THE Pretty little village of Ardmore was this week taxed to its utmost capacity to cater for the influx of visitors (members of Muintir Na Tire) from all over the Country, who attended the Rural Week under the auspices of Muintir Na Tire

Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, who presided at the opening meeting, which was held in the open air in the College grounds, said he had, first of all, to thank the Executive of Minnur m. Tire and its fiunder, Father Rays, for their kind invitation formally to open the Rural Week. This was the most ambitious project of its kind undertaken so far.

Referring to the choice of Ardmore as Referring to the choice of Ardmore as a venue his Lordship said: "Here in Ardmore you are in the cradle of the Faith in Ireland. St. Declan is Ardmore's great patron and, according to an ancient life, he was established here years previous to St. Patrick.

"I myself was brought up on the land," went on his Lordship," and I have intimate personal knowledge of how severe the toil of the agricultural community is and how meagre the reward from a wordly standpoint; even under normal conditions, and I know, also that given a fair chance that they can have a great deal of happiness in their lives.

In a recent visitation of the parishes of the diocese he was shocked at the decrease in the number of children. The united parishes of Ardmore and Grange had only the insignificant number of 25 children for Confirmation. If that state of things continued, went on his Lordship, it would be disastrous for both Church and State.

Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, who presided at the opening meeting, which was held in the open air in the College grounds, said he had, first of all, to thank the Executive of Muntir na Tire and its fiunder, Father Hayes, for their kind invitation formally to open the Rural Week. This was the most ambitious project of its kind undertaken so far.

Referring to the choice of Ardmore as a venue his Lordship said: "Here in versious interests concerned.

To-day, steel is harder to get than gold. Steel firms are unable to fill orders placed last December. The production of some is booked alread for five years. Some firms are actually paying to be released from contracts that they snapped up a year ago, because of this year's immensely larger and more profitable armament contracts. The Farmer is going to be affected seriously by the shortage of steel. Production of farming implements has dropped. There is a definite shortage of these implements on the way. Prices will soar. The Farmer will soon be faced with paying 1917 prices for his implements and receiving only 1937 prices for his crops. Those are hard facts that you can check in the financial pages of your newspaper. Straight from the shoulder talk to the farmer from
