DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL

Mr. Mr. Morrissey, T.D., Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday last. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman, P. Byrne, D. Foley, J. Christopher, M. Caney, J. Dahill, J. F. Foley, P. Quinn, and James Mansfield.

Paysheet
 A paysheet for the week's wages amounting to £14 11s. 6d., was presented and passed.

Repairs To Hall
 Mr. McCarthy asked if the Department had yet sanctioned the repairs to the Town Hall.

Mr. McCarthy said it is over 4 months since the Council passed this. Last week the Hall was let to an Opera Company and the artists, when it was necessary to change, had to come down through the body of the hall to the Green Room. He thought a resolution should go to the Department from the Council asking them to sanction the repairs.

Chairman—The Department sent down an enquiry about it. Did they get the information they required?

B.S.—Not yet. I will have it before the next meeting.

Mr. McCarthy—That is too bad. The underneath portion of the Hall is in a very bad state.

Mr. Clancy—Would sanction be necessary in this case?

Mr. Clancy said he agreed with Mr. McCarthy. The Hall is a disgrace to the town. He asked if the repairs could be done out of revenue.

The Chairman said he thought the intention was to raise a loan and make a good job of it.

Mr. Clancy questioned the wisdom of any heavy expenditure considering the condition of the roof, and suggested omitting some of the items which could be replaced by proper lavatories and having the floor of the upstairs lavatory tiled.

The Chairman said a deputation of the Council met on two occasions and decided on certain necessary improvements and he thought it would be better to leave any further suggestions until the report of the B.S. is before the next meeting.

This course was approved.

Allotment Plots
 A letter read from the Department of Agriculture with reference to the claim made by the Council for a grant under the acquisition of Land (Allotments) Act, stating that the claims should have been accompanied by certified copies of all tenders submitted for the supply of allotment requisites.

The price of a collection of seeds and manures at £1 12s. is made above the average price in other districts, particulars should be given of the steps taken to obtain requisites at more reasonable rates.

The Clerk stated that he had asked for quotations from five Seedsmen, but received only one tender.

Mr. Clancy—informs the Department of that fact.

Mr. Clancy—I have already done so.

Clerk of Works to Housing Scheme
 The Minister for Local Government and Public Health wrote inquiring whether in the appointment of Mr. P. Brady, B.E., as Clerk of Works for the scheme of 130 houses, the procedure set out in this Department's Circular letter of 16th May, 1934, was adopted.

The letter also requested that particulars referred to in that letter together with minutes of meeting at which the appointment was made should be forwarded.

The Clerk stated the matter had been attended to.

Sewerage Scheme
 Messrs. McCaffrey and O'Carroll, Contractors for the new sewerage scheme wrote stating that they will soon require some money to keep the show going and should feel obliged if they will be informed of the date of the next financial meeting. Also the date on which the certificate should be in your hands prior to the meeting.

Mr. Clancy—We have a certificate for £500 and as soon as we get an instalment I will notify them.

The Water Scheme
 Messrs. Delap and Waller, wrote—With reference to your letter of the 20th ult., enclosing copy of letter from the Department. We had an interview with Mr. Fitzpatrick, Junior, and have arranged with him for an account to be made out for the value of all work done up to 8th October 1937, the date of his father's death. This we can certify and forward shortly with the suggestion that the new contract which is to be signed by Mr. Fitzpatrick, Junior, for the remainder of the work, can be for the work as a whole as set out in the original document less the value of the work carried out to 8th October. Mr. Fitzpatrick, Junior, has informed us that he is quite prepared to have an agent on the works with qualifications and experience called for.

Chairman—Has Mr. Williams done anything?

Clerk—The letter only came today, and I have a copy for Mr. Williams and one for Mr. Fitzpatrick.

Chairman—It is the opinion of our solicitor that a new bond should be entered into?

Clerk—Yes.
 This was approved by the Council.

Mr. Williams solr., also wrote regarding the claim of Mr. Dalton, Deelish, at the previous meeting, regretting that he did not make matters more clear in his letter of 29th inst. He had since seen Dalton and Dalton informed him that if the additional £20 compensation was paid to him he will not require a second water-tough. Dalton says it would be no use to him in the proposed position on the roadside.

Mr. J. F. Foley—What would the tank cost?

B.S.—In or about £20.
 Mr. Dahill said they should stick to their specification and sit tight.

Mr. Quinn—The Council were prepared to lose with the tank. I don't know how much.

Mr. J. F. Foley suggested giving Dalton £15 which would clear up everything.

Mr. Quinn—As you were going to build a tank, you are giving nothing away.

B.S.—You would also have the upkeep cost of the tank.

Mr. Dahill asked if the tank was included in the contract.

B.S.—No. That was a compromise with Dalton after the contract was signed.

Mr. J. F. Foley proposed that the sum of £15 be paid to Mr. Dalton in lieu of the tank.

Mr. Clancy seconded.
 The resolution was passed and the Clerk was directed to ask Mr. Williams to speed up the transfer of the lands.

Who should Report Progress
 Mr. Mansfield asked what the present position at the waterworks is. Have they yet found the rock?

The Chairman said it is extraordinary. The Clerk has Consulting Engineers, and a Clerk of Works on the job and not one of the members knows how things are going on. Who is responsible for sending in reports?

B.S.—The Clerk of Works reports weekly to the Consulting Engineers.

The Clerk said he had various reports from the Clerk of Works which he required for the Department, regarding the number of men employed and the number employed through the Exchange.

Mr. Quinn—To my mind it is from the Consulting Engineer and not from the Clerk of Works the reports should come here.

Mr. Christopher—What was the precedent in former schemes, was it from the Clerk of Works or the Architects that reports came to the Council.

After much further discussion the Clerk was directed to write to the Consulting Engineers and inform them that the Council would require a weekly report on the progress of the work.

Repairs to Houses
 Complaints from tenants of eight houses, the property of the Council, were read and referred to the B.S. for report.

The Weighbridge
 A letter was read from Messrs. Avey's Ltd., Cork, asking if any decision had been come to in connection with the information supplied by them regarding modern Road Weigh-Bridges, and stating they are at the service of the Council to provide any additional information and advice that may be needed.

Clerk—In connection with that, I wrote to the Department on the question of a grant, but have not heard from them since.

The Clerk was asked to write to the Department again.

The Contractor
 Mr. Dahill asked if the contractor had signed the bonds during the week.

Clerk—He has not done anything.
 Mr. Clancy—It is an awkward position for the Council.

Mr. Dahill said he thought Mr. Walsh should take over the Weigh-house and get someone in for a week and advertise again.

The Clerk said that Hackett is prepared to hand over the keys at a moment's notice.

Mr. Clancy asked would it be a great inconvenience if it was closed up.
 Clerk—It would be a public inconvenience.

Mr. Dahill—Mr. Walsh should take over on Monday morning if the bonds are not signed in the meantime.

Chairman—There is no use in leaving ourselves open to surcharge any longer. Let Mr. Walsh take it over on Monday morning and put in a man.

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC HEALTH.

Commissioner Moynihan, administering the affairs of the County, at in the Secretary's Office, Co. Home, on Wednesday dealt with matters arising under the Board of Health.

Appointment of Clerk of Works Ardmore Water Scheme
 Twelve applications for the position of Clerk of Works to the Ardmore Water Works Scheme were received, viz:—

O'Brien, B.E., Sunday's Well, Cork; F. P. Holland, B.E., Foster St., Galway; A. White, B.E., Kilkullen; P. S. O'Malley, The Mall, Westport; W. I. Morgan, Main Street, Borrisokane; Leo Kelly, Salthill, Co. Galway; J. F. Cantillon, South Terrace, Cork; Ed. Barry, Pope's Road, Cork.

The Commissioner submitted all names and qualifications to Mr. Bowen, B.E., who recommended the appointment of Edward Barry, "The Moorings," Pope's Road, Cork.

Mr. Barry was, therefore, appointed.

Letting of Cottages
 The following cottages were let—Loserkan to Patk. Keohan; Boolekiely to Thomas Regan, Bridawn; Ballindud—John Martin, Patk. Carey, and Thomas Connolly, applied for this cottage.

The letting of the cottage was adjourned pending the inspection of houses at present occupied by some of the applicants by the Medical Officer, Poulboy to Rd. Rossiter; Kilimurran to M. Kennedy, Ballyingary, Kill.

No applications were received for the tenancies of cottages at Carrigenhaha and Moneygorm.

Financial Statement
 The financial statement at 31st October showed a debit balance of £237 15s. 1d.

Vaccination Defaults
 The number of vaccination defaulters notified by Medical Officers were—Cappoquin Dispensary 6; Lismore 28; Ring 2; Clonmel 1.

Poulavanogue Well
 Dr. J. T. Dennehy, Acting Co. M.O.H., reported that the above well which is a source of supply for 9 families (35 persons) is very much open to contamination and recommends that the Engineer make arrangements to prevent contamination and at the same time if possible to augment the supply.

The matter was referred to the Engineer for a report.

Free Milk
 A report was read re the cutting off of the Free Milk supply to the poor children of Kill village.

The matter was referred to the Superintendent Assistance Officer to ascertain if registered suppliers can be obtained.

A similar order was made in the case of the Contractor (Mrs. Kate Thompson, Carrick-on-Suir area) who decided to discontinue owing to the expense in making the changes required under the Dairies' Act.

Notice at Ballinakil
 Mr. R. Moloney, S.S.O., reported that on 9th November, he inspected Power's Nursery at Ballinakil, and found the nuisance reported by Drs. McCarthy, and Higgins, has not yet been abated.

Messrs. Power and Co. Nurserymen, Waterford, wrote stating they would be sorry to think the Board of Health would compel them to defend legal proceedings and pointed out that this nuisance has been collected on the same site for many years, and this is the first complaint. It is essential for the effectual carrying out of the business and is not kept longer than is necessary. When collected fresh in August and September the aroma may not be too pleasant to some, but we have never known that average farmer to object. Once the manure is turned there is no smell and this has already been done.

We question if at the present time anyone passing along the road about 3 yards from the manure, could detect by smell whether there was manure there or not.

You command us to have some 400 loads removed within 14 days, which we think you must agree is a rather tall order. We are prepared to guarantee to remove the manure as soon as our land is ready for it, and we shall be glad to learn that this meets with the approval of the Commissioner.

The matter was referred to Mr. Jephson, Engineer, for a report.

Report of Dr. O'Farrell Co. M.O.H. For October

DISEASES OF ANIMALS' COMMITTEE.

Mr. Thomas Flynn, Chairman, presided at the monthly meeting of the above on Saturday. Messrs. P. B. Sheridan and P. J. Power, were the others in attendance.

Mr. M. B. Prendergast, M.R.C.V.S., Departmental Veterinary Inspector, Messrs. R. P. Byrne, T. Mulcahy, C. P. Hynes, J. J. Walsh and W. Donoghue, County Veterinary Inspectors, were also in attendance.

Sheep Dipping
 The meeting first dealt with reports from the various Veterinary Inspectors in respect of the Dipping Period just concluded, and suggestions to the Committee towards improvements in directions. These suggestions in the report of Mr. Hynes, viz., that the floors of the holding pens at permanent dipping tanks be cemented in order to keep the dip in the tanks clean. That extra portable tanks be procured, and that a clearer dip be used.

As regards the first, the Chairman said they should all approve of that, it is very essential.

Mr. Prendergast, Inspector, said he had been through the county and formed the opinion the Committee have not sufficient portable tanks. At present the Youghal area Inspector has to wait until the Dungarvan area is finished and the same applied in the Waterford area.

Replying to a member, the Secretary said he thought the cost of the two portable tanks would be about £75.

Chairman—How many permanent tanks would be put down for that amount?

Mr. Hynes gave it as his opinion that the travelling tanks would be the cheapest in the end.

Regarding the dip used, the Chairman said the Department had standard dips.

Mr. Hynes—Now that there is compulsory dipping the very best dip should be used. He referred to the fact that in some instances the fly lodged on sheep dipped in Committee tanks 2 days after dipping.

Inspector Prendergast said that there were various approved dips and said that the cause of the fly lodging so quickly after dipping was that the dip is not kept clean.

Mr. Hynes said the farmers in the lowland area around Lismore were willing to pay 1d. a sheep extra in order to get a good dip.

The following resolution was then passed:—

"We consider that, while the provision of permanent concrete tanks would best cater for those lowland centres containing a large sheep population, especially where a two days dipping is desirable the portable dipping apparatus is most suitable and economical for centres where the sheep population is small and variable and, in view of the advisability of having the public dipping of sheep completed before the commencement of the Market Period, we agree to the following proposals, viz.:—That two further portable Dipping Drainers and tanks be provided, one for the Carrick-on-Suir and Waterford areas, and one for use in Youghal Lowland area.

(1) That permanent concrete dipping tanks be erected as follows:—one in Dungarvan Lowland area; two in Lismore and two in Youghal lowland area.

Ring Tanks
 The Department wrote stating that it was considered that a permanent and properly equipped sheep dipping station at Ring would effect considerable improvement on present conditions.

The Committee after a discussion decided that the present arrangements at Ring centre are satisfactory.

Garrycloyne Centre
 The Department wrote stating that the Minister had under consideration a report from one of the sheep dipping inspectors who recently visited Garrycloyne, and considers that the use of this site as a Dipping centre should be discontinued and requesting that a fresh site be selected elsewhere.

The Committee made the following order:—"That the Committee are satisfied that the present site is suitable and that no other site is available.

The Sweep Centre
 The Minister wrote (as a result of a report from the Department) sanctioning a loan of £3,000 for the purpose of carrying out cottage repairs in the County.

Temporary Rate and Rent Inspector
 Mr. J. H. O'Sullivan, Co. Council Secretary, wrote to inform the Board that pending the appointment of a permanent Inspector, Mr. Wm. Fitzgerald of the Co. Council office, has been appointed temporary in lieu of Mr. M. G. McColligan, who has resigned.

The letter was marked approved.

Water Supply to Newtown, Tramore
 A letter from the Committee of the Newtown Golf Club re the supply to Newtown was referred to the Engineer for a report.

Loan of £3,000 for Cottage Repairs
 Mr. Bowen, wrote enclosing list of cottages to be repaired in the area, with report and estimate of cost of repairs in each case.

The Commissioner made an order asking for the month numbered 51, including one stillbirth.

Tuberculosis—During the month there were 98 attendances of all patients at T.B. clinics, which attendances were made up by 68 patients, 16 insured and 52 uninsured. Twelve Domiciliary cases, 6 insured and 6 uninsured, were attended by the T.B. Officer, and 14, insured, by other doctors. Thirteen patients, four insured and nine uninsured, are under treatment in County Institutions, four uninsured patients in other hospitals and one uninsured patient in a Sanatorium.

Four contacts were examined during the month and three spota or other specimens were examined.

District Nurses paid 216 visits to 65 patients and in addition made the following report:—

Number of Dressings—11; Number of Contacts reported—14; Number of Premises requiring Disinfection notified—1; Number of Reports on the Home conditions of new patients—2.

The T.B. Officer made the following recommendations during the month:—12 weeks extension of Domiciliary treatment in five cases, 10 weeks Domiciliary treatment in two cases and 8 weeks Domiciliary treatment in one case, eight and twelve weeks treatment in Heatherside Sanatorium in two cases, treatment in the County Hospital in two cases and in the County Home Hospital in one case.

Maternity and Child Welfare—Jubilee Nurses in their districts throughout the County attended twelve clinics. The attendances were—Mothers, 32; Infants, 18; Children 54.

NUMBER OF SHEEP DIPPED

The following figures were submitted by the Clerk showing the number of sheep dipped at the first dipping in the respective areas. The figures between parenthesis represent the number at the corresponding dipping in 1936:—

Carrick-on-Suir Lowland 1,781 (193); Mountain 8,036 (7,179).

Lismore—Lowland 6,158 (669); mountain 5,394 (5,112).

Waterford—Lowland 1,146 (61). Youghal—2,228 (874).

The Committee expressed satisfaction at the increase in the number of sheep dipped and the amount of fees collected.

HUMANE KILLERS

The Committee (arising out of a letter from the Department of Agriculture) decided to provide Messrs. Byrne, Hynes and Walsh, Veterinary Inspectors, with humane killers for the purpose of the Bovine Tuberculosis Order.

Overtime Worked
 The Committee took no action on applications for allowances for overtime worked in connection with the Sheep Dipping from Messrs. James Lynch and Patrick Foley, contractors for the Lismore and Youghal areas respectively.

PORTLAW "PICKINGS"

There is a war on in Spain. We didn't think it affected us at all until, in a conference the other day, we noticed that...

A friend of mine is fond of unfolding the following funny story concerning the captain of a ship who once wrote in his log...

Collecting seems to be a human weakness. No later than this morning we met a neighbour who showed us five "jokers" taken from packs of playing cards.

Honestly, we were almost shocked when we heard a rightly respected, rate-paying resident of the Rathgormack region who was never heard to use a big, big D...

There was a rare incident on the street outside my home the other day. A man was playing a flute or tin whistle of some sort and making his way slowly along.

Portlaw Spout was but in his seventh year when his schoolmaster asked him to write something introducing the words "analogy" and "antonymy"...

Four foremen have fled from us since we happened to overhear the subjoined scrap of conversation at the southern side of our picturesque-positioned, progressive p.l.e.

Neighbour Thomas Conway of Hacketstown, is the owner of a white Ulster sow, which, in the last eleven months, has given birth to no fewer than 59 bonhams.

Mr. A. J. Madders (Chairman) presided at a largely attended general meeting of the Tannery Hurling and Football Club, which was held in Harney's Hotel here.

All essential arrangements have been excellently affected for the enactment of the initial round of a senior hurling tournament at the local venue (under the aegis and in aid of the Kilmadon Branch of the Gaelic League) on tomorrow (Sunday).

DUNGARVAN CIRCUIT COURT

Before Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C.

Fahy v. Lyons. Mr. Budd, B.L. (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr.,) for plaintiff.

An application on behalf of Mrs. Alice Fahy, for an order entitling her to the balance of the purchase money amounting to £90, realised on the sale of a farm at Knockanafin, Ballymacarby.

By consent in writing dated July 1936, defendant consented to pay the sum of 10/- per week and that plaintiff should not exercise his rights of residence and support in the said dwellinghouse.

Mr. Williams, for James Lyons, said his client found it impossible to support those two people. He would ask his Lordship to make an order that the balance of the money be invested and the interest paid to Alice Fahy.

Mr. Budd, B.L., asked for a declaration that Mrs. Fahy is entitled to the balance of the money in Court.

His Lordship directed the balance in Court to be paid out to Mrs. Fahy.

McCormick v. Power. This was an application by Mr. M. McCormick, Abbeyview, to commit for contempt of an order made by his Lordship, Mary Power, Abbeyview, in respect of the taking down of a fence between plaintiff's and defendant's gardens.

Mr. Molloy, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Farrell, solr.,) for plaintiff.

When the case was called Mr. Molloy said defendant had not done anything to remove the obstruction up to that day. Something had been done that morning and he asked to have the case adjourned to Waterford to give defendant a further chance to carry out the order.

Lismore Estates Co. v. Carroll. This was an application brought by the Lismore Estates Company against M. Carroll, to terminate a grazing agreement between plaintiffs and defendant in respect of certain lands at Townsparks and Ballysaggart, Lismore.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr.,) for applicants.

Replying to his Lordship, the defendant said he was prepared to lodge £25 off the arrears in Court.

It was firmly stressed that in future such unbecoming behaviour will not be countenanced, and with a view to terminating a number of suggested ways and means were adopted.

The meeting appointed the following officers and committee for the coming year:—Messrs. A. J. Madders, N.T., Chairman; R. Coffey, Vice-Chairman; Frank Roche, Hon. Treasurer and Hon. Secretary; and W. Morrissey, C. White, M. Hickey and C. Sullivan. Votes of thanks were passed to the Directors of Irish Tanners, Limited, for their valued co-operation; to Mr. MacLish, who kindly gave the stakes for ralling the Gaelic Field; and to Miss N. Foley (Priestess of the local dance hall) for the splendid assistance rendered by her.

Mr. A. J. Madders (Chairman) presided at a largely attended general meeting of the Tannery Hurling and Football Club, which was held in Harney's Hotel here. The balance sheet revealed a strikingly successful year. Notwithstanding the extensive series of improvements carried out to the local Gaelic grounds plus the purchase of new sets of jerseys, etc., the Club finds itself in the pronouncedly pleasing position of being minus any financial obligations whatever. The senior and minor hurling teams were warmly congratulated on having won the County Championship of the current year in their respective grades, and the determination was enthusiastically expressed to spare no effort in team-building during the coming year. It was decided to tackle the task of putting the local arena into first-class condition early in the New Year. The practice of followers of the Club interfering with visiting players or officials, or with players or officials of the home Club was discussed at some length.

KILMACHTHOMAS NEWS

About A Bull Orphan.—A Comeragh valley cottager is the proud possessor of a hen of the above species which is mothering two kittens.

Hymeneal Chimes.—St. John's Parish Church, Waterford City, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday morning of last week, when Miss Margaret (Peg) Tobin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Tobin, Knock, Stradbally, became the wife of Mr. William (Billy) Gough, son of Mrs. Gough and the late Mr. Edmond Gough, Ballykerogue, do. The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass, was performed by the Rev. T. Ahearne, C.C., St. John's (first-cousin of the bride). The bride, who looked charming, was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Tobin, as bridesmaid, and Mr. Edmond Gough, brother of the bridegroom, acted as best man. The happy couple were made the recipients of numerous costly and serviceable wedding presents. Their troops and legions of friends and well-wishers on all sides locally extend cordial felicitations to both. Mr. and Mrs. Gough are a deservedly popular pair—good luck to them.

With The Waterfords.—Crisp and clear weather favoured the Waterford Hunt's second meet of the season, which took place at 11 o'clock on Saturday morning of last week at the Square, Kilmachthomas. The attendance of the general public was very large, and there was a good field of mounted ladies and gentlemen out. One missed some familiar features, but there were present many veterans, and a number of very young newcomers. The youngest rider was Master Jim Russell, bonny son of the Joint Master. The presence of Mrs. Arthur Hunt, Rockmount, who, until her serious fall a couple of years ago, was a consistent and accomplished rider; to hounds, gave great pleasure to many friends and well-wishers. Moving off for Currahaha covert, via the Main Street, the numerous red coats in the wake of the mottled pack (134 couple) presented a strikingly colourful pageantry. The field gained some smart gallops from both the Currahaha and Graighshoneen coverts, but the most exhilarating run of the day was afforded by a wily brush-bearer set afoot from the Carriganonshough covert. This stout-hearted fox led his pursuers at racing pace over a long stretch of the Mahon Valley, and circled back again to his original shelter. As daylight was then fast fading into night the hounds were withdrawn to kennels, and so ended a most enjoyable day's sport.

Amongst those in attendance were the Joint Masters—Lord William Beresford and Mr. R. Russell; the Marchioness of Waterford; Mrs. R. Russell; Dr. Walker; Miss Walker; Mr. and Mrs. A. Hunt; Mr. and Mrs. C. Langley; Rev. Mr. Burkitt; Miss Burkitt; Master J. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. J. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. L. O'Byrne; Mr. C. O'Connor, the Misses L. and F. Fitzgerald; Miss K. Power, Mr. T. Chesney; Miss P. Phelan, A. Thatcher (huntsman), and J. Neely (whip).

On Sunday evening last the Fenor S.F. team (East Waterford Divisional Champions) faced the Faha Junior XV. in a friendly challenge at Kilmachthomas (in a field kindly given by Mr. John Drohan, farmer, Scarahan). In aid of the Newtown and Kill parochial club, the more usual football could scarcely have been more propitious from the point of view of the players, who battled on a sodden sward and under a continuous drizzle. In the circumstances the attendance fell far short of expectations. Those present saw a stern but stylish struggle for supremacy, only in the last minute of the hard hour did Fenor hoist the final flag of the fray, which brought them on level terms with their opponents. Mr. Sean O'Connell, N.T., Kilmachthomas, refereed, and when he sounded the long whistle the score-sheet read: Faha, 1-1; Fenor, 0-4. The teams were:—

Faha—F. Power (Capt.); D. Whelan, (goal); D. Power, P. Casey, W. Connors, J. Foley, M. Connors, J. Connors, M. Morrissey, W. Curran, E. Foley, M. Whelan, M. Downes, P. Troy and J. Foley.

Fenor—P. Gough (Capt.); J. Connolly (goal); P. Byrne, P. Gaffney, D. Power, M. Hynes, J. Cowman, E. Moore, E. Cowman, W. Cowman, M. O'Sullivan, M. Duggan, M. Fitzgerald, P. Power and D. Hynes.

All praise to the fearless Faha team for their great display against such formidable rivals. Every player of the thirty engaged gave his very best, and all are to be complimented on their splendid show of sportsmanship. The promoters had arranged to have Kilrossanty (winners of West Waterford Junior Championship) face Fenor, and Kill to meet Faha, but the Kilrossanty and Kill teams did not turn up.

In Memoriam.—High Mass of Requiem for the deceased relatives and friends of the parishioners was offered up in the Parish Church of the Holy Cross, Stradbally, in the presence of a very large congregation on Monday morning. Rev. J. Laverty, C.C., Stradbally, was celebrant of the Mass and the assisting priests were:—Very Rev. E. English, P.P., do.; Very Rev. J. Crotty, P.P., Kilrossanty; Rev. P. Meenan, C.C., do.; and Rev. M. Power, C.C., Ballyaneen. Requiem High Mass for the deceased of the parish of Ballyaneen, was celebrated in St. Anne's Church there on Tuesday, at 10.30 a.m., by Fr. Power, C.C., assisted by the clerymen already named. Young and old of the parishioners were present in large numbers.

INCH TOURNAMENT FINAL

CASTLEMARTYR V. KILCRONAT

MATCH RESULTS IN TIE FOR THIRD TIME

The two days hurling tournament organised by the Inch Club has developed into five days hectic hurling. On the opening day Castlemartyr beat Inch and Kilcronat defeated Youghal. The winners qualified to meet in the final, and this was arranged to take place without any undue delay. The match, however, finished in a draw, and a second meeting had a similar ending. The tournament was now attracting a considerable amount of public attention, and when the teams met for the third time three weeks ago, hurling supporters came from far and near to see the game. Castlemartyr were the most fancied team on that occasion, though Kilcronat were quietly confident. The match was a gruelling one, and though both sides went all out for victory, the result was again a drawn game. Sunday's match, then, was the fourth meeting of these teams, and had the day been dry the attendance would, no doubt, constitute a record locally. Even as things were there was a very big crowd present, and in spite of the heavy sod and greasy ball, the game was, if anything, the most thrilling one of the tournament. In the early stages Castlemartyr appeared to have the best of the argument, but as the game progressed Kilcronat evaded matters, and at the end of the third quarter looked all over a winning team. In the closing stages, however, Castlemartyr rallied in characteristic style, and hurling strongly amid scenes of frantic excitement, they succeeded in notching a goal and a point, thus making the match once again a drawn game.

The Game—First Half. Kilcronat opened strongly and at once invaded their opponents territory, but P. T. Wade sent back to midfield. Moloney drove strongly goalwards and R. Barry had the white flag up for Castlemartyr two minutes from the start. Following the puck-out, play was at midfield for some time, but Dinnéen again sent Castlemartyr attacking. Hurley relieved the pressure on the Kilcronat end, and Drake drove down the field. The relief was short-lived however, D. O'Brien sent across to Moran, but the latter's shot went wide. Kilcronat now attacked most determinedly, and sweeping aside all opposition they bore down strongly on their opponents' territory. Lynch had a shot at the uprights, but Hennessy saved. Walsh sent back a stinging shot, but Sullivan defended the Castlemartyr net spectacularly, and Wade lashed back to midfield. Here Kilcronat were awarded a free but S. O'Mahony sent wide. Moloney doubled the puck-out and Christy O'Brien got through for another point for Castlemartyr. Keeping up the pressure Castlemartyr again sent in, but M. Moloney beat them back and Roche put Drake in possession. The latter gave to Barron who took a lightning shot at the posts, but Sullivan saved. Walsh worked back and Barron lifting far out landed a great point for Kilcronat. Keeping up the pressure Kilcronat again dashed in, but Hurley sent wide. Still on the offensive S. O'Mahony, Hurley and Lynch sent shot after shot at the Castlemartyr posts, but Hennessy, Sullivan and Wade were unbeatable, and eventually play was transferred to the other end where the O'Brien brothers, Dinnéen and Barry tried hard to score. The defence, however, was sound and an over resulted. Dinnéen again sent Castlemartyr on the offensive, but Twomey lashed back and S. O'Mahony scored the equaliser for Kilcronat. A few minutes later the Castlemartyr net was again in danger, the goalie dribbled the ball towards the wing where he lost possession to Lynch who sent a bullet-like shot at the uprights. Hennessy, however, had taken the goalie's place, and pulling on the flying ball sent it soaring back to midfield. Here Castlemartyr were awarded a free which Hart centered well, but E. Mulcahy cleared. M. Moloney sent back again, and Christy O'Brien broke through for a goal—for which he was loudly cheered. Soon afterwards Hennessy, who was playing a great game for Castlemartyr, got injured, but resumed after some time. S. O'Mahony stemmed a Castlemartyr rush and Barron sent a shot for the post, but Hennessy cleared. Kilcronat were not to be denied, however, and Lynch sent over the bar. The pace was now very fast and excitement ran high. J. Hart again sent Castlemartyr attacking and C. O'Brien got another goal. Castlemartyr supporters were jubilant, and cheer after cheer rent the air. Soon afterwards Kilcronat were given a free close to the Castlemartyr goals, S. O'Mahony went to take the puck, and a point seemed certain. To the amazement of everybody he drove the ball towards the side line at the extreme end. It looked as if an over would result, but one of the Kilcronat forwards was waiting, and meeting the flying ball in mid-air, he drove it flying into the back of the net, while Kilcronat supporters shouted themselves hoarse and hurleys went flying into the air. Two points now divided the teams, the lead being with Castlemartyr who subsequently scored another point per D. O'Brien. The half-time whistle went soon after leaving the score:—

Castlemartyr ..... 2-3
Kilcronat ..... 1-3

On resuming Moloney sent Castlemartyr attacking, but the ball went wide. Getting under the puck-out Barron drove well in, but Hennessy cleared and P. T. Wade lashed back to midfield. Dinnéen sent in strongly, O'Brien pulled on the soaring ball, but E. Mulcahy lashed out and Jack Hurley landed the ball in the Castlemartyr goalmouth. Sullivan saved however, and Hennessy cleared. Kilcronat worked back and Castlemartyr had to concede a seventy. Twomey who took it, dropped the ball near the "square" and Sullivan only saved at the expense of another 70. This was taken by Mahoney, but the defence was too good and play was transferred to the other end, where Castlemartyr got a free close in from which J. Hart dropped a nice point. The ball was now very greasy and the sod heavy. Yet the hurling was up to a high standard and the pace fast. Kilcronat attacked vigorously, and but for Moloney who was playing an excellent game would have got through. A lively bout at mid-field ends in Kilcronat's favour, and a minute later they have the green flag up. Still pressing, Kilcronat get a nice point per Lynch. The northern men now appear to have the situation well in hand. They have a four-point lead and are hurting well. It is characteristic of Castlemartyr, however, that they are never beaten until the final whistle has blown. Hennessy is seen to leave the back position and goes to midfield. Kilcronat are again defending, and the battle is raging fiercely around centre-field. Castlemartyr are awarded a free in a good position. Hart takes it, and drops the ball in front of the "square," the Castlemartyr captain is on the alert and with a mighty effort lands the ball in the net. Frantic cheering greets this success. A point now divides the teams and there are not many minutes to go. The excitement is intense, but the stewards keep the pitch clear, and the players through it all keep their tempers admirably. Kilcronat are attacking but are repulsed, and Castlemartyr attack in turn. They are driven back, but come on once more, just when the attack has almost spent itself, the ball goes soaring over the bar, and for the third time the game ends in a draw, the final score being:—

Kilcronat ..... 3-5
Castlemartyr ..... 3-5

Mr. William O'Connell, was an efficient and most impartial referee, and despite the excitement the match was played in an admirable spirit.

The teams were:—
Kilcronat—E. Drake (Capt.); Michael O'Mahony, John O'Mahony, James O'Mahony, Edward Mulcahy, Eugene Roche, John Lynch, Joe Hurley, John Hurley, Matthew Twomey, Michael Byrne, George Barron, John Walsh, Patrick Daly, Patrick O'Mahoney.
Castlemartyr—Christy O'Brien (Capt.); David O'Brien, Joseph O'Brien, John O'Sullivan, William J. Hennessy, Peter T. Wade, Maurice Moloney, John Hart, Matthew Hart, Joseph Morgan, Richard Barry, William O'Reilly, John Kelleher, Maurice Dinnéen, John Whelan.

WARTS ON DAIRY CATTLE

Methods of Treatment

Warts are cutaneous growths that by preference seem to favour young animals, and they are more often seen on the finer parts of the skin, such as the udder and teats of heifers, under the belly and on the face, but they are not confined to these places, as they may appear on the body and legs, where they may become very large. Warts do not degenerate into tumours or malignant growths, but may, from their size or from their position on the teats, be a serious detriment to the animal and lessen its selling value.

Warts are usually divided into various classes, according to their shape: (1) Globular, usually seen on the udder and teats, sometimes partly under the skin; (2) Flat warts that are spreading and lie close to the skin, even seem to be part of the skin, and may coalesce and make large masses of warts, especially seen on the belly and inside the thigh. (3) Those having a neck and are very often single, and consequently easy to remove.

Various cures and charms are often suggested, and some of these household remedies may prove very successful. Internal treatment is said to be efficacious, and lime water has given good results, but a long continued course has to be given to be of any value. Where possible surgical removal is by far the safest, best and more practicable method, as caustics need many applications and are apt to lead to sore places, which make the animal fidgety and difficult to handle, whilst on tender places, like the teats, it is dangerous to use any caustic, however carefully used, as there is a risk of destroying the soft tissue and ruining the teat; so on the udder and teat such applications as salicylic collodion must be used, rubbing off the softened part before re-applying on the next day. Crude castor oil is said to be capable of removing the warts off the teats, if applied consistently and this is a safe and simple treatment which is worth a trial.

Warts which have necks, may be ligatured, used sufficiently strong but fine twine or silk to the tightly round the base as close to the skin as possible to strangle it, if it does not fall off. Smaller warts may be snipped off with scissors, and then the bleeding spot dusted with alum or boric acid, but if on the teats it is better to wait till the cow is dry so as to avoid the irritation and pain of milking. MOUNT MELLERAY'S
NEW CHURCH

NEW WING FOR THE PUBLIC

Good News For Clients of St. Philomena

THE many friends of Mount Melleray, in Ireland and overseas, who have shown such a practical interest in the New Church and appurtenances now under construction on the sacred Mount, will like to learn how far the work, begun in February, 1935, has progressed.

We are happy to be able to inform them that the progress made to date has quite exceeded the most sanguine anticipations. So far as concerns the stonework, the Aps, Transepts, Tower, and many recesses for side Altars, as well as the Sacristy and Chapter House are now complete. The Chapter House which is located, but otherwise like the rest entirely unfinished, has been used by the Community since last Christmas, under stress of necessity. It may occasion some surprise to see this building ranked among the appurtenances of the Church, but in Cistercian monasteries many liturgical functions take place therein, such as cloths, simple professions, part of the Office of Prime, and the daily chant of the Martyrology. The new Sanctuary is much admired. When adequately furnished it will have few rivals with in the Order, or, outside. So far only one Altar has made its appearance. But what chiefly takes the eye is the noble Gothic Tower, terminating in four graceful pinnacles, each surmounted with a beautiful Celtic Cross, backed by the rugged Knockmealdowns and overlooking the glorious Valley of the Blackwater. It seems to stand there like a mighty sentinel keeping watch and ward over Ireland's Faith.

The beauty of these various buildings is the austere beauty traditional in Cistercian Architecture, depending rather on form and outline, on boldness of design and purity of treatment than on colour and surface decoration, as a great critic has observed. Partly for this reason, partly also from economic considerations, the Abbey Church has no stained glass windows, and the bell-tower no chime.

The Contractors (Messrs. Maguire and Short) have now started on the second part of the building, namely the Nave of the Abbey Church and separate Church for the people. The site of this latter edifice and its position in relation to the former was one that presented a great deal of difficulty. In the old arrangement, the western end of the Nave of the Abbey Church was assigned to the use of the people, which entailed serious disadvantages as well for them as for the Monks. Long and careful study of the problem has at last resulted in discovering the perfect solution—a New Public Church. This new Church will project from the southwest extremity of the Nave, parallel to the southern transept, and will have easy communication with the Abbey Church so that the people can assist at the liturgical functions as heretofore. It will contain the Shrine of St. Philomena—which, an exception to the rule, shall be as ornate as the generosity of her clients will permit—and two additional Altars, one dedicated to the Sacred Heart, the other to St. Teresa of the Child Jesus. Clients of the little Virgin Martyr will be glad to hear that special attention is being devoted to her Shrine and that the resources available—as yet very inadequate—will be turned to the best account in the effort to make it a real work of art, such as can bear comparison with the Italian Model. Her prayers, we feel sure, will bring the funds necessary to the realisation of so ambitious a design.

The Community of Mount Melleray began their mighty undertaking, putting all their hope, under God, in the proverbial generosity of the Irish people and the faithful Catholics all over the world. So far that hope has been amply justified. But a great deal remains still to be done. Not alone have they to find funds for the completion of the Abbey Church as well as the building of a suitable Church for the people, but also for the furnishing of the parts constructed. The necessary number of Altars (High Altar and at least twenty Private Altars) must be provided, Stalls for the Choir, Bells for the Tower, Stations of the Cross, Communion Rails, Sanctuary Lamps, Throne for Pontifical High Mass, etc., etc. Surely a formidable task! The Monks, however, have no misgiving. They feel perfectly confident that their friends will not leave them in the embarrassing position of the Gospel builder, who found himself unable to finish what he had imperfectly begun. And it is in the strength of that confidence that they now address themselves unhesitatingly to the task before them. The Promoters of the St. Philomena Shrine take this opportunity to thank most cordially all those who have already contributed towards the funds, and to appeal to others who are interested in propagating her cult to help us as far as they can to make the Shrine worthy of her and of Melleray.

Those desirous to participate in the Daily Masses and Prayers of the Community can do so by subscribing generously to the fund for the New Public Church, and also the Shrine to St. Philomena. They are requested to kindly forward their contributions, which will be gratefully acknowledged by the Hon. Sec., Michael J. Sargent, Main Street, Cappoquin, Co. Waterford.

COLLECTION OF URBAN RATES IN CARRICK-ON-SUIR

78 % Of Warrant Collected

At the monthly meeting of Carrick-on-Suir Urban Council on Wednesday, Mr. P. Kenny, Chairman, presiding. Mr. K. Dalton, Urban Rate Collector, reported that to 30th September, 1937, he had collected and lodged 78 per cent. of the half-yearly warrant of £3,492. He had served the necessary statutory notices on a number of persons who owe arrears of rates. They will be before the next Carrick-on-Suir District Court.

The Chairman said the report of the rate collector was very satisfactory. A collection of 78 per cent. of the half-yearly warrant was most gratifying. The other members agreed.

Mr. Sheehan said some of those who do not pay their rates are the biggest swanks in town and they get away with it.

Mr. Dalton—Every person on the list will be up at the next Court.

BEEF PRICES INCREASED IN GREAT BRITAIN

Sugar beet growers in Great Britain will receive considerably higher prices next year than this year.

Prices fixed by the Sugar Commission for 1933 range from 43s. to 44s. 6d. per ton as compared with 36s. to 37s. per ton in 1937. The prices will be subject to an addition or deduction of 3d. per ton in respect of each 0.1 per cent. by which the sugar content is greater or less than 151 per cent.

The preferential price for pulp sold by the Corporation to growers will again be fixed at £4 15s. per ton gross, corresponding to net prices to the grower of £4 5s. per ton for pulp delivered in October, 1933; £4 7s. 6d. in November, 1933, and £4 10s. in December, 1933.

WATERFORD CIRCUIT COURT

Novel Point In Appeal By Trawler Skipper

PROSECUTION FAILS

When the State witnesses had concluded their evidence at the Waterford Circuit Court on Tuesday in the appeal of Mr. Thomas Pipe, skipper of the trawler Blanche, from the conviction and penalties imposed on him by District Justice MacCabe, on a charge of being within Saorstát territorial waters for an illegal purpose, Mr. Budd, B.L., who, instructed by Mr. Fintan O'Connor, solr., Waterford, appeared for the appellant, applied for a direction on the grounds that the prosecution had not proved that the trawler Blanche was not a Saorstát trawler.

Mr. Justice Sealy, K.C., said he would not decide the case on that point on which he would allow the respondents to produce evidence.

Captain Duane, master of the Irish fishery cruiser Muirchu, recalled, stated that he handed back the trawler's papers to her master when he lodged the security money in court after the proceedings in the District Court.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, who prosecuted, was proceeding to ask the witness who the trawler's owners were and where her port of register was, when his Lordship remarked—"I cannot allow that; it is secondary evidence. I will hear legal evidence as to the nationality of the vessel if you can produce it."

Mr. Ryan—We have papers on the Muirchu which are accepted on the Merchant Shipping Act. The only thing we can do is to serve notice to produce them. I can serve that notice here and now. These documents were in the possession of Capt. Duane, who gave them back when the necessary security was given.

Capt. Duane—The trawler could not fish without papers.

His Lordship—Do you know all the fishing boats in Saorstát Eireann?

Captain Duane—No.

His Lordship—You cannot say of your own knowledge that this vessel is not a Saorstát Eireann fishing boat?

Capt. Duane—No.

His Lordship (to Mr. Ryan)—I think you can do no more. The prosecution fails—that is all.

His Lordship allowed the costs of the appeal to the appellant.

Judge And Bicycle

Edward Merry, 21 Broad Street, appealed against a conviction and sentence of twenty-one days' imprisonment imposed on him by District Justice MacCabe in respect of the alleged larceny of a bicycle.

After hearing the conviction and sentence of the District Court, Judge Sealy said he thought the conviction was a very proper one. There could be no stronger evidence of the man's guilt than that which had been given. He regarded the sentence as a light one. "The bicycle," went on his Lordship, "is the poor man's mode of locomotion. He had to leave it here, there, and everywhere, and nothing was easier to steal. I really have a doubt whether I should increase this sentence to six months' imprisonment. Bicycle stealing is one of the hardest offences to detect and to put down. I would really think it a greater offence than stealing a man's goods. If any more cases of this kind come before me it won't stop at twenty-one days."

Mr. Quinlan, solr., for the appellant, pointed out that his client had already spent a few days in jail, but his Lordship said that he would have to serve the twenty-one days from the present date.

Criminal Cases

James Cleve, Morrison's Road, pleaded guilty to an indictment charging him on two counts with an offence against a girl under the age of 15 years. He was sentenced to two years' imprisonment with hard labour.

A sentence of twelve months' hard labour was imposed on Stephen Bible, Waterside, who pleaded guilty to a serious offence.

DRILLING WHEAT IN NOVEMBER

This seasonal operation is usually confined to dry, porous land recently cleared of potatoes and other root crops and such areas of sea ground as it has been possible to plough up during the past month or two. It is necessary to allow freshly turned sea to lie for at least a month after ploughing, the reason being to permit the soil to mellow down somewhat and the sod to decay a little. If sown on a freshly-ploughed piece of land, wheat—or, in fact, any crop—is apt to become stunted in growth. Furthermore, the fresh fibrous turf keeps the soil too loose for the best resistance of winter weather conditions.

If one is anxious to drill wheat as early as possible in November, and ploughing has not been carried out sufficiently early, the ground should first be harrowed to tear out the turf. This should then again be ploughed deeply underneath. Sown under such conditions it is essential to apply artificial fertiliser to assist the tiny plants in getting established. On average types of land a dressing of 1 cwt. sulphate of ammonia, 2 to 4 cwt. superphosphate or "Senso" and 2 cwt. kainit per acre will be a sufficient application.

EAST WATERFORD DEATHS

The late Mr. George Moore, Feddans, Co. Waterford, was a member of one of the oldest and most highly esteemed families in Clonca parish. There was a large attendance at the funeral to Clonca cemetery.

The late Mrs. Walsh, Mount Bolton, Portlaw, who was quite a young woman left a husband and eight children to mourn her loss. The interment took place at Portlaw after Requiem Mass.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

DEATH OF MRS. SMITH—

The death of Mrs. Margaret Smith, which took place at her residence Knockateamore, Dungarvan, on Tuesday last, removes a most estimable lady from the parish. The deceased was a member of a well-known and highly respected family and was a general favourite with all who had the pleasure of knowing her. Her charm of manner and endearing ways won for her the affection of the people by whom her death is now deeply mourned. She was mother of Very Rev. T. G. Smith, Pastor Immaculate Conception Church, Mattoon, Illinois, U.S.A.

The remains, followed by a large and representative cortege, were removed from her late residence to Ballinroad Parish Church, on Wednesday evening. The interment took place in the adjoining cemetery on Thursday, after the celebration of Requiem Mass for the happy repose of her soul. Rev. M. Power, C.C., read the last prayers at the graveside.

The immediate chief mourners were:—James Smith (son); Mrs. Tarrant, Charleville, Co. Cork and Mrs. O'Flaherty, Old Parish (daughters); Miss J. Carroll (niece), Mr. Simon O'Flaherty, (son-in-law).

LISMORE MAN AWARDED £1,000 DAMAGES—

Before Mr. Justice O'Byrne and a jury in the High Court, Dublin, on Wednesday, an action came on for hearing for the assessment of damages for personal injuries in which the plaintiff was Thomas O'Gorman, Cooldelane, Lismore, County Waterford, and the defendants were the Waterford Co. Board of Public Assistance. The plaintiff on the 18th November, 1936, was driving cattle along the Waterford-Cappoquin road, when he was knocked down by a motor ambulance, the property of the defendants.

Defendants did not deny the negligence alleged against their driver but they denied that the plaintiff suffered the serious injuries he claimed to have suffered. Mr. Breston Barry, K.C., Mr. T. P. McCarthy, K.C., and Mr. Walter Molony (instructed by Mr. Austin R. Farrell) appeared for the plaintiff. Mr. J. M. Fitzgerald, K.C., Mr. P. J. Roe, K.C., and Mr. D. Fawcitt (instructed by Messrs. Little O'Hea and Proud) appeared for the defendants.

It was stated that the plaintiff suffered from a fracture of the skull and that he was unconscious for 10 days after his admission to Dungarvan Hospital and semi-conscious for the following ten days. The jury assessed damages at £1,000 and judgment was entered for the plaintiff for this sum with costs.

BOXING IN DUNGARVAN—

The Medal Tournament organised by the Dungarvan Boxing Club was held in the Town Hall on Wednesday night. The bouts were confined to members of the newly-formed Dungarvan Boxing Club, the majority of whom were making their debut in the fistic arena. A scarcity of material in the heavier classes was apparent, with the result that most of the bouts were confined to juveniles. This, however, did not affect the standard of the boxing, nor did it lessen the thrills of the bouts. To watch these young lads—some of them barely able to lift their gloved hands—go hammer and tongs, nell-for-eather at each other was a treat. And could they take it? Yes, sir—and came running back for more. They settled down to their scraps as if their lives depended on the issue, and though some of them never before saw the inside of a boxing ring, their ring-craft had all the skilful characteristics of more experienced and seasoned pugilists. There is some good material here and with careful tuition and coaching, future years may see some of them among the Irish Championship title holders.

In the heavier classes, the bouts were mostly all slugging-scraps with real, honest-to-goodness lefts and right flying about the ring. The spectators liked it and urged the contestants for more. A hard slugging match is alright, but one likes to see some boxing now and again mixed up in it. However, whatever boxing skill was lacking in these scraps, was amply made up for in the juvenile bouts. The attendance was disappointing, and Mr. James Hayes, who presented the medals to the winners commented on this and appealed for more support from the public.

On the whole the programme was good, especially when one takes into consideration that it was presented by a club still in its infancy. The Committee must be congratulated in this respect, and also for their endeavours to encourage and foster the fistic art in Dungarvan. A special word of praise is also due to the trainer and coach who prepared the contestants. And while the bouquets are being handed out one must not forget the boxers who acquitted themselves so well, and it is hoped that their exhibition on Wednesday night will inspire them to greater efforts.

"Boy" Murphy, Cloonell, refereed and Messrs. M. McGrath and D. Conroy, and Mr. J. I. Hurley, The Square, acted as judges and time-keeper respectively. Sergt. P. Russell, was M.C.

DUNGARVAN & DISTRICT NURSING ASSOCIATION—

On Tuesday November 30th in the Town Hall, at 8.15 p.m., Dungarvan and District Nursing Association will hold their General Meeting. All Subscribers welcome.

DAIL QUESTIONS—

In the Dail on Wednesday President de Valera, replying to Mr. Nicholas Wall, T.D., who asked the President if and when, the annual trade agreement with Britain came up for renewal he would arrange to have the negotiations carried out by one or more of his Ministers so as to ensure that the greatest benefits would be secured for this country.

Mr. de Valera said that the Government was always willing to arrange for the conducting of such negotiations by a Minister or Ministers, provided that there was reason to believe that that course would lead to more satisfactory results than would otherwise be achieved. When negotiations were conducted by civil servants, the officers taking part acted on behalf of the Government and were given full instructions as to the Government's wishes and intentions, which instructions, of course, they were careful to observe. Moreover, provision was made for consultation with Ministers, at any stage, during the course of the negotiations at which consultation was considered necessary or desirable.

Mr. Wall asked the President if he thought it was a heavy responsibility to place upon the shoulders of civil servants. Mr. de Valera said that Ministers were constantly in touch, and whether Ministers or civil servants acted as negotiators depended upon circumstances.

Mr. Wall—Is there any real objection to sending Ministers to take the responsibility themselves? Mr. de Valera—No, but there are two parties to negotiation.

GRAND BAZAAR IN TOWN HALL Deserving of Unstinted Support The Grand Bazaar to be held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on December 14th, 15th and 16th, in aid of such a laudable object—the giving of Free Meals to necessitous school children—is deserving of the unstinted support and co-operation of the public in general. This Scheme started some years ago by the Children's Health Committee, is a great boon to the poor children of the town during the cold winter months. For the purpose of providing the meals, the Urban District Council, strikes a rate of 3d. in the £ which realises roughly £100. This figure is not sufficient to defray the cost of the scheme, and hence the Bazaar now being organised to which we ask the public to give their whole-hearted support and help in every way possible. Last year from November 1st to March 31st the Committee supplied 36,611 Free Meals at a total cost of £259 8s. and as the rate struck by the Council produced only £100, the Committee were faced with the difficult task of raising £159 balance. The wonderful support given by the public at the Grand Carnival organised by the Committee in 1936 resulted in sufficient funds been made available, and we feel sure that the balance required to carry on this good work this year, will be forthcoming when the Bazaar is over. The Committee will be thankful for subscriptions or prizes to help the success of the Bazaar. A Ladies Committee has been formed and will call on the general public for prizes, etc.

Producers, therefore, should not be holding over their birds this year for fancy prices, which may never be reached.

Present—Messrs. R. Savage, moved to the Chair; M. Cashman, R. Power, E. P. Lynch, T. A. Keane, secy., J. Whelan, J. Daly, B.E.

Urban Farmers Complaint
Mr. Thomas Connery, farmer, appeared before the meeting and complained of the damage done him by the Press report of the action of the Council against him for rates, which was dismissed. He defended the case as a protest against his treatment by the Council. He was paying town rates and he received no benefit whatever, neither water nor gas nor anything else.

The Clerk said the matter arose out of a technical error in the demand note. That ought satisfy them.

Mr. Power said he was sure the Press would note the matter.

Mr. Connery asked were they going to do anything about giving him a supply of water.

The Clerk said their Engineer estimated that it would cost £435 reducible by 150 if there was no rock cutting. That was for a 2 inch pipe. He suggested that a 1 inch pipe might suffice, and would be much cheaper.

The Chairman said the Council recognised that Mr. Connery was a perfectly honest and honourable man and thoroughly solvent. They would do what they could for him. His difference with the Council was purely technical. It was decided to instruct the Engineer to submit a fresh estimate.

Travelling Shops
Mr. O. Mulholland, Director of the National Leaseholders Organisation waited on the meeting and dealt with the statements in the "Independent" on the question of travelling shops. He refuted the allegation that the Government had not sufficient facts to take action and introduce legislation to restrict the activities of those concerns. Several important Associations including the Registered Traders' Association; The Licensed Vintners Association; The Dublin Tobacconists Association; The Irish Retail Confectioners, etc., had given evidence before the Meredith Commission in 1932 on the Registration of Shops, indicating opposition to the travelling shop. Notwithstanding the defence of the travelling shop by the Distributing Vendors Association, the Commission was most emphatic in its Report that "the invasion of the travelling shop is a very real menace to the prosperity of the country towns and that it is of vital importance that this method of trading should be immediately subjected to supervision and control in the public and national interest."

The severity of the blow to certain types of shops can best be appreciated by imagining the consternation that would be caused to the local public-houses if travelling publichouses were permitted. . . . It is clear, therefore, that a case has been made and established for legislation to control the activities of "shops" that are an injury to the provincial towns. He (Mr. Mulholland) at the same time blamed the apathy of the town traders themselves for the present unpleasant and unsatisfactory condition of things. If they had organised on the right lines years ago they would have solved their problems long since, but they had been too apathetic and indifferent. He was glad to see the provincial townspeople looking to the National Management of Leaseholders for the support and if the organisation succeeded in its programme for legislation on the leasehold question it would be available to seek other forms of legislation for the welfare of the provincial towns. Concluding he suggested the merger of all local organisations interested in the general welfare of the provincial towns.

Mr. Whelan said they were grateful to Mr. Mulholland for his interesting address. Something should be done as suggested by him without delay, and the time was opportune. He proposed that the Council call a Public Meeting of traders and others interested to take action.

Mr. Power seconding, said he had been 30 years in business, and at the present rate of decline, the majority would be out of business in ten years, unless the people were up and doing.

Mr. Lynch agreed. Creameries had been started with a certain limited object, but of late they had extended their operations to include the sale of anything from a needle to an anchor.

The Chairman endorsed the remarks of the previous speakers. If things continued as at present, practically every country town in the Free State would be little better than a "Deserted Village."

It was unanimously decided to call a public meeting for the 26th inst.

A letter was read from Mrs. D. Reen, Brown street, thanking the Council for their vote of sympathy on the death of her husband.

The Clerk submitted the draft agreement with the County Council regarding the handing over of the local Library, and he was directed to write asking for definite information on certain points.

The Local Government forwarded cheque for £1,700 being the third instalment on the last Housing Scheme. Replying to a query, the Clerk said that the scheme would be completed after Christmas.

Mr. Power said he had been informed that concrete blocks had been recently brought in from Whiting Bay, County Waterford. In view of the widespread local unemployment he proposed that all blocks required be made on the site.

This was seconded by Mr. Lynch and passed.

YOUGHAL

Its Past History

A Dominican Convent was founded at Youghal in the year 1288 by the distinguished nobleman Sir Thomas, son of Maurice Fitzgerald and was dedicated under the title of "The Holy Cross." It is supposed to have been called by this name, as were also the Convents of Trillick and Sligo, which were built by members of the same family of the Geraldines for the Friars Preachers, on account of the red Cross marked on their shield. Five other convents of the Order in Ireland, as well as that of the Irish Dominicans in Louvain, have the same appellation. Some of the ruins still remain.

Youghal R. C. Church—
The Roman Catholic Parish of Youghal comprises the whole of the parishes of St. Mary's, Youghal and Cloonpriest. The Youghal Church was built by subscriptions aided by a donation of £700 from Dr. Coppinger, Bishop of Cloyne, under whose patronage it was erected. Above the altar is a fine painting of the Crucifixion, brought from Lisbon. An imposing entrance tower and graceful spire were added in 1844, which considerably improved its outward appearance. At the south entrance of the town a handsome convent for nuns of the Presentation Order had been erected early in the 19th century, towards the expense of which £2,000 was received from Miss Gould of Doneraile.

Of the ancient walls of Youghal, there are some remains on the western side of the town, where they are tolerably perfect, and three of the flanking towers are yet standing.

In the North Main street is Tynte's Castle, in the style of those erected in the reign of Elizabeth; it was built in 1643 by Sir Robert Tynte, a distinguished officer in Lord Carew's army, from whom Smith relates that the Lord President was obliged to seize £4,000 for the supply of his army. Sir Robert Tynte died in 1663 and lies buried in the Church of Killecronan, three miles eastward of Castle-martyr of which he was founder.

Castles in the Youghal District—
The principal castles of the Youghal district are situated between Youghal and Castle-martyr, viz. Lighterurragh, Castle-richard and Castle-martyr, which were strongholds of the Geraldines.

It is common tradition in the locality that in former times a wild boar infested the neighbourhood and had his lair in Knockane a short distance from Castle-martyr. The people being terrified by the ravages of this animal, the then chief-tain offered a reward for his destruction and one Fitzgerald having slain him in single combat, after a terrific fight by splitting his head with a sword, and in which the horse that Fitzgerald rode was killed under him, he got as an acknowledgment of his achievement a grant of the surrounding lands and adopted as his arms a boar's head to perpetuate his prowess. He and his descendants were seneschals of Imokilly, which title appears to be hereditary and had their seat at Castle-richard. When the properties of the Fitzgeralds were confiscated, Castle-richard alone remained in their possession.

The castle stands on a little eminence about one hundred and fifty yards from the north side of the river Womough. About the beginning of the seventeenth century, the then Seneschal having no heir but three daughters, left his property to them to be divided by themselves, each to choose according to seniority, which portion she wished as her inheritance. When the eldest said: "I will have the wheaten inch," now called Castle-richard and which is still remarkable for its wheat growing properties. The second said: "The green hill for me," which has been anglicised "Knockglass," a townland near Lady's Bridge. The third and youngest daughter said: "The lower is my choice," which is rendered Lighterurragh, and which name it bears to the present day. She also said she would build a castle in her property far superior to her father's castle.

She having married a gentleman named Supple, built the castle of Lighterurragh, but they did not long enjoy it for they were obliged during the rebellion of 1641 to fly with their infant daughter then only a few months old. This child afterwards married Capel or de-Capel, whose descendants owned lands in the neighbourhood until they disposed of them to the tenants under the provisions of the Land Purchase Acts.

It is perhaps the same Supple who built Lighterurragh Castle that killed the Earl of Cork under the following circumstances—The Earl and his vassals having been on a cattle raiding expedition scoured the barony down by the seacoast to Youghal, were returning to Cork with an immense booty, and were met on the road between Killeagh and Castle-martyr by the men of Imokilly, with Supple at their head as their leader. A bloody battle was the result of their encounter and Supple having singled out the Earl a terrific combat ensued, which ended in the Earl being slain. His followers, at the death of their leader, became disorganised and surrendered and the cattle restored to their owners. The bodies of the slain were buried where they fell and the body of the Earl was removed by his retainers and interred in a cavern in a rock by the side of the road where he was slain.

ed by Mr. Lynch, a vote of sympathy was passed to the family of Mrs. Lynch, Angleborough, mother of Liam Lynch. This was seconded by Mr. Lynch, joined in by the other members, the Chairman and Clerk and passed.

On the proposition of Mr. Cashman, seconded by Mr. Keane, touchingly endorsed by all present, a similar vote was passed to Sergeant and Mrs. O'Beirne, in their recent very sad bereavement.

KNOCKANORE PAROCHIAL FUND METHODS OF LIMING SOILS

SUCCESSFUL "45 DRIVE" AND CEILIDHE IN AID

Working In and Top-Dressing

Since his appointment as Adm., of the combined parishes of Knockanore, Glendine and Kiltarnoy, the Rev. Father Morrissey has carried out many important and necessary improvements in the different parishes, and has proved in various other ways a most zealous and enterprising "Sogart" who has never spared himself in looking after both the spiritual and temporal interests of the large flock committed to his care.

The carrying out of such work has, necessarily, resulted in a rather heavy expenditure of money, and in order to recoup Father Morrissey for such a big expenditure, as well as enabling him to carry out still further improvements, a number of the more prominent and energetic parishioners organised a Monster "45 Drive" and Ceilidhe in aid of the Parochial Funds, both events being held at Knockanore on Sunday 31st October. The first rounds in the "Drive" were played off in the Schools on the Sunday previous, when there was a very large attendance of competitors from all parts of the combined parishes, as well as from other districts, which proved a great tribute to the personal popularity of Father Morrissey, as well as to the members of the Organising Committee, who were as follows—Messrs. J. Power, P. Barry, J. Neville, Michael O'Brien and Matt Savage, with Mr. D. Montayne, as the official and hard-working Hon. Sec.

At the final rounds on Sunday week there was another big attendance of competitors, who were attracted by the substantial sum of £14 offered in prizes, this being divided as follows—First Prize, £8; second, £4; and Third, £2.

The proceedings were conducted in the most orderly and expeditious manner under the careful supervision of Mr. Montayne, Hon. Sec., and the other members of the Committee, while the Rev. Father Morrissey, Adm., and the Rev. Father Hickey, C.C., were also present, and rendered valuable assistance in the carrying out of the general arrangements.

After a series of most interesting and closely-contested games, which were played in a characteristically sporting and friendly spirit, the sum of £10 was divided amongst the following players, £2, Mr. J. J. Budds, Knockanore; £1 each, Mrs. Budds, do.; Mr. W. Hayes, do.; Mr. J. Fitzgerald, Aghlish; Mr. E. Beston, do.; Mr. M. O'Keefe, Glendine; Mrs. Murphy, do.; Mr. P. O'Flynn, Knockanore; and Mr. Michael Budds, do.

Mrs. Murphy, Glendine, and Mr. Michael O'Keefe, do., were then left for the final prize of £4, which they agreed to divide between them, receiving £2 each, which proved a very popular and satisfactory conclusion to a "Drive" which had proved a great financial success.

The prizes were then presented to the various winners by the Rev. Father Morrissey, Adm., amidst loud applause, after which the Rev. gentleman congratulated the winners on their success, and also returned his most sincere thanks to all those who had so kindly supported the event and helped to make it such a great success. He specially thanked Mr. D. Montayne, Hon. Sec., and all the other members of the Committee for the great trouble they had gone to in organising the "Drive," and said the people of the parish should be very grateful to them for the active and unselfish part which they had played in thus helping to strengthen the Knockanore Parochial Fund. (Applause.)

At the conclusion of the proceedings in the Schools, a grand Ceilidhe in aid of the Parochial Fund was held in the gaily decorated local Hall, which was attended by large numbers of the young ladies and gentlemen from all parts of the combined parishes, and also from Aghlish and other outlying districts, there being well over 100 couples present.

A splendid programme of sparkling Irish music was played by the Lismore Piano-Accordeon Ceilidhe Band, under the conductorship of Mr. Thomas Keating, while Mr. J. Neville proved a most courteous and capable M.C., and had the proceedings conducted with the greatest smoothness and regularity which added greatly to the pleasure of all.

All the popular old Irish dances were executed with rare grace and precision in a truly Irish-Ireland atmosphere, and dancing was kept up with the greatest vigour and enthusiasm until 2 a.m. in the morning, when the playing of the National Anthem by the Band concluded one of the most enjoyable and successful social functions held in Knockanore for many years.

METHODS OF LIMING SOILS

Working In and Top-Dressing

Since lime is unable to distribute itself effectively through the soil by natural processes, it becomes at once evident that this must be accomplished artificially by proper application. To be ideally placed for maximum effectiveness, lime needs to be distributed throughout the main root zone. The following are the requisites that constitute good liming practice:—

Even Spreading—Give every square foot of soil the same quantity of lime. If some spots receive an overdose, it is at the expense of others. In one case the lime is not used efficiently and in the other there is neglect.

Uniform Incorporation and Proper Depth—Mix lime with the soil uniformly and to as great a depth as is practical. Good practice prescribes a depth of three to five inches. The quickest response and the fullest measure of benefits are realised when the lime is distributed throughout the main or part of the root zone. This constitutes the ideal; anything less falls short of attaining the full object sought. The above cardinal principle, should be adhered to as the keystone of efficient liming.

Mixing Immediately with Soil—Mix the lime with the soil immediately with a disc or spike-tooth harrow before rain puddles it.

Applying at Plough-time—The logical time to use lime is after ploughing and before seeding. Several reasons are involved (a) Generally the need for lime is vital at this time, as it is common practice to utilise manures and crop residues then. By the decay of organic materials, available plant food is created. In the absence of bases, such as lime, soil acids exist which depress bacterial activity, with consequent curtailment in the nitrate supply for crop use. Unless lime is provided to correct the unfavourable condition the crop suffers. Here the use of lime is timely. (b) In the case of a cultivated crop, such as corn, the cultivations aid in mixing the lime with the soil, and thereby add to its effectiveness.

The Use of Lime as a Top-dressing is often the only recourse on permanent pasture or grasses, owing to the physical character of the soil, which prohibits ploughing and working-in in the usual manner. While it is obvious that top-dressing does not afford the fullest efficiency, the effect can be heightened somewhat; (a) by applying the lime in the winter or early spring; (b) by working-in lightly with a harrow if applied in early spring or late autumn. If the soil is sandy, the penetration of the lime will be more pronounced and the results approach those secured by actual incorporation. Very good results have often come from surface applications of lime.

In any event, the all important thing is to get lime on the land; the benefits will come—R.P. in the "Farmers' Gazette."

MECHANICAL TREATMENT OF GRASS LAND

In grass land roots lie undisturbed oftentimes for many years, and, while unweakened stems and leaves will rapidly decay and form food material for the plants, roots are merely preserved. This may lead to the formation of surface mats according to the conditions which obtain. Mats several inches deep may even form, but more generally they occur in the form of a skin on the top. Obstructions of this sort do considerable damage by obstructing the surface passage of water and air to the underneath portions of the plants. It leads to the condition of "choking out" the clovers and better grasses, and starvation owing to shortage of water and air.

In riding pasture land of such mats the first step is to remove all coarse un-eaten grass with a mower. This, at any rate, should be an annual practice. Where mechanical treatment is itself carried out each year it need not be very severe, and one or two light borrowings will suffice, the whole being rolled down afterwards.

Disposal of Onion Crops—The Department has directed a memo to Instructors of Horticulture desiring onion growers to dispose of their crops as soon as the onions are in a marketable condition in view of present scarcity of onions in markets and consequent high prices, consumers are being required to pay for this vegetable.

GAELIC NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG"

The weather was in one of its worst moods last Sunday in Lismore. A continuous clammy drizzle seeped down through a grey murky atmosphere...

Mick Hickey, the captain was unable to play owing to a leg injury sustained against Tipperary and Hennebry, who filled the gap in defence, was palpably unequal to the task of marking Mick Hennessy, Clare's star forward.

Jim Ware, back on guard between the sticks, was cool and resolute in every emergency, and his steadiness and lengthy punting stemmed and broke the hurricane Clare attacks which threatened to overwhelm the Deise defence in the third quarter.

John Keane, Charley Ware, Johnny Fanning and Doyle Walsh, were again the mainstay of the Deise defence and their mobility and supporting strategy was a lesson in the art of adjusting tactics to suit the conditions of sod and ball.

Sunday's victory shows that there is a wealth of hurling talent in reserve in Portlaoise. All it needs is nursing, judicious training and scope to gain that all important experience.

Next Sunday, the little village of Kill will have the honour of staging a record G.A.A. programme of two County Football Finals, Senior and Minor.

Herewith are the Hurling and Football League fixtures in which the Deise will be engaged: Hurling—Nov. 21st 1937. Kilkenny v. Waterford at Kilkenny. April 3rd. 1938. Cork v. Waterford at a Deise venue.

This is a varied and heavy programme and though it will give our players and selectors little respite during the months ahead, it should help greatly in tuning up our teams for next year's championships.

DUNGARVAN CIRCUIT COURT.

At the Dungarvan Circuit Court on Thursday. Lismore Estates Co. v. Cahill. This was an application brought by the Lismore Estates Company against Mr. Cahill, to terminate a grazing agreement between plaintiffs and defendant in respect of certain lands at Townspark and Ballysaggart, Lismore.

Mr. Ryan after reading an Affidavit made by the defendant setting out the history of the holdings from which it was sought to eject the defendant he got leave from the Judge to file a defence.

Mr. Ryan made a strong appeal to the Judge not to make a Summary Order of Ejectment, relying upon the facts as depicted to by the defendant, that he and his mother before him had been in unbroken possession of some of these lands for the past 50 years and the remainder of the lands for the past 18 years.

Mr. Ryan said he was not going to shut the defendant out, and would adjourn the application to allow the defendant to take the matter up with the Land Commission, but he would direct that the £25 be paid out to applicants in respect of arrears.

LISMORE NOTES.

Musical Score— We are pleased to announce the release of the record "Where the Waters Meet in Old Kilkenny" (H.M.V.). This record is sung by Mr. William Wait, the celebrated Tenor, and the music has been written as a waltz-song by Mr. J. Scott-Allen, Lismore, who has been connected with Broadcasting and Film work for some time past.

Courting Club Dance— Many dances have been held by this popular Club since its origin, but last Sunday night's one eclipsed all previous records both from attendance and from the social point of view of enjoyment.

The Lismore Nightingale Orchestra were never heard to better effect before and a fine selection of old, and new tunes were rendered which fully satisfied an enthusiastic gathering.

The catering arrangements were carried out by Mrs. K. O'Connell, in her new Tea Room premises, opened in Chapel Street, Lismore, in a most efficient manner, and nothing lacked on the part of the Committee to keep the fullest vigour of enjoyment up till 3 o'clock, when the proceedings were brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.

Lismore Boy Scouts— The Flag Day held in Lismore by the Troop on Sunday last proved very successful and the members wish to thank all those who assisted in making it such a success.

A Gang Of— County Council workmen are at present employed at the work of widening and trunking a much-used passage in the townland of Comagher for which a Government grant has, it is stated, been obtained. Mr. Patrick Kiely, Slandalligan, is the efficient and energetic overseer in charge of the operations.

HOTEL MONATREA

The opening dance of the season was held at Hotel Monatrea, Youghal, and there was a large and fashionable attendance from the Counties Cork, Tipperary and Waterford.

Amongst those present were—Messrs. Commissioner Moynihan, P. J. O'Geenan, Chairman Youghal U.D.C.; A. R. Farrell, solr., Dungarvan; D. Lynch, Vocational Teacher, do.; W. Flynn, do.; K.
