KILCREA ABBEY AND DISTRICT

(Resting Place of Arthur O'Leary)

BY P. J. O'BRIEN

The Abbey of Killea, which lies about one mile south of the Cork-Macroom road, occupies a retreat and beautiful situation on a given bank above the river Bride, and at the extremity of a long valley, which stretches several miles to the west. The stream is crossed at a short distance from the river, by a unique and narrow bridge of several small arches in general where an Abbey rears its head. The village is not far distant. Here, there is only a small hamlet of two or four houses. The whole building is divided into two principal parts, the Convent and the Church. The latter, as do in general of our Irish structures of similar character, stands at the south side of the former. It is one hundred and fifty feet in length. In 1173, Thomas O'Herrilly Bishop of Ross was buried here. His successor, the other clergy interred were Phelim McCarthy. In 1507, Friar Limerthy O'Sullivan, a native of Teoraspigoda Inchagella, who it is stated in records, was a steadfast opponent of heresy and therefore obnoxious to persecution, was buried here. In the south east angle of the nave is a low altar tomb, covering the burial place of Arthur O'Leary, the "Outlaw," the inscription on it reads—"Lo" Arthur O'Leary, generous in this, handsome, brave, slain in his bloom, lies in this humble grave, died, May 4th 1773, aged 28 years.

Mr. O'Leary was a gentleman of considerable personal property, and was one of the leading members of the great O'Leary Sept of Iveleary, a district which lies between Macroom and Bantry. The O'Learys are mentioned in Harle's Irish Pedigrees as being directly descended from King Liragh, and whose ancestors were owners of the baronies of East and West Carbery up to the year 1184, when they took over the district or parish known as Iveleary. Roger O'Connor writing in the "Cork Southern Reporter, 1829" states that the O'Learys were a brave and warlike clan and had a great reverence for religion and love of literature, one hundred of whom fought with Arthur O'Leary in France and Australia, under Lord Clere. In 1773: The laws during this time not allowing Roman Catholics to hold real estates, Arthur O'Leary fell a victim to the atrocity of the Old Penal Enactments against the Catholics. (He had been an officer in the French and Austrian services, and was married to a daughter of D. O'Connell of Derrynane, grandfather to the Liberator). On his becoming resident in Ireland, his influence over the people of Iveleary and Macroom excited the jealousy of a Mr. Morris one of the local landed proprietors—A jealousy increased in consequence of one of his horses having won a race against a horse of Mr. Morris, this race took place near Farran—This led to a quarrel. Mr. Morris, probably a gentleman in other respects destined not to await himself of the aggressive weapons afforded him by the then existing laws against Catholics, and attended by a mob of ruffians, publicly claiming for O'Leary and after the race, the very horse which had won it—tendering to him at the same time, the price—£5 awarded for a spopist's horse. O'Leary refused compliance, and a scuffle ensued, saying he would surrender him only with his life. O'Leary made a timely retreat. A somewhat summary mode of proclaiming him an "outlaw," on the spot his majesterial authority, was instantly adopted, and soldiers were sent out to intercept him on his return to his residence at Raleigh, near Macroom. On the occasion of a visit by O'Leary to Carrigrohane, two men were placed in ambush close to the village, who on O'Leary's approach fired at him. The first shot was without effect, and O'Leary returned the fire from a loaded gun which he carried. Another from the soldiers had him dead on the spot. The penal laws followed him in death. It was prohibited then to bury within monastic grounds and O'Leary's body was interred in a field outside of Killea Abbey, where he lay for several years before it was removed into the old monastic church. It seems that Morris was tried in Cork for O'Leary's death but was acquitted. The relatives of deceased animated now by the wild justice of revenge watched their opportunity and on the 7th July 1773 the "Cork Remembrancer," records, "that three shots were fired at Morris at his lodgings in Mr. Boyce's house, Hammonds March (now Peter's Church Lane), of North Main Street by a brother of O'Leary's (Mr. Jeremiah O'Leary) who had been seen to advance deliberately up Peter's Church Lane, with a gun in his hand, Boyce's was the corner house, north side of Peter's Street, Morris was near the window and one of the shots contrary to the statement in the "Remembrancer," inflicted such a wound on his side, that he never left the house alive, O'Leary, the brother, escaped after this act and travelled on board a trading ship from Youghal harbour to America, and settled down in Brooklyn, New York, and died on the 15th March, 1839. He had two sons and one daughter, the sons were officers in the famous 69th Regiment and took an active part in the American civil war 1861 to 1865.

THEIRSHERS SUMMONED. Summoners in County Lonsford were summoned for thrashing within 30 feet of the centre of the road. The Justice said that having regard to the lack of traffic in the particular district it was not a serious offence and he would leave the case open for consideration.

Trent, he was declared a rebel, and retired to Carbery, from which he was shortly afterwards driven. Betrayed by a renegade named O'Sullivan, he was imprisoned in Dublin Castle, whence he was transferred to the Tower and confined in one of its gloomiest dungeons for three and a half years. After some attempts to liberate him had failed, he was at length set at liberty and was about to visit Belgium when he was seized with illness. He had himself immediately conveyed to Ireland; that he might die in the "Island of Saints." On landing he was made prisoner, and confined in the Castle, until an Order was issued for his release. He then returned to Macroom Castle, the residence of his friend, McCarthy More, whose hospitality he enjoyed for a brief period. Bishop O'Hurley now took a small farm near Inchagella where he led a life of sanctity and retirement, revered by the inhabitants of the district. He died in 1579, and was buried as I said at Killea. Killea, now a bare inhospitable ruin meets the eye of the wayfarer, while in place of friendly welcome, he hears the wind moaning drearily through it; crumbling cloisters, as chanting a dirge for the past and wailing for the happy time that shall return no more. Life and thought have departed from it, giving place to ruin and death-grim tenants who have taken a lease of it forever. The Friary was plundered by the soldiers of the Catholic Tyranny in 1641 shortly after which it was repaired. In 1614, the Lord Deputy Chichester entrusted the care of the monastery to Charles McDermot McCarthy More: The first Lord Muskerry, a protestant on condition, that he should not allow Friars to dwell in it and that the lands should be let to none but English Protestants. These conditions he seems not to have fulfilled, as the Friars were not expelled until after the war of 1614, when Cromwell granted the lands to Lord Broghill. They again reverted to the Cloncarthy family, but on the attainder of O'Connell the third Earl they came into the possession of Captain Hedges of Macroom Castle, agent to the Hallow Sword Blade Company of London. They ultimately came into the possession of the Ryes of Ryeourt near Crookstown, and are now owned by the Rye tenants, and the Irish Land Commission while the former owners possess only part of the demesne lands. A few hundred yards west of the Friary stands the castle of Killea, once the protection of the former. It was built by Cormac, Lord of Muskerry, the founder of the Abbey. It is situated nearly in the centre of the valley within a short distance of the river Bride and was a pile of considerable extent although inferior in importance and size to that of Blarney. Its site is enclosed by a narrow ditch filled with water. The castle itself is a square tower seventy feet high. This castle was inhabited up to a few years ago by the Barrett's of Carriganass west of Keilmoneigh who were not relatives to the original proprietors. Since then it has been the seat of a mercenary spirit under the form of a black crew and a white hare, the latter had been hunted by greyhounds from Terleton to Killea and succeeded in escaping and found refuge within the walls of the castle. About two miles to the west of Killea the wooded grounds of Ryeourt occupy a large portion of the territory of the valley, and a mile still further west the towers of Castleter, built on a slightly elevated limestone rock break the monotony of the general scenery of the beautiful vale. It was built by one of the McSweeney's, the head of a great midland clan fanatories of the Lords of Muskerry who passed a considerable tract stretching north and south of the river Sullane which joined the lands owned by the O'Leary Sept of Iveleary. Many direct descendants of the heads of the McSweeney clan are still residing in Mid-Cork; viz—Coola, Ballyvourney, Crookstown, Macroom and Cork city. The Castle subsequently passed to a branch of the McCarthy family, and was fortified in the great rebellion by Phelim, the son of Owen McCarthy. Further to the west, but a little aside from the present high road, lies the village of Crookstown. The river Bride passes beside it, and about a mile further on based on a grim slope stands the Castle of Leughadaw. It is a solid heap about forty feet high, having a projecting battlement at the south side. The McSweeneys were also the proprietors of this Castle as well as of two others in the neighbourhood, viz—Mushanagias and Caslean Diarmid Oge. The Diarmid Oge was a McCarthy and its founder's name afterwards got into the hands of the McSweeney's. Smith in his history of Cork, states that on the high road at Dumisky, near this latter structure, the McSweeney's, who were famous for their hospitality, had set up a stone with an Irish inscription, signifying to all passers-by, to repair to the Castle of Mr. Edward McSweeney for entertainment. A descendant of this family resided in Killeagah parish and whose early demise took place a few years ago, occasioned widespread regret throughout Mid-Cork, there is also a member of his family residing in Youghal. An extremely popular young sportsman and sportsman in the language movement and every organization which tended to secure the sovereign independence of Ireland. An incident dealing with the history of Blarney Castle and the origin of the famous Blarney Stone will appear in our columns in a future date.

LISMORE NOTES

LISMORE COURSING CLUB.

Byes Cup. The running of the Byes Cup will be held in the Tallow enclosure on Sunday December 11th. The Draw will be held at Feeney's Garage, Lismore, on Tuesday night December 6th at 9 p.m. The holder of the cup is Michael Byrne, Round Hill, Lismore, who won with Blue Bell, in the same enclosure last week.

Fierce Storm

In common with most parts of Ireland, Lismore received its due share of the fierce rain storm which started after midnight on Tuesday week. A howling southeasterly gale of almost hurricane force, accompanied by a blinding downpour of rain which lasted until 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning caused damage to several Wireless sets in the town. Slates and tiles were blown off several houses by the force of the gale, while heavy limbs wrenched off many trees in the district did much damage to property. The town in general looked dreary on Wednesday morning when residents awoke to see the streets covered with relics of the damage.

End of the Beet Season

The end of the Beet season is now approaching in this district and it is expected that the last consignments for Malin will leave before the 20th of December. Owing to the almost continuous wet weather which prevailed during the lifting of the crop, many farmers are complaining that they had to pay carriage to the Railway Company for tons of mud which was adhering to the roots, and for this reason they say that they will be deprived of much of the profit which they would otherwise have reaped from their Jabours.

For weeks past unusually heavy consignments have been sent from Lismore by rail, and the manner in which the work was carried out by Mr. D. Colbert and his staff reflects great credit on all concerned.

At the home venue on Thursday, Lismore C. B. Schools defeated St. Augustine's, Dungarvan in the first round of the Dean Ryan Cup. The game itself was a thriller in spots, and the large contingent of Youghal enthusiasts present were given a fine exhibition of the code. The first half opened with Lismore on the offensive and twelve minutes had elapsed before Lismore opened the scoring with a goal per Foley. St. Augustine's responded with two minutes in quick succession per Dwyer. Play was becoming hot and furious, Joe Duggan in the field being quite in evidence. Lismore were on the offensive again and Foley found the net. Madden for St. Augustine's shot a beauty point on the next exchange which Dwyer supplemented by raising another minor which left the score at half-time, Lismore, 2-0; St. Augustine's, 1-1. The opening of the second half saw both teams striving to make a lead but so even was the play that only one goal was scored in this half which went to Lismore's register.

Advice To Farmers

It will be noticed from our Advertising columns that the Agricultural Credit Corporation is offering Loans to Farmers at an interest rate of five per cent. This interest rate may be regarded as reasonably low, but should the general interest rate in the Financial World increase, for any reason it may be that the Corporation would have to raise its rate. As there is some evidence that interest rates generally are rising owing to the demand for money for industrial and other purposes and Farmers would be well advised to raise their Working Capital at the present rate of five per cent, while they can get it. The rate of interest fixed at the outset for any loan made by the Corporation cannot be raised in respect of that Loan. The Corporation Loans are Contract Loans, and a farmer who borrows from the Corporation knows exactly what he will have to pay while any portion of the Loan is outstanding.

STOCK LOANS.

The Corporation allows a period of seven years for the payment of Loans made for the purchase of Livestock. This should enable farmers whose farms are fully stocked to complete the stocking of their lands and thus that agricultural prices have improved it should pay such a Farmer to borrow money for the purpose.

BUILDING LOANS

The Corporation recently extended the period for payment of Loans made for permanent Farm Buildings of the approved workmanship and design to 10 years. This makes the half-yearly instalments on such loans reasonably small, and the decision of the Corporation should give a useful lead to Farmers who wish to improve their existing buildings or erect new ones.

Write to the Corporation at 2 Market Square, Dublin, for a copy of their Booklet which will give full information regarding their various Schemes for helping farmers.

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

A DANGEROUS ROAD FOR MOTORISTS
Motorists figured largely in the long and varied list of cases disposed of in last week's District Court, a full report of which will be found in this issue. It was rather remarkable that the only two cases in which motor collisions were involved had arisen out of accidents on the Melleray road, which shows what a dangerous thoroughfare this is, and how careful all motorists should be in driving over the short stretch of four miles between Cappoquin and Mount Mellery. The sharp turn in the road beyond Shanbally, leading through "Melleray Wood," is undoubtedly a dangerous "trap" for the most careful drivers, and it is simply amazing that so few serious accidents happen there, even during the summer months, when the motor traffic to Mount Mellery is always at its highest. The "Y" shaped cross beyond Bolla, where the road from Melleray runs into the straight road from Cappoquin to Clogheen, another very dangerous point for motor traffic, but, unfortunately, nothing can be done to widen the road or round off the dangerous corner here, as a sign posts close beside the turn facing towards Cappoquin, so there is no aid available at this side which would enable the County Surveyor to make it more safe for motorists.
The corner leading into "Melleray Wood" beyond Shanbally, could be improved considerably, but it would be a costly job, as a big embankment of earth should be cut away on the left-hand side facing Melleray, but owing to the limited financial resources at present available for the Co. Surveyor, it is obvious that this very necessary improvement cannot be carried out at present.

When the Department concerned prove more generous in allotting the necessary funds to Mr. J. Bowen, R.E., and thus remove the obstacles which now stand in his way, he will kindly give his attention to this dangerous corner, as he has done to so many other dangerous corners in the Co. Waterford, so far as funds permitted.
A RECORD NUMBER OF SALES
No less than sixteen valuations will be offered at the Great Fenny Lane Ball in aid of the Cappoquin Road to Point Race Fund on Wednesday night, 14th, inst. The appeal made by Messrs. M. J. Sargent and P. Walsh, Pres. Secs. of the Race Committee, for prizes for the event has met with a ready and generous response from all quarters, which is proof of the widespread popularity enjoyed by the annual Race Meeting here, as well as the Hon. Secs. and members of the Race Committee. The prizes will be awarded to the wearers of the best and most original Fancy Costumes at the Ball, so that this should be a great incentive to both sexes to select something novel for the festive occasion. With Miss Delaney's collection of "Harmony Dance Band" supplying a sparkling programme of dance music, with excellent catering and perfect arrangement in every respect, this should prove a rare "Cappoquin" for Cappoquin, when nobody should miss it.
Following quickly on the heels of this event, the Annual Muster "Whist Drive" in aid of the Race Fund will be held in the same spacious Hall on Sunday night, Dec. 18th, when valuable Christmas Hampers and other costly prizes will be awarded to the winners. So that the members of the Committee feel confident that the sporting will record them the same generous measure of support on this occasion as they have so loyally given for several years past. Look out for further announcements of other sporting events in later issues of the "Observer."

LOCAL HAPPENINGS

BOXING—

A grand meeting of the Dungarvan Boxing Club will be held in the Town Hall on Tuesday night next, December 6th at 8.15 p.m. All interested in the welfare of the club, are cordially invited to attend.

GEESH COLLISION—

A collision in which two motor cars and a pony and trap were involved took place at Geesh, Aglish, on Sunday evening last. The pony-trap, it appears was being driven by Mr. M. Beston, was proceeding towards Aglish, as also one of the cars. The other car going towards Youghal, when all three collided at a bend in the road near Mr. Merrigan's place. The trap was smashed and the occupant, it was reported received a dislocated collar bone. Dr. White, Cappoquin, was quickly on the scene and attended to Mr. Beston who is now progressing favourably.

Both the motor cars were damaged but the occupants escaped injury and were able to proceed on their respective journeys, after Sergt. Gorman, Villiers-town, visited the scene.

AFRICAN MISSIONS—

A grand Concert in aid of the Society of African Missions will be held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Wednesday night, December 14th, commencing at 7.15 p.m. A representative and capable Committee have planned all the details, the proceeds of which will be devoted to furthering the noble work of the Society. The priests of this society dedicate their lives to the conversion of the Negroes, as Missionaries in the sphere of activity is one of the most difficult.

To every true Catholic loyal to Christ, this great work in such a heroic cause must make strong appeal. Knowing this and counting on the wholehearted support and co-operation of the people of Dungarvan and surrounding districts, the committee are confident of achieving real success; they on their part have left nothing undone to provide a most enjoyable entertainment. All the leading artists in the town and country have signified their willingness to attend, including Mr. Frank Ryan, the well known Concert and Radio singer, so that a real night's entertainment is in store for all.

AN ESTEEMED PRIEST—

The recent Clerical changes made in the Diocese of Waterford, Ireland, by the Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, Bishop, include the translation of the Rev. Daniel Byrne, Chaplain, Carrigrohane, to be C.C. of Rathgormack.

Father "Dan" as he is popularly called, is son of Mr. Michael Byrne and Mrs. Byrne, Round Hill in the parish of Cappoquin, and is brother to Mrs. Annie Kenny, Licensed Victualler, Main Street, Cappoquin, and of Mrs. M. Foley, "The Mill Corner," Lismore. Like his respected father, he is a big-hearted and cheery type of Irishman and a kindly and zealous Priest who is held in the highest esteem by all classes of the public in Lismore, and Cappoquin, where he is so well and popularly known by everybody.

He has performed the duties of chaplain in Carrigrohane for a number of years where he was held in the highest regard by all the members of the Community owing to his Priestly qualities and his strict attention to duty, and while his departure will now be sadly missed by the nuns there, they will join his countless friends and admirers in West Waterford in wishing him the best of luck and happiness in his more exalted and responsible position as C.C. of Rathgormack.

FOOT BEAGLES—

WEST WATERFORD HUNT—

As will be seen from an advertisement appearing elsewhere in this issue the meets for December will be held at the following centres. A CORRECTION—

In the report of the Dungarvan District Court published last week, the name of the defendant in the prosecution by Sergt. Kellegher, Weights and Measures Inspector, for selling potatoes measured with a gallon instead of by weight should have read Edward Power, Coolnasmar and not Patrick Power, as published.

HIGH TENSION BATTERIES— Try our special line, 120 volt. H. T. Batteries 8/6. Sole against for H.M.V. Washing Machines.

THE I.D.S.B. DANCE—

The seventh annual dance held under the auspices of the above, at the Town Hall, Dungarvan, on Wednesday night last, was attended by upwards of 250 couples and was voted a signal success by all present.

G.A.A.—

The Senior Football Final (Dungarvan v. Killrossney) billed for Sunday next at the Gaelic Field, Dungarvan, has been postponed to Sunday, December 18th, owing to the Senior Hurling Semi-Final display (Dungarvan v. Erin's Own) which is to be played at the Sportsfield, Waterford on 10-morrow (Sunday).

CUSTOMS HUTS DESTROYED—

Midnight explosions, apparently of powerful hand-bombs, wrecked several customs huts on the Moyle's barrier between eleven o'clock and midnight on Tuesday night.

In no case was anyone injured, but the buildings were so completely demolished that portions were scattered over a large area.

The explosions occurred in the different districts almost simultaneously, huts being destroyed near the Fermanagh and Newry borders. Attempts are reported to have been made to destroy huts on the Donegal-Derry border, but were frustrated by the police.

DEMONSTRATION—

The large audience present at the Demonstration of the "Thor" Electric Washer given at Messrs. Mooney's Showrooms, Bridge St., Dungarvan, on last Tuesday, was amazed at the efficiency and thoroughness of this wonderful labour-saving invention. The speed at which the "Thor" disposed the heaviest wash-blanket, etc., was extraordinary.

WATERFORD T.D.—

Mr. W. J. Broderick (F. G., Waterford) walked out of the Hall on Wednesday, after making a protest against a statement which, he said, was made on the second stage of the Oireachtas (Allowances to Members) Bill.

Mr. Broderick said that in the second Stage, certain members opposed the Bill and insinuations were then made against them of accepting thirty pieces of silver. He wished to know if the deputy who made that statement would withdraw it.

Dr. O'Higgins (F.G., Leix-Offaly) said there were several references to "cultures falling on the corpse of the country," and that they were joining together to get some loot before it was all over. If there was anything unclear about the extra £10 note the other £30 was equally unclear.

If he had hurt the susceptibilities of any deputy he would advise that deputy to do as he himself had done when he entered public life—to grow not only a thick skin but a shell (laughter).

Mr. Broderick said he would take no further part in the debate but would wait for another opportunity.

He then left the House.

COVE TO NEW YORK—

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Keane, Belleville Park, Cappoquin, were amongst the passengers who sailed from Cove to New York on the United States liner, "President Roosevelt," on last Saturday.

Mrs. Keane, before her recent marriage was Miss Skrine of Wexford, a brilliant Novelist and Playwright, who wrote under the pen-name of "Mrs. J. Farrar" and she is the co-author of the successful Play, "Spring Meeting," which is shortly to have its premiere, or first production, in New York, at which both she and Mr. Keane intend to be present.

Their stay in New York is not intended to be a prolonged one, and both are expected back to Cappoquin before the New Year.

INTERESTING WEDDING—

The wedding took place at University Church, St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, on Saturday, Nov. 26th, of Mr. John O'Mahony, Cork, and Miss Maureen Feeney, daughter of Thos. and the late Mrs. Feeney, Ballyduff, Co. Waterford.

The best man was Mr. M. O'Mahony, brother of the bridegroom and the bride was attended by her sister Miss Josephine Feeney, Rev. Fr. Deering officiated. After the ceremony a reception was held by the bride's mother at the Hotel Russell, following which the happy couple left for London on their honeymoon.

COURAGING—

LEIX MURDER CASE Farmer to Die—

Dermot Smyth, Leix farmer, was found guilty in the Central Criminal Court on Tuesday of the murder of his "best friend" Cornelius Denny, 34 year old Millstreet, Co. Cork, butter buyer.

The jury were two and a half hours considering their verdict. Mr. Justice O'Byrne sentenced Smyth to death and refused leave to appeal.

Before the sentence Smyth said in a steady voice—

My next judge will be the Almighty. He will find me perfectly innocent. I hope and trust that the murderer of Cornelius Denny will be found to clear my child so that no man at any time will be a mad dog or to a beast of prey.

The Judge said to Smyth—

You have been found guilty. It is only right for me to say that I grieve with the verdict.

"The crime was a callous one and a brutal one and I can hold out no hope of mercy to you in this life."

Before his trial ended Smyth had undergone six and a half hours' examination and cross-examination in the witness-box, but throughout he was quite composed, and gave his evidence in a low clear voice.

Mr. Justice O'Byrne, summing-up said— "It is shocking to find a young man of your age, Denny was done to death in a manner that might be applicable to a mad dog or to a beast of prey."

THE C.Y.M.S. CONCERT—

Rehearsals have been finished and all arrangements are now complete for the Grand Concert and Variety Entertainment in aid of the funds of the C.Y.M.S. to be held in the Boathouse Hall on next Thursday night, 8th inst. In addition to the special feature will be a high-class exhibition of Irish Step-dancing (in costume) by the sisters Miles, the pretty and accomplished young daughters of Mr. Harty and Mrs. Miles, Dromana, who are expert and graceful exponent of the art, while Master Bobby McCabe, another finished young artist from Dromana, will also be seen at his best as a dancer and will also give some splendid selections on the violin.

Mr. Joe Walsh, our well-known local Conductor, will supply the numerous element in his own inimitable style, while Miss Margaret Cahill the beautiful soprano Miss Sheila White, Elocutionist, and a number of other talented local artists will also contribute to the attractive programme, which should ensure a great night's entertainment for all.

The proposed Draw for the Derby Sweep for 1938-9, the prizes are £3, £2 and £1 will be held during the Concert, so that from every point of view the programme will be interesting with interest from start to finish and we hope to see a packed audience present on the occasion.

KILMACTHOMAS NOTE

POSTPONED
The variety concert (under the aegis and aid of the newly formed Waterford and District Cursing Club) arranged for Dunmore on Sunday night did not come off, due to last-minute difficulties about securing the use of the Hall there. However, the event will be held on a date to be decided on later by the organising committee.

Bonmahon of The Mince
(The subjoined contribution comes from a valued regular reader who is the worthy member of one of the many fine old families in historic Kilmacross parish.)
After an absence of more than twenty years I again had the pleasure of revisiting dear old Bonmahon, that romantic one-time famous spot by the sea. It presents the same unchanged appearance still, but alas, I missed many of the truly genuine acquaintances of five and twenty years ago. What notable gaps—the Watts, the Fitzgeralds, the Quinlans, Madge Roche, Pat Moloney, all passed away to their great reward. They were, indeed, sincere friends one could not help loving such people, and mourning their loss. Others, of course, have taken their place but I was strange to them. It was with sad recollections I surveyed the surroundings; its beautiful sandy shore remains the same, and the sea still rolls on as ever with its unceasing roar.

Bonmahon had a great and prosperous past. History tells us it was celebrated for its copper mines; but that flourishing industry like my old acquaintances, has also gone. It was a thriving town in the mining days, where money was earned and spent freely, and few places of its day could boast of such up-to-date business establishments.

Curious to relate, it was in the Severn Tunnel, on a London-bound train, travelling at high velocity, I first learned all about this charming seaside place, and its past prosperity and traditions, from a one-time Senator of education, and a notable people we get thrown up against journeying through life, and this distinguished gentleman whom I met just over thirty years ago was Senator Lennon. He was here visiting these counties for the purpose of studying the methods of education adopted by us for the benefit of the educational department of the American Government. He informed me he had been to all the principal schools and colleges both in Ireland and England contrasting methods with a view to bettering the system in the schools of his adopted country.

Senator Lennon had a great reverence for Bonmahon, here he was born, and he recounted all its past glories with regret. His father conducted a lucrative business there, but when the mines closed down, the whole family emigrated to Utah. Lennon in his early days, had vast ranching interests out there, and his first man to establish a newspaper business in Salt Lake City, which grew to great proportions with the City's development. This business he eventually disposed of to combine in order to devote his whole time to politics—he was a gifted and leading member of the Senate. We debated many subjects appertaining to this old land, and I fancy I can still hear his clear voice ring out with that great wit which he was endowed. What a loss Ireland sustained by the going of such men, and the advantage America gains of getting such skilled, talented people to frame their laws.

CLONAL-POWER-RATHGORMACK FAIR
Our beloved Bishop, Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, in his latest changes included the transfer of Rev. Henry O'Brien, C.C. to Clonmel, from the above parish, wherein he had laboured so admirably and well over the past five years being held in the highest esteem by young and old of his parishioners, by all whom his reputation is known, and his prayers and good wishes accompany him to his new home at the western end of the diocese. Fr. O'Brien, who is a native of Galway, had previously ministered in Kilmossint and Few parish; he is a truly lovable clergyman, and he worthily upholds the best traditions of the Irish Priesthood—Good luck to him.

THE FAIR
The usual monthly fair was held in Kilmacross on Tuesday. Medium-sized, it was composed chiefly of Short-horn stock, with a few lots of Aberdeen Angus and Hereford crosses. The number of buyers in attendance was below average, and trade in store cattle was slow at slightly lower values. Choice hand-weighted fat cattle in request for local requirements, while the heavier sorts changed hands at lower prices for cross-channel trade. Trade in springers and milch cows was steady at higher prices. Calves under one month, £2 to £3; six to nine months, £4 to £5 to £6; Store Cattle nine to twelve months, second class, £7; twelve to fifteen months, second class, £8 to £9 to £10; fifteen months to two years, first class, £11 to £12; second class, £10 to £11; three years and over, second class, £15 to £16 to £18. Fat Cattle: fifteen months to two years, second class, £13 to £14; two to three years, first class, £15 to £16 to £18; second class, £13 to £14; three years and over, second class, £15 to £17 to £18; cows and bulls second class, £11 to £12 to £14; third class, £8 to £9 to £10. Springers (cows and heifers), first class £18 to £22 to £25; second class, £15 to £17 to £18. Milch cows (down calved), second class, £14 to £15 to £16. Young pigs (under twelve weeks), 18/1 to 30/-; Store pigs: twelve weeks to four months, 31/- to 45/-; four months and over, 45/- to 52/6. The local business folk picked an appreciably brisk trade during the day.

DID YOU HEAR?
That the usual four hours' dance at the New Hall, Kilmac, was extra well attended and thoroughly enjoyed by all patrons on Sunday night last? That the '8 to 12' hop will be continued in the Hall on to-morrow (Sunday) night?
That the unbecoming manoeuvres of the weather prevented many Mid-Deise enthusiasts from journeying to Dungarvan for the O'Connell versus Erin's Own relay Senior Hurling Co. Championship contest on last Sabbath day?
That despite the atrocious conditions climatical which prevailed, those worthy and honourable rivals provided thrills galore to a good crowd?
That the veteran city hurled splendidly to again force an honourable 'easy result'?

DEMAND FOR SEED POTATOES.
Demand for seed, the Department's report states, continued good at prices ranging from 90s. to 100s. per ton, according to quality, variety and dressing. The export market for ware potatoes had not opened out at the beginning of this month; but some sales had taken place at prices ranging from 3s. to 2s. per cwt. for "Pinks," and 2s. to 2s. 9d. per cwt. for "Arran Banners."

That his many friends are well pleased to learn that Mike Hickey, the esteemed Waterford Captain, who put out his ankle during the course of the game against Kilkenny at Dungarvan last Sunday week is making most satisfactory progress?
That Michael Connelley, Carraghmore, sustained a nasty head wound when he fell from a high tree whilst cutting timber at Kilmurry, and had to be treated in hospital subsequently the injury necessitating a number of stitches?

MID-DEISE MEMS

A Fenor friend who is a noted motor fan amused me the other day when he produced from his pocket a curiously rag and soiled piece of material, which he said was only checked himself in time. No doubt in the same absent-minded fashion his handkerchiefs are employed to clean sparking plugs and windows.

The crusade for the reclamation of the more or less famous "Bogs down in Kilmurry O", estimated to cost untold pounds, looks positively hopeless. It is a pity that the dream of an optimist will come true. It will trace a waste into a garden area with playgrounds, ponds, shelters and all the amenities for recreation and social enjoyment. At the present times the Kilmurry Bogs are a very big blot on the landscape, and their reclamation will give the people of the population of Portlaoige and purveys a new angle of fragrant interest, reminding me that "a thing of beauty is a joy forever."

It fills Maud Moryah with gratitude (and Miss Bocht Fein, too) that the young young girls breathing between the coast and Conemara are sought for by the boys of the U.S.A. A man has just applied for a divorce because his wife's dumplings stuck to the roof of his mouth. I am sure that the man has to hear of a dumping divorce or even a suit in the Supreme Court of Eire.

Do you sit the same way in the bus—always? Travelling to the City one day this week there was nothing to do but comment. But on the return journey some few hours later, I did notice a difference. Instead of sitting fairly empty, country folk now sat back, deep down in their seats. The result of their spell of successful shopping required the conductor to stoop an extra two inches when handing out tickets.

Kill Colleen—"He said he'd love me forever and a day."
Bonmahon Belle—"Ah, men!"

Maid of Mothel writes informing me that it was over a shop window in the Leather City she noticed this appropriate tag—"Spurn the foreign yoke and purchase Portlaw eggs."

We are entitled to apply the words "Nulli Secundus" to our City and County Hospitals. They are essentially up to date. No later than last Sunday I saw the new theatres in the feeling that we in this age of scientific marvels have such a thankful for. The anaesthetic and the X-rays have robbed surgery of its terrors. The surgeons are now the mercy of any amateur expert with the knife.

During the early part of the middle ages there were no trained surgeons in Europe. Surgical operations were performed by barbers or by vagrant practitioners who wandered about the country or set up their booths at fairs. The surgery of the time was so crude and barbarous that Gregory of Tours in the sixth century advised that the people should emulate the saints, and endure their pain with patience rather than submit to operation.

Even as late as the eleventh century the armies had no surgeons. The Norwegian King, Magnus the Good, after his battle selected twelve of the soldiers with the softest hands, to care for the wounded men. In Europe in the fifteenth century, the nobility took their own physicians to the war with them. For the most part the wounded common soldiers were left to the ministrations of their companions in arms or to the camp followers. Wounded soldiers were often massacred if the army was forced to march. And now all the advances of modern science are available for suffering humanity.

We hear a lot about the good old times but read this item of news from the "Western Times" of a 100 years ago (a Newtown neighbour possesses a copy of the paper from which I quote), and think—
"Died on Saturday week Marian Adams, aged 74, who for upwards of 44 years was a letter carrier to the Post Office in Ashburton. We are very sorry to hear that her salary from the Post Office was only the paltry sum of two shillings weekly for two deliveries of letters and newspapers daily in the town. On Friday her far-famed donkey, poor Betsy, bridle, saddle and plated spur, were all sold for 3/6 to Mr. Hamlyn, the worthy sexton of Ashburton Church."

ESSE PATENT HEATING STOVES

24 HOURS Continuous Heat for 3d

A normal size of house can be warmed by one Esse Anthracite stove for as little as 3d. for 24 hours continuous heat. Marvellous economy. And that is only half the story. Esse Continuous Warmth makes a noticeable difference to family health because the walls and floors throughout the house are always warm. For children and elderly people the Esse is a boon and a safeguard against Winter chills. Esse stoves cost as low as £3 15s., and remember that you can buy them H. P. too. Call and see them styles, sizes, and colours, at Harpur Bros.

HARPUR BROS
48, QUAY, WATERFORD. Phone—96

Evidence having been given that the buy was beyond control.
He was fined 1/-.
The Justice stating that if the defendant was brought before him again he might be sent to an Industrial School.

UNLAWFUL VEHICLES
Sergt. Riordan, Guard De'any and others had a number of persons charged with having unlighted vehicles and unroadworthy vehicles in use.

UNLAWFUL LOTTERY
Superintendent Kelly charged Alexander Crawford, James Keogh, and James Cosh with an offence under Section 41 of the Lotteries Act 1923.
Crawford and Cosh appeared and a letter was read from Keogh.

Sergeant Lupton stated that he saw the defendants going round the field at the Coursing Meeting on 29th October, selling tickets at a pulling match, the winner to be 30/-. They held some kind of raffle at the back of a motor car. Ticket 31 was supposed to be the winner, but could not be found.
Cosh and Keogh gave their address as Cork. Cosh said he came from Donegal years ago. Cosh said he was a manufacturer's salesman. Both pleaded guilty.
Replying to the Superintendent, Cosh said among other articles he sold "unbreakable pens."
The Justice—I wish I could get one.
The cases were dismissed under the P.O. A.
The Justice remarking that they were liable to a fine of £50.

TRANSPORT OFFICE
Evidence having been given by P. J. O'Connor and Mr. G. Wills, Assistant Director of Transport and Co. Cork.
Defendant was fined 24/- with £1 costs.

Avoid "Dosing" Children's Colds

Don't upset your child's stomach with "dosing." To break up his cold—or your own—quickly and safely, rub VICK VapoRub on throat, chest, and back at bedtime. It acts direct through the skin like a poultice and, at the same time, releases medicated vapours that are breathed in for hours. This direct double action loosens phlegm, relieves coughing, makes breathing easy, breaks up most colds overnight.

Just rub on VICK VAPORUB

COURT

(Before Mr. G. P. Farrell, B.L.)

Several Motorists in Trouble.

Transfer of Licence.

Mr. M. M. Hally, solr., Waterford (for Mr. T. C. Williams, solr., Dungarvan), applied for an ad interim transfer of the spirit license held by the late Mr. Wm. Power, publican, Kereen, to his widow, Mrs. Bridget Power, who is now carrying on the business.

Mr. Hally produced the necessary documents in connection with the case, and Superintendent Quinlan, Lismore, having stated that there was no objection on behalf of the Garda authorities, the transfer was granted.

Driving Motor Car with Expired License. Guard John O'Mahony, Cappoquin, summoned Mrs. Kat Connolly, Mellery, for driving a motor car in Cappoquin for which the license had expired, on October 1st.

Mrs. Connolly explained to the Justice that the license had expired for the previous quarter only the day previously, and she had renewed the license for the current quarter on the following day.

The Justice said technical offence had been committed all the same, and he let her off with a nominal fine of 1s.

Alleged Dangerous Driving. Superintendent Sean Quinlan, Lismore, summoned a young man named Alan J. Wolfe, Douglas, Cork, for alleged dangerous driving of a motor car on the main road between Cappoquin and Mount Mellery on September 4th.

Mr. William Costigan, Kinsalebeg, stated, in reply to the Superintendent, that he is the owner of a hackney motor car, and on the date in question he was driving four passengers, including Mr. John Flynn, from Kinsalebeg to Mount Mellery.

After passing through Cappoquin he had to round a bend in the road on the way to Mellery, and before reaching this point he blew his horn and went around the bend very carefully on his left hand side of the road.

Just as he had got around he saw a motor car coming against him from the Mellery direction on its wrong side of the road, this car being driven by the defendant.

The latter then tried to take his car over to its proper side, but he failed to do so, and his mud-guard struck witness' car and caused some damage.

On being asked if he had any questions to ask the witness, defendant, who was not professionally represented, said he had not.

John Flynn, one of the passengers in Costigan's car, said he was in the driver's seat with Mr. Costigan at the time of the accident. He saw the other car coming against them on its wrong side of the road, as he seemed to be "obtruding" on their side, the back of his car collided with their car when he was passing.

Defendant declined to ask any questions. Guard John O'Mahony, Cappoquin, said he visited the scene soon after the accident and found Costigan's car on its proper side of the road facing towards Mellery.

No questions asked by defendant, Guard Wm. Moloney, Cappoquin, handed in a statement made to him by the deft. after the accident.

In this statement defendant explained that he was driving down at reasonable speed in the centre of the road on the date in question when he suddenly saw the other car rounding the bend and coming against him, and he did his best to get clear and avoid collision, but the back of his car slightly struck the other car.

Defendant was then sworn, and confirmed this statement, and added that as he was a stranger in this district he didn't know the road well, and was unaware that there was such a dangerous corner.

Superintendent Quinlan said the costs in this case amounted to £1 13s., as Mr. Costigan had to drive his own hackney car with himself and the other witness from beyond Kinsalebeg this morning.

The Justice said in view of the heavy costs, and as the accident was not a very serious one, he would let defendant off with a fine of 1s., and ordered him to pay £1 13s. costs.

Another Motorist Charged. Superintendent Quinlan, Lismore, summoned Thomas F. O'Donovan, driver of a hackney motor car for the Devonshire Arms Hotel, Lismore, for alleged dangerous driving of a motor car on the Mellery road on October 21st, as a result of which his car collided with a motor lorry, the property of Messrs J. O'Connor and Sons, Egg and Poultry Exporters, Cappoquin.

Mr. C. Murray, L. L. B., solr., Lismore, appeared for defendant.

Thomas Glavin, Cappoquin, stated that on the morning in question he was driving a motor lorry from Cappoquin to Clogheen for Mr. O'Connor, Cappoquin. Just as he had passed O'Keefe's Publichouse at Boola he saw a motor car coming up the road from the Mellery direction, and as there is a dangerous cross-roads at this point he put on his brakes and pulled the lorry in against the wall on his left-hand side, so as to give the approaching car plenty of room to pass around the turn towards Cappoquin.

The car, which was driven by the defendant, took the turn too wide and struck the back mud-guard of the lorry on the right-hand side, crushing it in considerably, while the front portion of the car was also damaged.

Cross-examined by Mr. Murray, witness said he was driving very carefully at the time, and was accompanied by two of Mr. O'Connor's employees, Joe O'Donnell and Pk. Cunningham. He could see the car distinctly coming up towards the Cross, as he was on the higher road, and that was why he applied his brakes and pulled in as far as he could go against the wall on the left-hand side.

He agreed that he did not sound his horn when approaching the bend, as he believed it was as easy for the defendant to see him as it was for him to see the defendant. He positively denied that it was owing to the back wheels of the lorry skidding that the back of the lorry swung out to the centre of the road and obstructed the passage of the other car.

Mr. Joe O'Donnell, who was in the driver's seat with the witness, gave corroborative evidence, and said that Glavin could not do more than he had done to avoid the accident.

Sergt. J. Browne, Cappoquin, stated that when he arrived on the scene the lorry was stationary on its own side of the road facing Clogheen, while the motor car was also on its own side facing Cappoquin.

He saw marks on the road from a point 50 feet behind where the lorry was which showed that the brakes had been applied at that point.

There was no trace of the lorry having skidded on the road, and the defendant agreed to pay the costs of the prosecution which were 2s.

The Justice asked defendant if he were agreeable to this course, and on his replying in the affirmative, the Justice said he would treat it as a technical offence and dismiss the case on the defendant paying 2s. costs.

In two other cases of a similar nature against other defendants, one was dismissed through want of evidence, and the other was struck out on the application of Mr. Hally, solr.

Guard Thorne, Cappoquin, summoned a man named Christopher Flynn, of no fixed abode, for being drunk and incapable in Cappoquin.

The Guard said he had to be kept in custody in the Barrack for about 14 hours. Defendant who did not appear, was fined 2s.

Alleged Larceny by Finding. Superintendent Quinlan, Lismore, prosecuted Michael Fennessy, Glencairn, for the larceny, by finding, of a lorry cover, the property of "K. Williams and Co., Dungarvan, value 7s.

The Superintendent said this was a rather curious case, as the lorry cover was lost over 3 years ago, in October, 1935, by a man named Michael Lyons, who was a lorry driver for Messrs. Williams at the time.

It appears that the defendant was being home from Dungarvan Fair later in the day and picked up the cover, but although he passed two Civic Guard Barracks at Cappoquin and Lismore on his way home, he failed to report the finding of the cover.

Nothing was heard about it until last month when one of the Guards in Youghal found it with a man named Hogan, who had purchased it from some relative of his to whom Mrs. Fennessy, wife of the defendant had sold it.

The Superintendent added that in order to have a case of this kind tried summarily it should have been brought within six months from the commission of the offence, but as three years had now elapsed in this case, there was no alternative but to have depositions taken, and have the defendant returned for trial, if the Justice thought that a "prima facie" case had been established.

The Justice suggested having the case adjourned to the next Lismore Court, but the Superintendent said he had two witnesses now present from Youghal and if their depositions were taken now, the remainder of the evidence could be adjourned to Lismore Court.

The Justice having agreed to this course, Guard N. Caesar, Youghal, was then examined by the Superintendent, and deposed that on October 14th 1938, he interviewed Stephen Hogan in Youghal.

He had in his possession at the time a lorry cover (now produced). Witness observed the cover having been brought to the house of "Williams and Co. Dungarvan," printed on it.

The cover was in fairly good condition, although considerably worn.

(The cover at this stage was ordered to be handed over to Sergt. Kelly, Ballyduff, for retention until the Lismore Court.)

Mr. Stephen Hogan, Youghal, who described himself as one "who deals in horses," deposed that Guard Caesar had found a lorry cover in his possession on October 14th, which he handed over to the Guard.

Witness had bought that cover from Patrick Connors, Tallow, last May twelve months or thereabouts.

The cover had the name of "Williams and Co., Dungarvan," printed on it.

The defendant on being asked by the Justice if he had any questions to ask either of the witnesses, said he hadn't, as he was deaf and didn't hear what they were saying.

Both depositions were then loudly read out for him by Mr. P. O'Keefe, Clerk of the Court, but the defendant still said he had no questions to ask.

At this stage the further hearing of the evidence was adjourned to the next District Court at Lismore.

Unlighted Vehicles. Guard Kieran, Villierstown, summoned John McGrath, Clifton, Youghal, and Edward Morrissey, North Main Street, do., for cycling without lamps or reflectors on their bicycles, and they were fined, respectively, 2s. 6d. and 1s. in each case.

Sergt. J. Browne, Cappoquin, summoned Michael O'Brien, Ballyduff, for the offence, for driving a horse and cart without either a lamp or a reflector, and he was fined 5s. and 1s.

Alleged False Returns.

Mr. S. J. Moynihan, Commissioner acting for the Waterford County Council, summoned James P. O'Donnell, Killahala, for having made a false return in respect of an agricultural labourer for the purpose of getting a rebate of his rates from the Co. Council.

Mr. M. M. Hally, solr., Waterford, who appeared for complainant said in this case the defendant had claimed a rebate in respect of a man named Ahearne who he represented to have worked for him for 12 months, whereas the man in question had worked for him for only a portion of the year.

Defendant now explained that Ahearne had been in his regular employment, but as he got sick, he had to get another man as soon as possible to take his place, and as he had him employed for the remainder of the year, he thought he was entitled to claim the usual rebate under the circumstances.

Mr. Hally said he was satisfied that the facts were as stated by Mr. O'Donnell, and he did not think there was any criminal intent in filling in the form as he had done, so he was not pressing for any penalty, provided the defendant agreed to pay the costs of the prosecution which were 2s.

The Justice asked defendant if he were agreeable to this course, and on his replying in the affirmative, the Justice said he would treat it as a technical offence and dismiss the case on the defendant paying 2s. costs.

In two other cases of a similar nature against other defendants, one was dismissed through want of evidence, and the other was struck out on the application of Mr. Hally, solr.

Guard Thorne, Cappoquin, summoned a man named Christopher Flynn, of no fixed abode, for being drunk and incapable in Cappoquin.

Youghal Urban Council

Present—Messrs. M. D. Broderick, Chairman; R. Power, E. P. Lynch, J. Daly, B. E. R. Savage, P. C. M. Ahearne; J. Whelan, Secy.

LABOUR AND WAGES.

The proposition proposed by Salvage seconded by Mr. Power, a cheque for £75 - 5 - 9 wages etc. for week was passed.

RELIEF WORK

A letter was read from T. Crowley, Hon. Sec. of Unemployed Men's Association asking that owing to the terrible conditions prevailing the Council should take immediate steps to employ the large number now out of work, some two hundred men and their families being involved. Men in receipt of small pensions were excluded.

In reply to Mr. Lynch the Clerk said there were two hundred idle.

Mr. Lynch—Can we take in the men not signing up.

The Clerk—You cannot.

Mr. Lynch proposed the Council take a number on Monday.

Mr. Power said the whole thing was wrong—the rotational system was nothing less than a curse.

The Chairman said he agreed that they had done so many men as possible before Christmas.

Mr. Lynch said some of the ratepayers were getting no value for the rates they paid.

Mr. Daly said that some of the roads in the Urban District were the worst in Ireland.

The Clerk read a letter from the L. G. D. approving of the scheme and works to be carried out to the value of £1,635 and a local contribution of £295.

Day—What are the works to be done?

The Clerk—The finishing of the New Road and others.

Mr. Whelan said that some work should be given to the men not registering—their position was desperate.

After considerable discussion it was decided to start the work as soon as possible.

The Clerk said that in anticipation he had invited tenders for the supply of stone for work on the roads.

Mr. Lynch proposed and Mr. Power seconded that they get a supply of stones from Gleeson's quarry.

The Chairman said that the question of cost was an important matter. Getting stones from the quarry would probably prevent them from employing a number of men.

It was decided to get a limited supply by contract.

A deputation of the unemployed appeared before the meeting.

Mr. O'Brien spokesman, stressed the terrible local conditions prevailing at present and asked the Council to expediate work giving some employment before Christmas.

Ten in receipt of small pensions and with many dependants were penalised at present. Has the Association appealed to the Council to do something for them. They also asked that the rate of pay be increased from 8/- to 9/- per day.

The Chairman said it was their ambition to see every man at work before Christmas.

Mr. Daly—What about the single men?

Mr. Power said there should be no differentiation. Some of the single men have more dependants on them than the married.

The Chairman—The Council are not responsible.

Better Seed Wheat

HARPUR BROS., of Waterford, are making a determined effort to help the Farmer by improving the quality of wheat grown in Eire. Obviously, better seed must be sown to grow better wheat, and with this in mind Harpur are offering selected English Seed Wheat at a moderate price. The quality of this wheat is a decided improvement on that grown in this country, and Farmers using it will benefit undeniably when the harvest is reaped next year. Farmers interested in this higher quality seed should get in touch with Harpur Bros., Quay, Waterford, right away as the supply, naturally, is limited.

SIX TIMES 2,000 GALLONS.
Ongar Estelle, a British Friesian Cow owned by Messrs. A. M. and H. Rankin Ltd., of Rochford, Essex, is the second cow of her breed to give six separate milk yields in excess of 2,000 gallons in one lactation. The other such producer that died a few months ago completed her six 2,000 gallon yield at the age of 13 years 8 months. Ongar Estelle accomplished a similar performance when 12 years and 3 months old.

After some discussion it was proposed by Mr. Power seconded by Mr. Lynch and passed unanimously that the Collector be called on to attend the next meeting and explain his action.

A letter was read from the Minister of Defence, stating that in the present circumstances, the premises of the Old Cottage Hospital were not required for Military purposes.

Mr. Power raised the question of the method of collecting the rates. They had an authorized Collector and he should personally make the collection.

It was decided to get legal advice on this point.

The Auditors report was read showing that the Council was in a satisfactory financial position.

Mr. Whelan said they had good reason to congratulate the Council and the Clerk on the report. Their position compared favourably with that of other towns similarly situated. They had expended a lot of money.

The Clerk—£27,205.

The Whelan—And still we are in a safe position.

Mr. Power said it spoke volumes for the able manner in which their worthy Town Clerk carried out his arduous duties.

The Chairman endorsed the remarks made by Mr. Whelan and said that they were a great tribute to the budgeting of their Clerk.

The Clerk thanked the speakers for the kind remarks and said that the Council itself was largely responsible for the success of the proposition of Mr. Lynch seconded by Mr. Salvage and joined in by all present a vote of sympathy was passed to Miss Costello, Park View Hotel on the death of her sister.

MAHON-BEE SHIPS. G.A.A. The County Senior Football Final between Dungarvan and Kilmacshingaugh will be played at the Old Bore for the first time in the next future and the general trend of public opinion points to it as a sure-to-be Trojan tussle for supremacy. At Kilmacshingaugh on Tuesday we saw a splendidly organized team, who in a sparkling exhibition of the code, confidently predicted a victory for Kilmacshingaugh. The Waterford Hounds met at Ballynam on Tuesday. The day was calm and dry, and a nice sized field turned out. From about a tenant was ejected, who brought his pursuers to Glenphooka, from whence he swung to Kilmacshingaugh, and completed a very wide circle before going to ground. A series of short sprints galloped over the park was taken to Ballynamogue North, where "rough customer" was soon afoot who set his pursuers on an exciting chase over a lengthy stretch of lovely country. The run held for twenty minutes, before being left "to fight another day" when the hounds were withdrawn to kennels at nightfall. The honour of refereeing the third meeting (to-morrow) of Erin's Own and Dungarvan contenders for this year's Senior Hurling Co. Championship Crown has fallen to well and popularly known Mr. Sean O'Connell, N.T. Kilmathomas, who ably helped his native Lismore to win the J.H. Co. Championship of the current annum. Friend Sean is a squire and second to none in the barones to-day, and the teams concerned are assured of "a fair do" from this sterling Gael. Few of the usually keen punters of Kilmacshingaugh district were "wide of the mark" in the Manchester November Handicap. By the way, we cannot refrain from mentioning the pleasing fact that the charmingly mannered Miss B. Casey, in charge of the local office of Mr. Richie Ryan, Turf Commissioner Agent, is a warm favourite with everybody in our midst. We join with his troops of friends and well-wishers in cordially congratulating Mr. Joseph Joy, draper and general trader, Brown St. Portlaoine, on his marriage to Miss M. Tuohy, Boucher Park, Scariff Co. C. where which happy event was solemnized at Westland Row Catholic Church, Dublin, by the Very Rev. William Burke, Administrator, Do. Miss N. Riehill, Kilmoy, Barr (intimate friend of most estimable bride), acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Frank Maddors, Blackrock College, Dublin (worthy son of universally esteemed Mr. and Mrs. "Amby" Madders, N.T. Ballyduff Lower, and nephew of the bridegroom) was best man. The honeymoon was spent in London.
