LOW THURLES TUAM

gine that hens should work hard for their living, and to encourage this the grain is broadcast over the grass run, often in the same place for several days. When this happens the hens scratch up a lot of the woolly grass, and in their eagerness to secure the grain some of this material is picked up with the food. If this is repeated for several days crop-binding follows.

GRASS AS LITTER.

Grass of the nature I have in mind can be extremely harmful, and if the birds must be fed in this manner a fresh spot should be chosen daily. I have never seen a crop-bound case when the grain is scattered amongst the leaves, but when dried grass is used as litter a great risk is entailed.

Exercise is essential in small backyard plants or when birds are kept intensively, but there is no need to make special provision of it where birds have free range, and in this case the use of feeding troughs is advised. This is particularly important now that the daylight is getting shorter each day. Trough-fed birds eat the grain ration faster than those which have to find the corn in litter.

Late moulting is not uncommon at this time of the year amongst birds which have laid all through the autumn. The other day I came across a group of yearlings which have only just begun to cast their feathers. These had passed the stubbles after harvest, and the shed grain kept them well supplied for some time. During the stubble period they did not moul, but since their removal to home quarters the feathers have begun to fall.

In such cases it is advisable to afford protection from wet and cold weather until the new crop of feathers is produced. I realise, however, that this treatment would be difficult if large numbers of fowls had to be considered.

It is worth remembering that the addition of five per cent. of linseed meal to the ordinary mash ration is of great assistance in speeding up feather growth.

THE LATE MOULTERS.

It is often said that the late moulters are the best layers in the flock, but this is not always true. At any rate, too much importance should not be placed on this factor. Tramping is the best way of testing the proof of this statement.

Neck moulting is common this season amongst the pullets. Every autumn one meets with a few cases, and now and again whole flocks will moult. The trouble is associated with a change in feeding, loss of body weight or change in environment.
The remedy is more food—make certain that the birds have full crops before retiring for the night. R.H.

GRAND CELEBRITY CONCERT AT PIKE HALL.

Outstanding Success.

On Sunday night, at the Pike Hall, there was held a concert which in variety and in the excellence of the artists who assisted, can have had very few equals ever before in County Waterford. In spite of bitterly cold, sleety weather, the Pike Hall was filled to capacity long before the curtain rose, a fact which indicates the high quality of the entertainment which was expected, and certainly nobody was disappointed. It is estimated that the attendance was well over the 800 mark.

The concert opened in stirring fashion with a selection of Irish airs from the Villierstown Ceilidhe Band, who certainly know how to make the most of our rousing marital music. On Sunday night they were at their best and delivered "The Gathering of the Clans" and other airs with a brilliance that set the pulses of the audience tingling. They were followed by those talented dancers the Misses Peggy Vouden and Maureen
Baron, who danced a reel in fine style.

The next artist, that popular young lady, Miss Biddy Hanrahan, was loudly encored for her beautiful rendering of "Because I was Poor," and was equally applauded for her second item "South of the Border." Miss Mary Kiely also excelled in dancing the "Blackbird."

No concert at the Pike would be complete without Mr. Mark Kiely, who was in great form on Sunday night, and greatly amused his audience with comic recitations, and held them silent with a tragic one.

The next artist, Mr. J. Bransfield, Youghal, needs no praise, for the beauty of his voice is everywhere recognised. His audience could not hear enough of him on Sunday night and evinced their pleasure by demanding encores again and again. He was followed by the Misses Murphy who danced beautifully.

Mr. T. Beston, Aglish, the well-known conjurer, next appeared and proceeded, with a delightful flow of patter, to amuse and baffle his audience for an all too short quarter of an hour. He produced handkerchiefs, cards and other articles from thin air with a careless ease, and sent them into nothingness with equal ease.

Finally, he consumed ten razor blades and finding that they had blunted the edge of his appetite, he proceeded to pull them from his interior with a piece of string.
This was only one of the excellent tricks with which Mr. Beston beguiled his audience, who were greatly amused by his witty sallies.

Mr. M. Chappell, Youghal, who played a number of beautiful melodies on the banjo, won well-deserved applause. We should all like to hear Mr. Chappell again for his talent is undeniable.

Miss Rita Mulcahy danced in fine fashion, and the Misses Whelan rendered a violin selection, followed by a dance, which was greatly enjoyed. The Cappoquin Troupe, who next appeared, are worth going a long way to hear, and they set their audience humming delightedly with a number of the latest tuncful choruses.

Their songs were delivered with a swing and verve which captivated everybody present. Miss Sinéla White, Cappoquin, a member of the troupe, obliged with the humorous recitation "Burlington Bertie".
In a polished easy manner, and Mr. Walter Myles gave a selection of melodious cowboy songs with all the lilting swing of the wide open spaces. Miss White danced captivatingly, followed by the Cappoquin Trio with a harmonious selection which brought forth requests for encores again and again from the audience. Mr. T.
Foley sang with melody and feeling, and Mr. W. O'Donnell, Cappoquin, rendered a recitation with understanding and a fine appreciation of the finer points of elocution. Miss K. Whelan played some lovely violin selections.

The Misses Condon, Abbeyside, brought forth unanimous applause for their talented step-dancing. Mr. J. Barron, Cappoquin, was excellent with that beautiful song "The Kerry Dances" and other songs.
The Misses May and Nan Flynn, Square, Dungarvan, showed great talent and premise, the former with a horpige, and the latter with a double and Miss Joan Fraser, Ballinamult, who danced a horpige, was equally good. Mr.
Monnie Waters was an immense success with a number of well-delivered songs, as were Misses. Tom Norris, Enghistown (violin) and Stephen Bates (violin-accompanist) and a fellow-Westford man, the latter two being well-known radio broadcasters, playing a selection of popular and loudly applauded dance music.
The step-dancing at the Misses E. Croft,
K. Fitzgerald, Carrickon-Suir and Peggy
McCarthy won them rapturous applause.

Mr. James Keohan, Dungarvan, was at his best on Sunday night and inclined to his contributions "The Cross at Ballinroad" to the great satisfaction of his audience. Miss Rita Mulcahy again appeared and rendered a violin selection.
with undoubted talent, and Mr. M.
Norris gave a tuncful selection of airs on the rhioradic-accordeon.

The Concert was concluded by another fine selection of Irish airs by the Villierstown Ceilidhe Band and the National An-

The Concert Hall Out At The Pike.

Though the farmers had just been on strike
And the weather was not what you'd like
You should see Sunday's rush.
Like a Siegfried Line "push"
To the Concert Hall out at the Pike.

There were songs there, and music galore,
And many a call of "Encore!"
For troups of renown.
From the Cornishton town,
And Youghal, Kilmac' and Clashmore.

Tom Beston of Aglish was there,
And didn't the Pikemen all stare,
When he brought quite a few Things from out of the blue,
And sent them back into thin air.

Mark Kiely was there with the rest,
And Jim Keohan sang with feeling and zest,
And step-dancing girls,
With tappings and whirrs,
Were there of the brightest and best.

Biddy Hanrahan got quite a hand,
And young Myles of the wild prairie land,
And they cheered with delight,
When "evening and bright"
Came the strains of the Villierstown Band.

And while all were glad some and gay,
A bus full from Cork passed that way,
And seeing the crowd,
They all shouted aloud,
"It's Patrick Street, Cork, we're astray!"

And they weren't so wrong, if you like,
Though 'twas far from Parade or Mardyke,
For the traffic that night,
Was simply a trifle.

Finally a word of thanks is due to the Misses Whelan, Ballinamult, who provided the music for all the step-dances, to Messrs. George C. Kiely, Kilmachomas;
C. Curran, Clashmore, and J. Conery,
N.T., Villierstown, who did so much to promote the success of the concert, and to all the artists who, without exception, combined to entertain and amuse their audience so successfully.

VILLIERSTOWN CEILIDHE BAND.
The success of the re-organised Villierstown Ceilidhe Band is a matter for satisfaction. At the Dungarvan Ceilidhes, tor, Waterford County Committee of Agriculture, delivered a very interesting lecture entitled "Food Production."

referred to the probable shortage owing to the war, of some commodities and pointed out the necessity for increased production of cereals, etc. He also referred to matters concerning livestock and artificial manures so successfully.

COUNTY BOARD G.A.A.

Meeting in Waterford.

Mr. M. V. O'Donoghue, B.A. (Chairman),
Presided at a meeting of the Waterford Co.
Board, G.A.A., in the Metropole Hotel on Sunday last. Other members present were:
Messrs. C. Ware, J. Ormond (Treasurer),
J. Cunningham, Wm. Sheehan, J. Good, M.
McCarthy, P. McManus, F. Aherne, T.
Walsh, P. Elliott, and D. Good (Secretary).
ST. CATHAGES v. BUTLERSTOWN.

There were two representatives from the above clubs present in connection with the objection lodged by St. Cathages against the awarding of the minor hurling championship to Butlerstown.

Mr. C. Ware said it would not be fair to have the Chairman Preside during the hearing of the objection, as he was connected with the objection.

Chairman—I am chairman of the Board, and I think I have always given justice, but I am quite willing to allow someone else to take the chair in my stead.

On the proposition of Mr. McManus, seconded by Mr. Ormond, Mr. W. Walsh was appointed chairman to hear the objection.

Mr. J. Hunt, Butlerstown, said the name of the player objected to was on the list.

Mr. E. Lynch (St. Cathages) having moved his objection, and spoken thereon, the Chairman asked both representatives to leave the meeting.

The Chairman said he attended the match
and in his opinion Butlerstown were well.
He would like to have the opinion of the Board on the objection.

After a lengthy discussion,
The Chairman said in his opinion the Butlerstown team was perfectly legal.

Mr. C. Ware proposed that the match be awarded to Butlerstown.

Mr. Ormond proposed that the objection be upheld.

On a vote, the match was awarded to Butlerstown, by seven votes to three.

ANNUAL CONVENTION.
It was decided to hold the annual convention in Dungarvan on January 21st, 1940.

CAPPOQUIN MATCHES.
Arising out of a report on the recent junior and minor finals played at Cappo-quin, the Secretary was directed to write the Cappoquin Club on the matter.

REINSTATEMENTS.
Letters were read from Knockanore and Brickey Rangers clubs asking for reinstatement.

The matters were adjourned to the next county convention, both clubs to send in application to the County Secretary, to be dealt with at the convention.

TALLOW MEDAL TOURNAMENT.
A letter was read from Sean O' Murphy, secretary, Cork County Board, re the above,
in which it was stated that the question was one for the Waterford Board.

The Board decided to refund the objection fee to Kilkronat, and asked the Western Board secretary (T. A. Kyne) to forward all particulars to the Cork County Board secretary.

PLAYING RULES.
A letter from Mr. Patrick O'Keefe, Gen.
Secretary, G.A.A., with reference to playing rules was read.

After a discussion, the Secretary was directed to write to Mr. O'Keefe and forward the following suggestions from the Waterford Board:

1.—That all hand passing be cut out; the ball must be punched.

2.—Any foul committed inside the 21 yards line be a penalty kick.

3.—When a player is injured, play should be continued until the ball goes out of play.

4.—No lifting of the ball from ground inter. The ball must be caught on hop or from the air.

SUBSCRIPTION.
The Board decided to forward £1 subscription to the Wexford Board in aid of an injured player.

The question of sets of medals outstanding was left over for a special meeting.

CEILIDHE.
On Sunday night last in the Town Hall, Youghal, a successful Ceilidhe was held under the auspices of the Gaelic Social Club. All arrangements were perfect and splendid music was supplied by the local Ceilidhe band. There was a big attendance and all had a very enjoyable time.

WHIST.
On December 22nd a big Whist Drive will be held in the League of the Cross Hall. Look out for advertisement next week.

XMAS.
Signs of the approach of Xmas are now evident in town. Shops are nicely decorated and stocked with all kinds of goods suitable for Xmas presents.

UNEMPLOYMENT.
Quite a lot of unemployment prevails in town at present. This is particularly tragic at the present time as the rise in the cost of living makes the position of the unemployed very unreasonable. It is sincerely hoped that there will be an improvement for Xmas.

THE "BRIDGE QUESTION."
Nothing definite is known about the arrangements for the erection of a new bridge to replace the present "massive" structure. The Urban Council is doing everything possible to speed up the matter but so far their efforts are in vain.

CLASHMORE LECTURE.

In the National School, Clashmore, Mr. P. O'Shea, B. Ag. Sc., Horticulture Instructor, Waterford Co. Committee of Agriculture delivered an interesting lecture on the planning and cultivation of shelter belts, fruit and vegetables.

In the course of his remarks Mr. O'Shea referred to the fact that all over the country were vast places of ground that could be planted, thereby improving the appearance of the landscape and later providing useful timber. Species recommended included larch, silver fir, scotch fir, Sitka Spruce, Norway Spruce, Inisrubus pine, Cupressus Macrocarpa, Cupressus Lemmonii and the Yew. Larch was most durable and was always useful. The speaker then referred to the cultivation of fruit and explained that in other countries jams and other household needs were made in the home from home-grown fruit. There was no reason why we should not do likewise in this country. Owing to the war, foreign supplies of fruit would be cut off and we would have to depend on home grown fruit. We should then pay more attention to its proper cultivation. Apples should be planted as shallow as possible and trained properly and kept open-headed in shape. They should be kept cut back for a few years and well manured. Manure should be put down about 15 feet from the trunk and not against the trunk as is often done. Potassium was the principal element in the constitution of fruit so that potash manures were the most effective. Mr. O'Shea then explained the different kinds of apples and explained how to pack and market them properly. The cultivation of composites and bush fruits was then explained and the speaker went on to explain methods for the prevention of disease in fruits. The method of slipping bush fruits, evergreens, etc., was then illustrated and the lecture went on to explain the Waterford County Committee of

YOUGHAL URBAN COUNCIL

YOUGHAL BRIDGE.

The following letter has been sent to Mr. P. J. Little and the other Waterford T.D.s. A Chara, I am directed by the Youghal Urban District Council to acknowledge with thanks the receipt of your letter of the 17th instant and to append for your information some details concerning the effect of the restrictions on the Youghal Bridge on the economic view point. From the statement it will be realised that the livelihood of the people is threatened and the trade of the Town of Youghal is fast disappearing, and will disappear if something is not done quickly either (a) to arrange for the erection of the proposed new bridge or have the existing structure repaired. On the 9th September last, at the request of my Council, I wrote to the Local Government Department asking that an Engineer be sent to Youghal to have a thorough inspection of the Bridge made with a view to having restrictions removed so far as my Council have not had any reply to this communication. Herewith some details showing the effects the restrictions on the Youghal Bridge are having on the trade of the town of the Town.

(1) The Youghal Fairs got their main supplies from the Waterford side prior to the restrictions being imposed, now all these supplies of cattle, etc., are going to other fairs. Owners of cattle are afraid to cross the Bridge owing to the danger of the obstructions, the same applies to sheep, and pigs in cribs. Lories are out of the question owing to the restrictions on weight and cost as will be appreciated.

(2) Prior to the restrictions being imposed on the Bridge, the Great Southern Railway used to ply direct from Cork to Waterford and back to Cork. These Buses brought many, very many shoppers and farmers to Youghal regularly which enhanced the trade of the Town, now all these Buses have been taken off this route owing to the weight restrictions and obstructions on the Bridge, with the result that practically no one comes to Youghal from the Waterford side now. Special Buses ply from Ardmore to Dungarvan and back and very few people are able to travel in those Buses and who formerly came to Youghal, now find it much more convenient to travel to Dungarvan.

(3) The Youghal Bridge was a main artery in so far as tourism was concerned and yearly thousands of tourists travelled via Youghal over the Biddy and the Biddy ordinary buses and special tourist buses. It will be appreciated that tourists so travelling in holiday mood spent pretty freely when they stopped in Youghal, now this is all stopped.

The notices displayed at either end of the Bridge as well as the obstructions (2) and (3) have had a high tribute to the full length of the bridge in addition to weigh-bridges and gates at either end, have frightened all potential tourists, and now instead of using the Youghal Bridge, they follow the new bus route, Fermoy, Cappoquin and Waterford and vice versa, giving Youghal a wide berth. Numerous cancellations at Youghal Hotels have taken place by tourist parties in special buses, and inquiries at any of the hotels will corroborate this fact.

(4) The Saturday weekly market has completely disappeared. No wheat or beet lorryes came through Youghal since the restrictions were imposed, and the same applies to a certain extent to all agricultural produce.

(5) Since the imposing of the restrictions 21 business houses have actually closed their doors. As a matter of fact at least two-thirds of the Co. Waterford trade that formerly came to Youghal has now been diverted elsewhere, and it is a well known fact that many shops are remaining open hoping against hope that something will be done to the Bridge which would give an impetus to trade. Miss M. Meas, M.H. Walsh, Town Clerk.

KILMATHOMAS NOTES

LATE MR. N. WALL, ex-T.D.

At 8.15 a.m. on Monday, Mr. R. Curran, T.D. (South Tipperary) received the following telegram from the Fine Gael Party leader, Mr. W. Cosgrave, T.D. (Cork City). "Deputy Curran, Cork, 8.15.5. Carrick-on-Suir.—Regret impossible for me to attend Mr. Wall's funeral. Please represent me.—Cosgrave."

Mr. Cosgrave also wired sympathy to Mrs. Wall and family. A TRULY TOPPING TREAT. Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather on Sunday last, the attendance of the public at the celebrity entertainment held (under the auspices of the local Amusement Club) in the Pike Hall—a remarkably commodious and well-appointed house—was such as to amply satisfy the most sanguine expectations. The arrangements for the treat were most elaborate and ambitious, and that the preliminary efforts of those in charge were not in vain was testified to by the magnificent success which was attained. Of a verity, the energetic and efficient organisers set an example in initiative and enterprise well worthy of emulation in the future by the promoters of similar events.

Though she had reached an advanced age, the death of Mrs. Wall, relict of the late Mr. Matthew Wall, Strabally, which took place on Sunday last, following an illness of somewhat protracted duration, is deeply regretted, not alone by her respected sons and daughters, but by numerous others from far and near, to whom she proved a very useful friend. The remains were removed to the Parish Church of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross, Strabally, on Monday evening. After the celebration of Requiem Masses for the happy repose of her soul on Tuesday, the burial took place in the family plot in the Churchyard, in the presence of many mourners and sympathisers. Father English, P.P., and Father Lavin, C.C., were the officiating clergymen.

A PRETTY WEDDING. St. Mary's Parish Church, Dungarvan, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Thursday morning of last week, when Miss Helen Cullinan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cullinan, Mitchell Street, Dungarvan, became the wife of Mr. Philip Foley, M.T. Ring. The ceremony (with nuptial Mass) was performed by the Rev. P. F. Walsh, C.C., Strabally (uncle of the bride), assisted by Very Rev. P. F. McGrath, P.P., Ring, and Rev. J. Hally, C.C., Kilmathomas. The bride, who looked charming, was attended by her sister, Miss M. Cullinan, as bridesmaid. Mr. Timothy Foley, Gilgo (brother of the groom), acted as best man.

After the ceremony, the wedding party motored to Clonke, where breakfast was partaken of. Father McGrath, in a happy mood, paid a high tribute to the bride and groom, and went on to say he knew the bride's family well, and could speak in the highest terms of the splendid Catholic spirit which always characterised the home of the Cullinan family. In conclusion, the wishes of a happy couple many years of conjugal bliss.

Patricia Hally also voiced a glowing tribute to Mr. and Mrs. Foley and offered cordial congratulations to both. In the afternoon, the newly-wedded pair left for Dublin, on their honeymoon.

The bridegroom comes of a well-known Modelling family, and is a notably brilliant member of his noble profession. His amiable life-partner comes of a widely connected family, long associated with the business life of the Old borough, and enjoys widespread popularity as a large number of costly and serviceable presents to mark the auspicious occasion, which is a high tribute to their popularity, and we join with their friends in warmly wishing Mr. and Mrs. Foley length of years of health, happiness and prosperity.

GAIL GARNERINGS. Glad to learn that the enthusiastic Gals of Newtown parish have again formed a football club, and will enter a junior team in next year's Divisional and County Championships.

Cork were right lucky in landing the laurels by the millennium margin at the Waterford County venue last Saturday. The Deise representation hurled with delightful dash and abandon against the Munster Champions. Playing on a soggy pitch and in the teeth of wind and rain, the dogfighting mixers gave thrills galore to a pile-sized audience.

A correspondent refers to the fact that only one member (Wade) of the Clonessa-Power hurling team (current-year junior champions of the County) was tried in the inter-County National League games, and wonders why the Waterford selectors so treated the side.

Have it that the Clonessa-Power Club has nominated sterling Seamus O'Meara for the position of delegate from the Eastern Divisional Board of the County Board, and he is also nominated for the post of Registrar to the Eastern Board. We hope the Eastern Board will advance this worthy Gael to the major Executive.

KILMAC CALLING! All ways will again wind to the New Hall, Kilmathomas, for the enjoyable "bill of fare" coming off therein on tomorrow (Sunday) night, under the aegis and in aid of the Barrack Feet (Waterford) Brass and Band. For full details, please peruse advt. Published elsewhere on this copy.

FIANNA FAIL. Messrs. P. J. Little, T.D. (Midwater for P. J. Little and the other Waterford T.D.s. and Senator Sean Goulding were present at the meeting of the Mid-Deise Comhairle Dail Ceannair held in the Temperance Hall, Kilmathomas, on Sunday evening last, and were accorded a great ovation on arrival.

Mr. T. J. Power, P.C., Leamybrien (Chairman) presided and Sean Cunnah in the area was represented. The meeting passed a vote of condolence with Mr. John Kent, Kilmathomas (Vice-President), on the death of his mother, the late Mrs. Ann Kent, T. Terrence, New Ross, Co. Waterford.

A vote of congratulation to Mr. Little on

JUST COMMONSENSE

YOU need not be an Expert to realise that a Genuine Overhaul cannot be done on your Car for a few shillings. As a Motorist you would not expect a super performance from a badly worn Engine, or trust your life to a ruin salvaged from a junk yard. LINOLEUMS AND FLOOR CLOTHS.

Owing to the increased cost of raw materials due to the war prices for Linoleum and Floor Cloths have advanced very considerably almost everywhere. We were extremely lucky as we had placed huge contracts for stocks which have now arrived and which will be offered as long as they last at the old prices. Some of our designs are lovely and it will pay you to inspect our patterns at the earliest possible moment in order to secure genuine bargains. We have no hesitation in stating that the stocks today are the largest in Waterford. Remember we deliver free to your door no matter where you live.—HARPUR BROTHERS, Ironmongers, Waterford.

BLACK CURRENTS FOR INTER-PLANTING.

Of late black currants have maintained the most stable price of any soft fruit, and in any case, they will now be needed for jam and for medicinal pastilles. These are, therefore, among the best fruits to inter-plant between top trees, as their marvellous needs are mostly nutritious (the same as needed for the top trees), and the spraying programme is identical. Moreover, they are the cheapest bush fruits to buy for planting.

ROBERT A. MERRY & CO., LTD., DUNGARVAN & WATERFORD.GOOD NEWS FOR FARMERS.

The decision of Mr. W. S. Morrison, the British Minister for Food, to decontrol from Monday last livestock marketing (including the purchase of stock by the Ministry) is great news for Irish producers. One effect of the order will be to allow Irish live beef, pig and mutton exports to rise to whatever "supply and demand" prices they should attain until full control is established by the Minister about mid-January.

Here is a rapid review of the good demand for Eire exports in a number of branches:

Fat Pigs.—The British are willing to pay almost any price for fat pigs. There is just now an extraordinary strong demand and handsome prices will continue to be paid in view of the difficulty of obtaining regular imports from the Continent. It is no secret here that producers in England have been getting privately 1s. 6d. per score over the maximum price fixed by Mr. Morrison.

Fresh Pork.—Eire sends a fair quantity of fresh pork of the special "London type" (80 to 100lbs). This had been controlled up to Monday last at 10d. per lb. I believe that with the lifting of the "control" we will get as much as 1s. 1d. per lb. just nearing Christmas.

If the prices of other meats rise equally well, as expected, the demand for Irish turkeys will be phenomenal. I am convinced that Irish turkeys will reach the record wholesale price of 2s. per lb. this Christmas—present price is 1s. 2d. to 1s. 3d. Some difficulty is certainly to be met in obtaining the usual Hungarian and Yugoslavian supplies—between them they make up to about 65 per cent. of the market—and, in a greater degree, supplies from the Baltic.

Live Beef.—Not very important to Eire, as highly-finished cattle for the Christmas trade are taking the cream of the prices—and much more than 48/-.

Fat Cattle.—In view of Mr. Morrison's

DUNGARVAN URBAN COUNCIL

At the weekly meeting of the Dungarvan Urban District Council on Friday, December 1, there were present Messrs. T. McCarthy, Vice-Chairman; J. Mansfield, J. Dahill, D. Foley, P. Quinn, J. Crotty, M. Clancy, J. Butler.

PAYSHEET.

A paysheet for £13 5s. 3d. was read and passed.

RENT COLLECTOR.

A letter from the Department stated that the Minister has sanctioned the appointment of Mr. P. J. Walsh as rent collector (part-time) of the 139 new houses.

CLEARANCE ORDER.

Another letter from the Department stated that with reference to the Order entitled Dungarvan Clearance Order, 1939, submitted by the Dungarvan Urban District Council for confirmation under the Housing (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1931, as amended by the Housing (Financial and Miscellaneous Provisions) Act, 1932, the Minister had given directions to state that an objection to the said Order had been made to him, and he had accordingly instructed his Inspector, M. J. Scott, Esq., B.E., to hold a Public Local Inquiry into the matter and to report to him thereon.

The Inquiry would be held on Tuesday, the 12th day of December, 1939, at the Council Chamber, Town Hall, Dungarvan, at 11 a.m.

TEMPORARY APPOINTMENT.

A letter from the Department conveyed approval of the temporary appointment of Mr. P. J. Walsh as S.S.O. during the absence on leave of Mr. Thomas Walsh, but Dr. O'Farrell, County M.D.H. should be consulted whenever the Council proposes to appoint a substitute during the absence from duty of the S.S.O.

APPLICATION FOR SEATS.

Mr. T. Lynch, Hon. Sec., Pike Amusement Hall Committee, wrote requesting the use of some of the Town Hall seats if they were available for Sunday night, Dec. 3rd.

THE APPLICATION WAS GRANTED.

The application of the Dickens Leather Co. Social Club for the use of the Town Hall for a Ciderella Dance from 9 p.m. to 2 a.m. on Monday night, January 1st, 1940, was granted.

A similar application by the Gaelic League, Celdidhe Cumann for the use of the Hall on Friday night, December 8th, was granted.

Mr. A. R. Farrell, Esq., wrote on behalf of Mr. J. J. Quigley, O'Connell Street, stating that his client had pointed out that it was up to the Dungarvan Urban Council to repair the damage to his yard and he was not concerned with whether Messrs. Delap and Waller undertake this work or not. The matter had dragged on too long as it was, and he was therefore instructed to inform the Council that unless repairs are carried out within a fortnight, he was to institute proceedings.

The B.S. said he would attend to the matter as soon as possible.

SALARIES OF TOWN CLERK.

Mr. W. O'Meara, Town Clerk, wrote as follows:—
Dear Sirs,—With reference to the Department's letter of February 3rd, 1939, re above, and your request for information in regard to the salaries of Clerks in other Urban Districts, I wish to submit particulars. Town—Fermoy, salary paid £270; Youghal, £250; Thurles, £350; Tullamore, £325; Kilkenny, £310.

Some of these Clerks have assistants paid by the Council while I have to pay out of pocket for any help I require. My duties have been much increased mainly in respect of H.W.C. Rents, Free Milk Scheme, School Meals Scheme, Sewerage and Water Schemes, etc. etc.

After a number of the members had paid tribute to Mr. O'Meara's work as Town Clerk the following resolution, proposed by Mr. Clancy and seconded by Mr. Dahill was passed unanimously—"That the salary of our Town Clerk be raised to £250 per annum, subject to sanction.

This figure represents the minimum salary paid to their Town Clerk by any Urban Council of approximate size and valuation of Dungarvan.

WATERWORKS.

Messrs. Delap and Waller wrote as follows:—
With regard to completion of the above which we have urged your Contractors, Messrs. Fitzpatrick to hasten, we received a letter from them dated 24th inst, a copy of which we attach hereto, together with copy of our reply.

Should we not receive a satisfactory answer from the Contractor, the matter may have to be submitted to your Council's solicitors.

From Jeremiah Fitzpatrick, Contractor, Kanturk, to Messrs. Delap and Waller:—"We have been studying the Contract documents as well as the conditions of contract. We would be much obliged if you would let us know under what clause you consider us liable for what has happened at the dam."

COPY.

From Messrs. Delap and Waller to Messrs. J. Fitzpatrick.
"In reply to yours of 24th inst. sub which you asked us to let you know under what clause we consider you liable for what happened at the dam, we point out the following, without prejudice:—

Form of Agreement and General Conditions of contract:—

SPECIFICATION.

Chairman—That's not going to give us water.

Mr. Dahill—It's a good thing we asked the Department to send down an engineer. Mr. Clancy—We don't know where we are.

Mr. Dahill—Since we asked for the Department engineer all this correspondence came to light.

Mr. Clancy said that he had suggested sending a deputation to the Department, but the Council did not agree. Nothing had since been done, and he would again suggest sending a deputation.

Chairman—I agree.

Mr. Clancy—We are losing revenue over the new houses.

The Chairman said they had had no reply from the Department to their request for an engineer.

They would have done much better business by sending a deputation to Dublin the first day.

The Clerk, at the request of Mr. Butler, read copies of two letters which he had sent to the Department on this matter, to which he had received no reply.

Chairman—They might at least have sent a reply.

Clerk—That seems to be the opinion; Mr. Williams, too.

Mr. Butler—What could a deputation do, except to get an engineer sent down?

Chairman—That's one thing it would do.

Mr. Clancy—As public representatives we could make a good case. If they don't send an engineer, the fault is theirs.

You'll have the new houses ready for occupation in a month, and that should be stressed too.

Mr. Dahill—I think they'll just say they'll look into the matter, and leave it at that.

Mr. Mansfield—In my opinion the deputation could do no harm.

Mr. Foley—I agree.

Chairman—I always hold that your presence is better than any letter. Go yourself if you possibly can. I'll take a resolution.

Mr. Butler—You see these letters—one blaming the other.

Mr. Clancy—That's what we want to counteract.

Mr. Quinn—It's an extraordinary thing that the Department did not even send a copy. The Department took the whole scheme in their hands when it was on. Now they seem to take the whole thing very cool.

Chairman—I'd like the Council to be unanimous on this deputation.

Mr. Dahill—And also deal with the sewerage.

Chairman—By all means. I suggest that Messrs. Morrissey, Butler, Clancy or Crotty go—any of them you like.

The Council finally decided to send Messrs. Butler, Morrissey, Clancy and Mr. McGrath, B.S.

Mr. Crotty—The point is, even if the defects are remedied, I don't see how we'll get a better supply of water.

GOLF CLUB APPLICATION.

The Dungarvan Golf Club were granted the use of the hall for a week for the purpose of holding a bazaar, at the usual charge, from Dec. 10th to Dec. 17th.

ALLOTMENTS.

The Clerk stated that there were 82 applications for allotments from the town area, and 14 from Abbeyside. Of the total only one or two were employed.

Mr. Foley—Is there any way of getting land in Abbeyside?

Clerk—We'll advertise for about 10 acres in the Urban area and about 14 or 2 acres in Abbeyside.

It was finally decided to deal with applications on Friday, December 15th, and

BISHOP OPENS BOYS' CLUB.

Most Rev. Dr. Kinane, Bishop of Waterford and Lismore, was received with a military guard of honour, and buglers sounded the general salute when, in the presence of a large gathering, he opened the new St. Joseph's Boys' Club, Yellow Road, Waterford. The premises were erected at a cost of £2,500.

His Lordship said it was a pleasure for him to take part in such a splendid work of charity at a time when so much hate and destruction had been let loose on the world.

An Irish American prelate, after he had returned to U.S.A. following a visit to this country, had said that to revisit Ireland was for him to make a holy pilgrimage, to feel a reviving and freshening of faith, devotion and courage.

His Lordship added he had heard other returned exiles express similar sentiments, and asked would it be possible to say the same of Ireland 20 years hence.

"I have the greatest confidence," he said, "that it will, and I repose that confidence in work such as that being done in this club and in the social and charitable work generally of the St. Vincent de Paul.

Other speakers included—Ald. J. Aylward, Mayor of Waterford; Ven. Archdeacon Kelleher, P.P., V.F., Ballybricken; Rev. Fr. Guiry, Club Chaplain, and Chief Supt. Duffy, G.S.

LEAKING ROOFS.

The Chairman drew attention to a number of houses, both in Dungarvan and Abbeyside, the roofs of which were leaking. That was not right in this weather. He was not blaming Mr. McGrath as the weather was bad, but it was only fair to repair the roofs when the tenants were paying rent.

The Clerk said the Housing Account was overdrawn.

Chairman—The roofs will get worse if they are not repaired.

Mr. Quinn—A stitch in time.

Mr. Dahill—An Abbeyside man informed me that he has to have buckets in his bedroom to catch the water leaking from the roof.

Mr. Clancy and Mr. Crotty also spoke of the necessity of repairing cave gutters.

Mr. Crotty said that in the Main Street, water came pouring down over the gutters and flooding the pavement.

CARRICK NOTES

DEATH.

With deep regret we record the death of Mrs. Cullen, Ballisley St., which occurred on Tuesday night last. Deceased was very popular and highly esteemed by all with whom she came in contact. The remains were removed to St. Nicholas' Church on Wednesday evening last, and the funeral to the new Cemetery, assumed large proportions—R.I.P.

GRANT SCHEME.

Work began on Monday morning last on the Xmas Grant Scheme. Men were put to work at Castle St., digging up the roadway in preparation for the concreting of same. More men worked on the Quays which are also to be concreted. This grant will be a great boon to the poor of the town for Xmas.

The Carrick Rugby team defeated New Ross at Carrick on Sunday last. The match was a very good one, brilliant play being the order of the day.

In Memory of Mr. Tom Walsh, Tallow, 1916 Veteran

DIED IN AUGUST 1939.

Over Dublin town of high renown there hangs a heavy pall,

For with sorrow deep each heart is sore beside your grand old walls.

They mourn in doleful silence for one whose passing away,

A valiant, true and noble Celt, alas, mouldering in the clay.

A sterling son of Inisfall he laboured for his weal,

With heroic, patriotic mind and honest, fervent zeal.

While the people that ruled did him pursue with fiendish energy,

Alas! sweeter far was death to him than a craven coward to be.

When Ireland's trumpet call rang out, o'er hill and town and plain,

He nobly fought and held on high the banner of Sinn Féin.

In '16 and '22 those sad but glorious years, When Ireland's cherished hopes were high, he led the volunteers.

But now the struggle's over, his race of life is run.

For him it matters little since his crown of glory's won.

With Pearce and bold McDonagh and gentle Plunkett, true,

Tom Ashe and Edward Daly who died for Éire éan.

With those faithful, dauntless comrades he commingles now on high.

Mid realms of bliss celestial in spheres beyond the sky.

Blest freedom was the watchword and for freedom they died.

Along with brother Irishmen their memory dwells with pride.

And never round those grand old walls shall the sweet memory ever fade.

Of that glorious pure-souled patriot who sleeps beneath the shade.

In a lonely Dublin cemetery he takes his silent rest.

May the green sod of his motherland lie lightly on his breast.

JOHN PARKER, Lyonscarrige, Tallow.

WEST WATERFORD 200 YEARS AGO.

About the middle of the last century, there were red deer on the Knockmealdown mountains, but they have been long since driven away and become extinct. The plant called London-pride grows here in great abundance. The summit of this mountain is remarkable as being the burial-place of the ingenious Henry Eeles, who published many papers on electricity. In his principal work, which appeared in the form of Letters from Lismore, and was printed in Dublin in 1771, he claims the credit of discovering the identity of electricity and lightning. The Rev. Mr. Ryland states that Mr. Eeles had his horse and dog buried with him, but this is contradicted by Mrs. Hall, in her "Tour through Ireland." "It is true" (writes Mrs. Hall) "that he was interred on the summit of Knockmealdown mountain, as I have the word of his relative and representative that his horse and dog were not buried with him." Rumour has, of course, added largely to the fact that the eccentric gentleman selected his last home apart from the crowds, we not only heard addition of his steed and hound, but were told by many that, by his directions, his gun was buried with him, and an iron rod was driven through his body, in order that it might attract the lightning to descend and consume him utterly!

The following were the principal inhabitants of Lismore and neighbourhood in 1820—

Very Rev. John Scott, Dean of Lismore; Henry Bushe, esq. of Glencarrig Abbey; Major Cameron, Lismore; William Cliffe, esq. Lismore; Rev. Marcus Stokes, (Master of the endowed School); Henry Witham, esq. (Seneschal); Rev. Thomas Tuckey, Vicar; Rev. Richard Langhams; Rev. Nicholas Foran, Parish Priest, (afterwards created Bishop of the Diocese); Colonel William S. Curry, the Castle; Barry Drew, esq. Flowerhill; Sir William Homan, bart. Dromana-house; George Bennett Jackson, esq. Glenbeg; Henry Stanistreet, esq. Lismore; Richard Walshe, esq. Ballyhen; Rev. Philip Ryan, Glebe-house; Rev. Thomas Parke, Curate; Charles Finn, Apothecary; Thomas Foley, Attorney; Mathew Quinlan, Surgeon; William Blake, (owner of the Devonshire Arms Hotel); Patrick Foley, Merchant and Miller; Patrick Heffernan, Corn Merchant; Anthony Robinson, Corp Merchant; William Wall, Teacher of the Hibernian School; Richard Parke, Tobacco Manufacturer; Andrew Hickey, Draper; Michael Geary, Spirit Dealer; Johanna Parke, Spirit Dealer; John Cuff, Grocer and Spirit Dealer; David Dunn, Boot and Shoe Maker; Richard Huddy, Post Master; John Kersey, Tallow Chandler; Michael Keefe, Draper and Iron Store; Patrick Handcock, Smith; James Dwyer, Builder; Thomas Safford, Grocer; Susan Arnold, Shopkeeper; William Cooney, Shopkeeper; Patrick Slattery, Spirit Dealer; James Power, Grocer; Charles Finn, Druggist and Stamp Office.

The road between Lismore and Cappoquin, on the northern bank of the Blackwater, runs along the base of a range of hills which skirts the river. This neighbourhood is highly improved, and, for romantic scenery, may bear a comparison with the most celebrated places. Throughout the whole way, the road is overarched with the finest trees, giving the appearance of a riding through a magnificent demesne. At various places are deep ravines crossing the range of hills: in one of these called the valley of Glenbrihan, which separates the Chearnley property from that of the Duke of Devonshire, is thickly planted on the right, and, winding between the hills, runs up a considerable distance from the road, the view from the elevation which terminates this valley will amply repay the labour of ascending it.

CAPPOQUIN.

About two miles from Lismore is the village of Cappoquin, which is situated on the northern bank of the Blackwater, where the course of the river describes a right angle, in its progress to the sea. It possesses nothing worthy of particular notice, except the church, ornamented with a neat spire; the Roman Catholic chapel, which stand immediately contiguous to it, and a neat limestone bridge over the Blackwater. At Kilbrannigan may still be seen some remains of an ancient castle built by King John: it was situated on an eminence which commands the river, and might in former times have been a place of strength. The following were the principal gentry, in and about the neighbourhood of Cappoquin, in the year 1818—

CAPPOQUIN NOTES

REG. PAROCHIAL "45" DRIVE.
The final of the monster Parochial Forty-Five Drive, will be played in the C.Y.M.S. Hall, Cappoquin, on Sunday evening next commencing at 8.30.
During the past week cards continued to be played off in large numbers and the success of the drive is assured.
There are £10 in prizes divided as follows:—£6 to winning pair, £3 to runners-up and £1 to householder in whose house winning card is played. First rounds may be played anywhere at 1s. each, i.e. each card returns 6s.
(Cash and cards should be returned as soon as possible to any of the following:—Very Rev. Fr. T. J. Fitzgerald, P.P., Cappoquin; Rev. Fr. T. J. Murphy, C.C., do.; Mr. M. J. Sargent, F.C., Hon. Sec. See Advt.)

A HURLEE OF PROMISE.
The very creditable display of Master Willie Sargent, Cappoquin, as a member of the Waterford senior hurling team against Clare and Kilkenny in the National Hurling League matches at Limerick and Kilkenny, respectively, is a source of much satisfaction to the Gaelic people generally of these parts amongst whom he is a great favourite. Although only a youth, Willie Sargent is of splendid physique and has all the physical and mental qualities necessary for an outstanding hurler. In the matches he met some of the leading and most experienced hurlers in Ireland and came through the encounters with colours flying. It looks as if Master Sargent will follow on the footsteps of his father, Mr. M. J. Sargent, P.P., who was an athlete of outstanding merit.

GRAND CONCERT, SYCELES.
The annual grand concert, carnival show and dramatic and variety entertainment under the auspices of the Cappoquin Young Men's Society takes place in the Boathouse to-night Friday. All arrangements are in the capable hands of Miss Sheila White, Miss Margaret Cahill and the committee of the Society and the programme promises to be the best seen for years. The major part of the programme will be presented by the talented Cappoquin Dramatic and Variety Troupe augmented by two leading Dublin artists, Messrs. O'Toole and Jackson, who are at present touring in Cappoquin. Exhibitions of high step-dancing will be given by the pupils of Mr. S. O'Sullivan's class and a special feature is songs by that very promising young vocalist, Mr. Walter Miles. Considering the wonderful programme which has been arranged it is hoped that there will be a full house. Doors open at 7.30 and the show commences at 8 p.m. The prices of admission are 2/- and 1/6. Seats may be booked with Miss White and Miss Mullins. Be there and bring your friends along for a feast of drama, music and song.

THE WEST WATERFORDS.
On Thursday the West Waterford's met at Clackfield. The day was very cold and with conditions unsatisfactory there was poor sport. A fox took the meet on a short twisting spin from Ballycomin to Millstreet. This finished the day's sport.

BALLINAMULT NEWS

LATE MR. JOHN WALSH, CURRADOON.
Last week we briefly published the passing away of an old and respected member of the community in the person of Mr. John Walsh, Curradoon.

The news of the demise of this esteemed gentleman came as a shock not alone to the people of the district but to a thousand friends and well wishers in other places. It is unnecessary to dwell here on the splendid character of the deceased gentleman, for the simple reason that every person who came in touch with him should be impressed by his straightforwardness and should come to the conclusion that here was a man who would not falter in voicing his opinion or standing up for the principles which he held to be right. A sterling nationalist who was known to have suffered loss on account of the political convictions which he held, he cared not who held different views and never changed his outlook on the national question. He was ever ready to give monetary aid to every movement that aimed at the regeneration of his country and was the trusted friend of many men in the Republican Organisation when the country was in the throes of a life and death struggle for its freedom. A genial and merry companion and faithful friend, he will be sadly missed by a large circle of friends, who will mourn for him and will extend most sincere sympathy to his sorrowing wife and family on the sad lot to bear.

INTERESTING LECTURE.
A large number of the local farming community were present at Tournaneen Schools on Friday night last to hear a most interesting lecture given by Mr. Hurley, County Agricultural Instructor. Mr. Hurley dealt with the now very important question of Food Production and gave some valuable hints as to the best methods of growing such crops as wheat, oats and barley. At the conclusion many questions were put to the lecturer, all of which were replied to in a practical and satisfactory manner.

MEMORIAL TO ARCHBISHOP BRENNAN. The Friend Of Blessed Oliver Plunkett.

A project for the erection of a monument to the former Bishop of Waterford and Archbishop of Cashel, Dr. John Brennan, the friend of Blessed Oliver Plunkett, is being sponsored by the League of Prayer for the Canonisation of Blessed Oliver. The arrangements, now almost complete, are under the supervision of Very Rev. Professor P. Canon Power, D.Litt., Waterford, who was responsible for the erection of a stone to Geoffrey Keating, whose remains lie close to those of Dr. Brennan, in the graveyard of Tubrid, near Cahill.

Dr. John Brennan was one of the most remarkable of the Bishops of the Penal Times. Born in Kilkenny, in or about the year 1625, he proceeded to the Eternal City for his ecclesiastical training in 1645. Two of his three travelling companions were Oliver Plunkett and Father Scarampi, the Papal envoy to the Confederation of Kilkenny. Plunkett and Brennan entered the Ludovician Irish College on the same day. Side by side they studied for nine long years; side by side they were ordained; side by side they received the doctor's insignia from Cahill.

Dr. Plunkett left for Ireland, as Archbishop of Armagh, in 1669, and Dr. Brennan followed two years later, as Bishop of Waterford. In 1678 Dr. Brennan was promoted Archbishop of Cashel, but owing to the relative poverty of the Metropolitan See, he was permitted to hold Lismore and Waterford as well. From the day of his arrival as Bishop until his death twenty years later, Dr. Brennan never left his persecuted people. At times he was almost the only Bishop in the Province; he was the devoted pastor of his people; he was watchful, prayerful, prudent and active. So warily and quickly did he move from place to place that spies and priest hunters were baffled; he was felt but not seen. He was reported from this quarter and from that—from Curraghmore, Kilkenny and Cahill—but he was never taken. He held Visitations, Confirmations, Ordinations and even Synods. He exhorted, preached and reproved. He also appointed pastors. Throughout his extensive diocese there did not survive a single church, and priests were so few that he had to amalgamate parishes—committing two, three and even five parishes to a single parish priest. These unions of parishes made by Dr. Brennan continued to the present day.

There is no need to repeat the story of Blessed Oliver's death, nor of the mock trial that preceded it. Dr. Brennan from his retreat at Redhill, near Cahill, where Geoffrey Keating had sheltered before him, kept an eye on Dublin and London to note any possibility of rendering aid; he gave what aid he could, and when the money was over, he collected all available details for transmission to Rome. Can we doubt that he foresaw the day when that evidence would be required for the process of Canonisation?

From the accession of the second James I. the debate of the Bishops, the year after, there was a respite from active persecution, but the latter was resumed worse than ever after the departure of the Wild Geese. Unfortunately for himself, Dr. Brennan was spared to see the end of Ireland's brief season. He was with the beleaguered Limerick during the siege, and he was one of the chosen commissioners to treat with Ginkel for the City's surrender. Death released him only when the Treaty had been dishonoured, and his country lay in the dissecting table.

Our devoted Bishop ended his weary years at Redhill, within his own walls of Lismore, in a castle of the Catholic Butlers, Barons of Cahill. In this identical mansion, at the foot of the Giffels, the hunted Dr. Keating had found a refuge half a century earlier. As Bishop and historian had died under the same roof, so they sleep in the same grave at Tubrid.

The proposed Brennan Monument is a simple slab of limestone, to match the Keating headstone erected some twenty-five years since. It will bear the following inscription in Roman capitals: "Laudis memorem ne periret, illustrissimus Joannis Brennan, S.T.D., Epi. Waterford (1674-1693), Archiep. Cashel, 1677-1693. Qui temporis calamitatem, huncque feracemque oppressum, fragilis et fide intrinseca, per plus XX annos, muneri obtulit, nec monumentum extruxit, sed, supradictis auspiciis, consociatum ad eandem promissionem, sancti Oliverii Plunkett, cuius erat constans et fidelis amicus."

"Translatores"—In pious memory of Most Rev. John Brennan, S.T.D., Bishop of Waterford (1674-1693), Archbishop of Cashel (1677-1693). For over twenty years, in times most perilous, he fulfilled his office with a calm mind, and unwavering faith. This monument was erected under the auspices and at the expense of the League of Prayer for the Canonisation of Blessed Oliver Plunkett, whose intimate and constant friend he was.

Two personal mites of Dr. Brennan survive: "these are hisseal," preserved in the National Museum at Dublin, and a Graduale Romanum, bearing his autograph signature, preserved at Mariner Library. Further details of Archbishop Brennan's life and troubled times are available in "A Bishop of the Penal Times," by Very Rev. Canon Power, D.Litt., published by the Cork University Press.

EAST CORK JOTTINGS KILLEAGH AND INCH PAROCHIAL DRIVES.

The Parochial '45 drive is going with a swing in the district and is certain to be an unequalled success. The demand for cards is unprecedented. So much so that the large stock in hands at the beginning is mostly exhausted and a further supply will have to be procured at once. All this is of course very gratifying to the promoters, but it is not in the least surprising considering the magnitude of the work that must be undertaken at both ends of the parish in the near future. That the work is essential everybody knows, hence their enthusiasm in promoting the success of the card drive. The cards are only 4/- each and may be played for anywhere. The prizes are as follows: 1st, £5; 2nd, £2; 3rd, £1 10s.; 4th, £1; 5th, 10s.

The finals will be played in Killeagh School on Sunday, January 7th at 7 p.m. It has been arranged that in the meantime card sessions will be held in the Inch-Kilcouny, Park and Killy schools. This was not in contemplation at the start, but has been found necessary in order to convenience the large and ever increasing numbers of people who are anxious to play for and take a part in encouraging this very laudable undertaking. Cards may be had from Fr. Mortell, C.C., Inch, Killeagh; Mr. Murphy, N.T., Killeagh, or from local "Observer" representative.

THE FARMERS STRIKE. The farmers' strike in the vicinity of Dublin and the midlands has been the means of awakening the interest of the farming community everywhere and bringing strongly before them the fact that if they were organised in one solid body their power would be irresistible. For years and years they have been pawns in the political chess board, and have been played and juggled with in a most callous manner by those whose interest it was to exploit them in their struggle for political supremacy. At the moment the farming community are economic slaves, their farms are over-run by Government inspectors and officials of all kinds, and the very title to their land, which their fathers risked so much to win and cherish so strongly has been stolen from them. The Dublin strike has brought home to them a valuable lesson that they would do well to take to heart and profit by. The lesson that unity is strength, and that they have in their own hands a means of curing all their ills if they choose to adopt it. The farmers' sons were the backbone of every movement in the past for the betterment of the people in general without distinction of class. Nobody can blame them now if they make an attempt to put their own house in order.

The East Cork Division Committee will meet during the week to decide when and where the divisional Convention will be held and to make the necessary arrangements as to nominators etc. Last year the convention was held in Clonme—the home town of the divisional Secretary, Mr. Eamon Fleming and needless to say it was a huge success. Two of the delegates were, Mr. M. P. Spillane, N.T., and Mr. Fleming, come from Clonme, and both are pleased and proud at the success of the Clonme junior hurlers in this year winning the championship of the County. It is only right to say that the boys of the Clonme men have been most gratified to the East Cork Gaels generally, for Clonme has always occupied a prominent place in the annals of the Association, and it is good to know that there is no weakening or falling off in the support the National games and its players could always count on in the East of St. Colman's. Middleton has also done well in the championships this year, the junior football having been secured by them as well as the hurling majors through their smart young local team. St. Eada's, St. Brendan's, Kiamon, Kiamon, the "Little Man from the East" is walking, to air these days. All his work for the year has been successfully and expeditiously accomplished and most of the success attained by the divisional teams is due to his initiative and energy. He will be able to put before the convention when it assembles in the near future—a record of a year's progress due in greater measure to him than to any other man or even group of men in the division. What the Association in East Cork would do without Eamon Fleming I hate to contemplate and anyway there is no need for apprehension because he is perfectly fit and physically and mentally capable of holding the helm and sending this great movement of the Gaels to ever greater endeavour and ultimate triumph in not alone East Cork but the county generally.

KILLEAGH POINT TO FORT RACES. We are glad to see that the Killeagh Race Committee are carrying on with their races as usual this year. War or no war, their motto is "Get on with the work." It is a very difficult matter to organize a big race meeting under present conditions but where there's a will there's a way, and that's the Killeagh men have the will to carry on, and the pains and the cheery to solve every problem and surmount every obstacle in their pathway, thus every success in the past gives ample proof. Their races are now among the most popular and best managed in Munster. And what is true of their race meetings is equally true of those of the Gaels, to solve every problem and surmount every obstacle in their pathway, thus every success in the past gives ample proof. Their races are now among the most popular and best managed in Munster. And what is true of their race meetings is equally true of those of the Gaels, to solve every problem and surmount every obstacle in their pathway, thus every success in the past gives ample proof.

Rosell; Samuel Roderick, Surgeon; Henry Greene, Attorney; David Barry, Apothecary; Henry Denny, Attorney. The following is a list of shopkeepers in Cappoquin, in same year:—

John Brown, merchant; Thomas John, merchant; John Barron, publican; Michael Kerley, corn merchant; John Smith, corn merchant; Richard Collender, tobacconist; Edward Brennan, publican; Mathias Power, hotel proprietor; Cornelius Dannehy, grocer; Hannah Doherty, drapery shop; John Coughlin, publican; John Killeaghy, publican; Thomas Edsall, saddler; William John, publican; Michael Kerley, Chandler; John Morrissey, grocer; Richard Power, tanner; Mrs. Dockworth, postmistress.

Of New Affane, associated as it is with the recollection of St. William's, it is a place of great interest to be able to give some detailed information: that it was his property, presented to him by one of the ancient proprietors of Downham, we have unquestionable authority for ascertaining whether it continued in his possession and reversion of the improvement which his cultivated taste was so well qualified to bestow upon it, we have not sufficient grounds to enable us to determine.

Amongst the traditional wonders of this part of the county, it may not be amiss to mention, without demanding a too implicit credence to the minor circumstances connected with the narrative, the curious tradition of the "Black Horse" which is still discernible. The first is a large double trench, called in Irish, Rian Bo Dubh, or the trench of St. Patrick's Cow. This road or trench runs eastward or Knockmole down, passes through the Deer Park of Lismore, and crossing the Blackwater near Tottin, where the remains of a famous "horsemanship" may still be seen, proceeds in a direct line to Ardmore. There is an unfortunate discrepancy in the tradition concerning this curious trench; some ascribe that it was the work of St. Patrick's cow, and other say it was the work of a cow which had been stolen while others are more inclined to believe that it was the work carried away by thieves to Ardmore, and that the labour commenced here; on the other hand, some ascribe it to the work of St. Patrick's cow, and other say it was the work of a cow which had been stolen while others are more inclined to believe that it was the work carried away by thieves to Ardmore, and that the labour commenced here;
