Mr. Byrne said he had nothing to add to statements made previously on the matter. He also understood the Clerk had a letter on the subject from the Veterinary Inspectors' Association. Minute Book Lost in Dublin

Arising out of the proposal to increase Mr. Walsh's salary in respect of extra duties under the new bye-laws the Department wrote as follows:—
With reference to previous correspondence regarding the proposal of the Urban District Council to increase the remuneration of Mr. Thomas Walsh, Town Inspector, etc., I am directed by the Minister for Local Government and Public Health to request that he may be furnished with a detailed statement of the duties discharged by Mr. Walsh as Town and Water Inspector. It is noted from the returns of officers furnished to this Department that there appears to be no record of the Central Authority's sanction to Mr. Walsh's appointment in 1910, and I am to request you to forward, if possible extracts from the minutes of proceedings of the meeting at which Mr. Walsh was appointed originally, and a copy of any documents in your office which would show that Mr. Walsh's appointment was submitted for approval.

Mr. Walsh, Town Inspector, said the minute book of that year 1910 was lost in the Four Courts. He was appointed by the Urban Council in October and the appointment was sanctioned in November 1910.

The matter was left to the Clerk to deal with.

A number of other applications from officials of the Board for holidays, were granted under the usual conditions.

The Irish Nurses' Organisation, 24 Nassau Street, Dublin, 17th June, 1938.

A chair.—At the Annual Meeting of the Organisation held on the 3rd May, the following resolutions were agreed to, and I was directed to forward copy of same to you, and to ask you to kindly put these resolutions before your Board. My Executive hope that the members will favourably consider these resolutions:—

Temporary Nurses to get holidays after twelve months.

Hours on duty: It was also resolved that Nurses doing alternate Night Duty in Hospitals should be paid £20 per annum more than those who do not do night duty.
Miscellaneous
ANNIE M. SMITHSON (Runaidhe). Following a discussion in which Mr. Commissioner Meghan expressed his sincere sympathy with the Nurses' claims, the Board decided to adjourn the matter to the Estimates meeting.

Dr. N. Purcell, Traamore Dispensary, wrote as follows:—Dear Sir—At the end of last summer a boy fell 70 feet off the cliff and was very gravely injured, his injuries included a compound fracture of the skull. I attended him and the ambulance was telephoned for. It came out promptly, the driver was told to take the patient to the City and County Infirmary. He refused and proceeded to drive the ambulance away. A crowd around protested and I told him again to take the patient. He then condescended to do so and backed the ambulance into position again and struck the front of my car. I want to know how the doctors of the County stand in regard to the services of the ambulance in such cases, and I am therefore, reporting the matter, having told the driver concerned that I was about to do so, so I would wish this letter placed before the Board.

A lengthy letter from the driver of the ambulance referred to in the foregoing (Richard Tierney, County Hospital, Waterford) was read, and in it he denied the allegations made by Dr. Purcell.

The Board directed the Secretary to inform Dr. Purcell that "The Ambulances have been provided for the conveyance of patients to and from the various of the Board's Institutions, and are always at the disposal of the Board's Medical Officers for this purpose."

The next item on the agenda of the meeting was the appointment of an ambulance driver to the County Home, Dungarvan.

Mr. Commissioner Moyahin said he had read the 39 applications received for the position, and he had come to the conclusion that the person appointed should be a married man.

Mr. Commissioner Meghan agreed that a married man would be best suited for the position.

Nicholas Dwan, 2, Sexton Street, Abbeyside, Dungarvan, was unanimously appointed to the post.

After transacting some business of a routine nature, the meeting adjourned.

MEETING OF DUNGARVAN AGRICULTURAL SHOW COMMITTEE

Mr. John Lynch, Secretary, was also in attendance.

After due deliberation, the postponed Jumping Competitions were fixed for Thursday evening August 11th, this being the eve of the Dungarvan Horse Fair.

Late Mr. Daniel Dempsey
The President referred in feeling terms to the death of Mr. Daniel Dempsey, which took place last evening.

On the proposition of Mr. N. Fitzgerald, seconded by Mr. Nicholas Connors, the following vote of sympathy was passed in silence:—
"That we, the members of the Dungarvan Agricultural Show Committee, beg to tender our deepest sympathy in the great loss sustained by our esteemed colleague Mr. Daniel Dempsey, and also to his mother and the other members of the family, on the death of his father, who was one of the oldest members and first Vice-President of the Show."

DUNGARVAN CIRCUIT COURT.

His Lordship, Mr. Justice Scahy, K.C., opened the business of the Dungarvan Circuit Court at Dungarvan on Wednesday.

Cliff Hotel, Ardmore
Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Hodnett, solr., Youghal), applied for a new licence in respect of the Cliff Hotel, Ardmore.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr., appeared on behalf of the Garda Authorities.

Mr. Budd said that owing to increasing business, applicant had considerably increased the accommodation, and it is for the purpose of extending the licence to cover the additions that the application is made.

Ed. O'Flynn, B.E., produced a map showing the extensions to the premises which included Smoke Room, 5 Bedrooms, Bar, etc., as well as enlarging existing dining-room.

His Lordship granted the new licence.

Board of Works v. O'Kelly
This was an application for specific performance relating to the lease of certain premises, The Boathouse, Ardmore.

Mr. Dixon, B.L., (instructed by Messrs. E. A. Ryan and Co., solrs.,) appeared for the applicants.

Mr. Budd, B.L., (instructed by Mr. Hodnett, solr., Youghal), represented the defendants.

Mr. Dixon said the proposal to lease the premises was made on 23rd September 1935, by Mr. and Mrs. O'Kelly, on a lease of 99 years at a yearly annuity of £5. They wanted defendant to complete the lease. The sum of £200.00, in respect of the first half-year was paid and also a sum of £12 stamp duty.

Mr. Budd, B.L., said their defence is that there was no completed agreement. This lady's husband died on 17th November, 1936, and now you have this wealthy Government Department using this unfortunate widow, whose husband had lived, would carry out the agreement.

Mr. James Casack, Board of Works, gave evidence as to the property.

To Mr. Budd, B.L.—As far as he knew there were three premises at Ardmore described as part of the Coastguards property. He could not say to which premises Mr. Budd held the lease as submitted by the Board of Works for signature differed very materially from the proposal form and enumerated the various additional clauses.

Mrs. O'Kelly said that her husband entered into a contract with the Department of Finance regarding the Lifeboat House at Ardmore. Her husband has since died, and she is not now in a position to expend £300 on this place. She would not be able to pay a rent of £5 a year if she took out a lease.

Mr. Dixon said this is not the first dealing they had with the Board of Works. They had some land from them. Witness never wrote to the Board of Works. Her husband wrote in her name.

The letter produced was written by her husband and signed by her. Cliff Hotel was in her name. She sold the hotel for £2,500. There was a lot of outstanding debts to pay off, and she is not now in a position to carry out the terms of the lease.

After a lengthy legal argument, His Lordship said he agreed with Mr. Dixon, and held the applicants were entitled to a decree, and he made an order to that effect, with costs against the defendant and £200.00, witness's expenses.

Modeligo Will Case
This was an application to his Lordship made by John Power, Lisroe, Modeligo, as sole surviving Executor to have the terms of the will of the late John Hickey, Vichkarstown, construed.

Testator died on 23rd March, 1913 and probate of the will was granted on 3rd September, 1913. By the terms of the will the farm was left in trust for his son James, provided that he marries with the consent of the Trustees and at such time as they consider proper, subject, however, and charged with the support, maintenance and keep of the remaining children until they receive the share the trustees think they should be entitled to.

Mr. J. I. McGuire, B.L., (instructed by Messrs. J. F. Williams and Son) appeared for the Executors.

Mr. T. C. Williams, represented the defendant Mr. Maurice Hickey.

Mr. Crockett, B.L., (instructed by Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr.,) represented John Hickey and the remaining members of the family.

Mr. McGuire, B.L., read the will at length, and explained that James Hickey had since died, there were nine members of the family.

Mr. Williams, solr., said a very friendly feeling existed about all this. All the members of the family were willing to have Maurice have the farm, and the whole thing is only a question of the trustee's power. All the members of the family had left the place over 12 years ago, with the exception of Maurice—Mary and LISMORE DISTRICT COURT.

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.)

Civil Bills

A large number of undefended civil bills were first disposed of, the solicitors engaged for the plaintiffs being Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solr., Dungarvan; Mr. B. O'Meara, Mallow; Mr. J. Barry, Fermoy; Mr. Wm. R. Hodnett, Youghal; Mr. J. W. O'Connell, Lismore, and Mr. C. Murray, L.L.B. do.

At the conclusion of these cases, the Justice said he wished to inform the solicitors present that no civil bill cases would be heard at the August Court, as he would be doing duty for Mr. Troy, D.J., in Tipperary during that month, and was not sure if any Court would be held in Lismore for August, but, in any event, no civil bill would be heard before the September Court, and he hoped all the solicitors concerned would kindly take a note of this.

A Defended Case
In an adjourned case for alleged trespass at the suit of Cooney v. O'Keefe from the Cappagh district, Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solr., who appeared for plaintiff, said when this case was called at the previous Court he had to apply for an adjournment, as his client was unable to be present on that day, and Mr. Williams, solr., was then awarded 20/- costs against Cooney on behalf of the defendant who was then present. As Mr. Cooney was present today, and the defendant was absent, he should now ask for a further adjournment and applied for 20/- costs on behalf of his client, which he said would make them "quits."

The Justice granted the amount applied for, and further adjourned the case.

Increased Fines For No Lights
Guard Martin Lismore, and Sergt. Kelly, Ballyduff, had two young men summoned for cycling without lights, and in imposing a fine of 3/6 in each case, the Justice said he was slowly, surely, but steadily increasing the fines for this class of offence, which was most dangerous to the public, and he would make it a very unprofitable business for cyclists to travel without lights in future.

Important Point Under Traffic Act
Guard Coffey, Lismore, summoned a groom named Maurice Cotter, Lismore, for leading a horse on the right-hand side of the road, the Traffic Regulations providing that all animals should be led on the left-hand side of the road.

The defendant explained that the animal he was leading was a stallion horse and unless he led such an animal by the right hand he would have no control over him, and he was likely to kick any members of the public passing along the road. He had over 14 years' experience with stallion horses and had always led them by the right hand, and as he had to walk between the horse and the public, for public safety, the only way he could properly lead such a horse was along the right-hand side of the road.

The Justice having carefully read the new Traffic Regulations, said it appeared to him that those who framed such Regulations did not take into account the important point raised in the present case, as they had treated horses the same as motor vehicles and laid it down that they should be kept on the left side of the road. However, the Regulations were there now, and he should administer the law as he found it, but in the present case he would dismiss the charge and let the defendant off with a caution this time.

For leading a colt on the wrong side of the road he fined another defendant 1/-, while he imposed a fine of 2/6 on a further defendant for having driven a pony and trap on the right-hand side of the road.

A Cattle Drover In Trouble
Guard Coffey, Lismore, summoned a cattle-drover named Jeremiah Morrissey, described as "of no fixed abode," for being drunk and disorderly on the public street in Lismore.

Defendant appeared in custody, having been detained in the local Barrack since his arrest the previous evening.

The Guard stated that as he was speaking to a merchant in the Main street, the defendant, who was drunk, came up to him and started using abusive and filthy language towards him.

Witness advised him to conduct himself and go away, but later in the evening witness found him in company with two women in the Mall, the women having two bottles of stout with them at the time. Defendant again abused him and adopted a threatening attitude, and as he carried an ash-plant, witness got Guard Martin, to assist him and they then arrested the defendant and kept him in custody until the Court that day.

The Justice, to defendant—I see you are described here as "of no fixed abode." Where do you belong to?

Defendant said he was a well-known cattle-drover from Clonmel, and was a single man and had house of his own in Clonmel. He added that he had nothing to eat the day before, and took a few drinks which overcame him, and would have said nothing to the Guard only for his aggravating him. It was bad enough for him to have nothing to eat the previous day, but he had got nothing to eat while in the barrack all night, nor up to this moment.

The Justice said he was seriously thinking of sending him to jail on account of his blaguardly conduct, but he would give him a chance this time and let him off with a fine of 1/-.

Defendant said he could never pay that amount, and should go to jail instead.

After some deliberation, the Justice decided to reduce the fine to 20/-, but defendant still protested that this was too much, as it was not easy for a cattle-drover to earn 10/- now.

The Justice—I will make no further reduction, as I think you are getting off too lightly as it is, but I will give you a month in which to pay the fine.

Defendant was then discharged from custody.

Application for Dance Licence
Mr. Charles Daly, Ballyduff, applied on behalf of Mr. Patrick Feeney, for a dance licence for the Ballyduff Social Club from 9.30 p.m. to 3.30 a.m., and Sergt. Kelly, Ballyduff, stating there was no objection, the application was granted.

SEA EPIC RE-TOLD At a recent Presentation by the R.N.L.I. (reported in our last issue) J. H. L. L. (reported in our last issue) J. H. L. L. (reported in our last issue) J. H. L. L. (reported in our last issue) J. H. L. L. (reported in our last issue)

Now, I will tell you of one of the fine services rendered by the Youghal crew, out of the many on record.

The schooner "Annette," of Dungarvan, coal-laden from Cardiff to Youghal, was overtaken by a gale on November 16th '05. All that night she struggled on. The dawn of Sunday 17th found her off Youghal. Her crew worn out after the bad night, as heavy seas and low tide, prevented her approaching "the bar" she beat off the land all day, until 5 o'clock in the evening. At that time, Youghal Bay was enveloped in a dense thick fog. At 5.30 she tried to cross "the bar," but struck it so heavily that she began to fill. The mate ran below and brought up a "flare" which he lit, but, as he held it aloft—a wave washed him overboard. The flare was thick, rainy and dark. As I looked from my own house, I saw that light disappeared, wondering what it could be. I went down to the beach, and then I heard faintly a ship's bell coming from a distance—but there was nothing to be seen, owing to the fog. I ran to the Boathouse in town, had the signal gun clearly visible with my own eyes. I saw a light, as possible. It was then 6.20 p.m. The boat had a hard time to get out, against a strong flood tide and the gale blowing against them. I returned to the beach when I had heard the sound of the bell. The Coast Guards with Rocket Apparatus were there and the vessel now plied anchor, with four men clinging to the main rigging.

The masts were loose and as they rolled from side to side, the crew could only with the greatest difficulty hold on. I saw one poor fellow thrown from the rigging into the raging sea (and he turned out to be a mugger), and he was so evident the vessel would not stand long. Her spars came tumbling down her bulwarks were washed away, leaving only the stanchions to which they were fastened. The coast Guards fired four rockets. One, I believe did get across the wreck, but the masts were still high in the air, and connect with the shore (probably too weak to exert themself after what they had gone through).

The lifeboat at last arrived on the scene at 6.50. With marvellous manoeuvring the coxswain got the boat through the mass of floating wreckage, and at last the vessel was passed through, or over the bare stanchions on to the deck, picked up one of the sailors out of the water (injured by a fall from the rigging) and in a dazed half-drowned condition. Then, taking the remaining two men from the rigging, the lifeboat was pulled off by means of her own warp, and anchored, clear of the wreck.

The lifeboat then made for home, landing at the Quay at 9 p.m., with the three men they had saved. The injured man was carried to a house nearby where he was kindly received, and it was well into the new morning when we got the poor injured man in low condition and to bed.

The lifeboat in doing this fine service had 2 oars broken, her rudder smashed, and two large holes torn in her sides. The Institution replaced the damaged boat with a new one, which remained with us until the Branch was supplied with the beautiful motor lifeboat, which it now possesses.

MARKETING EGGS Three Important Points If eggs are to be marketed correctly, the following points should be kept in mind:-

1. Keep a good depth of clean litter on the floor, and keep the nest boxes clean, and they will be few soiled eggs; if any are soiled, clean them immediately with a damp cloth and a little salt. 2. When taking them a distance to market, pack them carefully in layers with hay or straw between. The number of eggs that are cracked and broken, because of carelessness in this matter is very large. 3. If the weather is wet, cover the egg basket or box, otherwise the eggs will be stained by the damp packing material, and such stains are most unsightly and hard to remove.

Sell the Fresh Eggs It does not matter how the price is going, eggs will not keep. Stale eggs are every year a source of great loss to this country. If every poultry-keeper would at mid-April kill, or remove from the flock, all male birds, there would be few bad eggs in the months mentioned. There might be stale eggs, but this could also be prevented if eggs were collected frequently in warm weather and broody hens removed from the nests.

HONOURING DEISE IRISH SCHOLARS It is understood that at an early date suitable monuments will be erected at Rathgormack and Killyrossanty to the memory of John Flemming and Robert Weldon, two outstanding Gaelic Scholars of the Deise. John Flemming was born in Clonea parish in 1814. He was principal teacher at Rathgormack National School until he went to Dublin in 1882 to edit the "Gaelic Journal." He was Editor of the "Journal" until he died in 1896 in Dublin.

Robert Weldon was born in Killyrossanty parish, Co. Waterford, about 60 years ago. He died in 1913. His Irish poems were collected by the late Lord Abbot of Mount Mellerey (his neighbour) and were published by the Talbot Press, Dublin, a few years ago.

Robert Weldon composed and delivered the Oireachtas Ode in Dublin on two occasions. A daughter of his Mr. Harris, lives at Cragg near Carrick-on-Suir. Two grandsons of the late John Flemming are Mr. John Flemming, Commercial agent, Carrickbeg and Mr. Walter Flemming, Manager of Messrs. Morris, Ltd., The Manor, Waterford.

Mr. Thomas Flemming, Dental Surgeon, Dungarvan, is a great-grandson of the Irish Scholar John Flemming.

LISMORE NOTES

Death of Mr. James Curtin, New Street— The death of Mr. James Curtin, Lismore, has occasioned feelings of deep regret throughout the entire district.

Deceased was a general favourite with both young and old and his death has created a void in the district which will not easily be replaced.

The late Mr. Curtin, worked at the Munster and Leinster Bank, Lismore, for 48 years where he was held in the highest esteem by his superiors. His death at a comparatively early age came as a shock to his many friends, and to his relatives the deepest sympathy of all sections will go forth.

The remains were taken from his late residence to St. Carthage's Cathedral, Lismore, on Tuesday evening and were followed by a large and representative cortege.

The funeral took place to the New Council cemetery where the interment took place before a large assembly of relatives and friends.

Rev. T. Murphy, C.C., Lismore, read the final prayers at the graveside. The chief mourners were:- Mrs. J. Curtin (widow); Patrick Curtin (son); Kitty, Grace and Mary Curtin (daughters); Alice Heffernan (sister); Madge Heffernan, Mrs. Long, Baldonnell (nieces); David, John and William Heffernan (nephews); William Heffernan (brother-in-law); Mr. John Hickey, Michael Hickey, Patrick Hickey, Timothy Hickey, James Hickey, Mary Curtin, Cork, M. Lane, do.; Mrs. Keane, do.; Miss Keane, do.; Thomas Kelleher, (cousins and relatives).

G. A. A.—Junior Hurling Championships— Lismore 3-3; Knockanore, 2-2. Lismore met Knockanore at Tallo on Sunday last in the second round of the Junior Hurling Championship and after a game productive of many thrills ran out winners on the above score.

Lismore played against the wind in the first half and opened the scoring with a goal per Ryan. A few minutes later McGrath replied with a similar score to even up matters. Play now veered to the other end, where Lismore added a goal and two points per O'Neill, Healy and Ormonde.

At half-time the score stood—Lismore 2-2; Knockanore 1-0. On the resumption with Knockanore setting the pace, it was apparent that Lismore's supremacy was being set a severe challenge. Fahy for Knockanore sent down a long drive from midfield and Landers got possession to score a goal.

Play now developed into a tense struggle, with dash and determination and some fine flashes of hurling to rouse plenty of enthusiasm. Donohue, Healy and Ryan were prominent for Lismore, but Fahy, Revinns and Landers proved an equal match. The Lismore backs were tested time and again but led by the old-timer Marsh Ryan, they warred off some terrible onslaughts. Towards the closing stages the game underwent a definite turn in favour of Lismore, their staying power in a deciding factor.

Mr. J. Mason, Cappoquin, refereed.

Death in New York— His many friends in Lismore will be sorry to learn of the death of Mr. Henry O'Gorman, New York, which sad event occurred recently. He was son of Mr. Patrick O'Gorman, Merchant, Main St., Lismore, and brother of Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, son, to whom the sympathy of the general public has gone forth in their sad bereavement.

Vote of Sympathy— At a specially convened meeting of the Lismore Coursing Club, a vote of sympathy was passed to Mr. J. W. O'Gorman, son, their President, on the recent death of his brother in New York.

Boy Scouts— Vacation time is at hand. The golden setting of the evening sun sends forth its invitation to enjoy its splendour by the seashore.

The Lismore Boy Scouts are due to leave for Youghal on July 30th on their annual Camping Holiday. A special meeting has been convened for July 27th to complete arrangements and a full attendance is expected.

MONEY-SAVING FIREPLACE REPAIRS Any woman can permanently repair a fireplace simply, cleanly and cheaply with Pyruma. It is as easy to apply with a kitchen knife as putty, but it comes ready for application—no messy mixing. Pyruma does not crack or crumble away like fireclay. It grips the firebrick, sets to rock-like hardness and resists intense heat. Result—the unsightly, wasteful, dangerous fireplace has gone; more heat radiated into the room and less fuel consumed. And if you do not use the whole tin, Pyruma will keep for another day and fireplace. In tins: 1 lb., 6d.; 2 lb., 1/-; 3 lb., 1/6; 4 lb., 2/-.

Drop into Harpur Brod., Quay, Waterford, or write for a tin of Pyruma.

Second-hand Cars.

Many people do actually price Second-hand Cars without seeing or testing them—in all cases giving wrong prices for them.

Sometimes a "buyer" will express considerable surprise at the thorough examination and test I give his car before quoting on it; but some day he will think better of me, and incidentally make a mental note that a USED CAR bought from me will be a good specimen.

- (b) Any exemption under this Article may at any time be withdrawn by the Local Authority or their Veterinary Inspectors.
- (c) Applications for such exemption should be addressed to the Local Authority's Veterinary Inspector for the District and must be made on or before the first day of August.

INCH NOTES

Cork next Sunday Week—
Cork will be the Mecca of thousands of Southern Gaels on Sunday week, when Waterford and Clare and the Minor teams of Cork and Kerry will try conclusions in their respective hurling ties in the Munster Championship. Those who saw the sensational victory of Waterford over Cork in Dungarvan, have little doubt of the ability of their neighbours to give the representatives of the Banner County a similar beating. Still in hurling nothing can be taken for granted, and there is no use in denying the fact that Clare have a lot of skilful scientific hurlers who have little to learn where the technique of the game is concerned, and who can match Waterford in speed and endurance. In spite of their crushing defeat of Limerick a few weeks previously, Cork never looked a championship team in Dungarvan, and though hurling has struck a lull period where Senior Clubs are concerned in the Rebel County, still I cannot believe that this was the best team Cork could have put on the field. Some of the players undoubtedly gave a good display, but others—men in key positions too, played in every half-hearted fashion. Waterford were streets a better team and their hurricane methods had a devastating effect on the Cork backs. It is interesting to speculate as to those tactics, will they be equally successful against Clare. In any case Waterford have a tremendous asset in their boundless enthusiasm, that alone will carry them a long way, and if luck is not dead against them, their match with Clare should advance them another stage on the rocky road to Dublin.

Minor Hurling Final—
Now that the Senior team has gone under the hopes of the Gaels of Cork are centred in their minors, and here at any rate, it looks as if their confidence will not be misplaced. The hurling of these boys in Dungarvan was a treat to watch. Their ball control was perfect and their combination seemed the forwards hardly put a ball over the end lines. All their energies were directed towards score-getting, and no man took a chance that could be better handled by his neighbour. If they play in like manner on Sunday week they will have nothing to worry about at the end of the match. In the Kerry men, they will, of course, have a different type of opponent. Men not as skilful perhaps in the finer points of the game as Tipperary, but whose deficiency in this respect is amply made up for by their more hustling, daring and determined methods. They will go all out to break up the Cork combination, and should they succeed the winning of the match would be an easy matter. I am convinced, however, that they will fail in their objective. The Cork lads have brawn as well as brains, as they proved in Dungarvan, and they can adapt themselves to any conditions that way arise. It is to be hoped that the Clerk of the weather will be in a more amiable mood than he was on the occasion of the Semi-Final. Should the day be dry there will be a record crowd in the Cork Athletic grounds next Sunday week.

Obituary—
The obituary list in the Inch Church, on Sunday, contained the names of some old natives of the parish who had died recently in foreign lands. One of these was Mrs. Elizabeth Terry, who was formerly Miss Elizabeth O'Callaghan of Park Mountain in this district. She left Ireland for the U.S.A. while still very young, and having spent some years in Boston, she married Mr. Terry, who belonged to a well-known East Cork family. After his death—which occurred some considerable time ago, she visited Ireland, but subsequently went back to Boston where she settled down with her family and remained until her death. She was a devout and exemplary Catholic and died happily fortified by the rites of Holy Church, and surrounded by her children and friends. To her sister Miss Ellie O'Callaghan and other relatives, we offer our sympathy in their bereavement.

Ramour Has Fe—
That Mr. P. J. O'Brien, the well-known Auctioneer, has lately sold by Private Treaty, a very well known fully licensed house in this district, and that the purchaser hails from West Cork. This announcement may be premature, but at any rate it is public property, and has been so for the past week. Mr. O'Brien has conducted many sales in this district, and is a most versatile gentleman. He holds a very facile pen, and is a keen historical student, as must be inferred by everybody who has read his well-written and informative articles in the "Dungarvan Observer," and other papers. Although he comes from the West himself, he knows more of the history of East Cork than many of the people who were born and lived their lives there. Some time ago he wrote of the trout-fishing to be had in the river Turig which flows through the fertile and picturesque Lough valley. He wrote glowingly of the pools and currents in which fish abounded. The result was that in a few days every angler from Monaree to Midleton was on the river banks enthusiastically whipping the stream. The weather was had however, and the trout for the most part were invisible, and the anglers went home with heavy hearts, but light baskets. A few days later one of the disappointed ones angrily accosted P. J. and asked what he meant by his talk about fishing on the Turig. "I was there for hours," said he, "and I didn't get a bite." "Perhaps the day was hazy," suggested P. J. blandly. "Not at all," retorted the irate disciple of Walton, "it was an ideal day." "Very strange," murmured P. J., then after an instant's thought he asked innocently: "By the way, what day was it?" "It was last Wednesday," said the angler, and I was there at two o'clock and remained on until five and didn't get a decent trout."

"Yerra, I have it," his face clearing instantly. "I knew there was something wrong. Sure didn't you know that Wednesday is their half-holiday and that they never rise at all on that afternoon."

After Forty Years—
Mr. John Savage of Western Australia, who left this parish forty years ago has come back on a well-earned holiday to the land of his birth, and the home of his childhood at Knockagappah. He looks well and hearty and has many interesting anecdotes to tell of that far away "Land of the Sun." Mr. Savage says the old country has improved wonderfully since his time, and the greatest improvement of all is in the houses and homes of the people.

Fianna Fail Victory Celebration—
The local Fianna Fail clubs are having a Victory Parade in Killeagh next Sunday evening at which Messrs. Morrissey and Little T.D.'s are to be present. A meeting will be held subsequently, and on Sunday night a dance under the auspices of the Organisation will be held in the Bohemian Hall, which has been specially hired for the occasion.

TALLOW DISTRICT COURT.

Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, D.J.
Guard Lennon, Ballyvoge, had a number of persons summoned for using unlighted bicycles—on at 1.10 a.m.—and fines up to 3/6 were imposed. Superintendent Higgins, Fermoy, charged Michael Fitzgerald, Conna, with the larceny by finding, of cigarettes, value 4/6. The accused was also charged with being in possession of the property. Sgt. T. Houlahan, Ballyvoge, said the Superintendent was unable to attend Court that day and he applied to have the case adjourned to the September Court. The Justice, granting the application, said he would hold court at Fallow in August, as he would be doing duty for District Justice Troy in Tipperary. There were a number of cases called, in which the litigants did not appear, and they were also adjourned to September.

D. J. AND DANCE HALLS

At Carrick-on-Suir District Court this week, Mr. McCabe, D.J., said when the annual applications for dance hall licence renewals will come before him in September, he will be required to be satisfied in each case that the owners of the halls have made them comfortable and healthy. The owners of these halls should spend some of the profits they have been making on seeing that their patrons dance in comfortable and healthy surroundings. Those who are competent to do so to look after the morals of the dance halls. He will exercise his authority in seeing that halls are healthy and comfortable.

HINTS ON HOUSEHOLD MANAGEMENT

Skirt Hems
Skirt hems so easily come undone if you catch your heel in them. When you are sewing them up its worth while doing a back stitch every now and then, and you will find that they will not rip so easily.

Leather Gloves
If your leather gloves are becoming shabby and you cannot afford new ones, you can improve their looks quite considerably by stitching some contrasting coloured silk or cotton along the seams of the fingers, and around the wrist edges.

Flannel
Don't forget if you are making a flannel skirt or dress or any other garment that flannel is a material which shrinks very easily—shops will tell you it has already been shrunk, but its wise to make sure for yourself by soaking it in boiling water until the water is quite cold. You can safely use it when its dry, without any fear of further shrinking.

Rubber Caps and Shoes
If your last year's bathing cap and rubber shoes have perished as rubber so often does, try soaking them in warm water and a little Scrubb's Ammonia—you will find that they will become quite soft again.—R.H.H.

EXPORT BOUNTIES

Estimated to Cost £225,000 This Year
Export bounties and subsidies will this year cost £225,000 in Eire, according to an estimate published by the Department of Finance. This shows a decrease of £147,010 on the sum estimated for the financial year 1937-38. Bounties and subsidies on exports of industrial products have been reduced from £69,000 to £25,000; on dairy produce from £629,210 to £360,000; on pigs and pig products from £100,000 to £100,000; on eggs and poultry from £650,000 to £283,000; on potatoes and other agricultural products, and expenditure on trial consignments to external markets, from £117,800 to £19,000; and on fat cattle from £37,000 to £15,000. The export bounty on calf skins, last year estimated at £80,000, has been abolished altogether.

ESTIMATE FOR ARMY PENSIONS

On the debate on the estimates for Army Pensions in the Dail last Thursday, Mr. Morrissey, T.D., in the course of a powerful and well-reasoned speech said:

There is no doubt that a good deal of dissatisfaction exists throughout the country with reference to the slowness of the Department of Defence in dealing with applications under the 1924 Act. There are a few points that I want to raise. One has been stressed by Deputy Norton—that is the delay in dealing with claims. That is one of the principal grievances we have throughout the country. I suggest to the Minister that for four years he should seriously consider changing the methods that he is adopting in administering the Act. I was wondering if it had been suggested to the Minister before, or if it ever occurred to him, to send the Military Service Pensions Board on circuit down the country into the different Brigade areas and set up the Board in sections and send these sections on circuit throughout the provinces. I am sure it would take only a short time to deal with all the applications in these Brigade areas. Failing that, the Minister might consider some other method of speeding up the process of applications. There is one type of applicant who at the moment is very uneasy as to what is to become of him under the Military Service Pensions Act of 1924. I understand that the Military Service Pensions Board are dealing only with applicants who have qualified service or who in other words took part in major engagements prior to the truce such as a barrack attack, an ambush or something of that kind which could be considered a major engagement. The company man in country areas who had very good service, who was carrying despatches or barricading roads by day, and who, at night, was protecting active service units and laying land mines or engaging in other activities which the local units were called upon to perform, is in a very uncertain position. I should like the Minister to make some statement as to whether the services given by men like these are going to find recognition under the 1924 Act. At the moment I believe such cases are not being dealt with and I should be glad if the Minister would make a statement on that point. If the present Act does not permit the Minister to deal with those cases, I would suggest that he should introduce an amending Act which would enable him to do so. I know what those men suffered during the struggle even though they were not actually members of flying columns or did not take part in major engagements. They helped very considerably in bringing about the position which we enjoy today, and I think it would be unfair if their services were not recognised under the Act. I understand, of course, that active service has not been fully defined by the Minister or the Military Service Pensions Board. Perhaps, by broadening the definition of active service, the applications of these men could be considered. I should like the Minister to make some pronouncement on that particular point.

There are also a number of cases in which no decision has so far been given, and I would ask the Minister to take steps to speed up a decision in those cases and to let the applicants know whether they are entitled to an award or whether their cases will come up at a later date, and that they will then be entitled to an award. The present position is very unsatisfactory and a source of uneasiness to such applicants. They believe themselves, and I believe too, that the majority of them are entitled to pensions. Still, after four years, they cannot get anything definite from the Department to show where they stand. I should also like to refer to the position of men who were in the I.R.A. prior to the truce and who took part in no major engagements, and, further, to the case of men who joined the I.R.A. at the truce or at the commencement of the civil war, and I think as the 1924 Act stands at present they are not entitled to recognition. I think that is unjust. I would suggest to the Minister that something should be done to amend the Act so that the claims of those men could be considered. A number of them had very good active service during the civil war and the least that should be done is to recognise that service under the Act.

Another point on which I would like to have some information from the Minister has reference to the attitude of the Military Service Pensions Board in asking Brigade Committees throughout the country to segregate the men who are entitled to pensions from the men who are not. I think it should not be the duty of Brigade Committee's down the country, who have done a good deal by way of compiling records of the applicants, to decide on that matter. I think the responsibility should not be placed upon them of asking them to state who is entitled to a pension and who is not. I am referring to the A and B lists sent out by the Board. In my opinion, no Brigade Committee should be asked to state what applicant is entitled to a pension and what applicant is not. That is a matter for the Board and the Board only. Each applicant, I hold, should be entitled to give his evidence and it is then a matter for the Board to decide whether he is entitled to a pension. Finally, I should like to ask the Minister, if he can see his way to do so, to increase the allowance given to relatives of the Volunteers who lost their lives from 1918 to 1923. A number of those have been dealt with under the 1924 Act, but the sums awarded have been very small and entirely inadequate. I would urge the Minister to provide larger allowances in these cases and I should be glad if in his reply, he would give some definite information on the other points I have raised.

UNINSURED MOTOR CAR

"The Most Serious Offence that can come before a District Court."

At Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday, Mr. McCabe, D.J., fined Robert Blackmore, a young farmer's son from Kilmannah, Co. Kilkenny £3 for driving a motor car that was not insured.

The Justice also made an order that the defendant is not to be given a driver's license for the next six months.

The defence was that two boys bought the car for £5 and asked the defendant to look at it and test it uphill.

The Justice said he had at first decided to send defendant to goal. He regards driving uninsured cars as the most serious offence that could come before a District Court.

It would be a nice state of affairs said the Justice, if the defendant, who has no means, killed the bread-winner of some poor family that would be left destitute.

Fattening Worms instead of PIGS?
St. M. J. (Quay), Longbarsry, Eastbourne, writes: "I had 13 pigs, and although I gave them the best food, they only weighed 70 lbs. each at the end of 10 weeks. I then bought a barrel of Fattening Worms and gave them a couple of doses of Fattening Worms and they all passed worms. Immediately there was an improvement in their appearance, and after a few more doses of Fattening Worms all the pigs were in second condition. Mr. Brooke W. Brazier, thanking the Council for their control of the Black Duke of Devonshire. He had ed up the matter and their tion at all, but the Duke hrol from the period his ancestor of Cork acquired those rights on his co-operation with all that would secure freedom for men of Youghal and the naturally as all such forms of remedy were being abolished was comparatively simple pared with problems that solved.

Similar letter was read J. Brodrick, T.D. Any done in the interests of those men, whether outside Dail, had been to him a la He could assure the Council would leave nothing undone to do his bit to bring to the Youghal that freedom to own waters which they so justly should have.

Mr. Power—The country not the Blackwater. That too with the help of God.

Mandamus Threat
The following letter was to Young Goggin, Friar Street, that plan for the reconstruction premises for consideration of the Council instead of plan to the Town Surveyor in the usual way acted in corrupt and illegal manner to consider the plan.
It seems a member of the his position as a public further his personal hostility by proposing that the plan dered and making a scurrile him, and it is a striking of the lack of a sense of public majority of the Council reported the said Councillor's If the Council persist in dalous and illegal attitude, strictures to institute High ceedings for an Order of directed to the Council to observe their bye-laws in quation and to pay the costs.

Proceedings will be comm my client's application for rebuild his premises is duly the Council at their meeting inst., and granted if it com bye-laws.
My client, instructed by me to further instructs me to file at this exaration matter for Royal Government—Yours faithfully J. N. R.

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

Present—Messrs. M. D. Brodrick, Chairman, R. Power, J. Daly, B.E., P. J. O'Gorman, P.C.; M. Ahern, E. D. Gannon, E. P. Lynch.

Rents of Houses. The Clerk said that he estimated the economic rent of the new scheme of houses at 3/11 per week, which it was evident the proposed tenants could not pay. He suggested a 3/6 rent for the 3-roomed and 2/9 for the 4-roomed houses, leaving a loss of 2/7 in the former and 2/10 in the latter.

Mr. Power said if they fixed the rent at 2/6, they would be paid, but not at 3/6. The Chairman disagreed. They would pay when they had work.

Mr. Power—When the cows come home. Reply to Mr. Daly, the Clerk said the houses were finished and ready for occupation.

Mr. O'Gorman thought it would be cheaper to give them the houses free. Mr. Power—If they are evicted they will have to be supported out of the rates.

Mr. O'Gorman proposed, and Mr. Ahern seconded rents of 3/6 and 4/-.

Mr. Power said he would give notice that they reduce the 3/6 rent to 2/6. The Chairman said that could not be accepted till the lapse of 6 months.

Mr. Lynch said it could be applied to the new houses. Mr. Power proposed 2/6 for the 3-roomed and 3/6 for the 4-roomed houses.

The Clerk said in submitting the rate estimate he allowed for a certain revenue from the houses. He was asked by the Department to calculate an economic rent.

He was instructed to send it to the Department. Stone-Throwing at Workman. Three young fellows from Cork Lane, charged with throwing stones at a Council workman, appeared before the meeting and denied the charge.

It was decided to take no further action, but the Chairman gave a stern warning that in any future complaints which would be substantiated, the Council would prosecute and ask for severe penalties.

The Sea Wall. Mr. Ahern informed the meeting that work on the Sea Wall would cease next week as all the grant was exhausted. He suggested they ask for an additional grant to complete the work.

This was unanimously agreed to. Acknowledgment. Mrs. Julia Walsh, St. Mary's Road, Midleton, wrote thanking the Council for their kind resolution of sympathy on the death of her son.

Thanks to G.S.R. The Clerk was directed to convey through Mr. Lincan, Station Master, Youghal, their thanks to the G.S.R. for altering the time of departure of the morning train from 8.5 to 8 o'clock to facilitate visitors and others returning to the city.

The Blackwater. Mr. Brooke W. Brazier, T.D., wrote thanking the Council for their resolution re the control of the Blackwater by the Duke of Devonshire. He had since looked up the matter and there was no question at all, but the Duke held that control from the period his ancestor, the Earl of Cork acquired these estates from Sir Walter Raleigh. The Council might rely on his co-operation with any movement that would secure freedom for the fishermen of Youghal and the district, particularly as all such forms of feudal superannuity were being abolished, and that was comparatively simple matter compared with problems that had been solved.

A similar letter was read from Mr. W. J. Brodrick, T.D. Anything he had done in the interests of those most deserving men, whether outside or inside the Dail, had been to him a labour of love. He could assure the Council that he would have nothing undone from now on to do his bit to bring to the fishermen of Youghal that freedom to fish in their own waters which they so desired and in justice should have.

Mr. Power—The country is free, but not the Blackwater. That must be freed too with the help of God. Mandamus Threatened. The following letter was read:—

Youghal, 9/7/38. Dear Sir—I am instructed by Mr. J. Grogan, Friar Street, that he lodged a plan for the reconstruction of his shop premises for consideration of the Council. The Council instead of referring the plan to the Town Surveyor for approval in the usual way acted in a disgraceful, corrupt and illegal manner by refusing to consider the plan.

It seems a member of the Council used his position as a public representative to further his personal hostility to my client by proposing that the plan be not considered and making a scurrilous attack on him, and it is a striking commentary on the lack of a sense of public duty of a majority of the Council that they supported the said Councillor's action.

If the Council persist in their scandalous and illegal attitude, I have instructions to institute High Court proceedings for an Order of Mandamus directed to the Council to compel them to oblige their bye-laws in the matter in question and to pay the cost of such proceedings.

Proceedings will be commenced unless my client's application for permission to rebuild his premises is duly considered by the Council at their meeting on the 14th inst., and granted if it complies with the bye-laws.

My client, actuated by a sense of civic duty, further instructs me to report the facts of this scandalous affair to the Minister for Local Government and this I am doing—Yours faithfully, J. N. R. Macnamara.

Mr. Power—I suggest he take it to the House of Lords (laughter).

Mr. Lynch—If anyone is scurrilous, he is. The Chairman said he had that letter sent to their solicitors.

Messrs. Hodnett, solicitors, to the Council, wrote:—When notice, plan, etc., of any work within the purview of the bye-laws was delivered to the Council, they should, within a month, signify their approval or disapproval to the person proposing to execute the work (Public Health (Ireland) Act 1878 Section 42). This Section is mandatory. The only ground upon which the Council would be entitled to disapprove is that the proposed work would be in contravention of one or more of their bye-laws. Having quoted cases in point, the letter went on:

From the above it will be clear that in passing the resolution refusing to consider Mr. Grogan's plan, the Council have acted irregularly and illegally. Luckily, there is still time for the Council, if they are so minded to set their house in order and avoid the serious consequences of their illegal action. Within what remains of the statutory period mentioned, there should be sufficient time for a reconsideration of the resolution referred to. We advise, therefore, that the usual notice to rescind be given by some member at to-night's meeting and that the resolution be rescinded by the requisite statutory majority on the 26th. Further, we advise that, in the meantime, the plans be submitted to the Town Surveyor for his report as to whether or not the proposed additions will comply with the bye-laws. (In the emergency in which the Council finds itself, we do not consider it necessary from the legal point of view, that there should be any formal resolution to refer the plans to the Town Surveyor). If the latter's report is available for the 28th., the Council can then proceed to approve or disapprove of the plans in accordance with the report of the Town Surveyor, and you, as Town Clerk, should then immediately notify Mr. Grogan of the result.

Some little time ago, in advising on another matter, we had occasion to say that the Council, in the exercise of their statutory powers and functions, were not concerned with questions of private rights or wrongs. The matter now in hand illustrates the danger of disregarding that advice.

Mr. O'Gorman said in view of those letters, and of the fact that he opposed the resolution on last night as being illegal, he would hand in notice of motion that the resolution be rescinded.

Mr. Lynch—Take me as dissolving. Mr. Power asked where was the security. He would not withdraw or apologise for anything he said.

Fishery Rents. The Clerk said he had received a letter from the Lismore Estates Company stating that they were considering the matter of the Council's resolution re remission of fishing rents.

Shops Act Inspector. On the proposition of Mr. O'Gorman, seconded by Mr. Power, Mr. J. Troy, Town Superintendent was appointed Inspector under the Shops Act at a salary of 1/7 per annum.

Claycastle Road. Mr. O'Gorman complained of the condition of the road from Claycastle to the Railway Bridge, which was pitted with dangerous potholes.

The Clerk was directed to ask the Co. Council to have it repaired. The Fair Field. A letter was read from the United Cattle Trade Association, complaining of the dangerous condition of the Fair Green owing to loose stones.

The Chairman—That bears out Mr. Power's frequent complaints. The Clerk said he had the matter already attended to.

Advertising the Fair. Mr. Daly suggested that they should advertise their fair. Other towns were doing so. The Clerk said he had arranged to have it done.

New Relief Works. On the proposition of Mr. O'Gorman, seconded by Mr. Ahern, the list of works to be carried out under the new Relief Scheme, as submitted by the Committee appointed with the Town Surveyor was unanimously adopted.

Sympathy. On the proposition of Mr. Daly, seconded by Mr. Lynch, a sincere vote of condolence was passed to the family and relatives of the late Capt. S. Lehane.

The Chairman, Mr. Power and other members and the Town Clerk joined in the proposition. Cycling on Promenade. The Chairman complained of the reprehensible practice of youngsters cycling on the promenade. As large numbers used the promenade during the season, he suggested that the attention of the Civic Guards be called to it.

This was agreed to. INCREASED POTATO YIELD. The experience of many years has conclusively proved that the loss caused by potato blight can be, to a great extent, prevented by spraying, and the operation now being carried out should be regarded as essential to the successful cultivation of the potato crop. The reports received by the Department of Agriculture from a large number of districts show that those who take the trouble to carry out the work properly are abundantly rewarded with an increased yield, while those who neglect to spray suffer heavy loss both in quantity and the quality of the crop. Now is the time to spray. Get in touch without delay for your spraying materials with Harper Bros., Quay, Waterford.

YOUGHAL LIFEBOAT DANCE AND PRESENTATIONS

A very successful dance under the auspices of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution was held at the Strand Palace, Youghal, 80 couples taking part. The dance was organised by the Committee of the Ladies Lifeboat Guild of which Mrs. J. Condon, Abbotstown Court, 22 President and Mrs. H. S. Roch, Woodbine Hill, Honorary Secretary.

The occasion was a most enjoyable one and great credit is due to the Ladies Lifeboat Guild for carrying through such a pleasurable function. It was also the occasion of the presentation of framed Lifeboat Certificates to ex-Coxswain J. Foley and ex-Second Coxswain D. Ellis, of the crew of the Youghal Lifeboat "Laura Sarah Blunt."

On the platform during the Presentation which was carried out by J. H. Long, Esq., former Mayor of Youghal, were Col. Roch, C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O., President and A. Nelson Cole, Esq., Ph.C., F.R.H.S., Hon Secretary.

At the conclusion of the dance, the President H. S. Roch, C.M.G., C.B.E., D.S.O., invited the company to join in what remains of the statutory period mentioned, there should be sufficient time for a reconsideration of the resolution referred to. We advise, therefore, that the usual notice to rescind be given by some member at to-night's meeting and that the resolution be rescinded by the requisite statutory majority on the 26th. Further, we advise that, in the meantime, the plans be submitted to the Town Surveyor for his report as to whether or not the proposed additions will comply with the bye-laws. Irish National Leaseholders' Organisation

MEETING OF CAPPOQUIN BRANCH. A meeting of the Cappoquin Branch of the Irish National Leaseholders' Organisation was held in the C.Y.M.S. Hall on Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. C. Kavanagh, president, and there was a good attendance of members. Mr. Owen Malholand, National Director, attended and said that the Very Rev. T. Fitzgerald, P.P., President of the Branch, had asked him to apologise for his unavoidable absence from the meeting owing to having a prior engagement, but he promised to give the movement his warmest support.

Mr. Mulholland then explained the main provisions of the new Leaseholders' Bill which would be introduced in the Dail on an early date by Dr. Joseph T. Hannigan, Independent, Dublin, City South, and who was glad to be able to say that they had already received promises of support for the Bill from many prominent members of the various parties in the Dail. It was proposed to wait on those members who had not yet promised their support, but he could say at this stage that the Leasing Party were mostly sympathetic towards the Bill.

He then read a letter from Mr. T. P. Dowdall, F.F., the Senior member for Cork City, promising his support, and said that owing to the strong position which Mr. Dowdall now occupied in the Government, it was a very hopeful augury to have him on their side at present.

Mr. Mulholland then said that a resolution should go forth from this Branch calling on the four Deputies for the Co. Waterford to also support the Bill, and on the motion of Mr. M. Mason, seconded by Mr. M. J. Ryan, a resolution to this effect was unanimously passed, and the Hon. Secretary was requested to have a copy of same sent to the four Deputies concerned.

Mr. M. J. Ryan said in addition to the resolution, he would personally see Mr. M. Morrissey, T.D., and enlist his support, and Miss B. Morrissey, Cappoquin, gave a similar undertaking with regard to Mrs. Redmond, T.D.

Mr. Mulholland said their Organisation was prepared to hand their Bill over to the Fianna Fail Party if they were prepared to introduce it as a Government Bill, as it was immaterial to the Leaseholders which Party brought in the Bill, so long as it became law and safeguarded the interests of the Leaseholders. He said that the Bill had been specially drafted so as to avoid any interference with National Revenue, derived from ground rents, hence the Bill did not affect the Department of Finance any more than any other Department of the Government. He then reminded them of the important National Convention to be held in Clonmel in September, and said it was essential that a strong delegation should be sent from every Branch in the country in order to show the Government the strength of the Leaseholders' Organisation, and he hoped Cappoquin would be well represented at this Convention.

The following members were then unanimously selected to represent the Cappoquin Branch at the Convention:—Messrs. P. Walsh, M. Mason, G. Russell, M. J. Ryan, J. P. Oiden and C. Kavanagh.

Mr. Mulholland said that Father Fitzgerald, President, and Mr. P. Mulcahy, Vice-President, had also promised to attend.

All those present were then appointed as members of the Committee of the Branch for the coming year, with the addition of Miss Murphy, Messrs. M. J. Sargent, W. J. McCarthy, J. J. Barron, J. Donovan and E. Dunne, and Mr. Mulholland addressed the necessity of having regular monthly meetings of the Committee so as to keep the Branch in a healthy and virile condition.

Subscriptions were then handed in by all present, and several matters of detail having been attended to by Mr. Mulholland for his instructive address concluded the proceedings.

CARRICK-ON-SUIR CARTERS FALL OUT

There was a good deal of local interest in a series of assault cases at Monday's District Court in Carrick-on-Suir, arising out of a falling out between two local families named Kearney and Halloran, who live by carting.

The Kearneys stated that the Hallorans prevented them from getting the carting of the gravel at the local house-building scheme on the grounds that the Kearneys were not members of a Union and that the Hallorans wanted the job for their own family.

Evidence was given by both sides of assault by kicking, and allegations were made of cut faces and bruises and that all the parties were unable to work for a week consequent upon the injuries.

The Justice adjourned the cases to the October Court, and said by then all the parties in the cases will have cooled down and got sense.

FIRST CASE UNDER NEW MILK SELLING LAWS

At Carrick-on-Suir District Court on Monday the local Urban Council were the plaintiffs in two cases in which Anastasia Butler and Margaret Dowley, Carrickbeg, were fined 5/- and costs each, for having sold new milk without having been registered as Licensed Milk Dealers.

THE O'DRISCOLLS OF CARBERY

There is a spot in Western Carbery that history well may pride, At the foot of fam'd Mount Gabriel by Atlantic's restless tide.

There the last glance of the exile as he wenders o'er the wave, Nestles long in silent anguish 'round the Castle of the brave.

Full oft I gazed with sorrow on the Castle by the sea, My memory wanders backwards the future's naught to me.

I fail to find that Castle but a dark and crumbling wall, The wild waves breaking round it the ivy for its pall.

The chivalrous chiefs of Erin from its banquet halls have flown, Like the waves at morn that kiss it but 'er eve are vanished gone.

A brighter dawn is breaking o'er the saintly Isle of kings, And the kindling fires of freedom o'er the land its radiance flings.

And the famous name O'Driscoll applauded yet shall be, When in triumph home he journey's to that Castle by the sea.

The home returning exile, then he'll spurn the ocean home, He'll long to see that country where he'll ne'er again shall roam.

A fervent prayer he'll utter when he'll view the green flag o'er, The Castletop O'Driscoll by the sea-kissed Baltimore.

The Castle of O'Driscoll at Baltimore, Co. Cork, was built during the early part of the 15th century. The O'Driscolls, who were a brave and warlike clan had a great reverence for religion and love of literature in early times, and the patriotic sentiments of its bears are not less warm.

The first member of the Clan who came from Spain in 1273, was Conroy oge O'Driscoll, a direct descendant of the 7th uncle of Melicuz, King of Spain, the O'Driscolls built several Castles along the coast from Baltimore to Galley Head. The writer had the pleasure of visiting Baltimore a few weeks ago, which is a place of great historic interest.
