T. O'Connor suggested that a State warehouse be erected in Dublin so that produce could be stored for shipment. Trade agreements were necessary, and the Chamber should urge that matter forcibly on the Government.

WATCH THE DAIRY COWS

Why Milk Yields Diminish

During the month there is frequently a falling off in yield from dairy herds. Several circumstances may account for this. Close attention to the yield of individual cows may often throw light on the question. Frequently, reduced yield may be due to a falling off in the quantity and quality of the pasturage. Where this is so supplementary feeding may do much to check the fall. Weather conditions however, also affect yield. Cooler nights and annoyance by flies during the day may also be responsible for trouble in this respect.

It is noticeable that some animals suffer much more than others from irritation by flies, and this is reflected in milk yield. Housing in cool cowsheds during the heat of the day is sometimes advantageous. Blue colouring above the stall seems to have an inhibitory effect on the activity of flies. Dampness of the floors helps towards coolness in the cowshed, and also has the effect of keeping down dust.

An abundant supply of fresh clean water should be provided for dairy stock at all times, but it is particularly important during warm weather. Muddy pools are unsuitable as the animals cannot keep clean, and this adds to the risks of mastitis and other troubles.—Journal of the English Ministry of Agriculture.

Canadian Cattle

During the two weeks ended July 31, 353 cattle were landed at Glasgow from Canada. Of these 229 were licensed out to premises other than a slaughterhouse.

GAEIC NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG"

All Munster is still talking about last Sunday's hectic game in Cork Athletic Grounds. Certainly it was a treat, something which the football-starved Gaels of the South had yearned for so long. They saw a good thing is worth waiting for, and indeed so it proved. The hardy stage of thirty years ago, who had long since faded themselves to the belief that for all, with a Big Kick and a Capital Pass they knew it in the days of their lusty youth, had gone the way of the horse and the water buffalo, flocked there hoping to see at last the football that is football, yet, fearful of the result, they were disappointed. And how they were as they saw the wistfully-remembered dreams realised in a game of surpassing speed, agility and vigour! None of your excruciating hand-passing or pseudo-scientific stuff which a patient public has suffered so long. Full-blooded football, direct and forceful, mighty kicking and soaring leaping—clean human virility which only the strongest and fittest can take. And there was craft in plenty too! But the best feature of the match was the absence of that irritating femininity and silly contentment which of late years has had such an emasculating effect on Gaelic football.

The crowd was big but it might well have been bigger. The Cork accent was not very much in evidence, indeed, Keppelen and Leix men comprised the bulk of the fifteen thousand present. The future was largely intended to stop the decadence which was threatening to consume Gaelic football by the Leix, but judging by the local support, that decay has gone farther than was thought. But, the "doubting Thomases" who stayed away now bitterly regret the apathy which caused them to miss the game of their lives. I will not enlarge on the actual play but from first to last, it was chuck-full of surprises. The Kerry confidence was rudely shattered! In every phase of their own game they met their superiors and it was only luck and Leix inaccuracy that saved them from defeat. To the thousands of delighted spectators no result could be more welcome than the draw. The gamut of emotions which the few desperate minutes aroused left very few in the seething crowd undisturbed. A point behind, all Leix hopes were centred on Keogh as he got set to kick a fourteen yards free two minutes from time. One long pass of despair escaped from the multitude as his amazing miss almost froze their beating hearts. Then in a twinkling back comes the Delaney clan in an irresistible wave which sweeps all before it and Douglas's stylish equalising point transforms the Leix misery to one vast roar of joy. The next-up feelings all along the side-line burst forth in a sustained chorus of delight and relief as the referee blows the final whistle to leave the titanic combat undecided on the score of nine points each. The date and the venue of the replay is now the all-absorbing topic of the hour and many thousands of Gaels are eagerly planning to treat themselves to another hour of glorious football in the next meeting of these two superlative sides.

County Championships again continued on a quiet note last Sunday. At Villierstown, the local team, as expected, overwhelmed Lismore in the junior football semi-final. The big crowd present felt somewhat compensated for the poor fare provided, by the highly gratifying success of their favourites. The official referees, through unaccounted lack of transport, failed to show up and the game started one hour late. Mick Ducey, of Aglish fame, had the whistle. Tommy Morrissey's fifteen ran up a huge score mainly through the artistry of young Treacy who made the ball do practically everything but talk. The Lismore team never touched their true form and their display on the whole was too bad to be true. Their only score was a point from the boot of O'Donnell, late of Cappoquin. Once again, the facility of a widely scattered, though nominally adept, side was demonstrated; Villierstown, with a team chosen almost exclusively from the little village, made the picked players of Lismore, Mellery, Ballyin, and Ballysaggart look like mere novices at the football game.

The Eastern Division Championships for 1937 have now concluded and the following is the list of winners (subject to official confirmation by the Board):— Senior Hurling—Portlaoigh, Junior Hurling—Passage. Minor Hurling—Portlaoigh. Senior Football—Fenon. Junior Football—Passage. Minor Football—Mountain Rovers.

The position in the West is still somewhat obscure owing to uncertainty caused by objections and appeals. Next Sunday in Lismore the game to which all the Deise Gaels have been looking forward is on the programme.

The Glennan-na-Uidhre footballers, who made such a sensational debut against Ballyduff, are set to face the victorious Villierstown combination in the junior football final of the far West. Speculation is rife and opinions are varied as to the real worth of the Nire lads. In their outings so far, they have been so impressive that the critics declare that they are so much above junior standards that only an extraordinary accomplished team could hope to live with them. Be that as it may, the Dromana bunch are in no way disturbed by the formidable record of their opponents. They have beaten on the way Siabhuacua, Tallow and Lismore and are just the type to confound the book of form and topple the Nire stars from their pedestal.

At the same venue Tallow footballers, who have survived an objection, are due to meet Cahal Brugha's in the Western Hurling Final. An appeal is pending, but meanwhile the arrangements for the game stand.

INCH NOTES—

Inch Hurling Tournament—

Despite the warning clouds away back in the west on Sunday last the big and enthusiastic crowd in the Inch hurling enclosure had never a thought of rain. Only one or two men carried overcoats, and even these carried them under their arms in a half-shame-faced furtive manner, as if wishing to avoid notice. The ladies—and they were many, were all in light clothes of many colours, and looked quite summery. And no wonder, for the sun shone brightly and gave promise of a perfectly fine evening. But here as in other things, the fine time whistle sounded, and the wet-to-the-skin players scampered off the field, glad to exchange their rain-soaked togs for the comfort of dry and warm clothing. By the time the second match started the rain had cleared, and the sun was again shining, but the sod was wet and the ball slippery. As the match progressed, however, conditions improved, until in the excitement of watching a most keenly contested game in which three abounded—every discomfort was forgotten, and those present considered themselves fortunate in being privileged to witness such a hectic encounter between evenly matched and capable teams. Every inch of the way—every second of the hour was disputed by both Youghal and Kilkronat—and though at the end of the third quarter the issue was no longer in doubt, for Kilkronat had established a safe lead, yet Youghal battled on with admirable tenacity up to the very end. When like good sportsmen, they accepted the inevitable, and readily agreed that on the form displayed during the match the best team had won.

Youghal Mental Hospital

At the usual monthly meeting of the Committee of the above there attended—Messrs. W. J. Broderick, Chairman, Ald. F. J. Daly, Ald. J. Allen, Rev. D. Duane, C.C., and Dr. M. Twomey, P.C., Visiting Physician. The Manager reported that since last meeting two male patients had been admitted from the Cork Mental Hospital, and one male patient had died, leaving in residence at present a total of 427 patients (250 men and 177 women). Contracts had been satisfactorily carried out during the month. The bed was under weight on one occasion, but the meat being good, it was accepted. The contractor was warned. The water supply had been unsatisfactory during the month. The corn was ripe for cutting and a thresher might be hired as usual. A letter was read from the Town Clerk stating that Mr. Hill, Engineer to the Hospital and Mr. J. Murray, Town Surveyor, had agreed as to the bore of the new pipe—5 inches—to be laid specially for the Hospital. When the necessary formalities were complied with, and the sanction of the Minister obtained, the work of laying the main would be proceeded without delay.

Ald. Daly said he had visited the Head works at Boula. The place was very well kept, but he thought the supply would hardly be sufficient. The Chairman said it had been suggested that another filter bed should be put up. Ald. Daly—That would be a good idea. The Chairman said all the Engineers, Government and others were of the opinion that there was plenty of water. When the new 5 inch pipe was laid he believed there would be no cause of complaint. The quality of the water was excellent.

Ald. Daly agreed. Since my last report there has been one death. Six patients are confined to bed on the male side of the house and 5 on the female side, owing to debility and other causes. There has been no case of scurvy, rest, injury or violence. The water supply has been defective during the month. The food supplies have been regularly examined and found up to standard requirements. There has been no case of zymotic disease, and the general health of the Institution is excellent.

CASTLEMARTY V. INCH. It was a foregone conclusion that Castlemarty would have an easy victory, for they have long since been recognised as one of the leading teams in Cork County, and their previous battles against Mayfield a few years ago in the County Hurling final will not soon be forgotten. To expect that a newly-formed team like Inch, still in its swaddling clothes, could defeat experienced and renowned veterans like Castlemarty would of course be ridiculous. All that the promoters hoped for or expected was that the boys would put up a good fight, and in this their hopes were realised. As a matter of fact, in the first twenty minutes of play given and the grit shown by such a "green" team amazed everybody. The pace was a cracker, the marking close, man to man everywhere. Hardly a score being registered. Castlemarty—players and supporters alike—were worried. If this went on anything might happen, and the prospect of suffering defeat at the hands of novices was unthinkable. The Inch captain hurled meter-like through the field, every obstacle in his path is overcome; he passes the ball to his forwards and after a brief struggle by the goal-posts, it goes wide. After this the forwards lose heart, and soon the thing becomes general. The backs and midfield men fight stubbornly on. Kenry furiously attacks the Castlemarty back line, but in the odds are too heavy. Prominent Castlemarty men are now unattended, and though the game is not yet over the match is lost as far as the local team is concerned. The best team won, and the vanquished were the first to congratulate them on their victory.

Kilkronat v. Youghal. Both teams had trained hard for the match, and each was quite confident of victory. Not only that but they were agreed that the winners of that match would eventually win the medals. Youghal had taken the precaution during the previous week of remedying certain irregularities in the constitution of their team, so as to leave nothing to chance. Each team had a good following, but Kilkronat had by far the biggest contingent. It was a wonderful game. Youghal appeared to have slightly the better of the opening stages, and got the first score—a point—after about fifteen minutes play. The lead was of short duration, however. Lynch of Kilkronat pulling hard on a flying ball shot a lovely goal, and these were the only scores of the first half. The spectators were in a frenzy of excitement, and the excitement appeared to communicate itself to the players who fought with vigour and determination seldom seen in tournament matches. There was no shirking of responsibilities. It was no man all the way through. Neither side carried passengers, and there was no galley work. Barron of Kilkronat played a great game, especially in the first half, and if only he could keep that fiery temper of his under better control he would be a great asset to any team in the county. S. O'Mahony was hard-working and even-tempered as ever. Drake—always smiling—was during and resourceful. Mulcahy, Lynch, Twomey, Roche, Buckley, Higgins and Hurley seemed to revel in their work. Mick Mahony in goal stopped everything that a man could reasonably be expected to stop. Indeed the whole team worked smoothly as a well-oiled machine, and their display justified the pains taken in their training.

The Youghal men played well, and like their opponents carried few, if any passengers. Longhan enhanced his reputation as a clean and skilful hurler. One of the best backs in Junior hurling today, M. J. O'Mahony was brilliant and unerring. Sheehan was better than ever. Stack and Crowley were sound and sure. Deane, Hussey, Norris and Donoghue played well. In fact the team as a whole gave a good display. It was a case of the survival of the fittest, and Kilkronat were undoubtedly the better trained. The match was won on form alone, and proves that even hurlers of repute must attend to training if they hope to survive. The Final. Castlemarty and Kilkronat are now in the final and the tournament medals will go to the winners. The match will take place in a few weeks time and will be a case of Greek meeting Greek. I expect the attendance will be even bigger than that of last Sunday for the match will surely be a memorable and exciting one.
