DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL.

A CONTRACTOR ABDICATES

Extra Excavations For Waterworks Scheme
ARE ORDERS MADE CARRIED OUT?

Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday last. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman; J. Dahill, D. Foley, J. F. Foley, J. J. Croty, S. Hayes, and M. Connors.

Repairs To Flagging
Mr. J. F. Foley, again raised the question of the non-repairs of the flagging in certain parts of the town.
B.S.—It is a matter for the County Surveyor.

Mr. Foley—But it has not been done. Chairman—Bring the matter to his notice again. He takes very little notice of some requests from this Council.

Mr. McCarthy asked if there was any truth in the report that work on the sewerage scheme was held up during the week.

The B.S. said it was due to a misunderstanding, the foreman thought that Mr. McCaffery, Contractor, had applied for permission to open the road, but he had not.

Are Orders Made Carried Out?
Mr. Dahill asked the following questions—(1) If there is not an order made to prevent dumping at the Cats Lough; (2) If the Contractor for the Waterbridge had signed the bond; (3) What steps, if any, are the other landlords in Skandoo (except Mr. Ballot who has already applied for permission) taking to connect with the new sewer.

Continuing, Mr. Dahill asked if the Council has power to compel landlords to connect with the sewer, and if so, they should exercise that power, as it was to give proper sanitary accommodation that the Council are expending six to seven thousand pounds.

Replying to the first question, Mr. Walsh, S.S.O., said he found the Council's scavenger dumping stuff at the Cats Lough, when told about the order of the Council, the scavenger said he had instructions from the B.S. to dump there.

The B.S. denied this and said he had made up his mind a few years ago, not to interfere in any way with the scavenger. He had no conversation with the man. Mr. McCarthy suggested asking the scavenger before the meeting.

Chairman—There is no necessity to bring the scavenger here. There is some official to give orders.

Mr. Dahill said he is afraid it is a case of the tail wagging the dog, the man got orders, but still kept on dumping.

Chairman—Whatever official is responsible, will see to it that there is no more dumping there. If there is any other complaint we will take action against the responsible official.

Mr. Walsh, S.S.O., said he gave the scavenger orders and called his attention to the notices put up there.

Mr. Dahill—That's what I say, it is a case of the tail wagging the dog.

The B.S. said that other horses were taking heavy loads of clay, etc., into the dumping ground at the Marsh.

Mr. D. Foley—That scavenger is getting too much of his own way.

Chairman—Mr. Walsh has his remedy.

The Weightbridge
With regard to the second question raised by Mr. Dahill, the Clerk read the following letter from the contractor—

I wish to let you know that I have thought fully over the matter of the bond, and this is my final and irrevocable decision. I have decided to abdicate. I was waiting for word from a firm concerning business, and I now find that they will not do any business in Dungarvan this year. This would mean a considerable loss and in the circumstances I cannot see my way to sign the bond. I wish to thank the Council for the chances given me to settle and am sorry to disappoint. I await your decision.

Mr. Dahill—I propose that we re-advertise, tenders to be considered in two weeks, and that a deposit of 30/- be lodged with each tender.

Mr. Croty—The contractor is now in the same boat with Halls Sellsie, they have both abdicated.

The Chairman said he thought that was a matter that they should refer to their solicitor. This man is there 6 or 7 months now.

Mr. McCarthy—He paid some money? Clerk—Yes, £3.

The letter was referred to the Council's solicitor.

With regard to the third question raised by Mr. Dahill re connecting with the new sewer.

The Council ordered Mr. Walsh, to serve notice on the landlords concerned.

Mr. Croty said that when the landlords connect they are entitled to raise the rent by law.

Chairman—I am sure any tenant will be only too happy to pay a small increase for proper sanitary conveniences.

Paysheet
A paysheet for £11 2s. 6d., week's wages was presented and passed.

Use Of Hall
The Green Badminton Club, were granted the use of the Hall on Tuesday and Thursday night.

Cathal Brugha Club Sunday 24th.
C.S.B. on 3rd and 4th November, for cookery demonstrations.

Waterworks Scheme
An application from the Contractors of the Waterworks Improvement Scheme for payment of £350 balance of certificate of £700 certified by the consulting Engineers a fortnight ago was read and deferred to next meeting.

Progress of Scheme
Messrs. Delap and Waller, Consulting Engineers to the Waterworks Improvement Scheme writing with regard to the unsatisfactory nature of the rock found in the puddle trench for the dam at Deelish, stated that they had gone carefully into the matter of a fair rate for the contractor for taking out the rock in the trench below the designed level on the drawings, to which his price for rock excavation in the Bill of Quantities was based. The contractors price is the Bill of Quantities is £1 per cubic yard and he asked for £2 per cubic yard for the first 3 feet below designed level, and £3 per cubic yard from 3 to 6 feet below designed level.

We considered this price too high and looked into the matter of having the work cut out on a time and material basis. We came to the conclusion that such a basis would not be satisfactory, as compared with a fixed price for your contractor, and reached the following terms—

3 feet below designed level 30/- per cubic yard; 3 to 6 feet 40/-; 6 to 9 feet 50/-; 9 to 12 feet 60/-.

To date a little under 200 cubic yards of rock have been removed below the designed level, in places reaching in depth 12 feet, and we are hoping that on the next inspection in about a week's time we will be in sufficiently satisfactory rock, but we cannot be certain of this. Portion of the trench will probably have to be pressure cement grouted, and we will obtain a price for this from your contractor in due course.

They recommended that the Council send a copy of this to the Department.

Mr. Croty—What depth was designed? Mr. Dahill—Something about 6 feet.

Mr. J. F. Foley—They are like Pilate of old, they wash their hands out of it, and leave the onus on the Council to foot the bill.

The Council decided to forward a copy of the report to the Department.

Release of Republican Prisoners
The following resolution read from the Malloy Urban District Council, was adopted unanimously—

"That this Council calls for the immediate unconditional release of all Republican prisoners held in the jails of Northern Ireland and the Free State and that copies of this demand be sent to the heads of the Twenty-Six County and Six-County Administrations for their immediate attention and to all public bodies in Ireland for their adoption."

Chairman—That question was raised in the Dail, and the President made a statement on it, dealing with the duty of the Government in maintaining order in the country. Still it would do no harm to adopt this resolution.

Mr. D. Foley—It is a pity to see anyone in jail. There are some great men in jail, and they are there because they are good men.

The resolution was adopted.

Deferred
An application by Messrs. Doyle and Ormond, Architects, New Housing Scheme, for fees for preparation of plans was deferred pending the completion of the loan forms, etc.

Acknowledgment
Mr. J. V. O'Neill, Western Terrace, wrote thanking the Council on behalf of his mother and other members of the family for resolution of sympathy passed to them on the death of Very Rev. Palk O'Neill, P.P.

Sympathy
Notes of condolence were passed to George Hamilton and family and to Denis Dea and family in their recent bereavements.

WEST WATERFORD JUNIOR FOOTBALL FINAL

The West Waterford junior football Championship of the current year is down for decision at Dungarvan tomorrow (Sunday); also the Minor Hurling County Final. The large leather trial lies between Kiltrossanty and Cleam, to be held at 2.15 p.m., and the hurling between Dungarvan and Portlaw to be held at 4.15 p.m.

Two very close games are confidently anticipated, and the four combinations concerned are certain to be attended by their local admirers in full force, to cheer and encourage them to push ahead in their respective hours of action. Be there with the rest!

Value Appointed
The Valuation Office wrote notifying the Board that they have appointed Mr. James J. McAuley, 17 Dawson street, Dublin, as official arbitrator in connec-

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE.

APPOINTMENT OF ASSISTANCE OFFICER

Commissioner Moynihan, presided at the monthly meeting of the Board of Assistance in the Secretary's Office, County Home, on Wednesday last.

Assistance Officer for Bonmahon Dispensary District
The following applied for the position of Home Assistance Officer, Bonmahon Dispensary District:—Catherine Coffey, Bonmahon; M. Cullinane, Cahireane; Kill; Thomas Christopher, Ballywooney, Stradally; M. Casey, Knocknec-Kill, Kilmacthomas; George C. Kiely, Ballyhanogue, Kilmacthomas; Jeremiah Cooney, Kill, Kilmacthomas; John Hoban, 75 Sally Park, Waterford.

After a personal interview with all the applicants, with the exception of George C. Kiely, who was not present, Commissioner Moynihan said he would appoint Miss Coffey owing to her experience of the work, she having assisted her father (now retired) over a number of years.

Financial Statement
The monthly financial statement showed a balance to credit of £8,700.

Hospitalisation Scheme
Messrs. McDonald and Dixon, Architects for the new Hospitals proposed for Dungarvan, Lismore and Waterford writing under date October 1st reported as follows:—

Lismore Hospitals (District and Fever) no advance can be made until approval is obtained for the Draft Working Drawings submitted to the Local Government Department on 21st July last.

Waterford—The draft working drawings for the Main Hospital Building are approved by the Department but those of the Staff quarters and out-buildings submitted on 10th May last and amended to meet the Architectural Inspector's requirements on 12th August still await approval. We have written to the Department with a view to expediting matters, and hope to confer with Commissioner Meghen in accordance with your request at an early date.

Dungarvan—No further advance can be made until we are notified of the Board's views on the modifications to the plans transmitted to you on 10th October, suggested by the Local Government Department.

Co. Hospital Chapel
The matter of painting seats and ceiling in the Chapel at the Co. Hospital, Waterford, at a cost of £8; the kitchen in the women's ward at £3 and the painting of windows and doors and limewashing wall of the Fever Hospital at £70 was referred to the Engineer to get done.

Kereen Dispensary Residence
A complaint from the Medical Officer, Dr. Lenihan, regarding the quantity and quality of the water supply at the Dispensary residence, was referred to the County Surveyor for report.

Lismore District Hospital
Mr. J. Ormonde, B.E., reported that he had inspected the Lismore Hospital. The walls for the most part are in poor order the distemper peeling off all over. I would recommend that all walls be cleaned down, washed and re-distempered, (two coats).

It was decided to issue advertisement for tenders.

Increase in Price of Milk Asked
Mr. John O'Farrell, Milk Contractor, to the Lismore District Hospital, wrote applying for an increase in the price from 1/- 10/4 per gallon from November 1st to March 31st, for the following reasons (1) The expenditure required to bring dairy and cowshed up to the standard laid down by the New Milk Bill; (2) the price of milk at the Hospital has always been the same as retail price of milk in the locality and this is now raised to 1/4. He has supplied Lismore Hospital since it opened and never asked for an increase of contract price, but the special circumstances of this year, with its heavy outlay compel me to ask for above.

The application was refused.

Tenders
Mr. John Brennock, tendered to supply beef to the Lismore Hospital at 8d. per lb., and mutton at 10d. per lb. This was an increase of 1d. per lb. for the beef and 1/2d. per lb. for mutton over last half-year, which the Commissioner considered too high.

Mr. Brennock's tender at last half-year's figure, 7d., and 8d., respectively, were accepted subject to his approval.

Mr. Henry Baughton, County Hospital, wrote (thanking the Board) in recognition of sympathy passed on the death of his mother.

Cappoquin Notes

Important Developments at Mount Mellery
In a recent issue we briefly referred to the project for the erection of a Shrine to St. Philomena at Mount Mellery, and we are now in a position to say that an important official statement on the subject may be expected in next week's issue.

In the meantime, it may be stated that the Lord Abbot and Community are not content with the erection of the splendid New Community Church, which is now nearing external completion, but have decided to embark on the costly work of building a new Secular, or Parish Church, with which the St. Philomena Shrine will be incorporated, so that pilgrims and visitors from all parts of the world will be able to have easy access to the Shrine, such as would be impossible if this were incorporated in the new Community Church. It will, therefore, be seen that the Lord Abbot has at heart the spiritual welfare and convenience of the thousands who will flock to Mount Mellery to pay homage to this great Virgin Martyr, and he deserves the thanks, as well as the liberal financial support of all faithful Catholics, not only in Holy Ireland, but throughout all quarters of the globe, for having decided on this fresh and expensive undertaking for the greater honour and glory of God. We feel sure that the Catholics of Cappoquin and the entire county of Waterford will not be lacking in their support of this important project, no more than their forefathers were lacking in their help in the erection of the first building of Mount Mellery in 1832-3.

It rejoices greatly to the credit and broad-minded spirit of many influential Protestant gentlemen of that time that they view with the Catholics in helping the Clergians to found Mount Mellery, after their expulsion from France, for we find from an interesting booklet, entitled "A Miracle of Work and Prayer," now before us, that one of the first generous benefactors was the then Duke of Devonshire, who sent a cheque for £100 to Father Vincent Ryan which enabled him to start on the erection of some necessary buildings and a temporary school.

Another generous Protestant benefactor was the then Sir Richard Keane of Cappoquin, who had given the Monks the site for their new buildings, and it was, therefore, only fitting that when the work of erection was started on August, 20th 1833, the Feast of St. Bernard, the honour of laying the first stone was conferred on Sir Richard Keane, their god-father Protestant landlord."

The first great task the Monks had to face was the erection of fences around their land, and rumour of the great labour having spread, we read that: "it stirred up great sympathy and enthusiasm among the people, which resulted in a series of expeditions to their aid from the parishes around. The men of Modellig were the first to come. On Sunday, July 26th, their Curate, Father Qually, spoke to them about the Monks, so, early on the following morning, 400 of them, equipped with spades, set out, four abreast, for the Mount, headed by a band. They joined the Brothers at the fences, and worked steadily during the day, directed and encouraged by their Priest, and that night they went home in triumph.

An example had now been given, and a noble rivalry was stirred up. On July 24th, came 800 of the men of Cappoquin, but, a week later, Father Qually of Modellig equalled this number, and soon afterwards actually led 1,000 men to the work.

But Cappoquin, nearest neighbour to the Monastery, was not to be surpassed, so, early in August, a procession came from 1,500 men, 200 women, and as many children as could help, with Bands playing and banners flying, led by a cross, specially made for the occasion by Master Leopold Keane (later known as Col. Keane, Tivoli House, Cappoquin), the Cross being decorated by his mother, and followed up by carts of provisions. They were joined at the work by 500 more men from the Westem side of the same parish.

Further Power of Lismore led 200 men to the Mount on August 20th, and soon afterwards that number was doubled by the same parish. 250 men came from Knocknecore on an occasion, 270 on a second, and 2,000 on a third. "Newcastle twice sent large contingents over the mountain, while from Clashmore, 12 miles away, men came three times, never arriving later than 6 a.m., and from Ballynoe, 15 miles away, came 150 men, who started work at 4 o'clock in the morning.

The last band of men, numbering 1,000, came from Talbot towards the end of September, while smaller numbers came with the Lismore Fever Hospital compulsory acquisition order.

Glactacht Order
A letter from the Department notified the Board that Mr. C. Kearney, I.A.A.G., Ballymacarney had passed the recent examination held by the Appointments Commission under the above order.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

Local Painters' Good Luck

Some local Painters had a great stroke of luck last week by lacking the first and second horses for the Cambridgehire race, which gave them good reason to smile when the result of the event was flashed over the wireless.

Two members of one prominent local family related close on £100 over the race and as the parties concerned are amongst the most popular and respected sporting people in Cappoquin, they have been warmly congratulated on their good luck, and no have the best wishes of their hosts of friends for still better luck in the near future.

The Main Drainage Scheme
In our paragraph about the Main Drainage Scheme in last week's issue, it should have been stated that the Foreman in charge of the labourers employed on the work is Mr. Patrick Power, Kilmacthomas, a gentleman who has had a long and wide experience in this class of work, and under whose direction such great progress has been made within the past couple of months.

Mr. R. Roche, Bonmahon, another able and experienced gentleman, is the chief Foreman in charge of the entire Scheme, and their great popularity with the men is proved by the faithful and expeditious manner in which the work is being proceeded with, which is a credit to the Cappoquin labourers and all other employed on this important contract.

Serious Charge
At a private Court held before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L., in Lismore last week, serious charges were taken in the case in which three young men from Cappoquin district and one young man from the Lismore rural district were charged with a serious offence under the Criminal Law Amendment Act against a young girl, under 17 years of age, who had been boarded out from the County Home in the Cappoquin area.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, Dungarvan, conducted the prosecution, assisted by Superintendent Sean Quinlan, Lismore, Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, solr., Lismore, appearing for one of the defendants, and Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., Dungarvan, for the other three.

Having heard the evidence of the girl, Sgt. C. Dalton, Cappoquin, and other witnesses, the four defendants were returned for trial to the Circuit Court in Waterford on Monday, November 8th, but were admitted to bail, each in the sum of £50, and two sureties of £25 each, which were immediately forthcoming, after which the defendants were discharged from custody.

The Bacon Factory
Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., Dungarvan, acting on the suggestion of a prominent Cappoquin Merchant, paid a special visit to the Cappoquin Bacon Factory on Monday week, and had an important interview with Mr. R. L. Keane, Managing Director, with reference to the recent discharge of ten employees, and the causes which had led up to it.

Mr. Morrissey's action in this interesting matter so vital to the people of Cappoquin has been greatly appreciated by all shades of political thought in the town, and if, through his kind efforts, the Quota of production will be increased, and the dismissed employees re-instated on an early date, he will have done a good day's work for Cappoquin, which will not be forgotten for him here.

Big Loss to the Town
The great Senior Hurling League match between Waterford and Clare, which was played in the Sportsfield here last March, provided a great day's business for the traders in the town, and both teams were so well satisfied with the splendid arrangements made here by the local Gaels that they were anxious to play their next League match in the same venue again.

At a recent meeting of the Waterford County Board the match was accordingly fixed for Cappoquin on Sunday, November 27th but Mr. Joe Mason, Hon. Sec. of the Cappoquin Hurling and Football Club, had to decline the fixture for Cappoquin, as owing to the exorbitant demands made by the Directors of the Sportsfield, the place is no longer being used by the local hurling and football club, and the match was then fixed for Lismore on Sunday, November 7th.

The change of this important fixture from Cappoquin to Lismore will mean a big loss of business to the traders of this town, as well as the abandonment of the Hurling Tournament and other fixtures which it was proposed to hold in aid of the Mount Mellery New Church Building Fund, and in view of this serious situation, it is not time that the Shareholders of the Sportsfield, who are nearly all traders here, took the necessary steps to end the present stupid deadlock, and get the Sportsfield once more going as a Gaelic Field, instead of allowing it to degenerate into a kind of "No Man's Land," as it seems to be doing at present!

A Wonderful Dance
Last Sunday night's Practice Dance in the Boathouse Hall smashed all previous records, both for its enjoyment and huge attendance.

There were certainly no less than 100 couples present on the occasion, drawn from all parts of the county, and the dancing was of a high order.

Youghal Notes

The Poor Postman
Quite recently a circular was sent to all Urban bodies suggesting that in the interest of everybody concerned, houses in the various portions of town should be numbered and letters addressed accordingly. If this were done it would facilitate the postal officials in sorting the letters and ensure an early delivery. It would appear the local Council came to the conclusion that it didn't concern Youghal. Now this may be correct as regards the town itself—the Old Town—but how does it apply to the rapidly growing suburb the Strand? Here you have (1) a Front Strand with quite a large number of "villas"; (2) McCurtainstown—formerly Williamstown—which is regularly being added to, and (3) Upper Strand, or Knockaverry, where new houses are being constantly built. Not very many years ago there was not a house at all; now, at the present rate of progress, they will soon be calculated not by the score but by the hundred. In all this increasingly important district, there has been no attempt at numbering the houses. You have this "Villa" or that; this "Saint" or that; "House" or other; and that; you have this "House" or that; this "Saint" or that; just fancy the difficult problem or puzzle presented to the unfortunate postmen, when called on to deliver a letter addressed to "122" Strand, Youghal. Before he can do so he must have in his mind an accurate knowledge of where this "Villa," that "Mount," or "Saint" or the other House or Terrace is situated. Some such letters may be of an urgent nature and if there is any delay—as naturally there must be in the circumstances—somebody is bound to suffer. If all the houses in the various districts were numbered, and letters addressed accordingly, there would be no cause for complaint. Until this is done there will be an unnecessary burden placed on the postal officials and the postmen. Another very troublesome method of addressing letters is "The Hon. Sec. of such and such a Society," regarding which the officials and postmen couldn't have any knowledge. The sooner the Urban Council take up this question and call for the numbering of all the houses in the various districts on the Strand the better it will be for their visitors and residents and for the writers, especially where communications are of an urgent or important nature.

Irish Classes
This year for the first time for many years there is no Irish taught in the Evening Classes in the local Technical School. This regrettable state of things has been brought about by the fact that the attendance during the session 1936-'37 was so unsatisfactory, that the Co. Committee felt it incumbent to close the class, the result is that Youghal's loss is Killeigh's gain. The Old Gaelic names, Michael Ua Lishnang, who has been and is conducting most successful classes at Dungourney, has transferred his labours from Youghal to Killeigh, where the rising generation and others evidently appreciated his services as he has now a largely attended class there. Now that the Youghal classes are closed quite a number of prospective students of the natal language have presented themselves at the local school, but, in the circumstances, "there is nothing doing."

"Gone To England"
At the last District Court, during the hearing of a case of assault, the names of two young girls were being mentioned as having been witnesses of the offence being investigated. Replying to a query from the District Justice, as to why they were not brought forward to give evidence, the prosecuting Inspector said "they are both gone to England." Still they go! During the week a number of elderly men went across Channel and were quickly shipped as sailors. It is very regrettable to see them all leaving home, but it is open to question if it would not be more regrettable to see them daily holding up the corners or walking around the streets with their hands in their pockets, depending for their bare existence on the demoralising dole or on their parents or other relatives.

Kiltrossanty "45" Card Drive
The Committee in charge of the Kiltrossanty "45" Card Drive are anxious that all cards played should be handed in as early as possible, together with cash. To facilitate local players the "Drive" will commence at 4 p.m. Sunday week, 31st inst.

CHILDREN'S HEALTH COMMITTEE

Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., presided at a meeting of the Children's Health Committee held in the Town Hall, on Friday night. Others present were Messrs. T. McCarthy, J. Dahill, J. F. Foley, J. J. Crotty and D. Foley.

Tenders

Tenders for the supply of Bread, Butter and Milk for the giving of Free Meals to necessitous school children were first considered.

Butter—Only one tender from Messrs. R. A. McEary and Co., at 1/3 per lb., was received for the supply of creamy butter. The tender was submitted subject to the following—

That should the Government make any change in the cost price they would be at liberty to cancel the contract.

Chairman—You can't accept a contract on these conditions.

Mr. Dahill said they should instruct the Secretary to see the Manager of the Creamery. He would supply the amount required.

Mr. McCarthy asked what amount would be required weekly.

Secretary—From 13 to 23 lbs.

Mr. McCarthy—It is not a fair condition. I wonder if the price came down would they reduce it.

The matter was left to the Secretary to make inquiries.

Bread—Mrs. M. C. Power, O'Connell street tendered at 9/4d. per 4lb. loaf. A. Moloney and Sons at 9/4d. per 4lb. loaf.

Milk—Only one tender, that of M. F. Walsh, Coolnagour, at 1/3 per gallon was received for the supply of milk.

Mr. D. Foley—It is a shame to charge such a price.

Mr. McCarthy—Such a price would not be sanctioned; not so long the Minister refused to sanction 1/2 a gallon and that was for T.T. Milk. He held there should be a resolution go from the Council to the Minister, and to every other Council asking their co-operation in trying to get cheaper milk.

Mr. Dahill suggested re-advertising.

Mr. D. Foley—The poor children can only get half enough to eat over the price these people are charging. They are trying to make fortunes at once.

The Chairman said he saw no justification for the increase in the price of milk. He heard it said that the vendors are blaming the new Act.

Mr. McCarthy—They want to get rich quick.

Chairman—I wonder would the creamery supply milk?

Secretary—I could ask the Manager.

Mr. D. Foley—If the people only knew that the creamery would supply them they would not bother these people at all.

The meeting was then adjourned to allow the Secretary ascertain if the Committee could get milk from the creamery.

DEATH OF MISS M. O'GORMAN, GLENSHASK, LISMORE

It is with deep regret we chronicle the death of Miss Margaret O'Gorman, who passed away at her residence Glenshask, Lismore, on Wednesday 13th October, after a brief illness and fortified by the rites of the Holy Church.

Possessed of a gentle, amiable and energetic nature, she was a general favourite of all who knew her, and her demise at such an early age is deeply regretted. This popularity and esteem was amply evidenced by the huge extent of the funeral to St. Catharine's Cathedral, on Thursday evening.

Requiem Office and High Mass was celebrated for the repose of her soul on Friday morning. Rev. T. O'Gorman, Adm., Lismore, was celebrant. In the choir were—Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin; Rev. T. Murphy, C.C., Lismore; Rev. J. Lavin, Lismore; Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin.

The funeral which took place to the New Council Cemetery immediately afterwards assumed large proportions, and the interment was made in the presence of a huge concourse of mourners and sympathisers.

The chief mourners were—

Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Gorman, Glenshask (parents); Thomas and Patrick O'Gorman, (brothers); Mrs. Mary Costin, Nellie and Bridie O'Gorman, (sisters); Paul and John O'Gorman, (nephews); Miss Nora and May O'Gorman (nieces); Mr. Edmund Costin (brother-in-law); Mrs. Mary O'Gorman (sister-in-law); Mrs. John Heelan, Glenshask (aunt); Mr. William O'Donnell, Cappoquin (uncle); Mr. Michael O'Gorman, Miss Mary O'Gorman, Lisnagree, Mr. Thomas and Michael Heelan, Miss Eileen Heelan, Miss N. O'Meara, Laurence O'Donnell and Eileen O'Donnell, Cappoquin, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Hickey, Carrageen; Mr. Michael and Lena Tobin, Ballyduff, John Devine, Coole; Mrs. M. B. Prendergast, Ballysaggart, Mrs. Jas. Daly, Ballyduff, Mrs. Flynn, Shrough, John and Mrs. O'Gorman, Glenshask; Mrs. Dulger, Ballyduff; Mrs. O'Sullivan, Main street, Mrs. B. Heelan, Lismore (cousins and relatives).

The adjourned meeting of the Board of Public Health was held by Commissioner Moynihan, on Friday.

Eviction

Mr. Higgins, Cottage Rent Collector, Ballyduff, wrote stating that John Flanagan, tenant of Cottage No. 191 was evicted for non-payment of rent by the Sheriff's officers who handed over the key. The tenant offered a sum of £5 4s. a cheque which he received that morning.

His mother also offered to pay £1 and offered to keep him until the arrears are paid off. He has a very young family of five, and work is very hard to find in the locality. He (Mr. Higgins) promised the tenant to place the matter before the Commissioner.

A subsequent offer of £7 off the arrears having been made by Flanagan, the Commissioner decided to re-instate him.

A Cottage for Mice and Rats

Patrick Halpin, Whitestown, Clonca, wrote in regard to the condition of his cottage and stated there are two rooms in it and they are only fit for mice and rats to live in.

The flooring boards in them are in dust, with rat holes in and out through them. The gable end wall in winter is wet and the water is running down off it. There is a half acre of land and it is all water. There is a drain running through the middle of it. It is all water and I can never grow anything in it, so I wish you would kindly call to see the condition of the cottage I live in, and I would be very thankful to you.

Then I had an increase in my taxes this year so its not fair. If you were to pay money out of what I am paying you for, you would not pay it and I hope you will see to it and get something done to the cottage.

Mr. Doyle sent in a report on the repairs required to the cottage and with regard to the half acre he stated only a small portion appears to suffer from wet. This could be fixed by one hour's work; a short drain from the soft patch to a stream which flanks the plot, and which is about 5 or 6 feet below plot level would settle the matter. The tenant could do this himself, but judging by the appearance of the rest of the plot, it has not been tilled for 20 years and he is not likely to do so.

Cottages Let

The following cottages were let:—Mocollop to John Barry; Leperstown to William Walsh.

Agish Water Supply

Mr. Bowen wrote enclosing a copy of report from Mr. Laurence O'Gorman, Assistant Engineer on the above supply. The report stated that headworks and tank have now been cleaned, but that water in the pipes is still dirty and the scour valve must be left open several hours each day. According to the caretaker he fixed up barbed wire fencing around the spring and intake, which has again been broken down and the sheet of extended metal partly removed from the trough. The caretaker believes Mr. Terry the owner of the land is responsible for the damage, as he maintains that he is entitled to a supply of water from the spring. If his claim is justified it is very strange that the entire intake was fenced off with barbed wire, and that no entrance gate or pass was left. Slime is beginning to collect in the tank again, showing that the water is being contaminated from an outside source. The screens are entirely too coarse and as the gauze required to be renewed now the new material should be of much finer mesh.

Mr. Bowen writing stated it would be well if they could see the maps and agreement made with the owners when the supply was constructed and expressed the opinion that entirely new intake works are needed, but pending the inspection of maps and documents he did not wish to make any recommendations.

The matter was further adjourned for reports

Castlemoles and Templemichael

Mr. Bowen, County Surveyor, wrote enclosing a copy of the report of Mr. Ormond, B.E., on the above.

Mr. Bowen stated that it appears to him that the people expect too much from the Board by way of attention to small matters of his kind which are most obviously to be regarded as the duties of the persons concerned and using the wells. Surely it is reasonable that ordinary precautions should be taken by the users to keep the wells and surroundings clean, and to attend to such trivial matters themselves. If the Board decides to attend to every individual well and spring in the County it will certainly lead to a great deal of work and expense.

Listague, Knockanik and Ballinacoola Water Supplies

Reports from Dr. O'Farrell, County Medical Officer of Health on the above were referred to the Engineers for reports.

MONTHLY REPORT OF DR. MICHAEL O'FARRELL, COUNTY M.O.H.

SEPTEMBER, 1937

Infectious Diseases—The following Infectious Diseases were notified to this Office during the month:—

Diphtheria—9; Scarlet Fever—2; Tuberculosis—4.

The nine Diphtheria notifications were received from the Rathgormack Dispensary District, and the Scarlet Fever notifications were received, one, from Cappoquin and, the other, from Lismore Dispensary Districts.

Fever Hospitals—In all there were 14 admissions to County Fever Hospitals during the month and five discharged therefrom, leaving 14 undergoing treatment at the end of the month.

Notification of Births.—Birth notified during the month numbered 61.

Tuberculosis—During the month there were 160 attendances of all patients at T.B. Clinics, which attendances were made up by 61 patients, 11 insured and 50 uninsured. Seven Domiciliary cases, three insured and four uninsured, were attended by the T.B. Officer and 12, insured, by other doctors. Twelve patients four insured and eight uninsured, are under treatment in County Institutions, three uninsured patients in other hospitals, and one uninsured patient in a Sanatorium.

Three contacts were examined during the month, four reports were made of the home conditions of patients, and one sputum or other specimen was examined. District nurses paid 218 visits to 59 patients and in addition made the following report:—

Number of Dressings—4. Number of premises requiring disinfection notified—2. Number of insanitary premises reported—2.

T.B. Officer made the following recommendations during the month:—Six weeks extension of Domiciliary treatment in one case, 8 weeks treatment in the County Home Hospital, Dungarvan, in one case, 10 weeks treatment in Peamount Sanatorium in one case, and treatment in Dr. Steeven's Hospital in one case.

Maternity and Child Welfare—Jubilee Nurses in their districts throughout the County attended eleven Clinics. The attendances were:—

Mothers—36; Infants—21; Children—34.

General Sanitation—During the month Sanitary Sub-Officers throughout the County carried out 647 inspections of dwelling houses.

Milk and Dairies Act, 1935—Reports on the premises of 20 applicants for registration were received from Veterinary Inspectors during the month, two of which are stated to be fit for registration. Accordingly recommend that Registration Certificates be issued in those cases. The reports of the Veterinary Inspectors are submitted herewith.

The Dairies and Cowsheds Inspectors carried out 134 inspections of premises in the County. Their reports are satisfactory.

Treatment Under S.M.I. Scheme—Five Dental Clinics were held during the month, at which 72 children were treated, 14 as Conservative patients.

Three cases of Tonsils and Adenoids were treated during the month.

DEATH OF MRS. M. O'SHEA, CAPPOQUIN

We regret to announce the death of Mrs. Margaret ("Peg") O'Shea, which occurred at her residence, Barrack street, Cappoquin, on Tuesday, 5th inst, after a rather prolonged illness, which was borne with great Christian fortitude and resignation.

The deceased lady, who was a native of Church street, Lismore, was the beloved wife of Mr. Thomas O'Shea, a prominent member of the staff of the Cappoquin Bacon Factory, and during her residence in Cappoquin she was extremely popular, and a great favourite with all classes of the townspeople.

The sadness of her death at such an early age, leaving four young children behind her, is deeply felt in Cappoquin, and her bereaved and popular husband and other relatives now have the sincerest sympathy of all in their great loss.

The remains were removed to St. Mary's Catholic Church, Cappoquin, on Wednesday evening, and after Requiem Masses for the repose of her soul, the funeral took place to St. Declan's cemetery, Droonoe, Cappoquin, on Thursday, when the funeral proceeded extremely large and respectable, and provided a fitting tribute to the memory of a young lady who was so generally esteemed and respected by all sections of the public.

The Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin, headed the cortege, and recited the last prayers at the graveside.

The chief mourners were:—Thomas O'Shea (husband) and children, Miss K. Whelan, Lismore (sister); Mrs. Daly, Cappoquin; Mrs. Devaney, do., the Misses Nellie, Maggie, Kathleen and Lizzie O'Shea, do., (sisters-in-law); John, Michael and Paddy O'Shea, do., (brothers-in-law); Michael O'Shea, Senr., (father-in-law); Mrs. O'Shea, do., (mother-in-law); Miss Margaret Whelan, do., (aunt); Patk. Whelan, do., (uncle); Miss Kathleen McCarthy, do., Miss O'Sullivan, Modeligo, etc., (cousins and relatives).

All the Bacon Factory employees attended in full strength, in addition to the general public, and a large number of wreaths and R.I.P. Cards were laid on the grave.—R.I.P.

CARRICK SCHOOLS ACHIEVEMENT

Three pupils of the Mercy Convent, High School, Carrickon-Suir, have secured notable distinctions following the summer Examinations. This was the first class A. (all Irish) Secondary School in Ireland. Miss M. Frisly, was awarded a University Scholarship value £240. Miss Rene Maher, was called for Training as a National Teacher, and Miss Peggy Sheehy, secured one of the few available places at Kilmacud Training School for Domestic Economy Instruction.

YOUNG CARRICK MAN QUALIFIED AS DENTIST

Mr. Thomas Fleming, son of Mr. John Fleming, Commercial Agent, Carrickbeg, Carrickon-Suir and Mrs. Fleming, N.T. Windpark, Co. Waterford, has passed with distinction the final examination for the degree of L.D.S.

Mr. Fleming's numerous friends have learned of his success with much pleasure.

INCH NOTES

The Tournament Final—

Although a heavy fog hung over the Turig valley and a few scattered rain drops fell in the early hours of Sunday morning, the clouds drifted later, and long before the hour fixed for the meeting of Castlemaryr and Kileronat in the Inch tournament final the sun was shining gloriously, and there was hardly breeze enough to rattle the leaves that still remain in those sheltering trees around the club grounds. What a crowd there was on Sunday; men grown old in years who had not seen a hurling match since the heyday of Dunsourney rubbed shoulders with and were just as enthusiastically excited as any of those eager-eyed hurling fans who have not missed a match of any consequence for a considerable time, and know all there is to be known about the game. Speculation as to the winners was fully indulged in, and here there was a sharp difference of opinion. Kileronat players, and supporters alike made no secret of their confidence in their ability, and their determination to annex the medal. True, they were unable to field out at full strength; D. O'Connor was not yet or'ie recovered from the effects of his recent operation, and Higgins too was not yet well. Reliable substitutes however had manned the breach, and though a few players were a bit off colour, the team as a whole was in good condition. They had a great following; those northern men, and it must be conceded that though the game was tremendously exciting they kept their tempers under admirable control, and did all that lay in their power to facilitate the stewards in keeping the pitch clear.

The Castlemaryr team and followers were if anything even more confident than Kileronat. They too, were well supported; better indeed, than they have hitherto been; for these wonderful matches they have been playing, have reminded once again the members of an enthusiasm that have been smouldering for some time in Castlemaryr. Their team too had been improved and improved for the occasion. The scattered units had come back to the fold, and under these conditions defeat was unthinkable.

The Game— is reported elsewhere in these columns, and there is no need to comment on it here except to say that already there are enquiries from all quarters as to the date of the replay. Well, the writer has been asked to state that the date has not yet been fixed and that when it will be read's of the "Observer" will get the first and fullest information regarding all details connected with the fixture. The competence of the teams will have to be considered. They have been through a very strenuous time preparing for those matches. They have other engagements too, to which they must give attention, and when those have been disposed of the claims of the tournament committee will again be attended to. In the meantime it is gratifying to be able to record the great degree of popularity that Gaelic hurling has attained in the district.

These happy days of affairs is a great tribute to the work of the Castlemaryr promoters of the local club and is some consolation for the trouble they have gone to and the misrepresentation and even calumny, they have endured in providing healthy amusement and recreation for the people.

DAINGEROUS DRIVING CASES AT CARRICK COURT

The District Court at Carrick-on-Suir on Monday was occupied for some time in dealing with cases of dangerous driving and defective brakes on lorries.

James Hollaway, Carrick-on-Suir, was fined £1 and his license endorsed for using a lorry having defective brakes.

Defendant—I admit the brakes were bad, but I could stop the car on the gears.

Justice—The law requires you to stop the car with brakes and to have them in good order.

Michael Holland, was fined £1 for using a lorry that had defective brakes. Defendant lives in Kilkenny and was driving from Clonmel to the merits of a charge of dangerous driving against Paul Healy, Pill Road, Carrickon-Suir.

On the night of the 8th August, defendant was driving from Clonmel to Carrickon-Suir in a Citroen car he uses for hire. He collided at Ballinacoola with Dr. Diarmuid O'Hearty, School Inspector, Cashel and caused a good deal of damage to Mr. O'Hearty's car.

Mr. O'Hearty and his wife gave evidence that Healy came along on the wrong side of the road. As he showed no sign of going to the correct side of the road Mr. Hearty had to swerve. Defendant swerved at the same time and Mr. Healy's large Citroen car struck Mr. O'Hearty's Ford.

Sergt. Marra, Kilsheelan, produced maps and sketches that would go to show that Mr. Healy's car was on the wrong side of the road at the time of the collision.

Mr. O'Hearty, cross-examined by Mr. Quirke, solr., for defendant, (Mr. Healy) said when he saw the defendant making straight towards him on the wrong side of the road his chief thought was for safety of his wife and children, and he had no time to take notice of anything else. He could not have seen a crowd of people dancing as they were completely obscured by the bend in the road and big trees.

For the defence, Mr. M. Sinnott, and Mr. P. Purcell, who were on the road-side dance stated they saw Mr. Healy come along on the correct side of the road and the other car approach on its wrong side of the road. They remarked at the

As the leaves come tumbling down we're inclined to regard Autumn as our most consistent season. It is like Autumn, isn't it? That is more than can be said for the other seasons. Summer is rarely the bright time it ought to be; Winter is often too mild; spring, well, it is rarely quite as promising as spring should be. Autumn, on the other hand, uses no false colours.

There's a queer big drop on the eve'nings. An' the dusk comes fallin' soon; You can feel a chill though the sun be strong. At the end of the afternoon, We'll soon be havin' to stay indoor, An' quit the roads round Curraghmore.

The leaves now are turned to amber, They rustle below the hedge, An' whenever we pass by Clodagh or Suir, A harsh wind moves in the sedge; For the country has donned its russet hue As far as the eye can command from Poundrew.

Funny, isn't it, when you want to think of a few suitable maxims or wisecracks how elusive they are; as fugitive as those good stories you heard last week and resolved to trot out on appropriate occasions, as, for instance, when you are making your next big "spike." When the time comes round to put them to good use you probably find that "like the baseless fabric of a vision" they have fled.

We don't know if in this era of the typewriter schoolboys and girls have to write line after line of the same maxims in their copybooks as we had in our day. Then there were scores of aphorisms in the readers culled from "Poor Richard's Almanac." Originally issued by Benjamin Franklin, printer, author, publisher, diplomat and inventor, these contained no end of proverbial philosophy. They achieved remarkable popularity, and were translated into many languages. Perhaps some of them will come to mind, but if "Poor Richard" fails us we shall have the Book of Proverbs as a sheet anchor. After all Solomon, the son of David, the King of Israel, knew a thing or two.

REFUSING TO ADMIT CIVIC GUARDS

At Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday, John Healy, publican, New street, Carrick-on-Suir, was fined 15/- and the conviction endorsed on his licence for having failed to admit the Civic Guards to his licensed premises at 11.30 on the night of Saturday October 2nd.

Sergt. Duffley, gave evidence of having heard the clinking of glasses in the shop. When he knocked a voice inside said "hush" and the letter-box was opened and someone looked out. He heard the sound of feet in the shop.

Defendant examined by Mr. Verrington, solr., said he heard no knocking. He boils feeds for pigs at night and was around the shop.

Mr. Verrington—Mr. Healy is 77 years old. Justice—If I sent that up on my record as a reason for not convicting him and endorsing the licence he might lose the licence on the grounds of incompetence to carry on the business.

KILMACKTHOMAS NEWS

Sympathy— St. Anne's Hurling Club voted sympathy to the family of the late Mr. A. W. ("Bertie") Ballyne, in their sad bereavement.

Spilling The Blame— Really, we have grown so used to thinking one thing and saying another that we are scarcely conscious of what double-eyed hypocrites we are.

Glance for a moment at all that every-day polite spoofing we indulge in; you know what we mean—"I never saw you looking so well, Mrs. House," when it's as plain as mud that poor Mrs. H. is looking ghastly, and knows it.

the good mother. Catch a man when he stands up to make a speech and you will comprehend why it was once written, "All men are liars."

Your ear is stunned (if you have any discrimination left in you) by such phrases as: "The ornament of our great and prosperous business..." the shining example... the pattern of nobility...

Death Of Mrs. E. Mooney— The people of these parts were grieved to learn of the demise of Mrs. Ellen Mooney, Knockane, Kill. The deceased lady, who had reached a fairly advanced age, was held in high esteem by a large friendship circle.

contact, and by whom her passing is profoundly regretted. Relict of the late Mr. Thomas Mooney who was a valued and universally esteemed farmer, she was a devout and exemplary Catholic, and she breathed her last peacefully and resignedly (fortified with the final consolations of Holy Church).

The late Mrs. Mooney was mother of Mrs. Laurence O'Connor, 41, The Quay, Waterford; Mr. M. F. Mooney, Bank of Ireland, Clonmel; Miss B. M. Mooney, National Bank, Dublin; Messrs. John and Thomas Mooney, and Miss Mary Frances Mooney, Knockane, Kill, and Mrs. N. Hayes, Kilduane, Bormahon. She was a sister of the Rev. Mother, Convent of the Sacred Heart, Great Crosby, of the late Mr. Denis Foley, Ashdown, Kilmackthomas, and the late Mrs. M. Harney, Ballydurn, Co. Wick.

Included in the imposing cortege which accompanied the remains from Knockane to the Parish Church, Kill, on the evening of the 19th inst., were members of the professions and business interests from Waterford City, Tramore, Dungarvan and Kilmackthomas, together with a large representation of the general public.

Office and High Mass for the happy repose of the deceased were offered up in the Church on Friday morning of last week, and interment was made afterwards in the adjoining cemetery, in the presence of innumerable relatives, friends and sympathisers.

That the forthcoming "Cinderella" (on the 7th prox.) bids fair to be the biggest, brightest and best social function of all so far held in the popular Pike Hall?

Did You Hear— That a pretty good contingent of Mid-Deise Gaels were "laughed" in Annewstown Anne's "smoo" of the "sea of faces" seen in Croke Park on Sunday last?

That the boxing tournament brought off at the Portlaw Tanneries' Gymnasium, under the aegis of The Tanneries' Boxing Club, proved a stupendous success from every standpoint?

That the local aspirants—W. Jones and D. Fitzpatrick—acquitted themselves right admirably and well?

That, just before the conclusion of the Tourney, Mr. Lorican, Works Manager, paid a glowing tribute to Garda "Booy" Murphy, who, he said, had worked hard to promote the "manly art" in Waterford City and County?

Humour, like murder, will out, and in our local markets we have born humourists, who can give points to the famous cockney wits of the London street markets. Although women are the chief customers they are often the butt of the salesmen's jokes.

"I always speak well of the ladies," says one. "Poor things, they can't speak for themselves." Then, with twinkling eyes, he adds, "They come into our lives like a ray of sunshine, and go through our pockets like a streak of lightning!"

When business is bad, and the crowd is there for amusement and not to buy, the street hawker can be very sarcastic. A salesman, who was trying to dispose of half-dozen lots of handkerchiefs, and sold only one lot, exclaimed to his assistant, "Half-a-dozen hankies among such a mob, Mac! They must be all relations."

On another occasion, when the same man failed to sell a bundle of boot laces at an amazingly low price, he looked at the crowd and asked, "What are you waiting on? The boots?"

One man always gets a laugh by asking a lady if she will take her change or have shares in the business. When she smilingly says she prefers her change, he remarks, "You're right, lady; this business is going to where the clergyman of my home parish says we're all going!"

The fishmonger has his own slogan, "All fish and no bone makes the baby walk alone." If you got to the local fairs, dear reader, and don't wish to try a patent medicine, then listen to some of the cheap-jacks, and you will find they are a good tonic.

CARE OF THE BROOD SOW

A really good brood sow is a valuable asset. Good management counts for much; without it the best sow will not do her best; with it she will do all that reason can expect. Careless bedding and housing of the sow kept in the sty is very often the cause of cramp and internal diseases.

The more highly bred the sow the more reason is there for good treatment—no pampering, but treatment born of sound judgment and common sense. To breed and rear strong, sound, healthy pigs it is essential that the sow should be in good fettle herself—her system free from disease and her blood pure and healthy.

It is a bad practice to expose the sow to extremes of weather. In a great many cases should the bedding run short during the winter or early spring the sows are the first sufferers. They are left to lie on the cold, wet floor, and frequently get so cramped and stiff that they can hardly move.

The less doctoring the sow has the better. Food of the right sort is the best medicine. About three weeks previous to farrowing a fairly liberal diet should be given. Several days before she is due to farrow she should be comfortably housed in the sty which she is to occupy, with some short, clean and dry straw for bedding.

If there is any tendency to cootivness at farrowing, a little black treacle mixed in warm slop given the sow to drink will be most beneficial. It is best not to mate the sow again until the pigs are weaned. She may be ready soon after farrowing, but there is considerable risk of abortion with so early a service after a strong litter of young pigs.

THRIFT HOUSE It's smart to be thrifty and wise—to buy, not shoddy goods for that is neither smart nor thrifty nor wise, but good quality articles at a lower price than usual so that you show your thrift by saving money in the buying, your smartness by the efficiency of the article in use and your wisdom by the long trouble-free service that it gives. Particularly does a housewife find plenty of scope for her wits in achieving thrift. The wise buying of so many household things depend on her smartness. It is the really smart, clever housewife that Harpur Bros aim at pleasing. And Harpurs have so succeeded in this aim that Harpur Bros is well named "Thrift House." LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

DUNGARVAN FAIR—

On Wednesday last was sparsely supplied in all departments with prices...

DUNGARVAN BOXING CLUB—

Due to the extraordinary enthusiasm displayed in the progress of boxing in the town, the Committee have decided to run a tournament on Wednesday 3rd Nov. in the Town Hall.

FOOT BEAGLES—

The Dungarvan Foot Beagles, meet at Ocean View Hotel, Clonea on Sunday next, October 24th at 12 o'clock.

LIFEBOAT INSTITUTION—

The Royal National Lifeboat Institution writes expressing warm appreciation for the generous support which they continue to receive from the Dungarvan Branch and its Honorary Secretary, Mr. J. F. Moloney.

Eleven new motor lifeboats were built and placed on service in 1935, and this year no less than 25 new motor lifeboats are being built.

The public will appreciate from these figures the heavy expenditure involved not only in providing and maintaining the life-boat fleet today, but also in our constant endeavour by research and experiment to increase its future efficiency.

The fact that the Institution is able to proceed with this work is in itself a wonderful tribute to the enthusiasm and devotion of the Branch Officials and helpers who year after year, assist in raising the necessary funds.

A large and representative meeting of the newly-formed County Waterford Board of the Irish Amateur Boxing Association, was held in the Majestic Hotel, Tramore, on Wednesday 17th October.

The following Committee were appointed to act on the Board:—President: Superintendent E. O'Duffy, Capt. J. O'Mara; Messrs. W. Jones, D. Fitzpatrick, A. Kelly, T. J. Kiely, F. P. McGuire, M. Malone, Guard A. J. Murphy, Sergeant J. Spillane, Lieut. W. Power, Chairman, Mr. W. Jones; Vice-Chairman, Capt. O'Mara; Treasurer, Sgt. J. Spillane and Hon. Secretary, F. P. McGuire.

The Annual Meeting of the Dungarvan Literary Club, was held on Sunday last, October 17th. There was a large attendance of members. The Auditors' Statement of Accounts which was adopted unanimously, showed that the Club's affairs were progressing satisfactorily.

Mr. Eddie Phelan, was re-elected President for the sixteenth successive year, a proof of the wonderful popularity of that gentleman. Mr. J. Greany, was re-elected Vice-President and Mr. J. Ormond, Secretary.

The following Committee of Management were appointed:—Messrs. M. Cunningham, I. Costello, E. O'Neill, T. McDonald, B. Murray and T. McGrath. It was decided to hold the Annual Dance and Annual Excursion (which proved so enjoyable last year) again this year. The date of the Annual Dance was fixed for January 26th 1938.

Meat (special) 23/-; mutton 22/6; flour 25/- and 26/- per 10 lbs.; bran 10/- cwt.; pollard (brown) 9/6; pollard (white) 10/- coal 42/6 per ton; oats (white) 21/-; barley 16/-; wheat 30/6.

The Grand Cinderella Dance organised by the Dickens Leather Co., Social Club in aid of the Achill Island Fund, will be held tonight (Friday) October 22nd. For full particulars see advertisement in this issue.

Look out for the Great Autumn Sales at Moloney's, commencing Monday October 25th. This will be an event of great importance. Full particulars in next issue. Moloney's Stores, Bridge Street, and Square.

Preliminary work on the New Housing Scheme of 139 houses has already been begun by Mr. Thomas McGrath, Contractor. We learn that work on the full scheme will be started within a fortnight.

On Thursday in the Court House, Dungarvan, Mr. M. J. Scott, B.E., held a Public Inquiry into the propriety or otherwise of granting an Order made by Mr. Commissioner O'Donoghue in respect of a Compulsory Purchase Order, which authorises him to purchase, compulsorily, certain lands for the purpose of providing 430 cottages under the Labourers Act.

A special train will run to Limerick from Waterford, on Sunday next via Clonmel to bring Decies supporters to the Limerick v. Waterford match. The Waterford team will travel by train.

The match takes place definitely on Sunday October 31st at Waterford Gaelic Field. Special trains are being run from Fermoy, Thurles and Kilkenny. Special buses are also being pressed into service from many parts.

A week of the greatest interest to all music lovers will be commencing on October 25th when the O'Mara Opera Company will occupy the Town Hall, Dungarvan, for six nights and a special matinee of 'Rigoletto' on the Wednesday afternoon.

This is the real No. 1 Company with its own fine chorus and Orchestra, and a first-rate cast of principals headed by the famous tenor William Boland. For full particulars see advt. in page 8.

DURROW, STRADBALLY, KILMEEDY EAST, KINSALEBEG, COUNTY WATERFORD

HIGHLY-ATTRACTIVE AUCTION OF RESIDENTIAL DAIRY AND TILLAGE FARM

JOHN BUTLER, has been instructed by Mr. John J. Cunningham, TO SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION On The Lands On Thursday 28th OCTOBER, 1937 At one o'clock p.m.

ALL THAT parts of the lands of Durrow containing 101 acres or thereabouts Statute Measure situate in the Barony of Decies without Drum and County of Waterford being the lands registered on Folio No. 4830 of the Register of the County of Waterford and held in fee simple subject to Revised Annuity of £20 14 0, payable to the Irish Land Commission. Poor Law Valuation £24 15 0.

This holding is very attractive owing to its convenient situation adjoining the railway Station, Creamery and Pig Market at Durrow and within easy reach of Churches and Schools.

The lands are the prime and known well locally for their fattening and tillage qualities and are in good heart having been well cared for by the Vendor. They are laid out in nice sized, well fenced fields and there is a never failing water supply to same and in addition a pump in the yard for domestic water. There is a valuable sand pit on the lands. At present eight acres are laid out under grass and eight acres ready for tillage.

On the holding is a six-roomed thatched Dwelling-house and the outbuildings which are all slated comprise: Cowshed for 15 cows, Stabling for 3 horses (both lotted), Boiler house, Calf house, Potato house, Figgeries and Fowl house.

The Auctioneer invites the inspection of this exceptionally good farm by intending purchasers and directs attention to the low annuity payable thereon.

After the sale of the lands twenty-five 14-year-old heifers and bullocks and 14-year-old pony will be offered for sale.

Further particulars from: JOHN BUTLER, Auctioneer and Valuer, Dungarvan E. A. RYAN & CO., Solicitors (having Carriage of Sale) Dungarvan.

MARY STREET, DUNGARVAN IMPORTANT AUCTION OF BUSINESS PREMISES

JOHN BUTLER has received instructions from the Personal Representative of the late Miss Annie Sliney, deceased, TO SELL BY PUBLIC AUCTION ON THE PREMISES On Thursday the 4th NOVEMBER 1937 At one o'clock

ALL THAT the Dwellinghouse, Shop, Premises and Yard, situate on the West side of Mary Street in the town of Dungarvan in the County of Waterford held in fee simple free of rent forever.

The premises offered for sale comprise: shop and kitchen on the ground floor with yard at the rear. There are four bedrooms with good attic. The premises are in a good state of repair and ready for immediate occupation.

The deceased carried on business on the premises for a number of years and the shop, which is well lighted, is suitable for grocery and general business.

Immediately after the sale of the premises the household effects comprising: beds, bedding, tables, chairs, etc., will be sold.

Private offers will be received for the premises.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman, E. D. Condon, R. Power, J. Forrest, J. Daly, B.E., R. Savage, J. Whelan, J. N. R. Macnamara, Mr. J. R. Smyth, P.C., M. Cashman, E. P. Lynch.

Wages, Etc. On the proposition of Mr. Power, seconded by Mr. Forrest, a cheque for £60 18s. 6d. wages, etc., for the week was passed.

Work On Relief Scheme A number of men employed on the Relief Scheme repairing the Quarry Road, assembled in the lobby in connection with remarks made at the previous meeting complaining of the slowness of the work.

A long letter contradicting the remarks and protesting strongly against them was read at the meeting. It said that the men were employed only 3 days a week and sometimes less if the weather was unsuitable.

The work was necessarily slow owing to the manner in which it had to be done. They had covered three-quarters of a mile in a short time. Mr. J. P. Murray, Town Surveyor, wrote reporting that reasonable progress was being made with the tar spraying on the Quarry Road, taking into consideration that only 40 hours per week was worked under the Rotational System, and that tarring was not possible on 3 days. Three to four fine days would complete the work on this road.

Free Milk Scheme The Local Government wrote returning Form F.M. 2 relating to the estimated disbursements for milk by the Council in connection with the approved Free Milk Supply Scheme during the current quarter and to state that the amounts estimated for the current month and next month were excessive having regard to the amount remaining available for the supply of milk under the Scheme during the half-year ending 31st March, 1938. Steps should accordingly be taken to reduce the number of recipients and/or to restrict the amount of the allowance.

Mr. Lynch proposed that they write to the Department protesting against cutting down the Free Milk Supply, especially for the winter months, and with the terrible amount of unemployment prevailing.

This was seconded by Mr. Whelan, supported by Mr. Daly and passed.

Rev. E. J. Fox, C.C. The following letter was read:— The Presbytery, Fermoy, 2/10/37.

My Dear Mr. Walsh—Will you please convey to the Chairman and members of the Council my deep appreciation of their kind remarks to me as Administrator of Fermoy. During my stay in Youghal, I have always considered it for the years that may come, I shall always consider that one of God's greatest gifts to me has been that He allowed me so many years of my priestly life amongst the good kindly priest-loving people of Youghal.

I thank you, Mr. Walsh for your kind association with the resolution.

May God's choicest blessings ever rest upon the dear old town.—Yours very sincerely—E. J. FOX.

The Salmon Fishermen A letter was read from the Secretary British Ex-Service Men's Fishing Scheme stating that at a meeting of the Directors of the Scheme it was decided that as the two boats crews concerned were considerably in debt and didn't even pay the first instalment of the Harbour Licence, the Committee would comply with the underlined part of their letter from the Castle by reducing the debt to £2.

Mr. Power, protested strongly against the way the fishermen were treated in that matter. No matter how good the season they were always saddled year after year with a debt at the opening. He suggested that the boat-owners be invited to the next meeting when he would put the facts of the case before them.

Mr. Macnamara—Is this our business as a Council.

The Chairman—Candidly I don't think it is.

Mr. Forrest proposed that they get a detailed statement from the fishermen in answer to that letter.

Mr. Savage seconded.

The Chairman—Let them write to the Duke of Devonshire or his agents.

Mr. Daly—We have other business to do. This has been before us for many months past.

Mr. Lynch said they should hear both sides.

After a further protracted discussion, should be informed of the facts and let them act.

This was agreed to.

Workmen's Wages The Clerk stated that the men employed on the Sea Wall complained that they received no pay for a month and he was directed to write to the Co. Council asking that they be paid fortnightly.

Road Traffic Some discussion took place on the new Control of Road Traffic Act.

Mr. Power said it would appear from the report of their previous meeting that some members had complained of the speed of the buses regularly going through the town. He didn't think there was any ground for such a complaint.

Mr. Whelan said he had not the slightest intention of complaining of the speed of the regular buses. His remarks referred to the touring buses that came along during the summer months when the place was crowded with visitors.

Mr. Smyth said that the Cork-Waterford bus drivers were most careful going through the town.

The Chairman said as a motorist himself, he could bear witness to the excellent "road manners" of the local bus drivers. They treated the public with every consideration. Complaints were made of the parking of cars, sometimes on both sides of the road in the narrowest thoroughfares in the town, especially in the North Main street and Friar street.

Mr. Whelan said there should be a speed limit fixed for the town and Strand. It was ultimately decided to appoint a Committee to confer with the Civic Guards, with a view to drawing up special regulations.

Sympathy On the proposition of Mr. Cashman, seconded by Mr. Condon, and joined in by all present, a vote of sympathy was passed to Miss Pyne and her brother on the death of their sister.

Mental Hospital Water Supply The County M.O.H. wrote regarding the proposed new water main to serve the Youghal Mental Hospital.

The present main originally served the Mental Hospital only, but since its construction and extension to houses at the Strand and numerous tapings to other houses along the course, including two new housing schemes had taken place. The consumption of water in the Mental Hospital had of recent months averaged 67,000 gallons per week, but the contemplated extension of this Institution and the associated increase in the number of inmates would necessarily considerably increase the daily consumption.

He understood that for some years past, complaints had been made in regard to scarcity of water in the Institution, the last occasion being in May 1937, at which time there wasn't sufficient water for bathing purposes. Defects in the piping and fittings within the Institution were found to be responsible for considerable leakages in 1933 and 1934, upon one occasion it being found that some 52,000 gallons were being wasted every 24 hours. In the opinion of the Engineer, the present shortage of water was not caused by any internal leakage defect, but was attributable to the periodical depletion of the supply in the main by reason of the numerous tapings; that deficiency in the Institution being more marked during the summer months. He was informed that the lengths of the main had been inspected in regard to the presence of corrosion and that the deficiency could not be attributed to that cause. It would appear, therefore, that the shortage of water in the Institution was definitely due to the demand now made upon the existing main and the proposal of the Council was to construct a new 5" main from the existing Reservoir to the Institution a lineal distance of 830 yards, at a cost of £620, that main to be utilized solely for the supply of the hospital. The present water revenue from the Institution approximated £200 p.a., and the cost of the new Scheme would be defrayable by a loan over a period of 10 years with a negligible cost on the rates. Two large storage tanks were to be built at the Hospital and would serve in conjunction with the new Scheme. From the information available and having regard to the proposed extension in the buildings he was of opinion that the provision of the new and independent water main was a necessary work.

YOUGHAL MENTAL HOSPITAL At the usual monthly meeting of the above there attended Very Rev. D. Canon Dinneen, D.D., P.P., Rev. D. Duane, C.C., and Dr. M. Twomey, P.C., Visiting Surgeon.

Manager's Report The Manager's report stated that since last meeting one male patient had been admitted from the Cork Mental Hospital, one patient had been transferred and one patient died leaving in residence at present a total of 223 patients (220 men and 177 women). Contracts had been satisfactorily carried out during the month. The water supply was unsatisfactory on a few occasions. Reports of Insurance Inspector on Boilers and Dynamos, and also report of Stocktaker, were submitted. The condemnations were ready for the Committee's inspection. Cheques value £36 17s. 11d., had been received for the sale of 39 barrels of barley, £15 7s. 11d., for 26 barrels of oats; £23 8s. 0d., for the sale of 5 pigs and £50 towards the maintenance of patients. These amounts had been lodged to the credit of the Mental Hospital Account. The receipt of Pictorials and Magazines were acknowledged with thanks from Miss Evans, South Abbey, Miss Dunny, Market Square and Mrs. Russell, the Strand, Youghal.

The Doctor's Report The Doctor's report was as follows:— Since my last report there has been one death. Five patients are confined to bed on the male side of the house and seven on the female side owing to debility and other causes. There has been no case of scabies resistant, injury or violence. The water supply has been defective on a few occasions. The food supplies have been regularly examined and found up to standard requirements. There has been no case of zymotic disease, and the general health of the Institution is excellent.

Tenders Tenders for the supply of tea and coal were received and directed to be forwarded to the Cork Committee.

Farm Steward's Report The farm Steward reported that the usual work was being done. The corn had been threshed and proved fairly satisfactory—40 barrels of barley and 65 barrels of white oats. Seven pigs had been killed and 5 sold, leaving 13 in stock. He advised getting 10 stores at next fair.

MID-DEISE MEMS.

The "Irish Press" issue dated the 17th inst. carried a most interesting and informative article about Ring Irish College and its bright and bracing environs, from the pen of Cathiona McLeod, step-daughter of Mr. P. J. Little, T.D., Parliamentary Secretary to the President of the Executive Council.

That was a splendid sermon our beloved Bishop preached at the consecration of Most Rev. Dr. Browne, in the Pro-Cathedral of St. Nicholas, Galway, on Sunday last. Warning the people "against those false prophets, few indeed in number, who desert the episcopal office and seek to rouse hostility against it." His Lordship went on to say: "The Bishops are flesh of your flesh and bone of your bone. Nurtured from childhood in the best traditions of the race, their love for their motherland is only less than their love for God and His Church."

Since his advent to the pastoral charge of the united parishes of Clonca-Power and Faha and Ballylonegan, the Very Rev. James Nugent, P.P., has been busy with the carrying out of many much-needed improvements to the Churches and schools therein. An extensive series of renovations have just been completed at Clonca-Power, as a result of which the local schools present as up-to-date an appearance as any similar structures situated elsewhere in the country. His good parishioners have a great gradh in their esteem of Fr. Nugent, and for his equally estimable Curates—Father Shine and Father O'Brian.

Latest clerical changes in this Diocese made by the Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, include the transfer of the Rev. Patrick O'Farrell, C.C., from Stradbally to Dungarvan. Fr. O'Farrell has ministered in the combined parishes of Stradbally, Faha and Ballylonegan over the past six years, and young and old parishioners deeply regret his departure, he being a firm favourite of all. His Reverence is a typical Tipperary-born Sogarth; he is large-minded, yea, large-hearted, reflecting the characteristics of the Great High Priest Who was "all things to all men." He is great as an organiser and is a very distinguished preacher. Kindly Fr. O'Farrell is rich in the esteem of all who know him and in the affection of the people with whom he lived and for whom he laboured during the last six years. He bears with him to the Old Borough the good wishes of all for his continued success in the service of God and souls.

It was in Liverpool one morning this week that a Bonmahon man, having been asked to pay four and six for a meal—breakfast—he had enjoyed, protested thus with audible indignation. "Four and six! For bacon and two eggs! Why, man, I could get two hens for that where I came from!"

Ever notice how well women hold the roads in the afternoon? It was a kindly Civic Guard who pointed out to us the interesting fact that there are almost as many women drivers on the roads in the afternoon as men. When husband's away the modern wife does not sit at home and knit, at least, not every afternoon. No, she takes out the family car—if there is one. Idea behind this par, is to warn male drivers of the additional care to be taken during the hours preceding the close of the business day. Watch out for those woman drivers!

We read this before somewhere, and were reminded of it when we spotted it on an office wall in Portlaw yesterday— Yesterday is dead—forget it, Tomorrow does not exist—don't worry, Today is here—use it.

A Kilmacshonan man is employed by the committee in charge of the first cat-racing track in the world, which opened in England recently and is a great success. The technique employed is similar to that of greyhound racing, but instead of a hare the cats chase an electric mouse over a 220 yards course, each cat wearing a coloured ribbon round its neck. The cats run at half the speed of the greyhounds but show more intelligence. Fabbies are the best racers.

It may be news to many that there is a Board of Greenkeeping Research, considering the problem of the leather jacket. The grub has become such a menace to golf courses, especially on the western and southern seaboard, that greenkeepers are in despair. Those in the Deise interested in the matter should take heed of the fact that there is a simple emulsion which includes orthochlorobenzene for conquering the pest. A word of such numerical comprehensiveness is staggering to your simple scribbler, but the emulsion is so alluring that they come to the surface at once and leave themselves vulnerable. Then is the time for their annihilation. The "War" on leather jackets is proceeding on many golf fronts with the result that everywhere the enemy is being routed.

CARRICK-ON-SUIR HOUSING SCHEME

Messrs. Rigby, Builders, Clonmel, are making good progress with the building of 107 houses for Carrick-on-Suir Urban Council. The houses will be let to working class families at from 3/9 to 4/1 a week and will replace 107 slum houses condemned some time ago. A further scheme for 100 houses to replace another large condemned slum area is under consideration.

SAINT ANTHONY WONDER-WORKER I

Clients of Saint Anthony, seeking favours through his intercession are reminded for an offering for 1937 for "St. ANTHONY'S BREAD" and LAMP at Shrine at Convent of Mercy, Stradbally, Co. Waterford.

A CARRICK LIBRARY

A North of Ireland Correspondent writing in a Waterford paper, says:— I have been a long while threatening to call upon Mr. Sean O'Flynn, Carrick-on-Suir, and the pleasure came off on Wednesday. My subject is an extraordinary man, and I really owe him an apology for the visit was tied down to a half hour. As I saw and listened to this unique and learned gentleman expounding on his books, I had difficulty in deciding whether he was an orator or a teacher, but none as to his being an enthusiast!

All his books are reprinted in delightful order—Irish and English history, classics, a poet's corner, fiction, and so on. Ever and anon he would draw forth a particular gem, enlarge upon some aspect of the volume, and then on another. Here, I mused, was a 1937 vintage of O'Donovan or Charles Kickham! Whilst my subject is an uncorruptible Gael, the wonderful range and selection of the library suggests a mind of wide reading, and therefore, of balanced judgment. Mr. O'Flynn lives mentally in no parish atmosphere for the world (in book form) is at his elbow. But as I looked with covetous eyes at these possessions, I mused: was he putting them to the best use? True, he himself has absorbed them, and what a pity this knowledge is not being disseminated by lecture, or in condensed form from his pen. Frankly, I was amazed at the discovery of this literary mine, and by the charm of its owner. I want this scholarly Waterford man to go further.

THE SOW'S MILKING ABILITY

A MOST IMPORTANT CONSIDERATION.

There is one question in relation to the pig industry which has hardly received the attention from pig-breeders that it rightly deserves—that is, the sow's capacity for producing milk. The breeder is anxious that the litter should be large; that there should be at least 12 pigs in each lot sired, and that the youngsters should be vigorous at birth and thrive and rapid in growth. You may be assured by the employment of healthy and vigorous parents and by feeding both with liberality and care, but to ensure growth it is not sufficient to provide plenty of food for the use of the sow. Whatever her age, size or breed, she is worthless as a money-making animal if she is a bad milker. We are all aware that there are some dairy cows which do not provide a sufficient quantity of milk to pay for their keep, such cattle are, of course, disposed of. They are worthless for the business in which they are engaged. But how many persons are there who breed pigs who take the slightest trouble to ascertain whether a sow is a good milker or not? There are some astute men who are guided by the appearance of the udder after the litter has been born, and if it is not sufficiently prominent they sell the animal at the first opportunity. A sow cannot be stripped of her milk like a cow, and hence it is impossible for the average individual to ascertain, approximately, what quantity of milk she yields. A sow with ten or twelve pigs cannot possibly rear them to advantage if she is a bad milker, and very often the presence of one, two or three small pigs in the litter is probably owing to the imperfect supply of milk which is yielded by the sow. It is well known that the milk produced in some of the teats is smaller in quantity than that obtained from others, and as every little pig has its own teat, it follows that they do not obtain a sufficiently large supply of milk to satisfy their requirements and enable them to thrive to advantage.

A bad milking sow, then, is worse than no sow at all, because she loses money instead of gaining it. It has recently been shown that by drawing milk from one or more teats when the young pigs are feeding from their dam the amount of milk to be secreted is increased, but a good deal of patience and experience is needed to succeed in this procedure. The pigs feed several times daily, and the milk is not let down until they feed. The milk, to fall off in quantity from week to week until the fourth week, until the eighth week or slightly before, depending on the quantity produced is not much more than one-half the yield in the fourth. A sow may produce up to 14 lbs. in a day during the fourth week and as little as 3 lbs. and, therefore, it is not difficult to see how impossible it is to expect well-grown youngsters where the dam is an inferior milker.—J. L.

GAEIC NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROFGG"

Today's revived All-Ireland ended in a decisive victory for Kerry but, from the spectators' point of view, it was a disappointing game. The players seemed on edge as a result of the nervous tension worked up by weeks of suspense and play, as a consequence, was little and scrappy. The players' incessant whistle made rags of the game and gave the majority of the spectators a pain in the neck. Just picture four dozen fouls whistled up for fouls, accidents, wides, scores and duns, and you will not mind the stoppages line being drawn. About the only time the whistle did not sound was when Miko Doyle, who was at his mercy, was crashed down by a chimney stack, however, a referee's decision by charging in to influence a particular brand of punishment on the offending Cavan player—an inter-incident caused no little excitement. There was little occasion for all the whistling, for most of the fouls were of a minor technical nature and might very well have been passed over. But, alas! Superstitious referees converted the most glamorous game of 1937 into a thing of street and patches.

Next Saturday the National Hurling League opens with a flourish. The most interesting game on the programme is the Limerick-Waterford duel in the Ennis Road Gaelic grounds. For the Deies it is the most crucial game in the League—they are faced with an obstacle far more formidable than that which they almost swept aside on that never-to-be-forgotten Sunday in Clonmel. Now, they have to meet a renitented Limerick on their own sod, wary opponents who will have profited much by the sharp lessons administered in the Munster Championship. The Garryowen team has strengthened its weak spots and takes the field full of confidence in their ability to stage a spectacular come-back. The young Deise team is quietly determined and, while fully alive for the tremendous odds pitted against them, are quite sanguine of confirming Clonmel form and even going one better. Here is the probable Waterford line-out—

- George O'Grady (goal)
M. Hickey C. Ware J. Fanning
Portlaoigh Erin's Own Erins Own
Doyle Walsh J. Kane J. Mountain
Portlaoigh Mt. Sion St. Stephen's
A. Greaney C. Moylan
Dungraun Dungraun
W. Harter J. Malpa Bill Lynch
Dungraun Dungraun Mt. Sion
D. Power Dee. Goode Bill Harney
Portlaoigh Dungraun Portlaoigh

The S. B. H. line-out—J. Neill, J. Healy (Portlaoigh), P. O'Connor (Mt. Sion) and J. Ware (Dees Own).

It will be noted that there are four changes on the team—Cahill, Sheehan, Daly and Power being replaced by O'Grady, Greaney, Power and Harney respectively. So much interest is being taken in the game that several buses are being run to the 'Clay from Waterford, Dungraun and other places.

For the vast majority of Deise Gaels, who cannot manage the Shannon trip, Dungraun Gaelic Field will be the rendezvous next Sunday. The long-awaited clash between the star football combinations of Kilsenny and Glenna na h-Ulaidhe is on the programme—could one ask for better? Fevish speculation is ripe as to the composition of the rival teams and the outcome of the struggle.

Little need to remind Western "fans" that both teams have been way above junior class in their respective groups this year and that a battle royal is a certainty. "What will Matty Ryan do?" is the question on hundreds of lips. It's the off-recurring problem of the Old Love and a new allegiance. Will the old Kilsenny full-back be the barrier to the victorious advance of the new Kilsenny team? What a tactical touch it would be if the championship hopes of Dav Walsh and his Comers; footballers were wrecked by their old stalwart comrade, now such a bulwark in the defence of their Nine rivals.

Physically, the lads from Glenna na h-Ulaidhe are a magnificent body of men, big of bone and broad of shoulder, and their knowledge of the more subtle tactics of football has bewildered all West Waterford this year. Kilsenny, while not so imposing in physique, have a fast bunch of natural footballers who know by instinct just what to do with the ball. There will be no dull moments in this hectic struggle and it would not surprise me in the least if the boat ended all-square, so little is there between the rivals on merit.

Prior to the football tussle, Dungraun minors will have an opportunity of averting the defeat inflicted on their Senior Hurlers in the County Final by Portlaoigh. These minor contestants have never met before and their form is more or less a closed book. Their path to the final was rendered easy by the elimination or disqualification, for one reason or another, of the favoured minor teams of P. H. Peare's, St. Catharine's, Tallow and Cloney. The minor competitors have cut up very badly this year. Nevertheless, these youngsters ought to serve up first-class hurling fare and if the Old Boro marksmen can shoot better than their seniors then they should annex the Minor Hurling Crown. A few inter-county players figure on both teams, Sheridan, Morrissey and Murry from Dungraun and Nolan with Portlaoigh.

The Bishop Hackett Hurling Cup Competition will have a much wider appeal this year as the entries have increased. Waterpark College and Waterford Technical School are the newcomers. An effort was made to open in Clonmel and Carrick schools, but without success. It is a pity that this move failed for the inclusion of these 'Tertiary' teams would have given an inter-county flavour to the Cup Contest. The age limit was fixed at 18 with an extension of one year in favour of a few players from the smaller schools whose resources are limited. Herewith is the Draw and a list of the fixtures made—

- (a) Scoll na mBrathar, Lios Mor v. Scoll na nCeard, Portlaoigh.
(b) Scoll na mBrathar, Dungraun v. Pairc an Uige, Portlaoigh.
(c) Colaiste na Mainistreach, Dungraun v. Cnoc Sica, Portlaoigh.

MID-DEISE MEMS.

A period of feverish anticipation in Gaelic circles had its culmination on Sunday last, when more than 50,000 people witnessed the Kerry-Cavan replay. There was no escaping the thrill and underlying excitement heralding this big battle. In the railway carriage, on the streets, and under the eaves of the houses, the Kingdon's duty-doers against the braves of Bredin afforded much speculative discussion. Such an enthusiastic good-humoured hosting! The clime clerk was in his very best mid-October mood. The colours of the opposing sides were proudly sported by their respective supporters. The teams took the field in the wake of five bands. Baba's youngest Bishop set the match in motion. It was a stern struggle for supremacy. Kerry's every player proved staunch and reliable in all emergencies. Five of Cavan's "key" men were injured. Jim Smith's early retirement was a bad blow for the northerners, who went down fighting fearlessly to the finish. We have seen cleaner football finals. However, Sunday's set-to stands out on its own as a hell-for-leather heroic clash. Honours for Kerry. Cheers for Cavan! Heroes all! Victory and vanquished are a credit to our country. Bravo, Kerry! Bravo, Cavan!

Mid-Deise listeners to Fr. Hamilton's broadcast of the Trojan team were right well pleased with his Reverence's masterly description of its every phase.

Last Monday night's fog was the dearest remembrance in our midst for a long time. The month is keeping delightfully dry and mild. The merry tilt of the little lark as he wings his flight on high these mornings is surely a soulful treat.

The Kilsenny football team to play Glenah-Ulaidhe on Sunday will be picked from the following—P. Veale, T. Veale, M. Veale, D. Walsh, P. Walsh, "Maister" Moroney, M. Whelan, "Fios" Dalton, W. Power, J. Loneragan, M. McGuire, R. McGuire, L. Croft, P. Fitzgerald, M. Fitzgerald, J. Power, J. Drohan and J. Kelt.

KNOCKANORE PAROCHIAL FUND.

From an advertisement in another column it will be seen that the Final for the great "45 Drive" in aid of the Church Funds at Knockanore will be played in the Schools, Knockanore, on Sunday, October 31st, commencing at 2 o'clock, sharp.

The Rev. Fr. Morrissey, since his appointment as Adm., of the parish has always proved himself a most zealous and enterprising Priest who is most anxious to improve the condition of the three Catholic Churches and the various schools under his control.

He has already expended a heavy outlay on the carrying out of these necessary improvements, and he now confidently relies on the generosity and great Catholic Spirit of the parishioners to help to equip him for his outlay, and also enable him to carry out still further improvements in the near future. The "45 Drive," which has been organized by a Committee of the leading parishioners, now affords a grand opportunity to all, and we hope the event will be generously supported by the people of Knockanore and the surrounding parishes.

After the Final on Sunday night, 31st, a Grand Collide will be held from 10 o'clock to 2 a.m., and as such attractive dances are very rare in the parish, this enjoyable function should be attended by a record crowd on the occasion.

DEATH OF MRS. H. O'SHEA, CAPPOQUIN

DOUBLE BEREAVEMENT IN ONE FAMILY

The death of Mrs. Hannah O'Shea, Barack Street, Cappoquin, which occurred on Saturday, 16th inst., proved the second bereavement in the same family within a fortnight, for it was only less than twelve days previously that the wife of her son, Mr. Thomas O'Shea, had died, and she was then in such good health as to be able to attend her funeral as one of the chief mourners, which makes the passing of this lady all the more poignant and pathetic.

The late Mrs. O'Shea was the wife of Mr. Michael O'Shea, who is, and has been for a long number of years, a faithful and trusted employee of the Convent of Mercy Community, Shanbally, Cappoquin. A native of Ballymartin, Tallow, she had been a resident of Cappoquin for a prolonged period, and during her long residence in the town she was always noted for her quiet, gentle and charming manner, and her kind and unassuming disposition, which had made her one of the most popular and respected inhabitants in the town. During the rather prolonged illness of her daughter-in-law she had devoted most of her attention and energies to the care and nursing of her young grand-children, in addition to her ordinary household duties, and this had proved such a strain on her health that when she became ill on Monday week her strength quickly sapped, and she died a most peaceful and happy death on Saturday after she had received the last ministrations of the Catholic Church from the Rev. P. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin, who was most attentive towards her to the last.

Deceased had reared a large family of boys and girls, all of whom are held in the highest respect in Cappoquin, while her husband is one of its most popular and esteemed inhabitants, and the deepest sympathy of all classes of the town-people is now extended to all the members of her family in their sad bereavement.

The remains were removed from her late residence to St. Mary's R.C. Church on Sunday evening, and were followed by a large and representative funeral which proved the deep sense of regret felt by all at the passing of such a popular lady, as well as the general respect felt for her afflicted husband and family.

The coffin was received at the Church by the Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., and after Requiem Mass for the repose of her soul on Monday morning, the funeral took place later on that day to St. Declan's cemetery, Droimgea, Cappoquin, when the cortege proved one of the largest and most respectable seen passing through Cappoquin for several years. The funeral was headed by the Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin, who later recited the final prayers at the graveside. The chief mourners were—Michael O'Shea (husband), Thomas, John, Michael, Paddy and Joe O'Shea (Church); Mrs. P. Daly, Mrs. T. Devaney, and the Misses Nellie, Maggie, Kathleen and Lizzie O'Shea (daughters); Patrick Daly and Thomas Devaney (sons-in-law); Michael McGrath, Ballymartin, Tallow (brother); Mrs. B. Healy, do. (sister); Mrs. Julia McGrath, do. (sister); Mrs. McGrath, do. (sisters-in-law); John McGrath, do. (nephew).

R. N. L. S. YOUGHAL BRANCH

ANNUAL MEETING

At the Annual meeting of the Youghal Branch at the Devonshire Arms Hotel, Mr. J. C. Condon, Chairman, presided and the officials present were—Col. Roch, President, Messrs. J. F. McGrath, Hon. Treas., and A. Nelson Cole, Hon. Sec.

Commander Upton, R.N.R., I.R.D., was also in attendance. The Annual Report and Accounts were read and adopted.

Commander Upton, gave a detailed report of the work done at Youghal during the year. The boat had been completely electrified and a modern searchlight and Morse headmast light installed. A full survey of the boat had also been carried out. The electrification of the boat was in accordance with the policy of bringing the smaller class of boats fully up-to-date. The Youghal Station was one of the no-trouble stations there were fortunate in having a coxswain and mechanic living near the station ready to quickly answer any night calls. The boat was in excellent order and condition.

The following letter was read—

Dear Sir,—I am very glad to have the Branch Statement of receipts and payments for the year ending 30th September, and once again I have the pleasure of expressing our warm appreciation of the generous support we continue to receive and for which we are deeply grateful to you as our Hon. Sec., your Committee, the members of the Ladies Life-boat Guild and all who have by service or contribution assisted the work of the Lifeboats during the past year.

In 1936 eleven new motor lifeboats were built and placed in service and this year no less than 26 new motor lifeboats are being built. The cost of these boats varies from £300 for the largest, the 44 ft. cabin lifeboat, to £300 for the smallest the 32 ft. surface lifeboat. The annual cost of upkeep for each of the 130 motor lifeboats in the fleet is more than twice that of the old pulling and sailing boats.

You will appreciate from these figures the heavy expenditure involved in carrying out the programme of providing and maintaining the lifeboat fleet today, but take in our constant endeavour by research and experiment to increase its future efficiency. The fact that we are able to proceed with this work is in itself a wonderful tribute to the enthusiasm and devotion of our Branch Officials and helpers, who, year after year assisted in raising the necessary funds. We gratefully acknowledge our indebtedness to you all and thank you sincerely for all that you have done and are doing in this connection.—Yours faithfully—C. R. SCATTERHWAITE, A. Nelson Cole, Esq., Ph. C., F.R.I.S., Sec., Youghal Branch.

LISMORE DISTRICT COURT.

DANCE HALL LICENCE Mr. M. M. Hally, Solr., Waterford, applied on behalf of Mr. Commissioner Moylhan (Waterford Co. Council) for a dance hall licence for Lismore Court, Lismore, which is under the control of the Commissioner.

He said he wanted a licence for four all-night dances from 10 p.m. to 4 a.m., and thought there would be no objection on the part of Supt. Quinn, Lismore. The Justice said that four all-night dances for the year seemed a small number to apply for, as he was of the opinion they would require more than that. Would it not be better if Mr. Hally now applied for a larger number instead of coming before the Court later and making a fresh application as had happened in other cases.

Mr. Hally then increased his application from four to twelve all-night dances from 10 p.m. to 4 a.m., and Supt. Quinn stating that he had no objection, the licence was granted.

Claims For Relief of Rats. Mr. Hally, Solr., next appeared for Mr. Commissioner Moylhan in two cases brought at the suit of the Waterford Co. Council against two local farmers for having made false returns as regards the number of workmen employed by them for the purpose of receiving a relief in their rates.

Mr. Hally said he was satisfied that in these cases the incorrect returns were made through a misapprehension on the part of the defendants, and not for the purpose of defrauding the Council. Mr. E. A. Ryan, Supt. Solr., Dungraun, jointly remarked that he objected to Mr. Hally acting as advocate for the man he was prosecuting (laughter).

Mr. Hally, continuing, said in view of all the facts he would not press for a penalty, provided the defendants agreed to pay the costs in each case. This they agreed to do, and the Justice then dismissed both cases, but ordered the defendants to pay 20s. and 30s. costs, respectively.

Unstamped Insurance Cards. The National Health Insurance Commissioners summoned Thomas Healy, Droimgea, Aglish, for having failed to stamp the emp eye-ys who were engaged as fishermen by him. Mr. E. A. Ryan, Supt. Solr., Dungraun, appeared on behalf of the Commissioners and Mr. T. K. Keane, Sdr., Youghal, represented the defendant.

Mr. Ryan said there were certain peculiar features in this case, as it was held by the defendant that as fishermen were only temporarily engaged by him during the salmon-fishing season, they were not liable to insurance the same as other workers, and the point raised was of such great importance to the owners of fishing-boats

NEW BIRD CAGES
Have you seen the new "Genycage" bird cages? You should if you are going to buy one. They are extremely decorative in a variety of colours. The cage part is of solid brass wire and very strong. From the point of view of utility or decorative value you are sure to be more than pleased with the new "Genycages." And they are seed-proof too—a tremendous asset in a birdcage in keeping the seed within the cage. Get in touch with Harpur Bros., The Quay, Waterford about these new "Genycages." They are just what you want.

WATERFORD BOARD OF PUBLIC HEALTH

THE LABOURERS ACTS, 1832 TO 1931, AS AMENDED BY THE HOUSING (FINANCIAL AND MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS) ACT, 1932

WATERFORD COUNTY HEALTH DISTRICT LABOURERS (NON-MUNICIPAL TOWNS) ORDER, 1937

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the Minister for Local Government and Public Health in pursuance of the powers vested in him by the Housing (Financial and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1932, on the 2nd October, 1937 confirmed (with modifications) an order submitted to him by Simon James Moylhan (hereinafter referred to as "the Commissioner") the person for the time being exercising and performing the powers and duties of the Waterford Board of Public Health, authorising the Commissioner to purchase compulsorily for the purposes of the above-mentioned Acts the lands described in the Schedule thereto.

A Copy of the Confirming Order and of the map referred to therein has been deposited at the Secretary's Office, County Home, Dungraun, and may be seen at all reasonable hours.

Particulars of the lands to be acquired as authorised by the Confirming Order are set out in the Schedule hereto. The Order will become operative at the expiration of three weeks from the date of this advertisement, but if proceedings in the High Court are instituted within that period by any aggrieved person desirous of questioning the validity of the Order, the Court may, if satisfied that the Order is not within the powers of the Act or that the interests of the applicant have been substantially prejudiced by any requirement of the Act not having been complied with, quash the Order either generally or in so far as it affects any property of the applicant.

SCHEDULE
Table with columns: No. on Map deposited at the Office of the Board, Number of Ordnance Sheet, Name of District, etc., in which Land is situated, Quantity of Land. Rows include various districts like Dungraun, Lismore, Youghal No. 2, KilmacThomas, Waterford No. 1, etc.

Dated this 8th day of October, 1937.
