Put in an ordinary job of ploughing details, of course, on what the rate of working is going to be. On one particular farm it is known to me, on which careful results have been kept, the overall rate of ploughing on stubbles and temporary leys for some years consistently averaged seventeenth of an acre per hour for every acre ploughed. The farm has been using entirely different types of tractor; its range from light-medium to fairly heavy land.

For the present purpose one might regard it as representing straightforward ploughing on fairly easy land with an appreciable loss of time in travelling to and from the field, i.e. about the earliest time that the farmer-tractor will have to plough. Using the tractor in these circumstances, the bare cost will come out at about 10/- per acre to which must be added something for contingencies.

Even if the field is only just round the corner it will take more time to get the tractor, implement and fuel there than it would on the home farm. Again, the ploughman will take longer to lay out a straight line. And finally, few jobs will be quite as simple in practice as they may seem beforehand. For this kind of thing you should add at least 25 per cent. ; so you arrive at a rock-bottom charge for ploughing stubble of 12s. 6d. per acre.
Easy-working grass land will cost more because more care will be needed in plough setting and laying out. Perhaps the lowest figure for grass might be put at 14s.

Calculated on the same sort of basis other operations come out at something like this: Cultivating or discing 5s.; rolling or harrowing 3s. 3d.; drilling 5s., and so on. A useful guide to most jobs is to divide £1 by the working width of the implement and add 2s. This will give a basic charge per acre for a straightforward job.

Those who find it difficult to estimate in advance the total time required might use this simple method for the first job; then the total time is then recorded and multiplied by our standard 4s. 3d. per hour it will at any rate show how much money has been lost! S. J. W.

CURING RABBIT SKINS

THE DRY PROCESS
As soon as possible after the rabbit has been skinned, remove the inner side from the board with drawing-pins, then rub in a small quantity of salt and alum (2 teaspoons salt, 2 small teaspoons powdered alum). Fold in quarters, fur side out, and put aside for three days, then give a thorough wiping on inside.
Scrape, pull and stretch every day, and brush with the hands; hang on the line fur side out, so that it dries gradually, and brush the fur side well each day. After three days of this treatment, rub in some fine oatmeal on the skin side and pounce through the oatmeal. The oatmeal will absorb grease or dampness and helps to dry the skin and whiten it. Use oatmeal every other day until skin is completed, approximately three weeks.

WET CURING
Make a solution of 2lb. brine to 1 gallon of water. Fold the rabbit skin inside out and immerse in the solution of 11 to 12 days according to age of rabbit, or three days in winter. Take out and hang over line, fur side out, for about an hour to dry.
Take down and rub in salt and alum—2oz. alum to 3 to 4oz. salt for small skins—rub, especially to edges; fold over, fur outside, in quarters and leave to pickle for two days. At the end of the first day, rub in more salt and alum if required.
Hang on a line, fur side out, after removing all inner skin, and every day take down, stretch in the hands, and pull out.
Do this for two or three weeks, according to age of rabbit. When fur begins to dry, brush fur side and get out dust and alum with a white brush.

FOR MOLESKINS
The following method is especially useful for mole skins. It comes from a worker near Ipswich who showed a beautifully soft and pliable mole skin coat at a Women's Institute Exhibition in London a few years ago.
First thoroughly clean the skins, removing as much inner skin as possible.
Then fix them, fur downwards, with drawing-pins, to dry. Make a pickle of 1 gal. boiling water, 1 oz. alum, 1oz. saltpetre, 1/2oz. salt. Leave this to get cold before immersing the dried pelts in it. Leave mole skins in it for five days, rabbit skins for seven days.

Turn about each day. As soon as you take out the pelts, remove the inner thin layer of skin which should come away.
Stretch them out (no need to nail them) for about six hours to dry.
DO NOT ALLOW TO STIFFEN Sprinkle well with fine oatmeal and rub constantly each day. If once allowed to stiffen the pelts will not be satisfactory.
Give a good rub, the squeeze well up in your hand and brush with a stiff nail-brush. Keep well stretched to shape, and every night put them skin side to skin side with a sprinkle of oatmeal on the skin.
Like a packet of sandwiches. When thoroughly dry, brush the fur side well and polish with chamois leather.

If using this method for rabbit pelts, it is best to hang them on the line after the inner skin is removed, for 12 hours, and then sprinkle with mixture of salt and alum and rub in well. But with moleskins it is best to avoid too much alum, as this causes the skin to dry and become too brittle. It must be remembered, in dressing skins, that salt opens the pores and alum closes them.

DUNGARVAN CIRCUIT COURT WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION CASES.

BREACH OF WARRANTY ACTION FAILS.

INJUNCTION AGAINST TRESPASS GRANTED

(Before His Lordship, Judge Sealy).

MORRISSEY v. MORRISSEY.

This was an equity case taken by Michael Morrissey, Killadangan, against his brother Thomas in respect of a legacy of £400 charged in his favour on the lands of Killadangan and which the defendant did not discharge. At previous Courts an Order was made for a sale of the land and same was purchased by Messrs. J. F. Williams and Sons for the sum of £710 in trust for a client of theirs.
This sale was duly confirmed by the Circuit Judge, Messrs. Williams in due course tendered the transfer of the lands to the plaintiff's solicitors, Ryan and Co., for execution by the defendant which the latter refused to do. The motion now before the Court was brought for the purpose of obtaining an order from the Judge directing the Co. Registrar to execute the deed instead of the defendant.
There was also another motion before the Court for the allocation of the funds in Court amongst the persons entitled thereto.

Mr. Budd, B.L. instructed by E. A.
Ryan and Co. was for the appellants.
J. F. Williams and Co. acting for purchaser of lands.

A number of the charges were cancelled, and the Registrar was instructed to sign the transfer, and the funds were accordingly allocated according to the notice of motion.

MINORS' FUNDS.

An application was made by J. F.
Williams and Co. solicitors, Dungarvan, on behalf of the minors Johanna Joye and Patrick Lawrence Joye, O'Connell St., Dungarvan, that the funds to their credit in Court be invested in 3 per cent.
Financial Agency Loan, to the amount of £203 18s. 6d.

REGISTRATION OF GOLF CLUB.

Mr. Molloy, B.L. applied on behalf of Mr. Liam F. Lanigan, solr., Hon. Secretary, Dungarvan Golf Club, for the registration of that club, which had been transferred from Cloosa to Ballincourty, Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, on behalf of the Garda, said that there was no objection.

THE HON. SECRETARY OF THE CLUB.

Mr. Molloy, B.L. applied on behalf
of Mr. Liam F. Lanigan, solr., Hon. Secretary, Dungarvan Golf Club, for the
registration of that club, which had been transferred from Cloosa to Ballincourty, Mr. E. A. Ryan, State Solicitor, on behalf of the Garda, said that there was no objection.

REVIEW OF WORKMAN'S COMPEN- SATION.

In this case, the Knockmeal Co-operative Society sought a review of the compensation award made to Richard Tobin a former employee, as a result of an accident to the latter while in that Society's employment.

Mr. Tynan, B.L. instructed by Messrs.
E. A. Ryan and Co., who appeared for the Knockmeal Co-operative Society, said that Richard Tobin, who had been putting a shaft in a fly-wheel while employed as stated, had received injuries to his left hand as a result of a jack falling and some machinery collapsing. The second finger of that hand had been amputated, and at that time his fingers were stiff, but he was now able to do light work, and he had been offered a position by the Society as a box-maker. An award of 25s. a week had been made to him on February 20, 1938.

Dr. William White said he examined Tobin's hand, which was slightly improved. His little finger was bent and stiff. The forefinger and thumb were all right, the ring finger was gone and the middle finger was slightly injured.

The little finger could only be used for gripping. With practice he would recover the use of the hand although at present he would be a slow box-maker.

To Mr. Stannon, solr., who appeared for Richard Tobin—the hand was now more flexible and gripped better. There was no stiffness that would make any difference in the thumb. He would strike his starting of box-making. He didn't doubt that with practice on small boxes, Tobin could become very good at the work.

Timothy Callanan, Manager, Knock-meal Co-op. Society, said he offered Tobin a job of box-making which he tried rather slowly, making half the usual number, but usually after five or six weeks.
His opinion was that the uninjured eye was below normal before the accident. He would like a little more evidence about the stiffness and pain in the eye.

Mr. Maguire said that Ormonde's employer agreed that he had no light work to offer him.
His Lordship said that Mr. Ormonde's case seemed genuine and he had gone back to work and stayed even after his employer had told him he had better cease. It was sometimes difficult for doctors to discover a man's suitability for work. Ormonde was entitled to an award for total incapacity of 30s. a week. He would advise him to do his best to recover the proper use of his eye. £2 2s.

costs were granted.

COWMAN v. COWMAN.

This was a case in which Michael Cowman, Abbeydorney, applied for an injunction against his son Thomas for recovery of possession of lands at Skeeh-rine Humble containing 25 perches which defendant withheld.

Mr. E. A. Ryan, Solicitor, stated that he had been instructed to file no defence.
The order was made as requested, with a stay of four months.

BREACH OF WARRANTY.

Mrs. Mary Hackett, Boulavonteen, Ballinacult sued Michael Flavin, Carrick-on-Suir for £27 10s. 0d. the price of a horse, and the cost of feeding this animal, because, as she alleged, of breach of warranty in the sale of the animal to her.

Mr. McDonnell, B.L. (instructed by E.
Ryan and Co. for plaintiff, and Mr. F.
G. O. Budd, B.L. (instructed by Mr.
Kiersey, solr.) for defendant.

Plaintiff, a widow, said that in the early part of the year she decided to buy a horse and wrote to her sister Mrs. Luby to look out for one. Subsequently her sister and defendant came over to her place with this received a letter from Mr. Luby saying she had a horse bought for £20.
When defendant came with the animal she said she would give him £27 10s. and defendant agreed. She told him what she wanted the mare for, and that she and her daughter would have to be able to tackle and drive it. He said "there was no fear, himself wouldn't deceive her before God or man." She was satisfied. Three men subsequently tried to work the horse under a plough, grubber and cart. The mare was unsatisfactory and would run a little, stop and look back at them (laughter).

She wouldn't pull four cwt. of dung. She would pull it down a hill all right (laughter). She at once got Mr. Luby to get in touch with Mr. Flavin. As there was no reply to that, she wrote to Mr. Ryan, her solicitor, who took this action. She claimed £27 10s. and roughly £40 for the animal's keep. He gave the engagement that she wouldn't deceive her without which she wouldn't have taken the horse.

Cross-examined by Mr. Budd—the horse was only a few days at Luby's before she bought it. Defendant and the former sister stayed the night, and the former left at about mid-day the following day, June 28th. That was the day she wrote to Post-Office was about a half-mile away.
She posted the letter herself, having written it after her dinner.

Mr. Budd—Mr. Flavin left at mid-day and you wrote at one o'clock?
Witness—He left about eleven.

Mr. Budd—I suggest you did not give the horse a fair trial.
Witness said a neighbour of hers came in to try the horse, as she had no working man that day. She didn't mind the price she got a good horse. She didn't tell defendant that she had only £27 10s. in the house. Her sister gave him 5s.

Mr. Budd—Isn't that strange? It seems as if she was making up a balance, because she had no money.
Witness—The whole trouble that you thought he had paid too much for the horse.

Continuing, witness admitted there was no warranty given in the presence of a man called Galvin. The horse was doing no work now, and she was feeling sorry for it. John McGrath said he was a neighbour of the plaintiff, and put the horse to a double plough at her request. He did 4 furrows and then had to take the mare out. A furrow would be about 80 spades, a spade being about five feet. The horse was useless. She wouldn't pull at all.
Dr. Daniel McCarthy, Dungarvan, said James Ormonde was fit to do certain kinds of work, such as the type. Digging with potatoes or anything where force would be used was not the proper work for him.
He would never have the skill of a man who had both eyes. Years after an eye injury, sympathetic ophthalmia could set in so that it could not be ruled out.

Dr. Patrick Duggan, Waterford, said that Ormonde was under his care in March. He had examined him on September 30th. His right eye was slightly below normal. His opinion was that he was fit to do work at the time.

Witness—I don't know.
Mr. Budd—How did you go and take the horse out for a trial without seeing Mrs. Hackett?
Witness said he had asked her before that day. He never said that Mrs.
Hackett's daughter came to him that day.
He said she came for him. He went up, and Mrs. Hackett then asked him to try
the horse.

Mr. Budd—300 yards of furrows. Is that bad going at 20 minutes?
Witness—It's too good a going when she would be going (laughter).

John Cahill said he was a labourer employed by Mrs. Hackett's sister Farmane. He tried the horse when very young, and she grabbed them very slightly. She would stop and look back at you (laughter). She was also unsuccessful in pulling a moving-machine, the connecting rod of which she broke by pulling back when the other horse pulled forward.

She had to be coaxed along and she wasn't worth that.

To Mr. Budd—Mrs. Hackett had told him the horse was not working properly.
The horse did 3 or 4 drills, but they weren't done, if a horse were willing to work, it would not refuse to work with another horse. The other horse didn't refuse.

To His Lordship—Before he tried the horse he had heard that Mrs. Hackett had bought it. Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Hackett's sister sent him to try it. Mrs. Hackett then told him McGrath had tried the horse which had refused.

James Hackett, plaintiff's brother-in-law, said he also gave the horse a trial, on Monday last. She pulled and stopped several times.

To Mr. Budd—the horse wasn't willing.
She went by bringing her gently.
Bridget Luby, sister of plaintiff, said defendant came to her house in May, and she asked him if he knew of any suitable horse for farm work. He said he had what would suit, and engaged the horse to do all work. He wanted £30 but she offered £27.

Later she and her husband met defendant on the road and told him they were coming to buy the horse. He asked £30, and she bid £25. Finally he agreed for £30 with a £1 truck.

When defendant brought the horse to plaintiff she asked if it was genuine and he engaged it for all farm work. She bought the mare for £27 10s., and although she wanted £28, he said he'd divide the 10s. Witness agreed to pay 5s. she was so glad her sister had got a good horse. She and her husband only saw the horse twice before. Her husband cut the hair with her, and she cut it too quiet.
She had none of the motions of a horse (laughter). She cut it asleep. You'd imagine she was all right until you saw worse (laughter).

Nicholas Flavin, defendant, said he sold horses which he bred himself and did not offer the mare in question as a seven-year-old, which he had bred himself and which he had used for every kind of farm work. She was perfect and he never saw anything wrong in her. She had a habit of going a few steps back. He and Luby fixed the price at £30 with £1 truck money.
When he met Mrs. Hackett she said she had only £27 10s. in the house. Mrs. Luby said she would pay the balance. Later Luby said "I have a very strange story to tell you. The mare won't work at all." Witness said he couldn't understand that.
Luby said it would be best to take back the horse but witness refused. A boy of about 13 who worked with him did carting and all kinds of work with the horse.
He still stood by saying that the horse was a good worker. Mrs. Hackett never spoke about the horse being a bad or a good worker, only that she was too deaf.
There was no talk of an engagement for
the horse.

John Butler said that last spring he was short of a horse and defendant loaned him the mare in question. He did all kinds of work with her for a month, relying mainly on her for that time. All his workmen and had her working.

His Lordship said that Mrs. Hackett had entrusted the purchase of a horse to Mrs. Luby, who was fully empowered to buy it. He was quite ready to accept Mr. Flavin's evidence. What was witness a trial, not an engagement, and even if there was an engagement he was not satisfied with the trials given.

Witness said he was dismissed, costs and witnesses' expenses to be taxed.

TRESPASS.

Mary Norris, O'Loughane, Clashmore, sought damages for trespass and an injunction against restraint from trespassing against Fergus Power and Declan Power, same address.

Mr. F. G. O. Budd, B.L. (instructed by E. A. Ryan and Co.) defended for the plaintiff, and Mr. J. N. R. MacNamara, Solicitor, Youghal, for the defendants.

At the request of Mr. Budd the defendants' evidence was heard first. The trespass was alleged to be through a path on plaintiff's land in which defendants held the fence. The path was used for the path in question and his father had also used it. The path was through the field of Edward Brown who afterwards sold it to Mr. Goode. He and his family continued to use it. The next owner of the holding was Roger McGrath, father of plaintiff, who never made any complaint about their using their right of way. In 1932 plaintiff came, and about three years ago she made a complaint. He had had trouble with her over the flooding of land, and subsequently to that they were on bad terms. There was no dispute about the matter with another man, Keating, through whose holding the right of way also ran. After receiving a letter stating that plaintiff was taking legal proceedings against him, he continued using the path.
She closed the gate on to her land, putting glass thereon at the fence.

To Mr. Budd—There was no such thing as a stile there, only a footpath. He had to climb over the two strands of barbed wire. He used it to go to Youghal where Lady Brown or her servants.
Declan Power, the second defendant gave similar evidence.

William Keating, Ardsallagh, said the Powers always used a path through his land since they came to the place in 1911, and he had no intention of stopping them as they had never done him any harm.

Mr. Budd—If you were selling your land would you tell the purchaser that the Powers had a right of way through it forever.

Witness—Yes.
Continuing, witness said he had himself asked Mrs. Norris to use this right of way through her field, and she agreed until, she said, she saw further about it.

Mary Norris, plaintiff said she never saw any of the Powers using the gap or path until 1938 when she met Declan Power, when she told him he had no right there.

To Mr. MacNamara—She would deny Keating's evidence. She had not spoken to the Powers since 1938.
After Michael McGrath plaintiff's brother, and William and Richard Flaherty, who had worked on the plain-tiff's farm for her and for the former holders had corroborated the plaintiff's evidence. His Lordship said that it may have prevented the defendant's from using the path only for previous trouble, but that did not decide the course of the action as in. In most of these cases there was ill-will of some kind or another. The defendants admitted that they got two rights of way from the Land Commission, but to this third they laid claim because they used it since 1911. That was not sufficient to establish a right of way. There must be something more than that in it.
If they had been stopped and gone on using it in spite of this opposition that would establish their right of way. If they had received permission to use the path that would have destroyed their right of way. He believed the Powers when they said that they used the path, but it was without the knowledge of the Browns, Goodes or Mrs. Norris.

Mrs. Norris was entitled to a decree, which he gave for is, and an injunction against trespass by the defendants in future.

DEMOLITION ORDER VARIED.

DICKENS LEATHER COMPANY v.
DUNGARVAN U.D.C.
Mr. E. A. Ryan, solr. for appellants.
Mr. Budd, B.L. instructed by Mr. T. C.
Williams, Solr. for Respondent.

Dickens Leather Co. Ltd. applied to the Respondents for an Urban District Council to have the premises vacated and adapted for storage accommodation and not used in future for human habitation and that the said Order for demolition be accordingly varied and the said undertaking of the Appellants accepted.

Mr. Ryan said that the three houses in question were purchased by the Dickens Leather Co. not to be used for human habitation but to be adapted and used for storage purposes in connection with the business. The Company did not appear before the meeting at which the demolition order was made. The undertaking they now give is that the houses will not be occupied as human habitations but will be adapted for and used for storage purposes.

Mr. Budd, B.L. said the Urban District Council were willing to accept the undertaking given.
His Lordship varied the order as requested.

Mrs. C. Croly, Abbeyside, Dungarvan, appealed to the Circuit Court from such part of the Order for demolition made by the Urban District Council of Dungarvan on the 4th September, 1939, in respect of premises situate on the west side of Sar-field St., Abbeyside, in the occupation of Daniel Donoghue requiring that these premises be demolished and the site cleared and levelled on the ground that she has undertaken to the Respondents to have the premises vacated and adapted for a lock-up shop and not used in future for human habitation and that the said Order for demolition be accordingly varied and the said undertaking of the appellant accepted.

Mr. Ryan said his client was prepared to put another storey on to the house but Medical Officer of Health said that would not make it fit for human occupation.
They now undertake to use the house only as a lock-up shop and not as a living apartment.

Mr. Budd, B.L. said the Council were willing to accept that undertaking.
His Lordship varied the order for demolition, the house in future to be used as a lock-up shop only.

RENEWAL OF LICENSES.

Mr. W. J. O'Gorman, Solr. Lismore was granted a renewal of the Cinema License in respect of the Cinema at Tallow on behalf of Mr. Daniel O'Brien, Tallow. The application was granted.

A similar application by Mr. O'Gorman, Solr. on behalf of Mr. James Daly in respect of Cappoquin Bathing Hall, was granted.

DUNGARVAN LOCKNEY MEN'S ASSOCIATION.

An important meeting of the above will be held in the Town Hall, Dungarvan on Saturday 11th inst. at 10.30 am. Important matters affecting the trade will be discussed and a full attendance is earnestly requested. (adv.)

LATE MR. M. VEALE, Dunhill.

A great wave of public sympathy goes out to the grief-stricken widow and son and daughters of the late Mr. Michael Veale, farmer, Dunhill, who at the County and City Infirmary, Waterford, early on Friday morning of last week, succumbed to the injuries he sustained as a result of the crash between a Tezaco tank wagon and a motorcar at Ballinacree, Kiltalehan, County Tipperary, on the previous Tuesday evening, when he and his neighbours, Messrs. Pierce Murphy, John Dower and Joseph O'Keefe were passengers in a car owned and driven by Mr. Jeremiah Cooney, Kill, and were returning from the funeral of the late Mr. John Slattery, Ballylooby (Father of the Rev. D.
Slattery, C.C., Fenor). Mr. Daniel Ennis, a member of the newly-elected Waterford Corporation, was driver of the Tezaco
Corporation, was driver of the Tezaco which occurred on a steep-incline on the Clon-mel-Carrick-on-Suir road. We learn that the impact between the parties was head-on, and that the motor-car just after the crash almost mounted the front of the petrol wagon. The fact that Mr. Ennis (who is being treated at the County Hospital, Waterford) escaped with injuries not of a serious nature is regarded as providential. Mr. Murphy (still detained at the City Infirmary) and Messrs. Dower and O'Keefe (both are still under treatment in Maypark Nursing Home) all received head, leg and facial injuries; as also did Mr. Cooney (in the City Infirmary), whose condition is reported "very grave," as we write. Following an inquest, the remains of the late Mr. Veale were removed to the Parish Church, Dunhill, and after 11 o'clock Mass on Sunday, the burial took place in the adjoining cemetery, in the presence of innumerable relatives, friends and sympathisers.

Father D. Morrissey, P.P., and Father Slattery, C.C., officiated at the graveside.
Sheaves of Mass cards and messages of condolence were received. Deceased, whose eldest daughter is a nun attached to the Convent of Mercy, Dungarvan, was a most exemplary Catholic; he was a loving and devoted husband and parent, a stout Irishman, a sterling sportsman, a good neighbour and a sincere friend. The Light of Heaven to his soul.

Late Mr. John Fraher (Junr.), Ballyguiry, Dungarvan.

Deep and sincere sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. John Fraher, Ballyguiry, and to the other members of their respected family on the great loss sustained by them by the death of such a good and kind-hearted son and brother. The deceased was a man who was only in the early thirties, was a most industrious and progressive farmer, of a quiet and generous disposition, he was a favourite with all whose pleasure it was to have known him, and his early and rather sudden death being only two days ill) caused a painful bereavement to his wife and children in Dungarvan. The deceased attended the Cappoquin fair on Thursday, 2nd inst., and continued his usual work on the farm on Friday and Saturday. On Sunday he was plained of illness, and Dr. Casey and Dr.
McCarthy were called in, but despite the best medical care and nursing he passed peacefully away on Tuesday last. He was attended during his illness by Rev. W.
Flynn, C.C.

The funeral to Modello Parish Church on Wednesday was of very large dimensions, testifying in no uncertain manner to the esteem and regard entertained for the deceased and the members of his family.
Requiem Masses were offered for the happy repose of his soul on Wednesday morning by Rev. P. Farrell, C.C., Dungarvan.

On Thursday morning, after the celebration of Masses of Requiem at Modello Parish Church, the burial took place in the family plot adjoining Rev. Fr. Murphy, Modello, officiated at the graveside.

The chief mourners were John and Mrs.
Fraher (parents); Messrs. William James, and Laurence Fraher (brothers); Miss Mary Fraher (sister); Mrs. James Fraher, Abbeyside; Mrs. Laurence Fraher, Dungarvan (sister-in-law); John and Patrick Kirwan, Cossken (uncles); Mrs. J. Kirwan, Cossken; Messrs. John and Patrick Fraher, Newtown; John, Thomas and Wm. O'Sullivan, Ballyguiry; Mrs. Elizabeth, do; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kieley, Gortaduff; Mr. Mrs.

G.A.A. NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE.

WATERFORD MEET WEXFORD AT PORTLAW.

At Portlaw on next Sunday, September 12th, Waterford will meet Wexford in their second National Football League match this season. This match will arouse general interest, for a victory for the Decies would mean that Waterford would probably end by becoming group winners. The following teams entered for Group B—Carlow, Tipperary, Waterford, Wexford and Wicklow.

The defeat of Carlow by Waterford was a greater victory than many realize, for Carlow drew in the Leinster Senior Football Championship with Meath, who afterwards gave a glorious display against Kerry at Croke Park in the All-Ireland semi-final, going under by the very narrow margin of two points. On Sunday's match, depends Waterford's chances of coming out on top in Group B, and there is no reason why they should not succeed in bringing off this on Sunday. The selectors believe that they have picked the best team for Sunday, one which will be taken from practically the same selection as last day's, except that Sean Manning, Erin's Own, who is in Carlow at present, will be unable to turn out, and P. Hahissey, who is in Thurles at present would probably be included in the selection, had he been at home. Kilmoynty will have six representatives on the team, Stradbally three, M. Coffey and E. Moore, will represent Dunhill. P. Daly (Pike), C. Moylan, (Dungarvan), J. Walsh (St. Steena) and a fifteenth player not yet decided, to replace S. Manning, will complete the Waterford side. The match will commence at 3 p.m. and the Portlaw club will have everything in order for this great treat. T. Powell (Clonmel) will referee.

On Sunday night, following this match, there will be a ceilidhe at which medals will be presented to Mount Sion-Brin's Own hurling team which defeated the Wexford senior hurling team at Wexford in a tournament game.

IN PORTLAW.

The inclemency of the weather caused the postponement of the senior hurling challenge match (for set of medals, in aid of local Gaelic League Branch) between Moonshin and Portlaw, which was to have taken place last Sunday at the Gaelic Field here. The "Lather City" is "all set" for tomorrow's National Football League tie—Waterford v. Wexford, at 3 p.m., with Mr. T. Powell in charge of the whistle. Record "goals" and a Waterford "win" fervently hoped for. At the Irish Taverns' Hall here on tomorrow (Sunday) night, a grand Ceilidhe will be held, under the auspices and in aid of the local Branch of the Gaelic League. Messrs. Frank Roche, Ted Wall and Edward Walsh, and their colleagues of the organizing committee, have left nothing undone to make the function as pleasurable as possible, and a large attendance is confidently anticipated.

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL WATERWORKS REPORT DISCUSSED

"COUNCIL HUMBUGGED BY EVERYBODY"

PROTEST AGAINST INCREASED SUGAR PRICES "WHO'LL PAY THE PIPER?"—ASKS COUNCILLOR.

At the weekly meeting of Dungarvan Urban Council on Friday, November 3rd, there were present Messrs. M. Morrissey, T.D., Chairman; T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman; M. Clancy, D. Foley, J. Dahill, P. Dwyer, J. Mansfield, P. Quinn, M. Connors and J. J. Croty.

A pay-sheet for £17 11s. 11d. was read and passed.

Mr. Dahill said it was time to dispense with the services of the Park caretaker. Mr. McCarthy—I don't agree. Mr. Dahill—Why? Mr. McCarthy—We have enough unemployed. I hold we should have a caretaker for summer and winter. Mr. Dahill—We should have one for the day and one for the night. Chairman—We'd better ask the Town Inspector if there's a necessity for the caretaker.

Mr. Foley said it was a shame that the Wigham Buoy had not been put out yet. Even without a light it was a guide. The Clerk said it was evidently more convenient to put on the lamp on land. Mr. Quinn said he had been informed to the same effect as Mr. Foley. The Chairman said that the lamp would be along soon, and it would not be worth while putting out the buoy.

Mr. P. J. Morrissey, Secretary, Gaelic League, attended, requesting the Council to grant a reduction in the charge of the Ceilidhe which would be held once a fortnight, from 8 to 11. They would pay for the lighting of the Hall themselves. Mr. Dahill—I would be slow in making a reduction, but if it's anything Gaelic or Irish I'll support it. Mr. Connors—I suggest that we give the hall free for Ceilidhes. The dances are being found very hard, and it is hard to get the crowd. We ought to give the hall free for three months. The Chairman said they would like to give every encouragement and help to Irish dancing. He would ask them to give the hall free for the Ceilidhe committee for a period of three months. This was agreed upon unanimously.

Mr. P. J. Morrissey proposed for the use of the hall on Friday night, November 17th, from 8 to 11 was granted.

An acknowledgment of a vote of sympathy passed to her by the Council was received from Grace Greany, Abbeyside. The Borough Surveyor wrote informing the Council that he had been asked for the loss of asbestos slates left over from the Housing Scheme by Mr. Maurice Casey, Main Street, who had even wanted to buy them as he had an urgent order for same and could not get them for some weeks. He (the Borough Surveyor) had told him to apply to the Chairman and it was finally agreed to let Mr. Casey have them, to be returned. The number of slates was 1,014 pieces 24" x 14". It was decided that the slates be replaced and then sold by tender.

Regarding a By-law in relation to Slaughter-Houses, the Clerk said that some corrections would have to be inserted and it would have to be readopted. It was resolved:— That this Council adopt the By-laws submitted with respect to Slaughter-houses and that code be now signed and sealed. Proposed by Mr. Clancy, seconded by Mr. Morrissey, and passed unanimously. N. A. I. D. A.

The resolution sent by the N.A.I.D.A. which was read at the previous meeting, was deferred to the next meeting. A letter from the Department re allotments was as follows:— "I am to point out that under the Acquisition of Land (Allotments) Acts 1926 and 1934, provision is made for the taking on lease, by agreement or compulsorily and for the provision of allotments which may be let at an economic rent to employed persons and at a reduced or nominal rent to unemployed persons. Under the Act of 1934 & the regulations made thereunder, ample provision is made for the letting of allotments to every class of bona fide unemployed person who otherwise would be unable to pay an economic rent. There has been no general demand for an extension of the scheme as suggested by your Council and in all the circumstances the Minister is unable to agree that any necessity exists for a revision of the existing enactments to enable the acquisition of land for the purpose suggested by your Council.

The matter was deferred until the next meeting. Another letter urged the Council to take immediate steps to establish an allotment scheme, or to increase the number of allotments during the coming season, and suggested a supply of posters inviting applications for allotments. E. S. B. A letter from the above informed the Council that the revised estimate for cabling and switching the Public Lighting System in Dungarvan to conform with the terms of the Order will amount to £41. It would not be possible to continue in operation as such individual pilot lamps, and the 12 of these in Dungarvan would be changed to midnight lighting. The tender of £41 was accepted. Chairman—It must be carried out. I understand there's a grant for part of the work. Mr. Dahill—Are we empowered to get anyone else to do it cheaper? Clerk—No, the E.S.B. are in complete control. In this connection the Clerk said that the Council's bank account was very greatly depleted. Nothing had been received so far and their reserve in the bank was exhausted. They would have to restrict expenditure or at the end of the financial year their balance would be on the wrong side. Mr. Butler—in connection with the harbour lights, is it in order to have them extinguished at 12 o'clock? Clerk—I presume it is. Mr. Clancy—if a ship were coming into the harbour it would be rather dangerous to extinguish them completely. Chairman—I suggest we accept that tender of the E.S.B. for £41. Clerk—There's no option. What about the funds? Chairman—Ask them what reduction they would give the Council. It was also decided at Mr. Butler's request to make enquiries regarding the two pilot lights.

NEW RENT COLLECTOR APPOINTED The following applications for the position of rent collector for the 139 new houses were received:—Thomas Corcoran, 1 Congress Villas, Walter Cullinan, Main Street; Patrick Lynch, O'Connell Street, and Patrick J. Walsh, St. Augustine Street. Thomas A. Kyne, King Street, Abbey-side, wrote withdrawing his application, "as there were several unemployed applicants, and trusting that this would be considered as an acknowledgment by him of the principle, "one man one job." When the applications had been read, Mr. Dwyer said he proposed that no employee be considered. The Chairman said he was afraid that this was not stated in the advertisement and couldn't be accepted. They could vote on the four names or have each proposed and seconded, which seemed the best method. Mr. Foley—Vote on the four names. The other members agreed to this. Mr. Lynch stated his application that he was 21 years of age (the age limit being 40 years) but that he had a number of years' service with another public body. Mr. Dahill—He's over the age. Mr. Foley—He wasn't over the age one time. He did his bit when he was needed. Messrs. Foley and Mansfield also held that as this applicant had service with another public body, he was eligible. Several members held that he would if he resigned. Chairman—According to the advertisement he isn't eligible. We definitely stated in the advertisement that the age limit was 40. My ruling is that as this limit was specified, and since one applicant is over 40, he should be disqualified. I regret that we must give this ruling to Mr. Lynch. Mr. Mansfield—I protest against the ruling. Mr. Dahill—There was another case, in the summer, I believe, of a man in this town who was appointed to a position, and being over age he was disqualified. The Chairman said he didn't wish to cast across anybody, or across the wishes of the Council. If the Council wished— Mr. Clancy—Why not let it go? Mr. Dahill—There was no need to advertise at all. I object to one of them. Mr. McCarthy—He stated that he would give up his job in his application. Finally it was agreed to let the four go forward. On the first voting the result was:— For Mr. Walsh—5 (Messrs. McCarthy, Quinn, Clancy, Dwyer and Butler). For Mr. Cullinan—4 (Messrs. Connors, Dahill, Croty and Morrissey). For Mr. Lynch—2 (Messrs. Foley and Mansfield). On the elimination of Messrs. Corcoran and Lynch, the voting was:— For Mr. Walsh—6 (Messrs. Foley, Quinn, Clancy, Dwyer, McCarthy and Butler). For Mr. Cullinan—5 (Messrs. Dahill, Croty, Morrissey, Mansfield and Connors). Mr. Walsh was accordingly appointed subject to sanction.

On the 9th, 10th and 11th October, Mr. McConkey and I visited Deelish reservoir, and on the 10th October Major Waller was with us, and we report as follows:— We found that the subsidence of the surface of the dam which had occurred upstream of the crest and just west of the line of the tunnel had been made up, and the pitching restored, so that the dam is now nearly as it was designed except for a slight dip of the crest near the line of tunnel slight bulging of the downstream slope and a slight general flattening. The dip in the crest is due to the subsidence referred to above, the slight bulging of the downstream slope, and the general flattening are due to the excessive wetness of the weather during the construction of the dam, and the period after that, insufficient allowance having been made by the Contractors for shrinkage. The subsidence indicated the disappearance of a considerable amount of material estimated at from 6 to 10 cubic yards, and it should not have been possible for material from the inside of the dam to get into the tunnel, but examination of the tunnel now shows serious crack across the bottom and up the sides of the tunnel, about half way between the puddle dam and the tower, and hair cracks close to where the puddle wall meets the tunnel. These cracks indicate that the tunnel has sagged between the puddle dam and the tower, owing to settlement or leaking away of the material on which it was constructed. Close examination of the dam shows no break of the upstream slope and no bulging of any importance. The reservoir has been filled slowly: 29th Nov. 1938 to the 5th January 1939 to high water level R.L. 374, and the above subsidence which occurred on February 20th 1939, led to a decision to empty the reservoir completely on February 28th. When in February 1939, the reservoir was standing at R.L. 374 the two 2" pipes at the tunnel mouth, which drain the portion of the dam downstream the puddle core & west of the tunnel were discharging under a high head indicating that there was access from the water of the reservoir to the dam downstream the puddle at some level below the R.L. 374, and a 6" pipe draining the western side was running full. On 14th October, 1939, water in reservoir was kept for some four hours at R.L. 383.00 and there was no discharge from the 2" pipes; but an increase from about 1 to 10,000 gallons came from the 6" outlet east of the tunnel. The fact that discharge from the 6" east side pipe increased and became cloudy after the reservoir rose, but no discharge came from the 2" pipes is apparently inconsistent, but it may be inferred that leakage from the reservoir into the port of the dam from which the 6" inch pipe forms the exit, was small enough to be dealt with easily by the 6" exit and prevented from accumulating over the top of the tunnel from east to west side. It is quite clear now that even with a very small head, water from the inside of the dam upstream of the puddle core can get into the tunnel in considerable volume. There was on October 11, as well as well as through the cracks, considerable discharge through faulty joints, etc., in the concrete of the walls and fillets. It is essential that these cracks, and bad joints in the tunnel must be made good, the water in the reservoir can then be allowed to rise slowly under very careful observation, so that information can be obtained as to other possible leakage; we think it probable that there will always be a certain amount of other leakage, but of an insignificant quantity. Major leakage has probably ceased and in pressure grouting the tunnel the whole problem may be solved. Much information can be got while such work is going on. We have communicated with the contractor, calling on him to proceed with the work of making the tunnel good at earliest.—Aldred Delap. Mr. Dahill—That's not a very encouraging report after our £9,000. He says we may always expect leakage. Mr. Quinn—That letter only deals with the shortcomings of the dam. They say nothing about the supply of water. Even if the water were perfect in the morning, in my opinion there would not be a better supply. If reports are any good, we have enough of them. The Chairman said it would be best to adjourn until a larger meeting. Mr. Dahill said that he saw, at dead stand the septic tank at which one could hold a regatta, there was so much water. They were getting nowhere. The B.S. was asked to report on this for the next meeting. Mr. Dahill—That's only about the tank, not the water. Mr. Croty—What happened in the last few days but the town was without water? Borough Surveyor—Some leaves come in always at this time of the year. This time they got in and prevented the valves from working. Mr. Dahill—Didn't you tell us there was a dam put up? Borough Surveyor—Yes, that prevents the ground from going in. It was only leaves this time. It won't happen again now that the leaves are gone. Mr. Croty—The water is more like silt than water. Borough Surveyor—We had to divert the water to a by-pass. It is filtered again. Mr. McCarthy—I heard to-day that there were what you'd call clogs coming out of the water. Mr. Croty—The engineers are like the dam. They are standing on very shaky ground. Very shaky. Mr. Foley—Those people should be told we're tired of reports. Mr. Quinn—How do we stand in relation to the contractor if this dam is not a success. Clerk—There's the retention money. Mr. Quinn—He has received his final certificate. Mr. Mansfield—We would forfeit that. The Borough Surveyor, in reply to Mr.

Butler said the storage tank was not full since last January. It was full from November to January. The tank was not in the storage tank. Mr. Butler—The storage tank is usually full. Isn't it from that we gauge the pressure? Borough Surveyor—Yes. Mr. Butler—You can't expect a better pressure no matter what you do to the tunnel? Borough Surveyor—No. Mr. Croty—Therefore the job won't be a success at all. M. Dahill—Another £9,000 would make it a success, Mr. Croty. Mr. Croty—You haven't sufficient pressure. Mr. Quinn—It's evident. Mr. Mansfield—They said they had an alternative which would cost £200. Mr. Dahill—In everything done that the engineers told us to do, except the metering. B.S.—Yes. The meters are at the Customs. Mr. Dahill—It'll be a new thing for the Council to get meters. Chairman—Instead of getting after the contractors or engineers, I think we should get after the Department of Local Government. The report before us is a failure to my mind. I don't know when the Department engineer inspected this. We've been a long time trying to find out what is wrong, and this report brings us no nearer to finding out. The Department should be made aware of our dissatisfaction at this scheme and we should ask them to have an engineer go into the scheme. We should ask the Department to step in and have an investigation into this matter. Mr. Dahill—Did the Department know we were building houses at Stalks Hill? Chairman—They did of course. Was any other member any suggestion to make? Mr. Clancy—What kind of investigation do you suggest? A sworn inquiry? Chairman—Not at the moment. If the time was opportune I would. The Department may not have been aware of the position in this town at all. Mr. Clancy—Isn't it strange the Department didn't interest themselves seeing that they were bearing 10 p.c. of the cost. They knew the Clerk of Works up there field seconded the following resolution:— That the members of the Dungarvan U.D.C. call on the Government to secure from the Irish Sugar Factories an increase in the price of sugar beet for the growers, the recent increase in the price of sugar amounts to 50 per cent, and that copies be sent to our County Senators and T.D.'s in support on increase for the growers. Mr. Foley—That's all right, but who's going to pay the piper? What guarantee have we that the cost of sugar won't go up again, if the price of beet goes up. A few days ago no sugar could be got, but now you can get barrels of it, which shows that they're all in the know, I'm a supporter of this Government but I say they played a dirty trick. They're a rotten Government to allow the like. They were supposed to be for the workers. There is no talk of raising the old-age pension. There'll be a revolution in this country. There must be a revolution. Who'll pay for the increase? Mr. Dahill—The consumer pays for everything. Mr. McCarthy—Everything goes up except the wages. Chairman—Personally I feel that the increase was uncalled for, but it will be discussed next Wednesday. Messrs. Dahill and Foley said they were against the resolution. Mr. Croty—But sugar is gone up. Mr. Foley—And we want to bring it down. Mr. Croty—Well, the farmer must get some increase when the price is gone up. Mr. Dahill—The farmer is well able to take care of himself without the Urban Council stepping in. Mr. Clancy suggested deferring the resolution, and Mr. Croty agreed, the resolution being deferred pending the Daily discussion on the matter on Wednesday. PAYMENTS TO HARBOUR MASTER. A letter from the Department stated that no objection would be raised to the payment of £10 to the Harbour Master in connection with the supervising of the work of deepening and cleaning berths at the Quay. TOURIST ASSOCIATION. The Irish Tourist Association wrote asking if a contribution for tourist purposes was included in the Council's estimate for the current year. NO OBJECTION. Mr. Bowen, B.E., County Surveyor wrote stating that there would be no objection to the Council opening the road at Shear's Street, at Parnell Street, or on the Square for the repairs stated. USE OF HALL. Mr. Anew McMaster wrote requesting the use of the hall for December 20th, 27th 28th and 29th or possibly the week commencing December 26th. This was granted, the date being left optional. LITTER BASKETS. The following particulars are requested from the Council regarding litter-baskets on telegraph poles:—(1) How many poles they intend to fit them on, (2) On what poles in the Urban Area, (3) How they propose to fix them, (4) The size and size of litter basket, (5) Height from ground at which they would be fixed on poles, (6) A sketch of basket and fixture. HORSE FAIRS. Regarding the Dungarvan Horse Fairs, the Clerk said that the cost of advertising the fair was £10 to £12. Mr. Butler—Since the fairs are now established it seems unnecessary to insert advertisements. The Clerk said he would not agree. It was necessary to ensure a good attendance. The Chairman said he would suggest, as the fair was established, that they get the fairs inserted in Old Moore's Almanac or some such journal. Mr. Croty—I suggest that Mr. O'Meara get a list of the buyers who have attended, and advertise in the local papers. Chairman—We had better circulate the buyers. Mr. Butler—And the local papers. Some discussion followed on fixing dates for the fairs. Mr. Dahill—If the August fair clash with the Dublin Show, you would have to put it back. Chairman—Well I think we should let it stand. TOWN PLANNING ACT. The Clerk next read the letter of Mr. Williams solicitor, suggesting that the Council should adopt the above Act, which was deferred since the previous meeting. Mr. Mansfield—I thought we adopted it. Chairman—We never adopted that Act. Mr. Foley—What does it really mean. Chairman—It deals with the layout of Streets. Mr. Clancy—What expense will it entail? It was finally to defer the matter. DRAINAGE AND RECONSTRUCTION. An application was received from Richard J. Dee, Monagh, for arrangements for drainage by the Council, and Mrs. A. Clancy, Home 13th Street, Abbeyside, also applied for a reconstruction grant for a house.

Fatal Accident at Kilmaden

The recent tragedy at Kilmaden, Co. Waterford, was recalled at Waterford Courthouse on Monday when, sitting specially for the purpose, District Justice F. J. MacCabe refused informations in a case against Dermot O'Connor, Carrickbeg, Carrick-on-Shannon, who was charged with the manslaughter of a girl named Mary Kearney, Gurnacloe, Kilmaden, on September 25, last.

Garda T. Thorpe, Kilmaden, said that he was on recreation on the day in question and that he was motoring to Waterford in a car, driven by Mrs. McGrath, of Kill. When he came to Ballyduff he saw a girl lying on the roadside with her bicycle beside her. He then saw a motor car, facing Dungarvan, almost against a stone wall fence, about 20 feet on the Dungarvan side of the girl.

WEST WATERFORD NEWS

CLASHMORE PAROCHIAL WHIST DRIVE ON SUNDAY NIGHT.

On Sunday night last a very successful Whist Drive, in aid of Parochial Funds, was held at Clashmore, Co. Waterford, and considering the terrible weather conditions prevailing the attendance was most satisfactory. The Parochial Committee had all arrangements perfect and Mr. Patrick O'Donoghue, Clashmore, was a capable M.C.

PRIZEWINNERS.

The prize-winners were—Ladies' 1st (a £1 note), Mrs. Alice Glavin, Coolbagg, Clashmore (150); Ladies' 2nd (a 10s. note), Miss L. Connors, Clashmore (146). Gents' 1st (a £1 note), Mr. John Ronayne, Coolbagg, Clashmore (150); Gents' 2nd (a 10s. note), Mr. M. Ward, Kilgarret, Clashmore (145).

THE NEXT WHIST DRIVE.

A big Whist Drive, in aid of Parochial Funds, will be held in Clashmore N.S., on Sunday night, November 26th, commencing at 8 o'clock. The prizes will be very substantial and a thoroughly enjoyable night is assured to all who will be invited to attend. A full report of the drive will appear in our issue of next week.

HOTEL MONATREBA DANCE.

All arrangements are now complete for next Sunday night's Grand Dance in Hotel Monatrea and the event promises to be an unprecedented success. Splendid music will be supplied by Nancy Crowley and her band, the floor will be in perfect order while carnival novelties and gay decorations will add to the gaiety of the scene. The catering arrangements, in the capable hands of the courteous and efficient hotel staff, will be up to their usual high standard and a thoroughly enjoyable night is assured to all who will be invited to attend. A full report of the dance will appear in our issue of next week.

ANOTHER WHIST DRIVE AT MELROSE HOTEL, ARDMORE.

As briefly announced in last week's issue, another grand Whist Drive, for the Irish Red Cross Society, will be held at Melrose Hotel, Ardmore, on Wednesday night, November 15th, commencing at 8.30 o'clock. The last Whist Drive in this well appointed hotel was most successful, and as we announced last week a sum of £29 8s. was forwarded by Mrs. M. Collis, to the Irish Red Cross Society. Next Wednesday night's drive promises to be even more successful and enjoyable. It is for a very laudable object and deserves every encouragement. Cards are 2/6 each (including supper).

ON THE LAND.

The recent break in the weather has resulted in a temporary cessation of agricultural operations. Rain fell heavily during the week and resulted in the soil becoming sodden while some flooding occurred in lowlying areas. Work on the land, is however, well advanced. Threshing operations finished early and the potato and root crops are all safely stored away for winter use.

OIRACHTAS NA GAEDILGE.

Amongst those who attended the Oirachtas na Gaedilge in Dublin last week-end were "An Fear Mor," Ring, and Mr. M. Foley, P.C., O.G., Ardmore. IRISH CLASSES.

The Irish classes in Ardmore and Clashmore continue to be very successful. Mr. M. Foley, P.C., O.G., is in charge of the classes at Clashmore and the very good thing that may be going to be a share. There is good fellowship, natural and spontaneous everywhere, and a complete absence of affectation, humbug and shame. Yes, whatever it's disadvantages, a life in the country is wholesome in every respect.

G.A.A.

An increase in the price of petrol products in Ireland was announced on Tuesday. The increases range from 1d. to 2 1/2d. and the commodities affected are—Kerosene, increase 1d.; Derv, 1d.; gas oils, 1d.; fuel oils, 1d., and white spirit, 2 1/2d. The new prices take effect on and from Wednesday, November 8th, and cover all grades and all methods of delivery.

INCREASES IN ENGLAND.

An increase of 1d. per gallon in the price of pool fuel oil and pool Diesel oil, except Diesel oil for road vehicles, was announced on Tuesday by the Petroleum Board. The price of pool gas oil is also advanced by 1 1/2d. per gallon. The increases which operate from Thursday, have been agreed by the Government. The rise in price, it was stated, "only partly reflect the increase in cost since the beginning of the war."

LINOLEUMS AND FLOOR CLOTHS.

Owing to the increased cost of raw materials due to the war prices for Lino and Floor Cloths have advanced very considerably almost everywhere. We were extremely lucky as we had placed huge contracts for stocks which have now arrived and which will be offered as long as they last at the old prices. Some of our designs are lovely and it will pay you to inspect our patterns at the earliest possible moment in order to secure genuine bargains. We have no hesitation in stating that our stocks to-day are the largest in Waterford. Remember we deliver free to your door no matter where you live.—HARPUR BROS., Ironmongers, Waterford.

EAST CORK JOTTINGS

FATHER MURPHY'S FAREWELL.

Father Murphy, P.P. of the Australian Mission for some months back has been spending a well earned holiday in his native land in the home of his parents in Ballre, Killeagh, celebrated the 9.30 Mass in the Inch Church last Sunday morning. Speaking after the first Gospel he said—"I am not now going to preach a sermon. I have no authority to do so, but I would like to say of this opportunity—the last I may have, of thanking your reverend Parish Priest, Fr. Sheehan, and your esteemed curate, Fr. Mortell, for their kindness and consideration in giving me the privilege of saying this Mass. Having got their permission I thought the best thing I could do this morning was to offer it up for you, and for your departed friends. The only return I will ask is that you in your prayers will remember me. That I may save my own soul and help those in whose midst I labour to save their souls as well. Salvation is our own concern. No minister of God can save your souls if you do not co-operate fully and freely, and make the best possible use of the grace which God has mercifully given to us all. It is 23 years last Sunday since I said my last public Mass here. Many of those who were then present are now exiles like myself, and some are in the grave. Those who are still here are very glad indeed to meet. They have grown older in years, and like their fathers and their forefathers they have fought the good fight, and are prepared to hand on the lamp of Faith undimmed to those who will succeed them. I have enjoyed my holiday very much. I am glad to have met you all, and I am now about to leave you. You shall be on the high seas going back to my parish and my people. If God spares me, I hope to spend yet another holiday some future day in my native land. Even if that dream comes true we shall not all meet here again. Some who were at one of those benches listening to me will have passed away, but even if we do not meet again in Inch, we shall meet—I hope in heaven, in the Kingdom of God's glory, and what a joyous unity that will be. I will now say farewell to you all. That God may bless and spare and prosper you, and may give you, in my sincere prayer. God be with you always."

COAST TO COMERAGH CHIPS

Saul Slattery says:—We have some great societies; indeed, they're not a few. There's many an ancient brotherhood, And many a sect brand new. And the one spot we consider, Of the universe the hub, Has amongst its social circles The Bally Social Club.

CARRICK NOTES

GIANT POTATO. A giant potato weighing 3 1/2 lbs. was unearthed on Friday last in his garden by Mr. F. J. Moran, Main Street. The potato measured 12 inches in circumference. ACCIDENT. Mr. Michael Torpy, whilst dismounting the wall in the Town Hall, fell from a plank on to a stone floor and received severe injuries to his hip on Thursday evening last. Having been treated by Dr. J. Phelan, Mr. Torpy was conveyed by ambulance to the hospital where he is progressing favourably.

RUGBY DANCE.

The Carrick Rugby dance, held on Sunday night last, was a great success. Mr. Fennessy's Clonmel Band supplied the music. The catering was carried out by a ladies' committee. CLONEA DEATH. Mrs. Mary Conroy, Clonea, passed to her reward on Friday last. Deceased was very popular in town and country. The funeral to Clonea parish church on Friday last assumed large proportions. PRETTY WEDDING. A very pretty wedding took place at Faughan Parish Church on Sunday morning last. The happy couple being Mr. Ed. Larkin, Carrickbeg, and Miss Brenda Cooney, Bridge Street. The best-man was Mr. John Madden, Carrickbeg, cousin of the bridegroom and Miss K. Cooney, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Very Rev. Canon Prendergast, P.P., V.F., officiated. After the wedding breakfast the happy couple left for Dublin.

STORM AND RAIN.

Carrick and district were completely whipped by wind and rain on Saturday and Sunday last. It was rumoured in town during the week that a new shop fit to be opened very soon at the old butter market, quarters, the Main Street. This place has been closed since the days of the butter market, when farmers from the three counties sold their butter there. MONDAY'S PIG MARKET. Fat pigs, on Monday, fetched 80/- per cwt. A good quantity of pigs were available. Many farmers from the Rathgore and Kibibally districts were present. £400 FOR PILTOWN MOTOR DRIVER. Mr. Patrick Morris, Piltown, who is well known in Carrick was granted £400 and a sum for costs before Mr. Justice Byrne in an action by the forementioned against Mary Morris, widow, Clonmore House, Piltown, Patrick O'Connell, Bany, Clonmore, Fethard, and Bryan O'Donnell, Bany, Clonmore, Fethard, for injuries caused to him, when he alleged a motor lorry, the property of the defendants, collided with him when he was in town on November 18th, 1938.

MATCH ABANDONED.

The Rugby match between Carrick and Waterpark, Waterford, had to be abandoned on Sunday last owing to bad weather conditions, after both teams had stripped for the fray.

VOTE OF SYMPATHY.

A vote of sympathy was passed by the Carrick Rugby Club at their meeting held on Monday evening, to the widow, son and relatives of the late Guard John Harrington, Carrick.

GUARD TRANSFERRED.

Guard John Drohan has taken up duty in Templemore having been transferred from Carrick. His presence will be missed by his many friends in the town and district, where he was very popular.

MASS CARDS.

Amongst those who sent Mass cards at the funeral of the late Guard John Harrington were—Rev. Mrs. Hayton, C.B.S., Carrick; Mr. P. MacManus, Waterford; Mr. Bernard Thompson, N.T.; Mr. and Mrs. Connolly, Limerick; Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Brien, Carrickbeg; Mr. and Mrs. P. Burke, New Street; Mrs. McGrath; Miss K. McGrath, Cinema Carrick; Mr. L. Somers, District Court Clerk, etc.

IS IT TRUE? BY "IS IT A FACT."

That here is a little riddle for all my friends: "What part of Co. Waterford would you go if your Shannon fishing light failed, to right them—To Fews (true) course."

That here is another little riddle: "Why is the fair green"—because there is grass growing in it."

That "why is stout like the sun"—because it is in the (s)eat and it sime in the w(y)est!"

CALVES

COFOX is the great drench to which the Dept. of Agriculture has given its official approval for treating horses, huns, scours, coughing and irritation. Wide-awake farmers no longer fear disease in their calves. They cure it with COFOX. Read what Mr. O'Connor says!

"Each time I have used COFOX I have cured every calf with hooves, and I have been using it now for the last five years." J. O'Connor, Paulstown, Kilkenny.

GIVE COFOX A TRIAL. Chemists and Hardware sell COFOX in 1/2, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 8, 10, 12, 15, 20, 25, 30, 40, 50, 60, 75, 100, 125, 150, 200, 250, 300, 400, 500, 600, 750, 1000, 1250, 1500, 2000, 2500, 3000, 4000, 5000, 6000, 7500, 10000, 12500, 15000, 20000, 25000, 30000, 40000, 50000, 60000, 75000, 100000, 125000, 150000, 200000, 250000, 300000, 400000, 500000, 600000, 750000, 1000000, 1250000, 1500000, 2000000, 2500000, 3000000, 4000000, 5000000, 6000000, 7500000, 10000000, 12500000, 15000000, 20000000, 25000000, 30000000, 40000000, 50000000, 60000000, 75000000, 100000000, 125000000, 150000000, 200000000, 250000000, 300000000, 400000000, 500000000, 600000000, 750000000, 1000000000, 1250000000, 1500000000, 2000000000, 2500000000, 3000000000, 4000000000, 5000000000, 6000000000, 7500000000, 10000000000, 12500000000, 15000000000, 20000000000, 25000000000, 30000000000, 40000000000, 50000000000, 60000000000, 75000000000, 100000000000, 125000000000, 150000000000, 200000000000, 250000000000, 300000000000, 400000000000, 500000000000, 600000000000, 750000000000, 1000000000000, 1250000000000, 1500000000000, 2000000000000, 2500000000000, 3000000000000, 4000000000000, 5000000000000, 6000000000000, 7500000000000, 10000000000000, 12500000000000, 15000000000000, 20000000000000, 25000000000000, 30000000000000, 40000000000000, 50000000000000, 60000000000000, 75000000000000, 100000000000000, 125000000000000, 150000000000000, 200000000000000, 250000000000000, 300000000000000, 400000000000000, 500000000000000, 600000000000000, 750000000000000, 1000000000000000, 1250000000000000, 1500000000000000, 2000000000000000, 2500000000000000, 3000000000000000, 4000000000000000, 5000000000000000, 6000000000000000, 7500000000000000, 10000000000000000, 12500000000000000, 15000000000000000, 20000000000000000, 25000000000000000, 30000000000000000, 40000000000000000, 50000000000000000, 60000000000000000, 75000000000000000, 100000000000000000, 125000000000000000, 150000000000000000, 200000000000000000, 250000000000000000, 300000000000000000, 400000000000000000, 500000000000000000, 600000000000000000, 750000000000000000, 1000000000000000000, 1250000000000000000, 1500000000000000000, 2000000000000000000, 2500000000000000000, 3000000000000000000, 4000000000000000000, 5000000000000000000, 6000000000000000000, 7500000000000000000, 10000000000000000000, 12500000000000000000, 15000000000000000000, 20000000000000000000, 25000000000000000000, 30000000000000000000, 40000000000000000000, 50000000000000000000, 60000000000000000000, 750000000000000000
