Splendid St. Patrick's Night Concert.

A packed house showed by vociferous applause how much they enjoyed the Gaelic League Concert in Lismore on St. Patrick's Night. A large proportion of the audience which greeted the rise of the curtain sharp at 8 p.m. (old time), was comprised of young people.

The Convent Junior Choir opened the programme with "Eamonn an Cnuic," followed by "Cait Ni Dhuibhir," two Irish numbers which merited the deep appreci-ation of all. Miss Chrissie O'Brien them treated the house to "Carrigdoun" and responded to insistent encores with that old Irish favourite "Sean Dun-na-nGall." It was easy to see that Eamonn eagerly awaited at the conclusion of his first recitation. "Who is Ireland's Enemy?" His second piece "The Gombeen Man" went over in great style, too. Labhras O Cadhla, then rendered those grand Gaelic songs, "Bean Dub an Gleanna" and "Baboro," in his own inimi-table traditional style. Paddy Parker, in response to special request, gave a further selection of violin solos, in which he excelled his earlier triumphs. The Convent senior choir brought the first part to a close by a pleasingly executed rendering of those two magnificent numbers "Maidin mBeara" and "Gradh mo chroidhe tu,

The newly formed Moorehill team visited Tallow on Sunday to engage the locals in a friendly contest. Weather conditions spoiled what would otherwise have proved to be a lively and interesting game. TALLOW.

Under the auspices of the Committee of the local branch of the G.A.A., one of the most enjoyable concerts and successful entertainments, was staged at the Cinema Hall, on St. Patrick's night. Not for a period of well over a quarter of a century, was there such success achieved as on this cocasion. A capacity attendance of music lovers and supporters of the G.A.A. filled the hall very early on, and late comes had to be found accommodation, somehow. All were highly appreciative of the delightful programme arranged by the committee for this occasion and the latter deserve the highest compliments, for providing such a delightful entertainment. As an introduction, The Tallow Serenaders' Orchestra rendered some charming musical items, under the guidance of Miss C. Long, who presided at the piann such whom were associated Mr. D. To her son, Dr. D. Healy, M.D., Lismore, her brothers, sons, daughters and other relatives, deepest sympathy is extended in their bereavement. FIRE ASSURANCE.

Irish National Assurance Co. Ltd. wrote agreeing to the transfer of the Council's fire assurance to Irish Public Bodies Mutual.

PLOTS AGAIN.

A letter from Messrs. E. A. Ryan and Co., solrs, on behalf of Mrs. Mary C. Power, O'Connell St., stating that she had made an application to the Council over six months ago for part of the Council's property at the rere of the premises known as "The Corner House," and understood at the time that the portion required by the council of the time that the portion required by the council of the time that the portion required by the council of the council of the council over six months ago for part of the Council's property at the rere of the premises known as "The Corner House," and understood at the time that the portion required by the council over the etc. (cousins and relatives).

this plot has been again before the Council for discussion. The yard at the rere of our client's premises is very small and she would be glad if the Council when dealing with this surplus piece of land, will sell her the portion of same immediately adjoining her premises so as to enable her have more space for a yard which is essential to the premises.

Mr. Byrne—We had a good discussion on that at our last meeting, and it was definitely understood that that plot went to Luby by the plans and specifications. I would like the people to be aware of that so that they won't be blinded by clever, legal people.

The matter was deferred to the next meeting.

FENCE AT GALLOWSHILL.

Mr. A. R. Farrell, on behalf of Messrs. John and Bennie Dee, wrote as follows:—

"At the request of my clients, I to-day visited their field at Gallowshill and inspected the fence. Mr. McGrath has repaired two gaps, but that is all that has been done. I really think that a deputation from the Council should go to inspect this fence. It is in a shocking condition, and this is very unfair to my clients, who are growing wheat in the field. There been done. I really think that a deputation from the Council should go to inspect this fence. It is in a shocking condition, and this is very unfair to my clients who are growing wheat in the field. There is no doubt that by trunking the roadway adjoining this fence, the effective height of my clients fence has been reduced by about one-half. I consider that this is the same as if you had actually knocked the fence by 3 feet as either way the fence is less effective by that amount. Therefore, I consider that your Council should raise my clients fence with stones and clay to an additional height of three feet.

In addition there was a stake and barbed wire fence on top of the stone and clay fence which was knocked down by Mr. McGrath's workmen and which will have to be replaced."

Continuing the letter stated that the repairing of the fence as suggested would end the Council's responsibility in the matter. If any further trespass takes place his clients would hold the Council responsible until the fence has been rebuilt.

B.S.—As far as I know the contractor's men didn't interfere with the fence.

The matter was referred to the Council's solicitor.

STORE AT CASTLE ST.

Mr. Thomas Power wrote staing that he intended making a store for building material out of Mr. Tar's three houses in Castle Street, if the Council did not object to him keeping the front walls standing.

The application was refused.

TENANTS FOR FOUR HOUSES.
A letter from the Department relative to the selection of four treansts for the remaining houses of the Council's Housing Survey 1938, that 98 houses are still required to re-house persons residing in unhealthy areas or until houses, if the Council water the housing of the Working Classes Acts by way of:—

Mr. Foley—There's only one certain class entitled to a house.

Arising out of the Minutes and the proposed painting of Lismore Reading Room, Mr. R. J. Collender proposed and Mrs. R. Going, Vice-chairman, seconded the following Resolution:—

"That the County Waterford Libraries Committee beg to protest to the Dungarvan Urban Council regarding their action in not renovating the Library Room when the remainder of the Town Hall was being renovated, as borrowers had remarked on the Mr. Edward Kirby, one of the four applicants who were not sanctioned appeared before the Council and registered an emphatic protest against the Department's County Librarian was instructed to get an-

Treat for Packed Audience at Dungarvan Town Hall.

G.A.A. CONCERT.

On St. Patrick's night, 17th inst., one of the largest crowds that ever filled the Town Hall, Dungarvan, were treated to a veritable feast of Irish song, music and dance at the G.A.A. concert, sponsored by the Dungarvan Hurling and Football Club. Half an hour before the time scheduled for The Railway Cup Finals are over and done with, and so far as Munster is conof interest, proved such fiascoes as those of St. Patrick's Day. The hurling match was a near thing, certainly, but at least the hurlers saved themselves from defeat, whereas the football encounter was a the commencement of the concert, every available seat was filled, and it says much for the efficiency and care of the stewards that the comfort and enjoyment of every-body in the hall received instant attention. wretchedly one-sided affair, with nothing It must be remembered, too, that it rained "cats and dogs," and the fact that the people of Dungarvan and district braved this feline and canine deluge is a proof of the high standard of the entertainment anto show for the Munster selectors' judicipated. Nor were the patrons disappoin-

In the hurling match it is certain that Munster would have been defeated were it not that John Keane of Waterford came on at half-time to fill the centre half-back position. He was not one of the selectors' fifteen. Except for Campbell, none of the Cork players came up to expectations.
Christy Moylan (Waterford) was well up to standard, but the Tipperary players were on the whole disappointing. The Limerick representatives, especially The stage was tastefully decorated with the national colours and the club's blue and white, when the curtain rose for the first item, the choruses of the Mercy Convent choir, who rendered "The Harp that once" and an Irish song with feeling and clarity.
They were followed by the Phelan brothers, talented young step-dancers, who brought down the house, as did Mrs. Hallahan's Limerick representatives, especially Jackie Power and Mick Mackey gave good performances, but the whole team seemed to lack something which we expect of a troupe, who were loudly encored.

That gifted violinist, Miss Maire Donald-That gifted violinist, Miss Maire Donaldson, was at her best playing "Serenata" (Toselli) and "Souvenir" (Dodla), accompanied by Miss Cathleen O'Neill, and these, with Miss Elizabeth Downey, A.R.C.M., who sang Gounod's "Flower Song," accompanied by Mrs. M. J. Moloney, A.R.C.M. were amongst the best contributions of the evening. Miss B. Waters, too, was an artiste whose beautiful voice appealed immensely to the audience, and we hope more will be heard of her wonderful gift. A wealth of tenors rendered beautiful vocal items, and the appearances of Messrs. James Keohan, M. Waters, and P. McManus were encored again and again. Equally popular was Herr Herman Gebler, that renowned violinist who was very generous and, with Munster side.

In football, Munster was, of course, a flop. Perhaps the selectors were right in their choice of an All-Kerry side, and perhaps no better fifteen could have been found in Munster, but there are several O'Sullivan of Cork, Maner and Tommy Power (who was the best man on the field in the Munster senior championship final, 1939, at Clonnel) of Tipperary, Christy Moylan, Dec Goode, Lonergan and Veale of Waterford were all worthy of places on the Munster side, and would to

YOUGHAL NOTES

The Clopet-Yorke Company will be visiting the Theatre Royal for a fortnight commencing Easter Monday. It will be recalled by most people that this brilliant company paid a very successful visit here last autumn. They have broken all existing records in Cork where they are shortly concluding a four month season prior to visiting Waterford again.

They will open on Easter Monday with They will open on George and the East Cork Divisional Board G.A.A. several important fixtures were made. These include Youghal v. The annual G.A.A. Ceilidhe Mhor takes place in the Ballroom, Town Hall, Youghal, on Easter Sunday night and a great night's amusement is assured to patrons. Splendid music will be supplied by a leading ceilidhe band and the floor is being specially prepared for the big occasion. Other attractions will be Gaelic songs by leading vocalists and exhibitions of Irish step-dancing. All arrangements for the several officers concerned.

It should be very clear to anybody that the year 1940-41, with a war and prices for commodities jumping every day, is an abnormal year, as indeed will every year be whilst the war lasts. Having regard to the increased cost of all the Institutions in the County, I am pleased to be able to say that it will be possible to manage with an increase of 7½d. in the pound over last year.

The increase would be a couple of pence The annual G.A.A. Ceilidhe Mhor takes the several officers concerned.

FISHING.

On Monday and Tuesday some substantial catches of salmon were taken on the Blackwater and in the Bay. Good catches were also recorded on the Co. Waterford side. It is hoped that the welcome improvement will continue and that thus the crews engaged will receive some fair remuneration for their arduous labours. Up to now the season has been an unprecedented failure.

The total of such increases represents a mere bagatelle as far as the rates are concerned, and anyhow does not bring the persons concerned to the level in other counties. Any such increases have had the sanction of the Minister for Local Government.

THE REGAL CINEMA. There was a splendid double feature programme at the Regal last week-end. The principal picture was "Kidnapped," starring, Warner Baxter, Freddie Bartholomew and Arleen Whelam. Also shown was "Chasing Danger," featuring Preston Foster, Lynn Bari, Wally Vernon and Henry Wilcoxon.

Commissioner Moynihan Replies to Co. Kilkenny Farmers.

The following communication from Com-nissioner Moynihan, acting as the Kilkenny Co. Council, in reply to a memorandum from the Co. Kilkenny Executive of the Irish Farmers' Federation, regarding the rate for 1940-'41 appears in the Kilkenny papers :-

I have received a long memorandum from the Kilkenny Executive, Irish Farmers' Federation, in regard to the rates for the coming year. It states that whilst the rate struck last year represented an increase of 4d. in the £ on previous year, it was nearly 100 per cent greater than in 1932. In support of this, two rate damand notes in respect of the same holding are notes in respect of the same holding are produced. If Mr. O'Hanrahan had turned to the back of those demand notes, he would have seen that the rate for 1932-'33 was 8/- in the £ and for 1939-'40, 9/2. He would also have seen the explanation of the difference in the amount of rate payable. In 1932-'33 the amount of relief available in the county by way of Agricultural Grant was £78, 524 and this was set tural Grant was £78, 524 and this was set off against the rate on Agricultural Land at a flat rate of 64.9 pence in the Pound, or 5s. 5d. in the Pound on agricultural land, which left the rate very small indeed, Since then, however, the amount of the Agricultural Grant has been considerably reduced and the basis of granting the relief has been altered so that the man employing agricultural labour on his land benefits in proportion to the number so employed to proportion to the number so employed, to the detriment of the person who does not employ labour. Let us examine Mr. O'Hanrahan's demand note for 1939-'40 and we find that he is allowed only £3 15s. and we find that he is allowed only £3 15s. in respect of the one male worker he had employed on his holding of £94 10s. valuation. Mr. O'Hanrahan apparently would not have cause for complaint in 1939-'40 if he had a greater number of male workers employed on his land. The justice of the present system of relief by way of Agricultural Grant, as compared with the flat allowance of 1932-'33 irrespective of employment given, will be apparent to all. Instead of Mr. O'Hanrahan getting relief at 6/- in the £, which would leave his net rate 3/2d., he is allowed relief (apart from the primary allowance and the allowance for his one worker) at 37.5 pence in the pound, his one worker) at 37.5 pence in the pound, but he should not blame the County Council for this. Mr. Drew will return him two demand notes with thanks. Now that there is compulsory tillage with the inevitable increase in the number employed on Mr. O'Hanrahan's holding, this matter of his rate will adjust itself next year.

The rate in County Kilkenny for 1933-'34

was 8/5d., in the pound, which was before the Commissioner's time. In 1935-'36 it was 8/11d., and last year 9/2d. In the past five years a great deal of work has been done in the erection of houses in the villages and rural areas; water and sewerage schemes have been provided, and pumps erected. The Public Health Services of the County have been reorganised; a County Medical Officer of Health and her staff and a Sanitary Inspector appointed for that purpose, and a new County Hospital is in process of erection. Nobody can deny that the increase in rate over the past five or six years is very small when the work done has been considered, and it has only been possible to limit the increased rate by the most careful curtailment of expenditure in

The mileage rate for officials has also been sanctioned by the Minister and the same rate was payable under the old Co.
Council. Superficially it might seem that the small car should get a greater mileage the small car should get a greater mileage allowance and this was a matter I was investigating before the war and the rise in price of petrol. Some officers have however changed from small to larger cars on the grounds,, they allege, that the big car was cheaper in the long run.

Uniform interpretation of the rules will be the result of this year's deliberations, and it may be that a new parallelogram will be necessary to combat some recent irregularities. A letter from the G.S.R. informed the Council that their claim was £163 17s. 3d. enclosing detailed list. It informed the Council that unless paid within one month, the Company would take legal steps to obtain the money.

Mr. Byrne—It hasn't appeared in any of the daily papers yet that these steps have been taken in this matter. The Clerk said in their first demand the total was £159 16s. 4d.

It was decided to defer the matter.

Chairman—Yes. The Clerk said the regulations of the Department were that they were not entitled o plots. One of the men said that other men with ensions got plots.

Clerk-You came here to plead your own ase, so you should not bring in others.

The Council did all they could for you. Chairman—You could get plots if you aid an economic rent. Following a discussion Mr. Mansfield said that I.R.A. pensioners could not get plots either. One of the men produced his pension

PLOTS.

Two men appeared before the Council and asked if they were deprived of plots because they were ex-Service men and had pensions.

A special meeting of Carrick-on-Suir Urban Council was held on Friday night. Mr. P. Bourke, vice-chairman, presided. Also present were Messrs. T. Murphy, W. Woods, J. Babington, D. J. O'Driscoll and J. Barry.

The Council accepted the tender of Mr. Thomas Ryan, Sir John's Road, for milk under the Free Milk Scheme for 12 months at 1s. 2d. per gallon.

Another tender was received at 1s. 6d.

The Clerk submitted tenders for the supply of implements for the local plot allot-

The Clerk said an Inspector from the Department had condemned as outworn some of the implement in use at the plots. In reply to Mr. Babington, the Clerk said the regulations provided that all the implements supplied should be of Irish manufacture. Shovels and digging forks are book.

Mr. Byrne—I think if any ex-Service man comes along and shows his book that his pension is less than £39, it eases the situapension is less than £3 in a few days. He (clerk) suggested that the Council would send it up to the Department with a strong recommendation.

Guard K. Bennett reported to the Council under the Towns Improvement Act a case of indecent exposure at New Bridge. When a man was spoken to he became abusive and created a scene. He recommended that the man be prosecuted. Guard Molloy reported three men he found using obscene language in the street and shouting and singing late at night, contrary to the Towns Improvement Act.

Guard Tobin reported regarding young men he found letting off squibs that made loud noises, late at night. These noises are very annoying to sick and old people.

Members expressed the view that the Council should support the Guards and prosecute the persons reported upon. Other members said they thought the report in the papers of complaints made by a member at the last meeting exaggerated the condition of things in the streets of the town at night and gave a bad impression regarding the town. Things were by no means as bad as they appeared in the Mr. O'Driscoll said the persons who come to town often at night had said to aggerated. Mr. Woods agreed with Mr. Barry. Mr. Babington said the Council should upport the guards in this matter.

The chairman agreed.
Mr. Babington had left the meeting before the discussion ended. Mr. Woods said members who came to the Council meetings should remain until the business was finished and take responsibility for the Council's decisions. They should not throw the onus of the decisions on a few members. Mr. O'Driscoll said his view was that the Council should not carry on the discussion at all on these reports. That leads nowhere. The Council should make a general order authorising the Clerk to send to the Council's solicitor the reports received from the Civic Guards under the Towns Improvement Act and let the solicitor take the necessary legal action. Clerk-A very sensible suggestion The Clerk was directed to send the Guards report to the Council's solicitor. The letter from the Department re the above deferred from the last meeting was next dealt with and Mr. Williams' letter ndependent of the Council.
