MILK AND DAIRIES ACT

Ministry Revokes Order

At a special meeting of the Dungarvan Urban Council, Mr. T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman in the chair. The following letter was read from Dr. O'Farrell, Co. M.O.H., with reference to the tender of Michael F. Walsh, Coolnagour, for the supply of Free Milk in the Dungarvan Urban Area—

Under the circumstances alternative arrangements should be made.

Dr. O'Farrell, who appeared before the meeting said that the letter explains itself very well.

Chairman—Could we get him to register. His price is very reasonable.

Mr. Clancy—It seems he won't be allowed to supply.

Dr. O'Farrell, replying to Mr. Clancy, said Mr. Walsh had applied for registration.

Mr. Clancy said he understood Mr. Walsh had everything done which is required, with the exception of the concrete floor, which will be done early in April. It will take a further two weeks to get a new tender, and you won't get one at 10d. per gallon. This man can't leave out his cows now.

Dr. O'Farrell said there are two views points to this, which should be considered—the people or the cows.

Mr. Clancy—There is commonsense in everything. I take a great interest in the people. Getting the milk at this price would mean a very big saving.

Dr. O'Farrell—Mr. Walsh is supplying milk during the past 12 months.

Dr. O'Farrell—Which shows that you have been very lenient with him. He was breaking the law all that time. When the Minister approved of the tender, he was not aware that Mr. Walsh was not registered. He (Dr. O'Farrell) made him aware of it, hence the letter.

Mr. Quinn—If the Department were informed that Mr. Walsh is prepared to register.

Chairman—I think it is too bad that this man is not allowed to carry on. He was giving us the milk very reasonable. We should ask the Department to allow this man time to carry out whatever improvements are required.

Mr. Clancy—Has he carried out all the other recommendations?

Dr. O'Farrell—I have not seen his place lately. The only point we are to consider is that he is not registered.

Dr. O'Farrell—Refer it to Mr. Byrne for a report. Mr. Kelly's tender will end on 31st March.

The Clerk said they could ask Mr. Kelly to carry on for another month. Mr. Walsh called here and said if he got to the 15th April he would have all the recommendations carried out.

Mr. Crofty—Is it clear that if Mr. Walsh is registered on April 15th, that he can supply at 10d. per gallon?

Dr. O'Farrell said he could not say.

Mr. Christopher—The correct thing to do would be to re-advertise from tonight for fresh tenders.

The Chairman said he thought they should ask Mr. Kelly the present contractor to carry on for April, until Mr. Walsh's premises are registered. That course would save them more money than advertising for fresh tenders. If Mr. Walsh satisfies the doctor, that everything is alright on April 15th, would not that do?

Mr. Clancy—In a matter of this kind there is always give and take. It may not be strictly right, but the Department are there to deal with it if it is not right. We are here representing the ratepayers and taxpayers and there is a difference of 4d. per gallon on the price we were paying.

Dr. O'Farrell said the acceptance of such tenders would not be fair to registered contractors.

Mr. Clancy—All dairymen are now beginning to realise that they can't get on without registration.

After some further discussion, it was decided to ask Mr. Walsh, S.S.O., to meet Mr. Kelly and ask him to continue to supply for a further month.

CANADIAN CATTLE

During the week ended March 12th, 514 cattle were landed at Birkenhead from Canada. In this consignment 244 animals were slaughtered in the landing place.

PORTLAW "PICKINGS"

In the midst of all the European excitement we seem to escape the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune in this part of our politically-partitioned country. Even one of the District Justices remarked the other day that there is a falling off in family jars.

Are we qualifying as a nation of boxers? The mainly art, as an adjunct to physical culture, will always be entitled to its place in the curriculum of sport. In most countries it goes automatically with other gymnastic exercises, but we would make bold to suggest that the public street is not a suitable place for fistic rivalry. In our quietest thoroughfare this week we watched two boys scrapping away as if they were fighting for the championship of the Deise. They had a free and unfettered audience, but when a guardian of the peace appeared on the horizon they broke away without the assistance of an arbiter and abedaddled for all they were worth. We must say these potential champions fought fairly and squarely, but we repeat that the public street is no place for a fistic exhibition, more especially as here in the Leather City there is now a flourishing club where biddings pugilists can learn to use their fists with opportunities for an occasional contest in the roped arena.

We were in the way on Wednesday evening when an Old Age Pensioner of Clonsa-Power parish was imparting some sound advice to a neighbouring young man. It was on the all-important question of choosing a life-partner. The sage's words were—"Let the first quality you look for in your intended be one of restfulness." The advice struck us as being sound, so we pass it on. Young men may like to think about it.

Sportlaw Spot, whose latest hobby lies in unearthing the curiosities of literature, sends us the subjoined:

"That"

I'll prove the word that I have made my theme.

It is that that may be doubted without blame;

And that, that, that, thus trebled, I may use.

And that, that, that, that critics may abuse.

May be correct. Further the dons to bother:

Five that may possibly follow one another!

For well 'tis known that we may safely write

Or say that, that, that, that man writ was right;

May 't be that, that, that, that, that, that has follow'd.

Through six repeats the grammar's rule has hallow'd;

And that, that, that, that, that, that, that begun.

Repeated seven times is right! Deny it who can?

(We decline to enter into any controversy on the subject, so THAT'S THAT!)

The foregoing effusion reminds us of a verse we read the other day by M'Conagall, the renowned Dundee poet.

M'Conagall, dead these many years, is one of the few men who achieved fame with doggerel. Not that he regarded his writing as such; it was written in all seriousness. The lines we are thinking of will give you a pretty good idea of his style.

"To A Snowdrop."

"O beautiful few flower called the snowdrop, Climbing up your stem and bending over at the top.

I ween those art the emblem of all that's pure.

And are so white because in winter there's not much snow.

And thou art so sedate-looking and so modest.

That the attention of many a philosopher thou handest.

O be it known there is a lesson indeed In thy slim torso and white heid."

Who but M'Conagall could have referred to a snowdrop's slim torso? A Carrigmore lady who hails from Dundee remembers when, as a girl, she used to see the poet walking through the city. He was, she tells us, an outstanding figure, distinguished easily by his wide-brimmed black hat—which he swept to the ground on the least provocation—black bow, black Inverness cape, and most noticeable of all, his great shock of black hair. His works, all in the fashion of the stanza quoted, appeared in the Press and also in book form and were read with enjoyment by countless thousands. Those who have any of M'Conagall's writings today keep and treasure them.

Heard on Thursday of a Ballyduff bridegroom who went to his best friend (a tipped of the Butterstown bourse, by the way) and asked him to help him out on the big day. The friend, surprised, agreed, but inquired who the fortunate lady was. He was allowed six guesses, but was wrong every time. In the end he had to be told who the bride-to-be was, and was quite amazed when he heard that the other party to the wedding had been arranged was none other than a girl who lived next door to him.

The birth of a daughter to Mr. R. D. and Lady Blanche Girouard at their home in Upper Berkeley Street, London, W., was announced last week. Mr. Girouard, a stockbroker, opposed Mr. Attlee, Leader of the Labour Opposition, in the Limehouse division of Stepney in the 1931 General Election. His wife is a daughter of the sixth Lord Waterford, and she is a sister of Lord William Beresford, Lord Hugh Beresford, and Lady Patricia Millar.

Also in the news now is the third heir in succession to the Duke of St. Albans (whose wife is the Dowager Marchioness of Waterford). He is Mr. C. F. Aubrey Creed, who was teaching Bowe how to drive, preparatory to Bowe taking out a driver's licence. While teaching Bowe how to turn the lorry around a corner at Affane Cross, while Creed was still in the driver's seat and in charge of the wheel, Bowe inadvertently stepped on the accelerator and the lorry struck against a sign post near the Cross, so under the circumstances he suggested that a small fine would meet both cases.

Guard O'Mahony, in reply to the Justice, said he was satisfied that this explanation was correct, and Bowe was then let off with a fine of 2/6, while the owner of the lorry was fined 5/.

LATE MRS. SHANAHAN CARRICK-ON-SUIR

There was a very large attendance on Friday week at the funeral of the Friary, Carrickbeg, of the late Mrs. Shanahan, Park View, Carrick-on-Suir, wife of Mr. Edward Shanahan, of the firm of Shanahan Brothers, Carrick-on-Suir. Deceased left nine children to mourn her loss. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Shanahan and his children in their bereavement.

MONTHLY FAIR AT TALLOW.

At a meeting of the United Cattle Traders' Association, held in Cork, at which Mr. P. T. Buckley, H.C., chairman, presided, the proposal to hold a monthly fair at Tallow on the last Thursday in each month was approved.

Don't let your Calves die!

Mr. Moyan Hughes, Glasnevin, Aherlow, Co. Tipperary, writes: "Cureox completely cured the two calves. They were in a dying condition when I gave the first dose. I had noticed a big change, and they came on gradually until completely cured. We did not ask for or pay for this letter. It is true and unqualified, and from a bona fide user."

BE WISE! At the first sign of grinding teeth, straining neck, staggering, drooping, and curd in calves, give a few doses of Cureox and see the difference. Used time, it never fails.

Officially approved by the Department of Agriculture.

CAPPOQUIN DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.)

AN UNREGISTERED STALLION

The Minister for Lands and Agriculture summoned a farmer named Thomas Kenry, Carrowgoive, Cappagh, for using a thoroughbred stallion for the service of mares without having the animal registered or licensed by the Department. Mr. E. A. Ryan, State solicitor, Dungarvan, prosecuted for the Department, and explained that the animal in question should have been registered before Dec. 31st 1936, but this had not been done, and the defendant used the animal for the service of mares during the season of 1937.

Defendant told the Justice that he was in communication with the Department on the subject, and on the application of Mr. Ryan the case was adjourned to the next Court.

An unlicensed Driver

Guard John O'Mahony, Cappoquin, summoned Thos. Bowe, Dungarvan, for driving a motor lorry without having a driver's licence, and the owner of the lorry was also summoned for permitting the vehicle to be driven by an unlicensed driver.

Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., Dungarvan, who appeared for both defendants, pleaded guilty, and said that on the date in question the lorry was being driven by a fully licensed driver, a man named Creed, who was teaching Bowe how to drive, preparatory to Bowe taking out a driver's licence. While teaching Bowe how to turn the lorry around a corner at Affane Cross, while Creed was still in the driver's seat and in charge of the wheel, Bowe inadvertently stepped on the accelerator and the lorry struck against a sign post near the Cross, so under the circumstances he suggested that a small fine would meet both cases.

Guard O'Mahony, in reply to the Justice, said he was satisfied that this explanation was correct, and Bowe was then let off with a fine of 2/6, while the owner of the lorry was fined 5/.

Alleged Dangerous Riding

In the adjourned case of Superintendent Quinlan, Lismore, against Laurence Ormond, Lyre, East, Cappoquin, Inspector O'Shaughnessy, who appeared for the Supt., said this case was adjourned from the January Court for the attendance of Lady Keane, whose motor car was alleged to have been run into by a bicycle ridden by the defendant, but as Lady Keane was not available that day, either, he now applied to have the case against Ormond withdrawn, and the Justice accordingly struck out the case.

In a similar adjourned case against a cyclist named Wm. Connors, Cluthahina, who was alleged to have collided with a motor car driven by David Rea, Cappoquin, Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solr., stated that he was appearing for Connors in a civil action which he was taking against the driver of the car, and on that ground he got the present case adjourned from November to the present Court, as it is hoped to have the civil action tried at the February Circuit Court in Dungarvan.

Of course he couldn't appear for Connors in the present case of the State against him, so he was only concerned with the civil action, and as this poor fellow got his head split open on the occasion, it might prejudice the result of the civil action if the present case were first heard, so he applied for a further adjournment to the May Court, until after the civil action had been heard, and the application was granted.

To More Cyclists In Trouble

Supt. Quinlan, Lismore, summoned two young men named John Kenneally, and Michael Foley, Aglish, for riding their bicycles in a manner dangerous to the public.

Inspector O'Shaughnessy, conducted the prosecution. Defendant had a lamp but no reflector, and he was fined only 1/.

Do. v. Maurice O'Brien, Kereen, for driving a pony and trap without a lamp or reflector.

Defendant was fined 2/6 and 1/.

A case arising out of the alleged larceny of timber from the Camphire district was adjourned to the next Court.

YOUGHAL NOTES

A Foreign Invasion

Somewhat of a sensation was created in the afternoon of St. Patrick's Day, when the latest addition to the Irish Navy the "Fort Rannock" escorted a Belgian poacher, the "mod en Werk" into the harbour. The skipper was charged—as has already been fully reported—with fishing within the 3-mile limit off Helvick Head on St. Patrick's Day. From the evidence given at the hearing it would appear that there was quite an invasion of foreign poachers. The skipper of the "Fort Rannock" stated that there were 6 or 7 poachers in the waters between Helvick and Mine Head, some of them inside the limit. In his evidence, Kenel Plenet, skipper of the captured trawler, stated that there were 15 other Belgian trawlers in the vicinity on that day. Just fancy what a terrible amount of damage must have been done to the fishery beds on our coasts by such a collection of actual or prospective poachers. The chief officer of the "Fort Rannock" stated that he saw a large quantity of immature fish, some alive on the deck of the convicted poacher. In imposing the maximum fine, £50, the Justice said that in future he would for any future offence order the forfeiture of fish and gear, in addition.

Juvenile Delinquency

Quite recently a little boy nearly lost his eye in a juvenile battle of stone-throwing. During the week we had another instance of youthful folly, in which a little fellow nearly lost his life. Climbing up the scaffolding in the front of the New Strand Church, a young fellow named Coleman, proceeded to swing down to the ground by means of a pulley rope. Unfortunately for him something gave way, and he was precipitated to the ground, some 30 feet below. Fortunately his fall was broken by something intervening, otherwise, the consequence might well have been fatal. As it was he escaped with serious leg and other injuries.

The Strand Villas

Which are closed between seasons on the Front Strand Promenade, have suffered—some nine or more—from the depredations of housebreakers. It would appear that a city gent who owns a villa paid it a visit during the week only to find that it had been broken into, the gas meter smashed and rifled, and other damage done. The matter was reported to the Civic Guards, who examined several other houses and found that nine had been raided and damaged more or less. These buildings have been closed since the summer—hence the trouble. It is said that there are developments in connection with the matter.

Sad Sudden Death

A painful sensation was caused here when the news went round that Miss Ledingham, the popular proprietress of the well-known Green Park Hotel, had died. The hotel has been closed since the end of the summer season, and she had only arrived the evening before her death to superintend preparations for resuming business for the coming season. She was found thrown on a bed dead. The remains were transferred to Mortimer's parlour, where she was interred.

Tribute to a Defendant's Honesty

Thomas Glavin, Cappoquin, who was summoned at the suit of Supt. Quinlan, Inspector for driving a motor lorry without due care was fined 10/.

The Justice, in giving his verdict, said that he was one of the most honest defendants he had been before him for a long time, and only for his soundness and honesty in giving his evidence he would fine him much more heavily.

Unlighted Vehicles

Guard J. O'Mahony, Cappoquin, summoned James Ormond, Mellery, James Millea, do., and L. O'Donnell, do., for riding bicycles without lights, and they were fined 2/6 each.

Sergeant J. Browne, Cappoquin, summoned Patk. Monalour, for using a donkey and cart without either a lamp or reflector, and he was fined 3/6 and 1/6 respectively.

Do. v. John O'Rourke, Salterbridge, for having no lamp or reflector on his bicycle. Fined 1/- in each case.

Guard M. Kiernan, Villierstown, v. Patk. Fitzgerald, Shanakill, Aglish, for having no lamp or reflector on his bicycle. Fined 2/- and 1/-.

Do. v. L. Cotter, Dromore, no lamp. Fined 2/-. Do. v. Thos. Crowley, Dromore, Aglish. Defendant had a lamp but no reflector, and he was fined only 1/.

Do. v. Maurice O'Brien, Kereen, for driving a pony and trap without a lamp or reflector.

Defendant was fined 2/6 and 1/.

A case arising out of the alleged larceny of timber from the Camphire district was adjourned to the next Court.

KILMAGTHOMAS NEWS.

Obituary—

The death occurred recently of Mrs. Hearne, wife of Mr. Paul Hearne, farmer, Furrleigh, Kilmacthomas, who died at the residence of her brother (Mr. Tennyson Boyne) at Coolin, Portlaoigh, following an illness of somewhat protracted duration and at a comparatively young age. A genial and engaging personality, the late Mrs. Hearne was a general favourite, both with her immediate friends and neighbours, and with the public at large. To the esteemed husband and family and brother of the deceased lady, the deep sympathy of the people of these parts goes out in their bereavement and loss. All that was mortal of the late Mrs. Hearne, was laid to rest in Killool (Kilmacthomas) Protestant Churchyard on Monday 21st ult., in the presence of innumerable mourners and sympathisers. Rev. Mr. Blennerhassett, P.A., Comeragh Rectory, conducted the burial service. A number of beautiful floral tributes were placed on the grave, and many messages of sympathy were received.

Married in England—

The wedding took place recently in England of Mr. Patrick Connolly, Alfred Place, Worthing, son of Mrs. M. Connolly, and the late Mr. P. Connolly, Portlaoigh, and Miss Edith Edward, daughter of Mrs. Edwards and the late Mr. Edwards, Cranbrook, Tunbridge, Wells. The bride, who looked charming, was attended by Mrs. Robinson, Landudno, sister of the bridegroom, and Mr. F. Edwards, brother of the bride, was best man. The bride wore an ensemble of black, relieved with white, and silver fur, and carried a spray of lily of the valley. The happy couple received numerous costly and serviceable wedding presents, and many congratulatory messages.

Gaelic Garnerings—

Save for a fairly strong breeze conditions climatical on Sunday evening last were excellent for the enactment of hurling and football fixtures.

To a prettily-prepared pitch at Fahá (kindly placed at the disposal of the progressive local club by ever-popular Mr. "Tom" Connors) flocked the fans of these parts—to witness the Fenor (senior) Fahá (junior) football replay, and the Abbeyside—St. Anne's (Kilmacthomas) friendly challenge ashen-blade bout. Enchanting environment; exhilarating host, and a hilariously happy-humoured evening. Old Borough's own merry "Mary G." (voluble and voluble vendor of apples and aerated waters) added to the glorious glamour and gaiety. From the Mahon-veined cantal of Mid-Deise came jolly "Jim" Donovan, who was adorned by a pinnose. Company is everything; it is even what the contents of the bottles "basketed" about by the afore-mentioned feminine merchant were not—intoxicating! Now to the two tussles of the auspicious occasion. With strictly impartial Mr. Sean Ormond, N.T., Kilmacthomas, in charge of the whistle, the XV's "told off" for the big ball battle lined out as listed hereunder—

Fenor—P. Gough (capt.); W. Flynn, Gough, E. Casey, N. Casey, P. Cowman, F. O'Meara, P. Gaffney, J. Connelly, R. Connelly, D. Cowman, W. Hayes, M. Coffey, P. Murphy, M. O'Sullivan and E. Moore.

Fahá—P. Casey (capt.); M. Connors (goal); W. Curran, T. Power, M. Downey, N. Connors, W. Connors, J. Connors, F. Casey, J. Foley, M. Foley, E. Foley, J. Higgins, D. Power and Rd. Whelan. The spin of the coin favoured the visitors, who, with a gusty wind over the opening moiety had matters much as they liked. Play was not a minute in motion when Dick Connelly pointed, and Fenor added 4 goals and 5 points ere the interval blast.

Having failed to lift a flag in the first period, the homesters got down to it from the throw-in, and succeeded in breaking through the formidable Fenor defence for a spectacularly gained free favour, which evoked rounds of applause from the onlookers. The superior strength and robustness of Annetstown's Anne's unit staved off Fahá's several further efforts to gain in the ensuing kicking. The homesters had five wides before pointing, and Fahá had a similar number of overs ere landing a like score. To Fahá fell the honour of holding the last notch of the milk—another minor. When the long whistle sounded the respective totals read—

Fenor 4-7 Fahá 1-2

Fahá had a similar number of overs ere landing a like score. To Fahá fell the honour of holding the last notch of the milk—another minor. When the long whistle sounded the respective totals read—

Fenor 4-7 Fahá 1-2

Dungarvan's doughty inter-county hurler and footballer, Mr. Christopher ("Christy") Moylan, was the admirable arbiter of the second set-to, which was a game packed with breath-taking thrills, being a neck and neck duel practically all the way. The teams took the field as follows—

Abbeyside—P. Whelan (capt.), T. O'Gorman (goal); T. Ryan, P. Nagle, T. Burke, J. Burke, Ed. Daly, C. Coleman, J. Waters, W. Burke, G. Noonan, P. Burke, P. Hurley, T. McGovern, and M. Cashman.

St. Anne's—M. Kiely (capt.), M. Downey (goal); T. Scurry, J. Keane, J. Troy, M. Kiersey, P. Walsh, M. Power, A. Fleming, Sean Lucy, P. Whelan, N. Flynn, P. Dalton, T. Murphy, and P. Butler. The boys of St. Augustine's storied parish, who played with the wind, forced from the break grazing the objective twice in succession. Downey, the St. Anne's player, had some "bully" balls, which were dead on to the net. Three seventies went to Abbeyside, off the second of which came a nice centre to the full-forward, and in a terrific attack a goal was rushed. In the ensuing exchange Andy Fleming opened well and received sound support from Sean Lucy, "Plus" Dalton and Tom Scurry. "Baff" Walsh and Frank Troy figured finely and "Mickie" Power capped a cutely conducted attack with a goal. Play continued to be brisk and lively and of an excitingly even character. Abbeyside pointed and scored ere St. Anne's again got through the "thatch" twice. Nagle, Noonan, the veteran "Paken" and Waters and the brothers Burke were going great guns for Abbeyside. Extending their rivals at every movement St. Anne's again challenged for Kiely to net. From a rousing display in all departments, a free-in goal was awarded to Abbeyside. The ball was beautifully placed and a dour struggle showed John Keane and "Nickey" Flynn ably aiding Downey to hold his fort intact. A powerful drive by "Mickey" Kirwan having been held by "Johnson" Burke, Abbeyside regained ground and again cried crack on another major set-to. After a series of stirring mid-field tussles, the advantage lay with St. Anne's, and their onward movement ended but inches wide. Nagle received the puck-out and sent a long pass to the foremost marksman, who regained the lead for Abbeyside with a neat goal. Half-time was rung with the register reading—

Abbeyside 4-1 St. Anne's 4-0

The fray was resumed amidst tremendous excitement, and Abbeyside's lead was soon shattered by a goal. Both bunches battled gallantly, and a fine goal was credited in turn to each. A rush by the Abbeyside shockers stopped when the leather rolled just a wee bit outside the upright. The tense test which had been a feature of the first half was waxing even more desperate, and the spectators were now kept on their toes with excitement. From a well sustained attack St. Anne's had a goal. A little later came a point to Abbeyside, and in tense excitement the ball was driven wide in a further effort. Hurling raged fast and furious, with the St. Anne's spearheads forcing the pace, and eventually a white flag was flown once more for them. With time ticking out, the Abbeyside forwards made most praiseworthy endeavours to reduce their opponents lead, but time and a sterling defence by Downey, Keane and Co. conquered all the craft and cleverness of the seaside snipers. The laurels lay with St. Anne's on the scores—

St. Anne's 6-2 Abbeyside 4-3

At Waterford City Gaelic gridiron, the Tanners were worsted by De La Salle in their 1st round tie in the Eastern Division Senior Football Championship of the current year. Only a sparse attendance gazed on the game, which resulted thus—

De La Salle 2-6 Tanners (Portlaoigh) 0-3

In his Column—

In the "Cork Weekly Examiner" issue dated the 28th ult., "Carbery" wrote—"I had a little share recently in a farewell tribute to another great Irish scholar lately—this was Sean O'Ciargusa, who retired after 40 good years in the Excise service—son of the Comeraghs and Deiseacht, prolific writer, humorist, and wit, novelist, O'Ciargusa has a charm of witty pen all his own. Under the names 'Marban', 'Cioi Labrais', 'Leaclogha', 'Slabh-na-mban', his work is well known. His novel 'Uncl Searla' and his book of short stories, 'Geanntair', are very popular. The Civil Service has given many well-trained minds to the cause O'Ciargusa is not the least of them."

Mr. Sean O'Kiersey, is a Kilmac man; he is a first-cousin of Mr. Pat Kiersey, general merchant, Main street, Kilmacthomas, and Mr. John Kiersey, ex-T.D., Ballyhussa, do., and his good wife is a sister of Mrs. James Hayes, a vintage and auctioneer, 1 Main Street, Dungarvan. Here's heartily hoping Mr. O'Kiersey may enjoy length of years laden with happiness in his retirement.

Don't Forget To Remember— That the call of Kilmac's New Hall will soon be upon you— and That today (Friday) is All-Fools Day!

RECENT DEVELOPMENTS IN THE CAUSE OF BLESSED OLIVER

Episcopal Action Some months ago the bishops of the United States forwarded a petition to the Holy Father in favour of the speedy canonisation of Blessed Oliver. From joint action they have now gone on to individual diocesan action. The Most Rev. Gerald Shaughnessy, S.M., Bishop of Seattle, in a letter to the clergy, religious and laity of his diocese, invites all those of whatever race or nationality who are interested in the cause to forward petitions for the canonisation of Blessed Oliver to the Bishop of the Holy See. His Lordship's letter includes the Prayer for the Canonisation of Blessed Oliver.

Cloyne Gives A Lead The Diocese of Cloyne can boast of the most perfect of gaisaithe in the diocesan cause of Blessed Oliver. At the suggestion of the Bishop of the Diocese, lay promoters have been appointed in every parish. They assist the clergy in spreading interest in the cause of Blessed Oliver and devotion to the Martyr. In his recent Lenten Pastoral his Lordship the Bishop makes the following references to the Cause: "We note with pleasure the steady increase of devotion to Blessed Oliver Plunket in the diocese. Over a year ago the faithful in Cloyne gave tangible evidence of their interest in the Martyr Cause by their splendid support of the Southern Pilgrimage to the National Shrine at Drogheda. Last July, Blessed Oliver's feast was kept with all possible solemnity in the Cathedral and other churches of the diocese, the clergy and people everywhere co-operating in a most edifying manner. At the occasion of the Annual Retreat we referred to the importance of having lay promoters nominated in each parish to assist the local clergy and the Diocesan Director in the work of the League of Prayer. Appointments have been made in the majority of the parishes with gratifying results. We earnestly appeal to the clergy and to the lay promoters, and to the faithful, especially the children, to maintain and strengthen their devotion to Blessed Oliver, to whom the Catholic Faith in Ireland owes so much; and to pray fervently that his lifelong and glorious martyrdom may be crowned with the final honours of the Altar in Canonisation."

New Literature on Blessed Oliver The new life of Blessed Oliver by Dom Wulstan Phillipson, Monk, of Downside, is eagerly awaited. Its forthcoming publication is announced by Messrs. Hodges, Gates and Washbourne. Dom Wulstan is a native of Dublin. A Helioo (Holland), publisher, will shortly issue a life of Blessed Oliver in Dutch. The life has been written by Miss Coda Drabbo of the Hague, and has a preface by the Rev. J. Harshebert, S.J., who has spent many years in Ireland. A cover for the book has been designed by Antoon van Helioo, a well-known religious artist, Helioo, a town near the Hague, is famous for its shrine of the Blessed Virgin.

Last year the League of Prayer adopted as its official hymn a composition by Rev. Dom Ethelbert Herne, F.S.A., set to music by Felice Giardini, an eighteenth century choister of Milan Cathedral. A big drive will shortly be initiated to popularise this hymn. It is hoped that by the feast day, July 11th, it will be known and sung throughout the length and breadth of Ireland. Already it is being taught in all the schools of the Diocese of Kildare and Leighlin, by order of his Lordship the Bishop. On St. Patrick's Day, a special recording of the hymn was made for the League by the choir of St. Joseph's, Highbury, London. Records will be on sale at Easter.

SUCCESSFUL DANCE IN ARDMORE

The annual St. Patrick's Night Dance, in St. Declan's Parochial Hall, Ardmore, was an outstanding success, being attended by about 200 couples from all parts of West Waterford and East Cork, a fact which demonstrates the ever-increasing popularity of Ardmore. An exceptionally large number were present from Clashmore and Youghal. Splendid music was supplied by Lily Jones's Dance Band Youghal, while the catering arrangements left nothing to be desired.

MID-DEISE MEMS.

Well and popularly known in Munster and Leinster athletic circles is good friend Liam Gallagher, a native of Touraneena parish now domiciled in Waterford City. Liam, in the course of a letter, makes mention of his old neighbour, the late Mr. Patrick McGrath, Lackendarra, Ballinacully, who died about a month ago, as follows:—

"Big Pats" (as he was affectionately known) was a great all-round athlete in his heyday, and often competed at Carrick against the Davins, and tied with the famous Flanagan of Limerick, at the 56 lbs. in Ballymacarbery. He was also a rival of Tom Kiely in the 100 yards, although weighing 17 or 18 stone. You should ask Pat Davin for some details.

"Big Pats" was a cousin of "Rick" and "Tade" Lonergan, Newcastle, who were unrivalled at the 56 lbs. swing and 28 lbs. push in their time. It is interesting to recall that the two adjoining parishes of Touraneena and Fournillavea produced such famous men as the Flynns (Pat and Tom), of Ballinacully, 17 and 1 mile champion of Ireland, respectively, and incidentally, indistinguishable twins; also Larry Dwan, Fournillavea, 440 yards Irish Champion at the same time. And later, Pat Power, Lickoran—standing 3-jumps—hop-step-and-jump National Champion."

The Waterford Mental Hospital Annual Staff Dance (under the aegis of the Mental Hospital Workers' Benevolent Society), which took place on the night of the National Festival, was an outstanding success. Drawn chiefly from the city and augmented by large numbers from Clonmel, Carrick-on-Suir, Ennisorthy, New Ross, Tramore, Kilmacthomas and Portlaoigh, the attendance reached record proportions. A grand total of 240 couples graced the function by their presence, and all were unanimous in their praise and appreciation of what was an unrivalled and unforgettable night of enjoyment. The spacious Hall was artistically and gaily decorated for the occasion, and the floor being elaborately patterned music was supplied by Griffin and his Boys' Band, and it was generally opined that this combination can now compare favourably with any of the leading teams of music in Southern Ireland.

The role of M. J. Kennedy was most capably filled by Mr. J. Kennedy (a popular member of the staff of the Waterford Labour Exchange). A Committee of male and female members of the staff were as usual entrusted with the catering and discharged their onerous duties in a manner satisfactory to all. With the music rendering "The Dear Little Shamrock" in march time, the dance was opened by Dr. A. Fitzgerald the universally esteemed R.M.S., accompanied by Miss M. Murphy (Matron) amidst prolonged applause, and continued with much zest until the strains of the National Anthem at 4 a.m., bringing forth expressions of regret at the termination of such an exhilarating function.

The enormous success of the dance reflects the greatest credit on the organising Committee, the energetic and popular Hon. Secretary, Mr. M. C. O'Rourke, who was uniting in his efforts so that each individual patron would derive the maximum measure of enjoyment from the entertainment. The shrubs and flowers were kindly supplied by Mrs. Fitzgerald, Grangemore House (most estimable wife of Dr. Fitzgerald, R.M.S.) for the decorative scheme.

Amongst the huge attendance were:— Dr. and Mrs. Fitzgerald; Miss P. Fitzgerald; Dr. O'Doherty, Assistant R.M.S.; Miss M. Murphy, Matron; Dr. R. D. Brennan; Mrs. Brennan and the Misses Brennan, who travelled from Ennis; Mr. Gilbert Lynch, member of the Graegeomman Mental Hospital Committee, Dublin; Mr. M. Ryan, Secretary, Mental Hospital Workers' Clonmel, and Ald. W. Jones, P.C., and Mrs. Jones, Waterford.

The menu consisted of roast beef, ham, ox tongue, Russian salad and fruit in variety. Dr. Brennan and family received a great ovation as they entered the Hall. The Dr. was R.M.S. in Waterford for 17 years, but recently left on promotion to R.M.S. Ennis.

DOUGHAL NOTES

Invasion— that of a sensation was created

Delinquency— recently a little boy nearly lost in a juvenile traffic of stone.

and Villas— are closed between seasons on Strand Promenade, have suffered nine or more—from the death of housebreakers. It would appear a city gent who owns a villa visit during the week only to it had been broken into, the gas washed and rifled, and other damage.

Death— fatal sensation was caused here news went round that Mrs. M., the popular proprietress of known Green Park Hotel, had died the evening before her death.

M. MOLONEY & CO. BRIDGE STREET DUNGARVAN. recommends ROBBIALAC SYNTHETIC FINISH because it stands unique among paint products for beautifying the hundred and one things about the home—because it contains the secret ingredient, "Easith." You are sure of getting perfect results on any surface—wood, metal, china, wicker, old paint-work or cellulose. You are sure of a lovely, lustrous finish as hard and smooth as plate glass, a finish that can be washed as often as you wish, a finish that will outlast any other type of paint! Yet Robbialac Synthetic Finish costs no more than ordinary enamel or so-called Chinese Lacquers. Get a tin to-day and try it on your vases, picture frames, chains and on larger surfaces, too. It's very easy to apply. YOU CAN PAINT MANY THINGS FOR 2/6. Made to make painting easy.

LATE FR. LYNCH, C.C.—
Most Rev. Dr. Kinnane, Lord Bishop of the Diocese, presided when, in the presence of an extremely large congregation, the Month's Mind for the late Rev. John Lynch, C.C., was held in the Ballybricken Church, over 60 priests, as well as the relatives of the late Fr. Lynch, were present.

His Lordship was assisted at the throne by the Right Rev. Wm. Dean Byrne, D.D., P.P., V.C., Ss. Peter and Paul's Clonmel; Very Rev. Edmund Canon Prendergast, P.P., Carrick-on-Suir, and Very Rev. Wm. Canon O'Connell, P.P., Dunmore East. The celebrant of the Mass was the Ven. Archdeacon Kelleher, S.T.L., P.P., V.F., Ballybricken; deacon, Rev. Fr. Walsh, C.C., Carrickbeg; sub-deacon, Rev. D. F. Fitzgerald, C.C., Ballybricken; master of ceremonies, Rev. J. Aherne, C.C., do.; chanters, Rev. M. O'Donovan, C.C., Cathedral, and the Rev. P. Power, St. John's College.

G.A.A.—SUNDAY'S BIG MATCH—
Next Sunday's match at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, promises to be the hurling tit-bit of the year. For all particulars, placings, etc., see "Crutogs" Notes in this issue.

WATERFORD HUNT
POINT-TO-POINT RACES—
The above popular Hunt will hold their Point-to-Point Meeting at Lisnalkil, on Thursday next, April 7th.

This splendid course has been further improved for this year's meet. As last year cars may be taken into an enclosure on the forward slope of the Hill, which a splendid view of the course is obtainable for an extra payment of 2/6 and it is to be hoped that all true sportsmen will facilitate the committee by availing of this official enclosure. Judging from the entries already received (and which will not close until Monday next, April 5th) big fields will be the order for each event. The first Race is timed for 2.30 p.m. Races will run to the course from the Clock Tower, Waterford, from 12.30 p.m. onwards.

YOUTHFUL EXILES SUCCESS—
Della Dunford, was one of eight children of the Catholic School, Hayes, Middlesex, who obtained a first-class pass in the recent Scholarship Examinations. The Scholarship entitled the winner to free tuition in a secondary school. Miss Dunford, with three of her companions have elected to attend St. Mary's College, Kilmacshannon. We heartily congratulate Miss Dunford on her success and her esteemed parents Mr. Paddy Dunford (late of Bohadoun) and Mrs. Dunford (nee Power (late of Ballinac) will have the best wishes of their numerous friends in Dungarvan and Co. Waterford, on their charming daughter's educational achievement.

WEST WATERFORD JUNIOR HURLING CHAMPIONSHIP 1938—
The attention of all members of the Dungarvan Junior hurling team is directed to the fact that they will be engaged against Abbeyside on Sunday week, April 10th, in above championship, and all are earnestly requested to attend the Gaelic Field each evening during the week for practice.

DEATH OF MR. RICHARD GOODE—
We sincerely regret to record the death of Mr. Richard Goode, "Hazeldene," Abbey-side, which sad event occurred in a Dublin Hospital, on Wednesday last, after a rather protracted illness. Deceased was a well-known and highly-respected resident of Dungarvan. He was a business man of the highest ability and was proprietor of the large and flourishing Drapery and Book Warehouses of Good Bros., O'Connell street, Dungarvan. To his bereaved wife and young family, the deepest sympathy of the public is extended in their great sorrow. The interment takes place today (Friday) in Mount Jerome cemetery, Dublin.

DUNGARVAN HURLING AND FOOTBALL CLUB—
ACCIDENT SCHEME—
The attention of all playing members of the above Club is directed to the fact that the premiums fee of 1/-, payable by each player towards above scheme, is required to be in the hands of the Secretary on or before April 26th, 1938. Any claim for injuries lodged with the Club during the coming year will, on no account, be entertained unless the player concerned is covered under above scheme.

IRISHMAN'S "DAFFODIL" WEDDING
A dazzling retinue in all the golden shades of daffodils, primroses, cowslips and Spring's own flowers, was the dominant feature in the wedding of Miss Junia Brassey at St. George's Hanover Square, on Tuesday, to Flight-Lieut. Michael Dawnay, youngest son of Lady Susan Dawnay of Whitfield Court, County Waterford, and of the late Major the Hon. Hugh Dawnay.

Lady Susan Dawnay is a daughter of the fifth Marquess of Waterford. Her eldest son married a daughter of the sixth Marquess of Waterford, and another Commander Peter Dawnay, is married to Lady Angela Scott, sister of the Duchess of Gloucester.

Banks of Spring flowers—primroses, daffodils and polyanthes—were arranged throughout the church, and the bride's ten child attendants wore wreaths of mixed Spring flowers and carried tight posies. Captain David Dawnay, the groom's eldest brother, was best man. The bride, who is adopted daughter of Lord and Lady Brassey of Aspley, was given away by Lord Brassey. She was in a lovely modern gown of pale-gold soft tulle with a heart-shaped neck and a head-dress of golden tulle, which held in place a beautiful family veil of old Brussels lace, lent by the bridegroom's mother. The lines of the bride's classically-cut gown fell in one with the train.

DUNGARVAN EXCURSION CLUB—
The Committee of the Club at a meeting held during the week decided owing to the big demand made for reservations in their Annual Excursion to Killybeg on next August Sunday, to guarantee only those applications in respect of which Membership has been paid up to date. The date selected—August Week-end—to visit this well known seaside resort has been a popular one and the Committee are having a busy time trying to cater for all who wish to travel. Hotels for the Tour have been booked and the Club Officers are making thorough arrangements for an enjoyable outing in Co. Clare.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

SAD DROWNING TRAGEDY NEAR LISMORE. BODY FOUND IN THE RIVER BRIDE RESULT OF DEPRESSION.

(From our Cappoquin Correspondent).

A sad drowning tragedy was revealed near Lismore on last Sunday when Sergt. J. Ballantine, Lismore, and Guard Coffey, do., recovered from the river bride the body of a farmer named William Lee, aged 54 years, who resided at Curraheen, Lismore, and who had been missing from his home since last Friday morning.

On Saturday evening his wife, who had been married only a month, reported his disappearance to the Guards at Lismore, and on the same evening a neighbouring farmer, Mr. Wm. McDonald, Curraheen, Tallow, found on the bank of the river Bride, coal and cap, the property of the missing man, after which Sergt. Ballantine and Guard Coffey made a thorough search of the river in the vicinity until darkness set in, but were unable to find any trace of the body.

Resuming their search with the aid of a boat on Sunday morning, they found the body lying face downwards at 12-45 p.m., at a spot about 400 yards from his home.

The body was later removed to the Mortuary of the Lismore Hospital, and on Monday at 1-30 Dr. McCarthy, Dungarvan, Coroner for West Waterford, held an inquest into the circumstances of his death.

The inquest was held in the old Boardroom of the Union Premises; the following jury being sworn:— Messrs. Daniel Lawton, Town Clerk; Denis McCarthy, Thos. Hartnett, J. Geary; J. Willoughby; J. Ryan; D. Condon and M. Coughlan.

Superintendent Sean Quinlan, G.S. Lismore, conducted the proceedings on behalf of the authorities.

The first witness was deceased's widow, Mrs. Bridget Lee, who said she lives at Curraheen, Lismore, and gave evidence of identification. Her husband was aged about 54 years, and was a farmer at Curraheen.

To Supt. Quinlan, she last saw him alive about 10 o'clock on Friday morning when he was leaving the house, walking to go to Lismore for Public Relief money. He was then in his normal health, and she noticed nothing unusual about him.

He did not return from Lismore, and she next saw his dead body in the Mortuary in Lismore on Sunday. They were married on Feb. 24th, and since they got married he had been worrying a good deal about the debts due on the farm. He told her that he had been very lonely since his uncle's death, and if he had to live alone much longer he would go mad. He seemed very depressed at times, but she never heard him say that he intended to take his life. She had taken out an insurance on his life a week after they had got married. He had a farm of about 70 acres, but had no stock, only a grey mare, and was very poor. He frequently referred to being poverty-stricken, and said it was bad enough without bringing her into it. She tried to cheer him up, and he used to say that his people would never leave any of them go hungry, anyway.

W. McDonald, Curraheen, Tallow, said he was a farmer and lived near the deceased. The latter seemed to be in bad circumstances, and in fact, all before him there appeared to be very poor. Deceased suffered from pains from time to time, and was sometimes rather depressed. Witness found the coat and cap produced on the river bank about 5 o'clock on Saturday evening, and was present when the Guards recovered the body from the river on Sunday morning. He helped the Guards to remove the body, which he identified as that of Michael Lee. He had never heard deceased say that he intended to take his life.

Sergt. Joseph Ballantine, Lismore, said that at 3 o'clock on Saturday evening, he received a report at Lismore Garda Station from Mrs. Lee that her husband was missing, and proceeded to her residence at Curraheen where he was shown a coat and cap, and was pointed out by Mr. McDonald the spot where he had found them near the river bank, about 5 yards from high-water mark.

Witness and Guard Coffey searched the river that night until it got dark, without result, and resumed the search on Sunday morning with the aid of a boat. About 12-45 he saw the body lying face downwards in about 5 feet of water, the head being facing down stream. Witness and Guard Coffey removed the body from the river and had it conveyed into the Mortuary at the Lismore Hospital.

The body was dressed, with the exception of the coat and cap, and there were no papers or money found in the pockets.

In reply to the Coroner, the Sergt. said that deceased would not have to cross the river Bride on his way to Lismore, which would have been in the opposite direction. As a matter of fact, the body was found about 400 yards from his house in the opposite direction which he should have taken for Lismore. Witness had made inquiries in Lismore and found that he had not called for any Relief money where he should have got it on Friday.

Dr. Daniel Healy, M. O., Lismore, stated that he had made a post-mortem examination on the body that day, assisted by Dr. J. O'Mahony, Tallow. There were no external marks of violence on the body, and he formed the opinion that death was due to asphyxia, due to drowning. The body appeared to have been in the water for, approximately, 48 hours before being recovered; which would fix the

COAST TO COMERAGH CHIPS

The efficiency with which the Government from a large portion of his income has led the said citizen to regard with joy any method by which he can hang on to his cash. Last month, however, Authority raked in a considerable amount of money and in doing so met with less recrimination than is usual. March is the customary month for licensing the dog, and most men, while having little gladness in paying the tax, recognise that they get full value for their five bob.

There seems to be something wrong with the man who doesn't like dogs. Perhaps one of them pinched the bottle from his pram in his early childhood, or chewed his socks on the morning of his wedding, or otherwise embittered him, but whatever the reason, one is inclined to class him with Shakespeare's non-musical friends and regard him as "fit for treasons, stratagems and spoils."

There is probably some profound psychological reason for his attitude, but one can tolerate him in that even if he is afflicted of Allah, he is harmless.

The average human, however, has more kindness than this, as the licence returns show. From the first night when you bring home a pup, and watch the forlorn little animal nosing around for its mother, you can feel it wringing its way into your heart. "Pupsey" may yelp for a few nights and keep you from sleeping, but in the daytime will make you laugh at antics. "Pupsey" will chew up your shoes, and your flowers, and you'll feel like choking the beast at times, but when you speak harshly, and look so big-eyed and pathetic when you go off to work, that you'll know why the children cry when "Pupsey" gets hurt.

It doesn't matter if "Pupsey" is a pedigree cocker spaniel, or a prize setter, or just an indeterminate mongrel. You'll feel like murdering the blighter when it chooses your front garden as the scene of a fight with the dog next door, but if you happen to sprain an ankle when walking with "Pupsey" over the mountains, the dog will sit and lick your hand until it arrives. When you're sick your dog will spend all day with you if you let it, and if you die the animal will probably howl for you all night, and many a man has had a worse epitaph.

Nobody has better expressed the way in which a dog "gets you" than the author of "Tim, an Irish terrier." Not only does the poet admire dogs on earth, but he is inclined to believe that they go to heaven. He ends the poem:—

"So I laugh when I hear them make it plain That dogs and men never meet again. For all their talk who'd listen to them With the soul in the shining eyes of him. Would God be wasting a dog like Tim."

To keep Tim—or Spot—or Squibs—or Toby—costs only two half-crowns. Few such pals cost less.

COST OF KEEPING A GREYHOUND

At Carrick-on-Suir District Court, on Monday, two sisters were involved as plaintiff and defendant in a case arising out of the keeping and feeding of a greyhound.

Kate Power, sued Mary Egan, her sister for £10, for food and medicine used in keeping a greyhound her sister the defendant asked her to keep and feed and generally look after her.

Defendant admitted having offered £4 in settlement of the claim and said she had frequently sent meat, milk and vegetables to her sister's house for the dog.

The plaintiff in reply to Mr. Power, said it cost 5/- a week to keep the dog. The defendant said if she had got a good price for the dog she would have given her sister £20.

The Justice gave a decree for £4 and costs.

time of his death as being on Friday morning, March 25th.

To the foreman—the body did not present the appearance of the deceased having made any struggle in the river, corroborative evidence, after which the Coroner summed up, and suggested a verdict that deceased met his death by drowning, while suffering from temporary insanity.

The Jury returned a verdict accordingly and the Coroner, Supt. Quinlan, Dr. Healy, Lismore, and Dr. O'Mahony, Tallow, all associated themselves with a sincere vote of sympathy to the relatives of the deceased in their sad bereavement.

In the suggestion of the Supt., the Coroner made out a certificate for the funeral expenses of deceased, owing to the poor circumstances of his widow.

DUNGARVAN FOOT BEAGLES FINAL MEET OF SEASON

This pack had their final meet of the season at Ocean View Hotel, Clonea, on Sunday last. Proceeding through the Golf Links, hounds were thrown into the bog adjoining where a hare was soon sighted and hounds were on his trail immediately. They hunted him through the lower end of the Golf Links, where he went for the strand right over the bulwark of stones and along the strand at the edge of the tide towards the Hotel. Heading for Kilgrovan through Mr. Higgins's farm, then circling towards the strand, hounds hunted through the strand over rough shingle and rocks towards the lighthouse. Scent was now only patchy and hounds were called off, but failed to find, and as it was getting late and the hunt being fast hounds were drawn off.

This closed a very successful season and all followers were delighted with the sport provided and will look forward to the opening of our next season in September. At each meet new followers are being added to the ranks and this delightful sport which is becoming more popular every season. In Waterford City hundreds of followers can be seen out every Sunday. It is a healthy pastime and very interesting and lovers of the sport always look forward to a good day's hunting with the Dungarvan pack.

The committee of the club wish to return their best thanks to the several landowners who allowed the hunt over their lands during the season.

The large number out on Sunday included Mr. Bertram Poole, Waterford; Mrs. Fleming, do.; Mr. J. Hutton, Tramore, Miss P. Smyth, Waterford, Mrs. Alice Walsh, do., Miss M. Whittle, do., Mr. G. Shanahan and Mr. J. Shanahan, Portlaoise; Mr. T. Kely, Huntman, Dungarvan Club; Mr. W. Claxton, who do.; Mr. P. Cullinan, do.; Mr. R. Gough, whip, do.; Mr. W. Gough, Ballykerog; Mr. P. Toner M. and L. Bank, Dungarvan; Miss Birdie Keane, Dungarvan; Miss Monica Walsh, do.; Miss Mary Donovan, do.; Master Joe Stephenson, Clonea; Mr. Foley, do.; Mr. Power, Dungarvan; Mr. M. Ahearn, Abbeyside; Master J. Walsh, Dungarvan; Mr. Lea Casey, do.; Mr. J. Walsh, do.; Master B. Quinn, do.; Master J. Donovan, do.; Master K. Brackett, Colligan; Mr. J. Donovan, Hon. Sec., Mr. W. Quinn, K.H.; Mr. P. Cullinan, Kilmacthomas; Mr. Don and Thos. Carroll, Lacken Lodge, Mr. M. Acton, etc., etc.

The Hunt Dance on Easter Sunday night promises to be a great success as large numbers are attending from Waterford, Tramore, Portlaoise and surrounding districts.

POPULAR PASTOR

Youghal Priest's Silver Jubilee

WORK IN ENGLAND

Rev. Michael McCarthy, a native of Seafeld, Youghal, this month celebrates his silver jubilee as parish priest of St. Joseph's, Huddersfield, Yorks.

Father McCarthy, who is a son of the late Mr. Daniel McCarthy, a former chairman of the Youghal Board of Guardians, was ordained at Waterford Cathedral on June 18th, 1893. He was educated at St. John's College, Waterford. Almost immediately after his ordination he began his clerical duties in England, and has spent practically the whole of his career in the Leeds Diocese. He was at one time curate at St. Cuthbert's Bradford (the church of the renowned "Father Brown" of G. K. Chesterton), and later at Tadcaster, Bamsley, and Hebdon Bridge, and at Patrick's under the late Canon Dolan, in 1905. He was appointed parish priest of St. Joseph's on the death of Canon Dolan in 1913, when St. Joseph's was created a separate parish.

Father McCarthy, is a popular figure in Huddersfield. He served on the local Education Committee for about ten years and on the local Board of Guardians for about fifteen years. In 1913 his devotion to the welfare of his people was marked by the presentation of an illuminated address as a purse of gold, a testimonial to which non-Catholics as well as Catholics subscribed.

The day schools of St. Joseph's have developed considerably under Fr. McCarthy's care. A senior school was completed ten years ago and opened by Sir Enoch Hill. Father McCarthy is one of the oldest clergymen in point of service at one place of worship in Huddersfield.

Father McCarthy is brother of Mr. D. McCarthy, U.D.C., and Mr. W. McCarthy, Seafeld.

SHOCKING CRUELTY TO A DOG. SENTENCE IN CLONMEL.

That the accused was the greatest savage he had come across, and that he was sorry he could not have him flogged, was stated by District Justice Troy in Clonmel when he sent Cornelius Lonergan, Lisronagh, to jail for six weeks, with hard labour, for gross cruelty to a Kerry Blue terrier.

It was stated that the accused, who pleaded guilty, took the dog to a ruined building, kicked it, and threw a large stone on it. When the animal fell on the floor the following evening it appeared to be dead, but when the accused kicked it, it started to growl. He then tried to set fire to it. On the next day the dog was still alive, but it died when struck with a stick on the head.

The accused said he was afraid the dog would do damage. He denied that he was the terror of the locality in which he lived, but admitted that he had hanged another dog which he had found straying.

Superintendent Kelly said it was one of the worst cases of cruelty that had come before the Court.

G.A.A. NOTES & NOTIONS

By "CROTOG."

Last Sunday week, in the Cork Athletic Grounds Tournament, Cork scored a smashing victory over their old rivals Limerick. The Litter were short some of their more prominent stalwarts including John Mackey, Paddy Scanlan and Mick Kennedy; nevertheless this should not detract from the merits of the Cork success. It is the first time in six years that the Garryowen hurlers have gone under to a Leside team, the last occasion being that thrilling day in Thurles in 1932 when the peerless "Gah" Ahearn scored two rapid goals from a series of moves as brainy and as audacious as were ever seen on a Gaelic field. The Cork team has been slowly developing, and, judging by the consistent improvement shown in recent matches, it is now moving into its true form. Mary shawl judges fancy Cork's Corko Fark chances this year. Certainly their League clash with Waterford in Dungarvan on Sunday should give form students a good line on which to go. Already this match has aroused interest far above the ordinary going to be a genuine all-out trial of hurling strength between the two sides. Cork has got only a few short weeks to prepare to meet Limerick in the deadly earnest of the Munster Championship and hence is fielding its full team so as to perfect its tactics and combination. The Deise lads too are eager for the fray, anxious as they are to improve their team-work and to taste the sweets of victory.

Paul Russell presided at the meeting of the Western Divisional Board in Cappoquin, the Divisional vice-chairman, Seamus Hayes, Treasurer and James Goode were also present and the clubs represented were Dungarvan, Abbeyside, The Pike, Mellerly, Cappoquin, Villiersdown, Knockanore, Tallow, St. Carthage's and Lismore. The Chairman said that he was of a routine nature though a few items provided lively verbal exchanges.

The Villiersdown V. Knockanore Junior Football clash was at length, by mutual agreement, fixed for Lismore. I thought the offer of Mr. Knockanore's delegate to travel to Villiersdown if given two goals of a lead was highly original. It was just as well perhaps that it was not accepted as it would certainly be a dangerous precedent.

A debate took place on the "Special Convention" decision of the Munster Council. The delegates, one and all, could see no useful purpose being served by such and unanimously affirmed their complete confidence in the County Board.

It was decided that the big League Hurling Fixture, Cork v. Waterford, in Dungarvan on April 3rd, should be a closed-in in the West. A train from Cork is stopping at all stations between Fermoy and Dungarvan so that the Gae's of East Cork and West Waterford will have every facility for attending the match.

The regrading of four Dungarvan Senior hurlers was refused on a vote and a similar application from two Slisah G'ua footballers was ruled out as being late. Border problems gave rise to a few interesting revelations and a pair of delinquents from the Blackwater who carried off the canans across the Suir were dealt with according to rule—six months suspension. Migatory hurlers and footballers would do well to remember this little lesson and respect the border.

SUPPLIES FOR ROSCREA FACTORY.

The Department of Agriculture announces that owing to the small number of old and uneconomic cattle which is being offered by farmers this Spring for delivery to the factory at Roscrea, it has been decided that when the fifth collection round which is now proceeding has been completed, no further supply of cattle will be collected this season. The question of resuming the collection of cattle for delivery to the factory next autumn or early winter is, however, being considered.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Present—Mr. P. J. O'Gorman, P.C., Chairman; M. D. Broderick, M. Aherm, R. Power, J. Daly, B.E., J. N. R. Macnamara, solr., R. Savage, P.C., T. K. Keane, solr., E. D. Condon.

New Buildings, Etc.—Mr. R. Savage, submitted plans, etc., of an addition to his place at Harbour View South.

Miss A. Meade, Pacific Hotel, submitted plans of proposed alterations to her premises.

Mr. M. Walsh, contractor, etc., submitted plans, etc., of a bungalow to be erected on the New Road to the Mental Hospital.

In a covering letter, Mr. Walsh, said that he intended to build along the New Road. There was no gas laid there. He intended cutting for a sewer along Poison Bush Lane. He suggested that it would be a convenient opportunity for the Council to lay a gas main along the road, as a few lamps would be very necessary there.

They were all referred to the Town Surveyor.

Notice of Wage Increase—Mr. J. Hartigan, Hon. Sec., of the Amalgamated Carpenters and Joiners Association, notified the Council that, in accordance with the new scale the future rate of wages would be 1/10d. per hour for a 47-hour week.

"Tell Us Again."—A letter was read from the Board of Works regarding the proposal of the Council to terminate the tenancy of a yard in Bachelor's Walk, asking for particular public health purpose it was proposed to utilize the place.

Mr. Power said it was to get rid of a place for which they were paying rent.

The Chairman said the Department had been told that a half dozen times already (laughter).

G. A. A.—The G.A.A. applied for the use of the Ballroom on the night of April 19th for the usual function.

The application was granted unanimously.

Rent Arrears—Some discussion took place on the arrears of rent and costs due by some of the tenants of the Council's houses.

In one case the poor tenant, a fisherman had a family of 13. The fishing was a record failure. He promised to pay if the fishing improved.

The Clerk said he honestly believed the poor man was hungry.

Mr. Power—Surely the Council would not put a man like that out of his house. He could never pay 3/6 a week. Would it not be better to reduce the rent to 2/.

The Clerk—The Department would not sanction it.

Mr. Power—The Department don't give the shank of a wren's tail about the poor people. If they are evicted they will have to go to the Co. Home and be kept at the ratepayers' expense. It is utterly ridiculous (hear, hear).

The Clerk—They were taken out of houses for which they paid 1/2 a week, and put into others costing them 3/6.

Mr. Power—A few would be quite sufficient.

Mr. Broderick said when the National Authority realised that they must feed these poor people, they should have undertaken responsibility for the rent.

Mr. Power said the poor people were suffering great hardships. Last year's fishing was very bad, but the present, so far, was the worst on record. It would appear that the salmon fishing industry was dying out year by year. The Government expect that we will evict these poor people, but let (Mr. Power) would tell an Taoiseach himself that they would not do it. He proposed they reduce the rent to 2/- and ask the Local Government to sanction it.

The Chairman—That will require notice of motion.

Mr. Power—I will hand it in.

Sympathy—On the proposition of Mr. Keane, seconded by Mr. Macnamara, a vote of sympathy was passed by Mr. and Miss Ledingham on the tragic death of their mother.

The Chairman, other Councillors and the Town Clerk expressed their association.

New Relief Grant—The Local Government Department, wrote notifying the grant provisionally of 19,445, subject to a local contribution of 14,875. The grant provisionally allocated and the local contribution included the amounts already notified in respect of the spring and summer works. The grant was subject to the usual conditions including the one that the local contribution was to be raised by rate in the financial year 1938/39.

The Chairman said it would appear that the Government was endeavouring to smother the towns. They would not allow them raise a loan, or extend the payment over a period of years to meet the contribution demanded. Public bodies throughout the country were very justly protesting.

Mr. Broderick said the proposed contribution would mean 24d. in the £.

The Chairman—What are the people going to do? They are simply crippling us.

Mr. Daly said they would have to scour the 1/2 water main. If they were allowed to devote portion of the grant to that work, it would be a great public utility.

The Chairman—Will they permit us to do that?

Mr. Daly—There is a precedent for it in Passage West.

The Chairman said what he objected to was the National Authority giving them a grant for works of public utility and then placing such a heavy burden on the already overburdened ratepayers—ask-

INTERESTING POINT FOR CINEMA OWNERS—At Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday, Mr. McCabe, D.J., dismissed with a caution, a case in which Sgt. Duffley, summoned Mr. McGrath, Carrick-on-Suir, Cinema proprietor, for having allowed the passages and entrance at the cinema to be obstructed.

Mr. Quirk, solr., for defendant, said on the night in question "Rose Marie" was shown at the Carrick-on-Suir Cinema. Large crowds came from the adjoining districts and Mr. McGrath did not like to turn them away.

YOUGHAL DISTRICT COURT.

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.

Civil Bills—A number of undefended civil bills, in which Messrs. T. K. Keane and J. N. R. Macnamara, solrs., appeared for the plaintiffs, were first disposed of, decrees or adjournments being granted.

Housebreaking Charge—Philip Magner (74) and Jas. Sullivan, (49) were charged in custody with breaking into and entering the premises of Mrs. S. Hurley, on the Strand.

Inspector Falvey, prosecuted, and Mr. T. K. Keane, solr., appeared for Magner. It was stated that there were several other charges to be preferred against the accused.

In the case against Sullivan, Detective-Inspector J. Downes, Youghal, deposed that he took the accused over from the police at Goodwick, Pembrokeshire, on warrant, and brought him to Youghal. When charged he said he had no statement to make only that which he gave to Sgt. J. Falvey, witness asked for a remand in custody.

In the case against Magner, Sgt. Lupton gave formal evidence of arrest and of a deposition previously made. He applied for a remand in custody.

Mr. Keane, applied for bail. His client had been already several days in custody. His father and uncle would go bail for him and undertake to look after him meanwhile.

The Justice said it was unusual to grant bail at that early stage, but he would allow it in two 50s.

The Inspector asked for an order to have finger prints taken in both cases.

The Justice—What power have I to order you to take finger prints?

The Inspector said that under an Act of 1908, the Governor of the jail could take the finger prints with the approval of the Court.

Mr. Keane said his client would submit himself for finger prints.

After further argument, Sullivan was remanded in custody and Magner on bail in two sureties of 50s each, the question of the finger prints being adjourned to next hearing.

Larceny of Bottle of Brandy—Wm. Webb, of no fixed abode, was charged in custody with the larceny of a bottle of brandy, value 5s, the property of Mr. J. Daly, South Main street, vintner.

Evidence was given by Miss Daly to the effect that the accused had been in the shop, which she left for a short time, going into the kitchen. When she returned she missed the bottle of brandy.

Sgt. Lupton, stated that acting on a report received, he found the defendant and his wife in a public house. She was drinking, he was not. Witness brought them to the barracks and on searching the accused he found the bottle of brandy unopened in his inside pocket. When questioned he said he had some drink taken. It was the first time he was charged in Youghal and he was sorry.

The Justice—Are you guilty or not guilty?

Accused—Guilty of the charge.

Replying to the Court accused said he was a wire workman belonging to Waterford.

Sgt. O'Beirne said the Authorities looked on the offence as serious, as this man went round from house to house.

He was sent to jail for a fortnight.

LIME, BARLEY AND PIGS.

AN EFFORT TO MEET THE HIGH COST OF FEEDING STUFFS.

Attention is called to the important relationship between lime, barley and pigs in the current issue of "Pig Progress," the monthly journal of the Pig Marketing Board, Northern Ireland.

As we all know, liming is an ancient and proven practice of good farming, and for hundreds of years, prior to the introduction of artificial lime and farmyard manure were the only fertilisers used. Lime sweetens the soil, improves its texture and workability, fortifies cultivated crops against various diseases, and enables the crops to make the maximum use of farmyard manure and artificial which may be applied.

Lime is, however, continually being lost from the soil, partly through being absorbed by the growing crops, and not only in our climate, but being washed away into the drains or into the lower levels of the soil, where it is beyond the reach of plant roots.

For many years lime has been comparatively neglected largely on account of its cost and the amount of labour required for its application, and much of our land is now suffering from lime deficiency. This may not have been particularly obvious in our farming system because some of our principal crops such as oats, rye-grass, potatoes and flax will frequently thrive quite well in spite of a slight lime shortage.

During the last season or two, however, in view of the high cost of feeding stuffs, numbers of farmers have sown an area under barley, and in many cases the lack of lime immediately became apparent, for barley simply will not tolerate a sour soil, and can only be grown successfully provided there is an adequate lime available. This undoubtedly provides the explanation for some of the disappointing crops which have been experienced. Furthermore, barley is not likely to be a success in heavy clay soils or in cold, exposed and late districts.

GOOD CROPS OF BARLEY.—Bearing these points in mind, however, there are many districts where good crops of barley can and have been grown, and experiments carried out by the Ministry of Agriculture, Northern Ireland, through the medium of the County Agricultural Inspectors have given yields of around 19 cwt. of grain and about 32 cwt. of straw per statute acre. These average results were obtained from 24 different centres over the years 1935-37 with the varieties "Spratt Archer" and "Old Common (Chevalier)." "Spratt Archer" has a strong straw, resists lodging well and is suitable for the rather heavier and more fertile types of soil. "Old Common" has a long, slender straw, and is better suited for the lighter classes of soils, since it ripens comparatively early. A long standing practice adopted with some success on the poorer soils in Great Britain is the sowing of a mixed crop of barley and oats, and although its practicability in Northern Ireland has not been proven it might be worth an experimental trial; provided the proportion of oats is not too high, a mixture of barley and oats makes a good cereal basis for fattening rations.

CHEAP LIME.—Under the Land Fertility Scheme supplies of lime can be obtained by farmers at half the usual cost, and this scheme will undoubtedly assist farmers in the successful production of barley for their pigs. If possible, lime should be applied a year previous to the sowing of the barley crop, but it may quite suitably be applied on the furrows about a fortnight before the barley is sown. It should never be applied to the land and ploughed under, as this hastens its removal by drainage and washing out. Barley is essentially a shallow-rooted crop, and the lime supply should, therefore, be near the surface.

The most satisfactory barley crops are usually those from sowings made

Mr. Thos. McCarthy, who presided at the weekly meeting above on Friday last. Messrs. P. O'Dwyer, J. Conners, D. Foley, P. O'Leary, J. J. Crotty, and Mr. Walsh.

Allocation Plot. The Council, on the proposal of Mr. Walsh, decided to ask local landowners for a supply of small plots for allotment plots.

Compensation. Mr. John Bluet, Youghal, applying for compensation for his land in the running of the through portion of it. The matter was referred to the solicitor.

Bad Sewerage. A letter from Mr. M. C. street, asked the Council to sewer opposite his house. The sewer was in bad condition and damaged the health of his family. His wife, had, at great expense, sanitary conveniences, but the matters were as the sewer. A similar letter was read by Mr. Moore.

B.S.—That was the sewer here some time ago, which thought they would be abated in the present sewer but which he is afraid is not.

Mr. Clancy—It was money in putting in sanitary arrangements no benefit to the tenants though it cost the landlord money. He thought the Council do something immediately, that the old sewer be open laid on. This would only open the trench and the cost could not cost so much the job should be done out. Clerk—In that case it should be done by notice of motion.

Mr. O'Dwyer—The sewer is in a bad state. Mr. O'Dwyer—Would the rate be reduced by doing it? Mr. O'Dwyer—How many the sewer serve?

Mr. Clancy—About 12. Mr. O'Dwyer—It is a great sewer which he is afraid is not a sewerage scheme.

B.S.—The Council were keep down the cost. Mr. Clancy said he would see of motion on the matter.

Poundage. Mr. M. O'Meara, Rate Collector, applied for poundage amount of his warrant which was £13 15s. Payment was ordered.

Free Milk Scheme. In connection with the Department to sanction the Waterford, Coolagour, which was by the Council, Mr. Martin gabinet, wrote:—"On receipt of the meeting of the County Milk Contract which appears in the Observer." I conclude that standing exists between us to be straightened out with.

As I was not aware of what was being done by Mr. Walsh, S.S., last Saturday evening to inform my rival had been turned over to the Department of Local Government, Public Health, and requesting my contract for a further time my contract for a further time naturally took it—mine being legal tender before you—then continue on the same terms, viz.—pending sanction of the Council.

hence, my surprise on you wished me to continue, of any inconvenience which of the milk or anybody else, but in the hope of effecting, which to my mind is consideration where the public is concerned, and I ve in the light of experience, reduced according to the regulations of the Milk and Dairies Act, no relation either in fact or in the quality of milk produced and handled in ordinary way and which is Creameries at an average price of about 50d. per gallon.

If you take into account the considerably more free milk winter than the summer months, which my price compares with prices prevailing with similar whole year contracts which are so low. In view of and also considering my long with the Council, I respectfully request my tender forthwith to accept my tender forthwith, as I do not intend to again, so I am not interested in the matter of a contractor.

I expect to come to the event of further tenders provable to the Department of Local Government and Public Health.

Mr. D. Foley—Solid talk. Mr. Crotty—Was it made by Kelly that the other tender down by the Department.

Mr. Walsh, S.S.O.—I can now.
