Waterworks Improvement Scheme

Messrs. Delap and Waller, Consulting

Engineers, reported that the main in Michell Street is completed apart from redressing road surface. The Bypass at Curraun is completed, apart from testing

and filling in; part of the Filtration Plant necessary for building into the foundation

has arrived and work is proceeding thereon.

The main portion of the filtration

Plant has arrived in Waterford and is being held there pending our application for a free import licence from the Department. Owing to the plant being only now in course of delivery, we do not anticipate that it will be erected ready for use before May, but it should certainly be in working order before any period of drought sets in in the summer.

With regard to the reservoir and dam,

the grouting of the last hole is now being carried out in the middle course trench.

Mr. O'Dwyer, who is in charge of the work, has agreed with the Chief Engineers of the Local Government Department as to the procedure to be adopted in connection with the construction in the

lowest portion of the trench, and construction work should be started within

the next week. Owing to the nature of the cutting, it will be necessary to

utilise a concrete diaphragm wall under

the trench below the existing river bed to provide a seating for the puddle above

the level of the bottom of the puddle

trenches on the East and West of the river

bed. When plans are completed and when we have discussed with the contractor, we will notify you if there is any

change in our estimate of the total extra

as submitted. We do not anticipate any serious difference.

The report was not discussed.

Redemption Money

Mr. T. C. Williams, solicitor, wrote informing the Council that the Land Commission placed an annuity of 5/- on each

of the two plots secured from Mr. Wm.

ROCKFIELD HORSE AND

PONY RACES

A Most Successful Fixture

Revived after a lapse of many years,

the Rockfield Horse and Pony Races were held on Thursday, March 31st, at Rockfield, Dungarvan, and were a splendid success from the start to the finish. The races were held on a road, and were attended with all the interest which should be attached to a well-organised and well-run fixture.

March was gloriously fine and summer-

like, with a bright and warm sun shining

all the day which bathed the verdant and

picturesque course with its golden and

warm rays and made it a day of delight

for all.

In spite of the more pretentious counter-attraction at Poverstown Park, Clon-

mel, on the same day, there was a very large attendance on the part of all the

sporting people from practically every

district in West Waterford, those attending from Dungarvan, Clashmore, Aghish,

Villierstown, Cappoquin, Cappagh,

Rockfield, Modeligo, Millinbeg, and other

sporting centres, constituting a record for

this class of races.

The young ladies, as usual, were well

to the fore, and in their bright and

fashionable toilettes added greatly to the

charm and brilliancy of the scene.

The entries proved unusually large, including several animals from various parts of the Co. Cork, as well as from many districts in the Co. Waterford, so that there was good racing for the various events, and the competition in each

finishes in nearly all cases, the interest of the large crowd present was fully sustained to the end.

The races were held over the lands of

Mr. M. Ducey, Rockfield, the grazing of which is at present held by Mr. P. Mulcahy, Shady, and the members of the Committee feel deeply grateful to those

who so kindly gave them the use of the land for the occasion.

The course had been most carefully

laid out by the experienced members of the Committee, and it was almost perfectly level, and the members of the Committee had to go through some hard work from start to finish, and derived far more satisfaction as a result than they would find at many a Point-to-Point Meeting when they could only see the horses

running home for the finish.

The principal officials in charge of the

meeting were—Messrs. E. Dineen, Chair-

man; P. J. Kiely, Treasurer; P. McCarthy, and E. Flanagan, Hon. Sec.; James

McGrath, Ballinacorney, Starter, and

Michael McGrath, Parkmore, Judge, and

they, as well as all the other members of

the Committee, deserve great credit for

the excellent manner in which they carried out all the arrangements and made the event such a great success.

As a matter of fact, the fixture has proved such a big financial success that the Committee has now decided to make it a regular annual event in future, and everybody who admires pluck and sportsmanship in the district will wish the Committee well in their future

undertakings.

The catering for the large crowd was

splendidly carried out by Mrs. M. Ducey,

MR. THOMAS BARRON

Mr. Thomas Barron, whose death in the 32nd year, has taken place at Glenties, Londonderry, was a prominent worker in the national movement, and was the late Mr. James Barron, who professed him by nine months, and Mr. Barron, Graceland

Road, and a brother of Mr. John Barron,

White Plains, New York, who lived in the States some years ago his wife is a daughter of Mr. William Barron, farmer,

Monoway, Strabally. The late Mr.

Barron was also a brother of Miss E.

Barron, Waterford, and of Mrs. Webber,

and Miss S. Barron, both of London, and

was a first cousin of Mr. Joseph Barron, N.T., Dublin (formerly of Kilsheenstown). Peace to his soul.

Chairman—He is aware of it now.
"Observer"—Yes, after reading the Chairman—There is no doubt, Mr.
Kelly treated this Council very fairly.
Mr. O'Dwyer suggested asking Mr.
Kelly to supply at last year's price and continue the contract.

The Chairman said he did not know
if the Department would agree with that.
In reply to Mr. D. Foley, the Clerk said he had a list of all registered suppliers in the Urban Area and Mr. Flynn, Secretary of the Board of Health had a list of the County.

The Chairman decided to present the result of the advertisement issued for tenders.

Mr. Mansfield, drew attention to the Youghal Road, and said it ought to be

A list of ten ratepayers who appealed against valuation, was submitted by the Clerk.

Waterworks Improvement Scheme
Messrs. Dwyer and Walker, Consulting

ment, and the procedure to be adopted in connection with the construction in the
lowest portion of the trench, and construction work should be started within
the next week. Owing to the nature of the springs found in the lowest portion of the cutting, it will be necessary to utilise a concrete diaphragm wall under the new tunnel in the portion of the trench below the existing river bed to
provide a seating for the puddle above
the level of the bottom of the puddle
trenches on the East and West of the river
bed. When plans are completed and approved, we will discuss with the contractor, we will notify you if there is any
change in our estimate of the total extras submitted. We do not anticipate any serious difference.

The report was not discussed.

Redemption Money
Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., wrote informing the Council that the Land Commission placed an annuity of 5/- on each
of the two plots secured from Mr. Wm.
Beresford and Mr. T. Dalton at Deelish.
The redemption money in each case is £4 17s. 10d. He asked for a paying order for £9 15s. 8d.

Payment was ordered.

Obstructing Right-of-Way
Mr. Williams, solr., wrote stating that Mr. Lee had no right to erect a shed on the right-of-way at the rear of his house at Loughmore. This shed, blocks to a certain extent the free use of the right-of-way by other tenants. In his opinion Lee should be compelled to remove at once
the structure which he has erected.

An order to have Mr. Lee remove the structure was made.

Men on Schemes
Mr. Brady, Clerk of Works, Housing Scheme, reported the number of men employed as 110.

The number given as employed on the Sewerage Scheme is 24.

Nuisance at Burgery
Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., wrote complaining of the nuisance existing at Boherawalling, and asking the Council to have same attended to.

Mr. Croft—It is a terrible spot.
Mr. D. Foley—Terrorible and just outside the town.

Mr. Croft—It is a danger—green slimy stagnant stuff along the side of the road.

Mr. Clancy said this was before the Council several times, and it is a question of responsibility. It is on the County side of the road, but the sewer is coming from houses in the Urban area.

After some further discussion, it was referred back to Mr. Williams for his opinion as to liability.

Acknowledgment
A letter acknowledging resolution of the Council passed on the death of her father was read from Miss Mary Regan.

Late Mr. Richard Good
On the proposition of Mr. J. F. Foley seconded by Mr. Clancy, the sympathy of the Council was extended to the relatives of the late respected Mr. R. Good.

TALLOW NEWS.

Anniversary Requiem Mass for Late
Very Rev. Canon Brackenbury, P.P.
At the request of the local St. Vincent de Paul Conference, an Anniversary Requiem Mass was celebrated at the Church of the Immaculate Conception, Talloow,
on Monday morning. The celebrant being Very Rev. Wm. Kehoe, P.P.

The members of the Conference occupied the front benches and there was a very representative attendance. The parish priest, Mr. J. J. Kenney, was present.

Requiem Mass was also offered at St.
Joseph's Convent, Chapel by Rev. James
Corbett, C.C., at the request of the Rev.
Mother and Carmelite Community at Talloon. A very large number of parishioners attended.

Religious Reception in Australia
In the land of the Southern Cross, a very happy event took place recently when two sisters, daughters of Mr. Pitt, and Mrs. Malachy, Ballycullane, Carrigglass, Talloow, were received into the Order of the Sisters of Mercy, St. Anne's, Brisbane, Queensland, by the Bishop of the Diocese officiating on the occasion.

The elder daughter Miss Mary Mal-
achy, B.A., is a graduate of University College, Cork, and took to religion the name of Sister M. Sylvester, and Miss Margaret Malachy, took the name of Sister Joseph Mary. Both young ladies nieces of the Right Rev. Monsignor Malachy, Makay Parish, Diocese of Rockhampton, Queensland, who also was present on the occasion.

Review of Tallow Monthly Contributions
—Sheep and Pig Fair—
For some considerable time past, an energetic Committee, under the Presidency of Very Rev. Fr. Wm. Kehoe, P.P., have been considering ways and means, whereby the cattle and sheep cattle and Sheep fair of Talloow (which has lapsed for some years) could be revived.

Weekly meetings have been held in connection therewith, and all practical suggestions have been thoughtfully and carefully examined, with the result that the success of their efforts is practically assured.

Definite promises of support have been forthcoming from the cattle and sheep-raising community of the surrounding district, together with assurance of abundant financial assistance from the United Cattle Dealers' Association, Cork.

Other well-known buyers have been cristalled, and from the numbers of responses received, the Committee are satisfied that given the loyal support of the farmers and stock raisers of the parish and adjoining districts, Talloow Fair will again take its honoured place, amongst the old established fairs in Munster.

At the request of the Committee the G.S.R. bus service will operate a special bus from Cork in connection with the opening and future fairs, while they are arranged for a fleet of lorries to transport the cattle and sheep to their different destinations. Railway facilities will also be available at Talloow Road station, and the loading arrangements, both at the station and in the town, will be found equal to, if not better than those to be had at other centres.

It has been decided to hold the first fair on Thursday, April 28th, and henceforward on the last Thursday of every month.

Suppliers of stock will please note that summer time will be in operation on the foregoing date and make arrangements
accordingly.

It is earnestly hoped that stock-holders
will find it will avail of the open market now afforded them, rather than dispose of their stocks at their farmsteads,
and that previous buying on the part of dealers will not be resorted to, as such actions are likely to prove, and can be determined to the complete success of the undertaking.

Great credit is due to the Committee for the earnestness with which they have worked towards the desired end and with a combination of such determined effort
on their part success should, and must attend these fairs.

The following are the officials and Committee who were elected at the first meeting of the parishioners—Very Rev.
Wm. Kehoe, P.P., President; Mr. P. J.
Condon, Chairman; Mr. T. J. Kenney,
Hon. Treasurer; Mr. T. Colbert, Secy.

Committee—Messrs. D. J. Kelleher, J.
O'Keefe, N. McGrath, D. O'Brien, Wm.
Hertley, J. O'Brien, B. O'Keefe, R.
Condon, D. Slattery, J. Tuckey, J. Kent,
R. Smyth, R. O'Brien, J. Ryan, T.
O'Connor, P. McCarthy, Dr. J. O'Ma-hony, M.O., T. P. Reynolds, Munster &
Leinster Bank, M. Beecher.

Irish Exiles Luck—£15,000—
Two Tallow Girls Win £15,000—
From American advice, which came to hand over the week-end, it has been learned with much pleasure in Talloow and district that two Irish Exiles and sisters, named Miss Anna and Miss Gertrude Leahy, daughters of the late Mr.
Michael Leahy, Barrack street, Talloow, Co. Waterford, hold between them, the lucky winning ticket No. E.H.73807, which under the Non-Dupe-Plume "You Never Can Tell," 328 West 47th Street,
New York, drew "Royal Dan" in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes on the Grand National. Consequently they are joint winners of second prize value £15,000.

ROCKFIELD HORSE AND PONY RACES

A Most Successful Fixture
Revived after a lapse of many years,
the Rockfield Horse and Pony Races were held on Thursday, April 7th, at Rockfield, Dungarvan. The races were splendid all-round affairs, and were held on the main Dungarvan-Cappagh
road, and were attended with all the elements which should contribute to a most enjoyable and successful fixture.
The weather was of the best, and the March was gloriously fine and summer-

picturesque course with its golden and
warm rays and made it a day of delight

In spite of the more pretentious coun-

large attendance on the part of all the
sporting people from practically every
district in West Waterford, those attending from Dungarvan, Clashmore, Aglish, Rockfield, Modeligo, Cappagh, and other
sporting centres, constituting a record for
this class of races.

The young ladies, as usual, were well
to the fore, and in their bright and
fashionable toilettes added greatly to the
charm and brilliancy of the scene.

The entries proved unusually large, including several animals from various parts of the Co. Cork, as well as from many districts in the Co. Waterford, so that there was good field for the various events, and well classed and exciting
finishes in nearly all cases, the interest of the large crowd present was fully sustained to the end.

The races were held over the lands of Mrs. M. Ducey, Rockfield, the grazing of which is at present held by Mr. P. Mul-

Committee feel deeply grateful to those
who so kindly gave them the use of the

The course had been most carefully
laid out by the experienced members of the Committee, and as it was almost per-

spectators were able to follow the events
from start to finish, and derived far more

The principal officials in charge of the
meeting were—Messrs. E. Dineen, Chair-

and E. Flanagan, Hon. Secs.; James

Michael McGrath, Parkmore, Judge, and
they, as well as all the other members of
the Committee, deserve great credit for
the excellent manner in which they car-

future undertakings.

The catering for the large crowd was
splendidly carried out by Mrs. M. Ducey, Publican, Rockfield, who had a spacious marquee erected for a special bar on the course, and all the drinks for the occasion were supplied by Messrs. Thos.
Power and Co., St. Triggid's, Well Brewery, Dungarvan, which was such a guarantee of only the highest quality refreshments that only very few suffered from "sick heads" the next morning.

MR. THOMAS BARRON

Mr. Thomas Barron, whose death in his 32d year, has taken place at Graacreen Road, Waterford, was a prominent worker in the national movement.
He was a son of the late Mr. James Barron, who predeceased him, by nine months, and of Mrs. Barron, Graacreen Road, Waterford, and a brother of Mr. John Barron, White Plains, New York, who lived in St. Dunstan's years ago his wife is the widow of Mr. Walter Dromah, farmer, Moonstown, Stradbally.

Mr. Barron was also a brother of Miss E.
Barron, Waterford, and of Mrs. Webster
and Miss S. Barron, both of London, and
was a first-cousin of Mr. Joseph Barron, N.T., Dublin (formerly of Kilmesh-thomas). Peace to his soul.

HANDSOME PROFITS FROM PIGS

Why some farmers are not getting their full share.
Many farmers could easily make more out of their pigs. The trouble is that they are contented with getting about the last penny of profit possible. In some cases that may be true, but it is well worth making very sure that it is the case.

With many pig producers a close study of the best management and care a small property
might be able to produce would make all the difference between the profit and the loss. It is not difficult to see that a pig which is well fed and well cared for will produce a much larger return than one which is poorly fed and poorly cared for. It is not possible at least to get a pig which is well fed and well cared for to produce a pig which is poorly fed and poorly cared for.

Now that attention is being focused on the importance of the pig industry in the scheme of the pig raising industry, it is not surprising that it is so possible for it to fill as a source of wealth, both for the country and the individual farmer over and over again, at least to the extent that it is possible to be in the general
of the pig raising industry.

The conditions to be aimed at are such as will enable the farmer to produce a pig which is well fed and well cared for, and which will produce a pig which is well fed and well cared for, and which will produce a pig which is well fed and well cared for.

It is hardly necessary to say in connection
that a little of the profit spent on further improvement and increased production will produce a most excellent investment.

A GREAT DAY FOR MOUNT MELLERAY.

Thursday, April 21st, should be a great day
in the annals of the famous Celtic Community at Mount Mellerey. Although the work of erecting St. Philomena's Shrine, which will form the New Public Church, has been in progress for some time, the ceremony of formally laying the foundation stone has not yet been performed; but on the above date this impressive ceremony will be carried out with all the solemnity and ritual of the Catholic Church by the Most Rev. Dr. King, Lea Hill of Waterford and Laurence, assisted by several of the most distinguished members of the Celtic Community of the Diocese.

The work of starting this beautiful Shrine
which will be an exact replica of the more important shrine at Mount Mellerey, Italy, in addition to the Celtic Community Church at Mount Mellerey, was undoubtedly a costly and respectable undertaking, which was only made possible by the generosity of a well-known Dublin gentleman, through whose munificence and Catholic zeal the project was initiated, but, putting his trust in God, and relying on the generosity of the patrons of the Shrine, the Lord Abbot, and the head of the Celtic Community, bravely faced the heavy task, so that the laying of the foundation stone of the Shrine should be a matter of great interest to all her Irish patriots.

In addition to this important ceremony, the annual "Gle Day" will be held at the Celtic Shrine in due season; this event being held earlier than usual this year, owing to special circumstances, and the head of the Celtic Community will greatly enjoy the interest.

The talented students of this brilliant and famous College will provide a wonderful programme of Drama, Vocal and Instrumental music, Billiard, and other high-class items, which promise to excel any of the previous programmes submitted by them in previous years.

For many reasons, then, this should prove a real "Gle Day" day in Mellerey, and should attract a wonderful attendance of clergy and faithful Catholics from all parts, all of whom may rest assured of receiving a hearty "Gle Mile Paillet" from the Lord Abbot and Community on this memorable occasion.

WATERFORD CO. COUNCIL.

RATES ESTIMATE ADOPTED

Mr. S. J. Moynihan, Commissioner, held a special meeting of the Waterford Co. Council on Tuesday.

Rates Estimate 1938/39

The rates estimate submitted by the Secretary for the year 1938/39 was 137,752 pence in the £ or an increase of 4,207 over the 1937/38 estimate.

After adopting the estimate, Commissioner Moynihan said every effort has been made to keep the rates as low as possible and the position in County Waterford compares favourably with that of other counties.

The principal causes of the increase were the increased costs of the Mental Hospital (£2,437); Public Assistance (£1,088); County Committee of Agriculture and Vocational Education Committee (£1,163).

Many representations had been made to him during the past year in connection with County Roads and as a result he had put up an extra £500 for these roads.

The increase under the Diseases of Animals was fairly considerable, principally due to the war on the Warble Fly and increased facilities under the Sheep Dipping Order.

The normal increase in the rate would be 9d. in the £, but this is reduced by a certain saving in other Departments which made it possible to bring the increase down to 4.2d.

In addition, a very considerable amount of work on Water and Sewerage Schemes was undertaken by the Board of Health.

Without again referring to the poor collection of Land Annuities which resulted in further deductions from the Agricultural Grant.

In most other counties the position in this respect has improved, and these counties are in the happy position of having got "windfalls" by way of credit for the amounts collected.

Unfortunately, this was not the case in County Waterford, so we must only plough ahead. He hoped this year there would be a more vigorous collection and he would appeal to ratepayers to pay their Land Annuities as well as their rates, as failure to do so, only means an increased rate for the County.

In conclusion, he said he would like to congratulate and express his appreciation to the Secretary (Mr. O'Sullivan) and to the Accountant (Mr. Boyle) for the satisfactory manner in which the estimates had been presented. He also wished to express his thanks to the heads of the different departments, and to all the officials and workers, and hoped that the same good spirit of co-operation would be given by all during the year 1938/39.

Clerk in Secretary's Office
The question of appointing a permanent Clerk in the Secretary's office was before the meeting.

Commissioner Moynihan said that the Department had sanctioned a temporary appointment up to the 30th April and he would adjourn consideration of the permanent appointment.

Rate and Rent Checker
The Secretary reported that the newly-appointed Rate and Rent Checker (Mr. Butler) took up duty on Tuesday 4th.

The Commissioner agreed to accept a Fidelity Bond instead of personal sureties, on the application of Mr. Butler.

Demand on Urban Council
The demand of the County Council on the Dungarvan Urban Council for services for the year 1938/39 is £4,875 15s.

The Inquest
On Friday, March 25th., Dr. D. T. McCarthy, Dungarvan, Coroner for West Waterford, held an inquest touching the circumstances of his death, when the first witness was Daniel Whelan, Knockanna, Ballyduff, who stated that on Thursday, March 24th he was at the funeral of Mrs. Hannah Crowley, Gort-na-peaky.

He saw the deceased, Michael Feeney, with his bicycle at the funeral about 1.30 p.m., and he was then in his usual health. He next saw him leaning against a bank at Ballyboreen about 2.30, and he was then apparently injured.

Deceased was a farmer, single, and was aged 48 years, and he now identified the remains as those of Michael Feeney.

Dr. Arthur Cusack, M.O., Ballyduff, said he examined the deceased at about 5.0 p.m. in the Ballyduff Dispensary on Thursday evening, March 24th. He was then complaining of slight abdominal pain, and, on examination, witness found him suffering from a superficial abrasion of the lower abdomen. Witness visited his house at about 9.30 a.m., on Friday morning, March 25th., and found that he was then dead about 10 minutes.

In his opinion, the cause of death was shock, following rupture of the intestines, such injuries being consistent with the deceased having met with an accident.

The Coroner said that in view of possible criminal proceedings arising out of the case, this was all the evidence he would take at this stage, and he, accordingly adjourned the inquest "sine die," without any verdict being returned.

CANADIAN CATTLE.
During the week ended March 10th a consignment of 228 cattle from Canada was landed at Cardiff and 623 cattle were sent to Birkenhead.

FATAL CYCLING ACCIDENT

Young Ballyduff Man's Sad End

(From Our Cappoquin Correspondent)
A young man named Michael Feeney, aged 18 years, who resided at Toorado, near Ballyduff, West Waterford sustained fatal injuries while cycling at a funeral on Friday, March 24th.

It appears that in endeavouring to pass between two pony traps his bicycle got into collision with one of the traps and the handle-bar of the bicycle struck him violently in the stomach, inflicting serious internal injuries from which he died next day, and not within an hour, as has been erroneously stated in some reports.

Deceased was a quiet and popular young man and a sterling sportsman who was extremely popular in the Ballyduff district, and the deepest sympathy is now felt for the members of his family and other relatives over the tragic occurrence.

Details —
Killegah won the toss and playing with the wind and sun in their favour, they immediately assumed the offensive, but Paddy Power, the Inch captain held them up, and Michael Collins, getting possession sent a nice ball to Hennessy, who drew first blood for Inch with a lovely point. Foley sent the puck-out well down the field, and Phil O'Neill sent a hot one across the field in front of the Inch goal, and for a brief space it looked as if the net would be captured, but Ned Walsh saved and Pat Treacy's shot was doubled by O'Callaghan at centre field for Kenney to send a stinging shot at the Killageah goal which just missed the posts.

Soon afterwards Killageah were penalised in Inch territory. As a result of which they were forced to defend a terrific bombardment of their posts by the Inch forwards. A good shot by Crowley brought relief, but it was short-lived, Seamus O'Leary sent to the wings and Michael Collins getting through with a great burst of speed sent the ball high over the bar for a second point for the hostesses.

From a free in a good position P. J. O'Neill raised the white flag for Killageah. The game was now very exciting, and the hurrying up to a good standard. Maurice O'Mahony held up a great Killageah rush, and John Collins hitting, sent a long one down the wing which his brother immediately doubled for a spectacular point. Soon after this Killageah got a goal which seemed to put new life and vigour into them for they swept down the field in a great burst, but an over result. Keeping on the offensive they again attacked most determinedly. Paddy Power was however at the expense of a "70," which P. J. O'Neill centred nicely, and in saving the Inch backs had to concede a further "70" which went wide. The Inch midfield men had the better of the next exchange and Joe Collins got a great goal, to which his brother Michael added a further goal a few minutes later. Killageah were subsequently awarded a "70," but the defence was sound, and Paddy Joyce sent along to the wings, but Killageah were not to be denied, and got a nice point per Cotter. Half-time came with the score:—

Inch ..... 2-3
Killageah ..... 1-2

On resuming, Seamus O'Leary had hard luck in just missing the posts. The O'Neills were playing a great game for the visitors, and the Foleys were upholding the traditions of their family most worthily. Barry and Daly were working very hard, and Crowley and Cotter were giving nothing away. The Inch men were however, playing the game of their lives. Jimmy Power stems a dangerous Killageah rush T. O'Callaghan doubles, Foley saves the Killageah net, but Michael Collins bursts through for a goal, and Inch have now a safe lead. Killageah play on doggedly. Tom O'Neill sends to Daly, but P. Treacy sends back and M. Treacy saves which S. Power handled and scored a grand goal. In the closing stages the Inch captain brought off a spectacular save for which he was applauded.

Final score:—
Inch ..... 4-4
Killageah ..... 1-3

The teams:—
Inch—Patrick Power (Capt.); John

INCH NOTES—

East Cork Divisional Championship Inch v Killageah

There was a good attendance in the Inch grounds on Sunday to see the hurling teams of Inch and Killageah battling for divisional championship honours. The day was most favourable, and the sod was in good condition. The local committee had made excellent arrangements and everything passed off without a hitch. Though the score would seem to indicate rather an easy win for Inch, this was not the case by any means. Killageah for a young team, played with surprising dash and vigour, and though beaten on the score they played on gamely to the end. Inch were much the heavier team and played with great determination and daring. They are a greatly improved side this year and would make a bold bid for divisional honours. Mr. W. Sloane of Carrigtwohill hurling club had been appointed referee, but as he had to fulfil an engagement in Dungarvan, his place was filled by Mr. B. Donnelly of Ballymacoda, who gave general satisfaction.

INFORMATION FOR PIG BREEDERS

Prices for pigs are so fixed by the Board that sure profits can be earned by all who go in for pig breeding and feeding. There's a guaranteed market and guaranteed prices for their protection. To assist breeders £50,000 is being expended for the free distribution of over 10,000 sows of the Irish Large White variety. Remember the decline of stocks in other countries has made demand all the keener.

Direct marketing to bacon factories by producers secures for them the prices fixed by the Pigs Marketing Board. Co-operative marketing through local Associations, by reducing freight charges to the factory, adds to the profit. The Board is actively assisting in the formation of these Organisations. If you are not already a breeder NOW is the time to start.

EQUALS EQUALS a guaranteed Profit

Based on current prices (March 1938) 7 1/2 cwt. of foodstuffs (10/6 per cwt.) will produce 1 cwt. of pig. 16 lbs. of pig (d.w.) for 7/8. With guaranteed prices of 7/11; 7/5; 7/0; and 6/4 per cwt. (d.w.) your feeding cost of 7/6 yields 108/7; 103/1; 96/3 and 88/- according to the grade of your pig.

To obtain the best prices you are advised to produce lean pigs and sell while they are still within the weights for Class 1.

By using your own feeding stuffs profits will be greater still.

DEATH

SMITH—April 5th, at his residence, Bury, Abbeyside, Dungarvan, John Smyth (late Sergeant R.I.C.). Deeply regretted by his sorrowing wife and family.—R.I.P.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

SUMMER TIME—Officially begins on next Sunday morning, when all owners of timepieces must advance their clocks an hour if they are to keep abreast of the times. Granted a continuance of the lovely weather we are having at present, the change will not be so noticeable this year. Classes will be as follows: At St. Mary's Parish Church, 8 o'clock, 10.30 and 11.30 a.m. At St. Augustine's 8 o'clock, 10 a.m. and 11.30 a.m. At Abbeyside Parish Church 8 o'clock and 10.30 a.m.

DUNGARVAN DOGS GOOD WIN.—At the Clonmel Greyhound Racing Track on Thursday night, March 31st, Mr. M. Brennan's "Sligo Beauty" won the Quick Result Sweepstake in the first time of 30.50. Sligo Beauty is by Rich Cutler.

CONDOLENCES.—At a specially convened meeting of the Dungarvan Band Committee held in the Band Rooms, on Tuesday April 5th, a vote of sincere sympathy was passed to Mr. Patrick Cahill, "Benaulin," Abbeyside, and other relatives on the occasion of the death of his wife.

TWO SPLENDID MEADOWS.—Farmers about to lay out land would be well advised to see Mr. P. Dwan's two meadows at Ballinroad Chapel Cross. The seed used was Mr. Martin Suttons special prescription for Dungarvan district. Considering the quality of the seeds and the fact that genuine wild white clover (old pasture seed) was used this prescription works out at the extremely reasonable cost of 30/6 per acre. An inspection of Mr. Dwan's previous meadows at Kilminton, will demonstrate the permanent nature of this mixture. The heavy yield plus the "sweet bite" in after years well repays the use of these seeds. An interesting fact is that some years ago Mr. Dwan had to stop growing turnips owing to finger-and-toe. He tried Suttons "Majestic" swede last year. He reports a bumper crop, and has put swedes back on his rotation. Unfortunately the supply of "Majestic" is very limited. All the above seeds were supplied by Messrs. M. J. Casey & Co. on behalf of their principals Messrs. Suttons and Sons, Seaford, Reading. (Advt.)

BACON MARKETING BOARD.—SOW DISTRIBUTION SCHEME.—About 18,000 applications have been received for sows under the scheme. Receipts by the Board of forms of application is not being acknowledged. The Board is anxious to reduce to a minimum expenses connected with the scheme so that as much money as possible will be available for the purchase of sows. Applicants are, therefore, notified that their applications, which have been received, are being examined by the Board, and that according as sows are available notice will be sent to the selected applicants to take delivery.

IMPORTANT AUCTION AT DROMORE EAST, CAPPAUGH.—We beg to direct attention to the advt. which appears elsewhere announcing that Mr. M. F. Walsh, P.C., Auctioneer, Cappagh, will hold an important auction for Miss M. Ducey, at Dromore East, near Rockfield, Cappagh, on next Thursday, April 14th, at one o'clock.

SAINT PHILomena's SHRINE.—Laying of Foundation Stone.—The famous Cistercian Monastery, Mount Mellary, Cappoquin, Co. Waterford, will witness another step forward on the road towards the goal of transforming a bleak, infertile mountainside into a sanctuary of holiness and happiness. The solemn and impressive Laying of the Foundation Stone of St. Philomena's Shrine, which will form the New Public Church, will take place on Thursday, April 21st, 1933.

Noonan, J. Glanville, J. Moloney, J. J. Fraher.

MR. MICHAEL RYAN, ABBEYSIDE.—Mr. Michael Ryan, Abbeyside, who passed to his eternal reward on Tuesday night last, after a slight illness, was a hard-working and industrious member of the community. The deceased, who was in the prime of life, was in his young days a keen footballer, and up to the last was a staunch supporter of the G.A.A. and attended the Waterford-Cork hurling match in the Gaelic Field, on Sunday last. On Monday at mid-day, when proceeding to dinner from his work at the Quay, he took a sudden illness on the Abbeyside Bridge. He was attended by Dr. Casey, but passed peacefully away on Tuesday night.

His funeral to the Abbeyside Parish Church on Wednesday evening, was very largely attended.

The burial place in the adjoining cemetery on Thursday, Rev. M. Power, C.C., read the burial service.—R.I.P.

LATE MR. JOHN SMYTH, BURGERRY.—Again it is with regret we record the death of Mr. John Smyth, Burgerry, Abbeyside, Dungarvan, which took place on Tuesday morning last after a short illness.

Of a quiet and unassuming nature, the deceased, who was an ex-Sergt. of the R.I.C., was most popular with all sections of the community, and his bereaved wife and sons have the deepest sympathy of the public extended to them in their bereavement.

The remains were removed to the Abbeyside Parish Church on Wednesday evening and were followed by a cortege in keeping with the respect and esteem held for the deceased and the members of his respected family.

The burial took place in the adjoining cemetery on Thursday, Rev. M. Power, C.C., officiated at the graveside.

A large number of Mass cards were laid on the grave.—R.I.P.

SUCCESSFUL AUCTION OF GRAZING.—On Wednesday, 30th ult., Mr. M. F. Walsh, P.C., Auctioneer, Cappoquin, held a successful auction of grazing for the Irish Land Commission on the lands of the late Mr. M. Phelan, Cappoquin, Co. Wick. The grazing was let on the 11 months' system, and the sale attracted a big attendance of farmers from the Cappoquin district, so that competition was very keen throughout.

to the juniors and the hurling selectors have already picked twenty players from whom they will make their final selection. The team will be strengthened by the inclusion of the well-known Jimmy Mountain of inter-county fame, who has lately been transferred to the "Old Sorouse" Club from St. Stephen's. Seamus Moloney, late of Glenherry Club, is back again with his old team, and he should be a wonderful help at midfield. Interesting discussions are heard as to the merits of the rival teams. Each side claims a victory, and will not hear of defeat. The selection of Mr. Joe Mason, Cappoquin Club, as referee for both matches has given all round satisfaction.

ALL-IRELAND BILLIARDS AND SNOOKER HONOURS BOYS' CHAMPIONSHIP.—We notified with much interest that Master Gusty Power, son of our respected townsman, Mr. William Power, Square, Dungarvan, was a contestant during the past week in Dublin in the Snooker and Billiards Championship for boys of 18 years and under. In the Billiards, Gusty was beaten in the final by the more experienced player in the person of Master Joyce of Galway. A well-known local sportsman, who was a spectator, informs us that Gusty undoubtedly suffered from nerves, and, though apparently a better player than his opponent, met with what he himself presented himself during the course of the game. In the Snooker game Gusty fought his way to the semi-final. We congratulate Master Power on his pluck and hope that he will profit from the Billiard tactics of his more experienced opponent. We say "more experienced" advisedly, for it is to be noted that there is a boyish impetuosity amongst our young players to go all out for the execution of spectacular shots with little or no attention to the ultimate position of the balls. Such tactics are bound to fail eventually against the dour player who contents himself with cautious play, but who is ever watchful to take advantage of opportunities that open up the game for a break building effort.

MONSTER WHIST DRIVE.—Under the joint Point-to-Point Committee, representing Talow, Lismore and Cappoquin, and also the West Waterford Hunt, a Monster Whist Drive will be held in the Cinema Hall, Talow, on next Sunday night, April 10th, commencing at 8.30 sharp (old time). The prizes are the most valuable offered at any similar event for a long time, being £3 for the lady with the highest score, and a similar prize for the gentleman who tops the bill in this respect.

In addition to these substantial cash prizes, many other valuable prizes will be awarded for number scores, Low scores, etc., so that this should prove one of the most attractive Whist Drives held in West Waterford for many years.

A most representative Committee is in charge of the event, including Miss Ann Hickman, M.E.H., West Waterford Hunt; Messrs. R. L. Keane, do., Thos. Colbert, Talow Race Committee, John O'Donnell, Talow, Lismore Race Committee, P. W. Cappoquin Race Committee, and M. J. Sargent, do., Hon. Sec. of the Joint Committee, so that under the courteous and careful management of such an experienced Committee, the general arrangements for the comfort of all patrons will be perfect in every detail, and we hope to see between 50 and 60 tables occupied on the occasion. (See advt. elsewhere).

PORTLAW "PICKINGS"

Heard an amusing "true bill" regarding an incident at the Waterford Hunt Point-to-Point Races at Lisnakill on Thursday. A South-Kilkenny farmer and his wife in their newly-purchased second-hand car went along to enjoy the sport, parking the vehicle in an adjacent field. Well, they watched the races, and in due course returned to their car to motor home. That at least was their idea, but half an hour elapsed ere they were able to carry it into practice.

The home illumination of today is a boon, which only those who remembered the almost general use of candles can adequately appreciate. At one period the candle was the beacon of the commercial traveller in every hotel, and the candle gave light at the bedside long after gas found its way into the sitting-rooms.

Lady Elizabeth Dawney, daughter of Earl and Countess Grey, has given birth to a son in Egypt. Her husband's mother is Lady Susan Dawney, of Whitefield Court, Kilmeehan. Lady Elizabeth's marriage took place in 1922.

According to "The Readers Digest" the phrase "Giving him the cold shoulder" dates back to a medieval custom in a French castle. Honouring guests were served hot meat dishes, but when they overstayed their welcome or became otherwise their hosts literally gave them a "cold shoulder" of beef or mutton.

Since the resumption of flat racing last month we met at least a score of wisecracks who wanted us to make our fortune on the turf and retire. They meant well and we acted wisely in turning a deaf ear to their "dead eers." But we did not escape the excitement which spreads like an epidemic during Grand National week.

Most people dream of speculation in connection with racing. Our own dreams in this way have all been myths. But as far back as 1870 a dream came true. The dreamer was Earl Paulet, owner of "The Lamb," who in a letter to his jockey from the Army and Navy Club, London, said he saw him winning the Grand National by four lengths.

The popular Pike Hall—Will be the scene of another sparkling dance on Easter Sunday Night, and the Barones' belles and beaux will be there to the fore in bigger betters than ever before!

A valued reader, in the person of Mr. Bryan C. Boyle, of 27 Cranmore Avenue, Lisburn Road, Belfast, writes:—I thought a little trip another chap and I had on St. Patrick's Day might interest you and your readers. We almost travelled the length of Ireland—a very appropriate thing for St. Patrick's Day.

Our local "live wire" Gaelic Club have their picturesquely positioned playing pitch in pit-pat order for the Carlow-Waterford National League football clash, coming off thereon tomorrow (Sunday) evening. It is confidently expected that an excellent exhibition of the code will be witnessed by a monster attendance.

KILMACTHOMAS NEWS

Obituary

We regret to record the death of Mrs. Mary Phelan, which occurred on Sunday evening last at her home "Cove Cottage," Stradbally, after a short illness in her 84th year. The deceased lady was mother of Mr. Nicholas F. Phelan, ex-T.D., Stradbally (the well and popularly known Mid-Waterford agent of the Irish National Health Insurance Society); Mr. Thomas Phelan, Kilmacthomas, Kilmacthomas, and Mr. Edmund Phelan, Fews, do., to whom as well as to the other immediate relatives, widespread sympathy is extended in their bereavement and loss.

The number of cases against cyclists for dangerous riding on the public roads, which were before the District Court here last week, should prove a warning to all riders of "bikes" that under the new Road Traffic Act Bye-Laws, cyclists are now just as liable to fines for infringement of this Act as motor drivers are.

As advertised elsewhere in this issue a grand all-night dance (under the aegis of the Newtown Cow Testing Association and Ploughing Committee combined) will be brought off on Easter Sunday night (17th inst.) at the Hall, Kilmacthomas.

The Luck Of The Draw—Cappoquin had its usual luck in the Hospital Sweepstake Draw for the Grand National last week, as many of the "contemptible" sum of £700 was drawn here by any of our hopeful and expectant ticket-holders. Since the Hospitals Sweepstake Draw was organised many years ago, Cappoquin has only won one Consolation Prize of £100, but it would be interesting to know how many hundreds of pounds have since been lost here by the purchase of 10/- tickets in every Sweep which has been held since then.

A Hideous Eysore—When passing up to Lismore Hospital to an inquest recently we were surprised to see the dilapidated and hideous appearance of the old Fever Hospital building which stands beside the public road between the Fair Field and the Railway station.

A Reminiscence—The old Boardroom in the Hospital Buildings, where the inquest was held, brought back to us memories of the days when the old Board of Guardians met there every Wednesday, and where many a stormy meeting was held during the hectic days of the political "split," when the adherents of the late John Redmond and the late Wm. O'Brien used occupy the benches on the opposite side of the room, with the ex-officio, or Conservative, members occupying a place all to themselves.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

A Protest by Local Anglers

Following our paragraph about angling last week, we have heard several complaints from Cappoquin anglers about the unjust and excessive tax of 5/- per year which is now imposed by the Lismore Estates Co. on all anglers who wish to fish for trout in the river Blackwater.

UNDEFENDED CIVIL BILLS

A number of undefended civil bills were first disposed of. Messrs. Wm. B. Hodnett, T. K. Keane and J. N. R. Macnamara, solrs., appearing for plaintiffs.

Seward v O'Mahony

This was a civil bill for £10 for assault. Mr. T. K. Keane, solr., for plaintiff, and Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., Dungarvan, for defendant.

Complainant stated that they were in a public house in Killageh, when the defendant started an argument about the Government. He said when they had a good Government—

The Justice—You need not go into details.

Complainant said they then argued about the price of turkeys and he (witness) made a personal remark, when O'Mahony hit him. He struck against a pillar and fell, hurting his shoulder, and his eye was all blood. He had to go to a bonsetter, who said his shoulder was split. He couldn't use it for nearly a month.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ryan—Witness said the blister the bonsetter put on was still there.

Mr. Ryan—It must be a bit high now (laughter).

They were about five minutes discussing the whole economic question of prices, tariffs, etc. He admitted making a personal remark. He had only one drink. He was convicted of striking a woman with a stick some time ago. She deserved it, and he quistened her. She was bound to the peace. He knew the defendant got a bad head wound in the Great War, but better men had their heads blown off (laughter). He did not make a blow at defendant.

You are a convicted ruffian—you took a stick to a woman?—She deserved it.

Defendant was a coward to strike him an old man of 66, he being only 40.

To Mr. Keane—It is not true that you were trying to hit him?

It is perfectly false.

Patk. Murnane, stated that he saw O'Mahony hit Seward one blow in the left eye, and he fell.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ryan—Witness said he had only a hazy idea of what happened.

Mrs. Ellen Seward, stated that her husband complained of his shoulder and his eyebrow was cut. She had to dress him the following morning.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ryan—Was he fight? He had only one bottle of stout.

Do you always believe him when he says that? (laughter).

This closed plaintiff's case.

Defendant stated that he had been in the Great War, in which he had received a serious head wound in the fight at Hill 60. He was having a drink with P. Twohig when Seward came in and interfered in the conversation. One word borrowed another until Seward made an insulting personal remark and made as if towards him. Witness hit him one blow and he fell to the ground. Seward got up and made towards him, but he was taken away. Seward had a cut on the eye.

Cross-examined by Mr. Keane—Witness said he might have two stouts. Seward was merry and shouting. Witness didn't start the argument.

You knew he was in the old I.R.A.?

Mr. Ryan—A very old I.R.A. (laughter).

The Justice—How did it start?

Witness—Out of the price of turkeys and the tariffs.

The Justice said in those cases there was little or no evidence of the actual value of the damage done.

A decree for 30/- with 20/- costs was granted.

Dance Application

Mr. Hodnett applied on behalf of Denis Montagne, for a dance licence on 17th April, for the Knockanore Hall, hours 9 to 3.

Inspector Falvey, said he had been instructed to say that there was no objection.

The application was granted.

False Pretences

A young girl named Nora Sniddy, was brought up on two charges of larceny and forgery, which, on the suggestion of Mr. D. Casey, State Solr., were reduced to one of obtaining money under false pretences.

From Mr. Casey's statement it appeared that defendant had been in receipt of sickness benefit. She was called on to present herself before a doctor, her travelling expenses being allowed, and she claimed 12/- producing a receipt, the fact being that she came by her father's donkey cart.

Defendant admitted the charge. She was bound over in £10, the 12/- to be repaid.

The Justice said that was a serious offence. In popular language it was not "cricket." He wouldn't deal leniently with any future cases of the kind.

Rent Defaulters

Mr. J. Condon, Collector, had a large number of cottage tenants summoned for arrears of rent ranging up to £5, the weekly rent being from 11d. to 1/2.

There was no appearance of defendants in the majority of the cases and the usual orders were made.

In one case the tenant's wife said her husband was in bad health, and she had seven young children, who would often be hungry at school only for the kindness of the teachers. She expected a little money from a relative soon and would make a payment.

An order was made with a stay of six weeks.

YOUGHAL AND DISTRICT Killnatoora And Cornaveigh Castles

By P. J. O'Brien

Little appears to be known of the Castle of Killnatoora or of its neighbour, Cornaveigh. Lewis, merely mentions Killnatoora in the parish of Ardagh as "a massive square tower in excellent preservation."

"Guy's Guide to the Blackwater" states that Killnatoora was besieged by Lord Castellan in 1645, but he, himself, makes no reference to it in his published "Memoirs." The same work further mentions that Killnatoora and Cornaveigh were Geraldine strongholds, which subsequently belonged to Sir Walter Raleigh, from whom they passed to the first Earl of Cork.

Killnatoora is mentioned in the long list of lands which Raleigh disposed of to the Earl of Cork on the 7th of December 1602. As the Toong river was navigable to a considerable distance these Castles seem to have been erected to command that river and assist the English settlers in their operations. The communication could be kept up with the garrison by the Youghal watergate.

The Castle of Killnatoora was of amazing strength and in good state of preservation until a few years ago when the eastern wall collapsed. A magnificent stone wall is still standing and the floors are formed of massive stones fixed on arches. The lands surrounding Killnatoora originally formed part of Sir Walter Raleigh's first estates as granted to him on the 3rd February, 1585. From Raleigh these lands passed to the Earl of Cork, and from him again to his lineal descendant Lord Viscount Fombey, who among his other titles possessed that of Seneschal of Inchiquin and Imokilly, by virtue of the Earl of Desmond's attainder.

On the approach of Cromwell in 1649, the people of the district of Killnatoora as well as of Youghal, through the influence of Lord Broghill, embraced the cause of the Parliament and the Protector made Killnatoora Castle his headquarters until the middle of 1650. After the siege of Clonmel, he returned and embarked from Youghal on the 29th May, 1650 for England.

COAST TO COMERAGH CHIPS

Grand weather for racing. Bright sunshine, and a hint of Spring in the air—and bony belles of the Baronies. Lisniskill is a lowly course. Gay dresses and optimistic hats contribute to the illusion that winter is already a thing of the past. Three glistering bay circles the paddock with dignified grace. Number six looks very fit, perhaps he will carry Amestown Anne's "bob" in the first race. Everyone seems to be cheerful and confident—before long confidence will be replaced by doubt and disappointment on many faces.

Now the jockeys appear, looking wonderfully cool and self-assured under the public's critical eye. "My dear, he does look Yeung." A woman remarks doubtfully to her escort. "Oh, he'll be all right." "But can he manage that great brute of a horse?"

With a jerk the boy straddles his Queen's boat and finds the stirrups. Yes, he does look young, but how determined and sure of himself in the saddle. On the left a voice proclaims stridently: "I lay three to one the field bar one."

In front of the grandstand (of Nature's own formation) a score of bookmakers are doing busy business. Today (Thursday) most of them seem to have caught the holiday spirit. Their beneficent smiles would do credit to a board of philanthropists. Perhaps they anticipate a profitable afternoon, as well as their innocent clients. Gamblers dart through the crowd with frantic haste. The "bookies" receive their whispered information laconically, gas figures is wiped off the board, another chalked in.

"Even money the favourite; three to one the field." Someone decides to invest a pound.

"Right you are, sir. One pound to twenty shillings Tracy's mount. Ticket number 49."

The clerk writes busily in his ledger, a card changes hands, and the "punter" edges away, peering anxiously into his depleted note case.

Prices are beginning to "settle down" before the start. There is a sudden rush towards one "bookie" who is offering slightly longer odds on the second favourite. He accepts a pound or two, then flicks his thumb and obliterates the all-important figure. Those who have failed to place their money drift sadly away.

"Oh, it's not worth the risk at those odds," a voice complains. "I'll just have a 'dollar' on the outsider."

The field is parading past the grandstand. Number seven is "feeling his oats," and treating the crowd to an exhibition of somewhat high spirits. The jockey nods to a friend in the enclosure and pats his dancing mount on the shoulder. They wheel round and canter slowly away towards the "start." The grandstand is beginning to fill up. Binoculars are produced, and everyone begins to mutter. Number seven's still giving trouble—Ah, now he's right—they're off! Swiftly the throbs of galloping hooves grow louder. The field begins to string out as the jockeys struggle for a "berth" on the rails.

"Lying third and going nicely!" a voice shrieks in the Metal Man's ear as they swing round the bend and out of sight.

The favourite is running very strongly.

"Ah, but that ten-to-one shot is setting hot paces."

"Sure you can't never tell."

Perfect strangers question other's opinions, and argue the merits of rival jockeys with good-humoured camaraderie. Everyone is endowed with a common hope and a common sympathy.

Even the "bookies" relax for a moment and share the popular excitement.

For a while the horses are invisible behind a hill across which crowds of people are running in a frantic endeavour to see as much of the race as possible. Beside Maud Moray a large man in riding breeches produces his snuff-box and offers it to a friend.

A murmur runs through the crowd; the leading horse has been sighted!

"Here they come!"

"What's that in front?"

Binoculars are hastily focussed. Two horses are struggling for the lead, as the field swings down into the last furlong.

The favourite is coming up."

"No, No, the outsider is winning."

"I lay six to four on the favourite," shouts a daring "bookie." His voice is drowned in a mighty wave of cheering as the jockeys lift their mounts over the last jump and enter the finishing straight.

"The favourite!"

"The outsider wins. No, the favourite is coming on again."

"Hurray! The favourite wins by a short head!"

A gasp of relief and disappointment goes up from the crowd. Many faces are suffused with smiles, but a shower of valueless betting tickets descends like snow from fence-tops and stationary automobiles. The novice snuff-taker has just recovered from a terrific paroxysm of coughing and spluttering. Judging by his gratified expression he must have sneezed home a good winner.

Of honest Comeragh Valley parents came the nice-looking, lively mannered young lady who has set New York by the ears with a necklace made of tiny glass globes filled with water. In the water there are swimming even tinier but quite alive fish. (The "New York Herald Tribune" will vouch for the accuracy of this information).

PRIEST HUNTING IN DUNGARVAN IN PENAL TIMES

S. O. F. write:—Below is given some extracts from "Priests of Ireland in Penal Times," by Very Rev. Canon Burke, P.U. Lismore, very interesting light on the truculent bigotry of the Ascendancy Party and the priest-hunters in Dungarvan district in the 18th century.

Dungarvan Catholic people should rejoice that the reign of the enemies of their race and creed has come to an end and that the descendants of the once proud and powerful Ascendancy of West Waterford count for as little today in the eyes of Papists the more Irish as the latter counted for in the days of the power of Ascendancy.

Here is a letter written in June, 1737 re the capture of a priest in a vessel in Dungarvan harbour—a very important catch judging by the tone of the letter: "Youghal 26th June, 1737—Honoured Sir,—I had an account by express from the Surveyor at Dungarvan last Wednesday that the evening before he sent out the Queen's boat with an officer on board, a ship that just then had come to anchor in the Pool. The officers rummaged a fishing boat that had been aboard her. They found therein a stranger with a trunk and cloak bag, who told them that his name was Cornelius Reynolds of Jamestown, Co. Louth, which place he left in the year 1681, and that in a few months after he was ordained a priest in Spain and had been absent from Ireland ever since, but now growing old he resolved to spend the remainder of his days with two poor sisters who were in great need of some few pence he had on board. By the same express I directed the Surveyor to seize the boat, and to stay the ship until your highness pleasure could be known, because the owner and master had incurred great penalties. I also advised him to commit the priest to the charge of the High Constable, with directions to carry him before General Stuart, who yesterday morning by letter desired me to go to Dromana, where I took examination—sufficient with the priest's own confession to warrant his commitment, and I sent them to Waterford goal. The General has promised to give the Government a more particular account of this proceeding by this night's post to which I refer your Honour, being unwilling to give up copies of so long examinations. I beg your Honour's directions about several books, papers, vestments, piece of new silk and calico found in the priest's trunk. I believe the judges of Assize will require me to deliver them on their order. The books and papers I cannot send an account of by this post, but I shall by the next post, because the Surveyor has not yet sent me an account thereof. Last Wednesday night pursuant to the directions I sent the Surveyor, he went to the Pool with intent to place more officers on board, but he was resisted by the master and crew, all in arms, to the number of 25 men, besides boys. When Captain Hubbard, who was in the Queen's boat and is the Commissioner of the Peace for Co. Waterford, intervened, they fired two shots into the Queen's boat, but nobody was hurt. They soon after weighed anchor and went off to the Eastward. I examined the priest yesterday on oath as to who was the owner and who the master of the vessel, whether bound and what lading aboard, but he said he knew no more, but that she was laden with wine and salt. On the voyage he heard them say they were bound for the West of Ireland. The master of the fishing boat swears that he knew one Richard Butler, who told him he was master of that vessel. When I go to Dungarvan on Wednesday I shall have a more particular account from Mr. Pierce Shercock, who I am informed was some hours on board.

Honoured Sir,

Your obedient servant,

B. Badham.

To the Commissioner of Revenue.

Note the tone of jubilation of B. Badham at the capture and the importance attached to it by General Stuart. It may be taken as certain that at the ensuing Assizes at Waterford Father Reynolds met the fate of all priests captured in the early part of the 18th century—the gallows or transportation for life to the Penal Settlement in Australia.

THE RHINCREW DUEL

Fought Near Youghal A.D. 1826.

By P. J. O'Brien

This fatal duel was fought, between Captain Daunt of Killcashin Castle, Dunmanway, and M'Connor of Manohalbaneen.

In the year 1826, Captain Daunt, had a dispute of a rival nature in the beginning with a cousin of his. Evil tongues had it that a Rectar of a neighbouring parish, who fanned the flame, until, finally, a challenge to fight passed between the cousins. The duel came off at a place called Rhincrew just within the boundaries of the County Waterford and close to the stone bridge near Youghal.

The Rectar was a Captain M'Connor, a Benish of Bantry, whose fixed idea seemed to be that one or other of the combatants must of necessity lose his life. So that after one or two shots had passed harmlessly, and Captain Daunt's second ventured to observe that "generally in France the victor of his cousin General Arthur Connor. After the lapse of a few moments, Captain Daunt's son instituted proceedings involving a legal prosecution, which excited intense interest in Munster the trial took place in Waterford city.

The jury was packed with deists, who gave a verdict in favour of M'Connor, M'Connor regretted the deed very deeply. It was the last duel fought in the south of Ireland.

The scene of the duel was close to the ruin of the old Rhincrew Abbey, which was erected in the 14th century by the Knights Templars.

THE DAUNTS

The Daunt family is a very old one, its connection with England going back to the Norman Conquest. In the civil war of 1647, the Daunt's lost property to the value of £7,000. Achilles, a later head of the family, who was conditionally attained by James II's Parliament of 1689, fled to England. It is from him that "Daunt's Rock" got its name. Sheriff of the County Cork, Achilles Daunt was seized and carried off to this rock, by a noted Irish chieftain named Philip Oge Barry, and the rock has retained the name ever since.

The Captain Daunt, who was killed in this unfortunate and fatal affair was the father of William O'Neill Daunt, who was Private Secretary to Daniel O'Connell in pre-Emancipation days, and was the first member of the Daunt family who became a Roman Catholic. He died about 40 years ago, and his remains were interred in the Roman Catholic Churchyard, Dunmanway.
