DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL

Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., Chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday. Also present—Messrs. T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman; P. Byrne, J. Mansfield, J. Dahill, J. Christopher, J. F. Foley, J. J. Costy, Mr. Clancy, P. Quinn, and S. Hayes.

Sympathy
 On the proposition of the Chairman, seconded by Mr. McCarthy, a vote of sympathy was passed to the relatives of the late Mrs. Smith, Knockateemore.

Condition of Hall
 T. D. Smyth, Hon. Secretary, writing on behalf of the Committee of the Irish Dairy Shorthorn Breeders' Society Dance Club, drew the Council's attention to the condition of the large room of the Hall, and stated that the Council are no doubt aware that the distemper has peeled off, and that any amount of decorations put up by a Dance Committee would not cover their unsightly condition. In addition to the dance by his Committee, other dances will be held within the next few months, and his Committee feel that something should be done at once to improve a condition that is a reflection on Dance Committees, Townspeople and Council alike.

The Council after discussing the matter decided to defer the matter of improvements until the Department has sanctioned the improvement put up by the Council.

Audit Fees
 A letter from the Ministry Local Government and Public Health fixed a sum of £31 10s. as the fees payable by the Council for the audit of the accounts for the 3 years ended 31st March, 1937.

Milk Vendors
 Dr. O'Farrell, C.O.M.O.H., wrote stating that at present it appears there is no milk vendor in the town registered under the Milk and Dairies Act 1935, although the various premises have been inspected and the necessary recommendations made by the Veterinary Surgeon since last June. The letter requested that the Council make arrangements by which the necessary alterations will be carried out by the various applicants so that their premises may be registered without delay.

Dr. O'Farrell recommended that a time limit be fixed by the Council for the carrying out of the recommendations of the Veterinary Surgeon.

Mr. Dahill—As far as I remember when we had the Veterinary Inspectors report before us Dr. O'Farrell was here, and he promised to go around with the Veterinary Surgeon, and that the recommendations would be reduced to the minimum.

Chairman—I imagine he said the recommendations were at the minimum.

Mr. Crotty—They put one man out of business anyway, Mr. Green.

A member—And the Christian Brothers.

Mr. Dahill—It is not the Dairies Act caused that.

Mr. McCarthy said he heard that it was.

Mr. Clancy said that the Act is there now and the Council can do nothing about it.

Mr. Walsh, S.S.O., said that Dr. O'Farrell had asked him to inspect and see that the recommendations were carried out, and he would have that report for next meeting.

The matter was adjourned pending Mr. Walsh's report.

Sewerage Scheme
 Messrs. Delap and Waller, Consulting Engineers, reporting on the progress of the above, stated that the work is now proceeding at a better rate, owing to the supply of pipes having been obtained.

The matter of the method of carrying the pipes across the slob from Shandon Road to the manhole on the river bank has been the subject of discussion with the Contractors and from our last inspection of the excavating it would appear that a firm foundation can be obtained for the laying of a concrete benching under the two 12 inch pipes, as an alternative to the piling provided in the specifications thus affecting a saving in expenditure. The following sewers are now well under way to completion—Shandon 12"; Brewery Lane 9"; O'Connell street North and in O'Connell street West and Fair Lane, work is proceeding. Details with regard to tidal flaps, sluices and flushing, have been gone into with the Contractor, and the material decided on has been ordered.

The report was marked noted.

Mr. Crotty—From the reading of that report, they have not found the solid rock yet?

Chairman—No.
 A remark was passed by some member about unnecessary expense.

Mr. Clancy asked if it was unnecessary expense.

The Chairman said the position is that the Council decided on improving the water supply, but as the proper rock was not found at the depth in the Consulting Engineers specification, it has thrown us out of our estimate. If the Engineers thought at first that rock would not be found at 6 to 8 feet they would have put in a higher estimate.

Mr. Clancy said statements made at meetings may help or again may make the Architect or Contractor rush the job, and it is at a later date the Council might lose.

Mr. Crotty—The contractor would much prefer to get the rock at 6 feet.

Mr. Quinn—Even if the scheme cost £10,000, what member would vote against it, when water is so badly needed in the town.

The report was then marked noted, and on the proposition of Mr. Clancy seconded by Mr. Crotty, the following resolution was passed:—That in future public notice be given when the Glendine supply is cut off from the town for any considerable period owing to the fact that great inconvenience is caused when it is cut off without notice.

Cats Lough
 Mr. McCarthy suggested that as the surface of the Cats Lough is about 2 feet under road level, that Mr. T. McGrath, Housing Contractor, be asked to dump the good clay being at present removed from the sites there.

Chairman—It would greatly assist in levelling it off.

Mr. Clancy—The danger is that others may take advantage of it.

Mr. McCarthy—A notice that no others allowed dump there would prevent that.

It was decided to ask the Contractor to dump the clay there.

Stephen Street Club
 Mr. A. R. Farrell, solr., writing on behalf of the Secretary Stephen Street Club stated that under the new sewerage Scheme a trench was opened through their premises in or about 24th August last and has been left open since. The result is that one room of the Club cannot be used which is causing the club considerable loss as the trench is to be left open indefinitely over some hitch about the pipes, this letter is to let you know that his clients will hold the Council responsible for their ultimate loss.

The letter was marked noted.

Weightbridge
 Mr. Walsh reported taking over the Weightbridge from Mr. Hackett on Monday and securing Mr. Callaghan to take charge until the Council make definite arrangements. The remuneration for Mr. Callaghan will be a matter for the Council.

In his opinion the Council should appoint some person and have the weightbridge run by themselves for a period of 12 months, at the end of which the Council would be in a position to judge as to the desirability of having the work carried out by a person appointed by them or offering it again for contract.

After a short discussion, it was decided to re-advertise, tenders to be considered on November 26th.

Auditor's Report
 I beg to report that I have audited the accounts of the Dungarvan Urban District Council for the three years ended 31st 37 and I submit herewith certified abstracts of these accounts.

Rates—The following were the Rates in £ struck and levied for the service of each of the years under audit and for the preceding year—

1933/34—Poor Rate, 8s. od. Town Rate, 8s. 9d. Dom. Water Rate, 1s. od. Total 15s. 9d.
 1934/35—Poor Rate 8s. 6d. Town Rate 9s. 2d. Dom. Water Rate, 1s. od. Total 18s. 8d.
 1935/36—Poor Rate 7s. 1d. Town Rate 10s. 8d. Dom. Water Rate, 1s. od. Total 18s. 9d.
 1936/37—Poor Rate 8s. 9d. Town Rate, 8s. 9d. Dom. Water Rate, 1s. od. Total 18s. 6d.

Comparing the average rate for the three years under audit with the rate for 1934 there is no change in the Domestic Water Rate and only an increase of 1d. in the Poor Rate. The Town Rate shows an average increase in three years of 2s. 9 1/2d. in the £. These increases were mainly due to previous underestimating as referred to in my last report, to additional loan repayments as a result of new Capital undertakings and maintenance of Urban Roads. The Council were also unfortunate in having to meet heavy legal expenses and plaintiff's costs in respect of two lawsuits brought against them, though securing favourable decisions in each case.

Collection of Rates—The Rate Collection continues to be satisfactory—all warrants being fully accounted for within the financial year ended 31st 37.

outstanding on the Council's 177 houses, being approximately 2 1/2% of one year's Rent and Rates on these houses. As the percentage is so small I hope to have the pleasure of reporting a full 100% collection at next audit. I am glad to be in a position to report that the tenants of the Loughmore houses are meeting their obligations to the Council in a satisfactory manner. The appreciation of their responsibilities to the Council thus practically demonstrated by the tenants augurs well for the success of the further Housing Scheme in contemplation here.

Two cases came under my notice in which the Council reduced Rents from 8s. per week to 6s. per week on the grounds of the tenants' inability to pay the higher rent and while I am satisfied the Council acted in good faith in granting these reductions I desire to point out that this action should not be taken as a precedent, as if the Council were to alter rents on this basis it would only lead to chaos. Every other day the Council would be faced with applications for reductions on these grounds and members would find themselves in the position of having to choose between the interests of the general body of the Ratepayers, whom they represent and individual tenants.

Over the past three years the Rates have borne approximately 8d. in the £ per year in the present rents. In view of this fact it is my duty to warn the Council that should similar cases come to my notice at future audits I will be obliged to hold the members responsible for any loss which may accrue to the Rates as a result of their actions. When a tenant finds the rent which he has contracted to pay too heavy for him and complains to the Council, the obvious way of meeting his objection would be to afford him an opportunity of transferring to a lower rented house when a vacancy occurs.

Harbour Account—The Harbour receipts show a small improvement in the last year under audit as a result of the operations of the Dungarvan Harbour (Temporary Increase of Charges) Order, 1936—Amendment Order, 1936. As this Order did not take effect until 22nd September, 1936, the improvement referred to would indicate that this account should right itself within the next few years and be in a position to meet its outstanding commitments to the Council's General Account.

Miscellaneous—The sum of £400 transferred from Capital Account to Grant Account, referred to in my last report, has not been transferred back and dealt with as I suggested. My suggestion in this regard should be carried out as this money cannot be used for Revenue purposes. There are also a number of small unexpended balances on Capital Accounts standing in the books which will never be used—these monies should be paid into the Loan Accounts standing against them and where the loans are cleared directions as to how they may be used and cleared off the books should be sought from the Department of Local Government and Public Health.

The miscellaneous rent accounts were not satisfactorily presented. I explained my requirements in this regard to the Town Clerk and he has undertaken to have them kept and presented as required in future. A sum of £150 was paid on account of Costs to the Council's Solicitors for which no valid Bill Costs was available. The Solicitors explained that they were as yet unable to complete the Bill of Costs for taxation owing to the fact that the completion of certain legal transactions concerning third parties connected therewith were still in abeyance.

One of the Town Clerk's Sureties died during the period and it will be necessary for him to have a new Bond completed with the Council forthwith.

Premiums on the Council's Insurances have in all cases been paid to date.

The Accounts were carefully prepared and save for any observations to the contrary in the foregoing were presented for audit in a satisfactory manner and I received all the information and explanations I required.—Sean O Muirthuille, Inhibitor.

Chairman—I think it is a very satisfactory report, and I would like to congratulate our Rent Collector, the Town Clerk and all the Officials.

Mr. J. F. Foley—Not forgetting the Loughmore tenants.

Mr. Christopher—Did we not get sanction at the time for the rent reduction?

Clerk—Yes, but it was given subject to revision by the Auditor.

Chairman—That is a point the Council should not lose sight of in future.

Abbeyside Plot
 Arising out of a question by Mr. McCarthy, the Chairman was deputed to take up the matter of sanction for the purchase of the plot recently bought from Mr. Patrick Foley, at Sarsfield street.

WATERFORD CO. COUNCIL. QUARTERLY MEETING

Commissioner Moynihan held the Quarterly meeting of the County Council in the Council Offices on Tuesday last.

Auditor's Report
 The report of the Auditor on his audit of the accounts of the County Council for the six half-years ending 31st March 1937 was read.

The Commissioner said it was a most satisfactory report. The only question to which he would refer is the withholding of grants. Something like £4,000 in grants has been withheld from the County through the non-payment of annuities and rates. He had taken up the matter with the Land Commission regarding the speeding up of this collection. The holding up of this huge amount prevented the carrying out of a lot of useful work which would give much-needed employment.

Application for Increase
 An application from Mr. J. Bowen, Co. Surveyor, for an increase of salary in respect of the taking over of Urban Roads was before the meeting.

Commissioner—In view of the fact that he has got extra work in the taking over of these roads he is entitled to an increase. What did he get in respect of the taking over of the Urban Roads?

Secretary—£5.
 The Commissioner then granted an extra £15 bringing the total to £40.

Representative for University College
 The Commissioner appointed an Extra Fee Mr. as representative on the Governing Body of the University College, Cork.

Loss of Pounding
 An application from Rate Collectors for payment of loss of pounding for years 1934/35 and 1936/37 due to the increased agricultural grant was read.

The following resolution was passed by the Commissioner:—That subject to the sanction of the Minister for Local Government and Public Health, Rate Collectors Nugent, Quailly, Harty, Callinan, W. Connors, Barry and Condon, be granted a bonus equivalent to a poundage of one penny in the £ on the amount lodged in respect of year 1934/35 to cover loss of pounding due to Agricultural Grant.

The Commissioner said he would adjourn the application for pounding for 1936/37 as he is at present in communication with the Department on the question of the revision of the whole system of Rate Collectors remuneration.

Rent and Rate Checker
 The Secretary reporting that the Rent and Rate Checker had resigned, and that the Commissioner had made temporary arrangements for filling the vacancy asked if the Commissioner would now make the permanent appointment.

Commissioner Moynihan said the appointment would be for the Appointments' Commissioners.

He then fixed the salary at £200 rising by annual increments of £10 to £300, with an allowance of 6d. per mile as travelling expenses.

Loan of £243,610
 The Commissioner approved the raising of the following loans by the Board of Public Health: a loan of £58,800 in respect of the erection of 151 cottages in the Waterford Co. Health District Labourers (non-Municipal Towns) Order 1937.

A loan of £174,580 in respect of the erection of 430 cottages under the Labourers Order, and a loan of £100,230 in respect of the erection of 26 cottages on a site to be acquired by agreement at Portlaw—Total £243,610.

Drainage at Ballyduff
 The Commissioner also approved of the raising of a loan of £3,182 by the Board of Health for a drainage scheme at Ballyduff and £2,498 for a water supply at Glencain.

Loan of £2,600
 A loan of £2,600 sought for by the Board of Public Assistance in respect of Extensions at the County Home.

Tractors On Roads
 A letter read from the Chief Superintendent Garda Síochána, stated that the use of tractors in the circumstances mentioned has been receiving his attention and appropriate instructions to the members under his command to take suitable action where such tractors are detected have been issued.

This matter arose on a report from the County Surveyor to the Commissioner (which was referred to the Chief Superintendent) that tractors without smooth bands on the wheels were being used on the roads causing damage to the surface.

Preservation of Ancient Monuments
 The Secretary Board of Public Health wrote enclosing a report from Mr. Bowen, Co. Surveyor, on the condition of the Aghna (Dungarvan) graveyard and the Ogham stones at Stradbally.

The report recommended the thorough clearing down of the rain, taking the

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC ASSISTANCE

Commissioner Meghan, sat in the Secretary's Office, Co. Home, Dungarvan, on Wednesday and transacted the business of the Board of Public Assistance, Commissioner Moynihan was absent through illness.

Financial Statement
 The monthly financial statement showed a balance to credit at the end of Oct. as £4,260 5s. 4d.

Range for Fever Hospital
 The Commissioner approved of the installation of a new range at the Fever Hospital, Waterford, at a cost of £20.

The matter arose on a report from Mr. Jephson that the old range was beyond repair.

Midwife Suspended
 Arising out of the death of his wife which occurred on November 6th after confinement, a letter was read from Mr. Philip Walsh, Mountbolton, Portlaw, (husband), asking for an inquiry into the conduct of the midwife—Nurse Leahy, who attended his wife who was confined on Thursday 21st October. The nurse stated she would come back later that day, but did not come again until Saturday the 23rd when she took the child to be christened and did not attend to the mother until Monday 25th. She did not come then until Wednesday 27th and passed some remark that she did not think she was needed again. In his opinion his wife needed a doctor on Thursday 28th October, and when he came he asked about the nurse. He went for her in his own car and ordered her up. In his opinion she only gave my wife a dose of oil. That was on Thursday 28th October, his wife died on Saturday 6th November. The distance from the village to his house is 12 miles. Hoping you will give this case attention, as in my opinion my wife died from pure neglect on the nurse's part.

The Secretary said that on receipt of that letter he sent a copy to the nurse for her observations and she reported: "I was called to Mrs. Walsh, Mountbolton, at 3.45 on Thursday October 21st. I made the usual preparations and gave her a cup of tea. The baby was born at 8 a.m. I made her very comfortable and gave her a cup of tea and a slice of toast. Her pulse was normal and she said she never felt as well after the other confinements. After bathing and dressing the baby Philip Walsh went to the village to get a car to take me home. As she was leaving the patient was very bright and happy and I told her not to spare me, if I could do any good or if the baby got troublesome. Next day I got ready to go down, but it rained hard and I waited until after dinner and when about to leave, Philip Walsh called and said 'the road is flooded nurse, and she is A.I., but I came down to see the priest about the christening, so you can make the one job of it tomorrow.' From Saturday, I visited the patient daily and attended to her as I always had done, and walked up in the rain and wind until Thursday 28th. She developed no temperature up to Wednesday, being quite normal when I left her on the 27th. I said I need not go up on Thursday 28th and she said but why come again. On Friday Dr. Walker called to my house and asked me when I last saw Mrs. Walsh. I told him on Wednesday, and he said her husband called him (Dr. Walker) that morning and he found Mrs. Walsh not so well, as she had a temperature of 100.3 and asked if I would go to her. I got a car and went. I found the patient very bright but sweating profusely. Her temperature was 100, pulse 98. After attending to her and she felt quite well. I visited her again on Saturday and Sunday when she was also quite well. I went again on Monday as I heard in the village that she took ill, but then the sick nurse was with her. On November 3rd Dr. Walker told me I was suspended until further notice. Mrs. Walsh died on Saturday at 3 a.m. I had not seen her since November 1st."

A long report on the case was read from Dr. O'Farrell, Co. M.O.H., pointing out that nurse Leahy, who was in attendance on Mrs. Walsh, who died from Puerperal Sepsis, has transgressed the rules of the Central Midwives Board.

An order was made that nurse Leahy be suspended from all duty under the Board, the Home Assistance Officer to make temporary arrangements for the carrying out of the duty.

Tenders for Painting
 Lismore Hospital
 George O'Brien, Contractor, Lismore, £27 15s. od. Wm. Burke, Painter, Dungarvan, £43 10s. Timothy O'Connell, Lismore, £43 4s. od. Patk. Flynn, 307 Parnell Street, Waterford, £103. Louis Hodgkinson, Limerick £96 10s. The Engineer's estimate was £45. Mr. George O'Brien's tender was accepted.

Site for Dispensary
 A discussion took place on the question of sanction for the site at Fair Lane for a New Dispensary and Public Health clinic.

The Secretary explained that the Board purchased a site which the Department thought had not frontage enough. They then secured an adjoining site which gave the required frontage and now the Department say it is too deep and asking the Board to purchase the front portion. He (secretary) wrote stating that the owners would not be prepared to sell the front portion.

Dr. O'Farrell, accompanied by a Local Government Inspector, then left to visit the site. The Inspector promised to take the matter up with the Department.

Senior And Minor Football Finals At Kill

Hard-Fought Frays For Co. Championship Honours

DUNGARVAN AND STRADBALLY WREST THE "DOUBLE" FOR WATERFORD WEST!

Col. Poer O'Shea, Gardenmorris, kindly gave the use of the field at Kill whereon, on Sunday evening last, was staged the two-part programme of Waterford County Championship Football Finals of this year (senior and minor grades).

Large contingents of enthusiastic camp-followers accompanied the respective contenders for the titles at issue. The day was dry, calm and clear, with a cold snap in the air following a heavy frost overnight. Kill Gaels had the pitch in splendid trim, the surface being ideal for the big ball code. The stewarding was all that could be desired, and the opposing teams were accorded the best of fair play and sportsmanlike impartiality from the appreciative spectators. Mr. J. Mountain (St. Stephen's F.C., Waterford) retained the senior set-to between Dungarvan and Fenor, and Mr. J. Mason (Cappoquin F.C.) had charge of the minor mix between Stradbally and Mountain Rovers (Rathgormack).

Dunhill Fife and Drum Band attended and discoursed a pleasing selection of National airs during the evening.

The minors were the first in action and lined out as under:—
Stradbally—K. Phelan (Capt.); J. Morrissey (goal); B. Phelan, J. Power, M. Phelan, T. Clancy, P. Skehan, J. Curran, R. McKeon, J. Kieley, E. Whelan, N. McGrath, T. Veale, N. Connors and T. Dunphy.

Mountain Rovers—J. Phelan (Capt.); M. Terry (goal); P. Fender, M. Curry, W. Terry, P. McGrath, A. Coughlan, P. Wad, P. Hogan, J. Henneberry, M. Houlahan, T. Brazil, M. Coughlan and R. Power.

The Minor Game

Stradbally broke away on the throw-in and dominated play for the first quarter. They ran up a lead of 2 points before the Rovers raised a flag. The Mountain boys launched a series of assaults, but a sparkling Stradbally defence successfully staved off every attack. The Western representatives came along for their third point, and secured a similar score just before the interval-blast. Half-time scores: Stradbally..... 0-4 Mountain Rovers..... 0-1

The Rovers raided immediately on the resumption and had matters all their own way for the ensuing ten minutes, hoisting a green flag before Stradbally replying with a point. Fairly even play was the order until Stradbally banged home another goal, succeeded by two points. The Eastern group got going once more but failed to penetrate scorewards. Just on the nick of full-time Stradbally went through for a great goal, leaving the result:—
Stradbally..... 2-7
Mountain Rovers..... 1-1

K. Phelan, N. Connors, J. Curran, T. Dunphy, and T. Veale, starred for the winners; while M. Curry, J. Phelan, W. Terry, J. Henneberry and R. Power, were outstanding for the Rovers.

The Senior Game

The Dungarvan and Fenor XV's received a rousing reception as they advanced to the line-out. The teams were:—
Dungarvan—D. Goode (capt.); S. Hayes (goal); T. Parsons, P. Russell, P. O'Dwyer, W. Barron, C. Moylan, J. McCarthy, J. Ryan, T. Carbery, T. Longan, P. Nagle, J. Murphy, W. Coleman and E. Power.

Fenor—P. Byrnes (Capt.); P. Gaffney, Harpur Bros., think so. That is why Harpur carry the largest and most varied stock in the South of Ireland of Plain and Fancy tiled register Grates, Mantel Registers, Slate and Marble Man'el Pieces, Tiled Hearths, Brass and Oxidised Curbs, Fire Brasses, Fenders, Coal Vases, Hearth Rugs and so on. A stock so immense and up-to-the-minute that women cannot omit to visit Harpur Bros., Quay, Waterford, when they want to see what are the latest ideas and designs in these things.

Dall Court's Assession

A meeting of the Executive of the above body (of which Mr. Michael Francis Sheehan, Peace Commissioner, Ballyhussa, Kilmathomas, is a valued member) was held at 11, Hume Street, Dublin, Mr. C. J. Garland, presiding. Correspondence was dealt with from Cork, Kilkenny, Sligo and Limerick. It was decided to hold a convention as early as possible, the exact date to be fixed, when the Executive receives a reply from the Minister for Justice. The constitution of the Association was discussed, and it was agreed to submit certain changes to the Convention for approval.

The Waterford Hunt

Most encouraging reports come from this Hunt," says the current Hunting number of the "Irish Field." "Foxes are plentiful, and cubbing has been most satisfactory. Prospects for the season are first-class.

"There are no changes to be recorded, and this is as it should be, seeing that the joint mastership of Mr. R. Russell (1927) and Lord William Beresford (1933), Georgetown House, Kilmathomas, has produced the best of sport. Mr. Russell carries the burden, and Lord William Beresford adds to his responsibilities and services by being the acting hon. sec.

"There are 40 couples in the kennels at Seaford, Bonmahon, and hounds meet three days a week, viz. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. The whips are Dick Thatcher and Jack Neely. (Kilnelo phone No. 1, Kilmathomas 9).

"Subscription—£15 for qualification to election as member; £5 (minimum) for season. Can, 2/6; non-subscribers, 10/."

"Best centres are Waterford, Tramore, Portlaoise.

"The Hunt Country (that of the old Curraghmore Hunt) lies altogether in Co. Waterford. The great days of the Waterford pack were those when the third Marquess of Waterford was M.F.H. It is gratifying to see one of the Beresford family in the person of Lord William occupying so intimate a connection with the Hunt."

The Waterfords met at Feddan's Cross (Rathgormack) on Tuesday and at Graceland on the next day but one. Fine fields turned out, and some exhilarating runs at racing pace were provided on both days.

A collection for the Earl Haig Fund took place at Thursday's rendezvous, when a substantial sum was subscribed by the many ladies and gentlemen in attendance. Hounds met at the homely hamlet of Dunhill at 11 a.m. today (Saturday). The "music" of the mottled 'uns in full cry under the shadow of historic Dunhill Castle was a joy to hear.

Waterford Beagle

Curraghmore (by kind invitation of the Marchioness of Waterford) will be the trying-place of this now popularly established pack on tomorrow (Sunday) at 12.30 p.m.

Beagles meet at Carrigrohane on the 14th inst. One exceptionally good hare set foot in the locality set his pursuers a long and lively chase over a charming stretch of hunting country. TALLOW NEWS

DEATH OF MRS. F. M. CAREW, LISNABRIN, TALLOW.

We regret to announce the death which took place in the early hours of Sunday morning of Mrs. F. M. Carew, the beloved wife of Captain Walter Alexander Carew, Lisnabrin House, Tallow.

Deceased was the eldest daughter of the late Henry Thomas Vickers, Barrister-at-Law, Dublin, and was married in 1913.

For many years she was a member of the Select Vestry of St. Catherine's Church, Tallow, and an zealous worker in the various spheres of Church and Parish work. While of late years she enjoyed rather indifferent health, her demise was somewhat unexpected, and to the bereaved husband and relatives the deepest sympathy of his many friends and neighbours is extended.

The passing of Mrs. Carew is deeply deplored by all those with whom she was associated, and particularly by the poor to whom she was at all times a kind and charitable benefactor.

Tallow Water Supply

Considerable complaint is heard on all sides, as to the inadequate water supply to the town for many weeks past.

To conserve the supply, the caretaker of the waterworks has had to shut off the main every night, sometime between 7 and 8 o'clock, thereby causing great inconvenience to the inhabitants, and totally disorganising the proper functioning of the sanitary equipment installed at great expense by most of the residents.

Rumour has it that the shortage has been created by the fact that the sewerage contractor has had to tap the water main for the purpose of obtaining a supply of water to wash the gravel which is being used in connection with the sewerage project.

The inhabitants are asking and rightly so, why the water from the main should be used for such a purpose, while river water is available, within a short distance from where the washing is being carried on. It is earnestly hoped that some other arrangement will be come to at an early date, and thus remove the cause of such complaints as are being heard on all sides.

HOUSE DEMOLITION ORDERS

Carrick-on-Suir Urban Council has made orders for the demolition of 50 houses recently condemned by the Co. Medical Officer of Health. This brings the houses condemned and ordered to be demolished up to 150 during the past two years. The Council has also made the necessary order for a Clearance Scheme in respect of a large slum area in the West Ward. At present 107 houses are being built. A further 120 will be built next year.

YOUTHS FORGE DOCUMENTS

Mr. McCabe, D.J., at Carrick-on-Suir Court on Monday, adjourned for 30 months at the request of Mr. Frank O'Connor, State Solicitor, a charge against two lads each 16 years old of having obtained several sums of money from Messrs. E. Dowley and Sons, Carrick-on-Suir, by forging documents.

Defendants admitted the offence.

Mr. O'Connor said the parents of the lads have arranged to pay back the money in instalments.

STRADBALLY SHOOTING

GUARD DALY ON MURDER CHARGE

Three Days Hearing At Central Criminal Court NOT GUILTY VERDICT

The case in which John Joseph Daly, (35), a Civic Guard, a native of Clare, was charged with the murder of Michael Fitzgerald by shooting him at Stradbally, Co. Waterford, on the morning of August 1 last was heard in the Central Criminal Court last week.

The State case was that while Michael Fitzgerald and his brother Thomas were fishing on the river Tay the accused shot the former, who was a member of the crew of the British battleship, Rodney, home on leave.

Thomas Fitzgerald, said he had six brothers. Michael, the youngest came home on the Tuesday, and was killed on the Saturday night. He had been 14 years in the British Navy.

On the Saturday night, about 7.30 (old time), he went up the river alone. On the way back he met Guard Daly, and Mr. Frawley. Guard Daly had a rifle and a fishing rod. Witness was on good terms with them. Guard Daly, who was in civilian clothes, said, "Did you have a look?"

Witness returned to the house about 11, and at about 12 midnight witness and Michael went out, bringing with them a trout net, which he had made himself. On arrival at the river they spread the net, and his brother crossed to the other side of the river, taking one end of the net with him. They went down the river drawing the net between them, until they came to a little island, and they then got the net in a "blunt." They were then both on the avenue side of the river. There were about 14 trout in the net.

A man rushed from a holly tree and flashed a light, and as he passed him he said: "Put up your hands. I have you now." Witness then heard a shot fired. He recognised the man as Guard Daly when he spoke. Guard Daly had the light in his left hand and the gun in his right hand, pointing downwards.

As witness was taking cover behind a bush he heard Guard Daly say: "Why did you put your hands down?" "Why did you put your hands down?"

Witness saw his brother stagger up the slope from the river, and when he succeeded in reaching the top he fell on his elbow.

He appeared to be suffering dreadful agony. Guard Daly shouted "Tom!" and some time later went away.

Witness hid the net beside a pond, and went back to his brother, who was breathing, but could not talk. He said: "Are you bad, Mick?" There was no reply, and witness then saw that his brother's chest was covered with blood. He put his coat over his brother's chest and then went, first to the house of Nicholas Whelan, and then to his sister's house, from which he brought blankets and clothes to his brother.

Neither his brother nor himself ever had a revolver.

Cross-examined by Mr. Cecil Lavery, K.C., who, with Mr. F. G. O. Budd (instructed by Mr. M. M. Halley, Waterford), defended, witness said that he had occasionally fished in the river with a net in company with his brother.

Mr. Lavery—Do you remember when your brother Patrick was convicted and fined for poaching in the river at Woodhouse?—I do not know.

Was your brother James ever convicted?—I do not know.

Was he not convicted for fishing at Woodhouse with a net in June, 1928?—I do not know.

Was he not convicted for using a spear for catching salmon in 1928?—I think I remember something about that.

Do you remember his being fined for throwing stones into the river?—I don't know.

Was your father known in the district as "The Gaduidhe"?—I do not know.

Do you know the meaning of the word "Gaduidhe"?—No.

Although your father was commonly called by all and sundry "The Gaduidhe" Fitzgerald?—I know nothing of it.

Did you know anybody of the name of Proctor?—I don't know.

Did your father leave the country after he had tried to drown a policeman named Proctor, who had surprised him on the banks of this river poaching for salmon?—I know nothing about it.

evidence of having on Saturday night, July 31, previous to the shooting, said to Guard Daly: "I think Tom Fitzgerald is poaching in the river." Mr. Frawley gave a rifle to Guard Daly and took Guard Daly's fishing rod. Witness's brother gave Guard Daly a lamp. Later he thought he heard a shot.

Thomas Francis Casey, Clerk to the Waterford Mental Hospital, who was called as a State witness, said that he was on holidays in Stradbally in July last. He knew Guard Daly and met him early on the Saturday evening with a Mr. Phelan, and they had a conversation about fishing. Witness mentioned that he had seen some trout in the river that day. He and his two sons went fishing that night about 10 o'clock. Later on, when they were on the Dungarvan side of the river, they met Guard Daly, Mr. Frawley and Mr. Phelan. He saw Guard Daly exchange his fishing rod with Mr. Frawley for a rifle. Daly went away down the river, and about a quarter of an hour afterwards he heard a shot.

Earlier that day witness had placed some barbed wire in the river. He remembered telling Guard Daly that he had put the wire in the river.

Cross-examined by Mr. Lavery, witness said that he put the wire in the river to prevent illegal fishing with "net-dragging."

Replying to Mr. Justice Gavan Duffy, witness said that anglers of white trout strongly objected to the netting of white trout because it tended to wipe out the stock.

Patrick Frawley, Stradbally, a member of the Garda until 1930, and a native of Co. Clare, said that on July 31 he and Guard Daly inspected the river for fish. Guard Daly said to Tom Fitzgerald at the river: "Are you spotting them, Tom?" Fitzgerald replied: "I am just having a look."

Later Guard Daly and witness went to fish at the other side of the river. Witness had a rifle for shooting rabbits. When a little boy of the Casey family arrived he shouted: "Guard Daly, are you there?" Daly replied they were, and Casey said: "They are dragging the river."

Guard Daly took the rifle from witness and handed witness a fishing rod, a bag, and net. One of the Casey boys handed Daly a flash-lamp. When Guard Daly saw a short distance he said the screw of the sight of the rifle was lost. Daly then went away, and some time after witness heard a shout of "He!" He also heard a shot.

Dr. P. G. Dooley, Kilmacthomas, said that when he saw the body of Fitzgerald on the bank of the river at 1.30 a.m. on August 1 there was no sign of life.

Dr. J. McGrath, State Pathologist, said death must have followed a minute or two after the bullet had entered the body. The bullet fractured the collar-bone.

Guard Patrick Donovan, who was barrister on July 31, read in Irish and translated into English the entries in the station diary in Irish of Guard Daly's official duties that day. After midnight he was roused out of bed by a loud knock and shouted: "Who is there?" The reply was, "Guard Daly—all right." Daly then said: "I have done it, Pat—I shot him." Witness asked, "Who?" and Daly replied "Fitzgerald."

Daly had a rifle in one hand and a flashlamp in the other hand. He said, "There is the rifle—take it," and handed the rifle to witness. He seemed excited and exhausted.

Daly asked, "Where is the Sergeant?" Witness asked what happened, and Daly replied: "I came on them poaching in the river. I challenged them to put up their hands. Immediately I did so, Fitzgerald took a step backwards and sideways, put his hand to his hip pocket, and pulled what I thought was a gun. I had the rifle in one hand and the flashlamp in the other, and I fired at him. Tom Fitzgerald ran away. I called him, for God's sake, to come back, but he did not. I said an Act of Contrition into the dying man's ear."

Cross-examined by Mr. Budd, witness said he heard Daly tell the Sergeant that Fitzgerald remarked to him that he (Fitzgerald) was "only coddling." Witness knew members of the Fitzgerald family had been convicted of poaching. It was the general opinion that the Fitzgerald family were "tough customers"—a courageous family that any law-abiding citizen would be slow to pick a quarrel with.

Re-examined by Mr. Maguire (for the State), witness said that none of the Fitzgeralds was up for any offence during his time in Stradbally. He found Tom Fitzgerald all right.

Sergeant Lynch, Stradbally, said that on the morning of August 1, at approximately 1.15 a.m., he was awakened by a loud knocking on the front door of the barracks. He recognised a man at the door as Guard Daly, and when he asked him what was wrong, Daly replied: "Do not mind what is wrong now, but come down at once." When Daly came into the day-room witness noticed that there was sweat on his face—more especially on his forehead. He was dressed in civilian clothes and had no cap on.

He said, "I shot a man, Sergeant," and I said, "Who did you shoot?" Daly replied, "Tom Fitzgerald," but corrected himself immediately, and said "Mick Fitzgerald."

Without any question from witness, Daly proceeded to say: "I was walking along the river bank at Derryheen. I saw the two Fitzgeralds in the river. I had a gun under my right arm and flash lamp in my left hand. I presented the gun and said, 'Put up your hands. Stick them up.' Immediately I said these words Michael Fitzgerald took a pace forward, put his right hand to his hip pocket and produced some long object which I took to be a gun. I fired point blank at him and he fell. I went over to him and said, 'Why did you not put up your hands?' and he said in a gurgling kind of voice, 'I saw a thing flash—what I thought was only coddling.' Tom ran away, and I shouted at him, 'For God's sake come back.'"

Pointing at the rifle, Daly said: "There is the rifle. Take a peep of it." Daly then asked witness to phone for the doctor and the Superintendent, and while he was doing this John Henry Nesbitt came into the day-room. Accompanied by Nesbitt, witness then left the barracks and proceeded towards the river. On his way he called at the house of Frank Crowley and asked him to go for a priest, and further along he "knocked-up" Mrs. Kent, a qualified nurse, and the three of them went to Derryheen.

They found the body of Michael Fitzgerald lying on the bank of the river. On the ground, in a direct line from the right elbow of deceased, at a distance of 2ft 6ins., was a white trout. He found three trout in the dead man's coat pocket. He was aware that Guard Daly owned and had a licence for the .22 sporting rifle.

Cross-examined by Mr. Lavery, witness said that there had been complaints of poaching in the rivers Tay and Mahon. Patrick and James Fitzgerald, brothers of deceased, had been convicted of poaching. It would be correct to describe the Fitzgeralds as inveterate poachers.

Guard Daly had said that when Tom did not return when he called him he went over to the wounded man, knelt beside him, and said the Act of Contrition. He was most anxious to get a doctor and priest for the injured man.

Supt. M. Dennehy, said that he went to Stradbally on receiving a report of the affair, and saw Guard Daly at his own house. Guard Daly said: "I got information last night that the river was to be poached. I went to the river bank and had the rifle. I saw the two Fitzgeralds, and they had a net. When I saw you badly hit? and he put his hand to his chest and said, 'I am, man, right over the heart.' He said: 'Why did you shoot me?' and I replied, 'Why did you pull a gun?' He said: 'I hadn't any gun,' and I remarked, 'But you drew a gun.' He then said: 'I was only coddling.'"

When he said that, I took in the whole situation. The fish was there at his side, and I came to the conclusion that it was a fish he had in his hand. I called for Tom Fitzgerald, but there was no sign of him. I went out into the field and shouted: 'For God's sake, Tom, come back and give me a hand,' but there was no reply. I expected that when I would get to Mick Fitzgerald, he would be quite conscious and talking. I said there was not use in losing my head and that I might be able to stop the blood if he was bleeding. When I got back to him I flashed the light on his face and saw that his eyes were closed. I asked him was he all right, but there was no reply. He was breathing quickly. I bent down and said an Act of Contrition into his ear."

Mr. Justice Gavan Duffy—Did you know he was dying then?—I knew he was unconscious, and I went up the river bank for about one hundred yards and called out a couple of times, thinking there might be someone passing the road.

Witness said he went on to Phelan's house. He did not want to alarm Mrs. Phelan, and he asked her as casually as he could if her husband, Nicholas, was in.

She said he was in. He then went to use his flash lamp, and reported the matter. Cross-examined by Mr. Maguire, accused said he knew and appreciated the danger of firearms. He knew that the rifle would carry a mile, and was loaded with a soft-nosed bullet to destroy vermin. He was interested in fishing, and knew that a licence was necessary for white trout even with a rod and line. He did not get any special instructions about looking after the rifle. He fished a few times a week for trout, although he had no licence to do so. He never challenged Mr. Frawley or Mr. Casey for a licence.

He had asked permission from the steward in charge to fish in the place, and he understood that anybody could fish there if no harm was done.

Accused said that on the evening of July 31 there were ten or eleven shots in the magazine of the rifle, and he had fired no shot that day.

Whether or not he had got a message concerning persons poaching in the river, he would have taken the rifle from Mr. Frawley because the weapon was loaded, and he would not leave it in possession of a man who knew nothing about it. He did not expect anybody to come with him to catch the Fitzgeralds. If by the Guards "spilled the beans" by bringing men like Casey or Frawley into the case, they would get no information. A Guard would use his discretion, because, as civilians, they had no life in the locality.

Mr. Maguire—Were you not going to stop an illegal act on the river?—Yes. And would it not be useful to have a witness—if I am out on duty I do not expect a civilian to come with me. Why did you bring the gun with you?—I had confidence in myself with a gun, and I would not leave it with a man who knew nothing about it.

Further questioned, he said he had taken the rifle several times along the river before at night. The sergeant's statement that he said he fired point blank was scarcely correct. He never used that statement. He fired at Fitzgerald's right shoulder.

Mr. Maguire—Could you not have fired a shot in the air?—I could if I were indifferent about human life. Why did you not fire at his legs?—I could not calmly consider where I would fire then. I had only one split second to make up my mind. I had not even that—I acted instinctively.

Why did you not fire a warning shot?—I have seen accidents caused by such shots, and I do not approve of them. Were you perfectly cool at that time?—I was.

Did you fire to strike this man?—I fired to prevent him from using what I thought was a gun. Later, I saw what he had was a trout.

Judge's Questions Mr. Justice Gavan Duffy—Supposing the action of Michael Fitzgerald had not appeared to threaten you what course of action would you be prepared to take?—I probably would have taken the fish and net to the barracks.

What about arresting the poachers?—I would not have done that. Did you address them angrily?—Well, no angrily, but I gave them to understand that I was about to get the net. Why not address Tom in a friendly way and say: "I have got you now, Tom?"—But there were two of them there.

I suppose if Michael did not hear exactly what you said he would know from the tone of your voice that it was rather fierce?—Oh, he would. And he would see your gun?—He would I am sure. Tom Fitzgerald could have seen and recognised you?—I suppose so. Do you think Michael could have recognised you?—I am not sure.

Why, if all you were going to do was to seize the net and fish, was it necessary to make such an aggressive approach?—Tactics, I suppose. I thought that by flashing the light on them I would frighten them, and that they would go out and leave me the fish and the net. You were trying to bluff them?—Yes. And you hoped they would run away?—Yes.

Closing Stages Mr. Budd addressed the jury on behalf of the accused. There was no closing address for the prosecution.

Mr. Justice Gavan Duffy then summed up at considerable length, and spoke of the legal issues involved in the use of firearms in self-defence.

"I think," he said, "that although there is a little evidence that might sustain a verdict of murder, there is so little that I don't think any jury would feel justified in convicting Daly on it."

The jury, however, could bring in a verdict of manslaughter if they considered that the Guard did not fulfil the conditions laid down to establish a case of self-defence.

When he said that, I took in the whole situation. The fish was there at his side, and I came to the conclusion that it was a fish he had in his hand. I called for Tom Fitzgerald, but there was no sign of him. I went out into the field and shouted: 'For God's sake, Tom, come back and give me a hand,' but there was no reply. I expected that when I would get to Mick Fitzgerald, he would be quite conscious and talking. I said there was not use in losing my head and that I might be able to stop the blood if he was bleeding. When I got back to him I flashed the light on his face and saw that his eyes were closed. I asked him was he all right, but there was no reply. He was breathing quickly. I bent down and said an Act of Contrition into his ear."

When John Heyden, Carrickbeg, Joseph Healy, do., and James Waters, Carrick-on-Suir, were charged at Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday by Supt. Kelly, with drinking methylated spirit, the three defendants admitted the charge and said they would never again drink the stuff if they were let off.

Mr. McCabe, D.J., dismissing the charges with a strong caution, pointed out to the defendants the danger to their lives of drinking methylated spirit apart from the penalty prescribed for the offence.

TURKEYS! TURKEYS!!

Messrs. J. O'Connor and Sons, Cappoquin, are now prepared to purchase any number of Turkeys in good condition at 10d. per lb.

Producers are strongly advised to market all birds suitable for sale at the earliest possible moment, while the present good price lasts, as the British Agricultural Department's Return show a 40% increase in English Turkeys over last year's production, which is bound to seriously affect the prices for Irish Turkeys as the Xmas Season advances.
Producers, therefore, should not be holding over their birds this year for fancy prices, which may never be reached.

OBITUARY. Death of Mr. John Green A GREAT IRISHMAN PASSES

With feeling of the deepest regret we announce the death of Mr. John Green, Burgery, Dungarvan, which occurred at his residence on Tuesday night after a short illness. He had reached the fine age of 90 years and was attending to his business as usual up to a few weeks ago when he began to fall and fully resigned to the will of the Almighty, he breathed his last peacefully on Tuesday.

The late Mr. Green was the embodiment of good nature, gentle in manner and of a most charitable disposition, he never failed to befriend those in need—one who was never found wanting when help was needed, or when an appeal was made to him. His sound, practical advice was ever at the services of his legion of friends.

From his earliest days he took a prominent part in the public life of the country, and in the Plan of Campaign and Home Rule Movements, he took a man's part, and whenever work of a national character was to be done Johnny Green was always to be found. During the stormy days of the Land League, the late Mr. Green was always a suspect and kept under close surveillance by Dublin Castle.

He was a personal friend of the late J. E. Redmond, John Dillon and all the leaders of the Irish Party. As an Agriculturalist he stood out by himself, and his large dairy and tillage farm was always a model of perfection, while as a market gardener, he had no competitor—his knowledge of the growing of vegetables of all kinds was unique.

A sound administrator, he was practically all his life a member of the various public bodies in the county. His work on the County Council, County Committee of Agriculture, Board of Guardians and Rural Councils, is well known.

Late and early he fought on behalf of the ratepayers to keep down the rates and get the best value from the money expended. In every avenue of public and national life he was to be found, and his sound judgment and clear common-sense were daily appreciated by his friends.

In private life he was a thorough gentleman, and a raconteur to whom it was a treat to listen. On Wednesday evening his remains were removed from his late residence to the Abbeyside Parish Church, the cortege being very large and representative of all classes of the public. On Wednesday morning after the celebration of Solemn Requiem Office and High Mass for the happy repose of his soul, the interment took place in the family plot adjoining at which there was another very large and representative gathering of mourners and sympathisers.

High Mass was celebrated by Rev. M. Power, C.C., Abbeyside; deacon Rev. J. J. Power, C.C., Kilgobinet; sub-deacon Rev. Chas. Lawn, C.C., Dungarvan. In the choir were—Very Rev. T. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., Dungarvan; Very Rev. N. Dunphy, P.P., Abbeyside; Very Rev. Fr. Sheehy, P.P., Kilgobinet; Very Rev. J. Cullinane, P.P., Touraneena, Rev. T. B. Walsh, C.C., Dungarvan; Rev. W. Flynn, C.C., do.; Rev. P. O'Farrell, C.C., do.; Rev. P. Cummins, O.S.A., Cork.

The immediate chief mourners were—Mrs. Bridget Greene (widow); Mrs. Fives (sister); John and Michael Fives (nephews); John Norris, (brother-in-law); Mrs. Landers (sister-in-law).

A large number of Mass Cards were laid on the grave including—"From his fond wife," his nephews John and Michael; Eily Finn and Robert; Jack and Mary Norris, Margaret McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Qually and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lawn, J. H. O'Sullivan, Kit Landers and family, Mrs. M. C. Power and family; Jack Lynch, Mary Tobin, Katie and Alice Ahearne, Jack and Mrs. Terry, Kathleen and May.

POPULAR KILMATHOMAS FARMER'S DEATH The death took place at a Cork hospital on Wednesday of Mr. John Baldwin, farmer, Kilnagrange, Kilmathomas. The deceased, who was a comparatively young man, was the worthy member of an old and highly respected Mid-Waterford stock; he was an extensive and progressive farmer, a man of singular integrity of character; a generous, kindly and helpful neighbour, and was deservedly popular. He had been ill for only a short time and his hopes were entertained that the best medical care and skilled nursing would bring about his recovery. The Divine Will ordained otherwise, however, and he passed peacefully and resignedly away, comforted by the rites of the Holy Mother Church, of which he was ever an ardent and devout member. His most estimable wife is left with a family of six young children to mourn his loss. He was a brother of Mrs. John Walsh, Ballynabogue, Kilmathomas, and Mrs. Pierce Casey, Kilmathomas, Dungarvan. The remains were brought to the Catholic Church, Feys, on Thursday evening, accompanied by a very large and representative cortege.

The burial takes place today Friday after the celebration of Requiem Office and High Mass.

MRS. BRIDGET TORPEY, Mrs. Bridget Torpey (nee Power), wife of efficient and energetic County Council road overseer Mr. James Torpey, Glendalligan, Kilrossanty, died at the Cottage Hospital, Dungarvan, on Monday, after a protracted illness and at a comparatively young age. A fine type of Irish Catholic wife and mother, she was a most charitable and estimable woman, well liked by all who knew her. Sincere sympathy is extended to her sorrowing spouse and family in their very sad bereavement. The remains will be interred in the family grave at the Catholic Church, Feys, on Friday next at 11 o'clock.

MONROE ATHLETE DIES IN HOSPITAL We quote the following from the Middletown (New York) Times Herald—Martin C. Davis, 17-year-old Monroe High School senior, died in Goshen Hospital, on Thursday October 21st of a skull fracture, suffered in a collision of his car with a tree near Monroe, which had resulted in the death of his chum, Frank Vincent Oddo, on the previous day. State police are at a loss to explain the accident which has ended the careers of two of Monroe High School's most noted athletes. The youths—both aged 17—were alone in the car owned by Davis' father, and apparently skidded into the tree as Davis was taking Oddo home. Oddo died within 3 hours of the accident and Davis never recovered consciousness sufficient to tell the Authorities what had happened.

(Young Davis, who is a son of Frank and Mrs. Nellie Davis, spent a long holiday in Dungarvan about 4 years ago with his uncle Mr. Jack Morrissey, Blackpool, to whom, as well as to his other uncles—Messrs. Patk. and James Morrissey—we tender our sympathy on the sad occurrence.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Summary Of Inspector's Report Upon the Work of the Scheme of Vocational Education in Operation in County Waterford, During the Academic Year 1936/37.

The outstanding event of the session was the blessing and opening of the new School at Dungarvan, the official ceremonies being kindly performed by the Very Rev. Canon T. O'Brien, P.P., V.E. and by the Minister for Education.

The Scheme was organized on lines similar to those of the previous session. The following table shows the enrolment in the day classes in permanent centres:

Dungarvan—Junior Domestic, 30; Junior Technical 35; Junior Rural—Cappoquin—Junior Domestic 25; Junior Technical—; Junior Rural 17.

The total enrolment of one hundred and seventy-five students was satisfactory, and was an increase of twenty-nine on that of the previous session.

The classes were transferred to the new school in the middle of April, which was a very welcome change for both teachers and students.

The evening classes in Irish, Domestic Economy, Engineering, Woodwork, Business Training, Art and Leather Technology. The special classes for Trainees at the Dickens Leather Factory were carried on up to Christmas.

The day classes were conducted on sound lines and very creditable work was accomplished. The Junior Domestic Course was again a decided success and the girls profited considerably by the excellent training they received.

The enrolment in the day class was 13 and the average attendance was 6. This centre has received the full-time services of an Instructress for two years, and it would be desirable to discontinue the class for a period of two or three years and transfer the Teacher to a fresh centre at which suitable accommodation can be secured.

The attendance was regular, which shows the popularity of this branch of the work and also the high appreciation of its value.

The instruction was distinctly good in most cases. Six courses were organized in selected centres throughout the county and attracted an enrolment of close on one hundred and forty students.

With the additions made to the part-time staff it was possible to extend the activities of the Irish Language Scheme with the result that classes were organized in 17 centres. They were well patronised as over 400 enthusiastic students availed of them.

The number of scholarships to the Gaeltacht was increased from twelve to twenty. Seventy-two candidates sat for the competitive examination in oral and written Irish. There was keen competition, and the results were further evidence of the sound work done in the classes.

With a view to increasing the use of Irish generally in the Scheme the Committee decided to send all the young members of the general staff to a short summer course in the Gaeltacht. It is hoped that this will have the desired effect and it is expected that Irish will be freely spoken in all schools and classes next session.

Domestic Economy Scholarships

Four scholarships to residential schools of Domestic Economy were awarded at the end of the session, one each to the Dungarvan and Cappoquin schools and two to girls from the Gaeltacht.

The Committee took a keen interest in the working of the Scheme and have every reason to be proud of their achievement in securing such a splendid school for Dungarvan.

The Chief Executive Officer discharged his duties efficiently and is to be congratulated on the excellent arrangements made for the official opening of Dungarvan Technical School.

The National University of Ireland travelling scholarship in Celtic studies for 1937 has been awarded to Rev. Pierce Henery, B.A., S.J., a son of the late Mr. John Henery, Portlaoise, and a nephew of the late Rev. R. Henery, D.P., late well-known Irish scholar.

YOUGHAL MENTAL HOSPITAL

At the monthly meeting of the Committee of the above there attended—Messrs. W. J. Broderick, Chairman, Very Rev. D. Canon Dinnon, D.D., P.P., Seamus Walsh, P.C., T.C., and Rev. D. Duane, C.C.

The Manager's report stated that since last meeting one male patient had been admitted from the Cork Mental Hospital, and the total number in residence at present was 427 (250 men and 177 women).

Some discussion took place on the resignation of the Farm help. Mr. Dunne said they had a man engaged temporarily and he was giving every satisfaction.

The Chairman said he was of the opinion that the position should be a permanent one and advertised.

A letter was read from Wm. Murnane applying for his legal superannuation. The Chairman said that was the first instance he had met of a man being satisfied with merely his legal superannuation (laughter).

The matter was referred to the meeting of the Cork Committee.

A long discussion took place on the condition of the fire extinguishers in the Institution.

Mr. Walsh emphasised the necessity of having regular fire drills by the attendants and it was decided to have the necessary steps taken on the matter.

The Farm Steward reported that the usual work was being carried out. They had 20 pigs in stock, some of which were fit for killing.

The doctor's report was as follows:—Since last meeting there have been no deaths in the Institution. Seven male and nine female patients are confined to bed, heart troubles and colds accounting for most of these.

The arrival of a bus from Cork City on Sunday evening October 31st, conveying over 80 Irish Irelanders caused great excitement in the above little village on the night in question, it was the first occasion on which the inhabitants had an opportunity of viewing what is now looked upon as an up-to-date conveyance.

PORTLAW "PICKINGS"

In common with other parts of the country there appears to be an imminent danger that men damage would be done to the farming community in this neighbourhood by the rabbit menace.

The National University of Ireland travelling scholarship in Celtic studies for 1937 has been awarded to Rev. Pierce Henery, B.A., S.J., a son of the late Mr. John Henery, Portlaoise, and a nephew of the late Rev. R. Henery, D.P., late well-known Irish scholar.

Writes a Rathgormack reader: "In your list of odd collections published in last week's 'Observer' you did not mention one that I think might interest a number of your readers.

RE-AFFORESTATION

The re-afforestation of the County we are glad to learn is at present receiving the attention of Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., and that his efforts are being successful will be seen by the following letter received from the Minister, Department of Lands (Forestry Division):—

A Chara,—With reference to your letter of the 16th August last addressed to the Minister for Lands furnishing a list of townlands in which owners are willing to have their lands, containing approximately 4,000 acres, acquired for State Forestry purposes, I am desirous to inform you that the Department have now acquired 1,300 acres on the Villiers Stuart Estate in the district to which you refer and it is hoped to take over possession of these lands shortly.

The planting of trees on all the uncultivated land is a most laudable work, and apart from adding to the beauty and health of the County, would, in years to come, prove a fruitful source of revenue to the Authorities.

We trust Mr. Morrissey will redouble his efforts in this good work and not rest until all the waste and barren land in the County is fully planted with trees best suited to the particular districts.

DO SHEEP "CATCH COLD"?

Though sheep are, as a rule, less subject to disease than almost any of our farm animals, this characteristic must not be taken as implying that they demand less care and attention than either horses or cattle when illness appears among them.

It was disappointing that a number of our followers who turned up late to the "Meet" missed this great day's hunting. Tommy Kiely carried the horn and Wally Cullinane, whip, and both had a strenuous day.

MANURING FOR GRASS With or After the Nurse Crop?

A series of experiments have been carried out for a number of years in Banishire, with a view to determining whether the application of slow acting phosphates and potash at the time of the sowing of the nurse crop had a greater effect on the succeeding grass crops than a similar dressing had when applied early in the following winter after the removal of the nurse crop.

The manuring applied per acre was—4 cwt. ground mineral phosphates and 2 cwt. potash salts, applied in the form of 10 per cent. potash. Plot I was sown on the stubble after the removal of the grain crop; and Plot III received no dressing, but acted as a check whereby the progress of the two other plots could be noted.

The results on the first year's grass were slightly in favour of the sowing along with the nurse crop, although this sometimes meant a little more trouble with grass among the time of the sowing. All over, however, the difference in effect was slight, and in subsequent years pastures were non-existent. After the first year's grass the results of both manurings generally became very prominent.

In the spring months the plots assumed a darker green colour and gave an earlier bite. Throughout the grazing season there was produced on them a rich pasture of grasses and Wild White Clover, which was evidently better: relieved by stock than the pasture of the unmanured plot.

The effects were most marked on poor, damp soils. On soils of this nature, such a manuring as the above has proved along with Wild White Clover a cheap and efficient means of improving their fertility, more especially where pasture is likely to be down for more than the customary three years. On the drier and richer types of soil the results showed more slowly, and were not so marked.

Less Pigs Purchased and Exported—For the twelve months ended 30th September, the number of pigs purchased for curing in the Saorstát was 1,067,095, which was 34,615 less than during the corresponding period last year.

FATHER DUDLEY

LECTURE AT YOUGHAL

Under the auspices of the Youghal C.Y.M.S., the Rev. O. Dudley, delivered a lecture "Why I became a Catholic," in the Town Hall, on Wednesday night.

The Very Rev. Canon Dinnery, D.D., P.P., President of the Society took the Chair, assisted by Mr. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman U.D.C.; Vice-President. On the platform were all the local clergy and Christian Brothers, and a number of priests from the surrounding districts.

The Ball Room was crowded by a most representative audience. The Very Rev. Chairman said there was no necessity of introducing Father Dudley, as his name was a household word all over the Catholic World.

Father Dudley, who was received with warm applause started with the life story of his conversion as a small boy. He had been brought up in a rigidly Protestant atmosphere. At school he was taught English history with completely false ideas of the Catholic Church, and he grew up without ever questioning them.

Having decided to become a Church of England clergyman he entered an Anglican Theological College, and it was there he first became rather muddled. He could not find out what he would have to teach when he became a clergyman. The Professors at the College were contradicting each other on their teaching of the Church of England religion.

It was in a parish in the East End of London that the first doubts assailed his mind in regard to the Protestant religion. He could find no authority for what he was teaching. He consulted many prominent clergymen in the Church of England on the question: Is there any authority in Protestantism which could tell them what the Christian religion is?

All the clergymen of the Church of England, as also all Free Church Ministers were teaching their own version of Christianity and contradicting each other. Meanwhile some 90 per cent. of the English people were breaking away from Christianity altogether, because they didn't know what to believe.

The Rev. lecturer said he could get no satisfactory answer from his fellow clergymen and he, therefore, decided to thresh out the question for himself. For a whole year he studied the doctrine of the infallibility of the Catholic Church which claimed to be infallible in her teaching. At the end of that year he came to the conclusion that the Catholic Church could prove her claim to be God's infallible teacher right up to the hill. He came to the conclusion that as far as reason and history were concerned the Catholic Church alone corresponded with the one which Christ had made.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT

It: Part History

In the same townland Knockane there is a limestone rock by the side of the road known by the old people in the neighbourhood as "The Rock of the Grave," a curious corroboration of the tradition. Moreover in the very beginning of the last century, a road contractor, quarrying stones for the repair of his roads at this rock lost his crowbar, it having slipped from his grasp down through a fissure in the rock, and having enlarged the hole so as to recover it, discovered a cave, and, exploring it, was startled to find a human skeleton covered with some glittering substance, which enveloped the skeleton like scales on a fish, and were joined together by wire of the same substance.

The man removed the covering (which proved to be gold) of the skeleton, and sold it to a jeweller in Cork for a mere trifle—5s, he being in ignorance of its real value. The jeweller afterwards acknowledged he had had a bucket full of gold when melted down. This skeleton in all probability was that of the Earl of Cork.

In 1891, as a stonemason in Castle-martyr was quarrying stones in the opposite side of the road he discovered an immense heap of human bones under an enormous flagstone. This is a further corroboration of the tradition that a battle was fought at this place.

The Introduction of Fire Arms

As mention is made of the daughter of Supple marrying Capel or de-Capel, it is not perhaps, out of place to give the following legend:— It is a tradition of the locality that three brothers, the sons of a Welsh gentleman of the name of Capel, set out in a boat from their father's castle on the seacoast for a day's amusement in fishing, etc., and took with them some firearms (which were then only newly invented) and the necessary ammunition for the purpose of shooting some birds which frequented an island off the coast, and near their fishing ground.

On returning home after a successful day's fishing and shooting, a violent storm arose which drove them out to sea. After several days tossing about on the waves, they were cast ashore on an island at the mouth of Youghal harbour. They were almost famished and in a very exhausted state when they landed, but had no time in kindling a fire, by the help of gunpowder, with some sticks, etc., which were cast ashore by the waves on the island. They then cooked some of the fish or birds that remained in the boat and satisfied the cravings of hunger.

The smoke attracted the attention of the inhabitants of the mainland, who watched the movements of the visitors with curiosity. When the fish and birds were consumed, they used their fire arms in shooting down the birds on the island, but the noise of the discharges frightened them off the island, and in a few days they were reduced to the verge of starvation. In the meantime, the people on the mainland reported to their chieftain, supposed to be the Earl of Desmond, that three strangers were on the island, and by simply raising a stick from which issued out fire and smoke, and with the noise of thunder, killed the birds there which they then cooked and ate.

It occurred to the Earl of Desmond that the strangers would be of the utmost assistance to him in a battle with another chieftain of a neighbouring county, who was reported to be invading his territory, so he despatched a plenipotentiary to inquire the strangers and offer them a reward for their assistance. The strangers gladly accepted the proposal, as being on the verge of starvation and not knowing what part of the world they were in, they were afraid to venture on the mainland. One day while waiting until the spies would report the approach of the enemy, they were walking with the Earl outside Castle-martyr, near Loughaderra, when a bull came running towards them with his head down, and evidently with a hostile intention. The Earl said to them: "Can you stop that bull, or we will be dead."

It was no sooner said than that one of them raised his gun, and in a moment the bull fell dead with a bullet in his brain. When he saw the bull fall the Earl said: "On my word I believe you can do the business." When the spies reported that the enemy were approaching, the Earl and his followers set out and met them near Conna, at the foot of Curraheen, on lands now occupied by Mr. E. Aherne, M.C.C., of Dungourney. On their way through Kila-county they were reinforced by members of a local clan 'The Mulcahy's, the leader of whom, acted as general in the Earl's army (General Tige Mulcahy). In these stormy times they proved a brave and warlike clan, and patriotic sentiments of its bearers in a later period was not less warm and down to recent times descendants of this Irish clan performed daring feats of chivalry in various movements which had been launched with a view to secure the Sovereign Independence of the Nation.

Kyle, and the third got Killalea. The island on which the Welshmen were cast ashore is ever since called Capel Island on the maps. It is between ten and eleven acres in extent and is only about one-third of a mile off Knockadon Head, the most easterly point of the County Cork. It forms part of the parish of Ballymacoola and is inhabited Castle-martyr Castle— Within the demesne walls of Castle-martyr stands another castle of the Imokilly Geraldine. It was originally built by the Carews, who owned the surrounding lands and whose name is still present in the locality, as a townland near Lady's Bridge and outside the demesne walls, is called Carew's Wood. Sometime in the 15th century the Fitzgeralds a branch of the Seneschalls of Imokilly got possession of this castle and grounds which they held till driven out of it by Cromwell. About the year 1700 the then Seneschal of Imokilly having no heir the Fitzgeralds of this castle being the next of kin got the title in succession. There were two villages here at that time, one of which was called Bridgetown and the other Ballyyoughtragh. Bridgetown was near where the village of Lady's Bridge now stands. A townland of this name forms part of the demesne of Castle-martyr. Ballyyoughtragh is the name of an ancient parish in the barony of Imokilly.

During the rebellion of 1641 this Seneschal remained loyal to the Crown, but eight or nine years after he refused his allegiance to Cromwell, whereupon the "Protector" placed his artillery on Ballymacoola hill so as to command the castle. The hill is north of Mogeely station (Cork-Youghal Railway), and nearly two miles distant from the castle. After some cannonading the eastern side of the top was swept away, when Fitzgerald capitulated, but in consequence of his resistance the property was confiscated, and given to Boyle in whose family it had remained until purchased by Lady Arnott of Cork, and now occupied by members of the Carmelite Order. About fifteen years ago a man ploughing in a field on the south bank of the river Womongh belonging to Mr. Daniel Walsh, Drommadda, met with an obstruction which when dug up proved to be a cannon ball about thirty pounds weight. Where this ball was found is about a mile south of the castle, and in a direct line both with the castle and Ballymacoola Hill which clearly proves the accuracy of the tradition that the artillery was placed on the hill.

COAL TO BE DEARER

The price of coal is high and will be higher... that is the warning from Dublin, carried in a world famous morning newspaper. Economy in coal will be a necessity for most people soon, but let it be sensible economy. Probably some people in economising will be tempted foolishly to do without fires when they should have them. Such a method of economy is to suffer serious inconvenience, or even to run the risk of contracting a sickness that might cost you as much as a couple of years supply of coal. The sensible and wise course is to install a modern coal-saving range or grate. With these you can have all the heat comforts to which you are accustomed and yet considerably reduce your coal consumption. Make up your mind now to visit Harpur Bros., The Quay, Waterford, to see the largest and most varied selection of modern ranges and grates in the South of Ireland and to learn how these modern appliances will save coal for you.

STANDARD OF FOOTBALL RISING

It is claimed that recent years have been a marked improvement in the standard of football. That is splendid for it means greater keenness for the game, more practice and more clean healthy exercise. But it also means that a football has to stand up to more wear and tear and yet, since money is not more plentiful, has a longer life without losing its shape than formerly. To meet the demands of modern footballers for a ball that will last and not lose its shape Harpur Bros. have pleasure in offering an improved cover. This football is manufactured from special processed Chrome Waterproof Leather with the panels stretched to the utmost. It cannot lose its shape and its life is unusually long. It is priced 2/6 and guaranteed. This better football will be sent post free to any address from Harpur Bros., Quay, Waterford.

FISHERIES MANAGEMENT

ACTION BY MINISTER

Department Official To Take Control

The Board of the Irish Sea Fisheries Association decided on the casting vote of the Chairman at a meeting in Dublin on Friday to hand over their powers, duties and functions to a manager for six months.

The decision was taken on the urgent recommendation of Dr. Ryan, Minister for Agriculture. "Dr. Ryan has a big scheme in mind in connection with the fisheries."

The suspension of the Board for six months would, it was stated, enable him to do certain things he had in view in relation to in-shore fishing, and possibly deep sea trawling. It is understood that those who opposed yesterday's decision considered the request of the Minister unreasonable and unfair to fishermen members of the Association who had elected persons to look after their interests.

The motion to hand over the Board's duties to a manager was moved by Mr. G. Bartley, T.D., and seconded by Mr. E. O'Riada, Howth. The four members of the Board who were nominated by the Minister supported the motion, whilst the four elected by the fishermen, members of the Association, voted against. The voting was:— For—Miss J. Kissane, Messrs. G. Bartley, T.D.; E. O'Riada, and L. C. Kenny, chairman.

Against—Rev. J. A. Shields, M.A., D.C.L.; Messrs. J. Mongan, T.D., D. O'Boyle, and L. O'Toole. The chairman, as stated, gave his casting vote for the motion, and declared it carried.

The members who supported the motion then appointed as manager Mr. S. Brennan, an official of the Department of Agriculture, who had been recommended by Dr. Ryan.

Last March Dr. Ryan set up an Inter-Departmental Committee to inquire into the working of the Association because of complaints reaching him. The Committee was composed of Messrs. Sean O'Brien, Assistant Secretary Department of Agriculture (Chairman); J. J. Haughey, Auditor General's Department, and G. P. S. Hogan, Department of Finance.

The Committee some time ago presented an interim report to the Minister recommending the steps taken yesterday. Copies of the report were not furnished to the Committee, and a protest was entered yesterday by the elected members against this failure. They were, it was stated, given what was described as the "substance of the report."

The reason the full report was not made available, was because it contained "personal and confidential matter for the guidance of the Minister."

It is understood that the first action of the new manager will be to reorganise the administrative and business side of the Association. Difficulties are stated to have arisen, with which the Board, it is alleged failed to deal successfully. The imports and exports of fish almost balance each other in the Soarstat. They approximate £50,000 per annum each. The imports are entirely made up of sea fish and the exports mostly of salmon and trout.

The Sea Fisheries Association has roughly 2,200 members. The amount paid by them for catches during the year ended December 31 last—the last date for which figures are available—was £24,539. The Association was formed in 1930 to assist in-shore fishing.

It is now understood that Dr. Ryan is considering the question of recommending Government aid for a trawling service which would supply the home market.

If this scheme should materialise the imports of fish would be controlled. The market for fish in the Soarstat being so small, a trawling scheme would, it is stated, present special difficulties, and may be very expensive in proportion to the employment given to Soarstat nationals. A substantial annual subsidy may be required to support it.

THE LATE MRS. HANTON, CARRICK-ON-SUIR

The death is much regretted by a large circle of friends of Mrs. Hanton, Park View, Carrick-on-Suir. Deceased was wife of Mr. Thomas Hanton, the popular manager of the Carrick-on-Suir branch of the London and Newcastle Tea Company. She belonged to one of the oldest and most highly-esteemed families in Piltown, Co. Kilkenny. The late Mrs. Hanton was a sister of Mrs. Shanahan, District Maternity Nurse, Carrick-on-Suir—a position she held for many years to the time of her retirement on pension a few years ago. There was a large attendance at the removal of the remains to Carrick-on-Suir Catholic Church on Saturday evening and at the funeral to Piltown on Sunday.

2,200 Animals Slaughtered.

An outbreak of foot-and-mouth disease discovered in a saleway at Stowmarket (Suffolk) necessitated the destruction of about 400 cattle and 1,800 pigs. Killing the animals—valued at between £12,000 and £15,000—and burning the carcasses took several days. The cattle come from Lincolnshire, Cumberland and Wales, the pigs being from local farms.

GAEIC NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG"

The Senior Football Final in Kill last Sunday had much of an old-time flavour. Many of the features which in days gone by made Gaelic Football the game of stunts, men were revived and the result was a most exciting and fiercely contested struggle in the history of the Championship. The rural setting too contributed to the general atmosphere of wildness and the hard cold weather lent itself admirably to a rousing encounter. The attendance was splendid and every home-town within a mile radius must have been represented. And what an enthusiastic throng! Their full-throated cheers spurred the combatants to a display of manly vigour rarely equalled on modern playing fields. Withal, there was not a single injured player and the victors and vanquished fraternised after the match in the true Gaelic spirit. Both teams have every reason to feel proud of the thrilling football played and the pity of it is that both could not win.

Dungarvan won by 2 goals and 2 points to 1 goal and 3 points. Fenor, throughout the hour had most of the play, but when it came to shooting scores, well, they just could not do it. In the first half, they kept Dungarvan pinned to their own posts and yet at the interval they were in arrears to the tune of points to 1 goal. They adopted shock tactics from the first and gave the Old Bore's backs a terrific grueling. Again and again they crashed their way to the "square" only to be foiled by the astute Russell. In all his magnificent football career, Paul has never played a harder or a better game. He took knocks which would make all-in wrestling look like clock-work, but never lost his ball. Once fielding a high ball, he was hurried against the goal-post and buried beneath an avalanche of attackers, but he grimly dug in to save himself from being swept ball and all over the line. Behind him was Seamus Hayes, cool as ice in every emergency saving apparently unstoppable shots from ten yards range. New Power, a hefty new-comer, had a big share too in saving the harassed Dungarvan defence beneath the merciless Fenor barrage.

Barron, Jim Ryan and Murphy were the hardest worked and the cleverest of the winning forwards. Ryan's two goals being gems of opportunism. This youngster is developing into a brainy technician. He has that most valuable football asset, a keen sense of anticipation. Goode, Moylan and Dwyer revelled in the hectic exchanges. Most of the others failed to acclimatise themselves to the fast and furious conditions, but still they lasted out manfully the whole stormy hour.

Fenor used their superior strength and physique with telling effect from the start. Moore, Gaffney, Bat and Eddie Casey, Gough and O'Mara excelled at high fielding and piled their forwards with long raking kicks. Had they had but one cool marksman in their attack they would have won handsomely. But all their incessant barrage of the Dungarvan goal went for naught because of lack of finish close in. To add to their misfortunes, Johnny Connolly, their goalie, allowed a simple shot to pass him at a critical moment in the second half as a result of a misunderstanding. The veteran Paddy Byrne was the big man of the Fenor defence throughout the whole game and, despite his years, gave a display which many of the much-lauded All-Ireland full-backs might have envied. When Fenor raised the green flag in the fourth quarter it was anybody's game and the crowd went wild with excitement in the gathering dusk at the titanic struggle raged to and fro near the Dungarvan posts, but Jimmy Mountain's final whistle relieved the siege. Fenor had not quite all the ill-luck that was going as Dungarvan had the mortification to have a goal disallowed for breach of the parallelogram rule.

Stradbally fielded a lovely minor team who best Mountain Rovers comfortably in the other football final by 2 goals 7 points to 1 goal 1 point. Kevin Whelan and his brother at full-back starred on the winning side, while Wade and Hogan were outstanding for the losers. Stradbally, though younger and lighter were the cleverer side and all their movements bore the stamp of class. They are born footballers and should go far to make the Deise a force in the very near future.

The first match in the New Football League has been fixed for Dungarvan on Sunday, November 28th. The following Deise team has been selected to play Cork
