KILMATHOMAS DISTRICT COURT

(Before Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J.)

A list of undefended civil bills were disposed of in the usual way. Guard M. Boyle, Kilmathomas, prosecuted Patrick Walsh, Kealfoun, do., in respect of the non-attendance of a child of his at school. The Guard told his Worship that the defendant's child was absent 45 days out of 65 school-going days.

A fine of 2/- was imposed. Same v. Andrew Kirwan, Cowmahon. Like charge. Guard Boyle informed the Court that since the summons was issued in this case the defendant had died. The charge was withdrawn on that account.

The Attorney-General, sued William Wall, Newtown, for assaulting Patrick Mullins, Ballyhussa; Simon Kenny, do., and Thomas Kiersey, Ballyvahanane. Supt. P. Dennehy, G.S., Tramore, conducted the case for the prosecution, and Mr. T. C. Williams, sor., Dungarvan, appeared for the defendant.

Patrick Mullins was the first witness called, and in answer to the Supt. said he attended at devotions in Newtown Church on the night of October the 8th last, and when coming out from the Church he was struck from behind. He turned round and said: "Wall, you should stop that," and the defendant then kicked him.

To Mr. Williams—Wall was not acting in self-defence. He tripped me and kicked me and hurt me. I was in bed for four days after it. I know of no reason why he should have done that to me.

To the Court—There was no bad feeling between us.

His Worship—I don't believe you. Witness, in further reply to the Supt. said that Wall and himself lived in the same locality, and went to the same school and church together.

To Mr. Williams—Wall and I were the first of the congregation to leave the Church. It was pretty dark at the time, being about 8 o'clock. I fell on the ground when tripped. I didn't make any effort to hit him. He "made for me" outside the gate. I didn't do anything to him.

Justice—Did you cry? (laughter). Continuing, under cross-examination, witness said he remembered "Mickie" Galvin separating them. He didn't call names to Wall. There was a big crowd. Most of the people didn't support him.

Later with others he walked down the road and stood at the Cross as they usually do. Wall and his friend, Condon, came on to the Cross, which was on Wall's way home. Neither witness nor those with him said anything to Wall.

Justice—There was no sneer, or jeer, or anything? The Justice then ordered the witness to leave the box.

Thomas Kiersey was next sworn, and, answering the Supt. said he remembered the occasion. He was coming out of the Church behind Wall and Mullins. He saw Wall tripping and kicking Mullins. Wall attacked Mullins a second time and witness went between them. No word was said at the Cross. There was a crowd there. Witness was working in a field near the road when Wall called him on the following morning. Wall knocked him near the road fence.

To Mr. Williams—I didn't interfere in the row. I just walked between them and called Wall a cowardly man. The people were coming out of the Church and some had lighted lamps. I didn't try to provoke a fight at the Cross-roads. Wall did not try to go to his own home. On the following day—the 8th October—witness was working in a field some three or four hundred yards from the road. Wall was going to the creamery and he called witness and asked him was he the man who was looking for fight on the previous night. Witness was able to fight.

Mr. Williams—And you and the defendant then had an "honest-to-God" fight with fists (laughter). To the Justice, witness said Wall followed Mullins and kicked him on the ground.

Justice—It was a pity they had not a set of boxing gloves at Newtown that night (laughter). Simon Kenny was the next witness. He stated he was a farmer residing in Ballyhussa. He remembered the night in question. He was at the devotions. On leaving the Church he saw both Wall and Mullins on the road. He happened to have an electric torch. Mullins was cut and bleeding, and witness saw Wall taking an advantage by again striking the injured man on open bow. Kiersey then intervened and called Wall a coward. Next day Wall accused witness in an aggressive manner. Wall spoke about his flashing the light on the previous night and struck him.

To Mr. Williams—I saw both Mullins and Wall on the ground when I came out of the Church. It was a row. There were people at the Cross afterwards. Wall and Condon—who is a stranger in the district—came along. Nobody interfered with them. Wall assaulted me on Sunday, 17th October. He didn't hurt me badly.

That closed the evidence for the prosecution, and Mr. Williams called the defendant. Having been sworn, Wall, in reply to his solicitor said he was 22 years of age. He lived at Newtown with his brother and sister. His father and mother were both dead. He was at the devotions on the night in question. In a playful manner he touched Mullins, who then tried to knock him (witness) and kicked him in the knee. "He came at me in a vicious way," went on the defendant. "Michael Galvin separated us. I stood back and Mullins came on again in a threatening manner. Kiersey struck me some severe clouts and appeared to have a stone in one hand. I fell and later had to defend myself from the two of them. Simon Kenny said he wouldn't quench the lamp for me or anyone else. Kenny said 'twas better for me to go home or I'd go home a dead man, that 'twasn't young lads I was dealing with now. I waited till the crowd was gone.

At the Cross, James Condon and I stood, and Mullins came out looking for fight. There was about 20 at the Cross. Someone said "Go on, Mullins, and don't be afraid of him." I think 'twas Kiersey spoke. I went home a roundabout way. Next morning I saw Kiersey in a field, where he was working. I can't remember whether Kiersey called me or not. I barely had time to tie the horse when I got two clouts in the face. I didn't kick any man in my life. On Sunday, 17th October, Simon Kenny was coming up the road, and I asked him why he flashed the lamp. He didn't apologise. I'm afraid of this man, Simon Kenny. I always kept out of his way."

To the Supt.—I don't care about Kenny. I know he's not very safe. 'Twas only in a joking manner I interfered with Mullins.

Supt.—And why didn't you tell Mullins so when he turned and asked you to stop?

Wall—I was afraid to speak. Justice—That's not the appearance you have here in Court.

Wall—I shouldn't be molested. James Condon next entered the box. Answering Mr. Williams, witness said: "I am a labouring man and work in the Newtown district. I remember on coming out from the devotions on the particular night I saw two fellows wrestling on the road—William Wall and Patrick Mullins. Tom Kiersey struck Wall in the eye. They weren't separated at all. The crowd moved down the road to the Cross. Wall and I went along the road and were followed by the crowd. I didn't see the row actually starting."

To the Supt.—I wasn't present at the alleged assault on Kenny.

Justice—I am inclined to think I am not hearing the whole truth. I think the row began as Wall described it. Wall did do a bit of the bully. I think Kiersey gave his evidence fair, and I now fine Wall 10/- on the two summonses in respect of him, and fine Wall a further sum of 5/- for the assault on Kenny. His Worship dismissed the case in respect of Mullins.

Mr. John Driscoll was granted a licence in respect of a dance at Leamybrien Hall.

Sergt. O'Shea, Leamybrien, Guard Daly, do.; Guard Rice, Kilmathomas, and Guard Daly, Kilmadon, were complainants in a number of cases against residents of their respective districts for breaches of the Lights Act, in each of which a fine of 2/- was imposed.

At a Children's Court, held subsequently, Guard J. A. Rice, Kilmathomas, charged Edmond Power, John Walsh, John Faulkner and Thomas

Crowley with damaging a sign-board in the Main street, Kilmathomas. The prosecuting Guard said that numerous complaints had been made about the annoying conduct of several children on the public thoroughfare locally.

The Justice said he would adjourn these cases to the next sitting, and issued a stern warning to the parents of the children concerned, that unless their children were properly behaved henceforward, he would have them taken from their custody and removed to an institution where they would be brought up under proper control.

BOXING

TOURNAMENT AT YOUGHAL

A large crowd attended a Novice League Fixture in the Town Hall, Collins Barracks v. Youghal, several interesting bouts being witnessed. Collins won 5 and Youghal 2. Collins had a walk over in the Heavy Weight. The best of the evening was a Fly-weight between W. Burke, Youghal, and Pte. Clark, the former being the winner. They were nicely matched and both put up their best, great credit being due to the Youghal lad who only joined the club recently.

Results—Fly-weight—W. Burke, Youghal, beat Pte. Clark on points; Bantam—B. Mahony, Youghal knocked out Pte. McDonagh in 1st round; Feather-weight—Pte. Keenan beat F. McGrath, who retired in the 2nd round; Light-weight—Pte. Hyland beat C. Roche on points; Welter-weight—Pte. Coughlan beat G. Aher on points; Middle-weight Pte. Graham beat C. Simkins, retired in three rounds; Light-weight Pte. Holbrook beat D. Keogh, retired in the 2nd round.

Extras—Juniors—W. Sheehan, Christian Brothers College, Cork, beat A. Geary, Youghal; B. Murphy, Youghal, beat W. Taggart, Youghal.

Mr. J. C. Condon, Vice-President, thanked the audience for their support. Great praise was due to the Youghal trainer (T. Holan) for the good work he had done. He also thanked the Collins club and officials for their sportsmanship and help. Great credit was due to the Juniors for their splendid boxing and footwork.

DUNGARVAN GAELIC SCHOLAR'S WORK

The Irish writings of Mr. Sean O'Kiersey (brother-in-law of Mr. James Hayes, Dungarvan), are too well known to Deise readers. Irish to require any praise or recommendation from us. His son, Mr. Colm O'Kiersey, is following in the footsteps of his father as an Irish scholar and a writer of outstanding merit. This week "An Gum," the Government's Irish publication department issued an Irish translation by Colm O'Kiersey, of Patrick Hamilton's well-known drama "The Rope" (1909, 1/-). The dialogue, stage directions, etc., in the Irish version of the play are fine specimens of the rich Deise idiom and diction one would expect from the son of one of the best of our living writers of Irish.

Readers of this paper will recall as associations with the Gaelic League in Dungarvan district 30 years ago of Mr. Peadar O'Hourigan, Gaelic League Organiser. Peadar had a very varied career since these far-off days. He did a man's part in the fight from 1916 to 1922. His imprisonment in Spike Island resulted in a new Gael journal that has had a deservedly large sale. He has just given us, through "An Gum," "Mar Chona-na-si Eire," a most interesting and exceedingly well written account of his journeys through the four Provinces of Ireland during his years as Gaelic League Organiser. The book is a fine piece of Irish composition and a Gael's guide to Ireland. It costs only 2/- cloth 292 pages, Gaelic type.

RUGBY

WATERPARK DEFEATS CARRICK

On Sunday the Waterpark Rugby team defeated Carrick by 8 pts. to nil. The match was played at the Carrick Club's grounds at Coolnamah. The visiting team attended a dance organised by the Carrick Club on Sunday night.

INCH NOTES—

The Inokillys—The Inokilly harrier club had their meet at Inch last Sunday, week and found a good fox in the lower end of Ballinahilla Glin. The day was a good one for scent and the hounds went without a check right through the glen. It looked for a while as if reynard was heading for Breeda, but wheeling around at the Carriganassa end he went through part of Memoughler, after which he worked back through the Ballinahilla farm into Ballintorig, with the pack in full cry close behind. It was now evident he was making for the earths in the old Mesling wood. Finding these closed he wheeled again and going back through "The Scrahan" he skirted Ballynock, and finally went to earth in Webbs bogs.

It was a great run through a first-class hunting country, and there was a big crowd out who thoroughly enjoyed the sport.

Death of Veteran Nationalist—

The late Mr. Edmond O'Malley, whose death took place recently at his residence Kyle, Youghal, was a well-known and popular figure in nationalist and sporting circles. For well over half a century he was prominently connected with every movement for the betterment of his class—the farming community—and the people generally. In the fight against rack-renting landlordism, he was one of those who on the Ponsoby Estate, suffered eviction from their homesteads, and in the course of time when that fight had been brought to a successful conclusion and the tenants became the owners of the lands they tilled, the late Mr. O'Malley still retained his robust patriotism. He joined the United Irish League, but later when Mr. William O'Brien, M.P., differed with the Party and founded the All-Ireland League, he took up service beneath its standard. He strongly supported Sinn Fein, and subsequently took the side of de Valera, to whom he remained faithful up to the end. In the old days deceased was a keen musician, and was a good fife player. He was one of those who organised the Park Fife and Drum Band, which attended and took part in all the great nationalist rallies which were addressed in Youghal, Middleton, etc., during the land war by Parnell, O'Brien, Dillon and other leaders of that period. Mr. O'Malley died full of years respected and esteemed by his neighbours. May he rest in peace.

Inch Tournament Committee—A meeting of the tournament Committee was held during the week at which delegates from the Castlemartyr and Killcromat hurling clubs attended. These clubs were warmly congratulated on the display given by their representatives in the tournament final which again ended in a draw, after a gruelling game on Sunday November 7th. The question of fixing a suitable date for the replay was under discussion for a considerable time. The matter was finally adjourned to a future meeting as it was found to be impossible to get a free Sunday for some time to come. The correspondence included a letter from the secretary Castle Lyons hurling club inviting the Inch Club to play a benefit match in Connar next Sunday November 21st. It was decided to accept the invitation and the team will travel early on Sunday.

Death of Mr. Michael Siney, ex-R.D.C.—A link with an interesting chapter of Irish history has been severed locally by the death of Mr. Michael Siney of Ballygranna, which took place (as the result of an accident) at his residence on November 17th. The late Mr. Siney, who farmed extensively, was a sound and sincere nationalist, and with his brother Patrick (afterwards a valued member of the Franciscan Order of Monks) took a leading part in the Land League organisation in the district.

For a number of years along with the late Messrs. John Kennedy and David Walsh, R.D.C.'s Mr. Siney represented the Ardsagh division in the Youghal Board of Guardians, and District Council, and was a most regular attendant at the meetings of those bodies. He joined the Cork Farmers Union at its inception and was a member up to the time of his death. Though not taking a prominent part in public affairs for some time back he was always keenly interested in everything pertaining to the interest and welfare of the country, and his services, financially and otherwise, were at the service of those who espoused her cause. The remains were removed to the Parish Church at Killeagh on the evening of the 18th, the funeral being of imposing dimensions. At the interment in the Killeagh cemetery on the 19th, there was again a large attendance, which included many public men and others from all over East Cork and West Waterford.

The officiating clergymen were—Rev. A. O'Sheehan, P.P., Killeagh, and Rev. C. Brew, C.C., Inch.

The chief mourners included Mrs. Siney (widow); Miss Mary E. Siney, and Miss Rita Siney (daughters); Miss Kate Siney (sister); Mrs. O'Byrne, Youghal (niece); Andrew J. and Michael O'Byrne (nephews); Mrs. Kieley, Ring, Miss Mary Kieley, do., and Mrs. Liam Lacey (sisters-in-law); Thomas and Edmond Kieley, and Liam Lacey (brothers-in-law); Patrick, Michael and Nora Fleming, Barraha; Kitty Quirke, Martin Fleming, Thomas Morrison, Ballynoe, Jack Morrison, Shanakiel, Mr. and Mrs. O'Donnell and family, Dungarvan; Mrs. Power, Ring; Miss Josie Carey, William O'Connell, Barnavidane; Michael O'Donnell, Ring; Joseph Hartly, Patrick and Mrs. McKenna, Nicholas and Thomas Lenane, Patrick Curran, James Curran, Thomas O'Hanlon, Cobb; John Tattan, Killeagh, Batt and Thomas Hartnett, do.; Miss Butler, Mountunackie (relatives).

EAST CORK JOTTINGS

Killeagh Coursing Club—Recent meets of the Killeagh Coursing Club have not been well attended. Scarcity of hares may be responsible for the lack of interest of many members as shown by absence from the weekly fixtures of the club. Still it is not a healthy sign to see members who take part in arranging meetings—which are published in the press—going elsewhere for their own amusement and recreation. Hares are not plentiful, but with only a few dogs to go into slips and a free and easy attitude on the part of members generally, the beaters cannot put any heart into their work, and a task that is only half done might as well not be attempted at all.

Killeagh Point-to-Point Races—The Killeagh Point-to-Point races which for long have been an annual event locally, but which for some reason were allowed to lapse last year are to be held early in the coming season. A good working committee which includes practically all the old members has been formed, and the preliminaries are being pushed vigorously forward. The Killeagh venue has always been a popular one, the venue being in the centre of a first-class hunting country and being within easy access of the city, as well as the principal towns of East Cork and West Waterford. The course is being improved this time and the races are certain to be amongst the most popular of the season.

LISMORE NOTES.

United National Leaseholders Organisation—Lismore Branch—The monthly meeting of the above was held at the Devonshire Arms Hotel, before a large attendance of members. Mr. T. Crotty, Chairman Town Commissioners, presided.

Six delegates were appointed to attend the National Convention to be held at the A.O.H. Hall, Morrison's Island, Cork, on Sunday, 21st November.

The Chairman stated that as this important Convention was in the interests of all Leaseholders as many as possible from the Branch should attend.

A resolution was passed urging the T.D.'s of the constituency, viz., Mrs. Redmond, T.D., Mr. N. Wall, T.D., Mr. T. Morrissey, T.D., and Mr. P. J. Little, T.D., to attend this important National Convention in support of the cause.

Two letters were read, one from Mrs. Redmond, T.D., and from Mr. N. Wall, T.D., stating that they would support in the Dail any reasonable motion put forward for the improvement of the Leaseholders and the motion to set up a Grounds Rent Commission.

The meeting ended with a vote of thanks to both T.D.'s and the Secretary was instructed to communicate same personally.

Lismore Coursing Club—At the weekly meeting of the above, Mr. T. Crotty, presided. There was a very large attendance of members.

A letter from Tallow was read giving permission to the Club to run the Hynes Cup Tournament on Sunday December 12th, and the terms were unanimously accepted.

It was passed at the meeting that all dogs competing should be entered on or before 6th December.

No dogs could be entered which had not coursed with the club on two Sundays previous to the running of the Cup. It was decided to run a dance on the night of the 12th and present the Cups to the winners.

The second prize is a Cup kindly presented to the club by the President.

Sugar-Beet Crops Across-Channel—In England and Wales it is reported that although the roots are on the small side, the sugar content is high in beet crops this season. The yield per acre is now expected to average about 7 1/2 tons of washed and torped beet. This estimate is about 2 tons less than last year and is approximately 1 ton less than the average of the ten years 1927 to 1936.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL

Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., chairman, presided at the weekly meeting of the above on Friday last.

Mr. Dahill said as this was their first meeting since the Council's officials left the Free State and entered the married state, he thought the Council should tender to their worthy Rats and Rent Collector, Mr. M. O'Meara, their congratulations.

The Chairman in putting the resolution said he also wished to be associated with it.

B.S.—As an official of the Council, I also would like to be associated with the resolution.

Mr. McCarthy—We all wish him happiness.

A pay-sheet for 12 14s. 6d. week's wages was passed.

Danger Money or No Broken Time. A deputation consisting of Messrs. M. Organ, J. Houlihan and P. Morrissey, representing those employed on the Water Works Improvement Scheme, appeared before the meeting.

Mr. Organ, who acted as spokesman, said the men have to walk to the job at Deelish every morning and have to work in a trench 22 feet deep.

Mr. Organ—As far as I know there is a specific wage mentioned in the specification, and the Council are definitely tied by that.

Mr. Hayes—But not in respect of danger money.

Mr. Christopher—It will cost roughly 10/- a yard.

B.S.—Roughly about 3 yards.

Chairman—The deputation has now put their case and if they withdraw we will discuss the matter.

The deputation then withdrew and the Council discussed the matter of the present work, which is extra to the contract.

Mr. Hayes said he did not know the contractor was getting extra for depth.

Mr. Christopher—Isn't he getting so much per cubic foot.

Chairman—Yes. The contractor has his specification and it definitely states 11d. per hour. Can he be asked or compelled to pay more.

Mr. Clancy—The men's complaint is broken time. They are earning hardly anything.

Mr. McCarthy—It is not fair to the men at all.

Mr. Byrne—I saw them the other evening after being laid off all day having to go down the trench at 5 o'clock to settle pipes.

Chairman—Definitely we can do nothing as we tied ourselves to 11d. per hour, and would be leaving ourselves open to surcharge.

He suggested a conference with the Contractor at next meeting.

Mr. Crotty—I'm sure the Contractor will meet the matter fairly, he is a very decent young man.

Chairman—There is no doubt about that. It would be my opinion that it might be given in the form of a bonus.

After some more discussion it was decided to invite the Contractor to attend the next meeting and ask Messrs. Delap and Waller to report on the matter for next meeting.

Use of Hall. Miss Christopher, N.T., was granted the use of the Hall on behalf of the I.N.T.O. for a Whist Drive in aid of the Widows' and Orphans' Fund on Friday December 3rd.

Water Works Scheme. The Liability for the Extra Work. Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., wrote: The question which you have referred to me of the possible liability of Messrs. Delap and Waller for the additional cost to be incurred in completing this scheme, is a difficult and complicated one.

The additional cost has become necessary because rock was not discovered at a depth of 6 feet as estimated, but only at approximately a depth of 20 feet. It seemed to him that the question of Messrs. Delap and Waller's liability is chiefly one of pure fact, whether or not they were negligent or careless in coming to the opinion and so informing the Council that rock would be discovered at 6 feet.

Before advising definitely on this point, fuller information would be required as to the inquiries and investigations made by Messrs. Delap and Waller or their agents before they advised on the Scheme at Deelish. For example, was it one of their Engineers who examined the soil at Deelish, and reported the probability of rock being found at 6 feet. What steps did this Engineer take to ascertain at what depth rock would be found, and why it was that his conclusions were so hopelessly wrong. He would like information on all such points before giving any definite opinion.

Mr. Christopher—The point is did Messrs. Delap and Waller take the necessary precautions?

Mr. Crotty—Will the grouting they are now trying make a successful job.

B.S.—The Local Government Board Engineer who with Mr. Delap and McConkey, were down recently decided that the grouting would make a very good job.

Chairman—I would like to have their Engineer down before the Council.

The letter was referred to the B.S. to give Mr. Williams the particulars asked for, and it was decided to ask the Consulting Engineers to attend a meeting.

Fencing at Water Works. Messrs. Delap and Waller, wrote stating they now had the contractor's price for the type of fencing required to meet Messrs. Dalton's and Beresford's demands. The Clerk of Works is at present engaged checking the lengths for the different types of fencing, but pending this we can inform you that the additional cost on the 250 yards of fencing allowed for in the bill of quantities to the west and north of the Reservoir will be exceeded by approximately £50 and further that the additional 170 yards of fencing required along Mr. Dalton's right of way will cost approximately £88.

In your letter of October 25th, you instructed us to put the right of way fence and the mound fence at the head of the reservoir in hands. Are we to take it that we are in order in also putting a fence similar in type to that for Dalton's right of way, along the boundary on the west side of the reservoir bounding Mr. Beresford's land.

We wish to have this quite clear before we incur the extra expenditure, and we would be glad to know whether we are covered as far as these extras on the work and the Council are concerned. We understand that part of the mound fence has already been constructed and the special posts to suit the other fencing are at the moment being cast.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

Mount Melleray's Big Task.—The able and comprehensive statement which appeared recently over the signature of Mr. M. J. Sargent, Main Street, Cappoquin, in connection with the important work now undertaken by the Lord Abbot and Community of Mount Melleray, should convince all of the enormous expense which will be involved before this worthy and sacred project can be brought to fruition, as well as the necessity of supporting the Building Fund as promptly and generously as possible.

The fact that the New Public Church will contain the Shrine of St. Philomena, which will be an exact replica of the beautiful Shrine erected in her honour in Mugnano, Italy, should make a special appeal to the hearts of this little Virgin Martyr's clients all over the world, but as the New Church will also contain two additional altars, one dedicated to the Sacred Heart, and the other to St. Teresa of the Child Jesus, ("The Little Flower"), the faithful Catholics everywhere should rejoice that the Lord Abbot has been so thoughtful as to provide such opportunities for all to worship at the Shrine and Altars which will be accessible to them every day, once this important work is completed.

The New Public Church will be a great boon to all, and as it will be built on a scale to accommodate the ever-increasing numbers of pilgrims who will be attracted to Mount Melleray in the future. No good Catholic, who can afford it, should now hesitate to send a liberal subscription, so as to expedite the completion of this noble work in the shortest possible time.

All subscriptions sent to Mr. M. J. Sargent, Hon. Secretary, Cappoquin, will be gratefully acknowledged by him on behalf of the Lord Abbot.

"Poppy Day"—Thursday, 17th inst. which was "Poppy Day," marked the nineteenth anniversary of the signing of the Armistice on the morning of November 11th, 1918, which finally rang down the curtain on the horrors and carnage of the Great War in France.

The writer was in France on that memorable day, and the scenes of rejoicing and enthusiasm on the part of the French people, when they heard that the war was over, and that their suffering and devastated country would soon be rid of the German invaders, knew no bounds, and simply baffles description.

Always a volatile and excitable people, they, as themselves go with a "bang" that day, and shout shouts of joy and glory, and the general demonstrations of thanksgiving for the deliverance of their beloved country were simply deafening.

It was a great sight for a soldier to be "broke" in France, because, in their delirium of joy, all the cafe-owners kept their premises open all night, and free drinks for all were the order of the occasion, as a special mark of gratitude for having helped in their long-awaited deliverance and victory.

The day was observed in the usual manner in Cappoquin by the wearing of Poppies by all British ex-soldiers and other sympathisers, and, as in previous years, Miss Rita O'Dwyer, a busy trader in the sale of Poppies, and proved herself as active and successful in this respect this year, as she has so loyally and consistently done for many years past.

An extraordinary story of woman's vanity has appeared in the Press this week in which it was stated that two old women, aged 77 and 75 years, and both Old-Age Pensioners, were charged in custody at Brighton Police Court with stealing boxes of Face Powder from a Chemist's shop.

If the old ladies in question had stolen a lump of putty each for the purpose of filling up the seams and wrinkles on their faces one could understand their action, but when women of their ages stoop to stealing Face Powder, it shows to what a depth of depravity feminine vanity has fallen. Why ladies, young or old, should ever try to alter or improve the faces with which nature has endowed them seems almost a mystery, for has not the great Shakespeare said, "To gild refined gold, to paint the lily, or add another hue unto the rainbow, is but wasteful and extravagant excess." True, an old weather-beaten door or gate is always improved by a coat of paint, but why should our ladies of today permit themselves to be made such slaves of Fashion by smearing their faces with paint and powder, augmented by eye-brow pencils and lip-stick, and thus blotting out whatever natural beauty God had intended their complexions to reveal.

Architects Fees. A letter from the Minister for Local Government and Public Health, stated that he would raise no objection to the payment by the Council of £47, as an instalment on account of fees for the scheme of 130 houses to Messrs. Doyle and Ormond, Architects.

Sympathy. On the proposition of Mr. Crotty, seconded by Mr. Clancy, a resolution of sympathy with the relatives of the late Mr. John Greene, was passed.

On the proposition of Mr. Foley, seconded by Mr. Christopher, a vote of condolence was passed to Mrs. Pierce Casey, Square, on the death of her brother.

Mr. P. Quann, proposed, and Mr. Foley seconded, a vote of sympathy to Mrs. T. McCarthy, on the death of her aunt.

Acknowledgments. Letters acknowledging resolutions of sympathy passed to them were read from Mr. and Mrs. Mee, O'Flynn, Square, and Mrs. G. Bowen, Church street.

Variable Beet Yields. Sugar beet has proved a variable crop in the Starost this year. Early sown crops have yielded up to average, but from the general tenor of the reports it would appear as if the final yields will not be quite up to the average.

West Waterford Hunt.—In crisp and delightful hunting weather the West Waterford Hounds met at Headboro', the picturesque residence of Col. K. S. Smyth, on Monday morning, 15th inst., at 11 o'clock.

DUNGARVAN HURLING AND FOOTBALL CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

The annual general meeting of the above club was held in the Club Room, Quay street, on Tuesday evening 16th inst., at 8.30 p.m. A large number of members attended and about twenty new members were enrolled.

Saig. P. Russell, presided. The Secretary read his statement on the running of the club for the past year and reviewed the games played by the teams entered by the club. The Senior Footballers' victory being considered by him the best-kept game of the year. The scarcity of players to play in minor championship games was also dealt with in the report. An appeal for a united effort on the part of the Gaelic clubs of the town to keep the club in the foremost place in the Gaelic games in the country, concluded his report.

The Hon. Treasurer produced a balance sheet for the year showing the financial side of the club. After a discussion as to the small receipts from home venue matches, the balance sheet was passed.

The election of officials for the year was made as follows:—Hon. President—Rev. T. B. Walsh, B.A., C.C., Dungarvan.

Vice-Presidents—Messrs. Mee, Frater, Square, Dungarvan; Patrick Foley, Square, Dungarvan; Ed. Power, Mikelne street, Dungarvan; Ed. Kieley, St. Garvan's Terrace, Dungarvan; Daniel McGaugh, Mary street, Dungarvan; James Nagle, Abbeyside, Dungarvan; Thomas B. Boyle, Western Terrace, Dungarvan; James Harrington, St. Thomas's Terrace, Dungarvan; Daniel Cooney, Square, Dungarvan.

Chairman—Saig. Paul Russell, Dungarvan.

Vice-Chairman—Mr. Ed. Fielding, O'Connell street, Dungarvan.

Hon. Treasurer—Mr. James Dwyer, Church street, Dungarvan.

Hon. Sec.—Mr. Thomas A. Kyne, Abbeyside, Dungarvan.

Assistant Hon. Sec.—Mr. Nicholas Kelly, St. Thomas's Terrace, Dungarvan.

Committee—Guard, John O'Dea, Jas. Goode, Seamus Hayes, Declan Goode, Thomas McCarthy, U.D.C., and William Barron.

The question of the number of teams to be entered in Championships was left over until a later meeting.

The Chairman presented Rev. Fr. Walsh, with a silver medal with enamel centre, of Irish design, suitably engraved on the back as the prize for the winner of the Gilt Handicap promoted in the Club Room and confined to members. In presenting medal, the Chairman said he was glad to have the opportunity of saying how much the club appreciated the fact of Father Walsh, coming amongst them in their games and encouraging by his presence the success of the club. He thought that it was but significant of the part played all over Ireland by the Priests in helping the Gaelic Athletic Association.

Rev. Fr. Walsh, replying, said he was proud to be the first winner of a prize in the newly formed Club Room. He hoped that the contest which he had won would be but the beginning of many which would help to unite the members of the club during the winter months when the playing pitch was not possible. He felt that it was his duty both as a priest and an Irishman to help in every way he could the Gaelic Athletic Association in the town. He also wished to thank the members for electing him Hon. President for the year. He could only repeat what he had said to them on last year, that he wished them to be proud of being Watertown men and never to yield first place to anyone in Ireland. He congratulated the members of the Club who had represented Watertown on the County teams. Watertown had won a place in Gaelic games which any county would be proud to hold.

The meeting was brought to a close by a request from the Rev. Hon. President to support the club in the coming winter by attending and paying the subscriptions asked for.

ENTERTAINMENT AT ARDMORE

Once again the petty little village of Ardmore was seen in the limelight when it was visited recently by Mr. Jim Livingston and his famous troupe, who staged a variety Concert each evening for a week at St. Declan's Hall, followed by singing, dancing and other competitions.

The chief attraction of the week was an old time waltz competition. Several couples from outlying districts as well as the Ardmore patrons competed. Mr. Livingston selected what he considered the best dancers each night and on Sunday night eight selected pairs danced to the strains of the Blue Danube.

Mr. J. Pendergast, Grange, and his partner Miss M. B. Walsh, Ardmore, secured the coveted trophy and it could be seen from the handshakes, clapping and cheering, that it was a very popular win.

Marketing Onions

There is a scarcity of onions on the home market at present and growers are being advised to dispose of their crops as soon as possible. In County Kerry the output in the Malrossan district this year amounted to 2,450. The standard price is 1s. 6d. per stone.

G. A. A. PIKE MEDAL TOURNAMENT

Fine weather favoured the further advancement of the above junior football competition on Sunday last at the Pike Gaelic Field. The two matches listed for the occasion attracted a good crowd, and the enthusiastic, energetic local Gaels had the drama in apple order, the surface being ideal for the big ball code. The Dickens Leather Co. team failed to turn up to face Faha, and Capt. Tommy Power's team was accordingly awarded a walk over. To make up for the disappointment, the Faha and Pike XV's engaged in a friendly mix, with Mr. J. Higgins in charge of the whistle. Faha won by the odd point of a grand total of three touched in a pleasingly keen and tight struggle for supremacy. Play was fast and lively evenly divided all through and the result about sums up the merits of the game. It was a day out for the fences, both bunches being well served in these departments. The respective sides forwards enjoyed their share of attacking before and after the interval, but the defences on either side were adamant. Where all concerned treated the spectators to a really sparkling exhibition of the code it would be invidious on our part to pick out any of the participants for special mention, and to content ourselves with a word of congratulations to both teams for their topping display.

The turney tie between Comeragh and Ring followed. Due, it was stated, to a breakdown, only twelve of the Ring players reached the venue, viz., E. Boheny (Capt.); P. Drohan (goal); M. Murphy, Guard John Begley, D. Murphy, T. Kieley, P. Leman, J. Terry, F. Flynn, T. Hartly, P. Slattery. The match was given to the Comeragh combination, whom the Ring dozen, plus Pats Fitzgerald and Willie Pender, of Killorossanty, played afterwards in friendly rivalry, under theiership of Mr. John ("Mater") Moroney (Killorossanty F.C.). Kings flattered in the initial stages and took the lead after fifteen minutes. They continued to hold their own even when Comeragh equalised just before the interval. After the change of ends, however, the strain of being a player short began to tell on the Ring representation, for whom Guard Begley (full back), the brothers Mick and Danny Murphy, Pats Fitzgerald, Tom Hartly and goalie Drohan were playing lovely football. Comeragh took a big shake out of their antagonists by the fall of the Ring net in the middle of the second moiety. John Walsh, Joe Blevins, M. Coffey, J. Drohan, P. Cunningham, P. Keavers and Dick Ryan were always in the picture for Comeragh. Lively and interesting play ruled by a splendid sporting spirit, held sway to the final trumpet, which left the position thus:—

The Comeragh line-out read:—J. P. Walsh (capt.); J. Blevins (goal); D. Ryan, P. Keavers, M. Drohan, V. Drohan, I. Moloney, N. Walsh, M. Walsh, P. Cunningham, M. Walsh, M. Keating, P. Walsh and J. Walsh. Ring's loveable young Soggarth, Fr. Baldwin, C.C., was in attendance, as also was the gifted and genial Gael, Mr. Liam O'Meehan, Manager of the Ring Co-Operative Stores, and the noted Killorossanty footballers Matt Ryan and Dathi Walsh.

Owing to the National League match in Dungarvan on tomorrow (Sunday), the Ballynaneen v. Brickey Rangers clash in the Pike Tournament will not be played till a later Sunday, which will be duly announced.

KILROSSANTY GAELIC FOOTBALL CLUB

Killorossanty Gaelic football club, at a specially convened meeting, passed resolutions of sympathy to the husband and family of the late Mrs. Bridget Walsh, Comeragh; to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Donovan, Comeragh, on the death of their son, and to Mr. James Torpey, Glendalligan (who captured a famous Killorossanty team of more than twenty years ago) on the death of his wife.

Messrs. J. O'Connor and Sons, Cappoquin, are now prepared to purchase any number of Turkeys in good condition at 10d. per lb.

Producers are strongly advised to market all birds suitable for sale at the earliest possible moment, while the present good price lasts, as the British Agricultural Department's Return show a 40% increase in English Turkeys over last year's production, which is bound to seriously affect the prices for Irish Turkeys as the Xmas Season advances.

Producers, therefore, should not be holding over their birds this year for fancy prices, which may never be reached.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

CHRISTIAN BROTHERS' SCHOOLS DUNGARVAN

Heartiest congratulations are tendered to Rev. Brother McMahon and his excellent teaching staff, on the splendid results achieved by their pupils in the recent Leaving and Intermediate Certificate Examinations, the results of which we publish today in our front page, a perusal of which will convince everyone that the education imparted at our Christian Brothers' Schools is second to none.

Taking into account the limited number of boys who attend school here up to the Intermediate and Leaving Certificate stages, and the very high standard required for the examinations such as results as we publish in this issue reflects the great honour on our Christian Brothers' Schools and all associated with them. Rev. Brother McMahon and his able staff deserve the heartiest commendations of the public for all they are doing for the education of the youth entrusted to their care.

POPULAR DUNGARVAN MAN WEDS

The Parish Church, Dunleary, Co. Dub., was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Tuesday morning of last week, when Mr. Michael O'Meara, son of Mr. William O'Meara, Town Clerk, Dungarvan, and Mrs. O'Meara, Mitchell Street, was united in the Holy Bonds of Matrimony to Miss N. Casey, daughter of Mr. Daniel and the late Mrs. Casey, Grawn, Kilmacomas.

The ceremony, with Nuptial Mass and Papal Blessing, was performed by the Rev. Father O'Meara, C.C., of the English Mission (brother of the bridegroom), assisted by the Rev. R. J. Casey, Dublin, and Rev. L. A. Casey, England (cousins of the bride). The bride, who looked charming, was attended by her first cousin Miss Mai Power, Fahaleagh, Kilmacomas, as bridesmaid, while the bridegroom's brother, Mr. Wm. O'Meara, acted as best man.

Their troops of friends on all sides united in wishing this deservedly popular young couple every happiness and success in the matrimonial sphere. Numerous costly and serviceable wedding presents were received.

NURSING APPOINTMENT

Miss Greta Walsh, daughter of Mr. M. F. Walsh, P.C., Cappoquin, has been appointed permanent nurse at Lismore Fever Hospital by the Waterford County Board of Public Assistance on the recommendation of the Local Appointments Committee, Dublin.

Nurse Walsh was trained at the County and City Infirmary, Waterford, and the Western Fever Hospital, London. She has acted as temporary nurse at Lismore Fever Hospital since June last.

A DELIGHTFUL DANCE

The popularity of the Pike Amusement Club's usual weekly dance was again emphasised on Sunday night at the commodious, comfortable, capably conducted Pike Hall, when a thoroughly enjoyable function was provided for the large attendance. Dance music was capably rendered by the local Orchestra, and a feeling of good fellowship and gaiety prevailed from commencement to close. By the way, the Lismore Nightingale Band has been engaged for the next "big night" in the Pike Hall—coming off on the 12th of next month.

POPULAR GARDA SERGEANT TRANSFERRED

Sergeant John Nolan, Inspector for the County Waterford under the Weights and Measures Act, has been transferred to Waterford City, and is replaced here by Sgt. Kelliher, of the Thurles station. Sergeant Nolan, who came to Dungarvan in 1931, proved himself a most efficient and impartial officer in the discharge of his onerous duties, and he carries with him to his new station the best wishes of the people of Dungarvan.

DR. HACKETT CUP

The meeting of St. Augustine's (Dungarvan) and Mount Sion (Waterford) at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, on Thursday evening produced a first-class display of hurling. A big crowd witnessed the match which was anybody's game up to the final whistle.

In the first moiety, the Friary had the better of the exchanges and at half time led by 2-2 to 1 goal. During the second moiety the Mount Sion fifteen were the more aggressive and the Friary were hard put to it to hold their lead. Dowling at centre field with Basin on the 40 yards mark, kept the Mount Sion forwards well fed with the ball, but the Friary back division were equal to the task set them. During this half the scoring was Mount Sion 2-1, Friary 1-1.

Final score Friary 3 goals 3 points; Mount Sion 3 goals 1 point.

Mr. D. Goode, was an impartial referee.

GOOD NEWS FOR BOXING FANS

Garda "Boy" Murphy, Cruiser-Weight Champion of Ireland and European Police Champion at the same weight, is at present attached to the Dungarvan Garda Station, and we feel sure that local boxing talent will now improve by leaps and bounds when they get the benefit of his skill and advice.

CHILDREN'S HEALTH COMMITTEE

The energetic Committee in charge of the running of the Grand Bazaar and Fancy Fair in aid of the Funds of the Children's Health Committee, are leaving nothing undone to ensure the success of the fixture, which will be held in the Town Hall on 14th, 15th and 16th December. For all particulars of the "Fun of the Fair" see advt. in this issue.

DUNGARVAN FOOT BEAGLES

On Sunday last, in glorious weather, we met at Dr. Halley's bridge, and proceeded towards Drum Hill. A hare was soon found, and heading towards Glenmore brought hounds along in full cry. Swinging towards the left, our quarry ran back over the brow and into Dr. Halley's Glen, where the music of the pack echoed delightfully. After a fast run scent faded and we set off towards Walsh's Cross. A fresh hare soon popped up and with the hounds close on his heels presented a race picture, as he headed for the mountain road. Keeping to the road for some distance he crossed the mountain again, running through Corranahedle, Lyre and Raynanna and then circling to the left and back to the Drum Hill once more. This was the best run of the day and lasted fully an hour and a quarter, when we were feeling the strain of the day's chase. We decided to head for home, having thoroughly enjoyed an excellent evening's sport.

IN AID OF CAPPOQUIN G.A.A. CLUB

SUCCESSFUL ANNUAL DANCE

The Annual Dance held by the Irish Dairy Short-horn Breeders' Society (Co. Waterford Branch) which was held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Wednesday night, was an unqualified success. Upwards of 250 couples danced with zeal to the strains of Miss Sheila Dunne's Dublin Band.

AN UNFOUNDED REPORT

We are asked to state that the report which gained prevalence recently in the town, that a young boy named Finn, son of Mr. Con Finn, O'Connell street, was implicated in the recent robbery at Mevra, K. Williams and Co. and which caused much annoyance to his parents, is, without any foundation.

SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT

On Sunday night the Boat House was packed to capacity when the local Theatrical Society presented the "Rapid Revue." A Revue is a form of entertainment which had not been given by amateurs here previously, and, judging by the warm reception accorded the presentation, the members of the Society succeeded in pleasing their audience and are to be congratulated on their enterprise in departing from the conventional form of concert programme. The production certainly lived up to its name in the rapidity with which item followed item and the variety was sufficient to please every taste.

Gay bright numbers predominated and of particular appeal were the various concerted numbers. Among these was "The House Agency," in which the vicissitudes of many types of "house-hunters" were humorously illustrated in tuncful numbers. Also well received was the "Fride of the Pier," a sparkling comedy item, in which Miss Margaret Cahill, supported by the entire company, made a winning bride and acted and sang in a manner which won her many plaudits. The new sewerage scheme provided the theme for a topical concerted number, which created much laughter. Brightly-dressed, humorous and tuneful were the "Eight Ladies." The ladies of the orchestra, the Misses White, Walsh, Lee and Cahill, danced with grace and abandon, whilst the comic element was provided by Mr. James Olden, as the Organ-Grinder, complete with monkey. The most ambitious concerted item was the Burlesque Operetta "The Slayer." This was presented in most diverting fashion and sung in delightful harmony.

The principals were Miss M. Cahill (Marina); Miss K. Walsh (her mother); Mr. F. X. O'Leary (Antonio); Mr. Joseph Barron (the Registrar) and Mr. N. Regan (the Author). A harmonised trio "The Huntsmen" was effectively sung by Messrs. F. Crowe, J. Regan and F. X. O'Leary in a Comedy-Duo "The Old Folk" provoked many laughs. Two beautiful voices were heard in perfect harmony when Miss Cahill and Mr. J. Barron sang the duet "España." Miss Sheila White, enhanced her reputation as an entertainer by her rendering of two musical monologues, "The Coward," and "Babette" and certainly merited the applause she received. Solo numbers were given by Miss Cahill and Messrs. J. Barron and N. Regan and added much to the general entertainment. Miss K. George Russell, again showed his skill as "make-up" man, and Miss May Walsh, performed the arduous duties of Wardrobe Mistress.

Auctioneer

It was decided that the appointment of Auctioneer would be entrusted to the Joint Show and Sale Committee with a recommendation that Mr. T. G. Flahavan, Kilmacomas, be appointed, because he had given such great satisfaction in the past.

Mr. Halliden's Address

Mr. P. J. Halliden, Hon. Sec., I.D.S.B. Society, said that the continued success of that branch was a source of great pleasure to the Irish Dairy Short-horn Breeders Society and for that happy position a special word of praise was due to the Officers and particularly to the Hon. Secretary, Mr. T. F. Lynch, for the energy and tact he had displayed in making each year's Show and Sale in Waterford a greater success than its predecessors. The Social function held by the Society was also a marked success. It was very gratifying to know that the amalgamation of your branch with the Co. Wexford Branch for the purpose of the Spring Show and Sale of Bulls had been a remarkable success. He (Mr. Halliden) had reason to believe that the Co. Kilkenny Branch would join hands with them in a similar way for the forthcoming show and sale and at a future date it may be possible for the Society, acting on behalf of the three adjoining counties to revive the Summer Agricultural Show in Waterford.

Annual Meeting of Co. Waterford Branch of Dairy Short-horn Breeders Society

Mr. D. Dempsey, Chairman, presided at the annual meeting of the Co. Waterford Branch of the Irish Dairy Short-horn Breeders Society in the Courthouse, Dungarvan. Others present were: Miss K. D. Barry, Lismore; Messrs. M. J. Dromey, C.T.L., Dungarvan; J. O'Dwyer, Secretary Co. Committee of Agriculture; G. Bell, Curraghmore; N. Condon, Talow; P. Sherin, Knockanore; J. J. Drohan (V.P.) Kilmacomas; J. O'Regan, Portlaw; J. Ryan, Cappoquin; A. Ellis, Lismore; D. Coughlan (Treas.), Kilmacomas; J. Butler, Dunmore; T. Foley, Clashmore; F. Anderson, Cappoquin; B. G. Usher, Cappagh; T. G. Flahavan, M.I.A.A., Kilmacomas; P. Gough, Kilmacomas; J. Dwan, Dungarvan; P. J. Halliden, Hon. Secretary, I.D.S.B.S., Banter, Co. Cork, and T. E. Lynch, Cappagh, Hon. Sec., County Waterford Branch.

Correspondence included a letter from the Secretary, Aberdeen Angus Association, offering a Challenge Cup for A.A. classes at the Spring Show and Sale of Bulls in County Waterford.

The offer was accepted with much gratitude. The Statement of Accounts, which showed a substantial credit balance, was unanimously adopted by Mr. Ellis, Chairman of the Society, seconded by Mr. Ellis.

Election of Officers

On the proposition of Mr. Usher, seconded by Mr. Bell, the outgoing officers were unanimously re-elected and suitably returned thanks. Mr. Lynch remarking that he was afraid, owing to pressure of work, that he could not continue in office beyond 1938.

Auctioneer

It was decided that the appointment of Auctioneer would be entrusted to the Joint Show and Sale Committee with a recommendation that Mr. T. G. Flahavan, Kilmacomas, be appointed, because he had given such great satisfaction in the past.

Mr. Halliden's Address

Mr. P. J. Halliden, Hon. Sec., I.D.S.B. YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Present—Messrs. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman, M. Abrams, R. Power, J. Forrest, R. Savage, J. Daly, B.E., Capt. C. Watson, J. Wadlan, M. D. Broderick, E. P. Lynch, E. D. Condon.

Water Question
The Water Curator reported that the height of water in the reservoir was 17' 6". The Mental Hospital meter registered a supply of 71,000 gallons for the week.

Condition of Street
Mr. Broderick called attention to the condition of the road along Bean street in front of the Parish Church. The Chairman said he had received several complaints regarding it. Mr. Savage suggested they should lay a concrete surface. Mr. Condon supported the suggestion. Mr. Savage—It is not very long. Mr. Power—Neither are the ratepayers pockets. It was unanimously decided to improve the condition of the roadway in question.

Road Works Scheme Approved
The Clerk read a letter from the Local Government Department, approving of the scheme of road works submitted. The work should be put in hand immediately. The amount of the grant allocated was £1,205, subject to a local contribution of £225. Instructions were given to have the work started at once.

Housing Scheme
In connection with the present Housing Scheme, the Clerk said that good progress was being made and the scheme would be finished sooner than anticipated.

New Clearance Order
On the proposition of Mr. Power, seconded by Mr. Whelan, it was unanimously decided that all necessary steps be taken in connection with the new Clearance Order.

Concrete Blocks
In his report the Clerk of Works stated that no further concrete blocks had arrived on the site since his previous report. Mr. Power said he understood that a further supply of blocks had been delivered on the previous day. On the suggestion of Mr. Lynch, it was decided to make inquiries into the matter.

No More 3-Roomed Houses
The Local Government wrote regarding the proposed scheme for the provision of 28 houses in the Urban Area, stating that as a house of less than 4 rooms did not provide adequate accommodation for a family of normal size, the Minister did not favour the erection of 3-roomed houses under schemes of local authorities. The 48 houses erected by the Council since 1933 were all 3-roomed and 21 of the current scheme of 28 were also of that class. In view of that the Minister was not prepared to approve of a scheme containing 3-roomed houses for the Youghal Urban Area. Contracts had been arranged within the past few months for the erection of 4-roomed houses:—(1) Tralee U.D.C. £318 per house of 620 square feet floor area in concrete blocks; (2) Carrick-on-Suir U.D.C. £304 per house for houses of a floor area of 666 square feet in mass concrete and tiles; (3) Tuam Town £276 per house for houses of 672 square feet floor area in mass concrete and slates. These prices were in respect of intermediate houses and were exclusive of site development. Mr. Power said in those mass concrete houses, this while were always weeping and damp. Brick was better value. The Clerk was instructed to write pointing out that there was no mention of brick.

New Water Main
The Local Government Department wrote stating that no objection would be made to the laying of the proposed new water main to the Mental Hospital. Alternative tenders should be invited for asbestos cast iron pipes, etc. The matter was referred to the Town Surveyor.

Acknowledgments
Letters were read from Sgt. and Mrs. O'Beirne and the relatives of the late Mrs. Lynch, Anglesboro, thanking the Council for their resolutions of sympathy.

Free Milk Scheme
The Local Government Department wrote in connection with the Free Milk Scheme, stating that they were not prepared to approve of the proposal of the Council to have the milk delivered from a central depot, with the object of decreasing the cost of the milk and thereby increasing the number of recipients. The Clerk—Extraordinary! It means depriving many poor children of milk. Mr. Power said the Government ought to send down some of their officials to see how things worked.

Sympathy
Mr. Daly proposed, and Mr. Lynch seconded, a vote of sympathy with Mr. P. O'Connell, a member of their staff on the death of his wife. Mr. Whelan said he saw by the wages sheet that O'Connell had been "docked" for two days he had been off. He suggested he should be paid for those two days. The Clerk said it could not be legally done. The members might personally contribute the amount. All present thereupon gave a subscription for the object.

Town Traders
Mr. Power referred to the proposed meeting of Town Traders on the 20th inst. He suggested that the Council should do all they could to support it. The traders should all get together in their own interest. Mr. Whelan said it was of vital importance that the traders of the town should come together and organise if they wished to be able to carry on. The Clerk was directed to take the necessary steps.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

Before Mr. T. G. O'Sullivan, D.J.

Annuity Cases
There were a number of civil bills by the Land Commission for arrears of annuities. Mr. T. K. Keane, solr., (for Mr. D. Casey, State Solr.), for plaintiffs. Decrees were granted in 3 cases, the others being adjourned.

Boland v. Smyth
This was an application for an Examination Order, Mr. Keane for plaintiff. The application was granted.

Ad Interim Transfer
Mr. Keane, applied on behalf of Mrs. D. Reen, Brown street, for an ad interim transfer of the license held by her deceased husband. Formal evidence having been given, and Supt. Kelly, stating that there was no objection, the application was granted.

Sheep Dipping Cases

The same complainant had similar charges against D. Hannan, labourer and John Donovan, small farmer. They were dealt with under the P.O.A.

Motor Cases
Guard Dempsey, charged Daniel Long, with using an expired road tax on his lorry. Mr. Keane defended. Complainant having given evidence was cross examined by Mr. Keane. The defendant said it was due to an oversight on his part. The tax was paid for the current quarter on the following day. The P.O.A. was applied. Allen White, was charged with not having an identification plate on his lorry. Guard O'Connor, proved the case. Supt. Kelly said the defendant pleaded guilty and had since complied with the law. He, therefore didn't press the case. The P.O.A. was applied.

Insurance Cases
Michael Bennett, was charged with not stamping the cards of several employees. There was a civil bill for £8 and ten shillings. Mr. D. Casey, State Solr., prosecuted. Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., said he had been instructed to apply to have the decree payable in instalments. He knew nothing about the summonses. Mr. J. F. McNamara, Inspector, gave detailed evidence. A decree was granted in the civil bill payable £2 monthly. Mr. McNamara, then gave evidence in the summonses. Several of the employees concerned gave evidence. There was no appearance of two who were called, it being stated that "they had gone to England." Fines of 5/- with 5/- costs were imposed in seven cases.

Title Rent Charge
Land Commission v. O'Keefe
This was a civil bill for £14 15s. od., arrears of Title Rent charge. Mr. D. Casey, State solr., for plaintiffs. Defendant said he had no land at Knockattigan, the townland in question. He was only a trustee. Mr. Casey—who pays the rates and the annuities?—No body. Mr. Casey—This is a letter you wrote last October, and I wrote in reply—"You didn't, sir, (laughter). The last payment was in April '31—who is Kate O'Keefe? That was my mother's name. She died some ten years ago. Did your mother ever own lands in Knockattigan?—Yes, some 53 years ago. I expect to get a refund of some of the money paid. The Justice said that defendant ought employ a solicitor, and he might get it. Mr. Casey—Out of hell there is no redemption (laughter). The case was finally adjourned to enable Mr. Casey to make inquiries into the circumstances.

COAL TO BE DEARER
The price of coal is high and will be higher... that is the warning from Dublin, carried in a world famous morning newspaper. Economy in coal will be a necessity for most people soon, but let it be sensible economy. Probably some people in economising will be tempted foolishly to do without fires when they should have them. Such a method of economy is to suffer serious inconvenience, or even to run the risk of contracting a sickness that might cost you as much as a couple of years supply of coal. The sensible and wise course is to install a modern coal-saving range or grate. With these you can have all the heat comforts to which you are accustomed and yet considerably reduce your coal consumption. Make up your mind now to visit Harpur Bros., The Quay, Waterford, to see the largest and most varied selection of modern ranges and grates in the South of Ireland and to learn how these modern appliances will save coal for you.

When Boyle got possession of these lands he threw down the villages of Bridgetown and Ballyoughtragh, and to accommodate the inhabitants, built a town which is called Castlemartyr. Near where the village of Ballyoughtragh stood is a graveyard, in which is a ruined monastery, and in the eastern end of which the Seneschals of Imokilly are interred. On the epitaph first appears a rather rude figure of a bear, surrounded by three circles, next a kind of cross surrounded by a circle, then in three lines, "Here lie the Geraldines of Imokilly." At the time of the English invasion the castle in Castlemartyr demesne then called the castle of Imokilly, was resolutely defended by one of the Geraldines, but the English at length reduced it, and kept in it a powerful garrison until 1196, when Donal McCarthy besieged the fortress and destroyed it by fire burying the garrison in its ruins and putting to death all who escaped from the flames. The castle was afterwards rebuilt, it became a very important fortress commanding the pass between Cork and Youghal, and was strongly fortified and garrisoned by the English. In 1575 the castle of Ballymartyr as it was then called was garrisoned by Fitzgerald, Seneschal of Imokilly, but was attacked by Lord Deputy Sidney and his forces, aided by 200 of the citizens of Cork, who, after a protracted and vigorous defence, compelled the garrison to surrender, Fitzgerald narrowly escaping by flight. In 1645, it was besieged by Lord Inchiquin, to whom it was given up on honourable terms and during the whole period of the Parliamentary War, the town was the scene of violence and depredation, and was frequently plundered and partly destroyed. In 1688, it was plundered by Lieutenant-General McCarthy and the Irish forces on their retreat from Cork, and in 1690 after the battle of the Boyne and the surrender of Youghal, a detachment of 36 dragoons and 42 infantry of King William's forces charged a body of 200 Irish at this place. The cavalry pursued them to the castle, in which they took refuge, and being joined by the infantry, they compelled the fortress to surrender, and the garrison to march out without either horses or arms. In this skirmish the Irish lost 60 men killed and 16 prisoners. In 1691 after the surrender of Limerick, the Irish under General McCarthy obtained possession of the town by stratagem, but were shortly after driven out by a party of the garrison from Youghal, since which time the castle has been in ruins. The inhabitants were incorporated by charter of Charles II, dated July 27th 1675, and granted to Roger, Earl of Ormy.

Historic Reflections of Castlemartyr

By P. J. O'Brien

When Boyle got possession of these lands he threw down the villages of Bridgetown and Ballyoughtragh, and to accommodate the inhabitants, built a town which is called Castlemartyr. Near where the village of Ballyoughtragh stood is a graveyard, in which is a ruined monastery, and in the eastern end of which the Seneschals of Imokilly are interred. On the epitaph first appears a rather rude figure of a bear, surrounded by three circles, next a kind of cross surrounded by a circle, then in three lines, "Here lie the Geraldines of Imokilly." At the time of the English invasion the castle in Castlemartyr demesne then called the castle of Imokilly, was resolutely defended by one of the Geraldines, but the English at length reduced it, and kept in it a powerful garrison until 1196, when Donal McCarthy besieged the fortress and destroyed it by fire burying the garrison in its ruins and putting to death all who escaped from the flames. The castle was afterwards rebuilt, it became a very important fortress commanding the pass between Cork and Youghal, and was strongly fortified and garrisoned by the English. In 1575 the castle of Ballymartyr as it was then called was garrisoned by Fitzgerald, Seneschal of Imokilly, but was attacked by Lord Deputy Sidney and his forces, aided by 200 of the citizens of Cork, who, after a protracted and vigorous defence, compelled the garrison to surrender, Fitzgerald narrowly escaping by flight. In 1645, it was besieged by Lord Inchiquin, to whom it was given up on honourable terms and during the whole period of the Parliamentary War, the town was the scene of violence and depredation, and was frequently plundered and partly destroyed. In 1688, it was plundered by Lieutenant-General McCarthy and the Irish forces on their retreat from Cork, and in 1690 after the battle of the Boyne and the surrender of Youghal, a detachment of 36 dragoons and 42 infantry of King William's forces charged a body of 200 Irish at this place. The cavalry pursued them to the castle, in which they took refuge, and being joined by the infantry, they compelled the fortress to surrender, and the garrison to march out without either horses or arms. In this skirmish the Irish lost 60 men killed and 16 prisoners. In 1691 after the surrender of Limerick, the Irish under General McCarthy obtained possession of the town by stratagem, but were shortly after driven out by a party of the garrison from Youghal, since which time the castle has been in ruins. The inhabitants were incorporated by charter of Charles II, dated July 27th 1675, and granted to Roger, Earl of Ormy.

The Corporation continued to return two members to the Irish Parliament until the Union, when the borough was disfranchised, and £5,000 awarded as a bribe or compensation was paid to Richard, Earl of Shannon, last Speaker of the Parliament. This sum was part of the four million which it cost England to carry out her policy of bribery and corruption, which policy proved successful in passing the Act of Union. "How did they pass the Union, 'Twas by perjury and fraud, By men who sold their land for gold, As Judas sold his God." Immediately adjoining the town is Castlemartyr demesne the former seat of the Earl of Shannon, a spacious mansion erected by the Right Hon. Henry Boyle, It is a substantial structure, consisting of a centre with a handsome portico and two extensive wings, and is situated in a demesne of 1,000 acres tastefully laid out in lawns and shrubberies embellished with woods of stately growth, and intersected by numerous walks commanding the views of the richly varied and richly picturesque scenery with which the demesne abounds. Near the house is a large and beautiful lake and there are two of smaller dimensions within the grounds. The ruins of the old castle of Imokilly, or Castlemartyr, the ancient seat of the Fitzgeralds, marked with ivy to the very summit and surrounded at the base with trees of stately growth, form a strikingly interesting feature in the landscape and within the demesne are also the ruins of the ancient Parish Churches of Ballyoughtra and Caherlontan.

About half a mile to the east of the demesne wall of Castlemartyr and about three-quarters of a mile north-west of the castle of Lighermurragh, a remarkable subterranean river issues from a limestone rock. This river is fed by two principal tributaries, and some smaller ones, one of which enters the ground near Mogely, and the other at Ballyvrisheen, and flowing under ground for upwards of a mile. It is known as the Dover river. The word "Dover" means water. It is not perhaps out of place to record an anecdote in connection with the remarkable river. About one hundred and seventy years ago, as Henry Boyle (afterwards first Earl of Shannon) was on a visit to England, he was taken in company with other friends by his host (a nobleman) to see a magnificent bridge, which was just then after being erected over a large river near his lordships residence. The bridge was justly admired for its enormous proportions, splendid workmanship, architectural design, and the engineering skill displayed in the building of it. Having shown his guest and friends over this bridge his lordship said, addressing Boyle—"Have you ever seen the like of this bridge in that wretched country of yours." He replied—"Yes, my lord. I saw a bridge in Ireland over which His Majesty King George's whole army—horse, foot, and artillery—could march past together, and even could hold a review on it, and on which a fox hunt, or a horse race could take place in fact. These myssit frequently pursued reynard over this bridge with the hounds in full cry, and plenty of room for the horsemen to try the mettle of their steeds." His lordship said: "Nonsense, Boyle, that's impossible. That tale is one of your Irish bluff." To which Boyle replied: "I assure you, my lord, what I state is the actual truth, and not alone that, but people are living on this bridge which is divided into fields which are cultivated, and on which are grown all kinds of corn and other crops." "Wonderful, wonderful," exclaimed his lordship. "This is so incredible that I am prepared to lay any wager that the statement you have made is utterly impossible, and to test its accuracy, I am inclined to visit that barbarous country of yours to see this wonderful bridge, if you guaranteed that my life is not jeopardised." Boyle replied—"I am most happy, my lord, to guarantee you safely. I'll have pleasure in showing you this bridge, which is only a half a mile from my demesne. I invite you and your friends to accompany me on my return home, and be my guests while in Ireland."

A wager of £1000 was being laid, and Boyle having returned home accompanied by his late host and his friends, showed them the subterranean river and its surroundings, but to test Boyle's statement, each of them threw a cork into the river, where it entered the grounds and passing over to where it issues from the rock waited until the corks re-appeared, when the Englishman said—"Boyle, you have taken me in. I was under the impression that it was an artificial bridge you meant all along." Boyle—"I did not say, my lord, it was either artificial or natural, I simply said bridge, and your lordship can see for yourself that I have not exaggerated one word in the statement I have made in reference to it." "I admit," said his lordship "what you have stated in reference to this river is possible, and I acknowledge that I have never seen or even heard of the like in England. I also admit that you have won the wager which I now hand over to you." (To be continued)

Held on Wednesday before Mr. Troy, D.J.

December Court. Before proceeding with the business, the Justice said the date of the next District Court was December 8th (a holiday) and the second December Court would be in Xmas Week. He thought it would be better to hold the Court on the holiday than on Xmas Week.

All the legal gentlemen present concurred. The case was adjourned for 3 months.

Mr. Ryan, State Solicitor, who appeared for the Superintendent, said that the Superintendent is greatly troubled with the recent epidemic of burglarious attempts on lock-up shops, particularly in the town, and he feels that if it is not stopped, these people are allowed to get away with it, it might easily lead to violence being used at a future date.

The Justice, after reading the statements made by the accused admitting the offence dealt with Drohan under the P.O.A., adjourned the case for one month against Coleman who is going to a job in England and sentenced Galvin to 3 months and Driscoll to 2 months.

The Late Mr. John Greene, Burgery, Dungarvan

The death of the above-named patriotic gentleman removes an outstanding figure in the life of the Deise. In his manhood's early prime he became the central figure in the resistance to the unjust exactions of a ruthless landlord system, and throughout the stormy days of the Land League, Johnny Greene, as he has ever since been popularly called, threw himself enthusiastically into the promotion of the Plan of Campaign. For his heroic activities against landlordism he incurred the displeasure of Dublin Castle, but the fact of his having been marked down as a "suspect" had failed to subdue the intense nationalism of the brave Burgery man who had been brought into daily contact with the miseries of a cruel overlordship, and who had taken upon himself more than one good Gael's share of the heavy responsibility of seeing justice done to the farming community of his native county. His nationalism was of the virile order—it did not wave with the wiping out of the evils of landlordism, for in every constitutional agitation since then he took a deep and abiding interest. He was intimate friend of Parnell, Davitt, Dillon and Redmond. A member of practically every public body in Portlargo, his powerful aid and influence invariably produced the results to which he had applied his ceaseless energy. A simple, unassuming, happy-humoured, honest man of considerable intellectual powers, a lively and interesting conversationalist, able in debate, and above all, a model member of the Catholic Church, living for his neighbours, working for their welfare, and wearing himself in their service—such was the late Mr. Greene, whose many endearing qualities of head and heart had gained for him the love and affection of the people. Fortified by the last Sacraments, he answered the Great Call after a short illness in his 80th year. Amid every mark of respect his mortal remains were removed to the Parish Church, Abbeystead, where Solemn Requiem Office and High Mass were offered up for the happy repose of his soul, following which interment was made in the family plot in the adjoining cemetery. The funeral was the largest witnessed in the Old Borough for many years, and everywhere tokens of the deepest regret were in evidence.

Friends and sympathisers in attendance included Mr. Commissioner S. J. Moylan, Dungarvan; Supt. M. Walsh, G. S. M. do.; Mr. and Mrs. Bowen, Provincial Bank, do.; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Quailly, O'Connell Street, do.; Mr. J. H. O'Sullivan, do.; Mr. and Mrs. J. Hayes, Main Street, do.; Mrs. T. Power, O'Connell St., do.; Mr. P. J. Moloney, do.; Mr. E. A. GAELIC NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG"

Whatever hopes Waterford had of winning the National Hurling League were wrecked by Kilkenny on Sunday last. This defeat, coming in such unexpected fashion, has administered a severe jolt to our hurling pride. I am afraid that, influenced by the Killarney debacle among other things, we had under-rated the recuperative powers of the Leinster men would prove "easy meat." By the simple expedient of calling up its minor and junior reserves, Kilkenny put a team in the field which beat the more fancied Deise side fairly, squarely and decisively. Granted that Charley Ware, Halpin, Curley, Daly, Sheehan and Butler were missing from the team, yet Waterford's form was considered good enough to dispose of the Kilkenny challenge. But, the Leinster hurlers played miles below form on Sunday and thereby hangs a tale.

Since the opening League game against Limerick our Senior hurlers have had no rest. They have been engaged in five fiercely exhausting games on five successive Sundays and this exacted its due toll on the stamina and muscles but, above all on the spirit of the players. Not surprising then that they gave a leg-weary listless display against a lively Limerick bunch full of lusty youth and fired with ambition. On Sunday, no amount of stimulation or encouragement could get the Waterford team warmed up to its usual fast game. They seemed unable to get going and their efforts lacked fire as well as finish.

In the opening half, our forwards got opportunities enough to win two Leagues not to mind one, but they could do nothing right now and were a point in arrears at half time. The same sad story all through the third quarter and ten ten minutes from the end, the more attack burst through our defences to rattle in two goals and four points in as many minutes. Hereabouts, Charley Ware's absence was sorely felt. Massed assaults by our forwards in the closing minutes spent themselves on the solid defence of Larkin, Burke, Blanchfield and the new goal-keeping genius, Dowling.

The failure of the forwards can be gauged from the feeble score of 1 goal and 2 points credited to their attack. It was the lowest score recorded by the Deise team within recent years. The defence was equally firm. Massed assaults by our forwards in the closing minutes spent themselves on the solid defence of Larkin, Burke, Blanchfield and the new goal-keeping genius, Dowling.

This game has proved beyond any or any that our forward line, as at present constituted, is weak to win an argument, Dungarvan, G. S. M. do. There are only two players in it of Championship calibre. So far none of the newcomers tried has come within a street of the absent attackers, Sheehan, Halpin, Daly and Butler. Healy continues to show promise but he lacks a cool head in emergencies. The selectors have got a tough problem on hands to build up a forward line which will deliver the goods. The return of Larky Byrne, may help to ease some of their worries. What our attack lacks is cool deliberation and a sense of position. Craft should be cultivated and those hapazard happy-go-lucky methods scrapped.

Kilkenny's snappy pulling and amazing spoiling tactics taught the Deise lads a thing or two. Still too prone to picking and handling the ball, it was humiliating to some of our stalwarts on Sunday to throw up a ball for a Kilkenny player to strike it; and this occurred more than once. Frees and touches were again squandered and it is rather strange that so far no member of the team has been found to derive full value from the numerous place punks which occur in the course of a game.

Much bitter comment is going the rounds concerning the "wisdom" of having permitted our whole Senior Hurling Team to engage in a Tournament at Portlaw on the Sunday previous to the Kilkenny game. It certainly robbed the team of the services of Charley Ware and left several more with little "stomach" for another hard game coming so soon after. The Dungarvan Brigade got a "gruelier" too in the Football final at Fenor, but this off-ferred game had to be played. There was no such urgency or necessity for the hurling games at Portlaw and their promotion under the circumstances was hardly an act of foresight or wisdom. In fact, it has led to widespread disappointment and embarrassment, and rightly or wrongly, he is held responsible, in large measure, for our lapse on Sunday last.

Our hurlers will now have a few months well-earned rest before again taking the field in the League. Not all of them however, will be inactive as several are listed to do duty in the football League as well.

Dungarvan should see a big muster of enthusiasts next Sunday when our footballers take on Cork in the opening match of the New League. It is some years now since the Deise figured in League football and the new departure should whet the ambition of our vigorous young players to emulate the example of the hurlers. At any rate a genuine effort is being begun to raise the standard of football here and by utilising the opportunities presented by this competition to the full it should be possible to build up a team formidable enough to face anvils in Munster. The example of Longford should embolden us and help to kill that defeatist spirit which has been the great foe of Deise teams. Why should Waterford fall where Longford triumphed? Our lads have only to throw their whole football weight into this League and they will reap their due reward in a team which could prove a men-

LISMORE NOTES

Death of Miss Marie Keniry, Bishopstow, Lismore.

We regret to record the death of Miss Marie Keniry, who passed away at her residence, Bishopstow, Lismore, on Saturday evening at a ripe old age and fulfilled by the rites of the Holy Church. Deceased was an aunt of Very Rev. Canon Kelleher, Waterford and of Mr. Martin Kelleher, Bishopstow. She belonged to a highly respected stock and during her residence at Bishopstow she had made many friends who deeply mourn her loss.

The funeral from her late residence to St. Carthage's Cathedral, Lismore, on Sunday evening was of immense proportions. Requiem Office and High Mass were celebrated for the repose of her soul on Monday morning and the funeral to the adjoining cemetery immediately afterwards displayed in a most striking manner the regret evoked by her demise.

Very Rev. Canon Kelleher, Rev. T. O'Gorman, Rev. T. Murphy, Rev. T. Tobin, read the final prayers at the graveside.

Lismore: Coursing Club—The weekly meeting of the above was held at Feeney's Garage, Lismore, on Monday night. Mr. T. Crotty, presiding.

It was decided to hold the Draw on the November Handicap on Friday night November 26th and to publish the results in the next issue of the "Dungarvan Observer."

The Draw for the running of the Cup at Tallow will take place on Monday night, December 6th. Entries should be received on or before this date. The Chairman pointed out that only members of the Club could compete in the Tournament and besides only those who had coursed with the club on two outings.

A vote of condolence was passed in silence to mourn Patrick Byrne, one of their esteemed members on the recent death of his father.

G. A. A.—In the first round of the Dr. Hackett Cup, Lismore C.B.S., had a runaway victory with their opponents Technical School, Waterford. In the first half they piled up 7 goals 2 points to nil.

The resumption saw the Waterford boys force the pace, but they could never command the play despite the desperate efforts made to draw on level terms.

Masters Grey, Pollard, Foley, Cunningham and Willoughby, were in evidence in compiling the Lismore score Board, while O'Meara, Murphy and O'Toole led the Waterford boys in their attack.

The final whistle saw Lismore 11 goals 4 points; Technical Schol. 3 goals 1 pt. February 1937.
