taken part in insurance frauds. Daly was stated during the hearing to have been convicted already of 15 frauds on the company. Mr. J. A. McCarthy, K.C., prosecuting, said in March 1925 a proposal form purporting to be signed by Essie Mc-Donald for a policy on her own life was days to be named later.

The form was certified by Daly. Further forms were sent in June 1928 and June 1932.

In June 1935 the company were told that Essie McDonald had died. A claim represented as coming from her husband and certified by Daly, was sent to the company together with a forged death certificate. The money was paid. The hearing was adjourned.

The response to our Special Offer of CASEY'S BROWN BREAD at the usual price of Seven pence, but with a threepenny bit in each loaf was so great that we were literally swamped out with orders. To our Customers and the public who were disappointed, we offer our most sincere apologies. The sincerity of our regret we propose to show in a very practical manner. We will continue the offer for a further week from March 12th to March 19th., with a slight variation.

Casey's Brown Bread

Into every second two-pound Brown Loaf we will insert a threepenny bit. Thus although you pay the full price your BROWN BREAD will most likely cost you only 4d. per 2-lb, as you have the 3d. bit in the loaf.

"Confidence, that's what a man wants," said a good old Comeragh Valley cottager to "Mise Bocht Fein" over a friendly pint. "If you haven't got Confidence you'll get nowhere. I've been workin' now close on fifty years with the farmers an' I'll tackle any job, an' that's more n some of the youngsters will do. They haven't got the Confidence," said he shaking his head emphatically.

"I remember forty odd years ago," he went on, " there used to be a pub on the way to Waterford which had a bit of a music half at the back, Just a nice cushy an' could have a drink, an' listen to the sing-songs. They were a tough but good hearted crowd o' fellows that used to go there, an mearly all of them chawed to them, the means of the continuents of the continue there, an' nearly all o' them chawed There was more tobaccy

No later than last Sunday evening the writer took a ramble through the Mahon Valley, by the old Mill near ever-pleas ant universally popular Pat Power's prettily-positioned business premises at mahon Bridge. What delightful scenery wandering through this enchanted vale ! The loneliness of its loveliness surpasses anything I could write. The Springtide sun shone brilliantly and the river and trees reflected back the brilliancy in such dour in this heart of Beauty's Home. What a picture for the painter!

This spot has sacred memories of brave men, saints and scholars. Here by the Mahon it was the revered Irish poet, Robert Weldon lived and died, and here it was in this seclusion he sung; those beautiful songs in the sweet vernacular of the Gael. His "Oireachthas Ode" is a pride to Gaelic scholars.

an increase of salary. Mr. Lynch said Mr. Troy had been working for the Council for over 12 years, and he was therefore, entitled to consideration. His present salary was under £3 weekly. The Chairman said in view of the fact that they were extremely cautious about granting salary increases as the time was inopportune, and with the line set by the Town Clerk, who withdrew his application owing to the heavy burthen of taxation on the ratepayers, he thought the matter might be postponed to some future and more suitable time. This was agreed to.

Water Supply

The Water Curator, reported that the 8-inch main was capable of delivering a supply of 50 gallons per head per day for a population of 6,000. Thirty gallons was reckoned to be a plentiful supply. The difference was therefore lost by leakage, wastage and defective taps, etc. He was instructed to take steps to put a stop to the great waste of water.
