CAPPOQUIN STUDENTS ORDAINED IN WATERFORD

Amongst the ten students raised to the priesthood by the Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, in the Cathedral, Waterford on the Feast of Corpus Christi, was Rev. Michael Ahearne, second son of Mr. William Ahearne, and Mrs. Ahearne, Upper Main Street, Cappoquin.

This young priest received his early education in the Christian Brothers College, Lismore, after which he spent three years in the famous College at Mount Mellary, from which he went to St. John's College, Waterford, where he completed a brilliant course of four years' study in Theology and Philosophy. A quiet and unassuming young gentleman, he is extremely popular with all classes, and in addition to his parents, brother and sister, there was a large number of relatives and immediate friends present at the Solemn ceremony in Waterford.

The newly-ordained priest celebrated his first Mass in the pretty Chapel of the Convent of Mercy, Cappoquin, on the following morning before the entire community of Nuns, and his parents and other relatives, being assisted by Rev. T. Dunphy, C.C., Cappoquin.

Father Ahearne, has been ordained for the Diocese of Baker City, U.S.A., where he will minister under an Irish Bishop, the Most Rev. Dr. McGrath, brother of the Rev. Dr. McGrath, Minerva, Wales, and when he takes his departure for his first mission in August, he will carry with him the prayers and best wishes of all in Cappoquin for the best of success and happiness in his spiritual labours in the "Vineyard of the Lord."

On the same occasion, Rev. Andrew McGrath, son of Mr. Andrew McGrath and Mrs. McGrath, O'Connell's, Cappoquin, was also ordained to the priesthood, in the presence of his respected parents, brothers and sister, and numerous relatives and friends.

This brilliant young priest is nephew of the Rev. Michael McGrath, S.J., Milltown Park, Dublin, an eloquent and well-known Missionary Preacher, and brother of Rev. M. McGrath, a distinguished member of the Teaching Staff of the Jesuit Order, in Crescent College, Limerick. Having spent some years in Mundrig College, Limerick, this clever young student had a distinguished course in Theology and Philosophy in St. John's College, Waterford. He has been ordained for the Diocese of Los Angeles, U.S.A., whose Bishop is the Most Rev. Dr. Cantwell, a brilliant and saintly son of South Tipperary, and he will have the great pleasure of being accompanied to his distant Mission by the Rev. William Lundy, a native of Sligo, who was ordained with him in Waterford, and who is a close personal friend of his, and who heartily joins with their numerous friends in congratulating both young priests on their ordination, and wishing them length of days and the best of happiness and prosperity in the course of their spiritual labours in the U.S.A.

Although not actually belonging to Cappoquin, two further students from the same locality were also ordained the same day, these being Rev. Richard O'Donovan and Rev. Nicholas Walsh.

Father O'Donovan is son of Mr. Michael O'Donovan and the late Mrs. O'Donovan, Carriguan, Modeligo, Cappoquin, and has already two brothers in the priesthood, the Rev. John O'Donovan, being in Sydney, and the Rev. Michael O'Donovan in Leeds, so that he belongs to a family which holds a distinguished place in the religious life of West Waterford. He has been ordained for the distant Diocese of Wagga-Wagga, Australia.

Rev. Nicholas Walsh, is son of Mr. Edmond Walsh, Farnane, Millstreet, Modeligo, and has an uncle and brother already in the Priesthood. His uncle, Rev. Patrick Walsh, has been for many years in New Orleans, U.S.A., while his brother, the Rev. James Walsh, is in Glasgow, and it may be interesting to mention that the Masters of Ceremonies at the Ordinations were Rev. Percy Ahearne, D.D., a native of Tinter, Cappoquin, and Rev. M. J. Lane, S.T.L., a native of Modeligo, so that Cappoquin and the surrounding districts are brilliantly represented in the Irish Priesthood today.

Kilrossney Calling
 An advertisement column a monster omnibus Whist Drive (with other amusements for non-players) will be held on the Panchal Lawn, Kilrossney, on tomorrow (Sunday) evening, commencing at 7.30 (old time). The proceeds will be devoted to a praiseworthy parochial purpose. The local and surrounding districts should be largely represented, and all patrons are assured of an enjoyable evening's entertainment. Tickets can be obtained on the grounds. Be there with your friends. All are welcome.

At the last meeting of the Board of Health, Dr. Casey, Ring, reported six cases of nuisances caused by manure heaps close to dwelling houses. It was decided to issue notices to have the nuisances abated.

CORPUS CHRISTI

GREAT PROCESSION IN DUNGARVAN

THE Annual Corpus Christi Procession in Dungarvan on Sunday last was of very imposing dimensions, and was in keeping with the fine Catholic spirit for which the town has ever been noted.

It was a public manifestation of the love enshrined in the hearts of our people for the Blessed Eucharist, and a striking tribute to the zeal of our esteemed Pastor Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., and his worthy Curates.

All through Saturday flowers and greens of every description were being conveyed into the town from the surrounding districts, and in the afternoon the work of decorating the houses and streets along the route of the procession was begun and continued well into the night so that on Sunday morning, the old town presented a gay and festive appearance. Streamers crossed the streets at various points and bunting and flags were displayed on all sides. Artistically decorated windows in all the houses displayed religious emblems, while sacred scrolls spanned the streets at various points along the route. At several side streets altars were erected.

The day was gloriously fine and warm, a gentle breeze tempering the heat of the sun's rays, so that the old town looked like fairyland with the plants and evergreens on the side walks and the flags fluttering overhead.

The Procession was most imposing and inspiring. The numbers who participated being very large, and the precision and orderliness of the processionists were perfect. The Rosary was recited and hymns sung on the way, while the Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band, under the conductorship of Mr. M. J. McHugh, directed a choice selection of sacred music. A word of special praise is due to the Marshals for the perfect and smooth way in which the procession was carried out.

Rev. T. B. Walsh, C.C., as Director, did the work with that thoroughness which he brings to bear on all matters with which he is associated.

The Blessed Sacrament, escorted by a Guard of Honour of Civic Guards, under Superintendent Walsh, was borne by Very Rev. Canon O'Brien, P.P., V.F., and the following clergy were in attendance:—Very Rev. N. Dunphy, P.P., Abbeyside; Very Rev. P. F. McGrath, P.P., Old Parish; Rev. Wm. Flynn, C.C., Dungarvan; Rev. P. O'Farrell, C.C., do.; Rev. M. Power, C.C., Abbeyside; Rev. J. J. Power, C.C., Kilgobinet; Rev. P. Lannon, C.C., Rev. Fr. Lawn, C.C., Rev. Fr. Coffey, O.S.A., Rev. Fr. Madden, O.S.A., Rev. Fr. Dalton, O.S.A., Rev. Fr. Baldwin, C.C., Ring.

Punctually at 3 p.m. the Procession started from the Parish Church, the route being the same as heretofore, viz.: Mitchell street, Fair Lane, O'Connell St., to the Square, where Benediction was given at a beautiful altar erected at the Market House. The sight as the Sacred Host was raised over the kneeling thousands, while three bugles sounded the fanfare, being awe-inspiring. Thence via Main street, Church Street and Emmet Street, to the Parish Church gate, where at a specially erected altar Benediction was again given, after which the Blessed Sacrament was borne back to the Church.

Order of Procession
 The Order of the Procession was as follows:—Crosbearer, Rev. I. J. Power, C.C.; Children of the Presentation and Mercy Convents and Abbeyside schools, beautifully attired in white, all wearing veils and under the charge of their lay teachers; Boys of the Christian Brothers Schools; Mercy House Girls; Children of Mary, Dungarvan and Abbeyside, in their cloaks and veils; Women's Sacred Heart Confraternity; Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band; Choir; Men's Sacred Heart Confraternities Dungarvan and Abbeyside; Members of the Urban District Council; Crosbearer, altar boys; Clergy and Canopy.

The procession in honour of Corpus Christi this year was one of which any Ballyharinan, where the four defendants had sheep grazing.

Mr. M. M. Hally, solr., to the County Council, prosecuted.

Mr. Hatley said these were the first cases of the kind in the area over a long period and the County Council were not asking for very heavy penalties. They were more or less bringing this case as a warning to others, and if any further outbreak occurs, and is not reported, he would ask for very heavy penalties.

Mr. Farrell said his client farms over 300 acres. He took this grazing from Fr. Egan. There was a man in charge of the sheep and he got a letter which he was to give to Mr. Curran about the scab, but he kept the letter in his pocket.

Mr. Hally said that Mr. Farrell had agreed to pay £1 1s. 6d. costs, and the other defendants 10/6 each.

The Justice dismissed the cases under the P.O. Act with the costs above mentioned.

DUNGARVAN DISTRICT COURT.

Held on Wednesday before Mr. S. J. Troy, D.J.

Possession of House
 Ellen Terry, sought possession of a house at Bannacourty, let as a weekly tenancy at 1/- per week to M. Murray.

Mr. Ryan, solr., for plaintiff, said that no rent was paid during the past 2 years.

Echo of Branch of Peppine Case
 This was an application by Mrs. Johanna Fraher, Coum, Kibrien, for an instalment order against Mce. Thomas Fraher, Kibrien, to recover the amount of damages granted by Judge Sealy at the Dungarvan Circuit Court.

Mr. Farrell, solr., for applicant.

Mr. Ryan, solr., for defendant.

The case was adjourned from the previous Court owing to the absence of the applicant through a misunderstanding. At Wednesday's hearing the defendant was not present.

School Attendance
 Guard Regan, School Attendance Officer, had two young boys named Simon and Patk. O'Connor, Davis street, committed to an Industrial School. He also had the following prosecuted for the non-attendance at School of their children: Philip Dunne, case adjourned; John Daly, fined 2/6. Cases against Wm. Jones, Catherine Beatty, Daniel Wade, and Hannah O'Connor, were withdrawn.

Serious Charge
 Superintendent Walsh charged a young man named Patrick Tobin, Mitchell St., under Section 2 of the Criminal Law (Amendment) Act 1932, on two charges of indecent assault on two young children.

After hearing evidence, which was given in camera, accused was sentenced to 6 months hard labour on each charge, the sentences to run concurrently.

PROPORTIONAL REPRESENTATION
 (To The Editor "Dungarvan Observer")

It is generally agreed that minorities get a "fair crack of the whip" under proportional representation but an analysis of the Election results disclose certain anomalies under the system of weighted provision is made. Take, for example, the figures for Waterford constituency in the present General Election where the quota was 8,292: Fianna Fail polled 22,542 Fine Gael Preferences, or 5,859 votes over two quotas; Fine Gael polled 16,542 First Preferences, that is 10 votes over two quotas—each Party securing two seats under the system of reckoning. The extraordinary position thus arises that practically 6,000 Fianna Fail votes were not effective. In other words, the result is tantamount to disfranchising 6,000 voters, who, for all intents and purposes, might as well have refrained from voting. A similar anomaly is disclosed by the published results in the following constituencies—Limerick, 7,888 Fine Gael votes had no bearing on the final result; Leix-O'Flaherty 6,082 Fine Gael votes, Doneraig 5,199 Fianna Fail votes, and Tipperary 5,009 Labour votes. I have taken a few typical instances which may be considered of many others. The position cannot be remedied under the present system and I submit that the anomaly calls for considered examination. To get over the difficulty I suggest that all recorded votes, which have no practical bearing on the final result, be examined on lines similar to that shown above with a view to some form of representation. We have vocational groups under the Seanad elections, and I doubt if they all could put up some of the defeated candidates in General Elections.

T. B. BOYLE,
 Dungarvan,
 21st June, 1938.

At the last meeting of the Board of Health, Dr. O'Farrell, C.O.M.H., the whole recommending that Sanitary Sub-Officers be appointed to enforce the provisions of part 6 of the Shops (Condition of Employment) Act 1933.

The recommendation was approved.

Occasional Licence
 Mr. Williams, solr., was on behalf of Mrs. M. C. Power, granted an occasional licence for the night of the 27th July, the occasion of the Horse Show, Dunose, on behalf of the Dungarvan Brass and Reed Band.

Beer Dealers Licences
 Messrs. R. A. Merry and Co., Thomas Power and Co., and Mrs. Margaret Whelan, were granted Beer Dealers Licences on the application of Mr. Williams, solr.

Mr. M. J. Keane, Friary Street, was on the application of Mr. Ryan, solr., granted a similar licence.

Sureties Estreated
 In the case of Garrett Quinn, Ballyreilly, Ring, v. John Finger, Ring.

Mr. Farrell, solr., for Quinn, made application to have the recognisances estreated.

He said his client, Mr. Quinn, did not want to have the two sureties estreated and he (Mr. Farrell) suggested to the Justice to estreat only the defendant.

The Justice said the sureties were defendant £20 and two of £10. People must realise the seriousness of going surety. In this case he would estreat Finger—£5, and the other two sureties £2 each.

Cowman v. Cowman
 This was a summons for assault brought by Michael Cowman, Newine, against Thomas Cowman.

The Justice, after hearing the evidence, dismissed the case.

Sheep Scab Cases
 Four men named O'Brien, Curran, Power and O'Brien, were prosecuted by the County Council, under the Diseases of Animals Act, for failing to notify Ballyharinan, where the four defendants had sheep grazing.

Mr. M. M. Hally, solr., to the County Council, prosecuted.

At the last meeting of the Board of Health, Dr. O'Farrell, C.O.M.H., the whole recommending that Sanitary Sub-Officers be appointed to enforce the provisions of part 6 of the Shops (Condition of Employment) Act 1933.

The recommendation was approved.

DEATH OF MISS HANNAH HALLINAN, SCART

The announcement of the death of Miss Hannah Hallinan, which occurred rather unexpectedly at the residence of her parents, Scart, Kibrien, on Friday evening last, 17th inst., occasioned feelings of profound sorrow and widespread regret amongst a very wide circle of friends throughout the County Waterford.

The deceased young lady, who had only reached her 30th year, was during the past 12 years the popular and obliging senior assistant at Mrs. O'Flynn's Stationery and Fancy Goods shop, where she proved herself a business lady second to none.

A member of an old and respected family, deceased daughter of Mr. Michael and Mrs. Margaret Hallinan, and sister of Rev. W. F. Hallinan, C.C., Dundee; Mr. Thomas Hallinan, Kilgobinet and Messrs. John and James Hallinan, Scart. She was sister of Mrs. Thomas Kelly, Ballyconneely, Kilgobinet.

A tremendous concourse of friends and sympathisers attended the removal of the remains to the Parish Church, Kibrien, on Saturday evening, where they lay overnight.

The interment took place on Sunday in the adjoining cemetery, after the celebration of Mass, the attendance again being exceedingly large and representative, the burial service was recited by Rev. J. J. Power, C.C., Kilgobinet, assisted by Very Rev. J. Cullinane, P.P., Touraneena and Rev. J. P. Walsh, C.C.

The immediate chief mourners were: Mr. Hallinan (father); Mrs. Margaret Hallinan (mother); Mrs. T. Kiely, Ballyconneely (sister); Rev. W. F. Hallinan, C.C., Dundee; Thomas Hallinan, Kilgobinet, John and James Hallinan, Scart (brothers); Mr. E. Hallinan (sister-in-law); Mrs. T. Kiely (brother-in-law); Mrs. E. Hallinan and family, Melleray; Mr. and Mrs. D. Flynn and family, Killooney; Wm. John and Josie Hallinan, Ring; Mr. P. White and family, Ballyknock; Martin and Mrs. Kelly, K. J. and Mrs. Dr. W. Dunford, Ballyconneely (cousin); Mr. W. Dunford, Ballyconneely (cousin); a large number of Mass Cards and wreaths were laid on the grave including the following:—

From Father, Mother and family, "From Aunt Kate and family, Killooney," "From Uncle Eddie and family," "From Tom and Katie," "From Tom and Kit," "From Children of Mary Presentation Convent, Dungarvan," "From Mr. and Mrs. Mce. Flynn and family," "From May Flynn," "From Bridie Harrington," "From May Mahoney," "From the White family," "From Mrs. and Kitty McGrath, Square, Dungarvan," "From Mrs. Terry, Abbeyside," "From K. Murphy and A. O'Donnell, Dundee," "From Vera McDonald, Dundee," "From Mrs. McDonald and Nan, Dundee," "From The Girls' Club, Dundee," "From Mrs. Auchterlewis and family, Dundee," "From The Girls' Club, Dundee."

Wreaths were sent by the following:—Mce and Alice O'Flynn; Mary Cullinane; Kathleen Quately, etc.

The relatives of the late Liam Dalton (Battalion Secretary). Deep expression of regret and glowing tributes marked the passing of a loyal comrade.

It was the unanimous wish of the meeting that suitable Memorials be erected to mark the spot where the late Comdt. Morrissey and Adj. Dalton, rest. Memorials in each case to take the form of a limestone Celtic Cross. An early completion of this deserving work is desirable and in order to expedite matters it is essentially necessary for those wishing to be associated in the erection of the Memorials to forward their subscriptions to any of the above members.

Their many friends throughout Counties Waterford and Tipperary and across the water will find in this good work a glorious opportunity of showing their appreciation of men who sacrificed their lives in the cause of Irish Freedom.

TALLOW DISTRICT COURT.

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.

EXEMPTION ORDER
 Mr. T. Hutch, solr., Middleton, applied on behalf of Mr. M. J. O'Connor, for an Exemption Order for Fair Days.

Supt. Quinlan said there was no objection.

The application was granted.

Waters v. Sims
 This was an application for an Examination Order by Messrs. J. Waters and Sons, against Wm. Sims.

Mr. J. Hutch (for Mr. J. N. R. Macnamara, solr.) for plaintiff.

The application was granted.

A similar application by Henry Rice, against Joseph and Mary Cronin, was struck out.

Unlighted Vehicles
 Guard Kough, charged a number of persons with using unlighted bicycles, and the usual fines were imposed.

Excess Passengers

John Cashman, driver, was charged with the same offence, and with failing to carry his number according to the Regulations.

Mr. Wm. J. Barry, solr., Middleton, defended.

Complainant stated that he found 5 passengers in the car, which was licensed for only four.

Case examined by Mr. Barry—Do you produce the licence in respect of this motor car?—No.

How then did you know the number he was entitled to carry?—I asked the driver.

Mr. Williams wasn't there?—No, it was the driver.

That is no evidence against the employer—are you in a position to prove the number?—It is a Ford V8, which carries only 4, he admitted he had a licence to carry 4.

As a matter of fact, the passengers were all little boys, the youngest was 15, and travelling from Middleton College to Lismore to play a cricket match?—Yes.

As regards the driver's badge, he had it?—Yes, in his pocket.

Mr. Barry submitted there was no proper evidence against his client. There was a regular method of proving the number allowed. As regards the badge, the man had it, but forgot to put it on.

The Justice said in view of the fact that the passengers were only boys who would not take up a lot of room, and that there was only one over the number, he would mark both cases cautional.

Dance License
 Patk. Feeney, Ballyduff, applied for a dance license for the Hall at Ballyduff, in aid of the local Social Club, hours 9.30 p.m. to 3.30 a.m.

Superintendent Quinlan said there was no objection.

The application was granted.

WATERFORD CO. BOARD OF PUBLIC HEALTH.

At the last meeting of the Board of Health a letter was read from Mr. J. Bowen, B.E., County Engineer, re Sewer at Mill Street, Cappoquin, reporting there are 11 houses concerned and there are some six or seven owners for them. He thinks that a connection should be given to this Terrace of houses to enable each one to connect to sewer.

Slaughter of Animals. The Department wrote enclosing copy of an order made by the Minister under section 3 of the Slaughter of Animals Act, 1935, conferring on the Commissioner power to regulate the Slaughter of Animals in the County Health District.

Tallow Sewerage. Six ratepayers living at the eastern end of Chapel Street, Tallow, wrote stating they have learned that the sewerage scheme is not to extend beyond the Boys' School.

Tramway Sanitary Conveniences. A letter was read from the Department sanctioning the raising of a loan of £430 to defray expenses in connection with the provision of Public Sanitary Conveniences at Tramway to be obtained from Board's Treasurer and be repayable over a period of 10 years with interest at the usual rate.

Public Health Clinic. The Department wrote with reference to the proposed erection of a Public Health Clinic at Dungarvan, pointing out that as far as the question of a grant from the Hospitals Trust Fund towards the cost of the proposal is concerned, no decision can be made until a report from the Hospitals Commission in regard to the matter shall have been received and stating that in the meantime no commitment should be entered into which might be considered to be a charge against the above mentioned Fund.

Maternity Home. A letter was read from Mrs. Delia O'Keefe, Heather View, Portlaoise, applying for the registration of her premises as a Maternity Home. Dr. O'Farrell, Co. M.O.H., reported as follows in regard to the matter: "In reply to the query from the Hospitals' Commission with regard to the Central Public Health Clinic at Dungarvan, I am to inform you that the position with regard to existing facilities has undergone no change since my letter of the 9th June, 1937."

Loan Sanctioned. A letter from the Manager, National Bank, Dungarvan, stated that the Board's application for Loan in connection with Sanitary Conveniences has been sanctioned. A letter from the Cappoquin Estate Co., stating that they heard that the Board proposes to run sewerage pipes from the seven houses in Mill Street, (behind Mill race) through Boyd's garden and the Mill yard to the sewerage main in Twigg Bog to which they wish to object and suggesting that another outlet be sought from these houses which are not the property of the Company but of the Sisters of Mercy, Cappoquin.

Mr. Power informs us that he complained of this matter some time ago, but nothing appears to have been done to remedy it. He has instructed us now to request that the matter be attended to by the Board of Health, so that this state of affairs should no longer continue. We would suggest that you ask the Medical Officer of Health to investigate the matter and take such steps as may be necessary to prevent the flow of sewage by Mr. Power's house and through his land.

Notwithstanding that the matter has been going on for some time, it is one of some urgency and we shall be glad to hear from you as soon as possible as to what steps you propose taking in the matter.

The letter was referred to the County Medical Officer of Health for report.

As contributory ratepayers to the major undertaking we hold that we should not be precluded from the benefits of sanitation now being provided for our neighbours considering it is only a matter of about 30 yards to cover the distance to include our houses. We feel justified in asking you to be good enough to make the necessary extension and thanking you to please give the matter your kind consideration.

Mr. Doyle, Engineer reported as follows in connection with the matter: "The existing water supply does not go beyond the school and as the whole question of Tallow Water Supply has been under consideration for some time back it was decided to defer the sewer extension till the water question is settled. As matters stand there would be no water available to flush the extension. About 70 yards of sewer is involved and the present scheme has been designed so as to admit of this work being done as a simple continuation of the pipe line. Consideration of the matter was deferred."

GENERAL ELECTION

HOW THE COUNTY POLLED

ELECTED

Mr. Michael Morrissey, T.D. Mrs. Redmond, T.D. Mr. W. J. Broderick, T.D. Mr. P. J. Little, T.D.

Polling for the election of members to the Tenth Dail took place on Friday last throughout the 26 Counties. The day was fine and dry and the poll was a very heavy one. In the County the best of good humour and order prevailed. Each old and feeble voter had no difficulty in recording their votes, conversing on behalf of all parties was active outside the various booths.

At the close of the Poll at 9 p.m. the ballot boxes from the various booths in West Waterford were taken to Dungarvan Courthouse and later in the night transferred to the City Hall, Waterford, where the boxes from East Waterford and the city were already lodged.

There were seven candidates for the four seats made up as follows:—Fianna Fail—Messrs. P. J. Little, Mr. Morrissey, and Sean Goulding; Fine Gael, Mrs. Redmond, Mr. Nicholas Wall and Mr. W. J. Broderick; Labour—Mr. C. O'Rourke.

Mr. T. A. Colbert, Returning Officer, supervised the opening of the ballot boxes, which began in the City Hall on Saturday morning at 9 a.m. Crowds assembled outside the building during the progress of the count and there were eager enquiries for news of the count.

Several hours were occupied in checking the ballot boxes, and it was not until the afternoon the count began.

THE COUNTY. The total electorate of Waterford is 51,492, and the total valid vote 41,935. Spoiled votes numbered 476. Quota 5,233.

FIRST PREFERENCE VOTES. FIRST COUNT. M. Morrissey (F.F.) ... 8,067. Mrs. Redmond (F.G.) ... 7,514. P. J. Little (F.F.) ... 7,381. S. Goulding (F.F.) ... 7,094. W. J. Broderick (F.G.) ... 4,832. N. Wall (F.G.) ... 4,248. C. O'Rourke (Lab.) ... 2,323. Mr. O'Rourke was eliminated. The result then became:—

SECOND COUNT. M. Morrissey (F.F.) ... 8,658. Mrs. Redmond (F.G.) ... 8,148. P. J. Little (F.F.) ... 7,694. S. Goulding (F.F.) ... 7,384. W. J. Broderick (F.G.) ... 4,997. N. Wall (F.G.) ... 4,360. Mr. Morrissey was declared elected and the elimination of Mr. Wall proceeded.

THIRD COUNT. Following the elimination of Wall, Mrs. Redmond was declared elected, the position of the parties being:— Mrs. Redmond ... 10,064. Little ... 7,775. Goulding ... 7,450. Broderick ... 6,628.

Following the transfer of Mrs. Redmond's surplus, Mr. Broderick having reached the quota was declared elected. The position at the end of the fourth count was:— Broderick ... 8,708. Little ... 7,832. Goulding ... 7,490.

This left Little and Goulding to fight out the last seat. The transfer of Broderick's surplus resulted in a stalemate, the position being:— Little ... 7,929. Goulding ... 7,671.

As a result of the 6th and final count, Little increased his poll to 8,154, Goulding standing at 7,812. The final state of the poll was:— Morrissey (F.F.): Mrs. Redmond (F.G.): Broderick (F.G.): and Little (F.F.).

FINAL STATE OF THE PARTIES

TALLOW NEWS.

Conna Carnival And Fete.—Beneath one of the silent sentinels of Ireland's ancient glory, in the beautifully laid out grounds of Conna Castle, Co. Cork, on Sunday next, 26th inst., will be staged, what might well be styled, one of the most enjoyable open air Festivals of the summer season.

The Committee in charge have been most zealous in their efforts to obtain the services of many of the leading vocalists, instrumentalists and dancers of Munster for the occasion, and a host of artists have been secured, who will contribute to the programme, including Mr. Frank Ryan (Ireland's leading Tenor) members of the Cork, Cobh and Fermoy Choral Societies, Father Mathew Hall Orchestra, Fermoy Confraternity Band, etc.

All music lovers from near and far should not miss the opportunity thus provided to enjoy in the most delightful scenic surroundings in the valley of the Bride, one of the all too few open air Musical Festivals of the present age.

It is earnestly hoped that the patronage extended on this occasion will far exceed in numbers that of last year which constituted a record for such entertainments, and patrons will have the added happiness of knowing that their contributions will considerably augment the funds which will be devoted to the restoration of Conna Parish Church. Special attention is directed to advertisement published in this issue, where full particulars will be found.

BALLYDUFF NOTES

G.A.A.—Last Sunday our minors easily defeated a rather useful Melleray team in the championship. The game was rather dull and lack of training was apparent, which can only be expected, at the beginning of the season. I fancy, nevertheless, that the local lads will take some beating in their next match as they appear to be a very likely fifteen, and are taking things seriously. They were best served by Daly, Murphy, Higgins, Kearney and Griffin.

Dance.—Last Sunday night will be a gay night in the village. The local Social Club are holding a dance in the Hall from 9.30 p.m. to 3.30 a.m. Everybody will be welcome and a splendid night's enjoyment is assured.

At the last meeting of the Board of Health, Dr. O'Farrell, Co. M.O.H. wrote forwarding copy of a report received from Mr. C. P. Hynes, V.S., with reference to the illegal sale of milk by John Lane, Kilmore, Tallow and recommending that as this is a serious matter, the necessary action be taken.

An order was made that proceedings be instituted if the retail sale of milk is not given up.

South African Record Broken.—The Dairy Shorthorn cow, Sudbrook Farewell III has broken the South African records for mature cow of her breed by giving 15,765 lbs. of milk and 672.5 lbs. butter-fat (4,265 per cent. est.) in 300 days.

Canadian Cattle.—During the fortnight ended June 4 the number of cattle from Canada landed in Great Britain was 1,137 at Birkenhead, 282 at Cardiff, and 408 at Glasgow.

INCREASED POTATO YIELD

The experience of many years has conclusively proved that the loss caused by potato blight can be, to a great extent, prevented by spraying, and the operation has now come to be regarded as essential to the successful cultivation of the potato crop. The reports received by the Department of Agriculture from a large number of districts show that those who take the trouble to carry out the work properly are abundantly rewarded with an increased yield, while those who neglect to spray suffer heavy loss both in quantity and the quality of the crop. Now is the time to spray. Get in touch without delay for your spraying materials with Hapur Bros., Quay, Waterford.

Second-hand Cars.

Many people do actually price Second-hand Cars without seeing or testing them—in all cases giving wrong prices for them.

Sometimes a "buyer" will express considerable surprise at the thorough examination and test I give his car before quoting on it; but some day he will think better of me, and incidentally make a mental note that a USED CAR bought from me will be a good specimen.

WHY you should choose a PYE

Radio reception to-day presents the problem of complete station separation without loss of quality. In order to achieve this, precision of the highest degree is essential. For many years the name PYE has stood out among scientific instrument makers, and, in the radio field, has never been excelled.

HURRY UP.

All who intend sending in exhibits for the Dungarvan Show on July 7th, should forward their entries without delay to the Secretary.

This year's event will be a record in every sense of the word, and the public should convenience the office work as much as possible by having their entries sent in at once. Entries close on Saturday June 25th, and intending exhibitors who have not yet sent in their entries should do so immediately so as to reach the Secretary by last post on Monday, June 27th.

PREPARATIONS FOR BIG MATCH.

Since the Munster Council selected Dungarvan as the venue for the Munster Senior Hurling Semi-Final (Waterford v. Cork) on July 24th next, large numbers of men are constantly at work from sunrise to sunset in putting the grounds in perfect order and ensuring ample accommodation for the large crowds which will come to Dungarvan on that day.

The side line accommodation will be extended to twice its former size, while several terraces are continually drawing material to the "Ditch" which is being reconstructed. The rear portion of the "Ditch" is being raised several feet, so that all spectators will have a splendid view of the match and be able to follow the game in the greatest comfort possible. New railing replace the old ones and the "ditch" itself, is moved as smooth as a billiard table. Great progress has been made during the week and by July 10th the 25,000 visitors anticipated to be present at the match will have plenty of accommodation.

The voluntary co-operation of all Gales in town and vicinity will be much appreciated in preparing the pitch during the next couple of weeks. Work is proceeding each day and all interested parties are respectfully solicited.

VICTORY DANCE.

A grand Fianna Fail Victory dance will be held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Sunday night July 24th. Full particulars later.

KILBRIEN AERIDHEACHT.

The Aeridheacht which was to be held at Kilbrien, on Sunday last, June 19th, was postponed to Sunday next, June 26th. First item 2 p.m. (old time).

RETURNED FOR TRIAL.

Sitting at Waterford Courthouse, Mr. F. J. McCabe, D.J., took depositions in the case in which John Cusack, formerly a clerk attached to the Tramway Branch of the Provincial Bank, is charged with the alleged embezzlement of over £2,000. Cusack was returned for trial to the next Circuit Court in custody. The proceedings, in accordance with the practice of Mr. McCabe's Court, were in camera, and no Press representatives were present. Mr. M. J. Kenny, solicitor, appeared for the accused.

SEANAD ELECTION.

Demand For Re-Establishment Of County Council.

A meeting of the members of the dissolved Waterford County Council was held in the Courthouse, Dungarvan, on Thursday last. The meeting was called by the Secretary for the purpose of voting for seven members to the electorate of the Second Seanad Election.

Messrs. John Kiersey, Chairman, presided and the following members attended:—Messrs. G. J. Greene, Wm. O'Donnell, Ml. O'Ryan, Nicholas Fitzgerald, David Coughlan, Ml. Curran, T. O'Halloran, Mce. Keane, Thomas Harty, Ml. O'Brien, J. Butler, Ml. McGrath, J. F. Moloney, L. Hailahan, J. Power, J. J. Roche, D. Heskin, Wm. Coffey, Pats. Morrissey, M. F. Walsh, T. Shipsey, Jas. Kirwan, Ml. O'Regan, Thomas Power, G. J. Torpey, and Wm. Walsh.

The following were the ten nominees for the seven vacancies:—John Butler, Dungarvan, David Coughlan, Kilmacthomas; Nicholas Fitzgerald, Ballinacuit; Godfrey J. Greene, Knock-na-craha; Mce. Keane, Crushea, Ardmore; John Kiersey, Ballyhussa, Kilmacthomas; Ml. McGrath, Garraun, Cappagh; Ml. O'Ryan, Knockalishen; M. F. Walsh, Cappoquin; Wm. Walsh, Tramore.

Mr. O'Halloran, referring to the dissolution of the Council in June 1937, said he saw no reason why the Council should not be brought back. There is no doubt but that the people of the county are hampered in the matter of bringing local affairs before the Co. Council from time to time. He had no grudge against the Commissioner, he did not even know the man, but he thought it would be beneficial to the people of the County if the County Council were brought back. He had no axe to grind, as he would not be a County Councillor again, therefore, he would recommend a resolution to the Minister for Local Government to have the Council re-instated.

Mr. Ml. O'Ryan stated that as far as he understood the Minister have no power to re-instate a Council after it being dissolved, until it is elected again by the vote of the people.

Mr. G. J. Greene said he would like to second a resolution on the lines suggested by Mr. O'Halloran. If the Council was re-established in the morning, he would not go forward, but there is no doubt that the ratepayers are dissatisfied with the present state of affairs. The rates are rising, and the Agricultural grant is diminishing day after day. There is no doubt but the Commissioner is doing his best. There is an old axiom—No taxation without representation.

Referring to the unpaid annuities, Mr. Greene said the proper way to disburse the public mind as to the defaulters would be to publish the names of the defaulting annuitants and let the public judge whether the default was through poverty or otherwise. He was in full agreement with Mr. O'Halloran that each locality in the County has its own particular needs and no man, no matter how brilliant (and he had no doubt the Commissioner is a brilliant man) could deal with such needs satisfactorily.

Mr. O'Ryan thought it would be a most dangerous thing to publish the names of defaulters, as by the time the names are published the arrears could have been paid. He thought the Council had legal advice on that.

Mr. Green said the lists were published in County Kilkenny.

Mr. D. Coughlan said that as a member of the County Council he never had it explained to him why this Council was dissolved. He referred to a speech made by a Labour Leader in which he referred to corrupt County Councils. One thing is certain, this Council was not dissolved because of corruption.

Mr. Butler said he was glad the matter of the restoration of the County Council was raised. The old Council may not be restored, but the Minister can at any time order an election. He understood the reason given was that the rates were backward. That was a flimsy excuse to dissolve a Council. In his opinion the dissolution of the Council was a slur on the electors of the County, as they were thought to be incapable of electing a Council which would run the county satisfactorily.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES.

A Promising Athlete— At the Mount Mellery Students Sports held in the splendid Gaelic Field attached to the Seminary on last Saturday, Master Willie Sargent, Cappoquin, displayed brilliant form as a sprinter by winning the 100 Yards and 440 Yards events in easy style from large fields of well-trained athletes amongst the students.

"After The Ball Is Over"— The General Election is now over, but it can be truthfully said that a more peaceful and orderly election had never before been experienced in Cappoquin. We had always maintained that it was the height of foolishness for young men or old men, either, to "lose their heads" and engender a state of bitter feelings simply because they didn't all belong to the same Political Party.

Revel Of The Band— We have frequently urged that steps should be taken to revive the Brass and Band for the town, so we were particularly glad to see that this was done in time to enable the band to participate in the grand Corpus Christi Procession in Lismore last Sunday.

Although the instruments had become rusty and covered with verdigris through years of disuse, the members of the band, under the leadership of Mr. J. Sargent, took up the work of revival last week, most of the former members of the band loyally responded to their call, and after a few evenings of hard work had thoroughly burnished them and got them into playing condition again.

As the Very Rev. John Crotry, the zealous and esteemed Pastor of Killorossanty, has ministered for many years as C.C., in Cappoquin, we hope that many of his old friends here will avail of the opportunity of proving their loyalty to him now, while his numerous friends in his native town of Lismore should rally to his support on Sunday and enjoy a delightful afternoon's sport amidst the fragrant flowers and the rich sylvan beauty of the Parochial Lawn in hospitable Killorossanty.

Athletic Club For Cappoquin— We have been informed that a movement has been started for the purpose of establishing an Athletic Club for Cappoquin, and we think this is a wise move, as we have several hefty and active young athletes in the town and district at present who only require the stimulus of such a Club to induce them to get into proper training for the season.

Grand Dance In Knockanore— As will be seen from an advt. in another column, a grand all-night dance will be held in The Hall, Knockanore, on next Sunday night, 26th inst., under the auspices of the Knockanore Dramatic Society. Those who have attended previous dances under the auspices of this excellent Society know how perfect and complete all the arrangements have been, and the same arrangements will be in evidence on this occasion, and nothing will be left undone to ensure the maximum comfort for all.

The Cricket Club— The members of the Cappoquin Cricket Club were "At Home" to the Cricket Club of Bishop Foy's School, Waterford, on last Saturday, when the visitors were beaten by a substantial score by the home XI, who are playing in great form at present.

Renaissance of Rowing— We are very glad to see that an effort is being made to revive the popular Rowing Club at present, and for the past week or so some crews have been out for rowing practice on the Blackwater. When a 20th anniversary was made earlier in the season, as most of the principal Regattas will be held in a few weeks' time, and it will be almost impossible to get any racing crews fit in such a short time—unless they are supermen.

CONTROL OF THE BEET EELWORM

DANGER OF REPEATED CROPPING OF LAND WITH SUGAR BEET The repeated cropping of land with sugar-beet often leads to a condition known as "beet sickness." This condition is caused by the attacks of the beet eelworm. The reduction in yield brought about by this pest was so great in Germany that in 1876, twenty-four sugar factories were closed down. The beet eelworm is a serious pest in several other European countries, and also attacks areas of sugar-beet in the United States of America.

In an instructive article contributed to the June issue of the Journal of the English Ministry of Agriculture, Messrs. F. R. Petherbridge, M.A., J. H. Stanley, B.Sc., A.R.C.S., and J. Thomas Ph. Del., School of Agriculture, Cambridge, point out that sugar-beet eelworms lie dormant in the soil throughout the winter as eggs contained in brown lemon-shaped cysts, the largest of which are only 1-16 in. long. These cysts are the dead outer walls of the bodies of swollen female eelworms. A large cyst may contain as many as 850 eggs.

The eggs hatch into young eelworms, which begin to escape from the cysts into the soil in the spring. The eelworms do not all escape in the first season, and eggs may live for several years within the cysts. One observer claims that after six years most of the cysts are empty, and only a very few live eggs remain. The young eelworms make their way into rootlets, where they feed on the cells. Later, the females become swollen and lemon-shaped, and at this stage they burst out of the rootlet, only the head and neck remaining embedded. The males likewise leave the rootlets and wander in the soil in order to find and fertilise the females. After fertilisation, the females become full of eggs and then die, but their dead bodies remain intact, forming protective sacs for the eggs. The bodies are now known as "cysts." These gradually turn brown and drop off the rootlets into the soil. Most of these are present in the top soil but in some cases, and on the continent cysts have been found at a depth of 30 ins. Those which contain living eggs or young eelworms are called "viable cysts," others are empty and are those from which all the young eelworms have escaped. There is probably only one generation in each year.

The beet eelworm, belong to the same species as the potato root eelworm, which causes "potato sickness," but it is a different strain and does not attack potatoes, neither does the potato root eelworm attack sugarbeet. Two other strains attack cereals, and leguminous crops respectively, but neither of these strains attacks sugarbeet.

The first sign of bad eelworm attack is seen as a small patch or patches in the crop, where the plants are stunted and the foliage has an unhealthy appearance. When the attack gets worse, these patches become much larger and the stunted and almost valueless. Fields that will so longer grow profitable crops of sugarbeet because of the loss caused are described as being "beet sick" and the condition is known as "beet sickness."

The outer leaves of badly attacked plants wilt in the sunshine, later on turn yellow and finally die. The heart leaves may remain green, but are undersized and an abnormal number of them is formed; in very severe attacks even these may die. Such plants are easily pulled from the soil when the characteristic root symptoms may be seen. The tap root is small and often short, and there is an excessive development of lateral roots known as "hunger roots," most of these rootlets are dead, and a careful examination will reveal the presence of small lemon-shaped cysts—either white, yellow or brown in colour. Attacked beet are not usually killed, but remain small and possess a low sugar content.

of the legs or horses, sheep or cattle. Infection can also take place when infected beet in the process of transport, fall from carts or lorries to other fields, or if the dirt from such carts and lorries is returned to fresh land. It is probable that "dust storms" such as that which occurred in the Fens in 1933, will carry cysts from infected fields to neighbouring fields.

As the cysts float readily in water, there is danger of their being carried in irrigation water or floods. Heavy rains often wash soil to lower levels. Viable cysts have been found in soil that has fallen from the beet at several factories, and also in the settling ponds. If this soil or the sediment is returned to the land, the latter will become infected, all has happened in many instances on the continent.

At some factories the beet are washed from the lorries by powerful jets of water and this water is used over and over again. At one factory the writers found a definite risk that some of these cysts will find their way to lorries bringing beet from eelworm-free farms, and eventually to the fields of these farms.

American writers suggest that the sugar-beet eelworm was introduced into America by means of cysts present in small clods of dirt mixed with imported beet seed. Continental observers agree that the most important method of reducing this pest is by means of suitable rotations, and that this eelworm has much decreased since sugar-beet has been grown less frequently.

As a result of continental experiences and observations made in this country, the writers make the following recommendations:— 1. In fields or small holdings where beet-sickness has occurred, or where the egg count is high, sugar-beet, mangolds, beetroot, spinach, turnips and swedes, and if at all possible other cruciferous crops, should be omitted from the rotation for at least 5 years. Before sugar-beet is grown again, the egg count of the soil should be determined, and expert opinion obtained.

2. In fields or small holdings where beet eelworms are present, and where the egg count is low, the crops mentioned in (1) should be omitted from the rotation for 3 years. 3. In fields or small holdings where no beet eelworms are present, sugar-beet may be grown every third year provided that in the intervening years mangolds, spinach, turnips, swedes, and if at all possible, other cruciferous crops, are not grown.

4. Special care should be taken to prevent the spread of this pest when soil from an infected field is carried to clean fields. Cysts are washed down to grass or lucerne would minimise the chances of the spread of the eelworm. The practice of alternate husbandry, where the grass is down for four years and then under the plough for four years, might be suitable on some farms.

Small holdings are reminded that if they, or their neighbours, have been using an infected land they will probably infect their own land unless they take special precautions to clean the implements. Also, if they walk over infected land they are liable to carry the eelworms in soil on their boots. The only safe method of removing eelworm cysts from Wellington boots is to wash them. The writers have found cysts on boots after scraping them well with a trowel.

Molokai and Molakai were twins who had survived a pagan custom condemning them to be exposed to the wild things of the forest. Molokai the elder twin with the right of succession to the chief-ship grew up a weakling in physical strength, while his twin brother was strong and sturdy in body. Whatever the psychological contraries in Molokai the Strong, he passed through the different stages of boyhood, youth and manhood with an evident dislike for his sickly twin brother. As a small boy he bullied and jeered at Molokai. He could run, spear fish, trap birds fight a thousand times more ably than his brother and for this the unfortunate Molokai had to pay. As a youth, Molokai the Strong, pined his glittering lissom body as vainly as any peacock—he could climb and dance too, better than any of his contemporaries. Still he was not heir to the Chief. It may be that which fanned the flame of jealousy. It may have been Maria who left him for his brother Molokai, the day before this latter became chief of the village. Molokai fast became a doubtful character, ready for any deed of hate or horror that would revenge him of his twin. So when Molokai the chief and his wife Maria became Catholics, Molokai joined the Mohadedan camp.

The followers of the Prophet did not still thoughts of peace and goodwill into their neophyte. He became more intractable than ever, more violent, more virulent and bitter hate towards his inoffensive brother. Molokai, he it said to his credit shared in no way in this unnatural brotherly enmity. He was anxious for reconciliation and peace and even to give a share in the patrimony in so far as native law would permit. But this Mohamedan twin had hardened his heart. Molokai the chief, died a few years later fortified by all the rites of the Holy Church. His brother Molokai was at the funeral obsequies—I could even see the exultant glint in his eyes. He was now the chief but not for long. He was stricken down in the very flower of his age, by that loathsome scourge—leprosy. All his friends left him. Abandoned and lonely he cursed and raved about the ingratitude of men. The forest alone reached his plaints. He was left a prey to his own malevolent thoughts—and to the beasts of the forest. Was he now to die as native law of old decreed a twin should perish? His giant frame was wearing down under the ravages of his disease. The end was not far off.

I went to see him often and tried to reason with him. He was willing to be comforted but he would not forgive. The memory of Molokai, innocent and dead, his twin brother, rankled in his crazy mind and provoked his loud and bitter tongue. One day I thought he would come over. He had asked question after question and was satisfied. Finally he said: "And if I become a Catholic, and die shall I go to Heaven?" "Assuredly," I said, "if you are faithful." And then a thought struck him and clouded his bright frightening eyes: "And will Molokai be in Heaven too?" "I hope so," "Then I won't be baptised," he declared flatly, "I wouldn't be with him in Heaven."

Molokai is not dead yet. He still clings to life and to his unnatural hatred. Some day he may co-operate with grace and give in. He cannot be baptised until he does so. "Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive . . . . Forgive and forget. It may be that when he forgets, he'll forgive. Meanwhile, the leprosy is proceeding apace.

That is paganism in its crudest form. Paganism is not dead in Africa. For long and arduous years to come, the missionary must labour with the help of God's grace to uproot the dreadful thing that sin naked and unashamed shows itself to be among the millions who wander beneath the African sun. The Irish Holy Ghost Fathers (H) have been in Africa since 1843 and although their labours have been providentially crowned with success, the task of Africa's conversion is a work of centuries. We can all only do our own bit. The Missionary enterprise however, cannot fail for it is a Divine undertaking.

But it is effected by means of co-operation. (1) The Holy Ghost Fathers are centred at Kimmage, Dublin.

MONEY-SAVING FIREPLACE REPAIRS

Any woman can permanently repair a fireplace simply, cleanly and cheaply with Pyruma. It is as easy to apply with a kitchen knife as putty, but it comes ready for application—no messy mixing. Pyruma does not crack or crumble away like fireclay. It grips the firebrick, sets to rock-like hardness and resists intense heat. Result—the unsightly, wasteful dangerous fireplace has gone: more heat radiated into the room and less fuel consumed. And if you do not use the whole tin, Pyruma will keep for another day and fireplace. In tins: 1 lb., 6d.; 2 lb., 1/-; 3 lb., 1/6; 4 lb., 2/-; 5 lb., 2/6. Drop into Haspur Quay, Waterford, or write for a tin of Pyruma.

FARM BUTTER-MAKING

It is possible to produce on a farm butter of very superior quality in fact, for flavour the best farm butter cannot be surpassed. That is because the good bacteria present in clean milk and butter remain undisturbed to carry out their beneficial flavour giving functions instead of being destroyed by heat. This is apart from any good flavours which may be imparted to it from the herbage of a particular district or farm, for different districts may produce different flavours and also different plants—some good and some bad. Speaking generally, the pre-eminently without a large milk supply, and hence in numerous districts outside the Cork—dairy farmers must make butter on their farms. The first essential for success is strict cleanliness. This is important at all seasons of the year, but particularly in warm weather, when the temperature most rapidly between 60 and 100 degrees.

The summer temperature is, therefore, most favourable to their rapid growth. Hence the putrefaction and disagreeable odour from even trifling quantities of spoiled milk if allowed to remain in hollows on dairy floors or byres, for even a space of 24 hours, and the necessity for constructing walls and floors of such buildings in such a manner that they can be easily and thoroughly cleaned. There is, unfortunately, no medium in which bacteria will grow more rapidly than in milk and, therefore one cannot be too careful in the cleaning and scaling of all vessels used in the byre and dairy, in seeing that no hairs or particles of manure fall from the cow into the milk pail or that the milk is kept a distance away from manure heaps or other places from which there may be bad odours. Nothing absorbs odours—whether bad or good—so readily as butter, cream and milk.

Particular care must be observed in the cleaning of utensils which are a long time in use and have become rusted or pitted. Old wooden churns are a great danger in this respect and should be replaced by new ones if possible. Otherwise they should be well scrubbed and get plenty of boiling water and soda, care being taken to raise them thoroughly, so that all traces of the soda will disappear, or, better still, give them a second scrubbing with salt.

The liberal use of disinfectants is not by any means a good substitute for cleanliness or for dairies and byres constructed in such a manner as to make cleaning difficult. It is far better to have smooth concrete floors and walls rounded off with no crevices and to use cold and, when necessary, hot water plentifully where steam is not available. Disinfectants are, nevertheless, occasionally useful. A cheap but effective disinfectant is permanganate of potash. It is a good "germ" killer and a few pence worth—to be obtained from any chemist—goes a long way. Half a teaspoonful, stirred well in a large bucket of water, is quite sufficient. In emergencies it can be applied to wounds, etc., but when applied to tender parts care should be taken to have it well diluted.

The best Soda Bread Flour

MANUFACTURED BY The National Flour Mills Ltd., Victoria Quay, Cork.

Even a slight knowledge of bacteriology would be of great use to the farm butter-maker. Without this it is not easy to realise the many sources from which contamination arises—such as raised in the byre, the hands and clothes of milkers, unclean udders, etc. Nor can one easily understand why straining the milk (though a very beneficial operation) even through a fine cloth does not rid it of all impurities. It merely removes the visible dirt. "Harmful germs" which are so minute that they cannot be seen except through a powerful microscope will pass into the milk just the same, all the more so if the dirt collected in the strainer is not frequently removed in the course of the milking. The special filter cloths now sold for the purpose are a great improvement on the strainer formerly used, but it is far better to arrange matters so that the presence of hairs, dust, and dirt would be completely eliminated, and so use no strainer at all.

That which, however, gives the farm butter-maker most trouble at this season is the difficulty of making firm butter, in other words, keeping down the temperature. The use of the hand separator is a great help in this direction, as instead of having to deal with a large bulk of milk, say, 60 gallons daily from a 20 cow herd—has only to deal with only one-eighth of this quantity—say, 7 1/2 gallons—in cream. If this is immersed in cold water immediately after separation and the temperature kept between 60 and 65 degrees F., lowering it as much as possible as the time for churning approaches, the first important step towards securing a firm butter will have been taken. It is important to remember that even if one could churn at below 50 degrees (the creamer churn below 40 in summer), the butter would be quite soft unless the cream was ripened at a low temperature. The ideal would be to ripen at 65 degrees cool to 50, say 8 hours before churning, making up to 50 degrees before churning.

Where there is a good supply of spring water at a level, well above the floor of the dairy so that it could be piped on to the dairy and made flow continuously into and out of the vessel in which the cream pans are immersed, the work of cooling the cream is greatly facilitated; or the same result could be achieved, though at greater expense, by pumping well water into a large overhead tank in the dairy. The tank should be insulated by placing outside it a rough wooden casing with sawdust between. This, however, involves work which can best be carried out in winter or at times when work is slack.

Various other devices to lower the temperature in warm milk will suggest themselves to the intelligent maker. For example the proper arrangement of the ventilation, allowing a cool draught of air to pass through the dairy, the use of damped muslin on the windows to absorb the heat of the incoming air and by keeping wet muslin over the cream containers. Wet cloths are very useful in keeping milk, cream or butter cool as they have the same chilling effect as wet clothes on a human being.

When churning is finished the grains can be hardened by giving them a final washing in brine or pickle before taking them from the churn. The pickle should be made somewhat stronger than would be required to float an egg. The butter will also be improved in texture by partially working it at first, laying it aside for a few hours or overnight, covered with wet muslin, and then finishing the kneading of it. This also has the effect of removing surplus or loose moisture.

Brown Trout Hatchery in Consennara. Work on the proposed brown trout hatchery at Oughterard, Consennara, has now been started. This hatchery will be the biggest in Ireland, and will be built and run somewhat on the lines of Sir John McNeill's hatchery at Howletown, Scotland. Its annual output will be about eight hundred thousand trout fry.

MOUNT SIGN V. HOLLOW

G.A.A. NOTES & NOTIONS

The selection of Dungarvan as the venue for the anticipated encounter of Cork and Waterford in the Munster Senior Hurling semi-final has thrilled every Deise heart with delight.

Accommodation in the Shandon Field and in the town of Dungarvan itself is being taxed to the uttermost on the second Sunday in July.

Owing to the annual Corpus Christi Processions in every centre of the County last Sunday, Gaelic competitive activities were at a standstill.

Declan Good, County Board Secretary, noted inter-county hurler and footballer himself, will referee this vital game.

At Portlaoise Gaelic Field, Erin's Own footballers met Stradbally in the first round of the Senior County Championship.

Seamus Hayes of Dungarvan, Co. Board Treasurer and veteran, will have charge of the whistle.

KILMACHTHOMAS NEWS

Quarrel Ore—As briefly stated in the previous issue, the beautiful devotion of Quarrel Ore for Forty Hours Adoration was commenced on Friday morning of last week.

The devotion came to a conclusion on Sunday morning with Mass of the Immaculate Conception (sung by Father Walsh) followed by a procession of the Blessed Sacrament.

Our good friend and true, Mr. Michael Morrissey, T.D., on his having been returned as senior representative of the Deise in An Dail—the best of the best to the worthy recipient of this great honour, sincerely say we.

We regret to announce the death on Monday night at the County and City Hospital, Waterford, of Mr. Edmund Rockett, brother of the late Mr. James Rockett, Ballygarty, Kilmachthomas and the late Mrs. T. McCarthy, Ballyaneen.

Mr. Nicholas Fitzgerald (eldest son of much respected Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fitzgerald, Ballygarty) on his departure this week to take up his first appointment as a permanent postman, on the Carrick-on-Suir Rathgorman rural delivery.

Mr. W. J. Nolan, M.P.S.I., Dungarvan—Will act as handicapper and starter at the Novice Cycling and Athletic Sports meeting (under N.A. and C.A. Rules) being held at Kill on Sunday the 17th of next month.

It is no longer the exclusive sanctuary of bird life. Today it is as much an avenue of communication as the highway, and in the opinion of many the safer of the two.

YOUGHAL NOTES

The Election—Has interrupted for the time being the "even tenor of our way," one result being that we are minus our usual couple of columns of "Urban Council," "Mental Hospital," "District Court," etc.

Local Representation—As one happy result of the election, Youghal has now a local man in the Dail, in the person of Mr. Wm. J. Broderick, Chairman of the Cork Co. Council.

Technical School—The Day Vocational Classes in the local Technical School, Church street, held their "break-up" day on Tuesday.

Removal of Social Evils—In these days when so many continental countries seek relief from economic and social evils in totalitarian utopias, it is essential that the Catholic layman seek a sure guide through the intricate maze of modern social theories.

Little Trouble from Flies—So far this year flock-owners have had comparatively little trouble from flies, the exceedingly dry spring having been destructive to a large extent of the larvae of this troublesome parasite in low-lying lands.

NOTICE TO FARMERS

AGRICULTURAL WAGES

In the Agricultural Wages (minimum rates) Order 1938 it is provided (inter alia) that whole farmers engage their agricultural labourers for periods of six months and upwards, they are not liable for overtime either on week days or Sundays, and there is no restriction whatever with regard to the number of hours worked.

It might be well for all farmers who employ men on a half-yearly or yearly basis to consult a solicitor with a view to getting an appropriate form drawn up.

Non-elaborate utensils are required; no expensive ingredients are needed. That is the great attraction of this book—it is so practical, so easy to follow, and all its recipes are so economical in use yet ever so delicious in flavour.

Every one of its scores of recipes can be cooked and served by the average housewife, whether she lives in town or country.

Another Big Week End At Cookery—In our columns this week will be found a further important announcement from our advertisers Messrs. Cooke Bros., Waterford, in connection with the great sale of Clothing, Drapery, Bedsteads, Bedding and House Furnishing Goods.

PHONE SYSTEM FOR MOTORISTS—A stretch of 180 miles of road in Sweden, from Malmo to Jonkoping, has been equipped with a system of "aid telephones" for the use of motorists and others in emergency.

A FULL TIME HOLIDAY See IRELAND first. Every year thousands of overseas visitors find in Ireland the holiday of their choice for yourself the lure which attracts these discriminating travellers?
